

So What?

Someone should take definite action to have the unsightly and dangerous vacant frame house at 168 Washington Avenue razed. Not only is it a detriment to Belleville's business section but is a fire hazard-dangerous to the buildings on both sides. Unfortunately action cannot be taken in time, but the property would make an ideal parking lot for the Christmas period. The town commissioners have the power to force the action.

The Blair Nurseries of Nutley replaced the plantings in front of the high school gym this week, taking out the forsythia bushes and replacing them with evergreens.

Washington Avenue was lined with huge spools of cable this week. The cable is being strung in underground conduits in preparation for the 1952 changeover from manual to dial telephones here.

A group of young men from the Valley are seeking a recreation center in their neighborhood. They maintain that there is nothing for them to do in the evenings and if they stray onto Washington Avenue they are chased by police, one of whom has been especially abusive in his attitude. Commissioner Hyde has promised the help of his recreation department if they can find a suitable meeting place. Another group of about 20 youngsters from No. 9 School in the Valley are anxious to form a Boy Scout troop but need a scoutmaster and a scout committee to set the program in motion. Records Clerk Harry Winfield of the Belleville Police has been in contact with Harry French of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts, and has agreed to accept names of prospective scouts. Here is a real opportunity for a number of adults to come to the assistance of the young people.

The new Turnpike sure has been getting publicity. It rated a several page story in this week's Saturday Evening Post, with pictures of the span across the Hackensack River near Secaucus, other scenes along the route and a map of its route from the George Washington Bridge to the Delaware Memorial Bridge, 118 miles south.

Is nothing safe from theft? Mrs. Donald Touch of 13 Convent Avenue, on Friday, reported to the police that during the night someone had stolen eight stepping stones, used as a border, from her garden. They are not exactly something someone would pick up and put in his pocket.

LEGION'S HOME AND BLOCK CAMPAIGN ARE PROGRESSING

Foundation Up After 10 Years Of Dreaming; Many Buy Building Blocks

After ten years of dreaming and planning, the Belleville Legion Home is now actually under construction. During the past week, the footings were laid and the foundation has been completed to floor level.

The "Buy a Block" campaign is beginning to hit its stride, with the following donors listed during the past week: R. Jeanett, F. Dan, R. Klibanic, E. Delaguso, G. Stantzel, K. Bright-hill, J. Mazz, R. Bennett, D. Mac-Cready, H. Berzon, P. Johnson, B. Johnson, L. Mack, J. Giesvesce, G. Mather, J. Barrett, J. Mallack, E. Mongle, N. O'Brien, E. Mac-Dowell, C. Black, J. Rhodes, G. Martin, William Slater, W. Parmer, J. V. Zarlo, J. I. DeGroat, Mrs. O. McEntee, J. Ruggiero, M. Weinstein, W. B. Brown, G. Kaden, H. Kittle and M. Taggeart. The Building Committee is seeking $7,500 more to complete the new home. The blocks are being sold on donations of $1 or more.

Spent Coins From Elks Crippled Kiddies Bank

Arthur Edward Watson, 18, of 217 Greylock Avenue, who has had a number of scrapes with the law, but as a juvenile, was held in $1,000 bail for grand jury action in Newark, yesterday, on a charge of attempted auto larceny. Watson will face further charges in Belleville, for stealing an Elks Crippled Kiddies Bank off the bar of the DeFrance Tavern, 68 Washington Avenue, on Monday. The glass bank contained about $18, which Watson spent in Newark. While in Newark he was apprehended by the Newark police in the act of stealing a car. A statement about the Belleville job was obtained by Detective Marione and Acting Detective Tortorella.

EISENHOWER BOOM GETS UNDER WAY WITH "WANT-AD"

Town Republicans Invited To Start Circulation Of Petitions As Demonstration For Ike

The first salvo in New Jersey in active behalf of General Dwight Eisenhower as Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1952 was fired here today when a "want-ad" was published in The Times-News urging Belleville Republicans to circulate petitions to obtain thousands of signatures as a manifestation of New Jersey's preference for Eisenhower. The "want-ad" was placed with The Times-News by Malcolm Forbes, GOP Senator-elect from Somerset County, who is fostering the creation of a vast "New Jersey Republicans-for-Eisenhower Club."

Driscoll No Objections Forbes told The Times-News that he had talked with Senator Henry Cabot Lodge recently named to head the Eisenhower movement nationally, and that Lodge declared the success of the move to draft the general depended entirely on a spontaneous spread, at the grass roots level, of a popular demand among Republicans for his nomination, manifest chiefly by petitions.

Forbes said he had told Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of plans for formation of the Eisenhower Club and that the Governor had said he believed any move that helped every party member to participate in the selection of the national ticket was "a healthy thing, in the tradition of a free system of government."

Until headquarters at the state capital can be set up, the club will have its temporary offices in Far Hills, the home of Senator Forbes.

No Dues in Club

"By the end of the week we will have the petitions ready in Belleville," Forbes said. "A Republican signature on these petitions is the only membership requirement. We will have no elaborate overhead, no chapters, no national affiliations. Our sole objective is to enable those who believe that General Eisenhower's nomination is important to the Republican Party to get petition-signers and establish concretely that New Jersey Republicans are overwhelmingly for Eisenhower."

"In recent months I have talked with hundreds of New Jersey Republicans who feel that General Eisenhower has the ability to lead this country."

Tolls on Early Turnpikes Were Inexpensive but Collected Often

At Least Five Tolls On Belleville Plank Road From Here To Jersey City

In conjunction with the opening of the New Jersey Turnpike, The New Jersey Historical Society presents some interesting facts about turnpikes in our state's past.

The first turnpike to be built in New Jersey was a section of the Morris Turnpike running from Elizabeth through Chatham to Morristown. Work was started on this project almost exactly 150 years ago.

The word "turnpike" means a road on which a "pike" or bar was suspended across the road at the point where toll was collected. To "turn" the "pike" one paid a toll fee and was permitted to use the road. Unscrupulous persons might attempt to avoid paying toll by using a byroad that skirted the toll gate. These roads were called "shun-pikes" and if you were caught using one, the toll rate was tripled for you.

Turnpike toll rates of a century or so ago were somewhat lower than those of today. Compare these charges with today's tolls: Carriages, one cent a mile per horse up to four, additional horses, two cents; horse and rider, one-half cent a mile; led horse or mule, one-half cent a mile; one dozen calves, sheep or hogs, one-half cent a mile; one dozen cattle, horses or mules, one cent a mile.

In the early 1800's turnpikes were constructed on a right of way of about 70 feet with the road itself between 16 and 28 feet wide. The road was either dirt or covered with gravel or crushed stone and enclosed by wide earth shoulders. In dry weather travellers often preferred to use these shoulders, calling them "summer roads." Later, by the 1850's, many "plank roads"

Magistrate Smith Sends Last Case To Grand Jury

While it is customary for a newly appointed magistrate to suspend sentence on the first case to come before him, there is no such precedent for a retiring magistrate. So Magistrate Everett B. Smith in his last appearance on the local Bench, Thursday morning, held Paul Zoppi of 47 Garden Avenue without bail for grand jury action on atrocious assault and battery charges, preferred by his wife, Crisaf, who was severely beaten up recently that she spent a week in St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic.

Essex Blood Bank Will Visit Walter Kidde Plant

Approximately 150 employees of Walter Kidde & Co., Inc., have signed up for a visit of the Essex County Blood Bank for Civilians at the plant Friday between 11:30 and 3:30 o'clock. This blood assembly is for Walter Kidde employees only. Cots will be set up in the plant cafeteria for the visit. The plant medical department, Dr. J. W. Borino, plant physician, and Mrs. H. Vreeland, plant nurse, have handled the visit of the Blood Bank from arranging for the visit to signing up the volunteer blood donors.

NEW LIEUTENANTS ON POLICE FORCE

Sgt. Jerry Lilore and Sgt. Donald Smith, First and Second on List, Promoted

Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan has announced the promotion of Sergeant Jerry Lilore and Sergeant Donald Smith to Lieutenants in the police department, effective December 1. Their promotions fill the vacancies caused by the retirement of Lieutenant John J. Flynn and Lieutenant Ernest Slater, within the last year.

Lieutenant Lilore, who lives at 24 King Street, is 46. He was appointed to the force on August 1, 1936, and was promoted to Sergeant on October 16, 1948. He finished first in the Civil Service examination for the advancement.

Lieutenant Smith, of 111 Belleville Avenue, is also 46. He was appointed to the force on September 1, 1934, and was promoted to Sergeant on October 16, 1948. He finished second in the Civil Service examination.

Mayor Tully's Vote Puts E. J. Abromson In Magistrate Post

Flies From Camp Pendleton to Break Commission Tie on Judge Smith's Replacement; Six Lawyers Suggested

Edward J. Abromson was appointed Belleville's new Magistrate, twice, and sworn into office by Town Clerk Florence Morey, all within the space of about 20 minutes, Tuesday afternoon, after a spectacular trip home by Mayor James J. Tully, from Camp Pendleton, California, to break a tie which existed in the Board of Commissioners. Mr. Abromson was named by a 3 to 2 vote of the commissioners with Mayor Tully, Acting Mayor Patrick A. Waters and Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde voting for the successful candidate. Then on the recommendation of Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan, the Commission

NEXT BLOOD BANK WILL HONOR HERO

Classmates of Rene J. Flory Recruiting Volunteers For February Assembly Here

The Regional Defense Blood Center of the American Red Cross at Plainfield has advised Miss Dorothy Nell Darby, executive director of the Belleville Chapter, that from October 16th to November 16th two mobile units made 12 visits to communities in North Jersey and collected 1,706 pints of blood for our Armed Forces in Korea. Belleville joined the program on November 20, yielding 141 pints of blood for our soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines overseas.

Another Defense Blood Donor Assembly will be held here on February 1, and will honor Sergeant Rene J. Flory, Jr., who gave his life in Korea. The Class of 1948 of Belleville High School, of which Rene was a member, is sponsoring this memorial blood donor assembly and members are engaged in recruiting blood donors for this date. A number of persons who volunteered for the November 20 assembly, after the quota was already filled, have already signed up for February 1.

To clear up a misunderstanding which has been created by an article which appeared in early editions of a New York tabloid, B. Thomas Aitken, chairman of the Belleville Chapter, states that the shipment of blood plasma to Argentina, from the United States, referred to, was of a commercial nature and made up by a large American drug firm. The Red Cross was in no way involved, nor was the blood involved collected through any Red Cross recruitment.

Mr. Aitken strongly emphasized that blood collected through the Red Cross is either for the Armed Forces Defense Blood Program or the Essex County Blood Bank, and is never sold by any agency. Blood donors can be

Commissioners Suggest Placing Power of Appointment of the Magistrate in the Public Works Department

Immediately thereafter, Director Waters announced Mr. Abromson's appointment. Then by another resolution the commissioners voted that in the future the naming of the magistrate would be an action of the entire Board of Commissioners. This legal rigmarole was engaged to make sure that in some litigation during Magistrate Abromson's term, his right to sit could not be challenged, as it was in a recent court test.

Magistrate Abromson's term was defined as three years or until another magistrate shall be appointed.

Ran Out of Nominations

Commissioners Harry J. Sullivan and Joseph A. King battled to the very last to prevent the naming of Mr. Abromson. At a caucus of the commission Friday night they sought to continue Magistrate Everett B. Smith in the job until the four commissioners could agree upon a successor. Tuesday afternoon they tried another test. After Mr. Abromson's name had been proposed, Mr. Sullivan moved an amendment to the resolution, calling for the substitution of his name with that of Isadore J. Padua. When this amendment was beaten by a 3 to 2 vote, Commissioner Sullivan proposed that Robert C. Gruhin, then John Gibbons, George H. Brown, Thomas D'Avella and finally Court Clerk Charles P. Tedesco, each of which amendments lost by the same 3 to 2 vote. When Director Sullivan had no more names to propose the original resolution was passed.

Magistrate Smith served the town of Belleville for 20 years. His term of office expired on December 1 and in a letter to the Board of Commissioners last week he made it be known that he would prefer not to be reappointed.

Raised In Belleville

Edward J. Abromson, the new magistrate, is 46 years of age. He lives at 45 Lloyd Place, with his wife and two daughters, Judy and Paula. He is a product of Belleville having spent his childhood years as a neighbor of Acting Mayor Waters, with whom he has

were built. These roads were made of board ties laid across heavy lumber rails. They were cheaper to build than the older roads.

One such plank road was the Belleville Turnpike built across the Passaic and Hackensack meadows. Cedar trees which once grew in abundance in the meadows, were cut and laid for a roadbed. Travel over plank roads was not the most comfortable, according to stories told by old times. But it was much better than crossing the swamps. The Belleville turnpike to New York was described as an ordeal because there were toll gates just beyond the Rutgers Street bridge, another just before entering the meadows, and a ferry toll and another toll gate at the Hackensack River. On this end the Belleville Turnpike ended at Main Street.

Bloomfield Avenue, from Newark to Caldwell also was a plank road turnpike, built and owned by a man named Crane, who also gave his name to that portion of ancient Bloomfield, now Montclair. The plank road section went through Silver Lake, which then actually was a shallow lake.

Between 1801 and 1860, New Jersey had 76 turnpikes and plank roads. But by 1860 the railroads and canals had taken a large part of the business from the turnpikes, and few new ones were built. In the early days, turnpikes were built by private companies who obtained a charter from the Legislature permitting them to construct a turnpike. The Legislature set the maximum tolls that could be charged. The companies sold stock in the venture to the public, and stockholders were paid dividends from toll profits.

One Plowed Into Rear Of Police Car; Another Hit 65 In Franklin Avenue

Three motorists had their licenses suspended by Magistrate Everett B. Smith on Wednesday night of last week when he sat in traffic court for the last time. Rufus S. Thurman of 635 North 7th Street, Newark, who was arrested in Newark Avenue by Special Officer Ray Guglielmini for careless driving, lost his license for 15 days. Michael P. Bolan of 65 Ernest Avenue, Bloomfield, who was clocked at 65 miles per hour in Franklin Avenue by Patrolman Henry McEnery, had his license suspended for 30 days. Ernest E. Pellers of 57 Milton Avenue, Nutley, also lost his license for 30 days on a charge of reckless driving. Pellers on November 21 plowed into the back of a police car which had 40 topped to give aid to a stranded motorist, and which had a red warning blinker working. Thomas Caffone of 20 Hunt Place, Nutley, was fined $13 for having wrong plates on his car. Michael Dychkowski of 42 20th Avenue, Irvington, paid $18 for speeding. Adam Albino of 76 Ray Street, Nutley, paid $10 for passing a red light at old Frank Padula of 210 Ivy Street, Kearny.

ity, experience, integrity and breadth of vision vitally needed today in Washington and around the world. If we are to provide intelligent leadership to the free nations on the one hand and are to avoid rampant inflation and threatened bankruptcy of our own economy on the other, we need General Eisenhower's leadership.

"Under Eisenhower, the Republican brook would swiftly sweep away the corruption that infects the present administration. A sound liberalism would replace the scheming of the successive 'brain trusts' which for 20 years of Democratic rule have been selling free enterprise short in favor of various pet socialistic plans."

Forbes declared that the immediate danger was that "The professional politician will be able to sew up the nomination for Taft before General Eisenhower is free to announce his willingness to serve."

The Somerset Senator-elect said the purpose of the club is to show in the next few weeks, in the form of tens of thousands of petition signers, that New Jersey Republicans want Eisenhower, and do not intend to see their party "revert to the basically isolationist position that dominates the thinking of Taft and most of his inner circle."

Who would have "thunk" you could Christmas shop in a paint store?

Well, we at YUDIN'S feel that many of your headaches can be solved, (and if we can't solve them, we will give out free aspirins)

1. Do you have a BROTHER-IN-LAW that plays the horses?

Give him a hobby instead of a horse! Start him with an oil set and presketch canvas. (Reg. $2.00—This week only $1.50). And later when he's ready to paint the horses, he'll want Rich Art and Grumbacher Art Supplies.

2. Do you have a MOTHER-IN-LAW that lives far away?

Give her a picture of your family in one of Scharling's beautiful frames. She'll love you and thank you for it.

3. Do you have a DAUGHTER that yearns for sophistication?

Give her a chance to pick out one of our "slinky" bedroom wallpapers—then she can sophisticate to her heart's content!

4. Do you have a HUSBAND who gives you the "brush-off"?

Give him "Hanlon & Goodman" brushes and enough paint for the entire house. (We'll even gift wrap it with a big red ribbon). We're sure he'll take the hint!

5. Do you have a SON who rides around in a jalopy?

Give him safety for his car. You'll feel better if we install safety glass (which he can have in colors to cut the glare) and if the locks in the car are on the "blink", let us put new ones in—then you won't worry about him falling out. Just think of your peace of mind!

Former Belleville Woman
Dies in New York State

Word has recently come of the passing of a former Belleville resident at Elizabethtown, N. Y.
Mrs. Bertha Hodgson (nee Bertha Schaefer) was well known to old time Belleville residents a half century or more ago. The Schaefer family were regular attendants of Wesley M. E. Church when it was located on Main Street.

A brother of Mrs. Hodgson, Randall Schaefer, became a preacher and occasionally preached in the old Methodist Church, and later was a professor at Moody Institute in Chicago, up to the time of his passing a few years ago.

Stone Throwing Boys
Break Skater's Nose

Barbara Korcay, 15, of 40 Mill
Street, Bloomfield, while skating at the Riverside Park roller rink on Sunday was hit in the nose by a stone thrown through an open window by a boy, outside the rink, and suffered a fractured nose.

The young lady was taken to Mountainside Hospital, Montclair,
by her father. In the meantime,
William Mischkind, proprietor of the rink caught three boys outside the building and held them until the arrival of police. One of the boys admitted throwing a stick through the open window but the three maintained they did not. A fourth lad had thrown the stone and then ran away.

It's Christmas Seal Time

The Christmas Seal is no mere decorative stamp intended to lend color to Yuletide mail and packages. It is a banner under which march together the generous people who are determined to wipe out the threat of tuberculosis, once so powerful as to be awesomely referred to as "the white plague."

A generation ago tuberculosis stood first on the list of the causes of death. Now tuberculosis has been pushed down to seventh or eighth place, but it is still a formidable killer. Last year in New Jersey it killed 1,297 people, through the United States it brought death to a total of 83,587. The battle, therefore, is by no means won.

But we do know how victory can be attained. Among other things, it involves early discovery of the disease through the use of X-ray and skin tests, for when tuberculosis is caught in its early stages there is best hope for arresting its progress and curing the victim. After discovery, progress back to health is a matter of scientific care and controlled living, according to methods which modern medicine has well proved to be effective.

The Christmas Seal supports the efforts of thousands of people, doctors, nurses, technicians, case workers and civilians who work together through the whole year to restore health to the stricken and to prevent others from becoming victims of tuberculosis. Our local Essex County chapter retains 84 cents of every dollar of the Christmas Seal money collected. The balance is forwarded to the state organization, which in turn sends 6 cents of every dollar to the national association. In all, 94 per cent of the Seal's sale funds is used to support tuberculosis control programs within the state.

The Christmas Seal is no mere decorative stamp, it is a banner under which surely you will want to enroll.

How Selfish Motives Stall a Machine and Distort a Convention

A little "want-ad" in The Times-News today got the Eisenhower boom off to a belated start in Belleville. In the "want-ad", town Republicans were invited to circulate petitions in the General's favor so as to put on record a preference for the soldier which cannot be overlooked when the delegation to the 1952 Convention gets its marching orders. It's a tiny boom, for the time being, but it's a step in the right direction and thus far Senator Taft, although claiming a near majority of the delegates already, has not put his foot inside of New Jersey to ask for our delegation's vote.

It is our opinion that Taft's decision to keep away from New Jersey is dictated by a prudent desire to avoid a show down. If Taft ran in a Primary vote in New Jersey, he would run second to Eisenhower and he knows it. He knows too that the GOP organization in New Jersey has not yet made up its mind which candidate it will support and it is to avoid any overt challenge that he stays away.

There is good reason to believe that Taft is heeding the wise counsels of Guy Gabrielson, Republican National chairman. Gabrielson, a native son, has made absolutely no effort in New Jersey in behalf of Taft although he has been vigorously active in Taft's behalf in Iowa, Illinois and, in the deep South, in Arkansas and Louisiana.

It is significant that except for Illinois, Taft has avoided a Primary show down in any heavily-industrialized state. He may be desirous of avoiding arousing Labor and it is the essence of political sagacity to avoid a show down with Labor in New Jersey.

Our trouble is that our Governor, who has two years more to serve us, has Presidential ambitions, too. It will be impossible for him to take the pulse of the delegates before the Convention starts. It is impossible, therefore, for him to say whether or not he will be a candidate for the Presidency. Since he will be unable to make up his mind until next June, he will not give the green light to the New Jersey Republican machine to make its own choice. He wants to hold New Jersey's delegates, for himself if, at the last minute, he should want to run.

General Eisenhower's friends here know all that. They know that Taft, at Gabrielson's suggestion, is leaving New Jersey to Driscoll for the time being. They know that Governor Warren and Harold Stassen are making only token campaigns here, each allowing petitions to be circulated but with no intention of forcing a show down before Driscoll has done something or other about the bee in his bonnet. That is what General Eisenhower's friends hope to do with the petitions which were the subject of today's little "want-ad". They hope, by showing petitions bearing thousands of signatures, to impress upon everyone that New Jersey is for Ike, lock, stock and both barrels.

As for The Times-News, lest there be any question where we stand, we make it clear: We consider Governor Driscoll is rendering a disservice to the Republican party and to the nation by continuing his obsolete pretensions to the Presidential nomination. If he dropped his selfish motives and if New Jersey's millions of voters could register a choice, our slate would be all ready: For President, General Eisenhower; For Vice-President, Harold Stassen.

A Friend Passes

Edwin Leland James, managing editor of The New York Times since 1932, died suddenly this week at the age of 61. In the passing of "Jimmy" James, with whom for many years I shared the life of a war and foreign correspondent, I lost a tutor and a friend.

James, a one-time police court reporter in New York who carried a police reporter's skepticism into the battlefields and the halls of diplomacy as, I have no doubt, he carried it to the highest desk on the great Times, was a newspaperman's newspaperman. Hard-boiled, never able to overcome a natural tendency to converse from a corner of his mouth, he was a gentleman whose heart was truly golden and to whom I owe a great deal for the help he so generously gave me in getting my start as a foreign correspondent.

When I was demobilized from the U. S. Army in time to cover the Treaty of Versailles, I stepped into the circle of the greatest correspondents in the history of American journalism. My competition, along with "Jimmy" James, was Wilbur Forrest, Phil Simms, Roy Howard, Lincoln Eyles, Lincoln Steffans, Wythe Williams, Webb Miller, Arno Dosch-Fleuret, Larry Hills, Floyd Gibbons, the greatest of the great reporters.

For his kindness in steadying my arm, in steering me into the tangle of world diplomacy and then leaving me to fight my way through a quarter of a century of wars and diplomatic conferences, I owe much to "Jimmy" James, a born reporter, a wise editor, a wonderful, dependable friend. R.E.H.

Will Truman Clean House?

The scandalous corruption in the Bureau of Internal Revenue and in the tax division of the Justice Department—chiefly the current T. Lamar Caudle "mink coats" affair—has put Harry S. Truman squarely on the hot seat. Either he will clean house and in doing so try to save for 1952 a shred of respectability for his Administration, or he will try to cast it as another "red herring" and try to bluff it out.

If President Truman is wondering what to do, let him look up the White House records of two of his illustrious predecessors, Calvin Coolidge and Woodrow Wilson.

It was the New Englander's unhappy lot to inherit the corruption of the Harding Administration in the Teapot Dome era. With canny Yankee common sense, he utilized a device which kept the corruption from spotting the walls of the White House. He created a distinguished, competent, nonpolitical, nongovernmental commission to investigate the entirety of the national government and to report its findings for presidential action. In that way, he cleaned up a mess without dirtying his own hands.

It might seem now to have been cupidity, but President Wilson once refused to approve the appointment of his brother as postmaster of Nashville, Tenn. In a letter, written in 1913, to his brother, the New Jersey president laid down a code which President Truman might well have adopted when he was faced with a demand by the Pauley-Vaughan-Boyle type of cronies for "jobs".

The letter read:

"My Dear, Dear Brother:
"I never in my life had anything quite so hard to do as this that I must do about the Nashville postoffice. Knowing as I do that a better man could not possibly be found for the place, and sure though I am that it would meet with the general approval of the citizens of Nashville, I yet feel that it would be a very serious mistake both for you and me if I were to appoint you to the postmaster-ship there.

"I cannot tell you how much I have worried about this thing or how much I have had to struggle against affection and temptation, but I am clear in the conviction that I am sure that in the long run, if not now, you will agree with me that I am declining rightly. I can't write any more now because I feel too deeply."

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

The Lesson of a Day of Infamy Ten Years Ago Is That an Aggressor Will Attack by Stealth, Not by a Formal Declaration of War

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

Ten years ago this weekend, Sunday, December 7, 1941, was the blackest day in modern civilization, "the day that will live in infamy"—the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. Japan all but knocked us out in the first attack by 351 fighters and torpedo-planes launched from the decks of six carriers.

Last Wednesday, a group of Japanese officials arrived in Washington and handed over to the State Department, for deposit in the National Archives, a document bound in red velvet and bearing the chrysanthemum seal of Japan—the Japanese ratification of the treaty of peace signed by 49 nations in San Francisco last September.

Too many might, in this One Man's Opinion, be inclined to see therein the moral of a lesson which might discourage any aggressor. It is our contention that no lesson was learned by anyone at Pearl Harbor, and that, on the contrary, the risk of another such all-out sneak attack is always with us. Japan gained two years by her strategy, the time it took us to repair and rebuild after Pearl Harbor. Another aggressor might also be inclined to capitalize on the time advantage of sneak strategy. There can be no let-down in our intelligence contacts, our deterrent action and our alertness. A Pearl Harbor is possible any minute of any day.

It would be folly to deny that Japan fooled us completely ten years ago. It is a matter of record that our own naval intelligence reports of December 6, 1941, placed Japan's capital ships and carriers at their customary moorings in the inner sea of home islands. Japan fooled our naval intelligence by assigning a number of auxiliary craft to substitute for the absent fleet and carry on hour after hour the usual chatter by radio between ships of the fleet. Our intelligence forces captured those broadcasts and were lulled into the belief that the fleet was back in Japan instead of being massed in the wastes of the Pacific just north of Oahu.

The Day in Vichy

About every angle of the affair has been explored in Washington and Pearl Harbor, and although mountains of reports have been written, we still have never received the full truth of failure and of responsibilities.

I was fortunate enough to be behind the German lines in Vichy, France, on December 7, 1941, and thus I am able to fill in one link of the chain of evidence. I can say that Japan fooled Hitler and Mussolini, too, and did not let her Axis allies in on her secret. The Vichy French, the Germans, the Italians and even the Russians exactly what I had learned. I told them the story of the Japanese attack but Stulpnagel was inclined not to believe it. He kept repeating: "Indochina, yes, but Honolulu, no."

From hour to hour, other Germans telephoned to ask if there were any more details. We had been receiving plenty, but they were so tragic in their elaboration of a great Japanese victory that I replied that I had no new reports.

Russians Ask News

The Russian Ambassador Bogomolov sent an Embassy attache to ask what we could tell him because he was being asked by his superiors. I did give him more than I had given Laval or the Germans.

Talking it over later with Laval I found out that Stulpnagel had been the first to inform Hitler, and that it was hours later before Admiral Osmian, the Japanese Ambassador in Berlin, had gone to the Wilhelmstrasse to announce the attack.

In conversations in Vichy and later in the Gestapo internment camp in Baden where I spent a year and a half, I never once heard a German boast that Japan would win her war. On the contrary, there was admiration for the extravagance of Japanese imagination in trying to end a war in one blow, but from the very first day, Japan's Axis allies were very pessimistic about her chances.

Lesson by Leahy

I recall another phase of that tragic day when Admiral William Leahy, President Roosevelt's Ambassador in Vichy, spread his maps on the wall of the temporary Embassy and to an audience of American embassy staff men and the several American war correspondents who had stayed too long gave a most masterful briefing of the war in the Pacific. It was there I first heard the word "Guadalcanal."

Admiral Leahy was very apprehensive until he received official reports of the exact extent of damage at Pearl Harbor. When he learned that the Japs had withdrawn, he pointed to his maps and said:

"We'll finish the war right there."

And with his ruler he pointed to Tokyo.

There was a Secretary of Embassy in Vichy, my best friend, named Douglas MacArthur. A Yale football player, plenty tough in his striped pants, he was impulsive, and explosive.

Cautious Predictions

"In six months time we'll have those yellow monkeys climbing trees," Doug opined.

"No, Doug; it will be a long war, four or five years at least, and if they sink our capital ships today it will be two years longer," Admiral Leahy replied calmly. "If we finish this war in five years, we'll be lucky and it may go seven or eight, but we will finish it in Tokyo, of that I'm sure."

A month later, Mrs. Leahy entered a Vichy hospital for a check-up and to the consternation of the small group of Americans there, she died of a sudden heart attack. President Roosevelt called his old friend home, to accompany the body of his wife, and in February, 1942, two months after Pearl Harbor, Admiral Leahy moved into the White House as Coordinator of Military Affairs.

I am sure that, many times, the magnificent old Admiral pinned his maps to the walls of his White House office and gave to the impulsive Roosevelt the same lesson in tactics, with the same calm, sage, wise judgment, that he gave to our small audience in Vichy that historic afternoon of Pearl Harbor.

New Jersey is Foremost in Transportation

New Jersey's most adequate transportation facilities enable manufacturers to reach rich markets in the shortest time and at the lowest cost.

Here are more miles of railroad tracks per square mile than in any other state in the country. Fourteen railroads and the tracks of eight trunkline roads crisscross the State.

A fine network of more than 1,700 miles of paved State highways and 6,000 miles of county roads spreads over the State.

America's largest seaport facilities are wrapped around New Jersey. Through the Port of New York flows nearly half of the export and import trade of the United States. This great port, plus Port Newark, Port of Philadelphia, Port of Camden and the Port of Trenton, serve our State.

The principal cargo and passenger air lines connect this area with every major city of the world. The Port of New York Authority, a non-profit agency of the States of New Jersey and New York, operates Newark, Teletorbo, Idlewild and LaGuardia. Public Service is proud to serve New Jersey with dependable gas and electricity and to aid in the continuing development of the State.

Ground Broken For Six Room Addition To St. Mary's School

Msgr. James J. Owens Announces Start of Work on Annex Destined to Raise St. Mary's Capacity to 1,250

Ground was broken last week by Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. Owens, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, for a 6-room expandable addition to St. Mary's Parochial School to be completed in time for the reopening of school next September at a cost, including construction and equipment, of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Adding classroom space for 240 to 250 more students, including a new kindergarten, the addition will bring the capacity of St. Mary's School to about 1,250. The school's present enrollment stands at 930, accommodated in 18 classrooms, with prospects of the enrollment reaching 1,000 next Autumn.

A three-story, fireproof structure, the new addition will be joined to the existing building at its western end and will front on Lafayette Place. Of steel and concrete construction, with brick facing to match the existing school, its progress will depend upon steel deliveries. Despatches from Washington reported this week a loosening of restrictions on steel deliveries for school construction purposes.

Nutley Architect
Plans for the addition were drawn by the Jersey City architectural firm of William Neumann

& Sons, of which Henry A. Neumann of 160 Rutgers Place is a partner, in such a manner that it can be enlarged by one, two or three three-room units if there is future need.

With an independent entrance, the new wing will also be tied into the corridors of the existing building. Each of the six classrooms will have a western exposure, one whole wall of each room consisting of fenestration combining steel sash, glass and glass blocks. To make the structure completely fireproof, the classrooms will have floors of asphalt tile on concrete.

Novel Construction
A novel feature of the construction will be the use of transverse walls for classrooms. The walls between classrooms are pre-

Ground Broken for Six Room Addition to St. Mary's Parochial School

Ground was broken last week for the erection of a three-story, six-room addition to St. Mary's Parochial School to cost about $212,000 and scheduled to be ready for occupancy with the reopening of school next September. The fireproof structure of brick, steel and concrete construction, to accommodate 250 pupils, bringing the total capacity of St. Mary's to about 1,250, is being appended to the present school with the new front on Lafayette Place. It has been designed by William Neumann & Sons, architects, of Jersey City, so that it can be lengthened to add additional units of three classrooms.

fabricated, insulated and completely finished in color before being erected. Neumann said this is the first time that transverse construction is being used in schools of the Metropolitan area.

The Bryan Construction Company of North Arlington has been awarded the general contract, with sub-contracts going to the following: Plumbing, James F. Smith of Newark; heating, Bernard H. Steinke, Inc., of Englewood, and electrical, A. L. Davis Company of Newark.

CHARTER RENEWAL FOR CUB PACK AND SCOUT TROOP 301

180 Attend Wesley Church Dinner; Scoutmaster Back; New St. Peter's Cub Pack

Pack and Troop 301, Wesley Methodist Church, held a most successful Charter Renewal and Parents Night last week. The dinner was provided by the parents—each family bringing a covered dish.

Cubmaster T. Edward Anderson reported that every cub in the pack received an Award for Advancement. Scoutmaster Charles Thompson Jr. presented awards to the scouts of Troop 301.

One hundred eighty cubs, scouts and their families attended the affair, making it an outstanding event in the history of scouting in the Wesley Methodist Church.

Rev. Fred G. Hubach, minister of the church, turned over the application for charter for the pack and troop to council representative. Both the pack and the troop showed gains in membership over the previous year.

Color slides of the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico, were shown and enjoyed by all that were present. Donald Hulme, recently graduated from Cub Pack 301 to Troop 301, entertained on the accordion.

New Scoutmaster for Troop 350, Presbyterian Church, resumed activities last night under the leadership of their new scoutmaster, Charles Brune. Mr. Brune, who formerly lived in Belleville, and who for the past four years has been in New Orleans, has returned to town and taken up his work as a scoutmaster which he had previously done here in another troop.

New Cub Pack at St. Peter's

Due to the tremendous growth of Pack 375, sponsored by St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, it has become necessary to form two packs. Arrangements for this were accomplished at a recent meeting under the direction of Rev. John P. Hourihan, chaplain for scouting at St. Peter's. As a result of this action St. Peter's becomes the only church in the whole Robert Treat Council sponsoring two cub packs.

Father Hourihan indicates that the tremendous interest in cubbing in the church will necessitate the forming of a third pack soon. Leaders and officers of the two packs, both of which have applied for a charter, are as follows:

Pack 375—Cubmaster, Emmett Molloy; chairman, Stanley J. Akus; pack committee, W. T. Finnegan and James Fitzgerald; den mothers, Mildred Rose, Grace Maguire, Ann Richlan, Ruth Vanderbilt, Carolyn Livingston, Helen Bundisi and Ann Colaninno.

Pack 376—Cubmaster, Martin Szymanski; chairman, Rudolph Zoeller; pack committee, William

ROBERT FOLEY IS HAILED AT RECITAL

Robert Foley, 13-year-old pianist, formerly of Belleville, was enthusiastically acclaimed when he appeared as guest artist at the Bloomfield Civic Chorus Concert recently in the Bloomfield High School auditorium. Another newspaper, in reviewing the concert, had the following to say about Robert's performance:

"A modest youngster, he showed tremendous poise and ability for one his age. His performance in the first half of Rondo Capriccioso by Mendelssohn, set up an enthusiastic expectancy for his appearance in the second half, when he played a group of Chopin numbers."

The young pianist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Foley of Nutley.

Zimmerman and Eugene Kelly den mothers, Grace Mess, Rita Barsky, Cecelia Zoeller, Angelina Iannelli, Frances Sieciemski and Helen Pomponio.

Basketball Team Gets Ready For Friday's Opener

A Two-fold Program

A program with a two-fold purpose will be inaugurated tomorrow night when Belleville High School opens its basketball season with Montclair Academy furnishing the opposition. The program is designed to provide an opportunity for a wider participation on the part of the student body in the basketball evenings and to add to the existing harmonious relations between Belleville and the communities whose teams come here to play.

The entire idea is to entertain the members of the visiting basketball squads and their cheerleaders with a pot of cocoa and something more substantial, after the game. The social hour will be planned by members of the domestic science department and will be held in the cafeteria.

It is an idea which might well be followed in other schools. Some schools already do provide something of the sort, but confined to cokes and food prepared by parents, which is something else again.

Here 50 girls are members of the Hostesses Committee. In their domestic science classes they will plan and prepare the cookies, cakes and drinks for each home game. In turn the girls will serve as a committee of five to serve the food, to help entertain and to clean up the cafeteria and to wash the dishes after the evening's activities.

Members of both squads, the cheerleaders, coaches, game officials, some school officials and members of the press will be invited to the social hour.

This definitely is a "first" for Belleville. And in addition to the good feelings it will engender, every student who participates will carry something additional away from his High School life. They will learn to respect the rights and abilities of others and a truer understanding of sportsmanship.

It was not many years ago that a basketball game was a matter for just enough members of the varsity and junior varsity squads to put on two games. At home the cheerleaders came out, but they were not carried as part of the school's representation. The same was true in football. Then came bands and twirlers, all of which enlarged the number of students participating in the sports events. Now the enrolling of the domestic science department will enlarge the scope just that much more. And that is as it should be. Varsity sports should not be an activity of a few, but of the entire school.

The Basketball Team

Coach Jitty Wische, the county's outstanding high school basketball coach may not produce another wonder team this year, but he will see that Belleville High is ably represented on the court. This year it is not a question of retiring the Country Tournament trophy, but one of winning a fair share of the games on the schedule.

On the eve of the first game, Coach Wische ordinarily would have his squad pared down to 15 members, but with the opener tomorrow night, he still has 19 players on the squad and chances are that the four extra will be carried until the first of the year.

At present Dean Hatcher and Fred Engel, lettermen from last year are the only boys sure of making the team. Both are six feet two inches tall, and with varsity experience are invaluable. Just who will comprise the rest of the starting team is a matter that only Coach Wische can guess.

Without trying to rate ability in the order in which they are listed, the rest of the squad is composed of Pete Benz, George Plosa, Robert Kittle, Paul Weinstein, Nick Petti, Barry Muller, John Carpel, Roland Worthington, Frank Miller, Nick Cristos, Tom Mack, Joe Effenberger, Charles Kintzing, Charles Maguire, Gordon Aaltere and Bill Madara.

Mack, who was Jayvee at Barringer last year, may be the surprise of the season. He has a lot of ability and may wind up on the first five. He is six feet tall.

Only three footballers are on the squad, John Carpel, Roland Worthington and Bill Madara. The team's tallest players are Gordon Galtore, 6-4; Charles Maguire and Paul Weinstein, each 6-3 tall.

Practice scrimmages were held with Paterson East Side and Thomas Jefferson early this week. Inasmuch as each of these clubs is usually tough Coach Wische got a real look at the talent in these workouts.

The Boat Fund

Mac Lamb, chairman of the Varsity Club's Boat Fund reports that the unscrubbed balance on the eight board shell which will be delivered in the spring now stands at $419.69. This is $110 less than the amount due last week. The donations to the fund this week include $50 from Stanley A. Miller; $25 from the Gallagher Association; $15 from the Mothers' Club of Belleville; $10 from Frederick Scott Ship, VFW 5653 and $10 from Ken Hardman.

Basketball Team Gets Ready For Friday's Opener

Scrimmages With Eastside, Thomas Jefferson Close But Give Line on Possible Bellboy Starting Line-up

By Keith McEligot

By 8:30 tomorrow night, when Belleville High School opens its regular season of basketball, with the opposition coming from an improved Montclair Academy team, Coach Herman "Jitty" Wische will have his varsity team cut down to about 12 men.

Mr. Wische's reason for having a comparatively small squad is that, as any coach knows, a small team is a better one with which to work. As it stands now, there is one more major cut to take place before the season starts. Eighteen boys are now fighting it out for a berth on the team, either to be a starter or bench warmer, as the case may be. Only two regulars from last year's varsity are returning to competition this season.

The invading Red from Montclair are considered by many to have a better than average squad this year. Last year the Bellboys defeated them easily with the veteran squad of McConnell, Travers, Dilworth and Godfrey, but with the season starting so early this year and many of the boys still a bit rusty, you can't exactly predict an accurate outcome.

Hard practices have been climaxed this week by two "scrimmage" or "practice" games, one with Eastside of Paterson on Monday and another in Elizabeth against state champion runner-up, Thomas Jefferson. Belleville will not play either of these teams in the regular season. On Monday, Coach Wische got a fair view of how his team will look on Friday. Belleville employed the fast break, as usual, and a type of "transitional zone with a man-to-man principle" type of defense. The Paterson boys were excellent outside shooters, although they didn't get too many inside shots. Belleville's fast break was fair, the rebounding was fair, and the passing and shooting was fair. Of the many different combinations started by Mentor Wische at previous instances, the one decided on was that of Benz, Plosa, Engel, Hatcher and Kittle. Substitutions were frequent and Wische got a good look at each boy. The whole scrimmage was considered a success, although the unofficial score didn't put the Blue and Gold on top.

The next day the recruits packed their bags again and boarded a chartered bus and preceded to the Thomas Jefferson gym. Against the tall opposition of T. J. Wische considered his boys doing well. A man-to-man defense was thrown against the Bellboys and the latter capitalized on it many times. Everything seemed to work better than the previous day—the fast break was working fairly well against an in-alert opposition, and the shooting was better as a whole. The unofficial score was this time in Belleville's favor. The boys that marched out on the floor first this time were Muller, Petti, Hatcher, Benz and Engel. T. J. had very few boys returning from last year's team.

Repeating again, the Bellboys have but two veterans returning from last year. They are Fred "Buddy" Engel and Dean Hatcher. Both saw a lot of action in the regular season and in the tournaments. Both are about six-two and are good backboard men. Engel is usually used as a pivot man while Hatcher is employed as a forward. Fred favors the one-hand jump shot while Hatcher likes to drive.

From last year's sub-varsity are Pete Benz, George Plosa, Bob Kittle and Paul Weinstein. From last year's junior varsity are Nick Petti, diminutive back court set-shot artist; Corky Galtore, a big board man; "Nails" Maguire, a big boy who favors the one-hand Western style of shooting, and Roland Worthington, of football fame. Also still out for the team are Nick Cristos, nearly six-three; Joe Effenberger, a sophomore from Queen of Peace; Tom Mack, a fast fellow from Barringer, and Bill Madara, a good set-shot man from New York this year.

Wische demands of any senior who is out for the team to make seventh man or better. So it is pretty tough for men like Barry Muller, a good set-shot and ball handler; Chuck Kintzing, a small back court man, and Frank Miller, a fast forward with a good one-hander, to make the club.

A tough year lies ahead for the varsity certainly, and maybe even for the JV's who include (before the final cut) these juniors: Fred Kraft, Pat Caruso, Ed Ford, Fred Riccio; sophomores: Roscoe Caffone, Bill Gioia, Pat Roscoe, Walt Schroeder, Bob Taylor, Joe Cuzzi, Jim Luzzi, Richie Zipt, Larry Donofrio and Garry Behrman. Freshmen on the squad who will play for both JV and Fresh are: Gahr, Cerami, Liable, Higgins, Vesich and Connolly.

HERMAN HICKMAN WILL SPEAK AT FOOTBALL DINNER

Yale Coach and TV Star To Attend Varsity Club's 7th Annual Banquet

Herman Hickman of TV fame, who also does a bit of football coaching at Yale University will tell members of the Belleville Varsity Club and the Belleville High School football team, how he teaches "Character Building" at New Haven, Conn., Monday night at Donahues in Mountain View. Mr. Hickman, who is under a long term contract at Yale, to coach football, gets good results with the material at hand, but doesn't get too much material. He is a big man in a big field, well educated and an excellent speaker.

Seventh Annual Dinner

The occasion will be the seventh annual win-lose-or-draw banquet of the Belleville Varsity Club. And while the club pays host to the members of the football squad and the coaching staff, members of the band, twirlers group and cheer leaders also attend as guests of the High School Student Council.

William Chapman, principal of School No. 5 and chairman of the dinner committee, expects an attendance of from 400 to 500 people. He is being assisted by Vincent Casale, Paul Simpson and Vincent Vaccarella. Edward O'Neil is chairman of the program and is being assisted by Bob Harvey and John Baney.

Other Guests

Besides Mr. Hickman, toastmaster Arthur Bloemke will call upon Edward Lewis, coach of East Orange High School for a talk. A trophy presentation ceremony with officials of the Third Half Club of Nutley and Coach Gordon Scheler will mark the transfer of the trophy awarded to the winner of the annual game between these two schools. Each team now has won it three times.

Besides 42 members of the football team guests will include coach Edward T. Berlinski, Herman Wische, Raymond Smith and Wilho Winkla, supervising principal. Evan H. Thomas, principal of the Belleville High School, chairman of the Athletic Council; Harold Dufford, faculty manager; and Rev. John A. Struyk of the Reformed Church, who will ask the invocation.

Sports Reflections

By AL OUTCALT

Like any other baseball player, Gil McDougald has to ride the banquet circuit during the off-season. Although the Yankees don't require him to attend the dinners, they would like him to. Always affable, Gil goes to about four a week. If he gets to spend one quiet evening a week in his comfortable Belleville home, he's lucky.

"You can go to banquets seven nights a week," Gil says, "if you want to. When you're a ball player, you find you have a million friends. You want to be nice and go to them all, but there just aren't that many hours in a day."

Right now, Gil is assisting Phil Rizzuto at the American Baseball Academy in New York City, helping youngsters learn the finer points of our great national pastime. He gets there a little early and plays basketball to counteract the effects of the four banquets a week. It isn't such a battle though, because the guy doesn't look like he has a pound of fat on him. Muscular and broad-shouldered, McDougald looks as fit as the proverbial fiddle.

Sports Headliners On Camp Association Mat Carnival

Worthy of Madison Square Garden presentation, the greatest assemblage of wrestling talent on one show will be seen Tuesday night at the 113th Regiment Armory, Sussex Avenue and Jay Streets, Newark. The Crippled Children Camp Association will share in the receipts. The big program will not be televised or broadcast. To aid the charity which makes camp life possible for crippled kiddies, the amazing Antonino "Argentina" Rocca and colorful Gene "Mr. America" Stanlee will be seen as partners for the first time on the all-star program. They come to grips in a best two-out-of-three falls Australian tag team tussle with The Great Scott, formerly "Dutch" Schweigert of Haddonfield, and Bibber McCoy, former Holy Cross football star.

Of equal importance is the first public ring appearance in the Metropolitan area by Rocky Marciano since he knocked out Joe Louis. He will be the guest referee of the finish clash between Chief Don Eagle, unbeaten Canadian Indian star, and The Golden Terror, the Tennessee badman. This will be Marciano's first appearance in a New Jersey ring.

Zebra Kid Wrestles Again

The new star of the weekly Friday night wrestling bills at Laurel Garden, Newark, is a pachyderm who answers to the name of The Zebra Kid. He has been in as the featured performer in the last three shows and comes back for the fourth time when he meets Tony Martignelli in a feature go this Friday night. Unknown to the fans because he wears a mask, the Zebra Kid from his previous appearances should be around for some time.

ANOTHER REASON WHY...

YOU CAN BE SURE..IF IT'S Westinghouse

$7,500 FOR A WIRE ENAMEL. Dr. Jack Swiss (left) and Frank A. Sattler, both of Westinghouse Research Laboratories, and Charles B. Leape (right), former researcher now with our Materials Engineering Department, each received $2,500 for their collaboration in the development of a revolutionary new insulating wire enamel that promises more reliable and longer lasting electric motors and home appliances. Here Gwilym A. Price, president of the Company, presents checks to them.

$3,000 FOR A RADIO-TRANSMITTER CIRCUIT. Coleman J. Miller, 30-year-old engineer of the Electronics and X-Ray Division, received a $3,000 award. He invented the "Symmetron," a radio-transmitter circuit that uses small, easily-handled tubes in place of large tubes requiring special handling, and a dual frequency feed horn used in radar equipment.

There's real incentive to be inventive at Westinghouse!

$5,000 FOR AUTOMATIC DEFROSTING. Graham S. McCloy thought housewives should be freed of the messy job of refrigerator defrosting. So he developed the "Frost-Free" refrigerator which defrosts itself automatically and with practically no rise in temperature inside the refrigerator. No thick frost layer ever builds up, and foods stay in perfect condition. The invention earned him a $5,000 award, and promotion to Section Manager.

$5,000 FOR TRANSFORMER IMPROVEMENT. Belvin B. Ellis, 32-year-old Transformer Division engineer made scores of models, some fashioned from plain paper, before he developed his invention improving power distribution transformers. Mr. Ellis received his award on his 32nd birthday. His $5,000-award invention had traditional significance, since so many of the important improvements in the transformer art in the past 25 years have come out of our Sharon plant.

Hundreds of our scientists and engineers are constantly looking for new products, new methods and materials, new answers to old problems. Among this group are people who spend their entire time seeking inventions—working as methodically as an auditor checks accounts. As a result there is a constant flow of inventions through our Patent Department.

Now and then someone comes up with an invention that compares in importance with the one that started an important part of our business—the development of the first commercially practical transformer. When that happens, the inventor receives special recognition in the form of a promotion or substantial cash award.

We encourage this steady stream of inventions because they help to assure constantly better products for you. Some are minor improvements . . . some are great . . . but all are encouraged and rewarded in one way or another because we know that continuous invention is the mainspring of our growth and success.

Our inventors, and there are hundreds of them, are another reason why you can be sure . . . if it's Westinghouse.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED!

Here five years before the telephone was invented, G. L. Fisher has seen lots of changes in his lifetime. Today he and Mrs. Fisher say the telephone plays a big part in successful operation of their farm at Mendham.

Time was (and not so long ago) when telephones in rural areas were few and far between. Now they're in more than 60,000 rural establishments in the state. Nearly 3/4 of all the homes and businesses in rural areas have telephones. And there are fewer parties on most lines than ever before. In the city and on the farm, telephone service is better than ever, and the telephone grows in value every day.

Telephone progress in New Jersey's rural areas is typical of progress throughout the state. And in city and rural areas alike this progress is continuing—as fast as scarce materials are available.

His schooling with the famed 5th "Red Diamond" Division will include the care and use of light and heavy infantry weapons, living in the field, strenuous day and night marches, and combat tactics.

Most of his training will be conducted by combat-toughened veterans of the Korean conflict, or veterans of battle in World War II.

Undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., are three Belleville, seaman recruits, USN, Bruce M. Grisham of 419 Cortlandt St., Frank J. Mielowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mielowski of 30 Stephens Street, and Raymond L. Martin, son of Lester Martin of 222 William Street.
