

So What?

Cy Aquino, owner of premises at 168 Washington Avenue, mentioned in this column last week, informed Building Inspector Thomas P. Greco on Monday that action on taking down the vacant building will be taken this week. He told the building inspector the same thing about a year ago. The building inspector's power in such cases provides for the notification of the property owner. He can also order barricades erected and then have the cost assessed against the property owner. Only the town commissioners can force the demolition of the building.

Radio Station WOR's "Pat Barnes and Barbara" will have William Tully, deputy mayor of Belleville as their guests from 3:30 to 3:55 o'clock, Friday afternoon, when their program originates from the Post and Coach of the Port Authority Bus Terminal. Every week the father-daughter team interviews the mayor of a community serviced by the Terminal and points out highlights of the community. With Mayor Jim Tully in the Marines at Camp Pendleton, California; and Acting Mayor Patrick A. Waters, busy on his job with Eastwood-Nealley, that puts Bill Tully in the mike seat.

We had 14 items of Belleville School News prepared this week with the idea of having a school page, but because of mechanical difficulties the items are found on a number of pages in this week's paper. We hope to have a school page as a regular feature in the future.

A trumpet quartet composed of Paul Philipson, Raymond Kean, Edmund Baker and Bruce McCumber, students of the seventh and eighth grades of School No. 3, and members of the Grammar School Band, plan to play Christmas Carols between 6 and 8 o'clock on Sunday, December 23. They will start out at Forest and Greylock, and will play in William Street, Rossmore Place and complete their playing at Division and Mertz Avenues. From there they will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Philipson at 49 Mertz Avenue, for refreshments.

Miss Dorothy Nell Darby, executive director, Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, has been confined to her home during the past week by a severe attack of La Grippe. Volunteer staff aides, under the direction of Mrs. John Walsh are making a valiant effort to keep things going during her absence.

Jim Powers, genial secretary of the Belleville Chapter, is also a medical casualty. Jim is recovering from an operation and hopes that he soon will be back on the active duty list.

FIVE VETS GET NEW JUDGE'S MERCY

Suspends Sentence in Cases Of All-Night Parking Near Brighton Avenue Barracks

It is customary for a new judge or magistrate to suspend sentence in one of the cases coming before him in his first day in court, but Magistrate Edward J. Abramson last week suspended sentence for five residents of the Veterans Barracks, who had been given tickets for all night parking in the street near the barracks in Brighton Avenue.

The veterans used to park their cars on the lawn in front of the buildings, but recently the state authorities informed them that this practice had to cease. The Belleville police, enforcing an ordinance prohibiting all night parking, ticketed some of the cars. All the drivers told Magistrate Abramson that there is no place else to go. There are no garages available in the vicinity, they can't park on the lawn, and now can't park in the street.

Two are Fined

Two other motorists before Magistrate Abramson on Wednesday night got off with light fines on minor charges. Gerald Magliore of 270 Parker Street, Newark, paid $3 for failing to have his registration in his possession, and Lottie Lichner of 67 Sanford Avenue, Belleville, paid $5 for an improper turn.

Progress Club Honors Magistrate At Dinner

The Progress Club of Belleville will honor one of its members, Magistrate Edward J. Abramson, at its annual Dinner-Dance at the Stage Coach Inn, Little Ferry, Sunday night. A full course roast beef dinner, a full hour show and dancing to Johnny Dee's Orchestra are but a few of the features of the evening. Samuel J. Kogan, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Congregation A.A.A. and Jack Steinhauer, chairman of the entertainment committee, nothing will be spared in putting over the club's annual event and at the same time paying tribute to the club's most honored members.

Community Chest Names Three To Trustees Board

Harry G. Fellman, William Irvine, Jr. and Everett Denning Are Selected

Three new Trustees have been named to the Board of the Belleville Community Chest. They are Harry G. Fellman, William Irvine, Jr. and Everett Denning.

Mr. Fellman, who lives at 32 Essex Street, is President of Fellman Limited Shoes in Newark. He is a Board Member of Congregation A.A.A. in Belleville, Board Member and Vice President of the North Essex Jewish Center. He was 1950 Belleville Chairman of the United Jewish appeal and is actively engaged in the Civil Defense.

Mr. Irvine, Jr., lives at 268 Division Avenue, is associated with his father, William F. Irvine, Sr. Funeral Director. He is a member of the Belleville Craftsman Club No. 409, Belleville Lodge No. 108 F. & A.M., and the Jr. Order of United American Mechanics, Belleville Council No. 165. Mr. Irvine served 2 years with the U. S. Army. He is a member of the Wesley Methodist Church.

Mr. Denning, resides at 290 Division Avenue, and is an Attorney at Law. He is Secretary to Judge Hartshorne. He is a graduate of Rutgers Law School and served 3½ years with the U. S. Navy. He is a member of the Fewsmith Church.

RED CROSS HEADS HEAR OF CANTEEN FOR 369TH BOYS

Need For Four Volunteer Workers And Staff Assistant Is Discussed

A report on the Canteen operated by Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross at the Second Baptist Church, for the benefit of the men of the 369th Anti-Aircraft Artillery, in winter training maneuvers in Belleville Park, was made at the meeting of the Board of Directors, Monday night at the Chapter headquarters, 260 Washington avenue.

Gray Ladies and Canteen volunteer workers serve cake and coffee nightly. The canteen committee is composed principally of members of the Non-Partisan League. The report was submitted by B. Thomas Aitken, chairman of the chapter.

Eugene R. Barnett reported on the defense and Essex County Blood Banks. The defense blood bank resulted in donations of 141 pints on November 20. Friday 54 pints of blood were given to the Essex County Blood Bank for civilians by employees of Kidde & Company, Inc. Mr. Barnett reported the need for at least four or five volunteers to work at headquarters on the Blood program office work. Each blood bank visit means more file card entries, more reports and more correspondence.

The next Defense Blood Bank will be on February 1 and will honor Sergeant Rene Flory, Jr., the first Belleville boy killed in Korea.

In a discussion of personnel problems it was revealed that captivity and responsibilities of the Executive Director have increased three-fold since Miss Darby took over the position. It was apparent that a capable assistant, trained in Red Cross procedure was required and the Board took steps to procure such an assistant to augment the volunteer staff of aides functioning under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Walsh.

Child On Way To School Is Struck At Crosswalk

David Cohn, seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Cohn of 46 Mt. Pleasant avenue, received a head injury when struck by a car at 8:20 o'clock, Tuesday morning, as he was on his way to No. 8 School. David was crossing at the crosswalk of Branch Brook Drive when hit by the right front fender of a car driven by Robert S. DeFuria, 25, of 30 Parkview Avenue, who was driving south on Branch Brook drive. DeFuria in a statement to Record Clerk Harry J. Winfield said that his view of the intersection was obscured by a truck which had parked close to the crosswalk and that when he saw the child it was too late to bring his car to a stop.

The child was taken to the Isolation Hospital by a neighbor and after an examination by Dr. Ford, there, was transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in the Belleville Ambulance.

GRIDDER HURT

John Welsifier, 21, of 182 Joramont Street, a member of the Hilton A. C. football team, was injured in a football scrimmage at Belleville Park, Sunday. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic in the town ambulance by Firemen Thalheimer and Cafone.

The first delegation of Belleville married draftees left the headquarters of the Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, 260 Washington avenue, last week. Two of the draftees reported directly to the Sussex Avenue Armory in Newark and five of them were transported to Newark in the Red Cross Motor Corps station wagons. Pictured above are Frank R. Martorelli of 89 Cedar Hill avenue, Walter S. Macek of Branch Brook Drive; Edward C. McGeachen, 750 Washington avenue; Hugh Murphy, Jr., of 16 Belmore street and Frank Pettito of 53 Noltan street. Joseph P. Barbone of 61 Eugene place and Michael S. Carnevale of 30 Cedar Hill avenue reported direct.

EXTRA BUS TRIPS ON NO. 13 LINE

Rush Hour Service Is Augmented; Seasonal Service Increased

Joseph Vrooman, district manager of the Group 1, Passaic Division of the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport, and in charge of all Public Service buses operating in Belleville, reported to Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde on Monday night that nine additional trips on the No. 13 bus line will be made each morning and evening rush hour to help move Belleville-Newark traffic. This is a permanent addition. Also for the holiday season extra trips will be made from Belleville to Newark and return.

No. 37 Change

The No. 37 bus line which sort of meanders through town in the meanwhile has discontinued all service on Sundays and Holidays, including Christmas and New Years, because of the lack of patronage. The move had been contemplated for several months, but the action was delayed because several citizens protested and asked the company to give it further trial. Record show some of the Sunday trips were made with out a passenger while others had as many as two riders.

Big Tree Manager

Mr. Vrooman, himself has been involved in a shift. Up until recently he was stationed at the North Newark garage and he had partial jurisdiction over both Newark and Big Tree. Now he is the Big Tree garage chief. The North Newark garage has been combined with the Kearny line.

Attending Conference

Prize for Best Letter to Santa

Santa Claus stopped at the Town Hall last week long enough to say hello to Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde and to pick up the letters from his special mail box. Craig Lokowiak just happened to be on hand and personally handed his letter to Santa. There is still time for Belleville's little boys and girls to mail their letters to Santa, for he will collect them right up to the night before Christmas. Santa is endeavoring to answer every letter and he has arranged with the Recreation Department to give a special gift to the boy or girl who composes the best letter.

Water Rates To Jump 20 Per Cent After January 1

Commissioners Also Propose to Raise Liquor License Fees from $350 to $500 Nearer Average for Essex County

The Board of Commissioners at their meeting in the Town Hall on Tuesday night took steps to put the water department on a pay as you go basis and to put the town nearer in line with the average for the county in the matter of liquor license fees. An ordinance adopted on first reading, ups the water rates by about 20 per cent, while tavern and liquor store license fees will be jumped from $350, one of the lowest rates in the county to $500, and increases the club license fees from the minimum allowed by the state law, of $50 to $100.

Acting Mayor Patrick A. Waters in proposing the water department rate changes said the increase would amount to about $3 per home. He said that in all his years on the Board of Commissioners the water rate has been constant, except for quantity users. Records for 1901 show that the fixed cost for a house with one bath room was $17.25 per year. Today the same home pays $11. This will be increased to $14 when the ordinance goes into effect on January 1.

BELLEVILLE DIST. RE-ELECTS OFFICERS AT SCOUT DINNER

C. M. Nutt, E. P. Russell And Douglas Wadsworth Continue In Posts; Increase Noted

Charles M. Nutt, Chairman; Elwood P. Russell, Vice Chairman, and Douglas Wadsworth, District Commissioner, were re-elected at the Annual Meeting of the Belleville District of the Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, held at the For-Hills Restaurant last week.

The Invocation preceding the dinner was given by Rev. Fred Hubach of the Wesley Methodist Church and the benediction at the close of the meeting by Rev. Thomas Gillick of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church.

Reports by various committee chairmen including Henry Minasian, Advancement; Harry Nees, camping and activities; Walter Finch, finance; William Chapman, leadership training; Layton Cox, health and safety and Robert Lawrence, organization and extension, revealed that Scouting has grown and improved during the year.

There are 705 boys now in Scouting compared with 686 a year ago, a gain of 2.8%. James Killough, Jr., Scout Executive, gave a most interesting talk on the 7th World Jamboree.

Citizenship Certificates were presented to Fred Cox, Robert Greulich and Fred Middle all of Troop 388 and Eagle Scouts, by A. T. Rhoads representing the Essex County American Legion. Sixty-nine Scouters, their wives and friends attended the meeting. Evan H. Thomas was toastmaster and Charles M. Nutt presided over the business meeting.

Thomas Hamilton who served successfully as Scoutmaster of Troop 313, sponsored by the 2nd Baptist Church some years ago, has returned as Scoutmaster of the Troop which meets Thursdays at School No. 1. During Mr. Hamilton's previous period of service the Troop grew in numbers and Scouting activity. The Scouts of the Troop are happy to welcome Mr. Hamilton back to their Troop.

Cites Union's Position In Prudential Strike

Agents Seek $20 Hike In Base Pay And Say Company Plan Inadequate For All

Members of Local 59, I. A. I. U. A. F. L. representing the Kearny and Newark I offices of the Prudential Insurance Company and covering West Hudson, North Arlington, Lyndhurst, Rutherford, North Newark and Belleville took part in a mass demonstration of Prudential agents in Newark Friday.

The agents, who claim they have received no appreciable raise in more than 20 years are asking an increase in their base pay from $35 to $55 per week, plus compensation for car and for services to policy-holders beyond that of premium collections.

Joseph Smith of Belleville, representing Local 59 says the present day cost of living is just as high for insurance men and their families as for anyone else. He says the company has offered a change in the pension plan and $3.11 in average commissions per week, as a substitute for the base pay requests of the men, but the company's offer is not only inadequate, but because the $3.11 is an average figure more than 50 per cent of the agents would receive little or nothing extra.

JUNIOR RED CROSS DRIVE EXCEEDS PREVIOUS MARKS

Increases In Enrollments And Contributions Are Noted; $584 Collected

The Junior Red Cross of Belleville which conducted its annual membership in the Belleville School system in November was a huge success, with a 40 per cent increase in the number of members and a corresponding increase in the amount of money, both of which have exceeded all previous records. The drive netted $584.68 in the High School, ten grammar schools and St. Peter's Parochial School.

Approximately 70 per cent of the student enrollment in each school of Belleville has joined the Junior Red Cross, contributed to the annual Fund and will participate throughout the year in Junior Red Cross projects contemplated.

The spirit and energy of this young group of Red Crossers is truly amazing and indicates what can be accomplished in Belleville under intelligent leadership. Miss Margaret Leahy, a physical education instructor in the Belleville School system, is chairman of the Junior Red Cross and is assisted by teacher-sponsors in each school.

Fell Downstairs While Alone In Locked Home

When neighbors of Mrs. Estelle McKann of 187 Branch Brook Drive, heard a thumping noise in her apartment Sunday afternoon they rightly surmised that she had fallen down stairs. They knew she was alone in the house at the time, so police were summoned. Patrolmen John Hanly and Francis Gilroy looked in a window and saw Mrs. McKann lying on the floor at the foot of the stairs. All the doors and windows were locked, so they knocked out a pane of glass in the kitchen door and gained entrance.

Dr. Montague Roberts was called. He revived Mrs. McKann and put her in bed. She suffered a contusion of the forehead and abrasions of the face. In the meantime other police located Mrs. McKann's 18-year-old son, John, and he took charge of his mother.

Burial was in Gate of Heaven Cemetery.

Mr. Logan died Friday in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, after a brief illness. He was 45 years old. Associated with the Bell Telephone Co. for 25 years, he was a former manager of the Belleville office. He was recently transferred to the general commercial engineering staff of the office in Newark.

During World War II, Mr. Logan served as a lieutenant colonel in Australia and New Guinea. He was a member of the reserves for 23 years, becoming activated in 1941 from the 907th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Group.

Mr. Logan was a member of the H. G. McCully Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, and the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of the Most Blessed Sacrament Church, East Orange.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Kathleen O'Rourke Logan; three daughters, the Misses Barbara and Jane at home, and Mary, serving with the Waves in Bainbridge, Md.; a son, Michael, at home, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Logan of Nutley.

Seal Sale At Halfway Mark

Eugene T. Berry Reports 50 Per Cent Of $6,000 Goal Has Been Reached

Contributions have passed the halfway mark toward the goal of $6,000 set for Belleville by the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association in their current Christmas Seal Sale according to Eugene T. Berry, Belleville Seal Sale Chairman.

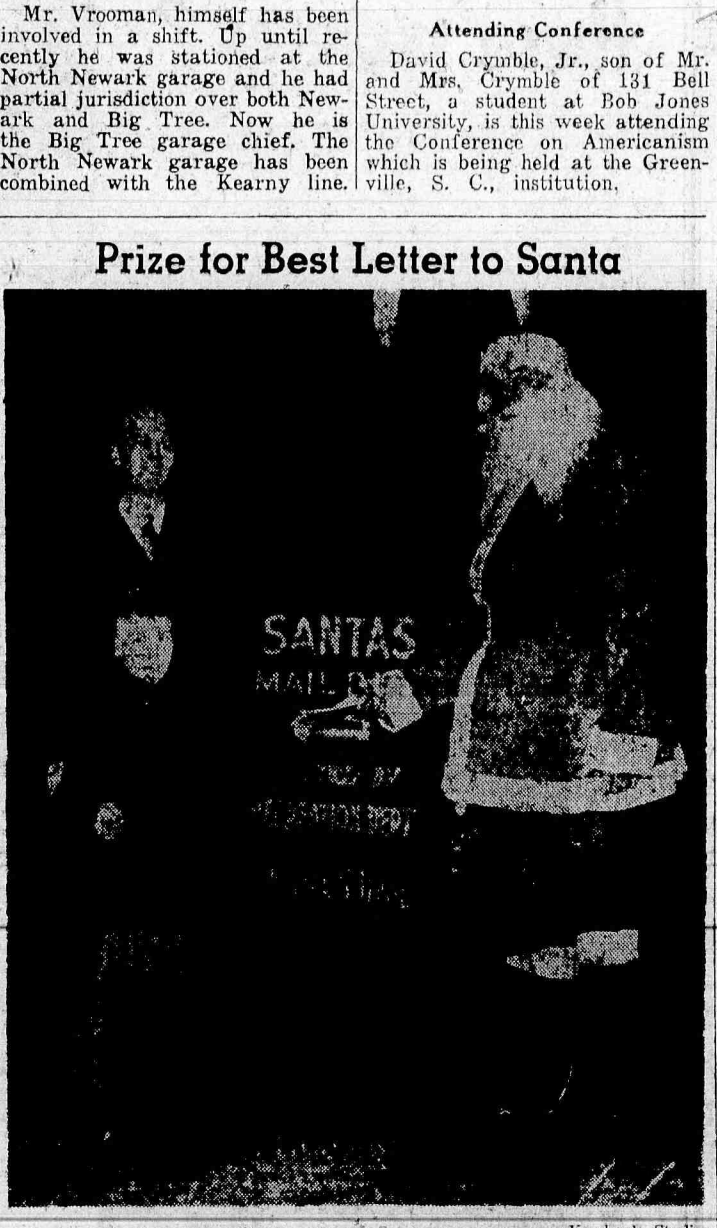

At an executive meeting of the Board of Directors held last week, Eugene J. Kelly, President of the Local Tuberculosis Association, said he was well pleased with the response the Seal Sale is getting since it can only mean that the people of Belleville and Nutley appreciate the worthwhile service that is rendered by his group throughout the year. "As Christmas approaches, and the mail volume increases," Kelly said, "we feel justly proud of the support of our work as evidenced by the wide use of our little health stickers. With this continued help in our fight against tuberculosis, each Christmas will be merrier as we steadily gain over the disease."

X-Ray Dates Fixed

The Association has also announced that the date has been set for their free Community X-ray Project in the Soho and Silver Lake sections of Belleville for Saturday, May 3, 1952. This will provide three consecutive Saturdays in May when Nutley and Belleville residents may have their annual free X-ray taken. From the first date as given above, the unit will go to Belleville High School on Saturday, May 10 and then to Nutley Junior High School on Saturday, May 17. The hours in all places will be the same as last year.

Wrestled Through Plate Glass Window, Cut-up

William Ludwig, 22, of 54 Davenport Avenue, Newark and Anthony DePasque, 23, of 187 Mountainview Drive, Clifton became involved in an argument Sunday night in front of a pool room at 70 Belmont avenue, and when one word led to another and eventually to a wrestling match, both tumbled through a plate glass window. Ludwig landed on the bottom with his left hand over DePasque's back, just as a jagged piece of glass fell from the frame. It severed a tendon in his wrist, but because of Ludwig's hand didn't pierce DePasque's back, Ludwig also suffered lacerations of the right elbow and left ear. He was taken to the Columbus Hospital where he is being held for treatment. Police held DePasque in police headquarters overnight and released him in his attorney's custody on Tuesday, to await the outcome of Ludwig's injuries. He suffered a small cut on the shoulder.

Passaic Edges Bellboys Despite Last Ditch Effort

Wische Uses Every Boy On Varsity Squad; But
Vellis Is Too Accurate
By Keith McEligot

A last minute desperate try by the Bellboy courtsters failed to overcome a big Passaic first half lead, Tuesday night on the home floor, and Belleville High lost its first regular season game over a stretch extending into two seasons. Passaic still led 54 to 48 with 40 seconds to play when two last ditch baskets brought the final count 54 to 52.

Passaic's fine shooting and effective man-to-man defense accounted for the minute difference in the game. Although they did not quite make it in their comeback effort at the end of the game, the Bellboys showed plenty of fight and the will to win.

Coach "Titty" Wische juggled his team and all the reserves played. As the Bellboys entered the last quarter trailing 46 to 39, most of the starters had just about fouled out, so it was the subs who put on the rally which almost put the team back in the game.

Bad Start Disastrous

Passaic jumped into an immediate six point lead with Vellis hitting for three straight. Belleville battled back to a 6-8 score in the early minutes and that was the last time the Blue & Gold was within reach, until the final gun. Belleville's chances got worse as the game progressed. The electric scoreboard clicked off point after point for Passaic. The visitors scored on long sets, one handers and an occasional driving layup after piercing the Belleville zone.

The last quarter was a reverse of the rest of the game. Passaic scored only 8 points and Belleville controlled the boards and started hitting with shots. At the very last second Engel and Hatcher both went up for a tap. The ball dropped and the writer still doesn't know who was credited with the basket.

The Bellboys play their next game at Garfield on Tuesday and then lay off until January 2, when they play at West Side. Pick up 6 point.

Wonder Why... Red is such a popular color with the freshmen girls. Could it be because of a certain freshman boy who came from Newark? ... Certain seniors are seen walking through the halls with their noses behind papers covered with strange symbols. ... Could it be that they have chemistry? ... Vinny Nardello misses his bus home every afternoon. ... "Surely" there must be a good reason. ... The kids from homeroom 306 didn't have their book sitw them during one day last week. ... Could it be that Mr. Wilcox misplaced his keys? ... So many seniors from Miss Maffeo's history classes were found working feverishly on history papers over the weekend. ... would it be to atone for those "beautiful" test marks? ... Corages seemed to be in evidence Monday. ... The Rainbow Girls from Friday night perhaps? ... The traffic was held up on Union Avenue Sunday afternoon. ... Ask Donald Barrett. ... The "Jesters" are broke. ... Could it be because of those classy new jackets they're sporting?

In a Dilemma
A dilemma is confronting Mrs. Deguin's senior English classes—either flunk or find out "How I can help expand opportunities in America." Any ideas?

High School Students Design And Prepare Christmas Decorations

Art, Mechanical Drawing And Wood Shop Classes Combine Their Talents

Belleville High School students are looking forward to the Christmas season, not only for the holidays as such but they are increasingly anxious to see the lighted outdoor display which has been growing under the direction of the art, mechanical drawing, and wood shop classes. The display has been erected over the gymnasium windows.

The display depicting Santa Claus and his reindeer was developed first in the art department where James Bloom under the direction of Mr. Diehl, drew the first sketch of the design which eventually developed into the master plan for the display. The problem of increasing this plan to scale and redrawing it on sheets of prestwood 8x8 feet was taken over by the mechanical drawing classes under Mr. Gabry. Here most of the student work was done by Eileen Pendergast and Alice Edwards.

Hung By Maintenance Force

The actual construction and cutting of the display was very efficiently handled by the shop classes under Mr. Henry, who will assist the Board of Education Maintenance Department with its final set-up when it is put on display.

play outside the High School during the holiday season. But again, when the construction was completed, all the units were returned to the art classes for painting. The color scheme was worked out by Larry Dunn, who also did much of the painting, assisted by Carmine Sylvestri. It is hoped this display will add something to the spirit of the season and give pleasure both to the High School students and the towns people.

Work-Experience For Secretarial Trainees

Students Will Work Full Time In School Office For One Week

The Business Education Department of Belleville High School, under the direction of Mr. Schultz, is starting a work-experience program for the students in the 12th grade secretarial training classes. The work-experience program in business education is designed to furnish occupational experience with classroom training.

Work-experience from this point of view has come to mean the opportunities afforded the student to put into practice the skills, both specific and general, which he has acquired, and to gain in competency through practice. At the same time that skill development is being forwarded, an opportunity is afforded for the gaining of a general knowledge of business and the development of those personal qualities, habits, and attitudes found to be most desirable in the worker.

Three Training Centers

As a starting point the program is utilizing the high school office, the guidance office, and the supervising principal's office as training centers. Each student will be on the job full-time for a one-week period. The plan follows a rotation schedule which will give each student an opportunity to be on the job for three weeks during the year. It is hoped in the very near future to be able to utilize the elementary school offices as training centers. The student's work on the job will be evaluated by the training supervisor, and this report will be discussed with the student on her return to the classroom.

For the week of December 10 through December 14, 1951, Rose Marie Falcone will report to Mr. Thomas' office, Josephine Serriella to Mr. Kittle's office and Jane Corino to Mr. Slifkin's office.

Each Recreation Sponsored League Has Two Top Teams

Strats And Eastwood Fives Appear To Have Class Of Senior Circuit; Scores

Two strong clubs have developed in each league and division of the Recreation Department's basketball leagues, which play their games at the High School. In the Intermediate circuit the Silver Lakers and Panthers in the National Division and Roy's Sport Shop and the Cavaliers in the American Division are leading their circuits.

In the Grammar School League Schools No. 4 and 5 have excellent teams and so far are unbeaten in league competition. Both are well balanced and without a single outstanding player. Other teams in the league also look good and the competition should be hot as the race develops.

In the Junior League the Hilltops and the Rams are undefeated and they should remain that way until they meet in January. Each has an outstanding scorer, with Gough of the Hilltops at 27 points in two games and Orlando of the Rams sporting 21 for the same number of games.

The Senior League has five teams tied for the lead with two victories each, but before long the Strats and the Eastwoods should be up there alone. So far they have shown the most class. But the road to the championship is a long one and either or both may be pushed to the sidelines before reaching the goal.

NEWARK ACADEMY ALUMNI GROUP TO SPONSOR CONCERT

Trapp Family Singers Will Be Featured On Association's Pre-Christmas Program

Mrs. Leslie T. Jones of 149 Beech Street and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Delaney of 180 Tappan Avenue are serving on committees for the presentation of the Trapp Family Singers in a pre-Christmas concert in the Orange High School auditorium on Friday night, December 21. The program is being sponsored by the Newark Academy Alumni Association for the scholarship fund.

Immediately following the concert, which is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, the Newark Academy Alumni will be hosts at a Christmas dance in the Rock Spring Club, West Orange. Dancing will start at 11 o'clock.

The Trapp Family, who came to the United States 12 years ago as refugees from the Nazis who overran their native Austria, has become one of the outstanding musical troupes in American concert history. Their interpretations of Christmas carols, madrigals, motets and folk songs have earned them world-wide acclaim. They also play selections on the ancient recorder - or block-flute - the viol da gamba and the spinet. The Trapps sing under the direction of Father Franz Wasner, the family chaplain and musical director.

Are alcoholic beverages considered a food? The Office of Price Stabilization says yes. Because they are considered that, beers, wines and liquors are covered under Ceiling Price Regulation 11, and thousands of North Jersey taverns and bars must file with OPS.

Andrew F. Zazzali, director of the Newark district Office of Price Stabilization declared yesterday that a check of taverns here disclosed that some of them have not filed with OPS and are now in violation of the law.

"Our Enforcement Division will bring civil injunction action against any operator of an eating and drinking establishment that continues to violate the law," Zazzali said. "Any tavern or restaurant not now filed with us should do so immediately or face prosecution when the Special Agent calls."

OPS Cracks Down On Bars and Eating Places

Angela Petroccia and Walter Reutter, seniors at Jersey City State Teachers College, are now student teaching at the James G. Shawger School here.

Earl A. Pedersen of 137 Bremond Avenue has been elected president of the senior class of Upsala College, while Lloyd E. Gill of 22 Montgomery Place has been elected president of the Upsala College Geology Club.

The two Belleville students are seniors. Pedersen, a graduate of Belleville High School, is a member of Kappa Beta Phi fraternity at the college. He is majoring in economics. Gill, a geology major, is a member of the Sigma Gamma Epsilon fraternity.

Walter Shope, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shope of 83 Wilber Street, recently became a member of the newly organized Student Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers at Fairleigh Dickinson College.

There are 33 junior and senior year Engineering students in the chapter, which was chartered by the National Industrial Engineers organization. The purpose of this, the first and only national industrial engineering society, are to strengthen the profession nationally and locally, to encourage and assist education and research in the field, to promote the interchange of ideas within the profession, and to establish professional standards and status for industrial engineers.

Shope is a Junior majoring in the Industrial Engineering curriculum at the Rutherford College. He is a graduate of Belleville High School.

Afterglow

Between two seasons, often there will be days which are neither fall nor winter, when sunlight is pale and earth reluctantly accepts a mood of quietness again. Woods wear the vestiges of tarnished gold. Frost slowly reaches to the roof, and stills Brook music; all the winds of dusk are cold; A misty purple hovers on the hills.

Now is the time of that prophetic pause before a seal of whiteness has been set. On fields, and autumn silently withdraws. Something of mellow beauty lingers yet in this uncertain interval, as though the year would hold one moment's afterglow.

Justice For Italy

It is obvious that with absolute disregard for international decency and honesty among nations, Soviet Russia will use her veto against the admission of Italy to the United Nations. Russia's veto action in the Security Council will not reflect in the slightest Italy's qualifications for admission; it will be a political veto, the kind of ultimatum any thug would use. Admit Red China or we will blackball Italy. Of such, alas, is Communist mentality made.

The Western nations have an obligation to rewrite their peace treaty with Rome, freeing the Italian people of restrictions that were applied at a time when the world was still disillusioned as to the intentions of the Communists and when passions were enflamed against the fascist dictatorships of Italy and Germany.

Italy proved her intentions when she joined the war with us against Germany. She is prepared to prove them again in the event of a new surge of Russian Imperialism in Western Europe. Italy is definitely aligned with us in our common defense against Communism. She should be freed of her fetters so that she will be stronger to combat aggression.

There can be but one reply to Rome's formal request for revision of the peace treaty: a reasonable acquiescence. The requested revision concerns principally the preamble, which states that Italy "undertook a war of aggression"; Articles 15 to 18, dealing with the respect of human rights, suppression of the Fascist party and other requirements that Italy feels are infringement of her sovereignty if imposed upon her by foreign powers, and Articles 46 to 70, which limit Italy's fortifications, armaments and armed forces.

The treaty itself specifies no procedure for revision except as far as military clauses are concerned. For military clauses the treaty states that they may be modified in whole or in part by an agreement between the Allied and associated powers on one hand and Italy on the other or after Italy becomes a member of the United Nations by agreement between the Security Council and Italy. Italy so far has been prevented by five Soviet vetoes from becoming a member of the United Nations.

It is our contention that Russia is not running this world. We contend that it is universally recognized that the treaty imposed upon Rome in the heat of war's temper is an unfair restraint. It has been universally recognized that Italy is an active member on an equal footing of the family of Democratic and peace-loving nations. Deprived by Russia's veto of her seat in the United Nations, she can obtain treaty revision only through our own action. We owe it to Italy and to ourselves to move swiftly, if for no other reason than to prove to the world that we are not swayed by a Kremlin veto.

"Moral Decay Within"

Each year the Roman Catholic cardinals, archbishops and bishops of the United States issue a message. This year's message, published this week, is of unusual significance.

It begins: "An alarming parallel exists between the situation facing us today and that which faced the Roman Empire 1500 years ago. The problems of the empire closely resemble those which sorely test us now—barbarism on the outside, refined materialism and moral decay within. The Roman Empire disintegrated from within, and moral corruption was the main cause. The same fate will befall us if we do not awake to the danger."

The Catholic spokesmen then touched on political corruption and immorality, saying, "In politics, the principle that 'anything goes' simply because people are thought not to expect any high degree of honor in politicians is grossly wrong . . . Those who are selected for office by their fellow men are entrusted with grave responsibilities. They have been selected not for self-enrichment but for conscientious public service . . . One and the same standard covers stealing from the cash register and dishonest gain derived from public office."

Regardless of one's religious beliefs and affiliations, every American should be in thorough agreement with this Catholic view. Moral decay can destroy peoples and governments as surely as the most terrible wars and the most barbaric revolutions. The disclosures which have so far been made of corruption in our own governments, national, state and local, must have shocked and disgusted every citizen with any concept of honor and decency. Here is a case where only the sternest kind of corrective action can suffice.

One Way NOT To Elect A President

The idea keeps popping up that we should prove our national unity to the world by electing General Dwight D. Eisenhower to the Presidency as the candidate of both parties. Sometimes the proposal comes from the Republican side; this time it came from a Democrat, Carl Vrooman, who was Secretary of Agriculture in Woodrow Wilson's cabinet. He would have both conventions agree on Ike's name and then just call it "no contest."

No, we say, and we hope to say it loud enough. The strength of America is its two-party system, not one or three or twenty, but two parties. When a Republican runs against a Democrat that's Democracy. When a hand-picked candidate stands for office without opposition, that's Fascism or Nazism—or Communism.

To make Eisenhower a coalition candidate would mean to suspend on the highest national level the normal workings of Democracy. If there is one thing we want to preserve, it is our political independence and if we abandon it to choose a single candidate now it would be a bad precedent for abandoning our traditional democratic processes at many equally compelling elections to come. Until some day a Peron or a Hitler or a Stalin moves into the White House. And don't say that it can't happen here! Ask any German, any Russian or Italian or Argentinian.

Happily, such an unanimous election will not come to pass. General Eisenhower himself wants no part of such a process. The question of a two-party nomination was put to Ike in Paris recently and his answer is contained in an interview which a New Hampshire publisher recently had with General Eisenhower and which was published not long ago in Collier's.

The publisher said that when he conveyed the idea to Ike, the soldier exploded in wrath. What Eisenhower said in clean English was this:

"That's one thing you can be certain I'll never have any part of. Our democracy is based upon the two-party system, and I'll have nothing to do with undermining it."

It's our judgment that effective national unity must be based on the consent of the governed and can be strengthened only by the use, not the adjournment, of the democratic process.

No Relief For Our Schools

In a town where building permits are granted every year for a million dollars worth of new housing which will add at least 100 families each year to our population, the public school problem continues dominant from a local tax angle.

There are evidences that some people think higher enrollments will recede in a year or two, that the present buildings are adequate to meet future needs, and that there are teachers enough.

That may be true for certain rural communities away from the Metropolitan area, but here within sight of the New York skyscrapers, the spread of the great city's population to the immediate suburbs is persistent and will go on until the whole of Essex is built up to capacity.

It is interesting, therefore, that in a most timely prognostic, New Jersey Commissioner of Education John M. Boschart predicts that since the rate of new construction continues constant and since the birth-rate is still at a high level, the peak of enrollment here in Essex will not be reached in our public schools until about 1958; enrollments will continue at a high level until well beyond 1960.

A conservative estimate indicates that by 1958 we may have 250,000 more pupils in our New Jersey public schools than in 1946-48. Commissioner Boschart reported this week. "Another conservative estimate is that 250,000 more pupils will require 8,000 additional teachers and 8,000 more classrooms plus necessary auditoriums. The cost of the additional buildings will be more than $200,000,000, of which about $50,000,000 has already been appropriated, and the total cost of the operation of the schools will be increased by about $50,000,000."

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Churchill Will Want to Talk Global Policy With Truman in January Consultation, but Real Problem is Getting Europe to Pull Its Share of Costly Load.

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

Carrying coals to Newcastle is getting to be a habit. It is the symbol of a Marshall Plan which has outlived its usefulness, and out of the Churchill-Truman talks, to take place early next month in Washington, may come a whole series of basic policy changes not the least important of which may be a drastic cut in the size of the bill we American taxpayers will have to meet for foreign aid over the next five years.

No one can deny that the Marshall Plan saved Europe from Communism, but, many in high places in our own national economic set-up argue now, what is the good of saving Europe from Communism forever if Europe does not even chip in with its own contribution. They point to the record which shows that the war has been over six years and yet Britain has fewer miners at work underground and is mining less coal than she did before the war. In fact, Britain, once the largest exporter of hard coal in the world, expects to receive American coal imports through 1956.

Churchill has made it clear in London that he is not going to ask for economic help in Washington. The British already have opened talks on that subject through normal diplomatic channels. Apparently, the British Premier disagrees with our world policies and he intends to devote most of the discussions in Washington to seeking broad global understandings between Washington and London. He may attempt to dodge the coal issue, for one, but he will find that there is a growing desire in Washington to see Europe carry more weight in the Western Powers defense effort.

With our own national election coming up in 1952, elections of the administration will be certain to oppose continued heavy expenditures under the Marshall Plan if Europe does not show a willingness to catch up the lag in its coal production.

Little In Common

There is no doubt that the close working arrangement that existed between Churchill and President Roosevelt is ended and that the British Premier and President Truman, while not total strangers since their first session at Potsdam, have very little in common.

In fact, there is a very general belief in Washington that Truman has not forgiven Churchill for his speech castigating Moscow and pointing his finger at Communist espionage and intrigue which the Premier delivered in Truman's backyard at Fulton, Mo., a now historic address. It was shortly before the Hiss affair broke here to show up the extent of Communist infiltration in our highest posts.

There is a definite outline of Churchill's program in a speech he made last week in Parliament when he not only applied the brakes to Britain's re-armament program as established by the Attlee Labour Government but also made it clear that although he was the Godfather of European Unity, he has no intention of involving Britain in such "Unity" affairs as the proposed European army.

No Merger With Others

Churchill made it clear that Britain will keep her military independence and play a role exactly like that of the United States alongside the European forces of General Eisenhower. There will be no integration of the British army in Ike's cosmopolitan forces. Ike has Winston's blessing, however, for what that may be worth.

In disclosing that his new Conservative government had given up hope of fulfilling Britain's three-year, $13,160,000,000 arms program on schedule he insisted there must be some relief for the British taxpayer from the strain of re-armament, and he told Parliament that he expected that relief to come from America in the form of raw materials, machinery and finished military equipment.

French Sing Same Song

The French, whose taxpayers are also feeling the squeeze and who are beginning to ask whether it is all necessary, were quick to jump on the Churchill bandwagon. In Paris, Defense Minister Georges Bidault warned that in France production costs have risen far beyond estimates and that even if the full amount of francs is spent that the French Parliament has approved, France will get less for her money than we had hoped. The result is, Monsieur Bidault insists, that the United States must make up the difference in raw materials, machinery and finished military equipment.

That sets the stage for the Washington talks. On his side, President Truman could ask the very embarrassing question why Britain and the continental allies have not yet brought their vital coal production up to the pre-war level. The case of Britain is particularly curious: it has retrograded from the status of one of the largest exporters of coal before World War II to one of the largest importers of American coal.

Use Italian Jobless

Britain argues that it cannot raise its coal production because there is full employment in that country, as there is in France. It might be pointed out, however, that British mining methods are archaic. Their mines have none of the modern coal digging machinery which our mines use. Then, too, it is hard to argue that full employment prevents putting more men in the British mines when there are hundreds of thousands of Italian miners, jobless, who would be glad of a chance to work the British mines.

That failure of Britain and the Continent to mine enough coal for its own needs and to keep up their arms production schedules has caused some Allied occupation authorities in Bonn to think about resurrecting the German arms industry to help equip the Atlantic defense forces.

That would be sure to provoke a clamor in Paris and London and in most of the other western capitals which had expected Germany's defeat to end forever the menace of the forges of Essen. Tapping the Ruhr to forge the arms, the tanks and guns needed by the 12 German divisions that are proposed for the European Eisenhower army would revive a regional industry which gave their weapons to the armies of the Kaiser and the Fuehrer for the two greatest wars of history.

Weapons For Washington

It is an alternative which President Truman may be able to present to Churchill: Let Britain and Europe produce enough to arm themselves and the Germans, or let the Germans arm themselves.

It's true that the proposal to revive the Ruhr is still only at the talking stage in Bonn, but it can be a very weighty argument in Washington next month if Churchill pleads poverty. At Bonn some high-ranking officials believe the cost of arming German contingents for a European army may be prohibitive, unless the Germans are allowed to produce their own equipment.

The Germans must start from scratch. They lack barracks, training grounds, and even uniforms. Under present plans, the western powers—principally the United States—must supply all equipment and part of the cost of recruiting and training German divisions under these conditions. German leaders estimate the first year's cost of creating 12 divisions at $6,000,000,000. But some Allied sources put the figure at $14,000,000,000.

So, suggestions are being made in Bonn that it would be to the interest of the western powers if the Germans produced their own arms instead of having other nations supplying them.

German officials are said to believe that many plants in the Ruhr could start producing some military items within a few months.

New Jersey is Foremost in Skilled Labor

As one of the leading industrial states in the country New Jersey offers a labor force commanding a wide range of skills. This is reflected in the unusually high value of manufactured products per wage earner which is evident in all surveys concerning the labor force of the Crossroads of the East.

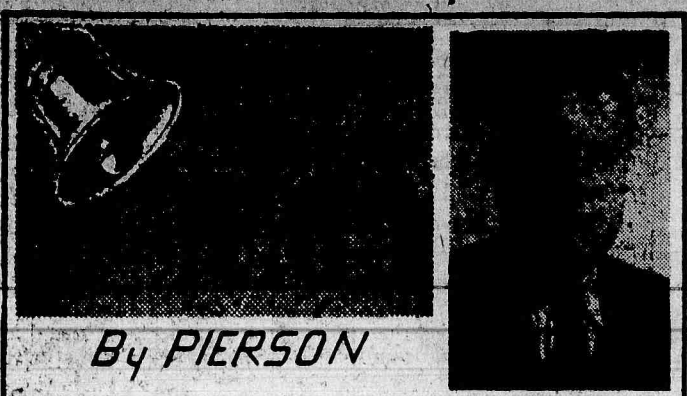

Latest available statistics show that 59 per cent of the State's non-agricultural workers are employed in manufacturing industries. Out of every 1,000 inhabitants, 164 work in factories. Few states, if any, can match these figures.

New Jersey's many advantages and high degree of economic stability have proved attractive to almost every type of industry, both large and small.

Public Service is proud to serve New Jersey with dependable gas and electricity and to aid in the continuing development of the state.

Indiana Madness

We have been intensely interested in basketball tournaments since the day we saw our first state tournament at Sussex Avenue Armory in Newark, when the crowd was lost in the drill shed. In intervening years we have seen most of the state tournaments, almost every game played in the Essex County High School Tournament and some other tournaments and jamborees. Of them all we have found the Essex County tournament the best run and the best show, even though it is only five years old.

But out in Indiana, where some high schools have gymnasiums large enough to seat every person living in the town, and where basketball is much more important than football, the court game is known as "Indiana Madness." A few of the figures and facts on that tournament stagger the imagination. But we have the figures right from the horse's mouth. If you are interested read on, because it will take a couple of these columns to barely scratch the surface of the material sent us by L. V. Phillips, commissioner of the Indiana High School Athletic Association which last spring staged its 40th annual tournament.

The Indiana Tournament is actually a series of four tournaments, a sectional or qualifying tournament; a regional in which the best 64 out of nearly 800 schools play to narrow the field down to 16; a semi-final and then a final tournament with the four best teams fighting it out for the title. In 40 years of competition every one of these tournaments has been a complete sell-out except for 1933 in the middle of the depression.

Out of a possible 796 member schools, 759 took part in last year's sectional tournament. Everyone played in a single class, regardless of enrollment and regardless of whether the teams were public or parochial. The smallest school to take part had an enrollment of 13 boys, with a basketball squad of 10. The largest had 3810 boys and girls. Of the 64 regional teams, the smallest had an enrollment of 55, another had 61. And there have been many instances in the 40 years to play in the finals. This refutes New Jersey's argument that teams should be divided into enrollment groups. The Essex County Tournament works on the same premise as the Indiana Tests.

As an example of the interest in the final tournament spaces in the press section of the Butler University Field House are provided for 144 accredited newspaper men, and four press association representatives. In addition provisions were made for 32 radio stations and one Television Station. The radio stations get free accommodations, but the T.V. station pays for the seats used for its equipment and has to post $5,000 out of which is deducted the amount of revenue lost in the event the 15,000 seats in the gym are not sold out, for both nights. Last year this amounted to less than $700.

The tournament starts out with the entire entry competing at 64 different centers, with from four to eight teams participating. The champ of each of these tournaments progresses to the regionals, played at 16 different locations the following Friday and Saturday nights. There are four teams at each of the Regional tournament sites. The 16 survivors meet in four semi-finals, again on Friday and Saturday nights, followed by the games for the marbles still another week end away.

The time between the tournaments is well spent in a complicated setup of ticket selling, under which participating schools are allotted a certain percentage of the tickets and the rest open for sale at other member schools. Combination tickets are sold for each tournament. The combination tickets are called season tickets, with the single night tickets sold as session tickets. The latter are never available for the semi-finals and finals.

Except for a 1 per cent take by the state association and the tournament expenses, most of the receipts from the sectional tournaments go to the participating schools. The association's share of the proceeds as the tournament progresses increases until the lion's share of the finals goes to the association.

PAL Boxing Tournament

Bellville will be well represented in the PAL boxing tournament at Seton Hall University, Saturday night, as indicated in a story on this page. The tournament promises to become a big thing and has wonderful backing. The Public Service for instance put at the disposal of its committee our own Warren Knight, to do the publicity in the daily papers. The Terrill Foundation was interested and practically guaranteed that the tournament would be a financial success and for those who can't be there the Hoffman Beverage Company will telecast the entire show over Channel 12. A program containing stories about the entire PAL movement and the activities in Belleville, Irvington, Newark and East Orange, who have combined on this boxing show, will be distributed at the event. From here it looks like something worth supporting.

Wische's Starters Tronce Montclair Academy in Opener

By KEITH McELIGOT

In their first regularly scheduled game, the Blue and Gold of Belleville defeated Montclair Academy's basketball team by an impressive 47 to 26 margin last Friday evening on Belleville's own court.

The moutie team was first outclassed by Belleville's fast stringers and didn't show any of their potential talent until the latter were substituted for, in the persons of the Belleville reserves. Only then, when Dean Hatcher and Biddy Engel were giving the Academy a rest from their shooting and rebounding did they point out their strength by outscoring Belleville 12 to 9.

Belleville took first blood when Hatcher scored on a driving lay-up. A minute later, Carl Nyik of Montclair stole the ball and went the length of the court to score. That was the last time the score was tied, as Belleville surged ahead by using its well-known fast break to advantage, that is, until the visitors got wise and had their guards back up immediately after every one of their shots. Hatcher racked up 10 of Belleville's 16 points in the first quarter by a combination of sets, lay-ups and free throws. He outscored the entire M. A., which only got 6 points.

The boys who started this fast-paced quintet were Hatcher, Engel, Pete Benz, Nick Petti, and Barry Muller, the only senior to make the team of those trying out who had not previously played varsity or junior varsity ball.

Those who started the second quarter were Bob Kittle, Paul "Berg" Weinstein, Tom Mack, Gordon "Corky" Galtere, and George Plosa. They didn't do too well, as was previously stated, and they didn't have the fast break working well, for they scored three of their four shots from the outside. Meanwhile, Traymore, Benlin, Brummstedt, and Werner threw in three push shots, a set and a tap-in with a couple of fouls for M. A. The half ended 25-18, Belleville.

The third quarter was a repetition of the first as Hatcher threw 'em in from everywhere, with Petti and Muller each getting two points in this stanza. The Ball-boys outscored their opponents 14 to 5 and were satisfied to see the quarter end at 39 to 25.

Biddy Engel led the scoring in the fourth quarter with six straight points to M. A.'s 4, and Weinstein put in a hurried tap shot as the buzzer was about to sound. Substitutes were frequently used during this period and Coach Wische seemed to be happy with the results.

P.S.—The catches, teams, cheerleaders and press were pleased at the hospitality of Home Economic Class of B. H. S. and enjoyed very much the cocoa and homemade cookies. . . . Coach Herman Knupple substituted for Ray Smith and coached the JV's to a win over M.A.'s using only sophomores and a slew of Frosh to do it. Score—45 to 20. . . . Coach Wische has his team down to the desired 12 boys who include, besides those mentioned, Rocky Caffone and Pat Caruso.

Sports Reflections

By AL OUTCALT

Ever since Dr. Freud sat in his Austrian grotto and expounded his theories on psychoanalysis, Americans have searched for ways to put his findings to practical use.

The St. Louis Browns some time back hired a psychiatrist to talk the players into thinking they were major league baseball players. They may have thought so, but they still played like bushers and the Browns grew more and more accustomed to the cellar.

So they fired the psychiatrist and took on Bill Veck instead, a man whose psychology consists of firing the stumblebumps and spending decent money to field a team of top caliber ball players.

Our topic, however, is psychology and not baseball. What brought the subject up was a little news item in the papers about Dr. Margaret Simpson of the Maine Department of Health.

Dr. Simpson, it seems, is conducting a series of psychiatric examinations of men who, hunting deer in the State of Maine, have killed or wounded other hunters. She has worked with Maynard Marsh, a warden of the Maine Department Commission, who is also interested in finding out why hunters hunt each other.

The idea of psychiatric examinations for such hunters would be amusing if there were not so much tragedy attached to such accidents. Maine's move to study the causes for these incidents is a wise one that could well be followed by the rest of the country.

Up to November 22 of this year, 13 men were killed in Maine when they were mistaken for game. Three were killed when guns went off accidentally, two by careless handling of firearms, one was killed in the line of fire and another was slain by an unknown person. Six more hunters were wounded when they were mistaken for game and 20 more were injured when guns were fired accidentally.

All the hunters involved agreed to take the examinations. What the study will prove is an open question, but the important factor will be what is done with the tabulated results to prevent further accidents.

One significant point about all the killed and wounded hunters is that not one wore any article of clothing that was of the recommended solid red. They wore brown jackets, brown trousers, olive-drab and fur-collared coats. Going into the woods in that type of costume is as close to suicide as you can get.

The trigger-happy hunter has been a threat for a long time. You have to take a test to drive a car, fly a plane, and even to get married. But a near-sighted shot-happy moron who shoots at anything that moves needs only $3.16 in New Jersey for legal permission to go out in the woods and risk the lives of his fellow citizens.

The number of does and protected bucks found dead in Jersey forests where over-anxious hunters killed them and left them proves the need for action on the part of the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission.

If any further proof is needed consider the case of the man who took the stuffed pheasant off his mantelpiece and set it beside his front lawn. One hunter after another screamed to halt, dashed from their cars with loaded shotguns, and pumped buckshot into the stuffed bird.

They violated three laws. They carried loaded firearms in their cars, they hunted on private land without the owner's permission, and they shot game before it could take flight. So many hunters do it that there was little left of the pheasant by nightfall.

The ounce of prevention, when it is applied to the obtaining of hunting licenses, is far better than any weight of cure—pounds, tons or otherwise.

BELLBOY BOWLERS TOPPLE MONTCLAIR

Dom Maselli Hits 203; Lou Selleta 193 and Jack McKann 188 in First Contest

The Belleville High School bowling team scored its initial victory last week over a fair Montclair team. The match was played at the Four Towers Alleys in Cedar Grove and the Bellboys were victors by scores of 847 to 617 and 842 to 612.

The team is coached by Mr. George Lees, a science teacher. Mr. Lees has entered the team in the North Jersey High School Bowling League.

Bowling will rate with such minor sports as cosmo country, golf and tennis. In these sports the letter winners receive a five-inch circular letter with the monogram and the emblem of the sport.

Dom Maselli had a high score of 203 in his first game, while Lou Selleta had 193 and Jack McKann 188.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflo Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

Newark Postmaster Declares "First Class Friends Deserve First Class Mail" Also Gives Hints to Beat the Rush and Mailing Dates

"First class friends deserve first class mail!" is the advice of Postmaster Louis A. Reilly of Newark, who has charge of the Belleville and Nutley branch post offices as well as those of Newark and Irvington. The Postmaster written messages, they are dispatched and delivered first; if necessary, they are forwarded without charge and if undeliverable, are returned if the sender's address is on the envelope. Further postal regulations require three cents on any envelopes smaller than 2 1/2 by 4 inches, or larger than 9 by 12 inches, whether sealed or unsealed.

Time to Buy Stamps

Postmaster Reilly also advises that now is the time to buy stamps while the lines at the post office windows are short. In another week the lines will be long and so will the delays.

Christmas cards and packages for out-of-state delivery should be posted by December 11th, those for local delivery are sure to arrive by Christmas Day if mailed by December 15th. Other advice is that special care should be given to waiting or printing all names and addresses clearly. "No henscratching, please." Christmas seals may be placed only on the backs of packages. "Do Not Open Until Christmas" stickers may be used—if you're afraid someone will peek.

LETTERS

Objects to Way of Appointment

To the Editor, Belleville Times: After the secret voting session on the judgeship Tuesday afternoon, the people of Belleville should demand an explanation of the act from the manipulators at Town Hall.

We all admire the records of Mayor Tully, both as an officer in the Marines and as an official of the town. As a matter of fact, it is because of this admiration that we gave him a leave of absence, instead of selecting a new commissioner, knowing that he would be away from Belleville indefinitely, and therefore unable to attend the meetings of the Board of Commissioners regularly enough to give the kind of leadership a town like Belleville requires. However, we are not children, blindly indulging in hero worship. We cannot be expected to swoon with appreciation every time Jim Tully dons his uniform for a session with the Marines. There are too many families in Belleville with men in the service who are doing a fine job. These men expect us to safeguard their interests while they are away. They expect us to maintain a sound and stable government.

We fall short of this trust if we condone the vicious practice started Tuesday, whereby Mayor Tully flew back to Belleville from California to break the dead-lock the commissioners found themselves in over whether Isadore J. Padula or Edward J. Abramson should be the town's magistrate. Commissioners King and Sullivan declared for Padula, who was Mayor Tully's choice three years ago, and there were strong indications that he still preferred

Padula. Commissioners Hyde and Waters held out for Abramson. With William Tully serving as Commissioner Waters, no doubt he urged his brother to come here and vote for Abramson.

However, when Mayor Tully entered the service, he designated Patrick Waters as acting mayor with full powers of decision for the duration of his stay in the Marines. This responsibility Waters accepted with much fanfare. As dean of the Commissioners, it was altogether fitting and proper that Commissioner Waters be appointed acting mayor. This made four commissioners on duty eligible to vote on town issues. Deputy William Tully has no vote, inasmuch as he was not elected to his office. If the four commissioners cannot resolve their problems then we will either have to require Tully to void his status of leave and fly to regular meetings of the Board to vote in the interest of our policemen, our firemen, our teachers, our schools and the citizens as a whole, or vacate the office and give the people a working fifth commissioner.

We will not condone spot returns for voting on pet issues of interest to a few individuals. Belleville cannot be run by two mayors and a deputy mayor, who conspire to confound the other elected commissioners regardless of what issue is at stake. This judgeship happens to be the kick-off of what promises to be a foul practice if the people do not maintain the proper concept of individual's importance to the total welfare.

34 Franklin Street

Thanks From Overseas

To the Editor Belleville Times-News:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Belleville Times, Commissioner Harry Sullivan, the regular and auxiliary police, the towns people and my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shannon, for their wonderful cooperation in taking care of airmen from the 123rd Fighter Bomb Wing stationed at Camp Kilmer, on Thanksgiving Day. You will never know the sincere appreciation these boys and I feel for your willingness to open your hearts and homes to these boys who were so far from their own families. If you could have heard the praise for your Northern hospitality, it would have warmed your heart, as mine was.

God bless you all.

DON'T MAR YOUR HOLIDAY WITH A TRAFFIC INJURY

Chief George R. Spatz
Says Careful Driving
Only Half The Battle

Will your home be a house of joy or one of sorrow this Christmas?

If you or some member of your family is in a hospital as the result of a traffic injury, or if an accident in which you are involved has sent someone else to a hospital, Christmas for you will be a hollow day instead of a holiday!

Chief of Police George R. Spatz reminded motorists yesterday that Christmas, which lends an added incentive to everyone to avoid tragedy, frequently brings some of the worst driving weather of the year.

In the role of Santa Claus' helper, Chief Spatz yesterday advised wise motorists how they can help steer clear of pre-holiday tragedies. "Driving carefully, of course, is half the battle," he said. "But only half. The safe winter-conditioning of autos and drivers' know-how to combat the added hazards of winter is the other half."

Noting that statistics show the millionth person will die sometime this winter as the result of a traffic accident, the chief listed the following pointers:

1. Be sure your lights, windshield wipers and defrosters are in good condition. Darkness and winter storms come early these days, and if you can't see, you can't drive.

2. Be sure your brakes are equalized and functioning properly.

3. If you have tire chains, be sure they fit your new tires and are ready for use when needed on snow or ice. If you don't have chains, better get some. When severe snow or ice conditions prevail, good driving habits combined with tire chains are far and away the best safety and no-stall insurance.

PLASTICS SHOWN TO SCIENCE STUDENTS

Club Members May Study Stars Through Telescope Furnished by Mr. Perkins

When the 38 members of the Science Club met recently, they witnessed demonstrations on some of the most remarkable plastics known to mankind. They saw plastics, which have not been released to the public, and common materials that are seen every day. Educational facts about these and other plastics were also brought to the attention of the group.

Presiding over this, the first meeting of the club, was John Jordan, president, and assisting him were the other officers, Nick LaPara, Jean Corbett and Eugene Serrentelli.

Chance to Develop Interest
The purpose of the science club is to give people who are interested in the marvels of science a chance to learn more about them, and others a chance to develop that interest.

Mr. Perkins, the sponsor of the club, intends to be stationed at the school with his telescope on various clear nights in the future, and Belleville High School students are invited to see the rings of Saturn and the moons of Jupiter. The next meeting of the Science Club is scheduled for today.

Won Acclaim for Work in "Carmen" Road Show

Miss Josephine Rossi of 416 Belleville Avenue, returned last week from a four week tour through Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin and Minnesota, with the London Opera Company's "Carmen" road show. Miss Rossi who has sung in the role "Micaela" 76 times for various companies presenting "Carmen", will go on the road with the London Opera Company again next year for another month. The fact that she maintains a voice studio in her home prevents her from being away more than four weeks.

Reviews of "Carmen" along the route of the tour all attested to the fact that Miss Rossi was most enthusiastically applauded, and Sterling Sorensen, in his music column in the Capitol Times, of Madison, Wisconsin, declared:

"Vocally, blonde Mlle. Josephine Rossi as the peasant girl, Micaela, and Francesco Palumbo, the bass-baritone, as the 'glamorous' toreador, topped the cast. Mlle. Rossi had a clear legato and brought a measure of musical tranquility to the otherwise turbulent opera. Her arias received the lion's share of the applause."
