He was born in New York City, where he underwent bone surgery, by playing the trombone in the orchestra at the Meadowbrook, this week and next. Dave is still on crutches, but he doesn't mind the leg to slide that trombone. Dave played in hand and orchestra at Belleville High, and repeated the feat at Rutgers University before deciding to become a professional musician.

Most Belleville gasoline service stations failed to close on Tuesday when the statewide strike was called in an effort to halt the price war. But most of the stations did close at 11 a. m. and called on the Belleville police for protection. Mr. Gouzo of the Sunoco Gas Station at Washington and 10th Avenue said he had threatened him for displaying cut rate signs and told him to close. Mr. Franco of the station at 10th and Union Avenue said he too had been threatened by six men who drove up in a big car.

Firemen Estimate Damage At $2,000 In Blaze In Malone Avenue Apartment

A three year old youngster's play with a cigarette lighter set fire to the bed clothes in the apartment of Elmer Davis of 58 Malone Avenue on Friday morning, and did approximately $2,000 worth of damage. Taft Sees Only Ideological War With Red Russia

In Exclusive Interview With Times-News, Senator Urges "Stalemate Peace" With Communists In Korea

In an exclusive interview this week with The Times-News, Senator Robert A. Taft played President Truman for "throwing bipartisan foreign policy out of the window" and scotched any belief that he would be an "isolationist" President by proclaiming the basic need of preventing the further spread of Communism and making specifically clear that our defense line is in Europe, North Africa, the Middle East and with the British, we should defend Japan, the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaya and Australia and New Zealand against Communist attack or penetration.

Seeing a danger of committing America's strength too greatly or too widely, the Ohio Senator demanded a revamping of American foreign policy to fit our potential and, turning back the pages of history, he stressed that in World War II Germany, Italy and Japan were destroyed because they overestimated their own strength.

The interview, freely given, took the form of a frank exchange of letters containing questions and answers. It was the first such interview which any candidate had given any weekly or daily newspaper, and emphasized Senator Taft's interest in the New Jersey primary. He will take a decision this week whether or not he will enter the April 13 primary election.

Senator Taft called for a complete Republican victory in November, with a Republican majority in Congress to back a Republican President in the White House as the only means of ridding the national administration of corruption and dishonesty. He pledged a thorough shakeup from top to bottom to get rid of the five percent, milk costers and influence peddlers if he is elected.

Taft bitterly attacked President Roosevelt and his advisors—Henry Wallace, Averell Harriman and Harry Hopkins—of being taken captive by Stalin.

"Mr. Republican"

Robert A. Taft

Text Of Taft Interview

1. America's Line Of Defense.

Q. Where do you place the defense line of the United States?
A. "While defense of this country is our first consideration, I do not agree with those who think we can completely abandon the rest of the world and rely solely upon the defense of this continent. In fact, the very thesis of an effective control of sea and air by the free nations requires that we do not interest ourselves in Europe and the Near East and North Africa and the Far East, so the Communist influence may not extend to areas from which it is still possible to exclude it by many methods other than land armies."

2. Rapprochement With Russia.

Q. Can you see anything in the record so far to suggest possible rapprochement with Russia?
A. "The Roosevelt policy at Tehran was based on the delirious theory that Joe Stalin in the end would turn out to have an angelic nature if we gave him everything he asked. At Yalta this attitude was supplemented by something more sinister in the influence of Communists on American policy. The Communist Party had made a deliberate drive to place people in positions where they could affect public opinion, or public policy, or influence others who could do the same. They planted spies in the government. We know of Hiss, Marzani, Coplan and Wadleigh. We know that the Englishman Fuchs, a Communist, was admitted to all the secrets of the Atomic Energy Commission and delivered all the plans for the atom bomb to Russia. The Communist Party successfully planted among many American leaders the philosophy which they adopted at Yalta, that Communism was in fact a form of government more or less consistent with American ideals. Henry Wallace, Vice-President and Secretary of Commerce, said that Russian democracy was in many ways more or less guaranteed by the fact that there is no provision in the proposals for recourse by the citizens or the board in case the desks deteriorate two or three years, through negligence on the part of the manufacturer."

Deeds Chosen By Teachers
A check by The Belleville Times-News following Mr. McCann's complaint, revealed first that the school furniture manufacturers were invited to demonstrate their desks at School No. 3 in December, 1948, at that time the teachers and principals of Belleville's schools were called in by supervising Principal John Thomas and a discussion of the merits of the various desks, two types were chosen by the teachers and principals. One is all wood, and the other is wood with tubular steel legs.

His second objection is that the proposals of bids specify only that bids would be received by the District Clerk on February 14, 1952, indicating that the bids would be opened at a public meeting.

Asks Performance Bond
His third criticism is that the proposals did not include a clause calling for the posting of a performance bond.

He said that the proposals did not include a clause calling for the posting of a performance bond.

Reservations Made For 100 Tables At Card Party

Reservations for more than 100 tables have been made for the annual March of Dimes Card Party which will be held in the Belleville Elks Auditorium. Mrs. Frank A. Spotts, chairman, is being assisted by a large committee. The entire proceeds of the card party will be turned over to the Belleville March of Dimes infantile paralysis fund. It is expected that the amount received from the card party and the receipts from the coin boxes, which will be collected tomorrow, will push the local drive beyond its goal of $6,000.

LIQUID CARBONIC AND NEIGHBORS ARE NEAR ACCORD

Will Present Plan For Eliminating Complaints; Ask Cooling Tower Permit

That the efforts of a special committee appointed by Acting Mayor Patrick A. Waters recently, is making some progress in solving the differences between the Liquid Carbonic Corporation of 666 Washington Avenue and the citizens of the neighborhood, was apparent at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners, Monday night. But it was also apparent that not enough progress had been made to satisfy the Board of Commissioners to the extent that they are ready to approve the erection of a permanent cooling tower addition to the plant. Such action is expected at the next meeting of the Commissioners.

The Liquid Carbonic Corporation was represented at the meeting by John Sturges, chairman of the plant and by Assemblyman William F. Tompkins of the law firm of Farlie and Foster of Newark.

Not Related Matters
Mr. Tompkins appealed to the Commissioners to issue the permit on the grounds that the complaints made against the operation of the plant and the erection of the cooling tower are not related to the operation of the cooling tower, he quoted from an engineer's report that the fan would operate at 91.5 feet per minute and the noise from the fan would not be heard more than 30 feet from the tower. He pointed out that the nearest residence is 1180 feet away.

He further stated that the tower would not be visible from Washington Avenue and that besides the fan the only noise possible would be the dripping of water from the condenser.

Sullivan Denies That PAL Vies With Recreation

Says Commissioner Hyde Violated Agreement To Settle Disputes At Board Of Commissioner Meetings

Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, director of public safety, met this week in a blanket denial of accusations by Commissioner Elmer Hyde, director of parks and public property, that he was attempting to infringe on the town recreation department. Sullivan accused Hyde of violating a "gentlemen's agreement" of the five Commissioners, made when the new Board took office in May, 1950, whereby they agreed to settle disputes among themselves "in a businesslike fashion" and not by airing their grievances in the press.

Commissioner Sullivan, emphasizing the value of the Police Athletic League in restoring the respect of teenagers for police authority, denied that through the PAL he is attempting to overstep on town recreation department activities. He said he considers PAL to be supplementary to Commissioner Hyde's recreation department and not competitive.

In a prepared statement to The Times-News this week, Commissioner Sullivan said:

"On Wednesday evening, February 6, it was a pleasure to join with members of our Town's official family as well as a group of Belleville's citizens in paying our respects to Commissioner Elmer Hyde at his birthday celebration, at which time I sincerely wished him well."

"It was, therefore, most surprising to learn the very next morning, in fact, just a few hours after the birthday celebration, that one of the local newspapers had printed a story as well as an editorial concerning supposed quarrels between the Departments supervised by Commissioner Hyde and myself."

This is all the more surprising since it appears to be the start of the same type of unpleasant publicity which the Town has suffered in the past. When the present Board of Commissioners organized in May, 1950, it was unanimously agreed that we would settle such matters in a businesslike fashion rather than by airing our grievances in the public press. I have no desire to prolong this controversy but there are certain changes which must be made."

Refutes Charge
"The first charge to be refuted is that contained in the editorial which stated that Commissioner Hyde had attempted to infringe upon the rights of the Transportation Department of Parks and Public Property. If anything, I should be resentful of Mr. Hyde's attempt to infringe over the traffic division of the Department of Public Safety."

The meeting which Police Chief George W. Sullivan attended and to which Commissioner Hyde voiced his objection, was held at the home of the Honorable Theodore D. Parsons, Attorney General of the State of New Jersey.

"Poor Reasoning". To the Editor, Times-News.

Dear Sir: I was heartened by your editorial several weeks ago in which you criticized the Board of Education's budget. Your editorial suggested that citizens express their disapproval of the budget in which it was drawn and adopted by voting "No" was a good one.

Even a layman who has no experience in preparing budgets knows what the word "budget" means. Actually, it is an intention to allocate specific sums of money for specific items. As a matter of fact, once the budget is approved, the money dedicated to do a certain job must be spent for that project and not any other. Hence, when the 1952 budget bunches many thousands of dollars together for so-called "miscellaneous expenses", the theory of budgeting is subverted. It might be just as practicable to have the Board of Education ask for X number of dollars to conduct its school program.

The State Department of Local Government puns upon vague expenditures in budgets. Any responsible auditor would not approve a budget with indefinite line items. From experience, I well remember a promise made by the Board of Education of previous years to paint the dump-truck stalls in the children's toilets of School No. 7. Had the expenditures for that item been car-marked in a budget, the job would have been done. A budget is not only necessary to obtain money for expenses, but it is a very desirable planning tool to anticipate future programs.

It is, as it should be, a desirable thing to have the President of the Board of Education and his representative sit down with the Editor of our Belleville paper to iron out the inconsistencies in the budget, so well set forth, in your first editorial, but, the abrupt reversal of your original stand is not understandable. You rationalize that you rationalize that you will "withdraw" your objections to the passage of the budget on a promise that the Board will not consider itself obligated to spend the money just because it is in the budget. I submit that this is a poor reasoning. If the budget were a poor one two weeks ago, and it was not changed since that time, it still remains a poor one.

I am not naive enough to believe that taxpayers could provide some "fat" for the school budget and that it is just being asked for for the sake of some alleged feeling of security. The temptation will be too great to use this money at the expense of the taxpayers.

Mind you, I am wholly in accord with the expenditures of the school. I want Belleville to have the best school system in the county, not one of the worst as indicated by recent Princeton reports—but, we won't get it by improper planning of the 1952 budget.

Yours very truly Ben Rubin

Later Mr. King said that his own investigation and that of Fire Chief William DeLeuw, of similar findings, had disclosed that both the smoke and odor complaints can be overcome through the installation of modern electric equipment.

Spokesman Cites Noises Harlan D. The second complaint seems to be the noises from the plant when the plant windows and the house windows are open in the summer time.

Sports Reflections

(This is the first in a series of articles on rowing in Belleville and Nutley High Schools. Future articles will deal with prospects for the 1952 season, the cost of rowing, and its advantages over other sports.)

The weather will be milder soon. Trees will begin budding in green, and winter clothes will go into mothballs. Winter will be replaced in crankcases by spring sun and the girls will start to think about that new Easter hat. The major league baseball teams will head south for spring training and the birds will come back to wake you up in the morning.

Spring Means Rowing
All this won't mean a thing to Bill Bennett and several hundred boys in Belleville and Nutley High Schools. Spring to them means only one thing: rowing. Bill, the muscular and congenial coach of both schools' crews, will be back for another year of putting boatloads of ambitious high school oarsmen onto the Pacific River and teaching them to row.

Rowing is a complicated sport. It takes strength, rhythm, coordination, teamwork, and guts. Last year 60 boys turned out from Nutley High and 96 from Belleville to try out for the blisters, aches, sore muscles and stiff backs that rowing offers in immediate rewards. The long range benefits, though, are well worth the effort. Bill's developed some fine boys who have gone to college crews with considerable success. Tom Haggert of Belleville, a sophomore at Harvard, is working out in the number six position of the varsity shell, a remarkable feat for a lad only two years out of high school. Jim McGill of Nutley, a freshman at Brown, is rowing in the JV shell. Bill Hansen of Nutley is a Cornell freshman and is expected to do well on the Big Red lightweight crew.

River Alumni
Joey Dallanegra, another Nutley lad, is only a freshman at Rutgers but is considered by many to be capable of handling the varsity Scarlet shell right now. John McNish of Belleville is a first-year man at Annapolis and ready for a slot in the Navy boat. There are others, too many to list them all, who never pulled an oar until Bill Bennett showed them how. Some have gotten crew scholarships, but all have shown Bennett to be a capable and talented coach.

Bill tries to model the rowing style of his charges after the technique used by most colleges, so that the boys who move on to the college campus can benefit directly from their high school training.

Bennett Himself
Born and brought up in Belleville, Bill Bennett has been involved in rowing one way or another for 26 years. He joined the Nereid Boat Club—the third oldest rowing club in the United States—in 1926 and has been working hard to build up and maintain interest in the sport since that time. Bill owns his own machine shop on Roosevelt Avenue near Main Street in Belleville and W. Bennett & Company allows him enough time off on afternoons and weekends to tutor the boys.

Crew got started in both Belleville and Nutley in 1946 when each school had one four-seater working out on the Passaic. Enthusiasm grew in the schools and among the parents, and with the help of organizations in both towns Bill can now boat five eight-meters and four four-seaters at one time.

Sullivan (Continued From Page One)

New Jersey, who sent a telegram to me reading as follows: 'Frenton, N. J.—Harry J. Sullivan, Commissioner, Chairman Public Safety, 5 Bell Street, Belleville, N. J.—To alleviate serious traffic congestion in the event of a bus strike, I have arranged for a conference of State, County and Municipal officials for Tuesday afternoon, January 29th, in Room 804 of the Lincoln Hotel, Newark, to discuss jointly the adoption of coordinated emergency traffic regulations. Arnold H. Vey, Director of the Bureau of Traffic Safety of this Department, will represent me and it is desirable that you or your representative attend this conference.'—Theodore D. Parsons, Attorney General.

"You will note the meeting was called to alleviate serious traffic congestion in the event of a bus strike, and, secondly, the purpose of the meeting is to arrange for a discussion jointly the adoption of coordinated emergency traffic regulations. The bus strike is a matter of the Bureau of Traffic Safety of this Department, will represent me and it is desirable that you or your representative attend this conference."—Theodore D. Parsons, Attorney General.

"The problem discussed at this meeting was purely one of expediting private car traffic since no buses would have been in operation had the bus strike actually taken place. At no point was any question involving the operation of buses discussed. A traffic control plan was worked out and certain recommendations were given to those attending which were to be passed on to all local commuters who would have been forced to use the highways in order to reach their places of employment. This could not possibly be done as it is in violation of one of the rights of the transportation division of the Department of Parks and Public Property."

"After Mr. Hyde had stormed into my office and accused me of an alleged invasion of his privacy as head of the transportation division of his department, a detailed letter of explanation together with a copy of the telegram above set forth were forwarded to him on February 1st, which was in accordance with the published statute appearing in the newspaper on February 7th."

PAL Supplements Recreation Program

The Police Athletic League's (PAL) Recreation program, a careful study of the work of our organization will clearly show that our program is supplementary to the town recreation program and we have attempted at all times to avoid any conflict in date, programs and all other matters. The Police Athletic League is the best shown by the fact that the recreation department operated the Little League which took care of this form of recreation for children up to the age of continue their baseball efforts with an organized team after they have passed the Little League age limit.

"We started a boxing program, a sport which is not presently sponsored by the Recreation Department. We have also had soccer teams functioning for two seasons, soccer being another sport not presently sponsored by the Recreation Department. Our other activities have included Father-and-Son nights, attendance of our members at baseball games, the Rodeo at Madison Square Garden, stock car races, and block parties, among the other activities."

Off Duty Hours

"The supervision of these many activities was performed by Police Officers during their off duty hours and much credit for the success of our organization is due to the help given by these members of the Police Division of the Department of Public Safety, among whom are: Thomas Dunn, John J. McNish, Jerry Lelore, James Mallack, Nicholas Mariano, Michael Hanly, Kenneth Piche, Hugh O'Toole, George E. Riepe, Bernard J. Tinsdale, John J. Monaghan, Thomas Dunlevy, John J. Dean, Frank D. Haight, James Anderson, Harry Winfield, David Waddell, Chief George E. Spatz, Deputy Chief Emerson J. Eust, and a large group of Belleville citizens too numerous to mention at this time."

"Mr. Hyde's remark that when he first heard of plans to establish a PAL organization, he offered the assistance of the Recreation Department only to be told, 'I'll let you know,' is true up to a certain point. When Mr. Hyde approached us the program was in the formative stages and we were attempting to get the benefit of the experience gained by PAL units in New York City, Newark, Irvington, East Orange, Rahway and other nearby towns, and no definite program for which we could request assistance had been set up."

"It would appear at this point that Mr. Hyde has no objection to the formation of a PAL organization since he offered the assistance of the Recreation Department to our group. Mr. Hyde was never told 'We do not need your help; we have plenty of volunteers.' We have made use of the town's recreation facilities only when they were not being used for other purposes."

Permission Asked

"Mr. Hyde is undoubtedly aware that a request either verbal or written was made made by us for permission to use any facility under his jurisdiction, including a request to use the boxing ring controlled by the Recreation Department. We have never attempted to subordinate the Recreation Department's program to that of the PAL. Mr. Hyde will discover by reading further into the PAL letter that credit is given to all of the Town Commissioners and to the Recreation Department for the assistance they have given to the PAL."

"The statement to which Mr. Hyde took exception concerning the PAL being the town's leading organization contributing to the moral and welfare of our children is not misleading in view of the fact that the Town's Recreation Department cannot be considered an organization. It is a separate departmental division of our town government in contrast to PAL which is a privately incorporated organization."

For Better Understanding

"It would be well to state at this time the reasons for the founding of the PAL organization in our town which, admittedly, has no great financial problem. The PAL was formed not merely as a recreational group but as a means through which we saw an opportunity to create a better understanding and a firm bond of friendship between the children of our community and the members of the Police Department.

"It has been our observation that generally there has been a lessening of respect among many children towards constituted authority and we felt that the PAL would serve as a means of restoring the feeling of respect by bringing the children and the Police closer together. If there were other means to attain our objective we certainly would have availed ourselves of it."

"I have personally seen many indications of the character of the children of the PAL. The children in our program who might ordinarily stand by and let an officer have been most responsive to the volunteer efforts of our men."

Survival Up To Parents

"It is my feeling that the question of the survival of PAL should be left to the parents of the children of our community who are taking part in the PAL program and we are assured that Director Hyde does not welcome this addition to the general recreation program of our town, which imposes no strain on the workers who are already doing a full time job."

"The question posed regarding the need of spending twice to get the same results leads to the additional thought that the money spent by PAL, resulted from voluntary contributions given by the citizens of our town who have felt that PAL was a worthy medium. I don't believe anyone should dictate what private citizens or individuals should do with their own private funds."

CHATTER PATTER

By Helen Scott Diehl

Today we welcome the third of February's "Red Letter" days, namely that of St. Valentine. Do you sense that such a day is a symbol of sympathy, service, and unselfishness? The date dons a "lovable" halo year by year. Down through the dark decades it has come, to kindle kindness. The name shines like a knight in armor, ready to give battle to the ogre of wickedness in this weary world. On this day kindness is King.

Did you know that the Valentine custom began in Rome almost 1700 years ago? St. Valentine was a young priest who refused to accept the traditional Roman gods. So he was put in jail and later beheaded. Meanwhile, it was said that the keeper's daughter was cured of blindness by this young saint. After his execution it was learned that he had written a note of consolation to the little girl and had signed it "From Your Valentine." This act of kindness was the beginning of expressions of friendship and love throughout the world. It was during the American Revolution that the first truly of Valentines broke loose in this country. Colonial sweethearts improvised their own.

Miss Esther Howland designed a collection of English-style valentines for her classmates at Mt. Holyoke College. Just twenty-eight years ago she became the head of a firm which specialized in "Variety" Valentines. Today we even have a "Sweetheart" town. It is called "Love-land" and is located in Colorado. Cupid's friends and caterers send their messages to this Post Office, just to have them bear the stamp of "Love-land." It is the same idea as that of the "Santa Claus" postmark at Christmas time. Last year more than 50,000 Valentines were re-mailed from Cupid's headquarters at "Love-land." A crimson seal is stamped on letters re-sent from that address, and it reads, "A Valentine Greeting from Sweetheart Town." This service is free, so if anyone wishes to indulge in a whimsy that is "different," just send your stamped addressed Valentine to "Postmaster, Love-land, Colorado." He will do the rest.

Meanwhile—
Today please do some kindly deed, and spread your cheer afar; The symbol of St. Valentine, Can be your guiding star; So give of love to light or poor, And make life's pathway right; Together as we march along, Let's make the whole world bright.

And don't let us each forget the importance of Time. It may be later than we think. For Time stands at the cross roads and insists deals out the events of life. Scorned, unappreciated, and misjudged She brings to man the week of his best laid plans; his fondest dreams; She abets the scourge of disease, pestilence, and death. She sinks his ships; wrecks his trains; destroys his armies; his home; his happiness, his comfort, and turns success to failure. She respects neither the power of the king nor the humility of the slave. In her hand she holds opportunity for good or evil. Either may be grasped at the appropriate moment, but if it is lost She allows no turning back. Her command is always, "Forward!" Given—due consideration, respect and correct movement. Time coordinates our machines, and our efforts; She prevents accidents, disappointments, loss. She lands our planes safely brings our trains into the station and docks our ships. She provides the opportunity for success, happiness, and contentment. Ignored She points the way to ruin. Accurately valued, She is more precious than rubies. From her flow all the good things of life, and in her grasp she holds the very thread of life itself.

Storm Over the Orchard

If winter holds bright prophecy for spring, Then, snow lie white about the roots of trees,
 Especially Red Astrakhans! Let these Bear apples later. How I used to fling A crooked stick high up at them, to bring A beauty crashing down, Quick on my knees,
 I'd grope among the sunny grasses, seize A toad perhaps (not minding such a thing So very much, nor he!) Then, fingering That solid roundness of the fruit, I'd squeeze
 It just for surety, not looking—tease My appetite.
 A foundering bee might sting My hand in ready anger. Opening My drooling jaws, I'd crunch. Almost the lees
 Of elder would run down my chin. Oh, freeze
 And know, if this will help to fetch the spring!

Rodino Given A Heavy Charge.

Belleville can only feel a proprietary interest in the regrettably necessary investigation which Congress is making into the Department of Justice with the appointment of Rep. Peter W. Rodino to the special subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee which is charged with the inquiry.

The Times-News has confidence that the 10th District Congressman, who in his four years in Washington has displayed a remarkable understanding of the decency and dignity of democracy, will not be swayed by partisan ties. If the subcommittee uncovers, as we are convinced it will, a sorry and sordid trail of machinations-for-profit in the highest offices of the department which is charged with insuring justice, then we are convinced that Peter Rodino will fight to bring the scandal into the open and the guilty to justice.

Justice is the very root of our civilization and if those who are charged with its exercise traffic their power for money they are not ordinary criminals. They are guilty of lese majeste to the American Republic, just as seriously engaged in destroying our democracy as if they were Communists planted in our national government—as was Hiss and others were planted—to weaken from within.

It is with confidence in his honest intentions that the Times-News will follow with a great deal more interest a Congressional investigation in which, through our Congressman, we feel we are defending our political faith against the corrupt and morally incompetent.

R. E. H.

An Interview With Senator Taft

In a most exceptional journalistic "scoop," The Times-News is able to publish today an exclusive interview with Senator Robert A. Taft, the first such frank interview that any newspaper in the country, weekly or daily, has obtained and printed from one of the candidates in the 1952 Primary elections.

Senator Taft, who is likely to make a bid for his share of New Jersey's 38 delegates despite the pronouncement of Governor Driscoll and Essex County's Clean Government forces in favor of the candidacy of General Eisenhower, scotched any hint that he would be an "isolationist" President in his exceptionally frank answers to The Times-News questions.

America's defense line, he said, runs through Europe, North Africa, the Middle East and the Far East, where, specifically, he would fulfill our commitments to defend Japan, the Philippines, Indonesia and Malaya against Communist aggression. It was not that although he mentioned Japan and Okinawa, he did not mention Formosa and although he mentioned Indonesia as within our commitments, "if the Indonesians ask our help," he did not include danger-ridden Indo-China within our defense line.

It is Senator Taft's contention that America was "sold down the river" at Tientsin and Yalta by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his advisors, Henry Wallace, Averell Harriman and Harry Hopkins, under the mistaken belief that "Joe Stalin would turn out in the end to have an angelic nature if we gave him everything he asked." Even more sinister, in the Ohio Senator's belief, was the extent of the penetration of Communists and Communist-agents and sympathizers into key posts of the national government.

ONE MAN'S OPINION ...

Truman's Inept Jibe at Spain Merely Serves to Point Up Ignorance of Franco's Real Record.

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

President Truman made another of his celebrated inept diplomatic wise-cracks last weekend when for no good reason at all, the President said at a White House press conference that he is not very fond of Spain and has never liked the regime of Generalissimo Franco.

Coming at a time when the United States is opening negotiations for air and naval bases in Spain, the better to defend ourselves against Communism, and when steps have been taken to admit Spain as an equal into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the President's gratuitous insult of Franco's government is not likely to make the negotiations any easier.

The President never has been in Spain and his opinions can be based only on hearsay. I was in Spain, as a war correspondent, during the Spanish Civil War from 1936 to 1938, and, again in 1940, I was at the Spanish border when Franco collapsed and a column of German tanks, nearly a hundred miles long, cooled its motors on the French side of the border while Hitler tried unsuccessfully to get permission to race through Spain to Gibraltar to lock the gates to the Mediterranean. It is my opinion that in the deal we propose, Spain will contribute far more to the anti-Communist front than we will contribute to Spain.

Said "No" To Hitler

Had Franco been the pro-Nazi that many of his detractors pretend now that he was, he would have given Hitler the right of passage to Gibraltar and the prize he would have exacted was the cession of French North Africa. Had Hitler attacked Gibraltar with his tanks from the land side at La Lanza, there is no doubt the fortresses, whose guns are trained in the other direction towards the sea, would have fallen. Had Hitler taken Gibraltar, Germany might have been able to threaten Britain's lifeline before we Americans were ready.

The fact that Hitler had to turn back from the French-Spanish border and point his tanks back towards the North saved Gibraltar and saved Britain. It was wholly due to Franco's refusal to grant the right of passage. Hitler did not feel strong enough to cross without Franco's permission and thus the Allies saved North Africa for the main base of American operations two years later.

It is a matter of historical record that on December 7, 1940, the infamous but devilishly clever Wilhelm Canaris, chief of German intelligence, returned to the charge. He went to see General Franco at El Pardo outside Madrid and informed him that "Operation Felix" was all set to go into motion January 10 to capture Gibraltar and hop across the straits of Morocco and bottle up the Mediterranean. Hitler wanted clearance from General Franco for German troops to pass through Spain.

In Nuremberg Records

From testimony of Nazi generals at the Nuremberg trials, it appears General Franco decried Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering was reported as saying: "I was an ardent supporter of an attack on Gibraltar. We could have forced North Africa and prevented the landing of 1942. The attack could not be carried out because General Franco opposed it."

Marshal Wilhelm Keitel was reported as saying: "The conquest of Gibraltar at the end of 1940 perhaps would not have in-secured our final victory, but it would have changed the situation enormously in our favor."

What Germans Said

Gen. Alfred Jodl was reported to have said: "Our efforts to secure Gibraltar failed due to resistance of the Spaniards." In the meantime, Mussolini's invasion of Greece was going all wrong. Hitler had to divert his attention to the Balkans to help the Italians against the Greeks, and "Operation Felix" never took place.

If President Truman had taken out to read "War-time Missions in Spain" written by his wartime Ambassador to Madrid, Gordon J. H. Hayes, a professor of history at Columbia University, he might have learned the truth. Ambassador Hayes cites, in his book, conversations which he had with the Fascist Italian Ambassador Paulucci, a distinguished career diplomat with a half-English wife, who was Mussolini's representative in Madrid. Surely his testimony can be regarded as honest, at least, not anti-Allied.

"No" To Dictators

Hayes wrote that Paulucci told him that not only did Franco say "No" flatly to Mussolini when the latter asked him for the use of the Balearic islands in the Mediterranean as an Italian naval base, as compensation for Italian help during the Spanish Civil War, but also refused to abandon the strictest neutrality when Hitler asked for a special trip to Daye, in October, 1940, to get and get Spain into the war.

I was in Vichy at that same time and I had watched the meeting at Montoire with Hitler and Petain and Laval, from which came the promise of French "collaboration." From Montoire, Hitler's special train rolled across France to the Spanish border, where Franco and Hitler sat down in the Fuhrer's special car. Hitler displayed his wares: France was prostrate, England was helpless against Germany's bombers and subs, America was not ready and had no fleet. Let Spain come in now and Franco could name the price. Hitler suggested that the price might be French Morocco.

Plenty Of Proof

It took courage and a great deal of common sense to refuse such merchandise. And yet it is in the records—American, English, Italian and German—that Franco refused. You can read it, not only in Hayes' book, but also in "Complicated Dictator," the book written by Sir Samuel Hoare, the British Ambassador who was in Madrid when Mr.

Hayes was there. You can read it in Claude Dierkes' You can read it in the captured German Foreign Office documents which are now being catalogued in Washington.

In fact, Count Ciano tells amusingly that when Hitler came to Rome later, he and Mussolini discussed Franco and Hitler said: "I would rather a thousand times get smallpox than have to do business with Franco."

The Wolfman Story

Then there is the "Wolfman" story about which Mr. Truman may and probably does know nothing, but which was of tremendous importance in weakening the Axis and in aiding our victory.

Wolfman is the ore from which tungsten is derived, and tungsten is vital in the hardening of steel for tanks, guns and ammunition. Wolfman is not plentiful. You find it in Portugal and Spain and in China and in small quantities here. Germany had none of its own, nor did Britain. To bring it from Japan, which then occupied the Chinese Wolfman mines, it would have been necessary for Hitler to carry it through the blockade by submarines. Consequently, Hitler became wholly dependent upon the Spanish peninsula where Portugal and Spain produced it.

Spain was in dire need of grain and potatoes. Germany had them to spare in France. Shipping as much as 20,000 tons of food a month to Spain, Hitler bargained for wolfman.

Spain's Sacrifice

It is in Ambassador Hayes' book that on November 6, 1943, he was instructed by Washington to request the Spanish government to apply "a complete and immediate" embargo on wolfman shipments to Germany. The wolfman trade was the cornerstone of Spanish economy. Without food shipments Spain could go hungry, yet we offered no deliveries of grain or potatoes to compensate for the loss of Hitler's deliveries.

To Franco's credit let it be pointed out in the pages of the history of World War II that in April, 1944, Spain agreed to a drastic limitation of wolfman shipments to Germany. Hayes wrote that Franco later gave us every facility for seeing that there was no smuggling of wolfman into Germany-controlled France. As a result, Hitler, who had been receiving up to 300 tons of wolfman a month, received 20 tons between January and May, 1944, and Germany's war industry was starved for tungsten. A month later we landed in France and further shipments from Spain were cut off.

It is regrettable that American minds have been poisoned towards Franco by the leftwing press which attacked him unceasingly after he defeated the coalition of international Communism and the Spanish leftwing forces.

242nd CONSECUTIVE DIVIDEND

The Board of Managers has declared a quarterly dividend for the three months ending February 29, 1952, payable on and after March 1, to all depositors entitled thereto under regulations adopted by the Board, at the rate of 2 1/4% per annum.

Interest will be paid from the day of deposit.

The present law requires the payment to the State Treasury of unclaimed bank deposits, which (generally speaking) are accounts which have been "dormant" for 20 years, in the names of persons as to whom the bank has no current information. It is, therefore, particularly important that depositors, in person or by mail, promptly present their passbooks at the bank for crediting dividends, and keep us advised in writing of any change of name, address and other means of identification.

Text Of Taft Interview

ways better than American democracy. Hopkins and Harriman, who seemed to have most to do with the Manchurian agreement, apparently accepted completely the idea that Russia was a peace-loving democracy. It could never understand why any man who even went through American high school and understood what America is about, could have been so deluded.

"In short, I believe that we face today a struggle of ideas and not of arms. If we can win that struggle, we need not have another war. We can only win the war against Russia by defeating the communist philosophy in the minds of the people.

"There is no doubt whatever in my mind that we should prevent the spread of Communism beyond the continent at every point. We are obligated now to defend Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand. We should equally be prepared to go to the defense of Indonesia, which desires us to come. It seems to me that the British and ourselves could successfully defend Malaya. How far beyond that we can go with any hope of success against a tremendous Chinese Communist attack I think is open to serious question.

"Today obviously we cannot withdraw without admitting a military defeat by China. I believe that by the methods suggested by General MacArthur we might have achieved the United Nations' objective of setting up a united and free Korea. At this time, however, a stalemate peace at the thirty-eighth parallel is better than a stalemate war at the thirty-eighth parallel, a war in which the American Army is suffering 2,000 casualties a week. These are American boys who are being killed and maimed because of the mistakes and lack of judgment of this administration."

3. How Good Is The U. N.?

Has the UN served a useful purpose?

"While I believe that the UN serves a useful purpose in providing a forum where issues are discussed, there are few important policies which can be carried out over the Russian veto. As a result, we are generally bypassing that body as in ECA and the Atlantic Pact.

"Unfortunately, the United Nations has failed in its purpose of preventing war by punishing aggression, because it was organized on an unsound basis with the veto power in five nations. When the North Koreans attacked, it happened that the Russians were boycotting the Security Council, and so a vote was obtained authorizing military action against the North Koreans. Unfortunately, however, the United Nations had no right to call for any particular number of troops from any nation, because the supplemental military agreements had never been entered into due to the obstruction by Russia. Furthermore, the Russians then returned to the Security Council and promptly vetoed any action against Communist China when it undertook to attack Korea."

4. How Far Can We Go?

Do you feel we stand in danger of overcommitting ourselves economically and militarily?

"As a good neighbor we desire to help the rest of the world in every reasonable way, but certainly that cannot be a primary object of foreign policy, or an excuse either for the wrecking of our economy at home, or for the terrible tragedy of war.

"My criticism of the Administration policy is that they have undertaken one project after another without analyzing the overall situation. It is simply beyond our capacity to send troops to every section of the world. Germany and Italy and Japan were destroyed because they over-estimated their own strength. They thought they had the capacity to conquer the world and they were mistaken. The United States is the strongest nation the world has ever seen. In my opinion we are completely able to defend it. An unwise and over-ambitious foreign policy and the effort to do more than we are able to do are the only things which might in the end destroy our armies and our economy and the liberty of the people of the United States themselves."

5. The Hoover Economy Reforms.

Senator Taft, have the Hoover Commission recommendations effected economies in government?

"The general character of the plans submitted by the President seems to indicate that little attention is being paid to Hoover Commission recommendations where they really effect savings, or eliminate bureaus, or where they conflict with statutory reorganization bills, and should do so."

6. Trimming The Truman Budget.

Senator Taft, what part of the budget should be cut?

"I receive many letters suggesting that a tax increase would be wholly unnecessary if only we would cut non-essential expenditures. I wish the problem were as simple as that. Undoubtedly there are many cuts which should be made in the ordinary expenses of government. Undoubtedly there are bureaus which should be entirely eliminated. But all of these cuts could be made, and even then more taxes will be required because of the huge cost of the military program and the measures undertaken to prevent the spread of communism throughout the world. Of the total estimated expenditures of $70 billion in the current fiscal year, more than $45 billion is for the military service and aid to foreign countries directly related to the military program. In the balance is included a considerable sum for the Atomic Energy Commission and for the Merchant Marine. When these are all eliminated, the government spends about $20 billion. More than half of this is for interest on the public debt and Veterans' pensions and services to which we are committed. Even if we were to cut the rest of the government in half, therefore, we would not save much over $5 billion, and even such a cut would be unjustified. If there is to be any greater cut it must be in the military and anti-communist program."

"I have little sympathy with those who refuse to vote taxes and at the same time refuse to criticize the extent of the present military program. With every possible saving in non-defense expenditures there will be a deficit next year, even after the passage of this recent bill, of about $20 billion. I don't know where these additional taxes can come from. The alternative is more deficit financing, and everyone admits that would mean inflation of prices."

7. Corruption in Washington.

Senator Taft, how would you rid the Truman administration of its dishonest elements?

"Only a Republican Administration can restore principles of common honesty to Washington. We can pledge to the qualification the establishment of a new regime by the appointment of honest men to office, so that the public interest alone will guide those who handle the people's money in collecting taxes, in spending, and in lending.

"The American people desire a government of honesty and integrity, a government concerned with restoring by Stalin's bonhomie. He said our policy at Tehran and Yalta was based 'on the misguided theory that Joe Stalin, in the end, would turn out to have an angelic nature if we give him everything he asked.'"

The Ohio Senator expressed a belief that World War II is not inevitable and he called the present strained world—crisis—a struggle of ideas and not of arms. "If we can win the 'struggle of ideas,' he insisted, we can escape a shooting war."

In stressing his belief that, in view of mistakes in engaging and in fighting the war in Korea, it would be better to negotiate a peace on the 38th parallel than to continue to fight a stalemate war, Senator Taft pointed out that American forces are losing 2,000 casualties a week.

Opinion On UN

Senator Taft sees little practical value in the United Nations so long as Soviet Russia can hamstring its efforts by the veto or by boycott. He approved by-passing the UN as was done in the cases of the North Atlantic Pact and the ECA.

The interview took form late in January when The Nutley Sun composed an 11-point questionnaire which it sent to Senator Taft, in Washington. In a cover letter it was explained that although Clean Government has announced its support of General Dwight D. Eisenhower there is a strong pro-Taft element in Belleville and the rest of Essex County.

The Ohio candidate replied promptly, answering in detail every question, apologizing for a very brief delay by mentioning an extremely heavy legislative schedule. The interview was written by Senator Taft while on his return to Belleville, his first exclusive interview which any American newspaper, weekly peace, a government which will protect the liberty of the people from government activity at home and the Communist threat from abroad. Today such a government can only be secured by the election of a Republican President and a Republican Congress."

8. Bipartisan Foreign Policy.

Q. Do you support the present bipartisan approach to foreign policy?

A. "When Mr. Truman was re-elected in 1948, he threw the bipartisan foreign policy out of the window. It never did cover more than a very small portion of the foreign policy of this nation. No Republicans were consulted about Belgium or Yalta, or Potsdam. Senator Vandenberg was brought into the picture in the United Nations in the making of the European peace treaties, but never in the field of foreign policy in the Far East."

9. Are We World Leaders?

Q. Should the United States assume the leadership in world affairs?

A. "There are a good many Americans who talk about a world center in which America will dominate the world. They rightly point out that the United States is so powerful today that we should assume a moral leadership in the world to solve all the troubles of mankind. I quite agree that we need that moral leadership not only abroad but at home. We can take that moral leadership in trying to improve the international organization for peace. I think we can take leadership in the providing of example and advice for the improvement of material standards of living throughout the world. Above all, I think we can take the leadership in proclaiming the doctrines of liberty and justice and in impressing on the world that only through liberty and law and justice, and not through socialism or communism, can the world hope to obtain the standards which we have attained in the United States."

10. The Taft-Hartley Law.

Q. Has the Taft-Hartley Law been successful?

A. "How has the act worked? After all that is the final test of legislation. So far as I can see, the law has worked well and it has entirely satisfied the people of the United States. It has provided no substantial interference with legitimate activities of unions.

"Union membership has increased since the passage of the Law. Unions are stronger than they have ever been before, so far as their power to recruit and retain their membership is concerned.

"Like all major pieces of legislation, the law has some defects. The law itself set up a committee to consider amendments which might be shown to be necessary by the actual operation of the law."

11. The Voice Of America.

Q. How do you feel about the voice of America, Senator?

A. "The whole propaganda question should be much more extensively studied, and it should be definitely moved away from the Department of State. The State Department inevitably is concerned with relations between nations. It does not want to do anything which might antagonize the governments with whom it deals."

Students and Parents Attend Discussion on Engineering

Four Professional Engineers on Hand to Answer Questions; Speakers Emphasize Opportunities for Engineers in Expansion of Industries

Through the efforts of John K. Hiefferman, head of Belleville High School mathematics department, a panel discussion was held Thursday in the High School auditorium, for students interested in engineering as a career.

A letter was sent to all parents of students who had indicated a preference for engineering, inviting them to attend the discussion. Evan H. Thomas, Superintendent of Schools, acted as moderator of the panel which consisted of four experienced professional engineers: M. M. MacLellan, chemical engineer; Charles H. Hollenbach, a civil engineer; Harold V. Coes, a mechanical engineer; and O. Barham, an electrical engineer. Both parents and students were invited to ask any questions about the profession.

In preparation for this program, the students have had an opportunity to study material on engineering, which has been in the library for the last three months. All the students also submitted outlines of a term paper on engineering and oral reports have been given. They will also see movies in relation to their chosen profession. Integration with the English Department in the planning and writing of the term reports has been progressing smoothly.

It was emphasized by the speakers that never in American history have the opportunities for engineers been more challenging than they are today. Engineers are desperately needed for an unparalleled expansion of our peace-time industries, continued development of our national resources, and the accelerating program of mobilization for national defense. The Help Wanted advertisements in any newspaper tell this story of manpower shortage in the engineering profession.

An information sheet was given to all students and parents present. Care H. Brown, Chairman, Engineering Manpower Commission of Engineers Joint Council, who prepared the information, suggests that there are many other openings in fields closely related to engineering. For every engineer there is a need for mechanics, technicians and technologists of one sort or another who possess some of the interests and abilities of the engineer but by no means all of them.

Here, too, for years to come opportunities will abound for young men and women who can do things with their hands and who crave the change to share in the adventure of making the world a better place to live in the beginning of this atomic age.

Cathedral to Honor Two Bishops

Nutley Episcopalians will participate in the restoration of the sanctuary of Trinity Cathedral, Newark, to honor the 20th anniversary of Bishop Benjamin M. Washburn, and a new chapel will be built as a memorial to the late Bishop Wilson R. Stearns, the Very Rev. Frederick J. Warr-cke, dean of Trinity Cathedral announced today.

Other Episcopal churches throughout the Diocese of Newark are joining in this tribute to two bishops. The chapel in memory of Bishop Stearns will be built in the southeast corner of the Cathedral. Seating forty, it will be used for daily services. Bishop Stearns was elected bishop in 1916. Retiring because of ill health in 1935, he died in 1947. Provision for a memorial was delayed by the war.

Bishop Washburn, who succeeded Bishop Stearns in 1935, was consecrated bishop in Grace Church, Orange, on October 14, 1935.

Summary of General Budget Section of Budget	Year 1952	Year 1951

2. Total Appropriation for Local District School Purposes (Item 3 (k), Sheet 13)	69,418.23	69,418.23
3. Appropriation - Reserve for Uncollected Taxes		263,305.66
(a) Required for Taxes in Municipal Budget	87,008.49
(b) Required for Other Taxes (School, County & Special District Taxes)	178,303.55
4. Total General Appropriations (Item 9, Sheet 13)	$1,708,883.33	$1,645,603.91
5. Less: Anticipated Revenues (Item 5, and Sheet 5)	558,834.00	$ 469,800.00
6. Sub-Total	$1,145,049.33	$1,175,803.91
7. Amount to be raised by Taxation:
(a) To be added to Local District School Tax (Item 6 (a), Sheet 5)	69,418.23	69,418.23
(b) Local Purpose (Municipal) Tax (Item 6, Less Item 7 (a) (Item 6 (b), Sheet 5)	$1,075,646.15	$1,106,385.68

*Note: There must be inserted in item 7 (a), the amount of Item 2, but not in excess of Item 6.
1952 tax for Local Municipal Purposes shown above, is less by $30,739.53 than for 1951. In terms of tax points, or cents per $100.00 of assessed valuation this represents a decrease of 26 points.
Projected increase in Local School Tax of $140,754.35 and in County Tax of $67,039.48 represent tax point increases of 9 and 7 respectively.
The comparison thus produced is as follows:
Municipal Purposes 2.37 2.63
School Purposes 3.06 2.97 .09
County Purposes 1.05 .98 .07
6.48 6.58 .16 26
NET DECREASE - 10 POINTS
Despite increased assessed valuations of $3,381,650, having a tax point potential of 48, and increased revenues of $89,034.00 the large increases in school and county requirements are sufficient to absorb these gains to a point where the overall rate is reduced by only ten points.
The Board of Commissioners gave careful study to all appropriations under their control and to the revenue anticipations and surplus used in this budget. The fiscal policies proved sound in the past years have been adhered to and surplus retained has been increased from $240,000.00 to $300,000.00.
