

So What?

A two hour check by 10 motor vehicle inspectors on Belleville Avenue near Franklin Avenue on Saturday turned up 79 violations of the motor vehicle law and resulted in 22 tickets being issued for appearances in the Belleville Magistrate's Court in the near future. Those who had failed to have their cars inspected for the second period of 1951, as required to obtain a new license, were issued special summonses, requiring them to bring their plates and registration card to the Motor Vehicle Office in Trenton next week.

Vote Supervising Principal Chief School Official

Board of Education Resolution Ends Dual Control of School Administration and Business; Ask Work Bids

A majority vote of the three most recent appointees to the Board of Education on Tuesday night, eliminated the dual control of board business and designated Supervising Principal Evan H. Thomas as head executive in the Belleville School system. Although President Eugene J. Kelly, vice-president Walter Loesner and Mrs. Violet Rochau, apparently had discussed the resolution before the meeting, it came as a surprise to Charles Yocum, whose efforts to have the vote delayed until the March meeting, failed to receive a second.

Mr. Yocum, who in the past has voted solidly with the majority, cast a nay vote. Board member Raymond McCann, who has been critical of Mr. Daniels in board meetings throughout last year, was not present.

The Resolution

The resolution said, "The Board of Education, in performance of its duties and obligations in furnishing public education to the people of the town, is of the opinion that the duties and obligations of the officers of the Supervising Principal, District Clerk and that of the Business Manager should be more clearly defined. "It is the opinion of the board that public education would best be served by centralizing and delegating head executive and administrative authority to the Supervising Principal, subject, at all times, to the direction, control and authority of the Board of Education. "The duties and responsibilities of the District Clerk, as provided by law, be performed as heretofore without restriction or limitation and that the Business Manager shall continue to perform the duties of his office as heretofore, subject to the authority, at all times, to the Supervising Principal."

Desk Bids Read

Bids on more than 1500 school desks were received from five firms and read by District Clerk Daniels in detail. Bidders were Roberts Building Co. of Allentown, Pa.; L. Farkas of New York; Hayward-Wakefield of New York; Max Blau of Newark and the American Seating Company of New York. On the basis of unit prices Max Blau of Newark appeared to be the low bidder. Bids were delivered in from 60 to 90 days on all items following approval of samples and to post a performance bond.

President Kelly announced that the bids would be studied at a full committee meeting to be held in week or ten days.

Ask Sealed Proposals

Mr. Yocum acting for the building and grounds committee, called for the submission of sealed proposals at the March 17 meeting on many of the construction items and the submission of sealed proposals at the March 17 meeting. One is the resurfacing and drainage of the playground at School No. 10. Bids on labor and material for installing three resistant acousticon ceiling tiles at School No. 8, are being received. The board proposes to receive bids for all general construction in connection with the new school facilities at Schools 2-5-7 and 9.

Land Purchases

On the recommendation of Mr. Schwartz suggested that Mr. Schwartz will endeavor to arrange separate meetings for the owners of all five parcels of land for the purpose of purchasing a new school site, so that negotiations can be carried on for the purchase of the property. The purchase on the site indicate that the property is suitable for the proposed building.

Want Mr. McCann Present

In connection with this business Mr. Schwartz suggested that Mr. Schwartz will endeavor to arrange separate meetings for the owners of all five parcels of land for the purpose of purchasing a new school site, so that negotiations can be carried on for the purchase of the property. The purchase on the site indicate that the property is suitable for the proposed building.

Members of the Board

Members of the Board were invited to the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Education at the For Hills Restaurant on March 6. Mr. Kelly suggested that the board should make an effort to attend.

Bellboys Squeeze By Valley in First Tournament Test

Time Runs Out Under Valley's Basket With Scoreboard Reading 46 to 44; West Orange Saturday

By Keith McEligot

Belleville High stayed in the Essex County Tournament Tuesday night by the narrowest of margins in a wild and woolly game with an underdog but fighting Our Lady of the Valley team of Orange. The final score was 45 to 44 and the game ended with Valley tossing the ball in from out of bounds underneath its own board. A second or two more would have been enough for another shot.

Actually Valley's downfall came from its poor exhibition of the foul line. The Big Green made only 8 out of 22 attempts while Belleville converted 12 in 12 shots. Another factor was the work of George Ploss, the Belleville line-up. George, who had been riding the pine for number of games, hit for a goal when it was most needed and did well on rebounding and passing.

Valley's last ditch chance was not considerably by conflicting signals by the game's officials. In a scramble under the basket for an unsuccessful shot, one player waved it out of bounds. In confusion the clock kept running and Valley barely had time to pass the ball in court when buzzer sounded. There were only 8 seconds left preceding the buzzer.

Belleville trailed until halfway through the third quarter and at the beginning of the final stanza led 37 to 36. Keller of Valley overtook to cut the margin to 40 to 37. A quick Belleville jump shot brought the score up to 44 to 37 with 3 1/2 minutes to go. But two jump shots, one by Keller and another by Gannon, closed it to 46 to 40. When Paul Durkin made a layup, was fouled and reported it was tied up at 44 all. The last minute took about five minutes to play. Each team used

Leaders Have Close Shaves In Recreation Basketball

Strats Edge Franklin Casino; Silver Lake Nips Rams; Roy's Sport Shop Clips Panthers

Five teams are vying for two playoff positions in the Recreation Department sponsored Senior basketball league. The Strats and the Belleville Tailors are in as a result of victories Monday night. The Panthers, the Anvets, Belle Maid, Orangers and Bengals are battling for the remaining spots.

The Strats barely won their game from Franklin Casino 32 to 30. The Tailors won theirs easily over the Grounners 51 to 27. In another easy game the Panthers defeated the Orangers 65 to 36. In the last game of the night the Belleville Five upset Belle Maid 31 to 29.

Intermediate League
The leaders in both divisions of the Intermediate League had trouble with their opponents before winning. In the National division the Silver Lake team won 47 to 45 over the Rams. The second place Rambien had difficulty with the Panthers before winning 39 to 35. In another game in this division the Clowns defeated St. Peter's 43 to 41. In the American division Roy's Sport Shop, playing the second place Cornfords, squeezed out a 38 to 35 victory. The loss dropped the Cornfords to third with the Cavaliers moving up on a 33 to 27 victory over the Panthers.

Grammar School
Number 7 School moved into a tie for third place with No. 10 by nipping that team for 19 to 17. In other games No. 5 beat No. 3 28 to 19 and No. 3 defeated No. 1 35 to 16.

St. Peter's CYO Bowlers Suffer Triple Setback

St. Peter's, which last week took the lead in the Intermediate Boys' Bowling League of the CYO, suffered three defeats on Sunday and fell to the number three spot. Sts. Aloysius, Caldwell, was the victor, downing Belleville by scores of 728-645, 764-658 and 728-723. John McKahn rolled high for Belleville in a series of games that reached the 600 mark. St. Peter's now has 12 wins and 6 losses.

1951...a year of action!

108,000 telephones were added to New Jersey's telephone system—an average of more than 2,000 every week. And to make them work, 61 central offices got additional equipment, 5 new buildings were completed and more than 205,000 miles of telephone wire were added in cable.

Number one job was—and still is—to provide telephone service for Defense. It's being done including service for defense plants, Air Raid Warning systems, Civil Defense, and military camps where service men and women are calling home 6,000 times a day!

Your telephone is a BIGGER VALUE EVERY DAY!

1952... more action! Plans under way will mean more telephones, more and better service, if necessary materials can be secured. The very materials we need most—brass, copper, and lead—are the same scarce materials that other Defense needs require, too!

West Orange Again Jinxes Bellboys in Season's Final Game; Season Record of Local Quintet Is 12 Victories and 4 Defeats; May Meet Again

By KEITH McELIGOT

Could Have Been Worse!

Tuesday night's game between Belleville and Our Valley of the Valley could have been worse for Belleville. They could have lost. But while there is life there is hope. Valley, which lost its coach with heart trouble early in the season, has been getting along with the services of three coaches two of them players on the Seton Hall varsity. That the boys learned plenty from the Seton Hall stars was definitely in evidence for three quarters of the game. They did everything right while Belleville seemed to do everything wrong until the closing minutes.

It was a good game for the Bell Boys to get out of their system. In a tournament, where winning the close ones marks the real champion, Belleville got off to a good start. It survived the upsets which caught up with three of the seeded teams. If the team can come back and play the game it is capable of, then with each succeeding game the Bell Boys should get better.

Actually of the five remaining seeded teams, Belleville is the only one which had trouble in its opening round contest. Of the three remaining unseeded teams in the tournament, both East Orange and West Orange are better than their records indicate.

Gazing ahead a little, Irvington should not have too much trouble with unseeded South Side in the opening game tomorrow night, and unless Bloomfield can pull a real surprise they should fall before Montclair in the second game. East Orange may give Seton Hall a workout in the first game Saturday night. East Orange is big, can fight and at times shows flashes of real basketball. Seton Hall on the other hand cannot hit with the consistency it did against Bloomfield Tech and may have trouble controlling the boards. Seton Hall should win.

Belleville will have plenty of trouble with West Orange in Saturday night's final. West Orange nipped the Bell Boys in our final game at home last week. It has the height to control the boards and is in the mood to go all the way. A great deal of Belleville's chances depend upon Dean Hatcher, who got out of a sick bed to play Tuesday night, and promptly went back to bed on Wednesday morning. With Hatcher at his best, Belleville can win.

Should these games turn out according to seeding, Monday's semi-finals will bring together Belleville against Seton Hall and Irvington against Montclair.

Tickets on Sale

Tickets for Saturday night's tournament games will be on sale at the High School all day today and from 9 to 12 on Saturday. This year there is no tax on the tickets so students get in for 50 cents and reserved seats are a buck. About 300 students and 125 adults bought tickets at the High School for Tuesday's game. More than double these figures should be sold for the Saturday game.

Little League Elects

Warren Knight, instigator of the Belleville Little League was elected president of the league for the 1952 campaign, Friday night at the Recreation House. Also elected were Alex Derbyshire, vice-president; Dick Dolan, secretary; Arthur Bloemke, treasurer; Stewart Grant, Walter Loesner and Alex Derbyshire, members of the Arbitration Board and Jams Sullivan, umpire-in-chief.

Rifle Range Has Room

The rifle range installed under the Municipal Stadium by the Recreation Department has two nights open for clubs or organizations interested in shooting. A large room with heater has been fitted out for use of those using the range and the range itself has been improved. The range has four ports for shooting from a standing position and five ports for prone shooting. At the present time the range is booked for four nights a week, but the Recreation Department would like it used to the maximum. Anyone interested should contact Ray Ward at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon Street or by phone at Belleville 2-3142.

Varsity Club Dinner

Eddie O'Neil, chairman of the Varsity Club's committee planning a banquet for the Belleville High School court team at Parrillo's on March 4, this week announced that Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan has accepted an invitation to be toastmaster for the occasion. Commissioner Sullivan is an old hand at this game and is rated as one of the best in the banquet circuit. His efforts on behalf of the Knights of Columbus and the Belleville Oldtimers, have been outstanding.

Over The Top

As predicted last week the students of Belleville High School who started the ball rolling on the contributions to the Belleville Varsity Club's shell fund, came through on Saturday night by raising $100 to put the drive over the top with four dollars to spare. Previous to the dance Mac Lamb, chairman of the drive had received donations of $10 from Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, from Everett Smith and from the Progress Club, $15 from Sam Wasserman; $1 from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Metcalf and $3 from an anonymous source. These gifts plus $15 received from out-of-town, $10 from Dave Lamb of Trenton and $5 from Lieutenant Joseph Grosch, stationed at Norfolk, Va., left $96 to be raised. The dance pushed the drive beyond the $2100 goal with a week to spare.

Spill Off The Rollers

Ed Littig and his gang of bicycle roller riders, who spread the name of Belleville over a wide area in the Eastern United States, put on an exhibition of their riding for the Century Road Club of America at College Inn, Guttenberg, Thursday night.

Among the dozen riders participating were Littig, Ray Frate, Clark Alby, Jack Hanst, Barney Vandervalk, Walter Crawford, Hugh Starns and Jack Brobal. In addition to Littig's gang, Reggie McNamara, the iron man of six day fame, was present and rode a one mile race against Alby. The ride ended in a dead heat.

As usual the feature was Littig's "strip" act in which he mounts his wheel with his regular clothes over his racing tights and after getting a start on the rollers, removed his clothing, piece by piece, down to his racing shorts, while continuing to pedal. This trick requires much practice before a person becomes proficient enough to take off the trousers, one leg at a time, while keeping balanced and pedalling with the other leg.

In a tandem race between Littig and Hanst and Vandervalk on a single wheel, with a half lap to go a tire blew on the tandem and the riders took a spectacular spill off the rollers and onto the floor.

Dodge, Inc., Drives Off Nearest Pin Competitors

Dodge, Inc. maintained their habit of beating their nearest rivals by taking two games from Wallace & Tjerman at the last meeting of the Belleville M.G. A. League. The Trophy Makers were led by Joe Stanovitz with a 600 series while Augie Molt anchored Watco with 548. Federal Leather by scoring a sweep over Premier Tool moved into a tie for second place twelve games behind the leaders. Angelo Capers, who was out of the game last week, was back in the saddle and scored the only other sweep by taking three games from Standard Arcatus.

Ed Leonard topped the Brushmakers with 519. In the other match of the night the Prudential A.A. took the odd game from J. Wiss & Son. Ray Canfield with a 589 series topped by a game of 226 led the Insurance men while Hughie McAtter rolled 630 for the Shearmakers.

Use Telescope Adjacent To High School For Start On Astronomy Project

Philip Perkins conducted an experimental lesson from 6:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M. on Wednesday of last week on the side elevation of Belleville high school in the use of a high powered telescope and binoculars to get a closer view of the stars and planets. More than forty students took advantage of the clear night for a beginning in astronomy. The Science Club assisted by Mr. Perkins in planning the program for using the telescope, they have also made a fact finding study of "Archaeology" as a history of the ancients. John Kioridan, club president acted as the chairman of the enlightening program. He introduced the speakers who presented the following topics in unusual, visual situations. Formation of Mediterranean Sea — The appearance of man on earth and migrations of man. Babylonian — The first great civilization. Land of the Pharaohs. Egypt — Child father to the man. Israel and Palestine. Crete — melting pot of the Mediterranean. Greece — Land of Alexander. Rome — Empire on seven hills. Writing systems of great civilizations. Indian races of Mexico.

CHATTER PATTTER

By Helen Scott Diehl

Now we come to the last birthday of the year. Behold the film of Washington flashing on life's screen, projecting a panorama of cherry trees and hatches. We are taught that this chap chopped but did not cheat; that a lie he never told, and so goes the tale. But the real Washington was the warrior; the hero who hammered the Hessians, and whose "footprints" are deep in the sands of New Jersey. Washington's deeds are dramatized in landmarks throughout the state. His memory is mixed with tradition extending all along a pathway into Pennsylvania. There was the winter at Valley Forge when nature needed him endlessly with hunger and cold. We see him crossing the Delaware, surrounded by irritating ice and snow. Those were dangerous days, but Washington kept the flag of courage flying. He crumbled the great Cornwallis at Yorktown, when the curtain fell on a daring drama. Next, as the first president of a new empire he stood supreme, taking his home in friendly fashion. Washington was truly the "Father of his Country." He was weighed in the balance and not found wanting. For eight years as conquering captain, with a capable crew, he sailed the "Ship of State" over new horizons.

Verily our nation had a noble nucleus from which to gain great power for progress and prosperity. So the last of the birthdays is with us. And February soon will be over; This month has been mild, not wintry nor wild. But we know not what March has in store. For March is the month of the lion or the lamb. 'Tis a toss-up of which it shall be. Of "Red Letter" days it boasts only two. But boy, what that one does to me. It's a piece from the pie of my pay, it doth eat. Then gloomish in glorious glee; I save, oh so brave, to buy baubles I crave.

"It looks like a POWER YEAR"

New Horsepower - new Brake Power - and new Power Steering blossom on Buick's ROADMASTER for 1952

MAYBE you've heard-horsepower has hit a new high on the ROADMASTER.

Brake power has done the same.

But today, we'd like to concentrate on the third member of the power trio-Buick's own version of Power Steering, available on ROADMASTERS at a moderate extra cost.

What is this Power Steering like? It's something like a helping hand, something like a "hydraulic slave"-that relieves you of all steering strain, but lets you keep command.

What we mean is this:

Power Steering is handled by a special hydraulic unit-and engineers can design this unit to take over any amount of steering effort even to a point where the wheel seems to float in your hand.

But in that case, you'd surrender all control to that hydraulic unit-get no steering "feel" from the wheel.

Now suppose you're telling two agile tons of automobile what to do in traffic. We think you'd like to have it know that you're in command.

And-out on the straightaway-we believe that a part of the joy you get from owning a Buick is the sensation of having something alive and eagerly willing beneath your hands.

So we're glad to announce that Buick engineers didn't spoil this thrill. They've kept the fun of driving, and simply eased the effort.

When you're rolling along smooth and straight, it takes almost no effort to keep any Buick on course. It almost steers itself, as every Buick owner knows.

But-when you want to get away from a curb

But presto! my pittance doth flee.
That "16th" is called "the income tax date,"
But to me it's a gremlin of groans;
No adding I do, just subtract and subtract,
Till the balance puts chill in my bones.
One's salary is listed at this or at that;
But the "gravy" you get groweth less;
What roes in between, just never is seen.
Where it roes is anyone's guess.
So the wind wails and howls, and howls,
When our money like nice runs away;
Mankind is left stranded, to proceed empty handed, to "bacon" and pay.

I lately learned that if you had a billion dollars and politely put it on a pile, you would be obliged to take 110 feet higher than the Washington Monument in order to see the top. As for me, I'd begin bothering the bottom. But why moan about money? You and I both know it "talks." Let's start to sigh about Spring. Presently we'll see the pussy-willow. The Bluebirds will bring a brigade of meadow-larks, redwings and song-sparrows. The March chorus is now assembling. Professor Wind will lead the band.

Senator Taft Writes

To the Editor, The Times-News: I was very pleased with the prominence given our interview in a good place on your front page. I am also very pleased about the editorial.

A Taft Committee has been formed in New Jersey and we are going to consider our final strategy very shortly. It looks to me as if we ought to put on a battle in a number of the districts, but probably not file a state-wide ticket. However, I hope to get the best possible advice before we finally make our decision.

With kindest personal regards,
Robert A. Taft.

To the Editor The Times-News:

Congratulations on your interview with Senator Taft. You certainly deserve credit. I hope other papers reprint it because it is timely.

Praise For Rodino

To the Editor, The Times-News:

I just learned that you were very gracious in eulogizing Congressman Peter W. Rodino as one of the Congressional Committee designated to investigate the Department of Justice.

Among the other nice things that you pointed out in your editorial was the fact that you had confidence in Congressman Rodino's integrity, his courage, his intelligence and his independence. I would be a complete and independent one in the best interests of the public.

May I thank you very much for this broadminded expression of editorial thought in your paper and say to you that I feel sure that you have not overrated the character, intelligence and independence of Congressman Rodino in rendering public service in the best interests of all the people.

I, too, am really proud of Congressman Rodino's record as a member of the House of Representatives during his nearly four years of service. He has not only been a very substantial legislator but he has been ever unselfish in attempting to serve his constituents.

W. J. Egan, Chairman,
Essex County Democratic Committee

Editorial Merits Praise

To the Editor, Times-News:

The editorial captioned, "Rodino Given a Heavy Charge" meets the praise of all right-thinking readers. It's a gem and it bristles with the truth.

Who can disagree with you when you say "The Times-News has confidence that the 10th District Congressman, who in his four years at Washington, has displayed a remarkable understanding of the decency and dignity of democracy, will not be swayed by partisan ties. If the subcommittee uncovers, as we are convinced it will, a sorry and sordid trail of machinations-for-profit in the highest offices of the department which is charged with insuring justice, then we are convinced that Peter Rodino will fight to bring the scandal into the open and the guilty to justice."

Mr. Editor, I am a Republican by birth, education and volition, though I hold to the theory that no party has a mortgage on good government. Our Congressman, Peter Rodino, is an American who will work for and fight for the things he holds dear, regardless of political affiliations. I have observed in this young man fine ideals and he never asks what your political ties are. We need men, now more than ever, men who have the intestinal fortitude to battle for decent government—the kind of government that has made our nation sublime among the nations of the earth.

Because of this reason, I shall consider myself a good American by supporting a man like Rodino—a real, sincere and stalwart American who will do his duty as an American on the important committee to which he has been assigned.

V. D. Mattia, D.D.S.

To the Editor, The Times-News:

The members of Belleville Post No. 105, American Legion, wish to express their appreciation to the citizens of Belleville who cooperated with them in the paper drive on Sunday, February 17, the next paper drive will take place on the third Sunday in March.

Protest Foundry Permit

To the Editor, Times-News:

We would like to have you print this as an open letter to the members of the Belleville Board of Commissioners.

We folks in the Greylock Section are a very disillusioned group of people after seeing the way the permit for the foundry was quietly rushed through. The paper stated there was no discussion. That is quite right. We feel the Commissioners could have afforded us the common courtesy of being heard.

We aren't "Cranks" nor are we endeavoring to deprive any industrialist of his rights. True, this particular time it happens to be a local lad, but aren't we local too? Some of us were here before he was born.

It would be interesting to learn just how you folks figure we stand to gain by all the industry in town. Surely it isn't apparent in our taxes. Up to now it seems all we have realized is noise, odor and dirt.

We can assure you we shall continue to make our presence felt until we feel we have been given a fair hearing and something concrete in the way of assurance that these companies shall be forced to comply with all rules and regulations pertaining to odors, smoke and noise.

We shall be present at Tuesday's meeting and sincerely hope we shall be given an opportunity to question you gentlemen. After all, it is our vote (and not industry's) that elected you.

RODINO APPOINTED AS INSPECTOR OF JUSTICE DEPT.

District Congressman Promises "Any Wrongdoing Will Be Given Spiteful"

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr., Democratic representative of the Tenth District in Washington, was appointed to serve as a member of the Special Subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee to investigate the Department of Justice, growing out of the corruption charges against high aide of Attorney General McGrath, particularly in the Division of Income Tax Prosecution.

In accepting the assignment Congressman Rodino told The Times-News that he was grateful to both the chairman and the members of the Committee for the expression of confidence in him.

"Although I know that this is a difficult assignment, I am determined to do a good job," Rodino told the Times-News. "The resolution under which this Committee was authorized is limited to specific allegations and complaints based on credible evidence which is to be determined by the Subcommittee, and not based on mere suspicion and rumor, to the end that the investigation shall be non-political and non-discursive."

"It may be that the public somewhat tired of investigations, but since the courts, our judicial system and the Justice Department are at the core of our democratic form of government, I will see that this investigation is necessary. Because justice and equality under the law is the very root of our entire civilization, those departments that administer justice or deal with justice, should be, as Caesar's wife, above suspicion. We intend to keep it that way. This can only be done if the men and women of America retain their confidence in these agencies of the government."

Brownie Troop 21 Has St. Valentine Party

Brownie Troop 21 had a St. Valentine party last week in the Girl Scout room of the old St. Peter's School. Each Brownie made a Valentine and included a picture of herself in uniform. These were presented to their mothers and dads on St. Valentine's Day. At the same meeting each Brownie received a Brownie Handbook.

The members of the troop wish to express their appreciation to Mrs. F. Dove, Mrs. T. Dowd, Mrs. J. Tremel and Mrs. F. Lefebvre for their help at the party.

Brownie Troop 24 members are learning to knit. At present they are knitting little baby chicks.

RODINO WINS STEP IN FIGHT TO SAVE PRISONER OF REDS

Tenth District Representative's Resolution In Havana Case Goes To Sub-Committee

Congressman Peter W. Rodino's fight for the freedom of John Havasta of Hillside, a former American sailor held prisoner by the Communists in Czechoslovakia, moved another step forward this week when his House resolution calling for Havasta's release was referred to a sub-committee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee for immediate action.

Action In Near Future

Although Mr. Rodino could not move in the case, he was confident of affirmative action in the near future.

Havasta, a naturalized American citizen and a Navy veteran of World War II, went to Czechoslovakia in 1948 to study under the GI Bill of Rights. There he was accused of espionage, tried secretly and in 1950 was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Learning of the man's plight Mr. Rodino introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives last August which would put the House on record as demanding Havasta's immediate release. In support of his resolution the Tenth District Congressman has since made numerous speeches, backed up by resolutions of protest passed by various veterans organizations. One such resolution was that of the Essex County Council of New Jersey Disabled American Veterans.

"This ex-GI and forgotten man," said Mr. Rodino yesterday, "I know all along that the United States Congress would champion the rights of every American citizen, whether foreign-born or not. I am sure that the mother and father of John Havasta will be delighted over this news. For a time Havasta's parents were losing faith and hope and felt we were forgetting their son. But, after my talk with President Truman, reassured them that action would be taken. I shall leave no stone unturned and will continue my own efforts in his behalf."

The men of the Bible Class have been invited to attend the 11 o'clock service at the Wesley Methodist Church and will leave in a group at the close of the class. The visiting sons will be welcome to attend the Wesley Service.

WOUNDED KOREAN VETERAN PRAISES RED CROSS EFFORTS

Tells Representatives Of Industrial Firms How He Was Helped Along The Line

Sergeant Robert J. Noonan, wounded Korean War vet, now attached to the U. S. Naval Air Rocket Test Station at Dover, was the principal speaker at the Dutch-treat luncheon at the For-Hills Restaurant on Friday, attended by representatives of the town's industrial plants, on invitation from Sidney Hollander, chairman of the Industrial Committee for the 1952 drive.

The youthful veteran of the current fighting told of his experiences with the Red Cross in Korea, and he had high praise for many of its activities there. After eight and one half months on the front line he felt a casualty to a burst of shrapnel. During his medical care in Korea, Japan and finally St. Albans, L. I., he had many contacts with the Red Cross and received many items from the organization without charge.

Stresses Blood Need

The soldier stressed the need for more blood for our Armed Forces. He said he personally had given three pints of blood while in service, before his time came to get it back. The slogan of the boys in Korea and Japan is "Give that pint of blood now - you may need it later."

Miss Dorothy Neil Darby, Executive Director of Belleville Chapter pointed out that the chapter has 225 active volunteers and two paid personnel.

Outline Drive Plans

Eugene Barnett, general chairman of the fund drive, outlined the fund organization. He pointed out that union leaders are organizing to carry out their phase of the industrial solicitation.

Mr. Hollander outlined the proposed plan for corporate gifts from industries. He suggested that since February 29 is an extra day this year, that it be a real Red Cross Day, with rallies in the industrial plants, complete support of the Defense Blood Bank at the Elks Club and a full house for the Town Meeting at the Elks Club, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Members Present

Members of the Industrial Committee present included Harry Fox, Westinghouse; R. T. Reed, Jergens; Joan P. Dally, Wallace & Tiernan; Edward Fieris, Resistol; Sidney Hollander, Ever-Ready Label; A. J. Dulje, A & P Laundry Division; Clark Barrett, American Dyewood; C. H. Corbett, American Tag; E. B. Wright, Jr., Hamilton-Goodman Company; John A. Wilkens, Sweeney Lithograph; J. Homeward in Late Winter

We drove the frosty afternoon away over a mountain
Capped with snow, beauty preceding us as night
A guide, pointing first high then low. The twilight
Like a flying leaf, so colorful and just as brief
Moved straight into night it seemed, and stopped
The glow of sunset. There is sweet magic driving
Under stars with no moon near, darkness receding
In the penetrating beam of headlights.
Evergreens
Fronting the highway suddenly appear sturdy
And clear to sight. Then when, at length, the midnight
Hour flown we topped the last long hill, and moving
Slowly down came quietly upon the sleeping town,
Our eager eyes welcomed the wide smooth street, where Dwells the small, neat, homey place we thankfully
And proudly call our own.

He's On, He's Off...

For several weeks now, Harry Truman has been having fun with the public with a skit entitled "He's On; He's Off" and to vary it a bit he also plays, "He Will; He Won't." As a result, practically the whole country is fed up to a point where no one cares what he will do—and that goes for many Democrats as well as all Republicans.

Without waiting to find out whether Truman will or will not run again, the Essex County Democratic Committee is going ahead with its preparations to sponsor the annual Jackson-and-Jefferson dinner, in a Newark hotel, on March 26. The $10-a-plate affair will kick off the Democrats' 1952 campaign in Essex County, in the presence of National Chairman Frank E. McKinney.

And that brings up the fact that, officially at least, we don't even know who is running for Congress in either party from this district, nor do we know the candidates for the posts of delegates to the two national conventions. So used are the politicians to selling us pigs in pokes that they keep up the profitable trade.

The time is short to the April Primaries and, in consideration of the importance of the national vote this year, time is even shorter to the November elections. Obviously, there will be no choice of candidates for President until the June conventions, but on a more local level Clean Government is losing valuable time in starting its belated fight to recoup the losses in Congress from the 10th and 11th Districts.

By his day-by-day action in Washington, where his Congressional record has been excellent, Democrat Peter W. Rodino has been campaigning since two years for his re-election. He has made thousands of friends and supporters by his action as a Congressman. He will be a hard man to unseat, and yet Clean Government dallies, on vacation. If any Republican candidate is to have a chance to beat Rodino in November he is already six months late in getting started.

Rodino led Truman in the Democratic victory four years ago here in Belleville, and his re-election will not stand or fall on Truman's vote this time either. R. E. H.

Reversing A Trend

The Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night took an important step in administering the overall business of the Belleville board through its employees, when by majority action it passed a resolution eliminating dual control by investing in the hands of the supervising principal the administrative authority, subject to the direction and control of the Board. This action in effect makes District Clerk Ruel A. Daniels an assistant to Supervising Principal Evan H. Thomas, except in those duties particularly described in the school law as the duties of the district clerk.

Dual control, with the supervising principal having charge of the teaching staff and curriculum and the district clerk having the business administration and building maintenance, works well in many cases, but the Belleville Board in reversing the trend cites in support of its action articles appearing in educational publications.

One of these, the American School Board Journal, in its December 1951 issue, said: "At the Toronto convention of the Association of School Business Officials, Dr. N. L. Engelhardt (Educational consultant and former professor at the Teachers College of Columbia University) made reference to the position of the business manager in the organization of city school systems and urged that he should not have a co-ordinate status with the superintendent of schools, but should be an assistant superintendent.

"A similar view was expressed in effect in a recent study of the Research Division of the National Editorial Association on the unit and multiple executive plans in 331 school systems organization of city school administrative departments. The study showed that in 77 per cent of the cities of 30,000 population and upward, the superintendent is the chief executive and that in only 10 per cent of the cities does the business manager or some other non-educational school executive have a status fully independent of the superintendent, with authority in his department subject only to the rules and the current decisions of the board of education.

"About 13 per cent of the cities have arrangements under which the school business executive and the superintendent each have some co-ordinate powers and functions. In these cities the superintendent is the chief executive in matters having instructional implications."

The Board of Education has chosen to go along with the thesis which gives control to a "school man" over a "business man."

Daydreams That Come True

Half the fun of amateur gardening is the anticipation. Daydreams of perfect blossoms that no other gardener can match in form and beauty convert our barren, snow-covered February garden into masses of color or vegetables.

This is what is known as "catalogitis" and is a close relative of the glorious infection which convinces every fisherman that it's all worthwhile.

But the days when the amateur gardener's daydreams were seldom fulfilled are almost gone. Science and the patient but determined efforts of hybridizers are resulting in superior strains that will grow anywhere and produce flowers or fruits or vegetables that equal or are better than those pictured in even the rosiest, most beguiling catalogues. Scientists are spoiling the fun; for they remove the hazards so even the neophyte, look like an expert with ten "green thumbs." Our spring catalogues arrived in the mails this week and in our daydreams we'll have a wonderful garden come June. All the scientists in the world can't take them away from us.

ONE MAN'S OPINION...

Germany Is At A Turning-Point, And, Frankly, So Is The West's Hopes of Putting a European Army in The Field to Contain Communism's Red Armies.

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

West Germany was put on probation by a momentous decision which the three Foreign Secretaries took in London this week. Released on parole, Germany must now take the decision which will bring her back into the society of Democratic nations or she may brood and by brooding strengthen Stalin's hand west of the Elbe.

The decision that Bonn must take is whether or not Germany will contribute her share to a European army, mobilize the needed manpower to create six or seven divisions and pledge to fight Russia if a Communist attack comes without getting in return a status of equality and membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, a body of nations that banded to defeat that very same Germany under its Nazi rulers.

Only time can tell whether the Foreign Secretaries, in throwing a sop to French public fears and political opinion, acted wisely in rejecting Bonn-Germany's offer to share the burden of anti-Communist defense. For the time being, the sop has bought French cabinet stability but there is nothing in this world more unstable than French cabinet stability.

In a simultaneous meeting at Lisbon of NATO's military and economic leaders, General Eisenhower's powers were greatly enlarged. He is now merely the field commander; under the enlarged powers he is to have control of the training of the various national units which make up his forces and he is to have the responsibility for insuring logistical support of that army. In other words, he will have the power to tell each contributing nation what it must furnish in the way of base supplies, transport, medical facilities, arms and ammunition so that his field divisions can be kept in action. It generally takes from 3 to 6 soldiers behind the lines to support each fighter at the front.

Comparison of Two
It is this "One Man's Opinion" that NATO would be stronger with a willing Germany in its ranks than with a weak, uncommitted government. If Hitler's uncommitted served one purpose, that purpose was to prove the tremendous recuperative powers of the German people. At the same time, war in the West proved that France, having been bled white by all the wars since Napoleon, is no longer a first-rate military power.

It was my task, as a war correspondent, to be in the field with the French armies in 1939-40 against Hitler. I saw both the French and the German armies in action as well as the unhappy Dutch and Belgians and the woefully weak "token" British army of those early months of the war. France was a magnificent military power more than a century ago when Napoleon proceeded to carve himself an empire out of the Continent and led his armies as far away as the steppes outside of Moscow and the sands of the Nile. French blood redried the snows and the sands and battlefields up and down Europe. When Napoleon fell and his empire collapsed, France had lost four million men. The country never recovered from that blood-letting.

France In Battle
In World War I, France was again bled white, losing nearly 1 1/2 million dead. Her losses in World War II were small, except for the many thousands who died in German prison camps or who came home ridden with tuberculosis.

But to me, who had fought alongside the French in World War I and who shared their crushing defeat and rout in 1940 as a war correspondent, I saw a difference in the two armies. France of 1939-40 was ridden with defeatism, a defeatism bred with Communism, a nation which had lost in spirit to the false prophets of pacifism.

British Army embarking at Dunkirk, I turned South and watched the Germans race down the Somme valley to the Channel coast. In fact I waited my turn and drove through a gap in the German ranks to cross the Somme and reach Paris with my story of the French defeat. The German that I saw were young, marching bareheaded in victory, singing as they covered mile after mile.

Four years later, after terrible losses on fronts from the Atlantic to the Nile, that same German to the Nile, that same German army was able to pick up its threads and march as victors in the Battle of the Bulge, a heroic if toothily offensive doomed to costly defeat.

Price of Rejection
It is those Germans, with their undeniable military qualities, which we Americans have as much reason as the French to dislike—whom we are rejecting to hold in our ranks a France that is torn within by a struggle of DeGaulle, Communism, Socialism, Radicalism and Pacifism, a France which offers little in the way of military might.

Then, too, the Germany which forged arms for a major war in less than five years is put aside for a France which has not the potential to arm even her own war in Indochina. We must furnish the tanks, the planes, the guns for the French armies; Germany could arm herself if given the word.

The decision of the Foreign Secretaries, which appears to be a set-back in our overall plan of holding Communism at its present iron curtain, has been dictated by the need of providing the French cabinet with a stable majority. Yet in the decisive vote early last Sunday morning when the French cabinet obtained a 327-to-276 decision, the opposition contained rightwing DeGaullists as well as Moscow-dictated Communists, both of whom are opposed to the rearming of Germany for obviously different reasons. There were 113 followers of General Charles DeGaulle and 97 Communists in the majority.

As it was, Premier Edouard Faure won his vote of confidence only with the support of the Socialists by promising that there would be no premature rearming of Germany until all the other nations comprising the European army—France, Belgium, Luxembourg,

Holland and Italy—have given the project parliamentary ratification. And yet it was France, in the day of ex-Premier Rene Pleven, Faure's predecessor, which proposed the European army plan and gave it Pleven's name.

LIFE at BHS

As Our Teen-Agers See It

by Rita Carlsino-Audrey Maize

Saturday night's dance raised $100.15 for the eight-ward shell. The admission was half a dollar, so you might wonder what sort of a character got in on the 1952. Well, it was like this, we were varied that if we went to purchase a ticket with more than 50¢, we should expect no change. Guess they made good their threat.

Due to the efforts of a couple of enterprising fund boosters, Allen Riggins and Dave Haight both fell into debt by failing to make a "bet" about a piece of arithmetic paper. They didn't mind too much because it was put to good use.

If anyone missed the dance and would still like to make a contribution to the remaining small deficit, see anyone who is a member of the Varsity Club, or at school Jim Wasdyke or Charles Crane.

Celebrate Birthdays

Friday's assembly was of a more serious nature than usual, although it was not as such. It was recognized as such by certain members of the student body.

Two short skits, directed by Miss Maffeo and presented by senior students of the history classes, depicted scenes from the lives of Washington and Lincoln. Members of the casts were Helen Horowitz, Jean Clarizio, Bert Rosenberg, George Kohn, George Ploss, Frank Zuckerman, Michael Maffeo, and Dave Gruman.

Behind the scenes working were Joe Bauer, Audrey Maize, Margery Hubert and Gail Howe. The way in which the skits were presented showed that everyone had spent a lot of time in preparing them.

As a preliminary to the program, the football team received their "loot." Seniors received silver awards which were buckles, and those who had earned letters for the first time on the Varsity squad, received sweaters. When the subject of assemblies and student participation in interesting programs, we hope that a good number of students showed up for the organizational meeting of a dramatics group to present skits at future assemblies.

Money

Tuesday's notice, pertaining to Monday patrons, reported a grand total of "nicks" or "anything" in other words. Don't forget seniors, it is your look and it is up to you to make it a success. The importance of patrons cannot be over-estimated, so let's get busy since there isn't too much time, and we certainly want our Monday before graduation. We know someone who would be willing to contribute at least one dollar and have this name in our book.

Bert Rosenberg still needs more informal snapshots of those good times seniors have had during the last four years. Anyone who has any should get them in to Bert right away.

Creative Work

When you're in the library at BHS, rest your "term-project-very-eyes" for a few minutes by examining the exhibits of creative art done by students of Mr. Diehl's art department.

When the entries were judged at a recent contest, Mary Lou Salanda's design took first place, and Larry Dunn's and Eileen Pen-dergast's won second place. The results show that there is a lot of talent around school.

What Cards!

We hear that four of Mrs. Snedeker's home room students combined their musical ability to form an "intellectual" quartet and call themselves "The Four Spades." We wonder when Catherine Stefanello, Domenick Stagnano, Pete Spera and Pat Sullivan will be prepared to perform for us. Soon we hope!

How many people carry a "Dream House" tucked away in their subconscious mind... and never once make an effort to shop for that house? Untold thousands.

What does it take to bring this subconscious thought to the surface? Perhaps just a picture. All Multiple Listed properties are photographed and distributed to over 50 Realtor offices.

Who knows who may walk past Mr. Realtor's window which holds a picture of your house. Then lo and behold an unsuspecting person becomes a prospect for your home and yet he's never once walked past your house and never once consciously thought "I want a new home."

For Multiple Listing your home consult a Realtor, member of the Board of Realtors, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville.

10 SEARS, ROEBUCK EMPLOYEES HAVE $41,000 IN FUND

Dennis A. Bailey Makes Full Report On Profit Sharing Stock In Retirement Fund

Ten employees of the Sears, Roebuck and Co. store in Belleville today learned the extent to which each is sharing in the company's 1951 profits through their membership in "The Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Employees."

Individual statements containing this information were distributed by Dennis A. Bailey, Sears local manager, to member-employees at the annual store meeting.

Mr. Bailey announced that this local employee group has to its credit in the fund 569 6-100 shares of Sears stock plus a cash balance of $9,355.39. Based on a year-end market value of $56 per share for the Sears stock, this group now has a total investment worth $41,352.69.

The fund's total current assets amount to $400,000,000 (based on a year-end market value of $56 per share). However, of this figure, only $33,300,000 represents deposits from the wages and salaries of the 109,233 members in the fund.

The fund now owns approximately 24 per cent of Sears stock and this ownership makes it the company's largest single stockholder, Mr. Bailey said.

Now in its 34th year, the Sears Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund was created by the company management to permit employees to share in the company's profits and to assist them in creating a financial reserve to take care of their needs following their eventual retirement from business.

All regular Sears employees are eligible to join the fund after one year with the company.

Employee members of the fund deposit five per cent of their salaries up to a $250 maximum deposit into the fund each year. Sears annual contribution into the fund is based on an established percentage of its profits.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SCHEDULES LENTEN SERVICES

Altar Guild Will Mark 33rd Anniversary Of Ordination Of Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion followed by a short meditation Ash Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at Christ Episcopal Church. Reverend Peter R. Deckenbach will speak on the theme, "What are the privileges and challenge that come to us in this Lenten time?" The Penitential Office and Litany will be at 8 o'clock in the evening.

On Thursday evenings, beginning March 6th, the Rector has planned a series of informal talks on "Why the Church?" and what message it has for our world darkened with fear. These Thursday evenings are open to all.

Plans are being formulated for the Ladies to make surgical dressings during Lent, on Tuesday afternoons, beginning March 4th at 1 o'clock. Every woman, whether a member of Christ Church or not, is invited to join in this endeavor. No previous experience is necessary—we will teach you.

The Lenten Question-box is available again this year. Questions are answered on Saturday, February 23rd.

Customers' Corner

George Washington said it first: "This day, the celebration of Washington's birthday brings to mind the story about the famous cherry tree. Whether he said 'I cannot tell a lie' or not, we know just the father of our country did say, 'honesty is always the best policy.' The founding father of A&P—George Washington Hartford—had the same idea when he said, 'Honesty is the best policy and the best interest of our customers.' That's the spirit that has always guided the folks of A&P. It's above all else."
