Solution Found For School Population Increase This Fall

Emergency Measures May Not Be Adequate Long; 522 Kindergarten Children Expected; Only 252 Grads

The Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools Evan H. Thomas, have found a solution to Belleville's growing school population for next year, but will be hard pressed for years thereafter unless it gets its new secondary school started and finished soon. What is happening here is typical of suburban communities where since the war about twice as many five-year-olds are entering the kindergarten each fall as there are seniors leaving the high school. In time this is bound to cause trouble. So far Belleville has been lucky but the prospects are that only larger classes, in the lower grades where individual attention is most important, will have to be resorted to once all the available rooms in the system are exhausted.

In the fall every available nook and cranny in Belleville's nine elementary schools will be in use, at Number Three school and one basement kindergarten room at School No. 5. These five new classrooms are being installed in the Belleville system at bargain rates according to the current price for new construction. Building costs today are running about $30,000 per class room, but for this amount, Belleville is getting five additional class rooms.

New Elementary School Soon
Prospects for the future on a basis of normal growth and anticipated increases from the new apartment developments in the Terrace development indicate the new secondary school will absorb the increase for three or four years at the most, and then if construction of new homes in the Terrace development continues, a new elementary school in the Terrace development, at Franklin Avenue and Liberty Avenue.

The new Belleville development can be expected to increase the school enrollment by at least 100 children within the next three years, if the Terrace development can be used as a guide. There are 300 living units in the Terrace development, and the school enrollment of 300 or so will be completed. This year the number of children enrolled in the Terrace development is 200, and the school enrollment of 300 or so will be completed. This year the number of children enrolled in the Terrace development is 200, and the school enrollment of 300 or so will be completed.

522 Kindergarten Children
Mr. Thomas, who incidentally started his second year as Superintendent of Schools last July 1st, has determined that 522 children will be eligible to enter kindergarten in the fall. The number arrived at about a month ago through a survey conducted by the school principals, who gleaned their information from questionnaires submitted to the older children, through personal visits to the homes of the children and through the school nurses. Parents of these children were individually contacted to verify the information gained, and parents and children invited to special orientation days just before the close of school.

270 Increase Expected
Exactly 252 seniors graduated from Belleville High School in June, indicating that the school enrollment here will increase about 270 in September. The number that move from town or move in, and the students who enter the High School from St. Peter's, more or less balance each other so that these are negligible factors in anticipation of school population growth.

The finishing of the four class rooms at No. 3 school will provide for the transfer of two classes from School No. 8 which already has nearly 600 pupils, to No. 3.

No. 3 could actually use an extra kindergarten, but it has been decided that it would be better to provide one extra third grade to relieve the crowding which existed in three second grades last year, and to create one extra kindergarten in the two which were in operation during the past school year.

Excellent Classrooms
These new third floor rooms, which will be operated with state approval on a year to year basis, will be excellent class rooms.

Paper And Rag Collection
By American Legion Sunday
The American Legion will make a paper collection on Sunday, commencing at 9 a.m., to compensate for the postponed collection in June because of rain. The Fredrick-Scott Ship Stop, V.F.W. turned over to the Legion. There will be no collection during August. Anyone wishing to donate paper and rags, please place them at the curb on Sunday.

Plan Card Party To Open New St. Peter's Auditorium

Parish Wide Affair Set For September 24 In New Hall

St. Peter's school addition which will be ready for use this fall, will be opened with a parish wide card party in the combination auditorium-gymnasium, on September 24, according to plans of a committee appointed by Monsignor Joseph M. Kelly, and headed by Rev. Francis A. Ignacunas. An organization meeting of the committee was held at the school on Monday evening and committees were appointed.

The new project includes not only the multi-purpose gymnasium, and locker rooms but class rooms as well. Construction costs and equipment for the new building will total a half million dollars. When completed it will mark a long stride in Monsignor Kelly's plans for the creation of a St. Peter's High School. Those plans call for the alteration and renovation of the old school building so that it can be used for elementary

Truck And Water-Melons Not His, Gets Year's Probation

Anthony Ferrara, 29, of 68 Garfield Street, Newark, was placed on probation for a year and fined $50 by Magistrate Edward J. Abramson, on Thursday, in lieu of 60 days in jail on a larceny charge, growing out of the theft of a truck-load of watermelons on Wednesday night. Ferrara was arrested the night before by Newark police, after Belleville police had sent out a teletype alarm reporting the truck and the melons missing from the rear of Frank Dela Volle's fruit stand at 11-17 Franklin Street, Newark. Ferrara was taken into custody at Park Avenue and Fourth Street, Newark by Detective David, who had received the information via the Newark police radio.

Mayor Tully Offers Action On Playground

Commissioners Will Confer With General Motors And Study Location and Cost of Alternate Plan Before Regular Meeting Scheduled for July 22

A definite plan of action on the future of Memorial Field was outlined by Mayor James J. Tully in a discussion with Attorney Robert C. Gruhin, at the Commission meeting, Tuesday night. Mr. Gruhin informed the Commission that he had received a copy of a letter addressed by the Mayor to the General Motors Corporation and said he did not expect an immediate reply from such a large corporation. The Mayor replied that he had called a Mr. Ramsey at the Bloomfield plant and had been assured that the letter was forwarded to Mr. Ford in the company's Detroit office and that an answer could be expected shortly.

Mayor Tully asked Commissioner Patrick J. Waters for a map and approximate costs of his alternate playground proposal so that when the Commissioners meet with the General Motors it he took part in a matter of the alternate playground site. To this, Mr. Waters answered that the advertisement would be in today's paper, and that the persons concerned would have 10 days in which to redeem it or the town would take title. But the meeting was not without its hot words. James R. Golden charged Mayor Tully with a violation of the Hatch Act in receiving a salary from the town while serving in the U. S. Marines. Mr. Golden, given two minutes to get his speech over with, by Mayor Tully, who said he didn't want to clutter town meetings with statements of a personal nature, rattled off a stream of questions so fast that Mayor Tully could not get in a breath, let alone an answer. In his statement Mr. Golden charged Mayor Tully with a violation of the Hatch Act in receiving a salary from the town while serving in the U. S. Marines.

Mayor Tully said his military record is a part of the files of the Marine office in New York

City and Mr. Golden had his permission to examine them. He also said his office is open eight hours a day, five days a week, and that he would answer each of Mr. Golden's questions there, but declined to do so as part of the Commission proceedings. Mr. Golden also asked the status of a resolution he suggested to the General Motors Corporation and Archbishop Walsh. Mr. Keenan explained that the resolution was passed with many others during the meeting two weeks ago.

Most of the property in the town on which the hospital was built was bought by the state of New Jersey, which took it from the Town of Belleville at tax sales, and except for one parcel was maintained as a public utility property in the vicinity is in the process of In-Kem foreclosure by the Town of Belleville, as described in a legal advertisement in this paper today. Persons mentioned in the advertisement, who have the right to redeem the town's claim against the property. If successful in foreclosing the town might use the property for park or playground purposes.

Town's Most Glorious 4th Marred By Theft Of Bombs

Many Winners During The Afternoon Games For Children; Circus Ponies Bolt From Place In Performance

Belleville's most glorious Fourth of July celebration planned and staged by a special committee headed by F. Douglas Wadsworth and working under the Belleville Recreation Department, went off with only two hitches, one of a serious and one of an amusing nature. The serious hitch was the theft of five aerial bombs from the truck of the Neptune fireworks company, which set off the fireworks. Each of these bombs is capable of killing a person who is not experienced in handling them. Police enlisted the aid of citizens and the auxiliary police in a search for the bombs and two of them were found, also an 18 inch fuse from a third one. The loud speakers on police cars, radio broadcasts and newspapers were used in an effort to locate the three missing bombs. Police are interested in their recovery, not in arrest of the thief. As long as the bombs are missing, children of Belleville will not be safe.

The numerous incident occurred during the circus when three of the ponies in one of the acts bolted from behind the lead horse and set off for greener pastures. Some people gave a kick out of seeing the ponies rounded up than they did the act, which, not only popular but very much of a mand. It had appeared on TV shortly before coming to Belleville and was scheduled for a nightspot appearance in New York, following its appearance here. About 600 children participated in the morning and afternoon races and events at the stadium and winners were given appropriate medals. The circus was attended by about 8,000 people and the fireworks, which set off the fireworks, was about 16,000. A collection taken up by boy and girl scouts for the Edith Heimrich Fund, resulted in the collection of $891.55 and swelled that to a grand total of $9,838.12 towards the $15,000. Hospital Hopes Are Revived By Action On Vacating Streets

Clara Maaz Hospital Group Plans Application for $2,500,000 Loan From Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Hopes for a hospital for Belleville and its neighboring communities were revived at the meeting of the Belleville Commissioners, Tuesday night, when Attorney Fred C. Waldron and Architect Raymond B. Platt of Bloomfield, representing the Clara Maaz Hospital Association, applied to the commissioners for the vacating of portions of Belmont Avenue and Magnolia Street and all of Kean and Wheelan Streets, paper streets surrounded by and adjacent to the property obtained by the Lutheran Memorial Hospital three years ago. Mr. Waldron explained that the vacating of the streets and the vacating of the property to the Hospital would be part of the proof required by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on the hospital's application for a $2,500,000 loan.

An ordinance vacating the streets mentioned was passed on first reading, in order to accommodate the hospital plans, but the commission on the advice of its attorney reserved the right to amend the ordinance and of this reserve to include a clause stating that the ordinance would become null and void if the hospital is not started within a certain period of time. It is because the indefinite nature of this clause that it was not included in the ordinance.

Local Teachers Serve As N.E.A. Delegates In Detroit

90th Convention of National Education Association Well Attended; New Jersey Delegation Active In General Assembly Events and Panel Discussions

The Misses Ellen McNair of Preston Street and Carolyn Pohl of Tappan Avenue, teachers in Newark and Belleville respectively, served as delegates to the general assembly of the National Education Association of its annual convention in Detroit last week.

Miss McNair, who teaches in Webster Street School, Newark, represented the Grade Teachers' Organization of that city, and Miss Pohl, teacher in School No. 3, Belleville, served as a member of the New Jersey Delegation. This is the first time Belleville has been so represented in an N.E.A. General Assembly.

Officially organized in 1857 to serve in the advancement of education, the N.E.A. has since expanded in area and scope to include all aspects of educational efforts.

This 90th convention was attended by about 750,000 persons from all the states, Alaska, Porto Rico, and Hawaii. The New Jersey Delegation, led by Frederick L. Hipp, Executive Secretary of the N. J. Education Association and President of the National School Public Relations Association, made some special contributions to the week's activities.

Miss Lena Porecka of Hackensack was elected to the post of N.E.A. director for the State of N. J. and five other New Jersey delegates, Lawrence Johnson, Harry Jelenick, Lena Porecka, Gladys Goss, and Frederick Hipp, served as leaders or speakers at some of the many panel discussions.

Dr. Hipp also prepared and presented the address summarizing the week's activities at the closing session.

The Board members of the Congregation A.A.A. Sisterhood recently feted their Past President, Mrs. Herman Kester, at a luncheon at the Mushroom Farms. She was presented with a gift on behalf of the membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woods and daughters Phyllis and Marilyn, together with Mrs. Wood's mother Mrs. Ella Naumann, returned recently from a week's vacation at Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Becker of 58 Branch Brook Drive announce the arrival of their first grandson, Steven Paul. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Becker of North Adams, Mass.

A daughter, Sharon Jane, was born to Mr. and Mrs. George R. Meyer, Jr., of 343 Park Avenue, Nutley, at the American Legion Hospital, both formerly of Belleville, Mrs. Meyer is the former Shirley Staudt.

The Good Lord gives us beaches so there might be nice cool spots to go whenever summer days become too hot or dull or wearisome. Since that's the case, we should take care to play it safe while we are there. If we do that, the consequence will be far fewer accidents.

same airport again. Most of us were unconscious of the facts and hardly noticed our second landing. We tried to get some sleep in the halls of the airport restroom. After six hours, at 7 o'clock Central European Time, it was 6 o'clock in Iceland. "Sleeping Tiger" as we had called our airplane in the meantime—converted to Flying Tiger. A ten hour flight over the ocean without any trouble and we arrived safely in Newfoundland's airport, Gander.

Checking my watch, I noticed a difference of 3½ hours with the restaurant's clock, an unusual half hour's difference.

From Newfoundland, we needed seven more hours to move on to Idlewild. I was getting a little tired from the unusual trip and did not even try to catch a little sight of New York while coming close to Idlewild. I only hoped at that time the immigration officer would not keep us too long. We really passed very quickly through these formalities and it seemed as if all these officials could have kissed and wined.

At the airport we were met by Miss June Henneberger of the New York office. We were glad to our start in the United States, find her such a good organizer for after our 32 hour trip with not less than 24 flight hours. By taxi we were brought to New York.

The Taxi Ride
In a few minutes we reached New York and our dreams became reality, but honestly spoken, I was too tired to get a real full impression of New York itself. Half sleeping and half waking, I thought to be in the movies. No, I really was not much surprised neither of the roads nor of the immense buildings. Everything looked quite familiar to me as I thought to have seen equal things in the movies. There was one thing, I was quite conscious that I was sitting in a taxi. Was he crazy, this taxi driver, or was I tired? We started like hell, we had to stop every ten seconds for red lights—and what stops these were and as soon as green lights appeared, took off like hell again. My stomach and my head both having been mixed up already by the flight, and now this drive to New York did the rest!

In the Henry Hudson Hotel, I picked up word from Miss Henneberger that Mr. Hiss of Montclair would get me in the morning. But then I needed some real rest. I only wondered what my impression of New York and the United States would be when I awakened in the morning. Are you wondering what my impressions will be—I shall start telling you about it in a week's time.

Park Report

When we wrote last week about the troubles of the Essex County Park Commission we did not know that in the next day's mail we received a copy of the Park Commission's fifty-third annual report, covering the year 1951. The report listed the following sports events, which gives an idea of the importance of the parks in many fields of endeavor.

The sport, not the event itself is listed here to save space. For instance the crew races of the Belleville and Nutley High School teams and the Nereid Boat Club, were witnessed from park land of the Passaic River Parkway here. Other sports listed are: bicycle races, horse shoe pitching, archery; soap box derby, fishing, track and field, model yacht sailing, cross country runs, cricket, football, field hockey, roller skating, football practice, tennis, horseback riding, hand ball, lawn bowling, soccer, plug casting, tennis, skiing, ice skating, canoe, softball, golf, baseball, and basketball.

At least a recreation for some, if not a sport is bird-watching, done by a group of men in Branch Brook park. These men report seeing a number of birds rare to this section, attracted by the ponds and trees of the park. Some 3,847 anglers at Verona Lake reported catching 3,157 trout, with sunfish, catfish, calico bass, perch and large-mouth bass to the number of 1,883. At Branch Brook 2,621 persons fished, but they caught 10,028 fish, of which 4,597 were sunfish.

The lake at Branch Brook Park was restocked, instead some of its fish population was exterminated because of overpopulation of stunted fish. The report says, "While the lake in Branch Brook Park is basically a productive one, as measured by the total yield in poundage, the yield of game fish has been inferior to that of most lakes in New Jersey. Furthermore the excessive population of the 17 species found there produced an unbalanced condition."

As a result of several conferences, a pond reclamation project was proposed which involved three operations: 1. Lowering the water level 18 inches so that the large game fish could be seined out and placed in other ponds; 2. Filling the remainder of the fish population by spraying emulsified rotenone on the surface of the water and, of course removing the dead fish (some 40,000); 3. Restocking the lake with proper proportions of desirable species. The first two operations were carried out in October. Restocking was promised for the spring of 1952 with 2,000 large-mouth bass averaging 5 inches; 200 blue gills 6 to 7 inches; 400 adult catfish and 1,500 legal trout. On the basis of similar management procedures in other states, the representatives of the State Conservation Department predict that by 1954 fishing for bass and blue gills will be good. By 1957, it may start to decline with the sunfish again becoming overabundant and stunted.

The statistics on baseball and softball alone is staggering. "During the baseball season 52 diamonds were used in 16 parks. Of these six were for hard ball, 24 for softball and 22 were combinations. Between March 12 and September 30, 8,625 games were played on permits issued to 52 schools and churches, 59 leagues and 123 independent teams without affiliations."

Part improvement work undertaken in Belleville was principally at Hendricks Field where the town of Belleville vacated a short section of Springer Street, one half of which became the property of the commission. By moving approximately 150 feet of border-line fence and grading the new area, the fourteenth fairway was greatly improved and an unsightly spot in the neighborhood eliminated. In addition the slope of the Hendricks Field golf course along Franklin Avenue and immediately north of where it is crossed by the Erie Railroad was improved by the planting of 18 evergreens, deciduous trees and 340 deciduous shrubs.

We also had an opportunity to talk with Mr. Wallace of the Park Commission staff, who informs us that the Park Commission had discussed the installation of swimming pools in the parks on several occasions, but it was felt that unless 22 of them could be built at once for each of the county's municipalities, there would be criticism of partiality. The public, even at steeper prices than the county would charge, might indicate that fewer than 16 could be built. However the commission has felt that the erection and maintenance of a swimming pool should be a municipal function, since each municipality could limit the pool's use to youngsters of the town.

Perhaps that is so, and perhaps that is a project that our own Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde might investigate to determine the cost and the feasibility. There is no doubt that it would be the most popular feature of a local summer playground schedule.

Playgrounds Warm Up With Special Events

Little League Farm Teams Work Out At Stadium; Keen Competition On All Fields

Things have just started to warm up on the Belleville playgrounds. Yesterday a pet parade was held at each of the fields where the younger children congregate. Next week there will be a boy's softball tournament. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, a week later a bicycle parade is scheduled, followed by the Playground Olympics on the 28th and a treasure hunt on the 30th. August events include a doll show, Guy Fawkes Review and Field Day on successive weeks.

At the Stadium Playground the Little League Farm Circuit swung into action last week. The Junior League Eagles, in the opener 7 to 6. Haug and Jones blasted two hits apiece and headed their team to victory. J. Gaeta, McNish and A. Gaeta were the "big guns" for the losers scoring two runs apiece. On Wednesday another close game was recorded as the Yankees squeaked by the Hawks by the narrowest of margins. The Yankees collected 3 hits for the Yankees and he was closely followed by teammates Ellis and Caputo who had two apiece. Thornton and Prunzi of the losers also chalked up two apiece. Thursday the heat and the

Clout St. Joseph's Mission 15 To 0; Steve McCarthy Has No Hitter But Loses 2 To 1

St. Anthony's, Belleville, blasted St. Joseph's Mission, Newark, 15 to 0 Sunday to climb to first place in the Essex County CYO Junior League. Bob Doyle started for the local Saints, giving up but one hit over the seven inning route.

St. Anthony's started things off with a two-outburst in the first, followed by three runs in the second and another trio in the third, putting the game on ice. St. Joseph's managed their single hit in the fifth, but failed to make anything of it.

The other Belleville club in the CYO Junior league, St. Peter's, suffered its third straight defeat, this time to St. Valentine's, Newark, 2 to 1. St. Val's, registering its first win of the season, scored twice on Petreae errors in the first, giving them the lead. The Belleville team got its only run in the sixth. Steve McCarthy handled the mound assignment for St. Peter's pitching a no-hitter.

St. Lucy Filippini Sodality Schedules Picnic And Retreat

The St. Lucy Filippini Sodality of Holy Family Church in Nutley will hold its annual family retreat and picnic at St. Val's, Newark, on Sunday, July 20. The picnic is limited to members of the Sodality, their families and friends.

The program for the day will include a 10:30 mass by Rev. Anthony T. Benti, moderator, and an address by Rev. M. F. Moher, Provincial of the Filippini order.

Buses will leave the church for Morrisstown at 9 a.m. and return to the city at 4 p.m. In the event of rain, the trip will be postponed until the following Sunday, July 27.

plunging champion, has been practicing diligently to hold his title while Carmine Vicari, Frank Maifatta, Ralph Sena, Joe Morano, Nick Di Martino, and Peter Bachman have been improving steadily.

A playground regular Jack Spencer, one of the town's marauding champs, underwent an emergency appendectomy this week. We are happy to say he is feeling fine, and will return to his favorite horsehoof play shortly.

Brackets of various colors were the attractions of the week, with more than 30 completed. Charles and Philip, the two boys, were the winners. Susan Borrello, Philip Gallo, Joy Silvani, Michael Mignone, Philip Squatito and Peter Barchman toiled for hours, and produced most attractive results.

The "key" circle includes Joe Casta, Judy Long, Jeanne Ciampi, Sue D'Andrea and Anthony Badalamenti. Swings and sand box are their favorite spots.

The Chief assistants in the clean up department are: Anthony, George Rindini, Billy Long, and Carmine Vicari.

School horsehoof handling may be seen when Sal LoCoco, Ben and Joe Alexander, Tom Perrelli, Vincent Squatito and other regulars are around. Bob Corsi, Carl DeJura, and Frank Amantieri are the lodge-ball enthusiasts.

No. 9 School Playground — Director: Mrs. Winkler. Joe Cardozo. Our checker tournament was completed this week, and we are proud to report that Billy Novak is in first place and Jimmy Gai is holding down second position.

The "Pot Holder" and bracelet assembly line has started again under the supervision of Charlie Schlocker, our handcraft instructor, and much progress is reported. Some forty youngsters are happily engaged in turning out "works of art."

Our ping-pong table has been the scene of some real activity since the opening day. We are looking forward to the championships for we expect to grab a few of the titles this year.

Buzz Cardozo, our director, has formed a softball team this year and we are looking forward to some real competition. We would like to challenge some of the other playgrounds to a game. Come on fellows, get your ears "binned back."

No Hitter and One Hitters In Little League

The Aces and the Demons lead their respective divisions of the Belleville Little League with seven victories each as a result of recent games. The Aces top the American League with a 7-2 record, while the Demons are ahead of the National circuit with a 2-0 record.

Recently the Little League All Stars played a game at Rahway and lost 7 to 4. After the game, the Aces and the Demons were treated to a picnic at the clubhouse on the premises. Parents of the players traveled with the boys and Eddie O'Neil was in charge of the team with assistance from other managers. It was announced the Belleville would return the gesture in August, and a donation of $10 towards the expense of the refreshments, was made by one of the parents.

In recent games the Grants finally broke into the victory column by beating the Cubs 10 to 2. A single by Kirk was the telling blow of the three run second. The Yankees beat the Dodgers 5 to 1 behind the four hit hurling of Malizia and the hitting of Wells, who had two for three. The Dodgers threatened in the final inning but Malizia fanned Richman for the final out.

A real pitcher's battle developed when the Demons met the Clippers with Cullen of the Demons winning on a no-hit-no-run effort over the three hit pitching of Bojczak, in seven innings. With the score 0 to 0 in the last of the seventh inning, Cullen led off with a single which was played into three bases by the right fielder. Bojczak struck out the next two batters, but Collins was a high hopper and while Bojczak was waiting for the ball to come down Travata scored and Collins was safe at first and the game was over. Cullen fanned 16 and Bojczak 13.

The Aces beat the Bombers 6 to 2 in a game in which both collected four hits. The Bombers got all their hits in the second inning and after that only one man out base. The Aces' eighth man to the plate in the fifth to break a two to two deadlock.

In another low hit game the Demons beat the Giants 2 to 0 behind the one hit hurling of Travata with two outs for two led the winners at bat.

The Yankees topped the Bombers 8 to 3. DelaVelli was the big boy for the Yankees with three singles. The pitcher was the fifth when Dattoi went wild and walked three men. Two errors and a single by Suley added up to four runs.

The Clippers beat the Cubs 10 to 2 behind Bojczak who hurled a no-hitter. Bojczak, although touched for seven scattered hits, the winners put together a walk, a sacrifice and a hit by Valente. The Bombers beat the Dodgers 8 to 6, although outlit 10 to 6. Bojczak, however, hurt the Bombers collected four runs in the second on only two hits. The Yankees topped the Aces 10 to 2, when with two out they loaded the bases, but Carlucci, who had two for two, struck out to end the threat.

McCaule pitched ably battled the Aces to victory over the Dodgers. He granted three hits and in the big third inning he led off with a home run. Garamella followed with another. McCaule also had a two for two.

Your problem is Her problem

When you call your telephone business office for any information or question on service, Service Representatives like Mrs. Shirley Mohr of Hightstown give you friendly, personal attention—service with a smile. These days...

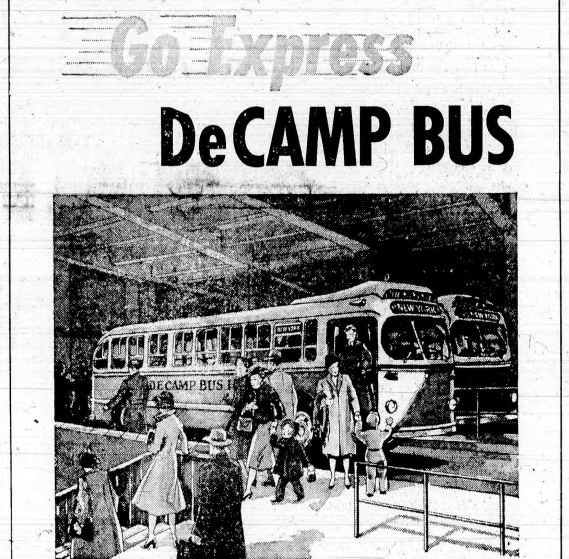

New 'phone applications are their biggest problem—because meeting the needs of defense industries, Civil Defense, and military establishments require much of the scarce material needed for telephone construction—reduces the equipment available for civilian installation. Even so...

Every month now Service Representatives are able to say "your new 'phone will be ready soon" to an average of nearly 10,000 homes like that of Mrs. Richard C. Walker of Moorestown. Defense gets top priority of course. But you may be sure your Telephone Company is working hard to bring more and better service to everyone—just as fast as defense requirements permit and materials are available.

The Snowball Bush

Ice-green, foam-white, color of sea blown spray, cool clusters of flowers under a shimmering noon sun, flotillas of snow in a green sea of leaves; white as burst popcorn in the white light, but in the shade, luminous green with green shadows, cold to the touch as alabaster, but fragile as cloud, scentless flowers, but smelling of frost in the green subaqueous light; color of milk jade. It is here the satin black cat drowns or contemplates the day with casual topaz eyes.

Frederick Ebright

Looking Towards November

Old-fashioned back-room politics have upset the schedule of the Chicago Convention but no matter whether Bob or Ike is the choice, nomination is not election. Once the choice of Chicago is made, albeit not without its scars, the Republican Party still has to win the national elections in November and the formula of that victory is mathematical, not political.

To end the five-term rule of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, it will be necessary for the Republican candidate to win more votes than any other Republican candidate ever scored in history. Just getting more voters to the polls is not enough; in past campaigns it was voters, not the non-voters who elected Democratic presidents.

The political facts of the 20 years are these: In 1940, more than 47,000,000 ballots were cast and the Democrats won, decisively, the Presidency and control of the House and Senate. In 1942, when 19,000,000 fewer votes were cast, the Republicans won ground in Congress.

In 1944, the total vote mounted again and the Democrats won again and re-elected their president. Out of 48,000,000 votes, the Republicans got only 22,000,000. In the off-year election of 1946, the total vote dropped again and the Republicans scored gains in the House and Senate.

It is a political fact, too, that in his four elections, Franklin Roosevelt won more electoral votes in one year than the total GOP electoral vote in sixteen years. It is a matter of record, for example, that in 1936 the electoral vote was split 523 to 8, the blackest year in GOP history.

Today, our national politics is entrenched in a two-party system, but each party has undergone tremendous changes. Each is, in fact, a coalition. You find both liberals and conservatives in each party, the Democratic Conservative South being closer to the GOP Old Guard than it is to the Truman Liberal wing. There will be more split-ticket voting in November than ever before, and it is that uncertainty which can dominate the issue.

Many Americans have long claimed that a clear-cut realignment of political parties would be desirable. They have earned for a conservative party and for a liberal party. Today the Republicans have their chance to go part way toward this goal, if it is desirable. They could purge themselves of their liberals, as their organization has done on the official program here. But they still would not necessarily be able to attract the Democratic conservatives. And straight across the liberal-conservative cleavage runs the inconsistent issue of foreign policy, with some on one side and some on the other.

The realignment of American politics may have to wait a better—or a worse—day. For it also is arguable that such a realignment would put such stresses on American social relationships as to be dangerous and disruptive. Maybe ours is perforce a government of compromises and adjustments.

Meantime, these are the hours of uncertainty. Today the Republicans are embroiled in bitterness as they have not been for many years. They have almost destroyed their chances for November. It is not, of course, too late. Political wounds heal. Hot words are swallowed. But there will have to be a coming together before this week is out. It is not inevitable. Just conceivably the party could decide to go through the terrible test of a purge. Yet many wise heads want peace, and the widest possible basis of national agreement, in order to end one-party rule.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

Washington Looks Through A Smokescreen Of Kremlin's Concentrated Hate and Concludes Moscow Is Up To No Good.

By Ralph E. Heinzen

It may come as a surprise to you, but you're no longer a simple "Wall Street newspaperist" or a "capitalist warmonger." Now you're a "Kremlin butcher," a "plague general" or a "house knight," you "bloody torch-bearer of a new carnage." I listened to Radio Moscow on shortwave several days ago and I learned the worst about you—and about myself and 160,000,000 other Americans. We're all "bloody torch bearers."

The Kremlin is embarked on a new propaganda drive and all the stops are out. Anything that we may have heard in the way of virulent hatred in the past was almost a compliment compared to the concentrated hate that is being spread around the world. This is no ordinary Communist propaganda drive and it, frankly, has our State Department disturbed. Why they ask themselves, have the Russians suddenly ordered this wider and more virulent hate campaign, designed to lash the half billion people behind the Iron Curtain into a fury of hatred against America. Is it a prelude to war, or to some new act of aggression?

A variety of deductions is possible, but the general agreement in those circles in Washington which must try to make sense out of nonsense is that in ordering this campaign of mental-poison, the Kremlin is up to no good, disturbed. The only wise premise in dealing with Communism is to be prepared for the worst. It is also evident to my friends at the State Department that our "Voice of America" is stilled to a mere whisper, unable to compete against a hate campaign which knows no bounds—as indicated by Malik's tongue in cheek recital of the same old phony charge that we have resorted to germ warfare in China from a tribune as high as the Presidential chair of the United Nations.

Aimed At Russians
 Right now the Kremlin is doing its worst to cause the Russian people to fear and to distrust, to hate and to detest the people of the United States.

In order that we may not be surprised by any reaction of the Russian people it is important to look frankly at what the Soviet dictatorship, through the controlled radio, the controlled newspapers, and the controlled magazines, is pouring into the thoughts and emotions of its subjects. Here are enough of the facts to show what is going on:

The Red Story
 1. The Russian people are being told that American children are being trained to be "hangers, bloodsuckers, parasites, capable of burying people alive."
 2. They are being fed the story that American soldiers are "cutting the throats of Korean children" and that "United States cannibals" are torturing Korean prisoners of Kojima island with red-hot irons.

3. Newspapers and radio are reporting that "the American monster have physically mutilated 50,000 healthy youths in Puerto Rico."
 4. "We have learned," says Moscow's official party newspaper, that "civilized" Americans can yet be more infamous than the bloody Hitlerites. Dauchau was a death camp. Maidanek was a death factory. Kojima is a whole island of death operated by the American hangersmen. That's what Pravda said editorially about us last week.

Countering Our Successes
 All this new venom is directed primarily at the Russian people and is used only incidentally and sparingly on Moscow broadcasts to the rest of the world, indicating that the Kremlin's main concern in the present drive is to condition Russian domestic opinion.

Any one of a number of purposes might be served by what the Communists are up to. They could be "educating" the Russian people about the terrible dangers which surround them from the free world so that the population will bear hardships and terror and deprivations short of dictatorship. Moscow could be forecasting serious shortcomings in fulfilling its own promises of better living and greater plenty to the Russian people that it is to build up fear of the outside world.

What's Behind It?
 The Kremlin could be preparing domestic opinion against further successes on the part of the North Atlantic Alliance, such as the Schuman Plan, the ratification of the peace contracts with Western Germany, and the formation of the six-nation European defense community, with Western Germany joining in the common security.

Finally, particularly because of the vehemence and viciousness of the propaganda itself, it cannot be ruled out that the Politburo is steeling Russian opinion for another aggression, this time with Soviet participation.

Do They Believe It?
 You might ask: "Do the Russian people really believe such far-fetched nonsense?"

For an answer, you need only remember the virulence of the May Day Communist-inspired anti-American riots on the streets of Tokyo, Paris and Berlin. You might remember Joseph Goebbels' theory of propaganda that if you tell a big lie often enough every one will believe it.

And then you might remember, if your memory goes back to World War I, the "hate-the-Kaiser" campaign which had us believing that the German soldiers in Belgium cut off the hands of Belgian children and that, because of a shortage of fats in Germany, the German army was boiling down its own and our dead—to render the human land. They even told us that English troops had found fagots of bodies, bound into bundles with wire, in a corridor of an underground canal in Northern France. Remember?

Lost Ground In Japan
 One thing we know for sure, the Communist "hate America" drive already has made millions of dupes in Japan. In this "One Man's Opinion" it was a fatal mistake for Harry Truman to relieve General Douglas MacArthur from the supreme command in Tokyo. MacArthur had a prestige that Ridgeway, Mark Clark or no other general could match. You never once heard of any serious Japanese Communist demonstrations when he was in Tokyo. He knew how to be hard when hardness was necessary. The reverence which the Japanese masses paid him annoyed the Missovinists and a lot of top brass at the Pentagon, but it paid off in good Japanese-American relations.

If ever we needed a strong pro-American feeling in Japan it is now. We know that Red China and Red Russia have promised aid to the Communist guerrillas in Malaya, as they gave it to the Communist minority in Indo-China. To counter that spread of Communist aggression in the Far East, Washington is weighing the formation of an Asian Defense Council, patterned after the successful Eisenhower NATO effort in Western Europe. If such an Asian Council is to succeed, we need Japan fully on our side.

Thank You
 Secretary Allen

Our thanks to Mr. Allen and to all the members of his department for the fine work they are doing to improve the quality and increase the quantity of foods grown in New Jersey.

Since this promises to be a year of bumper crops, we are urging people to freeze food for future use. The more you stock your freezer, the more you will save in time and money. Your menus will have more variety. You can enjoy succulent New Jersey vegetables and luscious New Jersey fruits all year long.

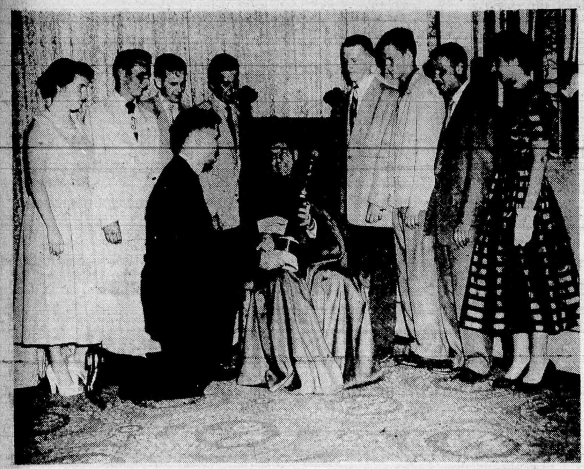

We have prepared a booklet which tells you how to freeze foods and the emphasis is on New Jersey products. Write to Room 8309, 80 Park Place, Newark, N. J. and we will send you a copy.

If you have any questions on freezing, just call the Home Economics adviser in your local Public Service office.
