

RODINO RETURNS TO WASHINGTON FOR JUSTICE PROBE

Says Committee Efforts Come Before Campaign For Re-Election To Post

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, 10th District Congressman who is a member of the House Judiciary Committee's subcommittee charged with investigating the Department of Justice, was recalled yesterday to Washington where another phase of the inquiry became a meeting of the subcommittee in leaving for Washington, Rodino said he was hopeful the committee's report would be completed late in October.

Investigate Private Gains Rodino expects the next phase of the investigation to concern the private activities of Department of Justice executives who exploited their government connections for private gain. Rep. Frank Chelf, of Kentucky, chairman of the probing committee informed Rodino that he expects the subcommittee to be sitting almost continuously until October 1.

Look for Weaknesses "Polar interest seems to center in the question of corruption in government, but the Judiciary subcommittee investigation covers a much wider field, including failures, structural weaknesses and duplication of effort. Our report will point out any corruption, errors and weaknesses we find, and the subcommittee is empowered to make recommendations to correct the faults we find."

Between sessions of the subcommittee, Rodino will return for the $50-a-week fund raising drive which the National Democratic Club of New Jersey is staging at Asbury Park in honor of Governor Adlai Stevenson, who will open the party's campaign in this state with a speech that night.

Advice On Bike Riding Editor of Times-News: Many boys and girls of Belleville, as well as elsewhere have a bad habit of riding their wheels against traffic, instead of going with traffic. This is not only dangerous to the riders but it is also a decided nuisance to all drivers of cars.

The driver of a car must watch carefully all traffic pushing on his left, as well as traffic coming along with him. Many bicycle riders go "against traffic," it puts an added burden on drivers of cars. If a car going 40 miles per hour has a rider going 20 miles per hour "against traffic," the impact is equal to a 50 mile per hour collision. With both vehicles going in the same direction there would not be nearly as much chance of an accident, and even if a car should hit a bicycle riding in the same direction the impact would not exceed 30 miles per hour.

How would it be for the Belleville Times to put a warning on the front page by large letters, reading something like this: "BICYCLE RIDERS: RID WITH TRAFFIC NOT AGAINST IT!" Yours for safety, M. C. Alby unfamiliar place to me before. We had dinner together with his brother in the Tavern of Newark, where I got acquainted with a combination of him and pineapple.

Coney Island After dinner I passed the Holland Tunnel, I came to the first line through the Battery Tunnel to Brooklyn. A beautiful ride along the parkway brought us to Coney Island. This name was always remembered me the most famous and crowded bathing beach near New York. I was surprised to find such a big amusement park here, which seems to be a very important part of Coney Island. From a cabin of the wonderwheel, we had a full view over the place. Two or three hours passed very quickly in this atmosphere and we returned to Belleville.

The next day Mr. William Irvine took me to his summer home in Delmar at the Jersey Shore, where I spent two beautiful days. Mr. and Mrs. Irvine went with me for a ride along the beach in the evening, and then we had dinner in the restaurant, Beach House at Spring Lake. The chef happened to be a Swiss and I went to greet him in the kitchen. As a result of this conversation, I got an enormous roast beef for dinner, Swiss made in the U.S.A.

On Wednesday Mr. Irvine took me for a ride along the wonderful beach to Asbury Park, where we had lunch in the Delmar Club. There were more visitors than members of the Club at this place. I did not mind taking a quarter of an hour's walk in the evening, as we had dinner near Club. I am used to walk in the morning in Switzerland than I do here and in an average I walk for six or ten hours a day at home, about the same time I ride in a car in this country.

High Hopes for Better Season

Now that the Los Angeles Pros and the College All-Stars have officially ushered in the football season, it is time to give a looksee at the local situation. From here it looks as though Belleville High's gridders stand a good chance of bettering their 1951 record which stood at four victories, five defeats and one tie. It looks that way from several angles, the local one and that of the opposition.

While Coach Eddie Berlinski and Assistant Herman Viscite have lost at least nine of the boys who started in the opening game last season, the fact is that a much larger proportion of those who started the Orange game at the end of the campaign are on hand.

This proportion includes two quarterbacks, Rocky Calzone, who as a junior will have another year to lead, and Tom Appella, who played defensive back last year. Also returning is Ronnie Worthington at fullback, a brother of a lad at 6-2 and 210 pounds, but despite the weight, plenty fast. Then there is Bill Rock and Bill Dunlevy at the halfbacks, both of whom can carry the mail, and well.

In the line will be Joe Sorrentino and Don Miller, co-captains of the club, Sorrentino at tackle and Miller at guard. Ralph Vara, a starter all season, returns to one of the guard spots. Bill Madera is available for duty, and the day after tomorrow, September 27, when all candidates should report to school No. 8 at 10 a.m. for a physical examination. After the doctor has put his stamp of approval on the boys, uniforms will be issued by the coaching staff to all who report.

The state association rules prohibit practice before September 1st, but Eddie Berlinski will give the candidates the full treatment that day, even though it is a holiday. Two practice sessions will be held on Labor Day and two more the day after tomorrow, school opens on September 4th and the day before is given over to staff meetings, so football drills will be on a one day basis thereafter, except on Saturday.

While it is still too early to tell much about the strength of the opposition several factors indicate that Belleville should have an edge in the first three games. East Orange on September 27 at Belleville, will come here with a new coach, who will have to install a new system and he will be acquainted with his candidates in the same period that Berlinski and Company are polishing up on the known skills of their players. Bloomfield on October 4, at Bloomfield, should not be too tough since Warren Lowens, there, played almost all seniors last year and will have to build his team around Joe Rosania and Herbie Miller, the only returning veterans. And then Coach Lowens is on the spot. He is a member of the Naval Reserve and subject to call on 24 hours notice. Nutley on October 11 at the local stadium will be another team minus veteran material and with a new coach at the helm. Perhaps this year the Bell Boys can conquer the jitters and cop this one.

So far we have back-seat-driven the Belleville boys through three straight. But West Side presents another picture. Coach Bill Thornton's charges started slow last year but were really rolling at the end and the Newarkers will be loaded with veteran talent. West Side is here on October 18.

On November 10 the Passaic Indians will play at the Municipal Stadium, although the game is their home game. It will be the last meeting of Belleville and Passaic in a long series in which no love has been lost. Here's hoping that Belleville can even a few old scores on this one.

The season closes on Thanksgiving Day at Orange, and again this game looks better every year. So far Orange has a one game edge in the series, an edge which can be changed into even-Stephen.

Treasure Hunt Features Week On Town Playfields

Last Tuesday, Municipal Stadium was really a "bee hive" of activity as some 250 youngsters "poured out" on to the field in search of the prizes which awaited them. Through the cooperation of our local merchants, some 125 prizes were available for the lucky youngsters who found the "pay off cards." About one-third of the group went home with a prize.

Some playgrounds like Friendly House and No. 9 School closed up for the morning and brought their "armies" up to the stadium.

All in all it was a good activity enthusiastically received by the "younger set."

William Street: Thank you Commissioner Hyde for our swell playground, and for our big party on opening night. Everything is just fine.

Our gay nineties review proved to be quite a hit as many youngsters enthusiastically donned the clothes of the "gadget era." Theresa McDermott, Mildred McDermott, and Kenneth Hurley were the winners of the prizes. We all agree though everyone had a swell time.

Well, be it to Clearman Field Thursday trying to win some of those prizes at the Grand Finale, Field Day.

No. 1 Playground: Things have been the same since our director Harold Brand has been on the sick list. We all hope he will be recovered and come back real soon!

Our softball team lost a tough one to the "boys from Mike's" 11-0. Bob Gashin, Roy Place and Bill Miller were the winners. The boys from Mike's were: James Dean Hatcher and Stanley Mumford played well for the losers.

Our shower has been working overtime these hot days and we have been working hard also getting ready for Field Day!

No. 3 Playground: This week the big event at the playground was the Gay Nineties Show. The day was very colorful and gay. They all were eager to see what everyone else was wearing. Finally after deciding a long time the winners were: Frances Leyble, Carla Anting and Ellen Cabot.

Frances Leyble wore a brightly colored dress of green and pink. She had her hair in an up-sweep and rhinestone earrings were just the thing to set it off. Carla Anting wore a green and pink dress with a big bow on the waist. She carried a bouquet of flowers and had a straw hat with, which just made the outfit complete. The show was a great success and the children enjoyed dressing up in their mother's and grandmother's dresses.

Friendly House Playground: Forty-five Friendly House playground regulars accompanied by Miss Walsh, journeyed to Municipal Stadium for Treasure Hunt this week. About one third of the gang was successful in carrying home a prize. But all enjoyed the bus ride anyhow (except poor driver!).

Among the travelers were Billy and Judy Long, Carl DeVona, Sal Lopez, Michael Bruno, Deanna and Cheryl Libolt, Pat Zuccaro, Anthony and Joe Alexander, Jack Spencer, Don Klein, Tom and John Cifrodella, John Scavone, Theresa and Paul Zaccaro, Doris and Anthony Strivell, and Bobby Brink.

Joe Morano was crowned ping pong champion of 1952 after he defeated the 1951 champ, Paul Marrone in two out of three games. The games were hard fought and close. Frank Maffetta, Ralph Sena, and Peter Bachmann made good showings, but Joe's steady play beat them all. Bill D'Amboia and Paul Marrone the doubles stars, have taken summer jobs and probably will be unable to compete at the Field Day championships.

Vera D'Amboia will carry the banner in the female entrants, and she is expected to win. Other Junior Girls in the Olympics, perhaps she'll be successful on Field Day. We're rooting for her.

Benny Alexander will lose the rubber horses with his brother Joe and Charles Molinaro. The doubles stars, Frank Maffetta will be trying for basketball goals a skill he's been developing with School No. 4's outstanding court team.

The gang at the playground has had a wonderful 9 weeks but, as with too many good things the end is in sight. However, the champs will return next summer to defend their honors or to be gracefully to a better player. Win or lose, we all had a dam good time!

No. 2 Playground: Wednesday August 15th was a "big day" for our playground as our Gay Nineties review provided some entertainment. Costumes and regalia of all types and colors were represented. Our judges had their usual difficult job but finally decided the following to be the winners: Mary Ann Gallagher, with her nurse outfit, was 8th; Martin Carney, as "Pat Rooney" was second; Ellen Conniff, with "lace" dress, was 3rd; Linda Potter, as "Pat Potter," was 4th; and Joseph Ryan, as a country gentleman, was fourth.

Everybody is working hard at their individual event to try to "cop" some of the prizes Field Day.

Branch Brook Playground: Our "big event" this week were: The Treasure Hunt and the Doll Show. We all went over to the stadium Tuesday morning and had a great time looking for the "hidden treasures". Some of the same names with prizes we considered it a morning well spent.

GIRLS TEAM BOWS TO, RAHWAY

Senior Boys Lose To Nutley 5 To 0; Cardinals Defeat Summit In League

The Belleville PAL Senior girls softball team dropped two games during the past week to teams from Rahway and Kearny. Last Thursday evening at Clearman Field, the Belleville girls lost to the Kearny PFAL team by a score of 11 to 2. Kearny led a 3-1 lead for 4 innings and exploded for 6 runs in the fifth inning to wrap up the victory. Last Sunday the Belleville girls traveled to Rahway to meet the Rahway PAL girls, and came back home on the short end of a 15 to 5 score. The Belleville girls will attempt to get back into the win column this Sunday afternoon when they play the Rahway team at Clearman Field. Coaches Marion Malcolm, Bill McCabe, Belleville, and Rita Biele, Kearny, considerably strengthened the Belleville team by adding Lucille (Zombie) Conner to the roster as the starting pitcher for the Fort Hamilton, N.Y. softball team.

Last Thursday 112 PAL members from the Belleville girls team to defeat the New York City girls to win the New York City girls to defeat the Dodgers 4 to 3. Two hundred members will board a bus Monday morning and travel to the Rahway team at Clearman Field to see the New York Yankees play the Detroit Tigers at Yankee Stadium. This trip completes the circuit of the 3 major league ball parks in New York for Belleville PAL members. Registration for the Yankee trip will be completed Friday afternoon.

Last Thursday evening at Belleville Stadium the Belleville PAL girls lost to the Nutley American Legion by a score of 5 to 0. Many of the Belleville players attended the Giant-Lodgers game with other members of the PAL necessitating the use of a few second-stringers and weakened the Belleville lineup. All the scoring was done for Nutley when they bounced on. Fortunately, the Belleville hurler, 2 runs in the fourth and 3 runs in the fifth innings. Enghart pitched all the way for Nutley allowing only 4 hits.

The Belleville PAL Cardinals climbed closer to the State Junior PAL league lead in winning their 5th straight game by defeating Summit PAL at Belleville Municipal Stadium last Friday morning. Vince Conley and John Bartlett divided the pitching chores, "Conley" allowing 2 hits for 4 innings and "Bartlett" pitching hitless ball the rest of the way. On the attack Landolfi and Gerardi were the big guns for Belleville garnering 2 hits each.

The Cards travel to Irvington today to meet the Irvington PAL Juniors in a double-header. Vince Conley will hurl the first game and either John Bartlett or Joe Landolfi will pitch the second.

Olympic Park Holds Baby Parade Saturday Afternoon

Olympic Park's third baby parade will bring hundreds of New Jersey's prettiest children to Irvington Saturday afternoon for fifteen cash prizes. Entries, restricted to children up to 6 years, need not be made in advance.

First, second and third awards will be made in the categories for blondes, brunettes and redheads. The other prizes are in the classes for best floats and decorated carriages. Bebeaters will be erected opposite the judges' stand to accommodate some of the thousands of spectators expected.

The Flying Romans, a fast trotting act, have top billing in the new week's free show, due Monday at Olympic. Lenny and Marjorie Ross, who claim to be Brunette's punching bag champions; Shirley LaValle, comely contortionist, and the Texas Duo, hand balancers, round out the bill.

Olympic Park will have fireworks at 10 p.m. on Labor Day. The park's season will close on September 7, with the featured event a concert devoted to Stephen Foster selections.

Nurse Is Struck By Car In Front Of Town Hall

Mrs. Emma Lohmiller Gray of 7 East Overlook Avenue, a registered nurse, was injured early Sunday morning when struck and knocked down by a car in front of the Town Hall. Police took her to St. Michael's Hospital, where she was treated for arm, hip and head injuries and held for observation. Mrs. Gray was returning home from a private case at St. Francis Hospital, Jersey City and was crossing Washington Avenue after getting off a DeCamp Bus. The car was operated by Martin J. Scar, 30 at 265 Third Street, Jersey City, who was turning left into Washington Avenue from Belleville Avenue.

Federal Leather And Wallace Tienan In Finals

Federal Leather defeated Viking Tool by the score of 8 to 1 in the Industrial Softball League playoffs this week. Last year, Viking won the championship by defeating Federal in the finals. This year is a little different. Federal will meet Wallace and Tienan in the finals. This will be a two out of three games series. Wallace and Tienan reached the finals by defeating Fada 7 to 2. The two finalists have met twice this year with Wallace & Tienan winning both games. These were the only two defeats suffered by Federal and they will be out for revenge. The series will not start right away as Wallace & Tienan is representing Belleville in the ASA softball tournament in Newark.

With 24th Infantry Division In Japan

Pfc. George F. Lynch, whose wife, Mary, lives at 11 Church Terrace, is now training with the 24th Infantry in Japan. The first American division to fight with the Japanese was the 24th Infantry. It was re-trained last February to become part of the security force guarding the Japanese islands. Lynch entered the Army in February 1951 and arrived in Japan in July of this year.

Will Enter Parade: Robert Haight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haight of 26 Oak Street will leave the first week of September to enter training with the 24th Infantry in Japan. The first American division to fight with the Japanese was the 24th Infantry. It was re-trained last February to become part of the security force guarding the Japanese islands. Lynch entered the Army in February 1951 and arrived in Japan in July of this year.

Treated After Motorcycle Crash: Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Street, was treated at Mountsinclair Hospital early Friday morning after his motorcycle crashed and a car driven by Robert Lightbody of Jersey City were involved in an accident at the intersection of Union Avenue. Lightbody took refuge to the hospital in his car and then drove back to Belleville police headquarters to give a statement.

ESSEX CHAPTER GAVE AID TO 175 VICTIMS OF POLIO

Represents 65 Per Cent Of
Help Granted For Year 1951
With Four Months Remaining

More than 175 polio victims in Essex County have requested and received assistance from the Essex Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis so far this year, according to Dr. William C. Cope, Chapter Treasurer.

"This is over 65% of the number of applications for aid in the county during all of 1951," Dr. Cope said.

"No one can say for certain how much this year's polio outbreak will cost our local Chapter in March of Dimes funds," Dr. Cope said. "But that is what these funds are for and we can assure the public that all patients needing assistance will receive it."

He said National Headquarters of the March of Dimes organization comes to the aid of any Chapter whose own share of March of Dimes funds are depleted.

"The long-term aspects of many polio cases," Dr. Cope said, "make patient care of this kind very expensive. But the National Foundation was organized to help families faced with this type of situation and that is what we are trying to do. Of every 100 cases, about 12 usually are seriously involved and require long and intensive treatment."

"While patients or their parents are expected to contribute what they can afford to the cost of care," Dr. Cope said, "it is not the National Foundation's policy to require a family to lower its standard of living to the point of hardship in order to pay the patient's bills. By hardship, we mean forfeiting a mortgaged home or withdrawing a son or daughter from school, in order to contribute to the family income when polio strikes."

Jet Plane Mechanic

William T. Blekeski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Blekeski of 29 Davidson Street is graduating today as a Jet Plane Mechanic at the Amarillo Air Force Base, Texas. The Belleville airman will be home on Monday to spend a 15 day leave among relatives and friends before reporting back to Texas for reassignment. He joined the Air Force on February 11 and underwent initial training at the Sampson Air Station, New York.

COAST GUARD!

The Coast Guard, as we might suppose, was organized to rescue those who sometime might be forced to be in peril on a storm-swept sea. When it receives an S.O.S. from any ship that's in distress, it rushes there and promptly too, to do the work it's trained to do. The right kind of floor covering can do a grand job for beautifying your home. We suggest either floor tile or linoleum. Either will add color and attractiveness to any room. "Maybe an operator's job will fit you like it did me. I started in last year, right after I graduated from high school. I didn't need any experience — I earned while I learned. The pay is good, too, with regular raises. A big thing with me is that it's interesting work, too, and I know it's important. Another thing—I was able to fit into the exchange right near my home so my pay goes farther without commuting expenses. I think you'd like it, too. Why don't you investigate?"

Count up! How many sandwiches have you consumed in the past month? Probably dozens. Those mammoth ham 'n cheese jobs you had at the picnic last week, those pretty rolled ones. Sis made for her party, those toasted shees for lunch yesterday, not to mention the Dagwood snack you may have had last night.

And here's a hint you'll want to remember, always cover bread slices well, with Food Fair's fresh creamery butter or Fyne Spread Margarine — to keep fillings from soaking in.

For variety's sake we suggest you take a trip this week thru your recipe laden Food Fair Store. Row upon row, aisle upon aisle of table-ready meats and cheeses; as well as canned meats, fish, jams and spreads to make sandwich ideas easy. Make them small and pretty, but for goodness sake, make them with fillings from Food Fair.

In Praise of Silent Things

Lovely the rhythm of the silent things:
Oat-fields low bending to the breeze, long wings
Of cloud shadows trailed slowly, slowly
there
Where pastured cattle lie; cool drafts of air
That creep along the coolie paths at dawn
And then return at dusk again—a fawn
With nothing moving but his gentle eyes
That follow us with wonder and surprise—
O'er field and marsh and stream, white fogs, ascending—
From day's beginning through night's slow ending,
Rewarding loveliness that moves along
In cadenced pattern of a voiceless song.
To knowing watchers there is much that brings
The matchless rhythm of the silent things.

Martha Fay Shuman

Mission To Moscow

The worst that can come out of the diplomatic negotiations between delegates of Communist China and the Soviet Union, in Moscow this week, would be a decision to break off the truce talks of Panmunjon and return to full-scale war. If that is the Kremlin's will, nothing that we can say or do will change it. Let us hope, only, that Washington is prepared and that it does not share President Truman's silly view that the whole affair in Korea is merely "a police action".

Had we been able to mass our full strength in Korea, the war there could have been ended many months ago. It was obvious, however, that our responsibilities are spread widely—in Europe as well as in Korea. We could not pull our divisions out of Western Europe and send them to Korea. That would be falling neatly into Joe Stalin's trap because there is not the slightest doubt that the Kremlin's strategy in starting the war in Korea was to split our strength. Had the Korean war not begun, we would have been able by now to throw ten more divisions into Europe where Stalin fears us the most.

Since we know well that we cannot weaken our defensive position in Germany, we may find ourselves forced to fight a powerful Chinese enemy in Korea with a tremendous manpower margin against us. That will not be easy, but it should not be fatal. We have the advantage in the air and there always is the choice for us of crossing the Yalu to carry the war to China and Manchuria. The possibilities of destruction within the big cities of China, all prime targets for our air force, should make Peiping hesitate before resuming full-scale war.

After the silly charge that we were resorting to germ warfare blew up, the Communists, this week, charged us with using the fires of napalm on civilians. What's so new about that? Civilians who remain in the zone of military action take that chance. Those who are there are, often, forced civilian labor at the service of the military. Since months, in Korea, the American air men have been dropping tracts warning the civilians to move out because they are living within the area of military targets.

Wars are terrible at best. No one can ever claim to see any glory in modern warfare. It is regrettable, but civilians are the innocent bystanders in today's air war. When Russian and American bombers attacked Germany during World War II, the bombs were meant for military targets, railroads, factories, mines, but the losses were heaviest among the civilians. Did Stalin's bombers pick out only military victims, or did they not kill civilians, too?

It was my misfortune to spend a year and a half in a Gestapo prison camp in the Black Forest of Germany in mid-war, in violation of the Geneva Convention, which supposedly protected war correspondents. In that isolated corner of the great forest, we, in our camp, were on the receiving end of 127 Allied air raids. Most of the raids occurred at night from the highest possible altitudes to escape the heavy barrage of ground batteries. Obviously, in the dark, bombs fell where they would. The lead plane generally dropped a floating flare. Successive waves of bombers flew up to the flare and dumped their loads. If there was a strong wind, the flare was blown along. The last wave of bombers might well have dropped their bombs two miles or more from the original target position. The civilians took the losses, and often, the military targets were unscathed.

Civilians within war zones are the victims of modern war. China, with its hundreds of millions of population, many of the millions within teeming cities, would have much to lose from a return to all-out war. Cause Siberia has a density of population about equal to that of the Sahara desert. If Russia, as usual, runs almost no risk, it anyone foots the sorry bill of all-out war, it will be China.

Any other decisions that may be reached between China and Russia, such as the future of Port Arthur which, under the 1950 treaty, Russia must hand over this year to China, or establishing a common program of action towards Japan with whom both Communist nations are free to negotiate peace treaties and trade contracts, are secondary in importance. The real mission to Moscow concerns Korea.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

NATO is Having Its Growing Pains and Dream of 50-Division Army is Shattered as Nations Cut Service

By Ralph E. Heinzen

NATO is suffering from inflated ambitions and internal stresses and it would be folly to take any but a realistic view of the crisis which has undergone the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in the short time since General Dwight D. Eisenhower gave up his command.

In the failure of NATO to reach the high commitments set by the Lisbon Conference particularly in its failure to reach the 50-division defense force in Western Europe before the end of 1952, there is a lesson that a great difference exists between an army on paper and an army in the field. If the NATO army had to be mobilized tomorrow to meet some sudden act of aggression by Stalin in Western Europe, General Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of SHAPE, would have difficulty putting 16 divisions into the field. What has become of the other 34 paper divisions?

The answer can be found, partially, in the decision this week of the Belgian government to cut compulsory military service from 24 to 21 months over the protests of governments, has not the interests of the community at heart. It is for Belgium first, last and all the time.

What Belgium did this week in violation of its pledges at Lisbon, the others have done, too. France and Italy refuse to mobilize their youths for 24 months; they each have, today, 18-months military service. Luxembourg holds her youths under the colors only 12 months, yet Luxembourg has the integrity of her borders guaranteed by NATO. Holland long ago cut her compulsory service to 20 months, so Belgium, really, is simply falling into line. NATO is the loser, although each of the component nations is a loser too to the extent of the common failure to put a 50-division army into the field.

Still A Threat

General Ridgway tried, last week, to shake the West European nations out of their lethargy and complacency by telling them that the potential threat of armed aggression has not abated. Arguing that the United States and Britain maintain their conscripts for two full years, Ridgway urged Belgium to refrain from the cut in duration and called on all the others to bring their period of service up to 24 months.

There are good grounds for General Ridgway's attitude against placidity. It is no secret to any of the capitals concerned that the Soviet satellite nations, exclusive of the Red Russian army, now have 70 active divisions—not on paper but in the field. Under the usual peacetime conditions of 9,000 men to a division, that makes a strength of 630,000 armed men under the red flag.

Communist Strength

Military authorities estimate that in addition to the 70 active divisions under the red flag, that frontline strength is backed by solid reserves. Poland has 16 reserve divisions; Czechoslovakia and Rumania each 15, and Hungary and Bulgaria each 12. The standard of compulsory service in the satellite nations is 2 years and, in some categories, three.

Nor is it a secret that Red Russia now keeps from 32 to 35 divisions in East Germany and Austria. That makes more than 100 divisions immediately available at Stalin's command in the West.

The goal set for the Atlantic alliance at the Lisbon Conference for this year was to raise strength of 25 active and 25 reserve divisions. The comparison on paper is pathetic; if we fail to meet our commitments, it may be disastrous.

Germans Are Hesitant

Even West Germany, which would have the most to gain from a strong anti-Communist army, does not want to go along with General Ridgway's demand for 24 months service. The military advisers to the West German government believe that 18 months of military service will be sufficient to train the young Germans who will form the 12 divisions to be contributed by Bonn to the projected European army.

Even so, with the red armies at their very gates, West Germany will not begin to arm until the European Defense Community treaty has been ratified by all the national legislatures of the nations involved.

Result of Cutback

The general reluctance of the component nations to accept the longer period of military service imposes a heavy burden on Eisenhower's successor. It may, in part, be explained as retaliation for Congress' cutback in the foreign aid and defense budgets which have materially reduced America's financial backing for the NATO program.

And, finally, this is a consequence of the American Presidential elections. France has been trying to get Washington into making three-year munitions contracts running into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Our State Department, however, cannot make pledges which go beyond next January when a new President will enter the White House and a new Congress in the Capitol. It is easy to understand France's desire for a long-term, binding contract. Until Congress enacted its cutback, France was to have received a $625 million munitions contract; after the cutback the deal was washed out.

France Sets A Pace

None of the European nations now engaged in slowing down their contribution to the common arsenal of defense has been as outspoken as France. Premier Antoine Pinay has made it clear, in statement this week, that unless Uncle Sam chips in to the tune of $800,000,000 next year, France will be too weak to raise the three additional divisions for NATO in 1953 which is her assignment.

Under Pinay, the French government pretends to face a dilemma—either to trim its own defense production schedule or to abandon plans for the three new divisions. Unless, of course, the United States promises more dollar aid. Specifically, France wants about $300,000,000 in defense orders from the United States next year.

Pinay is preparing to announce to the North Atlantic Council when he visits next Autumn that France has made her choice: between cutting down her own de-

Precious Paper

To the Editor Times-News:

Creating from Houston, Texas, we enjoyed your article of July 31, about the Belleville families now living in Texas.

Henry Nowakowski receives paper and passes it on for the precious thing it is, to us who are so far from Belleville.

We are having a home built in the Bellaire section of Houston. In the community are the Robert Michelsons, the Joe Pecks and Karl Dittmeiers of Belleville and some other 17 fraternal families.

I read, we have one thing in common lately—the heat. We're burning the Texas way fast. One has to be "tretched" to go out from 1 to 5—That's the stiest time—and people die here from seven to nine o'clock in the cool of the evening.

One of the pleasant surprises is the lack of crow anywhere and anytime. It's truly the wide open spaces. The main roads are usually six lanes wide. One lane, right turn, another straight ahead and the third left turn. The signals are tricky and extremely sensible, once you get on to them. You stop on red lights and proceed on green arrows.

The people are very friendly and kind.

One evening while watching television at the Town House, a man walked up and said, "Say, aren't you Helen Paparitz?" Looking up I saw Walter Botta, formerly of Stephens Street and now living in New Orleans. It was wonderful exchanging news of our school old friends.

Judy and Marlene get a thrill reading news of Peshmash's activities and of the No. Nine School playground. Texas must be a disappointment. Moreover, she's still looking for Indians here—TV style.

Hopes For Early Return

Armen Third-class Paul Santinelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Santinelli of 379 Lake Street, expects to be returning to the United States in the near future after a year's tour of duty in Korea. Santinelli was a member of the Belleville High School class of 1951. While serving with the 18th Motor Vehicle Squadron in Korea.

The Meeting Place

Edgar Jean Bracco

The Unknown Soldier

In our national cemetery there is a grave. The plaque on it states that the man lying in honored glory therein is known but to God. Many thoughts come to mind as one stands silently looking at the monument to the men who died unknown in the wars of this nation.

Was he a rich man, one wonders, waiting out his particular war looking ahead to his return to luxury? Was he a poor man, looking forward only to a repudiation of poverty's degradation? A lawyer, perhaps, or a poet, dreaming his quiet dreams while around him exploded the horror of war? Was he a simple man, thinking longingly of his home, his family, his placid evenings passed in contentment? Or was he a man of great complexity, singing with the desires and energies of creation, of doing?

Was he a man, and as a man one is inclined to wonder what he would do now, could he think. He would wonder in bitterness why he had to die, why he was mangled and ripped to pieces. Or perhaps he would say he would die again, because he died for something men believe in.

But one thing is certain: he would say that dying was not easy. It never is, but in war it is doubly hard. He might observe that losses may be counted in statistics, but it is simple men who do the dying. In communities the figures are cold and impersonal—nothing but black marks on white paper—but for each figure in that long cold column a man felt pain, lay with his blood running down his face, saw with his last seeing his dreams erased, whispered goodbye to those he loved, perhaps made his peace with his God, died.

He might wonder just why he died. Oh yes, he would know the answer: because his country was fighting for its national liberty, for its very life in the face of various oppressions and dictations. It was helping his tired old-world return to a vagabond state of peace. All good reasons, and he would be the first to admit to say he had not died in vain.

But suppose he were a man with the ability to look around and beyond the here and now, a man who tried to see the shape of history in a larger way. He might wonder to himself, "I wonder if that man met fight? I know they must, for they always have. But why should Man, the noblest creature this earth has spawned, be incapable of living a generation without embarking on a crusade, has engaged in war only when it is of self-extinction?"

He would say that it isn't preaching. He knows that the world has always had evil men and nations. There are times when to do good is necessary, when to die, even, the only road. And he would know, with a quiet surge of pride, that his side, while never totally right, has always been a step more right than wrong, has always tried to use any means but war, and has engaged in far less when his back was to the wall.

But he might think about Man as a species rather than as an individual. He might look back upon the magnificent time he stands the history of the race, the acts of goodness, the men of greatness, the creations almost God-like.

He might look back and remember that the Eureka was created by a man; that a man, in effect, was responsible of the parts of the Bible; that a human being painted the Last Supper and the Mona Lisa; that Shakespeare, thought he wrote like God, was only a man; that Christ was a man. He might recall that it was man who built the airplane, who devised the automobile, who is able to talk across the earth, who can touch a button and set in motion a force called electricity which he has harnessed.

He might remember that there have never been many good men, but lives of small goodness.

Westinghouse Execs Go to Europe

Ralph C. Stuart Robert D. McManigal

Ralph C. Stuart and Robert D. McManigal, Westinghouse executives, sailed yesterday aboard the line Le De France for a six-week tour of Europe to investigate postwar developments in the lamp industry and in the lighting field in general. Mr. Stuart is vice president in charge of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation's Lamp Division, which has plants in Bloomfield and Belleville and branch plants in four other states. Mr. McManigal is vice president and director of the Westinghouse International Company, 40 Wall Street. The inspection itinerary includes France, England, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, and Belgium.

Legion and Auxiliary Will Hold Joint Installation

Belleville Post 105, the American Legion, will hold its annual installation of officers in conjunction with the auxiliary on Saturday, September 6, at the Legion House, 921 Washington Avenue. The Home is now open again to members and their friends. Post members are planning on attending the National Convention in New York City on August 25, 26 and 27. The post will continue its paper drive after the summer vacation on Sunday, September 7th, through the week ending September 21 at the Jersey City CIO Center. It was announced this week Charles Erick, of St. Joseph's parish in Maywood, will preside at the gathering of Senior CIO members from Essex, Union, Hudson, and Bergen counties.

Highlighting the convention will be the presentation of the Pro Juventute Award. At a recent planning meeting, Essex County was assigned the preparation of a booklet of asking questions, as well as publishing the proceedings. Each of the participating county Councils was asked to name two persons as secretaries, and to submit their recommendations for keynote speakers, themes, and candidates for officers.

Therefore, he might ask himself, why is it that Man, with his genius, his greatness, his nobility, with his moments when he reaches for the stars, is still for the most part an infant wallowing in the mire of prehistory? Why is it, he might ask, that Man persists in killing, and when he is not killing, is devising and perfecting methods of killing better?

If he could ask those questions, and you could hear him, would you be able to answer him?

BAPTIST MEN WILL ASSEMBLE SEPT. 6

20th Anniversary Banquet Will Follow Installation At State Conference Center, Lebanon

The Baptist men of New Jersey will assemble at the New Jersey Baptist Camp and Conference Center at Lebanon, on Saturday, September 6, for their all-day Fall Fellowship Installation of Officers of the Council of New Jersey Baptist Men, and the 20th Anniversary Banquet of the Council. All Baptist men are invited.

The day's activities will begin at 10 a.m., with registrations and a well-planned recreational program consisting of swimming, boating, softball, archery, horse-shoes, badminton, etc.

At four o'clock the beautiful "Green Cathedral" will be the scene of the installation of the officers.

Officers of the Council of the New Jersey Baptist Men, Arthur Wagner, of Haddon, Pa., will be the guest speaker. Dr. Harold F. Stoddard, Executive Secretary of the New Jersey Baptist Convention, will conduct the installation ceremony. Russell Ackerman of Paterson will be in charge of music for the day, which will include trumpeters Donald Rodimer of First Church—East—Orange, and Rev. Lloyd A. Williams of the Stetson church.

At six o'clock the 20th Anniversary Banquet will be held in the spacious new Dining Hall on a hill overlooking the lake. Again, there will be special music, and the speaker will be Rev. Ernest C. Burke, pastor of the Hamilton Square Baptist Church, where the New Jersey Baptist Convention held its first meeting.

Army Chaplain Will Preach at Fawcett Church, Sunday

Rev. Harold Lawson will be the guest minister at Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 11 o'clock. Mr. Lawson is a chaplain in the United States Army and served for several years in Korea, where he was recognized for his distinguished service. At present he is an instructor in radio and television at the Chaplain School and Long Island. Formerly he was an assistant minister in the Old First Presbyterian Church of Newark, N.J., and is now minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, N.J.
