Christmas Candlelight Church Services Here

Methodist Church To Have First Xmas Eve Service; 17 Masses At St. Peter's Christmas Morn; "Sad Shepherd" To Be Told At Montgomery

The spirit of Christmas will find expression in many churches of Belleville on Christmas Eve with special candlelight services and musical programs, featuring offertories, anthems and carols sung by soloists and choral groups. Christmas morning services will be highlighted by Christmas messages in the traditions of the holiday, and prayers for peace and good will the world over.

Wesley Methodist Church
The first Christmas Eve service at Wesley Methodist Church will begin at 11 p.m. and will feature the choir and a candlelight dedication service. The Junior Choir will sing "While Shepherds Watched" by Williams, and "Carol of the Christmas Chimes" a Slovak carol.

The Chancel Choir will offer "Shepherds on the Hills" a Greek carol; "Shepherds Christmas Song," an Austrian carol; the "Polish Canon," "King of Angels Sleep" a French carol; and a Bohemian carol.

Preceding the 11 o'clock service, the young people of the Church will go out to sing carols at the homes of the shut-in, remaining in the Church in time for services. The public is invited.

Bethany Lutheran Church
The Bethany Lutheran Church will hold its Christmas Eve program beginning at 1:30 p.m. The music will consist of an Organ Prelude, "Adoration" by Felix Borowski; "Offering for the Christmas Season," by Reginald Barlett; an anthem "Nativity" by Gounod; a soprano solo by Marion McKinnon; "Birth of a King" by Neidlinger; a second anthem, "A Joyous Christmas Song" by F. A. Gevaert; and the postlude, "Von Himmel Hoch" by J. S. Bach. Mrs. Aylmer D. McLean, of Nutley will be organist.

St. Peter's R.C. Church
The Christmas Eve Midnight Mass at St. Peter's Church will be preceded by the singing of carols at the Church. The musical selections include the following by Gounod: "Messe Solenne," "Kyrie," "Gloria," "Credo," "Sanctus," "Benedictus," and "Agnus Dei." The offertory will be "Adeste Fideles" by Novello. Seventeen Masses will take place Christmas morning on the hour from 6 to 12 o'clock. Each priest will be allowed to celebrate three masses. At 9 a.m. the children will sing Christmas hymns. There will be a Benediction after the 11 a.m. Mass. Christmas Eve confessions will be heard from 8 to 9 p.m. and 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Reformed Church
On Christmas morning at 11 o'clock, Dr. John A. Struyk will tell the Christmas story, "The Greatest Story Ever Told." Christmas carols will be sung and gifts will be received. The musical program includes: The Prelude, "Prayer and Cradle Song" by Gullman; the anthems, "There Were Shepherds" by Vincent, and "Gesu Bambino" by Ton; and the Postlude, "The Chimes."

Christ Episcopal Church
The Midnight Service at Christ Episcopal Church will be conducted at 11 o'clock by Rev. Peter Deckenbach. "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" played on the chimes will be heard at the service. (Continued On Page Four)

Commission Meeting Will Be Held at 1:30 This Afternoon

The Belleville Board of Commissioners will hold their meeting this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock instead of at the usual 8 p.m. meeting time, because of the coming holidays. Persons with matters to be brought before the Commissioners should be represented at that time, if they desire to be heard.

VIOLET ROCHAU IS NAMED TO MARCH OF DIMES

Will Be Women's Activities Chairman Here; Campaign To Be Staged Month of January

Mrs. E. A. Rochau of 53 Fairview place will be women's activities chairman for Belleville's 1953 March of Dimes. Municipal Chairman James J. Tully announced this week. The annual campaign for funds to fight infantile paralysis will be held throughout the nation January 2-31.

"The United States has just experienced its worst polio epidemic in history," Mrs. Rochau pointed out last night. "To meet the increase in the dread disease, we need more volunteer workers than ever before."

"I especially appeal to the women of Belleville to volunteer to help at our local headquarters or to take charge of contribution booths which will be set up throughout our community."

"If enough polio-fighting women enlist in this great cause, every child will be lightened and I am sure their hearts will be gladdened."

BUILDING FUND PLANS NOW IN FINAL STAGES

Congregation Drive To Open With Special Gifts Dinner At Home of Louis Sussman

Congregation A.A.A. of Belleville is continuing to enlarge preparations for its Building Fund Drive by appointment of committees to handle various phases of the work. Henry Zadikoff, Chairman of the Building Fund Committee, announces appointment of Louis Sussman, of 66 Van Rye Place, to head the Special Gifts Committee, with instruction to name as many sub-committees as may be required to do a good job in that phase of the work.

Mr. Sussman, at a meeting of the Building Fund Committee, declared that he will hold a special Gifts dinner at his home during the latter part of January. He urged that all persons who desire to make advance pledges or who desire more detailed information, contact him. He stated that he hoped pledges will be forthcoming not only from members of the congregation, but from its numerous friends. As soon as final plans are approved by the architect, full drawings will be available and made public to the community. This is expected in about a week. It is expected that names of most contributors will appear on permanent plaques within the building.

Mr. Sussman also stated that pledge cards are being prepared which will allow for payment of pledges within a three-year period. However, at this year-end period, some persons or businesses may desire for personal or tax reasons to make a payment now against a pledge to be made after the new year starts. This arrangement is perfectly agreeable and is also acceptable to the tax authorities.

Family Service Gives Xmas Parties For Needy Children

Christmas cheer will reach the families of Belleville thru the cooperation of Family Service and other agencies within the town. Children in families known to Family Service were invited to the Elks Club and Army Troop parties, where toys and goodies were received by all.

Girl Scout and Brownie Troops will again give baskets so that sumptuous dinners are provided for those who might otherwise find Christmas "just another day." The Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion, 1000 East 15th Street, in accordance with their custom of last year, have made a contribution for a veteran's family.

The Newark News has again selected Family Service as a recipient of funds from their annual appeal and it is gratifying to know that many people are giving support to the work of the agency.

Christmas 1952

Christians again honor the Nativity of Christ. This Christmas, let everyone attend church to pray and give thanks for the Prince of Peace—whose birth brought new hope and understanding to the world. As Americans, let us ever be mindful of our great privilege to worship God, without fear. Let us pray for those less fortunate who are not so endowed. Through Christ's teachings, let us strive to be better men and to be charitable to all. Let us pray for the sick and those weighed with grief—for our brave men and women in our armed forces—for the unbelievers, that they might see the Light and join the fellowship of man. Let us pray for divine guidance to our country's newly chosen leaders that they may govern with wisdom, foresight and courage and promote unity and peace among all nations. *

Dislocates Knee When Her Husband Hits Parked Car

Mrs. Frances Jefferson, 44, of 6 Hawthorne Place, Montclair, suffered a dislocated knee Thursday when a car driven by her husband, Charles, struck a parked car at 145 Belleville Avenue. Mr. Jefferson was charged by police with being abusive during the investigation of the crash and was released on $50 bail on a disorderly person charge. He was driving east on Belleville Avenue when his car struck one belonging to Antonio Graciano, 36 High Street. Mrs. Jefferson was taken to the Mountsinclair Hospital in the town ambulance.

Cindarella, of 179 Hoffman Boulevard, East Orange, who was arrested by Patrolmen John McNish and George Riepe at Newark Avenue, after a mother had complained that he had followed her child to school three different days, was sentenced to a year in the Essex County Penitentiary, had the sentence suspended, placed on probation for one year and fined $150 by Magistrate Edward J. Abramson, Thursday. Cindarella pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Joseph Sanone of 699 Schuylkill Avenue, Kearny, charged by Patrolman Inspector Edward J. O'Connor with doing plumbing work without a license, was fined $25 in the same court session.

COMMEND JR. RED CROSS FOR WORK

Veterans Hospitals Express Gratitude For Many Holiday Gifts of Cheer To Patients

In recent letters addressed to Mrs. Margaret Leahy, Chairman Junior Red Cross, Belleville Chapter, the work of the Junior Red Cross received much commendation. Mrs. Helen B. Platten, Director of Volunteers of the Veterans Administration Hospital, East Orange, has this to say: "May we express our sincere gratitude to the Junior Red Cross of Belleville for the favors and candy they presented our patients for Thanksgiving. These colorful favors, filled with candy, contributed most toward bringing the feeling of the holiday season to the patients. Your continued interest in our hospitalized veterans is deeply appreciated."

From the Lyons Veterans Hospital, Mrs. Alvin A. Knapp, Red Cross V.A. Hospital Representative, writes, "We wish to extend our sincere thanks to you and your Juniors for the nut cake, hard candy and magazines which you sent to the patients at this hospital. The patients' look forward to their meals with particular interest."

Civil Service Assn. Asks Commission To Up All Salaries

Letter Presents One More Headache For Commissioners Wrestling With Raise For Police and Firemen

Members of the Board of Commissioners, already concerned with the problem of how to grant a salary increase to members of the Police and Fire Departments, to keep their pay basis on a par with amounts paid in neighboring communities, will be hard pressed in their future deliberations on the budget when they receive an official request from the Essex Council of the New Jersey Civil Service Association, at their meeting today. The Civil Service group claims to represent the employees of the town and asks that an increase of $400 be granted in the next budget, to bring the total increase since January 1952 up to the $600 asked for at this time last year.

ADOPT NEW SALARY GUIDE, BUT BY PASS CHRISTMAS BONUS

School Board Makes No Effort To Include General Raises In 53-54; Agree on Contract

Members of the Board of Education at a special meeting on Friday night, adopted the new salary guide recommended by the Belleville Teachers' Association. The new guide increases the starting pay of teachers $150, from $2,650 to $2,800 per year for B.A. degree; $2,900 for M.A. and $3,050 at the six year level. It also eliminates the super-maximum provision of the old guide, making the steps in this provision, a part of the regular schedule. These changes would place the maximums at $4,400 for the B.A., $5,800 for the M.A., and $6,200 for the six year level.

"In adopting the new salary guide, the Board of Education took no action on the second request of the Teachers' Association, that a Christmas bonus be paid out of current balances. The board did not commit itself for any across-the-board salary increases for inclusion in the 1953-54 budget now under discussion. Some teachers, who have been working for less than new maximums will automatically be moved up to their place on the guide. Most of the other teachers, however, will not reach their proper step in the guide for several years.

The Board also discussed details at the contract with Emil A. Schindler, architect for the new High School, and seemed to have reached a meeting of minds or its contents. While no vote was taken, it is presumed that the contract will be ready for ratification at the next meeting of the Board.

To Receive Degree
Adolf E. Nelson Jr., of Belleville will receive a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture from Kansas State College at commencement exercises to be held in the college auditorium on January 24 at 10 a.m. it was announced by the school this week.

Honored for 25 Years of Service to People's Bank

Louis Ventura, assistant cashier of the People's National Bank and Trust Company was the recipient of a silver serving tray, at the annual Christmas party for the bank employees at the Moresque, Friday night. Mr. Ventura, who started working at the People's Bank on August 1, 1927, was first employed as a file boy, when the bank had all of 10 employees. Now, after serving through the ranks, he is assistant cashier and chief teller. Thirty-one of the bank's 36 employees were present at the dinner party, the presentation of the tray was made by B. Thomas Aitken, president, assisted by O. B. Bart one of the bank's directors. Mr. Ventura, resides at 63 Gerard Road, Nutley. Left to right above are: Mr. Ventura, Mr. Barth and Mr. Aitken.

Heimrich Fund Near Goal As Elks Give Show Proceeds

A check for $1,700, the profits from the Eddie Heimrich Variety Show, given recently by the Belleville Elks, was presented to Edward J. O'Connor, Heimrich Fund Chairman, Friday night by Al Del Grosso, general chairman of the show. The check swelled contributions to the fund to $14,725.88, leaving $75.12 still to be raised to meet the goal of $15,000. Left to right at the presentation ceremony were: Bob Kimble, show director; Joseph Howley, fund treasurer, Mr. O'Connor, Mr. DelGrosso, Harold Holler, exalted ruler, Edward Reed, Elks Treasurer and James Dunleavy, co-chairman of the show committee.

The Heimrich Fund Committee extends a Merry Christmas to all who have helped in this worthwhile venture. If someone has been missed by an oversight and has a few shillings, a dollar or two may be the one to put the drive over the top. The committee hopes to have a final accounting before the end of the year.

COME TO CHURCH FOR Christmas SERVICES

- - - And Bring Your Neighbor With You!

MORE than two thousand years ago, three Wise Men followed the Star of Bethlehem to a manger . . . the humble birthplace of Him who was to bring a new spirit into the World . . . the spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." Today, as in all the years between, that spirit lives on in the hearts and minds of all mankind . . . calling us to church on this, our Saviour's natal day . . . to lift our voices in those beloved old Christmas hymns and carols . . . and lift our hearts anew with the courage and hope of His message.

Let us follow the tradition of twenty centuries on Christmas, by going to church . . . to glory in the Words of the Lord . . . to thrill to timeless hymns extolling Him. And let us carry the spirit of God with us when we leave, to follow His Ways in our daily living.

Bellboys Bauble Effort at Orange; Four Scrimmages

Wide Open Spaces And Overshift Give Belleville Quintet Trouble; Jayvees Win; Get Line on Strength

Belleville High School's basketball team ran into a couple of situations which it could not adjust itself, Friday when it lost a 44 to 62 decision to Orange High, at the Tornado court. First of all, playing their first game away from home, the Bellboys ran into wide open spaces where walls abounded at home, and then the back court men failed to compensate for Orange's overshift in the zone. This prevented them from getting the ball into the men under the backboards.

Paul Weinstein, although he wound up with 22 points, 14 of them on foul shots, was definitely not "on." At least, four of his layups rolled around the rim and out. Eight more points would have been more than sufficient under the circumstances as it was Weinstein was involved in a play at the end of the game which had the results being transposed, would have tied the score. He was involved in a double foul, but his fifth. When he left the game Butch Kille missed the free throw while Orange's Maggotta sank his. Orange was one point ahead at the time.

The Bellboy Jayvees won the preliminary game 33 to 31, with G. one hitting for 12, Veith for nine, and Cafone for 7. Mercer of Orange had 19 and Webb had an other dozen points for the losers.

A schedule of four practice scrimmages, played under game conditions are scheduled for the holiday week. The first is with Verona this afternoon. Other scrimmages are scheduled with North Arlington, Newark Academy and Montclair. Inasmuch as the Bellboys lost to Central by a narrow margin in a recent scrimmage, their success against Montclair should be interesting. Central and Montclair are rated as the county's best teams, by out-of-town writers.

Meeting Place

To everything there is a season, said my old friend Ecclesiastes, and to everything there is a season. Last week's comments, while I stand by them, were admittedly a little somber for this season. However, the reaction, to the doomsday note of last week, I'd like to play the counterpoint of optimism, to bring things more in line with the Christmas tone.

At times, I am given to small venturings into poetry, and very good, but occasionally I, who am my own severest critic, will sit back after reading a few lines and chortle, "That's passable."

While the fruit cake and other holiday goodies were bubbling cheerily in the kitchen, I was exiled on the theory that a man in the kitchen is about as helpful as old yeast in a batch of bread dough.

To pass the time I doodled on a piece of paper, and this is what came out:

The Fickle Spirit of Christmas
This day before Christmas this sad battered earth resounds from all corners with laughter and mirth. The people you jostle, whose toes you maltreat forgive you with blessings and words that are sweet. The cop on the corner, should you shoot past a light will wave at you gayly and call, "That's all right!" That beast of a landlord, when you ask for a break on the rent that's outrageous, will say with a shake

"Sure, I'll alicie it in two. Can I paint your apartment? When you ask for a break on the rent that's outrageous, will say with a shake

"Sure, I'll alicie it in two. Can I paint your apartment? When you ask for a break on the rent that's outrageous, will say with a shake

Bicycle Club Members Show Improvement In Two Weeks

Ed Littig Leads Second Set Of Rollers; Rides Tandem With Each Youngster Present

The Belleville Bicycle Club had its weekly meeting Saturday at the Stadium, this an informal one. Back of the members present received special instruction in riding the rollers, adjusting bicycles, and pacing themselves over a distance. This was a second opportunity for these present to take advantage of the wonderful coaching of Alf Goulet, who was very active in this meeting, pouring out advice from his well of bicycle knowledge.

It was noticeable that all of the riders were vastly improved from their first experience on the rollers just two weeks ago. Whereas, the best speeds at the first meeting were around thirty seconds for covering 1/4 of a mile, in Saturday's program the boys were covering the fill in times of twenty, twenty-one, and twenty-two seconds.

Although there were no prizes wonderful about it is that, while it's a religious holiday, basically, its meaning transcends religion and becomes a holiday for all regardless of faith. Truly, is there a more democratic holiday in our calendar?

Enough of this persiflage. To all of you, I'd like to say this: may your Christmas be a day you will remember always, and may every day thereafter be like another Christmas.

he produced a tandem bicycle and gave all the boys a chance to ride with him. In addition to furnishing rollers and bicycles for club use, Ed has poured tremendous energy into these programs.

It is reported that St. Peters School found it necessary to provide city applications in addition to those first left with them, for the New Year Point Tournament. Every youth in Belleville interested in cycling is encouraged to take part in this month-long tournament starting January 3, at 1:30 p.m. at the Municipal Stadium. Initial interest indicates an enormous turnout will be on hand for this affair. This Saturday, there will be another informal program, which may offer the opportunity of trying out those Christmas bicycles. This Saturday's informal meeting will be the last chance to get practiced before entering the giant New Year's tournament.

The Christmas Story

Luke Chapter 2: Verses 4-20
(Revised Standard Version)

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled.

This was the first enrollment, when Quirinus was governor of Syria.

And all went to be enrolled, each to his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.

And while they were there, the time came for her to deliver.

And she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

And in that region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear.

And the angel said to them, "Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord.

"And this will be a sign for you; you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying,

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men of good will."

When the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us."

And they went with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they saw it they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this child; and all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them.

But Mary kept all these things, pondering them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them.

Let There Be Full Light

There should be no need for Governor Driscoll to wonder whether or not New Jersey should join actively in the magnificent work of the New York State Crime Commission in taking the wraps off the terrible criminal activity existing on the Black Tom docks.

When a former Governor of New Jersey, who still holds a high post in Trenton, is implicated in a sideshow to the main three-ring carnival of crime, can there be any question of delay? Governor Driscoll, who has one more year of office, owes it to New Jersey and to the nation to rid the state of any and all crime gangs—and of those, too, who use their political office to further the devious ways of the criminal.

Harold Hoffman is admittedly a wonderful organizer. He put the State Motor Vehicle Bureau on its feet and that was an excellent accomplishment. But one reading of the transcript of the tapped telephone conversations he had with "Mr. T," inviting him to circumvent the law to communicate with imprisoned gambler Joe Adonis, proves only how stupid the ex-Governor really is in other fields. Hoffman must go. He denies any evil intent, but the tape recording of his tapped telephone talks—which, incidentally, were the result of calls he put in from his end—should prove either his stupidity or his stupidity and, either way, it is too dangerous to have him around in high places.

Black Tom is a half mile of crime and corruption. So rich is the corruption that hoodlums kill off each other to get a larger share of the plums. Its weekly payroll often reaches $250,000 and by the use of strikes and threats, and other long-arm methods, the hoodlums are able to pad that figure to the extent of another quarter-million.

For a starter, let Governor Driscoll concentrate of solving the mystery of the murder of Charles Yanowsky, who was stabbed to death with an ice pick and whose body was dumped across the river in Lyndhurst. Yanowsky paid for the temerity of having tried to pry into the racketeering profits of the Hoboken wharfs which were the fief of another hoodlum, Edward Florio. Both Yanowsky and Florio operated as waterfront bosses with the patronage of Mayor John V. Kenny, of Jersey City.

What are you waiting on, Governor? Let there be full light.

Justice For Bob Taft

The decision of General Eisenhower and the "Eisenhower Senators" not to oppose Senator Bob Taft for selection as majority leader is the outcome of a compromise, in return for which Senator Bob has agreed not to sound off too publicly as he did over the General's appointment of Martin P. Durkin as Secretary of Labor. But the compromise goes even farther afield.

Bob is to give up his job as chairman of the Senate Labor Committee at the very time when George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced that his organization would seek the rewriting rather than the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. For Taft to give up that vital chairmanship at a time like this, he had to get something equally as important. And it is now evident that he did. The Ohioan is to be seated on the Foreign Relations Committee which has the "yes" or "no" power over White House recommendations for overseas aid.

The net result of all this geeing and hawing, in our opinion, is a tremendous strengthening of the position of "Mr. Republican."

The Taft decision to declare for the floor leadership points up the fact that the Senate seniority is composed largely of men who have supported Senator Taft personally and on policy for years.

The "Eisenhower Senators"—those who were for the general before Chicago—do not have the seniority, do not hold the committee chairmanships, and lost one of their biggest props, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., when he was defeated in the November election.

Senator Taft's decision to stand for floor leader means that honest differences he may have with General Eisenhower in the White House will be argued and settled there, at the weekly conference between the President and congressional leaders, before matters ever reach committee rooms or the floor of the Senate.

For the present, the Eisenhower administration will begin with the active support of Senator Taft and his followers, with the Senator committed to working for a Republican legislative record. From there on, the General and the Senator will have to compromise often.

One Man's Opinion

Ike's Flight To Korea Which Annoyed Harry Truman No End Was But One Phase Of Swiftly Moving Pattern Of Strategy

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

In striking contrast to the discouragement of the Truman administration and its donning policy in Korea since mid-summer, General Eisenhower is moving swiftly to force an issue of the costly struggle that has now endured two and a half years. The issue can be military or it can be political. At least, the United States is on the move again after the bitter months of stagnation and slow-bleeding.

If the action is to be military, most professional military circles look for an amphibious "end run" around and behind the Communist frontline positions, striking the Reds on one or both flanks well to the rear of their present heavily manned line. General Eisenhower's strategy appears to have had the approval of General MacArthur, who did it once before in Inchon. It already had been recommended by British military experts and if we attempt it, we will have the support of the British government. It would entail South Korean enthusiasm if, by any variation of the "end run," General Eisenhower can shove the frontline back to the narrow 100-mile waist of the Korean peninsula where half as many men can hold the line.

Harry Truman, bitterly annoyed by General Eisenhower's promise to go to Korea, which, apparently, is blamed by the President for the Democrats' loss of the election called the flight to Korea "pure demagoguery." As a past master of demagoguery, Truman should know. It is now apparent, though, to all that the bitterly blighted that the inspection in Korea was but one phase, and a very minor one at that. The importance of the Eisenhower preparations has been much more local—such, for example, as his talks with MacArthur.

General Eisenhower does not need to have any plan of action in Korea ready until after his inauguration on January 20. There are indications, however, that he will be all ready the moment he is sworn in. The contrast of methods of the greatest living soldier and a mediocre politician has been striking.

Ike Will Be Ready
A minimum objective of Eisenhower's "end run" strategy would be to establish a line at the "narrow waist" of Korea. Variations of this plan have been discussed for months. The most interesting thing about it is that if General Eisenhower has this in mind when he speaks of "dead," he is likely to win a large degree of unity in support of the project.

If any offensive is to be undertaken, this is the one regarded as most feasible by the majority of military leaders. It probably could be carried out without entering the "area of conflict." There is reason to believe it holds the kernel of the plan General MacArthur has been working on. It would be natural for him to seek a repetition of the Inchon success which he carried through brilliantly despite the original doubts of other military leaders.

Need More Troops

Major additions to UN forces in Korea would be required, particularly if the aim is to halt the major part of the 700,000 troops in the Red line. Where additional forces would be drawn from may develop differences of opinion. Will the UN sanction any offensive? Can other UN members supply a larger share of the forces? Should Chinese Nationalist divisions be brought in from Formosa? How many more South Korean are ready for action?

That is, other questions will have to be answered. But if this is the Eisenhower-MacArthur plan we can expect a very large pie-cake of united public support. The world has blind confidence in the two great soldiers, the victors in Europe and in the Pacific in World War II. That is as important as any military factor.

As a consequence of this week's policy debate in the British Commons, it can be stated confidently that if the United States decided to launch a drive to Pyongyang, the British would "go along."

On the question of whether danger of a general war, whether Laborite Woodrow Wyatt asked Mr. Churchill whether he had given the North Atlantic Treaty Organization his reasons for thinking the war had become less likely when NATO's Gen. Sir Winston Churchill has expressed the opposite view, Mr. Churchill refused to explain his position on the ground that it was contained in secret papers submitted to NATO.

Mr. Churchill, however, is known to believe that another war would be completely different in its major aspects from any other war that has occurred.

It would begin, Mr. Churchill has said, by both sides suffering at the very outset what both dread most. This, presumably, is atomic bombing. He believes the decision would come in the first few weeks—perhaps the first week—of the war. After that, he has explained, no armies could move over long distances by land.

A special deterrent to Russia appears here because Russia has been dependent on long-distance communication by land. It is Mr. Churchill's theory that nations that depend on such communication would soon find they had "lost power to dominate events."

Mr. Wyatt's question held special interest in view of the British Government's recent decision to go slow with rearmament. This decision has as much to do with Britain's economic position as with Mr. Churchill's feeling that war is less likely. In some influential quarters there, it is argued that the next job for NATO is to prepare for a long armed truce, but that during this period major tension will come from Europe to Asia. Against this background, any questions of withdrawing British troops from Korea, as Mr. Churchill seemed to suggest in the Commons December 17, seems doubly unrealistic.

Broadly speaking, General Eisenhower has roughly four choices before him:

1. To get out of Korea entirely.

2. To sit on the present line and continue to work for a truce.

3. To make a limited offensive to the narrow waist of Korea around P'yongyang. The "end run" with a landing on either coast, or both, would be a part of this limited offensive.

4. To push to the Yalu and militarily enforce the political unification of Korea.

Favor Limited Offensive

It is one of these proposals, or a variant of one, that MacArthur is believed to have pressed on Eisenhower. And by the process of deduction and elimination, guided by the guarded wording of both men, the finger invariably points to the third choice. In Washington it is broadly held in informed circles that the President-elect's own thinking favors that same line.

Those best acquainted with MacArthur's military views, past and present, eliminate choices one and two as completely foreign to the general's thinking. They rule out number four, not because a total victory in Korea is not the general's desire, but because he has indicated his proposal included no increased danger of provoking universal conflict or any great increase in "friendly casualties."

Choice three, therefore, involving a limited offensive in Korea, appears by a process of deduction to be the solution that MacArthur advanced in his meeting with the President-elect.

Estimates of the additional military force that would be needed for such an offensive vary. But MacArthur is said to have argued in his talk with the President-elect that the maneuver would be accompanied with only a 25 to 30 per cent step up in strength. Where MacArthur's figures may differ with the Pentagon's on this added military cost of a "waist" operation is on the source of such increases.

It always has been his contention that most of this additional force can come from the South Koreans and by using Chinese Nationalists or even Japanese soldiers. The Pentagon, however, figures that it would take at least three more American divisions to assure success to such a venture and they say there is no thought of using Japanese under any circumstances.

Such an offensive is considered likely to follow the brief final visit of MacArthur's highly successful Inchon landing that put UN troops behind the Communist forces and started the swift advance to the Yalu. Such an operation would require naval assistance, not only in the actual landing operation but in the blocking of traffic going into neighboring Communist Chinese ports.

The former supreme commander in the Pacific can be counted on to have persuasively argued why a solution for the Korean conflict he has worked out. The general feeling in Washington is that the President-elect's views already have begun to take the pattern that General MacArthur advocated. But as "Ike" said on returning from Korea, it is not words but deeds that must be used to impress the enemy—and the deeds will be his choosing.

BARRELL CLUB HAS OWN GYMNASIUM IN TOWN STADIUM

Members Convert Storeroom; Program Expanded From One To Every Night In Week

The members of the Belleville Barrell Club have shown fine initiative and cooperative spirit in producing, by their own energies, a beautiful gym room at the Municipal Stadium. This room was formerly used as a storeroom for playground equipment. Bob Cook, Superintendent of Recreation, saw in this drab storeroom the opportunity of building a truly fine gymnasium. The members of the Barrell Club quickly rallied around him, and by working evenings and weekends during the past four weeks, converted this storeroom into a gymnasium which is equal to the best. It is indicative of high character, when a group of young men, the majority of whom are high school age, can organize and do such a fine job as this. Residents of Belleville are invited to stop in any evening to see the new Barrell Club gymnasium.

Beginning January 1, the gym facilities will be available to club members each evening, Monday through Friday, from 7:00 until 9:30 p.m. This expansion of the program has been necessitated by an increased interest in weight lifting and the growing membership of the Barrell Club.
