DISCOVER MAN'S BODY IN FIELD

Children Playing in Lot Find Corpse of 30 Year Old Martin Cullen, Jr.

The body of Martin Cullen, Jr., 30, of 61 Canaan Street, was found Wednesday by a group of children playing in a field behind 294 Beach Street. Mrs. George Cullen, of the Beach Street address, was informed of the body by the youngsters and she immediately called the police. The body was pronounced dead by Dr. Martin McGowan, town physician, and the body was taken to the Spauldina Funeral Home, 240 Prospect Avenue, Newark, for an autopsy.

Police said preliminary investigation indicated no sign of foul play. They said Cullen had died possibly by drinking while alone several months ago. At Essex County Hospital, Cedar-Rose, where he had been a volunteer patient from January 15 until Tuesday, when he suddenly fell, Cullen was described as depressed.

Police also are investigating a possibility he may have fallen from a Public Service high tension pole near the West or when his body was found by the children.

BELLBOYS SLIP IN

By PIERSON

Big Ten Conference

Coach Eddie Berlinski represented Belleville at a meeting at Bloomfield High School last week when a Big Ten Conference of baseball teams was organized to provide at least one game with each member team this spring. Included in the conference besides Belleville and Bloomfield are Columbia, West Orange, East Orange, Irvington, Montclair, Nutley and Kearny.

Preliminary work on getting up the organization was done by W. Warren Fogarty, athletic director of Kearny. At the meeting John Moorhead of Orange was elected president, Warren Fogarty, vice president and Edward J. Berlinski of Belleville, secretary and treasurer. A committee has been chosen to formulate a constitution and to nominate permanent officers.

Each member school will meet every other school in one baseball game this spring and a champion will be declared. Where home and home series now exist, one of the games will be designated as a league contest.

One thing definitely has been determined. That is game rules. The Reach "O" ball will be used in all conference games which will be seven innings long until daylight savings goes into effect. Saturday games and games in daylight saving time will be nine innings long. A minimum of two umpires will work all conference games, and ground rules shall be printed and ready for pre-game inspection at every conference field.

Whether the conference will spread to other sports, will be determined at a later date. We hope it does. Belleville for instance already plays East Orange, Kearny, Nutley, Bloomfield and Orange in football and basketball. West Orange and Columbia, but not East Orange. Especially in football the league could provide that a team meet at least six conference teams in a season with a provision that all nine rivals be met over a five or six year span. This would allow for three games with teams outside the conference limits during a football season. There is no great problem in basketball except for hours of play in the case of Columbia, Bloomfield and East Orange, which play only afternoons.

With the help of Ralph Kunkle, retired faculty manager at Bloomfield, we tried to get the same schools together about 15 years ago but met with a dismal failure, principally because the top men of that era all bore long standing but ill founded grudges. For instance, Irvington and Maplewood are next to each other; by Phil Marvel of Columbia, which is jointly supported by Maplewood and South Orange, refused to have any athletic relations with Irvington, and agreed to meet Irvington's baseball team, in the Greater Newark Tournament, only if it came down to a championship encounter, so in the parings, the committee had to see that each was kept in a separate bracket. Old Chief Stanford of Belleville absolutely refused to have a thing to do with Belleville, saying that games between the two schools would naturally end in a fight. Since George has passed away the schools have been playing each other in all sports and getting along famously. West Orange and the other hand wanted nothing to do with Nutley, remembering a riot which followed a football game between these schools about 1919. And so it went, almost every school was sure it did not want to play one of the others.

In the meantime a new generation of coaches have taken over. These men realize that these schools are more natural rivals than are the Newark Schools, which have their own league, and which have little in the way of followings, unless they happen to have a terrific club. Besides the natural rivalry, interest in a red hot conference race will be present even though none of the teams are contenders for the state championship. A shining example of this can be found in the Suburban Conference, whose league race in all sports, is of far more importance than the strength of the same involved.

The formation of the conference, however, will be a blow to Clifford Scott, which has been frozen out of the Suburban Conference, its natural rivals, because it will further limit its chances of playing league ball.

An Old Friend Passes

It's a sign of approaching old age when one reads of the passing of his old friends, and so it is with real sorrow that we learned of the passing on Monday of Gus Falzer, former sports editor of the Newark Sunday Call, and more lately on the sports staff of the Newark Evening News. Gus was also an old friend of Charlie Travis of Belmore Street, for Charlie's desk at the Call used to be next to that of Gus, when Charlie passed out assignments for covering school games, among the many correspondents in suburban towns. Again Gus was in on the ground floor, but was such a pioneer that his efforts were honorary and had no financial reward. By some standards Gus Falzer didn't amount to much, but in our book he reached a success in his profession which few of his contemporaries could ever hope to achieve.

While other went on to fame and fortune in the radio business, Gus Falzer had the distinction of broadcasting the first collegiate football game and the first play-by-play description of a world series, back in 1921, when WJZ was a Newark radio station and one of the pioneers in the business. Again Gus was in on the ground floor, but was such a pioneer that his efforts were honorary and had no financial reward. By some standards Gus Falzer didn't amount to much, but in our book he reached a success in his profession which few of his contemporaries could ever hope to achieve.

The Belleville Varsity Club is not forgetting the current basketball team, regardless of how it finishes its season on a win and loss basis, for plans have been made for the fourth annual court dinner at the Belleville Elks Club on Saturday evening, March 28. The committee has contacted several collegiate basketball coaches as possible speakers for the occasion.

Bellboys Slip In Stature After Split With Nearby Foes

Nutley Springs Upset of Season With 53 to 51 Decision; Kearny is Far From Easy in 58 to 55 Tilt

By Bob Petoia

Playing ball far below the form expected of a Wische coached team the Bellboys split a pair of games with nearby rivals in the past week, losing to an underdog Nutley team 53 to 51 and barely edging Kearny 58 to 55. In both contests played away from home the Belleville boys were heavily favored to win in a breeze. But the breeze at Nutley was supplied by their fast breaks and at Kearny by a club which passed the ball until someone was in possession for a percentage shot.

The games were not without their compensating features, for in the Kearny game, at least, Tom Mack, the key man in Belleville's impressive early season victories, returned to the lineup and scored five points. His presence had its effect on Nick Pettit, for Nick was high for the night with 18 points in that tilt.

On Friday at Nutley the home forces sprung one of the upsets of the season by prevailing against the visitors in the final quarter and winning out in the last minutes of the fray.

In the first period Belleville went out and took an early 10 point lead and finished the quarter ahead 18 to 10. Nutley answered back with breaks in the second period and closed the gap to 20 to 20 at the end of the half. In the third period and narrowed Belleville's margin by another three points and then midway in the last quarter Nutley scored 12 in pressing Belleville all over the court. Nutley held on and finally in the last seconds of play came through with the winning basket.

Stout of Nutley finished the game with 16, Palmarino had 14, and Lark 12. For Belleville Paul Weinstein and Pat Caruso each had a dozen while Gordon Gallaire and Nick White combined for 10. The Jayvee game was simply no contest with Belleville walking away with a 60 to 37 victory. Coach Ray Smith led 18 players in the tilt and 10 of the 18 scored points. Sid scored 23 of Nutley's 37.

Four told the story at Kearny on Tuesday night. The Kards finished the game with 23 conversions, although outscored from the floor 19 goals to 16. Kearny took an early lead but Belleville came back and moved ahead at the first break. Although the game ended with Belleville only three points ahead, it was not so tough that Coach Wische could not use his sub-versary for part of the tilt, Nick Pettit, who has been scoring a basket on a long shot in the final seconds of the first half of each of the recent games, did so again. This was one of his six goals which enabled him to finish the game as high scorer with 18 points. Pat Caruso checked in 13.

Again Belleville's Jayvees had an easy time with the home forces, winning 67 to 36. This time Coach Smith used 19 players and 11 of the 19 figured in the scoring. Varsity had 14 and Calenda 11 for high honors.

Postpone Bicycle Contest Because of Heavy Rain

The Belleville Bicycle Club was forced to postpone last Saturday's roller races because of the deluge. The races scheduled for last Saturday will be run off tomorrow at 1:30 P.M. at the Municipal Stadium.

In spite of the downpour last Saturday some fifteen braved the rain and the police to show up at the Stadium for their Saturday ride. These boys seem to have built an enthusiasm for the Bicycle Club that will not be damped by mere rainstorms or otherwise. Although it was deemed advisable to postpone the Tournament Race, the boys got in a good training session and had several informal races. All of the boys have mastered riding the tricky bicycle rollers unassisted and they are also turning on some terrific speeds. Last Saturday's session was supervised by Alf Goulet, L. L. Lark, Alf Goulet, Superintendent of Recreation.

Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde has designated a room in the Municipal Stadium to be used by the Bicycle Club. This room is now set up with four sets of bicycle rollers, a mile and a half speedometer (all loaned by Ed. Little) and two bicycles. These facilities are available to the boys of Belleville every afternoon and evening from 3:00 to 6:00 P.M. on Friday and each Saturday afternoon. All a boy need do to avail himself of this opportunity is to write (with parent's approval) in the Belleville Bicycle Club.

then taught the art of weight training by either Phil Samaras or Bob Cook. After acquiring sufficient training and instruction, club members then have free use of the gym during any of the regular sessions.

Real Thriller Played In Elementary School Loop

The Recreation Department Elementary Basketball League had a real thriller last Saturday when School No. 1 nearly tipped high-jumping School No. 4. Had No. 1 been successful there would have been a three way tie for first in the league. However, No. 4 pulled the game out of the fire by one basket to retain a perfect record. The Junior League has two teams with only one blemish on their records. The first place tilt was a close one between the Nicos and the Imperials.

Next Saturday will see the Juniors at Rodgers Stadium, Harrison, meeting the Harrison Grays in the first round of the New Jersey tournament.

Kick-off time is slated for 11:00 A.M.

Blacks, Golds and Reds Win PAL Basketball Games

Play in the Junior PAL basketball continued Tuesday evening at Belleville High School. The first game was between the Blacks and the Golds. The Blacks won 19 to 12. In the second game the Golds won over the Blues 12 to 12. It was a close contest all the way but a basket by Phindalo two minutes from the close of the game was the deciding factor. The last game of the evening was a thrilling game in which the Reds won over the Greens 30 to 18. The Reds led at half-time 14 to 9 but the Greens closed the gap at the end of the third quarter 20 to 17. From then on the Reds held their opponents to a lone point in the last quarter.

Tuesday evening at Belleville High School with three more games on tap, first game starting at 7:00.

St. Peter's Sweeps

St. Peter's, Belleville, posted a triple victory over St. Charles, Newark, last Sunday in the Essex County YVO Intermediate Boys I bowling circuit and moved up a couple of rungs to second place. The Reds won 182-172 for a 507 series paced the Belleville crew to wins of 708-657, 768-688, and 754-686. Jim Leonard's 145 was high game, as the boys posted a 4-2 record.

Wins Weekly High Score

The winning score for the winning score. He is now in third place in the individual standings.

Hiltoppers Sweep Over Old Timers In Pin Race

Barbell Club Continues Steady Rate of Growth

Would Sell Three Car Crash Ties Up Franklin Avenue Traffic

Sergeant Monaghan, driving a police car which was one of the three involved, suffered bruises of the arm and leg and had a cut on the head, while Mrs. Kathryn Elbe, a passenger in one of the other cars received a bruised arm and shoulder. One of the cars was driven by Mrs. Estelle E. Kimmel of 51 Tremont Place, Montclair, and the other by Edward Elbe of 31 Laura Avenue, Nutley.

Case of Narrow Doors Solved by School Sleuths

Pupils Finally Get To See Inauguration After TV Is Jockeyed Through Rear Door

School No. 9 found itself in a conundrum last week after borrowing a television set from Radio & Electric Co. next door, so as to witness the inauguration proceedings. The trouble arose when the 24" receiver was delivered to the front doors of the school and it was discovered that either the TV set was too large or the doors too small; the set just wouldn't go through, no matter how it was jockeyed.

Thomas Gryczka, principal, together with all the students, and their brains to work and finally discovered a little-used rear door of the auditorium wide enough to accommodate the set. Two plant engineers then rigged up a temporary antenna, and in a short time the entire student body and teachers were enjoying the inaugural ceremonies.

The only melancholy note was struck when P.A. engineers removed the receiver late in the afternoon and took it back to the factory.

A Rare Opportunity

Belleville citizens and employees of industrial plants and business houses have a rare opportunity to help the town gain nationwide publicity at the same time they help themselves. We refer to the plans of the town's Boy Scout Jamboree Committee to raise funds to send at least 32 Scouts to the National Jamboree in California this summer.

Campaigns for funds for one charity cause or another seem to come on top of another, and there is no doubt that each charity dollar must be examined carefully to see that it does the most good.

The Jamboree committee knows, only too well, the fable of going to the well once too often. It knows too that the Boy Scouts are limited by their participation in the Belleville Community Chest. It knows, also, that giving our youth everything on a silver platter is not good for their development. So a sales plan was evolved. A plan whereby Belleville industries will supply the Boy Scouts with articles manufactured here, at the jobber's price, enabling the Scouts to sell them at retail at a handsome profit.

The actual sales strategy is up to the individual Boy Scout troops. Individual troops may concentrate on one article or several. Some may sell them all. But whatever is sold on a troop basis, as a community enterprise, will go to an individual in that troop, towards his all-expense ticket, which costs $333. One troop already has raised about half of the amount needed to send ten boys to the Jamboree.

The articles placed on sale are all useful. Many are things which anyone can use. In the higher price range is the Walter Kidde Company fire extinguisher for the home. Every home in town should have such a safety device; to put out fires when they are small and easily controlled, without muss or fuss. What man cannot use a new necktie? What housewife can't find use for a kitchen gadget to help simplify her chores? If you unken around with painting, you certainly can use a good set of matched brushes of assorted sizes and brush cleaner to allow you to go from one color to another in a jiffy.

These are but a few of the items on sale. Scout organizations over a wide area, who have heard of the plan are watching with interest the success that is made by the Belleville Boy Scouts. You can help them when they call upon you. If the Jamboree Committee's plan is successful the Scout organization itself will see that it gets nationwide publicity. You buy, you do not give the Scouts a thing, except the confidence which goes with a successful endeavor.

One Man's Opinion

Germany is an Object Lesson of the Failures of Communism and the Force of Democracy.

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

Forty million Frenchmen are sure they can't be wrong.

It is very understandable that Frenchmen should fear and doubt German intentions, because three times in the lives of some living Frenchmen their country has been invaded by Germans. It has been so since the days of Gaul when Attila the Hun swept west across the Rhine with his barbarian horsemen and laid waste many Latin towns.

Yet if persistence can overcome resistance, France eventually will enter the European Union with both feet. Right now she has a toe in the door but one French government after another has fallen because the French Parliament has been hesitant to agree to a union with Germany which involves their rearmament.

The time for binding Germany fully to the West is now, or never. A split Germany provides an excellent opportunity to compare democracy and communism. There is not the slightest doubt that West Germany is prosperous, and that, too, is one of the objections the French have to the Union. Nor is there the slightest doubt that East Germany is suffering. Communism has failed to bring the German people east of the Elbe River the same steady employment, good wages, good food and plenty that our rebuilding of Germany's war-damaged industries has done for the Germans of the West.

Schuman Plan Progresses

In mid-winter, the West German people find themselves among the most prosperous of all Europeans. Coal and steel are their basic industries, along with those trades which deliver coal and steel, in their many forms, to world markets.

With amazing speed, Europe's first attempt at knocking down its barriers of centuries, traditional hatreds, language differences, racial pride, ethnic frontiers and high tariffs, is bringing results. The Schuman Plan, which the now deposed French Minister conceived, is moving swiftly forward in pooling the coal and steel resources and production of six countries—West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

By pooling resources and production, the six nations have ended costly competition rivalry. Now they all produce for a single controlled market. It was decided at Strasbourg this week that the single market for coal will become effective on February 10, and the single market for steel will be enforced on April 10.

East of Berlin

East Germany does not share in the Schuman Plan. It has been absorbed into the closed economy behind the Iron Curtain along with the great production centers of Bohemia, Poland and Russia. But, alas for East Germany, the bulk of heavy German industry is in the West. All that East Germany can offer to the Communist bloc is its production of chemicals and its farm produce.

With little to export, East Germans enjoy no balance of trade. They can bring in from outside only the produce they can pay for and since they export little, they import little. The consequence has been a drastic fall in living conditions from the high German level to the normal low Russian level. Discontent has bred resistance and resistance has brought the purges which are in progress.

Behind the Curtain

I learned this week from very bread, meat and potatoes, however.

Butter, always scarce, has been virtually unobtainable in many East German areas. In the last two months the Soviet Union has sent in more than seven thousand tons of butter but American officials believe this is not enough to improve the situation appreciably.

They also report that poor housing in the Soviet Zone is sowing seeds of discontent. While there have been a few dramatic official visits to the Soviet Zone to West Berlin is the army of shoe stores in that part of the city.

In quality East German clothes tend to be inferior to those of the West. Good shoes are almost unobtainable and one of the magnets drawing residents of the Soviet Zone to West Berlin is the array of shoe stores in that part of the city.

So few statistics are available on East Germany that comparison of its living standard with that of West Germany is difficult. It is estimated that by the end of 1951 the East German worker has to spend about one and a half times as much to enjoy the same benefits as his West German counterpart.

Despite the austerity of life in East Germany, despite upheavals growing out of the farm collectivization program, our State Department does not expect any rebellion. There is opposition and discontent, but not organized resistance. And if there was such resistance it could easily be put down.

There have been isolated actions such as the sabotage of several large transformers carrying power for the Soviet Union which was reported last week in the Communist press. Yet there seems to be no underground activity that organized here and there by anti-Communist groups in West Berlin. Walter Ulbricht, Secretary General of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party, recently spoke of "organized opposition to the formation of farm cooperatives, but he said it was being 'organized' by West Berlin agencies.

There is obviously extensive opposition to the regime in East Germany even though it is usually not active. It is most intense among shopkeepers, business men and owners of large farms whose holdings have been wiped out.

Although the current economic woes have increased discontent they have brought about a fundamental change in the political situation. Those sections of the population that hated the regime to begin with have it the more now. Those who supported it spend their time trying to justify the difficulties.

Nevertheless, the East German Government has felt it necessary to appease the populace by ousting the Supply Minister with much publicity. There have been "little purges" in the Government offices responsible for the supply situation.

State Department observers report that discontent among the workers has revealed itself in absenteeism, declines in production and a general slowing down of the economic program. The extent of this probably will not be evident for some months.

and Mrs. Ruth Bruce, eighth grade teachers at Passaic Avenue School, devised a competitive method of utilizing spelling graphs to provide the class with incentives. This method indicates clearly which group shows the greater degree of improvement. Charts are used to show individual scores so that each pupil can see where he fits in the general result. The idea is meeting with remarkable success and spelling improvement is quite marked.

Woman's Club Departments Air Views On Library Budget

The possible reduction in the appropriation by the Board of Commissioners for the operation of the Belleville Public Library was the topic of discussion at a joint meeting Monday of the Literature, Art and Drama Departments of the Woman's Club. In the light of the club's association with and interest in the library, it was the members' considered opinion that the present services to the community should in no way be impaired, since the library serves as a valuable adjunct to the education system of Belleville.

They further went on record as saying that the library is of invaluable use to the town's business concerns for reference purposes, as well as serving the literary needs of the community at large.

In view of these foregoing factors, the group is of the opinion that the proposed budget allowance to the public library should be adjusted by the Board of Commissioners.

EMERGENCY BLOOD DONORS NEEDED

Two Are Called Upon to Help Belleville Resident After Serious Operation in Newark

According to William Kelly, Vice Mayor, Recruitment Chairman, Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, the need for emergency blood donors continues.

Tuesday And Friday Classes For New Ceramics Club

The New Ceramics Club got underway last week at the Recreation House with an evening class on Tuesday and an afternoon class on Friday. The instruction is sponsored by the Recreation Department directed by the Commissioner, Mr. J. J. Meyer. The program is a step toward broadening the recreation program in the cultural direction.

Miss Cecile Gallis, the instructor of the class got things going right away with a project. The members of the class were highly enthusiastic about the class. Mrs. Gallis has planned a couple of ten lessons which will include a general training in basic ceramics. It is the intention of the Recreation Department that each group completes this training to form a Ceramics Club so this training is a preliminary step. A new class will then be formed each week. This plan should develop a large, active Club which will be a definite factor in rounding out our Recreation Program.

Thief Gets Makings Of Load; Another Grapples With Youth

About 10 bottles of liquor were stolen from the home of William Hughes at 160 Great Drive on Saturday night by a thief who broke into the house while the family was away. An unsuccessful attempt was made at the home of William Calverly at 157 Birchwood Drive, immediately to the rear of the Hughes home about the same time. Mr. Hughes reported the theft at his home and police in a squad car making a routine check found evidence that someone had tried to force a rear door of the Calverly house. Tuesday night George DeMaio of 45 Cozzzo Street, left his parents' house to visit with friends across the street, and while there he looked out the window and saw lights in his home. He rushed across the street and encountered a stranger in the living room. DeMaio grappled with the man but bumped into the television set and lost his grip. The man fled. Because Mrs. DeMaio is in Florida, there was no one acquainted with the personal belongings of the household, to tell police whether anyone was taken.
