Such an area wide organization could afford better trained personnel, which could be used to more advantage than any provisional license by the state to give the hospital time to complete enlargement and modernization necessary to meet present demands, William J. Doyle, hospital president announced yesterday. Mr. Doyle said that a campaign to raise $150,000 to finance the improvements will be undertaken in the near future.

Rev. Dr. O. Bell, Pastor Emeritus Shares Speaker Role With Ralph E. Heinzen at Dinner

Ralph E. Heinzen, publisher of the Belleville Times-News and Rev. Dr. O. Bell, pastor emeritus of the Fewsmin Memorial Presbyterian Church, shared speaking honors at the annual dinner of the Fewsmin Men's Club in the newly redecorated social hall on Tuesday night. About 200 people attended the dinner.

Mr. Heinzen, former commander for the United Press, gave his audience a talk taken by the peace talks of the Russians, until the Communists have their best chance to prove their sincerity as a peace-loving people. He said the world would be more inclined to accept their proposals at their face value.

Dr. Bell recalled a number of incidents connected with the peace talks of the church and his service to it. He paid tribute to the Times-News, which has received along with the church bulletin, every week since leaving here, by pointing out that such community interest in the peace talks is a more important role in the community than does the big city news. He said the church is a town within its circulation area.

Dr. Bell introduced Joseph P. Sinclair, president of the Board of Trustees of the new Presbyterian Church at Cliffwood Beach, which Dr. Bell helped to organize.

Walter Warrick, clerk of the session, acted as Toastmaster, while Dr. James K. Morse, pastor of the church, gave the invocation prayer. William Mason, president of the Men's Club, welcomed the guests. Harry Valente played the piano for community singing under the direction of the church choir.

George Newman was in charge of the social hour.

So What?

Sunday's rain cut down the number of people visiting the Cherry Blossoms in Branch Brook Park by about 50 per cent from the previous week's count. Since actual counts are made only on Sunday it was a big blow to the Park Commission's hopes for a record turnout to see the blossoms which this year surpassed all previous years for beauty. Only 13,000 cars and about 35,000 people were counted on Sunday. The previous week's count was 107,000. Large crowds were in the park on Saturday and again on Wednesday. On Sunday when the double blossoms came out a large delegation from the Japanese American Association of New York, is coming out to the park in chartered buses.

We thought things were being stretched a little when the radio blared out, "You should have a second T.V. in your home." But we hadn't heard a thing. Now the announcers are giving out with "You need a third T.V. in your home." We know someone with two T.V.'s hanging in his living room during the baseball season, so that he can watch two baseball games at the same time. His head goes back and forth as if he were watching a play-by-play. With a third one in his house, he really would be in a bad way, trying to keep all the action within his range of vision at the same time. Come to think of it. Could you park two T.V.'s side by side and with polarized glasses get 3-D?

Complaints

prohibits the digging of any hole three feet below the curb level and more than four feet square, without a permit. The digging has brought the property down to the Hornblower Avenue curb level.

Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan said the builder had an opportunity to level off his property and took it. The work is not completed and some of the complaints will be eliminated in the near future.

Want Sidewalks
A delegation of citizens from the vicinity of Quinton Street, headed by Theodore M. Wells asked the Commissioners, during the caucus to provide a sidewalk on the northern side of Cleveland Street, between Quinton Street and Washington Avenue. Mr. Wells pointed out that once

Quinton Street was a quiet residential street with little or no traffic, but since the paperhanger factory moved in and has started the construction of an additional building, not only has traffic in the form of huge trailer trucks increased, but so has parking. Mr. Wells asked in the interest of safety that the new sidewalk be provided.

The Commissioners agreed that a sidewalk is needed and instructed Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan to write to the Bigelow Motors and inform them to install the sidewalk within 30 days. If not the town will lay the sidewalk and assess the cost against the Bigelow Motors.

Ralph Vasa headed another group complaining about a fence which had been erected across a 12 foot right of way at the end of Beech Street, used by children from Carner Avenue on their way to school, to avoid walking almost a mile out of their way to school. This was referred to Mr. Keenan to determine whether the town's right of way was an easement or actual ownership of the property. If the town owns the property, then it cannot be fenced off. If however the strip 12 by 150 feet is privately owned the owner has a right to stop it's use as a short-cut.

Wants His Driveway Open
C. G. Everson of 314 Greylock Parkway asked the Commissioners if something can't be done to prevent the parking of shoppers' cars across his driveway. He said people using the stairs on Union Avenue at Greylock, often park over or partly over his driveway and sometimes he has to circle the block several times before he can drive into his own garage. Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan promised to investigate the possibility of erecting signs and providing an occasional check by police officers to stop the illegal parking.

A resolution providing for the assessing of street improvements for Crescent Terrace was adopted. The assessment was to have been levied in July 1950 but the improvements were not completed at the time. The Commissioners were of the opinion that the work is now completed, nearly three years later, and the resolution says the assessments are now due and payable.

A complaint in that direction was made by property owners in Princeton Terrace, who one after another asked Mayor Tully, why they were assessed $500 each for street improvements installed by the developer, after their property assessments were raised 1 year 100 per cent on the grounds that they are now on an improved street. Mayor Tully admitted that he could not answer and Tax Assessor Arthur Clark was not present at the meeting. The Mayor promised to investigate the matter and to personally address a letter to each of the property owners making an appearance.

35-Foot Mountain
But the Princeton Terrace residents had other complaints, principally about the "35 foot Mountain" behind their homes, which they were assured would be removed when the new high school is built. They also complained about trailer trucks parked above their heads and starting their motors at 4:30 or 5 o'clock in the morning. Thomas P. Greco, building inspector, assured the Princeton Terrace people that the truck parking is a violation of the zoning ordinance and promised that the property owners would be prosecuted in court.

Among those who spoke were Bernard Trinker of 61 Princeton Terrace, Peter DeBank of 49 Princeton Terrace, and John Hanly of 53 Princeton Terrace.

Mr. Clark explains that the $500 is not an improvement assessment, but represents an increase of value of land and building since the street has been improved and the houses completed. The 1952 assessments were based on the progress of construction as of October 1951, when the project was under construction. The 1953 assessments are based on the value of the property as of October 1952.

An attorney and engineer representing the Spring Garden Wholesale Grocery Company at 61 Belle Avenue were present to ask the Commissioners if something cannot be done about the flooding of the company's premises after every rain storm. Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan advised that part of the trouble was due to the grade of Greylock Avenue, and said the grade should be changed and a storm sewer installed. There the town's responsibility ends, and it would then be up to the company to fill in its land to prevent the forming of a pond.

The attorney for the firm said water damage recently amounted to at least $20,000. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters promised that his department would take care of the town's share of the improvement.

Mr. Sheehan also brought to the Commission's attention a flood condition existing at 143 Passaic Avenue, a lot sold by the town but not conveyed, a year after the sale. He recommended that the lot be filled in. He said four or five hundred yards of dirt would be required and the cost would be about $100. Commissioner Waters agreed that his department could take care of the matter.

The Belleville Community Chest, which has included the Girl Scouts in its fund raising campaign on two occasions, has nearly $3,000 in excess, deposited in the name of the Belleville Girl Scout Council, which will become available for use by such a group as soon as it is officially incorporated and chartered. Also on hand for use by such an organization is such office furniture as desks, chairs, filing cabinets, a typewriter and a duplicating machine. The fund is now in storage, but the Girl Scout Leaders Association has received permission from the Board of Directors of the Community Chest to withdraw it for furnishing a room made available to the Girl Scouts in the Recreation House in Jerusalem Street.

TO BRING TOPIC BEFORE PUBLIC

Local Committee Plans Skits, Movies, Speakers, To Stress Need For State Aid To Schools

FRONT ... School Aid ... The Belleville Citizens Committee for State Aid for Schools met Monday night at the Board of Education offices to discuss means of acquainting the local citizenry with the need for state aid.

Harold Alpern, Executive Chairman, presided. Gary Vanderbil, School No. 8 PTA president, submitted a mimeographed letter on the topic, which the committee decided to distribute to all the local PTAs for signatures by their respective members.

It has been decided that all PTA's will present speakers, skits, and movies to inform the membership of State Aid and the urgent need for them to contact their legislatures regarding prompt, positive action in this matter.

Mr. Alpern announced that an original skit by Mrs. Lenora B. Willette, explaining the need for state aid and methods of raising funds for it, will be ready next week and will be available to any group requesting it.

The cast included Bill Chapman, Ray Smith, Mrs. C. J. Cussady, Bobby Cussady, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. William Kelly, and C. Otis Brown. It was also announced that a film "Fight for Better Schools" from the March of Time is also available.

The next meeting of the Committee will take place on Monday, April 27, at the Board of Education. The public is invited.

Nominated For CYO Award

Nick Pettit of Belleville High was among those nominated by judges for the outstanding player award of the Essex County CYO. Twenty-eight coaches and sports editors named Robert Nardone of Bloomfield the winner with 47 points.

The CYO Outstanding Player Award is annually given to the Essex County high school basketball player who has shown sportsmanship and ability. Its purpose, according to CYO director Rev. John J. Kiley, is to promote fair play on the court. The trophy will be presented to Nardone at the June Assembly of the CYO at the Hotel Essex House in Newark. Awards will also be made then to all CYO sports champions, to CYO teams named winners of the Sportsmanship Awards, and to the most active CYO members and adult advisors.

A total of 33 players were nominated by the coaches and sportswriters, the largest number since the inception of the Award in 1946.

Last year the Outstanding Player Award went to Dave Smalley of Seton Hall with 61 points. Previous winners were Charlie Travers of Belleville, with 39; James Ahearn of Our Lady of the Valley, Orange, 64; Carmen Franco of West Orange, 26; Richie Regan, Newark West Side, 42; Leroy Smith, Newark Central, 48; and William Hatchett of Verona, 52.

Cimic Relief

Boat racing being what it is, there is a long wait between the thrills of the finish, so it was a welcome relief on Saturday when the tanker H. W. Steele sailed down the Passaic River a few minutes ahead of the Belleville and Columbia University Lightweight crews. It was officially announced over the public address system that the H. W. Steele was not in the race. But what really brought out the laughs was when the small boys in the crowd started throwing stones at the boat. An occasional ping was heard as the stone reached its mark. But the throwing stopped and the small boys scattered when a crewman dashed out of the wheelhouse with what appeared to be a rifle. Bob Gorlin, the conductor and custodian of the column Nutley Sun Spots observed that the "weapon" looked suspiciously like a broom handle.

While the incident offered a bit of cimic relief, the stirring finish put on by the Belleville crew and the feature race was a tribute to the coaching and conditioning provided by Bill Bennett. Belleville's crew which rows about six miles each day, looked as if it could have gone another mile without strain, while the Columbia eight was really done.

BELLBOYS LOSE TWO HITTER TO PASSAIC NINE

Terry Gahr Has Four Hitter But Walks And Errors Are Cost Game

Belleville High's baseball team found the going a lot tougher in actual competition than it did in the grapefruit league, and in its opening game against Passaic on Tuesday bowed 4 to 2, when Passaic's Tom Sklarski bested Terry Gahr on an identical hit margin. Sklarski walked two and struck out six. Gahr gave up four hits, struck out six and walked five. Those five walks plus four Belleville errors was the difference.

Joe Long, freshman second baseman, opened the game with a single and Petty singled two runs home in the third inning, after one of Sklarski's walks and a base on error put Gahr and Fred Krafts on base. Passaic tied it up in the same frame on three walks and two errors by Long. Passaic won the game with runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Belleville plays West Side home on Tuesday and meets Bloomfield at Foley Field, Bloomfield on Friday of next week.

BIBLE CLASS TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Everyman's Class At Masonic Temple To Have A Breakfast April 27 At Last Meeting

The Everyman's Bible Class which meets each Sunday morning from 9:25 to 10:30 at the Masonic Temple will install new officers at their regular service Sunday.

The new officers are as follows: George Buchanan, President; Wesley Decker, Vice President; David Jolly, Secretary; William Smith, Treasurer; Kenneth Du Bois, Chaplain; Wilfred Bennett, Red Army General; and John Donaldson, Blue Army General. The class is fortunate in retaining Archie Donaldson as speaker; David Williams as pianist; and Andrew Verhagen as their song leader.

The class is non-denominational and extends a warm welcome to any one desiring to share an hour of Christian fellowship. A breakfast will be held on April 27, which will be the last Sunday at the Masonic Temple until the re-opening of the class October 1. On May 3 the class will visit and have breakfast with the North Arlington Bible Class which is their yearly custom.

Honors for all Competitors In Opening Crew Contests

Nutley Swamps Columbia University Lightweight Frosh; Belleville Nips University Lightweight Varsity; Collegians Win Junior Varsity Race

Everyone came off with a share of the glory on Saturday when the Nutley and Belleville crews engaged crews from the Columbia University Lightweight squads, on the Passaic River. A large crowd took advantage of the beautiful spring day to gather near the finish line to cheer on their local favorites.

Nutley's Varsity eight defeated the Freshman Lightweight by two lengths in the opening race, after leading from the start. The race was run with the help of the outgoing tide and Nutley finished in the fine time of 5:05. Belleville's Varsity eight had a harder job, having to come from behind in the last quarter mile to nip the Columbia Varsity Lightweight by about two feet. Tiedling by almost a length at the three quarter mark the Belleville's responded to Jimmy Kant's call for them to pick up the heat and they crossed the finish line with a 37 beat after a steady 34 most of the way. The Belleville crew showed the results of Bill Bennett's conditioning grind and although they had put on the sprint at the end, they seemed ready for more while several of the boys in the University boat were completely bent.

The Columbia Jayvees had no trouble beating Belleville and Nutley Jayvee crews in the final race. Since the local Jayvees finished in a dead heat they are being re-raced in another race. Belleville's Varsity crew will engage the Dartmouth College Freshman crew in a race on the Passaic tomorrow. Charlie Crane, a member of the National Championship crew of last year, will be in the Columbia boat.

FOUR RIDERS IN FOLD FOR TOUR OF BELLEVILLE

Bicycle Club Members Wear New Shirts In Safety Tour; Practice For May 10

Registrations for the Tour of Belleville on May 10 are beginning to come in already. The Belleville Bicycle Club of the Recreation Department expects a field of the foremost riders in the East. Among those who have registered up to date in the 25-mile race are Ray Frate, of Belleville, John Chiesko of Somerville, Ernest Smith of Montclair, and our own Ed. Little, Ray Prate, a member of the Alpine Wheelman, was last Club's All-Around Champion in 1930 and Club Sprint Champion in 1932. John Chiesko was both a New Jersey State, Jr. Champion and a National Jr. Champion. Ed. Little needs no introduction to the Town of Belleville.

Last Saturday the members of the Belleville Bicycle Club, representing in their new blue and gold T-shirts went on a tour around the town. This tour was a part of the Club's safety program to teach the boys to sign.

Entering the final five weeks of the season for the Fawcett Men's Club Bowling League, the Busters now hold a three-game lead over the Old Timers, Hilltoppers and Spoilers, all tied for second place. In the most recent matches the Spoilers swept out the Aces, the Farmers won two from the Old Timers; the Hilltoppers grabbed the odd from the Cubs and the Muffins didn't miff a thing when they bested the league leading Busters 2 to 1. Taylor Jr. leads the individual average race with 176 followed by Horman and Ochsner with 174 each.

Tomorrow, the Club will have one mile races and sprint races on the Club's safety program to teach the boys to sign.

TEACHERS DEEM FIELD TRIPS A VALUABLE AID

Survey Indicates That Trips
By Students Give Broader
Knowledge And Appreciation

A survey of teachers at Belleville High School, through the efforts of Mrs. Anne Snedeker, produced some interesting information concerning field trips. All endorse field trips because of the contribution to learning that these visits produce. One member of the faculty has stated that "seeing industry in action is more impressive than discussing the subject"; another, that the "field trip increases interest and results in a broader appreciation."

The pupils are always enthusiastic when the trip occurs on a school day. However, the opportunity to watch government in action, to visit historical sites, listen to opera, and to see the paintings of great artists is appreciated as the subsequent discussions so well testify.

The opportunities for worthwhile trips in this area are almost unparalleled. Many of the pupils will visit the United Nations, and others will journey to theaters and museums, which are superior to almost all available in this country.

Nine trips have already been made by a total of 870 students, and there are 27 more field trips planned for this school year. The various destinations are: automobile plants, courts, New York Port Authority, planetarium, United Nations, meat markets, chemical and other manufacturing plants, theaters, and Metropolitan Opera House.

REPORT INCREASE PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCE HERE

Nearly 3,000 Conferences
Held In Belleville Schools
Caled Boom To Education

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, General Supervisor of the Belleville Public Schools, has announced that Parent-Teacher conferences are increasing in Belleville Schools, and they are coming to be considered as more and more valuable in the process of education, not only as an aid in using the new report card in reporting pupil progress, but for a necessary union of efforts by parents and teachers for the modern education of children.

Without early dismissals of children to make time for parent-teacher conferences, all teachers in the nine elementary schools report that they have held conferences with parents, with a total of 2,175 individual conferences and 14 class or group conferences. In the high school, 27 per cent of the teachers report individual conferences with parents, but counting the two parents' night and other conferences, high school teachers have held 567 parent-teacher conferences.

Belleville Brawlers Get Week
To Engage An Attorney

Arraigned before Magistrate Edwin J. C. Jeong at Police Court yesterday were three youths from the Silver Lake section of Belleville. Released in $25 bail a week earlier for disorderly conduct, the trio asked for, and received a week's postponement in order to engage an attorney.

Cause for the disorderly conduct charge arose out of a brawl between Nutley and Belleville youths on Franklin Avenue near Chestnut Street. Scheduled to appear Wednesday are Lorenzo Veniero, 21, of 26 Sanford Avenue, Anthony Veniero, 19, and George Veniero, 18, of 1 Wallace Street.

Change Of Summer School Site

The Essex County Band and Orchestra Summer School will hold its 17th session for five weeks beginning June 22 and ending July 31. Classes will take place at Montclair High School instead of West Orange High School, as in previous years. The faculty will include many prominent public school music directors of Essex County.

First Apple Trees in Bloom

With winter's white troops scarcely gone. They came by night and struck at dawn. Defying veteran wind and showers. With untired leaves, unproven flowers.

Up hill and down, straight row on row. Before green grass had time to grow. They took the country by surprise. With only robins for allies!

Go To The Primary Poll

You owe it to yourself to go to the polls. On Tuesday, and to vote in the Primary election.

Seldom has more been at stake, because, alas, happenings of the past few months have disclosed a mess of political profligating, of downright criminal doings and of graft and corruption on a state level which has surprised us all. So well was it hidden, so deeply was it buried under the surface of a successful state government that it came as a tragic shock to most of us to realize that in the Driscoll administration such things could and did occur.

The stain on the present government must not be allowed to spread over to the next state administration. New Jersey need not tolerate graft and corruption. We have cleaned up the malaria-ridden mosquito swamps; we can clean up the swamp of iniquity in Trenton, too.

In this Primary we have more choice than usual. The quality may not run to the usual high, but the quantity is there. Happily, most of the candidates have taken the pledge to "wage a relentless war on gambling, racketeering and corruption". The difference appears only to concern where they would start.

It was no surprise when the sample ballot arrived in the mail this week to discover Troast and Elmer Wene in the preferred spots on the voting machines. Wene is the personal choice of William Egan, Democratic county chairman.

It seems generally agreed that despite Senator Malcolm Forbes very great popularity and his growing strength, Troast will win. Just as it would seem to be agreed that State Senator Robert B. Meyner has the edge on Wene, Ormsby and Winberry. It might be a coincidence that the county chairmen's preferred candidates drew the No. 1 spots on the voting machines, if it happened only once in a while, but this time, as last time, and, alas, as, perhaps, next time, Wene is all alone on a line by himself, snuggled right up next to the Assembly candidates, on the Democrats' top line. He has the whole line to himself. Ormsby, Meyner and Winberry, also-running in Egan's box, are grouped in the next line. On the Republican side, would you believe it, Troast drew the short straw and won for himself the number 1B. He heads the field of seven on the voting machines.

Don't be fooled; don't let the bosses nominate your gubernatorial candidate for you. Look beyond No. 1. Pick the man you want, not the number that comes easiest. Prove to the bosses that, in Essex County at least, the voters can read reading and do not have to pick a candidate by a symbol or a number.

Incidentally, you are not going to be allowed to pick a Primary candidate for the success-sion, in the State Senate, of Clapp. The Governor saw to that. It has been an open secret for months that he was going to promote Senator Clapp to the bench, but, ever the politician, he delayed it until it was too late, 40 days ago, to file petitions for the Senate seat. As a result, you will have no choice in the Republican or Democratic candidates, next November, for the Senatesset. The county bosses will have that privilege.

At least, you can pick and choose some of your state administrators in Tuesday's Primary. So don't fail to vote. R.E.H.

Karl Marx Steps Out, Bodine Steps In

The Karl Marx bill, Assembly Bill 411, which was conceived on the Socialist principle of "soaking the rich" to raise $70,000,000 for political distribution in the form of "more school aid," has bogged down in committee in Trenton. Despite the frantic efforts of the school lobby to hammer the bill through, the Senate Republican caucus this week sat on it and squashed it almost to the point of extinction.

Karl Marx will have to wait. In the meantime, the school lobby is plotting a new course. If it cannot raise $70,000,000 for more pay, it will be satisfied with $12,500,000. Republican Senator Bodine, of Hunterdon County, has given his name in sponsorship of the new bill.

Instead of a 5 or a 6 percent tax on corporate income, Bodine wants a 4 percent tax. Instead of $70,000,000, the new tax would raise only $50,000,000, but half of that sum would be returned to the municipalities of New Jersey in lieu of the present municipal personality tax on business inventories which would be repealed.

Of the $30,000,000 remaining, Bodine would throw $7,500,000 into the state treasury for other spending departments, for general state purposes. That would leave $12,500,000 for "school aid". Of that sum, Bodine would earmark $5,500,000 for new school construction and that would leave only $7,000,000 for increased direct school aid.

The $5,500,000 building fund would allow the entire state of New Jersey to build about five new schools a year. A committee, to which the Senate would name three members, would take charge of distributing the money where, obviously, it would do the most good. There is a joker, however. It would be given only to school districts which cannot finance their own new building programs because they have exceeded their local debt limits for more borrowing. Pay for the profligate, sugar for the spendthrifts.

That excludes us right off, because Belleville has a very small debt and her borrowing capacity for new school construction is in excess of $4,500,000.

The $7,000,000 "direct school aid" fund would also be limited in its disbursement—limited to school districts which had a public school population increase of more than 10 per cent over the previous three years. The increased school aid would amount to $15 per annum per pupil for school districts with population increases at the 10 per cent level, and on a sliding scale to $50 more per year, per pupil where the population increase is 100 per cent.

Once again, Belleville would not qualify.

It stands to reason that Belleville would have nothing to gain by the Bodine bill any more than it would have had under the Karl Marx bill. Belleville corporations would be taxed about $400,000 a year, under a 4 per cent tax on corporate income, but not one red cent of that amount would come back to Belleville under the Bodine bill. If we decide in June to build a new school, we can expect no state aid to help us build it. If our school enrollment increases 200, next September, as is now predicted, we will receive nothing more in state aid.

One Man's Opinion

Peace with Austria becomes the formula whereby Washington intends to judge the value of Malenkov's protestations of a desire for peace

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

The United States is prepared to make a test case of Moscow's newly proclaimed desire for world peace and the formula for deciding whether the peace maneuvers are phony or a real willingness to call off the "cold war" has been set. Austria, Austria, not Korea or Germany, offers the easiest, clear-cut issue upon which East and West can readily agree. The treaty of peace with Austria has long ago been drawn up. Its final text could be made ready in five minutes — if Soviet Russia wants.

Austria became Washington's choice of a formula for the test case because one consequence of German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's present visit is the conviction in the Dulles that West Germany is not ripe for political union with Communist East Germany. That union of the two halves of Germany would, necessarily, be a condition of any agreement we might reach with Communist Russia.

Austria became our formula, too, because of the multiple advantages of writing a peace treaty with Vienna. If the Soviets agreed to peace with Austria, they would have to pull the Russian Red Army troops out of Hungary and Rumania as well as out of Austria. The right to keep Russian troops in those two satellite countries rests on a Big Four agreement that they might occupy those two countries to protect Russian lines of communication with Vienna. Once the occupation of Vienna ends, those lines of communication will no longer be needed and the protecting troops can and should be recalled.

Moscow may pretend to have the separate agreements with Budapest and Bucharest whereby her Red Army can stay in those Communist dominions. The only agreement the United States is prepared to recognize is the one about Austria. That in view of Russia would have to consent to the evacuation of the two Balkan countries. That in view of Tito's Yugoslav alliance with the West, would prove a very great tactical disadvantage for the Communists.

It is evident from cabled reports of Soviet April 10 that the four-power Allied Control Council, which governs Austria, and of Moscow is feeling peace and is making noises like a dove, the Russian General in Vienna have not heard about it. The Austrian post office refused to make a teletype connection between two towns in the United States and Soviet Russia.

This prompted Sir Harold Caccia, the British High Commissioner, to recall the recent statement of Soviet United Nations delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky about the East and West digging a tunnel of friendship from behind "so that we may meet earlier." Sir Harold said he regretted that apparently General Sviridov does not intend to dig a tunnel of friendship in Austria.

Russia As "Neutral"

It became apparent this week when Peiping's radio reiterated Red China's demand that it any armistice settlement in Korea, prisoners who refuse to go home must be regarded as "neutral" and treated as a "neutral" country, that there is little real hope of a Korean peace. Peiping felt it is known that Red Russia was the only "neutral" country to which she would agree.

Without writing of Korea as a field of negotiation, the Eisenhower administration looked over the other points of dispute, and came up with either Austria or Germany as the best theatre of operations to test the Communist's real intentions.

Had Adenauer been willing, Germany undoubtedly would have been our choice. The State Department shies away from any Korean settlement under Pe-

German troops for the European

The two governments agreed to negotiate a new treaty of friendship, commerce and consular rights and to revive a similar 19-year-old pact until a new agreement could be drafted.

The two governments also signed notes designed to foster closer cultural cooperation between the countries and particularly in the fields of intellectual, artistic, research, and social activities.

It also was agreed that some 300 German prisoners of war who were taken to the Soviet zone of occupation should be returned to the German Federal Republic.

German plea for a chance to hold free elections in the Soviet zone of occupation was not met. United States officers procured contracts such as are awarded North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries was not met with the assurance that Bonn would be eligible for such help after the European Defense Community treaties had entered into force.

Besides these concrete results of the talks lies a wealth of mutual exchanges of views. For exclusion to the Saar problem that both agreed that the Soviet zone should not pass up any chance to test Moscow's peace feelings. It must never relax its vigilance nor trim its efforts to strengthen and unify itself.

Both agreed that if Moscow wanted to use deeds instead of words to show its peaceful intentions, it could allow genuinely free elections in the Soviet zone of Germany and also release the several hundred thousand German war prisoners still in Soviet hands.

Both agreed that the Germans and French must find an early solution to the Saar problem that embitters Franco-German relations.

Both agreed that West Berlin must be supported and aided economically and industrially if it is to continue a strong western outpost in a Soviet sea.

Both agreed that the German refugee problem has reached such proportions that it will take some outside help, presumably Mutual Security Agency funds, to meet it.

Both agreed that they should cooperate in controlling the movement of strategic materials to Iron Curtain countries, particularly Communist China.

But more important than any of the agreements that were reached during these busy three days of talks was the basic common identity of views and objectives attained by the Chancellor and President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The British, the French, and now the Germans have been in Washington to make contact with the new American Government and to lay the foundations for future cooperation and agreements. The German Chancellor genuinely impressed everyone in Washington with his grasp of the Soviet menace, his determination to side and cooperate with the West, and his perspective of America's global responsibilities.

Beck's Television Column

Many people can not understand why a small 6 tube radio works for years and years without giving any trouble, while TV sets need much more frequent repairs.

If you would look underneath the chassis of these small radio sets you would see 3 or 4 condensers, a couple of resistors and 3 coils. On top of the chassis you will see 4 or 5 tubes, that is all there is to a small radio. Surely there is not much to go bad, there are only a few parts. Now look underneath a TV chassis. You will see a conglomeration of hundreds of parts, condensers, resistors, trimmers, coils, sockets etc., altogether about 200 parts. On top of the chassis you will see from 20 to 30 tubes, a dozen or more transformers of various kinds and around 20 trimmers. If anyone of the parts or tubes is defective it will show up in the performance of the set. It is easy to see that a set with 600 parts contains that many more potential troublemakers than a set like the small radio with only 10 parts. It has to be mentioned that everything is much more critical to those high frequencies at which TV operates, not to speak of the very high voltages used in TV. There are about 15,000 volts in a TV set with a 20" picture tube. The highest voltage in those small radios is about 150 V. A TV set is a very complicated piece of apparatus, as many homestead mechanics have found out. A good TV mechanic has to study at least 2 years and it takes at least 2 more to accumulate the practical experience absolutely necessary to do a proper repair. One has to follow new developments and attend frequent refresher courses to keep up to date. A good television man is indeed a highly skilled technician who commands a good salary commensurate with his knowledge and skill.

PTA EXHIBITS OWN ART WORK

Parents Emulate Efforts Of Children With Art Materials;
Officers Nominations Are Held

Inspired by the excellent art work of their children, the parents of the School No. 8 PTA produced many fine artistic pieces at the "Parents Go-To-School" Night held recently at the school. Boys and girls of grades one through eight, with their teachers, demonstrated the many techniques learned in their everyday art classes, and then the attending parents went to work with the same materials. Their efforts, as well as those of the children, were shown later in the evening by means of the unique projector, with commentary by Mrs. Nora de Leuw, art supervisor and general chairman for the evening.

At the business meeting, Gary Vanderbilt, president, read the list of officers nominated for the coming year and presented by the Nominating Committee. Mrs. Thomas Conley and Mrs. Anthony Priolo, co-chairmen. Those nominated were Mrs. Alex Gilchrist, president; Mrs. Joseph Becker, vice president; Miss Yvonne Broadbent, second vice president; Miss Eleanor Walsh, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Rowe, treasurer.

Election of officers will be held at the April 27 meeting, at which time the group will present their annual Variety Show.

STUDENT TEACHER

Mrs. Marion Munley, a student teacher from the Montclair State Teachers College, began her practice work at Passaic Avenue School on Monday under Miss Marie Forjone of grade 4A. She will remain until April 29th. The children of the class welcomed Mrs. Munley with a large bouquet of gladioli, jonquils and crocuses.

In Selecting Your Governor, be Sure You Vote for
FOR THE JOB!

In reaching your decision in this gubernatorial campaign, you must satisfy yourself on two important questions. First, is he qualified to handle the job? Second, how does the candidate stand on the issues? On both questions, there just isn't any comparison between PAUL L. TROAST and any of the other candidates in the field.

Paul L. Troast is a man who gets things done. A self-made, successful businessman, guiding genius of such great projects as the Passaic Valley Water Commission and the New Jersey Turnpike, he obviously has the mature judgment, the executive ability, and the all-round experience which our next Governor must possess.

Paul L. Troast is a man with a plan. His able exposition of objectives on every one of the major issues of this campaign proves that. His firm stand against corruption . . . his sound thinking on financial matters . . . his recognition of such needs as increased school aid . . . his plans for a comprehensive program of public works . . . add up to efficient, honest, able government.

Paul L. Troast is a good citizen. In the truest sense of the word, he is a humanitarian. As state chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Crusade for Freedom, as the long-time leader of hospital drives, Red Cross campaigns, and Community Chest work, he is your kind of man . . . a good neighbor.

Compare these qualifications with the record of any other candidate . . . and, beyond a shadow of a doubt, you will vote for PAUL L. TROAST!
