So What?

A young bride will probably be disappointed at not finding her charming countenance in the Times-News this week. A beautiful picture of the young lady in question, attired in a regal wedding gown, arrived at our office early this week sans name, address or story. Sleuths that we are, we decided to track her down by calling the photographer who sent the picture—until, we noted that his studio happens to be in North Carolina. Thereby ends the tale.

Frank Bowman of Newark reported to the Belleville police on Saturday that he had parked and locked his meat truck in the Shell Gasoline Service Station at 730 Belleville Avenue on Friday night. On Saturday when he opened the truck he found there had been a fire inside the truck. Investigation revealed that there had been a fire alright, but the heat had melted some of the parts inside of the truck and the resulting water had doused the flames. No damage was done.

Richard Rothwell, 17, of 29 Parkway Avenue, driving a 1948 Ford in Holmes Street on Saturday evening, jumped the curb and knocked off some of the brickwork on the front steps of the new Pentacore at the corner of Holmes Street and Hornblower Avenue.

Legionnaires of Belleville Post 105 and Carbat Post 299 have started a house to house canvass for funds for the renovation of the American Legion Hospital in North Newark. The Legionnaires have been hospitalized at the Legion Hospital.

NEW LAY GROUP WILL ORGANIZE HERE TUESDAY

John Boyd Selected As Acting Chairman; Holdovers And Mrs. Willette Are Nominees

Belleville's new Lay Advisory Committee met Monday night with members of the Board of Education. After hearing a report by Eugene J. Kelly, president of the Board of Education, on the committee's functions and term of office, agreed to meet on Tuesday, for formal organization. John Boyd, a holdover from the original committee, acted as temporary chairman. Twenty-two out of the 28 members of the new committee were present. The committee was represented by all but Raymond McCann.

Raymond McCann, president of the new Lay Committee full co-operation of the board and in return asked for suggestions from the committee members. He pointed out that members' terms would run concurrently with the Board of Education. The eight holdover members plus Mrs. Lenore Willette, representing the feminine members of the committee, are acting as a nominating group to present a slate of permanent officers at the next meeting.

Post Office Makes Survey May Restore Full Service

Modernization Plans Include Study Also Use Of Helicopters Instead Of Trains To Speed Up Transport of Mails; Similar Survey By Private Groups

In keeping with a promise by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield to bring postal operations to maximum efficiency as rapidly as possible and, eventually, to restore twice-a-day mail deliveries, two postal inspectors began a survey here and throughout the Newark postal district this week. They are studying mail collection and delivery here and a decision to resume later box collections is a first consequence.

The survey by the department's own inspectors parallels a similar survey now in progress in the whole metropolitan area by a private survey group hired by Summerfield. In Washington, Summerfield warned, now, the operations of the Post Office department continued to cost the taxpayers about $2,000,000 a day over and above its cost from the sale of stamps.

The first noticeable effect in Newark has been the change of times of final collection hours on the town's mail boxes. Hitherto, since the economy orders of former Postmaster General Charles M. Donahoe went into effect nearly three years ago, the boxes displayed notices that the final collection from boxes here was at 6 p.m.

Actually the final collection took place as late as 8 p.m. on certain days. The collection, coming from the two ways is diverting

4 IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS GET NOD FROM COMMISSION

Third River Flood Relief; New Chestnut Street Pavement; Widening of Tappan Avenue

Ordinances will be introduced at the next meeting of the Board of Commissioners, May 12, for four improvement projects costing $52,000. Included was the widening and deepening of the Third River from the end of the Forest Hill Field Club property to the Joralemon Street Bridge, and from the Lobnitz dam to the Nutley Town line, according to specifications laid down by the Water Policy Commission. Another project is the improvement of Chestnut Street from Passaic to Franklin Avenue and the widening of Tappan Avenue from Washington Avenue to Floyd Street to 30 feet were agreed upon at the conference of the Commissioners, prior to the public meeting.

Commissioner Waters outlined the improvement of Chestnut Street as a project tied in with the 100 building development of the Tully House Company, with Stephen Dinnick of that concern standing the expense of the installation of a storm sewer and the town paying for the widening, curbing and paving of Chestnut Street, and the improvement of portions of Latham and Wilbur streets. The estimated cost of these improvements will be $39,000 and will be undertaken as a general improvement.

Agree To Installation
It was also agreed to bring in an ordinance for the installation of a storm sewer at Greystock Avenue, to eliminate the storm problem which was brought to the Commission's attention by an attorney for the Garden State Wholesale Grocery Company, in that vicinity. The project will cost about $2,000.

Another recommendation was to widen Tappan Avenue from Washington Avenue to Floyd Street, where it is now 26 feet wide, to 30 feet wide, to conform to the width of the rest of the street. The widening will take place where the DeWitt Savings & Loan Association will soon erect a new building.

Town Engineer Mathew Sheehan reported that the cost of the improvement of the Third River would be from $8,000 to $9,000, and would include blowing out of the Lobnitz dam, and blowing up a shale bottom at one point along the stream. The stream would be widened to 40 feet with earthen banks on one or both sides.

Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan reported that the Town had authority to make the improvement but no obligation to do so.

McCann Gives His Version Of Meeting Cited Last Week

Says His Role Was Misrepresented; Says Kelly Is Doing Things He Is Accused Of Advocating; Cites 3 Actions Where Minority Was Not Consulted

Raymond McCann, Board of Education member who was criticized at last week's Board of Education meeting for his version of the meeting held in January 1951 at Mayor Tully's house to the Belleville Times-News. Mr. McCann declares that he received his invitation from Mayor Tully, through Jack Hudson, and after Mr. Hudson had arranged the appearance of the board members, Mr. Tully excluded him from the meeting. Mr. Hudson, incidentally was not Mr. McCann's campaign manager, although he worked in his behalf. Mr. McCann's campaign manager was Al Kleiner. Mr. McCann was not present at last week's meeting to defend himself.

Mr. McCann said his role at the meeting has been misrepresented. If he had called the meeting it would have been at his house. He declared that Mayor Tully took on the responsibility as he desired, and said that otherwise he did not intend to tell the board how to conduct its business. According to Mr. McCann, "Mayor Tully wanted me to go along with Mr. Kelly as president of the board or, in the opinion of Max Schwartz as board attorney, to allow Mayor Tully to name the architect for the new school."

Wound Talk Responsibility
"My reply to this was, that the control of the board of education belonged to its members," Mr. McCann declared. "If no one else would take on the responsibility I would do it. But I never solicited a vote from any member of the board to be president, vice president or to hold any particular committee."

"The very things that Mr. Kelly wanted me to do, I refused to do. I refused to control the board with three votes without consulting the other two members, has been carried out by him since the organization meeting of the Board in 1952."

Three examples of this was the vote at the organization meeting, when without prior notice, Mr. Kelly and the three members voted for a single unit administration, an action which, according to Mr. McCann, was not proper. Secondly, the board ap-

Falls Out Third Floor Window, Lands On Feet, Breaks Ankles

F. N. Gardner, 68, of 70 Overlook Avenue is in the American Legion Hospital in North Newark, with fractures of both ankles and her pelvis, as a result of a fall out of a third-story window of her home on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Gardner was sliding a bedspread out of the window, when she lost her grip, and in an effort to catch the cloth, leaned too far out of the window and fell about 30 feet to a concrete pavement in the driveway. She landed on both feet, which probably saved her life. She was fully conscious when Firemen Thalheimer and Potas arrived with the Town Ambulance. They took her to the American Legion Hospital at the direction of her physician, Dr. Robert Underwood.

Parking Lot Plan Passes On First Reading But Faces A Contest At Next Meeting

Mayor Tully's Plan for 100 Car Lot Near Town Hall Runs Into Opposition From Commissioner Waters And Two Members of Town Meeting Audience

The ordinance to set up an off-street parking area in the vicinity of the Town Hall, passed first reading at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners, Tuesday night but faces tough sledding at the meeting on May 12, due to opposition from Commissioner Patrick A. Waters who was joined by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde in a statement, that they reserved the right to vote against the ordinance on second reading. The measure sponsored by Mayor James J. Tully, needs the affirmative vote of at least four of the five commissioners, for passage.

Mayor Tully broached the idea of the parking lot several months ago and was given approval to make a survey and report on the possibility of acquiring the land and the cost of the project. At these early discussions and up until two weeks ago there was no indication that opposition in the Commission would be forthcoming.

CO. COMMITTEES RE-ELECT ZOELLER, VARA AS CHAIRMEN

Republican Chairman Overcomes Opposition From Frank Bangert; New Secretaries

Rudolph P. Zoeller was re-elected chairman of the Republican County Committee, Monday night at a meeting in the Town Hall after a contest with Frank Bangert for the position. Clarence D. Vansickle who had backing for the position requested that Michael Dacey, acting chairman, allow him to withdraw from the race. After the balloting indicated that Zoeller was the winner over Bangert, Mr. Bangert moved that the election be unanimous.

Other officers selected were: Mrs. Ruth Frederick, vice chairman; Miss Mary Grace Hannon, secretary and Mrs. Jesse P. Rue, treasurer. There were no contests other than that of chairman.

The Democratic County Committee, which met at the same time in the Board of Adjustment room, elected a new secretary, Philip Lewson, to replace a member of the committee who has moved out of town. Ralph Vara was re-elected chairman for the fifth consecutive term. Mrs. Mae Mead-Zaza, vice chairman and Mrs. Alice Sprill, treasurer, were re-elected for their 14th consecutive terms. Health Department Fears Ed O'Connor On 25 Years

Members of the Health Department held a luncheon for Plumbing Inspector Edward O'Connor, in the City of Fidelity room of the Health Department. Mr. O'Connor was appointed to his position 25 years ago by William D. Clark, who was commissioner in charge of the health department in 1928. In addition to his 25 years of service, Mr. O'Connor has served as a member of the Master Plumbers Association for 25 years.

During the public meeting James R. Golden, said he considered Mr. O'Connor a parking problem, but it is a socialistic attitude for citizens to stand the cost of parking. Mr. Golden said that the benefit of chain stores, and then having the same people pay for the parking.

Mr. Golden suggested that the merchants themselves follow the example of the merchants of Philadelphia, Pa., and form a corporation to purchase parking lots. He suggested a lot at Belleville Avenue and Washington Street, the vacant property behind store along the south-west side of Washington Street.

Waters Insists Bog Was Not Favored in Columbia Report

Says His Outmoded Ideas Resulted In Building Of Municipal Stadium; Would Not Let Him Vote For Transfer Until He Could Define Boundaries

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters at the Board of Commissioners meeting Tuesday night in the Council Chambers of the Town Hall, read into the record a prepared statement in answer to charges by Eugene J. Kelly, Board of Education president, that Mr. Waters was behind the times in his thinking. The full text of Mr. Waters' remarks follows: "At the April 14 meeting of the Board of Commissioners, Max Schwartz, attorney for the Board of Education, presented a resolution of his board requesting transfer of certain properties in and adjoining the present municipal stadium from control of the Board of Commissioners to the Board of Education."

"At that time I argued for the new high school on Washington Avenue and the new stadium. After considerable discussion it was agreed that the Board of Education should meet to discuss our mutual problem. "Until this evening, no request had been made for such a meeting. Instead, in the April 24 issue of the Belleville Times-News, I am confronted with three articles pertaining to schools, necessity for schools and school sites."

The survey cites the use of adjacent playfields for recreational facilities and on page 13 states two locations which are recommended for a school building: "5.8 acres between Division Avenue and Joralemon Street. 2. An area of 1.5 acres between Division Avenue and Passaic Avenue that contains sufficient acreage for a high school."

Mr. Kelly does not have a copy of the same report that has been in my possession since October 1947, but I am sure where in that report can find a recommendation for the use of the stadium grounds as a site for a school building."

In recommending the change, Mr. Waters said he was opposed to public meetings where the gallery is packed with people with fixed ideas and sports are applauded or booed. "I have been through that many times, and nothing is ever accomplished," he declared. "We want to work out a problem. We do not want to put on a show."

Frederick Scott Ship Post Officers Discuss Remodeling

Quonset Hut Erected On Top Deck Will Provide Meeting Room; Entrance, Lawn And Parking Area Will Convert Eysore

Jay Suderley and George Cassidy, representing Frederick Scott Ship, Veterans of Foreign Wars, met with members of the Board of Commissioners on Monday afternoon to outline plans for converting the landing ship parked at the foot of Little Street, from an eyre to a meeting place, through filling in around the hull and the erection of a Quonset on the deck to provide a meeting room.

Both members of the Scott Ship Post described the ship as a headcase from the time they received custody from the United States Navy after World War II. They said they would prefer to salvage the hull and the rest of its contents, and to build a land based clubhouse, but the government is unwilling to give an use to the hull unless it is dismantled. Besides a meeting place on the top deck, two compartments on the lower deck will be used for Post activities. The Bow doors will be permanently opened, and a new entrance will be provided. A trench around the ship will be filled in and grass plots and parking area provided.

Commissioner Joseph King commented that any improvement would be welcome. Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan expressed the opinion that from a safety standpoint, the ship should be dismantled and the hull used for a meeting room. Since the original plan was to use the ship as a clubhouse, it was decided to use the hull as a meeting room. Since the original plan was to use the ship as a clubhouse, it was decided to use the hull as a meeting room.

Students proposed the program as a means of providing clean and wholesome recreation and preventing juvenile delinquency.

Tonight's program will be the beginning of a series of Friday night social events at the school for students of the two upper grades. PTA had planned to put the program into effect next term. However, because the 8th grade students had been so interested in the idea, according to William Chapman, school principal, it was decided that they should enjoy some of the fruits of their labor before their graduation.

COLUMBIA PROF. TO DEMONSTRATE TEACHING OF MATH

Dr. Howard F. Fehr, outstanding authority in mathematics from Teachers College, Columbia University, will give grades seven through twelve of the Belleville Public School System on Monday.

The editor of the 23rd Yearbook, National Council of Mathematics Teachers, Dr. Fehr will demonstrate teaching in mathematics and will meet after school with the teachers in grades 7-12 from all schools of the system.

He formerly met with the Belleville Teachers Workshop on mathematics last month in the Faculty Dining Room of Belleville High School. On that day Dr. Fehr spent his time visiting the classrooms of mathematics and discussed with the teachers consideration has been given to the second area.

Mr. Kelly also speaks of the traffic hazards along Washington Avenue at the site recommended for consideration. Mr. Kelly, on this point, failed to consider the Columbia report which also recommended the conversion of the present high school building into a junior high school upon construction of a new high school building. The traffic hazards would certainly be greater to younger children in the high school building. Mr. Kelly did not understand the attitude of the Board of Education regarding the construction of the proposed building. The recommendation for new school facilities was made over 2 1/2 years ago and that length of time, outmoded ideas must give way to modern progressive thinking.

"If the Board of Education has been thinking progressively for the last thirty months I certainly hope that it is not doing so."

"I might also point out to Mr. Kelly that my outmoded ideas and plans provided, as far back as twenty years ago, and largely through use of Federal funds, the stadium and recreation field that is known as the Belleville Municipal Stadium today."

Also, my outmoded ideas also provided for drainage of that particular area, the construction of sanitary sewers, and the fact that in any other area there would not be such a large area of water as in the Nutley town line, it then becomes Nutley's responsibility.

"I find that the resolution presented to the Board of Commissioners by Mr. Schwartz is not transfer of a building site but for proper planning and skidding the backstop in the baseball field, part of the road through the stadium grounds and via sewerage, covering an area as far east as Forest Street. All of these factors are the responsibility of the town when planning for a building."

"There has never been any question in my mind as to interference on my part concerning the extension or the need for greater educational facilities. The feasibility of constructing a high school building on the site proposed by the Board of Education, although not recommended by the Columbia survey, is indeed of great importance to every citizen and taxpayer in the town."

"When we vote for such a building, we will be mortgaging part of our income for periods of thirty to forty years and I say that although my ideas may be outmoded a meeting of the Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education prior to the introduction of such a resolution as presented by Mr. Schwartz would have gone a long way toward clearing the air on a highly controversial matter."

The Commission has favored the filling in around the ship for a long time. Mr. James J. Tully summed up the meeting by saying that it was agreed to leave the matter to the discretion of the Building Inspector, Thomas Greco, as to the soundness of the plans, and to Town Attorney George Keenan, to protect the town's interest, since the property where the ship is docked belongs to the town, and like the ship, title has not been transferred to the Post-Commissioner Elmer S. Post officers had taken the proper course in talking over their problems with the Commissioners.

Company of 37 Rutgers Street and Henry W. Hartman of the Stalling Vending Company of 21 Joralemon Street told the commission that there had been some misunderstanding as to one clause of the ordinance, fixing license fees. Mr. Bowen said it was his understanding at the last meeting he held with Commissioner King and Health Officer Eugene Berry, that in addition to a license for machine distributors, a fee would be required for each location. The ordinance sets the fee on each machine. Mr. Bowen held that there is a difference between location and machine.

Dirt Removal Complaint Charles Gibbs of 140 Rutgers Street who complained at the last meeting about the removal behind his house, said that while there was some improvement, the owner had not removed all of the objectionable features.

Karl Zimmer, the owner replied that he is moving as fast as he can. "And that is a hell of a pile of wood, believe me," he declared.

Mr. Zimmer said that he is a citizen, property owner and voter in the town of Belleville, he is doing everything in his power to improve the property and all he expects from his neighbors is a little respect. He said the going rate for dirt removal is $1 per yard and he moved 15,000 yards. He said that while it had been mentioned that parking lot would be a good use of his property, what he does with it is his business.

Mr. Zimmer says he knows more about what goes on there than any of the men in the neighborhood, because he spends all day there and half the night.

Posters Question Mayor Tully Asked Mr. Sheehan

If the town was in any way responsible for the flood conditions by its own actions, Mr. Sheehan replied that it could have stopped the problem from falling in on its property, which narrowed the channel, but its main contribution to the condition was the dumping of storm sewer water into the river, just as other municipalities along the line are doing. When the section adjacent to the stream was undeveloped it took days for most of the rainfall to reach the stream. Now with paved streets and storm sewers, the water gets there in a matter of minutes, so it doesn't take much of a storm to create a flood condition that did not exist a few years ago.

Belleville's Varsity Crew Shows Good Form Over Indians

Pulls Ahead on 39 Beat to Show Half Boat Length of Open Water; Nutley Scores Over Indian and Bellboy J-Vs

Belleville High's eight oared varsity crew, rowing with best form of the season with a half-length of open water over the Dartmouth Freshman Crew on Saturday at the Passaic River. In the preliminary races Nutley beat Dartmouth Freshman Varsity by a length and one half, and the Nutley Jayvees scooted to a length victory over the Dartmouth crew in a race of a previous dead heat. A crowd of nearly 300 watched at the finish line.

Rowing against the tide the Belleville varsity took an early lead. Dartmouth caught up at the half-way mark, but Belleville upped its stroke to 39 and spurred ahead near the finish line. Nutley came from behind to beat the second Dartmouth crew. In the local Junior Varsity race Nutley pulled a torrid 44 beat near the finish line and quipped out in front of Belleville in a single start.

Belleville came near tying an open race this week, when it dropped a 1 to 3 decision to Lyndhurst. In the final of the season, Belleville won in the fourth when a walk and singles by Fred Kraft and Paul Weinstein loaded the race. "Howie" Barrett, single, brought two home and Weinstein brought an overboard into left in an attempt to pick Barrett off. A walk, a single and an error gave Lyndhurst the deciding victory. More Than Just a Race

The crews of the Dartmouth squad arrived here Friday and were taken into local homes as guests for the week. The boys left to return to the campus, soon after the race, and most of them stayed on to make a week end at the Dartmouth Freshmen. Belleville High School is the host of the Dartmouth Freshmen for a long time, Hank Borowick and Frank Miller of Irvington, still up there.

The races will be run under the auspices of the Belleville Bicycle Club, starting on Norton Street, then into Greylock Parkway to Passaic Avenue, then to the Municipal Stadium. The course is just an even mile in length.

There will be two races by the Belleville Bicycle Club, a mile race for the boys over 14 years of age and one sprint race for the boys under 14. A series of events of the day will be a midge bike race run on tiny racing bikes. Then there will be three events which are Amateur Bicycle League of America sanctioned. No More Greater Newark Tourney

When the City of Newark acquired the old Ruppert house, we figured that one of the headaches which had been the committee for 20 years has sponsored the Newark Tournament had been solved. We envisioned a new tournament, patterned somewhat like the county basketball tournament, with double-headers leading up to a grand final, played in the best baseball surroundings available. We figured without the committee, which this week ended its purpose has been accomplished and that school baseball which was near the point where it was waning from the schoolboy scene, has been sufficiently so that the tournament is no longer necessary. The league and conference competition, in the opinion of the committee now provides sufficient incentive for all normal players.

Belleville has never done much in the Greater Newark tournament, but the recently formed Big Ten has just about equalized the competition and taken most of the titles in 20 years. Irvington was in seven finals and won five titles. Outside of the big ten, was in six tournaments and won four times. Bloomfield was in four finals and won three. The big ten was in three finals and won two. Each had two whacks at the title and lost each one. Belleville made the grade twice and was successful. Their teams who got up to the finals once are Barrington, Woodbridge, Trenton, Roselle Park, Caldwell, Rahway, Linden and Jefferson.

At least two of the players from the tournament made it in the big leagues for a long time, Hank Borowick and Frank Miller of Irvington, still up there.

Rod "N" Reel Club Outing

Members of the Roche Rod "N" Reel Club and employees of Hoffman LaRoche of Nutley made their first fishing trip of the year over the week end. The trip was made by Avon, where the men boarded the Marie S., with Captain Ziegler at the helm. After a wet and dreary day, looking for mackerel, without success, the boat returned for the weeks where members of the party took fish and ling, with a few whiting. The largest fish was won by Dr. Jarnpolski of the research staff of the His prize winning fish weighed five pounds. Adam Bell of 689 Mill Street was among the local men taking part in the activities.

Walk For Palsy Fund

Marty Restaino and James Catalano, two Belleville letter carriers are chairman of the postman's walk here on behalf of the 400,000 Cerebral Palsy building fund, starting on May 30. On that day postmen, on their own time will be walking door-to-door to solicit contributions to the fund. Right now 1,500 letter carriers in Essex and West Hudson are trying their hand at writing slogans for the "walk". The letter-carrier walk will spark the May campaign, which seeks $300,000 for construction of a modern school and treatment center for cerebral palsy sufferers, and $100,000 to equip, staff and maintain it for two years. The center, to be erected in a suburban location, will replace the present inadequate facilities in the basement of Summer Avenue School, Newark.

Gray Lady Thanks Group $70 Donation To Children Ward Of Isolation Hosp

A town wide council meeting of the Junior Red Cross was held April 29 in School Three. The speaker was Mrs. William J. Frisch, chairman of the Gray Ladies Service. Frisch thanked the Junior Red Cross for donating $70 of a fund to the children of the ward of the Essex County Isolation Hospital.

She told of the various activities of the ward and showed a display of what the children made. Mrs. Frisch also brought games and toys to the meeting, she had bought with the money donated by the Junior Red Cross to the children in the ward of the Essex County Isolation Hospital.

Letters of thanks were from the Veterans' Administration Hospital and from Lyons House for the holiday nut cups made for the grammar schools in Bell for St. Patrick's Day and St. Valentine's Day. Forty pounds candy were purchased by the Red Cross to fill these cups. Committee reports were given. A date was set for the next meeting. Representatives of school are to have a program ready on activities they completed for the Jr. Red during the year.

Zoeller Relays Troast Promise Of Bingo Referendum

GOP Nominee, In Joint Statement With Forbes, Sees Need For Assembly Action To Stage Vote

Rudolph Zoeller, reelected as Republican town chairman this week for the eighteenth successive year, announced last night that Paul F. Troast, of Clifton, GOP nominee for Governor in the November elections, had asked him to relay to local fraternal, charity and church groups his assurance that he will seek an early referendum, on a local option basis, on bingo.

"It is obvious that the state statute of 1888 governing gambling and lotteries was not aimed at bingo or at any other game of chance which is conducted solely for charity and without profit for any promoters," Zoeller quoted Troast as saying. "Unhappily, the decision of the county prosecutors to issue directives banning bingo leaves no alternative locally but to enforce the law. Only a referendum can change a situation which appears to many to be prejudiced and ridiculous."

Troast, having met this week with his Primary opponent, State Senator Malcolm Forbes, is moving to eliminate as many as possible of the controversial issues of the Primary campaign. Bingo appears, however, to be the subject of his first attention.

Re-elected town vice chairman at the same time that Kierstead was returned to his leader's role, was Mrs. Abbie W. Magee, when there should be a state-wide referendum on bingo in November; providing for local option, with thorough safeguards to prevent abuses; making certain it is confined to charitable purposes."

Robert B. Meyner, Democratic candidate for Governor maneuvered swiftly to counter the Republican effort to capitalize on a bingo referendum. Through Ralph Varr, town Democratic chairman, he let it be known that he, too, favored a plebiscite.

"The Republicans have stolen a plank from the Democrats' platform but so long as the people of New Jersey will benefit, we are willing to support a referendum even if it is the Republicans who introduce the bingo bill in the legislature," Crane quoted Meyner as saying.

HOLY FAMILY CYO TO BE ON RADIO

To Present Original Script Sunday In Competition For Awards To Be Heard Sunday Evening

CYO members from Holy Family will be heard broadcasting on the "Catholic Youth Presents" program over WAAT this Sunday at 6:05 p.m. They will be competing for the Archbishop Thomas Walsh Memorial Radio Awards on the weekly CYO series.

Rev. Anthony Benti will introduce the program, in which an original script will be presented. The narrative concerns the seven steps in the training of a priest, and is called "Ordinations." Local CYO members taking part will be Louise Zarillo, Diane Rusignolo, Patricia Smith, Roseann Asaro, Thomas Giangrelli, Joseph Gilchrist, and Robert Citrino, Jr. Each will speak briefly on one of the minor or major orders leading to the ordination of a priest. Interspersed with the descriptions will be selections by the Holy Family choir, a 12-member girls' vocal group under the direction of Sister Donata Maggipino, M.P.F.

The local CYO group will be competing with other parish units in the Archdiocese for the radio awards which are presented on the final broadcast in June. The winning parish is selected on the basis of listener write-in votes. Trophies are awarded the winner in each of three divisions, based on parish population. Christian Hentschel, Archdiocesan CYO radio consultant, also selects the Outstanding Performers during the year.

Essex County CYO To Sponsor Youth Rally For Peace

The annual Youth Rally for Peace sponsored by the Essex County CYO will be held on May 10, Mother's Day, at the Newark Schools Stadium. It was announced this week by Rev. John J. Kiley, CYO director.

The purpose of the rally, according to Father Kiley, will be to honor Our Lady of Fatima and to increase devotion to the rosary to help bring about the world peace. One of the highlights of the demonstration will be the rededication and crowning of the Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima, which has been on the grounds since it was originally blessed by the late Archbishop Walsh in 1948.

Legion Resumes Regular Schedule Of Paper Drives

Belleville Post American Legion will hold its regular monthly paper drive Sunday morning. Last month the drive was conducted on the second Sunday of the month because of Easter, but starting with this month, the drive goes back to the first Sunday of each month. Householders are requested to place paper at the curb. Trucks will leave Legion Headquarters at 9 o'clock. Proceeds from the paper drives are used to reduce the Post's debt on its new building. With Cleanup Week due to start the next day, Sunday's collection offers an excellent opportunity to help the Legion at the same time and rid his home of paper accumulation.

Post Resumes Parties

Youngster Alden Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars will resume its monthly "all-inclusive" party at the Vets Hall, Belleville Avenue on Saturday night. The Post which instigated the series of parties, which feature dancing, refreshments and community singing several years ago, called a temporary halt during the winter months, in anticipation of inclement weather.

Spell of Rain

The hawks sit hungry somewhere and their heads are sunk in their fierce shoulders, while the rain fences them in. The common little birds make tents of dripping leaves, they give no sound. Housebound are butterflies; bewildered hornets lie up in cracks, feeling the chilly air in their thin bodies. Even foxes stay in their root-latticed dens, and the house cats cling to the low-roofed shelter of the stoves. Such a spell doth rain weave.

You Can't Lose At Bingo

Bingo, apparently, is more popular with politicians after the Primary election than it was before.

It was obvious to the GOP gubernatorial candidate, Paul Troast, that there are enough people in New Jersey who do not consider bingo gambling or bingo-players big-time racketeers to sink any anti-bingo candidate. With bingo, you can't lose; you can only win. So Troast, this week, is all for bingo. Last week, or at least before the Primary poll, he felt that it was against his Republican principles to let the people decide for themselves whether or not they wanted to play bingo without breaking a law.

The Times-News contends that when the state legislature, in 1888, wrote the anti-gambling statute on the law books it did not have in mind the game of bingo. Rather, it was aiming at the slot-machines, the off-track betting, the dice games which flourished in those days.

It is only by a far-fetched decision of the state's prosecuting attorneys that bingo now is wrapped up with all the unsavory forms of gambling in a general ban. The decision is so ludicrous that in the state capital, the Trenton police have announced defiantly that they will not enforce the bingo ban. Nor will the police in Jersey City. Here in Essex County, the police have no choice; they have received a directive: "enforce the ban, or else..."

Both candidates for the Governorship, Frost and Robert Meyner favor a referendum. That will require a bingo bill in the state legislature and both parties favor it. If they favor it today, why did they wait this long? Why didn't they favor it last week, or last year?

Locally, bingo players are plentiful. None of them looks or acts like a big-time gambler. Most of them are housewives, devout church-goers. They like the excitement of bingo and they know that all the profits go into the sorely needed building funds for church or school. No promoter takes his cut out of it.

A referendum makes sense, but it should be an honest referendum devoid of any bigotry or bitterness. If betting on the horses can be made legal in New Jersey, so, too, surely, can bingo. R.E.H.

What Price Treachery?

Somewhat or other, that $100,000 offer which the UN high command in Korea has made for the first Communist fighter who brings a new Mig, intact, to an airfield on our side of the line, rangles in our breast. We don't like it. Treason is treason, no matter how well paid.

It is no secret that the newest model Migs are better than our own jets. It would be quite useful to get our hands on one, to be able to dissect it and find out what makes it tick better than ours. The sporting way to get one is to shoot it down because in any battle in the air the risks are two-way risks.

The obvious explanation for the cash offer to buy a Mig-15, "F.O.B. Seoul", is psychological. It is a phase of the war of nerves. But suppose it backfires? Suppose there are no more Russian or Chinese Communist jet pilots who would sell out to their enemy than there are American fliers who would heed such a bid for treason? Is there not a risk that our enemy, adept at psychological warfare, might turn our strategy against us? Already they call Uncle Sam, Uncle Shlyock. They are sure to say that by throwing dollars around we are trying to win with "silver bullets" a war that we have not been able to win in three years on the battlefields of Korea.

And in a sense, in our opinion, they are not wholly wrong. R.E.H.

One Man's Opinion

Laos Might Be a Prelude to World War III or it May be, as Eisenhower Appears to Believe, a Final Act of Desperation by Communism

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

The center of gravity in the world struggle against Communism is, today, not Korea, but Indo-China. It sounds even more remote than Korea, but the three-years war in Korea has been a skirmish in comparison to the battle that is shaping up in Indo-China. Unless the French can throw back the Communist challenge in Laos where, this week, a hot war was in progress, the rich French colony may well become the battleground for the prelude to World War III.

Geographically and economically, Indo-China is a rich prize. A glance at the map will show that, in Communist hands, it could be a springboard to Southeast Asia. Indo-China, a land of nearly 24 million people, is really a coalition under French rule of the Kingdom of Laos, the French colony of Cochinchina and the protectorates of Annam, Cambodia and Tonkin. It borders on Burma and on Thailand, old Siam. It has, also, a wide-open frontier with Communist China, along the northern borders of Tonkin. Annam is the long state which fronts on the China Sea. Cochinchina is the southern-most tip. Cambodia lies to the west, along the frontier of Siam. The Kingdom of Laos, which is now coveted by the Chinese Communists lies in the northwest corner with common frontiers with both Burma and China.

Among the many wars which I covered for United Press was one between Thailand and the French in Cambodia during which the Siam penetrated as far as Battambang before the French could mobilize enough strength to halt them and negotiate a peace. Negotiations dragged out and, finally, it was Japan, by then a conqueror who imposed a peace by which the Vichy-French had to surrender several provinces of Cambodia and southern Laos to Thailand. In payment for her role as peace-maker, a peace which cost Vichy a pretty penny, Japan demanded the right to establish six bases in Indo-China and it was from those bases that the Japs attacked and conquered Malaya, the great British naval base of Singapore and Thailand.

Peiping's Red Hand France has had her hands full in Indo-China since more than 20 years. I was in Paris, in 1930, when the first Communist revolution occurred in Annam, at Yeghai. It was suppressed but Communism was introduced into Indo-China by the battle of nationalism and freedom. There is no doubt that the Vichy-French Communists are loyal to the Kremlin, but their loyalty to Moscow runs through Peiping. Red China is the immediate neighbor, even if Malenkov is the distant idol. Red China furnishes the arms and ammunition, perhaps the staff officers and the technicians to fight the French.

When President Rene Mayer came to Washington about a month ago, he brought advance notice to General Eisenhower of an imminent Communist attack, but he never suspected it would be backwards against Laos. He was promised American aid; it is doubtful if he received much real help before four Viet Minh Communist divisions smashed, last week, at Laos.

Taft vs. Dulles Senator Robert A. Taft demanded the settlement of all of the issues of Asia, including as well as Korea—"in one bite." Secretary of State John Foster Dulles took issue with China, and said that he no intention of lumping Indo-China with Korea in the same negotiations. He wants to settle Korea first and then take up Indo-China.

In this atmosphere of frustration, General Douglas MacArthur chose to break his self-imposed silence and demand, once again, that we launch Communist China to destroy "its flimsy industrial bases and sever its tenuous supply lines from the Soviet Union." The general contended that this would be the sure way of getting a Korean truce and that it could be done without danger of Soviet intervention and World War III.

But President Eisenhower and his staff officers and the technicians to fight the French. When President Rene Mayer came to Washington about a month ago, he brought advance notice to General Eisenhower of an imminent Communist attack, but he never suspected it would be backwards against Laos. He was promised American aid; it is doubtful if he received much real help before four Viet Minh Communist divisions smashed, last week, at Laos.

munist troops into Laos was recognized by all western strategists as a potentially most dangerous development, but one which still provides no basis for long deductions. As they incline to see the matter at this early stage, it may represent not a new Moscow-planned aggression, but rather a desperate effort by Ho Chi Minh, Communist leader in Indo-China, to find a compensation for his failure to achieve his first objective.

The first Communist objective in Indo-China has long been the elimination of the French defense perimeter around Hanoi and the Red River delta. The Communists have assaulted this repeatedly and been beaten back each time. The defenses are too strong for them, and growing stronger.

Now they have gone off into the remote inner mountains of Laos, where they appear unlikely to achieve anything more substantial than a possible prestige victory. And they may not even be able to win that. The answer will be on the battlefield, and the battle is just beginning. Military strategists want another two weeks before assessing the success or failure of the Communist undertaking.

Ho Chi Minh is credited with some sagacity in picking Laos for his spring campaign. Laos is a kingdom, but still a part of the French Union, and, until this week, was administratively part of Indo-China.

Thus when Communist Viet Nam rebels moved into Laos, they were not invading another country, but merely spreading the civil war in Indo-China from one province to another. The invasion could not be considered an act of international aggression unless Laos had been recognized in advance as a sovereign and independent state, which was not the case.

Relatedly, the French moved last week to give Laos that status.

There also is a possibility that the French command in Hanoi will be able to gain an advantage from the diversion of four Viet Minh divisions into Laos. This might be an opportune moment for the French to take the initiative and attack part of Ho's divisions.

Thus against a background of soft talk from Moscow and conciliatory action in Korea, Communist forces are on the move in what is probably the most important Viet Minh undertaking in their seven-year struggle to drive out the French. Their target—control of the remote, mountainous Kingdom of Laos.

The current offensive was opened April 15. On that day the Viet Minh radio announced the attackers' intention of fomenting rebellions in both Laos and Cambodia and Laos' and Cambodia and Laos' the radio announcement.

As far as can be learned from firsthand reports the Viet Minh offensive caught the French off guard, for the sake of the immediate danger of drenching monsoon rains it was believed the Communists were preparing to attack in a different direction.

For weeks it was known in

There had been stirrings of nationalist, coupled with a growing desire to be rid of the French in prewar years, but it was not until the Japanese raised their standard against the white man in Asia that these sentiments were given purpose.

The "Free Laos" movement was initiated during the war years under the leadership of Prince Souphanna Vong, a young French-educated engineer. This movement was never strongly influenced by Communists, but in February 1951, when the whole structure of the Viet Minh was reorganized, Prince Souphanna joined forces with the Communists.

He had to overcome some opposition from his Loutian followers to achieve this coalition, but his critics were silenced by the type of reasoning common throughout Indo-China today: "The French must be driven out at all costs. If we have to become French-ruled, we will then we shall become Communists."

Beck's Television Column

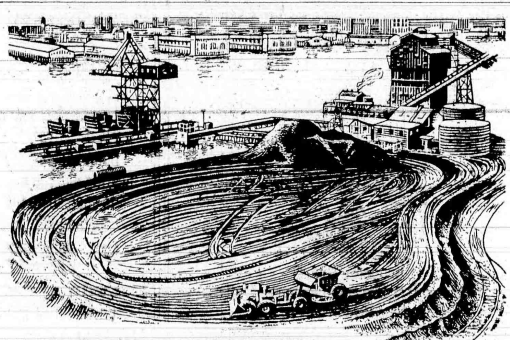

A man came to the store on Saturday—for the fifth time this week—with a tube which he wanted to have tested. He muttered something to himself like "this must be it, it could not be anything else" or something along similar lines. We asked him what he meant and he told us that he repaired his set by his book. He had the ad for the book which reads as follows:

... every time your set begins to flicker or jump or becomes distorted or dissolved into lines or zags ... every time you are annoyed by ghosts, snow or weak channel reception, the TV owners self repair book shows you how to effect a quick 15 minute repair job that eliminates these faults and restores the set to perfect, movie clear reception.

And here at Beck's, like fools, went 3 years to schools, one fellow even went to college, wasting our time studying mathematics and electronics. We subscribe to magazines, go to advanced study courses, attend manufacturers' lectures about latest designs, buy thousands of dollars worth of test equipment, all of this to keep your TV set in good repair. And all of this a waste of time and money, we should have bought a book for $1.98 and knew all the answers, as easy as that.

The man mentioned above incidentally brought his set to the shop, after he had bought 11 tubes for $28.60, neither of which he needed. There was a shorted condenser in his set (which the book did not tell him). The repair cost him $4.80.

THE STOCKPILE

BEHIND YOUR GAS SERVICE

When you open the valve to turn on the burner on your gas range, you expect the gas flame to follow your action immediately ... and it does.

But think for a moment about what lies behind this service. Think of all the vast supplies of materials which are necessary to operate and maintain a gas system as large as the one which Public Service operates as a service to you.

Take coal, for example. It is necessary for us to keep the equivalent of 60 days' needs on hand at all times to insure continuity of service. In other words, we must maintain a 100,000-ton coal pile to care for emergencies beyond our control. We must also have 50,000 tons of coke in reserve for the same reason.

There are thousands of other items which we must keep in stock ... including metals, pipe of all sizes, fittings of all kinds, and many other pieces of vital equipment.

Maintaining this stockpile ties up huge sums of money but it is one of Public Service's responsibilities in insuring you the dependable, adequate gas service which you desire.

Discuss Prospects Of Proposed U.S. - Russian Track Meet

U.S.-RUSSIAN MEET DISCUSSED BEFORE ROTARY MEMBERS

Andy Stanfield And Dan Ferris Tell About Problems That Must Be Hurdled Before Such Meet

More than 200 Rotarians from five local clubs at a luncheon held last Thursday afternoon at Westminster Church's Jarvie Hall, Bloomfield, heard Olympic sprint champion Andy Stanfield and AAU official Dan Ferris tell about prospects of holding a track meet in this country between Russia and the United States.

The luncheon was sponsored by the Clubs of Rutherford, Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield and North Arlington. Toastmaster for the afternoon program was Oscar Katz, president of the host Bloomfield club. Responsible for arranging the entire program and starting the movement for getting the two countries together on the cinders was G. R. B. Symonds, of 39 Wayne Place.

After listening to Stanfield tell about his experiences at the Olympic games at Helsinki and explain the problems that must be hurdled in order to hold such an inter-country meet, Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU since 1928, explained to the members just what the AAU does for amateur sports.

J. Wesley Tillou, Governor-elect of the 269th Rotary District, at the conclusion of the talks given by Stanfield and Ferris, told the more than 200 members present that he hopes a major step in the right direction can be taken when Rotary International holds their annual convention next month at Paris.

Belleville Scout Membership Jumps To 4th Place With 800

For the first time in history, the membership of Belleville's Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Units has now reached a total of 800. For a long time sixth in total membership in the Robert Treat Council's 7 Districts, Belleville is now in fourth place exceeded only by Irvington, North End and Weequahic Districts which are all far larger in total population.

F. Douglas Wadsworth, District Commissioner, and Charles M. Nutt, District Chairman, say that the gratifying increase in Scouts is due to the fine cooperative work of Committees, the Commissioner Staff and all the Leaders who work so faithfully with the Cubs, Scouts and Explorers in Packs, Troops and Ships. According to them, it is conceivable that in two or three years 1,000 boys will be enrolled.

BEST CHANCE FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS TO TAKE EXAMS

Local Youths To Be Considered For Draft Deferment To Be Given Test, Says Colonel

Local youths attending college were informed today by Colonel Donald A. MacGrath, State Director of Selective Service, that the last Selective Service College

Qualification Test to be given this school year will be on May 21. The May 21 test will be given primarily for students prevented by illness or other emergencies from taking the test April 23, but he emphasized that this did not bar any qualified student from taking the test if his application is mailed before the deadline. Applications for the May 21 test must be submitted no later than midnight, May 11. Colonel MacGrath stressed that students who have in the past failed to use on the assigned date must submit new applications if they wish to take the May 21 test. "The old certificate will not admit students to the May 21 test." A student may obtain a new application from any Selective Service local board. "It is not necessary to obtain the application from the student's own local board." The application blank should be sent in as soon as possible to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J. Administrators of the Test, who in turn, will mail the admission certificate direct to the student. The ninth Selective Service test, April 23, was given to approximately 48,095 students. This raises the total number of students tested since May 26, 1935, Colonel MacGrath said, to approximately 481,480. Of this number approximately 62 percent have achieved a score of 70 or better. To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test, an applicant on the testing date (1) must be a Selective Service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student; (2) must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree; (3) must not previously have taken the test. The criteria for consideration for deferment as a student at the present time are either a score of 70 or better on the Selective Service College Qualification Test or class standing among the male members in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class, or under three-fourths of the junior class. Seniors accepted for admission to a graduate school satisfy the criteria if they are among the upper half of the male members of their senior class or if they make a score of 75 or better. These criteria are guides for the local boards. The local boards are not under compulsion to follow them, but any local board classification is subject to appeal. The appeal must be filed in writing with the local board within ten days of the date the local board makes the notice of A classification.
