PAT WATERS HEADS RELIEF FOR KOREA CLOTHING DRIVE

Campaign Here Week of June 1 Will Be Climaxed On June 7 By Commissioner

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, Director Department of Public Works, was appointed chairman of the American Relief for Korea by John H. Rothrock, General Chairman of Essex County. American Relief for Korea is a campaign organization for the collection of relief clothing supplies and surplus as a channel through which these supplies can reach the destitute civilians in Korea. To obtain these supplies organized collections must be made throughout the country on as broad a basis as possible, involving all social, religious, business and labor groups in their community campaigns.

The need for clothing in Korea increases with each day of war. The Koreans are a courageous and industrious people and are at work constantly rebuilding their war-torn country wherever possible, but they cannot supply the millions of pounds of clothing they desperately need from their own resources. Therefore, American Relief for Korea must continue its steady flow of clothing for the duration of the emergency.

Commissioner Waters announced that the Belleville drive will be conducted the week of June 1 to and including "K" day on June 7. During this time volunteers will drive up to your door to pick up your contribution. All you have to do is telephone (PL 9-1100 or PL 9-1356) and arrangements will be made accordingly.

Mrs. Morey Feted At Dinner Marking 25 Yrs. With Town

Town Clerk Presented With Pair Of Binoculars And Jewelry At Affair Attended By More Than 250 Guests Including Town And County Officials

Over 250 friends honored Mrs. Florence R. Morey, Town Clerk of Belleville, at a testimonial dinner at For-Hills Restaurant Monday evening, marking her completion of 25 years of service with the town. Town and county officials lauded her devotion, capabilities and cordial service in office. Other town employees praised her as a fellow worker.

Mayor James J. Tully presented her with a pair of long-range binoculars, in behalf of her friends, for use in the study of animal and plant life, a hobby she has long pursued. He praised her as a wife and mother, as well as competent town clerk, and pointed out that she is the second woman to be appointed to such a position in the state of New Jersey.

Joseph McKee, Town Clerk of Montclair, presented the guest of honor with a necklace and earrings, in behalf of the Essex County Clerk's Association. Mrs. Morey began work with the town as a secretary to the late town clerk, John J. Daly, in 1908. She was promoted to town clerk in 1933 when Mr. Daly resigned. She was then appointed acting town clerk until the expiration of his term, which then placed her under tenure of office.

Belleville Resident 31 Years Mrs. Morey and her husband, George Morey, have been residents of Belleville for 31 years, living at 103 Malone Avenue. They have two children, John L. Morey and Mrs. Spencer Miller, the former, married Marjorie Morey, and five grandchildren. Ask Four Women To Help Plan New Girl Scout Council

Mrs. L. Walter Finch, Mrs. Max N. Schwartz, Mrs. Harry Minasian and Mrs. Charles Cassaday Accept

Positive steps towards the obtaining of a Girl Scout Council charter for Belleville by January 1950, to replace the lone troop registration in force since 1950, were taken at a meeting of the steering group, which met with Miss Anne Gruhn, field staff member of the National organization of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Friday at the office of the Superintendent of Schools.

One of the steps was the nomination of four women to take part in the future deliberations of the committee, to give women equal representation with men on the committee. Mrs. Edward A. Rochau was named temporary treasurer and application was made to the Board of Trustees of the Community Chest for the allocation of $500 to be used for expenses of reorganization. The Community Chest holds in escrow nearly $2,000 for the name of the Belleville Girl Scout Council. The money will be used for expenses in the training of the community chest for the charter of the new council can start to function as soon as the charter is granted.

Mrs. Rochau and Samuel C. Pierson were designated to call upon six women, whose names were suggested and approved, to enlist at least four to join the deliberations on June 22. The four have agreed to register. Two of them are girl scout troop leaders, and two have proven themselves as capable workers in other fields.

Mrs. L. Walter Finch of 31 Rutgers Street, an attorney and former girl scout; Mrs. Max N. Schwartz of 315 Branch Brook River, who did a remarkable organizational job for the Community Chest last fall; Mrs. Henry Minasian of 85 Smallwood Avenue, a girl scout leader; and Mrs. Charles Cassaday of 270 Belmont Avenue, who is active in PTA work, a girl scout troop leader and a former professional camp director, have each consented to give the time required, for the good of Girl Scouting in Belleville.

The committee has been assured that Belleville will be granted provisional charter on January 1, the provision being that Belleville join with other community councils within the next two years to study and develop an Area Council, in accordance with the organization plans of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. The area plan has been extensively developed by the Boy Scouts and is being adopted by the Girl Scouts because it provides for better financing, better training of volunteers and better control of the total group. The thinking is to include Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley in the area setup.

It had been my intention at the last meeting of the Board of Commissioners to recommend that they introduce and approve a resolution providing for a referendum at the General Election in November which would enable the people of Belleville to determine by popular vote whether they would prefer a change from the present appointive to an elective Board of Education. I feel such action is now merited because of the wide general sentiment of the public which reflects a shattered confidence in the present local educational set up and an aroused suspicion that the possibility of political interference exists as a result of the recent public charges made by Board of Education member McKean which have, as yet, neither been answered nor refuted. It is my purpose to submit a recommendation for such a referendum to the local governing authorities at the next public meeting of that body.

To clarify my position on this and other matters pertaining to the governmental administration of the Town of Belleville, I should like the fact to be known that I am fighting for the honor of the Township of this community which has been besmirched and bedragged by the most brazen and unscrupulous carnage of contentions of the people's rights and interests that has ever been imposed upon a decent and self-respecting people. Those who cherish their liberty and self-respect should join the fight to restore decency and morality to government on all levels. To this undertaking I unqualifiedly dedicate my time, my talents and my efforts in face of all obstacles. You too who have shown the interest to read this letter should attach yourself to the growing CRUSADE FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT.

Respectfully submitted,
James R. Golden

Big Decision

The most important decision the group will make in the near future is its choice for president of the new council. The nomination of such a person is necessary so that she can be thoroughly tutored in the duties of the job as prescribed by the national organization, to be qualified to take over as soon as the charter is presented. This will not be a popularity contest. The person selected will have to be able to give a great deal of time, at least in the first year, will have to have considerable tact, ability and enthusiasm. It is possible and probable that a person never before associated with Girl Scouting will be selected, so that no traditions or personal feelings will be carried over into the top spot of the new organization.

Friday's meeting was attended by Kenneth D. Smith, President of the Community Chest, and acting chairman of the committee; Evan H. Thomas, superintendent of schools; Francis McJoy, representing Mayor James J. Tully; Mr. Pierson, Mrs. Rochau and Miss Grahn. Each is dedicated to work in behalf of the 30 troops and the more than 900 registered Girl Scouts and leaders, to provide better Girl Scouting.

BELLBOYS BEATS

By PIERSON

Beaten For First Time

Joe Mignoni, Belleville High's sophomore sprint star, lost his first decision of the season Saturday, when he came in second to Montclair's Aubrey Lewis in the 220 yard dash of the Essex County Championship at Montclair. In seven dual meets Joe has copied first honors in both the 100 and the 220 yard dashes, and at the Newark Schools Invitation Meet Joe took first in the 100. Joe, who has been running the 100 in under 10 seconds, turned in his best time for the 220 at 22.9 in losing to Lewis. In that event he led Lewis for the first 150 yards, and had he not fouled out of the 100 with two false starts, may have brought a championship back to Belleville High. Joe meets Lewis twice more this season, once in the Montclair College Invitation and again on June 6 in the N.J.S.I.A.A. Championship meet at Montclair. Gilbert Stout was another place winner in the county trials. He took a tie for third in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 9 inches. Gil is co-captain with Arthur Peterson, and the captain with Mignoni, comprise the experience on Belleville High's second year track team. Incidentally, after six straight defeats, the Bellboy trackmen defeated Irvington on Monday 50½ to 30½ at Municipal Stadium.

Saw Short Fight

Frank Cocchiarley of 15 Bright Brook Drive and "Freddie Farmer" DeLuca of 21 New York were spectators at the now famous "short cut" bout in Chicago in which Jersey Joe Walcott was blasted in his comeback bout on Friday. Mr. Cocchiarley had to go out to the Windy City on business and Freddie Farmer accompanied him. They flew out on Thursday and came back on Saturday. It was a long trip with a short fight. Both men were convinced that Walcott was legitimately knocked out, for he appeared to be dazed as he sat in the ring while the seconds ticked off.

New School Football Rules

There was a time when everyone who played football played under the same rules, but in this day and age, what is permitted among the pros is not permitted in college and what the colleges permit is taboo among the High School and secondary school players. As a result there is confusion among the spectators, the players, coaches and officials, all of which does the sport no good.

The bulletin of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association issued this week points out that seven changes have been made in the code of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, under which the New Jersey schools play.

The High School code does not ban the two playon system, as the college code does, but one of its new rules requires that a substitute must remain in the game for at least one play and the replaced player must stay out of the game for at least one play. This will eliminate a practice of some coaches of yanking "briefing" and sending back into the game, key players, within the 25 seconds allowed between plays, and during time outs.

In the past the penalty for leaving the coaches' box (bench-area, six yards off the field and between the 30-yard lines) was 15 yards. This was so severe that violations seldom were called. The penalty this year will be five yards. This is expected to put a crimp into fashions to the edge of the field by over-enthusiastic coaches and players.

The Federation also approved official use of a rubber football, if agreed by a conference of opposing coaches, and recommended that for night football games, only one stripe may be painted on each end of the ball. Some coaches used footballs with two or three stripes on each end, causing optical illusions on wobbly kicks. Both coaches may agree to use the more costly yellow or white balls instead of the two stripe ball.

Next season, a team captain who once gives his choice of an option to an official, will not be able to change his mind and ask for the other option.

Another rule establishes a fair catch try on any fair catch signal by a kick receiver OR ANY OF HIS TEAMMATES. Previously only the catcher gave the signal, but the signal. The new rule involves a penalty only when the kicking team has reasonable opportunity to see the signal.

Another change is in the rule permitting a receiving team to take possession at the spot a kicking team may have touched the ball. This right now will be canceled if the receiving team tries to run and thereafter commits a foul.

The committee urges officials to give closer enforcement of the clipping violations near the scrimmage line area, when blocking from behind does not occur in "close line" play.

Two other proposals were defeated in committee. One would have allowed the kicking team to advance a muffed punt, instead of merely gaining possession. So was an effort to have the clock start with the snap of the ball instead of an official's signal.

Irvington Police Outshoot Belleville By Wide Margin

Irvington's Pistol team took the measure of the Belleville Cop 1182 to 1100, Saturday at Belleville range. It was an Essex County Police Revolver League match. The Belleville team, consisting of Wallace Peterson, 12, Waldstein 10, and Viking Tool 12, Kentek 8.

Bellboy Baseballers Divide Two Extra Inning Contests

Irvington Scores Thrice in Tenth To Win Conference Game; John Bartell Is Winner Over Lyndhurst 2 to 1

Belleville High's baseball team won its second game of the season on Wednesday at the Stadium, when an error and singles back to back in the eighth inning produced the run needed to edge Lyndhurst 2 to 1 behind its frosh hurler, John Bartell. The day before the Bellboys lost out in the tenth-inning to Irvington 7 to 4.

The Irvington defeat didn't do much to Belleville's standing in the big ten, for when you don't win you don't move from the bottom no matter how many you lose. It was Belleville's third loss against one tie. The victory put Irvington in a tie for second honors in the conference.

Terry Gahr pitched great ball for seven innings. He had allowed just two hits and held a 4 to 0 advantage. If it hadn't been a conference game, it would have been in the bag, but Belleville's victory, made so nine nines after Daylight Saving Time goes into effect. So it was hard to see the victory in the eighth and another in the ninth to tie the score. In the tenth Klein and Mauriello of Irvington each came through with singles with the bases loaded to score the three winning runs.

Little League Players March Around Clearman Field Before Exhibition

Belleville's Little League players paraded around Clearman Field on Saturday morning preliminary to the opening of the Little League season here. Music for the occasion was provided by the St. Mary's Drum and Bugle Corps of Nutley. Saturday's games were two marching exhibitions. In the first the Bombers beat the Clippers 1 to 0. In the second, the Dodgers topped the Cubs 2 to 1. The other games were ties between the Aces and the Demons and the Yankees and the Giants. The league officially opened on Monday night with the Clippers bombing the Demons 12 to 2. Tuesday the Bombers clouted the Aces 13 to 5. Both these games were in the American League.

LETTERS To The Editor

Named Wrong Mr. Becker
To The Editor, Times-News:
Regrettably, but, understandably in view of the attendant confusion which accompanied my election from the last meeting of the local Board of Commissioners, your fair and unbiased reporting coverage of the story contained one error which because of the identical surnames of the individuals concerned, both of prominence in the political activities of the County, it is readily discerned the inadvertence occurred as a natural and unintentional association of the G.O.P. County Chairman with matters pertaining to political discussions. Your article refers to my demanding of one of my friends to call George Becker, the County Republican chairman, as my attorney. This is in error. I requested that Charles Becker, eminent Newark attorney and civic leader, with law offices located at 114 Market Street, Newark, be consulted.

In fairness to both gentlemen and in recognition of the responsible positions they enjoy I respectfully request that you appropriately in conformity with the established practice of the newspaper profession make the proper correction announcement.

Town Is Fortunate
To The Editor Times-News:
Dear Sir:
I wish first to thank the Belleville Times-News for its excellent publicity on the Bike Club's many activities. Mr. Sam Pearson has done a wonderful job, both with advance publicity and in coverage of the events.

My deepest gratitude goes to the staff of the Belleville Bicycle Club, Bill Murphy, Alf Goullet, Ed. Little, Joe Delacore, Charles Logan, and Ray Frate. It is their work and sacrifice which has propelled the Club's active growth.

And a great importance has been the intelligent encouragement that the parents and youngsters have given them as they ventured into this healthy activity.

Having been the recipient of much generous praise, both on the Club, and recently on the "Joy of Belleville" Bicycle classic, I hope that this will put credit

City Spring

Even in cities May has a way.
Wistful as buds, sweet as awakening flowers, Stems cannot stiffen, nor can steel gams Resurgent sunlight, gilding walls and towers.
Even in cities with the dark soil hidden Beneath strange tumult and metallic death, The dear familiar fragrance lingers unbidden;
The ancient beauty trembles into birth.

For May knows no bondage, Not with seeds And butterflies alone is darkness broken.
Remote from earth, a hurrying city needs No more than slanting showers for a token,
And memory, as soft as robins' wings, Beating from acres bright with other springs.

The Oatis Affair

William N. Oatis, three days out of a Czech jail where he spent two years after his conviction for "espionage", has spoken, abroad and at the airport when he arrived home this week, but, as yet, he has not denounced the confession read into the Prague court record by which he admitted having sought military, economic and political information which he relayed to the U. S. Embassy in the Czech capital nor has he said anything to denounce the parallel accusation, levelled against all the other American correspondents with him in Prague, charging them with equal guilt of espionage.

Mr. Oatis is entitled to a spell of rest. In my opinion, the Associated Press is more concerned with its own prestige than it is with the young man's recovery from badly shattered nerves. It would have been a much kinder action for the great AP to shoulder the costs of sending his young wife to join him in Europe and allowing him to rest up and play in Paris or at some Continental spa.
But now that the AP has brought him home and he has talked, it would appear to me, in the light of 27 years as a foreign correspondent and as the head of staffs of American men and women reporters in Europe and North Africa, that the AP never should have sent Oatis abroad in the first place. He was a misfit as a foreign correspondent; that much is evident from his own interpretation of the Czech rules of censorship and espionage.

In my quarter of a century as head of the United Press in France and North Africa, I saw a few such misfits. Generally, they dropped out or were recalled before they did damage to themselves or to the news agency or newspaper that hired them.

I, too, had to work through censorship and against espionage laws. I, too, was arrested in Vichy by Pierre Laval, handed over to the Nazis and I spent, in all, about a year and a half in internment under the Gestapo in mid-war. Far from confessing to anything, or denouncing my fellow foreign correspondents, I carried the fight to the Nazis who were holding me in violation of the Geneva convention by the terms of which any captured accredited war correspondent is entitled to be released at the nearest neutral frontier within 48 hours. In my work, covering international conferences, I had known Guebbels, Goering and Ribbentrop so I bombarded them with letters, smuggled from my interment camp to German mail boxes, accusing them of violating the Geneva Convention. I stopped writing letters only when I was exchanged, 18 months later, and my market value was 11 Germans for one.

No foreign correspondent, in his right mind, ever would become an informer for his own or any other Embassy. Oatis admits that he informed the U. S. Embassy in Prague. In a quarter of a century abroad, I never once was asked by any American or foreign diplomatic official to play the role of a spy. Many, many times I had first rate military information, but the chances are that the military attaches in some U. S. Embassy somewhere in Europe had it too. I never volunteered it, and no diplomatic official ever asked me for it.

I have had several strangely contrasting experiences with diplomats. Once, in April, 1939, William Bullitt then the U. S. Ambassador in Paris, angered because I obtained and cabled back to the United States the text of a note that FDRoosevelt had addressed to Hitler and Mussolini inviting them, in the name of peace, to guarantee the frontiers of Europe as they then existed, denounced me to the French Premier and Minister of War Edouard Daladier. He told Daladier that there were not four copies of the President's cable and that he could account for three, but not for the fourth which was on Daladier's desk.

Daladier had me taken into custody by the French Surete Nationale, the secret service, and I spent a Saturday afternoon confined at the Ministry of Interior. I telephoned to Bullitt, to seek his help in clearing myself — not knowing then that my arrest was due to his denunciation — but he was busy playing golf. Finally, when Daladier told me of Bullitt's denunciation, I turned the tables on him and told Daladier that the copy I had cabled came from the U. S. Embassy. Daladier, delighted that he could tease Bullitt about his own leak, liberated me with a handshake. I never spoke to Bullitt again.

Then there is the contrasting record of Admiral William Leahy's own book of wartime experiences, "I Was There". If it admits frankly that many of his own information which he got from me in our foreign correspondents — keep your short-lived United Press "pipelines" into Laval's office were better than the Embassy's. But never once did Admiral Leahy invite me to obtain any specific bit of information.

If Oatis does not deny or withdraw the two incriminating "confessions" then there can be but one interpretation: He must have transgressed the fundamental rule of all foreign correspondents — keep your shirt tail clean, remember you're a reporter not a diplomat. If he did inform the U. S. Embassy in Prague, he must have believed he was playing the role of a spy, but I still am not convinced that the State Department through any of its Embassies has ever stooped so low as to recruit as spies any accredited foreign correspondents.

To admit otherwise would serve to give justice to Peron, the Argentine dictator, who has just banned the United Press, the AP and the INS. As for Oatis: A misfit, yes; a spy, never.

One Man's Opinion

Surely Churchill and Attlee Have Not Forgotten The Costly Lesson Of Munich, 1938, That Appeasement Doesn't Pay

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

I will never forget September 29, 1938, the blackest day in modern history — the day of the appeasement of Hitler by Britain and France.

It was late in the afternoon, a beautiful day as only Autumn days can be beautiful there in the Isar valley between the rows of Bavarian Alps. Inside, since shortly between the rows of Bavarian Alps. Inside, since shortly between the rows of Bavarian Alps. Inside, since shortly be-

Since early July, Hitler had been rattling the saber, demanding the "return" to Germany of the Sudetenland which, under the Versailles Treaty, had been given to Czechoslovakia. On September 12 he had become threatening; if by October 1 the Czechs had not handed over the Sudetenland he, Adolf Hitler, would go in and take it for himself. The poor Sudeten German were suffering too much mistreatment by the Bohemians, Hitler contended.

It was late afternoon when the the abject surrender was declared.

I never shall forget the spectacle I saw. As one of dozens of foreign correspondents I stood outside waiting for the official communique.
The palace door opened and out came two men. One was Hitler, the other his fat friend, Hermann Goering.
Goering had his arm around Hitler's shoulders; both were laughing. Hitler stopped on the top step and, as the newsmen began to spin around the picture, he danced a jig of joy. He could not contain himself. He had just won the biggest diplomatic game of poker in history.

Peace had been won, by appeasement; and that appeasement was "Made In England".
It bore the Chamberlain copyright; the French merely went along for the ride.

French Were Helpless

I approached Daladier and Bonnafant, the French ambassador in London, and I asked him to Munich after our first halt at an inn on the Rhine at Go-ttingen, where preliminary conversations took place.
"Do you mean to say it's surrender all the way down the line," he asked me.
"What else could we do," France could not fight alone," Daladier replied.

He and Bonnet went to the single outside of Munich and their plane took off for Paris.
From my United Press reporters who had been at Le Bourget airport I later learned that thousands of Parisians had rushed to the city to greet the two diplomats as conquering heroes, peoplists who wanted peace at any price.

Pacific Heyday

When the French delegates plane arrived over Le Bourget, Daladier looked out and saw the crowds below.

"I was afraid they wouldn't understand they'll hang us surely," he told Bonnet.

The plane climbed again and circled and, finally, finally risking a landing far across the field. To the astonishment of both, they were not hung. Flowers, bouquets and German Nazi troops invaded Bohemia and seized Prague. The Sudetenland had been handed over to Hitler and Goring. The latter, incidentally, shared none of Daladier's pessimism. He was convinced, as British Government, by exercising its independence, could balance — to keep the world balance — to keep the world balance — to keep the world bal-

"The poor fools, they don't know what we have signed today; it's not peace, it's folly," Daladier is reported to have said to Bonnet. The latter, incidentally, shared none of Daladier's pes-
British Government, by exercising its independence, could balance — to keep the world bal-

"It's peace for our time, boys," How Wrong He Was

Peace for our time! That was September 29, 1938. On March 14, 1939, Hitler reneged on his promise and German Nazi troops invaded Bohemia and seized
been handed over to Hitler and Goring. The latter, incidentally, shared none of Daladier's pes-
British Government, by exercising its independence, could bal-

Appasement — "It's peace for our time, boys" — had brought exactly 166 days of peace!
I was at Munich think of all that now because I lived it as a direct eyewitness. I was there in Munich as a witness of the "greatest selling" of free people in history.
I relive all those bitter memories today because I see a tragic parallel between Munich, 1938, and London, 1953. Only the figures have changed, and Malenkov and Mao Tse-tung sit in the chairs of Hitler and of Mussolini.

Appasement, today, of Moscow and Peking could be no more successful than was the appeasement of Hitler. It would involve, firstly, the abandonment

Pfc. Salvatore J. Sorice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Sorice of 196 Hecck Street, recently was graduated from the utilities repair course of the Army Engi-

During the course he was taught to make general repairs and perform preventative maintenance on the buildings and utilities located on Army posts.
Classes included sheet metal work, carpentry and plumbing.

Sorice, who arrived overseas last October, is a disciplinary chick in the 30th Field Artillery Battalion from Vassincourt, France.

A graduate of Bloomfield Vocational and Technical High School, he entered the Army in March 1952 and received basic training at Camp Pickett, Va.

Beck's Television Column

If you happen to have trouble getting channel 11, it's not the fault of your set. Here and there you may find somebody who still gets a halfway decent picture, but there are not many.

From Wednesday until Saturday last week, we received hundreds of complaints about channel 11. We called the station and they told us that the transmitter is being repaired. The repair can be made only when all the other stations are off the air. This of course is one of the disadvantages of the concentration of all stations but one on the Empire State Building.

The writer suggested to the engineers at WTX to make an announcement about the difficulty in order to avoid all these useless calls for service. They said that it is not good for the station to make such an announcement. In our opinion this is the wrong policy. The people are going to find out the facts anyway, though the facts are distorted.

The station is expected to work normally again in a few days.

STUDENTS RECEIVE JOB TRAINING IN FACULTY OFFICES

Gain Secretarial Experience In School Offices Under The Direction Of Regular Workers

Students in the Secretarial Training Classes of Belleville High School under the direction of Charles F. Schultz, Head of the Business Education Department, are afforded an opportunity to participate in a work-experience program. Students are excused from their academic classes for one week, and report for work to one of the following offices within the school system, and are supervised on the job by the secretary in charge: Evan Thomas, Dr. Frank Durkee's, Hugh Kittles' Sam Slikins', or Frank Spott's office.

Work-experience from this point of view has come to mean the opportunity afforded these students to put into practice the skills both specific and general, which they have acquired, and to gain in competency through such practice. At the same time, an opportunity is afforded for the acquisition of a general knowledge of business and the development of those personal qualities, habits, and attitudes found to be most desirable in the experienced office worker.

The student's work is evaluated by the training supervisor in the following categories: appearance, ability to express self, self confidence, quality of employee's work, employee's cooperation with workers and supervisor, and any general comment about the individual. The report is shown to the student upon his return to regular classes, and through the conference method defects are discussed, and remedial methods suggested.

The following students have been out on their respective assignments: Betty Ann Murphy, Patty Connolly, Joanne Zawadzki, Dolores De Vona, Elsie Krumm, Betty Casky, Grace Reid, Carol Hurly, Jane Rhoades, Catherine Scalerio, Sue Amato, Emma Watts, Betty Hoover, Phyllis Di Meo, Marie Santiago, Jewel Currie, Judith Gabriel, Santa Della Valle, Marie Prieto, and Lillian Sayre.

Also, Jean Calderone, Rose Marie Pennetti, Marie De Falco and Marie Zeppa. The program will be completed within the next two weeks, and the following girls will be assigned to their jobs: Mary Ippisch, Raquel Santin, Mariene Galt, Anna Lee Taylor, Anne McCann, Virginia Calagano and Ann Hughes.

OUR CLASSIFIED SECTION BRINGS QUICK RESULTS TO ADVERTISERS

WORKSHOP EVENT EXPANDS FOR WIDE RANGE OF STUDY

From the first workshop, instituted by Superintendent of Schools Evan H. Thomas in 1946, when he was the General Supervisor, the workshop program has now grown to twelve workshops involving 177 teachers.

Under the direction of Dr. Frank M. Durkee, General Supervisor, the twelve workshops, formed in areas of educational interest selected by teachers in a staff-wide survey, met with a temporary chairman early in the school year, and with Superintendent Thomas, Dr. Marcela Lawler of Columbia University Curriculum Service Center, and Dr. Durkee. Each workshop then selected its own chairman, vice-chairman, and recorder, and explored the possibilities of its problem.

From free choice of the time of meeting, workshops have now come to hold their meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month to promote coordination of professional activities and to allow teachers ample time to confer with their students and to work in their individual schools. By the reports of recorders, conferences with officers, and participation in the meeting of the workshops, Dr. Durkee has kept in close contact with the study and development that is taking place. Dr. Durkee is the chief resource person for all twelve workshops, and he aids them with counsel, professional reference material and development of goals.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

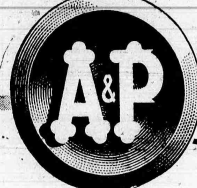

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.
