

Buy "Pig-in-Poke", Call On Commissioners For Relief

Man Given Permission To Erect House On 25-Foot Lot; Ka-De Associates Get Back Down Payment On Tract

Two men who bought the proverbial "pig in a poke", appealed to the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday for relief from their predicament. Joseph Chille who received a building permit and erected a foundation on a lot at 68 Clinton Street, before he found out that the deed given by the town to Herbert Conforti in August of 1950 contained a clause prohibiting a building on the lot which is only 25 feet wide. Commissioner Joseph King argued that the Commissioners would be deluged with requests for exceptions to the board's policy on 25 foot lots if the permission was granted. Building Inspector Thomas P. Greco resolved the matter by pointing out that the lot is in the C residence zone where buildings are permitted on 25 foot lots. Mayor James J. Tully, Jr. The New Jersey Water Policy Commission stepped in and insisted on such expensive improvements to the tract that the development of the project becomes impractical. The Commission voted to return the Ka-De Associates. The firm is writing of the cost of the improvements to expense.

An ordinance was introduced to first reading to close off the end of Audubon Street, a Cape May Avenue, and a Cape May Avenue, to make way for the development of an extension of Mitchell Avenue. The proposed development will contain 17 building lots. Because an extension of Mitchell Avenue to the town for a storm drain in the vicinity further action on the ordinance will be postponed until the next meeting until a full board will be present.

Evan Thomas Sees

20% Increase in Our School Enrollment

Expects No Relief In View Of Town's Birth Rate Still Hovering Around 700 Per Year; New High School Solution

Superintendent of Schools Evan H. Thomas, today predicted that, when school opens on Thursday, September 10, the school enrollment will jump 200 over the starting day last year. If this increase materializes Belleville's public schools will have a total enrollment of 5300.

Mr. Thomas in predicting the increase said: "To accommodate these additional pupils, seven extra classrooms have been added by utilizing basement space on a one-year emergency approval basis. These rooms are in addition to six basement rooms placed on the emergency approval last the opening of school one year ago.

"In the past several years in most of our elementary schools library rooms and classrooms have been turned into classrooms. This is a very unfortunate situation. It will be regrettable that last year four classrooms were lost to the opening of School Three were renovated and put into use, only after the most desperate efforts to secure on state officials to remove the third floor from the list of facilities condemned for school purposes. To make this room as safe as possible, the Board last year made necessary renovations. It is this very apparent that Belleville's expanding school population is presently a very real problem for the town.

The situation becomes more acute when it is realized that annual Belleville birth rate is maintaining a record pace. Back in 1949, the birth rate was recorded for our community. Despite predictions to the contrary, this year the number of births was 670, not far from the peak. These statistics coupled with tremendous increase in construction of new homes during the past year, as well as the occupancy of a major garage apartment building, indicate a need for a good many years, our school population will continue to expand. The town must find a way now to accommodate adequately these children.

Garden apartments, by way of information, are being offered for sale. For example, the Branch Brook Drive development alone contributes 170 pupils to the school system. The development in the vicinity of Franklin Avenue and Forest Hill, with wide-spread new housing in the area, will surely strain the school system. The town must find a way now to accommodate adequately these children.

Looking Over The Schedule

Last year to the chagrin of the coaching staff, we attempted to guess Belleville's success during the grid season and managed to wish the team well through at least the first five games, holding out reservations on Irvington, Kearny and Orange. As things turned out it wasn't a bad guess. Most coaches prefer the sportswriter to say that the team is going to lose every game. Then when the coach wins one, he has accomplished the impossible. Coach Eddie Berlinski never has been a pessimist. He usually sees the bright side of things, and as a result, is sometimes disappointed. Nevertheless, he too was gratified that the club did even better than was predicted for it.

Encouraged by last year's success we felt take another stab at figuring the team's success in the face of meeting five teams under new coaches. Right off the bat we expect East Orange to take the measure of the Bellboys in the opening game. Without knowing much about the outlook in East Orange, we are confident that East Orange's sophomore coach played plenty of underclassmen last year and is going to be far ahead of Belleville on game experienced ball players. We can be wrong. Belleville's pony backfield may be too fast and shifty for the Panthers.

When Bloomfield comes here on October 3, we see a victory for the Bellboys. Although Joe Moore, Bloomfield's new coach was an experienced end playing in his senior year when Eddie Berlinski broke in as quarterback for the Bengals back in 1920, he and his staff lack the spark to get the Bengals on fire this year. Nutley with not only a new coach but an entirely new staff presents a big question. Undoubtedly the Nutley boys will learn a lot more football than they did last year, but the fact that Belleville catches them early may be enough to swing the tide our way.

West Side has seen its best days in football, unless lightning strikes them. First year coaches in Newark schools are notoriously unsuccessful. We figure this one for Belleville. On the other hand we figure that Irvington is going to be one of the toughest teams in the county if not the state this fall. Mickey Weiner will play a more orthodox game than Matthews did, and Irvington has the big German and Polish boys who make darn good football players. Despite the fact that Irvington coaches can have players only in their junior and senior years because of split sessions, they actually have more time with their boys than anyone else. For Irvington's gridders, practice starts at 1 o'clock and ends at dusk. Belleville's practice starts at about 4 and ends about 5:30. This practice edge and Irvington's size should be just a little too much.

Bouncing back, we see Hillside with another new coach, according to the books, far better against Belleville than it did last year. Actually, Joe Conet's new coach was handling the destinies of the Hillside team when it came to Belleville last year. Like the horse player who puts his two bucks on the jockey instead of on the horse, we never sell Art Argauer of Kearny as a coach. He has a reputation as a coach, but every year he comes up with at least a six and three record. Belleville won last year's frags by a close score. We think it will be close again, this time going to Kearny. As usual we won't be right to guess the result of the Orange game on Thanksgiving Day. So far the series has been ideal from the point of view of evenly matched ball teams. We hope the Bellboys reach the Thanksgiving Day game with as good a record and as good a team as the Tornadoes.

On the basis of this Belleville should win four, lose two and tie two this season. Let's look this prediction up at the end of the season.

Here is Belleville's grid schedule for the season. All Saturday games start at 2 o'clock and the Thanksgiving Day game starts at 11 A. M.

Date	Opponent	Location
September 26	East Orange	Away
October 3	Bloomfield	Home
October 10	Nutley	Away
October 17	West Side	Away
October 24	Irvington	Home
October 31	Hillside	Away
November 7	Kearny	Away
November 20	Orange	Home

In the matter of balance Belleville has the best schedule ever. Few teams can boast of four games home and four games away. Few teams in this vicinity play teams from so close to home. In a conference setup which is bound to come within a few years, Belleville would be playing six games with conference rivals. Belleville's schedule is so loaded with nominally "A" teams that if it wins six of its eight games this year it should again be among the selected best teams in the state.

Belleville's biggest problem this year is to develop a couple of players, who together can approximate the effectiveness of Tom Apicella, last year's great center. An All-Stater of Apicella's caliber comes to most teams only once every four or five years, although Montclair, of late has had a super-abundance.

Grid Candidates Will Get Uniforms After Examination

Dr. D. S. Brown Will Give Physicals To Candidates Monday, Starting at 9: 8 Lettermen To Greet Coaching Staff

The day long awaited by some 60 Belleville High School boys, arrives on Monday when Coach Eddie Berlinski and assistant coaches Herman Wische and Raymond Smith, help Dr. Donald S. Brown welcome the candidates for the Belleville grid team. Dr. Brown will begin his physical examination of all candidates at 9 o'clock, at Clearman Field. Immediately after the examination is completed the candidate will be given his equipment for the season by the coaching staff.

Practice sessions will begin on Tuesday at 9 o'clock with two-day drills scheduled for every day until school opens on September 10. Already scheduled are three scrimmages, with East Rutherford, Weequahic and Montclair.

Dr. Brown held before the team open season in a few days. In a few days, East Orange, whereas last year's first game date came three weeks after the opening of the season, nearly four weeks will elapse before the first game this year. In addition, Belleville has a couple of game off its schedule and is down to the game limit set by the State Association as the recommended season. In a few days, Belleville will be forced to curtail their schedules to eight games. New York state has a seven game limit.

ST. ANTHONY'S BOW OUT OF CYO CHASE

4-1 Defeat At Hands Of Holy Cross Of Harrison Eliminates Locals From Competition

Holy Cross of Harrison handed St. Anthony's of Belleville a 4-1 defeat Sunday at Frank Brook Park in the intermediate baseball season. In a few days, Belleville will be forced to curtail their schedules to eight games. New York state has a seven game limit.

The loss put the Belleville nine out of the flag chase and brought the West Hudson club to the second place position.

Coach Berlinski will welcome eight lettermen and a new squad, some of whom just about played enough all in substitute roles to rate the coveted B. The first question of the evening of Rocco Cafarey at quarterback and Eddie Gray at tackle. The rest of the team is made up of Terry Gahr, quarterback and halfback; Frank Scarpelli, guard and tackle and Larry Donofrio, back and end. Don Pomponio, who gained his letter for kicking-off and occasional play at defensive back, Joe Mignone, a sensational sprinter, who got into enough games as a substitute back and end, and Mike Gahr, who played in the line last year but who is counted upon to become a starter this fall, are the other veterans.

With Cafarey, Gahr, Mignone and Bobby Doyle, who is being counted upon to lead the Bellboys should have a light but extremely fast and capable backfield. The new guard starts, the Belleville coaches expect at least one good reserve for each position. The team is going to be a good one. Gahr can pass well, Gahr also kicks. Gahr, as a halfback, can run while the other guard can give a lead and take it away, something that few backs ever master. Mignone, just about a state, should really go if his mates can spring him loose. Mignone's field of weight is his handicap.

Has Start Of Line

In the line Tuffy Wische will start. Tuffy Gray and Scarpelli at tackle and Ziff at center and build from there. Donofrio may stay at end, as he back into the backfield, where he played defensive halfback last season. Two subs from last year who may change the guard ends are Bill Tobia and Ed Buccarelli. Nick Cocco was an end substitute last year. Tuffy Calabrese and Ramone Marone. But this again is not enough to carry the Bellboys through the tough schedule they face. Plenty of linemen have to be found, and fast to meet the requirements of the present day line.

The Bellboys have a tough task ahead of them. They have to come up to the first round accomplished by last year's team. It just happened to be the best team in the county ever. Belleville this year has the distinction of playing five teams out of eight, with new coaches. West side, Bloomfield, Irvington, Nutley and Hillside all have had changes for one reason or another. Whether that good or bad remains to be seen. In the cases of Irvington and Nutley they are bound to be improved in the opposition and Belleville will be sorely pressed to come out on top. Of the other teams on the schedule, East Orange had a new coach last year.

Should Draw Better Belleville despite its good team has been failed to draw as well as its record warranted. However good records usually follow the better a successful team has. As long as the good record will be continued, East Orange is such a tough opponent, and the field so tough the next time out, that Belleville usually gets off to a poor start and although it wins the rest of its games, never draws. We hope the people of Belleville get out and support this year's team. It should do much better than win half its games. For seating arrangements, contact the coaching staff.

BELLEVILLE PAL WINS TWO OF THREE TO REMAIN IN TIE

Splits With Kearny; Defeat Newark On Nick Pettit's Good Pitching, Grand Slam Homer

Standings in the New Jersey PAL baseball league remained the same with the Belleville and Newark teams deadlocked for the third game. Friday night at Clearman Field, Belleville, split a doubleheader with the Kearny PAL, winning the first game, 4-3, and losing the second, 4-2. John Bartel was the winning pitcher for Belleville in the first game. He pitched six innings with a home run and single led the attack. Although allowing only three hits in the contest, he had an error, base on balls, single and double in the sixth inning put the Kearny team in the lead. As a result of the split doubleheader Belleville dropped back into second place in the league standings, one full game behind Newark.

They traveled to West Side Park Monday evening and defeated Newark 5-2. Nick Pettit went out for six hits and Nick Pettit won seven hits, five in the first two innings and only two for the remainder of the game. He pitched and allowed all five runs in the third inning on two misuses by the Newark infield, two singles and a base on balls.

Last week's games in the Belleville PAL Little Bigger League resulted in victories for the Bellboys over the Giants 10-4, the Cards over the Giants 4-2, and the Phillies defeated the Braves 11-5. With only one week of play remaining the standings in the league are:

Team	W	L
Cardinals	6	3
Phillies	5	3
Braves	4	4
Dodgers	3	4
Giants	2	7

The American Insurance Company's softball game of Newark, the Insurance League champions, defeated the Belleville PAL girls 5-0. The game was played at Clearman Field by a score of 5 to 2. Evelyn Hannon, Belleville pitcher, was locked in a pitch duel with Anne Walsh until the last inning when Grace Casale of the Insurance team hit a home run with a runner aboard to assure the victory.

boots. He liked the boy, but felt he wasn't handling the job well for he could never be found. He would disappear and not show up for days. They decided that it was time to find out where this young man spent his time. They started that he liked the 25 degree below zero temperature better than the warm summer air. Upon closer inspection they found that it wasn't the air that was the fatal attraction, but the pops kept in the freezer. They found him curled up in one corner just about to start on his eighth pop.

Funny things happen along the routes too. One driver falls off the tree he was treated, instead of serving the treat, by children, who shared their freshly popped corn with him. Another driver recalls the time a child seeing the Howdy Doodly sign, kept peering in the window to buy some cream. By the time she had commented, a crowd had gathered and others were crowding in on the driver. At this point the driver was so upset, he closed up his truck and headed back to the plant.

Playgrounds Get Free Ice Cream

Children of the Friendly House playground on Florence Street and Franklin Avenue, received a treat from the Jack Frost Dairies once a week when the report of Miss Eleanor Walsh, playground director for Friendly House, reports a good week. All of the playgrounds in Belleville have enjoyed ice cream from Jack Frost during the summer months. P. A. L. groups and the Newark playgrounds have also been on the free distribution list for the company.

Mr. Eli feels that more ice cream is being consumed these days than ever before. He contributes this to the invention of television and home freezers. He believes that people are staying home more and watching TV and eating ice cream. That they're bought in a large quantity at their super market for just this purpose.

Try some Bordeaux ice cream, it's good!

Clippers Vs. Giants in Little League World Series, Sat.

American Division Champs Won Three Straight Shutouts To Pull Away From Rival, Then Beat Demons In Playoff Contest; Carluccio Homers

The Clippers of the American Division of the Little League won the right to meet the Giants of the National League in the Little League World Series, Wednesday night, by beating the second place Demons in a playoff game at Clearman Field. The game was the last of the regular season play. Ray Mastrandrea was the winning hurler. He struck out 14 and allowed three hits. Marty Carluccio homered and had two other hits and Mike Cunniff two safeties for the power laden Clippers. The Little League Series begins Saturday at 2 o'clock at Clearman Field. The second and third game, if necessary, will be played at two-light games, next week.

Ray Mastrandrea pitched the Clippers to their third consecutive shutout triumph in the Little League. Friday night at Clearman Field, Mastrandrea was just one away from a no-hit game, when his pitching motion was interrupted by a single to center by Valdez. The only single to center, the only single, as the Lumberjacks bowed, 1-0.

Dennis Lebowski's second straight single accounted for the winning run for the Clippers in the fourth inning. The only other Clipper to hit Valdez, who also pitched a fine game.

Mastrandrea's one hit game, matched with Bob Bloemrode's no-hitter and Charley Nash's one-hitter in previous games, gave the Clippers a two and one-half game lead in the closing days of the season.

End Of Korean War Closes Defense Blood Drive Here

The local Red Cross Chapter has been advised by John J. Morris, Director Red Cross Field Office, that the Plainfield Defense Blood Center will be closed on August 31st.

This will end the participation of the local Red Cross in the National program in Korea, at the request of our government to meet the Korean emergency.

Mr. Morris, in a statement concerning the terminated Defense Blood program, stated: "While none of us really bring to an end a program which we have all worked so hard to bring about, and which has done so much to strengthen our Chapters and our own dedication to the Red Cross, I am sure that all will agree that it is in the best interests of the country that the program be terminated."

It was pointed out that the program was a result of the urgent request of our government to meet the Korean emergency situation and that it would close when the emergency was over. The Red Cross here in Belleville can be proud of its accomplishments since the war in Korea started. The Center at Plainfield from its opening date up to July 31st of this year, had shipped 74,021 units of blood for defense. This was possible only because the Belleville Chapter, along with other participating with the Blood Center, organized and worked to do its part in the task.

FRIENDLY HOUSE PICKS CHAMPS FOR FIELD DAY TESTS

Silver Lake Well Supplied With Potholders As Moments Of Summer Playground Season

The final full week's activity at Friendly House Playground has resulted in determining the champions who will represent us at the Field Day events. The following boys and girls have earned that right by winning or placing second in the playground tournaments.

Frank Malfatta (Chick), will be at the ping pong table for the singles, with Bill D'Amico joining him for the doubles. Bill will enter the horseshoe singles for older boys also.

Charles Molinaro and Don Alexander will join forces in the rubber horseshoe doubles, and Charles will try his skill at the checker board. Carl DeLoe will test the rubber horseshoe in the singles event for younger fellows.

Jim Mullen is the basketball for the shot, while Anthony Stivali will join Joe Alexander in tossing the iron shoes.

Our girls will be in three tournaments, with Mary Ann Molinaro pining the pegs in the singles and the doubles. In the latter she will have shoulder buns for her partner. Carol will enter the jacks contest, and Jo Ann Mars the checker competition.

John Ciffoletta, formerly our "castle-builder," is having his usual summer jinx. Last year a broken arm, this year a concussion and a broken shoulder bone. John attempted a "two hands" trick at a basketball game and lost his hand.

John and his friends will be in the basketball tournament. John will be in the basketball tournament. John will be in the basketball tournament.

Each of us learned something—how to play a particular game, how to share equipment, how to help the smaller folks, how to lose like a good sport, or just how to enjoy each other's company.

Our sincere thanks to all the nice people who have made Friendly House playground a daily must for the children of the surrounding area. It's been a good season, and we're all looking forward to next year.

HOUSE - TO - HOUSE CANVAS PLANNED FOR HOSPITAL FUND

American Legion Tri-County Hospital Building Fund To Be Boosted By Intensified Canvas

American Legion Tri-County Memorial Hospital's $150,000 building fund campaign—which has raised over $55,000 in its preliminary stages—will be intensified within the next few weeks.

Plans for broadening the scope of the campaign to include house-to-house canvasses in North Newark, Belleville, and other residential sections near the hospital were approved this week by the institution's board of trustees. John W. Allen, president, announced today by William J. Doyle, president.

To date, the campaign has been limited to a similar residential canvass in nearby Lyndhurst and the laying of groundwork for an apartment canvass in the hospital's service area. Even though the industrial phase of the drive has not officially started, several concerns have voluntarily made substantial contributions. Mr. Doyle said, including one company in Belleville which gave $5,000 to the fund.

In Newark, Commissioner Salvatore Bontempo, general chairman of the drive there, has accepted a quota of $50,000 for that phase of the campaign. Plans are now being formulated, Mr. Doyle said, for an intensive campaign effort in the city.

Mr. Doyle expressed gratification with the reception accorded to members of the hospital board who have conferred with area industrial leaders during the past several weeks to sample sentiment regarding the campaign.

"Without exception, these industrialists have expressed concern over Tri-County Memorial Hospital's need for expansion and improvements," he said, "and have agreed that industrial firms in the area can be counted upon for the financial support which we must have." He pointed out that the hospital has cared for several industrial accident victims and compensation cases from area plants during its 17 years of operation.

"Unless we are able to carry out our planned improvements, as ordered by the State Department of Institutions and Agencies earlier this year, this service to industrial firms of the area would be hampered," he said, "and an estimated 100,000 people living in the hospital's immediate service area would find themselves without adequate facilities."

Tri-County Memorial is operating under a provisional license granted by the state on condition that the improvements be completed before a permanent certificate is granted. The attractions include such items as in-

F.T.&R. Demonstrates R. R. Push-Button Signaling Device

Automatic System That Is Foolproof And Can Be Adapted To Remote Control Was Tried Out In Busy Chicago

Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation representatives demonstrated the latest innovation in railroad last weekend in Chicago before top railroad officials when they put into operation a push-button signaling system. The newest twist in automatic signaling was set up by F.T. & R. in the new Gresham tower of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad.

The equipment, known as the "sequence switch interlocking system" and an adaptation of the automatic telephone system, was originally developed by F. T. & R.'s parent organization, the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

In automatic telephone dial systems, a sequence switch rotates through a succession of positions to control the progress of a telephone call. The railroad sequence switch is a rugged and enlarged copy of the telephone switch. The system is designed to permit a single towerman to move a large volume of rail traffic faster, safer and more dependably. The Rock Island is the first railroad in this country to make use of the new route-setting system, having installed the system last March. Actually, the device is not a new invention. It was first produced in England, where installation have been in service since 1949.

The system has been adapted to the requirements of American railroads and F. T. & R. distributes and installs the equipment in the United States. The system had a tough tryout at Gresham, the center of a complex network of rail lines. This point serves not only as a junction between the main line of the Rock Island and two of its branches, but also provides a crossing for trains of the Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio with the Rock Island.

Under the new system, a great volume of freight traffic and thousands of through and suburban passengers are moved daily over the Gresham network at maximum speed safely.

HUB CAP THEFTS ARE REPORTED

Local Police Receive Calls From Four Car Owners About Missing Hub Caps, Accessories

Thefts of hub caps and automobile accessories climbed this week in town. Hub caps were taken from three cars and tail lights and fender ornaments from others, according to the Belleville Police.

Two rear hub caps and tail lights were removed from a 1940 Chevrolet owned by Edward Weinberger, of 466 Joralemon Street between 7 and 10-10 p.m. Friday night. The theft occurred while Weinberger's car was parked in front of his home. Also stolen on Friday night were rear hub caps from a 1941 Plymouth owned by William Finn, Jr., of 682 Washington Avenue. The Finn car was parked in front of the Riviera Roller Skating rink on Washington Avenue.

Thieves struck again on Saturday when four hub caps were removed from a 1950 sedan owned by Robert Marchesini, of 68 Columbus Avenue. According to Mr. Marchesini, the theft occurred sometime after 11 p.m. while his car was parked in front of his home.

On Monday, Charles Youman, of Caldwell, reported that two Mercury ornaments were stolen from the fenders of his 1945 Mercury while it was parked near the Nerio Boat Club on Old Main Street.

Friend Called Away

Richard Dolan, secretary and official scorer of the Belleville Little League has not been as chipper as usual lately and has had to leave a lot of his duties to individual managers. This week Dick entered the East Orange Veterans Hospital, where he will be confined for at least seven months.

Dick undoubtedly will be lonesome. He will miss Mr. Albey, the mailman, and the policemen who have stopped at his house to cut the lawn and do odd jobs. He will miss his many friends in Belleville who have done so much for him since he came back from World War II unable to use his legs. He will miss the fine people who helped build his house. He will especially miss those girls to 12 year old youngsters with whom he has been associated for the past three summers.

But he need not miss all of the friends. His friends can write to him, care of the hospital. A flood of letters in the next week is not what he will need, but some letters every one of those 30 weeks that he will be away. If you have ever met Dick he will remember you. And he will remember you even more if you drop him a card when you are out of town, or make it a practice to type or pen a few lines to him every week.

Belleville went all out for Dick Dolan

"How many times," asked
Mr. Martin P. Cosgrove,
Chairman, Belleville Chapter,

American Red Cross, "have you heard people say—what does the Red Cross do?" A recent release from National Headquarters gives us a review of recent Red Cross efforts. The American Red Cross estimates that it will spend nearly $1,500,000 to restore to normal living a total of 31,522 families who have suffered severe losses in the 13 largest disasters during the past three months here in the United States. These figures are based on actual disbursements of relief and rehabilitation once. Dick did not forget and his services to the Little League were part of his way of showing that appreciation. Belleville should and can go all out for Dick Dolan again.

Significant Figures

In 1947 when births in Belleville totaled 700 people were of the opinion that it was a one shot instance due entirely to the many marriages, right after the end of World War II. What is surprising is that there has been no leveling off. The birth rate has stayed near the 700 mark each year since. Those 1947 babies incidentally will be entering the kindergartens of the Belleville Schools in two weeks and will account for the expected increase of 200 in the overall enrollment of the public schools.

These continued birth rates mean one thing. They mean for the next six years at least Belleville's school population is bound to rise with anywhere from 200 to 300 per year. It means that 700 children will enter kindergarten, while about 500 or 400 leave school by choice or graduation in the same year.

Right now these increases are reflected in the first five years of the elementary schools, but the time is not far off before they will be of high school age. Belleville voters must have vision to realize that the Board of Education is scraping the bottom of the barrel when it presses seven more basement classrooms into use. This fall, they must have vision to realize that something has to be done and fast if Belleville children are to be given their proper opportunity for education.

Teacher loads may be increased, as some suggest, but this like the basement rooms can be only a temporary measure. Therefore time is of the essence. When and if the school referendum is presented, the need for the new building should be of more importance than its location. Even if started next year, the enrollment peak will just about reach the high school by the time the building is ready for occupancy.

One Man's Opinion

Moscow Bait German Hooks In An Effort To Prevent A Victory By Chancellor Konrad
Adenauer's Government In Sept. Elections

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

The last man in the world qualified to give anyone a lecture on the virtues of peace would be Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov. The fact that Malenkov did deliver such a lecture this week to the German people telling them that in a half century of militarism, from Bismarck through Hitler, the German nation has lost 8,000,000 war dead and urging them to abandon the ways of war and to live a life of friendship and trade with their neighbors, shows the importance of the election which West Germany will hold on September 6, one week from next Sunday.

The fate of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government is directly at stake, but so, indirectly, is the fate of NATO and the coalition of western nations forming the anti-communist bloc. That explains why Malenkov, suddenly, has felt the urge to preach a peace which Russia does not practice and why, to win Germany's favor, he announced this week that the Soviet Union will free all the Germans it now holds captive serving terms for "especially severe crimes against peace and humanity."

Moscow obviously would like to defeat Chancellor Adenauer in the German elections. It would like also to prevent West Germany or a united Germany from joining the western defensive alliance against communism. It would like, moreover, to gain equal footing for its puppet East German Government in relation to the solidly based West German Federal Republic.

Adenauer's Chances Good

Even if the Kremlin should win its first purpose—though Dr. Adenauer appears to have a better-than-equal chance—and elects a Socialist government to replace the Christian Democrats, it does not follow that the Communists in the long run would represent a government by the Social Democratic Party more susceptible to their designs than the present coalition in Bonn.

It is true that Erich Ollenhauer, leader of the SPD, has favored negotiations with the Soviet Union about German unification ahead of rearmament under the European Defense Pact. But as a political heir of the nationally-minded Kurt Schumacher, he could not well accept a limitation on Germany's eventual diplomatic freedom to make alliances which Malenkov wants to impose.

Temporary Government

That proposed limitation is a good deal watered down in the latest Soviet note. The Communists now specify only that it apply to a temporary all-German government which they wish to see in operation before and during the German peace conference. They propose to be held in six months.

But what would be the nature of this temporary all-German government? It would be a forced collaboration between the present Federal Republic of (West) Germany, which rests on the free votes of its citizens as in the approaching elections, and the (East) German Democratic Republic, which has been shown by the recent riots to be completely undemocratic and unrepresentative.

This is the kind of hybrid which the Soviet Foreign Office proposes should conduct "free all-German elections" looking toward unification of the country. Under it a Communist regime which claims to govern 18 million East Germans but which came to power only through a rigged "vote" in election in 1949, would hold authority & veto the demands of a government that has given no official freedom to West Germany and represents the free votes of over 48 million persons there.

Hazards Of Unity

Too many nations already have experienced the "rule or ruin," "you're from within" tactics of Communists in coalitions to trust that sort of set-up or expect cooperation from men ideologically committed to obstruction and sabotage. It is not unreasonable to believe that grave hazards of such a scheme are for the great majority of Germans.

Both sides have been jockeying hard for favorable positions in the September election, and behind our recent distribution of food parcels to Germans from East Berlin was the idea of influencing German voters by showing them that severe living conditions are fostered under Democracy.

Malenkov retorted by making an offer to the Germans which, in words at least, was tantamount to an abandonment by Soviet Russia of all of its claims on Germany. In spelling out his "final offer" to the West Germans in an attempt to make unification of their country on Soviet terms attractive to them, Malenkov offered through sweeping economic and political concessions, including the release of other war criminals in his appeal to the German people he obviously hoped to draw a majority of West German voters toward the Social Democrats and other groups opposed to Adenauer.

But he also made it clear that if this maneuver does not succeed, or if a new West German regime refuses to come to terms with East German Minister-President Otto Grottel, Moscow hereafter will build an East German as a major partner in the Soviet bloc.

Malenkov made the following principal concessions:

1. East German reparations, which amounted to 2,182,000,000 marks maximum paid in 1949 and shall in no case represent more than 6 per cent of the East German Government's revenue. For 1954, East Germany is to pay 1,000,000,000 marks for maintaining Soviet forces on its territory.
2. A credit of 485,000,000 rubles in free currencies, presumably dollars or sterling, at 2 per cent interest. This is a very large amount as Soviet credits, go, and the interest rate is exceptionally favorable.
3. Return of German war prisoners sentenced for crimes committed during the war. Only particularly wicked crimes against peace and humanity are excluded.
4. Malenkov's offer clearly identified the Soviet Union's interest with continued existence of a German republic in the eastern style. It represented a sharp departure from Moscow's wavering policy of the past two years, which, according to a number of observers, had as its aim the establishment of a truly neutral and independent Germany as a buffer against the West. This apparently was favored by Stalin's views.
5. New Soviet policy has come back to the line laid down by Malenkov at the secret conference in Berlin in the spring of 1951, where it was decided to integrate East Germany with the rest of the satellites.

Soviet forces in Germany shall not exceed the 2,182,000,000 marks maximum paid in 1949 and shall in no case represent more than 6 per cent of the East German Government's revenue. For 1954, East Germany is to pay 1,000,000,000 marks for maintaining Soviet forces on its territory.

With all this talk about a recession coming with the Korean trade and lower prices for everything, one would expect to see some signs of it. But there are none. On the contrary.

Last week we received notice of an increase in prices for a number of sets from one factory. It won't be long until the others follow. All the parts needed for antenna installations went up about 10%. Today we have been informed that the prices for tubes will go up sometime in September. In many other lines, particularly all soft goods, there are price rises, and certainly the housewife knows that nothing for the table is getting cheaper. To this writer it looks like another dose of a little more inflation rather than deflation. Although the percentages are small, the wages are slowly going up, which in turn certainly does not make lower prices.

Probably the manufacturers are going to continue to raise prices until the public gets fed up again and goes on a buyer's strike and forces prices down.

LOCAL RED CROSS MAKES PLEA FOR GREEK RELIEF

Earthquakes, Landslides And Fires Result In Tragic Disaster
And Misery For Greek People

An appeal for funds to aid the Greek Red Cross has been made by E. Roland Harriman, president of the American Red Cross.

In a telegram to Martin P.
Cosgrove, Chairman, Belleville
Chapter, American Red Cross,
Mr. Harriman advises that a "series of earthquakes followed by landslides and fires have resulted in tragic disaster and misery for the Greek people.
Because communications have been broken, the full extent of the toll is not known. However, latest reports indicate that at least 1,000 have been killed and thousands of others injured and more than 100,000 homeless. The Greek Government and the Greek Red Cross are engaged in rescue and relief operations. The Greek Ambassador to the United States has asked the American Red Cross to arrange for the collection of relief funds for the Greek Red Cross, and is urging active support of the appeal by all Greek national organizations and societies here in the United States.

As Mr. Cosgrove points out, this is an opportunity to express our sympathy for these disaster victims, and contributions can be made through the local Red Cross Chapter, for transmission to the Greek Red Cross. Greek economy was completely disrupted in World War II. So completely was the country ravaged, that the industrial and economic rehabilitation of the country has been a most difficult effort. For this reason particularly, with a lack of Greek National funds to aid in the rescue, relief and rehabilitation of the disaster victims, the Greek Red Cross will bear the brunt of the work and sorely needs any relief funds we may wish to contribute.

Every dollar will help. Just send your contribution along—with your name and address, to Belleville Red Cross, 260 Washington Avenue, Belleville 9, N. J., and mark the envelope "Greek Relief."
