Audit Supplement Lists $56,935 In Questioned Items

A. M. Hart Says Questions Arising From Interpretation Of Law Make It Legal Question, Not "Usual Audit"

The supplement to the audit of the town's finances referred to in news stories recently, was presented to each member of the Board of Commissioners by A. M. Hart, certified public accountant, at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday night. Additional copies were prepared for the town treasurer, town clerk and the free public library for public record. Items totaling $56,935.34 in two departments are cited. Without making an effort to judge any matter contained in the supplement, part of the statement of Mr. Hart to the Board and items questioned by him are printed below:

Mr. Hart cited the law and adds: "While the auditor, under the provisions of R.S. 40:4-6, is required to report any violation of law or non-conformity to the law to the governing body of the municipality, questions arising under Chapter 50 of the acts to what constitutes 'materials' or 'supplies' and how broadly these terms should be applied, make it practically impossible for an auditor to rule finally that this chapter has or has not been violated.

"The only apparent means, therefore, in complying with R.S. 40:4-6 in matters concerning materials or supplies, is to report all cases of single payments for materials or services not exempted which exceed $1,000 and were not the subject of competitive bids, and such instances as are noted where lesser payments aggregated over $1,000 per year to the same vendors for materials or services in the same general category. The budget year approach is the only available measurement in time, where the governing body has not acted under the provisions of Chapter 50 for the fixing of intervals for selecting proposals for materials and supplies.

"Such reports when examined and reported upon by legal counsel, will establish conformity or non-conformity by competent opinion on the facts developed by audit.

"Because of the large volume of material which is some of the vendors, which came to the Mayor's notice as a result of research initiated by him, the Mayor some months ago requested us to examine into such matters. The procedure usually followed is to have the Mayor and the Mayor instructed to go into this phase more deeply. This procedure is usually the last step in the handling of the matter as so informed, with the assurance that it would be examined in accordance with his instructions.

Audit Not Held Up

"As a result, a very large volume of detail was drawn off, much of which did not develop into cases deemed reportable, but study, review, collation and compiling required some time. The report of audit was not held for inclusion of these details, which are here presented as the supplement referred to in Page X of the comments contained in that report.

"All cases which it is believed should have legal review are listed herein."

Most Items Under Welsh

Most of the items mentioned are charged to the Public Works Department, the Water Department and the Public Safety Department, and in each case High Welsh is the department in charge. The exceptions were for printing of sample ballots and the 1952 Fourth of July celebration and sports equipment from Rev's Sport Shop charged to the Parks and Recreation Department. The items for the 1953 celebration were advertised but on a basis of what will you give us for the money we have to spend. No single item was reported for the Public Affairs Department.

Skimming the details and listing only totals not covered on this, the following cases are listed:

Re-Lateral Fire Hose Company, which bill amounted to $2,566.11; Broadway Automobile, $1,000.00; for new tires and accessories, $3,094.29; (two charged to Public Safety at $837.75 each and three to Public Works at $927.65 each) Condo

Shawger School Playground Gets 4 to 1 Approval

Passes On First Reading Despite Objections Of Commissioner Hyde; Atty. Gruhin Suggests More Land

Mayor James J. Tully's proposal for a play area adjacent to Shawger School passed on first reading on Tuesday night by a 4 to 1 vote over the objections of Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, and after a verbal tiff between the Mayor and Commissioner Hyde.

Attorney Robert Gruhin, representing the combined clubs of Silver Lake suggested that the Commissioners inquire in their plans the closing of Cross Street, and the acquisition of vacant land on the other side of Cross Street to make the playground bigger. He said the price for the additional property would not be great enough to make any difference in the feasibility of the plan. He pointed out that this would add at least 150 feet in length to the play field.

Mr. Gruhin said he and his friends from Silver Lake have been patient because they were assured of action. He pointed out that $35,000 is already appropriated and the additional amount would come to only $30,000.

Represents Owners

Attorney Anthony F. Dietri of Montclair, representing property owners at 46 and 42 Magnolia Street suggested that the Town in its negotiations should consider other factors than the market value for any property it might acquire. He suggested that the $65,000 figure should be raised to assure the property owners that they would be given a fair deal. He suggested that other sites should be investigated.

Mayor Tully pointed out that the Commissioners had arrived at the plan for Shawger School after investigating two other possible sites, one on the Della Volpe property which is now owned by St. Anthony's Church as a school site and property on Newark Avenue which is so sold up with individual ownership of small pieces that it would cost almost $100,000 to assemble a big enough plot. He said he did not think that the town would be interested in acquiring property at anything less than a fair market value.

When the ordinance was put to a vote, Commissioner Hyde asked permission to read a statement into the record. The statement is printed in full in another column, without alterations, although some of the statements of Mr. Hyde do not jibe with the facts and the operation of his own department.

Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan attempted to bring this out when he pointed out that Mr. Hyde was containing a playground with a playfield, which are two different things.

Mr. Hyde said the expenditure of a possible $100,000 is not justified for any one section of town.

$200,000 Not Too Much

Paul Russell, who made repeated appearances before the Commission last year, said the Recreation Department made a big enough effort to make Memorial Field attractive for the smaller children. The grass was never cut, broken bottles were all over the place and there was no playground equipment for little children installed there. He declared that if the cost is $200,000 it would not be too much.

Mayor Tully compared the cost to No. 9 School and at No. 4 with the voting lists from the same districts which indicated that there are five or six times as many people to be taken care of. The Mayor said that Mr. Hyde's appointment for No. 9 playground had been voted unanimously without argument.

Mr. Hyde said "That was only because you knew you didn't have enough votes to sell the playground voted that when the matter of selling a small unattached piece of the property was discussed, Mr. Hyde had not presented any plan for the development of the property."

Plan Christmas Display By Local Artists At Stadium

Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, director of Recreation, has started a program that should be very well received by the citizens of Belleville. The program consists of creating a Christmas display at the Municipal Stadium. For the sake of surprise, all of the details will not be announced until the actual display is unwrapped. P. Webster Diehl, Art Director of the Belleville schools and Robert C. Valentino, prominent Belleville artist, have accepted leadership of the project, and the display will be done by a group of Belleville artists.

His program will include works of Haydn, Chopin, Kabalevsky and Grieg.

Hazel Elsworth and William Akers, duo-pianists, will be remembered for their fine performance in last year's series. They will be heard tonight in compositions of Bach, Franck, Arensky, Gershwin and Milhaud.

Richard Nicklaus, baritone, will be assisting artist on the program, accompanied at the piano by Walter Giannini, composer and teacher.

PUBLIC SERVICE AGREES TO STATUS QUO ON 37 BUS LINE

Gripe Session Follows Hyde's Announcement That Curtailed Service Plan Is Reconsidered

The hearing on the proposal to cut service on the No. 37 bus line from Joramelon Street and Franklin Avenue to Silver Lake, before the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday night turned into an anti-climatic gripe session, after Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde announced that the Public Service had reconsidered both its plan to discontinue the line and to cut service at this time. Eugene Lynch for the Public Service promised to have printed schedules printed within a week and in Mr. Hyde's office.

The discussion got pretty hot at times with a great deal of criticism heaped upon Commissioner Hyde, and led Attorney Robert Gruhin to add a little humor to the session when he suggested, "We should lynch Lynch and leave Hyde alone."

Friends Meet Again At GOP Party

Commissioner Joseph King and Mark Anton, Republican candidate for State Senator from Essex County, were more than a couple of politicians shaking hands when they met at the official opening of Mr. Anton's headquarters in East Orange on Friday. They have been friends since the 20's when Mr. Anton was in business in Belleville and Mr. King was a director of the First National Bank. More recently they have sat down together at meetings of the Essex County Board of Freeholders, when Mr. King, a former Freeholder has reported to that group on special work he has done for them. Freeholder Anton has gone a long way since his Belleville days and now heads a $42,000,000 corporation; the Suburban Propane Gas Company.

Lay Advisory Committee Urges Naming of Consultant

Members of the Lay Advisory Committee met with the Board of Education on Thursday night and reiterated their belief that the Board should engage the services of a consultant to help guide the thinking for the proposed new high school.

At the same meeting they looked over tentative floor plans presented by Architect Emil A. Schmullin, showing a building covering with auditorium and gymnasium wings on a three story central structure. No elevations were shown but Mr. Schmullin pointed out that the building was being designed to fit the contours of the property. He said the ground floor containing the administrative offices, labs, shops and all special classrooms and the floor level of the gym and auditorium, would be below the street level of Division Avenue, while the classrooms and two stories in the central part of the building would be above the street level. Mr. Schmullin pointed out that steel piles will have to be driven they might well support three floors as one.

Mr. N. Schwartz reported that the Board and Jerry Leary, owner of about an acre of back yard property at near agreement on a piece of property on land. He also recommended that the board buy other back yard property, that a paper street could be closed off and the building shifted a little towards Nolton Street, in order to avoid the 100 foot water right of way which cuts across a large portion of the stadium property, including the skating rink.

John Boyle, president of the Lay Advisory Committee, recommended to the Board that the immediate steps be taken to erect an all-purpose gymnasium and auditorium addition to No. Three School. The committee suggests that such an addition could be built to be part of a building which someday may replace the present antiquated school building.

Remy Buttinghausen, who served as a Naval Aviator during the war, is skipper of the ship and Walter Wunderlich is Mate.

The ship has a 34 foot former U. S. Coast Guard Picket Boat for its cruising program.

Young men fourteen years of age or over are invited to visit the ship on Wednesday.

GOLDEN GETS ALL THE ANSWERS AT BOARD SESSION

Is Told Vouchers And Audit Supplement Are Public Records And Available For Copy

James R. Golden got all the answers he desired to the meeting of the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday night and even took a little ribbing when someone asked him for his opinion about the No. 37 bus line which was heatedly discussed by citizens and representatives of the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport, for whom he works. "Goldie" laughed and said "No Comment."

His first request was for information about repairs to the Town Hall, and was told by Commissioner Patrick J. Waters that the year is not up and the Town Hall will be repaired as promised last year.

He asked Mayor Tully if he might examine vouchers for the year of 1952 and copy some of them. He was assured that the vouchers are public record and that a copy would be made for him. He said he wanted Mayor Tully to advise him that Town Treasurer Sargent will be cooperative.

Mr. Golden said he realized that A. M. Hart had filed his supplement to the audit and asked if he could see it. He said he would again Mayor Tully assured him that the supplement is public record and that a copy would be made for him. The Mayor said these things are public property and not only any citizen can examine them without

Speaks Here

John Henry Faulk, WCBS Radio's wit and philosopher, will speak at the Belleville High School assembly this morning on "Our American Heritage." Mr. Faulk received B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Texas and as a college professor taught English before becoming a radio personality. It was as a college professor that his present radio personality began to emerge, as he larded his discussions of literature with colloquialisms and regionalisms to make his lectures more lively. His recent on-air discussion about Jeffersonian idealism made him the most popular on the campus. Beneath the wit of his stanzas lies a broad social comment, razor-keen reporting of the time and times, skilled satire and a deep appreciation of the poetic imagery of the faith of plain folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Arnold, of 271 Branch Brook Drive, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Audrey Lee, to A. # Nutley Outmanned But Not Outfought As Bellboys Win

Rocco Cafone Rated Best Performer Appearing Against Nutley This Season After Passing Show Saturday

By Eugene Serpentelli

Nutley's Maroon Raiders outmanned in everything but fight, held Belleville's Blue and Gold to a scant two touchdowns victory, Saturday at Park Oval, Nutley. The defeat was the Nutley's 16th straight over a three-year span, and the third under its new coaching regime. It was Belleville's second victory in three games.

On the very first play of the game Nutley attempted to give Belleville a dose of its own medicine with a sleeper play, but the Belleville backs were aware of the sleeper and broke the play up. Belleville drove to its first touchdown in the opening quarter when it went from its own 47 to the Nutley 34 on ground plays and then Rocco Cafone tossed a pass to "sleeper" Larry Nutley for the touchdown. Cafone's run for the extra point was stopped.

Nutley made its only serious threat when the Dallas got off a short kick and Owen McCarron ran it back nicely to Belleville's 25 yard line. Nutley shed out a first down but fell short of the goal when stopped on fourth down on the western.

Near the end of the half Belleville started a drive which ended on Nutley's two-yard line as the gun went off. A 30 yard pass to D'Onofrio and a short pass in the flat to Bob Doyle set up most of the victory.

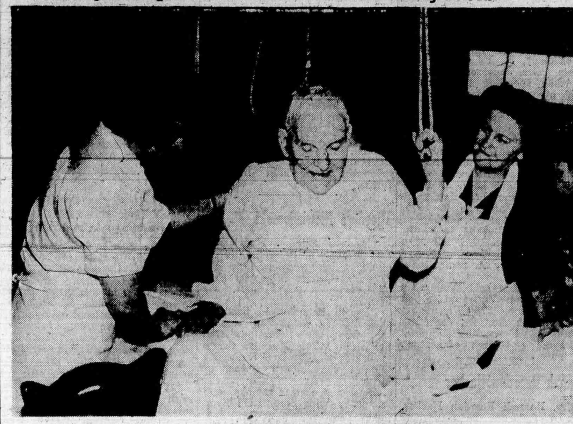

After a listless third period Larry D'Onofrio intercepted a fourth period pass on his own 25 and raced it to mid-field. Belleville moved on to Nutley's 36 where Bob Doyle's 30 yard pass was recovered by Nutley. On the next play Al Musto fumbled and Belleville recovered. Cafone then tossed two passes to Joe Mignone which put the ball on the one from where Cafone plunged over from Pompano's kick was blocked and the final score was 12 to 0.

Nutley fans were amazed at the performance of Belleville's Rocco Cafone and rate him as the best individual performer to play against them so far this year. This opinion is shared by the boys from Bloomfield, who wonder why the Newark sportswriters are not "thumping the tub" for him as an all-state candidate. Nutley was all set for Joe Mignone's speed but had not counted upon him to be an able pass catcher as well, but at least Nutley knows what Belleville has known all along.

The victory enabled Belleville to pull within one game of Nutley in the series history. The rivalry started back in 1920 but was interrupted for 15 years when things got a little rough among the spectators and players, but in 1944 was resumed, including Saturday's game the record stands at seven victories for Nutley, six wins for Belleville and one tie.

While Belleville appears to have a pretty fair chance of winning its next three ball games, the reverse is true for the hapless Nutley team trying to break out of its losing streak. The kernels meet

Be Neighborly—These Are Your Neighbors

The pictures are of your neighbors being helped by the Visiting Nurse Association, one of the Red Feather Agencies in the Community Chest, which begins a weekend house-to-house campaign for funds today. Above is Mr. J. J. who is recovering from a long illness and is being taught to help himself by pulling to a sitting position with a rope tied to the foot of the bed. He is also using the rope to exercise for the day when he will be standing and walking again. The more he learns to do for himself, the easier it will be for his wife to care for him, and the sooner he can be independent.

At the right is Annette being shown across the street at a green light by Miss Anna Martin, one of the Registered Nurses from the Visiting Nurse Association. Annette had polio in 1949, which left her with weaknesses in both legs. Her brace and crutches enable her to get about independently, and now she goes to school and to the movies all alone. But this independence came after long hours with Miss Martin, who taught her how to care for her braces and supervised her gait training.

The Nurse, with the help of the associations physical therapy supervisor, teaches self help activities in the home. She works closely with the family and the physicians and is part of the Community health team. She offers a general family health service, which includes bedside nursing. Her services also include rehabilitation, which may mean a bright new world to many, with handicapping conditions.

When you give to your Neighbor during the weekend drive, think of the good these nurses are doing and give your gift a second thought to be sure you are giving enough.

New High Scores In Fewsmit Men's Club Bowling League

The bowlers of the Fewsmit Men's Club Bowling League are going into mid-season form as evidenced by the many 500 series and a new season high by Cline, who rolled 287, eclipsing Goody's fine effort of 254 the night before.

All games during the week found the Hilltoppers, Busters, Muffins and Old-Timers taking 2 out of 3 from the Spoilers, Farmers, Aces and Cubs, respectively. The 200 games rolled during the week were Dendzer 202, Goody 234 and Cline 287.

Bertelli Grid Fete Speaker

Angelo Bertelli, one of Notre Dame's greatest quarterbacks, will be the guest speaker at the Varsity Club's annual banquet for the Belleville High Football squad, December 17th, at the Robin Hood Inn.

Bertelli, who will be remembered as one of the first of a long line of outstanding Notre Dame "T" formation tacticians and forward passing wizards, will bring with him a wealth of background and experiences for the local gridlers.

In addition, Bertelli has earned quite a reputation as a fine after-dinner speaker, and his appearance should be quite a treat for the boys.

Night Basketball

Belleville always has been basketball minded. Baskets are to be found in many places around town, and plenty of boys around the baskets. Because of the popularity of such small group games as "21" miss-and-out and three-a-side, played on these baskets, Bob Cook, Superintendent of Recreation, has arranged that boys can use the baskets on the skating rink at the Stadium during the evening hours from 7 to 9 p.m. There is only one requirement to avoid a group of this privilege and that permission must be asked at the Recreation office so that a department employee can turn on and off the lights. The employee is available so no one needs to try to short-cut the procedure.

Some misguided youngsters did not understand the mechanics of obtaining the use of the lights and over the weekend smashed open the switch box. This was not only unnecessary, destructive and foolish but was more than a little bit dangerous. It would have been very easy for some one to get a tremendous shock in reaching into the switch box. It is the hope of the Recreation Department that this explanation will prevent a recurrence of this vandalism, and will permit more boys to make use of the facilities.

stay in Belleville and will fight any man who runs my name down."

Mr. Golden asked the Mayor if his brother William Tully, had recently received a $500 increase in salary. The Mayor referred it to the treasurer's representative, who said it was untrue. Mr. Golden also asked Mr. Waters if anyone in his department received any reprimand over and above the salaries listed on the Civil Service list. Mr. Waters said that there were none to his knowledge.

Golden

Mr. Golden raised a question about the landing of the Town Engineer in a matter of search fees. He was informed that Mr. Sheehan has been bonded since the matter was brought to the Commission's attention. Mr. Sheehan in turn stood up and declared that although he is legally entitled to keep the fees, himself, he has always turned them over to the town.

Mr. Golden asked Mr. Hart about recommendations in the appendix of his audit in which he spoke of transferring balances, and Mr. Hart replied that the balances he referred to were nuisance balances where contraband done under appropriation ordinances remained unpaid. He recommended that they be cleared from the books to improve the town's borrowing position.

Waters makes statement. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters asked the floor to make a statement in regards to some of Mr. Golden's remarks and said "My name has been mentioned more tonight than any time in the last 28 years. I want it clearly understood that as far as I am concerned there is nothing wrong with what I have done. It is the auditor's job to clarify matters of book-keeping and advise us on how to do our job better. I want to make it clear that regardless of what the 'rule mongers' say, I am going to Contractors Named - A. Sammaro and Sons, Inc., $12,184.50 on eleven claims for labor, equipment and materials for water pipe fittings; Silvestri Construction Co., Inc., four claims, $3,729.23; Smith Brothers Coal Co., 12 claims for coal, $1,674.79; and Tuttle and Hughes, Inc., four claims for signal cable and a variety of related small parts, $1,917.26.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, chairman of the Public Works Department, informed the Belleville Times News that if anything illegal was done in his department, it was without his knowledge. "If there is a guilty party he can expect no help or sympathy from me, either as commissioner or friend."

A copy of the supplement is now in the hands of Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan for study, as suggested by the auditor. Whether a copy is in the hands of Prosecutor's Detective Sherman, who has made at least a preliminary investigation of charges brought by James R.

Golden, now is immaterial. Mr. Golden, undoubtedly, will see that he gets all the information.

There is little doubt that the spirit of the law has been broken, but whether the letter of the law has also been broken, remains to be determined by the law enforcing officials of the County Prosecutor. The isolated instances in other departments, this project—in its completed stage—will run close to $100,000. How can we possibly justify this expense to the other taxpayers, in other sections of the town?

any one section of the town. We are being asked to commit ourselves in the amount of $55,000. Just to acquire property. When you add demolition costs, further development of the property and recreational equipment, this project—in its completed stage—will run close to $100,000. How can we possibly justify this expense to the other taxpayers, in other sections of the town?

"It has been stated that the town can anticipate additional revenue from the building program that General Motors will institute at Memorial Field. If, and when, this new construction does materialize—the added revenues should go toward reducing our existing taxes, for the benefit of all taxpayers."

"It has further been said that when General Motors builds on Memorial Field, Silver Lake residents would be without any recreational facilities. This is completely untrue—as a matter of fact, the Recreation Department closed Memorial Field last year—during the height of the summer playground season, for lack of attendance. The smaller children were transferred to the Friendly House Playground, a short distance away where all facilities were available."

I am unalterably opposed to this project, because, it has been the experience of the Recreation Department that playgrounds can be built and equipped without spending sums of money amounting to $65,000 or more. Last year our Recreation Department furnished a fine playground for the young people in the Williams Street area, at a cost of $6,000. We are now planning for an expanded play area for all children in the entire valley, which will compare favorably, when it is completed, with any playground in the state. The town has appropriated $150,000 for this project."

The two examples I have just cited show that the need for recreation in these sections was just as great, if not greater, as the demand from Silver Lake, and demonstrates that playground requirements can be met without outspending $55,000 to $100,000.

I am for recreation in Silver Lake just as much as I am for recreation in any other part of town—but I refuse to have any part in a proposal that calls for spending such a ridiculous amount of money to provide one playground for one section of the town."

WORKSHOP WILL CONSIDER NEW AREAS OF EFFORT

Teachers Already Organized For Art, Music And Math Study Groups In Schools

The Workshop Council met in the Teachers Room of School Number Eight, Tuesday, representatives from each school, divided among themselves the job of seeing each teacher before this meeting and asking each one what problem or in what area he would like to have a workshop.

Charles P. Schultz, President of the Belleville Teachers Workshop, conducted the meeting. Mr. Schultz called upon members of the council to volunteer to serve on such committees as publications, evaluation and arrangements.

Teachers have already organized home workshops for example: 22 teachers have formed a workshop with Mrs. Nora De Leeuw as chairman for art experiences. In this workshop each teacher will select an area of art instruction in which she would like to work and actually have experience with various art materials.

Dr. Samuel W. Peck, Director of Music, is organizing a series of workshops in which teachers from grades 1-4 will go through the new music guide developed by the music workshop and actually carry out the activities listed. Teachers hope by this means to become more skillful in music instruction.

A workshop in Mathematics, grades 7-12 started in 1952-53, will also continue its study this year. Areas in which other workshops are needed will be indicated by a survey of the entire teaching staff of 235.

The following people attended the meeting: Evan H. Thomas, Superintendent of Schools; Dr. Frank M. Durkee, General Su-

CITES EFFORTS TO CURB POLIO THRU GAMMA GLOBULIN

Martin P. Cosgrove Reports 150,000 Children Were Given Shots In Epidemic Areas

"Since the polio season began in July, about 150,000 children have been inoculated in 14 different epidemic areas, with over a million injections of Gamma Globulin," Martin P. Cosgrove, president of Belleville Chapter American Red Cross, reported this week. "More than two million additional units were distributed through public health officers throughout the 50 states and territories to local doctors for individual inoculations. All this Gamma Globulin was from the Office of Defense Mobilization pool, supplied by the American Red Cross and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis."

In Montgomery, Alabama, 300 children were inoculated, while 35,000 were given shots in Steuben and Chemung Counties in New York State. From incomplete reports, now available, it would indicate that the Gamma Globulin injections have been extremely effective. Polio incidence for the usual epidemic period is 12,214 cases as compared with 15,135 for the same period a year ago.

"There is much to be done in the prevention of polio. Supplies of Gamma Globulin must be stockpiled for next year. You can do your part by participating in the various Red Cross Blood Banks, by giving the Red Cross your financial support when called upon and by becoming an active volunteer in the local chapter."

Strange Stars

There will be frost tonight. The air is scant. The blanket of our atmosphere wears thin. And marigolds that we were late to plant are crowding up our windows, staring in. Come help me cover them. They may not last after a windless night, when boughs are bare.

Acorns are gathered, equinox is past. And rising in the east, autumn's Great Square.

Outside, the dark is spicy with their scent. And cold dew falling. Come — this is our chance.

To save the only gold that was not spent before the white invader's first advance. Bring shawls and shield their petals tenderly from constellations they weren't meant to see.

Taxes, Not Fay, Are The Real Issue

The issue at stake in New Jersey's November state and county elections is not Joe Fay, the Newark Evening News notwithstanding.

At stake in the poll is a continuation or a change of our county government which has been in the hands of the Republican party for the past 37 years, as well as the election of a Governor and his program. The essential, in the opinion of The Times-News, is not whether a letter or a visit to Fay is a criterion of a candidate's qualifications but whether or not the candidate stands for new taxes.

New Jersey has no state income tax, no state sales tax, no corporation tax. Our per capita tax is the lowest in the country — an average of $35.83 as compared to the national average of $64.61. Yet we have had good government and it has been a business administration, not a political regime which has poured more money into "school aid" or other kiths than it could afford.

Essex County, in particular, has had 37 years of economical government under continuous Republican administration. And as far as The Times-News is concerned that is far more important than the extraneous issue of Fay which a political "barn-burner" has been dragging in as a red herring.

The issue at stake which we put first concerns taxes. We believe that New Jersey has proven that it can function efficiently without a state income tax, state sales tax, state corporation tax and any increase in the state's inheritance and gasoline taxes. Paul Troast has pointed out that 14 years from now, the state can take over the New Jersey Turnpike and can run it and reap an annual profit of $30,000,000. At that time, it can be more generous with school aid, limited to assistance in new construction. In the interim, economy of government should continue to be the watchword.

R.E.H.

Crass Politics In Ohio

There is a lesson in the interim appointment by Ohio's Governor Frank J. Lausche of a successor to the late Senator Robert A. Taft, "Mr. Republican." Lausche is a Democrat and so is his appointee, Thomas A. Burke, who succeeded Lausche as Mayor of Cleveland.

Thus we have the spectacle of a Democrat giving another Democrat the seat of a Republican, elected by a vibrant Republican majority in the Ohio Senatorial election. If crass partisan politics had not engendered the appointment of Senator Burke, Lausche would have been guided by the fact that a Republican had died and would have named a Republican to take his place out of respect for a great Republican's memory and in recognition of the Republican victory in the Senatorial election.

Those are things which must be remembered in voting a split ticket. The Governor of New Jersey has the power not only of interim appointments to the Senate, but he also names the Prosecutors. If, as in the unhappy Ohio instance, crass politics prevails, the outcome could be disastrous for the welfare of the state.

S.E.H.

An Alarming Situation

Belleville taxpayers cannot help to be alarmed over disclosures that the spirit of the law on public bidding on contracts and purchases amounting to more than $1,000 has been broken many times in two departments of the town government, under the jurisdiction of the same deputy commissioner. We are not the ones to judge whether any legal wrong-doing has been committed. That is under investigation. But to say the least, the disclosures indicate that someone was indiscreet to an extent that innocent parties may be gravely hurt financially.

Coming as it does on top of rumors about a scandal in the business office of the Board of Education, it is bound to shake the confidence in the people. As far as the School matter is concerned, the fact that the business manager's office is under investigation has spurred a number of people to action for a movement for a referendum on whether or not the members of the school board should be elected directly by the people. Since the Board of School Estimate proposal of a few years ago was beaten, the proposal to have the people elect the board as well as pass on the budget seems to have merit.

Unfortunately, both matters came up at the same time, although they are entirely unrelated. There is a good chance that either or both have been politically inspired. But now the motives of at least two men are questioned, neither matter should be whitewashed. If anyone is guilty, he should be exposed. If there has been no wrong doing in the eyes of the law, then in fairness to those upon whose shoulders the scandals now lay, should be exonerated publicly, so that no trace of scandal shall remain.

Citizens can read the facts as culled from the Auditor's report and judge for themselves.

One Man's Opinion

We Are Engaged In Struggle Between Eisenhower's Effort To Rush European Army And Churchill's Bid For Big Four Talks

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

Winston Churchill, now pushing 80, would, apparently, like to have his cake and yet eat it.

Addressing the annual convention of the British Conservative party at Margate, last weekend, the Prime Minister pronounced for an early meeting of the chiefs of state of the West with Malenkov and in the same breath, he warned France that if Paris does not make speed with the ratification of the European Defense Community treaty, the West will have to make other arrangements and use German instead of French troops in reinforcing the defenses of Western Europe.

To Washington, the Margate mutterings did not make sense. Churchill knows, surely, that France is vital to European defense, with or without German troops. He knows, too, Washington is convinced, that a meeting of Eisenhower, Churchill, Laniel and Malenkov would provide the Russians with an opportunity, by protracted and fruitless talks, to stymie the creation of the supranational European army which the EDC treaty provides.

I lived in France during two world wars. I know the French to be apprehensive from unhappy experience with the Germans. Three times within the lifetime of many Frenchmen, Germany has been at war with France. In 1870, in 1914 and in 1939. Under Bismarck, under the Kaiser and under Hitler. It was the hope of all Frenchmen, in 1944, when Germany was battered and broken and lay bleeding, that some means could be found to break up the German arms production potential and to disarm her completely.

Germany Grows Stronger

Now, less than ten years later, we are pressing France to accept a rearmament of Germany as an equal. There is no longer a question of disarming Germany. The pressure now is to speed up German rearmament. There is no question of dismantling the arms factories of the Ruhr basin. Essen is now the Democratic Germany's greatest European arsenal. The Ruhr and its environs provide more and more guns and tanks.

My sympathies, in this impasse, can be held for France. No nation can be held for France has been led in the century and a half of her republic, and survive as a great power. Now, in the hour of her peril, however brief, he brought it with the blood of her children.

From the losses on Napoleon's battlefields and the Franco-Prussian War of 1870, France had not recovered when the Kaiser came to power in 1918. A million and a half more Frenchmen died or were crippled in World War I. France was still weak when Hitler struck through the Oise valley gap in 1939.

France Cannot Be Dropped

Yet France is a vital part of the West's line of containment against the Communists, morally if not materially and militarily. There is no doubt that if, as Churchill threatens, Germany replaces France at the continental keystone our position will be weaker, materially and militarily. That the loss of France would mean the end of our prestige throughout the world.

I know from a quarter of a century of direct contact with France that Germany has been a France statesman and United Press foreign and war correspondent in Paris that Germany has been a France statesman and United Press foreign and war correspondent in Paris that Germany has been a France statesman and United Press foreign and war correspondent in Paris.

French Statesmen I Know

The two races, however, have hated each other throughout history. The days of Ayala and the Marquis de Lafayette, who gave himself, gave his assurance that Germany no longer coveted those provinces over which World War I was fought.

times at Vichy. Communism was the enemy of all Democrats. As a matter of historical fact, the alternative which Churchill pressed today to Laniel and his Foreign Minister Georges Bidault is exactly the policy which Laval tried to accomplish — and was damned as a traitor for his effort — the alignment of France and Germany, militarily and politically, against the Communists. Laval had the misfortune to wait ten years too soon and thus earned the condemnation to death by a jury dominated by the Communists in Paris.

Question Of Timing. Thus, in the power struggle going on between Washington and London we are attempting to put a supranational army in the field, before we sit down with Malenkov and play our cards. Churchill, knowing his days are numbered, is rushing his meeting with the first time. If it occurs before the supranational army is an accomplished fact, Russia has a chance of preventing its creation.

It is a matter of record that nothing constructive ever has come out of a Big Four meeting. We can look back over history and see that at Tehran and at Yalta, Russia, through Stalin, gave its veto to nothing to overthrow the Chinese Nationalist regime. How Stalin renege on that pledge is a matter of recent history.

It is a matter of record, too, that at Potsdam, when Truman met Stalin for the first time, he conceived the idea he repeated later that "Joe is a good old fellow, he just happens to be a prisoner of the Yalta boys." Russia promised to cooperate honestly in the common occupation and administration of Germany. How he renege on that pledge, necessitating the Berlin Airlift, is also a matter of recent history.

The stage was set at Potsdam for peace in the Balkans, Spain, and now Malenkov, have steadily refused to agree to peace with Austria and Hungary except on the Kremlin's terms.

No Talks Since 1949. We must remember that all during the Korean war, Russia dodged Big Four talks when they might have ended hostilities. There has been no Big Four meeting since 1949, at the end of the Berlin blockade. Much has happened since 1949. Russia's governments have risen in East and West Germany. Quasi-acceptance of the Communist-drawn frontiers of Eastern Europe by the various Red satellites and subservient regimes has been imposed only by our refusal to recognize them as permanent.

Under those conditions, Washington is convinced there is little or no hope of any practical agreements likely in a Big Four meeting. Russia could offer far guarantees that would be acceptable to the West. Churchill notwithstanding, it is Washington's conviction that if we sit down with Malenkov without the supranational European army a reality in our hands, we would have nothing to bargain with and, once again, any failure would be exploited by the Communists to show the neutrals that it is the

Beck's Television Column

When a customer comes to the store to inquire about a new TV set, the most frequently asked question is "What about color?" It is a good question too considering all the confusion caused by conflicting mass reports.

There is a short and concise report on the situation: An application is pending with the Federal Communications Commission to establish standards for broadcasting color signals. Final approval is expected soon, guesses vary from 2 to 6 months, the latter apparently the closest guess. After that we will see soon one or maybe a couple of more stations broadcast color programs. Probably by the middle of the year you will see color receivers. At present such a receiver contains about 60 tubes, the picture will be about 14" and the price, as told by several manufacturers, will be between $800, and $1200. Present experimental sets are extremely unstable. Very few sets are expected to be manufactured. The price of the color picture tube is tagged at about $300. You will be able to see color broadcasts on your present set in black and white, without any changes to your receiver.

The opinion of leaders in the industry is that the present set is not perfected yet and that it will take from 5 to 10 years to have a finished product, free from "bugs", with about half the number of tubes for low maintenance cost and a picture which shows a 21" or larger picture size, and the price about half of what the first sets are going to cost.

If the average television of today wants to wait for color, before buying a new television set he has a long wait ahead him.

LETTERS To The Editor

Yes, It Can Happen Here

To the Editor, Times-News: Yes, thank God, it can happen here. By "it" I mean of course the action on the part of a group to exert pressure on dealers to take indecent literature off their racks. What does the Committee consider decent? All publications not banned by the National Organization for Decent Literature. If your readers have never heard of this organization, that in no way lessens the fact that in the 15 years of its existence it has done much good for the nation in cutting off one of the main sources of crime.

The N.O.D.L. publishes every month a list of magazines, comic books and the like which offend the code. This code is as follows: All literature is banned which: 1—glorifies crime or the criminal; 2—is predominantly sexy; 3—features illicit love; 4—contains illustrations indecent or suggestive; and 5—carries disreputable advertising.

It is the code that forms the basis for the present campaign in part of Belleville. Again, this local committee invites all other organizations, civic or religious, to join in the campaign. May this effort, God willing, spread not only in Belleville, but eventually in the County, State and Nation.

Sincerely yours, Edward J. Fitzgerald, Chairman, Decent Literature Committee of St. Peter's Holy Name Society, 136 Elm Terrace, Belleville, N. J. October 12, 1953.

Trash Off The Shelves. To the Editor, Times-News: I read with interest the letter published last week by Mr. Buco criticizing Father Wightman and his "disciples" of the Decent Literature Committee.

Apparently there are three mistakes that Mr. Buco considers "rings" but he seems to object to books being banned because they have smutty covers. It is interesting to note that the laws of the State of New Jersey make it a misdemeanor to utter or expose obscene literature or indecent pictures. This law, as far as the newsmen are concerned, is seldom enforced because the powerful interests behind the distribution of such literature immediately file the matter up in litigation and scream—Freedom of the Press!

I do not happen to be one of Father Wightman's "disciples," but I say more power to them. It can happen here and I hope it does. Clean the trash off the shelves!

Very truly yours,

John J. McGee, Jr., 11 Howard Place, Belleville, N. J.

Receives Times In New Orleans

To the Editor, Times-News: Although I have not lived in Belleville for the past ten years, I have rarely ever lost contact with my old hometown because of the Times.

If I were to take inventory of my wealth I could help but to include my boyhood friends and friends as assets. Your paper plays an important role inasmuch as I can read about the activities and whereabouts of my old cronies.

The Times has done a good job and deserves to be complimented.

Cordially yours,

Joseph Maselli, New Orleans 15, La.

GUIDE FOR ART ASSURED FOR GRADES 1 TO 4

Teachers Workshop Develops
Own Thinking On Art Units
For Elementary Classes

This week the Belleville Teachers Workshop is paying attention to the art unit. This time it is in the form of an "Instructional Guide for Art Education" in Grades 1-4.

The teachers workshop on art education met weekly during the 1952-1953 school year, and on the basis of its research and art units submitted by the teachers in the various elementary schools developed the new guide for art education.

The workshop on art with P. Webster Diehl, director of art, its chairman, and Miss Helen D. Simpson and Mrs. Nora N. De Leeuw as associate chairmen included Miss Dorothy M. Ferrara, Miss Nancy C. Tassell, and Miss Maud S. Miller of School Two; Miss Dolores Giamelli and Miss Mary Newman of School One; Miss Mary Foxe of School Three; Miss Mary Gailley of School Five; Miss Isabel Abbott of School Seven; and Mrs. Marie Wall and Mrs. Naomi Gailley of School Eight. As Director of the Workshop program, Dr. Frank M. DeLuca was an advisor of this workshop.

Pointing out the flexible application of the guide for art, the workshop stated in the introduction: "We must be ever mindful that we are not making art, but emphasizing the artistic growth of every child. As teachers of art we must help children from all walks of life to recognize and yearn for lasting beauty—to develop skill in expressing themselves through the medium of art."

In the foreword to teachers in the Guide for Art, Superintendent of Schools Evan H. Thomas commented: "As a teacher, aid in art instruction it will be of immeasurable value. It is the kind of teaching tool that we have been looking for, and because it is the product of our own staff thinking, its approach is not an 'everybody's' approach."

Vollmer Patch Test Given
To 1,100 In High School

During the past week more than 1,100 school students have been given the Vollmer Patch Test for the detection of Talor colicosis. Most of the students were matched on their left forearm on Monday, and then the patches were removed on Wednesday followed by a diagnosis of the result on Friday. All students who fail to get the test and those who have a positive reading will have an X-ray taken of their chest sometime next month.

Dr. Donald Brown and Dr. D. C. Macaluso were assisted in their work by Miss Alice McKenzie, school nurse, and a group of nurses from Essex County.

MUSIC LESSONS TO BE GIVEN

Free Instructions Offered
Saturday Classes Planned
Also During School Hours

The Belleville Public Schools offer two plans of instrumental instruction: 1. free class instruction in school time, to beginners and former students on any band or orchestra instrument, and 2. instruction at the high school, on Saturdays mornings. The Saturday lessons are taught by specialists on the various instruments, and except for beginning piano students the lessons are for both beginners and advanced students.

The class lessons given in school time during the week are only 20 minutes in length, but free of charge. They are primarily for beginners. The Saturday lessons will cost the parents $2.00 for a private half-hour lesson or $1.00 for a class lesson. The longer Saturday lessons will insure more rapid progress than will those taken in school time.

Instruments taught in school time as well as on Saturdays include all the standard band and orchestra instruments. Piano, however, will be taught only on Saturdays, only in classes, and only to beginners or former Saturday morning piano class pupils.

Application blanks are available at the public schools and should be filled out and returned to the principal. Both the in-school and the Saturday morning lessons are now being scheduled.
