Citizens Question Propriety Of Convention Trip And Transfer Of Car; Miss Rochau Irked By Bill

The meeting of the Board of Education on Monday night was both lengthy and turbulent in which citizens and Board members criticized recent acts of President Eugene Kelly and Board Member Walter Loesner, several of which also involved Ruel E. Daniels, the district clerk.

Raymond J. O'Brien, president of the Belleville Citizens Association, asked the Board president why a resolution was passed allowing Mr. Daniels to attend two midwest conventions, when they knew that the Essex County Prosecutor was conducting an investigation of the Business Office, and it must have been realized that Mr. Daniels would be wanted for questioning by the prosecutor's office.

O'Brien declared, "The indecent manner in which you handled this situation resulted in quite some unfavorable publicity and possibly caused some confidence in the Board. It is possible that by your actions in this matter you have caused some unfavorable reactions of the citizens toward approval of a referendum to amend the school system."

Deny Knowledge
Mr. Kelly and Mr. Loesner denied that they had official knowledge of the investigation when they presented the resolution, but admitted that they had heard of the investigation in the form of rumors. Mrs. Howard Rochau, who at a recent convention accused Mr. Kelly and Mr. Loesner of withholding this information from her, said that she had not even been told about the rumors.

Board member Raymond McCann, who was absent when the resolution passed, explained that he and Mr. Daniels discussed the matter and that the investigation was in progress. Mr. McCann said he was invited to talk to Mr. Gaultin and when Mr. Daniels called him up and asked him what he was going to say.

Mr. Kelly further declared he knew nothing about the investigation until the story broke in the Belleville Times. "Then I called Mr. Gaultin," he said, "and that when investigation is complete he will either report to us or sit down with us."

Questions Auto Sale
John R. Golden described himself as a crusader for decency in government, brought up the question of a recent auto sale deal which was made with a board member becoming the owner of a car which was turned in on an auto sale by the board. Mr. Golden declared that this was a violation of the rules of propriety and asked if there was a physical transfer of the car from the Board to the dealer and from dealer to the board member.

Kelly admitted that the car had been obtained by a board member in just such a manner as to cause a question of precedence for the transaction. Mr. Loesner said that since no one was present to question the present owner of the car in question, would explain just what transpired. He declared that one recently had been three years ago, two cars were being turned in and the trade was made. Mr. Loesner said that he raised a question about it.

Not First Time
"Mrs. Zink, who sat next to me said, 'If you think the trade is all right, don't you buy the car.' It was a 1942 car, then eight years old and I paid for it," Mr. Zink said. George J. Mead Company and asked him if he would sell me the car for the same price as he paid for it. He said that he had not only sold it, but he had.

A few months ago the Board decided to turn in a 1946 four-door sedan on a 1953 station wagon to be used by the attending officer. This Christmas season $200 on the trade in. I bought the car from Mead, not from the school system. Mr. Golden asked Mr. Loesner how much he paid for the car, but Mr. Loesner refused to answer. Mr. Loesner said that he had not spent any money for repairs and drove it approximately 20 miles per day, back and forth to work.

Max N. Schwartz, the board's attorney, quoted an opinion of Chief Justice Vanderbilt in which he said "A member of any board who votes upon any matter should be held to the same standard as a private citizen."

Recommend Three Bids
Mr. McCann suggested that the procedure of the District Clerk in the matter should be that three bids from at least three car dealers, whether he be Ford cars or three separate makes. He declared that the District Clerk's responsibility to do some shopping for everything he buys. The best decision of a committee of values eliminates the possibility of proving whether the Mr. Loesner gained by his act.

Rubbish Now Litters Site Of Proposed Playground At Shawger School

Regardless of other factors involved in the creation of a new playground in the Silver Lake section, the conversion of this dumping ground into something more active and useful, will be a big asset to the entire community. Old cars, rubbish and weeds now occupy ground on North Belmont Avenue, adjacent to No. 4. In the background are the dilapidated fences of the property along Magnolia Street. Next to the school is an unopened area which is littered with large sharp stones, each of which is a real danger to the life of the children of Belleville's largest public elementary school.

State Treasurer Comments North Belleville S. & L.

H. Willard Sawyer, president of the North Belleville Savings and Loan Association, received a certificate of commendation for Meritorious Service, from Walter S. Margetts, Jr., treasurer of the State of New Jersey, this week. Mr. Margetts, in a letter, accompanying the certificate, pointed out that the co-operation extended to his office of the North Belleville Savings and Loan Association has made possible the unprecedented programs of substantial benefit to the citizens of the State of New Jersey. The testimonial is on display at the office of the Association, 500 Washington Avenue.

Roast Beef Dinner For Men's Club At Church

The Men's Club of Wesley Methodist Church will hold its annual roast beef dinner in the decorated Church Hall, Monday at 7 p.m. Plans for this year's affair promise to make the best one yet and will give the Banquet Committee something to boast at next year.

The program includes the Rev. A. H. Guin of Caldwell, who, although new to Belleville as an after-dinner speaker, is very much in demand in that capacity throughout Essex County and most of North Jersey.

Harry Tice will be Master of Ceremonies for a variety show and entertainment for the club members, their ladies and friends.

So What?

The Essex County Park Commission last week decided to beautify the background of the spring Oriental blossom display in Branch Brook Park by acquiring a 700-foot strip on the Newark bank of the Second River between Mt. Prospect Avenue, Newark and the park bridge over the Secaucus River. The strip is 60 to 100 feet deep of steep slopes of bank property. The slopes are covered with small trees and weeds in the summer and do not look unsightly, but in the spring the bareness shows that the slopes are little better than the surrounding area.

Mr. McCann suggested that the procedure of the District Clerk in the matter should be that three bids from at least three car dealers, whether he be Ford cars or three separate makes. He declared that the District Clerk's responsibility to do some shopping for everything he buys. McCann Asks Kelly, Loesner To Resign From School Body

Says Unilateral Acts And Unethical Business Transactions Have Shaken Confidence Of People In Board

In a statement issued to the Times-News yesterday, Raymond McCann, a member of the Board of Education, demanded the resignation of Eugene J. Kelly and Walter Loesner, from the board for unilateral acts and unethical business transactions which have shaken the confidence of the people in their ability, integrity and administration. Mr. McCann declared.

"After careful consideration of the many unilateral acts and unethical business transactions of Eugene Kelly as President of the Belleville Board of Education and the collaboration of these acts by Walter Loesner, Vice President, it is requested that they consider resigning from the Board in the interest of the school children and taxpayers of Belleville."

Mr. Kelly's resignation, prior to the submission of the new school referendum to the voters, would give the public time to establish their confidence in the ability, integrity, and prudent business administration of a new Board of Education.

"The disclosure by Eugene Kelly at the last Board meeting of a commitment he and Walter Loesner allegedly made to pay out of Board of Education funds all travel expenses of Thomas Higgins, a school consultant of Chicago, requires full explanation and reconciliation of many facts inconsistent with the record."

"At the May or June regular meeting of the Board of Education, Messrs. Kelly and Loesner failed in an attempt to appoint Mr. Thomas Higgins as a school consultant at a cost of 1% of 1% of the construction cost of the proposed new High School, and then invited Mr. Higgins to come to Belleville at the taxpayers' expense."

PAY RAISES VOTED TOWN TEACHERS AT BOARD MEETING

Amount In Salary Guide Reached; Sick Leave With Pay; Leave Time Given

Making good a promise to a delegation from the Belleville Teachers Association, the Board of Education on Monday night voted pay raises of $100 to each teacher and $200 to each school principal, toward bringing them to their proper place on a salary guide adopted two years ago. While the guide has been in existence, the teachers have not been paid the amounts called for. Teachers with at least nine years of experience were placed "on the guide" in the same action. The funds will come from surplus accumulated during the 1952-53 school year, amounting to $24,000. A sick leave with pay schedule was adopted as follows: One-10 years' experience, 10 days; 11-15 years, 20 days; 16-20 years, 25 days; 21-25 years, 30 days; 26-30 years, 60 days. An additional 20 days with half-pay are granted in each year of the schedule.

Other provisions permit accumulation of leave time up to 90 days; up to five days' leave in the event of a death in the immediate family; and time off for certain personal reasons approved by the superintendent to be counted as sick leave.

The board hired two teachers, Mrs. Helen Schlosser, kindergarten, and Mrs. Montrose M. Bunch, first grade, and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Irene G. Levy, for September 1. A vacation time was given for expenditure of $75 a day for a maximum of 15 days during the school year for consultation services of the Curriculum Service Center of Teachers College, Columbia University.

AGREE TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR NO. 10 PAINTING IN BUDGET

Board Of Education Hears Representatives From PTAs And Discusses Playgrounds

The Board of Education meeting Monday night heard Mrs. John Warren, representing the PTA in two matters, and one of her own, and promised action on one of her requests but turned down the others. Mrs. Warren asked what would be done about the painting of the auditorium, as promised two years ago. She also asked what happened to a request of the PTA that be allowed to have a dancing class in the school each week. Her personal request was to be allowed to have her child tested at Rutgers University to see whether or not he was ready for entrance in kindergarten, and that be granted an exception to the Board's ruling that children must be five before December 31.

In the first request, Mrs. Warren was informed that the painting of the auditorium will have to be a contract job and that funds would be included in the next budget to do the work. As for the dancing class, she was informed that since it would be conducted by a professional group and fees would be charged, it could not be allowed. In the case of her child, the board was unanimous in the opinion that it cannot waive the present rule. During the discussion it was pointed out that many communities make the last date for entry November 31 instead of December 31.

A representative of the PTA from School No. 3 asked if the Board planned to do anything about the all-purpose auditorium and gymnasium, reconstructed by that school by the Lay Advisory group. Mr. Kelly said the board has discussed the matter and an architect may soon be named to prepare plans.

Problems of the employees of the High School cafeteria were discussed by Mr. Percum. Their status as employees was questioned, in trying to decide their status in pension plans available. Max N. Schwartz, gave as his opinion that

Mecca Pilgrimages Progress With Aid Of Local Flyer

Edward "Rip" Osterhuber Is Co-Pilot On Air Jordan Plane From Jerusalem To Djidda

By Maxine Howe
RABAT, MOROCCO—The Moslems' pilgrimage to Mecca has become a just another routine job in the life of Edward "Rip" Osterhuber, formerly of Liberty Avenue, Belleville. Co-pilot "Rip" has made regular flights with Air Jordan from Jerusalem to Djidda all during the pilgrim season, which began airway July 27 and will continue until all Moslems have completed their year of Lihann's holy pilgrim.

For the American, the novelty has worn off of the sight of the long line of saintly looking pilgrims filing across the runway already dressed in their ihram or state of purity. The "take-offs are slow, now, for the pilgrims' costumes like 'Take-off the towels, no showers on the plane . . . or . . . look out, you're cape's coming off!'" The pilgrims go to their seats peacefully, pulling their two strips of terylene about them, making little noise as they slide past in the traditional unsewn sandals. Occasionally there is a woman in the group, and, unfortunately, according to the pilots, never wears a towel, but rather appears in a very covered

Turns Records Over To Prosecutor In Probe Of Spending

Mayor James J. Tully Informs Town Attorney To Get Information He Desires From Him; Give Statements

Mayor James J. Tully announced that in addition to filing a copy of the 1952 audit and supplement as prepared by A. M. Hart & Company with the prosecutor's office, that on request of Anthony A. Sherman, an investigator of the Prosecutor's staff, he turned over all 1952 vouchers, to that office on Monday.

He gave that statement to Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, who had written him on Monday as follows: "I would aid me considerably in my study of the items set forth in the Supplement to Report of Audit of Accounts for the Year 1952, by A. M. Hart and Company, which you have referred to me, if your Department would furnish me with all items set forth in said report, which refer to your department; (a) copies of vouchers; (b) a statement of facts pertaining to each transaction and (c) any other contents concerning each transaction that you desire to make. I would appreciate a prompt reply to be given to me in duplicate."

"I am forwarding a similar letter to each Commissioner of the Department was referred to in the Report. I ask this because of the fact that all vouchers are not set forth and I do not have the time to make inquiries to the background in each transaction."

In his reply to Mr. Keenan, Mayor Tully suggested that if Mr. Keenan needs copies of these vouchers, he should direct further inquiries to the prosecutor's office.

Clerk Is Cleared
Town Clerk Florence Morrey, had personal assurances from Deputy Attorney General on Monday that there was nothing wrong with the method she employed in purchasing sample ballots and voting machines for $1,661, because the election laws exempt these printing purchases from the provisions of the state statute requiring public bids. Mrs. Morrey is not officially a member of any department. She is listed in the Finance Department for payroll purposes only.

MAYOR TULLY GETS JOB FOR TRYING TO AID ELLIOT MARINE

Contributions, Promises From Veterans Groups Pour Into Office After Newspaper Item

"Contributions and messages of funds to come have been pouring into the office of Mayor James J. Tully ever since a daily newspaper carried the fact that Mayor Tully had interested himself in the case of Ira Hayes, a disabled American Indian, who raised the American Flag on Mt. Suribachi, eight years ago, during the battle for Iwo Jima. Hayes, a full-blooded American Indian, is now in a Chicago sanitarium, after his recent arrest for being drunk and disorderly."

For 18 months in the Pacific area and was about 100 yards ahead of his Lieutenant when he and other members raised the flag at Iwo Jima. Hayes was photographed by Photographer Rosenthal. But Tully remembered Hayes and was moved to send his own contribution to him.

Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan says purchases in his department represented replacement items on equipment.

"The Fire Chief buys items as he needs them," Sullivan said, "and they may recover some of the cars and trucks which are needed. We cannot tell in advance what items will be needed. I am sure that an examination of the vouchers will show that none of them are of a large amount."

Commissioner Elmer Hyde said his department had received approval for expenditures for the July 4 celebration. "There have been no irregularities in my department."

Accident Air Travel
American sportsmen working for Air Jordan almost regret the surprise incidents that used to be previous years. Never a dull moment on a pilgrim flight in the pioneer days of the pilgrim. The pilgrims occasionally took it into their heads to build a fire on the desert, usually at night, but the flame of early hadji flights spread; pilgrims were reported to be undisciplined and continually stirred up. Air Jordan was scheduled to schedule a hostess on the Djidda run; go woman was willing to make the pilgrim. Planes were stripped, and a special male purser speaking Arabic was assigned to keep order.

In the past year, however, the pilgrims have made progress. Today most hadjis, even those who have never flown before, accept air travel with ease. More at home than many a western air debilitate, the hadjis show no nervousness, but they immediately commence their prayers. One of their group is chosen to lead or pray, usually the Moslem who has already made the pilgrimage to Mecca several times. In some twenty minutes without interruption, the pilgrims read from the Koran while all other pilgrims answer responsive.

The 1953 hadji by plane could hardly be considered a hardship, except possibly the expense. Round trip fair from Jerusalem to Mecca amounts to about $145. with three C 46's from Teheran and two DC 3's from Jordan flew about 2,700 pilgrims to the Saudi port. Behind The Man-Made Smog

There was, happily, a return to normalcy in the New Jersey campaign this week, largely as a consequence of the interventions of Governors Dewey and Driscoll which brought the Joey Fay affair into its proper perspective. Now, perhaps, the candidates will be free to resume where they broke off several weeks ago and discuss the real issues of this election — taxes and economies.

There was danger, until the two Governors pointed out in parallel statements that any citizen having information that would be of value in determining whether or not a convicted criminal should be released on parole, has not only the right but the duty to submit such information to the parole authorities, that the real issues would be lost in the smoke-screen of invective and misrepresentation.

Once and for all, it would appear as if normal mind that the Troast letter was written within the intent of our whole parole procedure, Troast did not ask any special favors for Fay; he merely expressed some uncertainty over the basis of the conviction and went on record as holding the opinion that Fay could play a useful role in labor-management relations if, under the parole system, he was liberated.

If it is dastardly or illegal to write letters in parole cases then our laws have been badly written. As Governor Dewey pointed out, the parole system could not function without the voluntary letters of interested citizens. If Troast is to be castigated and ostracized for his letter to Dewey, then what should be done with Colonel Bill Egan and Mayor John Kenny, both of whom were on Fay's Sing Sing calling list? Why hold two weights and two measures when, obviously, one would do? If Troast is guilty of an action so heinous that he is unfit to be Governor, then why has Mr. Meyner not publicly repudiated Egan and Kenny at the same time that he denounces his opponent?

Here at The Nutley Sun it is our contention that the campaign should get back to the true issues of state and county government. Both major candidates should and must have their administrative programs sketched out. What are they? That's what we think should be told and there is a sneaking suspicion in our mind that the smoke screen which went up over the Joey Fay affair was intentional, to hide empty hands, to distract the electorate, to cover up the lack of any constructive program.

In the fortnight which remains left there be light. The smog which, too often, snarls traffic on the New Jersey Turnpike is man-made in the Elizabeth dumps; the smog which snarled New Jersey elections was also man-made in the political dumps. No candidate has the right to ask election on the basis of smog. Let the electors know his real intentions. R.E.H.

October Calendar

Now are the aster and the gentian days
Chimed by the cricket chorus, clipped by frost,
When landscape blazes through a smoky haze
And every molten leaf records the cost.

The farmer brings the tag-end harvest in:
Potatoes, apples, grain. He counts the sheep;
His barns are full; and, though he may be thin
And markets fall, he has the family's keep.

All's done but winter wind, and he is free
To stretch out on a pasture hill and doze
Beneath a favorite sugar maple tree
Known but to him and to the sentinel crows.

The last ten red and yellow leaves blow down.
As from a calendar; two stay to brown.

Accusations

He said that board members should either abstain from voting or abstain from buying a ticket for the game.

This heated discussion had not subsided before Mrs. Rochau threw another bomb on the table. She declared that the future she would like to receive a list of bills earlier than five minutes before being required to vote on them.

"At the September meeting I was handed a list of bills accumulated over a three-minute and five minutes later asked to sign the list giving my approval," she said. "I had given my approval that I had a chance to study the bills. When I did I found several things that I did not like."

Higgins' Bill
"As a result of this I would like to know the same amount for Thomas Higgins, $150 for his expenses from Chicago to come here seeking a job."

Mr. Kelly dodged the question of who promised to pay the $150 to Mr. Higgins by declaring that Mr. Higgins by phone after talking to Mr. Loesner and Mr. Yocum. He was asked during the discussion that the Columbia Survey Group, comprising several men who described the services offered by the Belleville College there, had neither asked for or received expenses for their appearance at the same special meeting.

Mrs. Rochau finally won a promise from Mr. Daniels that in the future she would receive the list of bills to be paid on the Friday before the meeting so that she would have ample time to study it before voting on its passage. When the night's work was presented, Mr. McCann, following a practice which he has employed for nearly two years voted against the resolution approving the accumulated bills.

Convention Expenses
Charles Yocum, who had not taken much part in the discussion previously, contributed his own suggestion for improving the practices of the Board of Education, by recommending that anyone delegated by the board to attend any convention, reimburse all expenses for attendance at such an event and that persons be paid expenses on the same basis. He further recommended a resolution which approved limiting payments from the District Clerk's petty cash fund to $100 for personal items and to actual charges in the case of postage and freight charges.

The resolution on expenses for conventions came at an opportune time for the Board on resolutions approved the attendance of Evan H. Thomas, superintendent, Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Hugh Kittie, two elementary school principals, Dr. Samuel A. Peck and two high school students—Eloise Silki, Jack Haft, Louise Elaine and Ronald Kabet, members of the All State Orchestra, to attend the New Jersey Educational Association Convention in Atlantic City on November 13, 14 and 15.

The board also authorized Frank M. Durkee and Charles Schmitt, High School commercial teacher, to attend a conference for leaders in Curriculum Improvement, at Teachers College, Columbia University, on November 17 and 18.

Mayor

Chicago when a news account of his arrest was brought to the attention of the Board of Education. Didn't Figure To This End

"When I read about Hayes being taken to the Chicago House of Detention for his arrest, I was surprised to find that he was paid a $2500 honorarium for his services as a consultant to the city of Chicago. I was surprised to find that he was paid a $2500 honorarium for his services as a consultant to the city of Chicago."

After his discharge, he went to Chicago to learn to become a printer. He got a factory job but he was alone and the nights were long for him. He began to tour bars around town and in his loneliness, his part in the two pictures made easy conversation. Within a short time he quit his job. He was on his way.

A Shoeless Drunk
Last week he was picked up, sick and drunk, in the city's Skid Row section, dressed in blue jeans and an old, soiled blue shirt, and wearing no shoes. Someone had stolen them. When he was unable to pay the $35 fine, Hayes was taken to the House of Correction to work it off at 12 a day.

Then a Chicago newspaper, the Sun Times, heard the story. The paper paid the fine for Hayes and arranged for him to be transferred to a sanitarium. At the same time it asked for contributions for his rehabilitation treatment.

Most of the publicity will just forget about Hayes. Others, like Mayor Tully, cannot. The Belleville mayor, after having sent his own contribution to Chicago, now is busy contacting others who served on two Jims, with the 25th Regiment, the Marine Division, and like him, cannot forget Hayes.

McCann

To further discuss the matter with the Kelly majority and paid Mr. Higgins $150.00 for this trip on July 15, 1953. The records of the Board of Education show up to substantiate this transaction. However, no record is available either in correspondence or otherwise, to show why signed Purchase Order E201, dated July 15, 1953. This, like so many other unexplained businesslike acts of Mr. Kelly requires full explanation. What was the Marine Division's deal? How far did Messrs. Kelly and Loesner commit the taxpayers of Belleville? This type of transactions can only result in complete lack of confidence in the business ability, integrity, and moral fabric of the Kelly group

One Man's Opinion

France Will Elect A New President, In December, For a Seven-Year Term, Without Candidates And Without Rules

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

If you think our system of electing our President by choosing electors to an electoral college is antiquated, dating to the era of saddlehorses, pity poor France. Sometime between December 10 and 23, a new French President will be chosen for a seven-year term and not a one of the famous forty million Frenchmen who the song says, can't be wrong can do anything about it.

In fact, France, under the new Constitution of the Fourth Republic, doesn't even have a set of rules for electing a President. The last time it was done, they made up the rules right before the vote by the two houses of Parliament sitting in the Bourbon palace of Versailles as the "National Assembly."

No one even knows the exact day of the election, because it has not yet been set. There will be no national conventions such as our joyous hayrides, and anyone who wants to can run for the job.

Here in this country we make pretense of voting for a President although, in reality, none of us voted for Eisenhower or Stevenson last November. We voted for electors who were pledged to one or the other.

In France, the Senators and Deputies gather at Versailles after lunch at the Trianon Hotel and proceed to hold as many ballots as necessary to come up with a candidate who polls an absolute majority of one more than half of the total membership of the two houses of parliament.

Bred Dictators
It seems like a non-democratic way of electing a President, but somehow or other France, in the past, has generally done so with some pretty good Presidents. There were exceptions, of course.

There were exceptions, of course, such as Napoleon Bonaparte, nephew, Louis Napoleon, who was elected President of the Second Republic only to declare himself Emperor and turn the Second Republic back into the Second Empire. Or Marshal, Patrick MacMahon, a Prussian descendant of a line of Irish soldiers of fortune who took exile in France under James II. He was elected President by the Assembly in 1873 and yet six years later he had lost every supporting vote assigned.

There were really great Presidents such as Fallieres and Poincare who, between them, held the office continuously from 1894 to 1920, but there were also some strange ones, such as Paul Deschanel who resigned after he fell out of the Presidential train in his pajamas and became the target of the ribald songs of the Montmartre cabarets.

Out In The Cold
I was handling the night desk at the United Press in Paris that wintry night, in 1923, when one of our string correspondents in Normandy telephoned to report that the President of France had fallen out of his pajamas. It sounded too palpably a plant to be true, but it was the French President who had a simple mistake of one door for another but the President of France did found himself on the ice, in the wintry cold, in his initial pajamas.

France has had only fifteen Presidents in the 82 years of the Third and Fourth Republics. Only half of them ever finished their terms. Six were forced to resign.

Albert Lebrun whom I watched resign at Bordeaux in June, 1940, to climax the French defeat by Hitler. Two were assassinated and I watched the murder of one of them, Paul Doumer, as he inaugurated a display modern French literature in 1932 after one year in office.

Witness Of Murder
Doumer was the victim of a mad Russian named Gerguloff who was insane. He believed in the proposed new high school and for the sake of the children of Belleville who so directly need better educational facilities, they should resign from the Board of Education to permit the re-establishment of the public's confidence in a new businesslike Board of Education.

Agree
They are bonified full time employees of the Board, who work three hours each school day. The board voted to allow the cafeteria workers 10 days sick leave with pay per year, and took under advisement a proposal that they be paid a bonus for any school day not taken. The sick leave days would not be accumulative.

A discussion of after hour activities of youths on school grounds playgrounds turned out to be freer all in which many of the speakers unjustly put the blame on the Recreation department for the lack of cooperation. It was suggested that the Recreation Department and the Board try to get together at an open meeting, but common sense indicates that all that is needed for cooperation between the two is a genuine desire to look after the interests of the children and youths, and not maintain two separate little governments, each suspicious of each other's actions.

Raymond Smith, president of the Teachers' Association, who worked on the playgrounds in the summer, voiced this idea in saying the fault is not all one sided, but the problem can be solved.

thought, was honor him with the Presidency. Alas, when he returned to Versailles for the vote in 1920, it was Deschanel—the passenger in the pajamas—who was chosen. Briand, who was the outstanding personality of the League of Nations in Geneva as an apostle of peace, tried in 1924 and in 1931, but he was twice defeated by Gaston Doumergue and by Paul Doumer.

First Socialist President
France's present President, Vincent Auriol, is the first Socialist ever to be elevated to the nation's top job. He has but one eye having lost the other as a youth battling with the "Camelots du Roi," the Royalist street action provocateurs. The French President presides nothing. He does not even sit in at a cabinet meeting as does an American President. He works only when France has one of her periodic cabinet crises and since French politics have been in almost constant turmoil for the past 20 years, Auriol has worked hard at his job.

When a cabinet falls, the President calls on the President and hands over a collective letter of resignation. The President may turn him, out of courtesy, to try again or he may ask his advice as to a successor, but it is tradition that the President holds a series of conferences. One after another, he calls in the leaders of France's 20 or 30 political parties and he asks each one the same question: who would make a good Premier?

Role of President
Finally, when he completed his consultations and made up his mind, the President calls in the victim and invites him to try to form a cabinet. The latter must hold a whole new series of conferences with the same party leaders and when he has counted up the votes for or against him he returns to tell the President that he can or he cannot form a government. He could survive the first vote of confidence.

confidence in Parliament. I have seen, at times, a dozen such hopeful candidates fail. In fact I saw one last 11 minutes after he faced Parliament after a week of consultations—just the time it took to count the votes and show him that his arithmetic was bad.

The rest of the time, the President of France sits in royal isolation in his palace, the Elysee, off the Champs Elysee behind a high stone wall which cuts off his view of that magnificent avenue and of the carousels and Punched-and-Judy shows under its horse chestnut trees.

What's In A Name?
The Frenchman who named the palace the Elysee must have had his tongue in his cheek because in Greek mythology the Elysiun, or the Elysian Fields, were a place for the burial of the blessed dead. When Paris named his man through the Champs Elysee it merely translated into French the words "Elysian Fields." The Elysiun, in more ways than one, fits that appellation. It is a burial place for spent politicians.

Since the post is supposed to be superpolitical, the President must make no political speeches. Anything he says must be non-committal and inconsequential. He speaks only when he dedicates a dam or a battlefield monument. At a recent luncheon in Paris, Auriol was invited to talk but declined, remarking that he could not make a speech because there was no dam to dedicate.

Beck's Television Column

From now on you are going to hear and read a lot about HIGH FIDELITY, STEREOPHONIC and BINAURAL sound systems.

Today we are going to take up H.I. What does it mean? It means amplifying systems capable of reproducing the complete frequency range the human ear can hear. The key to give you some figures for better understanding.

The measure for sound is frequency, the same as sound for weight or inches for distance. The human ear at its very best picks up from about 20 to 15,000 cycles of frequency. Other persons usually hear a lot less. The broadcast stations send out constantly a range from 50 to 6,000 cycles, which means that the total range is incomplete. Some record players hear more of the lower and higher tones and a few manufacturers build amplifiers to reproduce a wider range. Then the record manufacturers printed records in sound waves that the desired frequencies and finally the frequency modulated broadcast (FM) was developed, which goes up to 15,000 cycles. Gradually people became sound conscious and began to realize that they did not hear at all a number of instruments which produce high frequencies. The evolution in sound has started. Now there is a deluge of record players, amplifiers, TV and radio sets with high fidelity sound systems. Of course there are the usual exaggerated claims: some are right, some are wrong.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a record player, TV or radio set, with H.I. reproduction, in any way you take your time until the chaff has been separated from the wheat.

This much is clear, that if you have to spend a lot more money for a really high fidelity piece of equipment than for an apparatus which has a limited frequency range.

If you are contemplating the third set in your house, we would suggest you look over what we have to offer in our current used set sale. There are a few very good sets available at low prices. 10" sets start at $19.95.

Across the River

When a ball player transfers from a Major League team to Class AAA ball he is "sold down the river." When a criminal gets his sentence he is "sent up the river." What happens when you go "across the river"? In our particular case we are accepting more responsibility and therefore more income when we move to the North Arlington Leader, starting November 16.

Yes, after two-and-a-half years in Belleville, we have accepted another call. We will miss Belleville, because the town presents a challenge to a person with imagination and drive. We will leave with some regrets in the sports side of the job and that was that the demand of other duties never allowed us to spend enough time with the boys themselves to get to know them, their personalities and their potentialities.

But we have been fortunate in our stay in Belleville. The High School has enjoyed a period of success which set outstanding marks for future teams to shoot at. The Crew won a National Championship. The football team last fall enjoyed the best season on record and rated the No. 3 spot in the Colliton System. This year's team, too, will do well and by the time we leave will have completed its season with the exception of the Thanksgiving Day game. The basketball team, although unsuccessful in its attempts to retire the Essex County Tournament Trophy, won the North Jersey Section II title two years running as a semi-finalist in the state tournament.

Through the county tournament we will keep in touch with the local sports scene, because undoubtedly we will continue to publish the official program of the tournament. Perhaps we might even have time to put out a more pretentious publication. Nevertheless I shall see my friends at the games at Seton Hall, come the middle of February.

Crystal Gazing

Although we have never been great on picking the winners, our friend, Bob Gorlin, does a weekly stint in that direction, and we pass it on to you for what it is worth. Perhaps you can equal his average of 70 per cent for the season so far.

Belleville to romp over Irvington. The Bellboys are a vastly improved squad since September. Rocco Cofone will keep the Campdowners guessing as he plays the part of a ball handling magician in the T-formation used by coach Ed Berlinski.

Barringer to rout Weequahic. This will be another step up the ladder of success in the City League race for the Big Blue as they seek the Newark title.

Kearny to sink Bloomfield. Both teams were involved in surprising decisions Saturday. Kearny was held to a 7-7 tie with West Orange, while winless Bloomfield suddenly erupted for 31 points to trounce Central. Overall records still favor the Cardinals.

Montclair to unseat East Orange. This is the big one of the Saturday schoolboy grid.slate. The Panthers have hopes of taking all the marbles this season. Martens Stadium will be jammed to the rafters as East Orange seeks to accomplish what no other high school has been able to do, knock off the Mounties. Junie Walker and Aubrey Lewis will be battling for individual recognition too, as the outstanding game of the season takes place.

Orange to flatten West Orange. The Tornadoes, except for its opening game loss to Montclair, are powerful. Bulwarked by its two fine tackles, Stan Slater and Mike Paoletti, Orange is a solid choice to stop the Cowboy offense.

Clifton to nip Paterson East Side. Richie Hoogstraten and Bob Vander Linda are the main cogs in the Mustang attack and will be the difference as Clifton goes on to another Passaic Valley Conference crown.

Central to turn back West Side. The Highstreeters have been taking it on the chin since blanking Nutley, 12-0 in the opener. West Side looks like the probable victim as Central attempts to right itself.

Phillipsburg to shell East Side. The Newarkers' aren't in the same class with the power-laden P-Burgers.

Verona to wallop Madison. Verona is a big favorite to win the Suburban Conference. This will be their third loop triumph.

Jayvees Get Work As West Side Bows Before Bellboys 38-0

Take Over, Score Last 13 Points After West Siders Give Regulars Big Lead; Irvington, Tomorrow, Not Too Tough

By Eugene Serpentelli

With reserves operating in every position most of the game, Belleville's gridders trounced the Rough Riders of West Side by a 38 to 0 score at Belleville Municipal Stadium, Saturday before about 2,500 fans. The victory was Belleville's third straight after its opening game loss to East Orange. Playing at home again tomorrow the Bellboys hope to add to their prestige when they meet the Irvington Campdowners, who have been one of the big disappointments of the Essex grid contingent.

On Saturday, Belleville's first score came before the game was two minutes old. Eddie Bucciarrelli recovered a West Side fumble on the visitor's 45 yard line and after a 40 yard pass from Rocco Cofone to Joe Mignon, Bob Aulin rushed over for the touchdown. Dom Pomponio missed the try for extra point.

On the first play after the kickoff, Larry D'Onofrio picked up a fumble on the West Side 35 and ran it back to the 25. A 20 yard run around end, by Mignone brought the ball to the five. Two plays later Cofone raced around end to pay dirt. The game Pomponio missed the try for extra point.

Belleville continued its scoring to open the second period when a pass play, from Cofone to D'Onofrio covered 35 yards and a 20 yard run around end, by Mignone brought the ball to the five. Two plays later Cofone raced around end for his second score of the game.

The second and third stringers took over at this point and played the rest of the game. In the fourth quarter Gary Glass intercepted a pass on the mid-field stripe and ran it back to the 20. With Frank Puleo directing the team from the quarterback slot, the reserves pushed to the two yard line from where Bob Paganelli plunged over. Pomponio's pass around end and the count stood at 32 to 0.

Near the end of the game and on the ball on the 50, Ralph Conte, another sub-quarterback, threw a pass to Jimmy Apple, who caught the ball on the 45 and appeared on his way to a TD before he was brought down from behind on the 20. Belleville went through the line for a first down on the one and eight piled over for the touchdown which made it 38 to 0.

The game proved a very valuable one for coaches Eddie Berlinski, Jitty Wische and Ray Smith. It gave them an opportunity to test reserves under game conditions and helped them line up replacements in every position.

First Annual Championship Competition For Bike Club

At a meeting this week, the staff of the Belleville Bicycle Club laid its plans for its first annual Club Championship races. The races will be held at the Municipal Stadium on November 7. Races will include balloon tire and lightweight stock bike races, girl's races, one, five and ten mile boy's and young men's races, and a special stock bike race.

These races are open to any resident of Belleville. Any boy or girl who wishes to enter the Championship may do so by registering at the Municipal Stadium, Recreation House, or DeBacco's Bike Shop any afternoon during the week from Saturday through November 31. Handsome prizes will be awarded to the winners and this may be an opportunity for many new boys and girls to join in the bike club activities.

Basketball Meeting For League Organization

The organization meetings for this year's Recreation Department Senior and Intermediate Basketball Leagues will be held at the Recreation House on Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

The Senior league will also include industrial teams because there were not enough registrations to form a separate industrial league. Only teams who have managers present at this meeting will be accepted in the league. All teams entering this year's basketball leagues will be required to have uniforms with numbers.

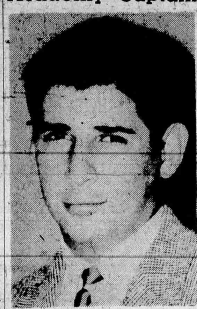

Managers of teams wishing to enter the Recreation Department Intermediate League must also be present at the Tuesday evening meeting. Intermediate teams will also be required to have uniforms. It is hoped that insistence upon uniforms and restricting the number of teams in the leagues will produce a brand of basketball, and an appearance that will stimulate spectator attendance.

Old Timers Off On Five Game Winning Streak

The Old Timers are off on another winning streak in the Fawcett Men's Club Bowling League and are really making it tough for the rest of the teams; their current streak is 5 games and they have now won 11 out of 12 games rolled to date.

The Old Timers and the Spoilers won their series with the Farmers and Aces respectively, while the Busters and the Hill-

The 200 games rolled during the week were Elvin 200, Holman 205 and J. Greulich 218. Holman leads in individual averages with 178 followed by Goody with 172.

The Belleville P.A.L. Junior Soccer League opened its campaign Sunday afternoon at Belleville Park, in ideal weather conditions and before a large crowd of enthusiastic parents. Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan kicked off the first ball to start league play. Only one league game was played and in it the Blackhawks beat the Rangers 2 to 0 in a well played contest.

Then the PAL Junior eleven met the Irvington Tech team and trounced the visitors 5 to 1. Joe Hughes scored the only goal in the first half but in the second period Bill Jerrie, Joe Hughes, Frank Nichols and Dick Ward tallied in order. Mike Briscoe scored Irvington's goal.

On Sunday there will be two league games and a Varsity contest. In the League the Cardinals meet the Blackhawks and the Rangers play the Juveniles. The feature game pits the Belleville P.A.L. against the Passaic German Boys Club. The first game gets underway at 1:30.

Two bus loads of P.A.L. members attended the Shriners' Circus at the Teaneck Aquarium, Sunday afternoon. Transportation was provided by the P.A.L. and members of the police force supervised the children on the trip and at the circus.

Tomorrow morning will be the last opportunity for P.A.L. members to register for art classes. Bob Valentino, the art director, will be at the Veterans' Hall, 17 Belleville Avenue, 10 o'clock, to accept registrations.

Praises Family Service Efforts

A testimonial as to the value of the services of the Family Service of Belleville, one of the Red Feather agencies in the Community Chest drive now in progress, was prepared this week by one of the agency's clients, who not only gave the testimonial but posed with Helen L. Sholly, acting executive secretary, with only her back showing, to withhold her identity. The woman wrote, "I went to the Family Service when despair overwhelmed me. My married life was already on the rocks and the welfare of my little ones was threatened. Believe me, from the moment I met the case worker, she began to shine. With her knowledge, experience and invaluable guidance, we found a way out of the darkness. She, like a guardian angel, helped me to straighten out my life, not by giving advice, but by gaining my confidence, listening to my troubles and then understanding them too." This is not an isolated case but the type of work the Family Service is doing every day of the week. The agency operates on a very low budget and its only appeal for funds is through the Belleville Community Chest.

Letters to the Editor

Mayor Replies in Full to Statement

To the Editor, Times-News: The statement issued by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde in your issue of Friday, October 16, with respect to the Silver Lake playground, and captioned "Hyde Lists His Objections to No. 4 Playground," indicates, not only in his opening remarks but in almost every paragraph, that he is not familiar with the activities of the Recreation Department over which he has supervision. The answer to the record proves conclusively that his opposition is either personal animosity or directed against the people of Silver Lake. The town can anticipate $25,000 in taxes each year after the proposed General Motors building goes up on the Memorial Field property. It will by no means be directly used to buy the playground property. It will from the very first year be used to reduce town taxes. The playground itself is not going to be paid for in three years, but will be bonded over a period of 40 years, which means that the taxpayers, including interest, will be less than $2,000, per year, leaving $23,000, to reduce taxes for all the people of Belleville. The Recreation Department did not close Memorial Field as borne out by the annual report of Mr. Hyde's own department, and distributed at the close of the recent summer playground season. Memorial Field was the scene of the games in the town-wide softball league, in 1932 comprising 12 teams throughout the summer season with more participants and more spectators than the total attendance at the Friendly House playground many times over. Last fall a Belleville team played at Memorial Field regularly in the Essex County Touch Football league. This year the same town-wide softball league, whose champion team was the Belleville team, played at Memorial Field. The 1934 report of the National Recreation Association states that a town should have an softball field for each 3,000 population, which means about 11 for Belleville. That is the ideal situation.

Representation By Districts

To the Editor, Belleville Times: The Republican candidates for State Senator from Essex County, Mark Anton, while proposing the consideration of an amendment to our only recently revised State Constitution to make possible increasing of the size of State Assembly to compensate for the loss of seats occasioned by reapportionment, evinces a novel and bizarre method of attempting to disregard a fundamental concept of representative democratic governmental process which has characterized the theory of proportional representation based upon population, an accepted principle which has proven so prudent and sound since the founding of our nation.

Mr. Anton's polemics delude few who are politically initiated. It is apparent that his purpose is designed entirely for home political consumption and serves a leveling effect upon the political faithful who may hope for recognition and reward by being considered for an Assembly berth upon some future party ticket. If the Senatorial candidate wished to proffer a truly salutary improvement in the nature of election procedural reform, may I with humility suggest that he offer recommendations that the present outmoded and reprehensible method of electing Assembly representatives be supplanted and replaced by a system whereby the county be apportioned into districts and Assembly representatives be elected on a district basis, thus eliminating the repugnant system which finds entrenched party bosses handpicking docile and pliant party hacks to serve on a delegation which has no character or individuality.

Government belongs to the people. Let them, not the politically powerful party rulers, designate the representatives of their choosing. Then and only then can we, the people, expect and hope for much needed better government. Mr. Anton would do well, I feel, to give serious consideration to the suggested proposal.

THE BELLEVILLE TIMES-NEWS

When I wrote a cryptic letter to the Editor two weeks ago criticizing the Decent Literature Committee, I expected to hear rumbles of discontent from several quarters and to be publicly criticized in return. I did hear rumbles and two counter-attacks appeared in the Times-News last week. The views I express here are final—the committee or any other parties are free to denounce, ignore or extol them from now on until Doomsday.

There is no doubt in my mind that members of the local committee have been spurred into action by intentions strictly honorable—and I commend them. When I see the gaudy layers of fifth and lies in drug and stationery stores when I see the staff devoured, I am full of disgust—my first impulse is to destroy—yes, Mr. McGeady, to "clean the trash off the shelves." But to what avail? I think of Hitler purging Munich, the Puritans purging Salem.

I assume that both local and national newspapers are full of among their members at least a few educated men, a species, according to Jacques Barzun, "obsolete but not extinct."

Educated persons know that when you snatch from a man his God-given freedom to choose between good and evil you turn him into something less than a man. When you deny him the books he must not read, the films he dare not look at, the causes he must not fight for, you are walling that man in a cage of his mind. You are de-humanizing him. In short, you commit a sin against God. The creature who is too lazy to think what is good and what is evil, the pathetic person who allows himself to become a mental robot, also commits a sin against God.

What I object to is the Decent Literature Committee's indecent methods. The only good they do is to read hard, poorly printed books which I dropped apparently have been taught to think for themselves.

When each person comprehends the nature of truth, when he himself decides to mentally spit on it, let the swift run in its tracks, then and only then will he have added to his own stature and performed a feat of enduring value.

I assume that both local and national newspapers are full of among their members at least a few educated men, a species, according to Jacques Barzun, "obsolete but not extinct."

Educated persons know that when you snatch from a man his God-given freedom to choose between good and evil you turn him into something less than a man. When you deny him the books he must not read, the films he dare not look at, the causes he must not fight for, you are walling that man in a cage of his mind. You are de-humanizing him. In short, you commit a sin against God. The creature who is too lazy to think what is good and what is evil, the pathetic person who allows himself to become a mental robot, also commits a sin against God.

What I object to is the Decent Literature Committee's indecent methods. The only good they do is to read hard, poorly printed books which I dropped apparently have been taught to think for themselves.

When each person comprehends the nature of truth, when he himself decides to mentally spit on it, let the swift run in its tracks, then and only then will he have added to his own stature and performed a feat of enduring value.

Representation By Districts

When I wrote a cryptic letter to the Editor two weeks ago criticizing the Decent Literature Committee, I expected to hear rumbles of discontent from several quarters and to be publicly criticized in return. I did hear rumbles and two counter-attacks appeared in the Times-News last week. The views I express here are final—the committee or any other parties are free to denounce, ignore or extol them from now on until Doomsday.

There is no doubt in my mind that members of the local committee have been spurred into action by intentions strictly honorable—and I commend them. When I see the gaudy layers of fifth and lies in drug and stationery stores when I see the staff devoured, I am full of disgust—my first impulse is to destroy—yes, Mr. McGeady, to "clean the trash off the shelves." But to what avail? I think of Hitler purging Munich, the Puritans purging Salem.

I assume that both local and national newspapers are full of among their members at least a few educated men, a species, according to Jacques Barzun, "obsolete but not extinct."

Thanks William Hood
To the Editor, Times-News: I wish at this time to publicly thank William Hood, of 407 Joramaleen Street, for his kindness in returning to me, my pocketbook which I dropped apparently when getting off the bus. The contents of my pocketbook were of great value to me and I am ever so grateful to him for his honest and kind deed.

Thanks For Services
To the Editor, Times-News: Last week I took the occasion to write to John G. Kronkard, 1825 Stephen Street, thanking him for valuable professional services donated to the Community Chest. His donation of services and materials in plain dollars and cents amounts to considerable more than is received from all but our most generous patrons. In the interest of giving credit where credit is due here is my letter to him.
"On behalf of the Board of Trustees of the Belleville Community Chest, I wish to express sincere thanks and gratitude for all the free services we have received from you.
You have been most cooperative and we appreciate the fact that you have taken time from paying activities to donate your services to our organization, not only during campaign time, but all through the year.
We are deeply grateful to you."

TOWN TO INVITE REOPENING OF JERSEY CITY LINE
If Garden State Fails To Reconstruct Buses, Public Service May Be Asked To Replace

Nutley and Belleville have pooled their efforts to re-establish bus service with Paterson and Jersey City interrupted a fortnight ago when the Garden State Lines, Inc. suddenly withdrew all buses. At a meeting of transportation officials of the two towns it was decided that the Public Utilities Commission in Newark fails to bring results, other carriers will be invited to take over the franchise for all or part of the former service.

Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth has instructed Town Attorney William Gorman to defend the town's interests at the PUC hearing next Thursday. He will relay the town's desire to see service resumed to both terminals. Nutley officials are doubtful, however, that Garden State intends to resume operations because the firm allowed its insurance contracts to expire on Monday. The line's buses are now sealed in a Jersey City garage.

At a meeting of town transportation officials with Public Service, tonight, an effort will be made to obtain that carrier's consent to intrastate traffic on the 191 bus route, the Little Falls-New York line, which passes through Nutley.

It is Mayor Chenoweth's hope that PS will consent to handle intrastate traffic so that the buses will be open here to Nutley passengers seeking to go to Little Ferry, in one direction, or to Lyndhurst or Rutherford.

The PS 191 route runs down Kings Road, with service on a basis of three trips an hour in each direction. At present, only passengers to and from New York can use the buses here.

RESISTOFLEX CORP. REPORTS RECORD SALES, PROFITS

Edgar S. Peierls Reports More Than Half Million Increase In Sales, $100,000 Backlog

The Resistoflex Corp., of Belleville, manufacturer of industrial tubing and elastomeric products, disclosed today in its annual report that the fiscal year ended June 30 set a new record in sales and in profits solely from operations since the company was founded in 1936.

Sales totalled $2,495,481, compared with the previous record level of $2,828,928 attained in the preceding fiscal year. Despite increases in Federal income taxes, resulting net profits after taxes were $106,332, compared with $61,292 in the year before. This represents a 73% gain in profits as against a 24% increase in shipments. Earnings per common share rose to $1.42, compared with $1.15 in the year before.

Current assets increased $50,770 to $910,224 and current liabilities fell more than $24,000 to $452,534. The backlog of orders rose to $1,420,000 on June 30 as compared with $1,350,000 on the same date last year.

Describing the year as "the most successful and profitable" in the company's history, Edgar S. Peierls, president, attributed it to the efforts of five years of intense effort in reshaping and rebuilding the company's entire postwar activities.

It marks also, he continued, "the beginning of what is expected to be another significant period of growth and development as further progress is made in diversification of activities and as new lines become established."

An additional $60,000 was spent during the 1953 fiscal year for capital equipment and improvements without reduction of net working capital, according to the annual report. By Feb. 20, all loans outstanding had been repaid.

Weightlifting Gymnasium Open Every Day At Stadium

The Recreation Dept., directed by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, wishes to remind all who might be interested that the department maintains a complete barbell gymnasium at the Municipal Stadium. The gym is open daily from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. with instruction offered Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings for young men of High School age or older, and on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, for the younger boys. Many boys and men have made great improvement in their strength and developed as a result of their training with the weights.

More Emphasis On Geography

In order that the children of Passaic Avenue School may become more geography conscious, large paper maps of the world have been placed in all classrooms from third grade through eighth. The authorities are confident to show the two ocean commerce. The world with its past war boundaries, makes it possible for the children to get, at an early age, a clear impression of the United States' position in world commerce, trade and politics.
