

Loesner To Resign If Elective Board Voted, Not Before

Further developments arising out of the recent grand jury presentation criticizing the business manager of the Board of Education and three board members for their conduct of school business was revealed last night in statements to the Times-News.

In one, Walter Loesner, chairman of the board's building and grounds committee, declared that he would resign his office only if the town's citizens voted in favor of an elective school board in the May 11 election.

In another statement, Ruel E. Daniels, clerk and business manager of the board, made further detailed answer to charges contained in the presentation. His first answer was published in an exclusive story in last week's Times-News.

TULLY SAYS THREE CANDIDATES SEEK TO CONFUSE ISSUE

Mayor Tully last night declared that Robert Grubbin, James R. Golden, and Michael V. Albertini, all candidates for the Town Commission, had "set up headquarters at 26 Bayard Street, home of Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, and his brother, James Waters, in an effort to divert attention from the indicted by the Grand Jury and direct it toward them."

He would not elaborate further on this statement.

The mayor said "the object is to discredit and defeat me in this election by requesting an internal audit of Commissioner Waters' department, which was the basis of the grand jury indictments."

TOWN READY FOR PRIMARY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY

Belleville will have two local issues in the primary election next Tuesday. One will be a vote for Belleville county commissioner of the 12th district. The other will be the bingo and raffles question.

In the race for the U. S. Senate, Clifford P. Case, Republican, and Charles H. Howell, Democrat, are the main parties. The Howell is unopposed. For the house, in the tenth district Peter W. Rodding, Jr., Democrat, is the Democratic candidate, and William A. McGowan, the Republican hopeful.

Other officers and the candidates are:

Surrogate, Samuel S. Saiber, Republican; and Adrian M. Foley, Jr., Democrat; county supervisor, William S. Gray, Republican, and John R. Sheets, Democrat; clerk of Freeholders, Charles H. Nichols, Republican, and Edith E. Reinhardt, Republican; and Bernard Robinson, John J. Gilbin, and Ferdinand J. Biondo, Democrats. For unexpired term, James A. Curtis, Republican, and Harry L. Wheeler, Democrat.

LIST NEW SALARY RANGE FOLLOWING TOWN PAY RAISE

New minimum and maximum salary ranges for town employees under civil service were announced today following an earlier grant of across-the-board pay increase by the Town Commission.

ON THE SCENE—Four property owners examine a zoning map of the city as they stand on the site of the proposed parental home, which the County Parental School proposes to build on the north grounds of the County (Soho) Isolation Hospital. The gate pillar, which marks one of the entrances to the hospital, is also the approximate boundary between the northernmost hospital building and the 4 1/2 acres of land deeded to the school's board of trustees by the Board of Freeholders. Left to right, Arthur Bloemke, president of the Belleville Home Owners Association, which is fighting the move; and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Uno Anderson, and Mrs. Charles Molinaro, of 21, 33, and 37 Berkeley Avenue, respectively. Houses on the avenue may be seen in the background of this photo. The 12 foot wall which will surround the home will come within 10 feet of the private property line.

LAST RITES FOR F. H. DUXBURY, TELEGRAM OWNER

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Frederick H. Duxbury, owner and publisher of the Belleville Telegram, who died Monday at his home, 298 Union Avenue, after a two weeks illness.

Mr. Duxbury, born in Pine Plains, N.Y., traced his ancestry back to Miles Standish, whose mother was Miss Duxbury. The Duxbury Mills were established by the family many years ago in Belleville.

Mass Meeting To Protest Parental Home Wednesday

A mass meeting to protest plans for the construction of a County Parental School on the north grounds of the County (Soho) Isolation Hospital will be held next Wednesday.

The announcement was made late yesterday by Arthur Bloemke, president of the Belleville Home Owners Association, whose members are residents living in the area of the proposed building site.

Bloemke said William J. Orchard, Belleville industrialist and member of the parental school's board of trustees, had accepted an invitation to speak at the meeting, which will be held at 8 p.m. at the school site. Orchard, who is opposed to the construction of the school, declared that he would not make any announcement until it had reached some decision.

In his statement, Orchard said that he could remain in office until his term expired in February 1 of 1956, he would resign if the May vote declares for an appointive board because in that event he felt that the people should have the immediate opportunity to elect whoever they wish for the position. "He said that he would not make any announcement until it had reached some decision."

NAME SULLIVAN CEREBRAL PALSY COMMITTEE HEAD

Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan has named Belleville special gifts chairman for the 1954 Cerebral Palsy Building Fund. The drive was announced yesterday by Donald A. Harper, Essex County general campaign manager. The drive will open next Monday and continue through May 15.

The building fund campaign, a one-year drive sponsored by the Cerebral Palsy of Essex County and West Hudson, opened last year. The $400,000 goal is to be used for construction of a new school and treatment center for afflicted children of this area. The new center will replace present inadequate facilities in the basement of the Summer Avenue School in Newark.

Bond Issue For School No. 7 Addition Pushed By Group

Parents of children attending the overcrowded No. 7 School will seek a referendum vote on the authorization of a bond issue for the construction of an addition to the school, John Zepka, chairman for the group, said last night.

"We are opposed to re-districting, or the 'double-session' plan, which would require the school to have the bond issue voted on," he declared.

The whole system needs an upward revision. "It was reported that the group would seek to have the bond issue question placed on the ballot at the same time that a referendum on high school bond issue is presented."

Zepka emphasized that it wanted to avoid any controversy on the school question, and was interested only in working with the school authorities to solve the problem. Victor G. L. Springer, chairman of the school board, also announced their support. One of the school board members, E.C. I. O., John Garuso, school steward; and Nicholas Pittuso, school steward, also announced their support. One of the school board members, E.C. I. ## SILVESTRI GETS CONTRACT FOR WATER MAIN JOB

The Silvestri Construction Company of Belleville, which was awarded the contract for the construction of a six-inch water main north of Greylock Parkway, near Mitchell Street.

The bid was for $2,084. The two other bidders were A. Sammaro and Sons, Inc., $2,187, and Angelo Corino of Belleville, $2,374.

The indictments involving the company declared that contracts of more than $1,000 had been awarded to it without public bidding as required by law, and that Hugh Welsh, deputy public works director, had arranged with the company to pay him for work done by it for the town.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT IS SUBJECT TO STUDY

This is one of a series of articles relating to the proposal for a Charter Study, and election of a Charter Study Commission, which will be included in the May 18 ballot. The author is a candidate for the Charter Commission.

By Boyd Hartley

On April ninth this paper printed the available facts concerning the indictment of one of our Town Commissioners by the Essex County Grand Jury. In the same edition on page 2 appeared an editorial entitled "Let There Be Justice."

The author of this series of articles on municipal government and Charter Study feels that the editor should be commended for his attitude. It is very easy for a newspaper to succumb to a desire for increasing circulation through use of individuals or of political mud-slinging. It is in the American tradition of fairness and justice for a newspaper to report the news as it occurs without condemnation before the facts are known and the legal action completed.

I especially like the beginning of the third paragraph: "The indictment of individuals or of municipal government. Why? Because it accords so completely with my thinking."

1200 To Join In Easter Egg Hunt This Saturday

More than 1,200 children are expected to take part in the annual Easter egg hunt tomorrow morning in the Municipal Stadium at 9 o'clock. A massed band will play music to report the news as it occurs without condemnation before the facts are known and the legal action completed.

The youngsters will be racing around the field seeking out the brightly colored eggs and prizes for the winners. The lucky winner will be awarded the finder of one of the hundred eggs of a certain color. Ten more eggs have been marked which will enable the lucky winner to a huge Easter basket filled with...

Charges, And More Charges In Jury Indictment Fight

A merry-go-round of charges and counter-charges spun around town hall this week as candidates for the commission sought to fix some measure of responsibility on the whole town commission, and particularly Mayor Tully, for the situation which resulted in a grand jury indictment of four town officials and a presentment against members of the Board of Education.

The angry mayor struck back in vivid language against his critics inside and outside the commission, asking: "For what political gain or profit do they seek to twist, distort, and divert the issues?"

At the same time Public Safety Director Sullivan, whose department books were examined by the county prosecutor's office, as well as those of other town departments, declared that in all fairness the prosecutor should issue a statement specifically clearing his department.

Mayor Tully based his position on what he said were the following points:

1. The alleged offenses listed in the grand jury indictments occurred during his absence from Belleville, while he was serving in the Marine Corps after having been called back to service as a reserve officer. He was absent from May 21, 1951, to June 26, 1952.

2. When Tully returned from service he was informed that irregularities existed. He immediately launched an investigation, spent months checking over vouchers, and asked A. M. Hart, an auditor, to provide him with a supplemental audit of the books of not only the public works department, but all departments.

When the audit, detailing apparent violations of the law, was available to him, he then asked the town attorney for a legal opinion to determine if the violations existed in each case.

3. An audit report by Hart, mentioning the fact that Hart had been ordered by Mayor Tully to dig further into the books for a detailed report on transactions to question, had been filed in the public library. With the matter still pending, Tully said, James R. Golden, now a candidate for the commission, had seen the report and had then gone to the town prosecutor Gaulkin with the story that the law had been violated.

"I had been working on the matter for months, and Mr. Golden had been in the public library, and the prosecutor had the intention of grabbing the credit," the mayor declared.

4. The Board of Education, the Mayor said, he went directly to the prosecutor in his letter to the mayor. Commission members, in his view of the fact that an indictment is merely a charge and raises no presumption of guilt, and in further view of the fact that these men, by law, are presumed to be innocent of any wrong doing, until proven to be guilty. I cannot do refuse to take the suspension action requested by you."

To this, Mayor Tully said that "suspension is no presumption of guilt, but nevertheless the town attorney has informed me that in similar cases the department has suspended persons who have been indicted."

Town Votes On Bingo And Raffles In Next Tuesday's Primary

With voters ready to exercise local option in the primary election next Tuesday and decide whether or not to legalize bingo and raffles for Belleville, various groups and organizations were on record today concerning their position on the issue.

Candidates for the Town Commission race, however, the very last stood cautiously aloof from the question, which they appeared to consider a political "hot potato."

Though Belleville voted 5,341 to 1,819 in favor of the gambling bills last November, some political observers claimed it would nevertheless be hard to get a candidate to support either side because the opposition bloc would vote solidly against him, while those favoring the stand might not necessarily vote for him because of that issue.

The fact remained that not one candidate had issued a press statement on the question up until late yesterday.

While veterans' groups and other organizations here were announcing their support of the two measures, the Belleville Council of Christian Churches, meeting at the Wesley Methodist Church, reaffirmed its opposition to the legalization of the two gambling games here.

To admit bingo and raffles into the life of our churches would be to encourage a minor type of gambling which in many cases would lead to the development of juvenile delinquency," Dr. James K. Morse, president of the organization and pastor of the church, declared.

James S. Lee, commander of the "Vets" club, Henry V.E.W., and Leo W. Hood, who is to succeed him soon as commander, announced that the post would support the legalization of the two games. The American Legion, Flange, American Legion Commander, and Joseph Sagare, commander of the Joseph Tabal...

RESIGNS PUBLIC SAFETY POST BUT KEEPS WATER JOB

Deputy Public Works Director Hugh W. Welsh and Ralph Vasa, superintendent of the water department, remained in office today despite demands for their suspension.

Commissioner Sullivan, who resigned his job as water works superintendent despite the complete support of Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan.

Others indicted by the jury were Public Works Director Patrick A. Waters, and James L. Waters, who resigned his job as water works superintendent before the grand jury action.

Mayor Tully had asked Commissioner Waters for action against Welsh and Vasa, and had also requested Commissioner Sullivan to suspend Welsh from his office with the public safety department, after the had been advised by Town Attorney Keefe that he could legally take such an action.

Waters, in a reply to a letter from Tully, declared that the indictments themselves at this time would not justify suspension of Welsh and Vasa.

Waters, in a conference preceding this week's Town Commission meeting, the mayor urged Commissioner Sullivan and King to vote with him in removing control of the public works department from Commissioner Waters' hands, transfer that control to one of the other commissioners, then remove the two men from office. The commissioners declined to take such action, and Welsh was quoted as saying they did not wish to do this because Waters' term would be finished in another month anyway. Tully continued to maintain that action was necessary in the public interest.

In his letter to the mayor, Commissioner Sullivan said that in his view of the fact that an indictment is merely a charge and raises no presumption of guilt, and in further view of the fact that these men, by law, are presumed to be innocent of any wrong doing, until proven to be guilty. I cannot do refuse to take the suspension action requested by you."

CHARGES ON SMITH TO BE HEARD BY EMPLOYEE BOARD

Charges filed by Police Chief George Spatz against Deputy Police Chief Kenneth D. Smith, charging that Smith violated police department regulations by filing as a candidate for the Town Commission, will be heard by the Employees Relations Board, it was announced yesterday. One source said the charges will be heard within a week, but the time could not be confirmed. Police rules forbid "political activity" by department members.

The Board is composed of three citizens and representatives of the various groups and organizations. The recommendation it makes will be returned to Public Safety Director Sullivan for his decision.

If the decision is against Smith, Sullivan had indicated previously that he would not file a petition for his pension rights. The pension rights could not be taken away from him. He will also fight the case in principal, he said, contending that no department regulations can legally withhold the right from any citizen to run for public office.

DRIVER CRUSHED TO DEATH BY LOAD OF CONCRETE PIPE

At Frederick R. Ford, 40 of 92 Malone Avenue, stopped for a traffic light at Sanford and South Orange Avenues in Newark last Wednesday, a four ton section of seven foot concrete pipe on the trailer truck he was driving rolled forward on the cab, and crushed him to death beneath the collapsed roof.

Ford, who operates a trucking firm, was enroute to Yonkers, to deliver the shipment. Behind him in another loaded truck was Albert C. Rapp of Clifton, employed by Ford as a driver. Rapp reported the story to police.

Ford is survived by his wife, Mrs. Thelma Ford; two sons, Richard and Stephen James; a daughter, Susan, and his father, Fred Ford, of the Malone Avenue address.

PUBLIC LIBRARY
RELEASES REPORT OF YEAR'S WORK

Circulation and Reference Use
Are Up Over Ten Year Period

Mrs. Grace M. Tatum, president of the Board of Trustees of the Nutley Free Public Library, released the annual report at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Tatum reported that the library has maintained a slow but steady growth in the past ten years both in circulation of books, use of the library for reference and recreation, and book stock. In 1943 the total circulation was 131,769; for 1953, 158,798; the peak year in this ten year period being 1950 with 164,009.

Use Of Books
The Adult Department showed an increase of 1,844 and the children's department of 1,493; the children's room and Stockton room showed losses of 1,690 and 735 respectively, attributed mainly to the use of television by the children and also to the many more outside activities that the boys and girls of today engage in.

The most popular subjects in the adult department were those of applied science, fine arts, literature, biographies, and social sciences. In the children's room, applied science, science and biographies and social sciences, which includes fairy tales, were the most popular. The Stockton room favored the fine arts and applied science.

The total number of active members of the library is 12,748 or 47.22% of the population. 1,277 new borrowers registered during the year, 687 adults and 740 in the boys and girls department.

Reference Service
Numerous requests for information were received by the reference and reading rooms, not only for the obvious but also the obscure. Among the questions which were answered were "how to make a strawberry basket"; where was the Burlington Liar Club located; to identify a snake. A proof of today's careful shopper was shown by the fact that a great number of people consulted the Consumers Research Bulletin and the Consumers Report to find out the ratings of various articles such as television, vacuum cleaners, infrared broilers, etc.

The library's book collection now numbers 56,234 volumes, a net gain of 1,599 books. Of this number, 42,703 are in the Adult Department and 14,231 in the Boys and Girls Department while the Reference Department now has 1,681 volumes. Weeding of the book collection is continuing at this time.

Boys and Girls Department
51,599 books and periodicals were circulated during the year in both the children's room and Stockton room, a slight decrease from 1952 of 4.4%.

Exhibits
During 1953, some unusual exhibits were held at the library. Among the outstanding were examples of international photography from the Traveling Sales of the Photography Magazine and Girl Scout Troop 58's exhibit in the Children's Room where dolls dressed in native costumes which they had made.

In March, an educational exhibit of thermometers and how they were made was loaned by Beeton-Dickinson Company of Rutherford. It was first exhibited in the Stockton room where a representative of the company spoke to two science classes from Junior High School, and later was exhibited in the Adult Department.

In September, in conjunction with the annual flower show of the Home Garden Club held September 19, in the Nutley Museum Building, the library transported and set up an exhibit of ninety garden books. A list of garden books was made for distribution and a librarian was on duty to explain the services that the library can render to garden enthusiasts.

In October, an unusual display of handmade authentic dolls of some of the United Nations was placed in the exhibit in the window in conjunction with the ob-

Susan Grace Moore And Bevan French Compete Nationally For Honor Society Scholarships

Two Nutley High School seniors, Susan Grace Moore and Bevan M. French, scored among the one hundred highest ranking students throughout the country in a general aptitude test for a National Honor Society scholarship. The winners of 35 scholarships: five of $500 and 30 of $200 each, will be selected from this group of highest ranking contestants by the scholarship board of the Society. Thirty additional awards of $50 each will also be made to those chosen as alternates for the scholarships.

With chapters in Nutley and most other high schools in the United States, the National Honor Society is organized to give proper recognition to students who exhibit outstanding traits of scholarship, character, leadership and service. Standards for membership selection and activities of the groups are regulated by the National Council of the Society in Washington, D. C.

Miss Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Moore, of 894 Prospect Street, and French, son of Mr. and Mrs. John French, of 98 Alexander Avenue, will be notified of final disposition of the scholarship about May 10.

SCOUTS REMODEL
CAMP KITCHEN
Work By Nutley Boy Scouts
Conducted At Camp Tamarack
On Weekends

Remodeling of the kitchen at Camp Tamarack in Oakland, used by Nutley scouts, is now well under way. Last Saturday 16 adult Scouters and about a dozen scouts pulled down and re-arranged partitions to provide ventilation by a kitchen which is more efficient, although about a third smaller. The space gained will be added to the dining area. Dish washing and serving will be more efficient in the new kitchen. The contemplated improvements include removing the hot water boiler to a space beneath the building, construction of a new store room and installation of a stainless steel steam table. The steam table, facing into the dining room, will permit waiters to line up five abreast. Formerly, they stood in single file to receive their hot dishes.

A highlight of the work day was the hot luncheon prepared by Mrs. Lee Ohlman, wife of the camp ranger. This was served in tables set up in the open on the volleyball court.

Boys who helped were from Nutley Troop 7. According to scout officials there is much to be done at Camp Tamarack to complete the kitchen as well as other projects. Another work day is scheduled for Saturday, April 24.

Of Foreign Missions, To Address Members

The Canterbury Club, at its dinner meeting next Thursday night in Grace Episcopal Church parish hall, will have as its guest speaker Rev. Charles Tudor Leber, general secretary of the Board of Presbyterian Missions in the United States. Presiding at the dinner will be president Walter Zander. As administrator, world traveler and author, Dr. Leber, interests the world mission of the church in terms of today's need and opportunity. A native of Baltimore, he is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and Princeton Theological Seminary and has held pastorates in Trenton, Baltimore, and Scranton.

His topic at the Canterbury meeting will be "The Good Revolution." Dr. Leber was called to serve the Board of Foreign Missions in 1929 as secretary for Japan, Korea, the Philippines, and Siam. In 1940 he was transferred to the office of secretary of promotion. In 1946 he relinquished this post to become chairman of the Administrative Committee of the Board. The next year he became assistant Secretary of Work in Europe and in 1952 he was appointed general secretary of the board.

Dr. Leber is author of "The Unconquerable," "The Church Must Win Its God in There?" and is editor and co-author of "World Faith in Action."

Nutley Golden Age Club Will Celebrate Fifth Birthday

Senior Citizens Have Found Friendship And Useful Activity In Clubs Run By Themselves, For Themselves
By Anna Grace Schuster

On next Thursday afternoon Nutley's Golden Age Club will celebrate its fifth anniversary of organization. Its 30 or so members will meet to observe the birthday of a project which has given a new life to the senior citizens of the town.

With the growth of the over-65 age group to a number larger than it has ever been in the history of our country, new problems have arisen, with no precedent for their solution. Having fulfilled their lives' duties, those fortunate ones who have lived past retirement age have been left to find companionship as best they could.

Often busy lives have provided little time to develop interests outside of home and business and free time means empty hours. Today that emptiness is being filled by the organization of Clubs, Happy Hours Clubs, Odessa Club, 80-plus Clubs and Golden Age Clubs, all with the object of utilizing the knowledge and abilities of the large group of older people, and of helping them to find a place for themselves in their community.

The first that was known of such an organized group was in Cleveland, Ohio, although churches have for many years had work and social groups for their older members. Philadelphia, at about the same time, made an effort to meet the growing needs of the older segment of its population and formed numerous clubs for the city's older people through the Philadelphia Recreation Association. The Association has probably done the most extensive job of publicity for organizations of this type, and has contributed much to the literature of the field, including books of games and aids to the volunteers who lead the gatherings. The Philadelphia Association is at present the closest thing to a central office that exists for information and ideas.

Popular In All Lands
With the inception of the clubs and publicity, the idea was picked up across the country and today the groups are meeting in cities everywhere, both here and abroad. In the North Jersey area there are a number of such groups in Montclair, Newark, the Oaks, Belleville, and Clifton, as well as Nutley.

The possibility of Nutley having a Golden Age Club was first brought up, in 1948, by Mrs. Constance, executive secretary of the Nutley Family Service Bureau, who suggested the idea to the Projects Committee, at that time headed by Mrs. Charles B. Royce. Through Mrs. Royce's enthusiasm for the project, a committee was formed to investigate the success of old meeting place and leaders. The problem of a meeting place was solved when the American Legion, through its commander, at that time Howard McCann, offered a room with kitchen privileges in the Post Headquarters building at Franklin Avenue, and the Town of Nutley Committee headed by Miss Flora Louden, offered a much help as it was able.

On April 22, 1949, a group of 16 prospective members met at a tea, given by Miss Louden, and Mrs. Lundy. By far the majority of those attending was female, since most of the male element was connected with the town organization of the Old Guard, made up of retired business men. The Golden Age Club has remained female, although there is no rule which excludes men.

WE SHOULD
JAMES J. TULLY
COMMISSIONER

BECAUSE . . .

Mayor Tully was serving his country in the Marine Corps when the violations were committed in the Department of Public Works. The record clearly proves this. Yet, there are forces of evil in our community who would hold him responsible for this. What has happened to our traditional American sense of fair play. The decent people of Belleville know better and will return him to office with a resounding vote of confidence.

Wire or write your protests immediately to State Senator Mark Anton of Essex, State House, Trenton, N. J., and the Essex County Board of Freeholders, Hall of Records, Newark, N. J., against the county's plan to erect a county correctional institution, or parental home in Belleville, adjacent to Isolation Hospital.

• Act now. Send your telegrams and letters today.

The following resolution was introduced by Mayor James J. Tully and adopted by the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, February 9, 1954.

BE IT RESOLVED By the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, N. J., as follows:

WHEREAS it has been called to the attention of the Board of Commissioners by the Bellwood Park Home Owners Association that the Essex County Board of Freeholders and the Board of Managers of the Parental Home of Essex County are considering the erection of a building to be used as a parental home on certain land in the area commonly known as Bellwood Park in the Town of Belleville, and

WHEREAS, it is the considered opinion of this Board that the erection of a building to be used as a parental home in the area commonly known as Bellwood Park would be detrimental to said area as well as to the Town of Belleville as a whole;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Board place its opinion on record as in opposition to the erection of a building to be used as a parental home within the confines of the Bellwood Park area of the Town of Belleville; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Town Clerk to the Board of Freeholders of Essex County and to the Board of Managers of the Parental Home of Essex County.

Adopted February 9, 1954

The following is reprinted for the information of the general Public.

Despite this resolution and the protests of civic organizations and many citizens of Belleville, the Essex County Board of Freeholders has proceeded to convey the property in question to the Board of Trustees of the Parental Home of Essex County, which has made an application to the Town of Belleville for a building permit.

This permit has been denied by Building Inspector Thomas Greb because the property is in an residential zone in which the erection of correctional institutions is prohibited.

Mayor Tully and the Town Commission need your support in order to fight this case on your behalf successfully. So please send your telegrams and letters today.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Re. Proposed Parental Home In Belleville

- Q. Why should it be considered a Jail?
- A. According to the dictionary: "Jail" is a prison, especially one for the detention of persons awaiting trial or convicted of minor offenses. That certainly describes the purpose of the proposed home. As further evidence of this, twelve-foot walls will enclose the area, windows will be barred and a separate isolated section will be provided to segregate the worst offenders.
- Q. Why is the proposal a Town-wide problem instead of a problem just for the immediate area?
- A. Because it makes Belleville a "Dumping Grounds". The Town's reputation is at stake. "Send 'em to Belleville" will be the cry. Relocation in another section of Belleville of the overcrowded Newark Street County Jail could be the next step.
- Q. Why is this matter of such major importance?
- A. Because it strikes at our fundamental rights as citizens. If our so-called County "representatives" can ignore the people's wishes on this issue, then where does it end? None of our hard-won liberties, rights and privileges are safe, if arbitrary, undemocratic action of this type is condoned.
- Q. Who will be the inmates of this institution?
- A. Juvenile delinquents 17 years of age and younger, who are being held for crimes.
- Q. What crimes do these juveniles commit?
- A. According to no less an authority than J. Edgar Hoover, these juveniles are not pranksters or "apple stealers". Instead, while they represent only 8% of the total number of criminals, they account for up to 50% of major crimes such as Larceny, Car Stealing, Burglary, etc. They are even more vicious than the elders they ape.
- Q. Would any of the other 21 municipalities in Essex County want it?
- A. Of course not, even the County Freeholders admit that.
- Q. Is the property needed for local civic purposes?
- A. Belleville has requested this property for a much needed Fire House. Present inadequate fire fighting facilities.
- Q. Could result in a major catastrophe.
- A. Does the County have other available areas?
- A. Acres and acres of it in West Essex and other parts of the County.
- Q. Why does the County insist on the Belleville location?
- A. Because the County experts think the convenience of the parents (who are probably responsible for the delinquency) is more important than the Community's best interests.
- Q. Do all juvenile experts think this way?
- A. Of course not, other experts right here in New Jersey and in New York insist that this type of institution be built out in the country, away from people, for the benefit of the inmates, as well as the general public. And the convenience of the delinquent parents is given the slight consideration it deserves.
- Q. Will the proposed institution have enough room?
- A. The proposed building would be squeezed into four acres, where other counties require 14 acres for similar programs.
- Q. Why is Belleville considered "convenient"?
- A. 70% of the inmates come from Newark. It is felt by the County that the relatives of these inmates will find a Belleville location convenient. Actually, by public transportation, it takes at least two public service transportation lines to reach the site from the most adjacent areas of Newark. (West Essex can be reached by one bus up Bloomfield Avenue). And in this modern day and age, most people have cars, and certainly one part of Essex County is practically as convenient as another by automobile.
- Q. Does the Town generally oppose the proposed construction?
- A. The Board of Commissioners, all of the Town's official family, Commission Candidates, Civic, P.T.A. Veterans and Political Organizations, Town Republican and Democratic Organizations all have expressed their opposition. Thousands of individual citizens also have proclaimed their opposition by signing petitions.

The above has been prepared as a civic service by Arthur Bloemke, president of the Bellwood Park Home Owners Association, and members of the committee.

Letters To The Editor

"I See Red"

To The Editor:

When I read such a snide letter as that The Nutley Sun published last week from Mr. Barton Payne, I see red. In fact, it is high time for the non-Communist element to start writing.

I am aware there are many people, totally devoid of Communist sympathies, who have fallen into the very same booby-trap Mr. Payne has sprung. However, I wonder whether those who scream against McCarthy's methods have ever observed that courts of law, except in Judge Medina's magnificent demonstration of patience — which almost broke his health—seldom succeed in disposing justice where Communists are concerned.

Why do they not scream about that also? I wonder also how many of the screamers know anything about McCarthy's methods. How many have ever studied the record of one investigation from beginning to end?

McCarthy is dangerous to innocent people, hence may I can best answer this objection with a question: What completely innocent person has McCarthy ever harmed? Every person to whom I have put this question who tried to give a specific answer always had to admit that the innocent party they knew had done something entitling him or her to consideration for action with Communists or communism in some way. When people are innocent, appearing before the committee only gives them a chance to prove it.

But, they say, how about the way McCarthy abused such a fine American as General Zwicker? It is unfortunate, perhaps, that the senator was so forthright in telling the general just how he was impressing the committee. But, if you will read all the testimony pertinent to that situation, you will have to admit that McCarthy that General Zwicker was, on that occasion, behaving exactly as the senator accused him — either dumb or dishonest. Very probably the stupid orders from Secretary Stevens, under which the general was laboring, were responsible for the kind of impression he made upon the committee; but in the name of fairness does not McCarthy have a right to be human and fallible too?

For 20 years the Communists have been harrowing into sensitive posts in our government, and how many others have gone in, awkwardly or any other way, to die them out? Dies and Nixon did much, but it is undeniable that it took McCarthy's effort to get the issue before a high percentage of the electorate.

I can almost hear the Communist "fine" screaming back, "But McCarthy has not convicted a single Communist" . . . a clever bit of propaganda, well calculated to appeal to the politically naive. Of course, McCarthy has never convicted a Communist, as a congressional investigating committee is not a court of law, and has no power to convict. Nor is there any statute making Communist membership any kind of a crime. It is just not possible for any court of law even to convict a person for Communist membership so long as there is no statute making Communist membership an offense.

This is part of the very great difficulty under which McCarthy and others, who would rid us of Communist infiltration, labor. To illustrate my point I need only recall for you that Hiss was convicted of perjury and that Harry Dexter White, who, it has now been proved, served the Communist cause with great distinction from a Communist point of view, was never convicted of anything. It would seem that our lack of statutes for coping with the Communists makes even more important their proper labeling through congressional investigation.

Quite obviously these investigations have done something offensive to the Communists. Isn't it just possible the amount of abuse heaped upon the senator from Wisconsin is a measure of his real effectiveness? I submit to you the proposition that if McCarthy were "all sound and fury, signifying nothing" it is hardly conceivable he could arouse such a storm of protest. If he were just a "witch-hunter" unable to find any "witches," who would there be to complain?

I do not think McCarthy or any other mortal is perfect, but I'll make no apologies for approving McCarthy until a better "witch-hunter" comes along.

The Philosophy of Communism
To The Editor:

Are the rulers of Russia real communists? They most certainly are. Our problem is that too many of us fail to comprehend the essential doctrines of communism. There is a definite need for a discussion so that all of us can better understand the nature of the philosophy that motivates the rulers of Russia.

When Karl Marx in collaboration with Frederick Engels wrote his doctrines he did not formulate an economic or political system alone. In Marx's teachings you will find a whole philosophy of life. Lenin took his theoretical doctrines and adapted them to Russia. Since the October Revolution of 1918 Russia has been the center of Communist Party activities that extend into all countries throughout the world.

Russia's leaders from Lenin to Malenkov are following the essential doctrines of Marx to their ultimate conclusions. But this does not mean that Russia is an example of what communism would be like. Nor does it indicate that because of its failure to be so that the communist rulers are merely pretending to be following Marx's doctrines. Some people have implied that Marx's teachings and even Lenin's application of them were good, but that it was Stalin's policies that distorted them thereby creating imperialistic police state. But this is not so and a study of the facts would soon make it evident.

Communal living where all people share common ownership of property and equal distribution of wealth and income is not communism in its essence, but merely an economic phase of it.

What is communism in its essence?

This can be explained best by first examining what the communist claim they have in Soviet Russia today. The full name of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics indicates what they consider their society to be, namely, socialist. Socialism to them is the preparatory stage of communism.

Only a minority of Russian citizens are members of the Communist Party who, according to its leaders are the vanguard of the furtherance of the proletarian revolution. All others are people still infected with bourgeois ideas and as such they are still going through a cleansing process. For one to explain how the communists justify their methods of cleansing would involve a lengthy discussion. But you can be sure that their justification of it is a logical development of communist philosophy. What Karl Marx intended is one thing and what he gave to posterity through his philosophy is another.

G. M. Malenkov in "On the Threshold of Communism"—note the word threshold—page 93, promises that the socialism which exists in Soviet Russia "the land of socialism" is to be extended into all lands. When socialism is extended into all lands, what is the next phase? According to Marxian-Leninist theory the state will wither away and then we will have the classless or communist society. Lenin declares that only in Communist society "when there are no classes," does "the state cease to exist" and it "becomes possible to speak of freedom."

How is this classless society to be brought into reality?

This is a natural development. It is bound to occur out of the operations of society. According to Marxian philosophy in nature there is the notion of conflict at work. Marx adopted Hegel's dialectics.

The nature of communism is only understood when it is examined in the light of its philosophy and this would require some

Picture of you—earning extra money!

HERE YOU ARE. Soaking up sunshine, relaxed to your toes. And even while you rest, a little pile of money is growing bigger and bigger for you—making more money for you every day.

That doesn't sound like you? But isn't that all you need to do to save in the easiest way in the world—through U. S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan?

You don't have to save much at a time. Just a couple of dollars a week. And neither man nor woman can save on the Plan, you never miss a penny. Because it is saved for you, from your salary, before you are tempted to spend it!

In a surprisingly short time, you'll find that you own a sizable amount of U. S. Savings Bonds (purchased for you, delivered to you). And here's the most rewarding part of all: Those Bonds now earn more interest, for a longer period of time, than ever before! They now average 3% interest, compounded semiannually, for 19 years and 3 months!

Today—make a point to sign to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or, if you are self-employed, go to your bank and have your banker start you in the automatic Bond-A-Month Plan. It's as simple as the Payroll Savings Plan.

Your money makes money for you every minute—with U. S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan!

HOWARD SAVINGS GETS 5TH BRANCH

Temporary Banking Quarters To Be Opened Within Two Month Period

State Banking Commissioner Warren N. Gaffney today approved a fifth banking office for The Howard Savings Institution of Newark. The branch office will be located at Raymond Boulevard and Plane Street.

William L. Maude, president of the Howard, said today that plans for the new office would now be rushed to completion. The bank owns the three-story building on Raymond Boulevard and intends to install a modern banking office on the first floor and transfer to the second floor a number of operating departments from the main office.

"The two basic reasons for seeking an additional downtown office," Maude said, "were to serve better customers and to offer a better service at the present Main Office and to locate an office in the midst of many parking facilities to the west of Broad Street."

It is worth noting that the Howard has occupied the present site of its main office since 1893 when its deposits totaled approximately five million dollars. Today, Main Office deposits are in excess of one hundred ninety million dollars, with local deposits in all offices now over the quarter billion dollar mark.

Bank officials indicated that temporary banking quarters will be opened at the site within two months with the full facilities being available within six months.

MAYOR TULLY REPORTS THE FACTS TO THE PEOPLE OF BELLEVILLE!

Mayor Tully points to his Marine Corps orders. He was on active duty thousands of miles from Belleville when others not in his department committed indictable acts in town purchasing. Records refute false political charges that he was responsible.

Front and back of certificate of military service. (Note dates.)

HERE ARE THE REAL ISSUES!

"Performance - Not Promises"

Is Mayor Tully's Record

Not the slander and falsehoods of political puppets, but the progress, growth and soundness of our community are the real issues in the coming Belleville Town Commission Election.

We need better town planning through the creation of a representative town planning board.

We need an improved off-street parking program which will be self-supporting.

We need greater state aid for education, and a more equitable share of tax reimbursement from both the state and county, in view of the encroachments upon our ratables.

We must fight to protect the basic principle of home rule in municipal government. We need a municipal fire house at the Isolation Hospital site where the county is now trying to impose upon the erection of an unwanted parental home for delinquents.

We should suspend from official position, pending trial, those who are under indictment. We can do this without presuming their guilt. We all know that such action is necessary to good administration.

These are the things for which I have been fighting, and they are the real issues before the people of Belleville.

What sinister forces prevent certain of the candidates from meeting these issues squarely?

Whom are they protecting and why?

For what political gain or profit do they seek to twist, distort and divert the issues and to subvert the integrity and soundness of our community?

Let the people of Belleville beware of those candidates whose only interest in municipal affairs is at election time, and who then are afraid to meet the real issues squarely.

Where were they during the long time I have been fighting for better planning, a better parking program, more aid for education, and fair treatment of our town by the county and the state?

Where were they when the Citizens Budget Committee and I were fighting a $6.62 tax rate which we finally brought down to $6.32.

Why are their past records so full of contradictions and reversals, and why is some of the record hidden from the public gaze?

Where were they while I was fighting for creation of a Central Purchase Bureau? This cause was won only after I called for an internal audit of all purchasing following my return from military service, and after the town auditor placed the audit in the hands of the prosecutor.

Do these candidates attack me with their deliberate lies and distortions because I performed my duty as a public official?

I have performed my duty and I am running

This portion of the supplemental town audit (at right) shows that Mayor Tully as Director of Revenue and Finance was first to investigate purchasing irregularities, and that he initiated action many months before any others were aware of the situation. Claims by others that they were first to start investigation is political double-talk.

Because of the large volume of purchases and work by some vendors, which came to the Mayor's notice as a result of research instituted by him, the Mayor some months ago requested us to examine into such matters. The procedure usually followed in the audit was described and the Mayor instructed us to go into this phase more deeply. This procedure is usually the last step in the audit and the Mayor was so informed, with the assurance that it would be extended in accordance with his instructions.

EXCERPTS from REGULAR ANNUAL TOWN AUDIT — SEPT. 18, 1953

A number of instances were noted where multiple payments were made to the same vendors for materials and supplies of various kinds and to contractors for several types of construction, installation and repairs, without solicitation of bids; also some cases of quantity variances from contracts as awarded. These are being tabulated for submission as a supplement in order that legal review may be had to determine status in relation to the above-cited statute.

The excerpt (above) from the annual town audit, ordered by Mayor Tully, is further proof that he and Town Auditor A. M. Hart were first to move for a legal review.

for re-election on A RECORD OF PERFORMANCE — NOT PROMISES.

Here is the record of my administration as Mayor and Director of Revenue and Finance:

Our tax rate has been held in line. (With the aid of the Citizens Budget Committee appointed by me.) Belleville is the only municipality in Essex County to reduce its tax rate, without increasing assessments to add to the taxpayers' burden.

Our stable cash reserve is undiminished.

Our tax collection percentage is the highest in our history.

Our tax title liens have been reduced almost to the vanishing point.

Our ratables have continued to rise in the face of a growing land scarcity.

Our funded debt and debt service continue to decline.

Our municipal bank deposits are invested at maximum return with maximum security.

Our municipal purchasing is being centralized as I recommended in my first term in office.

From these facts comes the basis for the Dunn and Bradstreet report which says that Belleville is in a sound financial condition and that the administration "has been aggressive in promoting town development and in strengthening its finances."

THIS IS A RECORD OF PERFORMANCE — NOT MERELY PROMISES.

I believe the clear-thinking people of Belleville prefer this type of administration to the radical promises and schemes of untried and unproven candidates.

I have taken this newspaper space at my own personal expense to place the facts before the people of Belleville, and to reveal to them, through the documents reproduced above, how completely untrue and vicious are the slanderous attempts to place on me responsibility for acts committed by others outside of my own department when I was serving our country in the U. S. Marine Corps thousands of miles away from Belleville.

I have faith that the good, clear-thinking citizens of Belleville will not be deceived by these patent falsehoods and that they will reject the perpetrators and their invisible bosses.

I pledge the people of Belleville that I will not be intimidated and that as long as I am in office I will perform my duty according to the law and the dictates of my conscience.

Be A Citizen, Vote Tuesday

Tuesday's Primary Election will be a real test of the voters' sense of duty.

There will not be one contest anywhere on the voting machine, except in the Bingo-Raffles referendum. Not a single candidate of either party for national or county offices has a challenger. Totals will be meaningless, because the only vote which concerns a candidate is that which will be cast next November. Yet the electorate will cast judgment on itself in the proportion to which voters take time out to go to the polls.

Roads That Were Paid For But Never Built

The recent proposal of the New Jersey Commission on State Tax Policy, recommending a $14 million hike in the state gasoline tax as the major revenue source for financing a proposed increase in State aid for schools, has turned the spotlight on an abuse which has plagued this state for as long as gasoline has been taxed.

New Jersey for years has been diverting large sums of its highway revenue to non-highway purposes. It is a practice which has become an established bad habit. But the present proposal would carry the abuse to the extreme. It would impose an increased tax burden upon the motorist and not for highways, but specifically for a non-highway purpose.

Back in 1927, when New Jersey enacted its first gasoline tax, the act provided that "moneys received in accordance with this act shall be . . . used by the State Highway Commission for the construction of roads and bridges . . ." No other use was permitted except for operational cost of the highway department.

But let's look at the record and see what the state has done with the revenue that was collected for a sole legal purpose . . . to be used for highways. Here is that record:

In 1927, the very year in which the gasoline tax first became effective, New Jersey began dipping into its highway fund for other purposes—very lightly at first. It was $90,000 the first year, and again the next year and the next, then $93,000 in 1930. Soon the yearly grab was being figured in millions instead of thousands.

When the laws of New Jersey were codified as the "Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1927," the dedicated fund feature of the motor license and gasoline tax laws was clearly stated, and this was unchanged by subsequent amendments made to that particular section in 1938.

"So this is Washington!"

By Ralph Heinzen

Washington, D. C., Tues. day—Ask any Congressman up here on Capitol Hill and he will tell you that he works harder and longer hours than any of his constituents—without the advantages of the Taft-Hartley law, the 40-hour law or fringe benefits.

A Congressman works by the year, for an annual salary of $12,500, plus a $2,500 tax-free expense account. There is no overtime pay and, on the other hand, he punches no clock. He gets paid whether he is in his seat or not.

Two 40-Hour Weeks
The case of Congressman Peter W. Rodino, 10th District representative in Congress, is typical. He puts in a 40-hour week at his desk here and manages to get in another 40-hour week at his office in Newark. He has, once again, given up most of his private life in practice so that he is wholly dependent upon his income as a member of Congress. When he took office, he made it a hard rule that he would take no cases which, directly or indirectly, came close to official business.

Today was just an average day in Rep. Rodino's office in the House Office Building, across the square from the Capitol. His mail filled a bag. In it there were letters, newspapers and a Notwithstanding this provision, however, the Legislature, year after year, kept finding other uses for highway tax dollars—$8.2 million diverted in 1932; $13.3 million in 1936; $14.6 million in 1937. Some years, diversion ran as high as 36% of the total highway revenue collected and as much as 70% of the year's gasoline tax receipts.

In July, 1944, further changes were made in the law, and the separate highway fund was abolished with the creation of the State Department of Taxation and Finance. The next year, the diversion figure jumped to a record $18.5 million—a figure amounting to 47.7% of total highway revenue and nearly a million dollars more than motorists paid in gasoline taxes that year.

In the present bookkeeping jumble of highway revenues intermingled with general state receipts and expenditures, it is difficult to say just where New Jersey's total diversion figure now stands. Local estimates put it at about $250 million. Figures of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads place it at about $238 million. Even taking this lower figure, we find that it amounts to more than 46% of the $591 million collected here in state gasoline taxes during the 27-year period since the tax was first imposed, and 19.3% of the $1.2 billion collected in all special taxes on motorists during that period.

This diversion figure—nearly a quarter of a billion dollars—is the sum which New Jersey motorists were taxed for highways that were never built.

ed over 1,700 miles of standard highways to our State highway system. If it were available today in a lump sum, it would pay nearly the entire cost of the Garden State Parkway, free and clear of any need for future tolls.

And They Made Him A General . . .

Major General Arthur R. Wilson did nothing to disprove Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's low judgment of those officers whose shoulders schillatize with stars when he posted a certified check for $100 with the commanding officer of Fort Dix this week with the stipulation that it was to be paid to "the first tough non-com who socks Pvt. David Schine in the nose."

General Wilson's bluster makes one wonder whether McCarthy was not right when he spoke about the stupidity of generals. In what army, General, do the commanding officers tolerate sergeants "socking" privates in the nose? How long would discipline last if it was tolerated?

In our opinion, Pvt. Schine is an unhappy victim of circumstance.

If it had been spent year by year at prevailing construction costs, it would have added McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, did try to get a favorable assignment for Schine, but to the young man's credit let it be admitted, as his immediate commanding officers have done, that since Pvt. Schine put on the uniform, at Fort Dix as at Fort Benning, he has been a good soldier.

Perhaps this army would be a better army if its "tough non-coms" could go around "socking" everybody that, apparently, is stupid enough to need it. It is obvious to any fair-minded citizen that General Wilson, despite his star-spangled shoulder-pads, needs it more than Pvt. Schine.

The Times-News hereby posts a standing offer of $100 to "the first tough non-com" who socks Major General Arthur R. Wilson, U. S. Army, Ret., in the nose. R. E. H.

and the ceiling—with 32 shots. Now that it looks like Rep. Bentley's life is no longer in danger from the wounds he received on March 1, his colleagues are able to get just about the shooting.

A number of them have started an exclusive club called "The First Tough Non-Com." The latest count of its membership is something like 210. Since only 135 members of Congress were in their seats at the time of the shooting, there must be some "retirees." Forty Congressmen are "retirees" that is, they have left their seats, but since only 32 shots were fired there must have been some "ricochet romances."

Rep. Usher L. Burdick, North Dakota Republican who stood firm against any pay raise for congressmen, now says he's changed his mind. He, like Rep. Art Vinson, a Georgia Democrat, is proposing bills to "combat men: Combat pay for those who stood up under fire, flight pay for those who took flight from the chamber, and submarine pay for those who dove under the seas."

Rep. Martin Dies of Texas told me this on Rep. Frank Boykin's Alabama. Dies and Boykin were racing neck to neck toward the Democratic platform as the battle of "Where are you going?" asked Dies breathlessly. "To get my gun," replied Boykin. "Where is it?" Dies yelled. "In Alabama," said Boykin, and he kept on running.

One Man's Opinion

To Washington, The April 26 Five Power Meeting In Geneva Is A Necessary Evil To Be Tolerated, Cheaply As Possible

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

Washington, D. C., Tuesday—There will be no retreat from the United States government's established policy against aggression, in Indochina or elsewhere, and against the admission of Red China into the United Nations. That is evident, on every side, from the preparations now in progress for the April 26 meeting in Geneva of the five great world powers. That is evident, also, from conversation which I had here today with those who set policies, at the State Department.

I found, here in Washington, a frank pessimism in all my talks about the Geneva meeting. At the last press conference, President Eisenhower, himself, said frankly that he did not believe the chances of a negotiated Indochina settlement at Geneva are good. At the State Department, they were inclined to say, even more flatly, that no good will come out of Geneva.

For a time, in the last fortnight, I learned here today, if not subsequently, to, talks on Korea.

More Disputes Arising

It is not clear what nations other than those named in the Berlin communiqué are to participate in the Indochinese talks, and how one settles a dispute if Moscow and Washington disagree on participants.

The Berlin communiqué mentions "other interested parties" participating, but does not elaborate. The Americans and Soviets did not agree at Berlin who these "others" should be and they have not agreed in the two months since.

It is not clear whether issues not involved at Berlin can be raised at Geneva. The assumption is that if the delegates stick to related Far Eastern matters, they can raise other subjects—but if they range the world they can't. But there has been no actual agreement on just what can and cannot be discussed when East and West sit down at Geneva.

If nine years of postwar negotiations with the Communists have taught Washington anything, it is that the United States cannot take anything for granted when planning conferences or reaching agreements with the Soviets. Thus, these differences and unresolved issues can well prevent the Geneva conference from ever occurring.

There is mounting evidence that the Communist Chinese are the most anxious of all the delegates to hold this Geneva conference. Their eagerness to sit down with the West at Geneva does not stem from any desire to see a free and united Korea set up, or end the trouble in

France. Stymies Us
France does not want a joint warning now. It prefers to wait and do it at Geneva, in the presence of both Red China and Red Russia, so that no one can make the motive.

It is evident from my talks here that Geneva will open with a big argument, or in an atmosphere of diplomatic distrust. It is more than two months since the agreement was reached, against our desires, at Berlin, to sit down with the Communists at Geneva. In those two months, relations have grown worse. We certainly do not look upon the Communists with the same eyes that Moscow and Peking pretend to use.

For example, the United States says the meeting with the Communist Chinese does not constitute recognition of Peking. Peking's press and radio are daily telling China's 400,000,000 that the United States has at last been forced to face realities and recognize Peking as the legitimate spokesman for these 400,000,000.

Different Viewpoints
The United States says that Peking is showing up at Geneva as an aggressor, not a peace-seeker, and that it is a peace-seeker, not an aggressor, not a peace-seeker, brought before the bar of world opinion for the Korean aggression. Peking goes on the air round the clock saying it, too, is peace-loving, democratic.

The United States says that the U.S.S.R. is not going to Geneva as either a neutral or UN member, but as a party to the Korean aggression. Moscow says that that is America's mistaken interpretation—a viewpoint never agreed to at Berlin.

The United States says that Geneva is going to be a two-sided meeting, such as we demanded at Panmunjon, with aggression sitting on one side of the table and anti-aggressors on the other. Moscow and Peking say that isn't so, that there was no agreement at Berlin on any such labels for any group of participants at Geneva.

Dispute Procedures
These may not be the most important issues dividing East and West, but they are important enough for propaganda, prestige, and diplomatic reasons to threaten the holding of the conference. There are questions which must be resolved shortly if they are not to trip the delegates as they assemble and perhaps prevent the conference.

But in addition to these points of outright disagreement between East and West on the forthcoming Geneva meeting, the United States and Moscow and Peking are still in no agreement on certain conference procedures.

It is not clear whether discussions at Geneva on Indochina are to occur simultaneously with

When you are invited to lunch, in the Congressional dining room, by your Senator or Congressman, the chances are 10 to 1 that you will have a bowl of bean soup, unless you have a heart complaint. It is the star attraction on the Congressional menu and is prepared after a secret recipe. It is said that the fire has never gone out under the Congressional beanpot since the Civil War. It is on the menu every day.

You are likely, also, to find some strange dishes and drinks. This week the restaurant in the Capitol is making a specialty of sasans tea and Idaho baking potatoes, apparently because some Congressmen want to flatter his constituents who dig sasans, frans root or grow Idaho spuds. This week, too, the Capitol waiters are preparing you to try Indochina.

It arises, rather, because they see their participation in the meeting as substantiating their claim to be a big power in the world—one of the Big Five in fact.

The fact that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles specifically, publicly, and formally denies that a meeting with Communist China either implies recognition or makes Peking a Big Five member does not wash out Peking's own reiterated claims to such recognition and association.

PUSH PLANS FOR AHAVATH ACHIM BLD'G. CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Sosin

Driving ahead in a campaign to provide funds for the new $200,000 Ahavath Achim synagogue and community center which the congregation hopes to build this year, members of the building committee yesterday announced organization of a special Ways and Means committee to help implement the plan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sosin have been named as co-chairmen for the promotion of an advertising journal, and other specially appointed committees headed by Mrs. Seymour Perska will visit those who have not yet contributed toward the erection of the building to explain plans for the building program.

New money-raising projects are being devised and will be launched soon, Charles Rosenberg, who heads the building committee, said.

A meeting to further the solicitation of funds will be held soon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sosin, 489 De Witt Avenue.

Business and industry will be asked to participate in the publication of the ad journal, and Rosenberg asked for generous contributions to this and other efforts.

Publication of the journal will culminate in a gala dinner and dance for those members who have obtained $100 in ads. In lieu of advertisements, a contribution of $50 will entitle members to admission.

Bert James Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bartlett of 604 Joralemon Street, a graduate of Belleville high school, has been awarded the degree of bachelor of science in mechanical engineering from the Tri-State College of Engineering and Commerce, Angola, Ind. Hugh D. Kittle, principal of Belleville high school, made the announcement yesterday.

Raymond W. Lloyd, Jr., 410 De Witt Avenue, a senior mechanical at Newark College of Engineering, delivered a paper on the use of silicone compounds as a damper in gear mechanisms at the annual regional convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers held Wednesday night at the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. John M. Stoddart, Jr., of 354 Union Avenue, was elected secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers student chapter at Newark College of Engineering, according to Professor Edward Miller, honorary chairman of the chapter. Stoddart, a junior mechanical at the college, is an alumnus of Belleville high, class of '50.

You can't fool the ladies when it comes to styling.

From clothes and hemlines, to cars and color schemes—they insist on a fresh new look and a fresh new change—and anything else won't do.

So it's easy to see why the gals—bless 'em!—have been going for Buick in a great big way—going for the glamorous modernity of these new-day automobiles ever since the first public showing a few short months ago.

From the beginning, they've been going for the sleeker, longer, lower lines—the futuristic shaping of the new windshields—the stunning décor of the striking new fabrics—the clean simplicity of the new instrument panels.

But you ought to see how they go for the gay new car models in Buick's Spring Fashion Show! Fresh new Convertibles, Rivieras and Estate Wagons never before available—and in gorgeous new summer colors never shown before!

And you ought to see how they go—as the men certainly do—for the thrilling new V8 power, the buoyant new ride, the superb new control, and the almost effortless handling ease that are all part and parcel of every new 1954 Buick.

Why not visit our Spring Fashion Show and see for yourself the fresh new tomorrow that's here now—in today's Buick? Then we can show you the prices that make this beauty the buy of the year.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gordin

"Tour of Belleville" On May 9

The Belleville Bicycle Club has again been honored with official sanction to run the nationally important "B.A.R." 25-mile bicycle race this year. There are several races throughout the country designated as "B.A.R." (best all round) events in which cyclists may accumulate points toward the highest award in cycling for the year, the beautiful B.A.R. Trophy. This year's race will be run as a part of the "Tour of Belleville" on Sunday afternoon, May 9, at Belleville Municipal Stadium.

Six other races of one and five miles distance will also be run thus assuring spectators of a full, thrilling afternoon of sport. The Belleville Police Department, Ambulance Corps, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, and Street Department all unite with the Recreation Department to make this bicycle classic a well-run affair.

Last year's "Tour of Belleville" attracted riders from as far as Michigan. John Chisello, of Somerville, equaled the National 25-mile record in winning the race. With the word out that Belleville's course is fast, many of the country's greatest riders are sure to compete in hopes of breaking the National standard.

Little League Rosters Selected

Officials and managers of the American and National Little Leagues met Monday night with a spirited four-hour bidding session taking place at the home of Frank Tezzuti as the managers conducted a regular auction for diamond candidates between nine and 12 years of age. Each manager started out with 30,000 points and then proceeded to round up a 15-player roster. Presiding at the bidding session for both circuits was player's agent Dick Dolan, who also doubles up as Little League secretary.

With the revised geographical set-up of Joramelon Street is the new dividing line. Making up the National or southern league are the Clippers, Aces, Bombers and Demons. The American, or northern loop, is comprised of the Dodgers, Giants, Yanks and Cubs. The opening game of the 1954 Little League season was set for May 8 with the inaugural to be played at Clearman Field.

While eight 15-player rosters were drawn up for the two "major" loops, players were also named to two, four-team "farm" leagues. The farm circuits will tend to give many of the diamond hopefuls a chance to gain much needed experience and thus earn a chance to move up to the "majors."

Weightlifting Tryouts

Bert Castelli, captain of the Belleville weightlifting team, has announced that tryouts will be held for membership on the lifting team during the next three weeks. Anyone wishing to try out for squad membership may do so by reporting to Bert at the Municipal Stadium any Monday, Wednesday or Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. Prospects will be trained in the Recreation Department gymnasium on five Olympic type weights. All candidates who qualify for the team will be registered with the Amateur Athletic Union and will be eligible to participate in open competition.

Players Decide To Share Title

The Recreation Department's 10-team Intermediate Basketball League finished up the season with the Continentals and Trotters declared co-champions. Ed Nicholls, Joe Vatter, Bob Cantenacci, Joe Ganteau, Angelo Pussaro, John Gertulo, Gary Burman and Bob Grulich comprised the Trotters who won the first round, the hard way, defeating the Continentals in a first round play-off when both clubs finished with identical 8 and 1 records.

The Continentals came back strong in the second round and were undefeated, while the Trotters slipped to a 7 and 2 record. Walt Schroeder, Mike Duclaux, Bob Taylor, Art Post, Jim Landon, Jerry Tribuna, Ed Zuzek and Harry Goyet set the pace for the Continentals in the second round. The Imperials finished in the second spot with an overall record of 12 and 6 and the Dolphins were third, producing a 10 wins in 18 starts.

The members of the two teams, in an excellent display of sportsmanship decided, because their records were so close, that they would share the loop championship.

Four Belleville Rowers In Rollins Varsity Eight

Belleville is well represented on the crew of Rollins College, of Winter Park, Florida. No less than four former pupils of Bellboy Coach Bill Bennett rowed in the varsity eight against Rutgers University when the Queensmen visited Florida on a southern jaunt. In the shell that lost to Rutgers by two feet in a race on Lake Maitland were Gerald Bilensky, Don Weber, Frank Thompson and Norm Gross.

Rollins took a slight lead at the start, but the winners pulled even after the first quarter mile and the two crews battled neck and neck the rest of the way. For Rutgers the win was the third in a row on the southern trip, while Rollins has won only one of five.

The Belleville quartet has some additional company in the varsity boat. Coxswain for Rollins is Joe Dallanegra, former Nutley oarsman, who also got his start under the watchful eye of Bennett.

Grade School Crown To No. 7

School No. 7 won the Elementary School League championship last Saturday morning, shaving School No. 1, 21-18. Vatter, No. 1 had a 12-7 halftime lead. The winners with Lou Long, Billy Bartlett, Mike Sweetell, Bob Elliot, Gene Pinadella and Gene Barra fought an up-hill battle to gain possession of the Recreation Department Trophy.

Juniorettes Win Girl's Championship

The Girl's Basketball League which was started by the Recreation Department has just wound up its first season of play. Champions of the fairer sex are the Juniorettes composed of Rose Schreiber, Barbara Bennett, Gail Pobert, Mary Terrair, Arlene Whycheall, Barbara Newchwander, Angie DiRuggiero and Nancy Randall. The Girl's League, this year consisted of six teams.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW ON BLUE AND GOLD TRACK PROSPECTS

By Eugene Serpentelli

Preparations are well underway for the forthcoming track season at Belleville high. A turnout of over 40 boys has increased the hopes for a good season.

Track is in its third year as a sport at school, and Coach Wilho White is all trying to build up the sport to the point where the team will have many veterans returning every year. This time only nine kids are returning from last year's squad. They include Joe Micron, who specializes in the 100 and 220 yard dashes; Steve Cohen, Allan Rosensner and Bob Gatanacci, who run the half-mile, Malcolm Condon, who does the mile; Nick La Para and Frank Cassar, who run the quarter-mile; Bob Grulich, who runs the mile; and Nick Cocco who throws the shot put and is captain of the team.

The mainstay of the team this year will be Joe Micron. Since he has been in the team for two years, he is not just a track this year, he should prove to be the fastest 400 yard dash man in Essex county, if not in the state. He has set a record only to Lewis in the Essex county championship meet.

Joe won't very often meet him in the state, but he has set a track record in the Booster's meet in North Arlington in which eight of the top Essex county teams were entered.

The best part of all this is that Joe, a junior, will have another season's run to become known as one of the top runners in the state.

The track team has 13 meets scheduled this year. It opens its season April 27 when it meets Clifford Scott at East Orange. On the 30th, the boys travel back to East Orange to meet East Orange High. Then on May 3, the Belleville will run in a team meet against Passaic and Nutley at Belleville Municipal stadium.

The Blue and Gold travel to Orange, North Arlington and Irvington on May 12 and 14. On the 15th of May the boys journey to Woodland field in Montclair to run in the Essex county championship.

On May 20 the trackmen take to the South side at the stadium. After the North Arlington booster meet, the track team will continue the dual meets against Bloomfield and Montclair on May 26 and 30. The season will end when they run in the state championship meets of June 5.

High School Baseball Opens Against Columbia Wed.

By Harry Gilbert

Belleville high school's baseball team will open its 1954 season against Columbia at the municipal stadium next Wednesday, and though the game will not count in the Big Ten standings, interest in the contest is high because it will give fans a better idea of how the nine rates this year. The game is scheduled for 3:30 p.m., and as in all high school baseball home games, the admission is free.

Belleville will meet Columbia again in a league game on May 11. Tomorrow's game was set up to help fill out the local team's schedule. For the same reason Belleville will meet both Passaic and Lyndhurst in two games each, and has also dated Blair for a May 26 contest, giving the team 14 games for the season.

Coach Ed Berlinski had hoped for an 18 game schedule, but Newark East and West Side High schools, who were to have played the locals, pulled out to fulfill a new schedule. The recreation department and the Board of Education co-operated recently to cover up the playing field with yards of dirt, and as a result of dumping down the earth to a harder consistency, Berlinski said the field now appears to be in better condition than he has ever seen it.

The season's schedule follows:

April 23	Bloomfield	Home
April 30	Passaic	Home
May 6	Nutley	Home
May 7	Lyndhurst	Away
May 11	Columbia	Away
May 13	Montclair	Away
May 17	East Orange	Home
May 18	Irvington	Away
May 21	Keany	Away
May 26	Blair	Away
May 27	Passaic	Away
May 31	Orange	Away
June 3	West Orange	Home

For one thing, there is no lack of enthusiasm. Exactly 71 candidates for the team turned out on call, the largest number since the coach took over baseball seven years ago.

The hitting and fielding have looked fairly good in practice games. The greatest weakness is in the pitching, with John Bartell, a sophomore left-hander, one of only two or three bright spots in that department. Joe Tortorella, another right-hander, is a likely prospect, and may be used in the course of next week's game.

Last year's team finished fourth in the Big Ten League standings with five wins and four losses. It lost to Columbia by a one-game margin in a ninth inning thriller.

As in 1953, the teams to beat this year for top position appear to be Montclair, Nutley, and Irvington, who finished in a

PAL JR. DOWNED IN 3-2 THRILLER WITH ELIZABETH

The Belleville PAL junior soccer team went down to defeat in a double overtime contest last Sunday afternoon at Fancher's Grove, Union, against the Elizabeth Germans in the semi-final game of the New Jersey State Junior Cup Tournament, 3 goals to 2.

Elizabeth opened the scoring after 10 minutes of play. They increased their lead 15 minutes later on a fast break. Belleville scored just before the half, ended when Tighe dented the net from 10 yards out.

The locals tied the score after 30 minutes of play in the second half on a well placed foot by M. Briscoe. The first 10 minutes overtime was played on even terms with neither team scoring.

With only one minute of play remaining in the second overtime period, Elizabeth broke away for the winning marker. By virtue of their win, the Elizabeth Germans will meet the Passaic Juniors for the state title.

Last Sunday afternoon 554 PAL members went to the stock car races at Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City. Seven buses were used to transport the children who were under the supervision of the Belleville auxiliary police and PAL officials.

Belleville Crew Meets Lower Merion Oarsmen On Passaic Tomorrow

Beaten in the season's opener by Columbia University oarsmen here last week, Belleville high school will meet its second test on the Passaic at 1:30 p.m. Saturday when the varsity and junior varsity crews row against Lower Merion high school of Ardmore, Pa., in the mile event.

Six races are scheduled for tomorrow's event, with varsity, juniors, and third string teams each competing in eight and four-man contests.

Belleville's varsity last year beat the Pennsylvania team by four lengths, and hopes to repeat, but Lower Merion can put up a tough fight, and Coach Bill Bennett is keeping his fingers crossed. Merion is exactly three times as large as Belleville, with an enrollment of 3,600 students as compared to 1,200 for Belleville.

In last week's competition, the varsity lost to Columbia University's varsity lightweight by one length in the mile race, while the junior varsity was beaten three lengths by the university's junior lightweight.

That is exactly the margin by which Belleville won over both teams last year. Yet Coach Bennett rates this year's local crew as equal to the 1953 team. The explanation is that while Belleville's oarsmen are just as good this year, the University lads are stronger than they were last season.

The 1954 team is built around three lettermen: Bob Taylor, Bob Auten, and Ed Gray.

ROBERT NEWTON A RUTGERS SCHOLAR

Ronald C. Newton, of 61 Forest Street, is among the 35 outstanding juniors in Rutgers University's College of Arts and Sciences, just designated as Henry Rutgers Scholars.

A record number of students was chosen for the high honor this year. The scholars are freed from two formal courses during each semester of their senior year in order to conduct independent study and research on projects of their choosing. At the end of next year's spring term, each will submit a thesis and undergo comprehensive examination on his field of study.

Newton's field is English. He is a member of the Rutgers Spanish club. A graduate of Belleville high school, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Newton.

 When A War, Begun At Dawn, Ended Before Dusk

French Called Off First Battle Of World War II To Avoid Making Hitler Angry
 By Ralph Heinzen
 Adolph Hitler made a lot of promises in his time, including one of "a thousand years of peace" after he won the war.

It is standing joke among the coal-miners and farmers of the Saar that the only promise Hitler ever kept was that he would leave them alone in their tiny coal-rich province, today the envy of both Paris and Berlin.

"Give me ten years, and you will not recognize your cities," Hitler told the province in 1935, after its population had voted in a League of Nations plebiscite to join Germany. At the time, Hitler told the truth. When the Saarlanders returned home after the war, in 1945, they didn't recognize their cities. In fact, there were some they could not even find.

The U.S. Air Force kept Hitler's promise for him, albeit by the big guns which trailed General George Patton's 3rd Army. When Patton's troops entered Saarbrücken, in March, 1945, just 10 years after Hitler's death, they found less than 100,000 people left. The fourth destroyed. The 127,000 homes in the whole of the Saar had been destroyed or seriously damaged; 20,000 Saarlanders had been killed in air raids.

A Valley Of Desolation
 The Americans were not fooling when they set out by air and land to destroy one of the major sources of Hitler's armaments, the Saar coal mines which produced 16,000,000 tons a year, mined by the Nazis' slave labor imported from the concentration camps of Germany.

The French, who were more successful in their campaign, were an eye-witness to the slaughter.

SUPPLEMENT SEVEN
 Golden Comments

Neighbor, this being Good Friday it doesn't seem the proper time for controversial political discussion. In keeping with the occasion I'll limit my comments for this Holy Season to the extending of Easter Greetings to you and all our neighbors of Belleville. I trust that your Holiday will be joyous and that proper reflection will be given to the significance of Him whom we honor this day in commemoration of His passion for us His children.

For some time, Neighbor, you have heard me refer to my activities as a civic interested citizen bent upon bettering our town, suppose I list here a few of the things I have accomplished or attempted to do to make our Belleville the kind of community that we all would like to live and work in. This last weekend may give you a chance to glance over this list, and if it is merely a record of facts, it shouldn't stir up any bitterness nor arguments that would ruin the Easter calm.

You will realize, Neighbor, it is impossible to mention everything, but, give some thought to the following:
 I challenged the payment of Mayor Tully's salary in full by the town while he was in service.

I questioned the retroactive charges of water rate increases; requested retention of Memorial Field in Silver Lake for recreation.

I called for the abolishing of the office of Deputy Mayor, which I dubbed a sinecure.
 I rapped nepotism, the hiring of relatives on the town payroll, and called for the discontinuance of paid deputies.

I assailed needless and unnecessary car allowances and free home telephones.
 I complained of lavish convention expenses paid by the taxpayer for junkies.

I objected to long flying aircraft as a safety hazard and noise annoyance.
 I demanded improved street lighting, which I called "wholly inadequate".

The Newark Evening News referred to me as "attending more commission meetings than most Commissioners do."
 I carp at unnecessary overstuffed town departments.

I called for the restructuring of Washington Avenue, a state highway, at no cost to the Town of Belleville.
 I suggested a "gross receipts" tax to raise funds to meet justified salary increases, yet, receive the small home owner of the additional burden of taxes.

I was the first to oppose the proposed parental home, backed by the Commissioners for their failure to act on my recommendation.

I suggested a "Golden opportunity" for honest, god government - just vote 9-A on the voting machine.

Your neighbor,
 James R. Golden.

first battle of World War II, on the West front, three days after the German invasion of Poland in September, 1939. It was staged by the French Ninth Army along the Saar borders, in the forest of Warndt, which the Germans called the Volkenland, at the edge of Saarbrücken, as its objective.

It was a parody on war, that battle of the forest of Warndt. It might have cost the lives of one-fourth of our guns and tanks, but it ended a few hours after it started on a note of French withdrawal.

That was the defeatist policy which the French followed, the following May when Hitler smashed his way into France.

There had been plenty of warning before the war broke out when Hitler attacked Poland at dawn on September 1, 1939. Weeks ahead, I had applied for a passport to leave for Poland and the East. He'll leave France alone in the West!

That was the defeatist policy which the French followed, the following May when Hitler smashed his way into France.

From the forest came two French medics, a high wheeled cart on which were two bodies, Germans, barely boys in their field grey Nazi uniforms. One was a red-headed boy who looked like any red-headed boy back home. He did not look like any of Hitler's brown-shirted storm-troopers that I had known in Berchtesgaden or Munich or Nuremberg.

As we looked, we could see that life was going on normally in the factory yard of the great steel plant, men went about their work. At 4 o'clock there was the usual shift of workers and thousands of men streamed in and out of the plant.

All that afternoon, the French officers lay there on the hilltop and studied the scene with their glasses. Machineguns which had been brought up and put into position. I presumed that an attack was planned but since there were no German troops anywhere in sight I could not understand the delay.

School Happenings

All parents of high school students are invited to attend the 24th meeting of the Belleville High School Parent-Teachers Association, which will be held in the high school auditorium April 27 at 8:00 p.m. A group of high school students will present a talent show for the entertainment of the members. The show will be under the direction of Dr. S. W. Peck, and Otto Brown.

This meeting will conclude the PTA programs for this school year, the chairman of the various committees will make their final reports to Arthur Bloomfield, president. Mrs. A. J. Love, chairman of a card party which was held April 22, will present one of the reports. Refreshments will be served in the high school cafeteria at the end of the meeting and entertainment.

Seventy students from Belleville High School took an all day trip to New York City last week to visit the American Stock Exchange, the Chase National Bank and the United Nations.

The group was accompanied on the trip by their teachers, Harold Dufford and Louis Zuckerman.

Belleville high school has received word that Miss Mary Lou Welsh, a Belleville High School senior, has been awarded a scholarship by The Washington School for Secretaries. The scholarship is valued at $250.

In addition to maintaining a high academic average, Miss Welsh has participated in the following high school activities: Library Assistant Club, Girls' Sports, Junior Red Cross, and Talent Show.

Thus was fought the first battle of the war. There was no to be another battle, not another German casualty in the West trip. May 10 of the next Spring. Those were the months of the "Phoney War," the full which put the French to sleep and which enabled Hitler to pile up his stacks and live reserves in the Riffel mountains for "M-Day".

Money of the World Exhibit, and the Statue of Liberty.

The students, members of the economics and second year bookkeeping classes at the high school, were able to watch the operation of the two largest stock exchanges in the world during the busy morning trading hours.

A moving picture of the exchange was shown. This picture, "What Makes It Fly," explained in detail the procedure which must be followed by a corporation wishing to have its stock listed on the exchange, and also how stocks are bought and sold.

The students again went to the gallery, this time to witness trading on the largest stock exchange in the world. Following a visit to the Chase National Bank where the group saw an exhibit of money from all over the world, they were transported to the Battery in New York where they boarded a ferry for a visit to the famous Statue of Liberty.

HOWARD SAVINGS GETS 5TH BRANCH

Temporary Banking Quarters To Be Opened Within Two Month Period

State Banking Commissioner Warren N. Gaffney today approved a fifth banking office for The Howard Savings Institution of Newark. The branch office will be located at Raymond Boulevard and Plane Street.

"William L. Maude, president of the Howard, said today that plans for the new office would now be rushed to completion. The bank owns the three-story building on Raymond Boulevard and intends to install a modern banking office on the first floor and transfer to the second floor a number of operating departments from the main office.

"The two basic reasons for seeking an additional downtown office," Maude said, "were to relieve peak-load pressures and to offer a better service to the present Main Office and to locate an office in the midst of many parking facilities to the west of Broad Street.

It is worth noting that the Howard has occupied the present site of the main office since 1883 when its deposits totalled approximately five million dollars. Today, Main Office deposits are in excess of one hundred ninety million dollars, with total deposits in all offices
now over the quarter billion dollar mark.

Bank officials indicated that temporary banking quarters will be opened at the site within two months with the full facilities being available within six months.
