SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gorlin
Represent Varsity Club

Representing the Belleville Varsity Club night at the annual Nutley Third Half Club's All-Sports Banquet held at the Robin Hood Inn, in Clifton, were president Ralph Casale, Art Bloemke and Jim Apple. The trio were guests of the Nutley sports minded organization for the evening.

The Third Half Club distributed 63 individual awards to graduating Nutley High School seniors before a crowd of more than 225 people. In addition to athletes, members of the band, twirling and cheerleading units were also feted. Thirty trophies were presented to participants of the major sports which include baseball, basketball, crew and track.

Members of the football team received individual "oscar" at a special grid banquet last December. It was at that affair that the Belleville Varsity Club was presented with the Varsity-Third Half football trophy. The Belleville club took possession of the coveted award for the second year in a row. The trophy goes to the winner of the annual Nutley-Belleville football game.

Guest speaker at the dinner was Harvey Woods, director of athletics and head baseball coach at Fairleigh Dickinson College, of Rutherford.

Bennett Aids Columbia Crew

Bill Bennett, coach of the Belleville and Nutley crews, left Monday morning at 5 a. m. for Syracuse where he will serve as head rigger for Columbia University in the National Intercollegiate Crew Championships on Lake Onondaga. The job, one of the most important in the rowing sport, will keep Bennett in up-state New York for three weeks. The title races, conducted over a three-mile course, will be held on June 19.

An avid lover of crew, Bennett has accepted the position on a gratis basis and will receive only expenses. He has been active in crew for almost 30 years.

As head rigger, Bennett will have complete charge of the boats and will be responsible for having them in perfect rowing condition. He will work closely with head coach Walt Kainey. At Syracuse, Columbia will meet the top crews in the country when Navy, Washington, Princeton, Cornell, California, Stanford, M. I. T. and Wisconsin compete for top honors in the annual regatta.

On the first leg of the three-week job Bennett was in charge of transporting three new eights to Lake Onondaga. A day later the Columbia crew arrived at Syracuse and for the next two weeks will work out three times a day in preparation for the big day.

TOURS PLANNED BY BICYCLE CLUB FOR SUMMER FUN

Tomorrow the Recreation Department has scheduled a bicycle tour to Garrett Mountain. All boys and girls who like to ride bikes are invited to take part. The tour will begin from the Municipal Stadium on Nelson Street at 10 a. m. Everyone should bring a lunch. The tour will be under adult supervision.

Plans have already been made so that youngsters who tour with the "Bicycle Club" can go swimming during the summer. Bob Cook, superintendent of recreation, has an arrangement with the Laguna Beach Club whereby the Belleville youngsters will be admitted for nominal fee. Like last summer, each Tuesday will be bicycle day with the group leaving the Municipal Stadium at 10:30 a. m., riding out to Laguna, swimming about 3 hours, and returning.

Bob Cook strongly recommends that all those who wish to make the summer swimming trips go on this weeks tour to help contribute to the "Tour of Somerville" bicycle races.

The Bicycle Club has also been busy entering competition. Seven Belleville bicycle riders journeyed to Somerville this week to compete in the "Tour of Somerville" bicycle races.

Ed Litzig Jr. scored a clean win in the Midget Class when he led the pack over the mile distance. Ed is only 11 years old and covered the mile in 3 minutes 27 seconds. Ed's younger brother John, who is 9 years old placed fifth in the Midget Division.

Don Gehan, racing in the Juvenile Division, placed fourth in a very tough field.

John Chisello, Robert Bray, and Dominic Colaninno were all entered in the Junior Division. Although these boys did not place, they rode very fine. The Junior Division is for boys from 14 to 17 years of age. All of our boys are just 14. School No. 17 Belleville placed fourth in the Juvenile Division, placed fourth in a very tough field.

Nereid Boat Club Wins 3 In Regatta

The annual Memorial Day Regatta of the New York Rowing Association, held Monday under the sponsorship of the Nereid Boat Club on its Passaic River course, was a great success. A crowd of several thousand spectators lined the banks of the River from noon until after 4 p. m., to watch some of the Nation's top oarsmen compete in 18 different races.

While the lion's share of the races were won by the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia, led by Jack Kelley, who won five individual national championships in 1953, the host Nereid Club also enjoyed considerable success. Nereid crews won five of the eight events entered, to place second to the New York Athletic Club, with five victories.

The Nereid wins were in the Junior Quadruple Sculls, with a new composition of Chuck Crane, Dick McCarthy, Bob Dawson and Joe King; the Junior Single Gig, rowed by Joe King; and the Junior Eight Oared Shell, one of the fastest races of the day.

The Junior Eight was made up of 4 of the Belleville High School eight — Dick Zipt at stroke, Ed Gray, Bob Taylor and Howard Taubman; Bill Hall, Bob Dawson, Joe King and Jim Kelly, former Nereid oarsman returning from an Army hitch. Jim Demargio was coxswain. The Nereid crew took a slight lead over NYAC at the start, and held it into the last stroke. Approaching the finish, Nereid was able to pull away a bit further, and won by just one length.

Individual star for Nereid was Joe King, a member of the 1953 Nutley High School varsity crew, who has swished to sculling. Joe stroked the Quat to a four length victory over NYAC, and then beat out Gino Martini of the NYAC by six or seven lengths in the Junior Single Gig. Turning his hat around, Joe then rowed No. 2 in the winning Junior Eight. Not content with this iron man stant, he also rowed No. 2 in the Senior eight, which was won by the Nereid beating Rutgers Rowing Club. Big things are expected of this young man.

Next Sunday Nereid will travel to the New York Athletic Club home grounds at Travers Island, Pelham, N. Y., to participate in a special invitation regatta. Crews entered will be the winning Junior quad, with Walter Roubik and six others; the Nereid Junior Eight; Joe King in the Junior Single Gig; Bill Hall in the Junior 150 pound Single Scull; Bill Phaedon, Nereid Varsity oarsman, in the Senior 150 pound Single Scull; and a four shell made up of Bill Hall, Howard Taubman, and Jack Kelly or Pat Salerno, with Jim Kant as coxswain.

Dr. D'Angelo Served On Tournament Committee

Dr. Joseph D'Angelo, of 27 Reservoir Place, served on the committee for the annual golf tournament, which was held at the medical staff of St. Barnabas' hospital. The all-day affair will be held on Wednesday at the Essex County Country Club in West Orange.

Not on the trail of the three teams in Wilbur Driver and the Kemek sound, both tied for second with 2-1 records.

Plans have already been made so that youngsters who tour with the "Bicycle Club" can go swimming during the summer. CLIPPERS RETAIN LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL LEAD

The Clippers, although handed their first defeat of the season by the Demons, clung to the lead in the Belleville American Little League in baseball games at Clearman Field in the past week.

An 8-5 win over the Bombers, Wednesday, by the Clippers helped the team's lead. The Bombers, however, and Fred Martorelli's pitching featured the winning effort. Bob Smith, Bomber hurler, also pitched out a homer for his team, besides twirling good ball.

The Clippers lost to the Demons 6-5 in a fine pitching duel between Jim Cleffi and Bill Curtis. Curtis, in setting down the league leaders with four hits, also led his team's batting attack with two of the three hits for his side to drive in the winning runs. Bob Marmay was the big hero for his club team by clouting a homer with two on in the last inning of his team's game against the Dodgers to enable the Cubs to come from behind with a 6-5 victory in a national League contest. Eddie Chole pitched the Aces to a 4-2 win over the Demons in the fourth contest of the week.

One Man's Opinion

Murder of French Colonists and Attack on Tunisian Premier Mark End of Seven Months Truce As Moslem Nationalism Revives

By RALPH E. HEINZEN
The Moslem world is again in turmoil. Attacks on French colonies in North Africa, coupled with political massacres in Morocco and an attempt on the life of the Premier of Tunisia, Mohammed Salah M'Zali are all part of the same scenario - the fierce battle of Moslem nationalism in which they have returned to terrorism as an arm to gain their ends after having failed to win their point by arbitration and negotiation.

The action of the French Government in sending to Tunisia, this week, troops which should have gone to Indochina to prove the immensity of the nationalist challenge, it might be interpreted as part of a vast Communist intrigue to tie the French forces down in Africa, while the Vietminh revolution runs its course in Indochina. It might be interpreted, too, as a tacit admission by the French that they are prepared to write off Indochina in order to preserve their North African empire intact. Both interpretations are correct.

The events of the past week in Tunisia mark the end of seven months of quiet, a cease-fire during which the Tunisian and Moroccan nationalists tried, unsuccessfully, to negotiate their independence. The truce was broken just a week ago when five French settlers were killed on their farms in the northwest corner of Tunisia by native "fellaghas," a term which can describe both bandits and guerrillas.

French Premier and Minister of War, early in 1939, shortly before his inspection was to examine the Moroccan situation, the "Mognot Line" which the French had built across the desert between Tunisia and Libya. The Tunisia of 1839, when I saw was a strange picture out of some Arabian Nights story. The French had been in the country for more than half a century, and yet, in Southern Tunisia, I discovered troglodytes living in holes in the ground. The cliff dwellers of our own southwest, these Tunisians moved their tents into cities and towns in the ground, caused by desert storms, and then hollowed out living quarters in the walls of the cliffs.

Beat Italy To It
To the North African Moslem, olive oil is the lubricant of all Arab cooking. With such a heavy dependence on French capital in Tunisia, the Arab people resisted the nationalist movements which sought to grab the oil of the "oil of the oil" of political independence.

Much of the Moslem resistance in Tunisia, during the decade of the 1920s, was directed against Italian rule. Mussolini revived Italy's old claim to the Arab lands directly across the Mediterranean. He refused to recognize a French decree of 1921 which had granted the Italian born citizens of Tunisia the right of citizenship at birth - hence would be subject for French and not Italian conscription for military service.

Duce Breaks Word
It is a matter of historical record that in 1935, when Mussolini jumped into the war as France was prostrate and her government was crumbling under the weight of the 1935 agreement with Laval and announced that one of his first acts would be to return to France to hand over Tunisia.

In such an atmosphere, Tunisian nationalism has had a very heavy foreign flavor. The Tunisians, who are a mixture of Arab and Berber, have been called the Barbary States as well as the Levantine Coast Arab States. The Tunisians, who are a mixture of Arab and Berber, have been called the Barbary States as well as the Levantine Coast Arab States.

Early June
This is the time of secrets. Until now the forest ways have given secret hiding-place. To wild inhabitants. Each skeletal bawled Revealed the squirrel's leaping aerial race; The winter birds with no protection flew From tree to ground. The contours of the land, Each knoll and dell, were all exposed to view With raw light piercing every thicket stand. But now the branches make a fan of leaves Shadowing, half revealing the reborn dance Of life, and new green intricately weaves A screen impervious to the prying glance. By secret stirrings, sudden silence, the ear Alone divines that mysteries are near.

CHURCHES OFFER SCHOOL FOR FOURTH YEAR

The Belleville Daily Vacation Bible School, sponsored by the Belleville Council of Churches, has made plans for its fourth consecutive year. The school will operate from June 21 to July 3.

When the school was first organized it had only one center, Montgomery Presbyterian Church. The following year another center was added at Grace Baptist Church. This year there will be three centers, Montgomery Presbyterian Church, Grace Baptist Church and Wesley Methodist Church.

The directors for this year are Mrs. Edward Rochau at Wesley Methodist Church, Mrs. Herman Gehres at Montgomery Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Chas. Cassidy at Grace Baptist Church.

Children of all denominations are welcome to the centers.

Mrs. Rochau met with some of her workers at Wesley Methodist last Tuesday and named Mrs. Doris Jones as Superintendent of the kindergarten department, Mrs. Claire Steward, superintendent of the primary department, and Mrs. Maude Boye, superintendent of the junior department.

More help is needed at the Grace Baptist and Wesley Methodist centers. Anyone interested in piano playing, teaching or helping in other capacities may contact Mrs. Cassidy or Mrs. Rochau.

THOMAS REPORTS TESTS INDICATE SCHOOL PROGRESS

Recently concluded tests which were made throughout the public school system indicate definite steady progress toward improved schools in Belleville, Evan H. Thomas, superintendent of schools, has reported to the Board of Education.

The tests concerned aptitudes in reading, writing, arithmetic and other subjects. The tests were given to the Iowa Silent Reading Test, given to sixth grade pupils; the Stanford Achievement Test, taken by seventh grade students; and the Purdue Placement Test in English, given to junior and senior high school students.

The tests "make it possible for teacher supervisors, and administrators to make more accurate diagnosis of the learning needs of our children, and this more accurate diagnosis in turn makes possible improved individualized instruction."

In his memo to the board, Thomas declared:

"In the Iowa Silent Reading Test, a total of 456 boys and girls, the median score (the middle score—the score above which and below which there is an equal number of pupils), was equalled or exceeded by eleven of our sixteen classes. Three additional classes were only one month removed in achievement from the national standard norm. Thus it can be seen that our achievement in reading is very commendable."

"Four of our best sixth grade classes exceeded the national norm by 1 1/2 years, 1 1/4 years, 1 1/2 years, and 2 1/2 years. This test checks the ability of pupils in eight phases of reading: rate, speed, comprehension, directed reading (ability to find answers to questions in a selection), word meaning, paragraph comprehension, sentence meaning, alpha, beta, and use of an index. Since reading is one of our fundamental tools of learning I feel we can be extremely gratified to note that standardized testing in an intermediate grade indicates excellent progress."

"The results of our Stanford Achievement testing are equally complimentary to our school system. The Stanford Achievement Test was given this year to fourteen seventh grade classes, or a total of 382 pupils. Eight of our 14 classes measured significantly above the national grade placement median. This test measures achievement in reading, spelling, language, arithmetic reasoning and arithmetic computation. The test is used to determine individual differences in such areas in relation to ability differences. It is used to help teachers, pupils, supervisors, and administrators to determine the areas of learning that need further emphasis."

"A break-down of the Stanford Achievement Test results reveals that in spelling, ten of our classes out of 14 were above the national norm, seven, a half-year to a year ahead of standard norms obtained on a nationwide basis. In language, nine classes out of 14 were above the median by a half-year to as much as a year and two months ahead of national norms. In arithmetic, our results were the poorest. Only six classes out of fourteen were equal to or above the national norm."

"The Purdue Placement Test, which includes testing in punctuation, recognition of grammatical forms, sentence structure, reading vocabulary and spelling, was given to all seniors."

"These conclusions can be reached from our Purdue Placement Test:

"College preparatory seniors achieved a median score 22 points above the national median."

"Business education seniors achieved a median score equal to the national median."

"General course students achieved a median 24 points below the national median. This is not surprising for this test was designed for the college preparatory students."

"College preparatory juniors take this test and have a year to increase their knowledge of English in the areas needing the greatest attention."

"ZOO PARADE" AT NO. ONE SCHOOL

Perseus tiger lurked behind bushes, elephants stood at attention and zebras roamed around the auditorium of No. 1 school the other day. No one was in danger, however, since the animals were cardboard, made by the 8th grade girls of the school for their annual play day.

A picnic grounds was also set up, and guests from the 8th grade of schools No. 2, 8 and 10 were on hand to join the fun and visit the "zoo". The affair was under the supervision of Miss Frances Williamson and Amy Knight, 8th grader acting as chairlady, was assisted by Doris Kestey, Dorothy Facione, Carol Kingsley, Dorothy Williams and Linda Garcia, refreshments; Marlene Delaney and Arlene Polas, gave refreshments; Veronice Sudjarski, Barbara Jeffers and Mable Salters, hostesses; and Barbara Lindemuth and Jean Brown, ushers.

The boys got into the act by helping to arrange the scenery and stand guard against the more fearsome animals.

$100,000 FOR NEW LAUNDRY ADDITION AT SOHO HOSPITAL

Building of an addition to the laundry at the County (Soho) Hospital on Franklin Avenue, together with some new machinery for the laundry, total cost of which is expected to be approximately $100,000, has been authorized by the Essex County Board of Freeholders.

Eagle and Sernan, Newark, architects and engineers, have been named by the Freeholders to prepare plans and specifications and building is expected to begin as soon as possible. A tentative plan has already been drawn for further replacement of laundry machinery in the next ten years, as part of a modernization program.

Enlargement of the laundry, it was said, was prompted by the inadequacy of the present setup, which was further aggravated by an increased patient load at the hospital. Approximately $50,000 will be for the building, and the other half for the machinery.

The guest artist was Miss Edith Orange, and she was one of the Garden Department, had lent City gave their reports about the convention.

13-YEAR OLD DON
HULME PERFORMS
FOR SERVICEMEN

Donald Hulme, 13-year old winner of two national trophies in the Junior competitions sponsored by the American Accordion Association, gave a solo performance for the enterprising emcee at the Variety Show for the entertainment of the servicemen at Camp Kilmer.

Donald, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hulme, of 22 Bell Street, and an 8th grade student at No. 5 school, recently performed before a gathering of 250 at a political dinner in the Essex House, where he had appeared twice previously. He has also played at the Hotel Robert Treat on five separate occasions and at a community breakfast in the church of St. Francis Xavier.

Nimble-fingered Donald comes by his musical talent quite naturally, since his grandfather, William Hulme, was a concert violinist and for many years leader of his own orchestra in Australia.

Donald has been playing the accordion for five years and intends to make it his career. He studies at the Nunzio Accordion school in Nutley and will take part in the gala Solo Music show this Wednesday at No. 8 school.

You get more car for less

You get more for your trade-in

You get tomorrow's styling
(another reason why Fords "trade" high)

You get a V-8 engine
(or the most modern Six in the industry)

You get ball-joint suspension
(greatest chassis advance in 20 years)

You get the most dollar-for-dollar value in a new Ford. And at trade-in time, Ford returns more of its original price ... so it costs you less to own and drive.

Our sales are high ... so our overhead per car is low. And we're passing this saving on to you in the form of the highest trade-in allowances in our history.

Ford's styling will do more than show friends your good taste. Long after other '54 cars are "old hats," your Ford will still be right in style.

Ford is the world's largest builder of V-8 engines. Many higher priced cars are V-8s, but Ford is the only car in the low-price field that offers a V-8.

New Ball-Joint Ford Suspension is the greatest chassis advance in 20 years! Only Ford and two higher-priced cars offer its easier handling and riding. It's yet another way in which Ford's worth more.

How about a family picnic prepared over a fire in a nearby park or even in your own back yard?

Miss Ruth Williams, Extension agent at large of Rutgers University, believes that a simple menu with everybody lending a hand is the trick that makes such an outing real fun. She suggests the following menu as one that could be partly prepared the day before to avoid that last minute rush.

Kabobs: Roast Potatoes, Carrot and Celery Sticks, Buttered Rolls, Fresh Fruit, Instant Beverages.

Cocoa, Coffee, Tea.

A kabob is a meal in itself and may be a combination of foods to suit each person. For four servings you will need: 1 lb. top round steak, or any other tender steak, 1 1/2 inches thick, and cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes;

4 Bermuda onions, 12 olives, 12 slices bacon, Salt and pepper.

Use four sticks about two feet long and sharpened at one end. Stick each with a piece of steak, slice of onion, slice of bacon wrapped around an olive, and repeat until about six inches of stick is filled. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Leave a small space between every two pieces if you want the kabob well done. Otherwise, place pieces close together. Broil over glowing coals, rotating the stick until the food becomes a savory brown. Then put pieces in a buttered roll or between slices of bread.

For roast potatoes, wash and dry potatoes thoroughly. Bury them deep in a good bed of coals. It takes about 45 minutes for medium size potatoes to bake. If you do not like charred potato skins, put potatoes in a coffee can and put tin in hot ashes.
