

All Around The Town

You meet so many interesting people in newspaper work and sometimes you think one of the most interesting is me! Otherwise, why should I, of my own free will, and without anyone even hinting they would like me to do it, decide to write a newspaper column.

You HAVE to be interesting to put your neck into that kind of a business. Only "interesting" isn't quite the word for it.

Searching week after week for that gem of an anecdote, that sparkling bit of trivia, that bit of fascinating trivia is a task that only strong men can face lightly. I have always said that when it came to that kind of a chore, you could include me out. But here I am launching this section of type without even so much as a champagne bottle, and it's too late to retreat.

I have taken two precautions, though, which I think are rather cunning. First, I do not threaten to write this column every week, though it could and may appear that often. Secondly, I am hereby soliciting contributions from everyone who reads this newspaper—interesting items about people, curious, funny, or unusual incidents—news of every description, even— heaven help us!—bright sayings of children. Just be sure to include your name, address, and phone number, please.

Remember Benjamin Ferraro, the Belleville barber who won $56,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes about four weeks ago? Well, we were getting worried about whether or not he had received the money yet, so we called him up. He told us he was busy signing heaps of documents sent him by the Sweepstakes people, and that he should get the check about six weeks. If the money comes next month, August ought to feel mighty cool to him.

Bob Cook, the town's very efficient, hardworking recreation director, verifies this story: When Beatrice, the Belgian animal trainer who appeared with her chimpanzee, Charlie, at Belleville's Independence Day Celebration, first arrived here, she stopped at the Municipal Station to examine the facilities there. Deciding to give Charlie some exercise, she took him out of the cage in her car. A small boy walked up to look at Charlie in the cage and the chimpanzee became so attached to the boy that he took him to one of his arms and wouldn't let go. Beatrice—very fetching she was—picked up a whip and let Charlie have one, but the end of the whip was in the boy's hand. Charlie loosened his hold, and the lad sped away like a Fourth of July rocket.

What happened? So late the mother of the boy phoned the recreation department to report that Charlie had beaten her child with a whip.

Which reminds us that one of the busiest weather observers in New Jersey last Monday was Parks and Public Director Elmer R. Isoli, who was called to Independence Day program sponsored by his recreation department at 4:30 a. m. Isoli spent so much time looking for signs of rain that he saw almost as much of the sky as he did of the ground. He was called to the scene, he was heard to murmur "no, no, no." Commissioner Kenneth B. Isoli, however, and forgive him— even though rain would have helped in forestalling the water shortage.

Illness Fails To Prevent Golden Anniversary Party

Stricken with illness on the eve of his 50th wedding anniversary, Angelo Risoli, 75, of 42 Jerardo Street, refused to cancel the celebration last Sunday, and the party was held as scheduled, except on a muted note.

It's true that Mr. Risoli remained in bed before the arrival of Rev. Titian Menegus, pastor of the Church of St. Anthony, and it's true that he walked a little more slowly than usual when he arose to join his wife so that they might once more take their marriage vows before the good father.

But thereafter he insisted on remaining with his company, which included his 11 children, and some of his 21 grandchildren. "It's just a little chest congestion or something," he declared. "Why should I go to bed?" He said it was the first time that he had been ill in 50 years, and that the only time he had ever been in a hospital was six years ago, when he suffered a broken arm in a fall. He was surrounded by members of his family he was asked for his most important role in making a successful marriage.

"Keep your wife happy and busy, and the battle is half won," he smiled.

"That's right," Mrs. Risoli agreed, smiling. "And for the husband the wife should do the same thing."

They laughed together and began busily examining some of the congratulatory telegrams.

No Vacation For Employees Still Working In Schools

Belleville's schools may be closed for the summer so far as students and their parents are concerned, but for Ruel E. Daniels, school board secretary and business manager, and the school system's staff of maintenance men and custodians, it's no vacation.

From the time the schools closed on June 18, "Truck Alley" — as the unloading yard at School No. 8 is called — has resounded to the rumble of trucks bringing in school supplies for the fall school term. More than 18 tons have already arrived, and more is on the way.

Explosion Firecracker Burns 14-Year-Old Boy

Fourteen-year-old Philip Blanch of 132 Crest Drive found an unexploded firecracker lying in the street. It had no fuse, so he broke it open and in the exposed powder. At Columbus hospital, where he was taken soon after, doctors said he had suffered severe burns to his hands. Elsewhere throughout the town police received a number of complaints that children were shooting off firecrackers, but no other casualties were reported.

7 NEW TEACHERS NAMED TO FILL SCHOOL JOBS

Resignations of six teachers from the public school system, granting of leaves of absence to two others, and hiring of seven new teachers for the new school term are announced by Evan H. Thomas, superintendent of schools, upon authorization of the Board of Education.

Those who have resigned are Miss Earle E. Gable, third grade teacher, School No. 8; Mrs. Elizabeth S. Seltzer, fifth grade, School No. 5; Mrs. Marie V. Tuffarelli, second grade, School No. 1; Mrs. Marita Richardson, seventh grade, School No. 4; Mrs. Marjorie St. Adams (who has been on a leave of absence from her position).

WILL CLOSE PLANT DURING VACATION

The Resistoflex Corporation will close its entire plant from July 26 through August 7 to permit vacations for its complete roster of employees and their families. Edgar S. Peierls, president, has announced. Closing of the plant at that time will insure vacation "during one of the most desirable periods of summer," he said.

It was also announced that the company's board of directors had voted to retire its entire issue of 5% convertible stock, of which approximately 10,000 shares are presently outstanding. The effect of this action will be to eliminate all charges ahead of the common stock, the company statement declared.

Gibbons Resigns, Charter Commission To Name Successor

John J. Gibbons, youngest member of Belleville's Charter Study Commission, has offered his resignation from the commission because he is moving to Short Hills, and the resignation has been accepted. It was learned last night.

Gibbons, however, will continue his association with the commission as an unpaid consultant.

Boyd Hartley, commission chairman, said that he and the other three members of the Study group are empowered under the law to appoint a fifth commissioner to fill the vacancy created by Gibbons' withdrawal, and that some names are under consideration.

Bartley was asked whether the new commissioner would be named within a week's time.

"We hope to do so," he said. Gibbons, who is 29, is a member of the Newark law firm of Crumney, Converse, and Gibbons. He said last night that he had presented the commission with the "opportunity" to accept his resignation because of his move to Short Hills, and that there might be criticism if a non-resident served as a member of the Study.

"I think they were right in accepting it," he said. He declared he was "confident that the people of Belleville will give their future support to the commission which they authorized by a five to one vote," and said that "I am sure a majority of our residents are convinced that it is a vital project."

A resident of Belleville for 28 years, Gibbons had lived with his wife and two infant children in 74 Overlook Road. His new address in Short Hills will be 96 Meadowlark Road, Wednesday.

With our growing family we needed larger quarters, were unable to find what we wanted here, and so decided to move," he explained.

Gibbons attended St. Peter's School, St. Bonaventure's Prep, Harvard Law School, from which he was graduated cum laude. He resided in the Harvard House while at school. He is a member of the faculty of Seton Hall Law School, and of the Essex County, New Jersey, and American Bar Associations.

"I am very happy that I will be able to serve the City of Belleville as a consultant," he said last night. "I have gathered a good deal of material that I think will be valuable."

In addition to Hartley, other members of the commission are Mr. Leonard V. Scott, Esq., and Raymond O. Scott.

The commission, in studying the various forms of municipal government it may recommend to the electorate in its final report, has organized a series of public meetings, which have been addressed by the proponents of each form.

TAILORS MEET TO MAKE PLANS FOR AN ASSOCIATION

Proprietors of eight independent Belleville tailor shops met with the city's mayor in a second meeting, directed toward establishment of an association which would set uniform prices for services, and effect other changes.

Among the leaders in the Belleville group is Jerry Raciopoli of the Belleville Tailor, 11 Overlook Avenue. Temporary chairman for both groups is Anthony Fucini of York.

The proposed association would be organized along the lines of the Master Barbers' Association of Belleville and New York. Its sponsors are the Belleville Tailor, 11 Overlook Avenue, and Louis Gentile, President of the Filled Club is Alfred Ranne, vice-president, Carmine Fucini, corresponding secretary, Raciopoli, corresponding secretary, Rossi, treasurer, Dominick Pasencher, financial secretary, S. S. Alvares, and Louis Gentile, President.

The club, which was incorporated in 1924, has 110 members. Architect for its new building is Frank Pasencher of Bloomfield.

RIVERS HERE NOT SAFE TO SWIM IN PARENTS WARNED

Residents today were warned by Health Officer Eugene Berry not to permit their children to swim or wade in either the Passaic, Second or Third Rivers as a precaution against contracting an illness.

He said the waters suffered from a certain amount of pollution the year around, and that it was possible to contract typhoid fever, polio, and other dread diseases from them.

Berry also advised these safeguards for the summer season: Don't try to get the world's best tan in a single day; expose yourself to the sun only very gradually.

Unless you have a special fondness for poison ivy, keep a look-out for it while strolling through the woods.

If you are in the back country, drink only water that you can be sure is safe, and stay away from milk that hasn't been pasteurized.

In swimming, children especially should be careful not to go beyond their depth. Don't dive into unexplored areas before first knowing what is underneath the surface, or face the danger of striking a hidden rock.

Take it easy.

Elks Elect Jernick Grand Exalted Ruler

William J. Jernick, production manager of the primary battery division of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., in Belleville, and former mayor of Nutley, where he is a resident, this week was elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at its national convention in Los Angeles.

Thus he assumes the leadership of the largest fraternal organization in the world, with 1,725 lodges and 1,440,000 members in all 48 states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Elks in this area are planning to take part in a homecoming celebration for the Grand Exalted Ruler on his return to Nutley on July 24 following the 90th grand lodge convention in Los Angeles.

The celebration is being sponsored by the Nutley Elks Lodge, and all 67 lodges in the state are being invited to participate in the "welcome-home" festivities. Civic organizations here are also expected to join in the parade which will be one feature of the scheduled program.

Jernick was nominated by Governor Robert B. Meyner, who went to Los Angeles on the first step of a nationwide tour, with strong political overtones, which may be a prelude to eventual candidacy for the Vice Presidency on the Democratic ticket. Nutley Lodge of Elks had taken the initiative, several months ago, by proposing Jernick's nomination to the lodges.

The dramatic election of Jernick and a slate of other officers was the highlight of the opening business session of the 90th grand lodge convention.

Another feature was a standing vote by the massed delegates to reaffirm a 1919 resolution which excludes persons with undesirable backgrounds or aims from membership, and pledges Elks to give unqualified allegiance to the American flag. In his acceptance address Jernick reaffirmed his faith in American Democracy.

He said the world hangs in the shadow of the hydrogen bomb.

GROUND-BREAKING SUNDAY FOR ST. ANTHONY'S CLUB

Plans for the immediate construction of a new $15,000 headquarters building for St. Anthony's Field Club, with the ground-breaking ceremony to be held this Sunday at 2:30 p. m., were announced last night by Ralph Kiehl, general chairman. The building site is at Honia Street and Eugene Place.

The club, a social and sports organization, has been active in various charitable efforts and civic activities in the Silver Lake area.

A procession will leave the present club building at 77 Lake Street shortly after 2 p. m., and be led by a band, will march to the new site for the day's ceremony.

Speakers will include the Rev. Arthur Griffith, professor at Seton Hall University, and Congressman Peter Rodino, Jr. Participating in the ceremony will be Fr. Thomas Menegus, pastor of the Church of St. Anthony, and the Rev. Thomas E. Gillick, assistant pastor.

De Rios, as co-chairman for the day's program will be Frank Tortorelli. Committee members include Michael Rossi, Leonard Zaccaro, and Louis Gentile. President of the Filled Club is Alfred Ranne; vice-president, Carmine Fucini; corresponding secretary, Raciopoli; corresponding secretary, Rossi; treasurer, Dominick Pasencher; financial secretary, S. ADD $750,000 TO DEWITT SAVINGS

Residents in the Belleville area have increased their savings at the DeWitt Savings and Loan Association by more than $750,000 during the past year, bringing the company's total assets to a record high of $6,972,815, a statement released by Edward P. Cantwell, executive secretary, revealed today.

The Association's reserves have been increased to $401,491. Cantwell also announced that the mortgage department now has $8,255,845 in mortgage loans, a 20% increase over last year, thus enabling a growing number of families in the community to own their own homes. During this period 141 families were added to the group already serviced by the department.

To Try Out With Cardinals

Planning to attend the St. Louis Cardinals North Jersey tryouts next Wednesday at Veterans' Field, in Ridgefield, are John Bartell and Jim Apple, both members of the high school diamond team. Bartell, with still another year of eligibility remaining, won five and dropped three this spring while the Blue and Gold finished in fourth place in the Big Ten Baseball Conference.

Apple only a sophomore, divided his time between playing in the outfield. At the Cardinals tryout camp he will concentrate on playing behind the plate. In his first year on the Belleville varsity Apple was one of four batters to finish the campaign over the 300 mark. He completed the scholastic season with a lofty .350 percentage.

Both players are expected to help the young Belleville diamond team to a banner season in 1955. Although Bartell and Apple are going to attend the tryout camp the purpose of the visit is to get familiar with the workings of such a program. The experience of such a trip may some day prove a valuable aid in the future. According to organized baseball regulations no boy can be signed to a professional baseball contract while still attending High School.

Participate In Roller Exhibitions

Earning individual trophies for taking part in special roller races during the Roller Championship sponsored by the Nutley Lodge of Elks were the young Littig brothers, Edward, Jr., 11, and John, nine. The Belleville pair put on half-mile exhibitions. Another bicycle enthusiast, Norma Estabrooks, was also presented with a trophy for taking part in a special race at the Nutley Clubhouse. A member of the Century Road Club, she raced a half-mile on rollers.

Coaches Keeping Active During Summer

Herman "Jitty" Wische, Blue and Gold basketball coach recently left the warm, humid temperatures of Belleville in favor of the clear air of the Catskill Mountains in New York State. Wische resumed his summer activities as director of the boys division at Camp Winnepes, which is located in Livingston Manor.

Another one of Belleville's head coaches, football and baseball mentor Ed Berlinski has started his duties as director of the summer recreation program at Clearman Field.

Ray Smith, assistant to Wische in basketball and an aide to Ed Bennett in crew, like Berlinski, isn't as lucky as Wische to get out of town for the next two months. Smith is now serving as director of all the summer playgrounds in Belleville. His base of operations is the Recreation House in Joramelon Street.

Later in the summer both Berlinski and Smith will switch their summer civilian clothes for a set of Army uniforms. The officers, both World War II veterans, for two weeks will put in their annual two-week summer training with the Army Reserve.

Democracy Everyone's Job Says Rev. Morse In Talk

"America's strongest defense against the forces of Communism and Fascism is a united and unconquerable faith in freedom and all it means to us," the Rev. James K. Morse, pastor of First Methodist Memorial Presbyterian Church, told an Independence Day audience at Municipal Stadium Monday night.

"Now in the course of human history, we realize that our liberty is again threatened," he said. "Communism abroad does not believe in liberty as America does. Certain forces in our land, forces of Fascism, of fear and of ignorance, would rob us of our liberty."

"We are resolved to make democracy work in our community so that no threat from any source will ever be able to take it from us. In faith and loyalty we shall work together."

"The abbreviation of the United States is U.S., or 'us', and the United States is us, all of us. Our lives are linked together. As long as we stand together in America, regardless of race, creed, or politics, we shall be strong and the future will belong to us, and to our children."

"Someone has pictured God as sitting at the table of the universe, playing chess, and the nations and the men are His pawns. He is playing the great game of strategy and His aim is to build up the Kingdom of Righteousness. God has permitted man some free will, and allows evil men and nations to make moves as seem to retard His progress and to thwart His victory."

"Yet, in the moves on the chessboard of history, we feel that God is keeping watch over His own, and in the end He will win. When a nation serves His Divine purpose, it remains on the chessboard, but when we get in His way or in the way of the good man, God removes us from the board."

"Nineteen civilizations have already gone down. Now America is held in the hand of God."

BRAVES, PHILLIES WIN PAL OPENERS; GIANTS, CUBS THE

PAL Baseball League has opened its 1954 season with three of the most tightly played games seen this year at Municipal Stadium.

Lefty Kintinger's Braves defeated Eddie Gaesparini's Cardinals, 3-2, with Gopher for the Cards and Barra for the Braves each scoring two hits, and Bloemke of the Braves doing an outstanding job at shortstop.

Jack McHugh piloted the Phillies to a 7-6 win over the Dodgers. Cullen struck out seven men for the victors and was good in the pinches, while Rustie and Ward each contributed two hits for the Dodgers. But the star of the game was Jim Apple who hit a home run with three men on base to put the game on ice for the Phillies.

Jim Pender's Giants and Joe Hanley's Cubs played a 2-2 tie in a game which had to be called off on account of rain. Klein for the Cubs permitted only one hit, but bases on balls kept getting him in trouble. The Giants got to Schoner for 9 hits, with Jennings and Joyce getting two each, but smart infield play by the Cubs kept the score down.

Elks Elect

Jernick said. "Our world has been split into two hostile groups by conflicting ideologies. Communistic leaders propose to overthrow the democracies, to hold the world in tyranny and slavery. Our thinking, our living, our planning, our deeds must point toward the preservation of our freedom against these very real threats."

He said the Elks must assume leadership in unifying the people of this nation. "If we want our country to turn out the right kind of man, we need to return to the ancient and proven moralities to counteract the crippling effects of moral degeneration as represented, among other things, by parental and religious laxity, the serious growth of juvenile delinquency and the disregard for law and authority."

His election to Grand Exalted Ruler climaxes Jernick's 20 years of membership in the Elks. He joined Nutley Lodge in 1934 and five years later was its Exalted Ruler. The following year, in 1940, he became head of the lodge in the state, as President of the New Jersey State Elks Association.

Association

Continued active in the organization's charity, welfare and patriotic work, Jernick entered the Grand Lodge by appointment to the Executive Committee, of which he became chairman. His election to the position of Grand Exalted Ruler was by a vote of 31 to 1. Jernick will visit as many lodges as possible. James visited 213 lodges in the past 12 months.

From Los Angeles, Jernick was accompanied to California by Mrs. Jernick and their sons, Dr. Robert H. Jernick

Jernick succeeds Earl E. James, of Oklahoma, as Grand Exalted Ruler. His offices will be at the Elks National Memorial in Chicago, but it is tradition that during his year of office Jernick will visit as many lodges as possible. James visited 213 lodges in the past 12 months.

From Los Angeles, Jernick was accompanied to California by Mrs. Jernick and their sons, Dr. Robert H. Jernick and William Jernick, Jr., and his wife, will drive to Chicago where he will consult with the staffs of the executive offices. In Chicago he will announce his appointment to national committees and will name his district deputies before returning to Nutley where, in a civic celebration on Saturday, July 24, he will be given a public welcome in the Oval.

Jernick, who is an executive of the Battery Division, Thomas

Edison Company, in Belleville, will take a year's leave of absence to enable him to visit lodges all over the country. The post of Grand Exalted Ruler pays an annual salary of $25,000.

In the long history of the Elks, Jernick is only the second foreigner to become Grand Exalted Ruler. Joseph C. Buch, of Trenton, is the only other New Jersey Elks to head the national fraternity.

"the only REAL GIFT
is a portion of thyself"

RALPH WALDO EMERSON

There is more to the business of being a thrift and home financing institution than shows in the figures of the balance sheet. Our greatest asset is the knowledge that we are helping folks in this community give a "portion of themselves" to their families and loved ones: a portion of their earnings in a savings account, complemented by better-than-average, twice-yearly dividends... a portion of their earnings being paid on a home loan that will lead them surely and steadily to debt-free home ownership and security unmatched.

While the figures in this financial statement reflect the conservative management and complete safety of the association... they also give visible proof of the first aim of our business... to enable people to save profitably, to own homes practically, to live comfortably and to provide for their future and that of their family by "giving a portion of themselves."

Some of the regulations are for special items which can be obtained only from certain firms. One year Daniels was asked to get a Brazil transporter which could only be obtained from England, and it was finally shipped here.

Action on the purchase of school furniture has been delayed, however. At its last meeting the school board voted to hold an award of a contract to the lowest bidder, contending that it did not consider the deal satisfactory for several reasons.

The highways that unwind toward the sea — the lakes, the mountains, wherever travelers roam — and tumbled off a fair-faced company, roll up again to draw them safely home. But somewhere gypsy weather caught them, dyed with glowing golden nut-brown stain their skins and left them that wild-tattered dizzzy-eyed look of folk who've danced to violins!

Pride In A Good Neighbor

Nutley can but feel a warm glow of extreme pride in the election this week of former Mayor William J. Jernick to the office of Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. His election is one of those one-in-a-million tributes because the Elks' membership now surpasses 1,125,000.

The national fraternal society recognized early in Jernick exactly the same qualities of integrity, honesty, endeavor and ability which we, here in Nutley, recognized when time after time we elected him as our Mayor. His record at the head of our town administration was outstanding and his temperate leadership, his clam, fair and fearless guidance of the Town Commission he established our municipal government on a high standard of honest efficiency.

For the next year, Bill Jernick will travel the land because one of the duties of his office is to visit as many lodges as possible. Wherever he goes, he can but add to the prestige of Nutley. It is with great deal of pride and happiness that Nutley will join in a "Welcome Home, Bill!" festa in the Oval on July 24 for his is a personality which makes only friends, no enemies. To all of us, he is our good friend, our good neighbor.

Clifford Case To Campaign Against Democratic Attacks

Accusing his Democratic opponent, Congressman Charles R. Howell, of campaigning for one of New Jersey's two seats in the U. S. Senate by attacking President Eisenhower and his foreign policies and legislative program, Clifford Case, Republican candidate for the succession of Senator Robert Hendrickson, said in an exclusive interview with The Belleville Times-News this week that he will make a campaign issue of the Democratic attacks and will seek his election on a promise of firm support of basic Eisenhower policies.

In his interview with Times-News, Case said he would vote for any measure "needed to strengthen the security of our country, regardless of how politically unpopular it might seem."

"In President Eisenhower, the American people have this national leader, an expert who can be counted upon for firm and sound leadership in a complex world," Case said in his discussion of world affairs during his Nutley visit.

Prevent Another War

"The supreme purpose of the administration's military policy is the prevention of another world war. It contemplates a steady gain in the over-all strength of our armed forces geared to our nation's expanding productivity and technical know-how and planned to keep in step with increasing Communist military power."

"Let it be understood," Case emphasized, "that I support the broad framework of this plan. I challenge its critics to suggest a better alternative."

"Nonetheless," Case continued, "every member of Congress, and especially of the Senate, has an overriding responsibility to re-examine continually the adequacy of our country's defense preparations. And, if at any time, such reappraisal shows the need for increasing defense expenditures or the enlargement of our armed forces I shall be among the first to support such action."

Case, placed himself in the anti-McCarthy wing of the Republican party attacking the methods of Senator McCarthy as "reckless and unfair."

If elected, Case said, he would vote against retaining McCarthy as chairman or member of the committee on government operations, or any other committee with similar functions.

Asserting that Congressional investigations have contributed to a wider realization of Communism's meaning and the threat which it poses to the United States, Case said that such probes should continue but under leadership other than that of McCarthy.

"The dangers are real, they persist and will continue," he declared. "Our vigorous efforts to combat them must also continue by every effective means. . . . And I am convinced that our total effort to meet and defeat the menace of Communism will be strengthened when the distracting and divisive effect of McCarthy's participation is removed."

In a weekly report from Washington, which Howell informed Essex editors he intends to publish every week until November, the Democratic agitator pretended to see a schism between the President and the Republican majority in Congress and the Senate. He blamed the defeat of the Bolling Bill, granting $85,000 new public housing units a year, as President Eisenhower's "mistake."

He also charged that the votes of 110 Republicans who joined with 61 Democrats to defeat the measure, Howell reported in his article, had been cast in favor of the Bolling amendment.

"It is very evident that with out a workable majority in the House and Senate, the Eisenhower administration will be at a loss and its effort, at home and abroad, will be weakened," Case said in his interview here.

"Only Locals Has Changed"

"Events in Indochina should alert the voters to the need of strong backing for the administration's foreign policies. Happenings in the Red River delta are a case in point of new Communist aggressions. There can be no doubt, whatever, that Communism aimed the Vietnamese rebels and we are now face to face with exactly the same open aggression that we countered in Korea. Events are the same, only the locale has changed."

"Happenings of the past fortnight in Guatemala have proven, also, that we can crush Communist infiltration on the American continent without war. We firm American hand, guided from Washington, wiped out a Kremlin beachhead in Central America only an hour's flight from the Panama Canal."

The former Congressman from Union County took a positive stand in favor of arming as a deterrent to war. The United States, he said in his interview here, could have a more effective foreign policy if it had a stronger defense program to back such a policy.

Case said he favored a stronger defense program even if "we need to spend more money, more time, more time from the lives of our youth to prevent a holocaust."

As one means of strengthening our arms, Case urged that this country expand its program of technical research as a defense measure.

Born in Newark, Mrs. Apperson lived 30 years in Belleville. She was a member of Christ Episcopal Church, and a former president of the church's Ladies Guild and a member of its Women's Auxiliary. She formerly worked in the lending department of the Newark Museum, leaving that position about 20 years ago.

One Man's Opinion

With India's Backing, And Perhaps Britain's, Red China Will Knock At UN Door, In September, When Assembly Meets

BY RALPH E. HEINZEN

The United States is up against the grim fact that Red China, having won a tremendous military and political victory over France in Indochina and having aligned herself with pacifist India in a "neutralist" pact, will be knocking with insistence at the door of the United Nations when the General Assembly convenes on September 21.

In the Security Council, the United States possesses a power of veto which could use it against Red China just as the Soviet Union has used it to keep many applicants among the smaller Democratic nations out. In the General Assembly, we enjoy no veto power. There, China's admission could be decided by a majority vote and the activities of Communist China's Premier Chou En-lai and since Geneva have been more helpful to Peking's cause than to ours.

The recently re-energized Anglo-American partnership will be given a true test of its tensile strength at the U.N. If Sir Winston Churchill is sincere in his announced desire to give "a real good try" to peaceful coexistence with Communism, it may swing Britain's vote into the camp of Red China.

If Communism China, as an apparent reward for its successful aggressions in Korea and Vietnam, is admitted to the U.N., will the United States remain?

The Senate Foreign Affairs Committee has repeatedly spoken its opposition to the seating of Red China. Senator William F. Knowland, majority leader, has announced that if such a happening occurs, he will fight for the withdrawal of the United States from the United Nations.

Without the United States, the U.N. would face a certain demise just as the League of Nations was doomed the day Congress forbade U. S. membership in the Geneva organization.

Beats Us To Punch

Thus it is very evident that the Churchill visit, the French "Dunkirk" in the Red River valley of Indochina and the swift agreement reached in New Delhi by Jawaharlal Nehru and Chou for India's support of Red China's dominance in Southeast Asia, are all components of the same problem.

Chou, who definitely established himself as an able diplomat at Geneva and on his stopovers in India and Burma, plays his cards close to his chest, but in a telephone conversation with friends in the State Department it was learned this week that Washington believes Chou is out to create a bloc of Asian neutrals for India's support of Red China's dominance in Southeast Asia, as a military barrier to further Communist expansion.

Chou Only Winner

Despite the secrecy with which Chou surrounded his talks with

Nehru and with U. N., the Prime Minister of Burma, it is Washington's belief that Chou is attempting to get Burma to sign a non-aggression pact with Red China, India and, perhaps, Indonesia and Ceylon—the so-called "Columbo nations."

Although Secretary of State Dulles, who had agreed reluctantly to the Geneva conference, sought to isolate Chou by refusing him the status of a "Big Power" representative, it is no secret that U. S. policy took a positive setback at Geneva and Chou came away with the only diplomat loot — his agreement reached at Berne with Mendès-France for the French evacuation of important parts of Tonkin and the paper signed in New Delhi which Nehru agreed to sign. Indochina "should not be used for aggressive purposes or be subjected to foreign intervention."

Nehru's Promise

In other words, if the United States ever does decide to send American troops into Indochina, it will be opposed by India. That would appear to stymie any move to ask the U.N. to occupy Indochina with international military forces in the wake of the French withdrawal. Nehru is now committed to veto any American or Western effort to neutralize such a vacuum.

Thus, at New Delhi, after the French consented at Berne to a "Munich," Chou has obtained the assurance that when the French do pull their army out of Indochina, there will be no new military forces to oppose here. In Chou's own words, Red China is seeking only "a deep enunciation of friendly peoples" to the South.

Burma Looks Askance

The weakness of the New Delhi agreement would appear to be in the very restrictive wording of its neutralist promises. Communist China pledges only to refrain from aggression. Not a word is said of Chinese infiltration, and that is the method which Peking has used in Indonesia and Burma with considerable success.

That is why the reaction of the Burma press to Chou's proposal has been one of extreme caution. Burma is a Socialist country with a definite trend towards Western rather than Eastern methods. Rangoon's leading English-language newspaper, the "Nation," summed up the cautious attitude of Burmese political leaders towards Chou's offer.

Stating that a non-aggression pact, if faithfully observed, would have a great deal of meaning for Burma, the editorial continues, "This is what it would imply: cessation of support for the Burmese Communist party, which is an illegal subversive organization; cessation of the campaign now being carried on to subvert the loyalty of the peoples of border areas; cessation of all propaganda activities tending to undermine democratic processes in this country and cessation of the attempt on all fronts to build up in this country a fifth column which is loyal to Peking's China rather than to Burma."

The editorial concluded that "if Red China will really implement her professed desire to avoid interference in the internal affairs of this country by stopping undesirable activities in which she is now involved, then a non-aggression pact with her will be of great value to Burma."

Nicholas Mariano was able to trace the money to the cab of one of the company's trucks, where it had been accidentally left.

Robert Hassel, 13, of 197 Stephen Street, and Fred Baber, 24, of 18 Clinton Street, each reported that they had been bitten by dogs. Robert was treated at Columbus Hospital, and Baber at the American Legion Hospital. Nicholas Bissell, 13, of 453 Stephen Street, suffered an eye injury at the Plauson playground.

Windows were broken by hoodlums at School No. 10. Joseph Presalone, of 86 Malone Avenue, reported someone had scratched a mark with a sharp instrument completely around the body of his car. John Walsh, 120 Rutgers Street, told police someone had stolen $17 from his apartment while he was absent from the apartment for a few moments. And six-year-old Evelyn Platto was reported missing for three hours from her home at 68 Fairway Avenue, but returned soon afterward.

Only three minor accidents were reported—and two of the ones involved bicycles. Patricia Paoliello, 7, of 45 Cedarhill Avenue, was riding her bike on Maier Street and ran into the side of a car driven along Cedar Hill Avenue by Lawrence A. Tormola of 86 Prospect Avenue. Tormola, who examined her at Columbus Hospital and she was uninjured. Franklin Goehner, 8, of Newark, ran his bicycle into the rear of a car driven by Joseph Mercurio, 20, of Newark, at Lawrence and Heckel Streets, but suffered only bruises. Two cars driven by Herbert C. Zillgen, 69, of 96 Bayard Street, and Louis Galician, 25, of North Arlington figure in a collision at Joralemon and Cortland Streets, but no one was injured.

Police have not yet identified the three youths who last weekend sneaked through Belleville at 70 miles an hour before finally abandoning the car they were driving in Newark. The chase by Officers William Finn and Thomas Dunleavy began on Cortlandt Street and continued for two miles into Newark. The car was later reported stolen by Anthony Gannaro, 17, of 349 Lake Street. Gannaro's brother, Ralph, told police he had borrowed the car from his brother, and had left it parked on Ralph Street while visiting a friend when it was stolen.

Life at BHS As We See It

By Elaine Wischo and Lois Bloemke

If there, folks! Well, the time has come for us to make our last appearance of the year. With the final strains of our class song, "With a Song in My Heart" having faded out, we find that those four well-spent years at Belleville High are just a thing of the past, and we are left with only wonderful memories that will never be forgotten.

Yes, we'll never forget those fabulous physics classes with Professor Wilcox, to whom we dedicated our 1954 "Monad", or Mr. Grossman and the magazine campaign, the announcements over the public address system, the talent shows, the terrific dance band, the mid-year and final exams, and those pink slips we'd get every so often for being tardy.

The girls will always remember Mrs. Marie Pettito Glancy who instructed us in the gym for the past two years and who will not be back at Belleville High next fall. We will always remember, too, our Principal, Mr. Kittle who so patiently guided us through our high school career.

But everything's just a memory now, even those after-graduation parties given by Pat Pittsimmons, Eddie Bucarelli, Ray Merone, Jody Cohen, Alan Hysenmer, Ed Corino, Carol Muccigrosso, Pat

Loverde, and Jean Dufford but enough reminding. Working For Summer

To make a very clever observation, summer is here, and with it the traditional summer jobs. We were surprised to walk into Brownie's Delicatessen and see Alvin Lehner working behind the counter. We hear that Bev Campbell, Harriet Ackerman, and Virginia Wheeler will be counseling at Camp Ro-Li next week. Pat Smith has headed for Florida. Joyce Miller and Andy Ruiz can be seen at Mutual Benefit, while Else Bergeren and Rita Zimmer are enjoying their work at Ballentine's, a permanent job for Rita.

Harry Valente plans to spend his vacation playing with a band at Lake Placid, New York. Jack Hah, who's had a yearning for the mountains, has finally decided to spend his summer in town working at the Curb Service Cleaners. Those two cute salesgirls at Hahn & Company are none other than Jean Dufford and Alice Encke.

1954 grad, Connie Manno can be seen holding the fort at Canadian Fur Corp. in Newark. Connie is a University of Miami co-ed. Sheila Galley can be found at Wallace & Furman Co. as an Arlene Zalewski who is now dividing her time between the Medical Department at W&F and secretarial school.

To Be Married

Our congrats to Claudette

Loyola on her engagement to Larry Earl. Both are former B.H.S. grads. Sister Rhoda, summer she is assistant program director at Camp Ro-Li and plans to work at the Musarra Music shop during the second half of the season.

Toni was seen this year as President of Charn Club No. 8, and playing intra-mural basketball and volleyball. She has been a member of the Junior Red Cross and outside of school, the C.Y.O. Toni has a commercial course and plans to go into retail work. This summer finds her working in the office of Bayonne Steel Products.

Off To College

Well, folks, it's time to say goodbye; for in the fall, as will many of the 1954 seniors, we'll be heading for four years of college, one to Bridgeport and the other to Ohio. It's been fun this past year bringing you the news of what's been taking place inside the hallowed walls of B.H.S. Next year you'll be hearing from Arlene and Toni. Both of us want to wish them the best of luck in their endeavor.

So long!

— Elaine and Lois

18,000 Attend Celebration of Independence Day Here

Under dark, gray skies that threatened rain throughout the day, Belleville Monday observed one of the most successful Independence Day celebrations in its history. Storm clouds and a light sprinkle during the afternoon prevented a larger attendance at Municipal Stadium.

More than 1,000 boys and girls... a record number... took part in the track events and games arranged by the department. Prizes included watermelons, medals and the track events and games arranged by the department.

Recreation Dep't. Program Booming

Belleville's youngsters are swarming the basketball courts, ping-pong tables, horseshoe pits, checkboards, Chinese checkers, swings, slides, and volley-ball courts, available to them at town's playgrounds. Here are some details of the recreation program:

School No. 10
Director — Cynthia Thomas:
A ping-pong tournament found Jimmy Pindar, Arnold Tobias, Joyce Dreyer, Carol Collins, Gregory Aughenbaugh, Jimmy Pietryk, Maureen Bellis, and Robert Hopkins competing for top honors. The final playoff between Arnold Tobias and Ronald Hopkins resulted in nine-year-old Arnold being crowned champion after winning 21 to 17.

A checker tournament is now in progress. Playoffs between Nicky D'Orsi and Jimmy Pindar, and Ronald Hopkins and Carol Minnahan will be held soon. Each has won two games. Florencia Goglia, Arnold Tobias, Mary Ann Ciesla, and Johnny Pietryk, have played but were defeated in earlier rounds. Six more games are to be played, and the winner will be announced next week.

Nicky DeVito, Billy Chen, Arnold George and Ronald DePiro have been challenging comers at the horseshoe pits.
Little Jimmy Puleo, age 6, scored the winning point in the tournament by Jimmy Pindar. A real example of good teamwork.

Two ever-resourceful playground-goers didn't worry about the lack of pool to hold the volleyball net. They simply grabbed the lower ends with both hands, hung the net around their necks, and marched in opposite directions until they could go no further. Voila — a volleyball court, and movable, too!

Recreation House
Directors — Rita Weinstein, and Michael Rossmilla:
Elizabeth Peanmandanda was appointed reporter for this week's activities. In the many daily tournaments, Carlo Clemente and Don Schreiber proved to be logs in Paddle Tennis — brand new activity this year. Dick Nisvovitch and Howie Beresford were runners-up. All have shown exceptional skill at this new game, which is similar to regular tennis.

George Guber and Tom Joyce took first place in the horseshoe tournament despite the stiff competition from Ronnie Savare and Bob Gacione. Undefeated midgets were Barney Barnes and Ed Biresford.

Ping pong experts include Rose Giordano, Elizabeth Peanmandanda, and Beth Costello, as well as Steve Fox, Mike Swettell, and Johnny Beresford.

So far no one has been able to beat Fred Giordano at the checkerboard but he challenges all comers.

Sixteen girls formed a sewing class, which is eagerly looking forward to their second lesson in the making of mother and daughter aprons. Each Thursday afternoon the group will meet under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Winfield.

Tangredi, Harold Brundman, and Robert Yudin.

A gala checker tournament was held in which over forty youngsters participated. Coming out on top and crowned checker champion was Larry Kenna, who continued his mastery of the checker board from last year when he was also champion. Also playing in the tournament were William Thomas, Harry Groome, Robert McGowan, Gordon Potts, Guy McGowan, Victor Iannelli, John Condon, Charles Shapiro, Paul Shapiro, Valerie Condon, Harold Avalon, Michael Sandone, Thomas Petrucci, Sandra Restaino, Judy Libberti, Bruce Lukowiak, Jack Fellicchio, Jackie Lovack, Jimmie Pellicchio, Richard Lazzaro, Guy Burke, Donald Miller, Patrick Gray, George Budd, John Hays, Diane Yudin, Mike Netti, Fred Luwak, Art Connolly, John Thomas, and David Wood.

The stadium athletes extend an invitation to all other playgrounds to send teams to compete in various activities. Simply notify the director and a game will be arranged.

Magr. Kelly Playground
Directors — Mrs. Catherine Monaghan, and Mrs. Mary Conway:
About 200 boys and girls have registered at this busy play area. The older group enjoys basketball and ping pong, while the smaller folks favor the swings, slide, merry-go-round, jacks and checkers. Horseshoes are a favorite of all sizes.

Cleanman Field
Directors — Edward Berlinki, and James Weiss:
A large group of enthusiastic youngsters were at hand for the opening of our playground. Particularly the smaller youngsters were the new pieces of apparatus namely, the slide and the seesaw. Handicraft proved extremely popular with more than 25 youngsters participating in bracelet making. We noticed the twins, Charles and Paul Shapiro, making trinkets for their mother and grandma. Camille Malango, George Budd, Paula Fort, Richard Lazzaro, Joseph Libberti, Guy McGowan, Camille Perrone, and Michael Sandone also did excellent work on their projects.

It was with smiles, whoops and cheers that Paul Morrison, Morton Barsky, Harry Jackson, Robert Adams, William Billerman, Barbara Campbell, Doris Caron, John Caron, James Condon, and Robert Gilchrist enjoyed the seesaw-whip. Gratifying to watch the smiling faces of Jeffrey Fitzgerald, Conna, Greg Conforta, Joseph Brogna, Harold Avalone, George Budd, Terry Lanzotti, Joseph Libberti, Alice Nelson, Bob Thomas, John Thomas, William Thomas, David Wood, and Camille Malanga as they went up and down the slide. It was nice saying hello to Michael Iannelli, Bill Kelly, Bruce Lukowiak, Michael Petrucci, Rod Schererman, Andrew Suppa, Bob many more to be on hand.

Planoson Playground
Directors — Bob Freitag, and Mrs. Elsie Eddy:
About 150 boys and girls have been registered at Planoson Playground with the major portion of them spending much time at the ping pong tables.

Keeping score at the horseshoe pits, Sonny Netti led the group with 115 rings in 2 days. In iron horseshoes Tom D'Antonio and Fred Reid joined forces to win the doubles tournament, and Nick Bissell and Peter Howe, doubles in rubber shoes.

A junior (8th graders) and senior (high school) softball team is being organized by Vincent Porzio. The midge team, boys up to the 6th grade, have put a good team on the field — Noto, captain, Jannotte, John Ray, Murray, Caracciolo, Biondi, P. Biagi, Zappa, Munty, and Jack. They will play any other playground team at any time.

No. 1 Playground
Directors — Evelyn Hannon and Eugene Westlake:
Great enthusiasm greeted every piece of equipment that arrived here. Since opening day a lot of attention has been given to the rubber horse shoes on a diving board, crayon books, and paint sets.

The senior softball team from Monsignor Kelly's Playground were defeated 11-16 by our senior team, and on the same night we were privileged to have Commissioner Hyde visit the playground.

Our first champion was crowned last week. She is Veronica Sudziarski, winner of the checker tournament.
Now that the weather is hot we have showers from one o'clock to five for the children.
Attendance has been overwhelming, but we hope even more participation.

ents will send their children to the playground.

Branch Brook
Ping pong is the main attraction at the Branch Brook playground, with Bob Suckey leading the list of contenders for the crown. John Polan is providing competition, as is Fred Ruff and Tommy Condit.

Tommy McNeil, Dan Fritz, Steve Sizer, and Louis Kappe have been adding to their skill at various games.
Kenneth Ruff has volunteered for the job of "gate keeper" and official assistant in which capacity he has done well.

Sewing has been enjoyed by Diane and Ellen Weiner, Alice DeWolfe, Kathy Suckey, Karen Howell, Virginia Perkins, Carol Philabso and Helena Foto.

Sewing
Sewing classes at each of the playgrounds have been well attended. Mrs. Lillian Winfield is in charge, and her project for the season is to teach the basic skills such as basting, running stitches, gathering, hemming, and making a neat seam. After learning how to use a needle correctly, the girls will make Mother and Daughter matching aprons from remnants found in mother's sewing basket.

The girls, ranging in age from 6 to 14, will be taught to recognize the various kinds of materials.

At School No. 10 the class completed a tea apron in one afternoon, each taking a turn at it. Michele Finn, Kay Morrison, Claire Austin, Mary Ellen Fack, Muriel Alpern, Ellen and Geraldine Vanderhoff, Carole Sargent, Barbara Collins, Theresa and Irma Gogin were the eager youngsters who did such a fine job.

A group of twelve has made up the No. 2 Sewing Class. They include Elissa Marullo, Victoria
