

All Around The Town

Little Nancy Glenck, the nine-year-old Belleville lassie who last week wrote Mrs. Florence Morey asking her to block off the street in front of her house so that she and her friends could hold a parade, isn't the only child who has brought her problems to the amiable town clerk. Mrs. Morey, who keeps three guinea pigs and a dog at home, is widely known to the neighborhood small fry as a lady who likes animals, and every time parents refuse their children permission to house a stray dog or cat, the kiddies rush to Mrs. Morey and ask her to use her influence with their elders. She's managed, too, sometimes.

Mrs. Morey is vacationing with her family this week at their 160-year-old farmhouse at Stormville, in Dutchess County, though she must be back for the Town Commission meeting next Tuesday. Which reminds us that we have a question to make. It's somewhat less than a month since we returned from OUR vacation, but the plain truth is we're bitterly jealous of our friends around town who are only now planning their vacations. Ours is done, finished, there is about to begin. However, in Mrs. Morey's case we will forgive her. She's been town clerk for more than 26 years, and after months of commission meetings, a farmhouse can be so cool and restful.

Local clothier phoned to tell us that we were wrong in describing as "well-dressed and hatless" the suspect charged by police with the robbery of the De Witt Savings and Loan Association.

"No man," the clothier said, "can be hatless and so well-dressed."

In that case, can't be too many. Haven't seen too many with heads. As serious as it is in California, where his hat isn't.

More than 250 kids were guests of the Belleville Police Athletic League at Yankee Stadium last Saturday when the New York Yankees beat Baltimore, 9-8. Another big crowd was expected to be in the Polo Grounds for a contest between the Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates, still a third scheduled for Aug. 21 at Ebbets Field.

BELLEVILLE ELKS TO HONOR JERNICK IN NUTLEY PARADE

A delegation of Belleville Elks led by Exalted Ruler Joseph De Palma will join more than 1,000 marchers expected to take part in a "Homecoming Day" parade in Nutley Saturday honoring William J. Jernick, elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the national convention in Los Angeles. Also scheduled is a special program at Oval Park.

Former mayor of Nutley and a resident there, Jernick is production manager of the primary battery division of the Thomas Edison Electric Company.

The parade is scheduled to leave the corner of Franklin Avenue and High Street at 2 p.m., with delegations of Elks from 10 lodges, and six bands participating. The Oval program will commence about 4 p.m., with many outstanding dignitaries from the Grand Lodge and the State Elks Association present for the occasion.

In case of rain on Saturday the parade will be staged as planned, but the program scheduled for the Oval will be moved indoors to the High School auditorium.

Parking during the parade will be permitted along the line of march in Franklin Avenue, but Chief of Police Charles Rummel stated that Chestnut Street in the vicinity of the Elks Clubhouse and the area adjacent to Park Oval will be kept cleared of autos.

HOLD LOCAL MAN HERE FOR N. Y. ON THEFT CHARGE

Belleville police yesterday arrested Nathan H. August, 46, of 184 Division Avenue on a charge of larceny preferred by the New York City Police Department. He was arrested before Magistrate Edward J. Abrahamson was scheduled to be brought before a county judge where he would have the opportunity to waive extradition proceedings.

August had been reported under New York law in connection with the theft of $20,000 worth of coffee from a truck in Brooklyn, and the new warrant was issued on August 17, when they were taken to the Polo Grounds for a contest between the Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates, still a third scheduled for Aug. 21 at Ebbets Field.

PRECAUTION - Just to be on the safe side, Dr. E. Sheldon Pardee, a veterinarian whose offices are at 245 Belleville Avenue, inoculates his daughter's dog, Topper, with an anti-rabies injection. The daughter, 4 1/2-year-old Cici, stands by to comfort her pet during the injection. Eugene Berry, town health officer, said yesterday that next year he would request the Town Commission for funds to purchase serum so that every Belleville dog owner might have his pet inoculated without charge to guard against rabies. Vaccine would be good for two years.

Boys' Town In Italy Asks Help For Homeless Orphan

Is there room in the hearts of residents here for the war-torn orphans of Italy - the homeless, underprivileged thousands of children who roam the streets and alleyways in hopeless abandon?

You can help to make a future for them if you will contribute toward the "Boys' Towns of Italy" says Vincent Strumolo of 64 Franklin Street who is chairman of the Essex County Fund-raising drive for the project. Assemblyman Gerardo L. De Luca, is general county chairman of the campaign.

Boys' Town is a charity, a society of three towns in northern Italy in which live hundreds of orphaned, foundlings for whose care and rehabilitation are largely provided for by contributions from abroad.

The idea began in 1944, with Monsignor John Patrick Carroll, Abingdon Irish priest stationed in Italy. To care for the homeless war-torn brought stray children to a shelter, he built a home, a building which became known as "Shoeshine Hotel." More than 100 boys soon gathered there in the makeshift quarters.

Racing Champ Says Track Is Safer Than Highway

New Jersey state champion stock car racing champion in the sportsman division for the past two years, and winner of fourth place last year in the national ranking, Nick Nicolette, 30-year-old Belleville auto body mechanic, feels it's safer driving on a race track than on a highway, he says.

"I've been in a few crashes on the track, and only got a broken nose," Nicolette explains. "But motoring on the street without a crash belt and other safeguards riding in the middle of a swarm of every kind of driver is sometimes enough to scare the daylight out of you."

The racing driver believes fatalities and injuries in auto crashes would be heavily reduced if drivers and their passengers all wore safety belts holding them to their seats. All racers use them.

"It might not be very comfortable, but I am sure thousands of lives could be saved that way," he declares.

Nicolette, who is married, lives at 50 Mitchell Street, and has a two-year-old daughter, Gail, has ridden in more than 1,000 races since he began his career in 1930. That includes trial heats, semifinals, and main events.

NUTLEY PROPOSES OPTIMIST CLUB

An effort to organize an Optimist Club in Belleville has been launched by Nutley Optimists, and a meeting will be held in about two weeks with interested Belleville residents.

Everett Vanin, governor of the 27th District of Optimist International, announced last night.

Vanin, who is a Nutley resident, said that members of the Nutley group had been asked to bring prospective Belleville members to the meeting, the exact date of which will be decided later.

An Optimist Club was organized here a number of years ago, but was finally abandoned. The Nutley group was inaugurated six years ago by William LaDuca, an insurance dealer.

"We hope to get a nucleus of about 26 men in Belleville," Mr. Vanin said. "It would be helpful to the organization in both towns. The Optimist Club devotes its time to work with boys and to help them as a salesman is Joseph De Palma, who is Exalted Ruler of the Elks."

RUSSELL FAMILY ON 'STRIKE IT RICH'

Four sisters and brothers of Patricia Russell, former Belleville high school student, who is still paralyzed as the result of a sliding accident last January, will appear in her behalf on the "Strike It Rich" television program next Wednesday night.

They are Roderick Jr., 13; Barbara Jane, 13; and the 15-year-old twins, Susan and Paul.

Funds for Patricia, who is 17, were collected by her former classmates shortly after the accident. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Russell.

ORDER $125,000 CLUBHOUSE FOR HENDRICKS FIELD

Construction of a new $125,000 clubhouse and parking lot on the Hendricks Field public golf course on Franklin Avenue was authorized by the Essex County Board of Freeholders yesterday to replace the present cluster of old buildings.

The request had been made through the County Park Commission by Elwood P. Russell, Belleville Freeholder.

Robert Kinney, Park Commission secretary, told the Belleville Times-News that the project would be undertaken "immediately" but that the first step would be the drawing of plans and specifications.

He said that it would probably take two or three months before completion of the blueprints, and that present plans call for actual construction directly thereafter.

The Freeholders also approved $72,000 for landscaping of the Second River bank in the Branch Brook Park Extension area in North Newark, adjoining the Belleville line. This proposal had also been supported by Russell.

Finally, the Board authorized $221,000 for the acquisition of property along the Passaic River in West Essex for the establishment of a county park.

Funds were derived from the $3,000,000 received by the Park Commission for sale of Graton Parkway as part of the Garden State Highway.

The present Hendricks Field clubhouse facilities consist of a group of run-down frame structures originally built as temporary locker and shower buildings.

ARTHUR E. MAYER SELLS BUSINESS TO JAMES TULLY

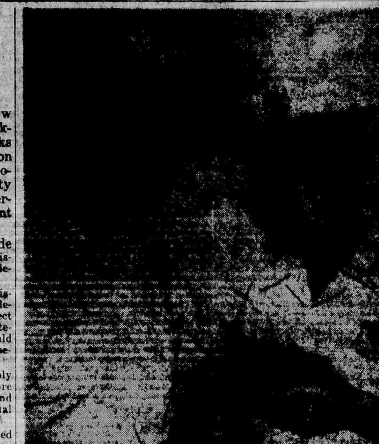

Arthur E. Mayer, veteran Belleville real estate and insurance broker, has sold out his business to James J. Tully, but will be associated with Tully's insurance and real estate firm as a sales representative. It was announced Thursday night.

Mayer, however, will retain his insurance accounts with the town at part of his own personal business, and will service these accounts, together with several others, from home.

He moved recently from his own office at 172 Washington Avenue to the new Tully building at 383 Washington Avenue.

Tully, who has been in the insurance business for eight years, was formerly employed by Mayer as a salesman. Tully's brother, William, who was deputy mayor during Tully's regime in Town Hall, but who resigned the post upon Mayor Paulina's request following the May election, is now an equal partner in the former Mayer's insurance business. James Tully, however, retains full control of the real estate division. Also associated with the firm as a salesman is Joseph De Palma, who is Exalted Ruler of the Elks.

EVIDENCE - Officer John McNish (left) and George B. Riepe examine a 45 caliber automatic which police charged was used by Joseph Di Modica of North Arlington in the holdup of the De Witt Savings and Loan Association July 15. Riepe and McNish arrested Di Modica shortly after the holdup. The gun was found later in Di Modica's home by detectives.

Suspect In DeWitt Holdup Free On Bail

Free under $10,000 bond, Joseph Phillip Di Modica III, 24, awaited action by the Essex County Grand Jury on the charge that he held up the De Witt Savings and Loan Association here last week and fled with $3,842. He pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned before Magistrate Edward J. Abrahamson.

Di Modica, whose home is in North Arlington, was arrested by Belleville police on July 15, a few minutes after the robbery when they saw him driving along the River Road. The license plate numbers matched those provided by a 12-year-old boy who told them down when he saw the suspect enter his brightly polished new car and drive away.

Investigators charged that before he was arrested by police, Di Modica had driven to his North Arlington home and hidden the stolen money behind some books in a cellar bookcase. They said Di Modica later confessed the holdup, and showed them where he had concealed the loot.

Home R. Zink, chairman of the New Jersey State Parole Board, was asked to become the fifth member of the Belleville Charter Study Commission to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of John B. Gibbons, but has declined the appointment. It was learned last night.

A statement by Roy Hartley, chairman of the Charter Commission, said Zink had explained that since assuming the parole board chairmanship, he had "scrupulously avoided any political activity" and that although serving on a Charter Study Commission is as close to non-political service as possible, he felt that he must respectfully decline.

Zink did declare, however, that he was willing to consult with the Charter Study Commission to make available his extensive knowledge of various forms of municipal government, the Commission announced.

Hartley's statement was con-

Cupid's Ups And Downs Are Shown By Marriage Figures

Observers who keep track of love by watching the ebb and flow of statistics say that, in Belleville, Cupid has flown an erratic course through the years.

They point to figures in the office of Miss Jane Donnelly, registrar of the town's vital statistics, which indicate that although 295 marriage licenses were granted by that office in 1941, last year there were only 250 - less than at any time in the intervening 12 years except in 1944, when the figure fell to 244, and 1953, when love hit bottom with a low of 234.

But optimists are quick to note that, so far this year, the number of marriages issued by the town's registrar has risen slightly above 1953, with 165 issued as of July 22, while last year, at the end of July, the total was only 147.

Nevertheless, as the statistician coldly points out, the total number cannot hope to equal some of the more moderately high years. But mention the peak period in 1946, when 412 licenses were granted.

In 1943 there were 330; in '44, 383; in '47, 358; in '48, 311; in '49, 271; in '50, 288; in '51, 208; and in '52, 274.

Nevertheless, as the statistician coldly points out, the total number cannot hope to equal some of the more moderately high years. But mention the peak period in 1946, when 412 licenses were granted.

FOUNDATION GIVES $5,000 FOR PALSY CENTER BUILDING

The Belleville Foundation has granted $5,000 to the Cerebral Palsy Center Building Fund, and "will take under advisement the grant of an additional amount in November," Charles C. Garabrant, president of the United Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson, announced. The check was forwarded by Harry G. Stoeck, president of the Foundation.

Joseph Phillip Di Modica III

A 45 automatic pistol, which police said Di Modica used in the holdup was found concealed in an upstairs bedroom closet. The weapon was unloaded, but detectives found a clip of ammunition in the bedroom.

After his arraignment before Judge Abrahamson, Di Modica was taken to the county prosecutor's office. He was held in custody when bail was provided by the Citizens' Casualty Company of Newark.

While he was still in custody of police, Di Modica was questioned by Bloomfield and North Arlington detectives concerning robberies committed there.

Ordinarily light-tipped F. B. I. agents from the Newark office who worked on the case because De Witt funds are insured by federal agencies unofficially praised the police and the department's coordinated effort.

"Good job," they commented.

Public Safety Director yesterday sent communications to Riepe and McNish commending them for their part in the case.

"The citizens of our town join with me in extending our praise for the excellent Newark office who carried out your duties," he wrote. "It is an accomplishment which will be remembered by the citizens of a community to fully appreciate the many services being rendered by the members of the police and fire divisions of our department."

"I have noted this commendation on your official service records."

Bennett Presented With Gift From Crew

It may be a little warm to sport his new gift, what with the temperatures hovering in the neighborhood of the 90's, but crew coach Bill Bennett will get plenty of use out of a heavy sheepskin-lined winter jacket presented last week to the popular mentor by the Belleville High School varsity crew. Presenting Bennett with the gift were two blue and gold seniors, Ed Gray and Bob Taylor.

Bill was probably the happiest man in Belleville following the surprise and wanted it through this column how much he appreciated the thoughtfulness of his varsity crew. "I won't be able to wear that heavy jacket now," he said, "but it sure will come in mighty handy when pre-season practice starts on the frigid Passaic River come next March. The rowers know the early spring weather isn't too well. It isn't what you would call cool but is really row, especially when that wind whips through you when standing on the moving motor launch which is 'completely pen'."

The late presentation by the Belbovy varsity was caused by the fact that Bill was out of town for three weeks last month near the end of the school term. He had been serving as head rigger for Columbia University at the National Intercollegiate Championships at Syracuse, New York, during that stretch.

Murphy Rounds Up Top-Notch Diamond Team

Bill Murphy, manager of the newly created Belleville Reds, made up of diamond enthusiasts of high school age, has rounded up a powerful baseball aggregation. Since the team went into action a fortnight ago, the Reds have played four games and have come out on top in all four decisions, with the final scores indicating a heavy hitting team is representing the Department of Recreation. Besides adding up some impressive run totals, Murphy also has a good pitching staff.

The Reds faced a busy weekend playing three games. The week before Belleville won its opener as Vinnie Parillo tossed a one-hitter and defeated Lyndhurst by a shutout as his mates came through with 17 runs. Parillo won his second game of the season Saturday as he defeated the East Orange Tigers, 8-2, in a neat two-hit performance. In double header action the New York Federation Yanks, the Reds won by scores of 6-3 and 8-0. Harry Payton won the nightcap with a two-hit whitewashing.

Since the organization of the Red nine Murphy added the Belleville battery of John Bartell and Jim Apple to give the Belleville nine added depth in both pitching and catching departments.

The Reds will keep busy this weekend playing a pair of games. On Saturday Murphy's contingent will play host to the Newark Red Wings from the Ironbound section in a tilt at Municipal Stadium. According to Murphy the squad is made up mostly of East Side High School players and prospects to be the roughest tussle so far encountered. On Sunday the Reds will travel to New Brunswick for a game against Dotty's Sugar Bowl nine. Bob Mallack will probably fill in Saturday's game and Parillo on Sunday as Belleville seeks to extend its four-game winning streak.

Colonels Headed For Big House

Want to take a trip to Sing Sing Prison? There's no term contract involved. You can walk right in the front gate and later in the afternoon leave by the same exit without any bloodhounds taking up the trail. It's all part of an offer to baseball fans by the Nutley Colonels. The Colonels will play Sing Sing behind prison walls on Saturday, August 7. Originally scheduled for May, the first encounter of the Colonels and for a Colonel aggregation was re-slated for August 7 when rain postponed the tussle.

Manager Ernie Lantz told me this week that prison officials at Ossining, New York, will allow the visiting Colonels to bring along 100 followers for the afternoon game. There is only one catch though. The gates to the prison grounds will be opened just once. At that time the entire group will be allowed into the "Big House."

With such an arrangement Lantz is hopeful that enough fans will show interest in the trip to Sing Sing, which should prove quite an experience, so that a bus can be chartered for the occasion. In that way there won't be any stragglers arriving late. Those interested in witnessing the Nutley Colonels, Essex County League leaders, play behind prison walls at Sing Sing, can sign up for the round-trip at Savino's Sport Shop, in Franklin Avenue.

Lantz makes one guarantee. "Those who enter Sing Sing will be allowed to leave the walls behind with the full pardon of the warden following the baseball game."

Braves Make It 3 Wins in a Row To Hold Pal Lead

Still setting the pace, the Braves held on to their lead in the PAL Baseball League race by beating the Dodgers, 18-2, for their third straight win last night. The Dodgers fell apart in the second inning when the Braves scored 9 runs on 4 hits, 4 bases on balls and 3 errors. Mason, pitching for the Braves, allowed only one hit—a triple scored by Carocelli.

The Giants lost to the Phillies by an 8 to 6 score. The Phillies led until the fourth inning, when 3 singles and a walk pushed the Dodgers tied the game. Then Jim Apple hit his second home run of the year with two on base to give the Phillies a one-run margin. They scored two more in the last inning. Cubs lost out to the Cards, 8-3, with Paul Hannan permitting only three hits. Bases on balls, however, kept him in trouble. Lopez was high batted, getting three safe singles.

The Cards won their second game of the week, beating the Dodgers, 7-6, and scoring four runs in the opening inning. The Dodgers tied the game in the fifth, but the Cards scored three more runs in the seventh to take the game.

The Giants and the Cubs will play off a 2-2 tie at Municipal Stadium today at 6:15 p.m.

Local Nationals Win Little League Opener

Belleville's National League All-Star team won its opening game in the Essex County Little League championship tournament this week by defeating Nutley's All-Stars, 6-5, at Cameron Field in South Orange.

The town's American League All-Star nine was scheduled to play Livingston at the South Orange field last night. All competing teams in the country-wide tourney are keeping their eyes on the national championship games which will be played at Williamsport, Pa., later in the season.

Pitching for the local National League team 12-year-old Mike Morano allowed just three hits and although he walked 10 batters, he also struck out 14. Belleville scored all six of its runs in the first three innings, with Fred Riccio the batting star, hitting a double and two singles in three times at bat accounted for three runs, and John Gormley's single with the bases loaded in the second inning added two more.

Mike Viola, Nutley pitcher, settled down to shut out Belleville in the final inning, but was too late. Morano loaded the bases for Nutley in the fifth inning, but walked the first three batters. A fielder's choice and an error scored three runs against Belleville.

The National League will play again next Wednesday, this time against Irvington, and probably at South Orange. All four leagues are played on neutral fields.

CIVIC CONGRESS GROUPS CONSIDER CONSTITUTION

Member organizations of the Belleville Civic Congress are separately considering a proposed constitution setting forth the purposes and procedures of the central organization. It was announced yesterday.

Several questions must be resolved by each of the four groups which so far constitutes its members. One of the most important it was said, was a provision by which any one of the member organizations could prevent a unified stand on any civic question if that member's opinion differed from the majority.

Chairman of the committee which drew up the tentative is Arthur Bloemke, president of the Bellwood Park Home Owners' Association. Other organizations are the Belleville Young Men in Government, the Riviera Park Home Owners' Association, and the Belleville Citizens Association.

Mrs. Giovanni Libertell, wife of Giovanni Libertell, died at 221 North Belmont Avenue, died at home last Friday of a heart attack. She was 82.

Born in Italy, Mrs. Libertell came to Harrison about 52 years ago. She moved to Belleville 37 years ago.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Rose De Meo, with whom she lived and Mrs. Mary Catena of Newark; four sons, John, James, Patsy and Rocco Libertell, all of Belleville, and 10 grandchildren.

A solemn high requiem mass was offered Tuesday in St. Anthony's Church. The funeral was from Mrs. Zerro's, Funeral Home, Bloomfield, with burial in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.

Questions & Answers

If you had your choice, where would you spend your vacation?

Mrs. Harold Peterson, 260 New Street, secretary — "We just returned from our vacation last Monday, and if I had my choice, I would go to the same places all over again. We stayed with friends in New Hampshire, visited relatives in Cleveland, and are now staying at our summer home at Estling Lake, Danville."

Mrs. Mary Osterwald, 450 Franklin Avenue, secretary — "My favorite vacation place would be Montreal and the Canadian lake resorts."

Mrs. Mary Anderson, 24 Division Avenue, secretary — "Lake Louise in Canada, high up in the Rockies. Would I like to vacation in Europe? No, but I think that next to Lake Louise my second choice would be Mexico City."

Mrs. Helen Colehammer, 87 Rosemore Place, clerk — "As a matter of fact I am planning my vacation right now, and I am going to Nova Scotia. I have been there before, but it's so beautiful I want to see it again. There's one section of it that I haven't visited."

Mrs. Ada Donnelly, 242 Washington Avenue, telephone operator — "I've already spent a week of my vacation in Virginia. The next trip I make I would like to go to California."

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hannon, 300 Branch Brook Drive, clerk — "We went to Daytona Beach, Fla., on our vacation earlier in the year and hope to go to California this fall."

Mrs. Grace Cuzzo, 22 Celis Terrace — "I've done a lot of traveling and I think I would like Hawaii. I love a warm climate and the ocean."

Mrs. Marion Malcolm, 28 Wilson Place, secretary — "I would like to go to Rome so that I might see the Vatican."

Kurt Krueger, 360 Washington Avenue, businessman — "Florida would be my choice because the fishing is great down there, and although the climate is hot, it's not as hot as it is here because the air is drier. I've been to Mexico 20 times and have never tired of it."

GIRL SCOUTS PUT CONTRIBUTIONS TO PRACTICAL USE

This is the sixth in a series of articles concerning the services performed by various agencies supported by the Belleville Community Chest.

Practical and rewarding use of Belleville Community Chest funds is demonstrated by the activities of the Girl Scout organization, with its 11 troops and approximately 750 members. The 150 leaders, troop committees and officers, all of whom work on a volunteer basis, provide planned recreation and instruction which goes a long way towards development of character and citizenship.

The Girl Scouts, which began in Belleville in April, 1926, have been called the "most beneficial movement of our time." Since the adoption of a new charter in January, seven additional troops have been organized and plans are now in progress for the formation of a second Senior troop in the fall.

The 13 troops consist of 17 Brownie troops, aged 7 to 9; 13 Intermediate troops, aged 10 to 13 and one Senior troop of high school students. Directing the activities of the Scouts are a group of interested and competent women and the officers include Mrs. William J. Long, president; Mrs. L. Walter Finch, vice-president; Mrs. Max Schwartz, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Patterson, staff and officer; Miss Kathryn Conklin, camp; Mrs. Charles Cassidy, organization; Mr. Henry Minasian, training; Mrs. Paul Brennan, nominating chairman and Mrs. Eric Smardge, public relations.

The Girl Scout office, in the Belleville Women's Club, 51 Rossmore Place, has a well-stocked library of Scouting literature, available to all Scouts and leaders, with suggestions for projects, outings and instruction. A part-time secretary is employed at the office.

At the office, the only paid worker in the Council.

Besides their traditional cook-outs and trail-blazing, the Scouts perform many community services and provide Soho hospital and the Kessler Institute patients regularly with scrapbooks and novelties. The clever work done by Scouts was displayed at a recent fair, held in the Belleville Reformed church by Troops 1 and 9, which proved a great success.

Although the Girl Scout Council of Belleville does not yet have a camp, all their efforts are in the direction of establishing one. The Scouts are supported by the Community Chest, and their only other source of income is the annual cookie sale. Each contribution made in the Chest's coming campaign will bring the dream of a permanent camp closer to accomplishment.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor, Times-News:

To many people the operation of their community is something to set apart; something different. Actually, it is not. It is nothing more or less than a business organization which the people own and permit the management of by the individuals selected in a manner provided for in their charter.

The people of Belleville have voted to conduct a study to determine the best possible type of government available to them in meeting the existing needs of the changed world of today. Trends in government, as in industry, appliances, medicine and science have made marked strides of advancement which merit review. The outgrowth of such examination by a Charter Study Commission may afford we stock holders, the taxpayers, the opportunity to avail ourselves of the advantages inherent in the council-manager type of municipal government. I, as an individual, unqualifiedly recommend such type of government for the municipality of Belleville, since I feel it best suited to fit the needs of our particular community.

Council-Manager rule is an example of democratic life adapting itself well to the average size community, such as Belleville, whereby the merger of a government truly representative of the people and the sound business practices of "big business" is combined to produce maximum efficiency and economy with a minimum of "politics" and its objectionable, costly disadvantages.

Good government doesn't just happen as the result of this type of administration, but is enhanced because of the coordination of the elected officials, the appointed manager and the citizen groups working together.

The members of the council are elected by the free vote of the people. Prior to taking office each member of the Council has expounded his beliefs and principles, taken stands on questions of vital public interest, and then carries these ideals into effect. The Council, together with the mayor, who is chosen from among the elected councilmen and presides over the Council's meetings, lays down the broad general policies under which the community is to be run and authorizes and approves all expenditures of public money. It enacts local ordinances, and insures that state and federal legislation is followed out as it applies to the town.

The volunteer groups who serve, without compensation, or a large number of boards and committees supervise the operation of various particular sections and services of vital and essential work the local government. There are scores of public-spirited and civic-minded people who serve on these volunteer groups.

Citizen participation in the local government is encouraged also by citizen attendance at meetings of the Council where they may voice their opinions.

The town manager is engaged by the council on a basis of experience and efficiency. The manager serves at the pleasure of the council who may abrogate his contract in the same manner as the board of directors of a large corporation might remove an ineffectual and unsuccessful general manager in industry.

The successful career municipal manager is determined to compile a commendable record as an efficient administrator.

Jacob Schwartz

Jacob Schwartz, of 35 Howard Place, died at his home after an illness of six months. He was 72. A former resident of Brooklyn, he lived in Belleville for 51 years and was employed as a foreman for the Hasbun and Goodman Company for 57 years until his retirement a month ago.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lydia Kiefer Schwartz, four sons, Alfred, of Belleville, Jacob, of Kingston, N. Y., Louis, of Orlando, Fla., and Edward, of Newark; two daughters, Mrs. Frances Wilson and Mrs. Frederick Taylor, both of Belleville; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher and nine grandchildren.

Mr. Schwartz was a semi-professional baseball player at the turn of the century, highly rated for his catching ability. He played with the Ridgewood and Empire City teams.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the William V. Irvine & Son Funeral Home, 276 Washington Avenue. Rev. W. Elmer Lancaster, of the Second Presbyterian church in Newark officiated and burial was in the Glendale Cemetery, Bloomfield.

George Harris, Jr., along with parade chairman Carl Orechio and publicity chairman, William I. Galliano.
The line of march for the parade will be south on Franklin Avenue from High Street to Centre Street, east on Centre Street to Park Drive, north on Park Drive to Chestnut Street and west along Chestnut Street to Park Oval.
Zabrick will be parade marshal. A special reviewing stand will be erected in front of the High School. Heading the parade and riding in the first car will be the newly installed ruler of 1,725 lodges and 1,140,000 Elks in all 48 states, Alaska and Hawaii. Jernick will not arrive in Nutley until July 24 before parade time. He will be met on the outskirts of town by Harris.

In the second car will be Edward Griffith, president of the New Jersey State Elks Association, Judge James T. Hallahan, past Grand Exalted Ruler, who resides in New York City and several other dignitaries representing the grand lodge.
One of the highlights of the parade will be the presence of a 1913 auto which will follow Jernick at the head of the parade. It was in 1913 that the Nutley Lodge was granted its charter. In the 41-year-old auto will be Nutley's four founding members: Robert J. Hughes, Hugh H. H. Hughes and Ben Boyce.

Taking part in the parade will be St. Mary's Junior Drum and Bugle Corps and a Scout troop from Keary. Other members of Elks will represent Belleville, Lyndhurst, Newark, Bloomfield, Montclair and Verona. Expected to have the parade are Lyndhurst, Bound Brook and Newark lodges.

Marching in the parade will be groups representing the Optimists, Junior Ambulance Corps, Post 70, American Legion color guard, Reinheimer Boys Club, Police and Fire Departments along with other auxiliary units and Battery A 9th AAA Gun Battalion, which is camped in Father Grotzsch Park in Park Avenue.

The invocation will be given by Callahan, who is chaplain of the Nutley lodge. Elks Miss Irene Innamorato will sing the National Anthem. John Gorman, Exalted Ruler of the Nutley Lodge of Elks will give the welcome and address. Representing the town will be Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth. He will present Jernick as a "key" to the town of which he was mayor for two terms.

Following the parade, Jernick will be Joseph Bader, past president of the New Jersey State Elks Association and past Exalted Ruler of Lyndhurst Lodge. Others who will pay tribute to Jernick will be Griffith and Judge Hallahan.

Richard Nanes, of 57 High Street, trumpet soloist, will play an original composition, "A Blue Fantasy." This will be Nanes' last appearance. He will leave for Paris on September 1 where he will receive further musical study. Nanes will also play "The Carnival in Venice."

Also on the program will be an appearance of a barbershop quartet comprised of members of the Hudson Lodge.

Following the Park Oval program there will be an open house at the Elks Club.

"There is another Irishman in Belleville who has been particularly helpful in our campaign, and I want to make public mention of it," Chairman Strumolo said. "He is Town Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, and we are grateful to him."

"He and all the others who have contributed have helped toward saving the tragic waifs who, without parents, without money, without hope, had turned toward the blizzards of the market traffic, and even worse."

"This is the way to build faith in Democracy, y, and in God."

Garbrant said last night that ground for the building would probably be broken in September, and that he hoped the $400,000 project could be completed within a few months thereafter. About $200,000 has been raised so far. The one-story building will replace the present temporary school building. The new building is to be the center of the Summer Avenue School in Newark, where part of the 100 patients will be treated. When the new Center is completed, full-day care, five days a week, will be possible for more than 200 youngsters.

Harold Waldron, whose story is included in today's tale about stock car racing drivers, had a special reason for labeling his car "28, Jr." One of his children was born on Feb. 28, the other on Sept. 28; Waldron was born on Dec. 28, and his wife on March 28, which together makes 28; and his brother's child is named Edward Waldron, Jr., from whence derives the rest of the label.

were burning over a 100-yard stretch. One driver was killed instantly, and two others died later in hospitals.
Nicolette managed to walk away, but his car was destroyed. The track was cleaned up and the race continued. Nicolette, out of the running, had to be satisfied with finishing fourth in the national standings.
He has two vivid memories of 1952. That season he won a 3-foot-high trophy at Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City as "Driver of the Year." The same year he reached the national championship, 100-mile event at the Langhorne, Pa. track. On the 85th lap, with Nicolette in sixth place, cars driven by Frank Holtzhaus of Lakewood, and the late Wally Campbell of Trenton figured in an accident and Nicolette's racer turned over when he tried to avoid a crash. Campbell was killed recently while racing in Indiana.
Motorcycles were Nicolette's first love. He was 19 when he began touring the country, visiting almost every state in the Union. Then he flew a small airplane for about two years, but found it so expensive. Hunting has always been a favorite sport, and he has tracked down big game in Canada and Nova Scotia.
Five feet, six inches tall, he weighs 185 pounds, wears a small moustache, and speaks in a slightly soft voice. He was born in Belleville, and began to race stock cars in 1932.
His present car is built around a 1938 Ford chassis and a Mercury motor, "souped up" from 100 to 225 horsepower. For fuel he uses methanol, which is 100% pure synthetic alcohol. He burns a gallon every two miles. The crankshaft assembly is balanced to 6,000 r.p.m. It was 3,400 originally, the piston has been lengthened to 4 1/2 inches. The car has a full-race camshaft.
The Mercury motor is polished on the inside with pumice stone, and Nicolette has installed a race Weirwoods and Saturday he will not reveal. These two differences alone add 500 r.p.m. to his car, he says.
The radiator is taken from a small Ford truck. The auto needs no more cooling than that because the fuel burns out of the cylinder and the manifold.
The special radiator capable of 26 quick changes of gear from high to low rating simply by removing the plate at the back of the gear and making the gears in the gear ratio is necessary because on short tracks the low ratio is needed for quick acceleration and sliding turns on the circular tracks, while a higher ratio is necessary for the larger tracks and their longer straight-away stretches.
Circular steel hoops reach from the inside roof of the car to the frame to prevent the top from caving in should the car flip. The wheels are welded to the inside of the wheel rim, securing further to the axle ends. That provides a wider wheelbase and a better-balanced car.
The extra-size, specially-capped tires, are smooth for asphalt runs, and grooved for dirt tracks.
Nicolette's first race with his home-made car was at Rupert Stadium in Newark on the one-fifth mile asphalt track. He hit an other car that had spun around in front of him, and damaged his racer. Four months later he won his first race, a qualifying heat, then placed seventh in the main event.
More than 1,600 take part in the country-wide competition for the "national sportsman's class" champion is chosen. On a point percentage, Nicolette, whose

Peach season is upon us, and for a peach of a dessert try the following concoction.
Peach Melba
Make a raspberry sauce by adding to one cup raspberries, 6 tablespoons corn syrup and simmer until sauce thickens. Chill. Place one half peeled peach in dessert dish hollow side up. Fill center with vanilla ice cream and top with raspberry sauce.
For a different peach pie, use 1 cup sugar and 1/8 teaspoon salt. 1 cup sugar and 1/8 teaspoon salt. 2 tablespoons flour 2 eggs, beaten. Combine ingredients, pour into pie shell. Moisten edge of pastry with water, cover with top crust and press together. Cut holes in top for steam to escape. Bake at 425 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake 30 minutes longer.
For a lunch which the youngsters will enjoy and which is easy to fix, try peanut butter French toast. Combine 1/2 cup peanut butter with 1/2 cup milk. Add two slightly beaten eggs. Dip 10 slices bread in the mixture and place them on a well-greased cookie sheet to brown in a hot oven (450 degrees) for about 10 minutes. Turn toast and brown on other side. Serve with jelly, preserves or honey.

Licenses may be obtained by one of the partners to the proposed marriage if accompanied by a witness, but Miss Donnelly says that nearly always both partners come into her office for the license.
In New Jersey, Miss Donnelly explained in reviewing the law, licenses must be issued in the city of town in which the prospective bride resides—but if she is a non-resident of the state, the license is issued in the municipality where the man makes his home. If both partners are non-residents, the license can be obtained in the city where the proposed marriage is to be performed.
A license cannot be issued until at least three days after the application is made, and blood tests are required. The license lapses if the marriage is not performed within 30 days, and a new application must be made thereafter.
