All Around The Town

Town's most high-handed umpire is Greta Kinnely. Town Hall secretary, according to William Heal, Bill was captain of the men's team which played a Petrean Club softball game against a team of the Branch Brook Extension Park field the other day. Calling every other pitched ball wrong in favor of the women's team was too bad, because a certain amount of shilldugger can always be expected from umpires, male or female, he says. But when, at the end of the game, Miss Kinnely added up the score and calmly announced that the contest had finished in a 15-15 tie—when, Bill claims, the men had figured it as 17-7 in their favor—then it seemed too much.

The men appealed the decision. Final score, after careful consideration of the appeal by Miss Kinnely—15-15.

"I thought the women deserved at least a tie," she grins.

Maureen Sheehan, beautiful—but beautiful—daughter of Town Engineer and Mrs. Matthew Sheehan, reigned as "Hydrangea Queen" at the annual Hydrangea Festival in Atlantic City. She had been selected last July from a field of 250 of the prettiest girls in the state. A junior at Georgian College in Atlantic City, she is the school's No. 1 swimmer and horsewoman, and has swam of West Point caddis and other sundry award winning on air.

Late one night this week Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lannarone of 17 Tremont Place heard a scratching, whirring sound in the chimney of their home. They thought it might be a squirrel and notified police, who called Philip Newsum, Belleville game warden. Newsum arrived the next morning, and opening up the chimney fire draft, found a squirrel was still in the chimney. Some wadded it into the air, and it flew away.

Police Chief George Spatz warns merchants to be careful in accepting checks from people who are not known to them. A number of bad checks are being passed in surrounding communities.

WALLACE-TIERMAN FINED IN GOVT. ANTI-TRUST SUIT

Charges of criminal violations of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, filed by the federal government more than eight years ago, were climaxed in a Providence, R. I. U. S. District Court this week when Wallace & Tierman, Inc., and four other Belleville chlorination equipment manufacturing concerns it has since absorbed, were fined a total of $45,000. Another concern, the Belleville Iron Foundry of Providence, was also fined $5,000 on similar charges. The companies had originally pleaded not guilty, then finally decided not to contest the government action.

According to a news release from Providence, criminal proceedings are still pending against William J. Orchard, former general manager of Wallace & Tierman, and now a director, and Gerald D. Peet, identified as the company's chief engineer.

Federal Judge Edward W. Day dismissed criminal charges against four others associated with Wallace & Tierman. They were named in the news story as Martin F. Tierman, president of Wallace & Tierman Co., Inc.; Vincent Platin, manager of the sanitary sales department; Cornelius F. Schenck, director of sales engineering; and Harold S. Hutton, general sales manager.

A consent decree signed by the judge also ordered Wallace and Tierman, Inc., and the other three industrial Appliance Corporation, one of the firms now a part of Wallace & Tierman, Inc., to "terminate their activities in restraint of trade."

The decree names various forms of business practice which it enjoins the company from en-

Vaudeville Troupers Return To Entertain Veterans

Forty-five years after they launched their hill-billy vaudeville act on the Proctor circuit, and a quarter of a century after they left the professional stage, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Tice of 8 Division Avenue are appearing regularly once more in their "Zeke and Alvir" skit. But these days they are making their stage appearance as part of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hospital Entertainment Troop, which is sponsored by the Essex County Council of the V. F. W. and the Military Order of the Eagles. The troupe was organized by Tice in 1942 as a local troupe, but later over the sponsorship of the program. There are 28 entertainers, including dancers, singers, musicians, and comedians, and all are volunteers who work without pay.

John J. Papp, 19, of Newark, and Anthony Gaglio, 20, of New York City, were charged with violating of the gambling ordinance and fined $25 each when they were brought before Magistrate Edward J. Abramson. Police said that the two played a

Become A Radio Operator, And Hear The Whole World

How would you like to pick up a phone and talk at random to an Englishman in London, an Australian in Melbourne, the crew of a ship sailing most any sea—all on the same day, and all on your own phone "exchange"?

Well, you can if you are a short wave radio operator. In Belleville there are 28 such operators ranging in classification from "restricted radio phone operator" to fully licensed operators, and all are members of the Amateur Radio Club. Eighteen have their own short wave sets. Their sending and receiving range varies from 25 miles to the furthest reaches of the world, and they communicate both by radio phone and by messages tapped out on a key.

The radio enthusiasts are not only pursuing a hobby but are considered such an important part of the national communications system that the government is actively encouraging young men to learn short wave radio operation. It will grant a so-called "novice" license to an operator who can spell out as few as five words a minute, and Belleville club members say a workable station can be assembled for as little as $80, and the range would be 25 miles. A set owned by one of the members costs $3,000.

Vernon Sherman, president of the club, who heads the Sherman Industrial Electronics Company here, said the group had trained a group of high-school age young men as operators and that five had obtained licenses and were now members of the club.

Disaster Control Member

The club operates a short wave station which is part of the state Disaster Control organization. Called the Radio Control Center, it is located in the Recreation House. Members of the club hold regular drills over this station, with a two-man team sending signals from the center and all others answering the "roll call" over their sets at home as a communications test. The center station is provided with an emergency gas-driven power plant, in addition to its other power.

An emergency station has been set up in the basement of School No. 5, but only part of the equipment is in the basement.

The communications system is also used during simulated bomb raids, and various municipal agencies when an emergency is necessary or helpful. About one third of the club members have mobile short wave sets installed in their cars.

Sherman, who lives at 505 Washington Avenue, and who is Radio Officer for Belleville under the Civil Defense setup, has been an amateur operator for 31 years. His interest began when he and a group of boys built a crystal receiver around a discarded oatmeal box while he was still attending high school in Detroit.

He decided to make electronics his career, and in 1936 received his degree in electrical engineering from Wayne University. While working for the Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation during the war he directed the building of high frequency heaters used to calcine the uranium powder for atomic bombs.

Operator best-known operators in the United States is Edward B. Clegg of 20 Grove Street, who has been "working" his station for 21 years, and who began experimental work with short wave sets in his own laboratory back in 1920.

WFRAs are known in many parts of the world. Like many other wives of radio operators, Mrs. Clegg is also a radio operator.

Civic Group Opposes Present Gov't. Form

For the first time since the five-to-one vote for a Charter Study last May, a civic group last night publicly announced its opposition to the commission form of government and recommended its "diminution" from Belleville in a statement to the Charter Study Commission.

The announcement was made by the Belleville Citizens' Association through E. J. Ackerman, its public relations chairman, and Raymond O'Brien, president of the group. The group was organized for the purpose of opposing the present form of government.

The association did not suggest which form of government it favored, but in condemning the commission form declared that not only in Belleville, but in other surrounding communities it had condemned itself in actual operation by the very nature of its arrangement.

The Charter Study Commission is presently examining the various forms of government available under the Faulkner Act, and will bring in a report in which it will make its recommendations.

It can favor the present commission form, suggest retention of this form with some revisions, or support either the mayor-council or manager-council forms.

John J. Gibbons, a member of the five-man commission, recently resigned because he has moved to Short Hills, and no successor had yet been named Thursday night. Gibbons is continuing his association with the commission as an unpaid consultant.

The Citizens' Association statement declared the majority view in our group recognized that if we are to have a government that is more than a mere form, it must be a government that is more than a mere form.

7 LITTLE LADIES

ADD $7.07 TO POLIO FUND

Exactly $7.07 was added to Belleville's Polio Fund yesterday.

It was gathered by seven little ladies ranging in age from five to ten years who met at the home of 10-year-old Peggy Santiglia of 42 Park View Avenue to stage a variety show.

The audience was made up of children, and 15 cents for adults, and the neighbors came in droves to watch the entertainment. The girls, dressed in costumes they had made, sang, danced, and performed a variety of acts, and then gathered around a table to receive their money and march to the office of James J. Tully, Polio Fund chairman, to turn over the funds.

The children, Deborah Sosner, 7, of 77 Branch Brook Drive; Linda Teresi, 10, of 55 Branch Brook Drive; Linda Teresi, 10, of 55 Branch Brook Drive; Susan Feldman, 8, of 71 Branch Brook Drive; Susan Feldman, 8, of 71 Branch Brook Drive; and Peggy Santiglia, 10, of 42 Park View Avenue, were the seven little ladies.

Board Will Ask For School Bond Issue This Fall -- Kelly

The Belleville Board of Education plans to ask for referendum vote on a bond issue for its proposed school improvement program this fall, Eugene Kelly board president told the Belleville Times-News.

The news was not revealed in a formal announcement, but was disclosed by Kelly in response to a reporter's question.

The board president did not discuss the amount of the bond issue, but previous estimates have fixed it at approximately $4,000,000.

Members of the school board have discussed the bond question several weeks ago with the Town Commission because the issue would exceed the board's $2,000,000 borrowing limit, and the school officials conferred with the Commission concerning the availability of some of the town's financial credit, which is approximately $2,000,000.

The board's current indebtedness is approximately $597,000, $1,570,000 for the town.

It had been reported in some quarters that plans for a referendum would be discussed at this week's Board of Education meeting, but the question was not presented.

The school improvement program, which was first announced in an exclusive story in the Belleville Times-News several months ago, includes construction of a new $2,500,000 high school; renovation of the present high school building as a junior high school to help relieve overcrowding in the grade schools; addition of classrooms at School No. 5 and 7, and an all-purpose room at School No. 3. The blueprint may include other plans, but the question has not been made by the board.

Residents whose children attend School No. 2 in the Board district appeared at Tuesday's board meeting to emphasize to the board that any improvement program should include additions to the No. 2 school.

The school board Tuesday cancelled authorization voted in 1943 to build a new school facility, and issue to develop school-owned property adjoining the high school for playground purposes. The board then in effect never received insurance of the bonds. As a result, the present board's borrowing capacity is increased by that amount.

TURN DOWN SCHOOL TRANSPORTATION FOR CARMER AVE.

Question of transportation of school children from the Carmer Avenue area to the No. 5 School remained unresolved after the Board of Education advised the Town Commission this week that under the law provided no reason to provide such transportation.

The children in question are removed only a fraction more than a mile from the school, whereas the law stipulates that they must live a distance of two miles or more from such school facilities before the school board is obligated to provide transportation, according to the board's attorney, J. Schwartz, the board's attorney.

"The Board of Education is at all times accessible to work out solutions to such problems, if the same can be worked out," the board explained in its letter.

However, if the board is to provide transportation facilities for this group, under such circumstances, it would have no basis in law, and the payment of any such charges might be considered a questionable disbursement of school funds.

The communication stated board members would be pleased to meet with the commissioners at any time for a further discussion of the problem, and that the board would be glad to put through the resolution of the proposed program.

Cost of the work would run into thousands of dollars, but the board said it was available.

Hyde's plan calls for planting of trees, grass, and shrubs along the river bank, extending along the shoreline and filling the space between with dirt and gravel, and that the bank be washed into the river.

The Town Commission, on resolution introduced by Safety Director Harry J. Schwab, also sent a communication to the Essex County Board of Supervisors, requesting that the county build a firehouse on section of the County Isolation Hospital grounds. The communication stated that the fire station was needed not only for residents in the area, but for patients of the hospital.

James R. Golden, Town Commission candidate in the election, charged that the commission had created the conditions in failing to order a Civil Service examination for a certain number of positions.

The name filed by Thomas J. McLaughlin as a temporary appointment on Feb. 23 after the election had expired, was not on Jan. 29. Golden said the ordinance stipulated that the appointment was only for a month, and that the name had expired yesterday.

Mayor Padula commented that the ordinance was not a law, and that he would ask the Civil Service office concerning next steps.

five civic conscious, harmony minded leaders, experienced in governmental administration could be elected, there would be no need for changing the system. Such men would function creditably under any political plan.

Mrs. Daniel Kelly, 16 Belmont Street, housewife — "There is something about the nature of women that evokes more sentimental attention than is given to men, although fathers certainly should receive the same degree of attention."

Questions & Answers

Father's Day has never been so popular as Mother's Day. Why?

George Pifer, 270 Union Avenue, real estate and insurance salesman, says: "It is not surprising that men are not expected to get as much attention as women, and therefore don't get it, generally speaking. Actually, men like a lot of attention, even if they don't admit it."

Frank Deane, 40 Joralemon Street, businessman — "Women attract more sentimental attention because of the nature of their position in the home."

Mrs. Elsie Dunleavy, 12 Smith Street, clerk — "Probably because the children are so much closer to the mother, and that sentiment carries over throughout their lives."

R. W. Smith, 69 William Street, salesman — "The children are closer to the mother from birth. Also, when it comes to buying gifts, the mother is in a better position to do so because she controls the purse strings."

Joseph McHugh, 21 May Street, teacher, driver — "It's because the mothers deserve more credit than the fathers. All the father has to do is make a living for the family, but it's the mother that really keeps the family happy."

Mrs. Florence Sena, 425 Greylock Parkway, housewife — "There's a tradition about mothers that has never been quite equaled by a similar feeling about fathers."

G. R. Perry, 66 Washington Avenue, distribution manager — "It is a basic part of human nature that mothers are dearer to the hearts of men than fathers — and as a man I would say they deserve it."

Varied Recreation Schedule Is Listed

Directors, James Morse and Edward Berlinksi

A softball doubleheader between the senior Clearman Field boys' team and a team from the Recreation House served to focus the week's activities on the baseball diamond. The first game was a close one, with Clearman Field getting all seven of their runs in one inning, and the home team, a 7-6 win. Ed Noonan pitched the entire game for the winners, and Ed Tommy Joyce for the losers.

The second game was a different story, as spectacular hitting by the Clearman Field team put the game on ice early as they scored five runs in each of the first two innings. A key to this sudden change might be found in the director's offer of a free soda to every man on the team if they won. The final score as Clearman Field swept the doubleheader, making the director pay off on the sodas. One of the highlights of the game was a tremendous out by DiLippino for C. E. which sailed far over the fence, and a home run. Ed Noonan also pitched the entire second game for C.F., with Ed Blazer on third, Tom Corman on second, and Andy Suppa on first. Tony Amato in left field, Mike Iannelli in center field, Bruce LaMura at first, Fred Puleo at pitcher, and Ken Cabot at catcher. The game was a 1-17 win, with Blazer marking a game full of excitement.

Braves Zooming In PAL League With Fourth Win

The Braves won their fourth straight game in the Belleville PAL League against the Cubs, 6-3, and now favored to take the local League title.

In the North Jersey PAL League race, the Belleville Braves lost their contest with the Livingston PAL All-Stars in a 7-0 game this week at Municipal Stadium, and as a result the local All-Stars are now tied with Irvington and Kearny for the lead. Belleville Stars are scheduled to play Kearny at 10 o'clock Friday at Municipal Stadium.

In Belleville League games, the Dodgers beat the Giants, 3-1; the Cards took the Phillies, 13-1; and the Cubs lost a close fight with the Giants by a 4-2 score.

In beating the Cubs, Masino, pitching for the Braves, permitted only three hits. The game started out in a big way for the Cubs when Williams hit a home run after Korman's lead-off. But the Braves came back strong.

The Dodgers' contest was a tightly-played game, with Eustice permitting 4 hits, and Klein holding the Cubs to a 1-0 score. The Cards beat the Phillies with 9 hits, and the Giants balanced their wins and losses for the week by taking one from the Cubs after having lost to the Dodgers.

All's Well With Local Recs; Win Two More Games

Times sports N All's well. Everything's still all-hotsy-totsy with Belleville's Recreation nine. Over the weekend the locals beat Newark, 9-4, and took a second game from the Union County Malpais.

Lefty Bob Mallack won against Newark even though he caught a fast ball in the fifth inning which caused him to tighten up in his pitching delivery. Refusing to be taken out of the game, he worked five innings to loosen his muscles, and climaxed the day's performance by striking out three batters in the final inning. He allowed a total of four hits, compared to nine for Mallack.

In the scoring end, Bernie Suttake was high with a homer and two triples. Vinnie Parillo collected another homer, plus a double. The Malpais scored twice. The team is leading the Union County Babe Ruth League with 12 victories and two defeats so far this season. Then there was "Spanky" Thorstons, the star Malpais hurler. He pitched five innings, while running provided the margin by which Belleville scored a win.

Johnny Bartel started for the Malpais. He pitched five innings, while running provided the margin by which Belleville scored a win. He pitched five innings, while running provided the margin by which Belleville scored a win.

Children Stage Backyard Circus To Aid Cancer Fund

By Regina Smalidge

A delegation of youngsters marched into the office early Monday morning, and wanted to hand over an envelope containing $1.29 for the Cancer fund. We directed them to Mrs. Dunn, at Town Hall, but not before we got the tale of whence came the money.

Second they had staged a circus on Saturday afternoon, on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patti Shaw's home at 24 Hill Street, complete with striped tents, puppets, a fortune teller and ventriloquist. The children charged 15 cent for adults, 10 cent for medium-size children and 5 cent for the small ones.

Unofficial matrons of ceremonies was Charlene Patti Shaw, who was 12 on Monday, and she presented a magician act. Lemonade flowed and Wendy Fishman did quite a business at her fortune telling tent, at 2 cent a future.

Other youngsters who participated in the show were Carol Horowitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Horowitz, of 181 Liberty Avenue; Patty DeCapua, of 352 Franklin Avenue; and Angela and Joseph Vana, of 27 Groff Street.

Note: Mrs. Dunn informs us the money arrived and Commissioner Hyde expresses his thanks to the children for their efforts.

BELLEVILLE POLIO PATIENTS RECEIVE CLINIC TREATMENT

This is the seventh in a series of articles concerning the services performed by various agencies, supported by the Belleville Community Chest.

Because Belleville polio victims have been among the hundreds of New Jersey residents receiving the Kenny treatment at the Sister Kenny Institute in Jersey City Medical Center, the community has first-hand information concerning the work of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation.

Belleville is aware of the important part that the Kenny Foundation is playing in the constant battle against polio and has given it support through the Belleville Community Chest and Council, of which it is one of the member agencies.

Patients then in the Kenny Institute in Jersey City will never forget the personal interest that Sister Kenny gave them during her visits to the hospital in which she took great pride.

They never tired of hearing the story of how Sister Kenny, nearly a half century ago, successfully treated her first case of polio, while a young nurse in the Australian bush country.

The patient was a two-year-old girl and in terrible agony. Getting a doctor's diagnosis by telephone and learning there was to be no treatment, the undaunted nurse acted fast. She knew the child would be permanently crippled unless she could check contraction of the muscles.

A bag of hot sand did no good. Linseed oil poultices only made the pain worse. Practically, she tore a soft woolen blanket into strips, soaked them in boiling water, wrapped them gently about the swollen muscles.

The child stopped crying, soon was fast asleep. Sister Kenny continued the hot packs, reduced the muscle tightness. Then she manipulated and retrained the muscles until they regained a large measure of their usefulness. And so began the Kenny treatment, that has restored to normal health, thousands crippled by polio.

Belleville patients, treated in the Kenny Institute in Jersey City, know the story well. They have told it and retold it to their friends.

Through the Community Chest and Council, Belleville continues each year to support the Sister Kenny Foundation, keenly aware of what the Foundation is constantly accomplishing on the polio battlefield.

Belleville Recipes

A thick, juicy steak, charcoal-broiled to sizzling perfection, has become almost as much of an American tradition as baseball and Texas. Topped with a new garlic-butter sauce, accompanied by hot rolls, chilled fresh tomatoes and slices of onions and cucumber, it provides an easy-to-prepare meal of the highest nutritional standard.

Garlic-Butter Steak Sauce
2 large garlic cloves, crushed
1/4 lb. butter
few drops Tabasco
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce

Combine all ingredients; whip until creamy. Spread lightly on hot steak after broiling. This sauce keeps well and may be used for preparing garlic bread.

Now, after a barbecue supper featuring this treat, when guests are comfortably seated in chairs around the garden, pass hot coffee and melt-on-the-tongue coffee buns.

Coffee Butter Buns

1/2 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon instant coffee
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1 cup butter or margarine
Mix and sift cornstarch, confectioners' sugar, instant coffee and flour, have butter or margarine at room temperature. Blend butter into dry ingredients with a spoon until a soft dough is formed. Chill about 1 hour. Shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Place on ungreased cookie sheet about 1 1/2 inches apart. Flatten cookies with lightly floured fork. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees F., 20 to 25 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen cookies.

NEW CLUBHOUSE FOR GOLF COURSE

Construction of a new $125,000 clubhouse and parking lot on the Hendricks Field public golf course in nearby Belleville was authorized by the Essex County Board of Freeholders to replace the present cluster of old buildings.

The request had been made through the County Park Commission by Elwood P. Russell, Belleville Freeholder.

The 18-hole public course is a popular favorite for "Nutley" golfers.

Robert Kinsey, Park Commission secretary, said the project would be undertaken "immediately," and that the first step would be the drawing of plans and specifications.

He said that it would probably take two or three months before completion of the blueprints, and that present plans call for actual construction directly thereafter.

Mrs. George Parkinson

Mrs. Elizabeth Van Houten, 45 Charles street, died yesterday at her home after a long illness. Mrs. Parkinson, who was 60, was born in Paterson. She was the wife of George Parkinson.

Mrs. Parkinson was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America and the Rosary Society of St. Peter's Church, Belleville.

Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, James and Thomas, at home; her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Van Houten, and a brother, Edward Van Houten, both of Paterson, and four sisters, Mrs. Camilla Bowman of Wilmington Del., and Mrs. Kathleen Tierney, Shirley and Mollie, all of Paterson.

The funeral was held Tuesday from her home, and a solemn high mass of requiem was offered in St. Peter's Church. Burial was in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery, Paterson.

The present Hendricks Field clubhouse facilities consist of a group of run-down frame structures originally built as temporary locker and shower buildings.
