The church began as a mission when four or five members of the community gathered in a private home in September of 1914 and asked Rev. Pascale to become their minister. He said he would if they would agree to build a church.

Four years previously a chapel owned by the First Baptist Church of Bloomfield had burned to the ground, and the Bloomfield church members agreed to turn over $4,000 to the new group so that it might construct a new church. On November 23, not quite two months after the little mission group had held their meeting, the new chapel had been built and dedicated at a cost of $15,000.

The Rev. Pascale spent three days a week in church work, but was not until two years later that he was graduated from the Seminary and was ordained in the church over which he already presided.

When he was married, the church built a parsonage, and he said he decided that it should be a home, or an open house.

He said he decided that it should be all three, the minister says, and the parsonage has become a social center for the whole Silver Lake community as well as for members of the congregation.

Despite the ambitious expansion program launched by its membership, the church was the first Italian Baptist church in the North Jersey area. It was the first Italian Baptist church in the North Jersey area.

The church was able to accomplish what it did only because members of the congregation worked so unselfishly toward that end, the minister said.

When, in 1930, the church built the "Friendly House," a recreation house whose facilities have been shared by more than 50 groups throughout Belleville—124 members of the church joined in helping to build it with their own hands. The old Catholic church of New York was torn down, church members drove to New York with trucks to salvage some of the materials for use in constructing the Belleville Church. It was estimated that members spent more than $20,000 in working on the building.

A year earlier Rev. Pascale was talking to members of his congregation when the owner of an adjoining lot interrupted a baptism being played by boys who had invaded the property. After the excitement had died down one of the church members said that it would be fine if the children could have a playground of their own. With a few moments a dozen men had volunteered to contribute $320 toward the purchase of the lot as a playground, and the church members said they would raise the balance.

Before that, the church had found money to build a choir loft, a balcony, and a new entrance to the building. And in 1933 and '34 it had established a free dental clinic which cared for more than 600 children.

The church was first named the First Italian Baptist Church, but changed its title when persons of other racial extractions became members. Its congregation includes members from Scotch, Irish, English, and East Orange.

Rev. Pascale was chosen in 1942 as Belleville's outstanding citizen of the year "for making the largest contribution to public education."

So far as his congregation is concerned, the minister is one of the outstanding citizens of any year.

the ships traveling the river. The bridge is a "single jack-knife" type—that is, only the deck section lifts up for river traffic.

The ships signal their approach when they are about 1,000 feet from the span, and Schreckenstein times the bridge lift by the speed of the boat and the flow of the river. He first leaves his hand and swings that by hand the pond-erous gate that blocks off street traffic. At the same time, at the east end of the bridge, a gate attendant sets up a blockade there.

Schreckenstein then returns to the hut, and turns the crank-like electric power switch that raises the bridge.

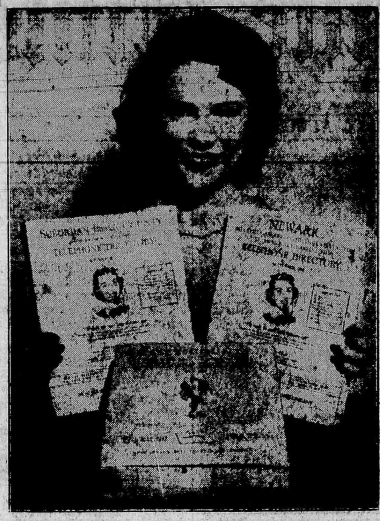

Sometimes—but not very often—Schreckenstein says, a rare motorist honks his horn to protest that passage of the ship should be held up so that he can cross the bridge first.

Others have accidentally rammed into the gate, but it is so heavy that it would give only under a heavy battering.

Ten operators and gate attendants work in shifts around the clock. Schreckenstein bears the title of chief operator.

When he first began his job, the river traffic totaled about 100 ships a month. Their cargo consisted largely of coal, lumber, and sand. When cargo shipments expanded, particularly fuel oil loads, the bridge lifts increased to approximately 600 every 30 days. The average is now about 250 per month.

The deck of the 110-foot span was originally built of wood blocks, and after heavy rains the wood sometimes buckled up into unsightly mounds, and Schreckenstein had to straighten them up with a mallet. Then, about 25 years ago, this flooring was replaced by 12x12 timbers on top of which was placed asphalt plank. The first steel floor was installed in 1944, and last January this floor was serrated or nicked by a spechange was recently added to Belleville listing to care for future installations.

DIRECTORY—Miss Mary A. Schwoerer, New Jersey Bell Telephone directory clerk, shows the new look in Essex phone directories. The All-Excess book, shown in the foreground, is giving way to two separate books—one for Newark, Belleville, and other communities in the metropolitan area, and the other for many communities which had been previously been included in the single book.

Sample said plans for the two separate directories were decided upon last year, when the single directory totaled 1,360 pages.

"With continuing growth in the area, it was inevitable if the directory was to remain a source of ready reference," he said.

The Newark book will have 112 pages, the suburban book 72, both including the "Yellow Pages."

"The alphabetical system has been in use for many years in various areas of the state including Bergen and Passaic Counties. Results in these areas had been so good that the Newark directory staff decided to try the same system in a general area."

"Exchange and municipal boundaries have become obscure in several instances, making it difficult for the customer to determine which heading should be consulted for a desired telephone number."

Maplewood-South Orange, Millburn-Hills and Kew-Fairview are examples of directory confusion.

Kostakis' most memorable experience during his recent was the year that two men walked up to the wagon and asked for two frankfurters each. When they finished those, they ordered another four. In the next 20 minutes he declares, they had each eaten 25 hot dogs without so much as a bottle of soda pop to smooth the way. The frankfurters, cost five cents each, and the customers had not yet offered any money.

"I began to worry if they would pay me, but I wondered whether or people who could eat so much so fast could really be responsible people," Mr. Kostakis recalls. "But when they finished the 50 hot dogs, each man handed me $1.25. I was very relieved. That's the best of money in those days."

He paused for a moment, and a puzzled look clouded his face. "I can understand how one of the men ate the first one, but I don't think I still don't know how the skinny one—oh, but he was skinny—I was able to do it," he reflected.

Peter put his arm around the old man's shoulder. "Maybe it was because your frankfurters were so good, papa," he smiled affectionately. The father smiled back, saying nothing.

After Kostakis had given up his horse and wagon, he built his present stand, and put it with wheels so that he could move it in the driveway of a nearby residence after working hours.

First he installed a gasoline stove to cook his frankfurters, but once the cat caught on, fire was ruled out. With a charcoal heater. His customers at once told him that his hot dogs tasted better. He had not had time to cover the virtues of slow heat in cooking.

He is proud of his three sons. Peter plans to become an electrician after his Army service. Another son, George, was recently graduated from the University of California, and will be employed as an industrial arts teacher. The third son, Angelo, is serving in the U. S. Air Force in Oklahoma.

Kostakis' first wife died in 1941, and he re-married last year. "It is not bad—retirement," he said. "Now we will be together more often, my wife and I."

reitor, Kenneth D. Smith announced that the Potomac River, which is the source of Belleville's water supply, was now only 75 per cent of capacity, and that it may soon be necessary to impose strict regulations concerning the use of water here.

Such curtailment would be ordered by the city of Newark, which controls the water supply. Though 1,075 inches of rain fell during the week, it did not appreciably relieve shortages, Commissioner Smith said.

The 55-acre farm on Joramone Street is now harvesting stalks and radishes for its summer crop, with celery already planted for the fall market.

The biggest single crop is lettuce which enters the markets in thousands of heads each season. They are harvested earlier in the summer. Other crops during the year include cauliflower, cabbage, parsley, onions, endives, spinach, leeks, and many others.

Produce is raised in trucks to chain stores, open markets, and commission merchants, with shipments reaching as far as Boston.

Three sons and a daughter of the late August Plenge—August, Jr., Charles, John, and Miss William Plenge—operate the Belleville farm. Three other brothers—Harry, William, and Robert manage the second 200-acre Plenge farm at Asbury, N. J.  Under security regulations, details of the devices could not be revealed. The equipment, according to the announcement, works by "certain combinations of reaction, deformation, and inertia systems which trigger the system electrically at the moment of impact."

A fraction of a second after the crash company engineers said the engine nacelles with a solution which both fuels and inserts them with fog, hours the induction system with carbon dioxide; shuts off gas oil, and hydraulic systems; actuates all normal fire extinguishing systems, and turns off all electrical systems. Within two seconds from the crash impact, the equipment has done its work.

For a four-engine DC-7, the equipment would weigh about 500 pounds, which would be carried around a Wright turbo-compound engine near which is a test sheet filled with rows of gauges that tell the technical story as the experiments proceed. Up in the Carner Avenue section a resident complained that neighbors were blocking the sidewalk with chairs on which they were spending the time of the day. In fact, he said, the blockade was so solid that he can't even drive his baby carriage through. Police are making diplomatic inquiries.

Thieves stole two fire extinguishers and a battery from Sea Scout Ship No. 303, which is an auxiliary of the Passaic River near the Walter Kidd & Company plant. Meanwhile—on dry land this time—other thieves were asking a radio aerial and the "skins" from the rear fenders of a car owned by James Laylor of 122 Washington Avenue. The auto was parked directly across the street. And Mrs. Robert Green reported that some outdoor furnishing was stolen from her back yard.

Happy Reunion For Russell Twins Stationed In Germany

By Regina Smaridge

Mr. and Mrs. Blwood P. Russell, of 253 Greylock Parkway, were very happy this week. Their twin boys, John and William, both lieutenants, in the Army, had been reunited in Germany after being separated since February. They had always traveled around together and graduated from the University of Connecticut, but when they joined the Army, John was sent to Fort Lee, Va., to the Army's School, and Bill to Budingen, Germany.

Then last week John got off the boat, made a fast telephone call, and visited his twin brother in the hospital where Bill was suffering a mild bout of tonsillitis. John is stationed in Muenster, only a few hours' drive from Budingen, so the boys are back together again.

John Reilly, of 71 Ligban Street, and his nephew Jack Melville, have been travelling through the Allegheny Mountains for their vacation. They stopped off to visit Mrs. Robert Keim, of St. Mary's, Pa., who is the former Ida Radin, of Belleville, and then made a trip to Niagara Falls.

More than 20 employees from the Peoples National Bank enjoyed the annual outing at the Fox Hill Field Club in Bloomfield recently. Golf, swimming and just loafing in the sun was the order of the day, and things wound up with a tasty buffet supper in the clubhouse.

Miss Betty Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong, of 206 New Street, is vacationing for two weeks in the best spot in the country, Cape Cod. She is taking in the sun at Dennis Port and Betty's sister, Mrs. Barbara W. Allen and her husband Burton are spending two weeks at Lake George. They live at 41 Harex Street, Nutley.

The Misses Annabelle and Sally Cullen, of 27 Linden Avenue, drove up to Maine for two weeks at Goose Bay Harbor, and arrived home last Friday. They tell us it rained all the while they were there.

The Edward F. Fords, of 133 Bremont Street, took off for the month of July to Beach Haven, on Long Beach Island.

A two-week tour through Canada was made by Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Gross, of 64 Franklin Street, and in the car, since the more merrier, were Mrs. Louis Carbone, of 22 Housie Street, Gerald Coppola, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Coppola, of 48 Housie Street, and Mrs. Vincent Rattone, of 100 Franklin Street. They visited Quebec and Montreal, the shores of Notre Dame and St. John's, and came back through New England.

Joseph Gross, of 64 Franklin Street, a teacher at the James G. Shawer school, and Miss Ina Tosato, a teacher at No. 9 school, are spending the summer with a group of their friends, camping in the Watchung Mountains, New York. They'll return late July.

John K. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Hall, of 133 Bremont Street, is a teacher at the James G. Shawer school, and Miss Ina Tosato, a teacher at No. 9 school, are spending the summer with a group of their friends, camping in the Watchung Mountains, New York. They'll return late July.

On Wednesday, Lydia Marie Gorski, of 22 Rutgers Street, wife of Joseph F. and mother of Roy F. and Norman J. Gorski, died at her home. Funeral services will be held at the William V. Irvine & Son Home, 276 Washington Avenue, on Saturday afternoon at 1:30. Burial will be in East Ridgewood Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawcliffe

The Charles Rawcliffes Mark 65 Years Of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawcliffe, of 113 William Street, now residing at the Mountain View Nursing Home in Monsey, N. Y., celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary yesterday. They were married in 1889 at the House of Prayer in Newark.

Mrs. Rawcliffe is the former Belle Van Winkle, Nutley, and both she and her husband were born in Nutley in 1866. They are 88 years old and lived in Belleville for most of their married life.

Mr. Rawcliffe is retired from the painting and decorating business, which his son George now continues. They had six children. Three are living. They are George, of Belleville; John Henry, of Verona; and Mrs. Ruby Delhagen, of Drexel Hill, Pa. They also have seven grand children and three great grandchildren.

Belleville Recipes

The flavor of summer apples is perfect for applesauce. Wash, quarter and core apples. Add just enough water to prevent scorching; cook over low heat 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Put through a food mill or sieve. Add sugar to taste; heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to the boiling point.

Pack boiling hot applesauce in hot sterilized jars, leaving 1/2 inch head space. Fasten lids; process 5 minutes in a hot-water bath. Be sure to keep water at least 1 inch above tops of jars. Cover kettle; bring to a boil. Keep water boiling constantly. When processing time is up, remove jars to a cooling rack out of drafts. Complete seal immediately. Self-sealing jars do not need tightening. When jars are cool, wipe off the outside and label.

Applesauce may be spiced to taste before canning, but many cooks feel that the flavor is improved if the applesauce is canned without spices, and these seasonings added when the jar is opened for serving.

Speaking of applesauce, a recipe from down south for apple sauce meringue comes to mind. Combine 2 lbs. ground beef with 1 cup each of dry bread crumbs and applesauce. Add 1/2 cup oil to the mixture and season lightly with salt and pepper. Add 1/2 teaspoon sage, shape into a loaf or pack into a loaf pan; then bake at 350 degrees F. for 1 hour and 45 minutes.

Mrs. Clifford White In New Post With Red Cross

Appointment of Mrs. Clifford White, of 105 Belleville Avenue, as Staff Aides chairman of the Belleville chapter, American Red Cross, was announced this week by Dr. Frank M. Durkee, chapter chairman.

One of the most active volunteers in the chapter, Mrs. White has served on many of the Red Cross committees, and her service groups, and being on her new position an excellent background of experience in Red Cross work.

She has lined up two projects for completion during the next month. The first will be devoted to furnishing the "day-room" for the new 9th outfit at the Anti-Aircraft Artillery installation located at Branch Brook Park. Captain Spitzberg has set up a permanent camp here and the soldiers are in need of all types of furniture - chairs, sofas, bookcases, lamps and even a piano.

Since this room is used by the servicemen to entertain their families and friends, anyone who has articles of furniture is urged to call Plymouth 9-4510, Red Cross headquarters, and the soldiers will send it to its new home. This is an opportunity for the people of Belleville to demonstrate their interest in the comfort and welfare of the men in uniform.

The second project which Mrs. White will work on is the recruitment of at least eight volunteer typists and office workers, from among local residents. Any woman who can devote three or four hours a week, morning or afternoon, at Red Cross office, 283 Washington Avenue, is requested to drop in and talk with either Mrs. White or Miss Eleanor MacLaughlin, executive director. The duties involve straight typing, letters, reports, records, personnel files and general office work.

RICHARD MURRAY RETURNS FROM IRISH REUNION

Richard Murray, of 10 Willow Place, returned July 27, from a two week visit to Belfast, Ireland, where he attended the 60th anniversary of the founding of the Salvation Army Band, Skankill Corps, in Belfast.

Sgt. Major Murray, a charter member of the Corps, was greeted after his first plane trip, by the band and soldiers of the group, including some people who he had not seen since his last visit to Belfast 41 years ago.

In his two-week stay in the land of his birth, Mr. Murray caught up on a great deal of past family history, through conversation with friends and relatives, and through the original Belfast Salvation Army Band, and family groups.

Just before his departure for home a surprise banquet was given in his honor by the Army Corps.

In his tour of the places of his childhood in Northern Ireland, the Nutley man reports great changes. The city of Belfast, bombed unmercifully during World War II, being built up in modern style, but the surrounding area still shows the wartime damage. Mr. Murray, who has lived in Nutley for 25 years, after moving here from Kearny, found that many changes have been made since he came to this country.

Having caught up on developments in his old homeland, Mr. Murray is counting the days until he can return.

Essex County's Many Parks Are $1,320,000 Business

Essex County's park system, all 3,864 acres of it, is "big business" - $1,320,000 worth.

The County Park Commission in its annual report, published yesterday, disclosed that upkeep of the county parks, including their policing, cost more than a million dollars last year. The county spent $25,586 on the administration of Yantacaw Park, here, chiefly for policing and landscaping care.

The Park Commission, however, kept a very careful record and is convinced that the parks paid big dividends in safe play and public enjoyment. Its report shows, for example, that in Yantacaw Park 31,000 used the playgrounds last year, in addition to 300 coasters and 22 skiers, 685 softball players, 345 picnickers on ten picnics, 700 horseshoe pitchers, 8,075 football players in 80 organized games and many practice sessions and 9,015 players and spectators at 217 baseball games.

Throughout the county, the Commission reports, more people used the parks last year than in any previous year. It reported a 100 per cent increase in playground participation and recorded that 289,886 people looked at the cherry blossoms during the Spring display. The trails in the parks and reservations attracted 60,674 horseback riders, and even though Essex County is far from the playing fields of Eton, 8,594 Latin participants to there were ten cricket games.

Golf at Hendricks Field, in Franklin Avenue, attracted 71,100 players to its 18-hole course, 51,881. To escape city streets, 125,086 cyclists used paths in the parks. There were also some diversified sports as Gaelic football, hurling, archery, lawn bowling and bocce, which attracted 8,594 Latin participants to there were ten cricket games.

Our Roving Reporter:

Stoddard Sees Empire Lifeline Snipped At Suez

Our Roving Reporter Believes "Solution" In Egypt May Only Breed More Disputes

By Howard W. Stoddard

Special To The Belleville Times

PORT SAID, Egypt Aug. 1. (By Air Mail)—Since several days, after passing Aden, I have sailed up the Gulf of Aden and through the Suez Canal on the first American vessel, the "Eastern Prince," to use this vital shortcut since the governments of Egypt and Great Britain agreed on the text of a pact ending three-quarters of a century of British control of the canal.

There was nothing to show any difference. Along the right of way of this forerunner of the Panama Canal there was nothing to see but sand. But in the sand hills were camped some 80,000 British troops, comprising the canal guard, who will not be there a few months hence when this accord is carried out.

For the next three-quarters of a century Suez and Egypt have been a military, political and psychological cornerstone of the British Empire tradition. Kipling, the spokesman of this tradition, and many others of his time, voiced in song and story the meaning of Suez to Victoria's empire upon which the sun never set.

The impending British evacuation of the Suez bases has, therefore, not only great strategic significance but also political and psychological importance. It heralds the end of a vanishing era.

but it would be a profound mistake to assume that the lowering of the Union Jack at Suez represents a net gain for the West. Superficial relations between Britain and Egypt, which have been at times exceedingly strained, and between Egypt and the United States, will improve.

But the basic strategic fact about the impending withdrawal of British power is that it will create another vacuum of power in an area, the Middle East, already distinguished for its lack of power.

The defense of the Middle East has been predicated in the past upon a strong Turkey and a strong Pakistan on the flanks and the availability of a large Egyptian air-sea-land base and depot covering the Suez Canal and backing up all forward bases in the area, such as the British facilities in Iraq. The central position, with the best base facilities of the whole area, and airfields and depots that will be hard to duplicate, is now to be abandoned.

It is, of course, true that not all of the 80,000 British troops that have been stationed at Suez will be returned to Britain. Some will be transferred to Libya, where the British still maintain bases; some will go to Cyprus, which is to be the headquarters of the British Middle East land force.

This proposed redeployment is a doubtful substitute, indeed, for what had been a cornerstone of the whole British power position in the Middle East. The atomic bomb and long-range bombers, as well as jet-propelled aircraft, had, indeed, reduced the usefulness of the Suez Canal in wartime and had emphasized dispersion of supply and base facilities rather than concentration.

Nevertheless, Suez is the geographic hub, the land link between Africa and the Middle East, the sea link between the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean, a psychological and political cornerstone, a "kingpin of strategy."

The British bases in Libya are usefully particularly to North Africa and to Mediterranean operations, but of little direct influence in the Middle East. And Cyprus is an island, an ironic headquarters for British land forces in the Middle East, all the more so since the Greeks are already pressing in the United Nations and elsewhere for complete autonomy for Cyprus, a development which would certainly be viewed with disfavor by Turkey.

And finally, the withdrawal of British power from Suez cannot be compensated for by the Egyptians, whose 50,000-man army is in no sense strong enough qualitatively or quantitatively, to fill the vacuum of power left by Britain's withdrawal.

All this is clearly recognized by a projected provision in the British-Egyptian agreement which would permit the return of British troops to the canal zone area in case of war, clearly dangerous military extemporization and a poor substitute for a permanent base.

It is clear, therefore, that the impending withdrawal is an undesirable military expedient, undertaken partly because of the decline of British power, partly because of our own equivocal policies in the area, partly in the hopes of political and psychological gains in the Arab world. The last name is likely to be an evanescent hope; retreat, particularly under pressure, is not heeded respect from Arab or any one else, but mere pressure.

The "solution" in Egypt may indeed breed more disputes than it solves. With Egyptians in sole control at Suez, undeterred by

West Thus Surrenders Continuous Control Of Canal It Held Since French Dug It

The moderating presence of British troops the Israeli-Arab friction, already at fever point, may even burst the bounds of the past.

Now, thin red line of Empire may have outlived its day but it will not be replaced in Suez without a long period of Middle Eastern instability and convulsions.

I was told that ours was one of the first ships to get the benefit of an 8 per cent cut in Canal tolls which became effective today. The lowered rates are expected to save canal users more than $6,000,000 a year.

It is the twenty-seventh time that tolls have been lowered on the waterway and brings them to the lowest level since the canal was opened eighty-six years ago.

Rates were increased twice as a result of the two World Wars that caused a dearth of commercial shipping and heavy war damages to the privately owned canal.

The new rate for loaded ships is 97 cents a net ton, against the former $1.05 a ton. Empty or ballasted vessels will now pay 44 cents a ton, or 4 cents less than the previous toll.

About thirty-five ships a day use the shortcut between the East and West, most of them tankers. A total of 90,399,000 tons of cargo was hauled through Suez in 1953, triple the amount recorded before World War II.

From Port Said we are hurrying inland to Cairo and from there I hope to visit the Valley of the Kings and perhaps get a peep into the tombs at Sakkarah where the veil of centuries is being lifted to reveal the mysteries of the Pharaohs.

Then we head west, up the Mediterranean past the rock of Gibraltar, one of the last symbols of British strength on the red lifeline empire, and after a call at Halifax, we will have completed our circle of the globe by coming home to Nutley about August 27.

It's Truly A Small World, Sun Roving Reporter Finds

While Touring France Edward Gray Met Miss Gan von Hirsch, Former N.H.S. Student

Starting out on his tour of Europe as a Nutley Sun roving reporter, Edward W. T. Gray III learned early the adage: "It's a small world after all."

On an excursion by bus to Fontainebleau, the setting of the palace where Napoleon bid a tear-eyed farewell to his troops before banishment to St. Helena, Gray made his discovery when the bus was over-run by a bevy of girls in light blue dresses.

"There in the forest of Fontainebleau I met up with Miss Gain von Hirsch, who went to Nutley High School and who is now, over here with students of Centenary Junior College, in Hackettstown, N. J.," Gray wrote to The Sun.

"Gain was with a Centenary singing group which had gone to Fontainebleau to sing for the troops who are stationed there at the headquarters of NATO."

Gray, who is a junior at Princeton where he is majoring in political economy, is leaving Paris this week for London on his way to a summer job on an English fruit farm at Tippec, in Essex, about 40 miles from London. He will work on the farm for three weeks and will then spend the rest of the summer on a bicycle tour of England and Ireland. He plans to spend some time in the Shakespeare country, around Avon, and will then roam the English countryside.

Gray is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. T. Gray, Jr., of 509 Prospect Street.

TOWN TO GIVE $500 DONATION TO ST. MARY'S

A. T. De Muro Objects To Hospital Contribution Unless Emergency Cases Are Accepted

Over the objection of Commissioner A. Theodore De Muro, a $500 donation taken from funds allocated to the Town Commission to the Department of Public Affairs, is to be given to St. Mary's Hospital, in Passaic for "assistance in maintaining the hospital."

Commissioner Edgar W. Wright, director of public affairs, introduced the resolution giving $500 to St. Mary's and $500 to Columbus Hospital, in Newark, thus making a total of $1,000. The contribution was made under the Walsh Act. The resolution was passed, 4 to 0 with De Muro not voting.

St. Mary's Hospital has refused to accept Nutley emergency cases for the last year and one-half. Most have been sent to Columbus Hospital which has agreed to take ambulance cases.

St. Mary's hospital last year discontinued taking emergency and welfare patients both from Nutley and Belleville because the municipalities would not underwrite the expenses of non-welfare emergency patients.

Belleville early last year worked out a financial agreement with the hospital and service for that town was renewed.

Commissioner Wright after making the resolution said, "This is a payment of past obligations. There is no assumption emergency cases will be accepted at St. Mary's." De Muro raised the question, "Why give St. Mary's Hospital $500 if we don't know if Nutley residents will be treated in case of emergency?"

Wright answered De Muro by saying he hoped the $500 contribution would tend to re-establish good relationship between the town and St. Mary's. "If that can be accomplished both St. Mary's and Columbus Hospitals will be used," he said.

Youngsters Aid Red Cross With Pincushion Trade
Susan Larsen, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Larsen, of 100 New Street, and Linda Prize, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Price, of 100 New Street, Newark Place, Belleville, have been occupying their spare time this summer by making pin cushions out of scraps of cloth and selling them to their neighbors.

The little girls, looking for a worthy cause to which to donate their earnings, took their profits to the Red Cross, handling over $1.04, "to help somebody else."

Susan's younger brother Jimmy, not to be outdone, brought in his savings of five cents to swell the total.

TIPS ON FIXING TIRE BLOWOUTS

If you are planning a trip to the mountains or other out-of-the-way places where help might be a long time getting to you, it might be wise to study carefully these tire-changing tips passed along by Keystone Automobiles Club.

1. Make certain on leaving home that all tire-changing equipment — hand-pump, jack, and lug wrench — are placed in the car where you can get them quickly.
2. Have all tires, including the spare, checked for air pressure and any cuts or bruises.
3. If a tire should go flat while driving, try to maneuver into a firm, level surface to change the tire.
4. Carefully block both wheels at the end of the car opposite to the flat tire so the car will not roll forward or backward.
5. Remove the spare tire from its place in the trunk before raising the car with the jack.
6. Place the jack at a slight angle opposite to the direction in which the car tends to slip as it is raised.
7. Wheel nuts on the left side of the car loosen when turned clockwise and nuts on the right side come off in a counter-clockwise motion.
8. Wheel nuts should be loosened while the wheel is only partially jacked up and still touching the ground. The car then is jacked higher to remove the nuts and the flat tire.
9. Remove jack slowly and carefully after the fresh tire is mounted.

INJURIES FATAL FOR MRS. KOLB

A fall which she suffered in a fall in her home last week resulted in injuries which proved fatal Monday for Mrs. Theresa Munzer of Kolo of 365 De Witt Avenue. She died at St. Michael's hospital. Lodge services were held Wednesday night at the Wadsworth Funeral Home, and religious services were conducted there Thursday by the Rev. Peter R. Deckert, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church. Burial was in Crest Haven Memorial Cemetery, Clifton.

Mrs. Kolo was born in New York and had lived several years in Newark before moving to Belleville. She retired about eight years ago from L. Bamberger Co., Newark, where she had been manager of the sewing machine department. She was a past mistress of Ideal Court No. 31 Order of Amaranth, Belleville, and a member of the White Shrine Crescent No. 8 in Paterson, and the Arme Chapter 73, OES in Belleville.

She leaves four nieces, Miss Theresa Munzer of New York, Mrs. Richard Doherty of Belleville, Mrs. Mary Heffernan of West New York, and Mrs. Gertrude Workhauser of Ridgefield, Conn., and a nephew, Walter Munzer, also of Ridgefield.

POLICE JOIN HUNT FOR TWO GUNMEN

Belleville police joined the search for two young gunmen who escaped with $700 last week after holding up the Tower Diner at 576 Washington Avenue in Nutley. The bandits were described as teenagers.

Eugene Mazzola, of 147 Kingsland Avenue, Clifton, a member of the family that owns the eating establishment, told police he was alone in the diner at the time and was coming out of the kitchen when he saw two men at the side entrance with their guns pointed at him.

The young gunmen, who wore handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces, forced him to lie down on the kitchen floor where they bound his hands and feet with towels and aprons and took $21 from his wallet.

The two robbers then opened the cash register with a long knife and took $185 from it, Mazzola said.

Also taken was a green metal box that was under the counter containing $500 in bills of small denominations.

Mazzola freed himself shortly after the pair left and called police.

Belleville Fights For Little League Essex Champ Title

Belleville's Little League National All-Stars will meet Millburn for the Essex County championship at Cameron Field in South Orange at 6:15 p. m. tonight after having beaten the Irvington American League team this week by a 9-0 score.

If Belleville wins again — it has already marked up three straight wins for its chance in the county playoff, then it faces a series of sectional championship contests before it can consider a fighting chance for the national championship win at Williamsport, Pa., which will be played in about another month.

In winning over Irvington, Mike Morano, having for the locals, allowed two hits and two bases on balls, was Belleville's second win. He was Morano's second win of the tournament series. He had previously beaten Nutley. In the other sectional game, Fredy Riccio, who hit homers, with Valante, a consistent lead with a bat, also had a home run. He regularly managed an average of about two hits out of three trips to the plate. John Carlo, who beat the Irvington Americans last week, will probably pitch tonight's game for Belleville.

A team which has twice before reached the county finals, winning the county title in 1953, only to be beaten by a Newton, N. J. team in a sectional game thereafter, and losing the county championship in 1952 after a defeat by the South Orange Nationals last week, will probably pitch tonight's game for Belleville.

Belleville will meet tonight, the local team will meet the winner of the Sussex County sectional game, which will be played in the southern sectional playoff which covers the Trenton, Perth Amboy, Camden, and Atlantic City areas, the regional contest in Maryland.

PAL All-Stars Tie Irvington For 1st

Belleville All-Stars beat Kearny, 7-6, in a game at Municipal Stadium over the weekend to tie the Irvington for first place in North Jersey PAL Baseball League. The locals will meet Union Field at 6:15 p. m. Other games:

The All-Stars won an exhibition game from the Nutley Recreation All-Stars by a 7-3 figure, scoring five runs in the second inning. Lou Long followed up with a long home run to left field to make it 6-1 after Nutley had opened the game with a run in the first. The Phillies then came out to bang out another homer for Belleville in the fourth. The two teams will meet again in Nutley next week.

In the PAL Babe Ruth League, Lefty Kintzing's Braves took another game, making it five straight. The Phillies were defeated, and the score was 7-5. The Braves got five of their runs in the fifth, when the Philly infield fouled.

The Cards moved into second place by defeating the Giants, 9-2, by pasting the whole field with 11 hits. Hamman held steady for the Cards by allowing only two hits. The Dodgers and Cubs played a 3-3 tie, with the game called in the sixth inning because of rain. The Dodgers took the lead in the opening inning, but the Cubs caught up in the second, and went ahead in the third. The Dodgers tied it up in the sixth.

Team standings: Braves — five wins, no losses, no ties; Cards, 4-1-1; Phillies, 3-2-1; Cubs, 1-3-2; Dodgers, 1-3-1; Giants, 1-4-1.

CLEARMAN WINS 2 STRAIGHT IN REC SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Clearman Field won both of its games as the Inter-Playground Softball League opened, and was leading the circuit. With Ed Noonan pitching, Clearman took its first consecutive win over the playground by a 14-5 score, and then in its second game, with Noonan again on the mound, beat Stadium by a 9-0 score.

Most exciting moment in the opener came when Dave Williams hit a home run with two men on base. Larry Kene scored another homer into deep right field.

Rec's Chak Up 8 Victories So Far

Unruffled by the heat, Belleville's Recreation nine won two more games over the weekend, bringing their total to eight wins and no defeats.

The first victory was over the Cedar Knolls; N. J. Athletic Club, the score was 9-1, and the thermometer registered 104 in the shade at the Cedar Knolls field. Two of the Knolls players were stricken by the heat and had to be carried off the field. Despite the blazing sun, Vince Parillo, the Belleville first baseman, struck out ten men and held the opposition to a single hit. Another highlight was Peter Hudock's 310-foot home run to left field. The local team's base running, which has been an outstanding feature of the nine's play, continued here.

In the second contest, Belleville beat Lyndhurst's Giants in another out of town game by a 10-2 score. Johnny Bartell, pitching for the locals, had a field day, striking out 19 batters while permitting just three hits. His team totaled 16 hits. First baseman Anthony Pecora was Belleville's most active bat, driving in five runs on three hits.

Doll Shows Enliven Recreation Program

Doll shows and hobby contests enlivened the town's recreation department program in recent days, and special events during the next two weeks include an Outer Space Day and a community-project doll house. Contestants will be asked to dress in costumes they imagine might be worn by beings on other planets.

The hobby show at Phasmon found Anthony Deleise the winner with his authentic fashions model. Adeine Schroeder's beautiful blue-wooded doll won first prize in the doll contest. In Cargolito, Theresa, Canadiana, Jeanette, Larce, and Joyce Devine also won prizes. Judges were Sonny Noto and Peter Rave for the Model Contest and Linda Paves and Cora Jennotte for the Doll Show.

In a final showdown, Sonny Noto came out on top after eliminating Jim Jaioti, Dase, Jaioti Angelo Rosa, Bob Jennotte, and Anthony Deleise. Clearman Field's Arlene Lanzetta won a prize for having the prettiest doll and Linda Henkel for the most unusual doll.

Ralph Saccomano's musical model automobile was judged winner in the Model Contest by judges Marie Caruso, Joanne Thola, Joan Hurley, and Eddie Chel.

Clearman Ping-Pong
 Activity at Clearman Field this week was once again primarily focused on the softball diamond, with many of the regularly scheduled league games being played on our capacious fields. This ping-pong contests are a center of attraction for many of the girls, such as Maria Vason, Valerie Canino, Judy Condon, Pauline Shapinski, and Barbara Campbell. Having the "natural" superiority of men at these contests are, as ever, Ted Blazer and Ed Noonan and company.

News at Clearman Field will be wholly inadequate without mentioning a certain character seen on our playground. He is an ace horseshoe pitcher, a very good manager, four out softball team, and usually the center of attraction in debating contests. His name: "LEFTY"!!!

Coming up next week is a horseshoe tournament, and everyone is invited to enter. Chinese checkers get a great play at Kelly Playground, the champions of this week being Jerry Lamanna, Joseph McElmott, Joe Primanno and Kenny Brown.

The champions at ping-pong were Teresa Klunk, Bobby Schron, Teresa McDermott, and Catherine McNally.

Annual Doll Show
 On Wednesday afternoon the annual Doll Show was held at Kelly. We had dolls represented from Italy, Holland, Ireland, and Scotland. The first prize went to Winnie Garrison, her doll being a very pretty blonde all dressed up in blue. The second prize went to Barbara Stocillias whose doll was as a Cub Scout and looking very much like a "Smoky Bear Scout." Bob Surkey won first prize for his Lockheed F-34, and Kenneth Ruff won second prize. Other contestants included Jennifer, Alice, Danon, Bobby Moore, Diane Weiner, Jackie Bous, Edward Sackey, Bertha Popov, and Bonnie Deacon. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Muddin judged the events.

recreation house. Rumor has it that Mike Tavel had two prizes in three different games. The "Smoky Bear Scout" on the basketball court. They can be found any afternoon practicing.

Mike Sweet in Canada
 Word from Canada has it that Mike Sweet is not two weeks in vacation here. He is due back next week and is expected to resume his duties at third base for the adults.

Our doll contest for girls and the boys' model building contests provided imaginative entries. Carmel Ann Espinoza was awarded a plastic pocketbook for her story doll, and Linda Henkel for the most unusual doll.

The most original doll award, a bracelet, went to Bonnie Cook for her wooden hand-painted doll, and another bracelet was presented to Joyce Coleman for her two dolls, from Spain and the funniest. Mochel Ferrera received a flashlight for the second Ed Barry was awarded a hat pin as third prize for his model car. The judges for the contest were Ted Blazer, Ed Noonan, George Blazer, and John Jaioti.

A beautiful bride doll owned by Theresa Golia of No. 1010, for first prize in the Bride doll contest. The 12-inch blonde beauty in a lovely pink wedding dress, a black lace "Mambo," a black lace veil, and a black lace headband, was judged by the judges to be the most beautiful bride doll they had ever seen.

Arlene Bellis Champion
 Arlene Bellis was crowned champion in the Model Contest by judges Marie Caruso, Joanne Thola, Joan Hurley, and Eddie Chel. Other contestants were Barbara Sudarsky, Doris Eichel, Kevin Euston, Ron Goffrey, Walt Smith, and Ed Hamann.

No games were scheduled for basketball team, which is still practicing for future competition and is awaiting challenges from all other playgrounds. There is a junior boys team and senior boys and girls teams. The boys will have some fine plays on the art of basketball by our supervisor, Mr. Rasmith, who is Junior Varsity Coach.

On July 28th in the girls' doll contest, the award for the prettiest was a tie between Lee Perry and Marlene Edwards. For the funniest Joan Conklin was the winner. Dottie Burden was second prize for the most lifelike doll. All on the same day, in the boys' model contest, first prize went to Kenny Burden and second prize to Bob Tarello.

On these hot, sweltering days, Kenny Edwards, Ralph Grayhouse, Dottie Burden, Marlene, Lois and Rose Ann Tavel, and Rochelle and Rose Ann Tavel can be found beating the heat under the tree playing checkers or "Words". Eddie Schmitt is still taking on all comers in ping-pong at the Rec.

ALCOHOLICS CARED FOR BY COMMUNITY CHEST AGENCY

This is one in a series of articles concerning the service performed by various agencies supported by the Belleville Community Chest.

Alcoholism is now rather generally accepted as one of the chronic diseases. The American Medical Association accepted this fact in 1950. The Essex County Service for the Chronically Ill (Ch-III Service) under the auspices of the Essex County Medical Society has followed the suggestion of the Medical Society and sponsored a standing committee on alcoholism, whose primary function is to promote better understanding of the disease. They seek to convince all segments of the public that the alcoholic is a sick person with a chronic disease which can be arrested but not cured; that the alcoholic can be helped and it is worth helping; that this is a public health problem and therefore a public responsibility.

In addition to providing educational programs for the public, Ch-III Service maintains a Counseling Service for alcoholics and for the families and friends of alcoholics. It is frequently just as important that the family of an alcoholic have sympathetic and intelligent counseling as for the patient to have adequate care.

The teenage boy, whose father spends money recklessly that he needs for his education, requires careful guidance in order that: his father may understand that his father is ill; and second, that he can help in introducing his father to group therapy, preferably that given by the Fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous, by being patient and understanding himself. A thorough knowledge of the disease and the way in which care and rehabilitation can be obtained is important for each member of the family so that when the psychological moment or the crises come they will be well prepared to handle the situation. Counseling and guidance is given through Ch-III Service by a qualified counselor at its office, 19 S. Harrison East Orange, N. J. 07066-6129. This service is extended to residents of Belleville through financial assistance provided by your Community Chest.

The need for additional treatment facilities in Essex County is great. We now have the first In-Servant Unit in the State at St. Michael's Hospital and an outpatient clinic at the same hospital, both available to residents of Belleville. Great need still exists for hospital beds for patients with acute phases who need free or partial-care, and a rehabilitation-convalascent unit for both men and women for those who can pay nothing and those who can finance this phase of treatment in part. Promotion for the establishment of such units is being carried on by Ch-III Service. Your contribution to the Belleville Community Chest will help with the efforts of Ch-III in providing the best care and rehabilitation for the sick alcoholic in Belleville and proper counseling and guidance for their families.
