MUSEUM TO SHOW ADDED EXHIBITS AT DEDICATION

The Nutley Museum, which will be dedicated on September 26, in addition to placing old town exhibits on display will also present historical materials from members of the Museum Council of New Jersey.

Words were received this week by the Nutley Historical Society from the State Museum at Trenton of its willingness to arrange for loans of material to the Nutley Museum.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Kathryn B. Greywacz, director of the State Museum and also chairman of the Museums Council of New Jersey, ten member museums will be asked to cooperate in placing exhibits in Nutley for the museum dedication program which is scheduled for later this month.

The loans have been secured for the opening date and will remain on exhibit during the month of October.

The arrangement with the operating museums will assist the local museum committee to carry out the plan proposed by a group from the Nutley School whereby the museum will set up two special exhibits during the school year.

Following the school committee's request, the October exhibit will feature phases of Indian crafts consisting of articles of clothing, tools, drums and utensils.

Plans will be made by the teachers' committee, headed by William H. Gilligan, and subject to the approval of the new Superintendent of Schools, for visits to the museum by pupils of its to the third grades under the supervision of class room teachers.

Other members of the committee which submitted its report in June are: Mrs. Leonore Nash, Mrs. Marion Johnson, Miss Marie O'Malley, Miss Marion Fink, Mrs. Vivian Sadler, Mrs. Evelyn Corso, Mrs. Ann Chastney and Miss Elizabeth Weischedel.

The loan from the State Museum is currently being displayed at Atlantic City in conjunction with the Bicentennial Celebration of the shore resort. Models of Lenni Lenape life, artifacts and pottery as well as a time map of New Jersey Indians will be included. Articles from residents of Nutley will also be on exhibit.

Displays from the Passaic County Historical Society have been assured, together with a collection of folk arrowheads from the State Historical Society's headquarters at Newark.

FAMILY SERVICE HELPS PARENTS AVOID TRAGEDY

This is another in a series of stories concerning the services provided by agencies supported by the Belleville Community Chest. It was written by the Acting Executive Secretary of Family Service.

There is not a parent anywhere, including those in Belleville, who has not felt some of the horror and anguish of the parents of those young Brooklyn hoodlums who have been accused of so heinous and wantonly murdering several people. Whatever we may think of these young men and what should be done with them, parents have a common bond with their parents in feeling that "my son" just never could do such a dreadful thing; but it did happen, and it could happen again in just such an unpredictable way. There are few mothers who can resist this mother's heartfelt plea: "Oh God, what did we do wrong?"

Perhaps there is not a single answer to this question; maybe there were many influences at work that caused an intelligent young man to become such an enemy of society, but one thing is pretty well certain—there must have been a clue to someone educated and experienced in this kind of work. It is the easiest thing in the world to make excuses for our children. Sometimes pride stands in the way of seeking help. Family pride and personal pride, while generally worthwhile attributes, can be devastating when they lead to avoidance of a realistic look at a situation.

Parents may say, "Well, maybe this is true, maybe I don't know my own child, maybe I do find excuses for his pranks, maybe I am proud and don't want my personal affairs common knowledge, but what can I do about it?"

Parents in Belleville have a very definite answer to their questions. They can support their Community Chest, and through it, their only actual case working agency, which is the Family Service of Belleville. Here they will find, in complete professional confidence, people trained to know and understand the behavior of children from infancy through adolescence. They may find that their fears are unfounded and they may have their anxiety relieved through simple help in the nature of child guidance, or they may find that they do need a different kind of help, such as psychiatric attention. The Family Service can arrange for this to suit the individual financial situation of the family. The important thing is that the first step, and that he is willing to take the first step.

The menu will feature clam chowder, clam fritters, clam broth, frankfurters, hamburgers, roast beef, sausage, potato salad, tomatoes, lettuce, radishes, celery and corn on the cob, with plenty of soda to go along with it.

Children under five years of age will be admitted without charge. Tickets for those five to twelve, $1.50 each and adults, $4 per person. Softball games between the married and single men will be part of the afternoon's fun, with women's softball games, and special activities for the youngsters also planned.

The money we lent our Country has bought our richest rewards

We were just trying to keep our Country strong and prepared when we bought our first Defense Bonds. Those were the uneasy days of 1941, thirteen years ago this month.

It was only after V-J Day that we began to realize that we were doing far more with our Bond buying than lending our Country cash for the war effort. Here's what we saw happening:

All over America new homes were being built with Bonds. Farms were producing more crops with Bond-bought machinery. Sons and daughters were getting extra schooling. And the dream of owning a business of his own was coming true for many a man who had Bonds to give him a start.

U. S. Savings Bonds have helped Americans save on a scale brand new in history—a record unmatched anywhere in the whole world!

Today more Bonds are held in our hands than ever before in the history of these thirteen years—thirty-seven billion dollars worth of them!

Last year we bought 22% more Bonds than the year before; and the figures show that we are holding our Bonds for maximum return—three-fourths of all matured E Bonds are still being held at interest by their original owners.

Yes, it's a happy anniversary story for America's Bond buying habit.

If you're not already buying Bonds—try the easy Payroll Savings Plan

Save any sum you wish—a couple of dollars a payroll or as much as you can spare. You never miss the money because it's saved for you—before you even get your check. And when enough has accumulated, it's automatically invested in a Series F Bond, in your name, and the Bond turned over to you. Then your savings begin earning you an average 3% interest, compounded semiannually, when the Bonds are held to maturity!

The Savings Bond Habit Brings Happy Returns—Buy more in '54!

4 Important Reasons why you should buy a PONTIAC RIGHT NOW!

- 1 Pontiac is One of the Greatest Cars Ever Built!
Match today's Pontiac with America's finest cars and you'll get a dramatic picture of Pontiac value. First of all, Pontiac is big—bigger, in fact, than many cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Pontiac is beautiful—with its distinctive Silver Streak styling. Inside, you'll find genuine fine-car luxury and appointments—along with the roominess and comfort that come only with a long wheelbase. But the big surprise comes when you test Pontiac's performance. See how alert it is to every demand in traffic, how it handles and corners almost without effort, how it takes to the open road with plenty of power to spare and saves money every mile.
- 2 Pontiac has the Best Resale Value in its Price Class!
Along with all its fine-car size, luxury and performance, Pontiac has a very special attribute no car at any price can beat—its unsurpassed reputation for year-in, year-out dependability. Pontiac's carefree, economical long life and its proved record of amazingly low maintenance expense are so widely known and acknowledged that it commands the highest resale value in its price class. Because Pontiac is America's most desirable used car, your original investment comes back in greater measure when you trade, making ownership cost even lower.
- 3 Pontiac is Priced Just Above the Lowest!
After you've convinced yourself of Pontiac's value, after you've considered all the good things you've heard about its dependability—see and compare it dollar-wise. Despite the fact it's a fine car in every sense of the term, it's priced so near the lowest that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac.
- 4 We'll Make You a Deal You Can't Afford to Miss!
Right now we're making such liberal trade-in allowances that you just can't afford to pass up the greatest opportunity you ever had to become a fine-car owner. Come in and get the facts.

Seven Lettermen Greet Berlinski

Football Coach Ed Berlinski was greeted by 65 grid candidates Wednesday at Clearman Field but among the group were only seven returning lettermen as Belleville started pre-season practice for the nine-game schedule. The Lettermen will play host to East Orange at Municipal Stadium on September 25 in the inaugural.

Berlinski will face a big rebuilding job, but the popular member isn't too pessimistic at this stage of the game. The Lettermen forward wall was stripped by graduation and in addition a replacement will have to be found to fill the quarter back slot held down by co-captain Rocco Cafone. Besides losing Cafone, a magician when it comes to ball handling, Berlinski will sorely miss the services of Ed Gray, a stand-out tackle and end Larry D'Onofrio.

The large group of hopefuls, headed by the seven veterans, has already been pronounced physically fit. Each member passed a rigid medical examination on Tuesday before any equipment was handed out.

In an effort to get in as many practice sessions as possible Berlinski has held two-a-day workouts and will continue the schedule until the start of school next week. Although Monday is Labor Day, it will not be a holiday for Berlinski and his assistants, Herman "Jitty" Wische and Ray Smith. The trio will put the squad through a morning workout.

Starting with the initial sessions Berlinski put his candidates through a period of calisthenics and running, then immediately started drilling them on a series of fundamental plays.

Expected to form the nucleus this season are the seven veterans who played on last fall's team which won five and lost three decisions. Heading the list are co-captains Joe Mignon and Jack McCabe, both halfbacks. Berlinski told yesterday that in his eight seasons at the helm of Belleville it was the first time the squad elected two backs as co-captains. The selections of Mignon and McCabe, to succeed Gray and Cafone, were made after the close of the 1953 campaign and were announced at the annual football banquet, sponsored by the Belleville Varsity Club.

Also returning in the backfield is Bob Paganelli. Back for another season on the line are Tom "Red" Doland and Dick Macauloso, guards; Bob Castelli, end; and Mike Dal Bon, tackle and kicking specialist.

Hyde Trophy, symbolic of the town championship are: Nick Duca, Richie Veith, Harry Rosseter, Tony Costello, Don Piccolini, Pat Raccopoli, Larry Duca, Ray Percival, Jerry Raccopoli, Joe Weiner and Ed Brown.

Braves Cinch Title In PAL League Race Win Over Cubs, 6-3

Those heap big Indians, the Braves, seem to have cinched the PAL Babe Ruth League championship, with only a few more games remaining in the loop season, which ends this week. This latest victory, which made it 8 straight, was scored against the Cubs, and the score was 6-3, with Masino hitting his 7th win.

The Cubs pulled ahead in the second 2 runs, but the Braves evened it up in the same inning, and then forced a win in the 4th with 3 more runs.

But the Cubs broke even for the week by winning over the Cards, 9-2, with every man on the team scoring a run apiece. One on either side crossed home plate in the first 4 innings. Paul Hannan, Carl pitcher, broke the ice with a home run from Melano on base. The Cubs came back with 2 after Rega doubled, scoring Williams and Dattoli.

The big inning was the seventh, when the Cubs put across 7 runs. The big blow was a triple with 3 on base. The Cards took a lead from the Cubs' hook by winning another game with the Phillies by a 5-1 score. Hannan permitting only 3 hits and a walk. Gohber and Latore, with 2 hits each, and smooth play on the defense, also stood out for the Cards.

The Dodgers countered out a 3-2 victory over the Giants, with Mastrandea on the mound. Bud Burden, 13-year-old boy, played some fancy ball for the visitors, machine behind 1st to take 3 hits from the Giants and making an elaborate back-hand step at second to peg out his man at 1st.

Oysters "R" Always In Season For Other Fish

R. Tucker Abbott, Smithsonian Institution biologist, says in his new book, "American Sea Shells," that one species of oyster, common on the Pacific coast, lays billions of eggs a year. If all these were to live, the descendants of a single oyster in five generations would constitute a mass equal to eight acres. Fortunately the survival rate is low for oyster eggs and only oysters — free-swimming, almost microscopic creatures — are the favorite food of countless animals.

Rec's Take 2, Lose 1 Over The Weekend

It was a bad day for South Jersey's chicken farmers Sunday, when Belleville's Recreation baseballers took a double header from a Raritan Township team at Nixon. The scores: 6-3, and 3-1.

But the day before the Belleville team dropped a home game at Municipal Stadium to the Newark Red Wings, 4-1.

That still left the locals one-up for the weekend. In the double bill, Vinnie Pailo struck out 12 men in seven innings in the first contest, and Johnny Bartel got 10 strikeouts in the second contest. Belleville scored a total of 20 hits for the two games, while Raritan managed 9. Heavy hitter for the Rec's was Dippolito, who scored 5, including a triple.

At home, in the Saturday game with Newark, Belleville had a tough time with Eddie Konak's pitching, knocking out 11 hits but failing to bunch them together to make them count. Mike Sheppard got 4 of those hits out of 5 times at bat.

Belleville's Bob Mallack surrendered just 6 hits, but they added up to six runs. One of Newark's safe blows was by Lonnie McKeller, who got one of the longest hits of the season—a triple to left field that rolled to the Stadium fence.

Giants Beat Clippers, 3-1, In Little League "Series"

Mike Marano, ace Giant pitcher, hurled his National League championship team to a no-hit 3-1 victory over the American League champs, the Clippers, in the first game of the Belleville Little League "World Series", Tuesday night, at Clearman Field.

Jim Cleff, who was the star pitcher all season for the Clippers, was a worthy opponent of Marano's holding the Giants to one hit and a 1-1 tie for five innings, only to lose out in the sixth, when his infield support fell apart, two errors setting the stage for the winning rallies.

Third-sacker Armand Serafinio struck the key blow in the winning Giant rally, singling to right to lead in Ronnie Vatschek with the lead run. Stan Bettschek's one-bagger drove in the third and final score.

The first Giant tally was scored in the first inning on a walk to Valente, his steal of second, and Johnnie Carlo's single to center.

The lone Clipper score, which tied the count 1-1 in the fourth, resulted from a streak of wildness by Marano and some headup bunting by Clipper first baseman Paul Place. Place drew a base on balls with two out, stole second and came all the way home on a wild pitch and passed ball.

Marano's top-fitch pitching performance included eleven strike-out victims.

Belleville's first baseman, Paul Place, was unavailing in cemetery of Dutch Reformed church.

EISENHOWER ASKS ELECTION OF BOTH CASE, MC GLYNN

The McGlynn committee of the National Citizens For Eisenhower movement published yesterday a specially prepared message from the Summer White House in which the President urged the election, in New Jersey, of both Clifford P. Case to the U. S. Senate and William McGlynn, Kearny lawyer, to Congress from the 10th District. In his message, President Eisenhower stressed "this year 1954 is indeed a year of big decision".

Quoting Abe Lincoln Citing Lincolnian advice not to swap horses in mid-stream, President Eisenhower, in intervening personally in the 10th District and in the New Jersey Senatorial election, explained his need of a substantial Republican majority in both houses of Congress "so that this administration will have a clear-cut opportunity to carry out its four-year program".

Both McGlynn and Case had personal meetings with President Eisenhower shortly before he left for his vacation in Colorado. The full text of the Presidential letter to the voters of the 10th District follows:

"This is an election year. In the next few months, some of your neighbors will be asking you to support them for election to the world's most powerful legislature—the Congress of the United States.

"You have, therefore, a great responsibility. It is clear that, when dedicated to the end of good government, politics is the noblest of professions and that, in that kind of politics, all Americans have an abiding obligation to be enrolled.

"This program is midway in its progress toward enactment. During the past two years, even though the Republican Party has held only a very slim majority in Congress, the merit of its program has led to a high record of achievement. The party has made good progress in carrying out its pledges and responsibilities, and its pledges and responsibilities, to those people who have elected us. But we cannot stop here. The program's future success and vitality now rest squarely with you. In our system the majority party is properly judged on its legislative accomplishments. I most earnestly hope, therefore, that this administration will have a clear-cut opportunity to carry out its four-year program.

"All of us believe firmly in the two-party system. We know, therefore, that in order to fix responsibility definitely, our affairs operate best when the Executive and Legislative Branches of our Government have the same political complexion. For this reason, all of us who believe in the aims of this program should join together to elect Republican Senators and Congressmen, who will work effectively with leaders of the executive branch toward the fulfillment of that program.

"You know, my friends, it was a man we all revere, Abraham Lincoln, who once strongly advised that we must not change horses in the middle of the stream. This year of 1954 is indeed a year of big decision. I know that each of you will do his part as a devoted American citizen."

PLANNED KITCHENS WILL HELP AVOID NEEDLESS WORK

Considering the increasing number of older persons in our population, the need for domestic help, convenient kitchens are more important today than ever before. This opinion comes from Mrs. Doris Anderson, extension home management specialist at Rutgers University. Health handicaps increase with age, and Mrs. Anderson points out, "Cardiac ailments are high on the list. Eye difficulties increase with the years and seem to be more common for aging women than for men. Many homemakers are employed outside the home and domestic help is short in most localities."

The New Jersey State University specialist points out, however, that needless fatigue can be avoided in the kitchen if appliances, storage shelves and work surfaces are grouped together in well arranged centers.

In arranging to cut kitchen mileage, the number of trips from one center to another needs to be considered as well as the distance, she says. "Two or three feet between centers that are used often can make a real difference at the end of the day to the older woman or to one with a cardiac or arthritic condition. A saving of inches means much to any homemaker. She repeats her trips from one center to another so often, in preparing and clearing away meals."

"Research shows that the greatest number of trips are made between sink and range centers," Mrs. Anderson reports. "Locate them near each other when possible. If placed side by side with a counter between, or at right angles to one another, trips can be saved because the worker standing at the sink can see what's cooking without walking back and forth to check. Some counter space as well as convenient storage space is needed at each work center. The sink, the most important of all, needs counter space on each side. Counters by the range, by the refrigerator and side of opening are labor savers, too."

Recipes

Make the Labor Day weekend a real holiday by planning menus that you can prepare in the early morning. Whatever your recreation plans for this holiday, you will have as much free time as possible.

Miss Ruth Williams, extension agent at large of Rutgers University, suggests ideas with the makings for casual lunches that can be quickly set out for a help-yourself affair. She has on hand in the refrigerator an assortment of sandwich fillings, along with a variety of vegetables, such as cucumbers, carrots and celery, for a relish plate.

"When it comes to easy desserts, you can also have ready an assortment of fresh fruits," Miss Williams points out. "At the same time, these can be used for an attractive centerpiece for the snack-bar. If you want a heartier dessert, add a plate of various cheeses and crackers."

"For dinner, fix ahead of time an oven main dish that will be ready for baking at a minute's notice. A casserole is among the handiest inventions for cooking, for it is almost a meal in itself. Serve this with a mixed vegetable or fruit salad, and you will have a well rounded and satisfying meal."

The New Jersey State University representative offers this one-dish recipe which serves 8 persons.

Beef Casserole

- 1 lb. ground chuck
- 1 cup minced onions
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire (or 1 teaspoon curry or chili powder)

- 1 pkg. frozen lima beans, thawed just enough to separate

- 1/2 cup flour

Heat oven. Combine chuck, onion, tomatoes, Worcestershire and salt. Put into one inch layer in 3 quart casserole. On top, place in layers, potato, flour, corn, lima beans, then green pepper. Forget Not Beauty

Forget not beauty, lest she pass you by And leave you as she found you. Set your heart
In ambush at the loophole of your eye; Unthought she comes, unhindered must depart.
She does not flaunt, she does not cry her wares;
She slips along in silence, makes no stir.
Yours is the chance, the choice; she never cares—

Your interest, your neglect are one to her:
For all that, she is seldom far away.
Forget her not, be patient for a while,
And when at last you meet her, bid her stay
A moment, till the impact of her smile
Full on your heart unseals its hidden springs
And makes it tremble as at touch of wings.

A Chance To Rescind The Gag-Rule

The Riviera Park Civic Association has given the Town Commission a graceful way of correcting an error which, we honestly believe, was conceived in anger and in haste rather than as a consequence of serious deliberation. The Civic Association will petition the Town Commission, at its next meeting on September 14, to rescind its action and to suspend the gag-rule.

If, after such a generous suggestion, the Town Commission continues with its announced intention of gagging James Golden and all its other critics, then the fate of Commission government appears to us to be sealed. It is our opinion that in a referendum today, the taxpayers would defeat the present commission type of town administration. By its gag-rule, the Commission would have been responsible.

Perhaps Commissioner Harry Sullivan,
director of public safety, who was absent when the gag-rule was introduced in haste and unanimously adopted by the four Commissioners present, will have something to say about it. Sullivan is experienced in the field of public relations and he knows that the more you try to hide something, the more the spotlight of public suspicion shines on you. You can gag the few citizens who bother to come to town meetings, but you cannot gag the minds of the taxpaying public.

A Lincolnian Boomerang

The danger of mass production in political propaganda was pointed up this week when President Eisenhower, in an appeal published through the National Citizens For Eisenhower Committee for the support of the candidacy of Republican William Mc-Glynn, Kearny lawyer, here in the 10th Congressional District, quoted Abe Lincoln's homespun advice, in a June, 1864, speech:
"It is not best to swap horses while crossing a stream."

The President's letter might have fit perfectly in a Congressional District where a Republican is running for re-election, but it definitely is out of place in the 10th District where Congressman Peter W. Rodino, a Democrat, is running for his fourth term.

If the President would have heeded Honest Abe's advice, we would not swap horses in mid-stream; we would re-elect Democrat Rodino to his fourth term. Is that what the White House's propaganda mill meant in citing the Lincolnian advice?

LETTERS To The Editor

Answer To A Communist

To The Editor, The Times-News:
I am the Communist Party candidate for Freeholder in Essex County. I am communicating with you in reference to the hysterical mob action taken by Congress in outlawing the Communist Party. This bill would prevent me from appearing on the ballot as the candidate of the Communist Party.

Do you agree that Congress has no right to tell the American people who they may or may not vote for?

Do you agree that the people have the right to vote for any candidate they desire to vote for—including candidates of the Communist Party?

Do you agree with the Washington Post, the Hartford Courant, the Des Moines Register, the Akron Beacon Journal, the Baltimore Sun, the Chicago Daily News, the Wall Street Journal, the Chicago Sun Times, the Newark Star Ledger (to mention only a few) who have editorialized in one way or another against this bill?

Do you agree with Senator Keatner who told the Senate that many persons were concerned lest in some future year Congress might "not like some other group" and backlit it thus pointing to the danger that a Party in power could outlaw any opposition-party? After all, an "enemies" Senator has denounced the Democratic Party as the party of "20 years of treason."

Do you agree that the issue here is not endorsement of the Communist Party or its aims, but one of defense of the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the elementary democratic rights of the American people?

If so, will you speak out now against this police state mon-strously passed in a mob spirit by a cynical political maneuver conceived in hate and passed in hysteria, and defend my right to remain on the ballot—regardless of your opinions of the Communist Party and its program?

Charles Nusser,
1 Horatio Court,
Newark

the questions of the Communist

ty Freeholder, The Times-News

tivity of any party or revolution-

One Man's Opinion

One Way Or Another, Adenauer Has Been Assured, West Germany Will Be Given Its Sovereignty And Its Arms

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

One way or another, the French defeat of the EDC treaty, West Germany is going to be given its full sovereignty and will, once again, be armed and be allowed to produce the armaments which she needs. The heavy industries of Essen and the Ruhr which armed the Teutonic armies of more than a century will be converted back from peaceful production to the manufacture of tanks, cannons and the im-piments of war.

Washington is prepared to move swiftly, now that France has reached the Parliamentary decision which spelled the fate of the European Defense Community. With or without France, Germany will be re-armed, and, realist that he proved himself to be in settling the Indochina impasse at a cost which brought no pride to Frenchmen, Premier Mendes-France knows it. He told the French Parliament this week that nothing it could do could stop the arming of Germany.

High sources within the State Department, while regretting the French decision to destroy EDC — thus playing perfectly into the Kremlin's hands—insist that nothing the French do or refuse to do will risk Western Europe's defense unity.

Those sources state that Secretary Dulles already has assured West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer privately that German sovereignty would not be delayed a moment by French rejection of EDC; also that the Bonn republic would become a European defense partner with no strings of discrimination attached.

Our Next Step

The first step might be to hold an eight-power conference in Europe, embracing the six EDC powers plus the United States and Britain, to consider ways and means of removing the last occupation controls from West Germany and to devise the formula for Germany's defense contribution.

One stumbling block which helped stall EDC in Paris, Washington now recognizes was that many Frenchmen feared EDC's su-pernational state more than they did an independent German army.
They feared that Germany eventually might dominate EDC and its European army. Whereas if an independent German army should be permitted, and introduced into NATO rather than EDC, then the United States and Britain would be on hand to conturbalance the German strength.

STRIKE CALLED FOR AT FT & R BY EMPLOYEES

Seven hundred clerical and production employees at Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation have scheduled a walkout, for a week from tomorrow unless the company grants a general wage increase and extended fringe benefits.

Two additional union locals representing 5,500 workers at Federal Telecommunication Laborer-ies and FT & R have scheduled membership meetings tonight to vote on authorization of strike votes.

Local 400, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, representing 1,000 workers of all classifications at FTL will meet to vote on whether secret balloting should be held.
The secret ballot would be on whether to authorize union officials to call a strike at their discretion.

Local 447, IUE-CIO, representing 4,500 production employees at FT&R will hold a similar meeting at the Continental Ballroom, in Newark, tonight.

Contracts of the two unions expire Sept. 10, and the unions are seeking new contracts with increased wages and fringe benefits.
The workers, members of Local 1703, an independent CIO union, voted in favor of the strike Monday. Negotiations have been underway for six weeks.

Included in fringe benefits sought in the new contract are a four-week vacation for employees with 35 years' service, company-paid group insurance, bilateral administration of the current company pension, sickness and accident insurance plans and the addition of Election Day to existing holidays.

It was learned that the company seeks changes in its current sickness plan.

despite this week's vote in the French Chamber but the basis of that rearmament now will have to be negotiated anew from scratch and many French feel that they will be able to impose certain restrictions on the type of forces Germany will be given.
In NATO, France has veto powers and before Germany could be given full sovereignty France would have to consent. She may strike a hard bargain for that consent.

A majority of Frenchmen is convinced that the Nazis, in Germany, are unrepentant and are merely waiting for their hour to strike again. The reappearance of Nazi uniforms in a "nationalist rally" last Sunday, in Recklinghausen, lends weight to that French belief. Delegates of the Stahlhelm (Hitler's "Steel Helmets") goose-stepped with German flags, not the Bonn emblem, but the old Imperial German flag with its imprint of the Iron Cross.

benefits program that would deny aid to persons not with the firm more than three years. Also, the company seeks to introduce rulings that would increase its dismissal power.

Stuffed Peppers

Stuffed green peppers are popular as a meat-stretcher luncheon dish, and as a unique way of serving seafood salads. When selecting peppers for stuffing, choose fresh-looking, large, well-shaped, thick-fleshed peppers without soft or bruised spots.

Cod And Haddock

Fresh and frozen cod and haddock head the list of fish items expected to be plentiful in September, according to the U.S.
Department of Agriculture. Another plentiful food in New Jersey will be grapes.

Carol Tide Plays Havoc With Boats

"Carol", that windy storm which blew up the coast from Florida on Tuesday, played havoc with Nutley's little fleet of pleasure boats.

The hurricane created the highest tide in many years on the Passaic River, between 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. A dozen boats were tied up at the municipal mooring dock, or to chained barrels in the near channel, when the tidal wave hit.

Boats Tied To Barrels

Most of the boats were tied with short leads to the barrels and when the strong tide lifted the boats, the concrete blocks to which the barrels are chained were dragged. Almost all the boats were in difficulties and one floated out into mid-channel, obliging river shipping to use the channel on the Lyndhurst side of the river.
