Grid Seniors Honored At Banquet

Close to 200 of Belleville's most faithful grid fans attended the Varsity Club's Tenth Annual Football Banquet, Tuesday night, at the Robin Hood, Upper Montclair, to help honor ten seniors who played their last game in a Blue and Gold uniform against Orange on Thanksgiving Day. The entire Belleville varsity was guests of the sports minded organization of which Ralph Casale is president. Chairman of the entire program was James Apple, Sr.

Highlight of the evening was the presence of Augie Lio, one-time All-America while attending Georgetown and a professional football star with the Detroit Lions and Philadelphia Eagles. He told several experiences encountered in the "play for pay" game and how it felt playing with the Lions when they lost 11 in succession.

Sharing speaking honors with Lio was Belleville's own Tony Steffanelli, former Yale performer who is now attending New York University Medical School. Steffanelli turned in a nice job as he told how much football meant to him. "It helped me to get a college education and go on to medical school. Most people don't realize it but playing football paves the way and opens the door to a lot of opportunities in schooling and later in seeking jobs. Most people, you will find, will look up to a football player," Steffanelli said.

One thing the former Belleville High School player said that held everyone's interest was that "one makes more friends and enjoys playing the game more when in high school than in college. Let's face it. Playing football in college is a business and as a result there can never be any letdown on anyone's part for a minute."

The suspense filled feature of the after-dinner program was of course the awarding of the most improved player trophy, now named in honor of the late Nelson J. Landon, former Belleville High School athlete and Varsity Club member who died while serving with the U. S. Navy. For the first time in three years only one winner was announced as Mike Dal Bon who took off with the individual trophy emblem of the outstanding honor.

A senior tackle, Dal Bon is a modest type player. Before the large gathering he said he thought there were others on the squad who were more deserving of the honor. Last year Joe Mignon and Bill Chapman shared the honor. During the program the co-captains for the 1955 Belleville team were made public for the first time. Elected to lead the team next fall were fullback Bob Paganelli and end Bob Castelli.

Dick LeCompte, president of Nutley's Third Half Club, and an honored guest, took possession of the huge 30-inch game trophy in recognition of Nutley's 26-0 victory over the Blue and Gold in October. Belleville had possession of the coveted award for the last two years. The trophy, put up by the two organizations, goes to the winner of the popular rivalry.

Toastmaster for the annual football dinner was Roy Dickinson, a charter member of the Varsity Club. The invocation was given by Rev. Lo Bianco, of Holy Family Church.

Belleville seniors who received individual statuettes were: Joe Mignon, Dave Olphin, Ron Bergamini, Jerry Llore, Richie Macaluso, Tom Dolan, Ron Benedetti, Jack McCabe, Mike Dal Bon and manager Richie Maharian.

Rifles Needed For Recreation Club

Matt Callahan, instructor of the Department of Recreation Rifle Club has issued an urgent plea for the use of several 22 cal. rifles to be used by members of the marksmanship group. The sharpshooters gather every Tuesday and Friday at the rifle range set up in Municipal Stadium. More than 40 boys are enrolled in the rifle club but the organization has no rifles of its own as yet, and youths who bring their own precious equipment are reluctant to allow others to tamper with it, and rightly so.

The Recreation Department has a promise of receiving several rifles from the U. S. Army but just when they will come through is anybody's guess. So if you have a 22 cal. rifle you're not using, why not either lend or give it to the rifle club. The youths under Callahan will put the gun that is gathering dust in the attic to some very good use.

McConnell Gets Nine Against Fordham

Jim McConnell, veteran basketball player with Niagara University, got off to a good start as his teammates established themselves as a real threat for top ranking honors among Eastern basketball powers. The Purple Eagles won its second game of the season, beating Fordham, 71-65. Niagara never trailed in the game but after leading by as much as 15 points, they needed an effective freeze to stop a Ram rally in the closing minutes.

Midway in the second quarter McConnell, former Belleville High School standout performer, tallied two quick baskets in succession to give the up-state New Yorkers its largest lead in the game. Jim and his teammates are quickly becoming known as the "five iron men". Not one Niagara substitution was made throughout the game.

How Weak Is City League Ball???

Its becoming more and more noticeable how hopelessly outclassed Newark schools are when its steps out of City League competition. A rundown of results show that of 23 games played by the six Newark schools outside of City League play, only three times have suburban teams lost. The problem of underpaid coaches and limited staffs is beginning to catch up with big city systems which is also evident in Jersey City. Most old timers will remember Central and South Side teams of years back as they battled for state recognition. Now that day seems gone, maybe not forever, but for awhile to come.

It's pretty hard for a Newark school to compete against a suburban team which has four or five paid coaches while the City teams have to struggle with a head coach, maybe one paid assistant and whoever else may be around from the previous year after graduation.

Belleville Will Play Garfield, After Losing Opener

Tom Cullen, Jayvee Player, Sparks Blue And Gold, But Team Loses 64-60

Tom Cullen, a junior varsity player, was the surprise weapon in Coach Jitty Wische's plans Wednesday night in a hustling battle with Passaic High that Belleville dropped, 64-60.

The Bellboys take on Garfield High next Tuesday night in the high school gym here.

Strategy Pays

Cullen, who shined in the Jayvee game that the Bellboy JV won, was called up to play in the second half. The strategy paid. Cullen ripped off six quick points in the third quarter and his and Ronnie Kabot's goals nulled Belleville up to a 60-59 deficit with two minutes left to play.

But Passaic reeled off four straight fouls, to win the game.

Voith, who led Belleville with 17 points, and Dick Hangey, football player, showed well off the boards against the taller Passaic.

Bernie Palmer, 6 foot seven Passaic lads, did damage under the boards. Glenn was dead in the eyes for Passaic, racking up 26 points.

Belleville Rebounds

Passaic led 27-24 at the half but Cullen's six counters put the Bellboys in front and they led 47-45 going into the third quarter.

Coach Wische appeared pleased at the showing despite the loss and used all but two men in an effort to look for an effective combine.

Points were as follows:

Voith, 17; Kabot, 12; Cullen, 9; Nichols and Casazza, 4; Weidstein, 4; Bartell, 3; Long, 2 and Hangey, 1. Taubin and Thomas were scoreless.

SCHOOL FOUR TOPS SCHOOL EIGHT AS REC LEAGUE BEGINS

The Belleville Recreation Elementary School Basketball League got under way last Thursday morning at the High School.

School 4 fielding a well coached team, downed School 7, last year's Champions, 25-15. Freddie Riccio with 12 and Bill Marra with 11 were the School 4 scoring punch. Jim Datoli had 6 for the losers.

School 1, last year's runner-up, had an easy time with the small School winning 39-5. Junior Wendling and Joel Taubin had 10 apiece for School 1 at the three-quarter mark and the winners substituted freely for the remainder of the game.

School 8, playing fine team ball set down School 9, 23-15. With Frankie Dunn setting up the plays, Eddie Newson, Johnnie Bolcato and Richie Lowack had 6 apiece for the winners. Dennis Debrovski, of School 8, led both clubs with 8 points.

A big School 5 team trounced the small School 10 boys, 44-8. Angelo Longo had 14 for the winners while Tanky Matrazina scored all of the losers points.

ROY'S TOP TORTS TO TAKE FIRST IN REC LEAGUE

Roy's Sport Shop rang up a 61-50 decision over the Tortoise A. C. Monday night, at the High School. The victory gave Roy's undisputed possession of first place in the Belleville Recreation Senior Basketball League. It also dropped the Tortoise; last year's Champions, back to second place.

The Torts, playing with no reserves, had a half-time lead of 22-8, but Deany, Hatcher and Biddy Engel of Roy's, began hitting from under the basket and worked the count to a third-quarter 41-40 count.

Hatcher who had 22 for the night, all from the floor, then connected for 3 quick baskets and the Torts couldn't recover. Larry Tosato of the losers was handcuffed from the floor for the first half but had 14 for the night, 8 of these from the free throw line.

Sam Graziano, with 10 seconds remaining, dropped one in from outside to give the Wildcats a 38-37 win over the improved Wallace & Tiernan combine.

were bold misstatements of fact and an attempt at evasion of responsibility."

"Unlike other school districts," the Association said, "the Board of Education has placed maintenance and custodial service under the school business manager rather than the Superintendent. Mr. Daniels, the business manager, was recently under fire of the county grand jury in their presentation against the local Board. More recently a report resulting from an investigation by the State Department of Education disclosed further questionable practices by Mr. Daniels." Reporting on their inspection, Ackerman and Boyd in a joint statement said:

"The exterior of the building is dilapidated and in need of considerable repair. Most of the paint on the wood framing and sash is scaling and in numerous areas throughout, the bare wood is exposed and evidently has not been painted for at least five years. A number of the window sash have rotted members, and the wire mesh window guards, especially on the north side have rusted and deteriorated to the extent of requiring practically complete replacement."

"The exterior red brick walls require pointing and waterproofing due to extensive areas of missing mortar and shrinkage cracks. The cement covering on the brick cortex is either loose or missing and these conditions undoubtedly contribute to the rain leaks appearing on the upper floor ceilings in the east end of the building."

"Door repairs are required and the entrance doors at the north-east side of the building facing the paved area has a section missing adjacent to the lower panel and requires immediate attention."

"This building presents an appearance similar to that which poverty-stricken coal-mining towns would expect to find in a poverty-stricken coal-mining town."

Mrs. Haines' charge that a stair tower had to be isolated as a result of water leakage was corroborated by questioning of school personnel. The appearance of the stair tower substantiated this conclusion.

"Mr. Daniels' statement that the only leak reported was one that occurred after the recent hurricane is false. Under date of March 31, 1953, a regular maintenance request was issued to Mr. Daniels as head of maintenance, calling attention to the following conditions: and requesting repairs:

"Inspect and repair east wall of building; during hard rains all rooms at that end of building leaked badly at ceiling line."

"Locate and repair leak at ceiling level over window—Room 24. Locate and repair dripping from roof door to cloak room—Room 20."

"Again, under date of June 22, 1954, a further request and follow-up was made to Mr. Daniels for repairs of leaks in most of these rooms for which proper repairs have not been made."

"Mr. Daniels had arranged for the repair of defective washbasins in the girls' washroom just prior to the day Mrs. Haines made her report at the last Board meeting. The maintenance man who made the repairs reported to no one at the school and she was unvised that an attempt was made to repair the defects."

"But in spite of Mr. Daniels' claim that no defects were noted the faucets were again defective when we tried them. It is actually a waste of good money to repeatedly repair such equipment, when a faucet may be replaced for a few dollars. Furthermore, these faucets are going-closing and are set so tight that a little tyke would have great difficulty in opening them against the spring tension even if they worked properly otherwise."

"Issue was also taken in the report, O'Brien said, with Mr. Daniels' claim that two washbasins are sufficient for approximately 350 girl students."

The report of the State Department of Education, O'Brien said, called attention to the fact that the cost of maintenance is as high as the county average.

Valentino Directs
Paintings at the stadium are being directed by Robert Valentino, and a group consisting of Helen Del Grosso, Joan Dulek, Bernie Masterson and Lerma Chen is working on additions to the display last year.

Valentino is a mural and portrait artist. Displays last year were created by Madeline Seabauer, Helen Del Grosso, Carol Yadin, Rhoda Lysola, Jack Gibbs, Walter Garvey, Dawson Bloom, and directed by Valentino and L. Webster Ditchel, art director of Belleville schools.

the closed door, the children were playing, including Robert, an ill child who is treated at Beth Israel Hospital once a month.
"We wouldn't find a place here," she said. "We tried unsuccessfully to get into the Newark Housing Project. We even wrote our congressman, but Mr. Rodino said we had to be residents of Newark."
Mrs. Thomas said the family had lived at 108 Union Avenue for about three years. Then Jack Riggs, proprietor of a produce market wanted to enlarge his business and decided to replace the old house with a parking lot.

After delay upon delay, the Thomas family was finally forced to move. And move they did, she said, she taking four of the children with her, and the other half with him.
"The in-laws don't like it either," she said. "Know anybody who wants to rent a place, reasonable?"

Town

Shafter said the county delegation to both houses will be polled by him and W. A. Danewerth, secretary treasurer, "to ascertain their collective reaction to much needed legislative safeguards for the interest of John Q. Citizen."

The Congress voted the study at a special meeting Wednesday night. Ray O'Brien of the Belleville Citizens Association, was chairman.
Quoting from the resolution adopted by the Riviera Park Association, Shafter said that "such legislation should specifically prohibit all campaigning on the part of any local Commission Board and other elected or appointed officials of any municipality, when a referendum or public question is concerned with a change from Commission government to any of the alternatives provided for by the Faulkner Act of 1950."
Another aim sought by the proposed legislation, he said, is concerned with clarifying existing laws or election procedure.

"Such clarification," he said, "appears necessary in view of the fact that the two county offices charged with the proper conduct of elections, named by the Board of Elections and Commissioner of Registration, are seemingly still at loggerheads with each other over such a simple problem as whether or not existing statutes permit for election challengers in the case of referendums and public questions."
Shafter was campaign chairman of the Congress' council manager committee, which registered a formal complaint on Election Day with both county offices on issuance of challenger badges to campaign workers for the no-charter groups here.
He was told by Commissioner of Registration John B. Keenan that the Board of Elections apparently had seen fit "to stretch the legal interpretation," in issuing badges.

His letter to Elmer Harman, clerk of the Election Board, asking clarification and an explanation, has yet to be answered.

Indian Summer

The afternoon shadows fell around
Over the Indian Summer ground
And there was a laziness in air
That in true summer was never there
When all of a sudden I saw ahead
A chipmunk out enjoying the weather,
Not eating an acorn or hazel nut
Or frisking along the stone wall but Here in this lovely woods place
The chipmunk was sitting washing his face.
Wasting the afternoon, I said,
As he scoured his face with his forepaws
The way a cat or kitten does,
Until I recognized that he Might have invented this industry
So nobody would stop to loiter
On his doersill in the wall.

High School Revisited

A group of 20 educators including teachers and principals in other New Jersey schools plan a visit to the high school in January to judge the school.

Ten years ago a similar group found the school 'average' after a three day study here. It will be interesting to see what improvements if any, have been made in that time.

The group is part of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which lists as its prime purpose, the promotion of continuous improvement of member secondary schools through the preparation and maintenance of a list of accented secondary schools.

It bases its evaluation on self evaluation made in different categories of the high school teaching system by the school itself. Principle Hugh D. Kittle points out, that the group, in a three-day session here, will judge the high school and compare the high school's self-evaluation against the group's findings.

The principal also points out that self-evaluation helps the students and faculty both.

An honest appraisal and blend of the school's worth helps students enter colleges or get employment in industry and business. And it gives the teachers an opportunity to size up the school against criteria which are accepted standards for a good secondary school.

Ten years ago, the school was criticized for its pay program, and parts of the curriculum, among other things.

People might keep an eye on what the Middle States Group comes up with, this time.

One Man's Opinion

Tito, The Man In The Middle, Is Playing A Dangerous Game Which May Lead Him To Try A Reconciliation With Moscow

By Ralph E. Heinzen

Joseph Broz — Marshall Tito, to you — is, for the time being, the man in the middle and he enjoys it. This week finds him headed Eastward, on his way to India and Burma to pay a state visit. It would not be surprising if his travels carried him as far as Peking to visit with that third great Communist, Mao Tse-tung.

For Joe Broz is a Communist, just as are Malenkov and Mao. The only difference is that Joe chose to pay not tribute to the Kremlin. Being a Croat it was in his blood to play both sides against the middle, just as Roman Catholic Croatia had to do when it was subdued by Orthodox Serbia and had such elements of the Holy Roman Empire as Austria and Italy as neighbors willing to be played off against Belgrade.

If Communists could be catalogued, Joe Broz would be a short-term Communist, against the long-horn strains on Malenkov and Mao Tse-tung.

He has us on one hook; into India and China. Then, he may even permit a reconciliation with Moscow. It is dangerous to substitute duplicity for diplomacy, unless the performer is exceptionally able. And, thus far, Joe Broz has not shown himself to be that adept.

"Responsibility To Constituents"

To The Editor, The Times-News:

Governor Robert Meyner's criticism of the New Jersey Republican Party's "blind worship of the caucus system" which the chief executive said prevented action this year on many "key measures" including rent control, water resources development, motor vehicle license distribution reform, etc., is worthy of serious consideration.

No party enjoys a monopoly upon good and progressive legislation which is the product of the creative minds of elective representatives of the people. Secret party caucus and unwelcome legislative instrumentalities designed and utilized by the party leadership of the public's representatives, should no longer be tolerated.

The disastrous practices which accompany caucus rule may be corrected by bold, courageous action on the part of legislators who will flout the party practices regarding the determination of legislation. The perplexities of the era indicate the compelling need for men of independent action in public life.

Incumbent State Senator Mark Anton can only be criticized for his failure to have notified the Committees to which these bills were referred that he was moving to have them relieved of the bills. Such action would have demonstrated the sincerity and determination of Anton to force a vote on these vital and important measures which affect so many. Anton's failure to do so indicates his reluctance to devote time from unlimited party practices regarding the determination of legislation. The perplexities of the era indicate the compelling need for men of independent action in public life.

To The Editor, The Times-News:

I am writing of my experience in what I consider rent gouging. On November 30, two apartments were advertised in Belleville, both five rooms. The one was in a business section, over a tavern. It was well kept and not too badly laid out. The second "bedroom" was rather small, had no windows. It obviously would not be used for anything but storage.

Another prospective tenant was being interviewed when we arrived and the apartment was shown to both of us at the same time. The rent asked was $110 per month. Heat was furnished and there was a garage of sorts. This put it in the "luxury" class. One could live in the Oranges for that rental, not over a tavern. The other applicant pleaded for a reduction in rent. The owner was adamant, saying the price was $110, take it or leave it.

Because of the location of this so-called desirable apartment, its proximity to the tavern underneath, we chose to "leave" it. The owner said it was "desirable" because of the tavern. He also said he had a second apartment, five rooms, over the store in which we were being interviewed. This was to be available on or about January 1. This also was $110.

Over the past year and a half I have spent much time looking for a place to live and was very curious to know what this place was listed at with the Rent to Buy Board. I went to Newark and found out. Since 1951, this is listed as a rental at $110. The "rental application" has been made since 1951 to increase it, much less to lower the rent to $110. This, I'm sorry to say, is not an isolated case. Also it would seem that there are more and more prevalent in Belleville.

Name withheld on request

liquidated by Moscow long before this.

If his break with Stalin and the Cominform was the West's biggest victory since VE-Day, as Washington officials will probably say, it was also Joe Broz's shrewdest move since he liquidated Michaelovich in the last days of the war. Tito has a knack of surviving in a profession where all actual tables are against him. Anyone who can outwit or outstay Stalin should not be underrated.

But to say that Tito has two ways to jump now instead of just one, and that the United States has paid high for his friendship is not to say that the stout, or more specifically the United States, has not received full value for aid extended.

Tito may have given his heart to Karl Marx, but his head still belongs to Uncle Sam, and he is not a man to let his heart run away with him. Common sense tells him that the United States is his best life insurance and that it would be folly not to keep up the premiums.

Peace With Vatican

In Tito's absence, his minions in Zagreb are attempting to re-establish peaceful relations with the Vatican. The Yugoslav Communist Government and the Yugoslav Roman Catholic hierarchy resumed contact yesterday for the first time in eighteen months in an effort to compose differences. Bishop Franja Soper, new Bishop-Coadjutor of Zagreb, the diocese of Aloysius Cardinal Stepinac, visited Vladimir Bakarić, East and West just can't be too nice to him today. The Soviets are wooing him with wine and words and toasts and tributes. The West is using aid and trade and alliances and invitations to keep him friendly. And it is obvious Tito likes it. East and West are bidding for his friendship, and there is no sign he is going to desert that rewarding position of middle-man soon or cheaply.

Escaped Bear's Hug

But his position has dangers as well as rewards. It must be pleasing as well as profitable for him to hear the Kremlin calling him enduring names after six years of such epithets as "Fascist beast," "renegade," and "traitor to Communism." But if he listens to Moscow's current siren song he is doomed. For, realistically, he has no more chance of keeping his independence if he jumps back into the Soviet camp, than he had just before he dramatically occupied the Russian bear's death-hug six years ago.

Tito's Yugoslavia wouldn't become a Soviet satellite overnight. But it would only be a matter of time before he and his country would be reduced to the slavery of Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland.

Sitting Pretty On Fence

So, if he has any sense, and everyone who knows him says he is not only smart but knowledgeable, he is not going to quit his highly profitable, even if somewhat unstable, seat on the fence.

He is going to collect from both sides of the fence now instead of from just one. He is in that lush position of a maiden with two suitors, where the possibilities of playing one off against the other is not only profitable but rewarding.

Actually Tito is sincerely grateful for the aid and support he has received from the West these recent years. He knows that without it he not only might have, but probably would have, been Communist leader of Croatia, in the Croatian capital.

According to official press sources "the talks concerned current problems in connection with the prospect of the development of relations between the state and the Catholic church, as well as the question of the protection of rights of the Catholic priests to join societies."

The Yugoslav Government broke diplomatic relations with the Vatican in January 1952, a move precipitated by the raising of Archbishop Stepinac to the Cardinalate. Cardinal Stepinac, who in 1946 was sentenced to sixteen years' imprisonment for alleged war crimes, was released three years ago in deference to Western protests. Technically on parole, he is restricted to his native village of Krasic, near Zadar.

The societies referred to are "professional" clerical organizations that the Government strongly endorses and the Vatican condemns. Many such societies have been formed, and from time to time the opposition to them by Catholic Bishops has been denounced by the societies' Communist backers as an infraction of the priests' "right of association."

Citizen Wants Commissioner Resign Tenant Describes Rent Gouging

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

Plato wrote an essay entitled "Gorgias" in which Socrates and Polus try to arrive at an answer to the question "Can an unjust man be happy?"

The answer which they arrived at is of great concern to all. Polus, a Sophist, says "If you can do an unjust act and not be punished, then you are happy."

Plato says "A man who is evil and is not punished can not be happy."

My fight for adequate police protection, to be more specific, "police precinct" in Silver Lake to properly protect us from evil has become of great concern to the people of Silver Lake and Soho.

I am very proud to say I am from Silver Lake, simply because it is a privilege to live among people who are greatly concerned with the welfare of all.

Commissioner Sullivan has remained silent concerning our welfare, giving rise to the conclusion that his concern is only to be elected and his speeches do not mean a thing.

I am convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that he is taking the position of Plato, a Sophist. a) Is it not a great evil to not adhere to the will of the people?

b) Are not the people the government?

c) Are we not entitled to live in a democracy free from fear? We, the people of Silver Lake and Soho, are being denied certain basic constitutional rights as stated by the "Constitution of New Jersey."

Commissioner Sullivan should take cognizance of the will of the people and do a constructive act which will benefit all. He should not use his title "Director of Public Safety," for the dignity which it brings or because this title makes him an important man in town.

If Commissioner Sullivan holds office for only the above mentioned selfish reasons, then I ask that the Commissioner "resign."

All the principles in which we have fought for and died for in the "Revolution," "Civil War," "World War I and II" have been shattered by some persons who have been at the head of our governments.

Time has come for repentance and to discontinue usurping the constitutional privileges of the citizens of Silver Lake and Soho. Commissioner Sullivan stated in a speech at the last campaign promising us "better lighting for our streets" and more "police on foot patrol."

He tried to make a complex issue out of the fact that the "police precinct" in Silver Lake is impossible for the reason that we do not have sufficient men on force.

Is this the reason why the people of Belleville pay taxes? As a taxpayer, I demand to know the answers to the above mentioned questions.

Would you not call yourself unjust in giving these men jobs of this sort while the policemen are braving the winter air in functioning their duties as traffic police?

Would you, Commissioner Sullivan, not agree with me if I would suggest that for the welfare of the people of Belleville, and for the sake of the importance of your office, you should "resign" immediately and again become a just man instead of giving way to all these very objectionable and unethical practices as are now being performed by certain members of the police force who seem to be being paid through taxes primarily for protection and not for jobs as clerks.

On Fund Drive

To The Editor, The Times-News:

Congratulations on your forthright and bold investigation of the problems confronting the various local fund drives as depicted in your editorial "Passing the Hat."

It is indeed unfortunate that one formidable, well publicized Union Drive can not be successfully sponsored by the various reasonable local charitable needs of our community. Such an enterprise requires the proper guiding leadership certainly would eliminate the numerous appeals which clutter up the pockets of the resident donor to "get fed up with the continuous tug on his pocket."

As a suggestion, Sir, it occurs to me that perhaps a more efficiently mapped out drive campaign might be devised and greater results obtained in achieving a quota goal if less stress were placed upon selecting public officials to head these drives, and in their stead were designated the spiritual leaders of the various denominations serving jointly as on a governing board.

It would appear that members of the Clergy have a more thorough and sympathetic understanding of the public and misery which encompasses the lives of our less fortunate neighbors. Public support surely would rally more spontaneously to a drive sponsored by them on an inter-denominational basis than might be expected to an appeal from a politician who might lend his support to a charity appeal for the political advantages it might afford him.

Human suffering and misery as well as the privations of life and poverty should not be permitted to serve as vehicles through which politically minded men may exploit the anguish of others. Surely the support of all the various societies and churches, but, there exists no place for the making of political capital at the expense of others' misfortunes.

Charity is an indispensable entity of our society, existence, the greatest reward of giving is the satisfaction it extends the giver in the knowledge of his ability to aid others less fortunate than himself, a feeble attempt, perhaps, to thank God for his bounty. The most satisfying desire is anonymity. We revere and respect our Clergy of the varied faiths, let them lead a united drive which will abolish the need for the many appeals which we have mentioned in your editorial.
