PETITION OPPOSES 'OPERATION SPLASH' POOL PROJECT

Another Received At Meeting
Would Prevent Jaramon
Streets' Use As Dumping Ground

A petition opposing the location of the town's first public outdoor swimming pools, was read at the town commission meeting this week.

Another petition by residents opposing the operation of a Dairy Maid Milk Bar was received.

A third petition against a dumping ground in Jaramon Avenue also was received.

The petition against the pool was the second public opposition against the project. The Rivera Park Association came out against the pool two months ago.

The pool has been proposed by Recreation Director Robinson and a private committee popularly known as the "operation splash" committee.

The committee is trying to raise funds from private sources and make the proposed $50,000 structure pay for itself through paid admissions.

Painting And Maintenance
Work On Town Hall May Include Statue In Front

"Queenie," the statue in front of town hall may get a bit of touching up, in an action approved by the Town Commission this week.

Although "Queenie" was not mentioned specifically in the resolution authorizing the work, it was included in the list of items to be touched up.

The resolution authorizing the work was introduced by Commissioner Henry Eyle.

In a town-wide remodeling program, three firehouses and other municipal buildings also are expected to be cleaned up.

The Commission set a sum for the work in the new budget.

EASTERN TOOL OUT OVER CONTRACT

Labor-management difficulties continued this week in Belleville plants.

Some 240 workers at Eastern Tool & Manufacturing Co. in Montgomery Street struck after contract renewal negotiations failed.

Andrew Decker, president of the union, said the men got off across-the-board increase, paid half-day holidays before Christmas and a new job classification adjustment.

About 2,500 production workers last week ended a brief lock-out in Westinghouse Electric Co. over seniority issues.

Retain Independent Union

Maintenance and production workers at Wallace and Tiernan, Inc. voted to retain their independent union in the Independent Employees' Union and not to affiliate with the United Steel Workers of America, CIO, by a margin of 26 votes.

AUTHORIZE $2.125 FOR TOWN'S SHARE IN TAX FIGHT

Seventeen County Municipalities
Appealing Equalization Table;
Hearing Begins Next Month

The town commission this week adopted a resolution authorizing the expenditure of $2,125 as its share in the war chest collected by suburban Essex towns to fight the Tax Equalization program recently instituted.

In a second resolution the commission authorized Town Attorney Lawrence Kenan to participate in the fight to challenge the equity of the equalization table.

Under the plan adopted by the united suburban municipalities, the hearing for Belleville and 16 other towns will be held in May before the State Division of Tax Appeals.

Montclair, East Orange, South Orange, Essex Fells and Caldwell borough did not join in the appeal.

Presently 32 municipalities in Essex County are appealing the equalization table.

REJECTS ZONING BOARD VARIANCE FOR MILK BAR

The town commission this week overruled a zoning board recommendation which would have permitted a Dairy Maid milk bar at 538 Jaramon Street.

The commission acted after residents in the neighborhood protested on grounds the milk bar would devalue property, result in a traffic hazard and be a general nuisance.

Attorney Paul de Wagon, representing a client wanting construction of the milk bar, pleaded with the Commission to hold off until the town could have an opportunity to meet with Joseph Ebert of 13 Harvard Place, one of the spokesmen for the opposing group.

Ebert argued there were no ice cream stores in the vicinity.

A variance to the zone was sought by Frank Chiefo of 544 Jaramon Street.

Tenants Band; Fear Rent Gouge Boosts

Sending Petitions Town-Wide To Seek Commission
Action Before Controls Are Eliminated Here
June 30; Warn "Sky Will Be The Limit"

Fearful of rent gouging after the deadline here June 30, tenants are banding together to ask the Town Commission protection against sky-rocketing boosts, it was learned this week.

A leader of the move is Mrs. Virginia A. James, an apartment tenant at 1 Essex Court, who already has distributed a petition in her apartment and this week sent out general petitions town-wide.

"If controls go off entirely," she said yesterday, "the sky will be the limit." The petitions request the board to reconsider its rent control action.

Asks Curbs
Mrs. James urged that curbs be put on landlords who intend to raise rents for every month of jacking rents.

"There should be someone who can say how much a landlord is going to raise the rate for his quarters," she said.

The petitions state that rent paying residents of Belleville are the undersigned request that you give very thorough consideration to extending rent control in our town beyond the proposed expiration date of June 30, 1956, because "there is still a critical shortage of rentable housing."

Mrs. James also stressed that state law permitted big cities an additional 18 months of control, adding that Belleville was a small factory town where many worked for a living and that undue rent boosts would be harmful.

She emphasized that anyone, be he apartment tenant or house owner, could sign the petitions. She has taken a newspaper advertisement, published in this week's Times.

PADULA SAYS BOARD CLEAN ITS OWN SKIRTS

Are People Belonging
To Organizations Dull
~Imaginative Robots, He Asks

In a personal reply to the board of education over the board's statement on the Commission school stand last week, Mayor Isadore Padula charged the board with a "tirade," stating he was somewhat disturbed not so much over the content but the tone.

The mayor took particular issue with "Mrs. Rochau's statement, that the board has no political association to do its bidding. They must rely on alert and intelligent citizens."

"We are to believe, according to Mrs. Rochau's statement, that the men and women who belong to organizations to further government are dull, unimaginative robots that move only at the command of someone in office?"

According to the newspapers Mrs. Rochau and a couple of other members of the present board were also active in the same political organization at this time.

SMITH SAYS BOARD PROPOSES COSTLY OVERSIZED UNIT

"Has Not Given True Picture"
Warns People May Be Called To Vote Additional Sum

Commissioner Kenneth Smith this week in a statement charged that the board of education was proposing a costly over-sized high school building far beyond the recommendation of the Columbia Survey, a group which studied the school system here in 1950.

Commissioner Smith stated also the school board should consider consideration of additional educational facilities here and in adjoining towns.

No effort has been made to consider alternatives," he said, "despite the fact that since 1950, an additional building has been placed on Peter's School, Holy Family School has been built, St. Mary's School has been placed on the site of St. Anthony's school in Silver Lake is being built, Queen of Peace high school is being built, and the Archdiocese of Newark has acquired the RML building for a regional high school."

"All these factors must be taken into consideration and other officers and staff have been considered."

Town Rocks and Rolls In Arguments Over Proposed New School Question

Furor Mounts; Residents Carry
Placards To Town Meeting; Mayor
Gives Stand; Open Forum Monday

Furor mounted this week over the proposed high school referendum question which has already split the town bodies and apparently cleaved the people.

Residents, some armed with placards pleading for better schools, thronged the town commission this week in open debate.

Mayor Isadore Padula replied to the board of education statement last week which warned the Commission to keep its nose out of school affairs.

Commissioner Kenneth Smith, whose speech before the Patrons' Benevolent Association put the fact in the fire, came out with a statement, citing figures from the Columbia survey, the educational group which recommended a new high school.

Mayor Padula in town meeting said a statement explaining his personal opinion.

Other developments were these: A town-wide meeting was planned for Monday night in the high school auditorium.

Some residents have expressed their intentions of increasing their vote after June 30, 1956, to amounts considered wholly unreasonable.

A proper board be set up immediately to protect and protect the town from the present school board, which they wish to prove hardship with present rents.

PEOPLE DEBATE SCHOOL QUESTION IN TOWN MEETING

Residents Carry Placards;
Mayor Reads Statement; Bomb
Sheller Called "Red Herring"

In one of the longest town meetings here, residents for and against the proposed high school thronged the town commission meeting this week in an open argument on the board of education plan.

Some residents, openly incensed at the disclosure last week that the commissioners were voting the $3,658,635 question, carried placards, stating "Parents Want Better School Buildings."

Others congratulated the commissioners for speaking out against the proposed building.

Mayor Isadore Padula, the only commissioner to take a stand Tuesday, read a prepared statement.

"I cannot consider a three and one half million dollar building that is to house the flower of our families, sink in a swamp, as in part of the mayor called it, a 'poor investment.'"

Durkee Applauded
Ringside guest, created Dr. Frank Durkee, assistant school superintendent, who stated, as he turned the arguments near the meeting's end.

"The big question is, what are you going to do for your money? It's not a one-point. Prefacing that he was speaking as a parent, not as a school official, he said the mayor was acting through the advice."

SCRIBNER'S MOVE HERE TO PROVIDE MANY WITH JOBS

Publishers Hope To Be Operating In May At Fada
TV Property In River Road

Charles Scribner's Sons Co., publishers of New York, one of the world's largest producers of trade and news magazines, is transferring a major portion of its Manhattan operations to a site in River Road just south of the Nutley-Belleville line.

The company has acquired 50,000 square feet of the Federal Radio & Television Co. plant under a long term lease negotiated through David W. Settle.

Basic of the shift to Belleville is the decision of Scribner's to close its printing operation in Newark and move to New York, and providing employment for about 100 persons will be the warehousing and a major share of distribution and circulation of the magazine.

The magazine, which has been carried on in New York, they are operating here May 1st.

The mayor said he had disapproved of the "bug" site for a proposed school building when he ran for office in 1954 and he was disapproving of it now.

The mayor said that Milwaukee was constructing a large downtown building which would be a shelter in the basement.

Main parts of the mayor's statement were as follows:

"In the matter of our school problem, for anyone to say that it is a 'poor investment' is a gross distortion of truth."

"Back in 1954 when I was running for office, I said for modernization as is current now, I urged that the citizens give serious thought to smaller class size, classroom specialization in child study and a citizen study of the school."

Music And Phys. Ed.

"Physical Facilities Constitute Deterrent To Rhythmic Strong Music Program," Says Evaluation Head

(Fifth in a series of articles on the high school evaluation held here recently by Earl Mader, Reading, Pa., principal and evaluation chairman.)

The committee commands the school on the quality of instruction in music and the general program. The instructional activities are well planned to accommodate the desired ends and are adapted to the needs of the individual pupils. The pupils reveal a genuine interest in their music activities.

There is evidence of good correlation with other phases of the school program. Evaluative techniques are used effectively and accurately accomplish the desired ends. Scheduling most music activities on regular school time is advantageous.

The committee questions whether the talents and abilities of the individual students are being fully developed. Schedule limitations have been allowed to block free enrollment in music courses and efforts should be made to resolve this difficulty.

Physical facilities constitute an important deterrent to a really strong music program. Group rehearsal facilities, individual practice rooms, and library and storage facilities

TEACHERS SALARY GUIDE VOTED UNANIMOUSLY

But Resistance Indicated Next Year To Maximum Ceiling; Top Mark Is $7,000

An indication of resistance to increasing maximum ceiling pays for Belleville's teachers was evidenced here, last week.

The teachers, represented by a five-member group, won board approval of a new salary guide granting increases up to $600 including regular increments, and setting up new maximums.

But the board voted the new guide with the verbal reservation by William A. Boyd that the board could change the maximum figures for the 1950-51 school year.

Under the new guide, respective maximums are listed at $5,200, $5,600 and $7,000. Starting pay in the three categories is $2,200, $2,400 and $3,600. Non degree teachers' maximum is $5,800.

RISDEN NAMED ELKS RULER IN VERONA

Times social ... Ridsen named.

A former Belleville resident, Robert J. Ridsen, now of Cedar Grove, has been elected Exalted Ruler of Verona Elks Association and Past Exalted Ruler of Newark Lodge No. 23, on Saturday, April 16 at 8 p. m. in the lodge rooms at 417 Bloomfield Ave., Caldwell. An invitation has been extended to Belleville Elks and their ladies to attend the installation and reception which will follow.

Music

are among the most needed. Additional course offerings to attract larger enrollments, especially boys, would be helpful. An elementary program to begin the development of instrumentalists, especially string players, is an essential part of a modern school music program.

Physical Education for Boys

The committee commends the school for its attempt to provide a suitable variety of physical activities to meet the needs of the boys. Fine provisions are generally adequate. The outdoor area is adequate but somewhat inaccessible. Any more is adequate, in the equipment in good supply and of good quality.

The staff is well trained and prepared to conduct the instructional program and to direct the athletic program. Instructional activities are designed to meet the needs of the individual pupils generally and of the total school population. Instructional materials and equipment and instructional aids are adequate. Evaluative techniques are fairly satisfactory and are utilized satisfactorily.

There is evidence of the accomplishment of desirable outcomes. The committee was impressed with the excellent attitude on the part of the staff toward interscholastic activities and the attention given other phases of the total program.

The committee recommends that techniques be devised and utilized to adapt the program to the needs of individual pupils. Co-operative programs are very desirable for some pupils.

Co-educational activities would be desirable in the accomplishment of some objectives in this area. Social dancing instruction, for example, is desirable and under carefully planned conditions can be accomplished with the older pupils.

Class size is a factor in limiting the full accomplishment of desirable objectives. There are some limiting factors in the physical facilities provided, classrooms for certain instructional activities, adequate facilities, adequate toilet and lavatory facilities, showers and locker rooms, bulletin board, soap, towels, and storage facilities are among the most-needed items.

Physical Education for Girls

The committee commends the school for a generally satisfactory program in this area. Time allotments are adequate for the program of varied activities offered. The activities themselves are generally designed to meet the needs of the pupils both now and in their future status.

Facilities in general are adequate and in good repair. The staff seems well prepared to conduct the program. Instructional materials and aids are available. Evaluative techniques, though somewhat limited, are used to advantage.

The committee notes in this area almost exactly the same limitations as were evident in the program for boys.

Mathematics

The committee commends the school for providing a variety of courses designed to meet the needs of most of the pupils. The transfer board, in a conference before the regular meeting, said commissioners with the exception of Commissioner Elmer Hyde had not displayed dissatisfaction with the plan at a meeting between the board and the commission some time ago.

Mayor Paulula said he and other commissioners had urged the board to keep the proposed high school off the referendum.

At 8:20, twenty minutes after the regular meeting starting time, Thomas Greco, deposed building inspector, urged the board to open the meeting "so people can know what is going on." Mayor Paulula said "we're running the meeting, not you."

Shafter

After the mayor's statement, Richard Shafter, executive secretary of the Riviera Park Civic Association, said:

"You did yourselves and the community a great public service by coming out against the school as it is planned right now."

Shafter questioned the School 5 PTA endorsement, said the board had been influencing the people, i.e. "witness the placards," said Belleville was a frugal community and the school "was not a dollar for dollar value."

"I'm going on a tax strike if this goes over," he said, adding "that we don't need a Westchester-type high school." Shafter also hit the school board brochure.

Ernest S. Arvidson of 178 Floyd Street, referring to Shafter as belonging to the "Riviera Park Anti-Civic Association," said the School 5 PTA had passed the endorsement at its meeting.

Arvidson said the board had started talking about the proposed high school as far back as 1949; said that the grade schools were crowded, and questioned the mayor on the school site. Mayor Paulula answered that picking the site was not his duty but that of the board's.

Richard Harris of 234 Holmes Street debated the mayor's statement that the board was building on a bog, adding that the board had called in three different companies, had conducted test borings, and that driving piles for a new building was not a new invention.

Harris, discussing the bomb shelter, said the shelter was big a "red herring" as had ever been heard in this town and that the Atomic Energy Commission had been studying the problem for 10 years and hadn't come up with the answer to A-bomb protection.

George F. Rowe of 91 Mt. Prospect Avenue said a school bomb shelter would apply protection only 16 per cent of the time during the entire year, anyway.

Rowe said School 8 was lacking in many educational facilities, that all available space was being turned into classrooms at the expense of education, and even then School 8 wasn't even on the referendum.

An unidentified speaker then suggesting building on the proposed high school and warning that the proposed new school would mean more bus costs for the children.

Golden

James R. Golden, former Commission candidate, said the question was whether the school "was in our means." He said teachers groups were as much a pressure group as any other pressure group.

Golden said police here were underpaid; that sisters in Holy Family School were teaching as many as 55 and 60 students in a class and that if the trend for smaller classes continued, there'd be a private tutor for every pupil.

Golden congratulated Commissioner Kenneth Smith for "having the courage to come out on the issue."

He said "Belleville was a town with a reputation in Mayor William Paulula's time of a town that just goes down." He said "Let's not have it changed to the town that goes through the hell," he said.

Golden said the board had neglected to take in costs of teachers, maintenance, heating and lighting. "You can't have a Cinderella tale on a Ford pocket book," he said.

Stating that teachers were not doing the kind of job teachers were doing years ago, with more children in the classes," Golden said:

"Some of these teachers are beating the kids out the door when the three o'clock bell rings."

Alpern

Harold Alpern of 9 Carpenter Terrace said the board had paid $20,000 to the Survey and then come up with the best thing.

Alpern said that defeat of the building would result in double sessions and "we'll end up with less than we bargained for."

Raymond Smith, high school teacher, taking exception to Golden's remarks on teachers' salaries, said teachers had one of the lowest starting pays in this area.

"We just don't like to be pushed around," he said. "It's about time we were standing up on our own two feet."

Dave Petrucci said the biggest loss was the piles for the foundation and that the biggest cost would be to maintain the building to keep it from sagging.

"Even one family houses there had trouble," he said.

John Zekka of 496 Jorjasmole Street said the Public Service was planning big buildings on wet sites and that there was a $144,000 building being constructed or piles at Grasselli.

Dankwerth

W. D. Dankwerth said the town body should have known the referendum had to come sooner or later. He urged a plan to board to let people know about future affairs so they can act with sanity.

Evan Richardson of 82 Oak Street, said "this looks like an intended slow-down, adding that talk about bomb shelters was "a last gasp resistance piece."

Mayor Paulula said in 1944 he had come out against using a bog site for a high school, in newspaper campaign ads.

Durkee said that in all the talk before him he had heard nothing about education and that "these people here tonight are willing to pay for education."

He said the Survey study indicated the proposed site, with its 20 acres available for use was the place to build. He said 40 test borings showed the school could be constructed there.

Durkee said the board had planned a sub, sub basement, larger classrooms, and plastic walls, and had economized by reducing the classroom size, and eliminating the basement.

Durkee said the board was building a proposed high school for 700 students for $2,700,000 while Belleville's with accommodation or 1,200 and up to 1,400 was getting a school for a much lower pupil cost.

"There's no reason why Belleville should be the floor mat of Essex County as some newspapers seem to think," he said.

"Belleville should hold its head as high as any in New Jersey," Dr. Durkee said. Belleville was the only school district of any size that does not have a junior high school. He said there are 31 sub-standard classrooms now being used which were condemned by the state.

"How is it," he said, "that we can sit by and think we can't build when all others are building schools around here?"

KEEP ESSEX REPUBLICANS!

Important as they are in this Republican Primary campaign, the issues of Van Riperism ... race-track and special interest representation ... and the resurgence of machine politics ... may have obscured one over-riding question: Which of the two tickets can win in November?

Think about that, before you cast your vote this coming Tuesday.

Your own judgment will tell you that the Anton slate, entangled in its strange alliances, can't and won't restore Clean Government to Essex County and ... as demonstrated all too clearly in the last general election ... can't win this fall either!

On the other hand ... the competent and truly representative Good Government Republican Ticket headed by Assembly Majority Leader Bill Barnes as its candidate for State Senator has no strings attached.

The B-Line candidates, loyal only to the people of Essex County, can and will win in the fall!

Your support Tuesday will be the first step toward the revitalization and rejuvenation of Clean Government in Essex County.

Samuel Figuerelli

Samuel Figuerelli of 24 Clement St., Nutley, lawyer and former Belleville police recorder, died April 9 at his home after a long illness. He was 66.

Born in Newark, Mr. Figuerelli went to Belleville when a child and lived there until moving to Nutley about 10 years ago. He was graduated from Belleville High School and in 1918 from New Jersey Law School. When he was appointed police recorder in 1921, he was one of the youngest recorders in the state. He served as town recorder from 1921 to 1925, and later was an unsuccessful candidate for commission in 1930 and in 1939.

Mr. Figuerelli had maintained his law office in the Ordway Building, 207 Market Street, Newark, for 39 years.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Phoenicia Deleo Figuerelli; two sons, Anthony and Paul, both at home; and two brothers, Thomas of Belleville and Benjamin of Fairwood.

The funeral was from the Chiusone Funeral Home, Kearny, to Holy Family Church, where a Solemn Mass was offered. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery, was offered in St. Peter's Cemetery.

John M. Del Corso

John M. Del Corso, of 32 Liberty Avenue, died April 2. He was the son of Carmela, and the late John Del Corso, brother of Dominick, of Kenilworth, and of Westfield and Nicholas, of Bloomfield; Mrs. Anna Staniponi, of Paterson; and Miss Antoinette Del Corso, of Belleville.

Funeral services were from the "Memento Memorial Home," 841 Roosevelt Avenue, Newark, at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery, North Arlington.

Dies In Hotel

The body of William Herb, Sr., 50, of 377 De Witt Avenue, was found hanging in a room at the Hotel Douglas, Newark, on April 4. Discovered by the chambermaid, the body was identified by a son, William Herb, Jr.

Police said Herb had used a coat hanger to hang himself.

AFRICAN EXHIBIT . . . draws proud grins from these fourth graders at School 8 who constructed the display under the guidance of their teacher, Miss Marie Wall. Young artists are Susan Feldman, Louis Pompanio and Ronald Porcelli, standing.

Mrs. James O. Elder

Mrs. Loretta Senecal Elder of 29 Lloyd Pl., wife of James O. Elder, died April 9 at her home after a year's illness. She was 56.

Born in Kingston, Ont., Mrs. Elder lived in Kearny before moving to Belleville 15 years ago. She had been employed 25 years as a registered nurse with the child hygiene division of the Newark Health Department until retiring five years ago.

She also leaves six sisters, Mrs. Catherine Diez, Mrs. Edna Tharett and Mrs. Claudia Convery, all in Canada; Mrs. Agnes De Santa of Chatham and the Misses Nita and Arlene Senecal, both of the home.

Fifteen Win

In an effort to make the Easter Egg Hunt more fair, the stadium grounds were gone off into three areas, one for tots of six years and under, one for older girls and one for older boys. The eggs and prizes were equally distributed in the three areas.

Robert Cook, superintendent of recreation, said that the children were very cooperative in respecting the special areas and in putting off together. Many of the parents lent a hand which helped greatly to make the affair run smoothly, he said.

Columbia Survey Report.

Furthermore, I subscribed to the idea of a new High School, when the need was posed in the Columbia Survey. At that time it was the assumption of those not intimate with Board planning, that the site for the new school would be on solid ground. When I learned that the present site, call it the bog, or swamp, or marsh, for either term suits, I voiced my disapproval, and my decision to disapprove has not changed.

"Not a Dock"

"Ladies and gentlemen, we are not building a dock with almost three and one half million dollars, a dock we and our children will be saddled with for years, but we are building a structure to daily house twelve to fourteen hundred of the flower of our community. What assurance have we that the subterranean stream that feeds into this bog will not be opened even more, and in time undermine the pilings, causing the building to settle, and even collapse under the combined weight of building and student body?"

"We are spending almost three and one half million dollars on a public building in an atomic age, without allowing any provisions for a bomb shelter for twelve or fourteen hundred young people and half a hundred or so teachers, because you can't have a basement in a bog."

"This proposed High School is now the beginning of a new era in public building design, and it shows a lack of civic pride not to want Belleville to be the first to build in keeping with the times."

"Apply Brakes"

"The saying that 'brake makes waste' can apply to the present school situation, but your car is running towards the river, there is no reason why you can't apply the brakes before it takes the fatal plunge."

"Perhaps my department can see its way to weather such a run on tax monies, perhaps the glory of a new High School would be gratifying, but the reason I am against the High School in this referendum is that I cannot consider a three and one million dollar building that is to house the flower of our families, sunk in a swamp."

"To me this is a poor investment, and as Director of Revenue and Finance, I should certainly be scored were I to give it my approval. So, tomorrow let no one say that Mayor Padula is heading a movement against the entire referendum. It was I who advised the Board of Education to place the repair work item of cost as a separate question from the High School item."

issue in the classified section, asking tenants worried about lifting rent controls to call two telephone numbers for aid.

Decided to Drop

The rent control question came to a boil here late last year when both tenants and landlords appeared in public meetings of the Board of Education.

After hearing from both sides, councilwoman John two McGolden the Town Commission decided to drop rent control here June 30, whether the state legislature acted or not.

Rock And Roll

Commissioner Smith and Schools Superintendent Evan Thomas spoke at a meeting Wednesday night before the Bellwood Park Association.

Commissioner Smith and school representatives were slated to speak last night at a meeting of the City Congress, comprising many town groups.

William Boyd, first elected board member, was to speak Tuesday night in School 8 to the P-T-A of School 8.

Mrs. Charles Casasady of 270 De Witt Avenue would communicate the School 3 was overcrowded; that double sessions and overcrowded classes would result from failure to act and that the school representatives were inconsistent to wait until March 31 to request Board information.

School representatives were continuing appearances before P-T-A's and other groups.

Mr. Time, general opinion seemed to be that the Commission stand

Some residents were arguing against the proposal because of the site picked out for the school.

Others stated they felt the proposal would not improve the question simply because of the cost.

The working in the community was that defeat of the school would mean double sessions and result in even costlier additional plan.

Padula Says

the time they gained access to the Board.

Other highlights of the statement preceded by the topic discussed, are as follows:

On Mrs. Rochau's statement of keeping politics out of school affairs — "Mrs. Rochau said that after the referendum passed, people asked those appointed on the board to resign, and make way for the people's choice by election. Mrs. Rochau and others refused to comply with the request."

On the statement that it is not the former board but the present board presenting the program — "Will Mrs. Rochau kindly explain what metamorphosis has taken place that she and the other appointed members are no longer themselves?"

Other highlights: "It is about time the Board of Education stopped crying immunity every time criticism becomes annoying, and labeling those who voice other areas of town government as 'politicians' with the implication that they are working against the best interests of the people."

"Mrs. Rochau's statement about being responsible to the people does not bear out very well on the record. In 1950 the people paid five thousand dollars for a Columbia Survey of our public school system. Yet, fewer than five hundred reports of the findings were ordered printed by the Board of Education. Why?"

"Were there only five hundred or less citizens in town who did not belong to a political association and therefore were the only ones alert and intelligent enough to appreciate such a report?"

"To say that the reports were too expensive for wide distribution is not enough. At a cost of five thousand dollars plus the cost of printing the pretty booklets, the people still didn't get the facts."

"It is not too late to apply the brakes. It was I who advised the Board of Education to place the referendum items in parcels to give the parents whose children are in overcrowded grammar school classes, a chance to relieve the situation."

"The High School item is unpopular in quarters not associated with Town Hall or any political organization. To have jeopardized the chances for a new school, Mrs. Rochau was the only member who refused to accept this proposal."

Smith

before submitting such a proposition to the public," he said.

Cost

"We must, above all," he said, "consider if the people can afford a school, which even the Columbia Survey did not recommend in either capacity or cost."

The commissioner said also that people must consider spending over 1/2 million for a building, of which $250,000 is set up as additional cost on account of the site.

Smith, stating he took his figures directly from the Columbia Survey, said:

"The cost of the new high school (for 800 pupils) was estimated at $2,300,000, which included cost of site and all fees and equipment. From 1950 until 1953 there was much discussion regarding choice of site and the property recommended between Division Avenue and Jamelson Street was eventually used for one family home."

"Various estimates were made of the cost of additional work due to site location, varying from a high of $223,447, which included a sub-basement, to a low of $20,000, submitted by Walter Kiddie Company."

"Now the proposal, as submitted, calls for $3,611,618, so designed to expand to accommodate 1,400 pupils."

"The board has not given us a true picture and we may be called upon, if this proposal is carried, to vote again an additional sum."

"The plan as now proposed also contemplates the use of painted plaster, and includes other de-missioners will be present to answer questions, particularly on their objection to the tax rise brought on by the building program and the 70 point increase in the tax rate this year.

The statement said Kittle will discuss the high school report as submitted by the evaluation committee which studied the school recently; will say that the present high school is being utilized to the fullest extent without unreasonably larger classes, with the auditorium and cafeteria being used for study halls and the library for homework; and will warn of educational hazards of double sessions because of mounting enrollment.

The statement said Thomas will present the building program, "of which a new high school is an indispensable part," and that Thomas will show the inadequacy of the additions program alone compared with the proposed program; and that he will point out that only by building a new high school can 30 classrooms now used by grades seven and eight become available for grades kindergarten through six, with the junior high to be developed in the present high school building.

As to school population, in 1935, 1,417 pupils were enrolled in the High School. In 1933, 624 pupils were enrolled in the school system. Today we have about 1,250 pupils in the high school and 4,250 in the grade schools.

Are we to say that the education of the pupils graduated from our schools in the 1930's was neglected when we only have to look around? A graduate of those years is today vice president of one of our leading industries, several are doctors and dentists and many others whom I know have gone on to make their way in the business and professional spheres."

Despite an unparalleled campaign of misstatements, innuendoes and falsehoods conducted by the opposition anti-organization candidates, the basic fact remains that their ticket represents only a bold bid for power — an attempt to seize control of the Clean Government Republican organization.

Having no genuine moral, ethical or economic issue in the present campaign, the opposition was compelled to resort to falsehoods and subterfuges. The real issue is their greed for political power and their willingness to destroy 21 years of Clean Government to obtain this power.

Their utterly false charge that former Attorney General Walter D. Van Riper was master minding the Regular Republican campaign fell flat when Senator Anton said forcefully:

"The most false, specious and malicious statements by the opposition are that Walter D. Van Riper has 'master minded' my campaign. I owe Van Riper no obligation, political or otherwise."

"I pledge the voters that neither Van Riper nor any other individual or group will have any influence with me or my running mates in the determination of Republican policies and principles, in the passage of legislation or in the transaction of county business that is contrary to the public interest."

Clayton E. Freeman, of Glen Ridge, an original founder of Clean Government and a former Republican State Chairman, gave the best analysis of the campaign issues when he said:

"I am giving my wholehearted support to Senator Mark Anton and his running mates on the Regular Republican ticket because I firmly believe they truly represent the ideals and traditions of Clean Government and can best be entrusted to continue these principles in government. The Regular Republican ticket headed by Senator Anton must be considered the truly representative Clean Government group."

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gorlin

Veith Adds To Many Laurels

Richie Veith, Bellboy All-State basketball star, was singled out for another honor this week when he was selected by coaches and newspaper reporters throughout the county to receive the annual Essex County CYO Outstanding Player Award. Veith, who becomes the 10th basketball star to be singled out since the award was set up in 1945 and is the second Belleville player to be honored. No other school has contributed two winners. Charley Travers was the first to go the CYO award when he played for Coach Jitty Wishe's Blue and Gold quintet in 1951.

Veith was selected after a poll was taken throughout the area to find the player who combined outstanding basketball and basketball ability. He noted out Fred Hopke of Irvington Tech, and was 12 points ahead of Clyde Bond, of Orange. Veith garnered 47 points while Hopke was four behind. The point system gives five points for a first place vote, three for second and one for third. Each coach and newspaper was asked to name three players in 1, 2, 3 order.

Fifteen players received at least one first-place vote. Veith was first choice on the basis of four coaches and three newspapers. He also received three second-place nominations and as many third-place votes. Hopke was given six first-place votes, four second-place nods and one third-place vote. Bond had four first and five second-place votes. Joe Moore of East Orange finished fourth in the voting with 19 points and Jack Close of Glen Ridge fifth with 13. Thirty-five players received at least one vote. Twenty-seven coaches and five newspapers voted.

Veith, who was named to the All-State team last month, paced Belleville to the semi-finals of the Essex County Tournament where the Bellboys lost to West Side in a triple overtime. The 6-1 forward contributed 327 points in 15 regular season games and another 62 in three Essex county games.

Cleveland And Milwaukee To Play In Series

Now that all the baseball "experts" have selected the winners for the past month, let me give you the inside dope as to which teams will be playing the 1955 World Series come October 1. The consensus is that Cleveland will win the American League pennant. I can't disagree on that choice but I will be rooting for the Chicago White Sox to upset the apple cart. As for the New York Yankees their days as king pins of the junior circuit are over. Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds are gone and Ed Lopat's pitching days are numbered. Bob Turley will help but he and "Whitely" Ford can't do alone.

In the rival National League my favorites, the Milwaukee Braves, will replace the New York Giants as senior league champions. The Braves will have the city of Milwaukee going crazy throughout the diamond season. Bobby Thomson will give the Braves the added spark they need. His loss last season was the death blow to manager Charles Grimm's hopes for the flag. As for the Giants and Dodgers, they will knock heads for the second and third slots.

There you have it. We will compare notes six months from now as World Series time rolls around and see how the crystal ball worked for me. (Editor's Note: I'm sorry to see Bob so far out on that Milwaukee line. He might fall in by October. For Bob's information, the Yankees and the Dodgers will play the next World's Series and his Braves will be nesting in third place, far, far behind the Dodgers and Giants. R. E. H.)

Five Bennetmen In Rollins Varsity Shell

If the Rollins crew can pull through to a first place finish in the Dad Val Regatta this season after six disastrous second place finishes in the last seven years, the thanks can go to Belleville and Nutley high schools which supplied more than half of the Rollins crew.

With junior Frank Thompson rowing stroke, frosh Ed Grey No. 7, senior Norm Gross, No. 6, and junior Bud Blensky, No. 5, Belleville has four representatives on the Rollins eight, while Joe Dallanegra, of Nutley, coxswains the Rollins rowers. All five were coached by Bill Bennett, who pilots both Maroon and Bellboy crews.

After losing an early season race to powerful Wisconsin, fourth best in the nation last spring, the Rollins oarsmen have rowed to consecutive victories over Florida Southern, Tampa, Boston University and Amherst. The high mark of the current rowing campaign came against B. U. when Rollins overcame a good Boston lead with 300 yards to go and went on to win by nearly the second time in five seasons that Rollins had beaten Boston University.

Outside of their rowing activity, all five Belleville and Nutley rowers are active in Rollins student affairs. The quintet are members of Sigma Nu fraternity and Dallanegra was recently elected vice president of the Rollins student council. He is a transfer from Rutgers and former Fraternity Council representative.

The addition of Gray, rated one of the top rowers in the Rollins shell this season, kept the representation of the two New Jersey teams at five. Last season Don Weber, a Belleville senior, rowed for Rollins at Winter Park, Florida.

Little Leaguers To Stage License "Blitz"

Over 200 candidates for the National and American Little Leagues will participate in a town-wide "blitz" on Sunday, with each of the baseball enthusiasts stopping at every home in town to sell license plate tags with all money to go towards the building of an official Little League stadium. The canvass was to be conducted last month but officials postponed the drive.

While the youths will conduct the canvass, officers and managers of both Little Leagues will supervise the mass operation. This will be the second campaign of its type run by the Little Leaguers. The "license blitz" was instituted last spring for the first time.

Funds raised from the sale of the license tags will be used to cover cost of a tent and dugouts for the Little League Stadium which will be located off Mill Street to the rear of Montgomery Presbyterian Church.

JV's To Open Season Today

The Belleville High School junior varsity will get a jump on its bigger brothers today when the Blue and Gold underdogs cross the town line and take on arch rival Nutley in a game slated to begin at 3:45 p. m. at Park Oval. Piloting the Bellboy junior varsity is Coach Austin MacArthur. While the JV's will swing into action, Coach Ed Berlinski will have to wait until Wednesday when his charges inaugurate the 1955 campaign with a game against Columbia.

"Tour of Belleville" Will Be May 8th

Joe De Bacco, Clark Albey Reinstated As Amateurs, Will Ride; Ed Littig Looks Like Class Of Field; In Old Timer's Race; John Chiselko Man To Beat

The Rec Department will present another big bike race at the Municipal Stadium Sunday, May 8, starting at 1 p. m. This year's race, which is known as the "Tour of Belleville" will carry the official title of "Middle Atlantic State Championship" and will undoubtedly attract a field of the nations best bike riders.

A full afternoon of racing is scheduled for the "1955 Tour of Belleville".

There will be a stock bike race open to all youngsters who are residents of Belleville, two Midway races where youngsters under 12 will only racing bikes over the one mile course, a juvenile one mile race, an "Old Timer's" race of two miles featuring riders who are over 45 years of age, a Junior five mile race, and Joe Klimax, the Senior Tour of Belleville, a 25 mile race for the Middle Atlantic States Championship.

A point of special interest in the 1955 race is that several former professional riders who have recently been reinstated as amateurs will be riding. Among these are Joe DeBacco and Clark Albey, both well-known in the Belleville area.

Belleville's Ed Littig looks like the class of the field in the Old Timers race. John Chiselko, twice "Best All Round" Champion of the national circuit, won the annual "Tour of Belleville", is again considered the favorite this year but there are a lot of power riders who will be out specifically to challenge Chiselko.

Belleville's course, starting on Nelson Street in front of the Municipal Stadium, then Groveland, farway, to Passaic Avenue, to Division Avenue, to Nelson, is known as a "fast course".

Chiselko equaled the national 25 mile record here in 1953. The crowd on hand may see records fall this day.

The course will again be policed by the Belleville Police Auxiliary, with Red Cross handling the First Aid.

BOYS INVITED TO JOIN LEAGUE

The Recreation Department will organize a Junior Baseball League this year. It was announced this week by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde.

Boys who are interested in playing Junior League Baseball are asked to stop in at the Recreation House at 407 Jonathan Street to register anytime during the next week.

Belleville Opens Against Columbia Wednesday

Blue And Gold Will Field Veteran Team With Bartell Pitching And A "Basketball" Infield

Belleville high will open its 19-game baseball season Wednesday against Columbia high school, fielding an all-basketball infield.

With a veteran team back, Coach Eddie Berlinski hopes his boys, who finished third in the Group 4 league last year, will go all the way.

The infield, consisting of Joe Prieto at third, Jim Lawton or Ed Nicholls at second, Richie Veith at first and Joe Long at short, is composed of four of five top-notch players on Coach Witty Wishe's basketball squad.

Long is considered by Berlinski as one of the best shortstops in the state.

Cuba said this week he hopes that the "youth" movement he started last year will pay off in dividends this season. Of the infield, for instance, only Veith and Berlinski are seniors.

John Bartell, expected to shoulder the pitching for the ball club, with Long providing the long ball with his bat.

Berlinski said he feels Montclair and Nutley stand as the biggest obstacle to the league title.

But so far, at any rate, he's not selling his club short.

Robert Castelli set the pace in the 135 lb. Class by lifting 70 lbs. but was pushed back by Norman Lauterbach who did 65 lbs. By far the toughest competition was in the Middleweight or 165 lb. Class with Bob Jordan, winning at 105 lbs. but pressed by Dave Malcolm who did 100 lbs.

Robert Castelli dominated the 181 lb. Class with a 120 lbs. lift. In the 198 lb. Class it was Joe Samiella with an even 100 lbs. Robert Cook took the Heavyweight Class with 130 lbs.

In an extra lift Bob Sargent also set a new record in the Dead Lift when he hauled up 300 lbs. in this manner.

Next Monday the contest will be in the Sit-up. In this lift the contestant holds a barbell behind his neck and performs a sit-up as a partner holds his feet down.

Spring Bell

Somewhere a bell rings to announce it's spring.
Somewhere I don't know where — but secretly,
A metal sound slowly begins to swing,
Announcing that the prisoned roots are free.
Deep under snow, sun informs the bell
The seed has broken and the sap has stirred
And a note in the frozen earth begins to swell
Until, through the ice, its ringing green is heard.

Be A Good Citizen: Vote Tuesday

Seldom has a Primary Election meant more than this year. A political machine is challenging the right of individual candidates to seek the Republican nomination. Belleville can decide for itself whether it will have voices on a state and county level, in Trenton and Newark, or whether it will again become the victim of machine indifference, as in the past. As a taxpayer, as a Belleville resident, as a citizen, you owe it to yourself to vote in Tuesday's Primary.

It Will Cost You $50 More

The Essex County Tax Board published, this week, the tax rates of Newark and the 22 Essex suburban municipalities. As was expected, Newark's tax rate was cut by eight points, dropping from $8.55 to $8.47; Belleville's rose 70 points from $6.32 to $7.02, the highest rate, by far, in our history.

To make it possible for the County Tax Board, under intense political pressure, to grant Newark its tax relief, the tax rates of 19 of the 22 suburban municipalities were raised. In Maplewood the increase was 93 points, in Nutley, 64 points, in Bloomfield 86.

The readjustment was due, entirely, to the imposition by the County Tax Board of its table of "true values", a table as fishy as Newark's own tax roll. Here in Belleville, the readjustment of property values has added $64,670,770 to the amount we must pay Essex County as our town's share of its administrative costs.

That means $50 more out of your pocket and mine. It means that, on an average, every tax payer in town must pay $50 more this year than he, rightly, should. It means, also, a saving of $50 for every taxpayer in Newark. We pay that $50, so that the Newarker can pocket $50. Yet there are records to prove that Newark uses from 70 to 80 per cent of the county's institutions — jails, detention homes, hospitals, asylums and homes for indigents, and pays less than one-third.

Since it will cost you $50 more, this year, you might ask how the County Tax Board arrived at its table of "true values". The answer can only be: by political mobo-jumbo, by hokus-pokus and by a phony formula based on recorded property sales of the past five years. The County Board checked recorded sales prices against assessed values and jumped to its conclusion.

No attempt was made to come here and check a cross section of Belleville ratables, or, for that matter, to look into Newark's tax books and ascertain how much, or how little, it was assessing Annheuser-Busch for its new brewery, or any of the big industrial firms there.

That "Bog" Site

Out of the hue and cry over the proposed new high school emerges one issue which stands clarification... the site for the building.

Some long-time residents and some who have observed closely the terrain in the so-called "bog site" near the municipal stadium, feel, with some justification, that it's no place to build, period.

Perhaps the school board for a time felt, likewise, leaning towards and poring over other sites. But the board chose this site, after giving more thought to site selection than many people now advancing eleventh-hour arguments.

No doubt the board was guided in its thinking by the 1950 Columbia Survey which definitely recommended that vicinity, and the lay advisory group. For the survey pointed out the stadium vicinity had plenty of land, was centrally located, and was town-owned, sparing the board the costs of buying private property.

The big question was whether the specific site finally decided upon was suitable for construction. Proceeding logically, the board looked to engineering authorities to find out. After test borings and study by recognized professional engineers, the site was reported suitable.

Perhaps it might have gotten solidly at the stadium area if it had acted sooner, but at least the site is in the most logical location. Better late than never.

It would be only fair for those who look with jaundiced eye on the "bog" as an argument against the school to re-examine their views. Who can fault the board for eyeing the site on recommendation of an educational group and proposing it when they have engineering recommendations it can be used?

Again we say — approval or rejection of the proposed school should be based on whether there's a need for a better educational system in town and the personal ability or capacity to pay for that need, not on such side issues as the A-bomb and the "bog" site.

Polio Vaccinations Available Soon

The Salk polio vaccine — the medical milestone in which people can be inoculated to prevent the dread disease — has been confirmed this week as highly successful.

Its confirmation assures that a series of three inoculations will be made available to first and second graders in public and parochial schools, provided parents approve. Forms were sent by school authorities to parents this week and a large number has been returned, with signatures.

The serum will be provided free for these youngsters through the courtesy of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis program.

As for children in older grades, their parents must shift for themselves to provide for them in what looks suspiciously like a black market in the vaccine, together with jacked-up prices and risks of getting phony serum.

But the way the Foundation and educators feel about the problem is this: better a few children to be vaccinated before the hot summer months than none at all.

So the series of three treatments will start, with the first inoculation given next week; the second, about a week later and the third, May 25.

One Man's Opinion

Russia Is Engaged In A Two-Pronged Political Offensive, Over Berlin And In The Far East

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

By the ratification in Bonn, Paris, Rome and Washington of the Paris pacts restoring West Germany's sovereignty and arming her as an equal in the community of anti-Communist nations, we won a round but we have not yet won the "cold war" centered on Berlin.

Russia's reaction has been varied, but persistent. The second Berlin blockade is one phase. Another Moscow's denunciation and its first steps towards the cancellation of Red Russia's friendship treaties with Paris and London. Molotov's haste in trying to press a peace treaty upon Austria is a symptom; so too is renewed Communist agitation in Italy which is rocking the Scelba boat just as the Italian Premier returns from a successful trip to this country.

Russia may not be able to prevent the rearming of West Germany, if we pressure Bonn into making haste, but the Kremlin will lose no opportunity to let us know of her distaste for our action. There are signs in Tokyo and New Delhi that Russia is preparing political offensives in Japan and India, based on advantageous trade opportunities, which are like an Oriental sword — two sided. By menacing her own relations with Japan and by assuming a more-than-friendly-neighbor status with India, Russia seeks to deal a blow to our prestige and our plans, and, at the same time, she can but clip the wings of Red China.

War Would Help Russia

It becomes increasingly clear that Russia does not want a Peking-dominated Red empire in Asia. If there is anything that Moscow can do to promote it, she would like Red China and the United States to go to war over Quomo, the Mufas or Formosa. Such a war could only benefit the spectator; the participants would, obviously, be weakened.

That is why President Eisenhower has been prompt to squelch those in his entourage, including high naval officers, who have been rattling the sword.

Those Americans who favor a preventive war base their case on the argument that Communist China is the most expansionist power in the world today; that this expansionism will be a rising threat to the national security of the United States; that the threat might very soon be as great as the one which Japan constituted on the day of Pearl Harbor; and that the only prudent course for the United States is to do with this danger what Sir Winston Churchill proposed to do with Russian bolshevism in 1917, "strangle it in its cradle."

Sino-Jap Threat

This is a persuasive argument, all the more persuasive when it is considered that China and Japan exert a powerful magnetic attraction upon each other and that a union of the two brought about by China now would be just as undesirable from the United States point of view as the union of the two which Japan was trying to put together in 1941.

After all, it was the threat of a completed conquest of China in 1941 which provided the under-

Mongolia. There is no other available space for these teeming millions of China.

Pressure On Russia

There is already much reason to believe that the Soviet Union feels this pressure from the new China, and has at one and the same time made concessions to it and taken steps to try to restrain it.

The concessions were in the new Soviet-Chinese treaty of October under which Moscow re-admitted paramount Chinese influence to Manchuria, Inner Mongolia, and Sinkiang. The most clearly detectable counter-measure was the assertion of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov in his February 8 speech of improving relations between his country and India.

This assertion took the Communists of Andhra Province by surprise, destroyed their chance of winning the Andhra election, and caused them to issue a subsequent confession of "error." It was another clear case of Moscow foreign policy-taking precedence over local Communist influence. Add that Moscow has initiated a resumption of diplomatic relations with Japan.

To Curb Peking

We are justified in concluding that Moscow does not regard with joy Communist successes in Asia which could end in a Chinese-dominated Asia. Certainly any improvement in relations between Moscow and New Delhi and Moscow and Tokyo would be at the ultimate expense of the larger dreams of Peking.

In view of all this, the possibility should at least be thoroughly explored that Moscow is the capital which would most benefit from a United States war with China.

From Moscow's point of view, a restored Japan the immediate, and Communist China the long-term danger.

What could be better for Moscow than a war which would pit two of these three dangers against each other while the Soviet Union remained outside the conflict?

In 1942, Moscow left it to the United States to handle the destruction of the sea power of Japan. Today, Moscow probably would be delighted to have the United States break the new land power of China, because what Washington does not do to China now, Moscow almost certainly will be forced to try to do tomorrow because the ultimate threat of Chinese expansionism to the Soviet Union is, in this "One Man's Opinion", greater than the United States.

Limit School to Necessities

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

I am sure that there are very few people in the Town of Belleville who will disagree with the Board of Education that our educational facilities must be expanded. I am also sure that any expansion will add to our excessive tax burden and therefore should be limited to necessities, and not extend to luxuries.

The proposed new high school is an educator's Utopia, bordering on fantasy. Nothing is left out that could possibly be added under the so-called "broadening experience" curriculum.

The curriculum is a structure all its own, a monstrous bulge of the Hollywood style, used by the student body only on very special occasions and on commencement exercises twice a year. This same building will also house facilities for instrumental and vocal institutions. The percentage of students benefitting by the above instructions is entirely too limited to warrant the extensive expenditures involved. Since the gym can accommodate 1,500 people, let us dispense with this building in its entirety and on special occasions and commencement exercises use the gymnasium.

As to industrial, arts facilities, such as the automotive, general electric and welding shops — they are too close to vocational training and belong properly into a vocational school. You cannot train a girl in a home economics classroom to be a dress designer or a chef, nor can you make carpenters or mechanics in the limited training period available.

Economics of this sort and many more could be possible if our Board of Education would stop being covered by the expression of our educators. "Nothing is too good for our children." Let's face it. Our children will still be paying for this school thirty years from now! Belleville requires expanded school facilities, but not the luxurious and imposing monster created by Schmidlin and endorsed by Thomas as a monument to their vanity!

LETTERS To The Editor

It was with great disbelief and genuine disgust that I listened to the weak arguments presented by Mayor Padula in a prepared statement in opposition to the school referendum.

It was incredible to me that this man, whom I have respected and supported, could be so ill-advised and resort to "red herring" tactics.

It has been fashionable for many years for our state politicians and even those on some local levels to trade votes for our support that they are opposed to all new taxes.

Important public improvements and services are sacrificed on the altar of political expediency. It is with alarm that I, as a father and a taxpayer, view this tendency creeping into Belleville's governmental system.

Are our children's futures to be sacrificed so that local politicians can boast that they opposed any increase in our tax rate?

The really important things of life frequently require sacrifice—the sacrifice often is in the form of dollars and cents.

I can't think of many things more important or worthy of sacrifice than a good adequate education system for our children. America's future lies in them.

"Red Herring"
Mayor Padula's statements condemning the site chosen for the new high school because of its unsightly topography and urging of further delay until a "bomb shelter" is added to the plans are positive examples of "red herring" tactics.

The devious reasoning behind this stand is very obvious particularly because of the support given it by two local gentlemen with very obvious political ambitions. Do they think Belleville voters are blind?

I, for one, urge all Belleville voters who are willing for a small sacrifice of "monies a day" to give our children better educational facilities to vote "yes" on Tuesday, April 26.

Vocational Training Lacking
The article on Vocational Training in our High School as presented in the Belleville Times for April 2, 1955, when compared with the article on Budding Scientists which appeared in the magazine section of the Newark News April 3, 1955, shows Belleville High School in a very poor light indeed.

The Second Annual Science Fair at Newark College of Engineering (April 15 and 16) has exhibits of the work of High School students from six New Jersey Counties, including Essex. Needless to say, Belleville High School has no exhibit at the Fair.

The physical facilities in a modern way. In fact, the science faculty hasn't even told the students that there is a fair.

We have our share of intelligent students and we have a faculty fully capable of arousing their intellectual curiosity. Not to make use of this potential is criminal negligence. It is shameful to think of the economic waste we have suffered in the last 20 years due to sending our boys and girls out into the world only half prepared.

A loss in earnings of $5 per year per pupil is surely large enough to attribute to the neglect of our schools. On this basis the money lost by our graduates over the last 20 years is sufficient to have rebuilt our entire school system.

You wouldn't send your son into the prize ring wearing a pair of handkerchiefs just because the Town Commission wanted it that way would you?

On Architect's Fee

Editor, Belleville Times-News:
Had not the stigma of conducting "Loose and unbusinesslike practices" been leveled at some of the Board of Education members by the Essex County Grand Jury, perhaps little question would be raised concerning the contract terms negotiated by the Board and the architect, Emil Schmidlin.

Mr. Schmidlin is a renowned architect, much sought in school construction, his fees it must be assumed are commensurate with his talents. One must expect to pay appropriate compensation for his services. It is understood he will be paid $10,000 for his drawing of the plans of the proposed high school, whether approved by the voters, or not.

It is upon the conditions which afford a percentage basis method of fixing his service charges on the overall construction cost of the building, in the dubious event it obtains voter approval, that raises objections and provokes doubts as to the capacity and business acumen of the Board of Education body which negotiated such terms.

Says 36 Tax Points
The architect's fees contingent upon construction of the proposed high school, will aggregate $40,000, alone, the equivalent to 36 tax points. Under the conditions of the contract approved by the school board body which projected this "dream school" the higher the costs of construction soared, the greater, proportionally, become the fees of the architect.

It seems imprudent, since it would seem to encourage extravagance and needless baffle.

It is difficult to understand the cost disparity between the actual drawing of the plans, which have been submitted and approved by the proper educational authorities of the State, and the fee to be paid for the architect's service if the school is built.

School were constructed.

All of the foregoing tend to occasion further doubt as to the providence and sound business judgement exercised by the school board, at the time entirely appointed, which authorized such a project and the proposed new high school project in collaboration with a lay committee appointed by itself.

James R. Golden,
62 Tappan Avenue

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

I am enclosing herewith a copy of a letter which our Executive Board sent to the Town Commissioners. We are hoping that you will find room for it in your next issue's Letters to the Editor.

Thanking you for your kindness in printing all of our notices.

The Executive Board of the P.T.A. of School No. 3 wishes to know that we resent very much the attitude displayed by you regarding the high school referendum.

In November of last year the voters of Belleville indicated by a large majority that they chose to have an elected Board of Education, thus keeping politics out of education.

Your attitude as expressed in the Newark Evening News article of the fall of 1963, in consideration for the youngsters of our town. Making a political football out of an issue so vital to the future of our community and the suggestion that one man is trying to build up his own reputation as the best educated for our children and he would be remiss in his duties if he didn't anticipate the future educational needs and plan for them.

This entire project has been planned with the advice of experts in all fields involved and the members of the Town Commission have been informed all the way so that they can give their opinion on the project when they are asked to do so. Why at this late date have you seen fit to make a public statement opposing the building of the new high school?

It is quite apparent that each of you is more concerned with your own political future than in the welfare of the children of our community and their educational futures.

Executive Board,
No. 3, P.T.A.
Elsie Skinner, Secretary

Says Traffic Group "Goofed!"

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

I wish to call to the attention of all the citizens in the Town of Belleville that the Citizens Committee on Traffic has come forth with recommendations which in their opinion is probably earth-shaking news.

They wish their recommendation to be adopted into ordinance. If the members of this committee feel that after a long study of the situation they find that these very minor problems are the cause of the traffic hazard in Silver Lake they are very mistaken.

Let's be honest with each other. This committee has failed when they could have been useful. Their recommendations are stupid as well as minor.

On Stop Signs

We have many stop signs in Belleville not backed by ordinance. Is this the reason why the police do not give tickets to people going through the sign? Is it not a fact that the police know that they do not have authority to ticket these people for the lack of an ordinance to back up their actions?

Does the committee not feel that the greatest cause for endangering life and also creating a traffic hazard is the miserable antiquated grade-crossings in town?

Does the committee know that we have ordinances for several of their so-called recommendations?

Question Usefulness

I personally will go on record as challenging this committee on the usefulness of their recommendations in view of the fact that we have many more important problems which have to be taken into consideration.

If the committee wishes to accept my challenge, which I am positive that they will not, I will welcome this opportunity at any time, place or day of the committee's choosing.

Yes sir, this Citizens Advisory Committee on Traffic, a very impressive title, "goofed!"
