

Two Towns Seek Boathouse For Schoolboy Crews

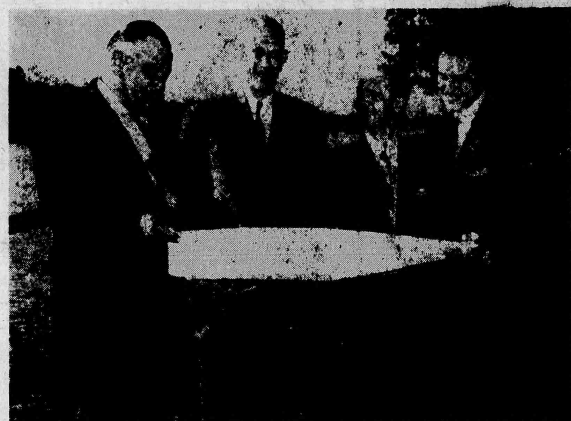

Will Ask County Park Board
To Build Shelter For High Schools' Shells

Nutley and Belleville town and school authorities, backed by Freeholders Bernard Rabinowitz, Nutley Democrat, and Elwood Russell, Belleville Republican, are pooling their interests and will ask the Essex County Park Commission to build a club house and launching dock, for the use of the rowing crews of the two high schools, in the county park along the Passaic River at a point near to the dividing line between the two towns.

To Act Jointly
Commissioners Elmer Hyde, of Belleville, and A. T. DeMarco, of Nutley, who head the department of parks and recreation in the two towns, studied plans for the clubhouse and its site on a green area at the foot of Little Street with the two Freeholders Monday. They readily agreed to press the county board for the club as a joint venture.

The county will be asked to provide a low building with dressing rooms, storage facilities for the school shells and a launching dock. A building is planned with an open, covered deck which would serve as a stand for judges. The clubhouse would be located at the end of

Change Due In Big Brass

Commissioner Harry Sullivan has selected the appointed Scott on a temporary basis but wants a ready list of eligibles to fill when Scott becomes eligible for retirement in 1957.

Four sergeants are competing for two lieutenantcies.

In the fire department, seven firemen are competing for two deputy chief's posts, coming about through the deaths of Chief William Dunleavy and Deputy Chief William Gilchrist.

It will be up to Sullivan to appoint after the exams are checked by Civil Service.

The Army's on the march here in Belleville . . . from the town hall to the Sugar Bowl.

The Town Commission this week approved a request from the Infantry to move its recruiting sign from in front of town hall to the Washington Avenue intersection.

It seems that Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde asked the Recruiting Service to move its poster from the front of the town hall. "We're trying to make something out of this building," he said, commenting on the painting program. He said also that the war was over.

The Town Hall was the place for such a poster, in the opinion of the sign.

"Two or three people have fallen over the sign," said Hyde.

Padula said he knew nothing of the matter until he received a letter only Wednesday morning, stating, in part, "As requested, we

The mayor commented that he wanted to make it clear it wasn't his request, and as far as he was concerned, the front of town hall was the place for such a poster.

The letter was from Lt. Colonel F. R. Purcell, Infantry Commanding and continued, in a sort of a polite but firm manner:

"Publicize Your Army"

"In order for the Army Recruiting Service to accomplish its important mission, it is necessary for us to publicize your Army. We therefore respectfully request that authority be granted to place this sign on the sidewalk in front of your town hall."

"At this time, I want you to know that the Army is anxious, to a great extent, from the patriotic support we receive from responsible city leaders like yourself, and the fine community over which you preside."

Commission Decision Come As Surprise In Light Of Assurances Given Board Of Education Two Weeks Ago - Padula Votes No, Says Cohorts Pass Buck

Whether or not the town commission should deed land on the west side of the stadium, will be placed on the ballot as a special question in next month's general election.

This is what the Town Commission decided at its regular meeting this week, by a 4-1 vote. Mayor Isadore Padula voted no.

Vote Which Had Tense Moments

Here is the way the final action went leading to the Commission's voting 4-1 this week a resolution to put the question of transferring land on the west side of the stadium, on to the board of education.

Sullivan moved that the attorney draw a resolution to put the question of transfer on the general election ballot.

King commented that the question was resolving itself into a free-for-all and added that three members would be elected to the board in February.

King said the question might not bring out as big a vote on the general as one might think.

Sullivan commented that last week we agreed to turn the property over based on the referendum. He said people, in November, be voting on a blind package.

Padula stated flatly he was voting against Sullivan's motion. He stated there were legal complications, that he would do nothing to prevent the board from building the new school and "we don't have to pass the buck."

The roll call had four of the commissioners voting to put the question on the November ballot, with Padula voting no.

Ernest Arvidson congratulated the Mayor for his stand.

NEW HIGHLIGHTS, DEVELOPMENTS IN SCHOOL STORY

There are the latest highlights and developments in the school picture in Belleville.

1. The Commission by a 4-1 vote decided this week to put a question concerning solely the town land (that the board wants for a school) on the general election ballot in November.

2. The arguments on the proposition in a definite spot this week between Mayor Isadore Padula and Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde.

3. Hyde questioned Board Attorney Max Schwartz's contention that everybody on the commission was passing a word with the statement; "I'm not so sure we need a new high school."

4. Mayor Padula accused commissioners of passing the buck, stated it was a school problem, and that a school question, despite the wording on a general election ballot, could be judged illegal.

5. Only Commissioner Elmer Hyde openly voiced his dissatisfaction, plainly stating that he was against a school on the site because the board might as well build a building at it was only three blocks away.

Thought Way Clear

Schwartz, keeping a tongue-in-cheek attitude toward a King's suggestion, got opinions, (necessary to a school referendum) from the board, and the board could go ahead with its proposal, if it had assurances from town commissioners.

6. Hyde then sent a letter through Mrs. Edward Rochau, board president, thanking the commissioners for their plan of co-operation in agreeing to give to the board, town-owned property on the stadium.

7. People of Belleville at a referendum approve the cost of a proposed school nearby on the site.

8. On the basis of this assurance, "The Board," Rochau wrote, "the board," Hyde wrote, "the board," matter to referendum as quickly as possible."

9. In another letter sent through Board Secretary Business Manager Ruel Daniels, the board asked confirmation of the assurance, and the deputy attorney general, who was given by the Board of Commissioners to the Board of Education at the meeting September 27.

10. We are advised by the bonding attorneys, and the deputy attorney general, that the matter may proceed to the referendum on the basis of such assurances. . . . However it is suggested that the board, the people of Belleville and the deputy attorney general, that your decision of September 27 be formalized by a formal resolution."

Golden's One-Man Campaign

However such was not to be in the two weeks between meetings, a recommendation to put the referendum on the general ballot, was urged in letters sent to every commissioner by James R. Golden, defeated Commissioner, and an independent candidate for state senate.

Golden, who has constantly urged the school be built in Washington Avenue, at the present address, and letters to every commissioner, urging the transfer of land, as such, put on the November ballot.

He said the one-man campaign he bombarded daily and weekly newspapers with letters and comments.

Golden argued that the Commissioners had not taken a formal vote on the assurance, and that the board of education, and that a vote of the people in favor of the school was not binding upon the commissioners.

He urged the Commissioners to take a general election ballot because it was much more expressive of true public sentiment.

Meeting Speeches

The Senate Candidate carried the argument for a two-hour school week in the week of education Monday night and the town commission Tuesday.

He said that the people already had expressed disapproval of the school, and that the school board elections were regulated in favor of the board; that taxpayers will be faced with a school week in the school were built; and that the commissioners would be taken

FOUR MEN ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS
When a young man starts out in business and probably to make a home in the community, he would do well to establish relations with a lawyer, a doctor, a minister of your faith and a banker. These four professions hold the threads to successful living in the various areas of life, and they represent services he is sure, at sometime or other, to need personally.
For your bank, consider the Peoples National Bank and Trust Company which serves Belleville. It has grown with this community and has helped it to grow.

September Parting

So soon, so suddenly, September stands
Again upon the year's blue borderline,
Still holding fast to summer's warm brown hands,
Still dazzled by the shimmer and the shine.
September leans upon the vine-wreathed gate,
And lingers in the amber stubble rows
As one, departing, stops to contemplate
A loved and lovely scene before he goes.
September keeps a final rendezvous,
Subdued but not quite sad; such mellow days
As these will come again, in dress spun new,
But with the same familiar winsome ways.
Farewell has less of sorrow, more of sweet,
When summer and September part to meet.

Government By Referendum

It looks like Belleville will have its own share of the ballot, locally, in the general election in November. On the ballot will be the question, as ordered put by the Town Commission this week whether the voters approve the deeding of town-owned land from the Town Commission to the Board of Education as the site for the newly-proposed high school.

The Commission decision came as a blow to the Board of Education, which, two weeks ago, derived the impression that the commissioners might permit the board to conduct its own referendum. Now the people must approve the question in the general election, even though it is a blind package, with no amounts or facts listed, to permit the board of education to hold still another referendum on the school financing itself.
In other words people in favor of a new high school here must go to the polls in two separate elections if they want to approve it.

There are many serious issues involved in this turn of events.

One Man's Opinion

Unhappily, No One Can Replace Eisenhower As
The Architect Of United Action Which Has Contained Communism

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

The coronary thrombosis which struck President Eisenhower low at his "summer White House" has already slowed down the pulse of the world. More than any other one man in today's world, President Eisenhower held in his own hands the instruments of peace or of war. Long incapacity to work or even a decision that he cannot or will not accept nomination to succeed himself next year can only upset the delicate balance of world affairs which, for the moment, are under his personal control.

No American could replace him in the Presidency and carry the same prestige, the same comforting and couragebuilding qualities which gave confidence to a free world that was, only two years ago, challenged by the forces of disorder and at war with Communism in Korea and in Indochina.

By the force of his personal prestige and the strength his record instills, he brought West Germany out of the shadows. He gave courage to the Greeks, the French and the many other free peoples who stood firm because he gave them his leadership. He gave comfort even to the British who knew that no
Eisenhower policy ever carried within it the germ of war.

Germany Is Crucial
It is unfortunate that the problem of Germany was only half solved when President Eisenhower was stricken. In this "One Man's Opinion" peace or war during the next decade depends chiefly by on Germany. A united Germany can be a bulwark for peace;
a divided Germany can only create the political, moral and military vacuum which breeds war.

With another Geneva meeting of the Foreign Ministers coming up in October, we will have a prompt opportunity to ascertain just what effect the incapacity of President Eisenhower will have on that delicate balance of world relations.

Washington sought, quickly, to give the impression that although the President acts the policies it is a team of free men, comprising the cabinet and defense and state departments, who really enact them. That is not altogether true.

Eisenhower's Personal Role
It was Eisenhower, personally, who flew to Korea to see for himself, before he became President, that the end to the fighting. It was Eisenhower, personally, too, who went to Geneva and drew a definite interest in the coming Foreign Secretary's negotiations to help. The influence of Eisenhower, personally, on the present status of world relations has been positive and terrific.

When Eisenhower, the five-star general, flew to Korea he was still a soldier, just as he had been when he freed France and crushed the Nazi Germans in Western Europe. Then he was the real architect of our military victory.

Now it is in an entirely different light that the world sees him.
The military man has become above all the man of peace.
It is Eisenhower the imaginative proponent of better ways in which to live, of reasonable accommoabove Molotov and the others.

Devoles Of Revolution
And we know that unless we can breed whistling shrimp we cannot, in the foreseeable future, count on anything but Communist Russia dedicated to provoking world revolution.

There is constant need of direct supervision of our foreign policy. World affairs are far from static; the need, therefore, is for a basic policy but with very fluid application to events.

Since Geneva there have been plenty of troubles which Eisenhower could not have foreseen at that meeting. The troubles France faces with her Arab protesters and departments in North Africa; Japan's ardent desire to reopen trade with Red China and to establish diplomatic relations with Red Russia and the red-hot Cyprus crisis are all new since Geneva.

Greco Crows Angry

It should be clear to everyone that there could be real trouble ahead over Cyprus. Reports from Athens say a majority of Greeks now favor withdrawal from NATO. The United States vote against United Nations Association's plan to prevent the debate of the Cyprus issue violates the whole tenor of United States best thinking.

What happened is clear. Washington agreed to support Britain on Cyprus if Britain would support the United States on preventing Communist China's entry into the United Nations. The damage done by this deal, however, could be double. The longer the United States prevents Communist China's entry into the UN the longer could be the link upon which Washington eventually may find itself.

Moscow, having patched many things up with the West, has now turned to the task of normaliz-ing relations with Japan in the East and, in the absence of President Eisenhower, that problem has become a major headache for the Department on pins and needles.

Hirting With Tokyo

There is a delegation of 37 members of the Japanese Diet now in Moscow and one of them has sent back word to Tokyo that Moscow is ready to release Japanese "war criminals" and to return to Japanese sovereignty the islands of Habomai and Shikotan, off the northern tip of Japan, just as soon as a peace treaty has been signed. All that would involve the neutralizing of Japan and its abandonment of its defensive alliance with us.

Concerned over its inability to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on terms for a peace treaty, the Japanese Government now is considering seriously a plan to restore normal relations immediately and then negotiate later on specific issues.

That is the prevailing mood in top government circles as the Japanese negotiator at the London treaty talks, Ambassador Shunichi Matsunaga, leaves this week to Tokyo for further briefing.

It also appears to be the Soviet view as expressed by Khrushchev in a speech September 12, in which he indicated the U.S.S.R. would like first to conclude a formal treaty and then take up separate items of contention.

Soviets Stand Firm

The situation, as it stands at this moment, is that after four months of negotiation in London between Mr. Matsunaga and Soviet delegate Jacob Malik, a treaty bringing an end to nearly a decade of technical war is, in principle, within grasp. The negotiations have been overcast by cordial. But the Soviet side has refused to give in on major points at issue. And the Japanese side, somewhat fettered by public opinion at home, has been unable to abandon some of its own claims.

Whether or not the Japanese Government will make any move toward normalizing relations with Japan, the fact remains that the Japanese were more than a little startled by the stiff price which Moscow has put upon the signing of a peace treaty.

It probably came as no great surprise to realistic Japanese Foreign Office experts that Moscow had no intention of giving up its claims to the Kuriles and Southern Sakhalin which were given to her at Potsdam for coming into the war against Japan.

But there had been a strong feeling that the Soviet Union, after the atmosphere established at the Geneva summit conferences, would be willing to make at least one liberal gesture in releasing Japanese war prisoners.

Dealing In Humans

Moscow's refusal to recognize Japan's estimate of some 11,000 prisoners still held in Soviet territory, plus its apparent desire to use the prisoner issue as a major bargaining point, has therefore made a poor impression on the Japanese people as well as the negotiating staff.

What caused the greatest consternation, however, was the Soviet demand that three major ocean strits around Japan—Soya, Pashima, and Tsugura—be restricted to vessels belonging to the countries bordering the Sea of Japan.

This would mean that commercial and naval vessels belonging only to Japan, the Soviet Union and Communist China could make use of the three major outlets to the Sea of Japan. And conversely, the United States Navy which maintains major base establishments in Japan, would be denied use of these seaways.

The Russians, in other words, were calling upon Japan to resounce, in effect, the terms of the United States-Japanese Mutual
Security agreement.

And, as interpreted here, Moscow was calling upon Japan to adopt a neutral policy as contrasted with its present close military cooperation with the United States and the other Western Allies.

Support Varsity Club, Buy Football Programs!

Something new will be added when Belleville High School takes on Bloomfield tomorrow afternoon in the first of five home football games at Municipal Stadium. For the first time the Varsity Club is putting out the football program and from what I hear it will be a beauty. It will be the biggest and best ever sold at a Belleville home game. Headed by club president Art Leadbeater and program chairman Al Lucallo, the Varsity Club has put together a neat-looking 24-page booklet.

The program committee has been hard at work for the last two months drawing up plans for the booklet and then going out and getting ads to pay the freight. Highlight of the program will be individual photographs of different players which will appear every week along with the team rosters. Eight pictures will appear in each issue.

Also included in the 24-page booklet are pictures of the Blue and Gold varsity squad, a photo of the Bellboy coaching staff which includes Ed Berinski, Ray Smith and "Jitty" Wische, and shots of the band, twirlers and cheerleaders. Appearing in the center-fold along with the pictures of the players will be a pre-game write-up telling about the different rivalries and how the teams have been doing to date.

As the result of taking over the football program, the Varsity Club is expanding its operations and will honor more athletes graduating from Belleville High School starting this year. With the expected increase in revenue the sports minded organization will hold its usual football banquet but will eliminate the annual basketball banquet in order to hold an all-sports dinner near the end of the school year in June.

By holding an all-sports banquet the Varsity Club will be able to honor the crew, baseball and track squads, something that was never done in past years.

Remember, when you enter Municipal Stadium tomorrow, don't forget to purchase a Varsity Club football program. All the proceeds raised from the program goes towards honoring athletes of Belleville High School.

Kintzing Directs "Rec" Grid Program

Last week's edition of the Belleville Times-News carried a picture of the Belleville Recreation Departments new activity, Little League Football. Harold "Bud" Brand of the Rec Department calls attention to the fact that William "Lefty" Kintzing is the director of the League. "Lefty" is doing a terrific job aided by many former Belleville High football greats, among whom are Ed O'Neil, Ted Del Guercio, Fred McQuiken, John Byrne, Ed Hollweg, Dawson Bloom, Dick Sutton, Francis Donnelly, Vin Sorrentino and Pete Latore.

Brand also reports that Kintzing would welcome additional help to insure individual attention to every boy wherever possible. Men interested in this worthwhile project could report to "Lefty" and his assistants at Municipal Stadium tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Crystal Gazing

I should quit while I'm ahead. Maybe the crystal ball comes up with better predictions when it's a little dusty. Getting a bit lucky, I called eight games right with only Seton Hall faling the opening day selections. The Pony Pirates defeated Bloomfield 6-0, as they struck through the air. That dusty crystal ball was pretty good to me last week. There are plenty of good games on tap for Saturday. Let's see what happens now that it is sparkling. Here goes with the rundown of the top games to be played in, and around Essex County.

Nutley to get by Orange. The Maroon Raiders won their opener in easy fashion against Central. Coach Sandy Phillips' strong forward wall halt the Tornadoe attack. Nutley will win No. 2 and then prepare for a rugged encounter against star-studded Belleville High the following week.

Belleville to trim Bloomfield. The Bellboys showed they have what it takes when they scalped the Panthers from East Orange in a thrilling opening game, 20-14. Belleville is looking to go all the way this year and can do it if they display the brand of ball played last Saturday. Against Bloomfield it will be two down, only six to go. Belleville will enter the game a 13-point favorite.

Barringer to blank Central. The High Streeters showed little against Nutley in the opener. Saturday will afford Barringer to get a City League victory under their belts.

West Orange to handle Clifford Scott. Against little Glen Ridge, Scott had their hands full as it just managed to come out on top with a hard earned 7-6 victory. The Scotties will find the competition just as bit tougher when they travel to nearby West Orange.

Seton Hall to sink East Side. The Pony Pirates are off and winging. They will be hard to stop especially through the air. East Side will do well in the City League but outside of the Newark line it will experience trouble with the suburban schools.

Montclair to swamp Irvington. Coach Clara Anderson's boys will be on the roll when they meet Irvington. The superior passing attack will be much too much for the Camp-towners to cope with.

Linden to triumph over Weequahic. The Union County aggregation packs too much of a wallop for the Indians. This one shouldn't be too close as Linden wins No. 2.

Bloomfield to halt Calumet. Plained promises to be Union County's best. They rolled to a 35-7 cake-walk over Barringer last week and will keep on the move against the Cougars this week.

Kearny to edge Garfield. This shapes up as a rough 'em up fracas as Cardinal coach Art Argauer returns to his old stamping grounds. Kearny was supposed to be weakened by injuries but looked good in a 37-0 route of Paterson East-side. Garfield also showed that it knows how to play winning ball when it swamped Lodi, 27-7. This one promises to go right down to the wire with neither team expected to give an inch. Kearny to come out on top by the narrowest of margins.

Belleville Takes On Bloomfield Tomorrow At Stadium

High School Team Shows Power In Beating East Orang, 20-14; Puleo - to - Hange Pass Is Clincher

By Tom Cullen

Bellevilleites can get a first-hand look at the home high school team tomorrow when the Blue and Gold plays its first game here this season.

Belleville high takes on Bloomfield at the Municipal Stadium tomorrow afternoon at 2 P.M.

From this corner it looks like Belleville by three touch downs.

The Blue and Gold opened the season with a hard-fought win over East Orange last Saturday.

Belleville takes on the tough club in the opener each season, jumping into the season with both feet, rather than easing into it against a soft touch in the first game.

Large, defensive, and offensive prowess of Bob Paganelli, Puleo to Hange pass combinations and a top-conditioned team which took the measure of East Orange last Saturday.

This and of course the superb coaching of Eddie Berinski and Jitty Wische.

The 5,000 who came out, despite the bad weather, witnessed sensational play by both teams including an 85-yard kick-off return by East Orange's Sedon Chiles.

Conditioning Pays

Each time the Blue and Gold scored, East Orange would come back to knot the count. In the final quarter, however, it was Belleville's greater lasting power due to the squads tough drilling program, which proved the difference.

Belleville won the game because of the ability of the team to control the ball. Belleville held on to the pigskin almost all of the time.

Eddie Berinski's boys scored the second time they got the ball...after Bob Castelli, end, returned a fumble by the Panthers 34-yard strike, sprung loose by Layne's Block Buster.

Jim Apple then skirted right end for 14 yards to the Panthers' 34-yard stripe, sprung loose by Layne's block on a couple of East Orange men.

Four plays later and a penalty. Apple faded back and threw a pass to Joe Brown, who got his hands on the ball by leaping between two Panther defenders, and held on to put Belleville within striking distance.

Apple then plunged over for the score and Paganelli ripped the Panther line for the extra point.

Speedy Return

East Orange came back within seconds. The crowd brought a screaming to its feet as Chiles took the kick-off on the 15, and tipped up the field for the Panthers' 34-yard strike. Not a single hand touched him as he raced straight away. East Orange placed-kicked the extra point.

Late in the second period, Hange picked off a Panther Pass and ran it back to the East Orange 39.

Puleo, mixing his plays, guided the Blue and Gold to the one, where Paganelli came through on a handoff from Puleo for Belleville's second score. Apple kicked the extra point, and it was Belleville 14, East Orange 7 at the half.

East Orange came back after the half to tie it at 14-14. After the kick-off, the Panthers marched 64 yards, mainly on the ground, hitting the right side of the Blue and Gold line.

Charley Brown was the big man in the drive, carrying the ball for 48 of the 64 yards. Brown ripped right end for the score, and Huguemlin booted the extra point.

Break Panthers Back

In the fourth quarter, Puleo's substitute, Harry Glas, who would have played had Puleo's sore shoulder not recovered suf-

Letters To The Editor

Reader Writes Commissioners Play Coy; Another Urges School Defeat; Other Letters

On Election Decision
Editor, Belleville Times-News:

Although by law the Town Commissioners are prohibited from interfering in school affairs, they in their wisdom have voted to place the request of the Board of Education for a town owned school site on the ballot at the General Election on Nov. 8 this year. This might be a good idea if, by the time the election comes, the people could assure the Board of Education unimpeded title to the land in question. However, this is not so. The State lawmakers in their wisdom have said such referendums are merely an expression of the trend of public opinion and are not legally binding.

In other words, if the referendum is defeated the commission will say "We are in favor of education but our hands are tied. We have a mandate from the people to keep the land." If the referendum passes, the Commission will say "The election must have been rigged. We think it is best for Belleville to keep the land in spite of the Vote." There is nothing you and I can do about it except elect a new Commission two years hence.

The Town Fathers have given the Board of Education a most unattractive choice: Either to be shot quietly, at once, or wait until morning and have a band playing when they face the firing squad.

Allen G. Love
154 Smallwood Ave.

Urges School Defeat
Editor, Belleville Times-News:

I sincerely urge the defeat of the new high school at a cost of three million, six hundred thousand dollars, which will increase the tax rate 150 points to $8.52 per hundred. How much higher taxes can we take?

Husband and wife must work together now to keep their heads above water. People are selling their homes and moving out of Belleville because of this monstrous tax rate.

The high school question was already decided upon on the machine, long ago. The people do not want the new high school at that price, and their decision must be upheld.

If the new high school question must go on the machines again, why not put the repairs on the machine, too. All but one of the Board of Education are appointed. They should all have been forced to resign, and the question of the high school should not be placed on the machine until we have an all elected board. I am against the new high school. I am against the cost, which is way out of line with schools built in other communities.

I am also against the methods used by the Board of Education. These facts cannot be camouflaged. An estimate of two million, one hundred thousand dollars has been proposed for a 40 room high school by the Board of Education of Piscataway Township. It will accommodate 1,000 students. It will include a gym, auditorium, laboratories, shop and offices. That price includes the rising cost of labor, materials and landscaping. The architect is J.A. Richard.

Wayne Township has built a new senior high school, with 29 classrooms at a cost of one million, five hundred thousand dollars. East Paterson is building a junior high school at a cost of two million, two hundred and twenty five thousand dollars. Why must Belleville pay three million, six hundred thousand. Why must the plans of one architect be accepted?

East Paterson had nine architects interviewed. If this new high school is railroaded down the throats of the people, then the Board of Education is responsible for striking the taxpayers and the tenants in the back with the heaviest tax burden in Belleville's history.

The landlord will be forced to raise the rent of the tenant. Vote against the new high school and protect your property and pocketbook.

On Court Justice
Editor, Belleville Times-News:

Sometimes trying to prove yourself innocent just doesn't work. Take for example the case of a close friend of mine. On September 6, about 7:25 A.M., he was going to work taking the usual route; keeping the normal speed of 25 m.p.h. when he saw a truck backing in and out of a driveway. As he approached the truck, it moved forward, causing him to speed up to avoid getting hit. After getting past the truck safely, he went over two tubes in the road, which timed and clocked his speed. He was given a ticket for driving 50 m.p.h. by two police officers about two blocks away. Two weeks later he appeared before the judge and pleaded his case. The judge was going to find him not guilty, when one of the police officers stepped up and said he didn't see a truck in the vicinity at that time; whereupon the judge told the young man to prove the truck was there at that time and day.

This sounded like an impossibility, but the young man took the location and spoke to families in the neighborhood and finally found the house where the truck had delivered coal that morning.

The woman could not appear in court, but in a letter stated the facts. The young man appeared before the judge, presented the letter and was told this was not enough evidence. He was found guilty and fined.

Homesick?

Editor, Belleville Times-News:
Guess it's rather late in the game to be asking you to put an announcement in the paper about my marriage. September 1 to John M. Davis, USN, but I lived in Belleville all of my 22 years and I am sure some people would be interested.

We were married in Las Vegas, and are now living in Corpus Christi, Tex. I miss Belleville very much, and never until now did I appreciate the location so much. No state I've been in the last few months can equal the Metropolitan area in anything. Especially radio and t.v. We have one whole channel here and they consider that a big deal. Hani I've seen all the shows before. And radio, it has lots of Mexican programs and lots of news, but I sure do miss the "Make Believe Hallroom" on Saturdays.

And the town didn't have rain for six months, but the day we got here it rained and lasted three days.

I hope the town can carry on without me—and I miss the familiar places.

Candidate Golden Writes
Editor, Belleville Times-News:
The desperate situation within Essex Republican ranks comes as no great surprise. The divisions, long in progress, from the original Clean Government principles of simple honesty and common decency made this dilemma inevitable.

My candidacy for the office of State Senator, having been occasioned by this realization, offers to the Republican voters of Essex the opportunity to vote for a Republican, other than the incumbent who has brought discredit to himself and dishonor to the party by his improvident conduct regarding night harness racing, water and now the deplorable spectacle of being fulsomely praised by a Hudson Senator for participation in a movement designed to take the discredited I.L.A. off the hook.

A requirement of good citizenship is exercise of one's franchise to vote. Suburban Republicans of Essex are good citizens. They still may vote for a Republican state senatorial candidate, despite their distaste for Senator Antos's candidacy, by casting their ballot for me. Records indisputably establish my Republicanism. Support of my candidacy in this manner offers no comfort to the Democratic party bosses, while simultaneously paving the way for early restoration of the high principles which formerly characterized the basic ideals of Clean Government Republicanism in Essex County.

In no manner will support of my candidacy compromise the position of the other Republican candidates on the ticket. Let us vote to install the truly clean government that good government offers.
