Better Schools Committee Answers Zink's Comments; Claims Referendum Outcome Was Warped Politically

The Better Schools Committee this week in a statement claimed that the results on the school transfer question were political.

"When both great political parties have workers at the polls urging voters to turn down a transfer of town owned property for the possible use of a new high school, it is a sorry state of affairs indeed," the Committee said.

At the same time the Committee replied to certain points made by Homer Zink last week in a letter to the editor.

The Committee said:

"The politicians question the practicality and economic soundness of the conclusions on school expansion arrived at by the Board, after a long and careful study. They make counter proposals.

"They wish to disregard the Columbia Survey which was not decided upon by the present board, but by a previous Board, which Mr. Ralph Allaire was president and Mrs. Homer Zink vice president. Mr. Allaire said at the time that if the Board was going to improve the schools it wanted expert advice on the best way to do it."

In its comments on Zink's letter, the Committee said:

"The Board is generally conceded that the number of pupils in a junior high these additional would not be necessary."

Mr. Zink says this includes the present high school, whether used as such or converted into a junior high. We believe this is a poor state for a high school because of location and size. To make this building large enough for a four-year high school for the ever-increasing numbers of pupils, would mean not only additional classrooms but also new or larger labs, science, drawing, music, and gymnasium.

"As a junior high the present building could be used adequately as is."

The Committee stated that it would not be in putting the good of the pupils above all else.

However, the Committee said:

SMITH AND GRECO EXCHANGE VIEWS ON ECONOMY

Commissioner's Claim Of Saving $12,000 Disputed; Says 'Dep't Never Exceeded $5,000'

The Greco-Smith argument on the firing of former building inspector Thomas P. Greco, burst forth again this week.

Greco had charged at the Commission meeting last week that Plumbing Inspector Edward O'Connor, in Commissioner Joseph King's department, was making building inspections. So earlier this week Smith stated that Greco would make building inspections unless it was necessary, but backed up the plumbing inspector's work.

Under the down building code, he told the Newark News, in answer to questions, the building inspector, or a duly delegated subordinate could inspect building work.

Defends Practice

Smith was also quoted by the Newark News as defending the practice of borrowing men from one department for temporary duty in another. The practice, he said, is a common one in all departments, and often at substantial savings to taxpayers, "the Newark News quoted him.

Smith also reported that a saving of $12,000 had been effected by Greco's dismissal and assigning duties to other employees, who succeeded Matthew Sheehan as town engineer.

Today in a statement by Greco, the former building inspector, stated the claim of saving $12,000 was not substantiated, and that the building department's operating costs, including the inspector's salary never exceeded a $5,000 average. Revenues averaged $8,000 annually.

"As to the savings due to the unfortunate demise of the former building inspector, I would like to say this was more a matter of fact."

GRECO APPEALS HIS DISMISSAL

Former Building Inspector Carries Case To Superior Court, In Legal Fight

Thomas P. Greco this week carried his fight against his ouster as building inspector, to Superior Court.

It was another round in the battle begun here in March when Greco was fired from his $4,200 a year job for "economic" reasons.

The appeal, according to Jacob Faust, his lawyer, was based on the fact that Greco's dismissal was for "personal and political reasons and not for purposes of economy as alleged by Commissioner Smith."

The Civil Service after a hearing ruled that the fact consideration of Greco's dismissal was shown to have motivated the removal does not necessarily mean that Greco was fired by Smith two days after his job was transferred from Commissioner Joseph King's department.

His duties were given to Matthew Sheehan, town engineer, and Joseph King, town clerk.

FOUNDATION EYES PROPOSED PLANS FOR CLUBHOUSE

Would Benefit Boys And Girls; Group Has Contributed $233,000 For Various Causes

The Belleville Foundation this week took a measurement of its activities here since its inception in 1942, and announced it was keeping a weather eye on its proposal for a Boys and Girls Club.

Reviewing its findings, the philanthropic organization, made up largely of industrialists and business leaders, here, had made contributions of $233,000, and has assets of $236,200.

The financial picture was drawn by Joseph Cresley, treasurer, at the annual dinner Tuesday night.

The foundation this year contributed $129,500 to the Clara Mass Hospital $25,000 for the American Legion Memorial Hospital, $1,900 for Red Cross; $15,438 for scholarship loans, and sums for the dental clinic and Camp Rol.

In other activities Douglas Wadsworth and Rabbi Albert L.

Many Problems From Necessity Of Adapting Units To New Methods

The Nurse's room was formed by partitioning off a corner of the basement, also in the basement. All of the basement area felt damp and chill, decidedly unsuitable for rearing a sick child or tired teacher.

General Maintenance Good

General maintenance of the building was very good. Everything was in excellent condition. The stairs had been re-retired, new lighting and chalk boards installed in the most vital places. The modern movable furniture was being properly used. There are projectors for visual aids.

There are also small rooms for hobby shops with which the Principal hopes "to teach the sick child or tired teacher."

Shuffleboard Anyone?

Many in Town Government Lapping Up Knowledge And Sunshine In Pre-Paid Sojourn To Atlantic City

Those Belleville women who were considerably irked just about a year ago when Board of Education members turned in varied and assorted expenses for a three-day sojourn to an Atlantic City convention, can really get their gander up now.

But this time, it's not the Board but the Commission, and others representing Belleville Town... who this week lapped up knowledge and sunshine (not necessarily in that order) at the annual, three-day convention of the League of Municipalities.

And there won't be any publicity of expenses listed other than the Town Commission taking upon itself voting the expenses even before the trip was made.

Although no names were read, nor any resolutions adopted in the last meeting, a check-up of the town minutes brought this information out as listed in the fifth column, set to Atlantic City:

Henry Sullivan, $75; Eugene Henry, $10; Florence Mory, $100; Mayor Padula, $100; Russell Sarag, $100; A. S. Clark, $100; W. J. Friel, $100; Kenneth D. Smith, $200.

The checks were given out two days before the convention began, according to the treasurer's office.

Town Clerk Mrs. Mory said the names were not listed in resolutions, because it was a routine matter every year.

Other persons expected to attend the convention this year... at the taxpayer's expense, were reported to be Commissioner Joseph King, Rev. Peter Deekenbach, and Rev. John Hewitt, while there were Town Council members not immediately available.

S-D DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN TOWN

The first day of December will be observed here and throughout the nation as S-D Day or "Safe-Driving" day when all communities will do their best to go 24 hours without a traffic death.

When asked what each driver could do to help keep S-D Day accident free, Chief of Police George R. Spatz said, "The defensive driver acts as though he is always under attack. His enemies are careless motorists, careless pedestrians and unsafe traffic conditions. The defensive driver makes allowance for these highway culprits. He avoids accidents by anticipating and allowing for the hazards created by the mistakes of others and by the traffic and weather conditions."

Chief Spatz asked every driver here to check himself.

Waters House Robbery Still Remains Unsolved

"Hung Man" Goes Free In Strange Case After "Fat" Jury; Testifies He Participated In 1950 Commission Election

The strange case of the Patrick Waters house robbery was still on the books, unsolved, this week when a jury was unable to agree on a verdict for a man charged with the crime.

Thomas F. Barrett, 35, identified by three as the "fat man" in the robbery went free due to a "hung" jury, after a 5-day trial.

And out of the testimony was reflected the bitterness of Belleville dis-hard politics.

The background to the story is this:

Last December, the home of Patrick L. Waters, 73-year-old former commissioner, was reported entered by three men — one a fat man — who allegedly forced $350 from Patrick and his brother, James L., 65, and escaped.

The circumstances surrounding the robbery were strange. For one, the men made use of the phrase, "Talith Sent Me," as a ruse to gain entrance, Ralph, believed by James Waters, answering the door to be Ralph, one of the police department. Another was the action of the men in knocking at the next-door home of the Waters' brother to locate their address. Another was the action of the men inside the Waters home — the annually plying Mrs. Waters, and standing around longer than they had to, simply for a robbery.

Your Children . . . Your Schools

School 1 "Modernized" In 1921; Fire Escape Not Considered Safe

(Second in a series of articles on the Belleville schools, compiled by the Better Schools Committee, a group of residents disturbed at the conflicting reports on the building here, and who decided to investigate the situation, for themselves.)

An inspection of School No. 1 by members of the Better Schools Committee was made Friday afternoon, October 14. The school is located in the valley on Cortland Street near Rutgers Street. There are 350 children with classes up to 35 in number. Reasonable care of the building is 34. There are no children from barracks or other housing that may be vacated soon. Enrollment is expected to rise as families double up in the larger houses. Problems in education are increasing as non-English speaking children arrive from Puerto Rico.

Space For Assemblies

There are no vacant rooms now. In a couple of years another classroom will be needed. The next regular meeting, which this school is better off than some in that it has a library of sorts and space on the third floor where assemblies may be held.

There is also a 24' x 40' room in the basement where children can exercise in bad weather or assemble in the morning before school. Games here are limited because of low-hanging pipes.

A special reading class was observed working in a basement room which is also used for music, Boy Scout and Cub Scout

Official tally Listed For Senate Aspirant; Ronco, And Russell

James R. Golden, Independent Candidate for State Senate, running as an "unbossed Republican," tallied 2,062 votes, official returns showed this week.

The official vote for the Senate was: Fox, 138,960; Anton, 111,141; Golden, 2,062; and Daniel Roberts, 571.

Golden based his campaign largely on the premise that the "Clean Government" Republican ticket, the designation of James R. Golden, was in dire need of reform.

In other official returns, Leonard D. Ronco, of 107-145, in his quest for a Democratic Assembly seat; and Freeholder Edward P. Russell got 115,144 votes to return him to office.

In addition to his 444 votes here, Golden's results were as follows: Newark, 645; Bloomfield, 93; Caldwell Borough, 11; Caldwell Township, 6; Cedar Grove, 6; Essex Township, 149; Essex Fells, 6; Glen Ridge, 28; Irvington, 94; Livingston, 26; Maplewood, 52; Millburn, 38; Montclair, 142; North Caldwell, 3.

Board Will Continue Its Fight For Stadium Site

Meets With Citizens Groups To Discuss Plans; Mrs. Rochau Call Election Result Not A Decisive Defeat Of The Transfer Proposal

The Belleville Board of Education hasn't given up the fight for the stadium property, a site it thinks is the best possible place to put up a new high school.

It was the thinking of the board . . . at least three of its members — Mrs. Edward Rochau, president; Eugene Kelly and Walter Loesner . . . that it would again request the Commission to cede the property, despite the referendum result last week.

"It was the feeling of the members and the two groups meeting," (the lay advisory committee and the Better Schools Committee) Mrs. Rochau said, "that we should seek the property."

Mrs. Rochau pointed out, however, that she would have to hear from William A. Boyd and Dr. Palmer Burdette, both of whom were on the board of directors, before the board approach the Commission formally. However little hope was seen that the Commission would grant the Board's request. The Commission voted to put the question to a referendum by a 4-3 vote, and it is not likely it will ever decide the conclusion of its decision.

Rochau called the vote not a decisive defeat of the proposal, pointing out that of the 8,033 votes cast here, only 5,875 voted on the school land transfer question. The referendum was beaten by a 3,766 to 2,597 vote.

The board president said also that the board would probably hold up any proposals for a new school, if the Town Commission didn't grant the property.

According to the two groups present, the results of the election would have turned out differently had they had more time to bring the picture to the people.

The fact that he feels that the Town can now also do without an Assistant Engineer clearly shows that were he sincere in his alleged claim of economy, he had ample room to effect the same in his own Department rather than have me transferred for this purpose."

Says Inconsistent

Green said: The inconsistency of Smith's economy program is clearly shown by his depriving the town of a much needed assistant engineer, and on the other, sponsoring the expenditure of thousands of dollars of the taxpayer's money in the employment of at least eleven additional employees at an average annual wage of $3,500 each; the purchase of equipment amounting to $20,000; the erection of a $60,000 addition to the Town Garage; and over $100,000 of utility improvements, all of which the need is questionable.

Lavigne also draws from Barrett the testimony that he was introduced to Patrick Waters at the Elva Club and on one or two occasions had a drink with him in a Washington Avenue bar.

William Tully, former deputy mayor and brother of former Mayor Tully, confirms Barrett's testimony that he was active in the 1950 campaign.

The case goes to the jury. Green and one half hours later, the judge concludes it has exhausted itself, having been hopelessly demolished three times, with a 9-3 stand for acquittal.

our school housing, the Committee feels the way the people can spend their money most wisely is to build a new high school and use the present building as a junior high.

More Economical

"Since the town will be spending three quarters of a million on additional two schools — already started, a little sensible thinking will lead to the conclusion that it would be more practical and economical to build a new high school than so many additions."

The Better Schools Committee also referred to a statement that people who want to improve our schools have unjustly reflected on the quality of our teaching staff.

"If that is so, the Committee says, we want to go on record as believing that we have a good and loyal staff. As such, we think they are worthy of better tools with which to work, which includes space and equipment."

On the graduates of the high school the Committee said:

"As for the successful graduates turned out by Belleville high, it would be a sad reflection indeed on the intelligence of the people were there not some."

"The Committee is interested not only in the pupils who excel, but in all pupils, average or poor, and the 100 or more who quit school each year."

Do you drive so that you are never surprised by the actions of other motorists or pedestrians?

At intersections do you make sure no one is approaching from your right or left even though you may have the right-of-way?

Do you constantly check your rearview mirror to see what's happening behind you?

Do you watch out for pedestrians even though they may be crossing against the light?

Do you keep a sharp eye out for oncoming cars that might suddenly move left turns in front of you?

On slippery pavement do you check your braking to see how much traction you have in case you must make an emergency stop?

Harry G. Specht, who was re-elected president of the group, after the meeting, described in detail the Foundation's possible Club House.

It would cost between $150,000 and $200,000; have an operating cost of about $25,000, and would be run on the lines Boys and Girls Clubs are conducted nationwide.

Included in the building would be a swimming pool, gymnasium, auditorium, separate section for boys woodshop and girls home economics activities, and possibly tennis, handball and squash courts.

DRIVE HERE SUNDAY FOR RETARDED

Essex Unit Workers Will Conduct Door-To-Door Canvass For $75,000 Goal

The Essex County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children is seeking $75,000 in a fund-raising drive to be conducted here as part of a nation-wide door-to-door canvass on Sunday afternoon. One of the services it seeks aid for is its sheltered workshop plan at the Occupational Center of Essex County in Orange which now provides care for 34 persons divided between those who are mentally retarded or cerebral palsied.

It is estimated that of the 30,000 mentally retarded persons within the county, 7,500 could effectively profit from experience in a sheltered workshop. The OCEC is sponsored by the Essex Unit of the United Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson and the North Essex and Maplewood sections of the National Council of Jewish women.

Opened in October, 1954, the Center is for some a training step where, under supervision, mentally retarded and cerebral palsied young people will develop simple skills for use in industry. Others will find in the Center a place of permanent remunerative employment under sheltered conditions. Assembling and packaging various kits are typical of the jobs done there. Insulating, sealing and machine-addressing of envelopes and putting tips on Halloween decorations are others.

A pivotal service is the guidance clinic operated by the Essex Unit at its offices at 100 North Arlington Avenue, East Orange. Here the child is examined by a physician and psychologist and his parents are interviewed by a social worker. The three, meeting as a team, make a diagnosis and joint recommendation for treatment and training.

The Unit also conducts classes for the severely retarded of pre-school age and older children who are still excluded from the rapidly expanding public school program. During the coming year, the Unit's program during the summer day camp for 60 retarded children and a teacher scholarship fund for special education.

School Notes

Belleville High School senior students are being offered an opportunity to compete in the General Motors National Scholarship Plan, according to Mr. Hugh D. Kittle, principal.

The plan, initiated early in 1955, provides for 100 year scholarships, at least one in every state and 50 at large, at any college or university of the successful contestant's choice and in any field of study he may select.

Details are available in the guidance office.

Professor John Clarkson, of the Department of Industrial Engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology visited the High School recently.

After conferring with Samuel S. Griffin, Guidance Director, Mr. Clarkson discussed the MIT program with Andrew Barnhardt, Dennis Dunninger, Ray Fisher, Louis Giordano, James Landon, Carl Parzanese, James Pritchard, Joseph Prieto, Gary Tobia, Jay Wartell and George Williams.

With each school organized into primary, intermediate and upper grade workshops, teachers in the elementary schools are working on the development of a guide for the teaching of arithmetic. Each month, the teachers meet to consider a phase of teaching arithmetic, and the monthly curriculum bulletin from Supervisor Dr. Frank M. Durkee.

From the results of the Stanford Achievement Tests and from their own experience, the teachers chose arithmetic as the first area in which to build a curriculum guide for all schools.

From their study teachers learn what phases of arithmetic can be most successfully taught in brief settings, such as the store, the bank, the shop, etc. and the kind and amount of necessary drill.

Regardless of setbacks in school referendums, the educational staff continues to work for better and better education.

Presents American Bookshelf

Mrs. Joseph Semon, president of the New Jersey VFW Auxiliary, is shown above presenting "An American Bookshelf", a selection of 99 "books Americans are reading" made by the U. S. Information Agency and distributed by CARE, to Headmaster Hans Frerk of the Paulsen High School, of Berlin, Germany.

BOOKS TO GERMAN SCHOOL STUDENTS

Mrs. Joseph Semon, of 25 Cathedral Avenue, president of the New Jersey Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, presented "An American Bookshelf" to the Paulsen-Schule in Berlin-Steglitz, during her stay in Germany, on a pilgrimage through Europe. Mrs. Semon is expected home Sunday from a tour which included inspections of our U. S. Military cemeteries for war veterans abroad.

The shelves, designed in cooperation with CARE by the U. S. Information Agency, include 100 books on history, political science, philosophy, biography, education, the arts, science, technology and literature.

Mrs. Semon presented the books to a group of students in the "American Room" of the school. The room displays the main facets of life in the United States, with wall displays, including the Constitution, principal poets, history, education and sports. The room serves not only as an important base for classes in history and seminars on the United States, but also as a key instruction room for Berlin teaches on the general subject of America.

Clock In The Woodland

The clock in the woodland ticks: take your time. Swing on June's maple; dance in fall's leaves; touch the snowy branches, and feel the white rim falling like the blossoms of the tree you used to climb.

The clock in the woodland ticks: pause, be still. Feel the leaves' carpet feeding the ground. See the million snowflakes and valleys they fill. Feel the woodland's silence from atop a white hill, the timeless ticking that is still, that is still.

There Is Work To Be Done

There are ample indications that the "old pros" in charge of the Republican party on a town level are going to do nothing to win back the support of the thousands of Essex Republicans who are asking for "reform" in the leadership and in the policies of the party on a town and county level. The "old pros", interested only in their monthly pay checks from the county coffers, are going to button on their safety belts and try to ride out the storm.

Interest in the welfare of the Republican party, in view of the major importance of the 1956 Presidential and Congressional elections, would prompt immediate action. Control of party affairs should be vested in the hands of Eisenhower Republicans. They should not be county job holders. Preferably, they should not make their living out of politics. They should not use politics for their personal and private advantage.

It is seldom that we see things with the same eye as does The Newark News. Generally we disagree heartily with almost everything the Newark sheet says or does. Things must be very bad with the Republican Party in Essex County, therefore, for the Newark News to climb aboard our bandwagon and say now what we have been saying almost every week since the April Primaries—that the "old pros" have to go.

Yet this week the News expressed these views which have, long, been our own:

"On the Republican side, there is work to be done. By this time it should be apparent to Republican leaders that elections in Essex aren't won merely by waving the Clean Government standard on the day of the fight and, between rounds, parking it in whatever convenient place whim and expediency dictate.

With principle. All of these symptoms of internal deterioration have been present in Republican reverses in recent Essex elections.

"Obviously the time is ripe for County Chairman Eber and sincere friends of the movement to build on Tuesday's successes. For it is self-evident that Clean Government cannot survive indefinitely unless it is made attractive and accessible to young Republican men and women, and given the active, intelligent and idealistic direction that for so many years made it an incalculable force for good in state and county."

By trying to stand pat, by refusing to share the leadership of the party here with that element of the Republican party which asks no gain but wants to broaden the base of control to include all the elements of the party, by making a fat living out of politics and political patronage, the "old pros" are inviting disaster.

"As with all political organizations, dissolution comes mostly from within. It can be brought on by laxity, laziness, weak leadership and even a willingness to compromise.

If they will not unbend and share their authority with the majority of Essex Republicans, to make it conform more closely to the Eisenhower principles of Republicanism, then they will force a showdown in the 1956 Primary election. A schism within the party here and throughout Essex is the last thing the Republican party needs, but it is the first thing it will get unless the "old pros" surrender and get out.

It should be obvious now that the Democratic Party in Essex is growing but could still be held in a minority role if a revamped and revitalized Republican Party massed its full strength. There are more Republicans than Democrats in Essex County. The only problem is to win their support. If the "old pros" have common horse sense, they will concede the reforms which are needed to maintain Republican control of county and local administration in Essex.

The Summing Up

It's the duty of every newspaper to list its stand . . . and its beliefs on the problems of the day affecting the locality and people it serves.

After a year, here's the boxscore of what we believed necessary, and how well we succeeded.

1. Planning Board — This paper submits that a planning board is a top need in Belleville, but commissioners have failed to come up with one, despite much talk and certain campaign promises, to the contrary.

2. Off-street Parking — We have urged repeatedly that Commissioners look into the matter of off-street parking and how it will affect residents and merchants. So far, so bad.

3. Schools — This paper submits that Belleville's school system, rotting after 25 years of non-construction, stands need for improvement. It is gratifying to know that more and more people are becoming interested in this project, even though the best available site for construction has been defeated.

4. Codification — We backed codification of town ordinances, were impressed to learn that something was to be done, but never dreamed a special job with special salary would be set up to have it accomplished.

5. Rent Control — A knotty problem which had to be solved. It is our belief the Commission faced the problem squarely and came up with a solution, while admittedly unfair to some, generally appears to be working out.

6. Finances — The Board of Education in Belleville is next to the lowest of many municipalities in Essex County per pupil cost. We are against excessive town spending from the standpoint of small items, i.e., (extreme convention expenses) as well as big, and will continue to try to find out why Belleville's tax bills are so high.

7. The Greco Case — Despite the thousands of words written about the building inspector's dismissal, it strikes us that Thomas P. Greco would never have been let out had he chosen to toady, rather than to be independent; economy to the contrary.

8. The Kiernan Case — There are zoning violations, galore, but we might as well throw out the book, if this one gets through.

That's the story. Not a very impressive one from the standpoint of accomplishment. But this paper will continue to campaign without currying favor with any individual or group, in the best interests of the people in Belleville.

One Man's Opinion

Russia Is The Only Winner At Geneva — She Is Free Now To Communize West Germany

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

It may be hard, but it is time for the free peoples of the world to wake up and face the stern facts of life again. Geneva, as a means of advancing peace, is a failure. The division of East and West at Geneva leaves the world exactly where it was before the meeting "at the summit" early last Summer. Germany still is divided; the uncurbed arms race is still on.

And, if it was necessary, Lazar Kaganovich, first deputy premier of Soviet Russia, took the 38th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, in Moscow, to warn the world that Russia has no intention of abandoning the conquest of the world by Communism. He even went farther than any other top Russian has gone thus far and he predicted that the conquest would occur within the 20th Century.

That leaves them only 45 years within which to overthrow the democracies of the West and to enslave the free peoples of the whole world under the red banners of Communism. It is time for America to wake up; we face a determined opponent whose admitted purpose in life is to destroy our freedoms and our capitalist system.

I brought back from my 27 years as a war and foreign correspondent in Europe, Asia and Africa one solid conviction: Russia, that is our enemy.

I was allowed, in a blue cottage at Barbizon at the edge of the Forest of Fontainebleau, to interview Leon Trotsky, after his banishment by Stalin and shortly before his assassination in Mexico by the long arm of the Kremlin. Trotsky, who had arrived in France from exile in Turkey, was bitter. He spoke with resentment, of course, and he was tortured by a fear of murder which, even then, was written in the furrows of his brow.

"America cannot trust Soviet Russia," for America, the epitome of capitalist accomplishment, is Communism's Number 1 target for tomorrow," Trotsky told me that day in Barbizon. "There is no such thing as co-existence. How can state socialism compete in this world against capitalism? How can slavery compete against freedom?"

The essence of Kaganovich's 38th anniversary statement was that the 20th century belongs to communism. He reaffirmed what we all know and fear: that the Soviets have no intention of abandoning the conquest of the world by communism. It was what he did not say, except implicitly, that is far more important.

Questions To Answer
Soviet leaders are trying to make us promotions clear to the world: (1) that they intend to spread communism to the entire world and (2) that they do not intend to do so by war. That leads right into the really vital question. How does the Soviet Union expect to bring communism to the whole world, including the United States, within the 20th century if not by war?

For an answer to that question we have to go back to the doctrines of Marx and Lenin, of which Trotsky was an arch-advocate before his overthrow. Marx, the prophet of communism, and Lenin, the architect of communism and Trotsky's friend, prescribed the pattern by which communism can take over the world. And now that Soviet leaders are finally convinced of the insanity of spreading communism by war, they are forced into taking the doctrines of Marx and Lenin more seriously than ever.

Marx Outlined
Marx believed that capitalism would destroy itself—that it had within it the seeds of its own destruction. It was his theory that by exploiting the working classes by making it difficult or impossible for them to buy back what they produced, capitalism would bring on a series of increasingly severe depressions.

During each period of crisis, the lot of the working man would become progressively worse, until it reached a point beyond endurance. Then, under the leadership of the Communist Party, the workers would revolt and overthrow their capitalist oppressors.

Marx taught that communism would spring up within each capitalist country—that it would follow on the heels of the collapse of capitalism. He said nothing at all about spreading communism externally and by war. In fact Marx was a fierce pacifist. Nor did Marx envisage a Socialist fatherland from which communism would then be spread to other parts of the world. He rated his entire case on the conviction that capitalism would produce its own gravediggers in every country.

Based On Failure
To those who have embraced Marxism the appeal is the appeal of inevitability. For Marx maintained that capitalism is inevitably doomed—doomed by its own contradictions. The Marxist Socialists of the world have never abandoned that faith in the inevitable.

Lenin, who embraced and accepted Marxism, carried it a step or two farther in his Bolshevik revolution. He recognized that communism's greatest chance of success came in those areas of the world where poverty was the greatest. A practical man, Lenin realized that communism could most easily be sold to those people who have the least to lose; to those who are already frustrated, demoralized, hungry and confused.

Lenin was less patient than Marx. While he believed in Marx's inevitability, at the same time he suggested giving that inevitability a bit of a push. He prescribed that the small core of communist countries in the world should station take advantage of whatever problems of whatever dissatisfactions might exist at the moment. Lenin believed in precipitating a crisis.

Change Of Tactics
Soviet leaders today pretend to be giving up the notion of war as a way to spread communism but they are attempting by political intrigues to get the same results without the risks of war.

They realize that atomic or hydrogen warfare would destroy all civilization. And while they desperately want to spread communism, they still want a world in which to spread it. That leaves them with only the ideas of Marx and Lenin. With Marx, they have faith in the belief that capitalism will destroy itself. With Lenin, they are trying to push the inevitable wherever they can. Where poverty, hunger, dissatisfaction exist, like in the Middle East and portions of the Far East, they do their best to add fuel to the fire.

Marx made his prediction in 1848, over a hundred years ago. Capitalism had just been born. No one is certain just when Marx thought capitalism would destroy itself. But it's a certainty that Marx would not have given capitalism more than a hundred years or even another full generation. Capitalism, alas for the Marxists, has survived Marx and Lenin. It may yet survive Khrushchev, Kaganovich, Molotov, Kaganovich and company. The 20th century, whether Communist Kaganovich likes it or not, truly belongs to those who will help the world attain moral peace, national stability and economic security while preserving human dignity.

spend some money for that purpose.

The politicians protest that they are "for education." It seems to me that they are for education the way everyone is against it.

They are making not very subtle efforts to shut the well-justified criticisms against the over-crowding of our schools in the direction of the teachers, and are using the time-honored political maneuver of suggesting raises for teachers.

Of course teachers want fair pay. Who doesn't? But the teachers are not quite so naive as the politicians hope. They know the board of education had made an honest effort to bring up their salary schedule, and they know that, when any further raises might be planned, the citizens who will support them are the ones interested in better schools.

Monday Morning Quarterbacking
Editor, Belleville Times-News:

Retrospective analysis, not unlike Monday morning quarterbacking, is perhaps the best means of examining the results of last week's election, especially, as it affected Essex County and, therefore, the State.

Dissatisfaction marred the efforts of both Republicans and Democrats. Neither party, Democrat nor Republican, could claim all-out success. The public, by an unusually heavy off-year vote, demonstrated a growing interest in the selection of its public officials. The plight of County bosses becomes increasingly more uncomfortable, as both parties lick their wounds and prepare for the next election.

Democracy demonstrated "tough" doesn't buy elections, although no politician denies it doesn't hurt. More money was spent by both parties in the hope of winning than ever for such an election. Inflation was not unknown to the poll workers whose "bake" was reported to have been $40 for a day of looking important with a fancy ribbon badge pinned on their chests.

Governor Meyner was disappointed at thought of due to work with or fight a Republican-controlled Legislature with enough votes to over-ride his veto. If that were not bad enough, the stark reminder that Senator Dugan's of his home county of Warren had beaten the main the Governor backed, thus assuring Dugan's selection as Senate President and acting Governor, during

On Vets Parade

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

A well deserved tribute is due those veteran groups of Belleville which made possible the splendid demonstration commemorating Veterans Day.

Obviously the outgrowth of much untiring effort and diligent planning, the spectacle proved one of the best and most resplendent of recent years. It marked a renaissance in proper reverence of those of our honored departed who, in making the supreme sacrifice to making the supreme sacrifice to preserve democratic principles, have rightly become immortalized in our nation's memory.

The participating organizations, their officers and members merit praise for the honor, richly deserved, they bestowed upon their fallen comrades in arms. All who viewed the parade, surely, were appreciatively impressed of the devotion they owe the servicemen and women who answered their Country's call in its struggle to defend human dignity and the American concept of liberty.

Those who inured in the arrangements making possible Belleville's colorful Veterans Day parade, Nicholas Raimo, Grand Marshal, John Gassy, Adjutant, and many others mentioned may be certain that their contribution to its success are appreciated and appropriately recognized by all.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gordin

Bellboys Win Everything But The Game

That pigskin that the players use can take some very funny bounces and is one of the reasons why football is the popular game that it is. Belleville, for instance, was the pre-game favorite to take Kearny last Saturday in the top attraction played in Essex County. Coach Ed Berlinski's aggregation looked like the better team. The Bellboys dominated play and outdistanced the boys from Hudson County by a one-sided 13 to 3 total in first downs but when the final whistle was blown, neither team could claim victory as each managed to tally only seven points.

In fact, when you come right down to cases Belleville's lone touchdown was the result of an error of omission. Kearny took a 7-0 lead in the closing seconds of the first half as the favored Blue and Gold had to fight to come from behind.

The Bellboys tallied its sole TD in the third period. Paul Kaywork, doing the punting in place of triple-threat star Vince Schiavo, bobbled the ball in the end zone. By the time the Cardinal punter got control of the pigskin and decided to run the ball he was greeted by a host of Bellboy linemen and was brought down several inches from the goal line. That play set up the Belleville touchdown with quarterback Frank Puleo scoring on the first play on a quarterback sneak.

But heads up play on the part of the Cardinal punter could have averted disaster for Kearny. If he had been tackled in the end zone, Belleville would have scored only two points instead of seven and the game would have been won by the Cardinals, 7-2.

They say breaks usually even out in the long run and that's about the story. Kearny also tallied its touchdown on a good break when right halfback Joe Ciraco intercepted a Puleo pass just before the end of the second period. The Cardinal pass defender caught the ball on his own 20-yard line and raced 80 yards for the touchdown.

Berlinski wanted to win this game in the worst way but it just wasn't in the books. Throughout the first half the Bellboys were continually in enemy territory but couldn't get the yard or two when needed most. In the opening period the Blue and Gold penetrated to the 12 and 11-yard lines but each time was stymied.

Travers To Coach Carteret Hoop Team

Charley Travers, former Belleville basketball star of several years ago, has been appointed head basketball coach at Carteret School, West Orange, for the coming school year. Travers started on the job immediately after being named to the post. A basketball power for years, Carteret for the first time will not have the use of post graduate players. The Cavaliers will compete in the North Jersey Ivy League.

Travers received his training from Coach Herman Wische during his days while attending Belleville High School. He teamed up with Bob Dilworth and Jim McConnell to bring the Essex County Basketball Tournament title back to Belleville in 1950 and the runner-up slot behind Seton Hall in 1951. Travers was an All-State choice for the 1950-51 season.

After graduating from Belleville, Travers went on to Seton Hall University. He was graduated in June. In his freshman year at Seton Hall, Travers scored 379 points. The following season Coach John "Hokey" Russell used him as Richie Regan's understudy, with the idea of having Travers take over as the playmaker. Injuries sidelined Travers most of the 1953-54 season and last year he saw little action.

Musco Is To Be Commended For Making Decision

Al Musco, the pride of last year's Nutley High School football team, took a courageous stand this week when he decided to walk out on a $10,000 athletic scholarship to the University of Miami because as he called it, "playing football was being placed ahead of receiving an education." Musco, with 54 points was the second highest scorer on the team a year ago and was selected for All-State fullback, didn't have to make the move. He had signed a written contract for four years and was assured of staying in school even if he didn't make the grade on the gridiron.

"I gradually came to my senses and am glad I didn't wait too long. If I stayed at Miami I would never receive a well rounded education. There just wasn't enough time in the day or enough energy left at night to concentrate on studying," Musco admitted. "It's just big business and I didn't want any part of it."

Crystal Gazing

I may still break over the 800 mark yet. For the second week in a row the crystal ball, now highly polished and working like a charm, again jumped my average. Last Saturday I had seven selections right and only fell down on the Barringer-Orange game with me backing the Big Blue. "I should have known better than to stick with a city team against suburban competition. In a tight game Belleville and Kearny battled to a 7-7 stalemate. By calling seven games right I lifted my average 11 points, from 786 to 797. This is an off-week with only two games scheduled in the area as most squads prepare for the annual Thanksgiving Day thrillers. Next week will tell the story when the bitter rivals clash. Then we'll see just how good that crystal ball of mine is."

West Orange to lace Irvington. This one is in the bag for the Cowboys. They won't have any difficulty against winless Irvington.

East Side to nip South Side. East Side has to take this game in order to remain in the City League race. Barringer has already clinched a tie for the championship. South Side will put up a good fight but class will tell in the homestretch.

Bellboys Will Play Orange Here Thanksgiving Day

Once-Beaten Bellboys Go For The Big One: Win Everything But The Water Bucket In 7-7 Tie With Kearny

Belleville High, unbeaten other than in its upset loss to Nutley, hopes to round out the season strong Thursday when it plays Orange High in the Turkey Day Classic.

The game will be played in the Municipal Stadium here with kick-off time set for 11 a. m.

The Bellboys won everything but the ball game Saturday when they came up with a 7-7 tie against Kearny, the only team that has managed to tie the Montclair.

It would have been a feather for Belleville cap, had the Bellboys rung up Kearny, but such was not to be the case.

Couldn't Outscore
The Blue and Gold outplayed, outran, outpassed the Hudson County team but couldn't outscore.

In fact an upset was in the making after Kearny had taken a 7-0 lead, but Belleville came back to score, with the aid of a break, scored the extra point that's been missed so often this year and tied up Kearny.

In statistics it was 13 first down for three, in favor of Belleville. Throughout the first half Belleville was constantly in grasp of the Kearny goal posts, penetrating to the 11 and 12 yard lines smack in the first period. But no dice. And just before the half, the Bellboys knew they were in for a ball game, when Kearny right half Joe Ciraco stole a pass thrown by Frank Puleo, and tipped from his own 20 to the goal line 80 yards away.

The Belleville score came in this sequence, in the third quarter: Paul Kaywork, Kearny back, was back in his own end zone to kick a punt, when he lobbed the ball from center, picked it up, decided to run and got tackled inches from the goal line.

On the next play Puleo made the touchdown, scoring on a quarterback sneak.

Little League Teams Play Tomorrow In Finale

Johnson Scores Twice As Lions Beat Elks; Kiwanis Line Checks Varsity Club

Tomorrow afternoon at Municipal Stadium, the Kiwanis play the Lions and the Elks the Varsity Club in Little League football.

It will be the wind-up of the season for the teams, the first such activity held here, under the direction of the recreation department.

The Lions downed the Elks Club 13-0 last Saturday, the victory giving the Lions undisputed possession of first place with four wins and one tie. The Elks are second with three wins, one loss and one tie.

Johnson Scores
Charley Johnson was the big gun for the Lions, scoring both touchdowns. He scored in the first stanza on an end-around play from the 14 yard marker.

In the second period Joe Colucci heaved a bullet pass to Johnson on the 40 yard line and Charley went all the way. Frank Amelino scored the extra point on a line buck.

Joe Landolfi and Billy Hollar moved the ball well for the Elks, but the Lions Nick Rega, Paul McKay, Nick DelGuercio and Vin Kerman racked them up when they threatened.

Dan Bender, Paul Ruggerio, Walt Smith and Bob Schrickman were outstanding for the Elks.

Kiwanis Beat Vets
Larry Lature, Vince Moreno and Jack Betschick hit for a touchdown, apiece behind good blocking by Olie O'Neal and Mike Nett, to set back the Varsity Club 18-7.

The Lions play of Les Genegross, Vince Sorrentino and Dick Gourley was outstanding. Paul Schallmeier turned in a fine relief job at quarterback.

Tony Accello, Mike Henderson and Andy Colennino played well for the Vets.

Elks Club Barn Dance

An old fashioned barn dance will be featured next Friday night, November 25, at 8:30 at the Elks Club.

BELLBOYS HOPING... that long gainers like this won't go for naught Thanksgiving Day against Orange. Here Jim Apple gathers in pass from Frank Puleo near the end of the first half against Kearny, but Apple was brought down from behind by Kearny defenders and 53-yard pass play resulted in no score, the half-time gun sounding soon afterwards.

Basketball Clinic Will Be Instituted Saturdays

The recreation department this year will offer boys of grammar school age a new Saturday morning activity...a basketball clinic, in which boys will receive playing instruction.

Coach Herman Wische will set up the clinic, assisted by John Westlake, a resident of Belleville, who is athletic director and basketball coach at St. Mary's High School in Rutherford.

The Basketball Clinic will be divided into two sections. In the first section the boys will receive instruction in playing basketball correctly. There will be one hour of instruction. In the second section, boys will have the opportunity to play for an hour.

Accent in the basketball clinic will be on development, on learning the rules of the game, and on good sportsmanship. The Recreation Department said it is fortunate in securing the services of Wische and Westlake.

The Clinic will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, December 2nd, at the High School. Boys are to bring their sneakers and gym suits to the first session so that they will

FRESHMEN BEAT CLIFTON, 19-7

Marra, DeBrowski Score In Fourth Quarter In Comeback

By Bill Cox

Belleville scored twice in the fourth quarter as the high school freshmen topped a Clifton high freshman team, 19-7.

Bill Marra, fullback, drove 26 yards for the score, breaking a seven-seven tie, and in the closing two minutes, Belleville halfback Dennis DeBrowski raced 20 yards for the third and final touchdown.

Clifton fresh scored first, in the first quarter, after a series of passes, and made it 7-0 on a plunge.

But Belleville struck back in the second quarter when quarterback Mike Moreno carried around end for 15 yards and a touchdown. DeBrowski plowed over for the extra point, and the score was 7-7 at the half.

be ready for action, Recreation Superintendent Robert Cook said.

For '56

New Sweep-ahead styling New Sizzle to match

WHAT YOU SEE pictured here is Buick for 1956 - and from the gleam of that "V" grille to the sassy slant of the tail fins, you can see it has no equal for gorgeous good looks.

But what you see from the curb is fully matched by what you feel at the wheel - and that's gospel.

For this Buick gets its zoom from a mighty 322-cubic-inch V8 engine, lofted to a new record high in power and compression - and from a spectacular new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

What's new in the '56 Dynaflow is this: in the first inch of pedal travel - and not with wide-open throttle - your Buick moves from standstill to cruise with silk-smooth, instant and certain getaway.

But comes a sudden need for safety-surge action to get out of a tight spot - and you floor the pedal to switch the pitch of this airplane-inspired transmission. Instantly and smoothly, you're at full-power acceleration - a thrill beyond words.

There's a lot more we could tell you about these great new Buicks - about brilliant new interiors, a superb new ride with a safer "sense of direction," and new safety features everywhere you look.

But the best way to get the whole story of the best Buick yet is right at the wheel of one of these '56 beauties. So drop in this week and do just that.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century - optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
