

Superior Court Will Decide On Kiernan

Town Attorney Keenan And Gruhin Must Show Cause Why Town Should Not Be Enjoined From Holding Special Referendum On February 7

A Superior Court hearing in Newark this morning will decide whether the special referendum in the Kiernan case will be held on February 7 as scheduled by Town Commission last week.

The hearing is the direct result of action by Charles Handler, Newark attorney who represents Dr. William H. Forth, who is bringing suit against the Town of Belleville for setting the referendum to decide whether mortuaries should be permitted in residential zones.

Handler, together with two other attorneys who represent residents opposing a zoning amendment, said he thinks there are enough legal grounds against the town's action so that the courts will rescind it. The other attorneys are Victor Schaefer of Belleville and Robert Kessler of Bloomfield.

Moro claims his decision was not made "on the spur of the moment." He said, "Since 1944, when School No. 2 was in the process of being condemned by the Board, I decided then and there, if there was any job to be done." Since then he says he has put forth effort to get better education, better teaching facilities, and improved building.

Belleville Cost Of Education Fifth Lowest In County

The cost of educating a pupil in the Belleville public school system, $313.11, is the fifth lowest of any town in Essex County.

County Superintendent of Schools William S. Twichell released the figures last week showing the cost per pupil, on a basis of average enrollment, in school districts with high schools. Three towns, Livingston, Roseland and Cedar Grove, which have no high schools, had lower costs than Belleville.

The report shows that it costs almost $100 less, per pupil, than to educate a child in the Belleville public schools than in Newark. Belleville's cost per pupil is $87 less than Montclair, $47 less than Bloomfield, and only $5 more than Nutley.

The Superintendent's report is obtained by dividing the total annual cost of the budget by the number of pupils enrolled in the school district. Belleville has consistently been among the lowest.

Local Tax Ratables Listed As $51,607,452 By Clark

Tax Assessor Shows Increase Of $1,030,990 In Net Evaluation; Exemptions Also Listed As $1,802,510 In Increase Over Previous Figure

Belleville's net taxable valuation for 1956 has been computed at $51,607,452 according to municipal tax assessor Arthur W. Clark. The tax ratables, including second class railroad property, is the figure upon which the local tax rate for 1956 will be based.

The 1956 ratables just released show an increase of $1,030,990 over the 1955 figures, Clark said. The increase in the net valuation is due mainly to new construction and building in Belleville during the past year, he said. There have been new developments and new factories, he pointed out, although the largest part of the increase can be attributed to new residential construction.

First quarter taxes are due February 1, while second quarter bills will not be due until May 1, Friel said.

TAX ASSESSMENT DROPS IN NEWARK

Municipal Ratables Down $5 Million In Essex County Tax

A loss of $5,061,254 in Newark tax ratables, announced this week in the annual tax roll, threatened to increase considerably the burden of Essex County government costs on Belleville and other suburban taxpayers. The lost ratables, blamed chiefly on a reduction of personal property values, will be charged to the first quarter of 1956.

School No. 8 Has Four Substandard Classrooms Among Its Total Of 23

School No. 8, located on Union Avenue, was originally built in 1925 and has since been put into 1929. The present enrollment is 619 students.

There are 23 classrooms in all; two for each of the upper three grades, three for each of the lower grades and two kindergarten rooms. The classrooms are three small basement type windows. The children have to hang their coats in the hall also.

The lighting is good with fluorescent lights in all rooms except one office, and multipurpose room.

Local Tax Rate Of $7.55 Is Distinct Possibility For '56

Both County And School Budgets Show Sharp Increase; Municipal Spending Expected To Follow Suit

A tax rate of $7.50 looms as a distinct possibility for Belleville in 1956.

Although Mayor Isadore J. Padula, director of revenue and finance, declined to either verify or deny the report, it has already been announced that both the local school budget and the Essex County budget for 1956 will show marked increases. The municipal tax that Belleville residents pay is comprised of three individual taxes — a town tax, a school tax, and a county tax.

DR. DIRUGGIERO TO WORK FOR MORE STATE SCHOOL AID

Candidate For School Board Election Says Local Taxes Have Reached Saturation

In a prepared statement released to the press this week, Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, candidate for one of the three vacancies to be filled in the Board of Education election, emphasized that he would work for more state aid for education.

DiRuggiero said, "It is high time our state legislature took a good look at the high rate of local taxes levied on the homeowner by the local municipality." A good portion of these taxes are used to finance the local educational system, he said.

"In many instances," he said, "50 percent or more of our real estate tax dollar goes for the schools."

On the other hand, DiRuggiero pointed out, the cost of education in New Jersey is paid mainly through gasoline, cigarette, and other taxes of the consumer type, which are paid by the users, many of which are the same homeowners.

DiRuggiero says therefore, that the homeowner becomes the goose that laid the golden egg.

"Accordingly, I think that more state aid is necessary if the government is to protect the homeowner. I believe local real estate taxes have reached the saturation point. It is high time our state government enacted a more equitable system of taxation, and by constitutional amendment earmark certain revenues for adequate support of our school system."

COAST-TO-COAST DIRECT DIAL CALLS START SATURDAY

Plymouth Exchanges Will Be Able To Dial Selected States Anywhere In United States

At 7 a. m. Saturday, Plymouth 1 and 9 telephone customers with individual and two-party service will start dialing to selected long-distance points throughout the nation as far west as San Francisco without the assistance of an operator, C. Robert H. Burt, manager of the Bell Telephone Co. manager, said today.

These subscribers will be able to call long-distance points almost as easily as they now call their next-door neighbor, Horsafield explained. The new service is to be first dial the three-digit code assigned to the area they wish to call, then dial the desired number in the usual way.

Areas Served

Areas which will be within direct dialing reach of Plymouth subscribers and the area code numbers assigned to each are:

- Westchester and Rockland Counties in New York, 914; Long Island, 516; Philadelphia, 215; Pittsburgh, 412; New Orleans, 504; Boston, 617; Cleveland, 216; Detroit, 313; Chicago, 312; Milwaukee, 414; Washington, D. C., 202; Sacramento, 916; St. Louis, 314; and San Francisco and Oakland, 415.

Horsafield explained that additional points will be added to the list of dialable long-distance areas as the need arises. The classrooms are three small basement type windows. The children have to hang their coats in the hall also.

The lighting is good with fluorescent lights in all rooms except one office, and multipurpose room.

School No. 8 Has Four Substandard Classrooms Among Its Total Of 23

The classes run from 20 to 31 students each. There are four substandard rooms. One of these, a kindergarten room, has 17 children per class. These children have lockers in the corridor because the room was too small to include them. The other substandard room, a fifth grade, can seat only 20 students.

This room is extremely small with three small basement type windows. The children have to hang their coats in the hall also.

The lighting is good with fluorescent lights in all rooms except one office, and multipurpose room.

School Has Enrollment Of 619 Pupils Although Capacity Listed As 480

In many rooms it appears that another hundred or so could be accommodated where wiring shows through the ceiling. New ceilings have been installed in many of the classrooms. In places in the halls the plaster is cracked and loose. Some painting is needed.

The school seems to have no fire hazards, but the lack of storage space, which causes supplies to be kept in the corridors. The school is in need of more space.

LETTERS
To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

A very interesting observation which I have made is that whenever the question of the funeral home comes before our "town fathers" for consideration you see a large audience comprised of people who are motivated primarily by selfish reasons.

These people, who are residents in the neighborhood of the proposed funeral home, find time to attend the meetings for the reason that they consider it to be a very important issue.

A speaker said, "we will come here every meeting regardless of how long it takes to dispose of this case."

These same people are the ones who do not, in my opinion, have time to attend other public meetings when other important "Great Sinner" New members is a large town and it is not restricted to the people of that section.

If they want to crusade for a better Belleville, let them investigate conditions in Silver Lake, Scho, the Valley and not restrict themselves to approximately 1,000 yards, more or less, of Holmes Street. Then and only then will we have a better Belleville.

My only regret is that these people were not publicly rebuffed at the last meeting for being so one-sided in their personal feud that they are not educated as to the true conditions of Belleville.

I have always respected a man for fighting for what he feels is right, but always proceed with this thought, "Be merciful as well as just."

Sufficient Grounds

Gruhn explained that the final court decision cannot be reached in a short time, and that the immediate injunction, or restraint that Handler has asked for would prevent any action until this verdict was reached. "Today's arguments will merely determine if Handler has sufficient grounds to extend relief at this time to hold the referendum."

It is likely that Kernan will argue that Town Commissioners followed the letter of the law when they voted for the referendum in accordance with the Walsh Act. He will probably ask the court to decide if the legislation is proper before the town goes to the expense of a referendum. Kernan said, "If suit is brought against the town, the Commissioners have done their duty according to the law."

Show Cause

In today's action, the defendants (the town of Belleville) will have to show cause why they should not be enjoined from proceeding with the referendum. Gruhn stated that "Commissioners have the right to submit any issue to the voters of the community."

In filing his complaint against the town of Belleville, Handler has based his arguments on four main points. He claims that Kernan is the driving force behind the petition that had been submitted to Commissioners asking for the referendum. Handler said it was merely a way of circumventing the Board of Adjustment which had previously refused to grant Kernan a variance in the same issue.

The judicial precedent had been established for using initiative and referendum in cases of amending zoning laws. He gave several cases on record where zoning laws were amended by variance and not by referendum.

Handler's last two points were based on legal technicalities. He said the form of the petitions submitted were incorrect in that the petition and affidavit certifying the signatures were on one sheet of paper. These should be separate, he pointed out. Furthermore, the town clerk should have been the February 14 meeting of Commissioners.

Although Belleville tax assessor Arthur Clark revealed this week that the town's net tax rates had increased over $1 million since 1955, the increased costs of government were expected to more than offset this gain.

As far as the school budget is concerned, the local tax rate will have to show an increase to cover the $207,000 jump over last year's appropriation. This figure will be further increased to compensate for the $77,000 reduction in state aid to the local school system. The total amount of increase in school expenditures that local taxpayers will be carrying is $284,000.

Point To $5,000.

Budget officials estimate that $5,000 of increased spending is equal to one tax point. In order to meet the higher school costs, approximately 50 points must be added to last year's tax rate. County requirements will add several additional points to the already soaring rate.

Any increases in the municipal

Thomas C. D'Avella, assistant town attorney, has been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States effective January 16, as an attorney and counselor at law.

D'Avella, who lives at 118 Fairview Avenue, was admitted to the New Jersey Bar in 1923 and several years later was admitted to practice before Federal courts. He has spent practically his entire life in Belleville, and had his law office in town before moving the office to Newark.

He is a graduate of New Jersey Law School, now a part of Rutgers University, where he received his LL.B. in 1927.

D'Avella is a member of the local Kiwanis Club and has been active in civic affairs, the Community Chest, and other fund raising drives. He is also a member of the Colony Club.

This service also is available to four-party telephone customers. Colmex users will continue to dial an operator for New York or other points outside the direct range of coinbox telephones. Operators also will continue to handle all assistance and special service calls.

At one time there was a library in the school but this had to be eliminated to make classroom space. The nurse's room is shared with the psychologist for all of the Belleville Schools. The school also houses the Board of Education business offices, the office of the Superintendent of Schools, and the General Supervisor's office.

The storage space in this school is most inadequate. The visual aids equipment is kept on the floor of the principal's office. The athletic equipment is stored in a cardboard carton in a classroom. The stock room is so small that stock is kept under a staircase and in a corridor at the other end of the building.

The auditorium has been changed to a multi-purpose room and is equipped to be used for physical education on rainy days. Cleverman Field can be used in nice weather, providing it does not conflict with the high school gym classes. If No. 8 children are using the playground and a high school class arrives, the grammar school children must go in for lack of play area.

Referring back to the 619 children now going to school in this building, it should be realized that in 1952, when the school was two classes had to be transferred to No. 3 School. This condition still exists, causing some families to have children in both No. 8 and No. 3 Schools.

The Columbia survey in 1950 listed the school as having a capacity of 480, with a temporary emergency capacity of 580. If the Administration offices could be

School Reading

Help in remedial reading is given by Mrs. Clementine Lally, special teacher of Remedial Reading. She is now working with schools one, nine, seven, and eight, and planning to expand the program as needed. She gives instruction to sixty-one pupils, grades 6-8, in small groups. Remedial reading instruction helps some students to develop enough skills so that they can go along with regular reading groups. It helps others to get off a plateau or reading failure and to begin to make some progress. Some exceptional children need the help of a reading clinic and cannot be helped very much by remedial reading groups.

High School Reading Program

Having begun a school-wide program in reading improvement, the high school faculty met recently by departments and took up the problem of reading improvement in each subject. Before time to requisition new books for next year, each department is now examining its list of supplementary reading materials and making plans to improve the list and to get the books into wide use. In addition, each teacher is working on the problem of increasing student vocabulary in each subject area. A teacher there is also trying to sharpen reading skills by giving questions for which students will seek answers in assignments.

Moro also served on the committee which worked for a referendum to be held in Belleville to determine whether Board of Education members should be elected or appointed.

His other activities include membership on the Lay Advisory Committee to the Board of Education, past president and treasurer of School No. 2 PTA, and a present member of School No. 4 PTA.

He was also previously active in Boy Scout work, the Variety Club and the Soho Rod and Gun Club.

Moro said that his past and present activities and knowledge of educational and civic affairs in Belleville, coupled with his "interest in progress and modern methods," qualify him to serve as a school trustee.

Moro has four children, all attending Belleville public schools.

exemptions increased $84,200 over 1955.

He listed the total amount of exemptions for household items, veterans and widows at $1,802,500. Exemptions for household goods jumped $7,500; veterans' exemptions were up $76,000, due largely to the increased number of veterans now making their residences in Belleville, while the remainder of the increased exemptions was for widows.

Clark also listed in excess of $10,116,100. This land, comprised of hospitals, schools, churches, golf links, parks, cemeteries, and other public land, is not included in the gross evaluation of property.

Clark gave the following breakdown of values which comprise the town's 1956 tax ratables: land, $10,688,000; buildings, $35,092,000; personal property, $7,702,800; and second class railroad rights $56,952.

Clark cautioned local residents that in spite of the increased ratables, they should not expect a tax decrease for the coming year, because these increases have been more than offset by higher municipal and county costs for the coming year.

The office will remain open from 8:30 to 4:30 Monday through Friday and every Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 until the deadline for payments.

Friel warned that anyone contemplating moving must have issued a moving permit, which is required by the state department of local government.

Mayer said that the scheduling of refund checks receives top priority and that at the peak of the filing period the Newark office will be scheduling refunds at the rate of 10,000 each day.

"All taxpayers should realize that early filing means an early refund," Mayer said. He requested that taxpayers expecting refunds file as early as possible since it only tends to delay the processing of returns.

School Reading

Help in remedial reading is given by Mrs. Clementine Lally, special teacher of Remedial Reading. She is now working with schools one, nine, seven, and eight, and planning to expand the program as needed. She gives instruction to sixty-one pupils, grades 6-8, in small groups. Remedial reading instruction helps some students to develop enough skills so that they can go along with regular reading groups. It helps others to get off a plateau or reading failure and to begin to make some progress. Some exceptional children need the help of a reading clinic and cannot be helped very much by remedial reading groups.

High School Reading Program

Having begun a school-wide program in reading improvement, the high school faculty met recently by departments and took up the problem of reading improvement in each subject. Before time to requisition new books for next year, each department is now examining its list of supplementary reading materials and making plans to improve the list and to get the books into wide use. In addition, each teacher is working on the problem of increasing student vocabulary in each subject area. A teacher there is also trying to sharpen reading skills by giving questions for which students will seek answers in assignments.

Moro

A building contractor, Moro has been a resident of Belleville for 40 years. He was a charter member and officer of the Belleville School Improvement League, which later became the Belleville Citizens' Association. He pointed out that it was through the efforts of this group that the Columbia Survey was inspired in 1950.

Moro also served on the committee which worked for a referendum to be held in Belleville to determine whether Board of Education members should be elected or appointed.

His other activities include membership on the Lay Advisory Committee to the Board of Education, past president and treasurer of School No. 2 PTA, and a present member of School No. 4 PTA.

He was also previously active in Boy Scout work, the Variety Club and the Soho Rod and Gun Club.

Moro said that his past and present activities and knowledge of educational and civic affairs in Belleville, coupled with his "interest in progress and modern methods," qualify him to serve as a school trustee.

Moro has four children, all attending Belleville public schools.

He listed the total amount of exemptions for household items, veterans and widows at $1,802,500. Exemptions for household goods jumped $7,500; veterans' exemptions were up $76,000, due largely to the increased number of veterans now making their residences in Belleville, while the remainder of the increased exemptions was for widows.

Clark also listed in excess of $10,116,100. This land, comprised of hospitals, schools, churches, golf links, parks, cemeteries, and other public land, is not included in the gross evaluation of property.

Clark gave the following breakdown of values which comprise the town's 1956 tax ratables: land, $10,688,000; buildings, $35,092,000; personal property, $7,702,800; and second class railroad rights $56,952.

Clark cautioned local residents that in spite of the increased ratables, they should not expect a tax decrease for the coming year, because these increases have been more than offset by higher municipal and county costs for the coming year.

Payments may be mailed accompanied by the entire bill, Friel said, and receipts will be returned. Only checks or money orders should be sent, he cautioned, no cash will be taken in mail payments. These should be made payable to the Town of Belleville. Tax payments may also be made in person at the tax collector's office in Town Hall. The office will remain open from 8:30 to 4:30 Monday through Friday and every Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 until the deadline for payments.

Friel warned that anyone contemplating moving must have issued a moving permit, which is required by the state department of local government.

Bellboys May Be Snapping Out Of It

Until this week the Belleville High basketball team has been going no place fast but Tuesday's showing against Bloomfield was highly encouraging to Coach "Jimmy" Wische as the underdog Blue and Gold five suddenly came to life and upset Bloomfield, 52-51, when John Bartell scored with only six seconds left in the fray.

There has been an old axiom which many basketball experts quote, "Never sell a Wische coached team short." This team that edged Bloomfield was the same squad that was outdistanced by the Bengals two weeks earlier. A fortnight ago Coach George Celma's charges blasted the Blue and Gold right off the court in a one-sided 76-49 decision. After an outcome like that it seemed fairly safe to install the Bengals the favorite in a return game especially since the fray was scheduled for Bloomfield's home court.

But the old timers will always tell you to beware of Belleville when it counts most. The Bellboys dropped the first of two meetings to Bloomfield but Tuesday's tussle was the big one since it was a Big Ten Conference game. Belleville needed this win or they would drop way down in the standings of the powerful suburban conference. The Blue and Gold fought hard and returned home Tuesday night with a one-point victory and ended off their conference record at two victories and two defeats.

Belleville now stands in a deadlock for fifth place with Irvington and has an excellent chance of climbing higher in the next week. On Jan. 21 tonight will be a home encounter against arch rival Nutley High, with the game to be conducted on the Belleville hardwoods, but more about the Nutley game a little later in the column.

One reason for Belleville's surprise victory over Bloomfield was the varied scoring offense that the Blue and Gold enjoyed. In most games this season it has usually been Bartell who has had to carry the brunt of the scoring attack. In the first Bloomfield game Bartell was the high scorer with 18 points. There wasn't another Blue and Gold performer who could break double figures. But in the return encounter, Wische had a varied attack with no less than four Blue and Gold players tallying more than 11 points. Joe Long led the quartet with 15 points and was followed by Joe Prieto and Bartell with a dozen points each, and Roger Weinstein who finished up with 11 markers.

The revenge victory was a thriller which came right down to the wire. Belleville took a 50-49 lead with 25 seconds to go when Prieto hit on a three-point play and Bartell came through with a driving lay-up shot. The Bengals refused to give up and lanky Bill McCormick put Bloomfield back on top when he dunked a jump shot but Bartell came through with the clincher with only six seconds remaining when he converted a jump shot for two precious points.

Now that the Bloomfield game is behind Wische, he is pointing for tonight's Big Ten Gay Against Deitch. At the helm of the Maroon Raiders is new head coach Ed Deitch, a former Pennsylvanian who succeeded Dave Broffman this season.

For some reason or other, Belleville can usually be counted upon to put on a good showing. They always have down through the years no matter what kind of record Nutley has compiled. Nutley will come into Belleville in third place in the Big Ten Conference with three victories in four starts. Their only conference loss was to undefeated East Orange in a return game. In the first meeting that didn't count in the standings Nutley won with an 11-point surge in the final four minutes of play.

If Belleville is to stop Nutley it will have to stop Charley "Turk" Vitale, who is a former Belleville resident. Vitale learned his basketball while attending Belleville elementary schools and is currently rated one of the highest scorers in Essex County and a good bet to receive post season honors. All Vitale has done so far is to lead the Maroon Raiders in scoring with 190 points in eight games for an average of 23.8 per contest. "Twice he has reached the 30 point total and in one outing tallied 37 points against Kearny for a school record in a regular season game.

One thing Belleville players will have to watch is that Vitale is quick as a cat. He is known for his uncanny knack of stealing the ball and driving in for a two-pointer.

It looks like Belleville may be on the roll. Remember the Essex County Tournament isn't too far off.

Murphy Installs Winning Spirit

Bill Murphy, Belleville "Rec" baseball manager and new coach of Our Lady of the Valley basketball team in Orange, really has his boys hustling. It was only a couple of weeks ago that "Murphy" was appointed head football coach at the Valley. At the same time he was named head coach of the basketball team.

Our Lady of the Valley was having a dismal season when Murphy took over the leadership in mid-season. Few expected the Irish to do much of an about face since it takes a time for a new coach to install his system. At the same time there is always the problem of perking up team morale. When Valley officials appointed Murphy to take over the court job, the team had won only two games while dropping five but there has been no stopping the Irish since "Murphy" appeared on the scene.

The Valley quintet has become one of the most feared scoring aggregations in small school competition. The Irish have won all four games played under Murphy's tutelage and what's more have averaged a phenomenal total of 97 points a game during that stretch.

In the latest games contested by the Valley cagers they have whipped immaculate Conception, of Montclair, 90-51, swamped Bloomfield Tech, 100-44, and "We're not after records," Murphy told me this week. "The kids just refuse to be stopped. Once they get up in the high figures they want to go all the way. I always empty the bench and give all the players a chance but they want to score more than the regulars."

Murphy better keep an eye out for the future though. The opposition hates to see a team break the century mark. Rival coaches seldom forget those one-sided scores. If they have the opportunity of reversing the tables, look out!

BELLBOYS SPLIT DURING WEEK; MEET NUTLEY TONIGHT

Squeeze By Bloomfield In Thriller Tuesday Night By 52-51 Score; Montclair In 80-46 Rout Friday

By Dave Thaler

Twice in the past week, the Blue and Gold tried to snap their prolonged losing streak. Their first try was unsuccessful when the powerful Mounties of Montclair swamped them, 80-46, but the team only served to inspire the local cagers to a thrilling 52-51 victory over Bloomfield, Tuesday night.

The Bloomfield game was a return match. In the first encounter the Bengals had hit on 50 per cent of their shots in applying a 76-49 shallocking to the Bellboys on the Blue and Gold's own court.

But Tuesday night it was a different story. From the opening whistle the Bellboys took charge. John Bartell, Belleville forward, opened the scoring with a jump shot, and Roger Weinstein, the Blue and Gold's biggest man, added two free throws to give Belleville a 4-0 lead. Joe Long then put his mascot on a hander into the nets as the Bellboys jumped in front, 6-0.

Lead Disappears But the lead quickly disappeared. Bloomfield's Buddy Salomone sandwiched two sets between Ted Abernathy's foul shots and the score was knotted.

The rest of the period was just repetition. First the Bellboys would take the lead, and then the Bengals would go out there and tie the game. They played a balanced attack, while the Bengals were being held up by their versatile guard, Salomone. He scored eight of his team's fifteen points in the first quarter while Belleville produced three points.

The second quarter was almost a carbon copy of the first. Bloomfield again racked up thirteen points, but the Bellboys matched them point for point. Salomone was really having a night of it, notching 17 of the Bengals' 30 points. Long and Bartell were hitting from the forward's spots and Weinstein was dropping in free throws galore. Prieto was amazing everyone he cut the nets with his long sets.

Third Quarter Jinx Tuesday night marked the end of their "third quarter jinx." The Bellboys put on the pressure and poured in the points to come from a two-point deficit to take a four-point lead, 43-39, at the end of the third quarter. Quinn, 4-4, 8-8. But then it was Belleville's turn to apply the pressure. They slowly closed the gap, hitting on their jump shots.

With three minutes left to play, the Bengals' big center, Bill McCormick, heaved his jump shot into the nets to knot the score at 46-46. Salomone then added two foul shots, his first of the period, (Bartell had blanketed him), to put Bloomfield ahead by two. Bartell then fouled Salomone again, and he sunk two more free throws to put his team ahead by four markers. It was here Prieto provided the spark that the Blue and Gold needed. First, he sunk a foul shot to bring his team to within three points. Then, when Bloomfield started the deep freeze trying to keep the ball for the last two minutes, Prieto stole the ball, and set up Long at the foul line. But a beautiful defensive maneuver by Chuck Quinn spoiled Long's shot and gave the ball

In Montclair, last Friday, the Blue and Gold fell far behind in the first two minutes, and never came close to the mighty Mounties.

Everybody was hitting for Montclair, and nobody was hitting for the Bellboys. By the

Battling Belles, Workettes, Cascades, Losers; Auquettes Win In Girls' Basketball

The Cascades, Workettes, Battling Belles, Losers, and Auquettes each put another mark in the win column last Thursday night in the Recreation Department's Girls' Basketball league.

The Cascades became the only undefeated team in the league when they edged the Res Ames 8-7. It was a repeat performance with the same characters of the Res Ames Cascade game last year, but this time the tables were turned. Last year the Res Ames downed the Cascades 28-14.

Held Scoreless At the outset, the game looked as if it would be a meaty. The Res Ames were held scoreless in the first quarter, and they managed to get only two to the Cascades' four points in the second period, leaving a half-time score of 7-2. The Res Ames started to come back in the second half. Carme Fredericks and Marlene Gruelich (with sister Tanya who plays for the Cascades guarding her) each hit a goal, then Fredericks scored from the free throw line. It wasn't enough. Gloria Barnett, high scorer for her team with five points, netted a free throw to give the Cascades the winning point.

In another close fray, the Workettes snatched by the Bell-Aires 10-9. Barbara Bennett was the difference. She hit three goals in the first half to give the Workettes a substantial lead. Kathy Finn and Olivia Schleicher tied the game at 4-4 in the third period with two goals as the Workettes failed to score. Then Finn made good from the foul line in the fourth period to give the Bell-Aires a one point advantage, but Marlene Gruelich tallied a crucial two points for the Workettes.

Battling Belles A game standoff in the guard slot for the Bell-Aires was Veronica Sudriks who was the main reason the Workettes remained scoreless in the third period.

The Battling Belles earned an 8-6 victory over the Antra Mebs. After leading at half-time, 4-2, and after holding the Belles to zero from the floor, the Antra Mebs defense became lax and the forwards managed to net only two points in the second half. An opportunistic Belle team hit three baskets in a row to wrap the game up for the Battling Belles.

For the Antra Mebs, Jan Russo had 4 points and Carol Chichella had 2. Sue Schaeffer was high scorer for the Belles with 4. Kay Chieffo and Joan Kosinski each had a basket.

Losers Trounce In the last game of the evening, the Losers trounced the Ten Tens, 12-7. Both teams failed to score in the first period; then the Losers moved to a 4-3 half time lead. In the third period the Ten Tens battled back to move ahead 7-6 as Nancy Ritter basketed 4 points for the Tens. The break in the game came when the Ten Tens repeated their first quarter play and failed to get a

HOLY FAMILY TO SPONSOR BENEFIT BASKETBALL GAMES

All Proceeds To Be Turned Over To March Of Dimes On Sunday, January 29

A benefit basketball festival will be sponsored by Holy Family CYO in the parish hall on January 29 with all proceeds from the event to be turned over to the March of Dimes as part of the CYO's annual campaign.

The program, being arranged by Rev. Anthony T. Benti, parish CYO moderator, will get under way at 7 p.m. Father Benti is being helped by parish CYO coaches, Rose Asaro, Grace Casale and Joe Landolfi.

Tentative arrangements call for Holy Family's girls' team to meet the CYO team from St. Mary's in the opener. Holy Family's junior boys will play the senior club from Holy Trinity of Westfield. Last year CYO members at Holy Family raised $275 for the March of Dimes. They have cooperated in the drive the past 11 years and in that time have collected $984 in the battle against polio.

Nutley Impressive Whether these tactics will work tonight against the Blue and Gold's arch rival, Nutley, remains to be seen.

Nutley has compiled an impressive record, with Columbia and mighty East Orange among their victims. There is no doubt about it, though, they would consider Belleville their biggest victim if they were to win.

Belleville, on the other hand considers this game even more important, for they are anxious to find out if their victory Tuesday night is an indication of things to come. Their eyes are looking ahead to the Essex County Tournament, and looking back to the shallocking Nutley gave them in football, a win would even things up.

Nutley invades Belleville tonight, hoping to end the streak they led in football. Bart Belleville.

The odds would favor their hopes, for Nutley has lost only to the best teams, and has beaten some of the best, while the Bellboys have not compiled an impressive record (4-6 to date).

But there will be a little more than statistics in tonight's game. Belleville and Nutley are arch rivals and when they play, odds are as good as 1920 calendars. Besides which, the Blue and Gold regained much of the confidence they had lost when they beat Bloomfield Tuesday night. They are convinced that they can really go from here on.

LITTLE LEAGUE LIFE

by Larry Remes, James Elting, and Bill Ellis

(The following column was held over from last week, due to lack of space on the sports page.)

During these past few weeks we have been writing about the boys, coaches, teams, and equipment and have omitted one of the most important phases of our Little League, namely, the sponsors. Clubs, organizations, and individuals have sponsored the various teams. These backers buy the uniforms used by their teams, and are often instrumental in obtaining other necessary equipment.

The umpire is another important function of the Little League that is overlooked by many people. Our Little League has been very fortunate in that our umpires thus far have taken a great interest in the boys' welfare. In addition to calling a good game, they have given the boys pointers which have helped them considerably. The umpires for the past five years have been Alex "Bun" Derbishire, Johnny Westlake, Jim Sullivan, and Pete Strout (the latter having been with us for the past two years).

Again we would like to remind you of the Ladies' Auxiliary that is now being formed. If you should care to join, contact this column, care of the Belleville Times. Remember, boys from all over town benefit from Little League, and there is probably no better character builder than a game of baseball.

Freddy Farmers took the odd game from Frank's Texaco piloted by Al Luzzi's 232-593 and D. Mauriello's 200-565. B. Blaz rolled a 226-614 for the Gasmen. In spite of F. Yuknus 279-627, Caballer's Men's Shop dropped all three games to Ken Smith Association.

Yuknus started the last games with nine perfect strikes before leaving the five pin in the final frame. Ron and Don Bergamini led the Association with four 200 games between them with series of 588 and 587 respectively.

International Ticket Co. took the odd game from Palma Realty with M. Ventura rolling a 213-598 for the winners and B. Melchior hitting 191-527 for the losers.

WEIGHT LIFTERS IN PHILLY CONTEST

Local Barbell Club Sends Contingent To Jan. 28 Meet

Once again a contingent of Belleville's strong men will venture to Philadelphia on January 28 to compete in an open weightlifting contest. Representing Belleville will be Joe Serritella, middle-heavyweight and a veteran of last year's contest; Bob Pastore, middleweight; and Bob Sargent, bantamweight.

Belleville's lightweight, Bob Castelli, is still on the inactive list because of a shoulder which was dislocated in the last football game of the '55 season. Castelli would have been almost certain to place in this year's competition. Several others of the Belleville Barbell Club may enter the big meet but because there is still some question their names will be announced later, recreation director Robert Cook said.

Belleville's weightlifting club is different from most in that the local lifters are encouraged to participate in other sports rather than to specialize. Club members have been prominent in crew and football for the past several years, Cook pointed out.

ROLLER RIDERS GIVE EXHIBITION

Edward Littig and his group of bicycle roller riders put on an exhibition of roller riding Friday night at the Graystone Park in Morris Plains.

Littig started the affair by doing his famous strip act on the rollers in which he pedaling on the rollers he strips off his regular clothing down to his racing suit.

Lois and Clark Albee, formerly of Belleville, then rode a three mile pursuit race which was won by Littig in a very close finish. Albee then won from Littig in a half mile race in which the riders did not have their hands off the handle bars.

Don Carlin beat Dick Hock in a one mile event, and Jeff Knothe won a half mile race from her brother Edward.

Bryant Albee, a juvenile, rode a half mile race against Littig's younger son, John, who rides in the middle class, which was won by Bryant. Littig's older son, Edward, also a juvenile, took a half mile sprint from Bryant.

Harvey Black, a former professional, with a speedy sprint in the old days acted as M.C. and gave a short talk explaining the use of the rollers.

Another old timer, Reggie McNamara, the one time noted six day rider, gave a talk about the old six day races, having ridden in over 50 of them, adding the equivalent of 17 times around the earth. He also rode a half mile exhibition on the rollers.

TWO BELLEVILLE FIREMEN FILE DAMAGE SUITS

Michael Cafone And Daniel Spillane Ask Damages In Three-Year-Old Accident

Superior Court Judge Frederic R. Cole has denied a defense motion to dismiss a $500,000 suit brought by two Belleville firemen for injuries they allege they suffered when they were overcome by gas in a water main.

The firemen, Michael J. Cafone and Daniel J. Spillane, attempted to rescue two construction workers who were overcome in the gas-filled main and subsequently died. The defendants are the Nesto Construction Company and the Spillane Construction Company who had contracted to clean out the main preparatory to relining it. The accident occurred March 7, 1953, near the Belleville-Newark line.

Cole denied a motion by the defense attorney, Newton Porter, to dismiss the suit on grounds that the plaintiffs had not shown negligence on the part of the two defendant firms. According to the firemen's complaint, the carbon monoxide came from a coal-oil powered pump, but Porter argued that they had adduced no evidence to sustain an inference that the pump was the main.

The companies also maintained that the firemen were warned not to enter the pipe.

In denying the motion, Cole noted that a recent Supreme Court opinion advised the trial judge to exercise "extreme caution" in taking a case away from a jury.

Dr. John G. Novak, a neurophysiologist, testified that both Cafone and Spillane suffered permanent injuries to their central nervous systems. He described Cafone, who is on inactive status with the fire department, as unemployable. He said that Spillane is capable of light duty, such as he is now performing for the fire department. Both men complained of similar disturbances—severe headaches, numbness in certain parts of the body, restlessness, irritability, dizziness, and weakness.

The first physician called by the defense, Dr. Asher Yaguda, testified that his examination of Cafone revealed no organic involvement. He said that physically Cafone could perform all the duties of a fireman.

Former Belleville Receives Promotion

William L. Heuser, former resident of Belleville for many years and well known locally, has been promoted by Public Service Electric and Gas Company from assistant superintendent of distribution in the Newark district, to district superintendent of the Newark district.

Star-Choosing

Winter's the time for choosing stars. Come out to the blazing dark and take your pick. White earth lies still save for a dog's cold bark. Two farms over. Out of this vast splendor, which star will you have? Aldebaran's burning rose or Rigel's blue-white on that architrave where Orion straddles with Betelgeuse a topos on his arm? Or will you choose the She-Goat, keeping her three small white Kids warm? Frost crystals in his throat, the Dog trots toward his westward haven. Winter's the time for choosing stars — help yourself to heaven!

Put Party Above Payroll

In filing a strongly worded petition to obtain an injunction in Superior Court to prevent the annual meeting of Clean Government Republican, Inc., from taking place, the entrenched "old pros" resorted to the old dodge of "the pot calling the kettle black". The present majority of the trustees of the corporation, the "old pros" charged, is seeking to reorganize Clean Government "to arrogate unto themselves its power and control".

The issue could not be more clearly drawn; and that's the honest truth.

The trustees are planning, by the enlargement of the membership of the corporation and by the election of an entirely new board to take over control of Clean Government and detach it from the grasp of the "old pros", representing the executive committee of the Essex Republican political machine.

The "old pros" are, for the most part, the clique which has monopolized the paid jobs which the Republicans allocate to themselves on the Essex County payroll — The Magees, the multiple Giulianos, the Cashes and the Solomines. They make a fat living out of politics, running as much as $15,000 a year in the case of Mrs. Abbie Magee, and they will fight to prevent anyone outside of the clique getting control of the Clean Government label with which, until last November's election, they bedecked themselves at the polls.

Damon G. Douglas, president of Clean Government, Inc., Lester E. Mahr, its secretary, and William H. Butler, its treasurer, stand accused by the Magees, the Giulianos, the Cashes and the Solomines of trying "to arrogate unto themselves the power and control" of Clean Government. Since they and Reinhardt V. Metzger form a majority of four of the five trustees it stands to reason that they already hold "the power and control". Mrs. Magee is the fifth trustee, but she was due to be bounced in the reorganization.

The lagging efforts to sell 1,100 tickets at $100 per ducat to Essex Republicans as the county's share of the nationwide "Salute To Eisenhower" disclosed a condition which may throw light on why the "old pros" think they have a vested interest in the monopoly control of Clean Government, Inc.

Up to now, the Essex County G. O. P. leadership has sold but 150 tickets of the 1,100 assigned to it. That leaves the county committee $95,000 short of enough and to keep up with the Joneses of the party in New Jersey, the Essex county committee may have to "eat" that deficit. The threatened indignation from "eating" 950 tickets at a cost of $95,000 comes on top of the unhappy failure to wipe out the Essex Republican campaign deficit of $32,000, a hangover from last November's unsuccessful attempt to reelect Mark Anton against the intelligent opposition of a vast majority of Republican voters.

Facing a costly presidential campaign this year, the financial wizards of the G. O. P. county machine have ordered the "old pros" and other party job-holders to fatten the kitty — in addition, of course, to the normal handover of 10 per cent of their salaries, the standard scale for all dues-paying members of the machine hierarchy in the higher income brackets on the county payroll.

To make up the $32,000 deficit, the 12 Assembly delegates from Essex were dunned 10 per cent of their combined salaries, or $6,000. The four Republican Freeholders were assessed $2,400. Mrs. Magee, as county registrar, was told to fork over an additional $1,300 and Anthony Giuliano, newly elected county clerk, was assessed $1,000. That still leaves a fat deficit which discourages many Republicans from saluting like, to the tune of $100 for a box supper, expensive even at the Waldorf.

Those assessments explain why so many of the "old pros" may feel that they have a vested interest in Clean Government, Inc. They explain, too, why many prominent Republicans who are interested in the party for what it may bring the country and not for what it brings them on pay day are just as determined to preserve Clean Government, Inc., from "old pro" manipulation.

Clean Government is the party's safety valve on a county level. In the hands of the "old pros" it would be their tool. In the hands of independent Republicans, it can keep Essex Republicanism clean and vital. By giving or withholding its label, it can inform the rank and file Republican voters which candidates are worthy of support and which cannot gain the corporation's accolade.

An instance of that occurred last year when the present trustees decided to withhold the Clean Government label from both the Anton and the Barnes tickets in the April Primary and from the Anton ticket in the November election. It may have been a coincidence, but Mark Anton, shorn of Clean Government support, was defeated by Democrat Donald Fox. That proved, in practice, the importance of keeping Clean Government out of the hands of the "old pros".

An independent Clean Government, controlled by those who have only the good of the party at heart, can be the dominating and directing force for reviving and revitalizing the Republican party in Essex County — so sorely needed if Eisenhower is to carry the county next November. Domination by the "old pros", who have stubbornly and blindly refused to compromise with the majority of independent Republicans, can only perpetuate the present division and deepen the schism. They learned nothing last April and November.

One cannot, of course, prejudice any action before the Superior Court, but in the interests of Essex Republicanism and Eisenhower Republicanism our hopes are vested in a verdict which will keep Clean Government Republican, Inc., in the control of those courageous Republicans led by Damon Douglas, on a county level, and by Commissioner Robert E. Anderson, on a town level, who put party above payroll.

How Not To Trim A Budget

The Essex Board of Freeholders displayed a shocking lack of interest in the taxpayers and their epidemics. In a year when all the experts predict the worst mosquito invasion in many years, because of the damage caused by last summer's hurricanes and rains, the Freeholders chopped $10,000 off the budget of the county's Mosquito Extermination Commission.

There must be other ways to balance the county budget than to make our summer nights unadulterated misery.

If we have a very dry Spring, we may survive, but a wet Spring will hatch all the eggs — each female mosquito lays them in batches of 200 — and the taxpayers will have to spend many times the budget saving of $10,000 on insecticides and sprays. Mosquitoes should be eliminated at the source and our Freeholders have deprived us of the protection we should rightfully have.

City Without A Newspaper

What is it like to live in a city without a regular newspaper?

The people of Detroit know — after a prolonged strike that shut down all three of its dailies. The merchants of the city learned it particularly well — the hard way. They used all other media to the limit. Some stores put out handbills of their own, to advertise their holiday wares. Yet, though Christmas trade for the country as a whole was well above last year, many Detroit stores did less business. The lack of newspapers was responsible.

Again, the merchants faced a fresh problem at post-holiday sale time. They had bargains and specials to offer as usual, but moving them was another matter, without newspaper advertising space.

The community problems that arise from lack of newspapers are certainly not limited to the big cities. Smaller towns are equally dependent upon the weeklies and dailies that serve them. In the small town, especially, the newspaper is a running record of its history — a thread that constantly touches the lives of all the people who live there. And, despite the newer media, it remains the most effective means of advertising for merchants and others.

Infinitely more important, the newspaper, small or large, is a guardian of our rights and liberties which is always on duty.

One Man's Opinion

Once Again, Russia Has Seized The Diplomatic Initiative And Eden Comes To Seek Another Roadblock

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

Khrushchev and Bulganin, Moscow's "poison ivy" emissaries, may look like clowns, get drunk easily and often and make statements which, in the face of historical fact, are stupidly false but our State Department and the British Foreign Office are worried. They know that the hostility of the Soviet bloc of nations covering half of the world has been consolidated and, largely through the converts made by the Kremlin's travelling circus, there is a growing neutralist opposition.

Britain, always worried by the safety of the Empire's life-line through the Mediterranean and Indian waters, feels it more than we do. It is chiefly because of London's stinging political objections to Arab and Islamic restlessness, resulting in some bitter criticism of Sir Anthony Eden by his Parliamentary opposition for his indecision and his willingness to go along with Dulles policy, that Sir Anthony will arrive in Washington on January 30 for three days of world policy discussion.

The Eden-Eisenhower-Dulles talks have become increasingly imperative. The United States and Britain must get together on Middle East and Asian policies; they must review jointly the guided missile field where Moscow has announced a disturbing progress.

The Kremlin has hinted it might like another summit meeting; the Soviets are winning sympathy and support from the Red Sea, to Indonesia, offering trade deals and arms to Asians and Africans. The West cannot ignore such efforts. It must regain the initiative with a positive program and if Washington and London can agree on a common program so much the better.

Personal Prestige Involved

It is imperative also that Sir Anthony recapture some of the prestige he seems to have lost through indecision at home and on an election year here. The President's accomplishments or failures in the field of foreign relations will be examined under a biased microscope by the Democratic campaigners.

Indicative of the importance London attributes to the Washington talks, Sir Anthony is bringing with him his Foreign Minister, Selwyn Lloyd, and the top experts of the Foreign Office on Germany and on the Middle and Far East.

A month after the Eden visit Dulles will take off for Karachi, Pakistan, for the meeting of the council of the SEATO pact countries. While he is in the Far East he will pay his respects to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India in New Delhi, and make a number of other side visits en route to try to offset the effects of the Kremlin clown's side-shows.

Need Of Review

These visits are symptomatic of the times and of changes in the air.

A lot of things have been going less well than one might desire in the affairs of the Western alliance and its relations with other countries. For example:

The new Soviet ambassador has arrived in Bonn, and direct and regular negotiations between the West German capital and Moscow are now one of the facts of political life in the world.

The Baghdad Pact has all but blown up in our face. Anti-American riots in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, spoiled an easy assumption that that country could be incorporated in the alliance.

It has been denounced at its western end by Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and at its eastern end by India, Afghanistan and Burma. This supposed instrument of Western strength in the Middle East has proved to be an explosive cause of disunion and disorder from Suez to the Malay Peninsula.

Britain's Discomfort

Britain is caught in an uncomfortable squeeze between its Commonwealth tie with India and its alliance with the United States, whose relations with India have sunk to an all-time low.

Sir Anthony, as Churchill's Foreign Secretary, was one of the principal architects of Geneva, and one of the fantastic consequences of the failure of Geneva was the spectacle of Khrushchev and Bulganin standing in the council chamber in New Delhi under the portraits of the great viceroys of India and denouncing Britain as a "coloniser", after Britain had given India its freedom. That hurt Sir Anthony at home.

The whole crescent of Moslem states from Gibraltar to the Pacific Ocean which Britain once ruled is in ferment and disorder and no new controlling force has emerged.

There is a theory held currently by a minority element in Washington that Britain's former imperial can and must be replaced by a United States economic development program.

Congress Sharpens Ax

But Congress in Washington is sharpening the ax of political economy far even the modest increase in the foreign-aid budget which Dulles persuaded a reluctant Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey to accept.

It is time that Sir Anthony and the President get together over the heads of Dulles and Lloyd. In the larger sense these men are still trying to carry out policies which were framed in the heat of the Korean war.

The rearmament of Germany was one, and its net effects so far have been to increase political instability in France and the opening of diplomatic relations between Bonn and Moscow. The German Army exists in embryo but it numbers only 400 men, as of today. If we count on German armed support we must be prepared to wait a year for a German army to materialize in the field.

Policy That Failed

The Baghdad Pact which has aroused the violent animosity not only of Soviet Russia but the opinion of Egypt and India, was another result of the Korean war. Our idea at that time was to complete a ring of Western military bases around the Soviet Union.

The pact, alas, has come to be antithetical to India, the one great power in southern Asia which is not allied with Moscow, but which has moved much closer to friendship with Moscow since that pact was launched.

The Baghdad Pact is equally antithetical to Yugoslavia which is trying to create a neutralist common ground to which Iron Curtain countries could resort without joining the West. Tito's dream of a happy day when Bulgaria, Romania, and Hungary could join the Greek-Turkish-Yugoslav alliance outside of the direct Kremlin orbit is hampered, not aided, by Turkey's membership in the Baghdad pact.

Policies Outdated

These are all symptoms of today's changing world which is restlessly out of harmony with policies devised during the Korean war.

That restlessness is undoubtedly a major cause of the wave of criticism which has swept through Britain against Sir Anthony. Six months ago he was riding a wave of unusual popularity. Today leading elements in his own party are openly advocating his retirement.

No one yet knows the answers to this disjointed state of affairs. Neither Washington nor London apparently, has a ready cure. Neither possesses solutions for the day when Sir Anthony arrives at the White House.

But everyone recognizes that change is in the air, that many an old Western policy is obsolescent if not obsolete, that fresh thinking must be applied if Moscow's diplomatic initiative by direct contact is to be matched by Western action. It's high time for a re-examination of policies, weighing their worth in the light of realities.

Opera Stars To Appear In Music Series

An event of unusual interest in the winter schedule of the Griffith Music Foundation will be the appearance of Renata Tebaldi, the Metropolitan Opera's current soprano star, and Giuseppe Campora, another brilliant Metropolitan Opera artist, in a joint operatic recital on Sunday evening, January 29, at 8:40. Tebaldi, the first great Italian soprano to appear on the operatic scene for at least fifteen years, Tebaldi's voice and artistry have captivated audiences at every performance in which she has appeared since she made her New York debut last February in the role of Desdemona in Verdi's "Otello." This season she has proved to be an even greater "Met" sensation and her performances in operas such as "Tosca," in which Campora sang the leading male role of Cavaradossi, were hailed as memorable operatic events.

Tebaldi was born in Pesaro, Italy, in her childhood she studied piano for six years. Her operatic debut was made at Ravenna, Italy, in May, 1944, at Elena in Boito's "Mefistofele," and soon after she sang at La Scala, Milan. In 1950, she made her North American debut with the San Francisco Opera Co., and as Aida proved a sensational success. Her voice was subsequently dubbed in on a full-length color film version of "Aida," which has had a phenomenal success. In that picture Campora's tenor voice was also heard in the leading tenor role of Radames.

Campora, who will appear with Tebaldi at the Mosque, was born in Tortona, Italy, twenty-nine years ago into a non-musical family and no struggle for fame has marked his career. He, too, reached the "Met" from Milan's La Scala through sheer artistic merit, and his American debut as Rinaldo in "La Boheme" just a year ago won enthusiastic praise from New York musical critics.

The Petreans

By Grace Schickram

Get ready everybody for a winter weekend in the Catskills. Plans have been made for January 20, 21 and 22. So polish up those skis and increase your insurance policies. Eileen Cullen will arrange all accommodations. So get your reservation in early. Fifteen dollars will cover the cost of lodging and meals. Skis and ski shoes and their rest can be rented at a reasonable fee.

Tuesday night was the Christmas party with Santa (Skip Brady) making a grand entrance. Punch, pastries and coffee were served by Cathy Cammett and her able committee. The club presented a radio-phonograph to St. Anthony's orphanage in Arlington which was gratefully accepted by Mrs. Dugan and Mrs. Mulligan of Arlington.

We would like to say thanks to Grace Maguire and elan Lauterrite for the splendid arranging of the Christmas dinner for the sisters of St. Peter's. Also, thanks to the others who helped make this day a pleasant one for the sisters.

High School Assembly On Atomic Energy Wonders

Belleville High School students will have the opportunity of getting acquainted with the wonders of our present age at a special assembly program next Friday. Featured on the program will be "This Atomic World," a traveling atomic-energy exhibit from the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

The Institute, which is a nonprofit educational corporation owned by 34 Southern universities and operating under direct contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, is vitally concerned with the necessity for stimulating interest in science careers and science education at the secondary-school level. One of the great problems facing our nation today is the disparity between the great demand for scientifically trained personnel and the relatively small supply of high school and college graduates to meet the requirement. Consequently, OHNS has instituted many programs designed to aid in cutting down this disparity.

"This Atomic World" is one of several traveling exhibits sent out by the OHNS Museum Division to towns and cities all over the United States. It is designed to meet the needs of principals, science teachers, and civic leaders in stimulating a deeper interest in the peacetime uses of atomic energy.

In next week's program, a staff member of the Museum Division will take the audience on an educational and entertaining excursion into the atomic age. Utilizing exhibits and demonstration equipment, the demonstrator will explain in simple language the fundamentals of atomic energy and how it compares with other types of energy; how atomic energy is released through radiation and fission; and how atomic energy is used in agriculture, medicine, industry, and other fields.

PRUDENTIAL TAKES LOCAL STORE ROOM

The Prudential Insurance Company has announced that it has leased 50,000 square feet of storage space in the one-story warehouse building at 525 Main Street, to permit transfer of some filing and storage operations from Prudential's High Street building.

The vacated space in the High Street Building, on the first and second floors, will be used for clerical operations which will be shifted as a result of the company's new development and building program in downtown Newark.

The space was obtained under a five-year lease negotiated by Ralph G. Schwehmeyer & Co., Newark realtors, between The Prudential and the 525 Main Street corporation.

Political-Social Club Officers Are Installed

Canillo Buciarelli was installed president of the Belleville Political and Social Club last week by Congressman Peter W. Rodino, installing officer.

Other officers are Frank Carnevali, vice president; Vito DeFoa, treasurer; Anthony DeFoa, financial secretary; Joseph Pacenti, recording secretary; Robert Pettilo, sergeant-at-arms.

Named trustees were John T. Ciallella, chairman; William Maderna, Louis Roselle, John Roselle and Joseph Natale.

BIGGEST OF THE BIG 3

-and mighty proud of it!

You certainly should look at the '56 Buick SPECIAL!

We've said it before, and we'll say it again:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and the sales figures make the proof of that stronger and stronger.

Just ask yourself: which cars would normally be in the top 3 of America's best sellers? The well-known smaller cars—naturally.

But which cars are in that Big 3? Two of the well-known smaller cars, and Buick—for over two years running now.

That means Buick prices are well within reach of more and more people—thanks primarily to the budget-tagged Buick SPECIAL, like the one pictured above.

And that's the whole point of the matter.

For this low-priced Buick SPECIAL—so close in cost to the smaller cars—is so much more automobile for the money, it's the stand-out buy of its field.

It's the biggest of the Big 3 in power, thrill, in comfort, in size and breadth and luxury and sheer roadability.

It's the biggest of the Big 3 in the solidity and softness of its all-collapsing ride—in the sweep of its styling—and in the pure thrill of its performance.

For where else but in Buick can you get the nimble getaway, the gas-saving mileage, the electrifying switch-pitch action and the absolute smoothness of the new Variable Pitch Dynaflow?

Come in to see and drive the biggest, bundle of high-powered beauty and energy ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

It's proud we certainly are to be able to offer so much car for the money—but nothing to how proud you'll be when you boss a new SPECIAL. Can you come in tomorrow?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
