

Polls Open Tuesday For Residents Voting In Kiernan Referendum

Twenty-One Municipal Polling Places Will Be Open From 7 A. M. To 8 P. M.; Supreme Court Intervention Is Unlikely Before Election

Belleville voters will go to the polls Tuesday in a special referendum to decide whether the town's zoning laws will be amended to permit mortuaries in Class A residential zones. The special election was virtually assured Monday when the Appellate Division of the State Superior Court in Trenton refused to reverse a lower court decision which did not see sufficient reason to grant a temporary restraint.

The restraint had been asked for by Attorneys Charles Handker, of Newark, Thomas Markley, of Bloomfield, and Victor Schleicher, of Belleville, in order to delay the referendum until a final court order could be obtained, ruling on the legality of the vote. The three represented Dr. William H. Post, of 264 Holmes Street, and Alexander Lugano, of 291 Holmes Street, who are leading the fight against the referendum.

The only possibility that the referendum might be postponed or called off entirely is if the State Supreme Court sees fit to intervene in the litigation. Dr. Post revealed that an application asking for a special hearing before the Supreme Court had been filed and that he was awaiting the Court's answer. However, it seems very unlikely that the high court will make a decision to hear the case in sufficient time before the referendum is scheduled. Robert C. Gruhin, attorney for defendant George F. Kiernan, pointed out that even after the Court would decide to hear the appeal, a sufficient length of time must be granted to the defense counsel to prepare the necessary brief.

Schleicher has stated that regardless of whether the referendum is held, he and his colleagues "are prepared to fight the case to the bitter end." He should not be conducted at the taxpayers' expense of nearly $4,000 at least until all the legal points of the case have been argued.

In arguments before the Appellate Division of the Superior Court, Monday, he argued that no judicial precedent has ever been established for the use of initiative and referendum in amending zoning ordinances. He claims it would be a dangerous precedent to establish now. He said it never contemplated that people should have a voice in changing zoning laws. "If it did," he said, "we would have a referendum every day of the week."

Handker, on the other hand, has been arguing that the petitions and affidavits certifying the signatures were in improper form. Gruhin, in defending the form.

An Editorial:

Kiernan Referendum Is Your Business

The Kiernan referendum on Tuesday affects every resident of Belleville. Regardless of what the final outcome of this attempt to amend the town's zoning laws may be, that outcome should be reached by those people it affects — namely, every last resident of this town.

It is not a problem, as many people seem to believe, that concerns only a few embattled neighbors and is restricted to a small area on or around Holmes Street. They already have good protection in a restrictive deed. The proposed ordinance to amend the town's zoning laws, the subject of Tuesday's referendum, is not a restrictive ordinance in that it establishes an exception to the rule. Its intent is to change the rule entirely. Its effect will include every residential street in every residential zone in Belleville.

It is not the purpose of this editorial to dictate to anyone which way to vote. That is not our right. It is our purpose, merely, to urge every voter to go to the polls, since the final decision does effect every homeowner and resident of Belleville. Don't let a vital matter be decided by default or by a mere handful of protagonists.

The basic issue which Tuesday's referendum will decide is whether funeral homes can, or cannot, be operated in any part of Belleville irrespective of protective zoning laws. Voters must decide whether to uphold the existing zoning laws or to waive the zoning laws.

RISOLI DEMANDS BEST EDUCATION FOR OUR CHILDREN

Board Candidate Receives Support Of Robert Laterza In Race For School Post

Ralph Risoli, one of nine candidates seeking election to the three vacancies on the Board of Education, this week stated that we must obtain the best possible education for our children. "There must be a flexibility which will allow for the changing requirements of the children," he said.

Speaking before a gathering at the home of Robert Laterza, who has come out in favor of Risoli, he declared, "I believe that the finances should be budgeted into the children's needs. Laterza came in third in the last School Board election in which one candidate was elected."

"School budget practices tend to put the cart before the horse by starting with funds available and then trying to make the budget. By thinking of the children first we will be providing a better economy in the long run."

Risoli made three points which are necessary in order to keep good teachers in the local school system. He recommended (1) that the prestige and status of teaching be held comparable to other professions in the community, (2) that salary structure must be high enough and flexible enough to compete with other fields, and (3) that the teacher's job must be challenging in order to attract talented people from non-professional districts.

"I think we should continue to seek public support for education," he said. "We should also explore new methods of financing and teaching," he said, "because old methods are antiquated and inadequate."

Howley Selected Treasurer For Helping Hand

The new $400,000 treatment center of Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson will be formally dedicated at 2:30 this Sunday afternoon it was announced today by Charles E. Garrabrant of Short Hills, president of the CP organization.

Classes were begun in December in the modern, one-story structure overlooking Branch Brook Park at the Belleville-Newark line. Eventually, the center will give therapy and rudimentary education help to 200 children on a full-time basis. Previously, the CP group had conducted part-time programs for less than 100 youngsters in the basement of Summer Avenue School, where quarters were furnished by the Newark Board of Education.

The full program for Sunday's dedication ceremonies follows: Invocation, Rabbi Albert L. Baal, 1441 Jerusalem Street and his wife; prayer of Gladys Massie Hospital; Prayer of Dedication, Rev. ### COMMON SENSE MORE IMPORTANT THAN PROMISES

School Candidate Kintzing Makes Statement Concerning Election To School Board

William Kintzing, candidate for the Board of Education, said Monday night that he believed a candidate for the Board should have an average amount of intelligence and "quite a chunk of good old-fashioned common sense." He further stated that promises by prospective Board candidates to get the best possible education for the town can afford to provide for him. To accomplish this, a Board of Education capable of "harmony in action" is of paramount importance. Personal life and popularity have no place in Board policy or in "Board action." These evils lead to unwise decisions and to the ruin of the town, he said.

Classrooms are good. The lighting fixtures are all fluorescent and windows and ventilation are better than average. There are no fire hazards. In fact, in case of fire the school can be emptied in one minute and 10 seconds. The furniture is all new and storage space is not too bad.

This a school that would greatly benefit from the establishment of a Junior High. If the seventh grade is moved to the Junior High, the school would be empty in one minute and 10 seconds.

LETTERS To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News: The Better Schools Committee has investigated Commissioner Smith's statement made in the "Newark News" of January 26th in which he said that the Belleville school budget has increased one million dollars since 1951. Mr. Smith can be accused not only of misleading the voters, but of gross inaccuracy also.

The school budget has increased $556,470.82 since 1951. In the same period of time teachers' salaries have increased $605,542.50. Since teachers' salaries have increased more than the increase in the budget, the board of education can hardly be accused of not paying down the budget.

Does Commissioner Smith propose to lower teachers' salaries? Does he propose to cut the school building program or in favor of getting and holding good teachers by paying them adequately?

Commissioner Smith also complains about the salaries of maintenance men. He forgets to remember that the Belleville school represent an investment of about $12,000,000. The skilled maintenance workers are needed. The employment of skilled workers may mean a saving rather than an expense to the town.

In his personal of the budget, which was not made available to question it, Commissioner Smith neglects not even the expense of musical instruments. It seems the board is spending $5,000 this year, $1,000 more than last year, on this item. Does he realize that the school furnish instruments to some children whose parents cannot afford them, to other children for a learning center, and that the school's child interest justifies the expense of buying an instrument?

He also knows that in recent years the school pianos were worn-out donations from interested citizens and the board has gradually been replacing them with low, safe classroom pianos that can hold a tune. (Did Commissioner Smith read about the tragedy that occurred in another town when an old, high piano toppled over and killed a pupil while it was being moved?)

State aid to Belleville has decreased about $77,000 this year. If Commissioner Smith really wants to help the taxpayers he could work at it from the school budget. The Better Schools Committee suggests that it would be wise to ignore Commissioner Smith's utterances on school finances since he can so glibly make a mistake of half a million dollars. (Did Commissioner Smith know that high statements are irresponsible made.)

The Better Schools Committee urges all citizens to vote "Yes" on the school budget February 14th because there is no way to reduce the budget without either lowering teachers' salaries or seriously impairing our school program.

was pointed out. The Appellate Court's refusal to grant a reversal was handed down after an hour's argument in Trenton, by lawyers for the plaintiff and the town. In a 2-1 split decision, the court ruled that the referendum would cause no irreparable harm which would warrant a temporary stay. The ruling upheld a decision by Superior Court J. Dixon Spackman. # "Music To Enjoy" To Star Lila Fay, Ernest Goldman

Headlining the "Music To Enjoy" concert next Friday, February 10, will be Lila Fay, sopranoist, and Ernest Goldman, pianist. The concert, under the direction of Hazel Ellsworth and William Akers, will be presented at School Ten, Belleville and Franklin Avenues, at 8:15 p.m.

Also appearing will be Janet and Arthur Schweitzer, student artists chosen by audition for this program. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Miss Fay, soprano soloist, is well known in northern New Jersey. Her many concerts have taken her through most of the towns in the metropolitan area. Last season, she went on an extended concert tour through the South and West.

She appeared with the Amato Opera Company last fall and will be the leading soprano with the Gateway Playhouse in Elmmer. Her program will include a group of songs which have proven most popular in her concert work.

While Mr. Goldman pursues music as an avocation, being a research engineer in his professional life, he brings a talent that is concert worthy to the program.

Mr. Goldman is a native of Mark Gordin in Vienna, and has presented recitals in New York City and at the local area. His selections are chosen from the works of the old masters—Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Chopin and Schubert.

Both Janet and Arthur Schweitzer have won Honor Awards in the Griffith auditions and have performed on radio and television. Janet studies with Suzanne Loh and Arthur is a pupil of Samuel Applebaum.

A highlight of "Music To Enjoy" December program was the presentation of a check by Paul De Hagara, amounting to $150 and representing the balance of the Community Concerts' treasury.

His accompanying remarks, De Hagara said that the officers of the former Community Concerts' group had voted to turn over the fund to Music To Enjoy, which is presenting concerts in the public interest as the Community Concerts' group did several years ago.

The couple plan a fall wedding.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gorlin

Veith Stars For Niagara Fresh

Richie Veith, former Belleville High All-State basketball star of a year ago, is going great guns at Niagara University where he is a member of the freshman hoop team. The word is out from sports publicity director Bob Lowe that Veith is expected to follow right in the footsteps of another former Belleville star, Jim McConnell.

For those who didn't know, McConnell has completed his collegiate court career but is still up at Niagara helping Coach "Taps" Gallagher. McConnell has been piloting the freshman squad and has been closely associated with the success of Veith on the hardwoods.

Veith is being boomed for a varsity berth although he will only be a sophomore next season. Gallagher has liked what he has seen of the former All-State who is uncanny when he plays one-handed push shot. In one of his latest starts Veith enjoyed his best night of the winter campaign when he poured 25 points through the hoop against the Canisius frosh in a Little Three Conference fray. The "Baby Eagles" won the game, 62-51.

Richie Veith and Jim McConnell

The total was the highest registered by any member of the yearling squad this season and elevated Veith into the top position in the individual scoring derby. One of Belleville Coach "Jitty" Wische's prize pupils, Veith has been one of the major reasons why the Niagara frosh team was undefeated in its first five starts. He has been in the starting line-up since the campaign got underway. Veith has been scoring at a good clip. He has been averaging 14.8 points a game and is already over the 100 mark.

McConnell is gaining valuable experience piloting the freshmen. He is currently awaiting a call into the armed forces. The one-time Blue and Gold star performer was a varsity player for the Purple Eagles for three years. His teammates are also having good success. Ed Fleming is with the Rochester Royals, Charlie Hoxie is starring with the Harlem Globetrotters and Hubie Brown, from nearby Elizabeth, is coaching at Little Falls High School in New York. He is basketball and baseball coach and also athletic director.

Werner Starts For Lafayette

Considered the most surprising development on the Lafayette College basketball squad this season has been the advancement of Bob Werner, six foot, one inch senior, of Belleville, to the starting Maroon combination. For the last two years Werner, a likeable youth, had been warming the bench. He did get into a number of games, but never as a starter.

Werner appeared destined for a reserve role again this season when practice sessions ended last November. Last season's entire starting team that won 24 and lost 3 was back and there appeared little likelihood of any new faces breaking in.

But when some of last year's regular began to slip for one reason or another, George Davidson, new Lafayette coach, did not hesitate to begin experimenting with some of his reserves.

Werner attracted Davidson's attention almost from the start with his eagerness to get into action and his general attitude. He looked so good in practice sessions that the Lafayette coach decided to start him. That was three weeks ago.

Werner was quick to take advantage of the opportunity. In the first game he started, against Bucknell, he scored five field goals to help Lafayette win. He had a big role in helping the Maroon defeat Muhlenberg in one of the "big" games of the season. In fact, since Werner has been starting, Lafayette has been winning. He scored 19 points on five field goals as Lafayette defeated Scranton.

Bellboys Defeat Irvington In 49-43 Contest; Lose To East Orange 75-56

Cagers Split Two Decisions Last Week For 6-8 Record; Still Have Hope For Essex County Tourney

By Dave Thaler

After being snowed under by the powerful Panthers of East Orange last Friday, the Blue and Gold cagers scored a 49-43 upset victory over the erratic Campdowners of Irvington Tuesday. This was the third straight week that Coach Herman Wische's charges gained a split in the week's activities, and the result is a 6-8 record for the Bellboys.

The Irvington game was a crucial one for the Bellboys, for if they lost they would be out of the Essex County Tournament picture. But with the win, their chances are considerably brighter.

Joe Prieto opened the scoring, banking his set off the boards to give Coach Wische's charges a 2-0 lead. Each Bellboy then took his turn in sinking a bucket, and the Campdowners were down by four, 10-2. The lead grew to 14-2 at the end of the first quarter. The difference was seven, 14-9.

LOCAL STRONG MEN SCORE IN PHILLY LIFTING CONTEST

Joe Serritella And Robert Sargent Place Second And Fourth In Stiff Competition

Two members of the Belleville Barbell Club placed in weightlifting competition last week in Philadelphia. Robert Sargent placed second in the bantamweight class lifting a fine total of 405 pounds while Joe Serritella, lifting against very strong competition, placed fourth in the middle heavyweight class with an excellent total of 445 pounds.

Irvington Narrows Gap

Irvington started to move in the second stanza, as they slowly narrowed the gap. The Belleville lead, as high as seven points was shrunk to a 14-10 lead.

The entire second half had the fans standing on their feet. Two quick baskets put the Campdowners up by two, but Weinstein made a shot, and Bartlett counted two jump shots to push the visitors down by two. Irvington came right back and when Plesnik shot the ball, went the length of the court, and cut the twines, the Campdowners lead by one marker. Long then recaptured the lead for his mates, but McConnell took it away again with his long jump shot.

But Long was persistent, and his jump shot coupled with Plesnik's drive sent the Blue and Gold to the top of the tote pole by a 36-33 score. The Bellboys then notched a foul shot at the end of the third quarter to make the score 36-34.

Irvington	2	5	.286
Blomfield	2	5	.286
West Orange	1	7	.125

Irvington was still in the ball game, and they moved it, when after an uphill battle, they tied the score at 45 all with one minute left. But Bartlett, who hit more than 60 per cent of his shots in the second half, cut the net with his jumper to hand Irvington a two point deficit with 23 seconds left.

Fifth Round Results In Girl's Basketball League

By Evelyn Harmon

The Losers, Bell Aires, Cascades and Workettes held their first place positions while the Battling Belles slipped to second place in the fifth round of the Recreation Department's Girls League.

The Cascades opened the evening's events with a 34-9 win over the Ten Tens. Gloria Barnett, still the team's high scorer, tallied six goals before she moved to the guard slot in the second half. She had plenty of support in scoring honors from Jean D'Aranno with four points, Pat Burke with eight points, Kay Carroll with 33 points, and Madeline Guelich with four points.

Kay Carroll was the star of the evening when she tossed in two one-hand push shots from the corner.

The Ten Tens, a much younger and shorter squad, played just as hard with the large deficit in the final period as they had in the first quarter, but the ball just wouldn't go in. Kay Carroll's 33 points were high scorer for the team with four points.

The Workettes trounced the Antra Mebs 28-11. The victory got off to a 9-3 lead at the first quarter and continued to build on it. They went out scored by the Antra Mebs only in the third quarter. The Workettes have an unbreakable tie in Barbara Neuschwander and Rosa Schreiber. The "Gold Dust" twins scored 32 points between them; Schreiber had 15 and Neuschwander six.

High scorers for the Mebs were Alice Bauer and Sue Schaeffer; each had four points. Later, the champions, the Aces, the Aces Ames, finally came alive after losing four in a row and smothered the Aquettes 19-4.

Serritella, who lifted in the Philly contest last year, turned in a total high year that was ten pounds more than last year's winning mark. He had a little bad luck on two of his lifts that cut about ten pounds off his total. Bob Cook, who coaches the team, said he is afraid he was a little too conservative with Serritella. If he had let him try a little higher on one lift, he would have certainly placed third, and possibly second, Cook said.

The Belleville Barbell Club, which is a Recreation Department activity, meets at the Municipal Stadium. Classes are held for boys each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoon from 5:30 to 5:50 P. M. and for senior infants, each evening from Monday through Friday.

Chess Club Takes Close 4-3 Tourney From P. S.

The Belleville Chess Club won a 4-3 game from the Public Service Chess Club, conducted on the Swiss plan, forty moves in two hours.

Ralph Houghton, of the United States Chess Federation, was tournament director.

IT'S A SHAME!

But If You Don't Vote Down The Proposal To Allow Mortuaries (Funeral Parlors) In First Class Residential Zones, You Will Lose A Vital Protection Which Our Zoning Regulations Now Afford.

HERE'S WHY: There are good and sufficient reasons for restricting funeral parlors to business areas. Realtors and real estate appraisers agree that funeral parlors lower the market value of all homes. This is because they create a depressing, funereal atmosphere with hearses and mourners coming and going, blocking your driveway, taking your parking space and creating traffic congestion when funeral processions are made up.

Willful February

When the heated door opens you'd better hurry
and slam it quickly,
for that sudden flurry
is a guest coming quickly,
white and airy.
Better let her enter,
willful February.

"Old Pros" Are Anathema

Despite the warning of Superior Court Judge Mark A. Sullivan, Jr., that continued litigation can only bring harm to Clean Government and cause public distress within an organization "which cannot keep its own house in order," there is little hope of a compromise settlement between the entrenched "old pros" and the majority of the Board of Trustees of the Republican Corporation. Nor is there any symptom of a generous gesture by the "old pros" to withdraw the suit which they filed to prevent the reorganization of Clean Government on a "non-pro" basis.

The issue has been so clearly drawn that, perhaps, only by allowing the "old pros" court action to reach a head in Superior Court on February 20 can it be settled. It is too hard to compromise between the "old pros" refusal, ever since they were beaten here in the Primary last April, to surrender any part of the control of the Republican party within Essex County, and the Clean Government trustees decision, by majority action, to strip the professional politicians, the county officials who make fat salaries out of politics, of any part of the conduct of the corporation which represents the rank and file of Essex Republicanism which asks and takes no cash profit out of politics.

There is no need for a split in Essex Republicanism. The "old pros" have their jobs and their fat salaries. They can keep them. No one envies them their riches on the county payroll. But Essex Republicans want Clean Government's label reserved for candidates who meet the rigid qualifications that are established by the Eisenhower standards of Republicanism. They want to see control of the Clean Government label in the hands of sincere and honest, non-professional Republicans, men who do not make a living out of politics and who are Republicans for what they can give to the party and not for what the party can give them.

It, obviously, is ridiculous to allow the "old pros" on the county payroll, who form the county committee which picks the candidates, to control, also, Clean Government Republican, Inc., and to cover themselves with its accolade and its label. Yet that is what the "old pros" demand. It is for that that they asked an injunction and then filed suit in Superior Court to try and upset the decision of a majority of the Clean Government trustees to reorganize that corporation outside of the county executive committee.

Having obtained their injunction to prevent the trustees from reorganizing Clean Government, the "old pros" went to court. It is in answer to their court action that Judge Sullivan issued his warning that by pressing their action they can only bring harm to the party and to Clean Government.

Since the "old pros" are the litigants, only the "old pros" are to blame if, as Judge Sullivan warns, Clean Government suffers. But a job is a job, a fat salary is a fat salary, and a monopoly control over dispensing the cash securities on the county payroll is at stake, as far as the "old pros" are concerned. Judge Sullivan will find them as adamant as Nutley Republicans found them, on a town level, when the independent-thinking Republicans here formed a majority and beat the entrenched "old pros" in last year's Primary, only to see the defeated and resentful county job holders hang on for dear life to their vice chairmanship.

The time has come for a show down. It is preposterous that those who hold paid county jobs should have the exclusive power to bedeck themselves with a Clean Government label. The "old pros" should be deprived of all levers of command of the party. I know that sounds like treason to the old-line politicians, but they never have grown up. They still live in the Tammany era. They do not seem to realize that Eisenhower Republicanism has broken with the political traditions of the past and that the politicians who grab off the fatly-paid jobs and who are in politics for the easy living it provides, instead of out of a desire to contribute to the political welfare of the state, are anathema to the rank and file.

Kieman Referendum

ing code entirely so far as funeral homes are concerned.

One possible danger of the proposed zoning amendment, accomplished by initiative and referendum, is that an unsound precedent might be established for holding public referendums on any issue where an individual is dissatisfied with existing zoning restrictions.

Unfortunately, this referendum is costing Belleville taxpayers $4,000, yet a Superior Court decision and an Appellate Court verdict have held that there are sufficient grounds on which to hold the special plebiscite. The courts, however, has given no indication whether they will uphold the legality of the referendum, once the vote has been completed. Opponents of the zoning amendment have already declared they will file a court suit if the amendment to the ordinance is approved.

Clearly there is no judicial precedent to guide public officials or private citizens in this case. It appears that ultimately the problem will have to be resolved in the courts. It will facilitate that court action, however, if a full vote is cast which reflects the opinion of home-owners and all other residents who are interested in the town as a place to live, as pleasantly as possible and with full protection of property rights and investments.

Victory Of Common Sense Over "Pap And Patronage"

When it came to a showdown, Essex County Democratic Chairman Dennis Carey backed water. His ill-advised opposition to the renomination of Democratic Congressman Peter W. Rodino, in the 10th District, and Hugh Addison, in the 11th, could not withstand the pressure of public opinion. Squire, as he did, he could not impose his terms of "pap and patronage," and the renominations of the two excellent Congressmen bear no taint of machine politics.

Carey is not big enough to have prevented the re-nomination of the two Congressmen, but it would have been unfortunate for the Democratic party had he insisted on trying. Here in the 10th District, Congressman Rodino has represented us for eight years and in that expanse of time there never once has been a single instance where an act of his could be pointed at as "pap and patronage."

Rep. Rodino has, very ably, represented his district regardless of party. He never has asked the party affiliation of anyone seeking his help; his generosity in giving of his time to serve the public of his circumscription has won for him a steadily growing circle of friends and supporters whose loyalty transcends party lines.

It would have been sheer folly for Carey and his "machine" to have nominated anyone but Rodino, here in the 10th District. In four previous elections, Rodino has increased his electoral strength each time. He never failed to lead the Democratic ticket here in Nutley and in 1952, for the first time in Nutley's history, he won a Congressional election for his party, polling a record 6,699 votes to defeat Alex Matturi. In 1954, he widened his margin of victory to 1,150 in defeating William McGlynn.

Logically, Rep. Rodino followed his party line in his votes in Congress but it has been established that he never voted against President Eisenhower on any major issue. His Congressional record can not be used against him in the November campaign. His personal record of service is also unassailable. There never has been a hint of anything unorthodox. Rep. Rodino is as near to being untouchable, after eight years in Congress, as anyone could be.

To defeat him, the Republicans will be as hard put as they were when they threw in his path; unsuccessfully and successively, Anthony Giuliano, William Rawson, Alex Matturi and McGlynn. The G.O.P. has tried candidates of Italian resonance and of non-Italian name; none has come anywhere near beating him. At the present time, Rodino can count on almost as many Nutley Republican votes as Democratic; he has been that kind of an excellent Congressman. R. E. H.

School Board Vote Nears

Although the hotly contested Kieman referendum is in the spotlight this coming week, the Belleville Board of Education election follows closely on its heels, coming up for consideration on February 14. Nine candidates are seeking the three positions that will be filled on the school board. Each of the candidates has come forth with platforms upon which he is basing his campaign. So that local voters will be fully informed of the pledges of each candidate, next week's paper will carry a brief summary of each candidate's stand on vital issues.

One Man's Opinion

Quemoy And Matsau Are Back In The News Because Of Red China's Build-Up Of Power

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

In his ignorance of world affairs when he was called to the Presidency by Franklin Roosevelt, there was commendable modesty in the character of Harry Truman. His first prayer on the night he took over was for Divine guidance and a confession of his incompetence in the field of world affairs. How the man has changed!

In the current chapter of his published memories, the former President said that he is sure that China could be a free, unified country today but for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's stubborn refusal to accept "a peaceful working agreement" with the Communists. He contends that if Chiang had agreed to a coalition of Nationalists and Communists and "if he had attended to the fundamental needs of the people and the country," there was no reason why General Chiang "could not have won out over the Communists in the long run just as various non-Communist governments in Europe have done."

For crass ignorance, that is hard to beat. It belies contemporary history. Dozens of free nations have been swallowed by Communism in the past ten years, the swallowing process even taking place right under his eyes while Truman was in the White House. Right in Europe, while Harry Truman was President, Moscow "captured" Poland, in direct violation of the agreement of Yalta, and imposed an all-Communist regime while banishing the non-Communist political factions.

What The Record Shows

What happened in Catholic Poland, happened too in Catholic Czechoslovakia and in Catholic Hungary. Rumania, Bulgaria, Orthodox Bulgaria and in three unhappy Baltic ex-republics of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia. It would have happened in Yugoslavia had Tito not broken off with Moscow. It almost happened in Greece, and only timely aid forestalled the Kremlin. It happened in East Germany, but Austria escaped from the net, only because the Western powers sat tight in Vienna until the country was freed.

Why, then, in the face of historical fact does Harry Truman, whose sole flight in the world of international affairs was his unhappy meeting with Stalin and Clement Attlee at Potsdam, say, so categorically, that China would have been very different had Poland or Hungary or Czechoslovakia?

It has now been established that General George C. Marshall to China had been to attempt to bring the Chinese to a coalition with the Chinese Communists. Chiang refused and, in his memories, Truman said that "this was Generalissimo's 'greatest mistake'."

Starting All Over

Pormosa, or Taiwan, and Quemoy and the Matsaus are back in the headlines because Communist China has staked up once again tension in the Taiwan Strait by a fantastic build-up of power on the mainland, facing the few miles of water which separate those islands from the mainland. Chinese Nationalists, to counter the build-up, now keep, train and arm 120,000 troops on those precarious outposts.

The build-up follows the failure of the Geneva talks in which Washington and Peking sought to produce an agreement in which China would renounce the use of force in its claims on Pormosa and the Pescadores. That leaves Quemoy and the Matsau out in the cold, uncovered by any guarantees and wide-open to attack from the mainland.

The Chinese Communist Premier, through his delegates at Geneva, refused to renounce the use of force. Instead, he insisted that the United States should use force, although adding that he would prefer to do it "by peaceful means" if possible.

Question Of Interpretation

Naturally, the United States is not going to allow the Chiang Kai-shek government on Pormosa to be driven out. Quemoy and the Matsau are not Pormosa, but their loss might open the door to a full-scale attack on Pormosa and, in that way, we might become involved if the Chinese Reds do attack the offshore islands.

Right now, both the Communists on the mainland and the Nationalists on Quemoy and the Matsau are engaged in artillery duels and in raiding each other by air. This accumulation of forces is hastening the hour when the United States will have to say openly and unequivocally whether or not it is going to defend these islands whether

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

It is unfortunate that from time to time certain individuals lacking complete information in various matters, point a finger of accusation at the Editor of this paper. Such an accusing finger was recently pointed at a dinner held by the Recreation Department. Implication was made that this dinner was held "to build a political organization at the taxpayers' expense." Such strong words should have been backed by proper research. In fact, had the accusation been made in the form of a dignified question directly to the Recreation Department, it would have been answered satisfactorily and promptly.

The dinner under discussion was held as a very small expression of appreciation for a very big job well done. It was in honor of the coaches of the Recreation Department Football Little League who, motivated by nothing but a sincere interest in the welfare of the youngsters, gave on the average of three evenings and one Saturday per week plus a couple of holidays for six months, the men served with no thought of recompense beyond the rich satisfaction of helping youngsters to be a team.

The forty dollars spent on a dinner for fifteen dedicated men of high character who are in the habit of giving freely of themselves may lose heart if their efforts are rewarded with clumsy questions rather than well-earned congratulations. It is possible that short sightedness on the part of self-appointed watchdogs can very well become a destructive force.

The records and files of the Recreation department are open not only to the watchdogs but to every interested citizen. It is my opinion that a person sincerely interested in answers should be willing to ask their Secretary Dulles had been hoping that the Far East would be a minor subject at the Washington talks with Eden. The Chinese have made it a major subject. The fact must be recognized that their purpose was skillfully timed and executed. Mr. Dulles may well pay the price for the untimely life article of seeing the UN admit Communist China to membership in the United Nations.

London has long been of the opinion that the sooner recognition is granted to the People's Republic of China, the better for all concerned, but has reluctantly been more or less willing to agree to keep the lid on until after the next United States Election Day.

With these facts at our points of departure, the Peking fall falls into its understandable place.

The men of Peking know perfectly well that they will get recognition and release from the embargo sooner or later, provided the world apple cart isn't upset by anything spectacular in the meantime. It is because there are only three countries today which strongly resist these developments—United States, Nationalist China, and South Korea.

The fact that Communist China is still outside the UN and still is under a Western trade embargo is due almost entirely to the consideration that the United States wishes by its friends and allies, who disagree with its policies in this respect, but are willing to delay for a while out of consideration.

aimed at improving the quality of local government, induced or politically motivated? Does the politician assume he may "brown-bait" citizens into "allowing" that will permit free and untrammelled roughshod management of their questions publicly. No excuse may be found to justify "star-chamber," one-sided press conferences, or the atmosphere of a Commission's private office. The voice of the people MUST be heard. No public officer holder enjoys the right to expend the taxpayer's money in any manner that may be construed as an endeavor to build up a political organization for the purpose of perpetuating the politician in office.

The politico who complacently "glazes" when "browbeaten" is directed at those he opposes, but who uncomfortably walks "insincerely" when he becomes the victim of the same source, when disagreement is expressed with his official conduct in handling the affairs of his office, may it would appear, be the one most vulnerable to the suspicion of insincerity.

I have but one standard of what is best for Belleville, namely, the good of the town. What's good, I'm for. That which I had I oppose.

"Keep Belleville Beautiful"

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

On Tuesday, Belleville citizens will go to the polls to vote on an issue that is close to the heart of every citizen interested in keeping our town a fine place to live in.

We are asked to vote for or against a referendum that would eliminate residential zones in our town. How can we vote in any way except "No" and preserve the value of our homes? How can we vote in any way except "No" and expect our town to attract good people as prospective home owners?

All sections of our town are involved in this effort to make business establishments out of fine residences. If this referendum succeeds, any beautiful home can be bought to conduct a business. A "Yes" vote in the referendum on Tuesday is a vote to permit a business establishment to become your next door neighbor the future.

Town welfare calls for all good citizens to unite to prevent their town from becoming strictly second class. Unless we are willing to give up the privileges of good zoning laws, we must vote "No" on Tuesday. One citizen's welfare is certainly not above the public's welfare in any town. Vote "No" Tuesday! Keep Belleville a beautiful residential town, as the very name suggests.
