

State Officer Approves Use Of Water Funds

State Director Of Division Of Local Government George C. Skillman Makes Statement In Reply To Letter From Town Critic James R. Golden

It is "perfectly proper" for a town to use profits from its water department to finance general municipal expenses. George C. Skillman, state director of the division of local government, released this information in answer to questions posed to him in a letter by town critic James R. Golden. Golden wanted to know if the practice of making salary payments to town employees with money realized by the sale of water is legal.

Skillman commented that the money realized by the sale of water is "perfectly proper" and used for both purposes.

The director was asked for his opinion after Mayor Isadore J. Padula released a report last week which listed the amounts of water profits in that manner in the departments of revenue and finance and public works, over the last three years. Padula said he authorized the report so that citizens would be able to see for "the first time" just where some of the water profits are going.

Skillman registered no surprise at the practice. He said using water profits in that manner is usual and absolutely proper according to state law.

He added that the town's dedicated water utility budget, separated from the municipal budget, shows certain amounts of anticipated water surplus during those years mentioned. "Some or all of that surplus," Skillman said, "may be used to reduce general taxation in the town."

He said that the town has full jurisdiction with respect to how that money is appropriated. In commenting on Skillman's reply, Golden said that regarding the legality of the financial maneuvering, there was no need for remedial and corrective legislation to assure that future budget making policies disclose all unexpended and little known deceptive "legal" methods utilized.

"The taxpayer's public is entitled to a true picture, devoid of all deception," he said. Golden stated that he, former president of the Essex County Public Works Department who received money from the water account, has been especially active with the percentage paid to each from the water funds and for what purpose.

HEART SUNDAY TO BE OBSERVED THIS WEEKEND

Town Chairman Brumbach Heads Campaign For Funds To Fight Heart Disease

Essex County's Heart Sunday volunteers will call on the county's homes Sunday afternoon to complete their county-wide collections during a few hours of service. Their success will spell continued success and growth of the Essex County Heart Association.

Leader in the fight in Belleville is town Heart Sunday chairman Harry Brumbach, of 100 Little Street. Mayor Isadore J. Padula has proclaimed the day official Heart Sunday.

"Our Heart Sunday army of more than 4,000 volunteers in Essex County has a single objective," Mrs. Stacie Day of 200 Little Street, Heart Sunday chairman, said. "That objective is to support the crusade in county, state and nation against diseases of the heart and blood vessels."

"It is easy to understand their great interest in this fight," she said. "They know, as we hope the majority of people in Essex County know, that these diseases constitute our leading health problem and are responsible for more than half the deaths in the country."

Mrs. Day pointed out that the campaign goal is $150,000 for Essex County with which to help carry on the three-pronged attack on heart diseases by the Essex County Heart Association. These fighting tools are research, public

Adult School Driver Education Course Filled

Although the personal registration for the Belleville Adult School will not begin until February 27, the adult driver education course has already reached its limit of 90 students by mail registration, director Herman Knapp said.

He suggested that residents of Belleville who plan to take other courses than driver education try to arrange their registration as early as possible because of limited enrollment in many of the courses.

The registration at the high school will be from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, and Friday.

Padula Accepts Safety Award

Mayor Isadore J. Padula is shown accepting the citation for the town's perfect traffic safety record compiled during the Christmas safety campaign conducted by the state association of insurance agents. John Savarese representing the group, is making the presentation, while chief of police George R. Spaatz looks on.

There is still time to register in the polio vaccine clinic for first shots for preschool children and those who missed out in school, according to Edward Burdick, assistant health officer.

The next clinic will be conducted Wednesday from 10 to 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. All who are interested may contact the Health Department, Town Hall, Plymouth 9-2823. Children must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian.

PADULA ACCEPTS SAFETY CITATION OF INSURANCE AGENTS

Town Honored For Safety Record Compiled In State Holiday Safe Driving Campaign

Mayor Isadore J. Padula has accepted a citation for the town's perfect traffic safety record which was compiled during the six-week holiday campaign ending January 2. The award was made by John Savarese, representing the State of New Jersey and the New Jersey Association of Insurance Agents, at City Hall last week.

Belleville earned the citation by virtue of having no traffic fatalities within the campaign period. Entitled "Will You Be Home For Christmas?", the drive was inaugurated by Governor Robert Meyner, in support of President Eisenhower's national, year-long "8-D Day." The New Jersey Association of Insurance Agents is presenting the citation in cooperation with the attorney general's coordinating committee on a statewide basis.

In presenting the award, Savarese as spokesman for the insurance agents' group, pointed out the value of continued safety measures. "Our association has always been prime movers behind any program for increased safety on our streets and highways."

Police Are Investigating Jorammon Street Robbery

Belleville police are still investigating the recent burglary and robbery at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Amato, 601 Jorammon Street. The Amatos occupy a first floor apartment at the address and police say that entry was gained by smashing a kitchen door window. A tenant on the second floor heard the noise and notified police.

Amato reports that over $100 in silver was stolen from the bedroom. Police say the burglary was committed by an amateur.

KIERNAN APPEAL HEARING MONDAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

Local Mortician Appeals Two Guilty Verdicts Handed Down By Municipal, Superior Courts

The appeal of George F. Kiernan, local mortician who has been convicted in two courts of conducting a funeral from his private residence, will be heard in the Appellate Division of the State Superior Court in Newark on Monday.

The case will be argued by Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan and by Kiernan's defense counsel, Robert C. Rubin. Kiernan was originally convicted in Belleville Municipal Court for an alleged violation of the local zoning ordinance upon a complaint charging that he conducted a funeral from his residence at 272 Holmes Street. He operates a funeral home at 101 Union Avenue.

Kiernan was found guilty by Caldwell Magistrate James E. Wilson in a verdict reached after a two-hour hearing on March 10, 1955. Local Magistrate Edward Abramson stepped down in the case because he said he had previous legal dealings with Kiernan. Magistrate Wilson fined Kiernan $70 on the two counts of which he was convicted and an additional $5 costs.

The charges against the defendant, who had been previously deposited by inspector Thomas P. Greco who claimed that Kiernan had conducted a funeral from his home on February 10, 1955.

Kiernan subsequently lost his appeal to the Superior Court when that body upheld the Municipal Court conviction that he used his home for funeral purposes. The Superior Court ruled.

ZONING BOARD DELAYS PERMIT

Residents Against Industry At Washington Avenue Site

A large segment of Belleville residents, mostly from the Riviera Park section, attended last week's meeting of the Zoning Board of Adjustment to oppose a proposed zoning amendment which would allow industry on the site of the old roller skating rink on Washington Avenue.

The zoning board took no action, but delayed the public hearing until its March 1 meeting.

The application for a zoning change, from present business to industrial use, was submitted by Hillside Enterprises of Belleville, which owns the site. The reasons for the zone change were not listed in the application, but William Mishkind, an officer in the company, said last week that Robert Hall clothing firm was interested in establishing a light manufacturing plant on the property.

Special School Budget Vote Scheduled This Wednesday

Board Reduces District Tax By $30,000, Or Six Points; Light Vote Expected At Polls

Next Wednesday, February 29, has been set as the date for the special School Election for the purpose of voting on the two phases of the 1956-1957 budget that were defeated in the regular School Election on February 14.

Voters will have the opportunity to vote on appropriations for current expense and capital outlay. Both appropriations were originally defeated by the voters and have since been trimmed by the Board of Education.

According to Ruel E. Daniels, secretary and business manager of the Board, $30,000 has been cut from the district tax that is being presented to voters on Wednesday. The actual reduction in the budget amounts to only $5,000 of that sum, he said. The annual tax reduction has been brought about by increased use of surplus from the current year's budget.

Substitute Teaching The actual $5,000 reduction was accomplished by cutting down to the barest minimum the amount of salary for substitute teaching. This figure is never known ahead of time, Daniels said. The board has been made in the hope that no emergencies would arise.

The $25,000 saving in the district annual tax, according to Daniels, was realized in two categories of the current year's budget. Daniels pointed out that this money had been set aside to hire a special remedial reading teacher. Since one has not been hired, Daniels said, the money appropriated for this purpose is being turned into cash surplus.

The second saving arises from the fact that several teachers who are on leaves of absence have not returned yet. Daniels said that the money appropriated for these teachers would have been fairly well advanced in the teacher salary guide.

Appropriations Set The current year's appropriation for the district is now set at $1,429,754, or $30,000 less than the figure originally presented.

The capital outlay figure is being kept at $45,000 which is the same allocation that was beaten by voters previously. Daniels said this was the lowest appropriation presented in this category in years and that he couldn't understand why voters turned down the budget question. Actually, less than 10 per cent of the voters had voted.

Ballot places will be open from 3 to 9 p.m. and are the same as in the first school election.

Steelworkers Win In Edison Company Election Production and maintenance employees of the Edison Tool & Manufacturing Company, Inc., 457 Grand Street, have voted 53-1 to accept the United Steelworkers of America as their collective bargaining agent.

In the election at the plant last week, two votes were challenged and the election was declared void. Eighty workers, previously unorganized, will be represented by the union if it receives the necessary certification by the National Labor Relations Board.

Belleville Lodge Of Odd Fellows Marks 115th Birthday Since Receiving Charter

Early Meetings Held In Unfinished Room Over Village Post Office

By C. Chinnock

Belleville's oldest fraternal organization starts its 115th birthday this month.

Harmony Lodge No. 25, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, received its charter in February, 1842 and has been active in Belleville for the 115 years since. In their early days, four former presidents of the United States were still living—John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, and Andrew Jackson, while John Tyler was chief executive at this time. The lodge had most of the old streets of Belleville appear on the roster.

In this early era, Belleville was a small village with a population of three or four hundred. The lodge met over the small Village Post Office on Main Street, in an unfinished room with wide plank flooring. Taken from our old records, it was a very small room. A wooden pall of water with a tin dipper stood on a shelf in the corner. A small wooden pump at the corner of Main and Academy Street, the main source of water. Twelve brethren present were seated on fine benches, the officers were seated at a fine table scratching the minutes with a quill pen by candle light with the pleasant aroma from an old wood burning stove.

The hall being so small, most of the dances and banquets were held at the Belleville Hotel, now the site of the Walker & Terman Corporation. Illumination here was with whale oil lamps. One old member of the lodge, who was 100 years old at the time, said that the lodge had been in existence for 115 years.

Refreshments were forty to fifty cents per head. This included a full course dinner. At these events it was not unusual to see two or three charred stage coaches tied to the hitch rail outside the hotel.

At this early date, these various groups were not yet ready to begin their work. They have a very few scattered members throughout the county, but the majority of them are in the city. They have grown to a mighty oak with hundreds of large meeting halls, and spacious homes for the aged and the infirm. There are more than 50 homes abroad.

CAR REGISTRATION RENEWAL FORMS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Director Of Motor Vehicles Frederick J. Gassert Says Two Million Will Be Mailed

An accelerated mailing schedule for distribution of 2,000,000 car registration renewal application forms by the Division of Motor Vehicles went into effect today under the direct mail order system, it was announced by Motor Vehicle Director Frederick J. Gassert, Jr.

A daily mailing of forms will continue until the end of March, when the direct mail order system will be discontinued and all New Jersey car owners whose vehicles were registered in 1955.

A person receiving a renewal form in the mail has the choice of using the direct mail order method immediately or applying after March 1.

The prepared application form contains the name and address of the owner, a description of the vehicle, the "conversion period" registration fee, an inspection schedule, and pertinent registration information on the reverse side.

Director Gassert stated that under the stagger system, the registration application form, like the driver's license application, covers a "conversion period" only. He cautions car owners to send only the amount printed on the form.

The fee for the "conversion period" registration is based on the weight classification of the vehicle and the number of months for which the registration is valid under the stagger plan.

Passenger car owners using the direct mail order method are asked to send a check or money order in the exact amount printed in the box at the bottom center of the application card. This fee is either more or less than the regular annual registration fee governing the vehicle described on the form.

There will be no new plates issued under the conversion renewal. License plates now on vehicles are to be retained and validated by means of metal inserts, as in previous years.

Car owners will not be notified when to present their vehicles for inspection. The valid-

STATE MAY BUILD NEW HIGHWAY ON RIPARIAN LANDS

Passaic River May Be Realigned Through Nutley, Belleville When Six-Lane Expressway Is Built

Negotiations have begun in Belleville by representatives of the N. J. State Highway Department for the purchase of Passaic River frontage north of Ayondale Bridge for the extension northward from the Turnpike Bridge here of Route 21 as a six-lane expressway. Preliminary plans call for the highway to be built in just over the present river bed requiring a realignment of the banks on both the Nutley and Lyndhurst-North Arlington shores.

A State Highway Department spokesman confirmed today that continuing the six-lane expressway northward would necessitate filling in portions of the river along its Nutley and Belleville banks, because it is desired to construct long portions of the road on what is now water area.

This move, in turn, would compensate sections of the Lyndhurst bank so as to avoid any narrow places in the river which could become a flood or navigation hazard, the spokesman explained.

The extension, which will cost an estimated five million dollars, will run along the eastern side of River Road in Belleville and Nutley. River Road will be retained to serve local traffic. The expressway would be elevated over Park Avenue at the Ayondale Bridge.

Belleville officials have been informed of the project and have been shown the preliminary plans.

Edwards, Kelsey & Beck, consultant engineers of 3 William Street, Newark, are designing the extension for the Highway Department. The first Route 21 extension from the north end of McCarter Highway, Newark, to the Belleville Turnpike Bridge, was designed by Highway Department engineers.

No immediate details concerning exact locations intended for realignment were revealed, except that the river section fronting on property owned by the Federal Leather Co. would be filled.

The plans, when completed, will require approval of the Highway Department, the Navigation Bureau of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, and the U.S. Corps of Army Engineers.

LOCAL COMPANY ELECTS DIRECTORS

Alfred Allen Watts Company, Inc., manufacturers of carbon-interleaved business forms, has announced the election of two new officers. The firm, which has its largest plant at 740 Washington Avenue, also has smaller plants in Newark and New York City.

Stanley Musman, of West Orange, was elected to the Board of Directors. Joseph Stein, president, announced Musman is a director and treasurer of Multi-Color Lithographers, Inc., a Division of the Watts company, producing color offset lithography. He has been associated with Multi-Color since 1947.

At the same time, George Fimos, general manager of Multi-Color Lithographers, Inc., was elected a vice president and director of that Division. Fimos has a background of nineteen years in graphic arts. He started in the production department of the parent company in 1946 where he rose to general manager of its New York plant. In 1953 he was appointed general manager of the Multi-Color subsidiary.

CANA CLUB HOLDS PANEL DISCUSSION

Doctors And Principal Speak On Language Difficulties Of Children Tomorrow

The Cana Club of St. Mary's Church had a panel discussion on "Language Difficulties in Children" at its monthly meeting Friday night in the church hall, at 8:45. The discussion was centered on all phases of communication, stressing that the difficulties one encounters in school children's speech, reading and writing defects are disabilities.

Dr. George Gens, a speech clinician and member of the Speech Therapy Dept. of New Jersey State Teachers College in Newark, was the guest speaker. Other principals were Sister Anna Celeste, principal of St. Mary's School and Dr. Hirsch L. Silverman, psychologist in charge of special services in the Nutley school system.

Republican policies have been challenged by all the Democratic candidates and there is need of a substantial force in Congress to back a Republican President."

Zoning

(Continued From Page One) Robert Shafter, spokesman for the Riviera Park Civic Association, referred to the many objections attending the meeting and asked that the company's application be withdrawn. The board ignored the request, and instead, granted the company the postponement of the hearing because of the absence of its attorney.

Miskind had explained that he wants the zone changed for light industrial uses. Town officials pointed out, however, that Belleville's zoning law does not distinguish between different types of industry.

Many of the old residents of Belleville have spent the declining years of their life happy and well cared for at the beautiful home at Trenton. This mass of the I. O. O. F. of caring for the aged, widows, and orphans, is one of the most important parts of

The first ballot was 5-2 in favor of Boyd, and a motion was then approved making the vote unanimous.

Boyd then nominated Dr. Burdette for the vice presidency and Mrs. Kochan placed Dr. DeRuggieri's name in the running.

The first vote cast, 3-3, dealt with the question of whether or not to allow the Board to change the zoning law. On the second vote, Dr. Burdette won, 4-3.

Boyd, of 42 Rosemore Place, is an architect employed by the Federal Housing Authority in New York City. Last year he became the first elected member of the Board when he defeated four other candidates in the first School Board election held here. At that time, he had received the support of the Belleville Conference.

Boyd is active in Cub and Boy Scout work. He is a charter member of the Episcopal Presbyterian Church and has served on their Board of Directors. He attended Belleville schools and Newark College of Engineering.

Kiernan

Two main questions seem to hold the answer to the final court verdict. They are (1) was the Belleville zoning ordinance valid and (2) was the defendant's conviction proper. So far, the courts have ruled against the defendant, but the final decision depends on whether this ruling is upheld.

The defendant claims that no evidence was shown to prove that 372 Holmes Street was a funeral home. This charge is without evidential support since one or two isolated funeralists does not constitute use as a funeral home, he claims.

He continues that the pattern of permitted exceptions in the town's zoning ordinance denotes a lack of reasonable standard necessary to the validity of a comprehensive zoning plan. The defense stated that the arbitrary exclusion of funeral establishments from residence zones is contrary to the general and mutual welfare of the community. The present zoning law, dating back to 1923, was referred to as "arbitrary, capricious, illegal, void, and unconstitutional."

He has carried out school renovation program which has brought modern movable furniture to most of the classrooms. Present lighting has been installed and great chalk boards are in use which are both recommended to ease eye strain in the classroom.

Thomas has also expanded the music and art departments which now include varied activities to interest as many students as possible. During his term, many outdated text books have been replaced with modern texts, an up-to-date system of report cards has been introduced, and a series of annual parent-teacher conferences have begun which aid in bringing about closer cooperation between the two.

Thomas has instigated an increased use of community resources in classroom teaching in order to give the students a more complete grasp of any given subject.

A series of teacher workshop programs has also been started by Thomas for the purpose of expanding the curriculum and providing the individual teacher with an area for growth and better comprehension of the overall objectives of the program.

GEORGE WASHINGTON IN A LETTER TO HIS WIFE, JUNE 18, 1775

"As life is always uncertain, and common prudence dictates to every man the necessity of settling his temporal concerns while it is in his power, and while the mind is calm and undisturbed. I have, since I came to Philadelphia, got Colonel Pendleton to draft a will for me, by the direction I gave him."

Sports

by Bob Cook
Director, Belleville Recreation Department

(Ed. Note: In the absence of regular sports columnist Bob Cook, who is presently on furlough, Bob Cook, director of the Belleville Recreation Department, has been asked to fill in as guest sports columnist.)

The word sports is thought by many to be synonymous with the word recreation. While sports play a very important role in the field of recreation they constitute only a part of the subject. Recreation is composed of sports plus art, music, crafts, playgrounds, picnics, hiking, camping, and a whole host of other activities. Perhaps a way to define recreation would be to consider it any worthwhile use of leisure time.

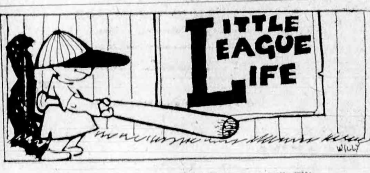

While a round of golf may be recreation to the office worker, a game of chess might well be the choice of a laborer. It is through recreation that the child practices at living, that the adult finds release from daily pressures, and that we all become re-created, ready to attack life anew. The field of recreation embraces all ages of both sexes.

Throughout childhood, play is a vital function, literally a most important phase of education. A baby begins a form of play, slowly becoming proficient at eye focusing, reaching and grasping, and finally walking. Later the young child plays with other children and here commences his social education. He learns to give and take, to lead and to follow, and to pick himself up when knocked down. Through a long series of play situations a child begins to form an idea of his capabilities and his limitations. In free play the youngster learns to use his imagination, develops his muscles and coordination, and begins to use make-up rules. In organized play the child begins to accept discipline and to prepare for social living. In highly organized games like basketball, football and baseball the young ones learn to accept strict rules and regulations that exactly parallel with the laws and ordinances of our community. At the same time, the skills learned in the recreation program may well become the life-time hobbies of our children whether they be weaving, woodcarving or weightlifting.

The responsibility for providing adequate play opportunity in our town belongs to the Belleville Recreation Department. Urbanization has snuffed out the old empty lots and woods that were the natural play areas of a generation ago. It now becomes a community responsibility to provide and preserve adequate play areas. And areas alone do not constitute a recreation program. The recreation profession has standards which must be maintained, a strict moral code that must be followed. The Recreation Department is not satisfied with just getting our boys and girls to participate in its various activities but further concerns itself that they fit their chosen activities into the proper place in their lives along with the home, church, school, and scout troop.

Nor does the function of the Recreation Department end with activities for children, for recreation is a vital need for adults as well. Of particular importance these days is offering recreational opportunities to the aged, or, as we prefer to call them, our senior citizens.

The tools of your Recreation Department are playgrounds, ball diamonds, basketball courts, arts, crafts, dances, and gymnasiums. With these tools the Recreation Department plays a most important role in the community and contributes much toward making Belleville a better place to live.

by Larry Remes, James Elting, and Bill Ellis

The Little League, without a doubt, has been one of the greatest youth projects to hit the town of Belleville in many years. Since its inception five years ago, our Little League has come quite a way. This year the League hopes to reach its ultimate goal, a field all its own.

The field, when completed, will be a replica of a major league field, but of course on a smaller scale. It will contain angle iron stands, a score board, flag poles, dugouts, an official little league fence, in short, the "works."

A great deal of planning and preparation have already gone into the project, and the league hopes to have the field completed by May 1, opening day. As you can readily see, this is a big job to complete in so short a time, and both funds and labor are badly needed.

All of the labor that goes into the project will be voluntary, with the exception of that work which requires skilled craftsmen. In an attempt to raise funds, the Little Leaguers will canvass the town in a house-to-house campaign. Nulley carried on a similar campaign last year and it was so successful that in one day they collected $9,000. In addition to a house-to-house campaign, the sponsors of the teams are being asked to contribute $150 each. Last year's sponsors included the Knights of Columbus, the Belleville Rotary Club, the Belleville Lions Club, the Craftsman Club, the Belleville Elks, Walter Kidde Company, Viking Tool Co., and Wallace & Tiernan.

In addition to paying for the field, the money collected will go toward paying the entrance fees for both leagues, the insurance for both leagues, replacement of uniforms, $100 each, catchers' equipment, bases, fee for caretakers and umpires (which the town help to pay), sundry equipment, and trophies which are supplied at the end of the year.

It has been through your generosity that the Little League has grown to its present stature. This year, more than any other year we need your help.

Blue and Gold Cagers Close Season Owning 8-8 Record

Bellboys Watching Finals Of Essex Tournament Tonight As Seton Hall, East Side Play

By Dave Thaler

Tonight Belleville will be watching Seton Hall who, like the Bellboys, has two legs on the Newark News Trophy. The Hall is playing sixth seeded East Side for the Essex County Tournament title, and possibly, the cup. But the Blue and Gold's season has ended. They can only watch and hope that the Pony Pirates don't put that third and last leg on the trophy.

Belleville's 8-8 record didn't add to Coach Herman Wische's amazing record, but the record doesn't tell half the story. The Bellboys started the season by racking up Passaic, 66-56. Johnny Bartel was the gun, netting 23 of his 23 points in the second half. Garfield was next on the list. When the teams lined up it was obvious that Belleville wasn't going to enjoy a height advantage. The men of Garfield were 6'7" and 6'9", while the Blue and Gold had only two men over six feet.

Fourth Quarter Surge
For three quarters of the game the height advantage didn't seem to count, but midway in the fourth period Joe Long and Bartel sparked their team to a 10-0 run. When Bartel sunk a foul shot with two seconds left to tie the game, the game had a fitting climax. The overtime was no contest as the Blue and Gold won it going away, 68-63. The Blue and Gold's first win, said, "There will also be opportunity to train each afternoon during the following week. On the following Saturday the first of four races will be run off and points awarded on the basis of time. For three for second, two for third and one for fourth. At the end of the four week series the three top riders in each group will win the awards, he explained.

Medals and trophies are being furnished for the series by the Bicycle Institute of America. Awards for the roller series will be presented by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde at the Recreation Department Night of Champions in April.

The Recreation Department invites all Belleville boys from eight to 18 to take part in the 1956 season of roller racing, starting March 2 at the Municipal Stadium.

Rosary Society Will Meet
The regular monthly meeting of the Rosary Altar Society of Holy Family Church will be held on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock, in the school cafeteria.

There they put up a good fight before bowing to East Orange.

Looking over the box scores, it seems that the third period was the most dangerous one for the Bellboys. The vital statistics also point out that Long and Bartel both had to be in double figures, if the Blue and Gold were to be impressive. Roger Salomone, the big Bengal, was unmarked by Bartel in the second half, in what was the outstanding defensive job of the year.

Vital Scores 30
A former Belleville, Charley Vitale, ruined a follow-up as he scored 30 of Nutley's 52 points in leading his team to a 52-50 victory over Belleville.

Kearny was an easy victory, but the Blue and Gold was snowed under by East Orange. They then closed the season out with three straight victories over Irvington, Columbia, and South Side, to gain a berth in the Essex County Tournament.

Leaders Top Belleville A. A. 60-58 To Break First Place Tie In Intermediate League

The Dolphins shaved the Belleville A. A. 60-58 Monday evening at the high school to take undisputed possession of first place in the Recreation Department Intermediate Basketball League.

The lead changed hands 19 times in a terrific ball game that had the winners out front by seven on two different occasions.

In the first minute of the third stanza, McCann, Tamburulo and McFadden hit for the Dolphins to make it 33-25, but Bill Perrelli connected for three straight one-handers and Puleo scored on a lay-up to put the A.A. out front 34-33.

From this point on both teams scored basket after basket, until the final 30 seconds of the game. The Dolphins scored 10-0 in the last minute to win 44-34.

Frank Puleo with 23 and Bill Perrelli 16 topped the A.A. while Jim McCann and Chuck McFadden had 20 and 13 to lead the Dolphins.

Workettes, Bell Aires, Cascades, And Losers In Girls' Basketball Playoffs

by Evelyn Hannon

With only one round remaining in the Recreation Department Girls' League, the Workettes, Cascades, Bell Aires and Losers have moved themselves into the championship playoffs mathematically. Whether anyone of the four teams now tied for third place can force its way into the playoffs will depend on this week's title.

Last Thursday night the league took an important twist with a replay of a Loser-Bell Aires game knocked the Losers into a second place position with three opponents. The Bell Aires edged the Losers 18-14 in a close fray. A seasawing score which was 5-4 in favor of the Bell Aires at half-time ended when Bell Aires forward Kathy Flinn sunk seven points in the third quarter.

Bell Aires Scores
Loser guards Nancy Worthington, Grace Ferrigno, and Regina Ventura held the Bell Aires scoreless during the second period and proved very effective on all Bell Aires forwards with the exception of Freda Penn was the difference, scoring 14 of the team's 18 points.

For the Losers, Kay Chieffo was high spot with six points and Eleanor Steffensen and Kay Schaeffer each had four points.

Later in the evening the Bell Aires took an 11-8 defeat at the hands of the Cascades. Peggy Burke, Gloria Barnett, and Joan Postlewaite collaborated to trip their younger opponents without too much effort. Tanya Gruelich, Dolores Panzer, and Kay Carroll allowed the Bell Aires to score only one basket in the first half. The lone two points for the Bell Aires was made by Kay Riddyard. Riddyard added another goal in the third quarter and Olivia Schaeffer added four more points in the final quarter to give the Bell Aires a total of eight points.

Postlewaite and Burke shared high scoring honors for the victors, each had four points.

Workettes Win
Rose Schreiber hit for 15 points to pace her team to victory as the Workettes dumped the Aquettes 21-7. The game was almost in contest for the Aquettes, who appeared to be out of their two game scoring slump, fell back into it.

Ineffectiveness of Aquette Ardes, Marie Mastandrea, Carol Schwaenker, and Carmen Ruiz, waned how difficult it will be for teams to stop the Workette duo of Newswander to Schreiber.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News: I am anxious to find out how well in the future, if you I shall elucidate for him. The money, Mr. Golden, was spent on a dinner for 13 coaches of the Little League football team who devoted their time, energy and knowledge to a worthy cause, and the character of our youth through sports.

Mr. Golden seems to pride himself on being the uncrowned mayor of Belleville through his civic philanthropy, or might it just be that he likes to hear himself talk?

Which ever the case, I can not recall his name associated with any active participation in fund drives, charity works or social problems affecting the youth of our town.

I believe, Mr. Golden, it would be well in the future if you spent a little more time in thanking such people as Commissioner Hyde, Robert Cook, all the coaches and every other citizen in this town who give their time for good, solid recreation and betterment of their community.

Thank God, Mr. Golden, we have such men as these, of good character and solid moral principles who are willing to take on one of these jobs which are so important to our American way of life, and will not give in to brain washing of any type from frustrated politicians who may come along.

If you were to look at the size of the coaches, Mr. Golden, I doubt that you would be able to find such a delicious meal for them for such a low price as did Mr. Hyde from the graciously owner of the Franklin Casino.

Editor, Belleville Times-News: In her letter to the editor of the Belleville Times-News of Friday, Feb. 10, Margaret K. Harris, of 234 Holmes Street, informs the citizens of Belleville that she was gratified due to results of Tuesday's (Feb. 7) referendum. She emphasized the "fact that an election was held at all, forced by a combination of politics and interest, and at a cost of about $4,000 to the taxpayers should be a matter of grave concern to us all."

I neither voted, nor showed any partiality in this referendum. However, I would like to have more specific information regarding the clause — "Forced by a combination of politics and self-interest."

I can see a self-interest in Mr. Kierman. It is a gift of nature in all of us. But political support and expected "rewards" that baffles me, what Margaret K. Harris be leading up to?

After the referendum was held because over 15 per cent of the registered voters signed off for this referendum. Are they not taxpayers? Are they not voters? Did not two courts uphold the legality of the referendum? Is not the law for their benefit as well as Margaret K. Harris?

All these questions are properly decided by the ballot. But the right to have it on the ballot should not be criticized by one who's politics and self-interest was opposed to it.

Editor, Belleville Times-News: Analysis of the voluminous comment cited to justify the expenditure of large sums paid out of the water budget for wages in the Public Works and Finance departments, if nothing else, points up Commissioner Honorary Army recruiter for the Boy Scouts, Richard Zecchino, is shown with Mayor Isadore J. Padula of Belleville as they discussed the local observance of Boy Scout Week. Seated is Richard's partner in the day's activities, Boy Scout Salvatore La Mura, Jr. The boys were accompanied to the Mayor's office by Army Recruiting Sergeant William McDougall.

Local Youth Is Honorary Recruiter For Scout Week

Richard Zecchino, a member of Boy Scout Troop No. 307 of School No. 7 in Belleville, was appointed honorary recruiter of Essex County last week in celebration of Boy Scout Week. Richard, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cesar Zecchino, of 19 Jefferson Street, was taken to the U. S. Army Recruiting and Main Induction Station on Broad Street, Newark, by Sergeant First Class William McDougall, recruiting officer.

He was accompanied on his duty by Salvatore La Mura, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore La Mura, Jr., of 109 Liberty Avenue.

The boys witnessed the Oath of Enlistment being administered to a number of Army enlistees. They were then conducted on a tour of the military establishment where the many different operations were explained.

The two Scouts then met Lieutenant Colonel Francis R. Purcell, commanding officer, who presented Richard with an official U.S. Army Recruiting arm-band.

In the afternoon, the two met Belleville Mayor Isadore J. Padula in the Mayor's office. Mayor Padula congratulated Richard on being selected honorary recruiter by the Army.

To complete the day, Sgt. McDougall was a guest of the Zecchino family where Richard related the many events of the day.

for what purpose? These are the simple questions which have not as yet been answered.

The breakdown of the Revenue and Finance Dept. employed affected has been published, it is hoped that Comm. Smith will offer for public explanation the same sane and intelligent analysis for those in his department. It would do much to clarify a very confusing situation. Since Mayor Padula has established the precedent, the Public Works Director should experience little difficulty in following suit. All will eagerly await his report.

during a ten year period commencing upon the completion of his schooling.

The Federal Scholarship Act would grant qualified students $1,000 per year for four years in any institution of college grade studies. Mr. Rodino's bill provides that the states shall set qualification standards under which loans shall be granted, and that states will receive grants in proportion to Congressional representation.

The bill adds that any state which discriminates against a student on the basis of race, color or national origin, shall lose its loan privileges.

The basic plan for federal scholarship aid was originated in Congress in 1949 by former Congressman Foster M. Furcolo, of Massachusetts. It was based on a temporary wartime measure, the Student War Loan Program, which granted $200,000 in its two year existence during World War II. At the present time three quarters of the loans advanced have been repaid.

About one-third of one per cent of the loans, or about $13,000 out of over $3,300,000 is probably "uncollectible" according to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The great majority of the 11,000 needy students who received loans have completed or are still making their repayments.

Why hold back from the fun and thrill and pride of bossing a Buick—when you can boss such a big and strapping beauty for the price of a smaller car?

Hard to believe? Listen...

If you can afford any new car, you can afford this brawny Buick SPECIAL Sedan—for a very simple reason.

This Buick is priced within a few dollars of the well-known smaller cars—and actually costs less than some models of those very same cars. (The price we show here proves that.)

Want more proof? For two years in a row now, Buick has outsold every other car in America except two of those well-known smaller cars. And you can bet your bottom dollar that it takes bedrock prices to stay in the Top 3 of the nation's best sellers.

But even that isn't the whole story—not by a long shot.

Folks are buying Buicks in record numbers because they find in these big beauties a lot more automobile for the money.

They find here more styling freshness and distinction—more snap and ginger and power thrill—more comfort and luxury—more ride stability and steadiness—and more structural solidity and pure automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

delivered locally!

*2-Door, 6-Passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. A wide variety of extra-cost equipment and accessories available at your option.

So if you want to move into the big car travel world at a small-car price—if you want to have the time of your motoring life with the lift and lilt and pride and prestige of a beautiful new Buick as your very own—what's holding you back?

Lingering White Hours

No whisper rises in the air.

Nobody walks the field of night.

Only four furry footprints there are printed, leaver out of sight, delicately in wide, softest white.

No flames shines through the opened door.

Only the banked fire's small release of warmth spreads part way on the floor.

All the white sounds and flurries cease, and blanket earth with endless peace.

Never had summer with her song,

nor autumn with wild gold and red,

meant more than silence that goes long her white ways. Though no singing throng arises over a budded bud, each of the million flakes that fell added still echoes, with white sound, they spread far silences to tell that not from any girding ground, with its shout though the shout be joy's,

are there such risings to compare with thought that seeks the purest air, that reaches past all time and space:

see deeper winter's quiet face,

the mother's, father's, girl's or boy's,

their voices silent and the sight higher than white ascents of night.

"Old Pros" Win Again

The "old pros" of the Essex County Republican Machine won another round in their fight to preserve the monopoly of their fatly paid niches on the county payroll when they took a majority of the seats on the 25-member board which is to comprise Clean Government Republican, Inc. Unfortunately for the "old pros", they still have not won the support of a majority of the Republican voters here in Belleville and throughout the county. Without the support and confidence of the voters, their victory can, indeed, be as empty as a shell without the peanut.

In the compromise between the Good Government forces and the "old pros", the membership list of Clean Government is stacked with old reliables from the back room whence Republican policy, Republican tickets and Republican candidates come. Alas, Republican victories at the polls are harder to come by than was this easy victory. They can materialize only in the voting booths and, agile as they are in compromise negotiations, the "old pros" have not yet devised a way to control things behind the drawn curtain.

This round having been lost to the entrenched "old pros", it may yet be necessary to enter the Primary fight for seats on the county committee, next year, to save the Republican party from political prostitution. It was obvious when the Good Government forces tried, a year ago, to nominate their own ticket of candidates that it would not be easy. The "old pros" had had years to entrench themselves. The had too much at stake, from a payroll point of view, to give up without a fight.

Yet the Republican Party, if it is to retain its dominant position in Essex County, must conform to the desires of the voters. Even a Clean Government label, given to a candidate or a slate of candidates by the majority of a 25-member control board, will mean nothing if the rank and file of Republicans distrusts those who decide the grant of the label. It will be even more distasteful to the rank and file of the control board gives its seal of approval to a ticket which contains any of the "old pros" who have wangled seats on the Clean Government board and who will try to give themselves the Clean Government accolade.

The Republican Party, within the county, had a wonderful chance to revitalize itself and to mass its strength in this Presidential election year. It is to be regretted that this opportunity was defeated by those very same "old pros" who, for their personal gain, had brought the party to the brink of defeat.

Preserve Our River Bank

The State Highway Commission has new plans to extend Route 21 northward through Belleville as a six-lane expressway and since it cannot squeeze the new highway between existing properties and the Passaic River, it plans to drive piles into the river bank and build the road over what is now water.

Belleville should protest such a sacrifice. We have a splendid mile of riverbank park but it was dedicated to park purposes and it should remain a park. Belleville must think of itself and defend its own interests and foremost is the need of preserving our quiet, green riverfront even where it is undeveloped and is merely a shaded meadow offering a haven of peace and rest in contrast to the gasoline fumes of racing motorcars on six lanes of a super-highway.

New School Budget Cut Close To Bone

A handful more than 4,000 voters turned out at the polls for last week's School Board election. Less than half of those voting showed enough interest to vote either for or against the proposed school budget for the 1956-1957 school term. As a result, two-thirds of the budget were turned down, each by less than 200 votes, and the one phase that did pass, barely made it by less than 20 votes. Certainly this cannot be construed as an overwhelming mandate from the voters.

Nevertheless, the Board of Education has drawn up a new budget which trims $30,000 from the current expense appropriation requested. Board Secretary Ruel Daniels and president Mrs. Edward Rochau have both emphasized that the first budget was an honest one. The reduction in the district school tax was only accomplished by utilizing greater surpluses in the current budget than had been anticipated.

Actually, in spite of the $30,000 reduction, only $5,000 less is being appropriated. That saving was accomplished in the substitute teachers allocation which is now down to rock bottom. If any unforeseen emergencies should arise, this allocation would be insufficient.

The remaining $25,000 budget cut was made possible by using surpluses remaining in the current budget for specialized teachers' pay and for teachers on leaves of absence. These surpluses could not possibly have been foreseen in November when the current budget was drawn up.

The $3,200 figure for capital outlay is being re-submitted to voters unchanged.

Although the expenditure was turned down by voters, it was $20,000 less than last year's appropriation for the same purpose. Certainly only capricious and whimsical voting could be blamed for defeating this category last week.

No further cuts are humanly possible in the budget unless the proposed raise in the teachers salary guide is not approved. This would undoubtedly be one of the most unfortunate mistakes possible, since even with the raise, Belleville is below the average of surrounding communities. Without it, obtaining teachers of a high caliber and proper qualifications would become impossible.

No one wants to see taxpayers money wasted, but good schools don't come without the necessary taxes to support them. A vote for the budget will enable the School Board to continue striving to raise the level of the schools. A vote against the budget will severely handicap our Board of Education from doing the job they were elected to do.

To Lose Congress Seat

Troubled as is the fraternity of Republican voters in Essex County, it is nothing compared to the sorry spectacle of a Democratic house divided.

The threat of Democratic County Chairman Dennis Carey to oppose Congressman Hugh Addonizio, in the 11th District, in the Primary, by nominating John J. Egan, of Newark, son of former County Chairman Bill Egan, unless Addonizio abandons the Fox-Carlin faction opposing Carlin's leadership, is machine politics at its smelliest worst. It is good for Carey that he does not threaten to oppose Congressman Rodino here in the 10th District because he could count in his supporting Democratic votes in Nutley on one hand.

Pressure is no answer for poor leadership. Carey should go, the Egan should go. Only Democrats of the stamp of Senator Donald C. Fox, Mayor Leo Carlin and the two veteran Congressmen, Rodino and Addonizio, now seeking their fifth terms, can win the favor of Belleville's Democratic voters. Belleville will have no part of machine politics.

One Man's Opinion

Soviet's new policy: Bore as deeply as you can bore, be as aggressive as you can, short of war.

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

Boiled down, the gales of official oratory that surrounded the 20th congress of the Communist Party in Moscow, this week, disclose a new approach, the Khrushchev touch, to the old Bolshevik ambition of world domination by the Russian proletariat. All else is widow-dressing, lily-gilding.

The fact remains that Russia still wants to control the world, but, if Khrushchev lives long enough, he would accomplish it by sabotage, espionage and political boring from within, preferably through existing Socialist parties rather than by risking double or nothing on the battlefield. There will be no world revolution by force, Khrushchev told us, and Stalin was a stupid loudmouth for having said there would be.

It is hard to believe that for a man who has travelled as much in recent months as has the Secretary of the Russian Communist Party, Khrushchev would not know that there is no Socialist party in the United States through which to maneuver as he said he intends, maneuvering in France, Italy and other Western nations, including Britain through the Labour party. Yet he told the Congress that his aim of communizing the United States, without war, is as fixed as ever.

Throw Mud At Stalin

For a man who has been dead such a short time and who was such a hero's burial, first class, Stalin was quite a bit of a defector this week. He was severely castigated for predicting that the United States could be thrown into a new depression by destroying her world markets. As Khrushchev said to the Congress, we Americans have lost many world markets and yet we are enjoying our peak of prosperity. Stalin was only stupid, too, in refusing to believe that Communism and Capitalism could co-exist. Khrushchev said in announcing that Russia was willing to agree to co-existence, but that co-existence is only a means to an end and is not an end in itself.

Of considerable more importance to us is what Khrushchev told the Congress about Russia's intentions to strengthen her position in Siberia and on the Pacific Coast to counter our strong position. It would be foolish not to pay heed to Khrushchev's brag and bluster because, at the Congress this week, he made it clear that he is the boss of Russia.

Real Boss Of Russia

The 61-year-old First Secretary, an ex-union worker, son of a miner, proved this week that he controls both domestic and foreign affairs as well as Lenin and Stalin ever did and much more than Malenkov. When he goes to London next Spring, it will be with the authority and the assurance of the supreme boss of Communism.

In his speeches to the Congress Khrushchev seems to have gone further in interpreting his party's peace policies than any previous spokesman of world communism. His speech contained three apparently new and startling overtures:

The capitalist, and the socialist camp can "co-exist" indefinitely, provided they are on friendly terms.

2. Revolution no longer is a must. There are many ways to plant socialism and communism, including that of constitutional parliamentary procedures.

3. Wars among capitalist countries are not inevitable.

Tired It Before

Rejection of revolutionary methods as communism's only way to power has been tried before. Communism's espousal of parliamentary government was the main theme of the popular front policies of the mid-1930's in France and Italy. Only the contention that competition inside the capitalist world does not necessarily lead to war has a certain freshness.

Back of Khrushchev's new shift of direction is a need of peace for the new Five-Year Plan and for that "perspective planning" in Siberia 10 and 15 years ahead about which Mr. Khrushchev made sweeping new disclosures.

"Within the next two or three Five-Year Plans," he said, the party expects "to create in Siberia the country's third largest center of the mid-1930's in France and Italy. Only the contention that competition inside the capitalist world does not necessarily lead to war has a certain freshness.

But while Soviet long-range plans are predicated upon 10 or 15 years of peace, there are many indications that the immediate objective is to build up a strong military potential in the North Pacific.

Recent developments in this area place Khrushchev's peace overtures in ominous perspective. Foremost among these are:

Expansion of ports which in the near future can serve only as naval and air bases, such as Nakhodka off Vladivostok, Petropavlovsk on Kamchatka, and Ozerovskoy, an entirely new port on Kamchatka's protected west coast. It was from the bridge of a large cruiser anchored in the roadstead of Nakhodka that Khrushchev and Marshal Nikolai A. Bulganin, Premier of the Soviet Union, in October, 1954, reviewed the combined maneuvers of the Soviet Union's two Pacific fleets.

Shortly after Khrushchev's return to Moscow, oil shipments to Siberia by water from Soviet and Rumanian Black Sea ports started to increase.

Thirst For Oil

According to the statistics of the Suez Canal Company, shipments of kerosene for jets and high octane fuel reached 109,000 tons in 1954, mainly in the last months of the year, but came close to 500,000 tons in 1955. And this despite the substantial increase of Soviet oil production in Sakhalin and the vast carrying capacity of the Trans-Siberian Railway.

Last August a member of the Canadian Government and Canadian Ambassador to Moscow B. C. Watkins were shown impressive new installations in the port of Petropavlovsk and Kamchatka. The purpose of this unusual display is believed to have been to impress upon Canada the Soviet Union's power in the North Pacific.

On January 23 Moscow announced the setting up of Kamchatka as an independent province.

On February 4 Pravda disclosed that T. P. Sklyarov, a party man of high military rank, had been made first secretary of the Far Eastern coastal province. His predecessor, N. N. Shatalin, a former secretary of the party's central committee, is believed to have been given another responsible post in the same region.

According to United States naval and air intelligence reports about 5,000 planes are stationed at various points of the Soviet Far East, including Kamchatka and the Kurile Islands.
