

VANDALISM STALLS SHADE TREE PLANS IN SOHO SECTION

County Property Damaged
In Nursery Project Grounds

Vandalism in the Soho section of Belleville is hampering plans of the Essex County Shade Tree Commission to beautify the grounds surrounding the County Isolation Hospital on the corner of Franklin and Belleville Avenues. County Freeholder Edward Russell of Belleville, chairman of the Shade Tree Commission, said that vandals severely damaged a county-owned plant last week.

Leonard F. Anderson, secretary and executive assistant directly in charge of the work, said the damage, inflicted on the equipment was too thorough and methodical to have been done by malicious pranksters. He added that it was possible there was something further behind the damage.

The Commission had a large tractor and plow on the hospital grounds last Thursday, plowing up several acres of land behind the hospital buildings. On Friday morning when workmen returned, they found the windmill completely demolished, the air let out of the huge tires, dirt in the crankcase and gas tank, a cracked starter case, the battery completely run down, and all the wires pulled loose.

The machine had to be hauled away and it required three days to repair the damage. Police are presently investigating.

Commission plans call for the large tract of land to be plowed up and converted into a nursery for trees and shrubbery. The land, bounded by Franklin Avenue on the east, Berkeley Street on the north, and Myrtle Street on the west, is presently

The Face Is Familiar:

High School President Is Code Of Dress Campaigner

By Rita Knoll

For the first time in its history, Belleville High School's student council is headed by a girl, Sandy Shaw, who won her office on a platform of neater clothes, and she's one official who has kept her campaign promises.

The trend to general sloppiness seemed to be the byword in clothes worn by members of the high school crowd. A need for improvement was clearly seen by the student council sparked by its president. After many months of hard work, last week, a formal Code of Dress was adopted by the council, with the approval of the Board of Education.

"We felt that the boys were the worst offenders," said Sandy, "but the dress of many of the girls was not in the best taste either, and we felt that something should be done about it."

The attractive 17-year-old council president went on to explain that her campaign platform had been based on the need for dress improvement, and it seemed obvious that the students also felt the need, as they elected me in spite of the fact that I'm a girl."

She then assured us that she was the first girl ever to have held the position of student council president, a fact which in itself

1955 Police Summary Relates Force's Activity

Individual Details Range From Kidnapping Case To Investigation Of Criminal Complaints And Motor Vehicle Accidents With Much Routine

In releasing the summary of Police Department activities for the year 1955, Chief of Police George R. Spatz said he hoped the annual report would give the people of Belleville a better idea of the work performed by the department. Spatz said, "Too many people feel that unless the police are tracking down a crime or investigating an accident, they have no duties to perform."

This is an entirely erroneous conception, Spatz emphasized. Although the local department investigated their share of both major crimes and misdemeanors this past year, the bulk of the work consisted of routine assignments which were both vital to the public safety of the community and also time consuming, he added.

The Chief's report, submitted to Town Commissioners through Public Safety Director Harry J. Sullivan, shows that the local force completed a total of 14,926 different details or individual assignments during the year. These ranged from routine bank escorts and serving warrants to investigations of motor vehicle accidents and solving a major kidnapping case.

A breakdown of the individual details where police were called shows that 287 motor vehicle accidents occurred during the year which required investigation. Another 36 car and pedestrian accidents were reported. A total of 98 persons were injured in these collisions resulting police said, while the town escaped any fatalities.

Police were called in on numerous home and business accidents, with 69 home accidents being investigated, another 28 work accidents.

Parents and friends of the award recipients are especially invited to attend. Recreation Superintendent Cook points out that the "Nite of Champions" awards gives some indication of the scope of the local youth work when one realizes that the hundred plus awards are to the champions of local leagues. For instance, eighteen awards are given to the champions of the

COMMUNITY CHEST COIN FOLDERS IN MAIL THIS WEEK

Campaign Chairman Raymond
Williamson Hopes Residents
Will Respond To New Idea

The 1957 Belleville Community Chest Drive officially opened this week with the mailing of 10,000 coin folders to the local residents. Although the actual Chest campaign does not begin until Fall, drive leaders feel the coin folders will give them a head start on their way to topping this year's quota.

This year marks the third that the coin folder idea has been used in the local drive. The idea really took hold last year, according to Raymond Williamson, newly appointed campaign chairman. He hoped that a larger portion of the residential goal can be raised in this manner, thus making the work load that much easier on the volunteer canvassers.

Residents receiving their folders this year will find them very similar to the ones in the past two years. The folder itself consists of a heavy cardboard, with twenty slots for coins. Each folder is marked with a weekly date, until the deadline for folders on October 9. Williamson said that many contributors like the idea in past years, since by putting

Both measures received initial approval at the last Commission meeting.

A local contractor has submitted the low bid to Belleville Town Commissioners for the remodeling of Municipal Stadium. Luciano Brothers, one of three bidders for the face lifting operation, won the contract with a bid of $25,356.

The bids were received by Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde, director of Parks and Public Property, as the first step in an overall five year plan to completely rejuvenate the town's stadium.

Starts immediately. Hyde said work would start immediately on the first phase of his program which had been approved. He joined with Recreation Superintendent Robert E. Cook in stating that when the project was completed, Belleville could boast of one of the finest recreational facilities in this part of the country.

Sweeney could place the order with the Seattle, Washington, builder when he sees the "Buddy Poppy" Collegiate Regatta at Syracuse.

To date, slightly more than $700 has been raised. The goal set by the committee as necessary to buy the racing shell is $2,200. NATIONAL GUARD UNIT TAKES OVER ANTI-AIRCRAFT SITE

Local Guard Unit Mans Branch Brook Installation As Regular Army Leaves

Offering continued military defense and the use of their facilities to the townspeople of Belleville, Battery B of the 109th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion, New Jersey National Guard, officially welcomed government and civic officials last week as it took over the Branch Brook Park anti-aircraft site formerly occupied by the 98th AAA Battalion, a regular Army unit which had held the position for the last four years.

Lieutenant Angela J. Biviano, Battery B commander, cited the unit's happiness in becoming associated with Belleville and pointed out that the aid of veterans and other civic groups could greatly assist in bringing the National Guard organization to its authorized personnel strength. He noted that recruiting is one of the Battery's biggest problems and that many new men are needed so that it can adequately perform its job of protecting Belleville.

The commander went on to say that his unit needs men 17 years of age and over. Contributions made by the National Guard enables young men to fulfill their military obligations without leaving their homes, jobs and schools for duty in other locations. The National Guard requires attendance at one night drill weekly, and two weeks summer camp. The local unit has many openings, including ratings in radar and guns, and provides actual on-the-job training plus full pay for drills and summer encampments, he said.

Acquisition of the Belleville AA position by the 109th brings to three the number of sites the National Guard unit is actively manning. It also has positions at Vailsburg and Elizabeth and will soon take control of another position in Fort Lee. By manning the anti-aircraft defenses throughout the area, the National Guard believes regular Army troops, who formerly occupied the area, for other duties and continue to be in the maximum defense against enemy air attacks.

Local Men Attend
Among the local residents who attended last Wednesday's welcoming ceremonies were Mayor Isaac J. Padula, Commander Richard and Podor of Youngmens-Aldermen Post 275, Veterans of Foreign Wars George Flagg, post commander of Post 105, American Legion; and Guy Matrasia, Belleville businessman.

"Just lately," she continued, "an occasional high school student has come in just to talk about what might be the problems of any adolescent, and we have had the cooperation of many of the members of the town's clergy who feel they might not be adequately informed on marriage counseling and have sent the young people to us. In this way we feel that we are slowly becoming recognized in the community, and we might eventually be able to make a small dent in helping to lessen the number of unhappy homes in our community."

"Our organization is not run on a charity basis. Most people pay for our services, but the payments are determined by the income of the person, as we feel that anyone who is in need should be entitled to it, regardless of cost."

Also aiding in the drive is the People's National Bank and Trust Company which is acting as a collection agency. The bank's contributions may still be added to the bank in care of Crew Fund Committee.

The committee has urged all residents who have made pledges to the drive to send their contributions to one of the committee so that the goal may be reached in time to order the shell in hand. Coach Bennett has already come out strongly favoring the additional drive, and provides additional caps imposed by the present emergency, the committee reminds townspeople.

Commissioners

Sullivan said that with the increasing number of cars in town it was becoming increasingly difficult to enforce the ban on all-night parking. This new measure was designed, he said, to alleviate the situation in as fair a manner as possible to everyone concerned.

The new regulations will also aid police in checking for stolen cars, since all parked cars must be moved at least once every 24 hours. The plan will aid the Department of Public Works in keeping the streets clean, as the streets sweeper will now have complete access to one side of the street every day.

Golden stated that the plan was the culmination of months of study and that it has formally been presented by the Traffic Safety Committee headed by Nuncio.

Golden again criticized the ordinance stating that Commissioners should have followed his previous suggestion of granting permits for a nominal fee for on-street parking. This would have been an added source of revenue, Golden said.

Golden also asked Commissioners if any action had been taken on his suggestion presented at the last meeting that reinstated building inspector Thomas D. Greco be placed under the supervision of the full Board. After a farcical exchange between Golden and Smith, the Commissioner concluded by stating "Greco is a capable building inspector. In our community, he is doing a full and complete job."

Cook said the five year plan is intended to bring all of the stadium property under the jurisdiction of the recreation department. The first step of the program, now being undertaken, consists of three separate undertakings.

The first is the construction of a driveway from Division Avenue into the skating rink, creating parking space for about 100 additional cars.

Grading of the parking area now used along the west side of the stadium, adjacent to the present service road from Passaic Avenue. Total parking space will be available for about 300 cars.

Moving of the west fence of the stadium 150 feet to the west, enlarging the recreational facilities on that side of the stadium. This will provide at least one more softball and baseball diamond.

unusual and has been allowed to become overgrown. It is used as a dumping ground by neighbors, as the town's law by teenagers, and has become a general eyesore, Anderson said.

The Commission plans to finish plowing the land, level it off and engrue the soil into good condition. By spring of 1957 they hope to start planting young trees and shrubs there and have the nursery in full swing by 1958.

The plan is part of the Commission's program of making their own cuttings on trees and shrubs, instead of buying young trees commercially. The plan brings about a saving of $40 to $16 a tree which amounts to $5,000 or $7,000 a year, Anderson said.

Not only will the nursery be a money saver for the county, but it will beautify the entire area of the hospital and make a pleasant view for neighbors in the area.

At present, the Shade Tree Commission is undertaking to re-shape the landscape around the hospital proper. For the past winter they have been taking out overgrown shrubbery around the building and replacing with new red and white azalea bushes which will add greatly to the natural beauty of the site, Anderson said.

dents, and 62 on the street. Fifty-three foot bike calls commenced more times. There were 20 sudden deaths reported that police looked into, and another 20 persons who were taken sick at the street required police help.

The department answered 387 ambulances calls, 95 calls where police cars were used to rush riders to the hospital, and another 42 where it took rushed-stricken people to doctors' offices.

Make 123 Arrests
On the motor vehicle side of the ledger, 712 violations were reported on the road and 93 more off the road. A total of 2,421 tickets between Golden and Smith, the Commissioner concluded by stating "Greco is a capable building inspector. In our community, he is doing a full and complete job."

The magistrate's court handled all the parking and motor vehicle violations and an additional 137 criminal cases.

Of the 259 criminal complaints received, 169 of the cases have been closed successfully. These include mostly larceny, breaking and entry, assault and battery, and other crimes. Non-criminal complaints included mostly disorderly persons and property damage.

The magistrate's court handled 157 complaints involving juveniles. These were largely malicious mischief, property damage, breaking and entry, and stolen cars.

Consuming a considerable time were the 4,428 police escorts required by local businessmen to and from local banks.

The force rounded out its activity by serving 256 warrants during the year, answering 105 requests for doctors, checking 426 reports of street light failures, and checking 49 vacant houses. They also handled 208 fire alarms, exclusive of those turned in to the fire department, and were called out on 39 false alarms, and checked 90 burglar alarms.

He announced that the original frame building, known as the "Lycium," which has served the parish since 1921, will be torn down as soon as the new wing is completed.

The new wing will contain four classrooms and a combined auditorium-gymnasium with a seating capacity of 1,100. When that facility is completed, it is planned to transfer many of the parish activities from the church basement to the new school wing and enlarge the schedule of supplementary religious services held at the basement altar.

position, just as easily as a boy. Sandy lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shaw, at 305 Branch Brook Drive. The family also includes a nine-year-old sister, Christine, who, right now would rather follow in her older sister's footsteps as a twirler than as a council president.

Twirling is just one of the many things which Sandy finds time to do. She served on the Senate for four years of her high school years, the girls' Intramural sports have claimed her for four years as a council president in the Junior Woman's Club last year. She also enjoys music, where she lists Glenn Miller and Benny Goodman among her favorites.

In September, Sandy will attend Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, Virginia, where her major will be education together with psychology. "Why psychology?" we asked. "Just because I like people," was the reply.

Viola Broadbent Ends Thirty Year Career

More than thirty years have passed since Miss Viola Broadbent became principal of School Eight. In that time, she has seen many teachers and students pass through those doors on Union Avenue. The changes brought about in those years have been numerous, but Miss Broadbent's goals in the field of education have remained constant and unshakable in spite of the many obstacles which any principal has to overcome.

Miss Broadbent graduated from Belleville High School and Newark State Normal School and began her teaching career in Belleville at Schools Three and Five. She became principal of the latter and remained in this position for five years. She then served as principal of School One for one year, after which she took over her present position.

In her daily contact with children and their parents, Miss Broadbent has found her greatest rewards in seeing the youngsters reaching out for progress and developing from day to day. In dealing with teachers under her, Miss Broadbent felt that she had been stimulated by the incentive and new ideas of the younger ones, and had felt respect and admiration for the more seasoned of the profession.

Many former students, teachers and associates will pay tribute to Miss Broadbent at a testimonial dinner-dance on June 6. All of them realize that in her efforts in the teaching field, Miss Broadbent has left an unmistakable stamp on the field of education.

Her plans for the future? First, a long vacation at the home of her sister in Long Island. Then she plans to live the kind of life where she has enough time to read and to pursue whatever she finds interesting. Has she plans for writing a book of her many experiences? Miss Broadbent modestly replied: "I'll leave the writing of books to the more learned." According to her many friends and acquaintances, by that definition, she'd be more than qualified.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gortin

Support Varsity Club All-Sports Banquet

Remember the date, it's not too far off; in fact it's Tuesday. That's the time the Varsity Club will hold its first All-Sports Banquet with Belleville High graduating seniors in all sports except football scheduled to receive individual awards. In fact members of the cheerleading, wrestling and band organizations will also be honored. The sports organization is going to present 52 awards.

One of the highlights will be the presence of former major league pitcher Hank Borowy, who is a resident of nearby Bloomfield. Borowy broke into the majors with the New York Yankees and pitched a total of 10 years in the American and National Leagues. Back in 1945 Borowy won 21 games and lost only seven. He also appeared in six World Series games for the Yankees and the Chicago Cubs.

Hank Borowy

Borowy, who now operates a real estate agency in Bloomfield, will tell about several of his major league experiences. The one-time pitching standout got his start by pitching for Bloomfield back in his high school days and later worked his way into the Yankee chain and at one stretch toiled for the now defunct Newark Bears.

Also scheduled to be on hand is Jackie Farrell, public relations director of the Yankee organization. He has also promised to bring several Yankee players along with him. Master of ceremonies for the affair will be Jerry Bonavita, a charter member of the sports minded organization, and a member of the dinner committee. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Anthony Benti, of Holy Family Church, in Nutley.

Casale said that the limited supply of tickets are now on sale and can be purchased from any club member at the Rosary Florist or at Anderten and Fobert's Service Station, in Washington Avenue.

Regatta On The Passaic

The annual New York Rowing Association Regatta will be held on Sunday on the Passaic River under the auspices of the Newark Boat Club. There will be 19 events, beginning at 1 p.m., all except 1 1/4-mile dashes to be rowed over a one-mile course finishing north of the Belleville Pike Bridge. Races will be at 15-minute intervals, lasting until about 5:30.

A feature race at 1:30 will be the pair-oared shell without coxswain, in which Chuck Logg, Jr., and Tom Price, of the Rutgers Rowing Club, who won this event in the 1952 Olympics at Fozt, will meet the crew from Stanford University. Additional starters in this race will be the Calahan brothers from the New York Athletic Club, and Vesper Boat Club.

Many oarsmen from Belleville and Nutley will participate. Bruce Dussinger, Bob Lane, Bruce Fallows and Dave Watts, high school oarsmen, with Jim Demgard, as coxswain, are slated to row in the junior four shell. Demgard will also row junior single. Joe King, former Nutley varsity oarsman, will row in the junior single shell, and junior 1/2-mile dash.

The junior double will be made up of Bob Kjellberg and Eric Kostyra, of the Nutley crew. They will later join with Joe King and Demgard in the junior quad. The same four men, with the junior four shell crew, are slated to row junior eight, the last and feature event of the day, against the New York Athletic Club. Ken Nash will row in the novice single gig.

Other events are the senior single, in which it is hoped that national champion and two times Olympic representative Jack Kelly will race, and senior doubles and fours. A total of over 40 crews will participate in the 19 events.

Rees Win First League Game

The Belleville Rees finally got their first taste of victory in the Essex County League last Sunday when Bill Murphy's charges trimmed the East Orange Browns in a tight 3-2 decision. It was an upset win for Belleville as the East Orange entry was going into the game undefeated and was in a tie for first place.

The Rees, off to a slow start, dropped their first two outings in the strong eight club suburban conference. Belleville is now only one game out of the first division. Leading the league with perfect 3-0 and 6 marks are Nutley and Montclair.

Belleville, trailing 2-1, scored two runs in the eighth. An error and walk preceded Rod Cocetti's run-producing single. The winning run crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly by Tony Delury.

Cocetti, a flychaser for the Nutley Colonels last year, led the Belleville batting attack. The Belleville resident banged out three of the team's six hits. Bob Mallack, of Seton Hall, went all the way to gain the decision in the nine inning game. He allowed only three hits.

Blue-Gold Varsity Eight Car Crew Rows In Nationals

Crew Will Row In One Mile Final Saturday At Poughkeepsie In Schoolboy Shell Competition

By Dave Thaler

The Bellboy crew team climaxes their season this weekend and the race that they've been working towards all season—the National Schoolboy championships at Poughkeepsie.

Belleville has won this event but one time in the past. This year's team has been somewhat erratic, looking good in spots and bad in others. They have beaten the MIT and Harvard freshmen shells and even took a crew composed of varsity, Olympian and freshmen.

The shell was under Rutgers' colors. On the other hand they have lost to several high school teams. Kent and Lower Merion both count the Blue and Gold as victims having taken the Blue and Gold this year. The other shell that beat the Bellboys was the Columbia Freshmen Lightweight.

Only One Race

In the past the Nationals have been run off in heats, but this year one seven-boat race will be contested. At least one foreign boat will be competing in the entry of Notre Dame of Canada. Also, such familiar shells as those of George Washington High School, and Washington and Lee will be there. The Nationals also mark the first competition of the year between the rivals, Nutley and Belleville.

The Bellboys are rated a better shell than the Maroon Raiders, but with the rivalry what it is, and the Championship at stake, the outcome is anyone's guess. The Blue and Gold has enjoyed great success in the skirmishes between the two shells, taking the trophy's measure by quite a bit and with regularity.

The picture is quite clear. If the Bellboys experience one of their good days, they stand a good chance to bring home the Championship. They have turned in some good times, and one of their best came under inclement weather conditions. This leads one to believe that foul weather will play the advantage right in Belleville's lap.

Varsity Eight

The varsity eight shell will be manned by Joe Casale at bow; Dom Colino, number two; Al Hill, number three; Bill Kintz, number four; Jim Elting, number five; Bob Lane, number seven; and Harry Glass, stroke. Bill Ellys is coxswain.

Casale, Lane, and Glas are rowing their last race for Belleville, which gives them further incentive to make this race their best race.

Bennett said that the reason for the unusually small entry list is that several schools will race in the junior division. Rules state that if a crew has any boys 18 years of age or older it must compete in the senior race. As a result powerful rowing schools like Lower Merion, of Ardmore, Pa., and Eosore High, of Michigan, are keeping their older rowers out of the race and are shooting for the junior crown.

Nutley, Belleville Meet

In past years there have always been qualifying heats but on Saturday will be just one race to decide the national champ. The heats were always set up so that Belleville and Nutley would be racing in separate trials and would only meet head on if both qualified for the final.

This year, however, they will clash right at the start. Bennett when asked how his two crews will fare against competition from Michigan and Canada said, "It's almost impossible to say what will happen in these who's who water conditions hold such a vital key. In fact I wouldn't even predict how the Nutley and Belleville crews will do against each other. They are about equal."

The Nutley and Belleville crews will leave for Poughkeepsie this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock and will arrive in time to work out on the Hudson in preparation for Saturday's big race. The two crews will stay overnight at the Nelson House. Bennett plans to take about 15 rowers from each school.

BLUE AND GOLD CINDERMAEN DROP TWO THIS WEEK

Trackmen Lose In Essex County Meet And Also To Strong Bloomfield High

The Blue and Gold track team stepped up into big competition this week and was promptly told to wait until next year. The Bellboys visited the Essex County Meet and Bloomfield without their star sprinter and broad jumper, Roland Brown. Belleville was tabbed the seventh best team in the county, and was trampled by a star-studded Bloomfield team.

Billy Bartell, sensational sophomore, took second place with one of his average throws of a little more than 40 feet, while Joe Serriella, Belleville captain, placed fourth. Serriella also took a third the 135 lb. plus throw and broke the school record by doing so.

Al Cacciarrelli became the third man on the team to break a Blue and Gold record by running the 440 yd. dash in 1:03.4. The record was 1:04.4 and Cacciarrelli had been attacking it for several weeks. He had the misfortune, however, to lose it in one of the fastest heats of the day, and did not even qualify for the final heat. But, as he is only a sophomore, Cacciarrelli will be around for two years to remind all opponents of what he is capable of.

When the Blue and Gold team traveled to Bloomfield to take on the Bengals, they were beaten by a much older team. Bloomfield is loaded with seniors and will have to start rebuilding next year. The Bengal coach related these facts with a sad look in his eyes, as the Belleville men, in the opinion of MacArthur was pointing out his freshmen, sophomores and juniors were the very best. Serriella and Gundry, and Ricky Brewer, who will enter the Marines, will be leaving the team. Since this year's team has enjoyed considerable success, next year's should be that much more powerful.

SCOUTS WORK FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

Local Boy Scouts have recently completed their project to aid the Belleville Community Chest. Scouts of Troops 1013, 305, 307, 309, and 375 have collected, sealed, and addressed 157 envelopes for the Chest. The folders will shortly be mailed to residents in the community. The Chest more convenient. The materials for the job were taken to Troop meeting places on a regular Troop meeting night where the work was completed in about an hour and a half.

Cub Pow Wow On June 2

The first annual Cub Leaders outdoor Pow Wow will be held at West Side Park in Newark 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, June 2.

Representing Belleville on the Pow Wow Committee is George T. Staples, Cubmaster of Pack 377, St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church. In charge of the games section is Edward Anderson, Cubmaster of Pack 301, Wesley Methodist Church.

LITTLE LEAGUE LIFE

by Larry Remes, James Elting, and Bill Ellis

Looking at the National League, we find the Giants on top of the heap with a 3-0 record. This can be mainly attributed to the outstanding play of pitcher George Sheridan. In the Giants' first three games Sheridan has pitched to 64 men, allowed no bases, one run, walked 10, struck out 33, and left 11 men on the bases. Sheridan has also been the big man with the bat, getting eight hits in 10 trips to the plate.

Moving on to the American League we find the Bombers on top with a 3-0 record. The Bombers' success can be summed up by saying that they have lost only four batters from their year's squad. The team has received some fine pitching from Allan Belus and Ernie Stefaneli. Their hitting attack has been spearheaded by Gary Swartz, John Suckey, Charlie Librizzi and Allan Belus. The boys, under coach Fred McQuillen, have also been working out at least two nights a week, besides their scheduled games.

The Farm League, which recently got under way is moving along quite smoothly. There will be two leagues similar to the Little League with eight teams each. Poor Johnny

HE HAS NO PLACE TO PLAY

It's too bad Johnny's parents didn't find out about the Bryant "319" Gas Forced Air Furnace. It's so compact it can be installed in an alcove, closet or in a utility room. Even in the basement it leaves plenty of "playing space."

Yet, for all its compactness, the Bryant "319" assures plenty of well-heated air for the whole house. It's a lot of furnace in a little space.

Before you buy a new home or modernize your present one, give careful attention to the size and efficiency of the heating unit.

Dogwood Advance

Spring flows north from the Carolinas, from the low coastal plains running north ahead of the first leaves, the pale flame of dogwood burns over the Virginia Capes, coursing through the Piedmont country; white fire in the tidewater channels fans out on the eastern shore, races north like a storm of cream-colored butterflies, like a snowfall of stars through the Appalachians, burgeoning presently in New England. Delicately fluted, lemon-white petals, quatrifol flowers with a thin rumor of green in the tips, essence and remembrance of all spring: of young sunlight, of white steeples, of new leaves, of the fragile earrings of old ivory out of the Orient in the New England museums, out of an old dynasty into new spring.

Contempt Of The Essex Electorate

The Essex Clean Government Republican Assembly delegation is guilty of frustrating the will of a majority of Essex County electors by refusing to work with Democratic Senator Donald C. Fox and serving, instead, of Senator Frank "Hap" Farley, of Atlantic County, to process nonpartisan bills of Essex origin in the upper chamber.

Essex County voters, last November, threw out Republican Senator Mark Anton, refusing to share his views on waterfront problems among other things, and elected Senator Fox. At the same time it elected the Republican Assembly delegation. Both were elected by the same voters as their representatives in the upper and lower chambers in Trenton.

For the Clean Government Republican delegation in the lower chamber to refuse to work with Senator Fox is a violation of the expressed wish of the Essex electorate. In short, it is contempt of the electors. For the Essex Assemblymen to act in the Senate through non-Essex Senators is the cheapest kind of trashy partisan politics.

It becomes even more degrading politics when the Essex "partner" in the Senate happens to be "Hap" Farley. It is, indeed, a memorable day in the lowering prestige of Clean Government Republican rule when Essex finds itself collaborating with the Atlantic City politician. We might as well have re-elected Anton.

Belleville has particular reason to resent this "treason" by Clean Government. Senator Fox has been exceedingly cooperative in the continuation of Route 21 through town. The Clean Government Republican Assembly delegation did not turn its hand to help us.

The Republicans in Trenton did nothing for us to prevent the illegal Belleville Avenue tollgate being placed across the Garden State Parkway to tax us 25 cents to reach any point in Essex County. The Republicans in Trenton did nothing to help Belleville and Nutley when the early plans for the Route 21 six-lane expressway encroached heavily on our ratables.

It was Senator Fox who went to the office of State Highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer and carried, personally, a strong protest. It was Senator Fox who arranged a conference in Palmer's office, which included Mayor Isadore J. Padula and Commissioner Kenneth D. Smith, out of which came Palmer's announcement that he had obtained Federal approval to his proposal to build the expressway on fill 100 feet into the river and thus eliminate the loss of ratables. The Town Commissioners expressed their appreciation to Senator Fox for his intervention.

It is pure folly for the Essex Republican Assembly delegation to refuse to work with Senator Fox. He is our elected Senator and all Essex bills should be processed through him, not through the Senators of Bergen or Atlantic Counties, though they be Republican. Any detour of Senator Fox is pure contempt of the Essex electorate.

One Man's Opinion

Soviet Russia's cut of 66 divisions may have been inspired by serious manpower shortage on farms

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

There is something of fairy tale about the Soviet effort to scrap 63 ground divisions and three air divisions, a total of 1,200,000 men, reducing its armed forces from 4,000,000 to 2,800,000 without asking something in return. There seems to be a distinct atmosphere of: "Will you walk into my parlor?" said the spider to the fly" about it.

The United States is not in a position to follow the Soviet Union's lead with anything like a similar 30 per cent cut. In fact, the United States has reduced its own forces since the end of the war with Japan by 9,000,000 men. At the end of hostilities we had 12,800,000 men under arms. Today we have less than 3,000,000, and probably around 2,800,000.

On April 3, at London, the United States proposed what would amount to a token reduction of American armed forces from 2,800,000 to 2,500,000, or about 10 per cent, in return for the acceptance of a ceiling of 2,500,000 each by the Soviet Union and Communist China. All this, under that proposal, would have been verified by mutual inspection.

Now Russia offers, spontaneously, to cut by 30 per cent to 2,800,000—but without inspection of any kind. There is no good reason to take the Kremlin at its word. Without inspection how would we know if this "cut" is real or merely another bit of cute propaganda?

Farms And Factories

Behind the Kremlin's announcement which has brought Russia a rich harvest of international applause lies the realistic fact that a four-million-man Red Army was unwieldy. It was necessary, to keep it at full strength, to recruit peasant manpower which Russia could use most profitably in opening up vast new farm acreage.

The big Red Army also consumed industrial manpower which Khrushchev needs for the success of the Soviet's latest and most ambitious five-year plan. Thus by taking men out of uniform where world conditions make their presence unnecessary and returning them to the farms and factories, the Soviet Union really grows stronger and not weaker.

Real Arms Race

There is but, one arms race today, and it is not to be counted in millions of mobilized, and trained manpower. It is a race in the spheres of electronics and the atom, and Russia is not behind us in production of nuclear bombs, guided missiles and jet bombers.

Science has made such progress that future wars will be fought are still an important threat in this day of far more significant weapons—intercontinental bombers, missiles, and H-bombs, for example—the Soviet potential will still be 4,000,000 men, even if 1,800,000 are let out. Men once demobilized can be called back into service quickly. They are not taken out into a quarter-master dump and exploded, like old artillery shells.

For the Soviet Union, it would be an easy matter to regain its lost striking power with a matter of weeks and the Soviets have internal lines of communication. That is, they are pointed at the center of the spider's web, while the United States is spread out around the edges and our lines of communication, chiefly by water, spread over the whole globe.

For the United States to demobilize by 30 per cent would require it to call its men back thousands of miles across continents and oceans and thus disrupt or destroy the Allied system of bases—nearly the medium-bomber bases around the Soviet periphery.

Making Propaganda Hay

The difficulty, from the American point of view, is that the Kremlin stands to gain a considerable propaganda victory, notably in Europe and Asia.

Every time the Kremlin makes a gesture that seems to indicate peaceful intent, it becomes harder for Washington to explain convincingly why the United States still feels it must stand guard over the Soviet periphery.

There is every indication, confirmed by their own statements, that the Soviets are veering away from the military policy of the "human wave" that pits flesh and blood against superior weapons, and that they are now strengthening their forces for the most modern arms, including atomic weapons.

If the Soviets can make their unilateral and uncontrolled "disarmament" gesture without reducing their military power they can hope to put free world governments under deluded popular pressure to accept Kremlin professions at face value and disarm themselves.

Were the Soviets to succeed in this they would attain their immediate goal, which is to put disarmament before the solution of pressing world problems that cause world tensions, thereby compelling acceptance of their conquests as faits accomplis, including the partition of Germany, Korea and Vietnam.

This would not only mean free

The free world should have learned enough by now to be aware of Soviet wiles and to act accordingly. The free world is unable to attain by force of Check periodically to make sure the flue is working properly. A simple test will tell. After the appliance has been working for 15 minutes, hold a lighted match near the skirt of the draft hood. The flame will be drawn toward the draft hood if your flue is clear. A blocked flue should be cleaned before it can cause trouble.
