

MARIANS WILL CELEBRATE ITS 1ST ANNIVERSARY

Young Adult Group Of St. Mary's To Have Dance Next Thursday Night

The Marians, young adult group of St. Mary's C.Y.O., celebrated its first anniversary with a birthday party and dance last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

There was entertainment by Bill Lanthorn and his orchestra. Miss Claire Guider and Henry Russell were in charge, assisted by John Grum, refreshments; and Miss Joan Walczak and Robert James, decorations.

Since its formation a year ago, the Marians have been engaged in spiritual, social, cultural and sports activities, both locally and in conjunction with the Essex County C.Y.O. under the leadership of moderator, Rev. Seymour Everett.

Meetings are a mixture of dances, forums on such subjects as marriage, civil government, and specific phases of advanced Catholic education. During the summer months swimming parties are held each meeting night.

The group has bowling, softball and basketball teams, and last year placed second in the County senior basketball league.

They also came in second in the county play contest, and this year are planning to conduct a series of Youth Forum on radio in October and February.

There also has been much activity spiritually with a Communion Breakfast in the Fall, a weekend retreat once a year, and a Communion Sunday the fourth Sunday of each month.

Under its first president, Robert Kelly, the Marians sponsored and aided in many parish youth programs, and in June sponsored an "Eighth Grade Day" of St. Mary's School when they accompanied the graduating class of the school on a boat ride to Rye Beach.

Membership is open to young men and women between the ages of 18 and 28. Paul Waskyle of Belleville, is now president of the group.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gorlin

Get There Fastest and You'll Go Farthest

Energy and enthusiasm are twin gifts to youngsters who play baseball in any of the organized teams in Belleville. As a matter of fact, these gifts are not confined to the organized clubs. But since we have the Little Leagues it is more noticeable. Energy and enthusiasm are fine things. We need more of them.

It was pointed out how some boys absorb the instructions of the coaches, while others forget their instructions in a pinch. An example is when a first baseman and second baseman go after the same batted ball, leaving first uncovered.

Big league scouts, in sizing up prospective young players, pay attention to how these prospects play the "team" game, as well as the batting average and fielding ability. Some very heavy hitters have failed to make the big time because they were individual stars, not team players.

On the best baseball teams, from Little League through to the majors, when a ball is hit toward first the pitcher and second baseman break for first, leaving the first sacker free to field the ball. If there is a man on second, the shortstop goes to that base, the third baseman stays near his base, and the catcher breaks for third to back up the corner in case there is a ball thrown from first.

With a man or men on base, if the catcher must go after a pop foul, the pitcher always breaks for the plate to shut off any possibility of a runner coming home after the catch.

A pitcher may be ever so good, and his batting average, low, but if he doesn't field his position, and back up the catcher and infielders in case of need, the big league scouts won't sign him. It doesn't matter whether the omission is due to lack of understanding, poor judgment, or a lazy ambition.

No matter how sure a play may seem, nor how confident players may be of another's ability, backing up the play is one of the first considerations.

Granted, some major league teams seem at times to be apathetic. The players make listless efforts, or no efforts at all, to back up plays to the bases. But the real outstanding players are "all over the lot" at the drop of a hat. We might cite Yogi Berra, Ed Bailey and Del Crandall, for a few. And little Phil Rizzuto. "Nelly" Fox, Robin Roberts and Bobby Shantz for others. The outstanding players play the team game. That's why they are outstanding.

A Mobile Bureau Of Statistics

Should someone approach and challenge you to prove that you were born you might think he was a little crazy or kidding at least. Belleville Little League managers must prove that their fourteen charges were born and within a specific time period.

In addition to the duties of coaching boys how to play baseball he must carry his own department of vital statistics besides rule books and scorebooks.

Failure of a manager to produce the required documentation of every member of his squad can result in the disqualification of a member or the forfeiture of the tournament game.

Protests in a tournament game will bring immediate action. The objection is made to the umpire-in-chief, who calls a conference of all the umpires working in the game. The Tournament Director may be consulted, although not necessary.

All decisions made by the conference of the umpires are final; there is no appeal.

Boys Learn Baseball In Season

During a season's play of Belleville Little League and Junior League baseball it is interesting to watch the progress of the boys, and we might add, the progress of the coaches. For the coaches learn by doing, just as do the boys.

In the early season most boys in either class can be fanned, once they have two strikes, by a high outside fast ball, on the next pitch. Or they draw away from the plate when the ball comes over the inside corner. Later in the season they are not so ready to swing at the wide ones, and can ease into an inside pitch and smack it. However, too many kids clutch the bat at the end and swing with all their power. If they could learn to choke up on the bat, and punch for a single instead of a home run, we would see fatter batting averages.

As the season starts the pitchers try to overpower every hitter. With experience they try to outfox the batter, pace themselves better.

Many of the catchers develop in a season into field generals, soothing their ruffled pitchers after a bad play. They also learn quickly to "sense" which way a foul pop is going.

With some exceptions, the keystone sack combinations of shortstop and second baseman have developed wonderfully. The pop flies and grounders become easy meat, and largely they throw by instinct to the proper bases. Some extra practice is needed in moving to the right after grounders, and many boys could be more effective as infielders if they could learn to throw from a crouch. But it all comes in time and takes plenty of practice. They have really shown tremendous improvement.

Belleville Riders Trim Maplewood Lose To Dodgers

The Belleville Riders played at the home confines of Municipal Stadium against the South Orange Dodgers but they had to wait until playing on the road on Sunday before winning a game over the weekend. Belleville earned an even split on Sunday. Frank Spivack, gained the decision in an 11-7 game against Maplewood. The day before the Riders were trounced by the visiting Dodgers, 13-3, with Sal Russo being bombed from the mound in the very first inning.

Belleville, mired in the second division, has won eight games while dropping 15 in Essex County League competition. The Riders are in sixth place.

Manager Bill Murphy's club has only one more home game left for Municipal Stadium this season. They will play host to the New York Colonias in the championship final on Labor Day.

In the 11-7 victory over Maplewood, at Memorial Field, Spivack added on the ninth when the extreme heat began to get the best of him.

Bob "Woody" Malleck finished up the game and preserved the win for the stocky, left-handed pitcher.

Errors Hurt Maples
Belleville actually won the game as the result of numerous gifts by the Maplewood defense. In the ninth inning, the Maplewood club committed no less than 12 errors.

The Riders collected only eight hits while touching the Maple burlers for 11 runs. Spivack overcame the error-ridden attack with a pair of hits. Graziano, who has been playing a very steady game for Murphy and has been a good influence on the entire infield.

Young Jim Macchia, newly acquired third baseman from Verona, again played flawless ball for the Riders. He has hit five games that he participated in.

In the one-sided 13-3 loss to South Orange, the Dodgers didn't lose a hit before jumping on Russo. He was hit hard in the opening frame and was touched for a home run and a double and also hit a Dodger batter.

Jim McLain, former Clifton Saints, helped Russo and stayed on the scene for three innings. John Schiviano finished up and hurled the last seven innings.

The only extra base hits were wadded by Belleville product Richie Veith and Jim Macchia. Veith slugged a triple and Macchia a double in the losing cause.

ST. ANTHONY'S TO MEET NEWARKERS IN FINAL CONTEST

St. Anthony's and Sacred Heart, Vailsburg, will meet in a crucial game in the final contest on the second-half slate in the Essex County CYO Intermediate Baseball League. The contest is scheduled for 3:30 at Newark's Memorial Stadium.

St. Anthony's by virtue of a forfeit victory over St. Casimir's, Newark, last Sunday, now shows a 4-0 record in second-half play. Sacred Heart, on the other hand, is in the first round. The local club is a game ahead of both Sacred Heart and St. Lucy's, Newark, which are tied for second with 3-1 records.

If St. Anthony's can win on Sunday, it will capture the second-half flag and play Sacred Heart for the county championship the following week. But if St. Anthony's should lose it will fall in to a three-way tie for the second-half title as St. Lucy's is an almost certain winner the same day. That will necessitate a three-team playoff followed by the championship playoff. St. Anthony's task is extremely difficult as the locals were unable to solve the West's slumps the first time around, dropping a 3-0 decision to Sacred Heart. Since then they've won four of five games, and now show a near seasonal record as Sacred Heart. Both have won seven of eight decisions.

Brubakers And Company Entertain No. 1 Playground With Original Pirate Skit

Entertainment on the playgrounds is not confined to the conventional swings and slide, or even to checkers and handcraft. Last Friday several of the children, after forming a little dramatic club, put on a skit. The group was fully costumed and armed with props; they even had written the play themselves. Such talents emanated from Marie Brubaker, Margaret Hoffman, Richie and Ray Brubaker and Martha Drumm. The boys and girls followed the performance which came Rock-a-bye Baby, toward Cuckoo, Cuckoo, Cuckoo, and B-I-B-L-E, That's the Book for Me.

The play was about Pirate Joe and had all the necessary elements of a Pirate Joe story, from poor sailors and crying babies to villains and the finding of buried treasure. The entertainment held the interest of the group on the playground from the start to the finish and left them yelling for more. The boys and girls, round seats on the merry-go-round, picnic table and bench and, of course, in the ready-made "balcony" perched on the monkey bars.

Doll And Model Show
The doll and model show saw a field of 23 competitors narrowed to four very happy winners. Marie Brubaker and her frivoloous doll, Marilyn Thomas and her bride doll, Susie Thomas who also had a bride doll, and Kathy Gussalio and "Lucky," her snow queen doll were the first, second, third and fourth place winners. The judge's job was more difficult than ever, since all the dolls were so beautiful. Among the other entrants were Christine Miller, Peggy Ventura, Pam Powell, Leslie Thomas, Helen DeLaurentis, Margaret Hoffman, Judy Marshall, Dolores Barker, Marlene Hutchinson, Sandra Barker, Susan Stephenson, Marilyn Thomas, Martha Drumm, Lisa Stephenson, Del McCarthy and Larry Stern.

Dave Rucinski proved himself master of the checker field in the boys 6-9 year old group Monday. Rich Brubaker challenged and almost beat him in the semi-final match, but Dave came through. There was a lot of stiff competition in all of the matches which included Jim Duff, Jim Sweeney, Bobby Boyer, Will and Wally Butler, Rich Sweeney, Rich Boyer and Pat Gussalio, besides the two finalists.

Inventors are born. That was proved to us last week when little Bill Barker brought up a radio he had made himself. The parts consisted of a few pieces of wire, a hearing mechanism, a block of wood and a few pieces of metal. He picked up everything from a Rock 'n Roll to foreign news commentators.

William J. Brennan was named sales manager of Belleville-Nutley Buick Co. The announcement was made this week by George W. Symonds, president of the automobile firm.

Brennan has long been associated with the automobile business and has spent 20 years as an auto salesman. For the last six years he has served as sales manager for a suburban agency.

Brennan is a resident of East Orange and has two boys and a girl.

He was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, in the town ambulance.

Statistics were omitted from our column last week due to lack of space. The league schedule for the Belleville Little League still has 25 games to be played. These games will be played at Clearman Field every night through Friday with double headers on Saturday afternoon, starting at 1 p. m.

The parental lack of interest is difficult to understand for who should have no interest in these little fellows than their own mothers and dads. The attendance at these games should never fall below 60 adults for there are 30 boys from different families competing in every game. There is no admission charge so, come on out and give yourself a treat and see something to be proud of.

The next regular meeting of Belleville Little League managers is being called for Tuesday evening, August 21 at the Recreation House. This is a special meeting being called by Bob Cooke, Recreational Director, who will discuss and coordinate plans for the construction of Belleville's Little League Field. Mr. James Lammman and Commissioner Hyde plan to be in attendance and it is a meeting that none of the managers or coaches from the Little League should miss. Come early and get a good seat.

THE STORY IS ON THE STUBS

No need to stress the convenience of a checking account when it comes to bill paying or the value of the cancelled checks as valid receipts.

But have you considered how the record on those stubs can help you take stock and, if necessary, rearrange your budget? And how it provides the figures for your income tax deduction: for charities, for medical bills, for the deductible taxes and interest?

Poppies In An Essex Garden

Flame out of China!
 Enormous fragile sampan sails of red ride out the burning afternoon, a shimmering incandescence in the still garden;
 banners of orange, vermillion, cinnabar fire, colors of exotic silks, wavering fans and the great petals of white crepe like hosts of frail snowy butterflies hover for an indecisive moment as if about to flutter from their ice-green stems;

festival of color, fireworks, clash of gongs!
 Ancient Cathay, Cipango, the ports of Nippon
 smoulder in a quiet Essex garden against austere boxwood and silent viburnum:
 wonderful that this stolid rock, this lean soil should put forth such eloquent speech of fire.

Frederick Ebright

Harry's Man Harriman

The Democratic Party, which history shows has squabbled ever but always has thrived on its own discord, comes to the point, today, where noses will be bloodied.
 As balloting for the presidential preference begins, the issue is clear - cut: Truman and Tammany on one side, moderation on the other.

Born of the strife within George Washington's own cabinet when Thomas Jefferson had his radical dream of a popular democracy while Alexander Hamilton was the champion of the propertied and mercantile aristocracy, the Democratic party has been a party of strife: South against North, today as before the Civil War; hard money vs. "free silver", as in the days of William Jennings Bryan; New Deal vs. conservatism; Truman liberals, the sons of Roosevelt's New Dealers, vs. State's Righters. So it is nothing new for the party to be split squarely down the middle today with Harry's man Harriman opposed to the Middle West's champion of moderation.

One way or the other, the party will come out of its convention, this weekend, battered and bloody but by November the Chicago battle will be well in the background.
 Whichever side wins in today's test, popular democracy will roll with the punch. What may seem, today, to be incohesive factions embroiled in a bitter civil war will be a unified party by November, because our Democrats are Democrats come hell or high water.

As a champion of New Deal liberalism, Harry Truman has his nuisance value. By taking sides squarely with Tammany and Harriman, the Missouriian has sowed the road of Adlai Stevenson with tacks but in another way he has rendered him a tremendous service. If Stevenson is the candidate of the Democratic party on the final ballot, he will owe Harry Truman nothing.

The spectacle of a Harry Truman out on a limb and saving it off behind him was one of the most pleasing aspects of this televised convention. Most everyone would have given the Missouriian credit for having learned more tricks of the trade during his Pendergast training than to force such an issue as his espousal of Tammany and Harriman while belittling Stevenson and insinuating that he "choked up" in a fight.

Truman stands to be the biggest loser of this convention. His political acumen will be subject to review, now. His prestige as a former President, has been harmed by his own doing. Having picked Harriman and Tammany, he cannot now change horses and try to ride the Stevenson steed for the rest of the campaign. The Truman bubble has, at last, been pricked.

To a non-Democratic observer, however, the surprise of this nominating convention is that Tammany can put on a striped tie and mix in decent company. Tammany Hall, the classic symbol of the evils of big city political machines, is venturing onto a level heretofore denied it. Win or lose, Tammany will have travelled a long way from the gutters of New York City.

It is a strange situation when Harriman's campaign can be led by a Carmine De Sapio whose rise to power and whose ousting of the traditional Tammany Irish was made possible by the power and the money of his underworld associations. In giving testimony before a Senate investigating committee, Frank J. Costello, the notorious gambler and racketeer, gave De Sapio as a character reference and boasted of their friendship.

The sorry spectacle of the convention on television may well cause the Democratic party leaders to ponder and wonder whether, next time, it would not be better to return to the silent sideshows of other years. The Democratic New York Times editorialized yesterday: "If the Democratic party has nothing more to offer than what it showed at the convention, then the party dignitaries gathered at Chicago would have done well to fold their tents and silently take away".

Politically, it was a farce. From the entertainment point of view, it was better than anything since Elvis Presley gyrated on television. In fact the party keynoter, Tennessee's Governor Frank G. Clement, won much favorable newspaper mention as a combination of the worst and the best in both Elvis Presley and Billy Graham. At any rate, Clement talked and twisted himself out of serious consideration as a candidate for the vice presidency. His idea of oratory is to flare your arms and shout.

Nothing could have been more distressing than to see the partisan renegade, Senator Wayne Morse, consume an hour of the convention's time explaining why he quit the Republican party. His claim of a sanctimonious cloak of "constitutional liberalism" fooled no one, not even the Democratic delegates. There have been "constitutional liberals" before, among them the great Lafolette, but even if they disagreed with party policy they never deserted. A renegade deserter is discredited in both camps.

In all of it, we would say that this was a "defeatist convention". R.E.H.

One Man's Opinion

Question Arises: If Nasser Succeeds What May Happen To Our Own Panama Canal And To Turkey's Dardanelles Straits?

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

Whether the confidence of big powers on the Suez Canal dispute produces the international control of that vital waterway which the British want most or not, the action of Colonel Nasser in seizing actual physical possession of the canal property in the name of Egypt is of importance to world peace in that it might provoke possible other "grabs" of the Dardanelles and the Panama Canal.

There is not the slightest doubt that any "grab" of the Panama Canal would bring instant military action. Unlike the Suez Canal which runs by a 99-year lease through territory of the Republic of Egypt, the Panama Canal lies within a Canal Zone which has been granted to the United States in perpetuity. Its defense is a major continental "must".

The Dardanelles, a strait and not a canal, lie wholly within the territorial limits of Turkey. Unlike the Panama and Suez Canals, the Dardanelles are controlled by the Montreux Convention of 1923, just such an international agreement as the British want to see established for Suez.

Originally, under the Montreux Convention, an international Straits Commission was set up to enforce the agreement, but in 1936, after the Turkish Republic came of age and Soviet Russia was beginning to be bothersome, the Montreux Commission was abolished and its functions were transferred to the Turkish Government which undertook to enforce the Montreux Convention.

Control Of Panama Canal
 The Panama Canal, the 40-mile waterway linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans and saving 7,873 nautical miles on a voyage from New York to San Francisco, is operated and regulated financially by the Panama Canal Company, a government corporation, managed by a 13-member board of directors appointed by the Secretary of State. The company is personally represented by a personal representative of the President.

Although the Panama Canal was opened to world traffic only in 1914, the United States acquired the Canal Zone, a five-mile strip on either side of the canal in 1904. The story of how we won that deal is not one of the prettiest pages in our history, but we paid $10,000,000 down and agreed to pay Panama $250,000 a year.

This sum was raised to $430, 000 a year in 1934 and, by a new law passed last year, the annual payment was raised to $1,930,000. That latest United States-Panama treaty, which took two years to negotiate, met sharp opposition when it came before the Senate in 1955, although the vote of ratification itself was overwhelmingly in favor.

Senate Fears Seizure
 Senator Warren G. Magnuson
 (D) of Washington called it a "bad treaty" and forecast the next step would be a demand by Panama "to take over the zone and the canal itself." Senator Richard B. Russell
 (D) of Georgia and his feared Panama "may bleed us white," in case of a future war, for land to defend the canal, and the citizens and Government of Panama.

The Universal Suez Canal Company has been profitable from the start. Egypt received almost half of the initial funds for the construction of the canal, but Egypt's shares were bought out later by Britain from debt-ridden Khedive Ismail.

97 1/2 cents a Suez net ton for laden ships and 45 cents for ballast ships. To take a loaded 6,600-ton tanker through the canal costs about $6,200.

Yet the canal is not profitable in the way the Suez operation has been in the past and some years the canal has shown little profit.

Shippers contend that the Suez canal tolls are covering operating losses for many other enterprises operated in the zone by the Government notably the railroad, a seaplane line, hotels and public services. Lower tolls are being asked.

The present Panama Canal toll is 90 cents a ton for laden ships and 72 cents for ships in ballast, cheaper than Suez for vessels with cargo, but higher have been asking for a laden toll of 68 cents.

Because of slides and other factors, maintenance is higher on the Panama Canal than on the Suez.

High Construction Costs
 The Panama Canal originally cost $366,650,000 to build, compared with about $84,000,000 for the Suez waterway. The improvement of the Panama Canal since the Queen Victoria's great Prime Minister Disraeli.

On the Khedive was broke and would have to market the shares which gave control of the canal, Disraeli borrowed the four million pounds needed from the Rothschilds in the name of the British Government. Disraeli asked Parliament to sanction his audacious stroke.

A amusing corollary was President Nasser's announcement this week that he had ordered the change in name of Egypt's largest luxury hotel, the Khedive Ismail to Cleopatra. He timed it to recall Ismail's role in sacrificing Egypt's control of the Suez Canal and announced that henceforth Egypt's steamers would bear the names of Queens and Goddesses, and never the name of any Khedive.

It is a matter of historical record that Khedive Ismail did bring Egypt to bankruptcy.
 When he took the throne in 1863, Egypt's foreign debt was only 3,292,000 pounds sterling.
 Thirteen years later, it was 91, 000,000 pounds and Egypt was broke. Ismail had earned the reputation of being the biggest spender in the history of Egypt's centuries of corrupt rulers.

The Suez company has had an annual income of about $100, 000,000 of which about $30, 000,000 has been available for distribution as profit. The remainder has gone for maintenance and improvements on the canal. Egypt's share of the profits and royalties has lately been about $17,000,000 a year.

Nearly Dollar A Ton

 lowered for many years, are now

 laden ships and 45 cents for bal-

Brown University is one of three thousand midshipmen from the U.S. Naval Academy and the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps of 20 colleges and universities who returned last week from a cruise in the Atlantic.

They left Norfolk, Va. June 5 aboard two battleships, two heavy cruisers and 16 destroyers, bound for ports in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, England and Germany. The future naval officers are undergoing "at sea" training in duties and life aboard a warship.

Gunnery training at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, will climax the cruise before the ships returned to Norfolk August 2.

PFC Joseph G. Gober, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gober, of 112 Garden Avenue, is scheduled to leave Alaska for the continental U.S. this month as part of Operation Gyroscope, the Army's unit rotation plan.

Gober is a member of the 71st Infantry Division, which is changing stations with the 2nd Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Wash.

He is a policeman in the Military Police Company of the division. He entered the Army in October 1954 and arrived in Alaska in March 1955. He attended Belleville High School.

Richard E. Washington was promoted to seaman, USN, on June 16 while serving with Utility Squadron 7 at the Brown Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Chula Vista, Calif.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, of 188 Heckle Street.

Before entering the service in October 1955, he attended Withrow High School in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Cadet Peter J. Macchi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Macchi, 129 Shallowood Avenue, and an Air Force ROTC cadet at Newark College of Engineering, is attending 4 weeks of summer training at Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, Texas, as part of his Reserve officer training at college. While at summer training, Cadet Macchi observes and actually participates in Air Force operations.

Following graduation at Newark College of Engineering, he will be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve and for entry into flight training to win the coveted silver wings of an Air Force pilot.

Robert Current, of 325 Stephen Street and Nicholas V. Sili, of 301 Stephen Street, were two of 87 officers and men of the Naval Reserve Surface Division of Port Newark, who participated in a multiple drill on Sunday. The drill was held aboard Destroyer Escort USS Oahog.
