New Regulations Would Give Violations Bureau
Far Greater Jurisdiction

A new system of local traffic violation fines has been put into effect this week, according to an announcement by Magistrate Edward J. Abramson. The new measures are in line with a set of recommendations issued to municipalities throughout the state by the State Supreme Court. The order setting up the new code of offenses and their respective fines has been forwarded by County Judge J. Dixon Speakerman for final approval before being put into permanent use by local officials.

In essence, the code does three things. It gives the local violations bureau jurisdiction in many types of cases which previously was not permitted to handle previously. It sets up graduated fines for the same offenses, with the fine increasing each time the same individual is convicted of an additional violation. Finally, the new code raises the fine on practically every offense on the list.

The local violations bureau will now be permitted to handle

LAUTERETTE HEADS COMMITTEE TO STOP PLANE NOISE

Had Formerly Worked On Group Trying To Prevent
Excessive Plane Annoyance

Norman Lauterette, of 22 Elena Place, this week accepted the job of acting as Belleville's representative to see what can be done about the large number of low flying airplanes over the town. Lauterette, traffic manager for National Express Company, was asked to take the job by Public Works director Kenneth D. Smith after last week's Town Commission meeting.

At that meeting Smith called for the formation of a committee to discourage air traffic over the town. Smith said he had received at least 100 complaints of loud noise and vibration due to recent routing of commercial planes to Newark and other airports over Belleville. "A mayor's committee should take the planes out of Newark and we need the same thing here," Smith said. Smith then suggested that Lauterette, member of a former committee on the problem, be appointed. Smith said the former committee had brought relief from noise nuisance in past years and further suggested that Lauterette contact the GAA in the present annoyance.

Record Litter Of Dalmatian Pups

When a dog has pups, that's not usually news. But when a dog has a litter of 11 pups, well, that's a different story. Mrs. E. Tornieporth, of 10 Jerome Avenue, owner of the proud mama dog, got the shock of her life when she found out her beautiful Dalmatian had given birth to 11 pups for her first litter. Unfortunately, two of the pups died when the mother accidentally stepped on them. However, today there is a fine, healthy family of nine Dalmatian pups, seven weeks old. As fond as Mrs. Tornieporth is of the dogs, she'd like to dispose of the young and hungry pups to someone who is interested in raising a fine dog for a pet. Anyone interested, give Mrs. Tornieporth a ring.

A man who has been responsible for catching many burglars and thieves is Mr. Samuel Bagnio, of 61 Carmar Avenue. Bagnio is a detective, Mr. Bagnio has invented a burglar alarm system on the market, and which has been proven more effective than any previous system on the market, and which has brought many wrongdoers to justice. Mr. Bagnio, who lives with his wife at the Corner Street address, is a comparative newcomer to town. It was about a year ago that he came to Belleville from the electronic department of the Walter Kidde Company and moved here on Long Island City.

At that time, the Kidde organization began to manufacture his burglar alarm system, which can now be found in many industrial plants and stores.

The system works on the principle of sound waves which are constantly radiating in the burglarized area. They are pitched higher than human voices and, therefore, cannot be heard by human ears. The alarm is connected to an alarm station in the area of the local police station. As some kind of movement is made within the burglarized area, the sound waves are immediately transmitted to the alarm station. While the burglar is not immediately cracking the safe, unaware of the disturbance he has caused, the police are on their way, and will usually catch him in the act. In fact, it is known that burglars avoid places equipped with Mr. Bagnio's invention, because it usually turns out to be a blow to their pocket pride.

He also wrote to Jack Ramsberger, of the National Air Transport Coordinating Committee, filing a protest against the low flying planes. Laurerette said, "The town of Belleville has received hundreds of complaints from its various citizens during the past four months, all complaining of low flying planes, noise and in some cases, extreme vibration."

The expansion of facilities, increased enrollment, and a need to fill vacancies resulting mainly from retirement have contributed to faculty changes.

long felt need, Thomas said.

C. P. Center

With the opening of the United Cerebral Palsy Center, at 7 Sanford Avenue, the Belleville Board has appointed two teachers to instruct pupils enrolled at the well-equipped center. Expenses for this project are shared by county boards of education from whose towns children are enrolled in this special school.

Because of the ever-growing need and demand for driver education for teenage youngsters, an additional teacher of driver education has been employed. It is hoped that this new instruction in driver education will aid in reducing the mounting highway fatalities. Thomas said.

The first two days of school this year, kindergarten children will attend for only a one-hour session. This is a continuation of a practice begun in 1955. This practice of short sessions was instituted so that kindergarten children might make the transition from home to school with the least amount of emotional disturbance. Thomas said.

The cooperation of parents of kindergarten children is requested. Mothers are urged to call for their children who are attending the morning session at 10 a.m., and for those who are attending the afternoon session at 1:45 p.m. Any details regarding this innovation will be cleared up by contacting the building principals.

School Nine Kindergarten

This year School Nine kindergarten pupils will attend the morning session at School One. The Board will provide bus transportation for these children. The bus will leave the Ralph Street side of School Nine at 8:45 in the morning. Kindergarten children will be returned to the same point at the end of the morning session which is dismissed at 11:30 a.m.

The school session for special classes, slow-learning children, will remain in a continuous one from 9 o'clock on since the Board of Education has approved an early closing of the school day for these pupils. Special class children will be dismissed from the James G. Shawger School at 2:30 p.m. According to previous practice the Board provides bus transportation to children enrolled in these classes. To comply with the state law that requires school systems to provide for the education of all trainable children hitherto largely excluded, the Board has established a special class for trainable children. This new state approved school psychologist handles the screening of such children, and the testing services of the school system.

Children who are five years old, or will be five years old, on or before December 31, 1956, may be admitted to kindergarten in September. Children who are six years old, or will be six years old on or before December 31, 1956, may be admitted to the first grade in September. The Board stated there will be no deviation from this policy which has been in force for eighteen years.

All new entrants to the Belleville schools must present a vaccination certificate by October 22 in accord with a long-standing policy of the board of education.

catch unwelcome intruders, but also to detect fires in the area, as a flame has the same effect on the instrument as the movement of a human being. The invention has another feature which was not intended by the inventor, however, mice have occasionally been found dead in the burglarized area. The theory is that high sound waves which are not detectable by human ears, can be heard by the rodents, and as a result they run around in circles dashing into any obstacles which might be in their way. This eventually kills them.

The burglar alarm, however, is not the only one of Mr. Bagno's accomplishments, as of date, he has some thirty patented inventions in use and on the market. Some of these have come as a result of research in the medical instrumentation field, which Mr. Bagno plans to pursue further. One invention which future generations of housewives will appreciate most, is an ultrasonic dishwasher which uses no soap or detergents, only cold tap water. This one is still in the planning stage, and Mr. Bagno is confident that she still washes dishes the old fashioned way.

No Hobs

"I knew what I wanted to be when I was eight years old," Mr. Bagno told us. "Of course, I wanted to be a hobo, but found inventing more interesting, so I concentrated on that." He went on to tell us the story that when he was ten years old he had short circuited the streetcar line and was taken to the police house to my father's store. Two years later, when he had mastered more of the principles of science, he did install a radio telephone system, hardly as effective as that of Mr. Bell, but adequate for the family's needs.

A graduate of Brooklyn Polytech, Mr. Bagno's first invention to be patented happened when he was 23 years old, and was employed by the R.C.A. Company of New York, where he found a new way of perfecting sound recordings. In the 1954 issue of The World Almanac, Mr. Bagno's two best known inventions, the burglar alarm system, and the ultrasonic dishwasher are listed as two of twenty most important inventions of 1955.

Mr. Bagno considers his burglar alarm system a necessity for any type of business subject to the hazards of burglary and fires. In recent years, several insurance companies have agreed with him, as they have, reduced the rates of payments for insurance from those establishments protected by the ultrasonic eye. From the materialistic viewpoint, no higher tribute could be paid to the product of an inventor.

speeding violations up to and including five miles over the limit. Previously these cases were all referred to the municipal traffic court. However, violations of over 40 miles an hour require court appearance. The fine to be imposed by the violations bureau is now $1 per mile over the limit to include $5 costs for the first offense, $2 per mile for the second offense, and $3 per mile for the third offense.

Fines for various offenses such as improper turn, "U" turn, license not in possession, failure to obey officer's signal, improper passing, disregarding stop sign etc. have practically all been increased, and placed under the graduated system, whereby the fine increases further with each succeeding conviction. In addition seven additional violations of the same nature have now been placed under the jurisdiction of the violations bureau.

While the overtime parking fine remains the same, fines for parking on the wrong side of the street, parking at a bus stop, etc. have all been increased.

Under the new setup, three parking violations are allowed in one calendar year. On the fourth violation, the violator must appear in court or pay double the fine and costs at the violations bureau.

Veterans have an opportunity to fulfill their ready reserve obligations while participating in the many advantages and opportunities available to veterans through National Guard membership. The experience gained in active service will help gain higher rank.

Voters

Mrs. Morey stressed that in order to vote, everyone must either register or transfer their previous registration if they have moved from within Essex County. Everyone is eligible to vote who will be 21 on or before the election date of November 6, 1956, and who has been a resident of the state for one year previous to that time, and of the county for five months previous to the election.

The Town Clerk urged all voters who haven't cast a ballot in the past four years, to renew their registration, as it has automatically expired. Anyone in doubt as to whether they have voted within the last four years, would be better off playing it safe and registering over again, she cautioned.

Absentee ballots for students, servicemen, and others away from home may also be obtained from person or by letter. These are being accepted now and processed, she said, although the deadline for these is not until eight days before the election.

Residents having any other questions should call at the office for answers to their problems, she stated.

Although no definite figures are available, a large registration is expected because of the high interest in the presidential vote. In the 1952 presidential election, 17,090 local residents were registered. This is above the figure registered in this spring's primary when only 15,749 signed up.

Buick CENTURY 4-Passenger 4-Door Drive

SENSATION OF THE CENTURY

-at an easy-to-take price

It's Bonanza Time at Buick Dealers!

FIRST TIME you take the measure of a '56 Buick CENTURY, you'll know what the sports-car folks mean when they say the CENTURY is a great performer.

The getaway is right away—the road feel superb—the handling a joy. For this is Buick's most spirited and spectacular car.

It has the highest power-pound ratio in all Buick history.

It rides on a chassis compact to the last ounce and inch.

It takes to movement like a prima ballerina—nimble to the nth degree.

And when you press the pedal you get the response of Buick's mightiest V8 engine and the silk-smooth wizardry of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that lets you switch the pitch for emergency acceleration that's the most satisfying safety measure in the land today.

As we said, the name is CENTURY. And, as you'll discover, the price is a cinch. For the CENTURY is just a cut above Buick's lowest-price SPECIAL Series—and that's just a cut above the well-known smaller cars.

So you really ought to try a '56 CENTURY...

Especially now, while your present car is at its peak worth...

Especially now, at today's Buick prices (who knows when they'll ever be as low again!)...

And especially now, with Buick so solidly in the Top 3 of America's best sellers—and that kind of sales volume permitting us to make you an even finer trade-in allowance.

Drop in on us this week—today would be even better!—and see what a buy you can make right now on the best Buick yet.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Buick variable pitch built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Ice Capades Opens Next Week In N.Y.

The first event of the fall season in Madison Square Garden brings to New York the world premiere of Ice Capades of 1957, an all-new refrigerated spectacular for a 12-day run from September 12 through 23.

The rink extravaganza will present a two and one half hour performance including 10 brilliant productions and 20 starring acts. This year the list of blade stars includes new youthful faces along with the old favorites.

Headline the new blade stars is Ron Robertson, Olympic team member and world competitor, hailed as the greatest figure skater find in the past two decades, who will make his professional debut for the Garden run. Rosemary Henderson, the pert blonde Canadian youngster seen with the production in other years has been elevated to stardom and has been assigned several important spots. Prominent Olympic teammate of Robertson's, Cathie Machado also turns pro for the New York engagement. Jimmie Grogan, another international blade contestant and seen here in top flight risk productions joins the select circle of youngsters.

At the top of the list in the productions is the big musical "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates", in a Holland setting and equipped with a sparkling book and an original musical score. George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" is put on ice for the first time with well-known concert pianist, Ike Carapenter playing the complete piano score on the ice.

Tickets are now on sale at the Madison Square Garden box office and mail orders are being accepted for all performances. Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. on week nights with week-end shows at 2:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on Saturday and 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Sunday. Children are half-price at the Saturday matinee.

Gosh! School! Again!

I saw Mom looking at the calendar and I heard her say: "This is the happiest day since school closed!" — I wonder what she meant? — I like school! ... 'specially because of the nice things Mom gets for us at Food Fair when we come home.

Mom says she gets fresher fruits and vegetables at Food Fair, and that everything from the Dairy Dept. has that "Down-on-the-farm" flavor. Mom's fussy about those things! 'Cause she believes youngsters need fresh, wholesome food to be healthy and happy. Mom knows, too, that Food Fair's thrifty prices help to buy more good food to satisfy our 'narmous appetites at small cost. Why Don't You Shop at Food Fair? ... They give you Merchants Green Stamps — and you get the most wonderful free gifts with them.

Isn't It Wonderful?

Mommy just filled another book at Food Fair with Merchants Green Stamps. Seems just a short time ago the book was empty. Food Fair sure filled it fast. Mom says Food Fair's values are "whoppers". — can't resist them.

Bet You Can't Guess!

What we're going to get, Mom saw so many wonderful gifts at the Merchants Green Stamp Redemption Centers — things she'd been wanting but couldn't afford to buy just yet. Now she's going to get them FREE — 'specially that new 'lectric Percolator.

My Favorite
Book-Yesiree!

Know why? Food Fair's Green Stamps are worth a great deal in valuable merchandise. Come this Christmas we're going to be sitting pretty — How About You? Why don't you shop at Food Fair? Betcha you'll never shop anywhere else — once you've tried it.
