

Lay Advisory Group Chooses Demark As Chairman On Monday

Wider Knowledge Of Town's School Problems Will Enable Members To Investigate Projects, Make Recommendations To Board Of Education

John Demark, of 75 Little Street, was elected chairman of the newly-formed Lay Advisory Committee to the Board of Education at the group's first meeting on Monday evening.

Representing many of the PTA and civic groups in town, some 28 members of the 34 invited persons attended the meeting which was addressed by board president William A. Boyd and superintendent of schools Evan H. Thomas.

Discussing the meeting over to temporary chairman Harry Fellman, Boyd instructed the group to elect officers and choose needed committees.

Demark was chosen in a unanimous vote. Chosen vice-chairman was Jesse Starkman, of 4 South Wilber Street. Secretary is Mrs. Karl Hiltnerhaus, of 219 Holmes Street.

Explains Function

Demark, who has served on previous lay committees, explained the functions of the group. He stated that upon request of the board, the group would handle projects and investigate conditions pertaining to school problems. They would name committees which could be proved, and about which members of the board might be unaware.

Such problems as building, curriculum figures and why they fluctuate; subject matter taught in schools, particularly the high school, and similar projects would be studied and investigated by the group and by committees within the group.

Demark appointed five members of the group to meet with the board next Monday in order to receive instructions for their first project. Chosen were Ralston F. Joseph, Victor Gali, Horace G. Gendoush, Richard A. Shaffer and Henry G. Allen. Demark will also attend.

A graduate of Newark College of Engineering, Demark has tool and manufacturing company on Little Street. He has served on the executive committee of the PTA and on the high school PTA. He served for four years on previous lay advisory committees as vice-chairman and fulfilled an unpaid chairmanship term for four years in Belleville.

FEDERAL LEATHER CHANGES NAME

Now Known As Federal Industries, Of Tectron Inc.

The Federal Leather Company which was purchased by Tectron, Inc. last month, has announced that it will immediately change the name to Federal Industries, a division of Tectron, Inc.

Louis M. Planson, division president, said this new name is in line with the current business and expansion program that led to the August 31 sale to Tectron, Inc. The sale was announced on August 27 by Tectron chairman Royal Little.

As founder in 1919 of the original Federal Leather Company, a processor of natural leather, Planson stated the change in name was deemed advisable primarily because of the contemplated expansion program. Under this program, business operations will be carried beyond the field of vinyl coated fabrics. New products and advanced technological processes will widen the scope of manufacturing to such an extent that the name more accurately reflects the current and future products and activities of the company.

Planson said the change in name was part of a diversification program aimed at increasing markets beyond the present automotive, luggage, holsters, handbags, shoes and wall-covering fields.

Tectron acquired the Belleville plant last month for a reported $200,000, said Tectron company stock.

Padulas Return From 11-Week Europe Tour

Mayor And Wife And Daughter Edith Spend Summer Touring Seven European Countries; German Gains Most Impressive, Says Mayor

Mayor and Mrs. Isadore J. Padula, with their 14-year-old daughter Edith, of 193 Fairway Avenue, returned home Friday after an 11-week European tour. The Padulas sailed from New York on June 21 aboard the Italian Luxury liner Cristoforo Colombo and returned last week aboard the liner Conte Grande.

During their stay abroad, they visited First Lieutenant Isadore J. Padula Jr., who is stationed in Fulda, Germany, with the Army Air Force, and toured through seven different European countries.

Upon arriving in Genoa after a nine day crossing, the Padulas were met by their son who had accumulated 25 days of leave. They spent the time with him touring by car through Italy, France, Austria and Germany. After his leave was over, the family continued their tour of Holland, Belgium, and Switzerland.

Originally the Mayor and his family were scheduled to return to this country on August 14 on the ill fated Italian liner Andrea Doria. The Mayor said he heard the news immediately after the collision of the Doria and the Swedish liner Stockholm as they were at the American base at Fulda at the time. "We were shocked," he said, "and couldn't believe the news at first." It was a beautiful ship, he added, and a terrific loss.

Edith, the only of the luxury liner during the peak of the tourist season threw a bit of a tantrum into the thousands of Americans who were stranded, temporarily at least, in European countries.

Edith, Padula, a devoted girl, also arranged for plane reservations shortly afterwards.

"However, Mrs. Padula devoted her time to the fact that she forbade her from flying. Fortunately, again, the Mayor was able to arrange for alternate reservations aboard the Conte Grande.

The Mayor was not able to get into Germany because he could not secure the necessary passes, but he said he was able to go up to the border and see the armed guards constantly. Of the countries he saw, Germany impressed him most because of its rapid progress and recovery. The Mayor said the Germans have the most efficient use of the resources to practically put them in the lead among European nations.

Next week, the Times-News will carry a first hand account of the sights visited by the Padulas during their trip through Europe.

MERGER OF TWO SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS OK'D

North Belleville, DeWitt Savings Merger Approved By Full Membership Vote

The proposed merger of the DeWitt Savings and Loan Association and the North Belleville Savings and Loan Association was approved by the full membership of both groups at meetings held last week. The merger will now become effective October 1 by terms of the agreement decided upon.

Joseph King, president of the DeWitt Savings, and H. Willard Sawyer, head of the North Belleville Savings, had jointly announced plans for the merger last month after the board had approved by the Board of Directors of both institutions.

Membership in the DeWitt numbers 7,000 and membership in the North Belleville Institution numbers 1,000. In order to ratify the merger agreement, a two-thirds vote is required. In both meetings, a unanimous vote was recorded in favor of the merger, however. Members of each association include both savings and borrowing members.

According to both King and Sawyer, under terms of the merger agreement, the North Belleville Savings will be merged into DeWitt, which means that all assets of the Belleville Savings would become members of DeWitt.

STUDENTS ASSIST IN PASSING OUT SCHOOL BROCHURES

Adult School Registration Begins Monday; Several New Courses Offered

Belleville school children are assisting with the tremendous task of distributing 8,000 Belleville Adult School brochures throughout the town this week. All adult students of the spring semester should have received their copy of the pamphlet through the mail this week, director Herman Knuppel said.

The Belleville High School cafeteria will be used for registration of adults on Monday, September 17; Tuesday, September 18; Friday, September 21 from 7:30 through 9:30 p.m.

Knuppel suggested that persons interested in enrolling for courses, do so by filling in the application blank in the brochure and newspapers, enclosing a check with it and sending it to the Belleville Adult School through the mail. Most classes will be limited in size, therefore early registration is recommended.

Persons who are also permitted to register at the Public Library or Belleville High School during their regular hours. If any resident of Belleville does not receive a brochure, he can notify the Belleville Adult School, Board of Education, and will receive a copy immediately.

Driver Education

In addition to the regular registration on Monday, September 17, there will be a special registration for all people who have signed up for Driver Education to make their selection for regular road training classes in the dual control car. The Face Is Familiar:

Mrs. Keller Holds The Fort At Community Chest Office

By Rita Knoll

The familiar face which greets the visitor to the offices of the Community Chest in the Prudential building on the corner of Washington Avenue and Jorammon Street, belongs to Mrs. John W. Keller, secretary of the organization, and general "girl Friday" in the office.

Keeping records, typing, answering the constantly jangling phone, and occasionally going out to solicit contributions are all facets of the job which keeps Mrs. Keller busy on more than a full-time basis.

Since Mrs. Elizabeth Kennedy is a "time employee" of the organization, she takes responsibility for all clerical and much of the organizational problems of the Community Chest.

"Sometimes the work load just becomes too heavy and then we have to get outside help, but the rest of the time, I take care of it myself," she explained to us that taking care of the office involved keeping books, making out checks, and some four to five hundred annual volunteer workers, and making contributions to the industrial plants and business organizations.

Seven Agencies

"Seven agencies benefit from the Red Feather services," she continued, "on a strictly local level, they are the Family Service, the Boy and Girl Scout groups." The four other agencies are Sister Elizabeth Kennedy

LAUTERETTE NAMES TWO TO COMMITTEE

Leonard Ronco And James Leonard Are Appointed

Norman D. Lauterette, who was appointed by Belleville's Board of Commissioners to represent the town on the matter of low-flying aircraft, announced today that he has appointed Leonard D. Ronco, local attorney, as a member and counsel to his committee. He also appointed James Leonard, director of the Belleville Adult School, as a member of the committee.

Lauterette advised that he will make further appointments during the week to bring the membership of the committee to approximately six or seven so that all geographic parts of the town will be represented.

Lauterette has contacted Mayor Leo Carlin of Newark, requesting that he be allowed to attend all future conferences held by the City of Newark on this question and is also contacting the towns of Nutley and Bloomfield in an attempt to have them appoint a committee so that co-ordinating pressure can be brought upon the Federal Government to correct the low-flying situation.

From preliminary investigations, it will be seen that the bulk of Belleville's trouble on low-flying aircraft is coming from planes flying out of and to Teterboro Airport and not Newark Airport, which was the first impression.

Town Clerk Given Vote Of Confidence By Commission

Mrs. Florence Morey Upheld After Charges Of Negligence; Poolroom Curfew Voted Down

Mayor Isadore J. Padula Tuesday night presided over his first Town Commission meeting since he left for Europe in June and returned just in time to take charge of one of the most heated sessions since his departure. Although no debate was heard on any action, Commissioners took, Belleville's one man crusade against the "corrupt government" kept the fires burning with further charges.

Chief target of James Golden's attack this week was Mrs. Florence R. Morey, Town Clerk for the past 23 years. Golden charged Morey with neglect of her duties in taking minutes of the Commission proceedings because the remarks were not fully carried in the minutes of the last meetings.

Golden specifically referred to remarks made by Commissioner Kenneth D. Smith at the last meeting and carried by this newspaper which Golden charged "slandered and vilified me." The remarks were made in the midst of a heated argument over a cap pistol which Golden brought before commissioners to show them how it had been rigged to fire blank cartridges.

Golden had demanded that Mrs. Morey include the remarks in a letter in which she expressed her opinion that she had always gone beyond this rule in efforts to "protect the town" and that she would not be concerned with the words and words said in jest in the minutes of the last meeting.

When Golden had protested the omission of these remarks from the minutes of last meeting in Mrs. Morey's office, she wrote him a letter in which she expressed her opinion that she had always gone beyond this rule in efforts to "protect the town" and that she would not be concerned with the words and words said in jest in the minutes of the last meeting.

Mayor Padula, Mrs. Morey's superior, commented that he didn't see how she gets as much town as she does. Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan offered a resolution expressing the Commission's "complete confidence" in the Town Clerk, which was passed unanimously.

Other protests, Commissioners heard a group of eight veterans who own homes on Marion Court, who have been evicted from their homes by the town. They complained to Commissioners that their homes were being evicted from $500 to $1,000 in the last year. They also objected to the fact that although their homes were in a class "A" residential zone, the dwelling faced a supermarket parking lot. Spokesman for the veterans, Donald Weir, of 35 Marion Court, said:

Mayor Padula explained the problem of the veterans' homes.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS SHOW DECREASE IN ENROLLMENT

Town's School System Has 138 Less Pupils This Year

Belleville public schools opened their doors Monday morning with substantially the same enrollment as last year. Attendance figures taken on the second day of school showed a slight decrease over figures taken at the start of the last school year.

According to official figures released by Superintendent of Schools Evan H. Thomas, a total of 138 less students are in attendance in all of the town's schools than at a corresponding time last year. The figure represents a two per cent drop in overall enrollment.

Thomas said that second day attendance was recorded at 5,163 students this year, whereas a year ago at the same time attendance reached the 5,301 mark. Thomas declared however that no decrease is anticipated in total enrollment by the end of the school year. He based his assumption on the fact that enrollment figures have always picked up each succeeding month school was in session, until a peak was hit near the close of the term.

High School Increases

Thomas did point out that a significant increase was recorded in the high school where a total of 1,361 students are enrolled. This figure is 75 more than last year when 1,286 were in attendance.

One of the schools hardest hit in decreased enrollment is School No. 4, which shows a drop of 105 students in its enrollment. This year's figure is 534 in comparison to 639 last year. It is likely that the enlargement of facilities by St. Anthony's parochial school in this district was a major factor.

COMMUNITY CHEST GOAL THIS YEAR SET AT $34,722

October 1 Kick-Off Planned For Campaign Which Will Run Through November 9

The goal for the 1957 Community Chest Drive in Belleville was set at $34,722 Monday night by the Board of Directors. The figure represents the allocations of the seven participating agencies and an administrative expense appropriation for the Chest campaign.

In approving this year's Chest drive, the Board set the date for this year's drive from October 1 to November 9. Although the official kick-off for the campaign will occur for the first time this year, the Chest campaign has been underway since early summer.

In approving this year's Chest budget, directors revealed that the overall goal is about 10 per cent more than the total amount of money collected in the 1956 campaign. However, it was pointed out that the Chest drive completed drive fell more than $3,000 short of its quota, when only $31,000 was raised.

Cut Requests

Directors also stressed that although $34,722 is being sought this year, the Community Chest budget committee has sharply reduced the financial requests of the participating agencies in order to arrive at that figure. Actually, requests for $40,000 have been received at Chest headquarters and some of the directors thought that this complete budget would have been presented to the community instead of the pared down figure.

The breakdown of allocations for the new campaign follows: Girl Scouts, $1,800; Boy Scouts, $1,800; ...

PASSAIC RIVER CLEANUP BEGINS

Commission Now Compiling Data And Photographs

Herman Blank, chairman of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, said today that photographs and other data now are being prepared in advance of the meeting he is planning with the mayors of 19 municipalities that front on the Passaic River.

Blank announced recently that the commissioners have embarked upon a cleanup of the river banks of the river and that they are seeking the cooperation of the municipalities.

He said a major part of the work might be accomplished without a need for their own contribution from the municipalities.

"The major trouble spots are the areas where there are old tires and other debris that has been thrown into the river."

Blank said that some of these spots could be lawns or areas planted with trees and shrubs. In some places vacant land might be utilized for parking lots, which, properly planted and maintained would not be objectionable. Other areas might be zoned for homes or industrial sites.

"We believe that many of the mayors and other municipal officials are unfamiliar with conditions in their own communities because they rarely have the opportunity to see the river banks from the river. That is the reason we want them to look just beyond their own backyards."

"Then, with a little imagination,"

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By Bob Gorlin

Little League Football Registration

Last Fall, the Belleville Recreation Department, aided and abetted by some solid citizens and service clubs, put Little League Football across with a bang. This Fall the Department intends to expand to two, four-team leagues. One league will include 10 and 11-year olds and one will be made up of 12 and 13-year olds. However, a weight coefficient will be used so that the heavier 11-year olds and the lighter 12-year olds might be playing out of their age group.

The third and final registration date is set for tomorrow morning at Belleville Municipal Stadium. After registration the boys will be assigned to coaches and will work out for three weeks. On October 1 each club will be cut to 22 uniformed players and regular season play will be up on October 6.

Up to date five service clubs, the Kiwanis, Lions, Elks, Varsity and Rotary Clubs will sponsor teams. The City Cleaners also will sponsor a team again this year. There are openings for two more sponsors.

An added feature to the games this year will be between halves exhibition of the Recreation Department uniformed girls twirling corps. The corps is comprised of girls in the same age brackets. They have been practicing all summer long and should add much to the spectacle.

An appeal is made for more men to come out and assist in the coaching duties of this wonderful program. Frank Donnelly, Dawson Bloom, Ed Hollweg, Vince Sorrentino, Jack Byrne, William "Lefty" Kintzing, Larry Latore, Ted Del Grosso and Ed O'Neill are already hard at work teaching some of the fundamentals of the game. Bob Cok and "Bud" Brand, of the Department, extend an invitation to any interested men to come out tomorrow morning and get acquainted.

Bill Murphy Thanks Many Who Aided

Bill Murphy, manager of the Belleville entry in the Essex County League, this week, tossed out a load of bouquets as the Riders completed their first year in the fast semi-pro league. Murphy told me that he would like to thank everyone who has helped to promote baseball in Belleville and wanted to use this column to show his appreciation in some small way. Murphy wrote:

"There have been many people who have helped our cause but some deserve particular recognition. I can't thank Joe De Bacro, proprietor of DeBacco's Sport Shop, enough for sponsoring the Riders. He backed the team financially and proved that he is a real sportsman.

"Thanks should go to the players who gave up their many weekends to play baseball and help promote the name of Belleville throughout the county. During our first year we had some rough times and finished in sixth place but the boys fought hard and never gave up. They were always full of spirit and turned in many fine performances but managed to lose out games by very tight scores.

"Then, too, don't forget Bob Cook and the entire Department of Recreation. Without their cooperation we would have never received the use of Municipal Stadium. The Belleville squad is a young group of players. We plan on staying right here in Belleville and giving the town a brand of baseball they will all be proud of and will want to turn out and watch on Saturdays and Sundays during the warm summer months.

"Deserving a word of thanks also are the many merchants in town who helped uniform the Riders and also the numerous new fans who turned out to watch us play. Besides the players we also had several men who gave up much of their time to promote semi-pro baseball in Belleville. Ralph Casale, a former-president of the Varsity Club, did a fine job as assistant coach and then there was "Smoky" Innamorato, who turned out to be a jack-of-all trades. "Smoky," a real sports enthusiast, was general business manager, trainer and publicity man all rolled into one.

"Before closing this note it wouldn't be complete without sincere thanks to you, Bob, for helping to bring semi-pro baseball before the Belleville sportsman through your column and on the sports pages of the Times-News," concluded Murphy.

Young Hunters Must Pass Course

For the first time in New Jersey, all young hunters between 14 and 21 years of age who have never had a hunting license before, must take a four-hour course and pass an examination before any permit will be issued for the hearing season which opens in early November. The youths will have to take the "Hunter's Safety Course," sponsored by the National Rifle Association.

The four - hour course, divided into two, two - hour sessions, will be administered by the Juvenile Aid Bureau of the Essex County Sheriff's Department. The course will be held at the Essex County Court House starting on September 20 at 7 o'clock. One of the men in charge of the program is Detective Jack Bennett, of Nutley. He said that if any Nutley or Belleville youngsters are thinking about getting a license they should contact the Sheriff's Department at Mitchell 2-7800, or extend 378 and ask for either Bennett, Detectives Charles Dugli or William Wussler.

Bennett told me that all Nutley and Belleville youths will have to sign up for the course and they will be given a definite time to attend. "We want to keep the classes as small as possible so that individual instruction can be given. Part of the time will also be devoted to the showing of films. The idea of the new state law is to properly prepare the youth on the handling of firearms. If we can save one life by giving this program the project will be a tremendous success," said Bennett.

Bennett pointed out that Nutley and Belleville youngsters who have a hunting license from last year are excluded from taking the test. Boys who only want a bow and arrow license are also excluded under the new state law.

In civilian life, Lt. Bernardi is a cost accountant with George La Monte & Son, Nutley.

FOOTBALLERS SET FOR OPENER NEXT WEEK

Coach Eddie Berlinski Faces Job Of Finding New Backfield; Team Has Six Lettermen Back

by Dave Thaler

"If the line can carry the backfield for the first two games, we'll be all right." This is the sentiment of coach Ed Berlinski as Belleville prepares for the curtain-raiser of the 1956 football season against East Orange, September 22. The reason for this statement is obvious. Belleville has six returning lettermen, five of them are in the line. Three of the four backfield positions are manned by unexperienced players, and while they have looked good in scrimmages, Berlinski can't rely on them. The line will have to carry them, until they prove themselves.

This year the line is centered by Bill Bartell, a junior who earned his letter as a tackle. Bartell's play has improved at the new position, and the center slot should be one of the Blue and Gold's strong points. Bartell is flanked by Pat McCabe, a junior, and Bill Kintzing, a senior—both lettermen. The backies will be co-captain Wayne Whitley and Larry Corbo, and the ends will be Ray Kimble, a senior, and Eugene Pinadella, a junior, who, until recently, was a full-back.

On defense, the situation changes. Bertelmev to tackle, McCabe to left end, Pinadella to linebacker, as did Whitley, Corbo must move over to guard. Defense will play a vital part in the Belleville game, and if the early scrimmages are any indication they will more than hold their own. The second defensive line has particularly improved, and mass substitution might be in order. This would give some of the boys that do duty due a chance to rest. Nick Landolfi, Doug Augenbaugh, and Bob Medcalf are promising as they represent a strong bench.

The backfield is the question mark. Bob Paganelli and Jim Apple, the big ground gainers of 1955, are gone. Paganelli played fullback and Apple was half. Al Corbo, missing in the game, is the quarterback. Only co-captain Frank Malfatta returns from one of the top backfields in Essex County. Malfatta will play right half, Bruce MacCumber will quarterback the team, Gene Barra, a junior, will try to fill Paganelli's shoes, and Pete Duca will play either half. Barra is a pretty well set. But whether this backfield can jell or not remains to be seen.

Up to Barra Barra is the big man. Malfatta has proven himself, but he is being asked to do a completely different from his predecessor. He is smaller, faster, shifter, and has less drive. Paganelli was big, and could power his way through the line. Barra has sufficient power and drive, but his biggest asset is his speed and ability to change direction. MacCumber has been groomed for the quarterback job since he was a freshman. He has little experience, but has great poise and is an excellent faker. He will not pass too often, nor will he carry the ball, but he consistently crosses up the enemy with his smooth hand-offs. A word with Malfatta. If he can pull the team together, getting the backfield to jell at an early date the team will go places.

Duca is the smallest man on the squad. He relies a lot on judgement and the speed with which he can change his direction. His overall speed is not exceptional but is very deceptive. On the whole, not much can be said until after the first game. But if Belleville gets by East Orange and Bloomfield, their first two opponents, they will be sitting pretty.

REMEMBER - your vote won't register in the November 6 election if you are not a registered voter. So, "get your name in the book" of registered voters!

Kiwanis Club Sponsors First Golf Tournament

The local Kiwanis Club will hold their first annual golf tournament at the Glen Ridge Country Club on Friday, September 28. Tom McLaughlin is chairman of the event and stated that suitable prizes will be awarded to the winners. "The tournament play is open to all members.

KIDDE TAKES FIRST IN REC SOFTBALL

Industrial Softball Loop Now Engaged In Playoffs

Walter Kidde downed Federal Leather, 4-0, Tuesday evening at the Stadium in a play-off game for the first place trophy in the Belleville Recreation Department Industrial Softball League. Both clubs finished regular season play with identical 12-8 records.

Walter Kidde scored their first run in the third when Van reached third after two were out on an error. Joe Maffucci then drilled a double to score Van. Zanna marra filed out to end the inning.

Kidde added three insurance runs in the fifth inning. Tony Intila and Roogie Zammara both singled and Joe Maffucci followed with a tremendous home run.

Andy "Junior" Maffucci pitched air-tight ball for Kidde scattering three singles and a walk. The Federal's Sal Lazzaro turned in a credible four hitter but Maffucci's clout ruined his evening. At this writing the League is in the process of a "Shaugnessy Play-off." This play-off is arranged so the four top clubs in regular season play get a chance at the championship. Walter Kidde meets the fourth place club, Squier, Schilling & Skiff, and Federal Leather plays the third place Wilbur B. Driver Club. The winners of these two games will meet Tuesday evening at the Stadium at 7:00 p.m. and the winner will receive the Elmer S. Hyde Trophy, symbolic of the league championship.

Petreaan... News

There are bigger things in store at the Petreaan Club now that the summer season is over and everyone is returning to normal living. First of all, we would like to mention that everyone who missed the weekend at the shore not only spent a very uncomfortable time in the city but also missed out on a wonderful time and the pleasant company of so many friends. A great time was had by all!

It was good to see Bob Christie, Mike Gerry and Charlie Spidel in our midst again. The boys are seeing Uncle Sam and now are on their way to Germany to complete their Army training.

Congratulations to Petreaan Jackie Waits on her recent engagement to Paul Ott. Congratulations also to Cathy Cammet on her recent marriage. Our very best wishes to all.

On September 18, there will be entertainment planned by Anne Stellatella. Since Anne is the Petreaan Club's "Miss Music," it's no wonder that the entertainment planned will be "Name That Tune," with prizes in store for the winners.

On Sunday, September 23, after 8 a.m. Mass, we will hold our annual Communion Breakfast in the school cafeteria. All club members and their friends are urged to be present. Joyce Grady is in charge.

On September 25, there will be a debate on a very prominent personality. Be a juror at "The Trial of Elvis Presley." Who are our famous orators? Attend the meeting and be surprised.

Keep in mind the Petreaan weekend at Mount Airy in the Pocomo on September 28-29-30. Arrangements are being made by Marilyn Deck.

Remember, membership in the Petreaan Club is open to anyone over 18 and is not limited to members of St. Peter's but includes neighboring parishes as well.

This column is a report of our activities through Tuesday night. Last week the Cubs succumbed to the Giants and settled, finally, in second place. Monday night, the Dodgers took undisputed possession of third place by whipping the Yankees 5 to 3. On Saturday, Eddie Oriole, a clubber, led the league-leading Bombers to earn a second place tie with the American League. This tie with the Clippers was played Tuesday night in a hard fought contest; the results of which were in doubt until the last out in the final inning. The Aces were victorious by a score of 3 to 1 to win second place in the American League.

By the time this article goes to press the first game of the local world series between the Giants and the Bombers will be in the books as will the post season game between the fourth place Bombers in the National League and the fourth place Yankees in the American League. Tonight the third place Clippers will meet the second place Dodgers in Clearman Field. On Saturday, at 11 a.m., second place Aces play a post season game against the second place Cubs. These post season games were scheduled for the purpose of keeping all the boys playing baseball through this final week of the season.

The second game of the local world series between the Giants and the Bombers will start at 1 p.m. on Saturday. If a third game is necessary it will be played as a second part of a double header. The best wishes of this column is extended to both clubs with the hope that Dame Fortune smiles equally on both. Whoever should win, the entire league should be very proud of its post season, for not only have we had both All Star teams as district finalists but every game was conducted with a minimum of confusion. I doubt that there is one boy who has worn a Little League uniform this year who has not an active participant in his team's games. This is Little League as it should be practiced.

Next week the results of the election of officers for next year's league managers and their assistants, and the final standings of all teams in the world series, and post game activities will be in this column.

LADIES AUXILIARY DELAYED

Plans for the organizing of the Belleville Little League Ladies Auxiliary have been delayed. The delay was deemed necessary until such time as activities for construction of our new field are actually started. It was decided, in order to keep an active interest in the Ladies Auxiliary, specific plans of accomplishment should exist. In addition the response from the ladies of Belleville has not been up to expectations.

Our Little League field will be ready for opening day next year and our present plan for organizing the auxiliary is to contact every mother whose boy will be playing Little League baseball next year. This contact will be made sometime during the month of March or April.

If there is any objection to this decision please make your objection in writing to this column.

Through the Oven Door by your Hecklers REPORTER

Have you ever been right in the middle of making a cake when the telephone or doorbell rings? One good way to make sure that such an interruption doesn't ruin the cake is to lay all the ingredients to the left of your bowl before mixing. Then, as you add ingredients, place your containers to the right. In case you're called away during the process, you know exactly what's been added when you return.

Isn't it a thrill to have the things you bake come out of the oven perfect in color and pretty as a picture? And when they are baked with Hecklers' flour, you know they'll taste as good as they look.

Hecklers' does things for your baking that other flours can't. And for a very good reason. Hecklers' gives you baked goods of fuller flavor, finer texture, and better appearance because Hecklers' is unleached — the NATURALLY WHITE flour.

Grated orange rind, when added to the dough, gives an exciting different taste to homemade doughnuts.

Ever notice how proud youngsters are of their parents' handiwork? How often have you heard, "See my mom bake a cake? Daddy made it!" Or—"Look, Daddy, Mummy baked a pie!"

Silver Ball Cake

Ingredients

- 2 cups Hecklers' unleached flour
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 cup milk
- 4 egg whites—stiffly beaten
- 1 teaspoon almond flavor

Directions: Cream shortening, add sugar, and continue creaming. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk and almond flavor. Fold egg whites into batter. Pour into 8" square greased and lightly floured pan. Bake in 350° oven about 30 minutes. Frost with White Butter Frosting and sprinkle silver ball decorations over top of cake.

White Butter Frosting

- 2 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 cup soft butter

Shr. in heat until smooth:

- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon almond flavor

One Man's Opinion

Our State Department is Convinced Nasser Will Settle Suez Canal Dispute Far Short Of War

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

The next few days will tell whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser is a "Mussolini" or an "Ataturk", whether he is the kind of dictator who grabs what he wants until he is hung by his heels like Mussolini or the patriotic type of dictator as Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Ataturk, was in modernizing Turkey, closing the harems, banishing the fez and giving his country a status among the great powers of the world.

Our own government in Washington hopes that the youthful colonel will prove to be another "Ataturk", but is prepared to move swiftly if he turns out to be a new "Mussolini". Our State Department, however, optimistically expects a compromise in the negotiations over the Suez Canal even though, in the first approach, Nasser said frankly that he would not accept any kind of supervision or control that could be represented as a violation of Egyptian sovereignty. Washington would like to see the affair go to the United Nations.

Although the conversations between Nasser and the five-nation mission headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies got off to a businesslike start, the atmosphere surrounding Cairo grew cloudy and the whole affair collapsed this week.

The build-up of French and British forces on Cyprus and the renewal of border clashes between Israeli troops and Egyptian soldiers in the Gaza strip and in the El Ajaia demilitarized zone cannot but have bothered Nasser.

Egypt, even with the anticipated aid of the other Arab nations, is not in a position to fight a land war against Israel and, at the same time, hold off a combined French and British force. It is Washington's belief that Nasser will settle far short of war.

What Chance Of War?

In this "One Man's Opinion" there is very little chance of war over Suez.

France, of course, would rather fight Nasser over Suez than in French North Africa over the Pan Arab Nationalists' attempt to grab Algeria and Morocco. If there was a fight over the canal, British would be at France's side; in North Africa she is fighting alone.

British labor is applying intense pressure to its government to prevent a war of such a nature to defend the interests of Suez Canal Company stockholders, including the Royal Family which owns many shares, would be very unpopular among Britain's workers. Prime Minister Eden knows that.

United States For Peace

Just as Britain once played a mediating role in the Pacific when we were seriously thinking of smacking the Chinese "Reds" down, so today Secretary of State Dulles is playing a mediating role in the Middle East between Britain and Egypt. He has told both London and Paris that they need not look to America for help if they do go to war.

Washington's intervention, highlighted by President Eisenhower's personal clarification of our role, has done much to dampen the war spirit in Paris and London, even though the build-up of reserves in Cyprus continues.

Now that Nasser has turned down the West's proposal for indefinite international control, connected at the London conference and carried by hand to Cairo by the Menzies delegation, there is little he can do except go to war—or propose some other form of international control, through the United Nations or otherwise.

Washington is optimistically convinced that that is what he will do, although Washington was optimistic enough, too, to believe that he would go along with the London proposal.

The Egyptian Colonel-President, in the meantime, is talking loud and mean for the benefit of his Arab listeners at home and throughout the Middle East. He said publicly that the London proposal smacked to him of "effective colonialism". Even Nasser knows that is silly talk, even for a rabble rouser. The control is to apply only to the canal, not to the company nor to the rest of Egypt.

It is no secret that several of the neighboring Arab governments are urging Colonel Nasser to follow a path of moderation because of the disastrous effect on their economies if hostilities in the Middle East interrupted the sale of their oil to the West.

Iran already experienced that disaster several years ago when Mossadegh tried to nationalize Iran's oil.

It is in this context that observers in Cairo see the flow of messages from King Saud of Arabia to President Nasser, and the unusual contacts between King Saud and the ruling house of Iraq, King Saud's traditional rivals in the Arab world.

That would end in 1968, the year when the Suez Canal concession for private operation of the canal, granted originally by a bankrupt Khedive to a French stock company headed by De Lesseps, terminates.

Short-Term Settlement
Britain and France, though bent on getting rid of President Nasser, probably would be able to contain their disappointment if his control over the canal was limited by international authorities for twelve years.

Such an international control for a 12-year interim would have to be a subject of negotiation. A wide margin for negotiation was left by the so-called Dulles plan adopted by the eighteen nations.

The plan provides for a Suez Canal board to operate the canal. On that board Egypt would be represented as would other nations. The plan does not say what other nations or how many. It says they shall be chosen "in a manner to be agreed upon with due regard to use, pattern of trade and geographical distribution."

The plan provides that the status of the board would be defined in the convention to be made with Egypt.

Thus neither the composition nor the status of the board is fixed in the plan. Both are wide open to negotiation if Nasser consents to get off his high horse and talk.

Nothing in it would prevent giving Egypt a majority of the board's members if the West wanted to be that conciliatory.

There have been suggestions that the solution might be to create an Egyptian corporation with international advisers. Much the same end could be attained simply by granting Egypt a majority on the proposed Suez Canal board.

At the same time such a show of reasonableness on President Nasser's part would impress Western opinion. It also would deprive Britain and France of the opportunity to remove him from power on the ground that he was a menace to the canal or the charge that he was a megalomaniac dictator.

For the West, most of the nations that attended the London conference would be pleased to get a solution for twelve years. By 1968, the Suez Canal might have lost much of the importance it has today through the development of other routes for Middle Eastern oil.

Must Buy Canal Equipment

According to the terms of the concession, at its expiration the Egyptian Government will obtain possession of the maritime canal constructed by the Suez Canal company, but Egypt must buy at a price to be fixed by experts all the materials and equipment used by the company in operating the canal. Such are the provisions of Article 16 of the concession, which was granted in 1866.

Thus it would appear that Egypt would acquire in 1968 complete sovereignty over the canal, as well as the rights of the operating company, with no restrictions except the Constantinople Convention of 1888, which provides free passage for all ships.

It would seem, therefore, that President Nasser would be justified in declining to curtail in advance the sovereign rights that Egypt is due to acquire in 1968, though he might concede some measure of international control.

Such a compromise has been suggested as a possible solution that would have legal justification and political advantages for both sides.

Could Gain Prestige

As for Colonel Nasser, he would have to admit his error in taking over the company in a moment of pique against the West. However, he would be able to tell Egyptians he was making only a temporary concession that did not affect Egypt's sovereignty.

For the West, most of the nations that attended the London conference would be pleased to get a solution for twelve years. By 1968, the Suez Canal might have lost much of the importance it has today through the develop-
