Ruel E. Daniels Dies Saturday At Home From Heart Ailment

Business Manager and Secretary To Board Of Education For Past 23 Years Succumbs To Ailment After Twice Being Hospitalized

Funeral services were held Tuesday evening for Ruel E. Daniels, Secretary and Business Manager of the Belleville Board of Education. Mr. Daniels, 58, died at his home Saturday of a heart ailment. He had been suffering from a heart condition since this past June and had been hospitalized twice, once this past summer, and again last month. He had just returned home from the hospital the day before his death.

Mr. Daniels, of 59 Prospect Street, had been Secretary and Business Manager of the Board for the past 23 years. He was in the education field since his graduation from Hamilton College in 1922, and has served as a teacher, high school vice principal, and member of the Board of Education before assuming his most recent position in 1933.

Tuesday night's funeral services were held from the Howard

Memorial Home, 809 Iron Avenue, Irvington, with Rev. Clifford A. Hewitt, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, officiating. Masonic services by Belleville

Chapter 1027, O. E. S. will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the funeral home.

Burial will be at the Belleville Cemetery.

Mr. Daniels was born in Carbondale, Pennsylvania, and also lived in New York City before coming to Belleville in 1929. He entered the teaching profession in Garfield

High School, where he taught for two years before moving to Passaic, where he was high school vice principal from 1934 to 1935.

In 1935, he graduated from

New Jersey Law School and was admitted to the state bar a year later. He maintained a part-time practice with a Passaic law firm during his stay as vice principal there.

In 1932, Mr. Daniels was appointed a member of the Belleville School Board. He served in that capacity for 18 months before being named Secretary and Business Manager.

Mr. Daniels was a past president of the State Association of School Business Officials and in 1949 was a member of a committee named by the State Federation of District Boards of Education to prepare a book on procedure for boards of education.

The Face Is Familiar:

"Children Have Problems

Too," Says Principal Spray

By Rita Knoll

The firm conviction that a teacher's day does not end when the dismissal bell rings, Miss Viola Spray, principal of one of the most understanding and beloved teachers in Belleville's school system. Proof of this was last week's testimonial dinner, held at The Fountain, when over 300 local citizens came to pay tribute to her. Among the guests were notable citizens of the town, as well as former students, in fact, representatives of each graduating class of the James

G. Shaffer School from 1927 to 1956.

Mrs. Spray was recently appointed to School No. 9. Before that, she was a teacher in the James

G. Shaffer, No. 4 School, for twenty-nine years. Those who have bare facts but the real story lies in the many hours which Mrs.

Spray spent with her students, their families, and their problems.

As she put it, "there are no really bad children, only children with problems." She explained that each set of circumstances is different, and each child has a different family background, and it is only with intelligent interest in the child's background that a solution can be reached. This is

Mrs. Spray's picture of the ideal teacher. From the high regard her former students and associates have for her, we judge her to be fairly close to that picture herself.

Too Critical

"The main trouble with people is that they are too critical."

Calvert Club To Hold Thanksgiving Dance

On Friday, November 23, the Calvert Club of Nutley will hold a semi-formal Thanksgiving dance at the Glen Ridge Country Club, at 9:30 p. m. Attempt is being made to contact all former members. If any have not been approached they should get in touch with Dot and Bill Van Herward of 27 Elena Place, or Margaret and Ed Peters of 146 Soles Avenue, Clifton.

The Calvert Club was organized in 1935 as a social club for the young adults of St. Mary's Parish. Through the years it expanded and embraced young adults outside of the Parish as well. During World War II the club suspended activities. In 1945 the organization resumed its programs and remained very active until 1955 when the Club was disbanded.

the Saving Grace

It's surprising how many smart young moderns are adopting the homely philosophy of saving. Not merely for the sake of saving, but for the peace and contentment that its security brings.

Bellboys Reverse Tables

Remember all the trouble Belleville High School was having earlier in the football season as the Blue and Gold went down to two one-point defeats in their first four starts. Well, it was about time but the tables finally started reversing themselves. Saturday Coach Ed Belinski's charges at long last won a game which was decided in the extra point department. They say the law of averages usually equals out in the long run, but we'll see about that.

The victim of the tight decision was Kearny as the Blue and Gold chalked up a hard earned 14-12 victory on the strength of two extra point runs by Gene Pinadella. Belleville, after a miserable start that saw the Blue and Bloomfield, Nutley, West Side and Irvington really perked up.

Berlinski's boys now have a three-game winning streak on the line and will have a weekend off in preparation for the annual Thanksgiving Day game against Orange. From where I see it Belleville should take the measure of the Tornadoes and increase the winning streak mark to four in succession. That would give the Blue and Gold a four and five mark for the 1956 campaign.

It was just about a month ago that the Blue and Gold stock was at its lowest ebb in recent years. At that point in the season Belleville had just suffered its fifth loss in a row and was soundly trounced by Irvington, 46-7. Blue and Gold followers were startled by that unexpected outcome since the Camptowners had been able to win only two games in the last two years but a new regime is in power at Irvington and the coaching staff, headed by Walt Marshall, former Pennsylvania pilot, has been turning in wonders since coming on the scene.

For several years Irvington fielded a poor football team but those times are now over. Belleville can look forward to a tough competitor from here on in. With five defeats in a row, fans were wondering if the Bellboys would go through the season without a victory.

Since that sorry showing against Irvington, Berlinski instituted some new life in the sagging Blue and Gold and the players suddenly started to come to life. Highly touted Hillsdale was the first to fall to Belleville and then came South Side.

Belleville entered the Kearny game as the favorite but there is no telling what may happen when two high school grid teams clash. The Cardinals, with a new head coach in Vinnie Carlismo, started out like a house afire and won their first two games. Since that time the Kards have been in a steady tailspin and have now dropped five in a row.

It looked like Kearny was going to record a minor upset. The Kards jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead in the first quarter and then made it 12-0 when a blocked kick was recovered in the end zone. At that point it seemed like curtains for the short lived Belleville two-game winning streak. Little did many spectators in the stands think that the failure to convert the extra points at that stage would doom the Kards to defeat.

Crystal Gazing

At long last there is a little brighter in the crystal gazing department, and well I need one. Last Saturday I nailed only six correct outcomes while going down the drain with three others. That brought my percentage down to an even 700 which is pretty poor for this league. With only the big Thanksgiving Day slate still in the making I have called 51 of 73 games. Like I predicted a week ago, Montclair took the measure of Clifton by 12 points but I backed a loser in Nutley as the Maroon Raiders were soundly laced by Bloomfield, 25-6. I was also wrong in the West Side-South Side game as South Side eked out a tight 2-0 victory. The upheaval was Hillsdale's one-point victory over Irvington. This is a quite weekend in scholastic football, so let's take a quick peek and see what's on tap:

Clifford Scott to trounce Livingston. This won't be much of a contest as Livingston finishes out its first football schedule. The Scotties will be much too strong in all departments. Livingston won its initial grid game in the school's history last Saturday against Hanover Park after dropping six in succession.

St. Benedict's to wallop South Side. The Bees ground attack will be too much for South Side to cope with.

REC RIFLE CLUB PLANS EXPANSION

The Recreation Department Junior Rifle Club, under the direction of Harold F. Brand, Assistant Superintendent of Recreation, will expand to include two groups, firing on Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

The Club is a member of the National Rifle Association and follows rules and regulations set down by the association. Any Belleville boy between the ages of 12 to 18 years of age may join the club. Rifles are furnished by the Recreation Department through the War Department.

All interested boys must report to the Municipal Range at the Belleville Stadium on Monday afternoon, November 19, at 3:45 p.m. to register.

REC BASKETBALL FOR GIRLS STARTS MONDAY NIGHT

The Recreation Department announced this week that it will commence its girls basketball program at the High School this Monday, at 7:30 p.m. Commissioner Hyde, who inaugurated the basketball program for girls in 1953 said that this has been one of the most successful programs on the Recreation calendar.

On Monday evening the teams will register. Miss Virginia Harrison, director of girls activities, said that nine teams have already indicated that they will participate, and that the league will undoubtedly reach ten full teams as it has for each of the past three years.

In addition to registration the girls will have an opportunity to play practice games with officials. Also there will be instructions on hand to teach fine skills of the game.

Girls basketball will be played at the high school each Monday evening. No spectators are permitted.

Bellboys Defeat Kearny, 14-12, For Third Straight Win

Margin Of Victory Is Two Extra Points By Pinadella Scored On Off-Guard Play

By Dave Thaler

Saturday, November 10, is a day for Belleville fans to remember. For it was on that day that Belleville did a feat which few high school teams are capable of, and the Blue and Gold did it after losing five games this season. The Bellboys spotted Kearny two touchdowns, and then fought back to pad the game out of the fire with a 14-12 victory. The margin of victory was two extra points, scored by Pinadella on running plays; an oddity when it is remembered that Belleville lost two games earlier this season by the difference of an extra point.

The Kards lost little time in scoring. After Belleville punted, they scored in ten plays starting from the Belleville 45. The punt-off play was a pass from quarterback Clem Zotta to Richard Barlowitz that carried from the Blue and Gold 27. The attempted conversion was foiled when the snap from the center went over the kicker's head.

Run The Ends
The Bellboys started to run the ends, and picked up yardage, but when they tried the middle they were stalled.

Both teams exchanged punts with Belleville winding up with the ball on their own 37. It was here that Belleville began Kearny's second touchdown drive. Three plays resulted in a loss of 20 yards and the Bellboys found themselves camped on their 10. Lou Long faded back to punt, but the kick was blocked. The Kards' left end, Ronnie Viscuso, fell on the ball and Kearny had a 12-0 lead. Freeman Miller again tried the conversion, but to no avail. The kick was not good, and the score remained 12-0, with Kearny fans yelling for blood.

Towards the end of the first half, Belleville bounced back into the game. Billy Waite, Kearny's safety man, was smeared on a punt return, and fumbled. Belleville recovered on the Kards' 37 yard line. This was the turning point of the game.

On the next play Bruce McCumber hit Gene Barra with a rainbow pass. Barra drove to the five where he was brought down. To be sure, Barra was downed on the five-yard line, but the ball was not. The Bellboy back had fumbled, and the ball had rolled into the end zone. There Dave Schoner fell on it for the touchdown. This was probably one of the few times that a team's fumble has paid off.

Pinadella Converts
The conversion was executed by Pinadella who drove off guard for his fourth consecutive extra point of the season.

The Blue and Gold took the lead the first time they got the ball in the second half. A McCumber-to-Pinadella pass took them from the Kearny 36 to the 15. Then Pinadella took charge. He took the kick out and went around the left end for five yards. Then he went around the other end for the touchdown, making the score 13-12. To add icing to the cake, he converted with the off-guard play to make it 14-12.

WISCHE SPEAKS ON ZONE DEFENSE AT COACHES CLINIC

Local Basketball Coach To Interpret Rule Changes And Effects On System

"Titty" Wische, whose zone defenses have baffled many an opponent, will explain the techniques of the same at a coaches clinic of the New Jersey Coaches Association, November 24. Wische will be one of five speakers, and will represent the state of the state at the clinic, which will be held at Rutgers University.

The Belleville mentor will be speaking at the clinic of Austin Lepine, who has planned the program. In addition to Wische's program, there will be speakers on interpretation, organization of practice drills and practice, shooting techniques, and the driving of the ball.

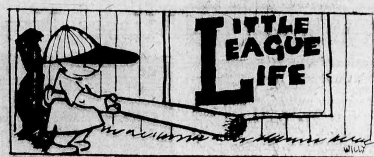

Each To Talk
Each speaker will deliver a 15 to 20 minute talk on his particular subject. Following each talk will be a five minute question period. When all speakers have concluded their talks and answered all questions that might have been posed, a round table discussion will be held.

Due to the change which has widened the three-second line to twelve feet, Wische's talk should attract a great deal of attention. The Blue and Gold coach has been deprived of a "big man" or any degree of height since he has coached Belleville's team. To compensate for this disadvantage, he has devised collapsing and shifting zones which tend to cut the "big man" down to size. The zones have been extremely effective on Belleville's floor, which is relatively small. The widening of the lane puts the big man another six feet away from the basket, and zones will be that much more effective against him.

Wische definitely has his own

As the 1956 football season nears its finish, the teams of the Football Little League are really pouring it on in an effort to "come home with the bacon".

Evidence of this is the Elks-Varsity Club game last Saturday. The Varsity Club had been rolling along at a terrific pace, winning four straight games, until last week when they met their match. The Elks, giving everything they had, put on a great show of defensive ability and held the Varsity Club to a 0-0 tie.

The Bears, by virtue of a 20-14 win over the Tigers, moved into second place in the league standings. This game was a real thriller and both teams fought tooth and nail for every yard.

In the other game Federal Industry played the Jolly Cleaners. Although the Jolly Cleaners put up a good fight, they ran out of steam and were defeated.

Saturday's game between the Kiwanis and the Lions saw a real battle. The Lions, underdogs in the game, came close to upsetting the Kiwanis. The Lions played a great game and must be given credit. Even though they were defeated 7-5 they have the makings of a championship team, and although this season is drawing to its close, the Lions can look to next season with high hopes.

On Monday the Jolly Cleaners were matched with the Tigers. This game proved to be the upset of the week. The Jolly Cleaners, anxious for revenge after Saturday's 20-0 drubbing by Federal In-

REC GIRLS FENCING TO BEGIN NOV. 26

The Recreation Department will begin its girls fencing program at the High School on Monday evening, November 26, at 7 p.m. The program is open to girls of high school age and has been very popular since it was begun three years ago. Superintendents of Recreation Robert E. Cook says that beginners are welcome and that quite a few veterans are expected back.

Fencing is a marvelous sport for girls since it requires the speed and agility of Judo, the concentration of chess, and the ease and poise of ballet, he said. It is a fine developer of posture and is a sport in which a girl can compete on par with boys.

Cook says that in general he has found girls learn the intricacies of fencing much more quickly than boys.

A graduate of Newark Normal School, Mrs. Spray has a bachelor of science degree in education and a master of arts degree in guidance from Seton Hall University.

Mrs. Spray finds that the method of teaching is considered more important by many educators today than the subject matter. "It really doesn't matter which way you teach Johnny to read, as long as he is able to read," she said. She explained that the good teacher will size up her class when she enters it. Then it's up to her to find the best possible method for getting the knowledge to the youngsters, by the least painful method.

She went on to explain that this personal contact between the student and teacher is not always possible when classrooms are too crowded, that's when the teacher becomes nothing more than a policeman for the children.

Junior High School

"I think a junior high school is most necessary in Belleville," Mrs. Spray told us. She explained this by the present lack of facilities for the children who are not potential college material, and who do not find their great delights in academic studies.

"We need more facilities for manual training for both boys and girls," she said. She felt that working with their hands would break up the routine of going from one academic class to the next, "and most children's minds need a rest during the day, this way we could develop their manual dexterity," she said.

A member of many civic and school activities, Mrs. Spray has devoted much of her time to the local community. She has served on the board of directors of Red Cross, the Mothers March of Dimes and an original member of the PTA of School No. 4.

It must also be considered that the high percentage of voters casting ballots in the presidential election would be off by at least 20 percent, as based on returns from previous years. These two factors could substantially reduce the total number of votes cast for any one candidate.

Political columnists intimated that Addonizio's showing in the last election was made without the full support of local Republican Town Commissioners. When contacted, all sides denied there was any truth to the story.

Addonizio's press secretary stated that at no time did Addonizio attack the lack of support on the local level. There have been frequent rumors to this effect, it was stated, and these have been fanned by political enemies.

told the group. He then went on to explain the disastrous experience of the attempted orchestra in Belleville, where everyone had to play his own way. "We gave that up," he commented.

Some Dropped

Specht told Foundation members that there were many projects which were started by the group, maintained for a few years, and then dropped because of the lack of interest, or other reasons. He cited the post-war rehabilitation for veterans programs as an example. He also cited a recreation program which was originally drawn up by the Foundation members, and is now being fairly closely followed by local recreation officials. He also showed members a pamphlet put out by the Foundation in 1943 citing the need for a hospital serving Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield area, which will open reality next summer when the Clara Mass hospital opens its doors.

WHO'S THAT FUNNY MAN? What a clown he is! Making such silly faces... silly noises, too. Thinks he's talking my language. But I kind of like him because... I guess he belongs to me. If only he could understand me... you know what I'd tell him? I like it here!

Behind the assurance so many American children feel—from their earliest days—is a sense of security that comes from their parents. And over 16 million Americans—parents and others, too—enjoy that sense of security because of savings... entrusted to their local Insured Savings and Loan Association. This trust is inspired by sound local management, excellent returns and insured safety. Savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government.

Insured Savings and Loan Associations are a major and steadily growing factor in the Nation's economy. For millions they encourage thrift, promote home ownership and create paying jobs. With over $37 billion of assets these insured associations help keep the Nation's prosperity vigorous and genuinely sound.

November

When clouds, rain gray and somber,
Close in upon November,
And the eyelid of the sky
Will not open on the eye
Of the sun that lies in under,
Then the sky is like the aster
Where petals, when the sun goes down,
Close over the gold crown.
Then the sky is like the winter
That closes each white finger
Upon a frosty world,
While deep in at the center
The next year's spring is lurid.

Meyner Can Be Dethroned

Next year is another year. The tidal wave which swept President Eisenhower back into the White House is behind us. The momentum may remain for a brief reorganization period, but we cannot count on Ike's coat-tails for any help next November, in 1957, when we must elect a U. S. Senator and a Governor. New Jersey Republicanism will be on its own.

Sam Bodine, Republican state chairman, sitting on his mountaintop, seems to us to have misinterpreted the Eisenhower landslide for a Republican landslide. In this election, Ike could have beaten Joe Smith, Santa Claus and, even, Elvis Presley all rolled together, with Adlai Stevenson thrown in for a bad bargain.

"During the excitement of victory, I don't want to be irrational, but if I were a Democrat thinking of running for Governor, in 1957, I could not take much satisfaction in the overwhelming victory for the Republicans in 1956," Bodine said.

In the few months ahead, Bodine and the Republican GHQ must come up with a candidate of a calibre capable of beating Robert Meyner. It must be an Eisenhower on a State scale. He cannot be an "old pro", because professional politicians are anathema to New Jersey's Republican electors. He must be someone who surpasses Meyner in accomplishment and stature. That would seem to us to eliminate Malcolm Forbes for the same reason of inexperience that he was eliminated, last time, when Paul Troast got the nod.

LETTERS To The Editor

The Editor, Belleville Times-News:

School Board President, William Allison Boyd, an architect by profession, wants a "unit control" system rather than the generally accepted "dual" method of school operation for our local educational system.

If my memory serves me rightly, it seems not too long ago, the local school system was put under the "unit control" principal of operation, with Mr. Evan Thomas, the same gentleman within whom Mr. Boyd would again repose the responsibility of conducting practically all of the business activities of Belleville's vast school system in charge.

After a short-while, for reasons which the then school trustees apparently thought valid, a complete shift back to "dual control" school operation was instituted. There it has remained until this new move urged by Mr. Boyd.

Mr. Ruel Daniels' unfortunate passing should not occasion the need for any shift in operational policy. Neither should any other extraneous reasons. Efficiency alone, coupled with concern for the best advantages to be offered Belleville's public school students, should determine.

Mr. Boyd, a layman education-wise, says the "unit control system" will permit the school board to operate with greater efficiency and economy than possible under the present system.

Mr. Arnold M. Hess, Secretary of the Newark Board of Education, a lifetime educator, commenting upon the comparative merits of "unit" vs. "dual" control, points out unmistakably the multiple advantages of the "dual" system. Mr. Hess calls the "dual" system a natural outgrowth of public education in the United States—one part is devoted exclusively to problems concerning teaching, curriculum, class size, guidance, etc. All problems incidental to group education. The second part concerns itself over the business phases of running an educational system—maintenance, purchasing, bookkeeping and accounting in short, supervision of other than instructional matters or interpretation of Board policies and public relation functions.

Dual control, says Mr. Hess, allows educational administrators to concentrate upon and develop good education, while permitting Meyner did nothing in this campaign to hurt his own chances next year, or, for that matter, his chances on a national level four years from now. He made a few speeches, but not in New Jersey. He travelled far away to California when he kept his promise to help campaign for Stevenson so that he would not be heard too loudly here at home.

In his home state, he was noticeably silent except when, on election eve, he made one of the worst bad guesses of all time and predicted not only Stevenson's election but, also and worse, that he would carry New Jersey. The Meyner tongue must have been in his cheek when he made that forecast. He is too shrewd a politician to have made such a mistake because it was apparent from the day of Israel's invasion of Egypt and of Red Russia's murder of the Hungarian patriots that nothing could remove Ike's hand from the levers of American foreign policy—not even Stevenson's vulgar smears and his sly innuendos about Eisenhower's health. Certainly a smear-artist like Stevenson could not defeat an able administrator with Ike's record on the fields of battle of France and Washington.

In the 1958 Senatorial election, there is no certainty that H. Alexander Smith will choose to run again. If he does, he almost certainly could be re-nominated. His record is excellent. To oppose him, The Times-News contends that the Democrats could look far and wide and do no better than nominate our 10th District Congressman, Peter W. Rodino, Jr.

Rodino, a Democrat, has been a pillar of strength in an overwhelmingly Republican district. He has defeated five different Republican opponents to hold his seat ten years. He still has another ten years to go to tie the 20-year span of his predecessor, Fred Hartley, but his record in Washington is better.

Nothing that Rodino has said or done as a Congressman could be used against him. He gave President Eisenhower more support in Congress than many Republican Congressmen did, yet, he never turned his coat. He was not a Wayne Morse. Rodino, with a fine war record behind him, has continued to serve his country in Washington with the same patriotic fervor that won him promotion in rank on the battlefield. His legislative action has been truly bipartisan. In eight years, there is not one vote in his record which should cause Rodino any shame. An ardent vote-getter, he could be a serious challenger for the aging Senator Smith and his nine years in Washington should be an excellent recommendation for his nomination. R.E.H.

One Man's Opinion

A Rebirth Of Socialism, Adapted To The Needs Of Each Country In Europe, Appears Likely To Follow Collapse Of Communist Bloc

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

The myth of the monolithic bloc of international Communism has been shattered, along with Stalin's dream of a vast proletarian mass of workers and peasants obedient to the dictates of one leader relayed to them through national Communist governments, loosely aligned and still leaning, more or less, on Moscow economically and militarily.

Badly shaken by events in Warsaw and Budapest, the Kremlin itself appears to be in turmoil. Moscow hides its hand fairly well, but it is easy to see that Nikita Khrushchev, the Russian Communist Party's first secretary, who led the anti-Stalin movement and sired the "soft" policy towards the satellites, has suffered a loss of prestige and power. He has not yet been unseated but the old "Stalinists", inspired by Molotov and Kaganovich, are lifting their heads again. The big man to watch now is Marshall Zhukov.

Looking ahead to the not-too-distant future it is safe to predict that most of Europe, eventually, will be under socialist governments with some semblance of democratic freedoms and practices. The extent of the adherence to strict socialist tenets will depend upon the people of each country, but the farther East in Europe, the closer the regimes will conform to the basic principles of the 2nd International.

Moscow may return to Stalinist Communism within her own borders and the Kremlin may, temporarily, force her will upon the Hungarian people by a traditional "blood bath" but the world knows that Hungary is not a willing satellite and some day will win back her freedom, even a nationalist communist brand of freedom.

The chances of Moscow ever again planting her brand of Communism upon the rest of Europe, or of Asia for that matter, are slight.

Instead, as Tito has said repeatedly: "There are many roads to Socialism". His is a Communist road, but not the Kremlin's road of blind obedience to Moscow.

our own American democracy than it is to Tito's national communist brand of Socialism. The major difference between the Communist Socialism of the 2nd International and the 2nd International is that Moscow's version is based upon brute force and machinings.

One of the basic tenets of the 2nd International version of Socialism is pacifism. In France, for example, the Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies always refused to vote military credits until Leon Blum rose to power, in June, 1936, as the first Socialist Premier of France, following the victory of the Popular Front in the national elections. Thereafter, the Socialists turned their coats and voted military credits.

In every country in Europe, before World War II, the Socialists pretended to abhor war and preached disarmament. In France, the Blum Socialist cabinet confiscated and nationalized the French aircraft industry. As it turned out, that was one of the basic reasons why France was defeated in 21 days of Nazi invasion.

France always had been a leader in aviation. She held all the air records from the day Louis Blériot, in his monoplane, was the first to fly across the English channel. Blériot, the Farman brothers, the Breguet, all pioneer aviators, were the producers of France's planes, along with Potez and a few newcomers.

Overnight, Blum's Minister of Aviation, Pierre Cot, shut those factories and ordered their nationalization. Able technicians and engineers were fired and their jobs were given to political favorites. In the following 12 months of 1936-37, France, in her newly nationalized aircraft factories, built a total of 13 modern military planes.

In those same 12 months, Germany's new aircraft industries, under Goering's direction and under the pressure of the Spanish Civil War, built 3,600 bombers and 1,800 fighters. Two years later the war was on. France was helpless, prostrate. Germany was the master of the skies.

A fair summary of the swift changes in Soviet policy between the times of the Warsaw and the Budapest revolts would be to say that Moscow has returned, at least temporarily, to the Stalinist theory of the "big stick".

The Kremlin did nothing after the Poznan riots in Poland last June, but it was noticeable that Khrushchev suffered in his prestige immediately after. The beginning of his decline must be dated to the Poznan affair, and the recent events in Warsaw and Budapest merely speeded that decline.

That is why, in this "One Man's Opinion", the Polish drama has not been played out. There have been troop movements, across Poland, of Russian troops moving into East Germany. There have been other movements of Russian troops through the Minsk marshes to Poland's eastern borders.

The purpose of those two troop concentrations can only be to apply the pincers to Poland in an effort to slow down the planned changes in the Polish government and in Polish policy. The Kremlin obviously has a different idea of Poland's independence than do Gomulka and his colleagues. The only uncertainty is how far Moscow will go, in the use of force, in imposing its own conception of Polish independence on Poland.

Behind Moscow's reluctance to surrender any of her advance posts in Eastern Europe, in Poland, in Hungary, in East Germany is the fact, as Bulganin hinted in a letter last week, that Russia now has long-range rocket missiles with which she could saturate by bombardment the capitals and industrial centers of Western Europe.

The range is not yet sufficient to be able to launch them from the Communist fortress of Red Russia itself, so the Russian General Staff has demanded of Russia's political rulers that the Red Army stay where it is, for the time being, to retain the needed missile bases. There's nothing pacifist about the Russians' intentions.

And, in the meantime, outgrip NATO commander, General Alfred M. Gruenther minced no words in telling the Kremlin, yesterday: "No nation is going to press that rocket-firing button if it means suicide and it does mean just that. Retaliation will take place as day follows night and the Soviet Union will be destroyed".

LETTERS To The Editor

Boyd, I feel the superior authority of Mr. Hess on educational matters moves the balance of decision in the direction of continuing the "dual" control system, especially since Mr. Hess calls "unit" control extrajudicial, if not illegal, in New Jersey.

Mr. Daniels' regrettable demise, after many years of service to the local school body, sufficiently alters the picture as to warrant a revision of Mr. Boyd's plans for unit control. Best results could be afforded Belleville education by prompt appointment of a competent successor to Mr. Daniels and retention of dual control, thus eliminating thought of a needless maintenance supervisor. Let's have no hasty approval of this move to "unit control" in our school system. The Board's duty is to provide adequate education for our children, not to waste time on petty internal politics.

LARGE DELEGATION ATTEND RECENT
CIRCUIT ASSEMBLY

There were 30 delegates from the local congregation at the Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's witnesses at the Morristown National Guard Armory this past weekend. The assembly program, which contrasted the anxiety inherent in materialism with the happiness to be attained by knowing and serving God, featured Bible education and advanced training in the Christian ministry.

Heading the local delegation was August Russ, presiding minister. He said, "All of us feel that the inspiring talks showing why Christians should be happy despite worsening world conditions have made us even more optimistic about the future, and we hope to spread this optimism to others in our door-to-door ministry."

Local ministers who participated in the assembly organization were John Bough of Nulley, who supervised the Sound Department, and Leonard Goldring of Belleville, who assisted in the Sign Department.

Speaking on "What Will Armageddon Mean for You?", the climax of the assembly, Angelo A. Catanzaro, district supervisor for the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, told the delegates, "In the Bible the term Armageddon is specifically defined as 'the war of the great day of God's Almighty.' It can mean life, freedom and happiness for you in the righteous new world which will follow."

Russ said, "Another assembly highlight was the new film, 'The Happiness of the New World Society,' which depicts the tremendous growth of Jehovah's witnesses world-wide in recent years."

A mass baptism was a feature of the assembly in which 53 persons symbolized their dedication to God Jehovah's will.

CYO Offers Athletic, Social,
Cultural, Spiritual Activities

To one youngster it means a chance to match his collection of sea shells in competition with others at a hobby show. To another, it will mean being a member of a basketball team, meeting others of his own age group in weekly league games. To a young adult it might mean a chance to get together every week-end for bowling. To still others, it may mean speaking in a national oratory contest, acting in a one-act play, or pounding the gavel at a convention. The day has long since past when the letters CYO were just something on the back of a boxer's robe.

Perhaps the biggest reason for the success of the CYO program is in its policy of providing something for everybody — that is, having such a wide variety of different activities that something in the program will appeal to all youngsters, from grammar school age up to 26. Young people have all kinds of abilities, interests and inclinations, and most are ambitious enough to do something about them if given the opportunity.

Providing this opportunity to do something is basic in the CYO... a real "do-it-yourself" recreational program for the emphasis is all on participation, not just spectator events.

Generally, CYO activities can be easily divided into four kinds: athletic, cultural, social and spiritual. Increasing importance has been given in recent years to a fifth: social action.

Athletics include basketball, baseball and bowling leagues and an annual track meet. The cultural side of the program has a hobby show, a talent contest, oratorical, one-act play and essay contests, a journalism course for

CANCER SOCIETY
DISTRIBUTES FREE
MEDICAL DRESSINGS

The Essex County Chapter of the American Cancer Society disclosed yesterday that 1,171,471 medical and hygienic dressings had been distributed free of charge to 433 cancer patients in this county during the fiscal year just ended. That number of dressings exceeds the previous year's distribution by 23 per cent.

Mrs. Winfield Thompson, Jr., chairman of the Chapter's Service Committees, announced that plans are under way to organize at county-wide drive to collect used, but salvageable, cotton materials, such as bed linens, white tablecloths and men's shirts, to replenish the depleted stocks. Materials should be no smaller than 10 by 20 inches.

The medical dressings are made in Essex County by a group of more than 1,800 women volunteers who work in the 200 or more dressing units maintained in all key sections of the county. Materials may be left at Chapter Headquarters, 336 South Harrison Street, East Orange, or telephone Service Department, OR-ange 2-6902. Mrs. Walter Pass, of West Orange, is chairman of the salvage program.

Two Miles of Railroad

Taxes:

$1,870,000

A Year!

A two-mile surface stretch of New Jersey railroad may easily be the most heavily taxed in the world. Beginning at the Hudson River waterfront, across from downtown Manhattan, these two miles of railroad, including adjacent terminal facilities, in 1955 paid taxes amounting to $1,870,000!

Recently a portion of the New Jersey Turnpike extension from Newark to the Holland Tunnel was placed in service. It is immediately adjacent to these two miles of railroad. The cost of the highway construction averaged 14 1/2 million dollars per mile for the benefit of highway transportation, including the railroad's principal competitors. The financing for this facility was tax free; the investment is tax free and the income is tax free. The adjacent railroad, with an assessment of approximately the same as the cost of the Turnpike, is paying state taxes at the rate of $935,000 per mile of road each year.

While the railroad has terminal facilities within these two miles, the taxes are vastly higher than those on comparable railroad property anywhere else in the nation. In fact, the assessment on some of the land within the two-mile stretch is as much as $56,000 an acre!

Here is another dramatic case demonstrating the discriminatory and archaic tax system faced every day by your New Jersey railroads — a system which compels your railroads to pay the highest railroad taxes of any state in the union, five times the national average!

Today, the New Jersey railroad industry pays out an average of $1.67 in New Jersey taxes for every dollar earned in the state — the earned dollar and 67 cents besides.

Such disproportionate taxes on your railroads are also, and more importantly, a tax on your future.

You can help New Jersey progress — by being a well-informed citizen and speaking your mind on what needs to be done to get tax fair play in New Jersey. You'll find the facts in "FACTS ON TRACKS." Just write: Railroad Information Bureau, 11 Commerce Street, Newark 2, N. J.

Petreaan...News

By Eleanor D'Angelo

The robins and witches were out in full force on Tuesday when Petreaans celebrated Halloween with a party in the club rooms. Did you ever see such costumes? Joan Ryan and Marge Canoy saw to it that a good time was had by all.

Now that Jack McDermott is stationed at Fort Knox, there's no reason for anyone to worry about their money. It's in good hands.

News from abroad is that Bob Christie, Gerry and Charlie Spedden and John "Flip" DeFilippo are "having a ball". Some joke!

Wasn't that a great treat Monsignor Kelly tended to members of the cast, stage hands and anyone connected with the "Merry Widow"? Furlio's will never be the same now that the Petreaan Rockettes have landed. What was even nicer was to see Monsignor in our midst once again. Too bad the pressure of work doesn't afford him time enough to visit our club rooms more often. We miss him.

Mentioning Petreaan shows, Isabel Rotek, the 1957 show chairman, is accepting all scripts which any Petreaan may wish to submit for this coming year's show. A director has been selected and all that remains is to

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONCERT SERIES OPENS NOV. 17

An original children's story in music, entitled "Hello, World," otherwise "Around the World with Music," will mark the opening of the ninth season of the young people's orchestral concerts of the Griffith Music Foundation at the Mosque Theater, Newark, on Saturday morning, November 17, at 11:00 a.m.

The story and lyrics of "Hello, World" were written by Susan Otto. The music is by William Mayor, whose music story, "The Greatest Sound Around," was such a success at the opening concert in the previous year. Specially commissioned by The Little Orchestra and its conductor, Thomas Scherman, the story will show, by singing and dancing, how children in different lands greet one another and say "Hello" when they meet. It will be sung by Robert Gross, popular baritone. The dancers will be Robert Stevenson, Bill Bradley and Mark West. Frank Westbrook will do the choreography.

This first concert of the new season will have other outstanding features. The instrument of the day will be one of the oldest of musical instruments, the bagpipes, whose origin goes back to the twilight of history. Joseph Bosson, harpist, will play traditional Scotch airs which will be danced by Mr. Bradley.

Mendelssohn will be the composer of the day and several of his compositions including the overture to "Ruy Blas" will be performed by the orchestra. The soloist with the orchestra in the playing of the "Capriccio Brillante" will be a Milburn high school sophomore, Michael Wagman, 15, of 135 Greenwood Drive, that town. Wagman, a young violinist of much promise, was a Young Artist winner in the 1956 auditions of the Griffith Music Foundation and as such will be presented in a concert in Griffith auditorium, Newark, next March 24.
