

VOLUNTEER SERVICE HEAD IS NAMED BY CLARA MAASS

The appointment of Miss Marie Alessandro as director of Volunteer Services for the new Belleville Hospital has been announced by Albin A. Ober, executive director. Miss Alessandro, a resident of West Orange, N. J., served with the hospital for the past four years as public relations assistant. Previously, she had worked in the public relations office of the World Scout Council of Greater New York, National State Bank, and the Girl Scout Council of the Oranges. She is a graduate of Berkeley Secretarial School.

The new hospital will be opening its doors to the public in August, and great numbers of helping hands will be needed to keep it running efficiently. Among these will be doctors, nurses, technicians, office personnel, many other types of employees and volunteers.

Volunteers will be needed to assist in numerous areas of the hospital, such as: information desk, Courtesy Squad, Pedicure Department, coffee shop, typing and clerical duties, and many others.

Though the hospital will not be opening until August, it is most important that volunteer activities be scheduled as soon as possible. If you are interested in volunteering and would like more information, write to the Volunteer Department of the hospital, or call Miss Alessandro at Market 2-5222.

Miss Sadlock And Miss Villaggio Star In Sunday Wedding Parties

Mrs. Albert G. Kurnath

Mrs. George Mobilo

Alice N. Sadlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sadlock, of 209 Overlook Avenue, was married Sunday to Albert G. Kurnath, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurnath of 320 Highland Avenue, Passaic.

The bride's uncle, Mgr. F. P. Kowalczyk, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. A. Krawiec, at Holy Rosary Church, Passaic. Following the ceremony, there was a reception for approximately 250 guests at the church auditorium.

The bride wore a gown of lace and net with a lace bodice, a skirt of net with lace inserts, and a chapel train. Her three-tiered, finger tip veil fell from a crown of imported orange blossoms. She carried two orchids on a prayer book, with a rosary marker.

The groom attended Passaic High School, and has been a member of the 50th M. P. Company, National Guard, in Passaic. He is with the New Jersey State Police in Howell, N. J.

After a trip to Florida, the couple will make their home at 219 C. Andrews Boulevard, in Clifton.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Villaggio, of 585 Jorabon Street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Susan, to George Mobilo, son of Mr. Pasquale Mobilo, of 86 Heckel Street, and the late Mrs. Mobilo. The Belleville couple were married Sunday by Rev. Francis Blake of the Holy Family R.C. Church in Nutley.

There was a reception at the Hotel Essex House in Newark.

The bride wore a silk peau de soie gown with Aleon lace appliques and iridescent Her French Illusion veil and double crown completed the ensemble. She carried orchids and a prayer book.

A cousin of the bride, Miss Joanne Boyd, of Newark, was maid of honor, an antique silk taffeta gown in pink, with a pink picture hat and carried a basket of spring flowers.

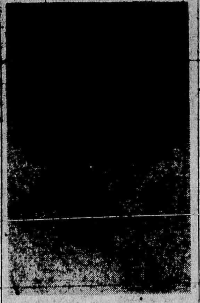

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Mobilo, sister of the groom, and Miss Ann Ricciardella, as well as the flower girl Susan D'Ambola, cousin of the bride, were similarly attired.

Pat Mobilo, brother of the groom, and Leonard Villaggio, brother of the bride, James and Frank Mobilo, brothers of the groom, and Larry Cirbo, all of Belleville, were ushers. Anthony Malonzo Jr., a nephew of the groom, and also of Belleville, was ring bearer.

The bride was formerly with A. J. Smith Manufacturing Company, in East Orange. The groom is with J. W. and Sons in Newark. Both attended Belleville schools.

Following a two-week motor trip to Florida, the couple will live in Belleville.

Miss Harding, Donald Beck Plan Marriage

Miss Melvina Harding

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding of 16 Wilson Place, announced the engagement of their daughter Melvina to Donald Richard Beck of 27 Valley Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck of Dalton, N. Y.

Miss Harding, a graduate of Y.M.W.C.A. Business School, Newark, is employed by Public Service Electric and Gas Company, Newark. Her fiancé is employed by Bart Manufacturing Company, Belleville.

How does a man feel who has had the responsibility of training men for vital jobs in their country's defense, when he finds himself training children to learn and live? Obviously this man feels joy and enthusiasm in what was, of course, his chosen life work. "There are similarities," he confides. "The duties are supervisory. They deal with people, and learning."

"Of course, most importantly, they deal with children" Jones is justifiably proud of the children in the upper grades, came to him and pleaded their own case in the matter of a Friday night canteen. It was their own nurturing initiative.

The science room is uninvolved with shaped-glass mobiles of atom formations. The music room looks eager for the brave and honny

WILLIAM HOOD HONORED MAY 2

Commissioner and Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde arranged a dinner Thursday evening in honor of William "Doc" Hood, who is retiring from his position as custodian of the Recreation House.

All the Recreation House staff attended, with wife to show their appreciation of service given by the guest of honor.

Robert Cook, superintendent of the department, presented a trophy to Mrs. Hood, for, as he put it, "putting up with 'Doc' Hood for 34 years."

Several people spoke during the evening, including Commissioner Hyde, who accepted Hood's resignation with regrets, expressed the feeling that Hood would surely be missed by all.

sounds it knows. School No. Three has the largest representation in town in the elementary orchestra, and the greatest representation in the High School. Helen's daughter, Paula, six-year old Robert and two-year old Thomas, and Jones and his wife spent the recent Easter vacation redesigning a dry well, and working on the ever-demanding lawn. Their hobby is to their honor. Their social life centers about their church, and they are past presidents of the St. Paul's Couples Club in Nutley. Jones himself is a member of the Board of Christian Education, past president of the Essex County Principal's Association, and presently is county membership chairman of the State Elementary Principals' Association.

Summer finds the family together, finding time to travel. Recently southward bound for family visit, Jones himself spent two weeks on active duty every summer.

This, to a degree, is the man's Good bearing. Good breeding. Authoritative. Determined. Intelligent. He is the father and husband at a Prospect Avenue address in Nutley. He is Executive Officer of the 46th Chemical Group Reserve in the Army. He is the mentor, the parent, and the guiding spirit of School No. Three in Belleville.

Passaic, Kearny Fall To Bellboy Nine; Columbia Wins 5-2

Cullen Pitches Three Hitter, Strikes Out 15, In Downings
Passaic, 1-0, Last Thursday

by Dave Thaler

After losing their first Big Ten game, 5-2, to Columbia, Belleville registered two non-Conference victories during the past week. The Blue and Gold forces received a tremendous performance from their junior right-hander, Jack Cullen, last Thursday, when the ace of Ed Berlin's staff shutout Passaic, 1-0, limiting the Indians to three hits, and striking out 15 men in ten innings.

Joe Tortorello was the victim of loose support in the Columbia game, receiving more of the same when he faced Kearny, Tuesday, but the Kards were determined that Belleville win, and the Bellboys pulled it out in eight innings by an 8-0 score.

Belleville lost their game with Columbia in the first inning. The Cougars used three hits and a Belleville error to produce a three-run inning. It was enough for the light-hitting home force to absorb their second defeat. Tortorello pitched good ball after the first inning, but neither the hitters nor the fielders were cooperating with him.

Belleville gave rise to hope in the bottom half of the first frame when Bob Valase opened up with a single and then Debrovski backed it up with a homer to left field. That was all for Belleville, though. They had several good chances to get back in the ball game, but their baserunning usually eliminated their opportunity.

Belleville's game was a beauty. Two of the three hits off him were of the infield variety. His control was astonishing. Usually his weakness became very stingy and issued but two walks - both in the tenth inning.

His mates were having little luck against Bob Sznitkowski, Passaic's hurler. Debrovski pounded a lead double into left field, but Gene Bara's long drive was caught, and Debrovski was doubled off.

Belleville had another chance in the sixth. With a man on second, Don Klein hit a low liner into center field. Pat Dragotta, the basic corner fielder, made a diving catch for the third out. If he had let the ball drop it would have been enough to end the contest in regulation time.

In the seventh inning, the Bellboys exhibited the base running ability which all year has helped them to produce a record below their capabilities. Bob Valase singled. He was then picked off, but Sznitkowski threw the ball away, enabling Yudin to reach third. This happened with two outs, and brought Cullen to the plate. With two strikes on Cullen, Yudin attempted to steal home. He had the base stolen, but forgot to yell to Cullen who swung at the ball. The observer had to look twice to see if the crack of the bat came from contact with the ball or from contact with Yudin's head. Fortunately it was the ball that was hit. Cullen grounded out.

Passaic made its threat in the top of the tenth. Cullen issued two passes in a row with one out. But the redhead promptly made Tom Sznitkowski fly out short left field and then wiffed Jerry Labenski.

In the bottom half of the inning, Yudin singled but was forced by Cullen's attempted sacrifice. Cullen did reach second, though, when one of Sznitkowski's serves couldn't be held. Valase's single to center ended the marathon.

The Bellboys got some clutch hitting from their sophomore first-baseman, Jim Dattoli, who homered in the top of the seventh inning against Kearny to tie the score at 3-3 and send the game into extra innings. Kearny proceeded to help Belleville walk away with the victory. Debrovski opened the eighth with a double. He was out

CINDERMEN LOSE TO EAST ORANGE, NEWARK CENTRAL

Panthers Score 73 1/2 Points To 39 For Central And 28 1/2 For Blue And Gold

The Blue and Gold cindermen opened their season at Martin's Stadium in East Orange, Tuesday, where they were overpowered by East Orange and Newark Central. The Bellboys stayed close to Central, who tallied 39 points to Belleville's 28 1/2, but were far outdistanced by the Panthers' 73 1/2 markers.

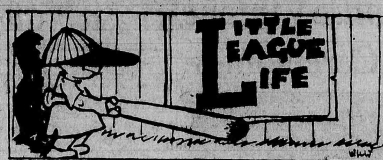

Belleville showed their expected weakness in the hurdles. The Bellboys were able to muster but one point in both races. They were also out of the money in the pole vault and the javelin in which they did not compete. Belleville doesn't have the javelin, and they were not ready for competition in the pole vault.

The Bellboys did manage to break new ground in the records. Bill Bartel once again broke his own record in the shotput when he heaved over 51 feet. It was the third time in two years that the big junior had topped the school record. In the mile Jim Cardenale, a 19 year old freshman, running for the first time in competition, ticked off a 4:08 to break the old mark of 4:01. Cardenale was dead last for the first half of the race, but finished with a tremendous kick to erase the old record and take second place.

Belleville's only points in the sprints were earned by Tim Cardenale. Cardenale took a third in the 100 and another in the 220 to rack up four points. His 10.3 in the 100 was an encouraging factor. Joe Conzolino, who was bothered by a sore leg, will be ready for today's meet with Nutley and should combine with Cardenale for the one-two punch in the sprints.

Pulling the surprise of the day was Bill Gettler, who topped first place in the high jump. The Bellboys usually get double duty from Gettler when he runs in the 440 also, but the two events were run simultaneously Tuesday and he was unable to complete in both. It was a Dutch dance and square dance. Edward Berlin's, of the physical education department, is teaching the tumblers, while Jay Wartell has charge of the girls in the rope skipping event.

All teachers of the school will make some contribution. The exhibit will also take place on Thursday, May 9, in the afternoon and evening.

By EDWARD A. CARNEY

This Saturday, at Clearman Field, we open our 1957 season, with the Cubs facing the Dodgers. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. and will be preceded by a parade of all the teams and their Recreation Department Farm League affiliates.

This is one ball game that everyone who has had a little boy fill out an application for baseball, should come out and watch. It is the personal viewing of these little boys under fire that will convince everyone of their ability. It will, also, answer a question that is undoubtedly many people's: "Why didn't my boy make the Little League?"

Music for opening day will be furnished by the Belleville High School band and, if everything falls into line as presently anticipated, a public address system in two years. It will be the second meet for both schools and little is known about the relative abilities of either. Both teams are not as strong as last year's squads, but once again the story should be told in the sprints.

At 8 p.m. Sunday, additional Anniversary services will be conducted with The Rev. David M. Harmon, Presiding Bishop, from Camden, delivering a special sermon. Music will be provided by the Little Zion and Trinity U.A.M.E. Church Senior Choir. Walter Saunders will present a guest solo.

Services for the remainder of the week will be held at 8 p.m. on Monday, Rev. D. L. Flonny, pastor of New Calvary Baptist Church, of Montclair, will deliver the guest sermon. Rev. J. C. Williams, pastor of Trinity U.A.M.E. Church, of Newark, will be guest speaker on Tuesday; Rev. E. W. Wortham, pastor of Stapleton, Staten Island, on Thursday; and Rev. Bessie Wilson, pastor of Grace U.A.M.E. Church, of Montclair, on Friday, with Rev. Rachel L. Johnson presiding.

Services were conducted this week with visiting ministers from all parts of the state. Tonight at 8 p.m. Rev. O. W. Rodgers, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, of Boonton, will deliver the sermon.

According to the brief history of the church presented in their anniversary program, the congregation had its beginning in 1881 through the efforts of Augustus Sloan, William Sloan, Joseph Wells, and Henry Sloan. These men were concerned with the need of a place for town's Negro residents to use as a place of religious worship.

The initial step was a meeting at the home of Mrs. Nettie Sisco from which sprang the Belleville Sunday School Mission. The mission grew rapidly and at an early

Still Life In May

The pictures on my wall realize that they will be displaced, soon, in my eyes. Poppies in a bowl, bittersweet spilling from a vase cannot compete with green, outside, feathering a bough, Forsythia thrusting into sunlight now. This animation of on-coming spring, the breaking bud and bloom, the fluttering wing, will claim me swiftly as each picture falls back to the anonymity of walls. Still life, that held the heart through winter hours, in May will release it to the flowers.

Air Raid Test Failed

Serious flaws in our Civil Defense preparations showed up in Monday's New Jersey test. Traffic was backed up for miles at the Lincoln and Holland Tunnels and at George Washington bridge, due chiefly to poor preparations by police on both sides of the Hudson.

If such chaos exists during a 10-minute test in peace time, real conditions at those crossings, under enemy attack, could be tragic. It would be foolish to gloss over these mistakes with a formal assurance that everything was fine. There is serious need, now, of drastic correction.

Let Reporters

Into Red China

Unless there would be any handicap in knowing the truth, the United States should lower the barriers and allow accredited American newspaper correspondents to go in to Red China with our State Department's blessing and passport.

Traditionally tenacious and sophisticated, skeptical and trained to sort out the seed from the chaff, our reporters may do more than our diplomats to give us the truth about China if we allow them to ply their trade and to ask their questions inside the borders of mainland China.

As a foreign correspondent for a quarter of a century, as head of the United Press staff in Paris, I roamed the world, at liberty to come and go as I pleased. For one nine year period. I did not even bother to renew my passport. In some foreign lands I was welcomed; in some I was shadowed. For two and a half years, at Vichy, I occupied a very vital observation post deep behind the German lines in World War II — until I was arrested by Pierre Laval, handed over to Hitler and interned in the Black Forest of Nazi Germany for a year and a half.

My point is that things are happening in China which we should know about. We can read about them in French or other foreign newspapers, but who would trust a French or other foreign reporter if he could read the despatches of an identified American correspondent? We now get our news of mainland China from Hong Kong or other observation posts along the fringes. What kind of news coverage of the United States would the world get from a reporter stationed in Havana?

American journalistic standards are so high that the Eisenhower administration should not fear on-the-spot reporting from Red China. With an inbred suspicion of all dictators, our American reporters can be depended upon to spurn handouts or too glib interviews and ferret out precisely what the Peiping government would be concerned in trying to hide.

There should be no such thing as limiting America's right to know. The barriers against newspapermen going to Red China should be taken down.

What Is True Revelation Of Poison Pen Letters?

Anonymity can cloak a wealth of virtue, charity and modesty. Sometimes it does. Sometimes, however, its purpose is revelation rather than self-effacement.

Anonymous letters are a case in point. The sender hides behind his pseudonym, and seeks to expose his fellow. He takes no risk. He feels the venture is all profit, no loss. There is no possibility of argument, insult, or denial. He may be as free, as untrammelled, indeed as imaginative as he likes in his accusatory and defamatory mode.

Whether his wild aim ever hits its mark is not the problem of the moment. We are concerned, rather, with one fatal error in the thought processes of the nameless name-slayer. We feel he should know that his anonymity fails him. The very nature of his attack, its stealth and cowardice, its sick and sullied interpretations of the acts of others, reveals him more clearly than film, fact or fingerprint. It is not a pleasant revelation.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

Recently I had the very pleasant experience of being publicly thanked in the local press for what was truly a small endeavor on my part here in a city where I have lived but two short years.

The term "debt of gratitude" kept racing through my mind and suddenly I was acutely aware that no one was deserving in debt but I, for I owe a debt of gratitude to an entire community — Belleville.

Although by reason of my profession, and later my husband's occupation, it has been many years since I could claim residence in Belleville, I am ever mindful, although I have never before said so, that I am deeply indebted to the town of Belleville for its kindness to the dearest soul I know — my father.

The younger generation in town sees a spry seventy-plus gentleman trudging up and down the streets, in and out of houses and factories with a book tucked under his arm, a book that identifies him as a Town employee. To the minds of those who do not know him personally there must come the question, why is he working at his age?

He is still actively on the job by reason of the kindness and understanding of his Honor, Mayor Theodore J. Farney, and because he is trying to ensure a little boy's chance to live.

When I married he planned to retire but his love for his beloved Belleville was so greatly entwined with his love for me that he could not leave to go either completely, so, he kept on working, hoping that perhaps one day we could come back home permanently.

God saw fit to send our little boy into the world carrying the cross of a very rare metabolic handicap. Until six months ago there was no known treatment for this condition, but now, by reason of the research and surgery done on our little boy, other children who knowers the similarly afflicted may have a chance to live a normal life.

My father's health, which never knew debt, is now mortgaged, the savings account is a thing of the past, and the greater part of his weekly pay is sent to us to try to reduce the financial burden that long ago exceeded the proportions manageable by the family.

It is obvious that my husband, my children and myself owe a debt of gratitude which we can never repay to the taxpayers of Belleville.

To Mayor Padula and the Board of Commissioners, the Board of Education, the Board of Public Property and the Board of Police, for their ever watchful eye on a senior parishioner, thank you; and our sincere thanks also to the kindly neighbors who look in on Dad to make sure all is well in the little lonely house on Mill Street.

Thank you, Belleville, for looking after Tom Ward who walks all over town that a little boy may one day walk unaided across a room.

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

We wish to thank the Belleville Police Department for responding so quickly to a call for help on Saturday, April 27, at 2 a.m. A member of our family needed oxygen in a hurry, but we were unable to get a doctor. We called the police department and three minutes later arrived with a tank of oxygen and a doctor and put the ill person well on the road to recovery.

We cannot thank and praise them enough. We want the people of Belleville to know they can depend on our police force in any emergency.

The Barone Family

Editor, Belleville Times-News:

The Belleville Times-News of September 11, 1956, almost four years ago, reported under the caption "Ask for Benches" in a front page story, "Mr. Golden said that the town might install benches for the convenience of those riding on public conveyances. Commissioner Hyde said that his committee had the matter under study and would come in with a recommendation in a few days. It was indicated the Board would discuss the entire matter before

One Man's Opinion

Poland's Bid For Our Aid, Now Two Months Unanswered, Should Get Our Reply — One Way Or The Other

By Ralph Eric Heinz

The eyes of the world have been on Suez and Jordan so fixedly, these recent troubled weeks, that too little attention has been paid to many other major problems of world relations which in this One Man's Opinion, are more closely related to the issue of peace or war for our time than are the noisy but comparatively inexpressive troubles of the Middle East.

On February 26, now more than two months ago, a Polish economic delegation arrived in Washington from Warsaw to ask economic aid. Poland sought $200 millions worth of surplus farm commodities, chiefly wheat and cotton, and a loan of $100 millions from the Export-Import Bank to finance the purchase of American machinery. Since then nothing, absolutely nothing, has been done.

At stake is the whole issue of our relations with the red fringe of the Communist world. We must decide, in this specific case of Poland, whether we are going to guarantee all peoples whose unhappily it is to lie in the Communist orbit because they are next door neighbors to Russia, or whether we are willing to deal with them, if for no other reason than to strengthen their resistance to Moscow's heavy hand.

Poland and Hungary should be put in the same category as Yugoslavia, in this One Man's Opinion. Belgrade has resisted Moscow's threats and blandishments through the years. Hungary died almost last year, but proved her nationalism. Poland proved her determination to remain free in the Polish riots last autumn. Now she asks that we help her as we help Tito against his national communist regime in Yugoslavia.

There would seem to be little doubt that much of our hesitancy in granting Warsaw the credits she asks stems from the political issues of Poland's dispute with West Germany over the present and future political front between the two countries.

That Oder-Neisse river frontier may be as explosive, some years hence, as were the questions of Alsace-Lorraine and Danzig as logged mines, destroyed railways and roads, ports stripped of all their facilities.

That area east of the Oder and Neisse rivers once had been Germany's granary but the Poles had to start from scratch and develop agriculture in the region once the war ended. Since 1945, Germany has had no production from the area which would seem to dispose of the claim that the lands lying to the east of the two rivers are indispensable to Germany's life, vital to her national equilibrium. Germany has lived very well 12 years without those lands or their produce.

Bonn publishes stories from time to time that Poland is not making use of the once-rich provinces but is allowing the fields to lie fallow and the towns to be deserted. Bonn also reported, recently, that the Poles were negotiating to bring hundreds of thousands of surplus Chinese all the way across Asia and Europe to move into the once-German lands.

Red China's Role

There are no Chinese there, of course, even though it is no secret that Peiping is keenly interested in helping Poland get on her feet — more as an antidote to Moscow than for any other reason.

It was last September in Peiping that Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai told Edward Gheah, then first secretary of Poland's Communist Party, that they would support a degree of Polish independence of the Soviet Union.

This support bolstered and strengthened the Polish leaders in October, during and after the Poznan riots, when Soviet party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev came West Germans are equally insistent that some day "the German East" must be returned to the Reich and by this they mean not only the present East German puppet state but also the lost provinces of Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia. The Federal Government in Bonn has been consistent in its insistence on a return to the German Reich's frontiers as of December 31, 1947.

Scorched Earth

It was far from a rich prize, however, because both the retreating Germans, in 1945, and the advancing Red Army, in the course of a desperate, frenzied battle, looted, pillaged, plundered and devastated the area. When Poland took over, the Poles found only burnt out towns and villages, sacked factories, waterhosing to Warsaw to demand that Poland reverse its independence march.

Then earlier this year, when Moscow became alarmed at the restiveness and independence agitation in the satellites and threatened to retract the Polish independence, it was Chou En-lai who, visiting Warsaw, gave the bold evidence of China's continued support.

Satisfying Moscow

Simultaneously he warned them not to get wholly off the Communist reservation and to renew their verbal pledge of allegiance to Moscow.

Now Poland's Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz has journeyed to Peking and Mr. Mao is actually going to visit Poland this summer.

Moscow cannot be entirely pleased with this alienation of affection on the part of Peiping. As happened earlier in North Korea, Communist China now has moved into a Soviet preserve and staked out a sphere of influence.

Peiping is interesting itself in the problems of the captive satellites and, to that degree, has expanded its role beyond that of purely Asian power. Peking has developed a formula which allows both for native nationalism and a Communist-solidarity internationalism.

Things are changing in Communist China. It is no longer a purely Asiatic power. Washington doesn't know how to interpret all the developments, but some of its intelligence information suggests that the United States' present containment policy with regard to Communist China is neither effective nor serving America's best interests.

Recently American experts on China felt that Peking leaders were going through what some of them term the "marxism" stage of the Communist march. The Chinese were dreaming heady dreams, were trusting, bemused, ready to strike out dangerously.

Now, however, Peking, avoiding any show of treachery, is playing a quieter, shrewder, more diplomatic game which reaches all the way across a continent to Europe.

CLASS OF 1927 TO MEET MAY 18

Plans have been completed for the 30th reunion of the class of 1927 Belleville High School to be held at the Belleville Hotel, May 18, at the For Hills Restaurant.

A committee composed of Horace Baldwin, George Brown, Albert De Nicholas, Christine Foley, Lillian Metcalfe, Phoebe Spencer, Sue Croft, Wendell Smith, has been successful in contacting better than 90% of the graduating class. To date the response has been excellent, with one member of the class now residing in California planning to attend.

To round out the reunion festivities Charles L. Steele, former principal of Belleville High has promised to attend.

Wesley Mother-Daughter

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet of the W. G. S. of the Wesley Methodist Church will be held at the church on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Olin Y. Shute of Nutley will show pictures of Japan, Ellen Anderson and Edna Graves will sing. Circle Ten will be hostesses.

WALLS STARTED FOR NEW SCHOOL

Holy Family Expects Eight Room, Two-Story Addition To Be Ready For September

Construction of foundations for a two-story, 8-classroom addition to Holy Family parochial school, to be ready for the reopening of school next September, was begun yesterday by the Riefolo Construction Company, of Belleville, general contractors for the quarter million dollar project.

The foundation work is combined with the construction of a concrete retaining wall around two sides of the parish convent. When the addition is completed, there will be a narrow arwayway between the new school and the convent.

Mrs. DiLuca said yesterday that even though the parish has abandoned original plans for a wholly new detached school on a site in Memphis Avenue acquired from the town, it now intends to keep that area for congregational parking on Sundays.

Kiwanis Announce Plans, Take In New Members

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville is fast becoming the largest service organization in the community, according to president Kenneth D. Smith. The latest business to join the group are representatives of the diversified professions and business of Belleville.

John Boyd, of Chas. Scribner & Sons, 525 Main Street, one of the leading publishing firms in the country, represents this firm.

Saul Sneller, owner of the Mary Oliver Dress Shops, 143 Washington Avenue, was also elected to membership. Sneller has been in business locally for over the past eight years.

The local club holds their luncheon meeting every Tuesday at noon in the Bethany Lutheran Church and each week obtains an outstanding speaker to speak to the group.

The results of the first Card Party used as a means to raise funds to carry on charitable work in Belleville have been announced. Twelve hundred dollars was realized in the endeavor.

Frank Boen of the Peoples National Bank & Trust Co., as chairman of the Past President's Night, announces that this affair in honor of Judge Edward Abramson will be held at Parillos on Tuesday, May 7. This is a gala affair with the ladies in attendance.

Basketball Clinic Ends

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that the Grammar School Basketball Clinic which has been conducted for the past six weeks at the Belleville High School gym on Monday nights, terminated on Monday.

Miss Virginia Hamilton, supervisor of the program, announced
