

Plane Issue Interest Taken By Governor

Governor Meyner, who has long given close attention to efforts to minimize the growing problems resulting from aircraft operations at Newark Airport, assured James R. Golden, 62 Tappan Avenue, through correspondence, that he will continue to pursue his interest in this problem (for the noise occasioned by low flying planes) and that he will not be content "until it has been resolved."

The exchange of letters was an outgrowth of Mr. Golden's direct query of the Governor, seeking his stand on the pending announcement which has been played before residents. Mr. Golden served upon a committee designated by Mayor Padula, to discuss the problem with representatives of the National Air Transport Coordination Committee.

Governor Meyner expressed hope that additional installations and a re-routing pattern of flight would result in improvements, for the present. The Chief Executive disclosed that the New Jersey Bureau of Aeronautics is now conducting a study of possible sites, an traffic problems, and other physical problems and the economic factors involved in projecting the future modes of future "jet age" air transportation. He indicated that the development will be influenced by his findings.

Supplementing the work of this committee, the Governor appointed an Air Facilities Planning Committee. The committee has met with the Mayor and the State Department of Agriculture. The committee has also met with others concerned with the aviation future of New Jersey. With their background and information available to them, the members will be in a position to present their views on all points of view as facilities for the future are planned and developed.

State Senator, Malcolm S. Forbes, the Governor's appointee and gubernatorial candidate in fall, in response to similar questions from the Governor, stated his "sympathy" to the problem of noisy aircraft.

The Senator said, "Unquestionably, the 'jet age' goes into full effect, and we will certainly need a modern airport in Central Jersey."

Citing the Legislature has just appointed a committee, chaired by Senator Robert Crane, of Union County, to study thoroughly the whole problem with particular emphasis on the main subject of noise. Senator Forbes said, "I shall look forward to the recommendations in the main subject of noise."

ISADORE PADULA URGES ACQUISITION OF PARK LAND

Local Mayor Ready To Propose Acquisition Of 12 Acres Near Joralemon

Mayor Isadore J. Padula said Tuesday night that he will propose that the Essex County Park Commission acquire and develop about 12 acres south of Joralemon Street, near the Third River, as compensation for park land lost to the Rt. 21 freeway.

Padula said he will outline his plan at a meeting tomorrow with officials of Nutley, Bloomfield, the Park Commission, the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development and Curtis C. Colwell, Essex County engineer. The meeting is for the purpose of developing a plan for flood control of the Third River in Belleville, since most of the river flows through land the county would develop.

The mayor said he will urge the Park Commission to acquire three parcels owned by the late Joralemon Street near Fairway Avenue, one tract of about one acre owned by Karl Sommer of Nutley, owner of a construction company, who a few months ago unsuccessfully sought permission to erect garden apartments on the tract.

The first of disgruntled looking three some is Ronald Raphael, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raphael, 634 Joralemon Street, next in line is Mitchell Shivers, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shivers, the same address, both living in the Queen Ann Apartments; and the last is Franklin Gigerelli, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Gigerelli, of 9 Delia Terrace.

Case Leads In Fight For Civil Rights

Wants Negroes To Enjoy Right To Go To School, As Well As Right To Vote

Although the best guess now is that after a lengthy debate, or even a filibuster, to give the nation's geographical divisions a chance to state their positions, a compromise civil rights bill will be passed in Congress this summer, New Jersey's junior senator, Clifford Case, has been a die-hard opponent of compromise.

In an exclusive interview, by telephone, yesterday, Senator Case told The Times-News, from Washington, that he will continue to fight to prevent any dilution of the Administration's bill. In this week's tests, Case fought to prevent the passage of the Anderson-Alben amendment which would whittle the bill down to a mere protection of negroes voting rights.

Both are anxious to prevent any watering down of the clauses which would empower Federal courts to enforce school integration in a state of flux and confusion. Not for more than a century had party lines meant so little that the voters elected a President from the building to the White House.

It would take the fingers of a couple of hands to check off all the points but here are some of them: Rule By Coalition. The GOP-Dixie conservative coalition has ruled Congress (Continued On Page Two)

DURKEE APPOINTS TUCKER KARATZ RED CROSS HEADS

"Winni" Tucker Selected Chairman Of Volunteers; Karatz, First Aid Chairman

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Chairman of the Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, today announced the appointment of Mrs. Herbert Tucker, "Winni," as she is affectionately called by her friends, to the important position of Chairman of Volunteers. Her duties include surveying the need for service and then recruiting, training and recruiting volunteers. Later she will appoint a committee to help her.

"Winni" is especially well qualified for this responsibility because of her broad community interests which include her Church, the Girl Scouts, the Parent Teacher Association, the Essex County Tuberculosis League and the Red Cross. Dr. Frank M. Durkee also appointed Walter Karatz Chairman of First Aid. Mr. Karatz has been associated with Red Cross as a First Aid instructor since 1952. He received his 5 year pin this June.

Other chairmen re-appointed are: Peter Wendel - Disaster Service and Safety Services, Leonard (Continued On Page Two)

BELLEVILLE MAN BURNING, SAVED BY TWO TEEN-AGERS

Robert Killen, 37, Ignited While Refinishing Floors, Listed In Fair Condition

Police credited two teenage brothers with saving the life of a man who was burned Tuesday in a flash fire. Robert Killen, 37, of 47 De Witt Avenue, was refinishing floors in a second floor apartment at 20 54th Street, New York, when some lacquer ignited, setting his clothes afire.

Police said Killen was screaming from the building to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas De Lorenzo, 18, ran to the kitchen where Killen was writing in pain of the floor.

The boys grabbed a two-gallon can of oil and poured its contents over the injured man. Killen's condition is listed as fair in North Hudson Hospital, Weehawken. A fire in the apartment where Killen was working was brought under control by Thomas De Lorenzo and extinguished by firemen.

Four Of Six Floors Of New Hospital Will Open Aug. 18

Patients Will Be Moved From Present Hospital In Newark Week After Formal Dedication On August 11; Two Floors Will Be Finished Later

The formal dedication of the new Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, overlooking Branch Brook Park in Franklin Avenue, has been set for Sunday, August 11, with the start of hospital operations on four of the six floors the following Sunday, August 18, when patients will be transferred to the new building from the old hospital at Twelfth Avenue and Newton Street, Newark.

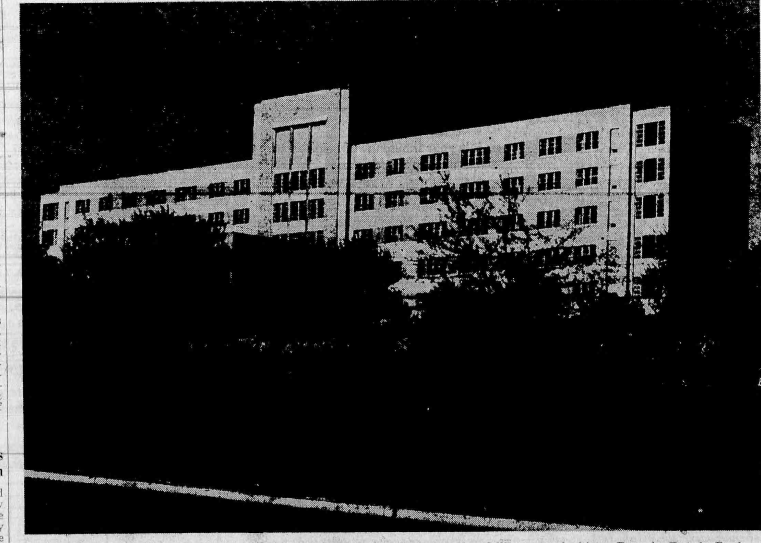

Work was being pushed today on the construction of two new Belleville streets to serve the hospital's public parking areas. While their completion, the hospital will be ready because, structurally it is now finished and its mechanical installation is being put through.

During the week preceding the dedication, there will be a series of preview tours during which doctors, newspaper editors, clergymen and educators will be invited to tour the building.

On Friday, August 9, designated as "Hospital Day," officials of hospitals in the Newark area and trustees of the Greater Newark Medical Center will be guests. Hospital officials also have scheduled "Neighbor Days" on August 11 and 12 so that, through guided tours, the public can see the scope and extent of the services and facilities the new hospital is placing at the disposal of residents and persons employed in Nutley, Belleville North Newark and Bloomfield.

Among construction features that will be pointed out to tour participants will be the hospital's hard proof west wing, walls which are composed of four inches of brick, an inch of air space and eight inches of reinforced concrete. Visitors will also be invited to inspect the air-conditioned surgery area in which walls, floors and ceiling are made of three-eighths inch steel and the view boxes for X-ray pictures are of heavy gauge steel and lead.

New Clara Maass Hospital Will Be Dedicated On August 11

The new $5,000,000 Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, on the hilltop overlooking Branch Brook Park, in Franklin Avenue, will be formally dedicated on Sunday, August 11. One week later, its hospital facilities will start to function on four of the six floors. The two remaining floors will be finished and equipped as funds become available and as the need for them develops. The completed hospital will have 324 rooms.

$59,000 For Water Mains To Be Assessed As Local Improvement

At Tuesday evening's Town Commission meeting, an ordinance was passed authorizing construction of a $59,000 water main to service the Plenge Farm area as a local improvement. Protest from Thomas P. Greco met with no satisfaction. He stated that More Place, still only a street on a map, is not part of the Rutan estate. Greco owns two lots on the street which are closer to the Plenge Farm section. He felt the inclusion of Morse Place unfair.

HYDE RELATES VIEWS RE RUTAN DEVELOPMENT

Commissioner Tell Of His Continued Opposition To Project, In Correspondence

In a statement relayed to the Times-News, Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde related his views on the Rutan Estate project. When the Rutan Estates were negotiating to purchase the Plenge Farm, and before they actually purchased the property, I made my position clear that the development would be of any benefit to the Town of Belleville. I surmised that the amount of taxes which the Town would realize, receive would in no way be sufficient to compensate the Town of Belleville for the added services which the Town would have to supply, such as police and fire protection, sewerage disposal and school facilities.

I tried, without avail, to convince the other members of the Board that to allow these developers to come into Town and develop the Plenge Farm would be a serious mistake. I believe that time will prove me to be right. However, from the very inception, the Rutan Estates agreed that they would put in and pay for all streets, sewers, and all other utilities, including water mains.

The Rutan Estates have tried by threats of legal action against the Town, to persuade the Town of Belleville to pay for the installation of water mains, a duly requested the Town to put it through as general improvement. This would shift the burden of payment for the improvement from the Rutan Estates to the property owners in Belleville. Failing in their threats against the Town, they now are using this method. Since they could not have the Town pay for the improvement, the variance was sought.

Another citizen, Frank Gundigiano, appeared in regard to the variance. He stated that the variance he sought to allow his three-family house in 101 Malone Street to remain as such. The house at present is in a two-family residence family zone. He made a plea for the variance to be granted. The variance was granted.

EXPLOSIVE SOUND HEARD TUESDAY

A loud explosive sound was heard over Belleville, and Northern New Jersey, Tuesday. It was apparently caused by a jet aircraft breaking the sound barrier. The blast occurred 10:50 p.m. Thursday.

Livingston Police, who share a radio channel with the Hillside police, reported that they had heard a call on the Hillside radio which said that a jet plane in Hillside saw a jet plane at the time of the noise.

The tower at Newark airport said that it knew of no aircraft in the area that might have exceeded the sound barrier. The noise was heard as far away as New York and New Brunswick.

Board Votes To Postpone All Further July Meetings

The Board of Education acted last week upon a resolution previously tabled at the July 1 meeting. All members voted yes on the proposal to postpone all further meetings in July. All important matters and business had to be handled by the board. There was no reason to have additional meetings during the month.

Fight On Freeway Carried To Trenton Clifton Seeks Delay

Senator Frank W. Shershin Will Introduce Bill To Halt Construction Of New Expressway At Route 3 For Present

Clifton's bitter fight to prevent the extension of Route 21 beyond Nutley at Route 3, because of the $1,500,000 loss of ratables involved, won the support this week of State Senator Frank W. Shershin (R-Passaic) who told the Times-News, yesterday, that he will introduce a bill that would halt construction of the new six-lane freeway at Route 3 until alignments of the road are settled to the satisfaction of Clifton and Passaic officials.

In addition, Shershin said he will urge Dwight R. G. Palmer, state highway commissioner, to continue holding hearings on the freeway through Clifton and Passaic after further studies are made into solving complaints made by municipal officials, businessmen and residents.

He said he will introduce the bill when the Legislature reconvenes in November.

The State Highway Department informed The Times, yesterday, that Senator Shershin's bill, even if adopted by the legislature, will not delay or prevent the construction of the freeway through Nutley to provide, at least, a new traffic link with Newark and the highway to New York.

The freeway is being built in segments, the first section, now under contract to be completed within a year running from the Newark-Belleville line to Roosevelt Avenue. The second section, through Nutley, would extend from Roosevelt Avenue to Route 3, ending at the intersection of that highway and an elaborate traffic interchange.

As part of that interchange, the road, between Route 3 and Kensington Terrace, in Passaic, would have to be relocated. The Highway Department said that studies of the freeway alignment beyond Kensington Terrace have not yet been completed.

Commissioner Palmer and his chief engineer, O. Herbert Fritzsche, however, are not inclined to heed the requests of Mayor John Surpento, of Clifton, and Paul DeNunzio, of Passaic, that the freeway, beyond Route 3, cross over the Passaic River and continue northward to Patterson on the Bergen County side of the river.

Fritzsche suggested that there may, eventually, be two parallel freeways, one on each side of the river. He said surveys show a need for a freeway east of the Passaic River through Harrison to service Bergen County, also, but said the traffic patterns are not such that it is not good sense to build a road on one side of the river to service areas on the other.

COLONY CLUB TO RUN ANNUAL PICNIC

Local Organization Outing Sunday At Forest Hill Park

Approximately one hundred and thirty young ladies from St. Anthony's Orphanage, in Kearny, ranging in age from 8 1/2 to 16 years, will be the guests of the Belleville Colony Club's third annual picnic, Sunday.

The group will depart in buses from St. Anthony's at 9:00 a.m. en route to Forest Hill Park, the excursion site, and return at approximately 6:00 p.m.

A committee headed by Daniel Merola, proprietor of the Community Super Market, 530 Joralemon Street, who resides at 528 Joralemon Street, planned the entire procedure.

Members of the five man committee were Patrick Gale, 224 Division Avenue; Nick Manacello, 422 Garden Avenue; Peter Rossi, 229 Lyle Street; and Jack Ventura, of 185 Cortland Street.

The Colony Club which meets monthly was organized four years ago. Its officers are: President, Frank Laverdi, 174 Union Avenue; Vice President, Charles Rossi, 154 Belmont Avenue; Treasurer, Mr. Merola; and Secretary, Mr. Manacello. The membership is 50.

The club sponsors many activities held throughout the year, such as dances, sporting excursions, etc.

At Forest Hill, which is located just off Route 23, the girls will swim, eat, participate in a variety of games, and be treated to entertainment with music by Anthony Calderone.

Rutherford Woman Hurt In Joralemon Street Crash

Mrs. Dorothy Cato, of 33 Hastings Avenue, Rutherford, was critically injured in Columbus Hospital this week, after crashing into a Public Service Telephone pole Sunday, on Joralemon Street.

The ambulance was summoned, and Mrs. Cato was taken to Columbus Hospital, where she was treated for possible fractures of her right knee, right arm and chest.

The front portion of the car was completely demolished.

TWO NUTLEYITES INJURED THURSDAY

Ida Naglieri And Jean Vito Hurt In Belleville Crash

Two Nutley girls suffered head injuries when a car driven by one of them on a learner's permit was in collision with another car at Roseland and Schuyler Streets. Their condition was described as fair today by Columbus Hospital.

Hospitalized were Miss Ida Naglieri, 17, of Nutley, the driver, and her companion, Miss Jean Vito, 15, of Nutley, a licensed driver. Miss Naglieri's sister, Theresa, 16, and the driver of the other car, Frank J. Rennie, 25, of Newark, were uninjured.

Commissioner Palmer and his chief engineer, O. Herbert Fritzsche, however, are not inclined to heed the requests of Mayor John Surpento, of Clifton, and Paul DeNunzio, of Passaic, that the freeway, beyond Route 3, cross over the Passaic River and continue northward to Patterson on the Bergen County side of the river.

Youngsters Raise $6.00 For Multiple Sclerosis Fund In Performance Given Last Week

Juvenile entrepreneurs still exist in this society of mechanized living, a society where even the toys require little, if any, need for creative imagination.

The Circus Queen of Jefferson Street, Phyllis Cupparo, gathered together her troupe for the season's show two weeks ago, with the aid of her ringmaster, Toby D'Amboia, raised a $6.00 profit. Proceeds of the charity performance went to the multiple sclerosis fund. The Performance asked no admission fee; however, donations were solicited. All gifts of 10 cents or more were awarded with a commendation of a pipe-cleaner clown. The favors were made by Phyllis Cupparo and Emanuela Covino.

Featured on the bill was a light-rope act by Eloise Riso, after which she and Susan Justice performed a combination twirling-marching act. The Circus Queen divided herself among her administration duties, a Hawaiian Dance, a dancing trapeze and a clown act.

Sharon Assantes, circus singer, sang "Que Sera Sera." Eloise Riso danced her Crystal Dance and Emanuela Covino painted "A Smile and a Ribbon." Gabeled as an old-fashioned girl Emanuela mimed to a recording.

And little Richard Cupparo twirled his baton.

Beginning with a march to "The Greatest Show On Earth" and ending with "God Bless America," the one-night stand was accented by refreshments served by Mrs. Cupparo and Mrs. Riso.

Our congratulations to these enterprising children and their cooperative mothers.

With Negroes gradually added to voting lists in the South, chances of a two-party system would increase. Competing for votes tends to improve social and economic status of the bloc involved. Many Negroes already vote in the South and this has been the effect.

End Of Die-Hards

If votes are extended it could become harder for intemperate legislators to be elected. By itself this would not be a real threat to the southern way of life.

Massive, dogged, uncomplicated, Senator Knowland is now obviously bent on riding the civil rights issue to the governorship of California in a strategy designed to make him the 1960 G.O.P. presidential candidate. There are his Oriental and Mexican minority in California where his leadership of a successful Senate fight would help.

It was his critical maneuver that kept the pending bill out of the hostile Eastland Senate Judiciary Committee. His name and prestige are more closely linked with the rights battle.

Waiting Presidential Aspirations Vice-President Richard M. Nixon stands to gain, too. It was his ruling last January that the Senate is not a "continuing body" and hence can adopt new rules every two years that opens the way for possible later rejection of the filibuster rule since it requires the almost impossible 64 votes to apply closure. The Senate refused to follow up the Nixon ruling, 38-55, however.

Majority Leader Johnson, who believed to cherish presidential ambitions, faces the supreme challenge of his career—the effort to hold his given party together and achieve a compromise between the liberal and Democratic left-wingers such as Paul Douglas, of Illinois.

Finally, there are the Democratic liberals. Where do they go from here? They are not used to team play, some are prima donnas, many are deeply disturbed at accepting Senator Knowland's leadership.

They recall the old GOP-Dixie coalition. They note how Democratic victory has always given southerners the choice committee chairmanships by seniority.

They have had a possessive feeling toward the civil rights issue for years. For years it has grabbed it. Even in victory their prospect is clouded.

They mustered only 18 votes last week in an effort to block the "take-up" civil rights resolution—a point where a dozen times in the past they won their victory.

Old Confederates Desert They were deserted by every border state and by two of the old Confederate states, Tennessee and Texas, not to mention Oklahoma, Missouri, and Maryland.

There is a tingling sense in Congress that after 30 years a civil rights bill is going to pass. Watered down or not it means that ultimately the Negroes will vote.

If Negroes finally gravitate to the GOP the Republicans could become America's majority party.

The power of the vote is already illustrated by the way northern politicians are grabbing for Negro support in metropolitan areas in the current struggle.

This, in effect, would put the Town of Belleville through the expense of installing a turbine in the installation of the water mains project for the Rutan Estates, and involve many Belleville residents to have to collect, over a period of years, from the individual purchasers of the homes, the assembly of the water mains project. This would cause an added burden to the Town. The Town should be satisfied with this obligation.

Then, too, it would not be fair to the purchasers of these homes to have them purchase the water at a state figure and then at a later date find that they have a substantial sum staring them in the face which must be paid.

The Rutan Estates made a promise that they would put in sewers, streets, water mains; in fact all services and utilities. And it is no surprise that they should not be permitted to deviate from this promise, nor should they be allowed by the legislature to escape from the promise as originally made to the Town of Belleville.

On the upper floors where patients rooms, operating rooms, the maternity suite are located, wardless hospital, oxygen is pumped to each room, and that oxygen is maintained in each patient's bed and the nurses' station. They have been treated for the entire hospital, fireproof, waterproof and have been acoustically treated for quiet.

As originally planned, accommodations for patients were to be on the sixth floor. Presently, however, only the first four floors will be devoted to patients' service. The fifth floor will be used for funds become available, the hospital will equip the two upper floors of the building.

Heat (Continued From Page One) wave and lack of rain have raised the crop loss estimate to 10 million dollars. Tomatoes, corn, potatoes, and green vegetables have been hard hit. Apples and peaches are also suffering.

The heat wave and drought brought another kind of forest fires. The worst midsummer fire outbreak on the memory of State Fire Service officials swept through more than 2,000 acres of parched timber lands in Ocean, Monmouth, and Middlesex counties, Monday.

The heat also put a strain on electric power facilities. The situation, caused by heavy use of air conditioning and fans and a breakdown in the Public Service Electric and Gas Company generators, was eased by customer response to an appeal by the company.

After the breakdown of its generators at Kearny and Linden, which occurred when two other generating units were shut down for repairs. Public Service called on all major power users and the public to cut use of electricity to a minimum. As a result the company said that the drain on power had not approached the expected peak.

Many employees were given Monday afternoon off in many local companies because of the excessive heat.

Hyde (Continued From Page One) the assessment go against all the property owners in the Town of Belleville, they gave us a favorable proposal—that the Town put in the water mains as a local improvement and assess against the houses that are being built. A Wheel of Seasons

Here lies the perfect symbol, quiet now
And resting from its journeys, mile on mile;
The whirling race is done, but time is slow
In weathering a flattened wagon wheel.
Within a circle, lying on the ground,
Twelve spokes divide twelve plots of grass
And weed
In formal gardens, segments in the round
Now measuring a different kind of speed.
Each spring can find the pattern soon enough
But summer growth will hide the curving edge,
And autumn leaves will fall for winds to suff
To winter snows have covered every wedge.
The inner part, the hub, the core of change,
Holds seasons fanning from its central hinge.

The "Old Guard" Is Back

As usual, the Essex County Republican leadership has been blinded by distance. Neither Nutley nor Belleville is represented on the 17 member GOP steering committee which the new county chairman, William F. Yeomans announced, along with the bacon and eggs, at Thursday morning's political meeting.

It is said to relate that here in Essex the GOP is, once again, back in the hands of the "Old Guard"—the same gang that caused the serious split last year and the same gang that lost us the governorship last time. Yeomans has replaced Herb Eber in the chairman's role, but the hands that hold the levers are all "Old Guard" hands.

It was to have been expected that Yeomans who rose to power on the revolt against the "Old Guard", would have shown better understanding of the desires of the Republican rank and file. Instead, he reached into the trash can and came up with the same once-discarded old gang—the Ebers, the Mark Antons, the Bill Orchards, the Herman Blanks. No new faces, no fresh blood. No representation for the insurgent wing which took the party away from the Old Guard once before.

Belleville had expected that Yeomans, who should by now know his way around, would have named to his steering committee someone from Belleville and, here, the preference would have been for Commissioner Bert B. Anderson who represents the majority of Belleville Republicans' opinion and who is a trustee of Clean Government.

Anton Sokoll

Anton Sokoll died Friday morning, July 23, at St. Sima Hospital, New York City, of complications. He was 64 years old.

Born in Yugoslavia, Mr. Sokoll came to the United States in 1910. He spent most of his life in Belleville until about four years ago when he moved to West New York.

A retired shipyard worker, he was a member of the John C. Gendo Association, of West New York.

Mr. Sokoll is survived by his wife, Mrs. Diana (nee Yuclo) Sokoll, two daughters, Mrs. Deane Gregorowicz, of Lodi, and Mrs. Viola Willis, of Oradell; one son, Carl A. Sokoll, of Lodi; and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held from Richard J. Hogan Funeral Home, West New York, on Monday. Burial was in Macpherson Cemetery, North Bergen.

John A. Boston

A former Belleville resident, John A. Boston, died suddenly on Saturday, July 20, of a heart attack. He was 53. Before moving to York, Pa., eight years ago, Mr. Boston lived at 13 Beech Street.

While still living in this area, Mr. Boston served 23 years with the Thomson Machine Company in Belleville. He was a leading designer of broad molding machinery. In York he was affiliated with the Reed Standard Corporation of York as the chief designer.

Dr. Arthur Northwood officiated at the funeral services which took place Wednesday from the William W. Irvine and Son Funeral Home, Belleville, at East Ridgeland Cemetery in Passaic.

Edward Parr

Edward T. Parr, of Newark, treasurer of Carson Newton Company, Belleville, died Saturday in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark. He was 39.

Mr. Parr was born in Jersey City and had lived in Newark for 23 years. He joined the local firm, which manufactures files and other tools, more than 20 years ago as a bookkeeper. He was a member of the Down Town Club.

He leaves his wife Mrs. Mary E. Parr; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Tubill, of Brielle and Mrs. Frank Meyers, of East Orange; and two brothers, John, of Newark.

That Yeomans has seen fit to ignore Belleville and to play "footie" with the "Old Guard" is, alas, a sign of the times. Apparently the insurgent uprising of good, loyal Republicans who are opposed to machine-controlled politics is to be done all over again.

A Necessity That Has Been Neglected

It is, undoubtedly, a violation of the law and a public danger for teen-age drivers to take cars into the streets of town and race each other. In recent days, in Belleville there has been a revival of "drag races" and a revival, too, of police and public complaints against these races.

Today, emphasis in the building of automobiles is put on speed. Each new model car increases the horsepower and pick-up speed of its engine. The automobile has become an integrated part of every facet of life in America today. Is it any wonder then that teen-age boys, who, as a characteristic of their age and sex, have always had a tinkering mechanical curiosity, tear down and put together again the engines of cars, tinker with them, rebuild them and attempt to increase their pick-up speed?

The building of these cars, the pride, and the competitive challenge of speed is natural. What constitutes the menace is the racing of these cars on busy public streets. In this metropolitan area, boys are given the opportunity to become interested in the automobile and in its more publicized aspect, speed, without the outlet for the natural result of this manifest interest.

There is a simple solution to this problem, a solution which is a necessity in an area such as this—the construction of an official "drag strip" where teen-age boys can legally take the cars they have built, of which they are justly proud, exhibit them, and have them timed for speed. A "drag strip" would be safe, and could be constantly supervised.

Essex County could take the lead in the construction of such a strip, through the County Park Commission, using part of the funds that will be made available from the sale of the Passaic riverbank park to build a safe cement strip in one of the many county parks, in the Orange Reservation, or in the "meadows".

But, regardless of how it is financed or where it is located, such a strip is a necessity. The benefits by far outweigh the costs. Take the boys and their "souped up" cars off the streets and make them a source of civic pride instead of tragic deaths and scornful headlines.

One Man's Opinion

Twenty-One Years Ago This Week Spain, In The Most Costly Civil War Of History, Freed Herself Of Anarchy

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

Twenty-one years ago, this week, I sat in a hotel lobby at Hendaye, on the French side of the Bidassoa river, and waited for a revolution to break out across the stream. In Spain, I was not alone, because a few hours before the first gun cracked at dawn, in the little Spanish town of Fontarrabia, Claude Bowers, the U.S. Ambassador in Madrid, drove in to Hendaye. He, like I, had been tipped off that a revolution was to break out.

In the next two years, that revolution was to set all Spain ablaze. In total casualties, the Spanish Civil War exceeded our own Civil War back in Lincoln's day. In consequence, its outcome was equally momentous.

France, who in those days in the summer of 1936 was merely a colonel of Spanish colonial troops stationed in Morocco, has ruled Spain these two decades and, this week, twenty years after taking absolute power, he has announced his intention of restoring the monarchy when he goes—a complete cycle since the uprising of Primo De Rivera knocked Alfonso XIII off the throne. In 1888, the leaders of the dreadful warfare of the classes which could be halted only by the further blood-letting of the military revolution.

It is a matter of historical record that Spain, protected by her own civil war, escaped the holocaust of World War II. Spain, Portugal, Sweden, and Switzerland, alone, of all the nations of Europe were able to stay out of the war.

Whatever else can be said of Franco, it should be remembered that although he owed much to Hitler and to Mussolini, who supplied him with arms and with troops in 1936 and 1937, he did not heed their demands and enter the war on their side—an act which would have put the Nazis in Gibraltar and have closed the Mediterranean to us.

Much as the Aga Khan named his grandson as his successor, last week, so, too, Franco, it is believed, will by-pass Alfonso's son, Don Juan, pretender for the Spanish throne, and select Prince Juan Carlos, 19 years old, Juan's king and Alfonso's grandson, as king.

A republic was proclaimed and King Alfonso left the country. He was in Gibraltar, and he began when the Socialist dominated Left-wing Government initiated a program of land and social reform which the Army, backed by the Church, the Monarchists and the anti-Communists resisted.

Spain was ruled by monarchs of the Aragon, Bourbon and Habsburg families until 1931, when the dictatorship of Gen. Primo de Rivera was overthrown.

Under a law of 1947, Spain was declared to be a monarchy, with General Franco empowered to choose the monarch.

Some Spanish circles suggest wounded in fighting there in 1916.

Commanded Foreign Legion

His real military qualities were shown in that hot, tough Spanish corner of Africa and within four years he had worked his way up to the post of second of command of the Spanish Foreign Legion, a famous fighting outfit which fought only in the colonies.

France appeared headed for the top when he was named commander of the Spanish Army's General Military Academy, at Saragossa, but when the Spanish Republic was founded after the overthrow of Primo de Rivera, Franco was exiled first to the Balearic Islands, then to Morocco and, finally, to the Canary Islands.

He was in the Canaries when the Civil War started in July 1936, but was ordered to fly to the mainland where he organized the transport to the mainland of the Spanish Foreign Legion and remnants of Moorish cavalry. Once they reached the mainland, they deserted the republic and joined up with the revolutionary army.

France remained behind in Tetuan until he was called to take the place of Sanjurjo and lead the rebellions army.

The real leader of the revolution to overthrow the left-wing Spanish Republic was General Sanjurjo. He had been in exile in Portugal and it was during his flight from Portugal into Spain to assume the field command of the revolting Spanish Army that his plane was sabotaged and he fell to his death.

Chosen As Neutral

I remember well the jealous arguments that followed. There were a number of high generals grouped around him. All of them wanted to take over; none would allow another to do it.

Finally, in desperation, they agreed to hunt a neutral candidate and Franco, an able career soldier, was their choice—although I was told afterward that some of them thought they were choosing Franco's brother, Ramon, a famed Spanish flier who had won glory by his first flight across the South Atlantic to Spanish America.

It was the historical anniversary of the start of the Spanish Civil War, it might be timely to recall that although Generalissimo Franco is held up by many as a dictator who grabbed power from a free people by force of arms, nothing is farther from the truth.

Francisco had nothing more to do with the start of the Civil War 21 years ago, than I did and he was merely a man who was sent for United Press assigned to report the revolution. When the fighting began, I entered Spain at Irun. Franco was, at that time, a colonel in command of Moroccan troops at an army camp at Tetuan, in Spanish Morocco.

Francisco had been a career soldier since boyhood. Born in 1892, he was only 15 years old when he entered the Spanish "West Point" at Toledo as a cadet and graduated as a 2nd Lieutenant in 1910. As a new officer he volunteered for service in Morocco and was stars and took over in his march on Madrid.

It took him two years to win his war but he won it in a final campaign in Catalonia during which he drove the International Brigades, organized by Moscow among world Communist sympathizers and volunteers, and the remnants of the "Republican" army across the Pyrenees, at Figueras into France—where the defeated army was penned up in barbed wire enclosures on the sandy shores of the Mediterranean, near Perpignan, to remain under miserable conditions, abandoned by Moscow, for several years.

It was only after his military victory that Franco assumed the title of "caudillo", the Spanish word for "leader", and took over the post of Prime Minister. He organized a cabinet and proceeded with the reconstruction of a country that had, to the extent of more than two-thirds, been laid waste by revolution and civil war.

Francisco had been in power for barely a year when World War II broke out. Although both Hitler and Mussolini had backed him morally and militarily with "volunteer" aviators and troops, tanks and artillery, Franco issued a declaration of "strictest neutrality".

WOMEN DO HAVE MONEY!

A recent survey indicates that women own one half of the 110 billions in savings accounts, one half of the 55 billions invested in Government Bonds, and receive about three-fourths of the insurance death benefits; and pay 80% of inheritance taxes. They do have money. How well they manage their money, earned and inherited, depends largely on their choice of advisers.

ST. ANTHONY'S IS TROUNCED BY ST. ROCCO'S IN CYO

Local Entry's Record Now At 2-3; Will Face St. Peter's (1-2) Sunday, 3:30

St. Anthony's, came off second best last week as second-round play got under way in the Essex County CYO's intermediate basketball league.

St. Anthony's, which had designs on the second-half title, was rocked on its heels by St. Rocco's, Newark, a 14-7 winner. St. Rocco's had only won one game in first-round competition.

The first two frames gave indication that a slugfest match would ensue as each club traded three times. But in the third, St. Rocco's scored three runs and then added fifth in the fourth to turn the contest into a rout. A four-run rally by St. Anthony's in the sixth inning just proved to be pesky.

The winners collected 13 hits, including a home run by Al Santoro. Don Keilin did all he could to keep St. Anthony's in the game with a homer and triple.

Belleville's other intermediate entry, St. Peter's, was not scheduled to play until a natural week with St. Anthony's this Sunday. The contest is scheduled for 8:30 at Branch Brook Park Extension. St. Anthony's takes a 2-3 record into the fray. St. Peter's overall mark is 1-2.

In the girls 11-14 group there are the leaders: Montgomery - Judy Zaccari - 81 points. Stadium - 77 points.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE OPENS AS PARK AND STADIUM WIN

Pomponio & Lowack Pace Park Nine; Latore Hurts Three Hitter For Stadium

Four of the six teams entered in the playground softball league played their first games during the past week. On Wednesday, No. 4 playground traveled to Belleville park where George Pravatia and Anthony Stivali twirled their team to a 13-4 defeat at the hands of the Park nine. The Park team opened it wide in a third inning spree which produced six runs, while holding down the #4 scoring through the steady pitching of Phil Steinbrink. Hitting stars for the Parkers were Fred Pomponio and Richie Lowack.

On Thursday, the Stadium team played host to the Monignor Kelly Playground and came off on the long end of an 11-3 game. Dan Latore hurled his team to victory, allowing the loser only three hits over the seven inning affair. Frank Amalrico and Fred Bice were the hitting stars for the Stadium team, each getting a home run and single. Tom Dun came off with two hits for the Monignor Kelly team, one of them coming in the three - 9 producing third inning. Fred Bice will see Monignor Kelly facing the Belleville Parkers Tuesday; the Stadium vs. Fairway at the Stadium on Wednesday; and the Recreation House faces number 4 Playground at Belleville Park on Thursday.

Dies In All Souls' Hospital James M. Lynch Succumbs

Former Board Of Education Vice President And Active Local Civic Leader Succumbs At 70

James M. Lynch, of 40 Hamilton Street, Madison, died suddenly last Saturday, at All Souls' Hospital, Morristown. He was 70 years of age.

Born in Brooklyn, Mr. Lynch lived in Newark and Belleville before moving to Madison. Prior to 1951 he was employed by the Prudential Insurance Company in its Newark home office for 45 years. He retired as assistant to the general manager of the Mortgage Loan and Real Estate Investment Department in October, 1951.

A civic leader here for 25 years, he served as vice president of the Board of Education, member of the Recreation Commission, the Welfare Federation, and the Zoning Board. He was a member of Lodges 1123 and 1465 BPO Elks, the Nether and Madison Knights of Columbus, and St. Vincent's Holy Name Society.

Mr. Lynch is survived by his wife, the former Miss Josephine Ryan; a sister, Mrs. Grace Hanne of Newark; four children including Mrs. Regina L. Kennedy of New Providence; Dr. James M. Lynch, Jr., Dean of the State Teachers College, Gloucester; Mrs. Ellen L. Corcoran of Brookport, N. Y., and Mrs. Nancy L. Castellane of this place and seven grandchildren.

The funeral was from the Thomas S. Chiancone Funeral Home, 159 Main Street at 9 a.m. Tuesday. A Solemn High Requiem Mass was sung by a Rev. Fr. George Drexler, at 10 a.m. at St. Vincent's Church. Interment followed in the Isle of Heaven cemetery in East Hanover.

Mrs. Albert Sendkewicz

Mrs. Helen Wojcik Sendkewicz, wife of Albert Sendkewicz, of 104 Overlook Avenue, died recently in her home of pneumonia. She was 45.

Mrs. Sendkewicz was born in Bloomfield and moved to Belleville two years ago.

Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, Henry and Stanislaw, of Caldwell, and Mrs. Pat Milano, of Newark; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Wojcik, of Bloomfield; two brothers, Robert Wojcik, of Baltimore, Md., and Joseph Wojcik, of Bloomfield; and three sisters, Mrs. Robert Stolk, of Passaic, Mrs. Stanley Wierciszewski, of Offside Park, and Mrs. James Duggan, of Passaic.

Mrs. Honora E. Gilsenan

Mrs. Honora Keane Gilsenan, of 160 Belleville Avenue, died suddenly on July 10. She was the wife of the late Hugh J. Gilsenan.

Mrs. Gilsenan is survived by her daughter, Helen C. Gilsenan, and two sons, Bernard P. and Robert E. Gilsenan. The funeral took place last Saturday from the Riegan Funeral Home, 101 Union Avenue. Interment at the Cemetery of the Holy Sepulchre followed at a Solemn High Mass of Requiem in St. Peter's Church.
