

DIABETES SERVICE TO BE AVAILABLE WEEK OF NOV. 17

Health Officer E. T. Berry Urges All Adults To Take Advantage Of Free Test

Eugene T. Berry, Health Officer of Belleville, today urged all adults residents of Belleville to participate in the Diabetes Detection Campaign during the week of Nov. 17-23.

"The State Department of Health says there are about 50,000 persons with diabetes in New Jersey who don't know they have it," Berry said. "Since it is estimated that one person in every 100 is suffering from undetected diabetes, we may have 350 persons right here in our own municipality who have diabetes and don't know it," Berry continued.

"Undetected diabetes is no joke. It can cause different kinds of damage to the body, including damage to the eyesight. Fortunately, diabetes who are under the regular medical care of a physician can lead essentially normal lives.

"The important thing is to identify persons with diabetes. Participating in the Diabetes Detection Campaign is simple, painless, confidential and effective.

"There is available a detection device which can be used in the privacy of one's own home. The detection kit can be obtained at the Department of Health, 1000 Town Hall. After the specimen has been taken and dried, the Draypak should be sent to the Department of Health, Town Hall, Belleville. You will be advised whether the indication for you is negative or positive.

"If positive, only you and your physician will know about it and you go to him for further study and a decision to determine whether you actually have diabetes.

"Hundreds of persons with diabetes have been identified by this screening method. I urge all adult persons in the community to participate. Diabetes is found so infrequently among children that their participation is not recommended, although it is not prohibited."

Last year's drive, the first undertaken in Belleville, was a tremendous success, and it is the hope of Commissioner Smith, who again has been selected as Belleville's chairman, that the people of Belleville will respond in their usual generous and charitable manner.

"There are some things in life that God made possible for a selected group only," Commissioner Smith said, "and one of those is the feeling of pride and great exhilaration a parent experiences when his child has accomplished some undertaking.

"To the parent the sensation is hard to compare and description, and in his mind it is priceless. But as God has endowed only parents with this greatest of sensations, he also has tasked this group and selected a portion of the parents to know an exhilarating above and beyond what man knows as absolute.

"Mischief Night" Or "Vandalism Night"

Which Shall It Be In Belleville? Many Residents Have Their Say

The Times-News Sets Out To Learn What Is Happening; A Number Of Community Leaders Quoted; Parents Thought At Fault By Many

By EDNA G. O'CONNOR

From every part of town — from the residential areas in nearly all sections of the community, from the business districts — complaints of vandalism flooded the switchboard of Belleville Police Department on "Mischief Night," Wednesday, Oct. 30, and Halloween night, Thursday, Oct. 31. One officer on duty said that never had so many calls come in in the same period of time on any occasion.

There were complaints of cars being smeared with paint, one young woman found badly doused with black paint that a complete new paint job had to be done, and one woman was a complaint of a paint on a porch which was not noticed by the occupant of the house until she had stepped into it and had tracked it onto her floors and rug.

There were innumerable complaints of obscene words printed on store windows. There were also false fire alarms. There were complaints of eggs being thrown at homes and places of business.

Belleville Goes Democratic All The Way; Majorities To Meyner For Gov., Assembly And County Tickets

GOVERNOR ROBERT B. MEYNER Sweeps State To Win Re-Election

Belleville joined Essex County and the state to give Gov. Robert B. Meyner a substantial lift in his bid for reelection Tuesday, and went along with the county in helping to choose a Democratic Assembly delegation, three Democratic members of the Board of Freeholders and re-elect a Democratic County Supervisor.

With no local elections to distract their attention, the local Republican and Democratic organizations were in a position to campaign diligently for the county and state tickets of their respective parties. The regular Democratic workers were represented by a dedicated and industrious group of Democrats, Republicans and independents operating under the banner of the Meyner for Governor Club.

The results of all this strong campaigning was a made evident Tuesday night when the vote was counted.

Normally a Republican — voting town, Belleville gave majorities to all the Democratic candidates on the list — from Gov. Meyner to the Freeholder aspirants.

Belleville has a registered voting strength of 16,665. These voters are distributed among four wards and 21 districts.

Of the eligible voters, 9,226 pulled levers Tuesday. This was a turnout of 55%.

In the gubernatorial race, Belleville gave Meyner 6068 votes to 4579 for Forbes. This carried all four wards; of the 21 districts, he obtained majorities in 17. The four districts which stuck to their Republican guns were the first in Ward 2, the first and third in Ward 3 and the fifth in Ward 4.

In the vote for 12 members of the Assembly, the Republicans did best here among the Republicans, garnering 4656 votes. However, his best was not good enough, for all Democratic candidates received above 5000 each. The top vote in this bracket went to Belleville's "favorite son," Leonard D. Ronco, who rolled up a vote of 5842. This was high on the Democratic ticket, even for a Republican candidate.

In the race for County Supervisor, Ronco, who held this position a strong effort was made to unseat Democratic Weldon R. Sheets, the incumbent. Ronco was unopposed to the tune of 5062 votes. John L. Martin, his Republican opponent, received 4608.

In the race for seats on the Board of Freeholders, Messrs. Faulkner, Cannon, Barone and Steinmann, the Republicans, received 4116, 4404, 4193 votes, respectively. The victorious Democrats, Messrs. McKenna, Salducci and Moss, were given 5157, 8290, 5018 votes, respectively.

Belleville's registration is divided among the Wards and districts as follows:

WARD 1 — 1 — 657, 2 — 403, 3 — 2077, total — 1737.
WARD 2 — 1 — 682, 2 — 592, 3 — 746, 4 — 732, 5 — 670, 6 — 681, total — 4123.
WARD 3 — 1 — 882, 2 — 692, 3 — 645, 4 — 652, 5 — 876, 6 — 1274, total — 6225.

WARD 4 — 1 — 752, 2 — 744, 3 — 715, 4 — 981, 5 — 1088, 6 — 1200, total — 5460.

As Democratic Party chairman, I wish to express my thanks to everyone in Belleville who made possible our Democratic victory.

"In addition to the officers and executive committee," Miss Pohl's statement said, "We had more than 80 workers sharing in and contributing toward efforts sponsored by the local club.

"I am certain that the entire town will be rewarded by their Democratic victory."

Get Out The Red Flannels, Winter Will Be "Surly"

"Old Farmer's Almanac" Predicts It Will Be "Ferly And Much Too Surly" With Snow Starting Before Thanksgiving And Christmas Really "White"

If you believe in the thickness of a bob-cat's fur, the color of moss and a lot of natural signs which generations of American farmers, weatherwise by experience, use to determine the weather ahead, this is going to be a "ferly and much too surly winter, a real humdinger", in the words of the "Old Farmer's Almanac" which came out, this week, for the 166th consecutive year.

The "Almanac" looked into the thickness of bobcats' fur and investigated the color of moss and came up with the prediction that it will be a long, unusually cold winter.

The first snows, the Almanac says, will be due before Thanksgiving, the first real snow coming between Nov. 28 and 29, fol-	lowed by a snow-laden Nor'easter. Snow will continue all during December and Christmas, will be white—and cold.

Football Banquet Committee Named

Joe Grosch, general chairman of the Varsity Club's 13th annual football banquet honoring members of the Belleville High School grid team, this week, announced various committees which will work towards making the dinner one of the most successful ever held.

The banquet will be held on Thursday, December 5, two days before the campaign finale against arch rival Nutley High and will be at the Robin Hood Inn, in Clifton. This is one of the Varsity Club's three major projects of the year, the others being the production of the football program and the All-Sports Banquet in June. The sale of ads for the program helps defray expenses for the two banquets which honor all Blue and Gold senior athletes.

Tickets for the 43th annual affair are now on sale and may be purchased from any member of the Varsity Club or at Andersen and Fobert's Texaco Service Station or the Belleville Rosary House.

Named to the program committee by Grosch were: Al Andersen, Al Iacullo, Harold Fobert and Mark O'Connell. Vic Pomponio will be in charge of decorations. The ticket committee will be headed by Nick Landolfi, assisted by the Morano, Rocco Corone, Ed Baccarelli and Joe Landolfi. The awards committee includes Bill Chapman, chairman; Jerry Bonavito, Ralph Casale, Jim Apple and Bill Murphy.

This year in addition to the senior awards, the Nelson Landon Memorial Trophy will be awarded to the most improved player on the team and the Tony Pascal Memorial Trophy will be awarded to the outstanding player on the team.

Last year the respective trophies were won by Gene Pinadella and Pat Mc Cabe.

CYO Girls For Hoop Program

More than 120 entries last season, at least as many this year. That's the goal the Essex County CYO set for itself this week with an announcement that the CYO would sponsor basketball leagues in six different classifications.

For boys there will be leagues in the grammar school, junior, intermediate and senior class. Girls will compete on the grammar school and junior level. The CYO is making plans to set up as many as five leagues in divisions where the entry is particularly heavy.

Competition in all divisions will be on a two-half basis, winner of the first round meeting the winner of the second preparatory to playoffs between Newark and suburban winners for county championships. Archdiocesan play will follow the county competition.

League competition will start late in November, with games being played at Newark public school gyms weekday nights and at Catholic school courts in the suburbs on Sunday afternoons.

Crystal Gazing

That average of mine dropped off 17 points last Saturday but believe it or not it is still at a surprising 306 mark as most of the favorites continue to come through.

One upset, however, was recorded as West Side took the measure of highly favored East Orange 14-13, as I backed the Panthers. Another surprise was the 6-6 tie as Garfield gave favored Belleville a tough scrap. So far 29 out of 32 games have been pegged. Let's see if I can keep that average up.

Belleville to take South Side. The Blue and Gold was a surprised group last week as Garfield played heads up ball and held them to a 6-6 tie. I look for them to make up for it against South Side.

Clifton to edge Nutley. The Mustangs have a very strong team and displayed a terrific passing attack while downing a strong East Rutherford team, 19-13. Scouts say that quarterback Bob Gursky, who hurled all three touchdowns passes, is a better passer than Roger Fardin. Clifton has a huge squad and has been wearing down the opposition. Nutley can take Clifton only if it is able to stop that aerial attack.

Barringer to swamp Weequahic. This will not be a contest as Barringer wins this one in a walk and holds Weequahic scoreless.

Bloomfield to lace Irvington. The Bengals can name the final score in this one. Bloomfield is undefeated and racked up 40 points against West Orange last week, while Irvington is still seeking its initial victory. Jack Panico and Tony Pascal will have a field day.

East Orange to sink Orange. The Panthers were jolted by West Side but I don't look for East Orange to be the victim of another upset. Orange showed no attack against Nutley.

Montclair to pulverize West Orange. The Cowboys were blanked, 40-0, by Bloomfield last Saturday. You name the final score in their game against Montclair.

Jefferson to trim Central. The High Streeters do not have enough of a well balanced attack to hope for much against Thomas Jefferson.

Columbia to scalp Kearny. The Cardinals came through last week with their first win over Irvington but that snarl of success will be short lived as Columbia finishes in front with touchdowns to spare.

Grammar School Band To Play, March At Grid Game

Times - Grammar School Band

For the past four weeks the All Grammar School Marching Band has been rehearsing after school in preparation for the coming week.

Saturday, Nov. 9, the band will play for the Belleville home football game. For the first time this year the band will perform during the halftime of the game in place of the high school band.

The band will form the letter "B" for Belleville and play the high school's Alma Mater. Elementary school marching bands are rare because of the immaturity of the elementary school musicians. However, Belleville's All Grammar School Marching Band will attempt to do formations also.

The band is organized by the instrumental music teachers in the grades: Messrs. Scelbi, Selitti and Shindel. It is composed of students in the several elementary schools in Belleville in grades from Fifth to Eighth.

The band will appear on Monday evening's Veterans Day parade and at the Nov. 16 Belleville home football game.

South Side Game Looms As Important In Face Of Tie Last Week Against Garfield

By DAVE THALER

As a result of Belleville's 6-6 tie against Garfield, against whom the Bellows were 21-point favorites, tomorrow, Saturday, a game with South Side takes on added importance.

Garfield and South Side were supposed to be soft spots in the Blue and Gold schedule. Garfield has been playing weaker opposition, and the Stripes have been playing in the City League, which has a reputation of being about the weakest league in the area.

Now the situation is changed somewhat. Not only must Belleville defeat South Side tomorrow, it must do it in a big way. A victory by the margin of a touchdown would damage the Bellows' prestige as much as did the tie against Garfield.

Belleville's record on 30 stands at 2-1, and another blemish would take it out of the picture. The competition for the rest of the year will be provided by the Jugiz Ten Conference.

The Bellows' performance last week was probably the poorest they were capable of giving. The defense was good on the ground, but punting was poor. Garfield went to the air. Their offense started rolling several times, but in all but one instance it never reached yardage.

Belleville gave no indication at the outset that the game was to have an off day. Garfield, although it won the toss, chose to kick to Belleville. The Blue and Gold made that strategy backfire. "Mk D'Angelo, Belleville's second leading scorer, took the kick off and ran it back to the Garfield 35. Then Gene Barra and Johnny D'Angelo alternated with D'Angelo in grinding out the yardage.

When it seemed as though the attack had run out of gas, D'Angelo took the ball on a second down, ten yards to go, and through the middle of the line, and scored the first, and what was to be the last, touchdown of the day for Belleville.

The Bellows contained Garfield's attack for most of the first half, but one brief lapse late in the second period cost them a chance for victory.

Garfield seemed trapped in its own territory, its 32-yard line, to be exact, when Tom Ciffo got behind the Belleville secondary to take a long pass, and got to the Blue and Gold 18 before D'Angelo brought him down.

Another pass found Les Ealing on the one-yard line, and Ron Bohannon took the ball into the end zone for Garfield. That was the extent of the scoring for the day.

Belleville made more progress but the most serious one of the day was made by Garfield. Belleville was backed to its own one-yard line before it could stop the local team. With fourth down and but one yard to go, Bohannon tried for his, and his team's, second touchdown of the game.

The line stopped him cold, and Belleville took over on downs. Belleville's attack was never really stopped by Garfield. They beat themselves. Fumbles, failure to carry out blocking assignments and penalties hurt the Bellows.

In the Irvington game everything went right for Belleville. The opposite was true last week. South Side will be a trial horse for Belleville. If they were just a flash in the pan in rolling up big scores against West Side and Irvington, or if they just had a bad day in Garfield—the answer will be evident tomorrow.

We think that while Belleville isn't as good as it appeared to be in its two victories, it is not as bad as the team looked last week. In any case, South Side shouldn't be as strong enough to hurt Belleville.

SCHOLARSHIP IN MEMORY OF LATE A. PASCAL CREATED

West End Civic League, Inc., announced the establishment of a partial scholarship plan in memory of Anthony Pascal, a past president, civic leader and educator. He died in May 1956.

Mr. Pascal, a graduate of Belleville High School and Muhlenberg College, constantly stressed the desirability of higher education and finer community relations. He fully realized the value of advanced education to the community in conjunction with the basic democratic ideals of our civic organization.

This scholarship plan, created in September 1957, will enable young citizens of our town to pursue further their ideals in the field of higher learning. It is firmly believed by the organization that this scholarship, issued annually will bring forth finer leaders for our town and country.

Additional information regarding applications and requirements can be obtained by writing to Scholarship Committee, West End Civic League, Inc., 57 E. Third Street, Belleville.

Holy Family School P.T.A. Installs New Officers

The officers elected last spring presided at the first meeting of the Holy Family P.T.A. last week.

Louis Tomassetti, president, presided and presented Rev. Father Francis J. Blake, moderator of the P.T.A., who explained the school regulations, and Sr. Beatrice Perazzano, M.P.F., honorary president.

The other new officers are: Albert Bosco, vice-president; Mrs. Helen D'Aleone, secretary; and Francis Morgan, treasurer.

Officer DeHagara, Expert Shot, To Teach Rifle Club

Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde announced this week the appointment of Belleville Police Officer Nicholas DeHagara as instructor of the Recreation Boys Junior Rifle Club.

Action will start at the Municipal Stadium Range at 7 P.M. Tuesday Nov. 12. The Rifle Club is an official National Rifle Association group and is open to boys between the ages of 12 and 18. All scores shot by participants are official and will earn medals and certificates. All shooting is done under the safest possible conditions and the best of supervision.

Because of the number that always turns out for this popular activity, there will be shooting each Tuesday and Friday evening and each Monday and Tuesday afternoon.

Harold Brand, assistant superintendent of recreation and director of the Boys Junior Rifle Club, will instruct at several of the sessions.

Commissioner Hyde says that he feels that Officer DeHagara will offer much to the club. Officer DeHagara is well-known in Belleville as the popular traffic officer at School Three and as officer in charge of the police pistol range. He also is coach of Belleville police pistol team and an active member of this team.

He was the first man to shoot a perfect 300 score in the highly contested Essex County Police Revolver League. In the 1956-57 season he placed second highest in that league for season's average, being beaten by a fraction of a point. This year, in the International Pistol Matches held at Hempstead, L. I., Officer DeHagara placed third among 4000 participants.

He served in the Navy during World War II and was at Pearl Harbor during the infamous Japanese sneak attack. His home is at 79-N. Street and he has been on the Belleville police force since 1951.

Bob Cook, superintendent of recreation, said that "Officer DeHagara has much to offer our young riflemen and in joining Jack Boyd, the Girl's Rifle Club instructor, and Harold Brand, he has provided Belleville with one of the best rifle programs in the country."

GROUND TO BE BROKEN FOR DAY NURSERY

Franciscan Order To Operate Nursery; Rielefio Company To Build Addition

Ground will be broken on Saturday for the day nursery to be operated by the Franciscan Order of St. Elizabeth with the addition enlarging facilities of the former Holy Family Youth Center, at 174 Franklin Avenue.

The addition will house a convent and chapel and will cost about $50,000. Expected to be completed by late February, the nuns will operate a day nursery in the former Italian Community building.

This week it was announced that Rielefio Contracting Co., of Belleville, will be the builder. The Rielefio Co. is presently rushing the Holy Family School addition to completion.

The reconstruction of the Youth Center will start at the same time that building connections on the two-story convent wing.

The present ground floor assembly room will be divided, forming a day nursery for children to 3 years of age and another nursery for children from 3 to 5 years.

A contract has been signed with a New York firm of architects, DeSina and Pellegrini, for the new building and the reconstruction work.

The two-story brick and concrete addition, in the rear, will contain nursery rooms on the ground floor and a convent and chapel on the second floor. Plans are being made for eight nuns to start operations of the day nursery. Applications from working mothers are already being received.

Harbingers of Elections

Two articles of publicity in recent issues of The Times-News may be looked upon as harbingers of elections.

Announcement of its forthcoming series of meetings by Belleville Conference (The Times-News, Oct. 25) serves notice that we are to have a school board election on Feb. 11. It does more than this. It indicates that once again steps are to be taken well in advance of the election date to arouse interest, in the candidates and to have the aspirants screened by a sizable and influential segment of our population with the view of having certain of the candidates endorsed by the Conference.

The second item of publicity referred to is the letter by Lee H. Garson which appeared in the Letters to the Editor department of The Times-News of Oct. 18. The election with which this communication is concerned is the selection of Commissioners in May.

In a personal extension of his written remarks, Mr. Garson has informed The Times-News that the organization about which he wrote — Citizens Tax Council of Belleville — has adopted a platform setting forth its aims and desires. It is the intention of the Council, it was explained to us by Mr. Garson, to endorse and work for the election of those candidates for the Board of Commissioners who promise to fulfill the Council's aims and desires.

Taking an interest in elections so far in advance of their dates is commendable. It is a far more stimulating attitude than the apathy which so often attends the choice of office-holders.

Membership on the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners is a great trust and of tremendous importance to the people. There are those who like to argue that one Board is of greater value than the other. We see them on an equal plane of significance — each supreme in its own field.

It is refreshing to see people so interested in how their schools are run as to make plans to assure the election of men and women they think are best qualified to administer to the educational needs of our children.

It is gratifying to see so many people (700, according to Mr. Garson, who says the number will be 3,000 before long) interested enough in their taxes, in the form of government functioning in their home-town, in protection of civil rights, in public safety measures, in more adequate recreational facilities, in honesty and competency in government. It is encouraging to note that these people are sufficiently energetic to band themselves in an organization which states that its purpose is to help choose of fire-holders who will give them the type of government they believe to be in their best interest.

We are strong for more and more people of our town becoming more and more interested in school administration and municipal government. After all, it is the children of these people who are affected by the quality of our school board personnel and it is the people's money which pays for the upkeep of all the agencies and departments which go to make up our local government.

We have but one request to make of the organizations of men and women who take an active part in choosing our school and municipal authorities. We ask that they operate on a high plane of dignity. We ask that their actions, their campaigning, be on an impersonal, dispassionate, intellectual level.

In this way can they be of inestimable service to their town, their neighbors, themselves.

It's Later Than The GOP Leaders Think!

The victory of Governor Robert B. Meyner, which assumed the proportions of a landslide sweeping a Republican majority out of the lower halls of Trenton, was a personal triumph.

Meyner carried the Democratic party along on the strength of his personality as well as on his liberal policies. By his victory with such overwhelming force, winning an Assembly majority for his party for the first time in twenty years, Governor Bob got a foot into the door of the White House. His successful strategy as a vote-getter can only place him high on the list of Democratic "probables" for 1960, in either the first or second slots on the national ticket. After his accomplishments in this election, Meyner may well be able to swap the rather run-down Morven for the charming mansion in Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

To us, here in Belleville, Governor Meyner's success means a number of things. It means that the voters were not particularly impressed by charges of extravagance and scandal which a vigorous opponent voiced persistently.

It means that even though the Democratic machine is out of date in this swiftest era, it is a better machine than the Republican machine, particularly the "Clean Government" machine in Essex County which spewed its cylinders and shed its tires in a sorry attempt to win a race which it never should have lost. And there's nothing wrong with the old model Democratic machine in Hudson County either.

It means, too, that President Eisenhower, as a person and as a president has lost the prestige and the popularity which he once held only a scant twelve months ago with New Jersey voters — and certainly with all voters across the land. Whether the White House wants to admit it or not, the Forbes Nixon's invasion bearing the endorsement of Forbes by President Eisenhower, is a defeat for the President who carried this state by 750,000 votes just a year ago.

It may seem far-fetched to blame Forbes' defeat on Sputnik or "Mattnik", but it cannot be denied that the Russians' success in planting their satellites over our heads as a grave warning of things to come our way if war ever starts had its effect on many voters. This election and its result must be interpreted as a vote of "no confidence" in the Eisenhower administration as of November 5, 1957.

Unless that confidence can be restored, the Republican national party can but suffer defeat. The first warning was in Wisconsin; that is now confirmed by the defeat here of an excellent and capable gubernatorial candidate in a traditionally Republican northern state which is divided fairly evenly between industry and agriculture.

No blame can be attached to Senator Forbes. He campaigned long, hard and well. He made no mistakes; in fact his strategy was perfect except that he lost. The youthful Senator has not lost prestige. In fact he stands out, today, even in defeat, as one of the few Republican leaders with clear views on the issues of state government — honesty, economy and provident foresight. He would have been an excellent administrator. He will be a roadblock in the Senate to any Democratic waste.

At home here in Essex County, it will be necessary for the Republican party to start from scratch in a housecleaning and a new look. For the first time in twenty years, the party will be without representation in the State Assembly and, as machine politics is played, don't think that is not going to be felt in the State payroll as its largesses are spread throughout Essex.

The Essex stronghold of Clean Government has been standing, too long, on a dry-rot foundation. There have been too many obsolete dictators who refused to take their hands off the levers long after they lost their usefulness and, evidently, after they lost touch with political reality. They must go, either voluntarily or by force.

Clean Government must be reorganized with a realization that there are more independent Republicans than there are cogs in a run-down machine. Essex County's Republicans cannot be led to a well and forced to drink. They vote as they please and, on Tuesday, it is very evident that they were displeased with Clean Government dictatorship.

We take time out here to emphasize that, in our opinion, the blame must not be placed on the present-day chairmen, William Yeomans. He had a toga shoved upon him in a recent emergency and he did not have time to get used to it. Yeomans has proven on every opportunity that he is a political realist and, given time, he may be able to impart his sense of realism to the control of Clean Government. Yeomans must not be made a sacrificial goat, or the same old gang which was shoved out when Yeomans was given the chairmanship will move back in. That could only be disastrous.

One Man's Opinion

At NATO Top-Level Conference In Paris Next Month, Eisenhower Must Convince Partners To Bear Their Share Of Common Defense

By Ralph Eric Heinzen

On paper, NATO, the North Atlantic alliance with offshoots through the Baghdad Pact to virtually surround that part of the Soviet Union which lies in Europe, is a rousing moral success but in reality it is, as outmoded, militarily and politically, as a Model T Ford in today's swept-wing era.

In the light of Russia's perfection of a rocket which carried "Sputnik" into its orbit and then headed a live dog into the Milky Way and in the light of our own recent very successful experiments with ballistic missiles, NATO needs a new uniform. Created in the days of foot-slogging infantry tanks and bombers, it must gird itself for this age of atomic rocketry.

That is the purpose of the meeting, next month in Paris, of the heads of government of all fifteen alliance members to which President Eisenhower is flying — his first trip back to Europe since July, 1955, when he sat down with Stalin and Churchill for the fruitless Geneva summit meeting.

At Paris, the heads of NATO nations must formulate a new plan, reallocate the defense responsibilities of each in terms of a new overall strategy made necessary by Russia's admitted greater progress in developing intercontinental missiles.

Responsibility for providing NATO powers with most of the heavy rocketry obviously would go to the United States. West Germany and other European countries might supply more of the conventional armaments.

There would be specialization, with tasks and commitments undertaken by those most proficient and equipped in various fields.

Certainly, it can be argued, NATO needs to be revitalized by revising its strategic plans. Old formulas based on the years when the United States possessed atomic supremacy and when intercontinental rockets were only a dream in comic books are obsolete. The time is ripe for a new over-all conception of NATO's tasks.

Must Revamp Strategy

Developing a plan that will actually seem new, and that will revive NATO's flagging resolve, will not be easy.

Some nations will be reluctant to supply merely the foot-slogging infantry whose casualties might be expected to be high in an atomic war.

France will be reluctant to do anything until Algeria is settled and may also in the Paris talks to be relieved of even her present responsibility to supply three divisions until her troubles in North Africa are over.

It may take strong persuasion

TO BE DIRECTOR OF FOREIGN SALES

W. A. HOCKETT

Wallace and Tiernan, Inc., Belleville, announced this week that William A. Hockett has been named director of its International Division and president of its international sales subsidiary.

Wallace and Tiernan S. A. He will assume his new position Jan. 1. In his new position Mr. Hockett will direct sales for foreign markets for products manufactured by Wallace and Tiernan divisions and subsidiaries with operations located in the United States, Canada, England, Germany and Australia.

These products include chemical control equipment, electric aids to navigation, precision instruments, pharmaceuticals and chemicals.

In addition, Mr. Hockett will continue as director of Wallace and Tiernan's domestic activities in the four treatment and produce decay control fields.

Mr. Hockett has been associated with Wallace and Tiernan since 1924, graduating that year from the University of Iowa with a B.S. in civil engineering. He resides at 19 Waterbury Road, Montclair.

By reading resumes of the editorial opinion in Paris, Rome, Madrid, Brussels, and other NATO capitals, including London, it is evident that popular confidence has been jolted hard by Moscow's success in launching the second satellite in the form of a rocket which, very easily, could be fitted with a warhead, pointed at the horizon and become an intercontinental missile.

The Soviet achievements, we should anticipate, will tend to strengthen and encourage neutralism in Asia and the Middle East and to impair the morale of some members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and the Baghdad Pact.

It, too, can be expected to have a depressing effect on anti-Communist elements in the Soviet satellites, the diplomatic staff.

The Soviet achievements can be expected to have a tremendous effect on the leaders of Communist countries gathering in Moscow for the fortieth anniversary of the Communist revolution. And especially on Mao Tse-tung of China and Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam, both exponents of the "separate roads to socialism" philosophy.

The mid-December Paris meeting may also help to consolidate France's new government, the 24th cabinet to come to power in Paris since its liberation. There is no doubt in the minds of any of the NATO leaders that the instability of France's government and her troubles in North Africa can gravely weaken the defensive strength of NATO.

O.E.S. CHAPTER TO HAVE RUMMAGE SALE

North Star Chapter, No. 84, Order of the Eastern Star, will have a rummage sale at 150 Washington Ave. Thursday, Nov. 14, from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. Mrs. Isabel Halstead, Worthy Matron, is general chairman.

From Where I Sit . . .

ANTIQUARIAN'S DELIGHT: This department is indebted to Mrs. Louis Muench, of 192 Linden Avenue, for a group of post cards, which, incidentally, Belleville as it was, just as C. Chinnock started to in writing with his first article on BELLEVILLE AS IT USED TO BE, printed in The Times-News of Oct. 18.

Among the cards Mrs. Muench brought to the office for this writer to scan were the following: Second River Dam, Old Reine Along the Second River, High School (the original high school of 1903, not the present structure); Passaic River from White Bridge, Methodist Church, Merry-go-round at Hillside Pleasure Park, Ballroom Ascension at Hillside Park;

Colonial Mansion, Built in 1799 by Gen. McComb, Y.M.C.A. Building, formerly Methodist Church; Belleville Club House (which stood where Cliff's Diner now does business on Washington Avenue); Belleville Hotel (which, a cousin on the card says, was built in 1883); Christ Episcopal Church (not the present structure on Washington Avenue but its predecessor on Main Street); The Old Water Tower.

Also part of Mrs. Muench's collection was a copy of the prospectus issued in 1901 by Greylock Land Co. for its Greylock Manor development.

The Times-News plans to exhibit these pictures in its window (328 Washington Avenue) for a few days.

If reading these words or seeing the pictures in the window stirs the memory of any of Belleville's longtime residents and he feels the urge to place his recollections on paper, letters on Belleville of yesterday will be welcomed by this column.

Before departing from the office after leaving her cards, Mrs. Muench wanted to know why it was that one cannot buy post card scenes of present-day Belleville anywhere in town. A good question. Who has the answer?

And who has the answer to this one: Where is the first river? The item above refers to a post card showing a view along the SECOND RIVER. There has been much in the paper recently about the THIRD RIVER. Now what about the FIRST RIVER?

MORE ON A PET SUBJECT: The brief altercation at the Board of Commissioners meeting Oct. 22 provides an opening for a few additional words on a favorite subject: Town Planning and the Advantages of a Planning Board. I am referring to the dispute between the Board and Thomas Greer over the question of providing for a public hearing on an application for the erection of a service station.

This matter and all such petitions — have no place at a Board of Commissioners' meeting. They should be referred automatically to a Planning Board for study and investigation — with a recommendation being submitted to the Commissioners in due course.

Planning Boards are proving of immense value throughout New Jersey and right here in our own county. A Planning Board could be of equally great worth and usefulness in Belleville in many ways.

I am at a loss to understand why simple a step as the creation of a planning group never has been undertaken by the local governing board.

WHY IS IT? — One of the most amazing and frustrating things about working with and for the people of a community is the lack of interest shown and co-operation proffered by the very folks you are trying to serve. Anyone with organization experience can give you dozens of corroboratory instances. What brings the matter to my mind at the moment are the home nursing courses being offered by Red Cross Chapters in some localities.

These courses are free and are highly valuable in equipping women to act intelligently and effectively when illness occurs and a doctor is not immediately available. Red Cross workers do everything they can think of to bring these free courses to the attention of people who could benefit greatly from the instruction imparted. I hear the courses mentioned on the radio time and again as I drive to work. And yet, when classes are announced by a Red Cross Chapter, only a handful sign up. In fact, in many cases the registration is so meagre the Red Cross does not feel justified in proceeding with the instruction.

"WHEN?" — Here's a question I should like answered. Giving the correct answer will not entitle you $50,000 or any part or multiple thereof — but it would take a weight off my mind. When is it cold enough for a restaurant to start serving hot cereals? I have asked for a hot cereal at several eating places and have been told it isn't cold enough to place such an item on the menu. No restaurateur has volunteered information as to when it will be cold enough to do so. Is it next week . . . next month . . . when the snow begins to fly?

A DANGEROUS SWITCH: The fire at the foot of Academy Street the evening of Oct. 28, which called out a goodly portion of Belleville's fire department, provides us with a switch on that time-worn (and probably old-fashioned) excellent-provider-for-youngsters: the False Alarm. Instead of pulling the wire at a fire box and calling the firemen to a blind date, some kids furnished a real fire to which the smoke-eaters and their equipment had to be summoned.

According to a fire department official, a gasoline engine operating a pump drawing water from a ditch at the site of Route 21 construction was caused to explode when a fluid bomb set up as a warning to motorists and pedestrians was thrown into the area being served by the pump.

The fire department official said five bombs were thrown around. This was wasteful, for only one of the signals was needed to start the fire. The throwers must be disappointed that four of them did no harm.

I wonder if the perpetrators would care to ponder on the danger involved to firemen in racing to answer an alarm in that part of town in the dark?

A brief message from a reader of this column carries a big chunk of food for thought in a few words. Wrote "our correspondent": "Your column is interesting. I like it; the other members of my family like it. But it seems to us it is too serious. Can you not inject a dash of lightness into what you write? This is what I call a fine bit of constructive criticism. I'm not very good at the sort of thing suggested. BUT the column is wide open to contributions. Get the hint?"

DOING A JOB: When I first came to town I made inquiry about a Chamber of Commerce. I received little encouragement. During the past week I stumbled upon Ed Littig and learned that he is "Mr. Chamber of Commerce" in Belleville — the remnant of a once — time flourishing organization. He is in the anomalous position of a secretary looking for a job — time for his resignation. In spite of the depth to which the Chamber has fallen, it is, through Mr. Littig, doing in one respect at least, a highly valuable job. Mr. Littig told me he was spending considerable time investigating complaints he receives

LETTERS To The Editor

HOLDS BOARD OF EDUCATION RESPONSIBLE IN FINAL ANALYSIS

The vigilant citizen, alert to Grand Jury presentations and charges of past, loose and unbusinesslike conduct by Belleville's Board of Education, naturally casts a wary eye upon suspicious activities and conduct of local school procedure.

When one observes Board of Education trucks delivering lumber to the home of a teacher, which many regard as "pet" of the school supervisor, that person, if his interest in good and efficient management of our school system is sincere, is obliged to raise the question of the propriety of such practice, especially under the "unit rule" of supervision of school maintenance which lacks "check and balance."

That board members seemed shocked at learning of the incident is not unusual. They had nothing to do with it. Under unit control, which I strongly opposed, Mr. Thomas, the superintendent of schools, runs the show with his assistant.

Everybody admits the Board of Education trucks delivered lumber to the teacher's home. Thomas and his aid try to justify the action with an absurd story it took them several months to think up, one which would have never been brought to the public's attention had not denounced such reprehensible misuse of school property for private use.

The fact they admit the occurrence at all would be surprising, except that they had to deny it. They tried to keep them on the defensive and need an explanation badly and came up with a whopper.

Both Thomas and Dufford admit I saw the incident and that they anticipated my objection. These men, under unit rule, alone are responsible for the manner the Board truck was used. They, apparently, authorized the private use which I and many other taxpayers object to.

In the final analysis, the man responsible for this predicament is Evan H. Thomas. He is in charge. This is the same individual who tried so hard to put over his grandiose, four-million-dollar new high school on the taxpayers of Belleville while their school enrollment was declining, and he knew it. Even now is reluctant to admit that his teaching staff should be reduced by re-districting and bringing classes to not less than 25 pupils. Notwithstanding this questionable type of school administration, he wants a $51,000 increase for himself out of our generous school board.

Everyone admits my charge that a school board truck acted under to a teacher's home. Few taxpayers will be glibly enough to "swallow" the glib explanation that person, if his interest in good and efficient management of our school system is sincere, is obliged to raise the question of the propriety of such practice, especially under the "unit rule" of supervision of school maintenance which lacks "check and balance."

At Your Pontiac Dealer's Nov. 9

BOLDEST ADVANCE IN 50 YEARS!

THE GOLDEN JUBILEE CAR!

It's a revolution on wheels—boldly planned for the very beginning as a Golden Anniversary showpiece for Pontiac and General Motors.

This one you really must see—here is a car unlike any you have ever known! This Golden Jubilee Pontiac is actually an all-new breed of cars—in four brilliant series and 16 sleek models covering virtually every price bracket.

In all of them you'll find engineering advances so daringly different yet so basically sound that they will trigger the next big change in automobile design. You'll find a few of these ideas illustrated here, but even they can't begin to tell the full story.

Why not be among the first to discover the newest? When you meet this bold new Pontiac, you're in for a driving thrill that is impossible to duplicate in cars of conventional design. So make it a point to see your Pontiac dealer soon and prove to yourself that no car in history ever left yesterday so far behind!

Aero-Frame STABILITY

There is the biggest basic construction change since the early days of motoring. Pontiac's revolutionary new frame design is lighter, stronger, more stable than the conventional box type used on other cars.

Quadra-Poise ROADABILITY

Only the wheels know where the bumps are! Pontiac's new suspension geometry does away with the "scooter" ride, easiest handling you've ever known!

Circles-of-Steel SAFETY

Pontiac's completely new body construction surrounds you with stiffer steel protection—above, below, fore and aft. Now you can drive with wonderful new peace of mind!

Tempest 395 PERFORMANCE

Try Pontiac's new jewel-action response! Scores of exclusive engineering innovations make Pontiac's hefty power plant a miracle of smoothness . . . and you can choose from four horsepower ratings including Tri-Power Carburetion* and Fuel Injection.

Ever-Level Air Ride*

The most perfect suspension system ever designed—and Pontiac's revolutionary Aero-Frame is specifically designed for it! Air cushions on all four wheels literally float you over the bumps . . . keep the car perfectly level regardless of load or road!
