

School Budget Set For Belleville Voters After Public Hearing

Lively Meeting Sees 1959-60 School Budget Criticized, Questioned, Praised; Provides For Increase Of $279,332.50 Over Last Year

Belleville voters will go to the polls Tuesday, February 10, to vote on a school budget which will total $2,592,046, an increase of $279,332.50 over last year's budget.

The 1959-60 budget was passed unanimously by the Board of Education after a public hearing Monday night. About 80 people heard objections brought up, questions asked and commendations made during a meeting that was punctuated by frequent heated exchanges between Board members and critics from the audience.

Les Garson and James R. Golden, no strangers in the field of public criticism, supplied most of the objections to the budget. Garson objected to what he termed the insertion of items in this year's budget which had been passed down last year. He indicated a bold issue to handle all necessary repairs.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Harold Dufford replied that the repairs needed last year are still needed, and that if they are not taken care of, soon, costs will mount.

Both Garson and Golden criticized the amount of raises given to administrative personnel and teachers. Golden referred that salary raises for supervisory positions should be halved.

The Board pointed out that studies have proven that Belleville's administrative staff is paid a comparatively low salary, and that the Town ranks 14th in the County in the salary paid the Superintendent of Schools. Evan B. Thomas is scheduled for a raise from $14,000 to $15,000. It also was noted that the present $4200 minimum salary will be among the lowest in Essex County.

Joseph Cassell, of 398 Greylock Parkway, asked Superintendent Thomas if Belleville's salary will be better or worse off next year in attracting good teachers to the school system. Thomas said that the situation would be improved with the new salary guide.

Another resident was told that the average teacher's salary in Belleville is $10,000, while in the surrounding areas it is $11,000 and $12,000 in the elementary schools. However, Thomas pointed out that the average teacher in Belleville has 13 years experience.

From the school budget as sound were Board candidates Michael Albortino and Nicholas Julliano and citizens Ernest Adams and Joseph Grance. Board President Frank DiRuggiero announced that the Board of Education had accepted the budget with recommendations that the budget be prepared the next year. The budget be prepared the next year. ## COOPERATION VITAL, SAYS MRS. MACALUSO

Board Of Education Two-Year Candidate Stresses Need For Working Together

Mrs. D. C. Macaluso

Mrs. D. C. Macaluso, of 452 Washington Avenue, a candidate for the two-year term for the Board of Education, stated today she would like to further explain her desire to serve both the children and the people of Belleville.

Mrs. Macaluso said, "The American public school is the largest single enterprise in which all the people are engaged. The success of this great enterprise depends that all focus this community-citizens, parents and teachers work together with understanding and appreciation of the aims and achievement of the school. Good schools grow out of community interest and understanding."

"In no other country of the world do the people themselves have so much voice in the management of their schools. The people are eager and willing to work with teachers and school officials in the improvement of educational opportunity. Through education the people will determine the character of the community and state. To be effective the educational process must be understood. It

GOOD TEACHING STANDARDS DUTY OF BOARD; DRAKE

Board Of Education Candidate Richard Drake Says Board Must Face This Responsibility

Richard Drake, candidate for the two-year term on the School Board, this week pointed out that it was the duty of the Board of Education to maintain and improve the standards of selecting teachers.

"In these times of stress and change, the need for a re-examination of our goals in education is more pressing than ever before. The Board of Education has the opportunity in the past fifty years has outstripped the development of reasonable objectives for our educational effort. We have been too much in the position of trying to provide an education for everyone without knowing what we want that education to prepare them for."

"Much of the recent change in the approach to education has had to do with better fitting it to the individual needs of the students; such changes are necessary if we are to develop the potentialities of all our future citizens to the fullest extent. Emphasis on individualized attention often carries with it an increase in the cost of educational service, however, and it is in the area of seeking a proper balance between necessary educational improvement and the limited

Dominic A. Lally, of 287 Franklin Avenue, candidate for a three-year term on the Board of Education stated that as an educator he can contribute to the study of educational problems.

He proposed the following: "As a member of the Board of Education, I would intend to have the reports of the Board Curriculum Committee carefully studied and acted upon. Having served on this Curriculum Committee, I am fully aware of the background and content of these reports."

"For every tax dollar spent, I shall do my very best to see that the people of Belleville get their money's worth in education for their children."

"As an educator, I know the importance of retaining highly qualified teachers. If elected to the Board of Education, I shall work for the best personnel practices."

"The National Defense Education Act of 1958 provides aid for science, guidance, and modern foreign language instruction. Following this trend of the times, I shall endeavor to have the Board of Education evaluate the work done in these areas in the Belleville schools and take necessary action."

Pico Wants Committee To Study Future Use Of Isolation Hospital

Commissioner Sees Merit In Using Hospital For Care Of Chronically Ill, Elderly And Blind, But Would Oppose Transfer Of Overbook Patients

The problem of deciding the future of the Essex County Isolation Hospital in Soho should be studied by a representative committee, Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico, director of Public Affairs, told the Belleville Times-News this week.

Pico said that the suggestion of giving service to the chronically ill, aged poor and the blind appeared to be sound, although he objected to the transfer of overbook patients from the County Hospital in Cedar Grove.

"Ever since the Board of Freeholders started the investigation of Soho Hospital the usual unorganized confusion of suggestions, ideas and plans have appeared. The decision as to the future of Soho Hospital should not be left to any one particular group, whether they be Doctors, Politicians or laymen."

A representative committee should be chosen to thoroughly study the problem and bring forth a recommendation that must be the proper authorities for approval. Of all the suggestions thus far presented, the one giving service to the chronically ill, aged poor and the blind seem to be the most workable. But under no circumstances should the transfer of overbook patients from Overbrook Hospital be undertaken.

Why two hospitals doing the same work with two staffs, two maintenance groups, etc., as well as double the cost? Any money required to renovate Soho for the purpose should be used to expand the present facilities at Overbrook.

"The interest of the people of Essex County can best be served by a careful study of the many facets of the hospital with a definite relation to the cost of operation and the surrounding community."

Mrs. Arvon Hirschorn, legislative chairman of the Essex County Council of Parents and Teachers will moderate. Mrs. Hirschorn, a former Belleville resident, has served on the County Board of Managers for seven years, and is also president of a local P.T.A.

It is the sincere wish of the Consolidated Parent-Teacher Associations that all interested citizens attend this public meeting to hear candidates. Then having decided for yourselves who will best serve the children of Belleville, go to the polls and vote on February 10.

MORE SUPPORT BY STATE NEEDED SAYS CANDIDATE

Mrs. Mary Reilly Coronato Would Seek More School Aid From State Sources

Mrs. Mary Reilly Coronato, candidate for the Board of Education in the election February 10, pointed out that the State paid Belleville $64,400.00 less in school aid this year, and will pay $30,000 less in the next fiscal year, for a of $94,400 in State aid in two years.

In spite of some increase in the number of pupils in the schools, state aid has been cut for Belleville, she said.

"In view of the fact that the cost of education throughout the state will continue to rise because of the critical shortage of teachers and administrators, and also because of the growing proportion of the high school students," Mrs. Coronato stated, "it is my opinion, that the State should make more substantial part of the local tax burden by tapping broader tax sources, the school children of New Jersey and the local property taxpayers are in for a rough time."

Mrs. Coronato went on to say, "Taxes on real property have just about reached the limit of home owner's ability to pay. Schools need more money, just a little more money for everything these days, and it must come from new state aid. The State has the power to make all the wealth of all people bear the cost of schools. While per pupil cost of education has been increasing, the minimum aid program of the State has remained at $50 per pupil. Last year Belleville spent $428 per pupil and the top in Essex County was $616.40 per pupil."

Charter Movement Abandoned States Council Chairman

Commissioner George F. Kiernan Reports Citizens Council Will Temporarily Give Up Campaign Due Individuals Using It For Political Purposes

The movement for a charter change from commission government to a mayor-council setup has been abandoned by the Belleville Citizens Council for Better Government, Commissioner George F. Kiernan, Council chairman, announced at a meeting of the group last night.

In his statement, Kiernan said "Certain elements have seen fit to regard this charter revision movement as a fortuitous opportunity to avenge their own recent defeat at the polls of the incumbent commissioners. If these people were to have their way, abuse and vindictiveness would take the place of citizen-reforming and objective argument."

Kiernan added that he and the Council trustees decided to abandon the charter change campaign "before our civic reform movement is tainted by these elements and their cynical objectives are achieved. The charter movement had been former Commissioner Kenneth D. Smith and assistant candidate James H. Golden."

The text of Kiernan's statement follows:

"A charter revision movement is something in the nature of an adult educational campaign. The people of a municipality are entitled to be made fully acquainted with the form of government that is proposed to take the place of their present administration."

"A campaign of such a nature should be unimpeachable and should be waged only with clean hands. There can be no room for personal politics in a movement that is dealing with the future welfare of a whole town and all its inhabitants."

"My associates in the Belleville Citizens Council for Better Government were resolved from the beginning to do no more than to lay before the people of Belleville the advantages over the present Commission form of the Mayor-Council form of administration. We were decided upon a clean and dignified campaign of education to develop and avoid personal attacks, name calling and character assassination. Our aim was to show the Commission government as men who compose it."

"The Citizens Council hopes for a clean campaign have been shattered. Certain elements have seen fit to regard this charter revision movement as a fortuitous opportunity to avenge their own recent defeat at the polls of the incumbent commissioners. If these people were to have their way, abuse and vindictiveness would take the place of citizen-reforming and objective argument."

MRS. ROELOFFS SEES INFORMED PUBLIC AS VITAL

Communication Between School Board And People Big Item Says Candidate

Keeping the public well-informed on problems in the school system is one of the major tasks of the Board of Education, pointed out Mrs. Ethel Roeloffs, candidate for the one-year term on the Board in the February 10 school elections.

"Raising tax rates will make it more difficult to cope with the increasing school needs. An important task of school boards will therefore be to keep the public well-informed as to the nature of their school problems and the best ways to cope with them."

"It is the responsibility of the community currently appearing on these subjects make it imperative that people be apprised of the particular needs in this particular community."

Resnick listed the following reasons for the action of the Association:

"The proposed raises to teachers' and administrative help

DR. DI RUGGIERO DISCUSSES BOARD ADMINISTRATION

School Board President Points Out Necessity Of Democratic Principles

Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, president of the Board of Education and candidate for reelection February 10, today discussed administration of the schools.

"In previous articles," he stated, I have discussed curriculum and school facilities. These factors in good education are effective, however, only to the degree that schools have good administration by the board of education and faithful staff."

"Schools are preparing children to become good adult citizens in a democracy. They must operate democratically if they are to teach children by their example to be good citizens and patriotic board, authentic staff, and authentic teachers who prepare children for autonomy and democracy. All members of the board and the board as a whole must foster the acts, attitudes, and share in decision making."

To this end, he said, the past two years the Board of Education has undertaken by a rules committee to revise its rules and regulations in a democratic manner for the completion of this important charter for administration by the Board and its staff. From this work should emerge new policies on operation of the Board, its staff from superintendent to the lowest personnel level.

"Board members serve the public without pay, and must give many hours and much thought to their service. They should nevertheless provide most efficient administration of the schools. In the

The GOP Commits Hari-kari

The poor old Essex County Republican Party machine is split right down the middle, a wreck headed for oblivion. Instead of having learned a lesson by annual defeats ever since it lost the State Senate seat in 1955, along with three chairs at the Board of Freeholders table, the GOP is still a hotbed of inept leadership, selfish ambitions and deep personal prejudices and animosities.

Efforts to bring the two main warring factions and a dozen minor disturbing elements together behind a common ticket, in an effort to win back some of the ground lost in the 1959 and 1960 elections, have failed. There will be a Republican Primary fight in April and, inevitably, another total GOP defeat in the November elections.

At dead center in the fight is the present county leader, William Yeomans, whose term as County Chairman expires on April 29. Unwanted by either main faction, Yeomans has refused every hint, request and order to resign and let some other Chairman take over. He has refused, too, to return to his previous post as executive secretary even though that job paid a fat salary while the county chairmanship is unpaid.

Yeomans, who took over the chairmanship in 1957, is a victim of circumstances and political winds. A nice fellow, individually, and personable, he fell heir to a losing venture. No one could have won elections with the timber he had. It was unfortunate, too, that he sat on the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission as a well-paid commissioner because his name was tainted when the Essex Grand Jury criticized the Commission for its laxity in controlling building costs under contract.

There is little doubt that Yeomans will not succeed himself on April 29, when the county machine is reorganized. He could end the turmoil right now, in plenty of time to avoid a Primary fight, if he would, but he has refused. Neither of the two main forces in the split likes or wants him but neither has the nerve to cast him off.

So we Republican voters in Essex County, who have no voice in who leads our party as County Chairman, must sit back and watch a Primary fight before we know whether control of the GOP on a county level will fall to Prosecutor Charles V. Webb, Jr., or his rival, ex-Senator Alfred C. Clapp.

Since neither of them shows enough political horse sense to realize that the last thing the Republican Party needs right now, in its lowly status, is a Primary fight we feel that neither of them is chairman material. It would please us greatly if both of them were tossed overboard and if the Republican Party here in Essex County came into the hands of someone fresh, untainted by all the stigma of political patronage, someone not looking for the chairmanship just to get on the public payroll through some such scheme as a seat on the Sewerage Commission.

We would like to see the Republican Party break with political tradition and think of the people. But that merely shows what a simoleon we are to imagine that politics could ever be anything but pap and patronage.

The Mothers' March

Wednesday has been set for the annual Mothers' March for the March of Dimes fund drive. On that evening Belleville residents will be visited and asked to contribute to a cause that has met with gratifying success in its fight against crippling diseases. The efforts of the National Foundation contributed to a great extent in the startling progress made in the war against polio, capped, of course, by the development of the Salk vaccine which has all but conquered the disease.

The Foundation has since turned its attention to other diseased of a similar nature such as arthritis and birth defects which cause untold pain and heartache for thousands of people every year. Thus it would appear that the least a Belleville resident could do is to receive their visitor Wednesday night with a little courtesy in return for the time and work she is contributing to the cause, and to give up the cost of a few packs of cigarettes in the battle against pain.

A Suggestion

Belleville citizens will vote on the school budget passed by the Board of Education in the school election February 10. Now, at this point we are not going to urge either approval or rejection of the budget, instead we are going to urge something that probably sounds a little ridiculous because there is not a chance in the world that we will be taken up on our suggestion. Anyhow, we are going to ask the people of Belleville to try to find out more about this school budget before they go to the polls to vote on it. All necessary information can be obtained at the School Board offices in School Eight. The entire budget was advertised in last week's Times-News.

What we're saying is that the important thing on election day is not whether the budget is rejected or passed, but that its rejection or its passage is carried out by people who, at the very least, have an idea of what they are doing. Within the next two weeks we will hear considerable comment, both for and against, on the budget. Read both sides, weigh them, clear up any doubts you may have, then make your decision. And always bear in mind that the decision on the school budget is just about the most important civic function you will ever be called upon to make.

One Man's Opinion

Capitalism Proves In Germany Its Practical Superiority Over Marxism. Notwithstanding Mikoyan's Boasts

The zig-zagging of Anastas I. Mikoyan as he crossed the county to lunch with capitalists and of John Foster Dulles as he tried to elucidate American foreign policy, this past week, has led to nothing but confusion. That, obviously, was the desired effect of the voyage of the Communists' No. 2 bully boy whose mission was intended to be a full-scale probing operation.

More than ever, despite the confusion of the Secretary of State's statement that the problem of German unity could be settled by other means than a vote of all the German people, it should be clear that West Germany will have more to say about Berlin and the future of Germany than will we or the Russians.

In reality, Berlin is an outstanding demonstration of the superiority of Capitalism over Communism, a superiority which Mikoyan did his best to deny and discredit during American tour.

Through the Marshall Plan which funnelled American aid to Bonn, West Germany developed economically to an astonishing degree and is, by far, the most prosperous nation in all of Europe.

Through the German People's Republic, Soviet Russia tried to set up East Germany as a self-sufficient Communist land — and failed. If we withdrew our aid today from Bonn, West Germany's wheels would continue to turn. If Communist aid is withdrawn from East Germany, its economic collapse would be rapid.

In The Record

In this "One Man's Opinion" it would be fatal to accept Mikoyan's "goodness" at its face value. His assurances of Russia's desire for peace must be discounted at Mikoyan's terms, not our own.

It is a matter of record that Khrushchev, in his cups, said at an international gathering in Moscow, in addressing American news correspondents: "We will bury you".

On another occasion, Khrushchev, who is Mikoyan's boss, made clear the stand of Russian Communism towards us which differs completely from what Mikoyan has been saying here for the past fortnight. It is a matter of record, too, that Khrushchev said, and was quoted by the correspondents:

"Of course, we must recognize that we cannot coexist externally. One of us must go to the grave. We do not want to go to the grave. They (the West) don't want to go to their graves either. So what must be done? We must push them to their graves".

Mikoyan really showed his true expressed in free elections.

This condition was formally advanced in 1950 and has been maintained, since in all negotiations, notes and conferences. It was accepted by the Soviets at the Geneva summit meeting in 1955 and Secretary Dulles has always maintained that it is impossible simply to "wash" it away.

It was reaffirmed in December, 1957, by the North Atlantic Council, which called on the Soviets to "honor" their Geneva pledge. It is the key point of Chancellor Adenauer's policy, which he emphasized again only a few days ago.

The point is all the more crucial because only Western support of it enables Chancellor Adenauer to ward off West German opposition demands for a deal with the Soviets and to join in a Western policy which, as both President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have emphasized, seeks to avert another Versailles experiment in German isolation and appeasement and to tie the Germany into larger international organization under military security restrictions which will keep it from repeating 1914 or 1939.

Any Western weakening on this point could therefore weaken not only Chancellor Adenauer but the whole North Atlantic alliance.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of the Times-News

As it has been a considerable while since any mention has been made regarding Belleville's Civil Defense Program, I would like to take this opportunity to publicly ask a few questions as well as offer a few suggestions.

As a teacher of science in the Belleville Public Schools as well as the residents of the town and a former member of the Air Force Continental Air Command, I feel that there is a definite need for some adequate preparation of the public or the eventualities (small, we hope) of atomic or other attack.

If it is true that Washington has not as yet come through with any general directives as to public safety procedures in the event of disaster, I believe it is up to the community to determine the degree of danger and act accordingly.

Mayor Padula has repeatedly asked for shelters and shows a genuine concern in this matter but can do little without the general support of the public.

Belleville is in a particularly bad situation in that it is in the immediate metropolitan area, admittedly a prime target. It is in a heavily populated area and might, conceivably, have to play host to New York.

Unfortunately, ignoring the nearest and most likely to go away, London found this out, fortunately, early in the Second World War. The result was the evacuation of thousands of similar, lighter, attacks.

during the First World War. The United States has not before been attacked on her home ground. To say that this could never happen would be foolhardy and, indeed, in the light of the past history of the world, ridiculous.

It has been proved that people can and have survived atomic attack quite well indeed, if they are prepared by culture, training, and/or self-discipline. Our troops that have been entrenched only a matter of a few hundreds of yards from "ground zero" have had no more than aching ears and a mouthful of dirt to remember their experience by. Perhaps a more dramatic example would be the story of Mrs. Kinamora, a Japanese high school principal, presently studying at Columbia University who visited my class on invitation and who, reluctantly, told of her experience in Hiroshima. She was teaching in a steel and stone high school building near ground zero when the explosion occurred. She was thrown under an unken bench and was completely unharmed, as were many others.

Admittedly, the hydrogen device is much more devastating, but not everyone will be in the immediate point of impact.

How about our school children? There are supposed to be two alerts which will determine whether they stay in school or walk home. Fine, but what provision is there for their care at school in the event of a nuclear attack, blankets, etc.?

If at home, will the families have: 1. An adequate (30 days) sup-

- ply of canned goods when the freezer and refrigerator stop?
- First aid supplies of proper kind and quality?
- Drinking water?
- The sense to stay off the roads?
- Enough physical and emotional preparation for hardship?
- A portable radio.
- An attitude that will allow the family to unselfishly share with those less fortunate?
- At least one member of the family who knows enough to first aid to minister to his own loved one as well as strangers?

Contrary to popular belief, the likelihood of complete "world" destruction by any weapon is extremely unlikely! When the crossbow, longbow, gunpowder, machine gun, poison gas, etc. were invented in their time, they were declared both to be the "ultimate" weapon which would "destroy civilization" as well as weapons that would "prove the end of war because of the terrible devastation they would bring!" As we know, neither prediction proved correct.

1 Week Left County Head Appoints Mankie In Heart Fund

E. P. Bouchard, New Jersey district director of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, said today aliens in New Jersey have only one more week in which to comply with the federal law requiring that aliens report their address to the Government during January of each year.

The Immigration Official urged all aliens who have not yet complied to go as soon as possible to the nearest post office or Immigration Service office to file the report.

Parent or guardians must file the report for alien children under 14 years of age.

Bouchard said the address report is required each year from native status, representatives of certain international organizations and persons admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

The official said an estimated 90,000 aliens in this state have already complied with the address report requirements but that there are approximately 70,000 who filed address reports by this date last year.

Taxpayers who receive Forms W-2, Withholding Tax Statement for 1958, showing a limit of $5,000 for filing Form 1040A can ignore that limit.

Joseph P. J. Mayer, Newark District Director of the Internal Revenue Service issued the statement today as a reminder of the new $10,000 income limit for filing the simplified card form return.

Mayer said a number of the Form W-2 statements showing the old limit of $5,000 were given to employees who left their place of employment during the year.

Fifty-three million Forms W-2 were printed before December 2 was made to expand the use of Form 1040A to incomes up to $10,000.

Since the new Form 1040A can be used by any individual with total income of less than $10,000, consisting of wages reported on Form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding.

Married couples also may file a joint return on Form 1040A if their combined income does not exceed these limits, he said.

County Head Appoints Mankie In Heart Fund

James A. Mankie, manager of the Prudential Insurance Company at 283 Washington Avenue, was appointed as business and industry chairman for the 1959 Heart Fund Campaign in Belleville. It was announced today by Thomas Alleppy, County chairman.

"The heart diseases are the greatest health challenge to American business," Mankie stated. "Most business executives are aware of the fact for many of their key executives and skilled craftsmen have been stricken by these diseases during the time of their productivity. To combat this leading health menace, we are asking the business community to lend its support to the 1959 Heart Fund."

He pointed out that the law provides that willful failure to comply carries with it severe penalties, including fine, imprisonment and deportation.

The official said an estimated 90,000 aliens in this state have already complied with the address report requirements but that there are approximately 70,000 who filed address reports by this date last year.
