

ZONING VARIANCE
HASSLE SPARKS
BOARD MEETING

Lawyers Argue Pros And
Cons Of Granting Variance
For Belleville Ave. Tract

A controversy regarding a zoning variance for a tract of land at Belleville Avenue and Lincoln Terrace highlighted Tuesday's Commission meeting.

A corporation known as Bell-Court will buy the tract to erect an apartment house and parking lot. If the Commission grants the variance, part of the lot is zoned for business and part residential. B. Thus, in order to build the parking lot, the zoning variance is necessary. A variance would be granted.

The Commission reserved their final decision on the matter. Max Schwartz, representing the tract owner, told the commissioners that the owner of the site was not able to sell the property for any other purpose because of its location. The building, he said, would be a two-story apartment house and would not increase street congestion in any way. It would bring in about $180,000 in rentals for the town, and, being a corporation, it would not have large families, would not in any way strain Board of Education facilities, and would not have any service would handle garbage collecting. Schwartz added that the building would contain a total of 24 units, with a lot to handle 17 or 18 cars. Raymond F. Brady, representing 50 residents in the neighborhood, who are fighting the variance, stated that the variance would cause a breaking of the zoning code. The situation, he said, is that the owner has asked to be exempt from the same zoning ordinance which his neighbors, using a plea of hardship, are required to live under. He said that the ordinance gives as one of its purposes lessening of traffic congestion, whereas the variance would increase it.

ASSAULT HEARING,

Golden Charges Richard
Shaffer With Assault
At Meeting Of Council

The hearing on assault and battery charges by James R. Golden against Richard A. Shaffer, of 131 Bremont Street, was postponed for two weeks at Wednesday's Municipal Court session, and will take place Wednesday, February 11.

Golden charges he was struck on the face by Shaffer at a meeting of the Belleville Citizens' Council Thursday, at which Commissioner George F. Kiernan announced he would abandon the charter change campaign.

Shaffer denied the accusation, claiming he had left the meeting in order to avoid a verbal clash with Golden. The latter said that Shaffer rushed up to him and hit him while he was accusing Kiernan of "selling out" the charter movement. Shaffer is chairman of the Citizens Council.

Kiernan said he noted a verbal conflict between the pair, but denied seeing any punches thrown. Golden accused Kiernan of working a deal with Mayor Ignace J. Padula by which the Public Library would be transferred from Padula's to Kiernan's department, and Padula would support Kiernan's "sell out" of the Elk's House as a recreation center, in return for which Kiernan would support Padula's campaign, and support Padula's planning board proposals.

Do You Count Your Health?

Among You Dependents?
A worker making $5,000.00 a year is no better off financially than one earning $4,000.00 if his medical bills alone cost him $1,000.00 annually. Actually he's in a worse position.

Absenteeism caused by poor health does more than drain the family coffers. The person subject to frequent illness often is bypassed when promotions and salary increases are handed out. Because he is not dependable, top-level jobs go to him. And, when unemployment strikes, the unemployed individual may be a prime target.

No, the price of recurring sickness cannot always be measured in terms of the obvious and immediate outlay of money. The victim may become a burden to other members of the family, causing them a great deal of expense, not to mention mental anguish.

If for no other reason than to pamper your pocketbook, it's important that you keep a constant check on your physical condition. Don't rely entirely on "how you feel." Many diseases and organic disorders develop slowly and display few symptoms until their roots are firmly planted in the body.

Can you afford the luxury of being sick? If so, your doctor of chiropractic urges that you avoid needless expense by having periodic physical examinations, thus preventing the occurrence of any impending illness.

Essex County Budget
Rises Two Millions;
Hikes Town Taxrate

Fat Pay Raises In Top Echelons Increases County
Spending To $34,734,423, Setting Another All-Time Record

Despite Republican charges of "wasteful spending," the Democratic-dominated Essex County Board of Freeholders adopted this week its 1959 budget amounting to $34,734,423, an increase over last year's budget of $2,177,783.

Wage increases across the board for county workers, new positions added to the county payroll and higher welfare costs were, chiefly, responsible for a 2.6 point increase in the county tax rate.

The budget provides for a tentative 69.1 tax per $100 of assessed valuation, an increase of 2.6 cents over the 66.5 county tax rate of 1958. Each tax point equals $375,000 in rates.

A public hearing on the county budget will be held by the Freeholders at the Hall of Records, in Newark, at 10 a.m. on February 8. It will be open to the public.

Several of the new "watchdog" committees of Nutley taxpayers are studying the possibility of sending delegates to the hearing. It would be the first time that Nutley taxpayers were represented at the county budget study.

Also speaking on behalf of the School of Nursing and the hospital would be the president of the Board of Trustees, John P. Kidd and the hospital's executive director, Alvin Over.

"In every case the municipality concerned had the excuse and trouble of the school budget. It is educated children who will be able to cope with the problems they will face with this. These boys will have to pay off astronomical local, state and national debts which they will inherit from us. They will live in an economy which will advance rapidly in the next 30 years than it has in the last 150. Other children are being given the education to live in this economy. Shall we deny this to our Belleville children?"

question or a problem for a debating society. It is a very real problem in our country today, and becomes a more serious problem each year. Expansion of public school facilities is delayed. We cannot maintain our democracy if we are going to have the quality of our school systems depend on the wealth of individual communities.

basis of all the facts, carefully weighed, and with thoughtful consideration of the consequences. Freedom of choice exists only if the people have access to all ideas and are allowed to accept or reject them as they wish.

"In the area of the public schools, the implications are clear. If the people are to be prepared to choose freely, the problems which they must deal with the alternative programs from which they must choose. If the people are to be prepared to choose wisely, the schools must have a bearing on these problems and must cultivate the habit and the power of critical thinking. Our schools should represent an expression of the collective thoughts of a well-informed public reflecting soberly on the results of their actions. If the people are not properly armed with the facts to choose wisely, they will be impulsive or with haste, he schools will become a reflection of the needs of special interest groups. We cannot allow this to happen. If we want our schools to offer an education of value to our children.

"Most of us have, ourselves, received something of value from our public schools. But we must do more than take from our schools. We must give back as well. We must give back by understanding school problems. If we must give back by voting wisely on school matters. We must give back by offering teachers the respect which they deserve and the help which they need. All that we give will be returned to us in the satisfaction of a job well done, a duty we have not avoided, and a generation of children who are a little better than they would otherwise have been."

The Rev. Clifford A. Hewitt performed the ceremony in Wesley Methodist Church, the altar of which was decorated with bouquets of mixed white flowers. A reception was held at Fernara's, Newark.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a floor length white tulle gown, fashioned with a chapel train, embroidered scalloped neckline with a pearl on the left side, and a matching crown held her fingertip veil. She carried orchids and stephanotis.

Her attendants, all Belleville residents, were: maid of honor, Miss Valerie Giordano; bridesmaids, Mrs. Raletta Garamone, sister of the bride; Miss Helen Tulligiani, cousin of the groom; Miss Marie Marino and flower girl, Miss Janet Frable, another sister of the bride. They were similarly attired in royal blue satin, with matching flower hats and carried blue carnations and white flowers.

Arnold Benecchi, brother of the groom, served as best man. Michael Benecchi, the groom's cousin, Frank Garamone and Joseph Kilcullen ushered.

The mother of the bride wore a blue, gold and white gown with a blue hat and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother also wore a flower pin and a similar corsage.

The couple are graduates of Belleville High School. Mrs. Benecchi is employed by Wilbur B. Driber, Newark. Her husband has just completed two years of service with the United States Army. They are honeymooning in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. John Matiskiel, of 219 Greylock Parkway, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dolores Matiskiel, to Richard W. Redmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redmond, of Highland Park.

Miss Matiskiel, a graduate of Belleville High School, is employed by the Newark Chapter, American Red Cross and is attending Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford. Her fiancé, a graduate of St. Peter's High School, New Brunswick, is attending Rider College in Trenton.

Winter In The Country

All that framed those tranquil lives
Portrayed by Currier and Ives
Enriches me, this winter day;
A century has rolled away.
Here is the farmhouse, white and prim,
With snowy eaves and glistening trim
Of icicles along its roof;
Here are the hills, secure, aloof,
That stretch into a blue beyond;
And coming up the shovelled road
The wood cart with its topfull load
Now in this snow-sequestered land
Where age-old verities still stand,
My pulse has slowed to seek a key
Of matching grace and dignity.

Hibernating Or Prostrate?

President Eisenhower has admonished the Republican Party to stop acting like a "hibernating elephant" between elections. That raises two very obvious questions: 1. Is the pachyderm hibernating or is he prostrate, and 2. What has General Eisenhower ever done for the Republican Party? In our opinion, the answers should be: 1. He's a very sick elephant, and 2. Nothing.

Here in Essex County where Clean Government Republicanism is a very, very sick elephant, the entrenched leaders have, apparently, backed down before the demands of the insurgents. County Chairman William F. Yeomans will be jettisoned, thrown to the wolves, sacrificed by those he created to appease the faction which demands a GOP Primary ticket wholly untainted by Yeomans' fingerprints.

Yeomans announced this week, in an obvious effort to end internecine quarreling and to avoid a Republican Primary fight, that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself as chairman in April. There is nothing wrong with Yeomans that common sense on a broad front could not cure. His party, apparently, is afraid that Yeomans will stain it with his own "guilt," merely because he was a member of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission which came in for Grand Jury criticism because of its methods of disregarding written contracts in building.

There is not the slightest evidence that Yeomans is any more responsible than any other Commission member, Republican or Democrat, but within his own party those who want his authority as chairman used the Grand Jury action against him as a lever to pry him out of party control.

At stake in this year's elections are a state senatorship, twelve Assembly seats, three Freeholder offices, and the sheriffs' and surrogate's offices. Yeomans, in trying to withdraw gracefully, has proposed that ex-Congressman Robert Keen head a compact committee that will name the slate of Republican candidates. One of them has already been proposed — Tony Giuliano for the State Senate nomination in opposition to a very successful, most qualified Democrat, Senator Donald C. Fox. Tony is the same Giuliano who was roundly whipped by Peter Rodino when the popular 14th District Congressman won his first election to Congress back in 1948.

It is our contention that there would be nothing wrong with a hot Republican Primary. We may not like Tony Giuliano, as we may not like the other hand-picked candidates that Keen comes up with. We do not consider Keen, the victim of last November's U. S. Senatorial defeat, to be infallible. We certainly have not delegated to him full powers to pick our ticket for us. Such methods which smell more of the Tammany tiger than they do of the Clean Government elephant cannot assure a Republican victory any more this year than they did last year, or the year before that.

The Republican Party can regain its prestige and its strength only by returning to the voters for its direction and its support. Coteries, even insurgent coteries, at county headquarters, are not the answer.

The PTA Affair

Belleville residents with an interest in local school activities have been disturbed recently with developments in the controversy between Board of Education President Frank DiRuggiero and officers in certain PTA groups. The matter grew out of a plan by the School Three PTA to send flyers home with the pupils advertising a candidates night at the school and giving background information on the candidates. The PTA was informed however, that using the children was illegal in this case, whereupon it was decided to mail them out instead. Then, Dr. DiRuggiero issued an order prohibiting the use of school equipment and personnel in the preparation of the material, although, at this point there was nothing illegal in the proceedings. It is our understanding that it is customary for the PTA's to use such things as mimeograph machines for PTA projects.

At the Board of Education meeting Monday night, Board members William Kintzing, George Brown and Mrs. E. A. Roehan indicated they had not been polled by Dr. DiRuggiero in the matter as has apparently been the case in similar instances. At this same meeting, counsel to the Board Max Schwartz stated that, under the law, the Board president alone could not give permission to use school equipment for any purpose without the consent of the majority of the Board as a whole. Thus, by the same token, the Board president cannot withhold use of school equipment on his own decision.

As we look at it, Dr. DiRuggiero was justified in his original concern about exploiting the children in an essentially political affair, however, once this danger was past, we fail to see what valid grounds there were for putting a roadblock in the way of a beneficial public service. F.J.J.

One Man's Opinion

Fear Seems To Be The Inspiration Of Our Bid To Adenauer That He Start Reconsidering His Stand On German Reunification

To the extent that Anastas Mikoyan had barely landed in Moscow, on his return from the United States, before a note had been sent in the names of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer inviting him to start reconsidering his entire position on German reunification, the Bolsheviks' No. 2 statesman scored a notable victory in the "cold war".

Our note to Bonn was very badly-timed if it was not a consequence of Mikoyan's chats with Eisenhower and Dulles. If it represents a change of our policy on German reunification, independent of anything Mikoyan may have said over here, it should have been sheltered for a while. In the eyes of the world, obviously, Washington, in sending the note to West Germany, has "led from fear".

Until now, the courageous

80-year-old Chancellor has been adamant in his insistence that German reunification can occur only on a national basis and through free elections.

In inviting Adenauer to "start reconsidering his entire position" we, obviously, mean that he should abandon that demand. That is exactly what Khrushchev insisted upon in his November 10 declaration on West Berlin, when he set a deadline of May 27 for all four occupying powers to clear out of Berlin. That is exactly what Mikoyan repeated often during his stay here.

Unless we want "to meet force with force," Mikoyan told us often enough, we must be out of Berlin by the day Khrushchev set.

Since, however, Moscow has shown a flexibility and a willingness to delay that deadline if we agree to start negotiations.

He also made it very clear that Russia has no intention of clearing out of East Berlin or out of East Germany. There is no quid pro quo. The deal must be one-sided; the Western allies must get out of Berlin, but the East German People's Republic does not have to sacrifice its sovereignty in the slightest.

In this "One Man's Opinion," the whole of Western security and, indeed, world peace is at stake in this power struggle between Moscow and Washington.

Khrushchev may be bluffing; in fact it is our opinion that he is, but Washington, by dispatching this new note to Bonn, explains that the West's policy towards the German problem is motivated by a desire to avoid war over West Berlin.

Russia Opposes Elections

All past efforts to agree on a unification plan and peace treaty for Germany have broken down over the West's insistence that the first step must be free, all-German elections. Russia has rejected that approach for the obvious — although unstated — reason that the Communists would be swamped at the German polls.

As an alternative, Moscow has called for direct negotiations between the East and West German Governments. The West has turned down that approach on grounds that it would give Moscow's East German satellite, which we do not recognize as a legitimate government, a negotiating weight out of all proportion to its popular support.

Moscow recast the German issue in a new and ominous light, last November, when Khrushchev demanded that the Western powers withdraw from Berlin and announced that within six months he planned to turn over control of the access routes to the capital to the East German regime.

A fortnight ago, Moscow followed up its initiative on Germany by proposing a peace conference based on a draft treaty that once again called for a confederation of the two Germanys.

A potent question that we never have seen answered satisfactorily is why Soviet Russia permitted the Berlin door to remain open in the first place after the Red Army captured it before we arrived there.

Our impression is that back in 1945, the Berlin situation got hardened into its present mold and the Russians let it go; that there were certain advantages for them in the status that they did not take the consequences seriously; that they realized the hazards of unsettling the arrangements.

Berlin is for them now, doubtless, a lever, a blackmailing point by which they expect to gain advantages. These would include recognition and hence the perpetuation of the East German regime, and the weakening of the whole security and defense question.

Berlin is the keystone of the Western defense arch. Not that it is absolutely essential for the West to retain an outpost deep in Communist territory. Least of all is it necessary for Berlin to be a jump-off point for propaganda and espionage. Nor is it really indispensable for Berlin to be an open doorway in the Iron Curtain through which refugees can flow.

Must Honor Promises

Some of these things are very valuable, but the real obligation to Berlin is that we continue to insure that its millions of people are free, that they have been guaranteed freedom, and that they have a right to keep it. The advantages in the West's struggle with totalitarianism are useful but incidental.

There has been nothing quite like Berlin in the world's history. Here was the symbol of Hohenzollern and of Nazi pride and might, the shift, bespurned capital of Frederick the Great and Prince Bismarck and William II. Here was the Nazi center of government and of hate, and Hitler's bunker.

Here was a city with its people driven underground by our bombers and its stately monuments or tumble homes reduced to rubble, mile upon mile of massive devastation. Yet here was a city whose battered people retained courage and an inner compulsion for freedom even in the midst of starvation and cold.

They rose up from the ashes to fight, and was the very focal point of East-West rivalry. Their city was risen down the middle by an iron curtain which was ideologically sky-high, physically porous. An unguarded subway linked the two.

Eventually they were thrown into a state of siege by the Communists, and saved only by the Western allies. After their rescue they began to rebuild, helped by much Western support and a much more by their own skill and determination.

shops are bursting with abundance. That may be the envious inspiration for Khrushchev's ultimatum to us to get out of Berlin. The Russians lost out in a battle of German locusts.

Let us hope they do not win, now, in a diplomatic swindle that would test American courage.

TEEN-AGER FINED FOR SIPHONING GAS

Belleville Youth Pays $50 For Stealing Gas From Cars In Lovell Court

A Belleville teen-ager, Nicholas Ucci, Jr., 18, of 40 Honiss Street, was fined $50, put on probation for one year and given a three-month suspended jail sentence for siphoning gasoline from parked cars behind the Lovell Court garden apartments near Loudon Park.

Ucci appeared yesterday before Magistrate Edwin J. C. Jorg, in Municipal Court. Two Belleville juveniles were also arrested at the same time but were sent to the juvenile home awaiting juvenile court action.

Detectives Alexander DeLorenzo and Stanley Kowalki and Patrolmen Angelo Ferrara and Henry Azzevino helped catch the teenagers last Wednesday night.

Police were summoned to Lovell Court when a neighbor heard a bottle break. Water boys had already taken about five gallons of gasoline from parked cars.

When police arrived on the scene, the youths fled into Loudon Park and left their car behind. They were arrested shortly after just over the line in Belleville.

Teachers Honor

Essex Senator Donal C. Fox was the recipient, this week, of the annual award given by the Essex County Education Association as the "outstanding citizen who has best served education." He was sponsored by the Newark Teachers' Association.

The early Incas may have had the first charge accounts. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, the Peruvian Indians recorded debts by tying knots in colored cords at definite intervals.

The first homestead in the U. S. was granted to Daniel Freeman in January, 1888. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, the site, near Beatrice, Nebraska, was made a national monument in 1939.

Association Gives Scholarships

The Newark Chapter of the National Office Management Association announced that two scholarships of $500 each are now available to local high school seniors.

Harry W. Lawrence, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, stated that the award will be made this Spring and may be used by the recipients to defray expenses at the college of their choice.

Applicants must be interested in training for either a business teaching or a business administration career.

Requirements for eligibility and application forms have been mailed to high schools in Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, and Union counties. Applications must be submitted by April 10. Anyone interested in applying should contact his high school principal.

The National Office Management Association is a professional association of 15,000 office executives dedicated to improving management through the office.

A F Commission Gilchrist Gets

After 18 months of training, Thomas M. Gilchrist, of 274 Parkway from the United States Air Force Base, graduated last Saturday from the United States Air Force Basic Pilot School at Reese Air Force Base in Texas.

He received a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force and the rating of pilot of multi-engine aircraft. Lieutenant Gilchrist received his education in Belleville's public schools and graduated from Belleville High School in 1932. He graduated from Seton Hall University with a B.S. degree in business administration in 1936 and entered the U. S. Air Force as an air cadet in 1937. He attained the rank of first lieutenant before receiving his commission.

Gilchrist's class had the distinction of being the last to be trained in conventional aircraft. All future cadets at Reese Air Force Base will be trained in jet aircraft.

Three days of activities preceded the graduation ceremonies. Lieutenant Gilchrist's mother, Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, and his fiancée, Miss Patricia Fitzpatrick, attended the three-day program.

After returning home to be married on January 31, Lieutenant Gilchrist will return to Texas with his wife for further training at Randolph Air Force Base.

A rope of spider's silk one inch thick would hold up a weight equal to 74 tons. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, a rope would be three times as strong as one-inch rope made of iron.

When it comes to oil wells, Texas is a Johnny-on-the-spot. The World Book Encyclopedia reveals that the Chinese dug shallow oil wells almost 3,000 years ago to get petroleum for fuel.

Buckley attended Temple University and the University of Southern California.

The World Book Encyclopedia reports that if the coal mined in the U. S. in a single year were used as paving material, it would build 12 sun-highways, 50 feet wide and one foot thick all the way from New York to San Francisco.

To the Editor of the Times-News:

Once again the Board of Education is asking you to approve the School Budget, which is $280,000 more than last year, or a raise in the tax rate of 48 points. After years we hear the same cry by the school teachers and other members in the school system, we need more money. Last year and the year before all have received $300 or more against the wishes of the people. $173,000 in the budget is for wage increases. Our school teachers are well paid for the entire year, yet work only six months. At that rate, the teachers earn more than $200 per week. I urge the rejection of the entire budget as it stands.

ELAINE SAVINO LEADS BOWLERS

Rolls 533 Series And Paces Suburban League With A 162 Average

Elaine Savino continued to make a run-away in the individual average department of the Suburban Women's Bowling League. While bowling for the fourth place Park Shop-Rite team, Mrs. Savino sparked the keggers to a clean sweep over Gary's Pharmacy for the only white-washing of the night in the 10-team loop.

Mrs. Savino finished up with a 693 three-game total and had a 300 game with both figures being the top scores for the night.

Mrs. Savino has been leading in individual averages since the start of the season and holds a record 162 mark. Far behind in second place is Mrs. Boyd with a 149 average.

Edmar's Dress Shop still leads the league with 32 1/2 wins and only 16 1/2 defeats in the runner-up slot is Savino's Sport Shop.

Action last week saw Savino's men's down Alwood Cleaners, Finney's beat Marston Manufacturing and Spruce Cleaners trim Allan's Cleaners all in odd game victories.

ENTERPHOBIA. This new ailment besets you when you try to get into other '59 cars. Do you check in? Crawl in? Fall in? It's hard to tell which. But Mercury has the right remedy: door openings are 6 inches wider. There's up to 2 inches more head clearance. You step in easily — without a twinge.

PROBLEMS YOU'LL HAVE TO LIVE WITH IN EVERY NEW CAR EXCEPT MERCURY

BACK-SEAT BOUNCE. The only cushioning many '59 cars could squeeze in over their high floor hump is a layer of spring and a lute pad. But Mercury's lowered hump made space for full cushioning.

DOOR-ITIS OF THE KNEE. Other '59 cars have jutting windshield posts that threaten to de-cap your knees. But Mercury moved that windshield post forward 2 inches. It's easy to step in without hitting your knee.

STORMY-WEATHER TWITCH. Wipers in other cars do not clear the center of the windshield, so you have to peek through 2 fan-shaped sections. But Mercury's wipers have an overlapping pattern — clear a five-foot swath, including the center. You drive relaxed in all kinds of weather.

MIDDLE-MAN CROUCH. That hump in the floor of other '59 cars is now larger than ever. It makes the man in the middle sit with his knees at his chin. But Mercury cut the hump in half! Now the middle man has room to stretch out.

Report Belleville High School Students Score Above Avg.

Fifty-two Belleville High School seniors and 16 juniors took the Scholarship Qualifying Test in October, 1958, and the results which have been returned to the High School Guidance Office indicate that the Belleville High School students as a group scored higher than the national average. The Scholarship Qualifying Test is offered by the College Entrance Examination Board as a screening device in the selection of secondary school seniors who are to be given further consideration by scholarship sponsors. Some juniors were recommended to take the exam for practice.

The test yields two scores, verbal and quantitative, which indicate the students' aptitude for learning. Nationally, 215,377 seniors and 172,694 juniors were tested. In the average school one-half of the students would fall above the 50th percentile and one-half would fall below the 50th percentile. Of the Belleville High School students tested 72% fell above the 50th percentile verbally and 78% of the students fell above the national median on the quantitative (math) part of the test.

The median verbal percentile for Belleville seniors was the 65th percentile. For juniors the median verbal percentile was the 75th percentile. The median quantitative percentile for seniors was the 58th percentile. For juniors it was the 77th percentile.

Nationally, 20% of the students fell between the 80th and 90th percentile. Of the Belleville High School students tested 11% fell in this high group on the verbal and 38% fell in this group on the quantitative.

The results of this test together with the results of other academic tests administered by the school will be used by the school to compare favorably with other high schools in the United States.

Recreation Dept. Installs New Phone Service

In order to help disseminate certain information the Recreation Department has installed a telephone answering device at the Recreation House, Commissioner George F. Kiernan announced. The device will currently inform Belleville as to whether or not it is re-creating, Kiernan said that often when there is a change in the weather the Police and Fire Department lines are flooded with calls about ice-creating so it is felt that the new answering device will alleviate the load from these vital lines.

The answering device will also function well during baseball and football seasons when the playing fields are in questionable condition so that coaches can get the official word as to whether or not games will be played. To get information on ice-creating call PL 9-5131. The service is in operation from 8:30 p.m. and during the lunch period on week days and all through Saturday and Sunday during skating season.
