Fire Victim Dies In Newark Hosp.

Mrs. Stella Hoffman, 48, of 509 Union Avenue, a patient in Columbus Hospital, Newark, since August 3 when she was critically burned in a fire in her home, died there at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Hoffman suffered second and third-degree burns of her body when a flash fire swept through the basement of her home igniting her clothing. She fled from the basement into the street where neighbors helped another the flames and called firemen.

Two men, Joseph Hoffman, 73, her father-in-law, and Alfred Lavesta, 67, a brother, were hospitalized and later released.

Mrs. Hoffman had gone to the basement after cleaning the house, and fire officials believe a waterproofing compound she was using caused the fire when fumes ignited from a pilot light.

Sullivan Group Picnic Is Set For Sept. 13

Hugh G. Mohan, president of the Harry J. Sullivan Association, announced this week the appointment of Anthony Dominick as chairman of the Ninth Annual Picnic of the Association to be held on Sunday, September 13th at Glatly's Grove, 623 Grove Street, Clifton.

Serving on the committee are Marie Mohan, Lillian Hickey, Theresa Conklin, Mary C. Conato, Allan F. Conklin, George Raveloff, Walter P. Weiss, Philip Hickey and Charles B. Tedesco.

The affair will feature a full-course picnic menu and will be held from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Rides for the kiddies, games for children and adults, and entertainment and prizes will be the bill of the day.

Mishkind Getting Many Phone Calls For Tax Group

William Mishkind, who last week announced the activation of the Belleville Taxpayers' Association, has been besieged with phone calls from local property owners and businessmen inquiring about its organization, he told the Times-News this week.

Mishkind said he had received "more than a hundred" phone calls so far, "and wherever I go," he added, "I'm stopped by people for information and membership cards." He asked that instead of phone calls to his home, interested taxpayers should send a letter with their name, address and phone number, so a membership card may be sent out. They also may send names of other taxpayers they feel may be interested, Mishkind added.

Membership is free in the Belleville Taxpayers' Association. A meeting of the group and election of officers will be held, Mishkind said, after "several hundred cards" are sent out.

Mishkind will be outside of Town Hall at 7 p.m. this Tuesday night, where he is expected to meet persons interested in joining his organization. He will distribute membership cards then.

Eye in Danger From Accident

An eight-year-old boy's use of a piece of glass as a target for his baseball bat resulted in delicate eye surgery last night for Marilyn Knight, 6, of 22 Rutgers St., Belleville, struck in the corner of her left eye by a sliver of the glass.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knight, was in the playground of Public School 1 about 7 p.m. when the accident occurred. Rushed to Newark Eye and Ear Hospital, surgeons performed an hour-long corneal repair operation.

She was reported in "fairly good" condition at press time. Hospital authorities declined to say immediately whether she would retain vision in the eye.

Looks Are Deceiving . . . He's Out at First

TOO LATE: It looks as if Roger Mamay of St. Peter's is safe at first in this play in Sunday's championship CYO baseball game, but actually first-sacker John Golba of St. Joseph's Spanish, Newark, has already tagged the bag after fielding the ball near the line and is ready to start a double-play.

Raimo Seeking Top Office At National Vets Meeting

Nicholas Raimo, of 25 Harrison Street, co-founder of the Barbone-Mosca Post, Italian-American War Veterans, will seek election as national commander of the Italian-American War Veterans at the convention Labor Day week-end at Fall River, Massachusetts. Election will be held September 7th.

Raimo, presently national senior vice-commander, is with Raymond Potemane of Sanford Avenue. The group

Travelling Correspondent Taken By Beautiful Venice And Vienna

(This is the fourth in a series of articles written especially for the Belleville Times-News by George F. Korn, now travelling through Europe on a national education travel tour and acting as the Times-News correspondent during his trip.)

BY GEORGE F. KORN
We travelled to Venice from Florence by motor coach through some of the most beautiful country I have ever seen . . . rolling hills, mountains, rivers and country hamlets.

Venice is a city of canals, but until you see it yourself, you have no appreciation for a city of such size which operates without one bit of commerce conducted by motor vehicle. Everything is done by boat from the collecting of garbage to delivering the milk.

Venice, I understand, is the only city in the world in which the mechanical rhythm of modern life has never disturbed the enchanted atmosphere caused by the wonderful fusion of art and nature.

Until twenty years ago, cars could not reach the city at all. Now they have reached the

Second Year in Belleville Celebrated by Clara Maass

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital celebrated its second anniversary on August 18. The anniversary marked the passing of two years since the opening of its new, modern facility opposite Branch Brook Park. A cupcake with two candles and a birthday card were distributed to each patient in honor of the occasion.

Originally chartered as the German Memorial Hospital in 1888, it had served the people of Newark for nearly 90 years at the time of the move. During that time, it established a number of "firsts" in the field of medicine and patient care. It was the first to introduce trained nursing care for the sick through the importation of Deaconesses from Europe who had received special instruction in this field. This led to the establishment of training schools for nurses in this country by Clara Maass Memorial and various other hospitals.

The hospital was the first in Newark to use antiseptic measures in surgery; the first to perform a Caesarian Section; the first to perform resection of the stomach for cancer; and the first hospital to open and maintain an isolation ward for contagious disease.

The decision to locate the hospital in Belleville was prompted by surveys indicating a serious shortage of hospital beds in this area. The facility is located on property purchased by the Medical Staff and donated by them to the hospital. Clara Maass Memorial, during the past two years, has been filled to capacity or near capacity and at this time, a total of 19,638 patients have been admitted.

Not included in the above figure are an additional 4,196 people from the area who have been treated by the Emergency Department of the hospital.

One of the fastest growing departments in the hospital at this time is a Poison Control Center was recently established to further augment the services available to the community. Just over the weekend, eighteen members of the Hoboken Civil Air Patrol were stricken "with food" poisoning while on a picnic at Sandy Beach, Oakland. They were treated at the Clara Maass Poison Control Center.

State To Look Into Charge Burdzy Serving Improperly As Town "Health Officer"

State Health Commissioner Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle indicated this week that he would investigate a charge that Edward Burdzy is serving in the capacity of Belleville's Health Officer when he actually is not qualified for that position. The charge was made in a letter to Dr. Kandle submitted by James Golden, a local citizen known for his criticism of municipal activities.

BURDZY: STATE KNEW HE WAS EXEC. OFFICER

Edward Burdzy told the Times-News this week he was serving as "executive officer" and the State Health Department was aware of this in all of its dealings with him for the past year.

"The State did not object to it for a year," said Mr. Burdzy. "They write me as 'Executive Officer'."

(Kenneth Carhart, Chief, Bureau of Examinations and Licensing for the State Department of Health, states that any municipality of more than 10,000 population must have an accredited health officer. Any municipality under 10,000 may have a licensed sanitarian serving in the capacity of "executive officer" he said.)

Burdzy related that he is licensed as a sanitarian second grade, and sanitarian first grade. He also is a licensed milk inspector and water works operator, he declared.

He attends classes at Seton Hall, he pointed out, and has 30 points to go before he is graduated next June. As far as area towns having health officers with bachelor degrees, Burdzy said he could only think of one — East Orange.

Burdzy said he felt perfectly qualified to handle the job. He asserted that since the resignation of Berry, the town had saved $9,000 in Berry's salary. "The municipality saved $9,000. Isn't saving of money what Golden is interested in — or isn't it?" he asked.

Burdzy said the listing on the directory at the Town Hall as "Health Officer" was a mistake and resulted when his name was switched when Berry resigned.

BARBONE-MOSCO OFFERS $3,500 FOR EXTRA PLOT

Nicholas Raimo, of the Barbone-Mosco Post, Italian American War Veterans, brought a $3,500 certified check to Town Hall Wednesday as the post's bid on a parcel of town-owned land adjoining property they now own on Acme Street.

They were granted the original land last year for the nominal fee of $1. The land was to be used for purposes of building a Post home.

In submitting the bid, Noonan referred to a section of New Jersey law allowing the governing body to cede the land to a veterans' group without benefit of competing bids.

A bid of $3,000 had been made on the land by a nearby property owner. This offer had been received at a previous meeting, and since the Barbone-Mosco Post had been in the discussion stages with the members of the Board of Commissioners (since last November, members of the Post said) on the possibility of acquisition of the property, the Commissioners notified Barbone-Mosco of the $3,000 bid.

At last week's session, James Golden took exception to Noonan's suggestion on the method of giving the land and on another point. Golden said the land was valued at $6,000 true value and had an assessment of $2,400. It should draw more than $3,500 in open competitive bidding, he declared.

Raimo said that the additional property was contemplated for parking, and that plans for the Post Home had been delayed pending acquiring the property. Final action has not been taken on the matter.

Wife: "The paper says school- teachers make the best wives. I wonder why that is?"

Husband: "Probably because they have learned to ask questions and keep quiet long enough to hear the answer."

Know Your Town . . . People, Places and Things

Belleville As A River Town: Shad A Delicacy On 1800's Menu

No show boat ever plied the Passaic River. No levees stacked with cotton bales lined its banks. But to the Belleville of 1839, the Passaic River was what the Mississippi was to St. Louis when Mark Twain made that river famous.

The local "Ole Man River" could not boast of the fabulously huge catfish of the Mississippi, instead, it teamed with the Passaic River shad, which was prized by gourmets near and far and was an item proudly displayed on menus of the 1800's.

The river afforded Belleville residents a place to go boating, swimming and picnicking. In the 1830's the steamboats added their own touch of adventure.

Like all other vessels of the early steam navigation days, the Belleville steamboats had their troubles too. Either the boilers were too weak or too small. Engines varied with the inventors' whim, and explosions, leaks and other mechanical mishaps added to the natural hazards of rapids and tides. The Belleville made life interesting for passengers and crew alike.

The first Belleville steamboat to begin regular freight and passenger runs to New York was the "Wadsworth" whose owner was Captain Caleb Neagles. Neagles for years had been operating a line of schooners and sailing barges between Belleville, Newark and other Passaic river ports and New York.

On its last trip, the Wadsworth hardly got as far as Newark since its boiler was cooling steam from a dozen different places. Suffering a similar fate was the "Gipin" whose boiler was no larger enough for the ship. Engineer Harry Clayton would say each night when the passengers and freight were docked "Thank God, we're safe through another day."

Mahias and Derious Williamson, twin brothers, attempted to profit from the sad experiences of the Wadsworth and the Gipin. However, the boiler that they ordered was so large that it sunk the ship to the gunwales.

In 1856, there was formed a river transportation company. Shares were brought up by Captain Tupper, former captain of the "Governor Kemball". Samuel H. Terry, Brant and Webster, W. H. Stephens and Son; Gashier DeWitt, Dr. Art Vani, John Eastwood, John Kennedy, Hugh Holmes C. G. Snow, John Duncan, Charles E. Ayres, John Collard, John H. Dow, H. K. Cadmus and Nicholas Jorammon and Brothers.

The following year, a legislative charter was obtained. The boat was renamed "Belleville" and the company was ready for business. It was inaugurated in April of 185 and made a run to Newark the next day in thirty minutes. It ran for two seasons and was reputed to have carried 20,000 passengers. The boat was eventually sold.

In 1860, Holmes, who was a Belleville river transportation pioneer, bought the "Highland Chief" which he used for a political campaign. The following year he renamed the boat the "Confidence".

The first trip that this boat made was an excursion to New York which was free to all those who had bought tickets to hear P. T. Barnum lecture at Newark. "Opry House", the profits of which went for the Belleville Methodist Episcopal Church.

In 1861, the Civil War broke out and there was a new use for the steamer. A military company of the town, under the command of Captain Aaron Young volunteered to the Union Army. The boat was used to carry military recruits to Newark on the way to the battlefield.

Hugh Holmes wrote "One May 25th, the soldiers made their last trip, bid their friends farewell and with many it was forever, for their bones have bleached or have been buried in southern soil."

The boat was to have taken 15,000 men under Brigadier General Birmside to Roanoke Island which he was to take over. The government offered $70 per day for six months on the Brigadier expedition for the boat and one man.

Holmes had to turn this down because the man to whom he offered $500 a month turned him down saying that the "boat was not the right shaped coffin" for him. Eventually the "Confidence" was sold and carried freight for Stephens and Condit of Newark. Thereafter, all trace is lost of her.

A Newark horsecar line was started in 1864 at the Second River. However, it didn't comply with its charter and refused to extend the line to the north end of town. A group of irate citizens got together at Dow's Hall on April 13, 1870 to protest the line. They expressed disappointment in the railroad and stated that they would support a steam boat on the river between Newark, Belleville, North Belleville and Rutherford Park.

Speakers at the meeting were Gashier DeWitt, George Phillips and the Reverend William H. Stanford.

Holmes, the logical choice, initiated the new venture and bought two commutation boats: the "Rockaway" and the "General Huron". The Rockaway ran into trouble as the railroad had neglected to think about river traffic when it built bridges and so the boat lost its smokestack on one trip. The "General Huron" was too wide for the drawbridge. It could, however, hold 1,000 passengers and make the trip to Newark in 20 minutes. Even-

Nutley 2 Exchange To Go Out Of Existence In Favor Of North 7

Telephone Company Announces That Change Will Go Into Effect On Sunday But Final Four Digits Will Remain Same; Affects 8,400 People

North 7 will replace Nutley 2 as the Nutley telephone designation on Sunday.

Joseph C. Kane, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company manager, said that the introduction of the North 7 name will not affect the existing final four digits of a Nutley 2 telephone number.

For example, beginning Sunday, a number which is now Nutley 2-9970 will become North 7-9970. All the North 7 numbers will be included in the new issue of the Suburban Essex Telephone Directory scheduled for delivery about Oct. 1.

According to Kane, the name change is part of the nationwide program of reducing thousands of telephone designations to some 300 non-locality "neutral" names, which can be easily spelled and understood in all regions of the country.

Under this plan, the United States and Canada have been divided into many telephone areas. Because each area has a distinctive code number, the same "neutral" name can be applied to several areas.

In February, 1958, North 1 was introduced in Nutley for assignment to new customers. Two years later, the horsecar line gave in and extended the line across the Second River to Jorammon Street. A Federal grant gave $80,000 to Belleville to clean out the reef which was a hazard to boats coming up the river. No boat would venture up the river without a pilot.

Unfortunately, Passaic river pilots were not always as skillful as those on the Mississippi described by Mark Twain. There is a story about a schooner coming up over the reef, when the captain anxiously asked the pilot if he were "fully posted."

"Oh yes," said the pilot, "I know every rock." Just then the schooner struck one of those well known rocks and laid the pilot flat on deck. As he fell, he cried "there's one of them captain!"

Santo Notte, 13, Two Others Drown In Raritan

Three Victims Were In Calm Waters 200 Yards From Shore In Keansburg; Nutley Youth Was To Enter Eighth Grade At Holy Family

Santo Notte, 13, of 22 Florence Street, Nutley, was one of three persons who were drowned in the Calm waters of Raritan Bay, in Keansburg, on Sunday afternoon.

Notte and two friends, Michael Vizzone, 12, and Salvatore Ciacca, both of Kenilworth, had gone with four other teenagers and were enjoying the calm waters. It was just minutes before 4 p.m. when all seven splashed around in chest-high water when suddenly all three were swallowed up by the water — as if they had dropped into a hole.

Santo was wading about 200 yards off the Municipal Beach with a cousin, Florence Attanasio, 13, of 529 Franklin Avenue, Belleville; Vizzone, Ciacca and Pasquale Cuppari, 15, all of Kenilworth, and Francesco Di Ciccio, 15, of 184 Conover Avenue, Nutley.

Another cousin, Miss Theresa Mazza, 17, of 50 Brookline Avenue, Nutley, told this story of what happened:

"The water was real shallow when they were first out there. I was standing between them and the shore. Then suddenly the water seemed to get real deep. I knew the little kids didn't know how to swim. Franny called me to get a lifeguard. I headed for shore and ran to get one. The lifeguard swam to the place where the group had been. "I saw a hand sticking out of the water," he said later. "But by the time I reached the spot, the hand was gone." He added that the "tide was pretty strong by that time."

Florence Attanasio, who survived, told authorities: "The water was up to our chests when suddenly we were swamped." She said she saw her cousin, Santo, go under and reached for him. "But I couldn't make it. . . I was too tired."

No immediate explanation of the drownings was given. Police theorized that the trio may have stepped into a deep hole, but First Aid Capt. Wm. Krysenki who directed the search, said that there was no hole at that point.

Police said that there is "no current to speak of" near the beach, and the tides are not ordinarily sudden or powerful enough to bother a swimmer. Lifeguard Ronald Jackowski said that he heard screams from the water at about 4 p.m. He rushed in with a life preserver, but was unable to locate any of the victims.

Lifeguards and First Aid Men linked hands and walked over the muddy bottom of the area without finding the bodies. After two hours, members of a skindiving club from Keyport took over the search, also without results.

At 11 p.m., about 40 men resumed the human chain method, while 15 small boats glided over the mirror-smooth waters of the bay with flashlights and grappling hooks.

Notte's body was discovered at 12:15 a.m., floating about 135 feet offshore. Ciacca's body was found 15 feet further out, at 1:55. Both were found by the waders.

Santo Notte

One of the boatmen spotted Vizzone's body at 2 a.m., just after Capt. Krysenki had ordered the operation discontinued until daylight. The boy was found 300 yards east of the others.

Police deployed the "circular atmosphere" of the large crowd which gathered to watch the rescue workers. "We couldn't stop them from swimming while the search was going on," one patrolman said. "We finally chased them off at 6 p.m., and locked the fences."

Santo would have entered the eighth grade at Holy Family School. He was active in the Little League baseball program.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Notte; his grandmother, Mrs. Ann Notte at the Florence Street, address, and two sisters, Anna Marie and Janet, both at home.

The funeral was held at 10 a.m. yesterday from the Samuel W. Brown Funeral Home, Nutley. A Requiem Mass was offered in Holy Name Church and burial took place in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

"Town Hall's Inferno"

The town hall employees were excused from work at 12 noon on Monday because of heat. The only exceptions were the tax collector, tax assessor and switchboard operator who remained behind. According to Mayor Padula's orders, Town Treasurer McCoy issued the order to leave when temperatures hit 100°.

The town hall uses Newark airport readings only. They use a combination of the temperature plus 20 per cent of the humidity to determine if the employees shall leave work.

AT GROUND BREAKING: Mayor Isadore Padula turns the first formal spadeful of dirt at ceremonies Tuesday, marking the ground breaking for the new Muscare Music Building, which is being built at 318 Washington Avenue. The building will be one-story high, and will contain the store and studios of Eugene Muscare, presently and for the past seven years at 316 Washington Avenue. Shown left to right in photo are Morgan M. Davis, architect of Belleville; Commissioner George F. Kierman, director of parks and public property, who was at the ceremonies; Mr. Muscare; Mayor Padula, Mrs. Muscare; Assemblyman Leonard Ronco, of Belleville and William F. Gross, president of the Armand Construction Company of Clifton, builders.

Carragher Playground Holds Barbecue Party

Camp Carragher Playground has been alive with activities during the week. A highly successful barbecue party was held with franks, hamburgers, and all the trimmings.

One of the neighbors, Mrs. Ann Rubino loaned her grill to the playground for the affair.

High spot among the activities was a talent show, in which all of the youngsters participated.

The sister team of Kris and first prize for the girls. They did songs from "Sleeping Beauty." Second place went to Patty Aumann, for her truck twirling, and third was awarded to Nancy Aumann for her rendition of "Bailing the Jack."

The boys learned more toward musical instruments, with John Uskun taking first prize for his accordion solo. Second prize was given to Dan O'Brien for his harmonica playing. Accordionist Denny Gabriel was given third prize.

The directors, Mrs. Anna Smith and Miss Jacqueline Burdy, are planning other such activities for the remainder of the playground season.

Belleville Girl Gets $2,000 Scholarship

Beverly H. McWalters of 438 DeWitt Avenue, was awarded a 1960 Health Scholarship this week by James J. McMahon, chairman of the Essex County Chapter of the National Foundation, at ceremonies held in the March of Dimes offices, 31 Clin-Street, Newark.

Miss McWalters is one of four Essex County students chosen for this award under the new program of the National Foundation (formerly "for Infantile Paralysis"), which now embraces birth defects and arthritis in addition to polio.

Other award winners are: Mary Ellen Gulick of Orange, Maria Del Buono and Sharon Lindenfield, both of Newark.

The new Health Scholarships are awarded nationally to outstanding students seeking careers in one of five health fields — medicine, nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy and medical social work. Each scholarship is for $2,000 for a total of four years college training.

Miss McWalters will study nursing at the Rutgers University College of Nursing in Newark.

Mr. McMahon pointed out that though this is the first year the Health Scholarships have been offered, more than 4,600 students applied for the 515 scholarships available.

A 1959 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss McWalters was active there as a member of the Leaders Club, feature writer for "The Spotlight," member of the staff of the yearbook, "Monday," and president of the Junior Red Cross, which she represented at the Eastern Conference in Massachusetts this spring. Sun Call

My room is full of bushes, trees, ground, come in through my doors and windows, walking around, urging me to be with them. If I will not be forthright and go out, they will come to me.

They insist with their stems, branches, buds above chill in the morning, east wind and floods of sudden rain. They will not take no for an answer, but persuasively grow, Pulling up such a verdure in me that my mind becomes slowly, surely, progressively green and I am forced out, at length, to be wholly one with things responding to a gleam of sun!

Rodino Voted Wrong On This One

President Eisenhower received a smashing triumph in the bitter months-long struggle over the extent of curbs on racketeering and abuses of power in the labor-management field when the House of Representatives voted final approval of the strict Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill after three days of fierce debate.

The bill is in the best interests of all union members. The administration-backed bill, sponsored by Representatives Phil M. Landrum, a Democrat from Georgia, and Robert P. Griffin, a Republican from Michigan, meets most of the objectives set forth by President Eisenhower in an appeal for "tough" reforms.

Among other things, it provides sweeping bans on secondary boycotts and "hot cargo" agreements, prohibits "blackmail" picketing to force employees into labor unions, requires unions to report their finances to the secretary of labor, prescribes financial accountability for unions and sets up new rules for handling "no man's land" labor disputes.

Secondary boycotts and "hot cargo" clauses are sometimes used by unions to apply indirect pressure to an employer through a third party not directly involved in the dispute. The bill will stymie the selfish interests of union labor leaders who get paid "under the table" or "in the dark".

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, our 10th District Representative, voted against the Landrum-Griffin bill. Since Congressman Rodino owes much of his political success from the support he has received from labor unions it is understandable why he voted against the bill backed by President Eisenhower.

We believe he made a mistake in voting against the labor bill. Congressman Rodino has demonstrated sufficient strength among the independent voters of this Congressional District to enable him to stand on his own two feet and not wear a union leader's collar.

One Good Reason To Defeat Democrats

As predicted by the Republicans in past campaigns, once the Democrats took over Essex County government with control of the Board of Freeholders, the taxpayers' treasury would be ransacked to provide oil for Democrat County Chairman Dennis Carey's political machine.

Last week the Democrat contingent voted itself a $2,000 annual wage increase to bring their annual salary to $10,000 for a part-time job.

A few hours after the freeholders voted themselves a pay raise, more than 3,000 Essex County employees decided to ask the county board for a $500 cost of living bonus in September. The bonus would cost the county about $150,000.

Three of the four Republicans on the nine-member Board of Freeholders opposed the $2,000 hike to $10,000 as "wasteful," "extravagant" and "unnecessary."

This action is clearly against the taxpayers' interests. Essex County taxpayers can ill afford this salary hike.

The voters of Essex County need only to wait until November 4 to either express their approval or disapproval of this action.

Salk Shots Protect Against Crippling Polio

The Public Health Service in Washington has reported that there were 183 cases of paralytic polio during the first week of August, a record high for the year.

The latest report brought the total number of paralytic cases to 1,316 for the year, compared to 579 during the same period in 1958. In addition 89 cases of nonparalytic polio were reported for the first week of August.

For the first 30 weeks of the year, the total number of polio cases of all types came to 2,050, compared to 1,168 cases for the same period of 1958.

Many persons have grown complacent about polio since the discovery of the Salk vaccine. These statistics indicate that this dread disease has not been fully conquered and, to the contrary, is on the upswing in many parts of the nation.

We are now in the worst period of the year for polio. While many clinics have been held here in the past, many residents still are without this protection against this most crippling of all diseases.

Now is the time for everyone, adults and children alike, to make sure that they not only have received the initial Salk injections but also have had the necessary booster shots to afford them maximum protection. Pupils entering the Nutley public schools are required to have Salk shots.

The cooperation of everyone is needed if polio is to be stamped out.

"It's The Law"

This legal column is prepared under the supervision of the N. J. State Bar Association as a public service. It is designed to inform citizens of their rights, duties and obligations under our laws rather than to advise concerning specific legal problems.

If You Are Arrested

Chances are you don't give much thought to the possibility of your being arrested. As a good law-abiding citizen, your only brush with the police is an occasional parking ticket or perhaps being pulled in for speeding. But is could be otherwise!

We all know that the police have the power to make arrests. Did you ever stop to think that they also have the duty to make an arrest? Yes, when they are given a warrant to arrest a person, that warrant is a legal order to the officer to bring in the person named. Police officers must obey this warrant, often at the risk of their own lives.

Suppose the dreadful day obtained. In order for a warrant to be issued, some person, either a police official, law enforcement officer, or private citizen, must appear before a judge or magistrate and convince him that a crime has been committed and that there is reason to believe that you committed it. In that case, the warrant is issued. Once the warrant is served and you are arrested, you are protected by a series of well-defined rights. You are entitled to a prompt court hearing, to be represented by counsel of your choice, and to apply for release on bail.

You should be aware of the fact that you cannot be compelled to answer questions or to sign any paper, and you are entitled to receive a written copy of the exact charge brought against you.

But did you ever stop to think that when the officer comes to arrest you that you have certain obligations?

Yes, should a police officer produce a warrant for your arrest, you have the obligation to submit peacefully.

Yesteryear In Belleville

Five Years Ago

The Belleville Girls' PAL Softball team won out over Mutual Benefit by a 6-4 score in a closely-played game at Municipal Stadium called in the fifth inning because of darkness.

Three local children James De Bonis, Mary Ann Giese and Carol Weston, donated $2 to the Cancer Fund at Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde's office. They earned the money by presenting a show to other neighborhood children.

Miss Helen Colehamer left for a 10-day stay in Nova Scotia with six friends.

As one of six candidates sponsored by the National Citizens' For Eisenhower Committee, William McGlynn, Kearny lawyer, met with President Eisenhower.

Ten Years Ago

The Arzene Chapter Seven, order of Eastern Star, had a card party at the Masonic Temple on Joralemon Street. Mrs. Frank Goodrich was chairman.

Eugene Berry, Belleville Health Officer, returned from a series of conferences in New York marking the annual convention of the American Public Health Association.

sion Avenue was elected first corresponding secretary of the Essex County Senior Catholic Youth Council at the Council's first annual conference in Newark.

15 Years Ago

Miss Della L. Cordery, Public Service consultant, Newark, conducted lecture demonstrations at the Belleville Times-News Canning Fair in School Eight. A canning primer which indicated the amount of food needed for each person was presented to everyone attending.

The Veterans Administration received the "green light" from Administrator Frank Hines on the education and training section of the so-called G.I. Bill of Rights. Any veteran who served after September 15, 1940, having an honorable discharge, having entered the service before he was 25 and having his education interrupted became eligible for a year's training at the expense of the V.A.

Mayor Williams issued a proclamation calling upon the women of Belleville to contribute their old furs for conversion into fur vests for merchant seamen.

Belleville's record in the Fifth War Loan was being called one of the most outstanding in the nation as the town reached 270 percent of its quotas.

Twenty Years Ago

Mayor Williams, in a speech before the Real Estate Board of Newark, opposed consolidation of municipalities, but admitted merger of many common services would be a saving to taxpayers.

Commissioner Noll demanded larger recreation budget: "I would like to establish playground facilities in various sections of town and provide proper supervision at each. He named a $5,000 figure.

County freeholders were to receive bids for construction of an entrance from Broadway to Branch Brook park from North Branch Street near the new Jergen's plant.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Housewives were doing their marketing and paying 55 cents for two pounds of country butter, a penny for each orange or lemon and ten cents for three heads of lettuce.

Raymond H. Patrick and Harvey W. Mumford Jr., members of Belleville Sea Scout Ship 588, the "Georgia G. Fried," accompanied their skipper Paul G. P. Scholz of the Naval Reserve up Long Island Sound to Oyster Bay.

Vince Dundee of Belleville, world middleweight champion, signed to defend his title against Teddie Yards in Pittsburgh.

The fifteen round battle was to be fought at Forbes Field, home of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The local boy was guaranteed $25,000.

Fifty Years Ago

Health Inspector George Williamson at a meeting of the Board of Health criticized a Newark physician for failing to report a contagious case in the Silver Lake Section.

Township Physician E. O. Cyperus reported a case of glanders at the Siegel-Cooper Company's stable on Ralph Street. The animal was killed and the place fumigated.

The patrolmen on the Belleville police force handed in a petition to the police committee for an increase in salaries. There were five patrolmen, each receiving $60 a month.

The Essex Field Club house held a smoker in its rooms on Cortlandt Street. There were 60 members and friends present. George Blake won a large flag at a drawing of prizes. George Weston was the winner of a $2.50 gold piece and Mr. Yako won a box of cigars.

Thom McAn Opens New Store In North Arlington

GIRLS AND POISE: Marnee Steffens, at left, of the girls who are modeling Thom McAn footwear fashions at the opening of the new store of Ridge Road in North Arlington. With Miss Steffens are Elaine Driscoll of Lyndhurst and Kathleen Krieger of North Arlington. A total of six girls will model — with Miss Thom McAn being selected tomorrow. She will get a $100 gift certificate for the School of Poise.

Notice To Dog Owners

New Jersey suburbanites will have a new drive-in shoe-style center now that Thom McAn's new store in North Arlington on Ridge Road opened yesterday. The store, between Bergen and Boyle Avenues, began a three-day grand-opening celebration.
James Thompson has been named manager, according to Leon Santos, district director for Thom McAn in this area, and the store will be operated by a local company, North Arlington Thom McAn Inc.
Highlighting the three-day opening celebration will be a "Queen Modeling Contest" with six young finalists, chosen from the loveliest in the area, vying for the title of "Miss Thom McAn" and the grand prize of a $100 gift certificate for the Marnee Steffens School of Poise in Hackensack.
Miss Marnee Steffens, head of the modeling school, and her instructors will act as judges. Each of the finalists will receive a free wardrobe of Mr. Thom Designer Fashion Shoes.
The six girls will model the latest Thom McAn shoe styles in the store tonight and Saturday morning, with the final judging being held Saturday at noon.
All customers during the three-day opening will receive free gifts with purchases — Esquire shoe shine kits or pen and pencil sets for men, wallets or holsters for women, gun and pencil sets for children. Each child visiting the store will receive a free balloon or lollipop.
The opening brings to 52 the number of Thom McAn stores serving New Jersey. The first Thom McAn store was opened in New York City in 1922. Since then the number has grown to more than 800 in 450 cities from coast to coast to make Thom McAn the largest integrated manufacturing-retailing organization in the shoe industry.

island by a bridge which crosses about three miles of lagoon. They have to be parked at one of the garages and the passengers have to continue either on foot or by water.

The canals, along which skimming gondolas and other boats, wind about among the 118 islands which are connected by more than 4,000 bridges.

The "main street" is the Grand Canal on which our hotel was situated. The canal is spanned by only three wide-spread bridges. If you wish to cross it at any point between these, it is necessary to ride the ferry.

The "heart" of Venice is the Piazza San Marco, St. Mark's Square, which has been for centuries meeting place of people of all races and countries in the world. The fantastic architecture of the Basilica of Saint Mark's is the result of the blending of the Romantic and Byzantine styles with Gothic.

St. Mark's square is noted for the thousands of pigeons and believe me, its reputation has not been over exaggerated. The Lido is a long slender strip of land which borders the lagoon and protects Venice from the sea. At the Lido there have been created beautiful bathing beaches.

From Venice it was a 14 hour train ride to Vienna on the beautiful modern train with adjoining compartments, carpeting, sinks, etc.

When Asht is called by the Austrians, is divided into 23 districts and is a city of about 1 and 3/4 million persons. It is a city of music where such great composers as Beethoven, Mozart, Strauss and Schubert lived and worked.

Through the city flows the Danube river and the Danube Canal. As you look down at the city from one of the foot hills in the Vienna woods, the picture is exactly as one would visualize Vienna.

Three prominent sight seeing attractions spring immediately to mind. St. Stephen's Cathedral, a huge church in Gothic style, symbol of faith to thousands of the Viennese. The famous Imperial Palace of the Schonbrunn in one of the smart suburbs. The Palace was the Hapsburgs' summer palace and is a symbol of worldly power and courtly grace. The Kahlenberg is one of the hills dominating the city and overlooking little wine-villages, symbol of the Viennese love of life. From these three characteristic features one gets unforgettable views of a city where the ancient and modern are combined in perfect harmony.

The Vienna State opera is world famous, however, it closes for the summer. We were fortunate to be able to take a tour through the beautiful building. The opera house was almost completely destroyed during the war and was reopened in 1956. It has the most modern stage any director could ever dream of. The stage is almost unbelievably big—three stories high and three stories deep.

It can move in any direction—up, down, right, left, forward, back or any combination of these. Since it was closed, I did not see a performance, but after seeing the stage and the interior I promise myself I would like to see it. There just isn't enough time in the summer to do everything.

The people in general are very friendly and want you to like them and their cities. They are polite and anxious to assist you.

They are interested in learning about America. The Europeans haven't much but they certainly know how to live.

THE DENZLERS TO HONEYMOON AT CHAMPLAIN

Trinity Covenant Church, Livingston, was the scene on August 15, 1959 of the wedding of Irene Matilda Spangnagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spangnagel of Glenwood Avenue, East Orange, and Carl Ernest Denzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Denzler of Belmont Street. The Rev. Clarence Winston officiated and a reception followed at the Condor in Livingston.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Olsen. Bridesmaids were Miss Monica Herbrecht of Canada, cousin of the bride, Miss Sandra Schaefer, and Miss Helen Denzler, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. David Denzler was best man for his brother, Underwriter, John Ungermann, Frank Naky, and Douglas Crawford.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza with a lace bodice, lace appliques and a lace chapel train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingered silk illusion veil and she carried baby orchids and miniature ivy. The attendants wore gowns of white nylon organza over blue pail de poise, and large picture hats. Each carried a basket of daisies and cornflowers.

Mrs. Denzler is a graduate of Clifford Scott High School, East Orange and Newark State College, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Phi, national honor society in education. For the past six years she was organist of Trinity Covenant and last year was on the faculty of Franklin School, East Orange. In September she will be employed by Iowa State University, Iowa City.

Mr. Denzler is a graduate of Belleville High School and Lafayette College, Pennsylvania where he was commissioned a 2nd Lieut, upon graduation. He is presently an instructor at the State University of Iowa and is also doing graduate work there.

Old Painting Of Belleville Kept In The Hatch Family Shows A Peaceful Community

Pictured above is an old painting of Belleville done by an itinerant painter in 1849 and kept in the family of Mrs. Mary Law Stephens Hatch of Joramelon Street. The painting was brought into the Times office by her son, Joseph Hatch, of 200 Smallwood Avenue. Hatch also bought with him a collection of other data pertaining to Belleville years ago. Both he and his sons cleaned up the old painting so that it could be photographed. The Hatches are descendants of Josiah Hornblower, pioneer citizen in Belleville.

"WHAT'S THIS PRESCRIPTION FOR?"

It is common for a customer to ask us to tell him the disease that a prescription is for. Here is the only answer we can give such a request: "Many Drugs are used for several ailments and for that reason we have made it a policy never to guess the disease or the physical condition a prescription is for."

"Certain Drugs will help give relief from a number of symptoms and these symptoms are observed in several ailments. The physician you consulted examined you with skill & care before he wrote the prescription you inquire about. It is for him to answer the question, he alone has the necessary information. We must refuse to guess. You will agree that it is the right policy for us to follow in regard to this question."

Saddened By Death

The Belleville Legion Team, its coaches and managers were saddened to learn of the death of Joseph Belus, 47, of Ralph Street, who died this week of a heart attack. Belus was the father of Allan Belus, Legion infielder-outfielder, and was a good friend of all the boys.

"We all feel sorry about losing a good friend like Joe Belus," Manager John Kay said.

The Real Malloy . . .

It's official. Jerry Malloy WILL be toastmaster of the September 12th dinner for the Belleville Legion Team. Malloy, an old-time professional basketball referee, is said to be a show in himself. Tickets are going rapidly, says manager Kay. "I wish we could accommodate more, but we'll have to limit attendance to 150."

Notes For Hunters

New Jersey hunters, whether armed with firearms or bow and arrow, were advised today by the State Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, to familiarize themselves with regulations before participating in the proposed hunting seasons next fall.

Under the 1959 hunting regulations it will be illegal for any hunter to have in his possession in the woods, fields, marshland or on the water, any shell or cartridge with missiles of any kind larger than No. 4 fine shot except during the firearm deer hunting season, and except that waterfowl hunters in tide waters and tide water marshes may possess and use shells loaded with No. 2 or smaller fine shot.

At all times it will be illegal to have in possession any buckshot which is strung, waxed, cut or joined in any manner. It is also illegal to use in hunting fowl or animals of any kind, any shotgun capable of holding more than three shells at one time, or that may be fired more than thrice without reloading.

From December 7 to December 12 inclusive, and on December 17, 18 and 19, it will be illegal to use any rifle or firearm of any kind of a smaller calibre than 12 gauge or to have in possession any firearm missile except buckshot, or to hunt between 5 P.M. and 7 A.M. or to hunt deer with a dog.

This does not preclude a person engaged in duck hunting only from possessing a shotgun and nothing larger than No. 4 fine shot, or No. 2 fine shot in tide waters.

Under the law, at all times it will be illegal to use a bow and arrow for hunting between one half hour after sunset and one half hour before sunrise.

During the bow and arrow seasons for taking deer, October 10 to November 6, December 7 to 12, and on December 17-18 and 19, all arrows carried in the woods and fields must be fitted with an edged head of the following specifications: Minimum width shall be 3/4 inch, maximum, 1 1/2 inch; minimum length shall be 1 1/2 inch on main cutting edge; cutting edges shall be of well-sharpened metal only. The bow must have a minimum draw pull weight of 35 pounds, and cast a legal hunting arrow 125 yards to a point of smaller elevation.

It will be illegal at all times to discharge an arrow from or across a state, county, or municipal highway or roadway, or within 300 feet of any occupied dwelling, except with permission of the owner or lessee. It is also illegal to use a bow and arrow from any vehicle, moving or stationary.

Gravity Of Situation

The law of gravity may take some inches off the records of Latin American athletes when they compete in the Pan-American Games in Chicago, Aug. 27th to Sept. 7th.

To most sports fans, Newton and Einstein are out of their element on the playing field. But The World Book Encyclopedia explains that the force of gravity . . . which keeps third base on the ground and prevents a high jumper from clearing the moon . . . varies over the earth's surface. It gets weaker as one travels toward the equator or farther above sea level.

This means that a javelin thrown in the Panama Canal Zone would travel 3 1/2 inches farther than in Madison, Wisconsin. It would travel about one foot farther than at the North Pole.

A broad jumper would leap 3/4 inches farther in Texas than he would in Massachusetts. And a shot-put thrown 50 feet in Finland would travel an inch farther in Rome.

The upshot is that most Latin American athletes will be fighting stronger gravity in Chicago. All other conditions being equal, it might be difficult to set any records over those established in the second Pan-American Games held in Mexico City in 1955.

The capital of Mexico sits on a high plateau more than 7,000 feet above sea level, and not too far from the equator. Chicago, many degrees north of the equator, barely keeps its feet dry at 600 feet above sea level.

The best place for setting records probably would be in Lima, Peru. Nestled in equatorial mountains, Lima has the world's weakest gravity.

Of course, the variations of Mother Earth give no side an advantage in a particular contest. But, theoretically, they could foul up international records.

What do the gentlemen with tape measures do about all this? They ignore it. They figure it will all come out right in the end.

Recreation Jr. League All Stars To Meet Legion In 3-Game Series Mon., Tues., Thurs.

Players Seek Big Turn-Out For Battles

An "All-Star" team composed of members of the Recreation Junior League squads will meet the Belleville Legion in a three-game series next week at the Belleville Stadium.

The game, under the auspices of the Recreation Department, will be held at 7 p.m. sharp and are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

John Kay, Legion manager, said the games will have a bearing on the selection of next year's Legion team, and in a sense, will decide the town championship of baseball with that age category.

Players and managers are hoping for a large turn-out.

Managing the All-Stars will be Walt Smith, normally manager of the Braves. He will be assisted by coaches Joseph Hatch, normally manager of the Red Sox's, Ed Wallock of the Pirates and Manuel Fernandez, normally assistant coach of the Pirates. Lawrence Gildenberg, Cub coach, will not be present since he is reported to be on vacation in California.

While Hatch will be coaching the All-Stars, his son Eric, is expected to be in the game for the Legion Squad. Eric plays the outfield and is a pitcher for the Legion squad. The Rec All-Stars also are "borrowing" two members of the Legion team, Bob Pucarello, outfielder and Allen Belus, who plays both infield and outfield. Pucarello and Belus are on the Braves, as well as the Legion team.

The Rosters

Rich Matterazzi (Cubs), pitcher; Carmen Mineom (Cubs), third base; Bob Manfredi (Braves), second base; Jerry Oatsey (Red Sox), first base; Tom Perry (Red Sox), first base; Fred Puleo (Pirates), right field; Charles Smith (Braves), bat boy; Jack Throckmorton (Red Sox), pitcher; Jack Van Duyn (Cubs), first base; Frank Zinna (Pirates), second base and George Zanfini (Braves), second base.

Federal Industries Still In No. 1 Slot

Federal Industries are still holding the number one slot in the Recreation Industrial Softball League, with a record of ten wins and one loss. With only a few more games to be played, listed below are the standings as of August 6th.

Teams	W	L
Federal Industries	10	1
Wallace & Tiernan	7	3
Walter Kidde	6	5
Wilbur Driver	6	6
A. W. W. P. A.	5	5
Wiss Cutlery	5	7
Pittsburg Plate	2	8
Work-O-Lite	1	6

Industrial softball is played at Belleville Park each Tuesday and Wednesday evening. Games start at 6 p.m., with two games each night.

It now looks as if Sept. 5th is the first day for tryouts and the schedule will be planned after that. The only thing that is certain at this time is that the Big Field at the stadium will not be used for practices by the Little League.

This decision has been made to allow for proper growth of the grass on the field, and to make for a better playing area for games.

The plans for this year will undoubtedly be about the same as previously, with the teams being assembled with a definite thought toward equalization of the teams.

This is done as a safety factor, and to make for a better spectator activity. Further information concerning this will be forthcoming.

Stadium Beats Montgomery; Park Leads Rec. Jr. Softball

Stadium added two on a home-run by Latorre in the fourth, the last of their scoring until the final inning. A high scoring four run sixth inning for Montgomery knotted the count at 7-7. This was featured by him off the bats of John Valaseo, Lenny Galtito, Mike Cappe and Tommy McMahon.

Stadium countered with four runs in the top of the seventh on hits by Frank Zinna and Lillore. Montgomery picked up only two of the four run deficit in the bottom half of the seventh. Latorre pitched for the winners and John Valli took the defeat.

St. Joseph's Whips Petreans, 7-4 For Essex CYO Int. Title

In sweltering heat, St. Joseph's Spanish, Newark, whipped St. Peter's, Belleville, 7-4, at Branch Brook Extension on Sunday to win the Essex County CYO Intermediate Baseball League championship. St. Joseph's, this will move into the archdiocesan playoffs against the Union County champion on August 30.

St. Joseph's took to the hot weather quite well, whereas St. Peter's, the losing pitcher, didn't seem to have his usual stuff and was combed for three runs in the second inning, one in the fourth and three in the fifth when Lou Crudele came in on relief.

First Run On Bats St. Joseph's scored its first run on a balk and then John Golba singled two more home. The single counter in the fourth was carried across by Tom Ward, who stole second and came all the way around to score. The big blow in the fifth was a two-run single by Ralph Paolella, who garnered two of St. Joseph's nine hits.

St. Peter's, meanwhile, was ineffective against Joe Mendes. St. Peter's won his fifth game of the season and the 33rd in a long CYO career. Mendes fanned nine, didn't give up a hit until

Queen of Peace Downs Vikings In Play-offs

The Belleville Recreation Summer Basketball League was brought to a conclusion this week as a strong Queen of Peace team beat the North Arlington Vikings, 63-52 in play-offs at Clearman Field.

Bloomfield had finished in first place in the scheduled three rounds of play, with Queen of Peace in second place. North Arlington finished in third place and Belleville made the play-offs by taking fourth.

In the semi-finals of the play-offs, Belleville lost to Queen of Peace, 67-53 and Bloomfield lost to the Vikings, 56-52.

The first half of the championship game was all North Arlington, which had a commanding 30-23 lead at half-time. However, the Queenmen came on strong in the third quarter and tied the score. From there on in they opened the lead, finishing with a flourish and the league championship.

Commissioner George F. Kierman, director of Parks of Public Property, said he feels that the first attempt at summer basketball was a great success and that the Recreation Department looks forward to similar competition in the future.

Belleville Legion Meets Franklin In Rubber Match

The Belleville American Legion Team will play a rubber exhibition game Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Franklin.

The local squad, in an exhibition game, beat the Franklin Legion, 12-5, last Saturday. About three weeks previous to that, they lost, also at Franklin, by an 8-7 score.

Persons wishing to attend Saturday's game are advised that an entourage is leaving from the Belleville Stadium at 9:30 a.m. In Saturday's game, there were about five carloads of players and spectators who went to Franklin, and they're still talking about the good time they had.

Excellent Hosts Franklin Legion Post 132 proved to be excellent hosts, and allowed use of a private lake at Franklin for the boys and the spectators, as well as preparing fresh-picked corn and tomatoes for chow after the game.

The corn was sweet, the tomatoes (egg tomatoes) big and still warm from the sun, and they were franks and baked beans.

In the ball game, Jim Cleffi started for Belleville, pitched five innings and was relieved by Ed Chelel in the fifth. Eric Hatch, who had pitched playing in the outfield, was brought in the eighth to relieve Chelel, who in turn went out into the outfield. Cleffi was the winner. Got 12 Hits Belleville scored their runs on 12 hits. Franklin got eight hits.

The game was an exciting affair to watch, observers report, with fine defensive plays being made by both sides, highlighted by sparkling catches in the Belleville outfield by Hatch and Bob Pucarello.

REC. FOOTBALL TRY-OUTS

Boys between the ages of 10 and 13 interested in trying out for Recreation Football this year are requested to appear at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, August 29th, at the Belleville Stadium.

Your Child In School, What's Wrong And Why

Philip Willkie, In Special Feature Writes, "We Seem To Be Obsessed With Those Who Can't Learn, Rather Than Those Who Can"

In city after city, many parents and some educators are becoming concerned about the kind of education children are receiving today.

They say our education has grown "soft," that our children are taking "easy" courses, that we are producing a generation of mediocre people.

Philip Willkie, who has degrees from Harvard, Princeton and Columbia and once was a member of the Federal Scholarship Committee, has made a two-year comparative study of the educational systems in Russia and the United States.

He is a lawyer and banker in his hometown of Rushville. His father, the late Wendell Willkie, was a Republican candidate for President in 1940. Some years ago, Mr. Willkie served as a member of the Indiana General Assembly.

Here is what he has to say about education, your child, your nation and your future.—The Editor.

Philip Willkie

By PHILIP WILLKIE

We, in this America of the latter nineteen-fifties, find ourselves faced with a tremendous challenge. We are in a strange conflict with a peculiar people, those of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The decisions which we make in this conflict, may well determine the future course of organized freedom.

The Russians are a people like ourselves, energetic of purpose and who also, like ourselves, dominate a large land area. They are a people who, if we could know them socially and spoke the same language and had no political differences, we would undoubtedly enjoy. But since we don't know them socially, don't speak the same language, and have every political difference between us, we have many problems with them.

The Russian people have never at any time in the course of their history lived under what we would consider a democratic government.

The government of Imperialist Russia was an autocracy under the Czars, as the government of Communist Russia has been an autocrat under the Commissars. Forty per cent of the land in Russia prior to the revolution belonged to the Czar, and the Czar was the State.

There was never over five or eight per cent of the people who owned any property, as we think of people owning property.

Religion, which is now suppressed, was under complete domination of the State under the Czars. So they are a nation which never knew freedom of religion.

To say anything against the Government in power in Russia has always meant a knock on the door from the secret police under either regime, the Communists or the Czars.

So, whether it is on the question of the right of private property, or the right to believe as you please, or on the right to determine the policy of the government by the majority, and the right to dissent from the majority and not be locked up for dissenting, they have never had or enjoyed any of these rights.

Therefore, we do not have much in common. It is a big barrier.

The Russians have made it plain that they propose to become the number one power on this earth, and they have been saying so constantly day after day. Mr. Khrushchev says it to everybody that will listen to him. They want to supplant us as the most important power on earth.

They propose to make Marxian communism (as they understand it) the dominant political philosophy of the earth.

They propose to achieve both these ends without firing any shots at anybody.

They propose to accomplish their ambitions by out-producing us, out-surpassing us and excelling us at one of the things that has made us great; that is, our capacity to produce industrial power and to make goods and services.

They propose to do us one better. They say they are going to do it. Mr. Khrushchev says it the other day that they are going to get it done; that is to become the No. 1 power on earth, I think it was by 1973.

They have accomplished some very interesting things. There is a lot of dispute about what they have done about missiles. Well, I don't think anybody claims that we are ahead of them. This certainly is true.

They can sit in Moscow tonight, they can fire an intercontinental ballistic missile with an atomic warhead and if they desire to aim at the city of Indianapolis they can smash Madison and surrounding counties into ashes. They have that power now.

Have Had Jets

The Russians have had jet transports on a large scale commercial production for several years. We are just now obtaining jet transports on a large scale commercial production.

Their gross national product is increasing at twice the pace at which our gross national product is increasing. Their in-motivated to work harder and compete more fiercely than our rivals.

Whether we do or whether we don't will depend, of course, more than anything else, on the kind of a job our educational system does in the days ahead. That conflict between the Russians and ourselves is not going to be decided in the next five minutes, it is going to be decided in the next generation.

Education Changes

But simultaneously with the growth of Russian power we have had a change in the policy of American education.

We began to develop a new philosophy of education about 40 years ago, under the leadership of Prof. John Dewey and his associates at Columbia University in New York City.

Unquestionably it is unfair to hold Prof. Dewey responsible for everything that has happened in the intervening years.

Before he died, Prof. Dewey indirectly stated that he had some second thoughts on what was happening, and felt he had been misinterpreted.

However, I believe all will agree that Dr. Dewey was the man most responsible for starting the revolution against the classical curriculum of mathematics, science, English, history and the language at the secondary level and reading, writing and arithmetic at the primary level.

In their place has been substituted the so-called "practical courses" and the "academic courses" and unlimited freedom of choice by the pupils.

We used to have in this country the idea that in education there were certain fundamental subjects, and if you learned those fundamental subjects, then you had an education.

If you learned those fundamental subjects, then you learned how to reason and to think, and you learned proper work habits. We further had the idea that most people could get these subjects if they tried. Now, it is not a question of trying, it is a question of whether the child is bright or not.

But the real problem today with those who can't learn rather than those who can.

Taking Survey

Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, one of the great figures in American education, has been going about the country recently surveying the American High Schools.

He has written a book, he has written for all the magazines, he has made a number of speeches and he has said a number of things, some of which are very good. I have read what he has said and he makes the point that we should teach the solid subjects to the academically talented (that is to the brightest).

The so-called progressive school preached the philosophy that each child should develop according to his ability and shouldn't be made to do anything he didn't want to do. That he should find his own direction and that authorities must not discipline and frustrate his personality.

As a result, we have robbed our school authorities of disciplinary power. A school superintendent friend of mine recently told me that neither he nor any one else could run a school system properly without discipline.

Other progressive ideas have also infiltrated in our public school system and even many of our colleges. Unquestionably there is an argument for experimentation, and the progressives in advocating it probably did some good.

But the experimentalists have gone a long way.

Today in Indiana there are only five teachers under 30 years of age licensed to teach Latin. At the present juncture of events we have throughout America, about 20 to 25 per cent of our secondary school pupils taking mathematics, science, English, history and the languages, the conventional high school subjects.

About 30 per cent of them are taking a variety of things including courses that teach them how to wear clothes.

Pupil won't do their trigonometry on the basis of self-learning without the benefit of discipline.

Relaxing Courses

There is a college in Texas that has a course in "supervised rest." I understand there is one in California that has a course in "barbequing and party preparations." The University of Louisville has a course in "How to Teach How to Play."

A friend of mine says the problem of our society is to learn how to relax in an age of automation. I don't believe that the Russians are going to allow us to relax in an age of automation.

In fact, if they don't wreck us, if they don't surpass us, if they don't cause us to go broke financially, they may make us remain the number one power, because they make us go to work. That's the optimistic way of looking at the situation.

But they are not going to let us relax. This I am sure. They haven't the slightest intention of letting us relax.

Have you ever thought of what happened to some of the boys that looked bright when they were in grade school? You ever thought about what happened to some that looked machinists, farmers and brackdumb? I bet that there were people who seemed awfully stupid who have done very well. Also, there were probably some that you knew who were considered to be very bright, but who ended up as drunken bums.

Lots Of Tests

We have gone in for testing in this country. We are going to prove everything by tests. So, we will make all the children take tests, we will pick the bright ones and we will give them the solid subjects, and the dumb ones we are going to let weave baskets.

When Dr. Conant made his speech in Indianapolis, he said that the 15 per cent academically talented should take the solid subjects, and the 85 per cent should take a program to which they are vocationally inclined.

I asked him at a big meeting: "Are you in effect saying that the 85 per cent are too dumb to learn?" "Well," he said, "I don't like your way of expressing it, but I think we should only teach the solid subjects to those who find it a rewarding experience and to those for which it comes easy."

If that is to be the philosophy of the next generation of Americans, Marxian communism as practiced from Moscow will inevitably dominate the earth. I don't think that 100 per cent of them can become intellectuals, but I think that two-thirds of them can get it if they will work. We not only need a core of highly educated business and professional men and professors, but we need a core of highly educated mechanics, farmers and brackwho can think, if we are going to run a democracy.

This country wasn't based on the theory of the elite. This country was based on the idea that the ordinary man had a chance.

Many Engineers

In 1917 the Russians were graduating 5,000 engineers a year. Last year they graduated 400,000.

Our engineering applicants this year are down five per cent. Who is going to have the industrial power if they have twice as many engineers? Is it going to be the Russians or is it going to be the Americans?

John Günther says that they are graduating four times as many doctors. Who is going to have the better health in this age of preventive medicine, the Russians or the Americans?

They have 10 million people studying English, and they are commencing the study of English in the third grade.

We have 5,000 people studying Russian. Who is going to know more about the other country? Are they going to know more about us, or are we going to know more about them?

Our Indiana Commission on Education last year ruled that Russian could not be given credit for a high school diploma in Elkhart, Bloomington and Gray. Is this logical thinking?

We have a tremendous heritage in this Judeo-Christian background, with its belief in the individuality of the human soul.

Our political philosophy allows men to carve out their des-

A Teenager Views the Soviet Exhibition

(The views and impressions of the Soviet Exhibition in New York as interpreted by Robert Wasvary are not necessarily the views of this newspaper. — Editor).

By ROBERT WASVARY

Recently I toured this exhibition with a friend from high school. The display, which was located at the Coliseum, New York City, was most impressive, but it left no doubt in my mind that it was an attempt by the Soviets to project the picture of "free people, happy only because of Communism".

The quotation is completely false. Russia was in the throes of rapid industrial growth when the October, 1917, revolution interrupted the process. Before the revolution, in 1913, the industrial increase was 18 per cent per year. 18 per cent is about the same average increase realized during the U.S.S.R.'s first Five-Year Plan.

No statistical reports were made of the terrible price paid in slave labor and human lives, for examples, in the periods of collectivization in the 1930's. These sacrifices forced the people of the Soviet Union to do without many necessities.

In the exhibit the Soviets made comparisons of the advances of the United States and itself in the fields of industry, science, technology, electronics, and atomic energy. All these comparisons, with the exception of the so-called "Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy" display, again tried to show Communism as the reason for the advances. The atomic energy display tried to give the impression that our country is using it only for war purposes.

The Soviet Union's rate of expansion comparison makes no sense. A fairer comparison would be the U.S.S.R. today and the U.S. 75 of 80 years ago. Our growth was then quite impressive. This was accomplished without the terror, purges, and man-made famines which accompanied the Soviet advances.

As one tours the exhibition many murals are seen. Among them is a geographical map. The top says, "The U.S.S.R. has an area of 22,400,000 sq. km. The population of the U.S.S.R. exceeded 200 million. The Soviet Union is inhabited by 98 nations and nationalities." In the middle are marked supposedly self-governing states which were actually taken over by Soviet armed intervention.

These so-called self-governing states did not include the captive satellite countries which are supposed to be "completely independent and self-governing".

The following appeared on the bottom of the mural: "This is a voluntary union of nations, united for the joint building of socialism."

These republics are neither voluntary, nor united, for they were also taken control via armed intervention.

A comparison was made of the U.S. and the Republic of the Soviet Union as both being similar. There is no basis in fact in the comparison. The U.S.S.R. was united by force of arms. They are neither sovereign nor independent. They have a colonial status.

Near the mural the following was written: "Each Union Republic has the right to enter into direct relations with foreign states and to conclude agreements and exchange representatives with them."

The statement just quoted is only nonsense, because the republics have no genuine political autonomy. They received their orders from Moscow and plans and policies are not made locally in keeping with the population's needs. The Kremlin makes the plans. The interest of the central regime always take precedence over those of the people.

One of the most interesting features of the exhibition was large color television which showed entertainment such as sports, dancing, industry, and other features. Everyone of the movies were tainted with propaganda.

In the so-called "Well-Being of the People" section a Soviet room was displayed and next to it read: "A typical Soviet bedroom."

A Russian refugee who saw the bedroom commented: "Never, in all my years in the Soviet Union, have I seen a room that well furnished."

Among the other displays, in the "Well-Being..." section, was a large display of Soviet delicacies and two automobiles.

These delicacies and the cars are far beyond the reach of the average Russian citizen. They are only available to the commissars.

I doubt if the Soviet Exhibition will have much of a lasting effect on the American people, for (1) most Americans have, through the press, radio, and television, been informed in some degree on how the U.S.S.R. operates and (2) I doubt if many people outside the New York area saw the exhibition.

For once I believe the United States is getting the better end of the exhibition exchange. We seem to be impressing the Soviet people considerably more than the Soviets did us. The United States Exhibition in Moscow is drawing record crowds, whereas the Soviet Exhibition has only drawn a normal New York audience.

The Exhibition in New York was not as successful as the Soviets hoped it would be. The planners of the Soviet Exhibition must have judged from the way they thought the Soviet people would react, not taking into account the difference in the living standard.

This show the Soviets put on for us is just another of the many attempts to sway the people of the Western World a little closer toward Communism. Although most U. S. citizens are anti-Communist the Communists have launched a global war with varying tactics from country to country, but its goal of world-wide conquest and to win the minds of men is unchanged and they will do and spend anything to accomplish it.

GET "PROOFS" READY BEFORE YOU RETIRE!

Social Security Payments Hurried If Records Are Available

Would you like to help your social security office shorten the time you may have to wait to get your first benefit check? No payments can be made to you unless you make a claim. Your claim cannot be approved without evidence that the law's requirements are met. So if you get your proofs ready ahead of time, and bring them with you when you make your claim, that important first payment will get to you sooner.

Almost everyone making a claim for monthly benefits must prove his age or the date of his birth. A birth certificate is best, but many other items will do; for example, a baptismal certificate, a foreign church record, immigration papers, or a vaccination record.

Any formal document or record which is at least ten years old can be considered, and many people have proven their age with a church, school, employment, or hospital record, an old insurance policy, or a family Bible in which the date of birth was entered. People born outside the United States should bring their naturalization papers to the social security office. Anyone claiming benefits as a dependent or surviving husband or wife must prove marriage. A certificate from the public record, available from the Town Clerk where the license was taken out, is usually best.

If your marriage took place outside the United States you might be able to get a copy of your marriage certificate by writing either to the civil officer or to the church in the place where you were married. The age of a child of a retired or deceased insured worker will be proved by a birth certificate. The decree of adoption is needed if benefits are being claimed for an adopted child.

Evidence of recent earnings is needed to establish the correct benefit rate, and sometimes to prove that there were enough earnings credits to qualify for benefit payments. The latest withholding statement (Form W-2) is best for employees. The self-employed should always bring full and exact copies of their income tax returns for the last two years, and the cancelled check, money order stub, or bank receipt which shows they paid the social security tax.

For quickest payment, get in touch with your nearest social security office at least a month ahead of time, and bring your proofs with you. Full information may be secured at your local security offices. Several of the local offices are located at 1016 Broad Street, Newark; 2 Broad Street, Bloomfield; 428 Main Street, East Orange; 1040 Springfield Avenue, Irvington; and 268 North Broad Street, Elizabeth.
