Local Woman Is "Critical" After Being Hit By Car

Elizabeth Dodd, 62, of 157 Forest Street, remained in critical condition this week at Columbus Hospital, Newark, after being struck by a car at Greylock Parkway near the crosswalk of Forest Street.

The accident took place at 8:51 a.m. September 5th. Driver of the car was Benjamin Maybee, 49, of 419 Greylock Parkway. Maybee told police he was traveling east on Greylock at 15 miles an hour and had already passed to the east crosswalk at Forest Street when Mrs. Dodd stepped from behind the shadow of a fence and walked into the front fender of his car and fell to the street.

Mrs. Dodd was taken to Columbus Hospital in a town ambulance manned by Firemen Bedford and Bloom. She was examined by Dr. Macchiaroli of the hospital for a possible fractured skull, fractured left pelvis and fractured left forearm.

A statement was taken by police from a witness, Dominick Aiello, 68, of 131 Davenport Avenue, Newark, who was driving directly behind Maybee. Aiello said he did not see the woman either.

In another accident at the same intersection two days later on September 7th, Elmer Pellegrino, 18, of 13 Mary Street, was thrown from the car in which she was riding as a passenger. The car was being driven by Joseph Giuliano, 17, of 133 Harrison Street, Bloomfield. Miss Pellegrino was taken to Columbus Hospital by ambulance and detained for x-rays. Giuliano was driving on a learner's permit.

A 14-year-old boy, Thomas Sheiner, of 386 Franklin Avenue, was struck by a car at Holmes Street and Union Avenue at 9:43 a.m. September 8. Driver of the car was John Luparello, 238 Cedar Lane, Clontarf. Young Sheiner was treated by Dr. Evangelista of Clara Maass Hospital and released.

At 5:30 p.m., September 8, a car driven by John Hopkins, 59, of 27 Fairmont Avenue Newark, struck a parked car at Academy Street and Washington Avenue. Mrs. Genevieve Hopkins was taken to Columbus Hospital where she was examined for head injuries and transferred to the Maryland Medical Center, Newark.

Local Rotary Club Hears District Governor Speak On Role for Understanding

The world's almost 500,000 Rotarians are for a tremendous force for world understanding through betterment of human relations starting at the grass-roots level of the local club. George S. Kaighn, governor of Rotary's 74th district, told members of the Belleville Club during his annual visit yesterday.

Kaighn addressed a meeting of the entire club membership after a conference with local officers and committee chairmen.

Maass Water Meeting Set For Sept. 16

Passage of the much-delayed water ordinance was held over again this week — talked to the next session of the Town Commission.

The hold-up was caused as a result of the fact that no meetings have been held as yet between the town and Clara Maass officials in an attempt to come to agreement on payment of back water bills amounting to more than $5,000.

The ordinance would establish the new water rate at 90 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for hospitals. Clara Maass previously had been billed at 69 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, which was the rate paid by the Essex County Hospital.

The 90 cent rate is considered to be the cost now paid by Belleville to Newark for its water. Belleville recently signed a new five-year contract with Newark for purchase of water.

This cost does not include other charges, such as billing, meter reading and maintenance. A committee of three Commissioners had been formed to meet with officials of Clara Maass. A first meeting was cancelled because of difficulty with vacation schedules of hospital officials. Another meeting has been set up for September 16th between a committee of Maass officials and the Town officials.

A petition signed by 64 residents of Frederick Street resulted this week in the introduction of an ordinance making that street one-way from Newark Avenue south to Franklin Street. The ordinance was introduced by Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, Director of Public Safety.

An ordinance was passed on second and final reading providing for a minimum size of 50 by 100 feet for auto lots.

In an attempt to control rooming houses in Belleville, the Commissioners are going to get a copy of the Newark rooming house ordinance for study.

French, Campaign Chairman, and Allan H. Crisp, Assistant Campaign Chairman.

The following agency representatives were in attendance: Mrs. Peter Semchuk of Cerebral Palsy; Col. C. B. Strome, U. S. O.; Arthur Denzler, Red Cross; Charles Kelly, District Executive of the Boy Scouts; George Brown, District Chairman of the Boy Scouts; Mrs. Edward A. Rochau, Mental Health; Mrs. A. ## Name Dr. Meehan Health Physician

Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico, Director of the Department of Public Affairs, announced this week the appointment of Dr. Martin Meehan, the Town Physician, to serve as Public Health Physician.

Commissioner Pico also said he was preparing to interview applicants for the position of part-time health officer.

The announcement came after last week's meeting with Dr. Miriam Sachs, of the District State Health Office. Dr. Sachs stressed the need for a "properly qualified physician" as a requirement for a community of the size and complexity of Belleville.

The meeting between Dr. Sachs and Commissioner Pico came about as a result of a letter from James Golden, town critic, to the State Health Commissioner, that Sanitarian Edward Burdzy was acting improperly as health officer for Belleville.

Burdzy, who is working to complete qualifications making him eligible for a test to become a licensed health officer, was in charge of the health officer with the resignation last year of Health Officer Eugene Berry. Dr. Meehan, who has been town physician the past 25

McGill Suggests Talks on Thrift, Vandals

Thomas McGill, a constant attendant at local Commission meetings, made several suggestions at the meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. McGill led off by noting that Peter Torre had resigned as an recreation official to take over the Motor Vehicle agency. McGill asked if Commissioner George F. Kiernan, Director of Parks and Public Property, could see to it in the interest of economy that the job not be filled.

Kiernan said that as envisaged, the post would not have to be refilled. McGill then discussed the problem of vandalism and noted that while newspapers often carry stories of vandalism, there was nothing of vandalism being apprehended and what was being done with them when caught. "Surely someone must be caught up with somewhere," he declared.

Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, Director of Parks and Public Property, declared that the disposition of the cases regarding juveniles is not aired in public.

McGill then asked about the

Golden Was Offered Job Of CD Head

Before the appointment of Ludwig Pesa as Civil Defense Director was announced this week by Mayor Isadore J. Padula, the Times-News learned that the Mayor had made the offer to James Golden, of 62 Tappan Avenue.

Mr. Golden, a long-time critic of municipal doings, had offered to accept the position, but on three conditions:

"1) That politics be completely divorced in every manner from the operations of any and all CD activity or organization;

"2) That full and consummate co-ordinated assistance be pledged by the director of personnel of all the operating departments of the town to facilitate the proper and successful performance of the assigned duties of CD asset forth by National and State directives affecting same, and

"3) That my privileges as a citizen will in no manner be abridged in a style that would preclude my continued criticism of the conduct of local officials in their official capacity as governing administrators."

The mayor's offer to Golden was made in a letter dated September 1st. The letter stated: "It has occurred to me that your interest in the efficient operation of the departments of municipal government here in

Padula Appoints Ludwig Pesa Head Of Civil Defense

Mayor Isadore Padula this week appointed Ludwig Pesa, of 226 Floyd Street as Director of Civilian Defense and Disaster Control.

Mr. Pesa, chief pharmacist at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, is experienced in civil defense preparedness. Since 1950, he has been active as national chairman of the Committee on Disaster Preparedness of the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists and is author for professional journals of numerous articles on disaster planning.

Mr. Pesa replaces Henry P. Minasian, whose resignation as CD Director was handed in to the Mayor the latter part of June and was revealed only last week in the Belleville Times-News.

Regarding his appointment, Mr. Pesa declared it had nothing to do with politics and he was taking the job only as a civic duty.

Mr. Pesa was a participant in 1957 at an Institute on Disaster Planning in Chicago which was sponsored by the American Hospital Association. In April of this year he spoke before hospital administrators and supervisors of hospital disaster programs at the Special Disaster Planning Institute conducted in Detroit by the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada.

He also attended a Civil Defense Institute at Atlantic City. Reprints of a paper presented by him at Los Angeles in 1958 titled: "Mass Casualties—Emergency Medical Management and Medications Involved," have been distributed to hospitals (Continued On Page Two)

Citizens' Tax Council Blasts Minasian on Resignation

The Citizens' Tax Council issued a statement this week regarding Mr. Henry P. Minasian's resignation as civil defense head.

The statement said the Tax Council "views with alarm the apparent apathy with which its officials regard the welfare of the residents of this town."

The Tax Council's statement raised several questions regarding civil defense and the whys and wherefores of Minasian's resignation. It asked how Minasian could resign "without the assurance that a replacement was immediately available for such an important project."

According to the law, even though Minasian tendered his resignation, he was legally responsible for his position until a successor was appointed. A state official in the Civil Defense Department stated that "the resignation acts as a warning buzzer to the mayor so that he may set about appointing a new director. Until such time, the old director still retains his official position and responsibilities unless the mayor appoints himself director."

The tax council queried whether or not a letter of resignation "really exists."

Mayor Isadore J. Padula has accepted Minasian's resignation in a letter dated September 3. In this letter he stated that he had held off announcing Minasian's resignation in hope he would "reconsider his decision."

Since this was not the case, Mayor Padula accepted Minasian's resignation with "sincere regrets."

Natural Gas Pipe-Line Going In

Rutan Estates Residents Form A Home Owners' Association

Home-owners from Rutan Estates have banded together and formed the Rutan Estates Home Owners Association.

The group met last week at 93 Rutan Road. Sam Giaccone, 2 Rutan Road, is vice-president; Stanley Sweatt, 83 Rutan Road, treasurer; Dan Armento, 109 Plunge Drive, secretary; Jay Cuzzolino, 26 Rutan Road, recording secretary and Joseph DiGange, 22 Rutan Road, sergeant-at-arms.

The association has as its avowed goals to effect lower taxes for property owners, to safeguard the health and welfare of Belleville citizens and to support measures, activities and projects which may be beneficial for the town.

Bass At Meeting

Mr. Bass, in his role as president of the organization, appeared at a meeting of the Town Commission Tuesday night to comment on the situation at Rutan.

Bass thanked Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, Director of Public Safety, for starting on placement of fire alarm boxes in the area.

He went on, however, to other aspects of the safety situation, stating that two homes had been broken into and an attempt was made to break into his own house. There are 50 homes which are not protected by street lighting, Bass said, which is a hazard which has existed for months.

Sullivan declared the lights were ordered and that the town was "at the mercy of Public Service" as to when they would be installed.

Bass declared "all these things ought to be put in when the people move in."

To Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin, Director of the Department of Public Works, he inquired as to what steps were being taken to alleviate a bad water condition at Rutan.

Commissioner Gruhin reported he had written to the builders of Rutan Estates regarding the drainage condition and is awaiting a reply.

He added he had not released any bonds and had been taking surveys of the conditions at Rutan.

On Lack Of Sidewalks

Bass also declared that lack of sidewalks for a 1 1/2 block area was a hazard for children on their way to school.

Gruhin declared that the area where the sidewalks were not yet placed was still to be developed and said the town could not take care of all the conditions "one, two, three."

Shortly afterward, Mrs. Hazel Ritchie, of Mount Prospect Avenue, declared that while she felt the people of Rutan had something to argue about, she felt the "people from the development" should show you commissioners some courtesy.

Referring to the previous meeting when the group had walked out after complaining about taxes and conditions at Rutan, Mrs. Ritchie declared: "It was the most discourteous thing I've ever seen."

"Why don't they stay and listen to the ordinances and find out how the Commissioners spend the money?" she asked.

Bass later got up and said the members were not discourteous to the Commissioners.

At the previous meeting, Stanley Sweatt was one of the main speakers for Rutan Estates residents. He stated then:

the rules changed on treatment of juvenile offenders," he stated.

Garson asserted he was not finding fault with the Police Department. Handling of juveniles, Commissioner Sullivan explained, is directed by State law.

Police Comment

Detective Michael Marotti, contacted by the Times-News this week, declared that the only outstanding non-solved case of major vandalism was that of the recent breaking in at the Hebrew school of Congregation Ahaveth Achim, on Washington Avenue.

Other cases were solved quickly or complaints were not pressed.

Also, he said, the police need to be notified of vandalism in order to act upon it. He referred to cases of vandalism at the local level.

Street, as reported in the Times-News, and said the police had not gotten complaints on vandalism there.

that he was representing the Belleville Taxpayers' Association. Sweatt was elected last week as treasurer of the Rutan group.

This week, William Mishkind, who is the organizer of the Belleville Taxpayers' Association, said Sweatt did not have any authority to speak for the Belleville Taxpayers' Association.

Mishkind also asked that persons interested in joining his group send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him at 49 Berkeley Avenue for a membership card.

In another discussion during the meeting, Commissioner Sullivan declared that school crossing guards protected children at the area where there was no sidewalk near the Rutan Estates.

Golden Sees 'Sick Strike' In Pub. Works

A "sick strike" in the Public Works Department?

A "vendetta"?

These possibilities were suggested in strong words Tuesday night by James Golden, town critic, who stated to Commissioner Robert C. Gruhin, Director of the Department of Public Works, that malingering could be expected.

Golden said the "sick strike" would come about as a result of the return to work of Ralph Varra as superintendent of the department. Golden, who said Varra was the "boss," suggested also that Varra was a taskmaster who insisted on a full day's work from the employees.

Golden asked Commissioner Gruhin to re-invoke the one-day rule requiring written medical statements on illness. Gruhin said the Department had a 48-hour requirement, and also suggested to Golden that he knew how to run his own department.

Catholic Youth To Hold Meeting

N., demonstrating the fine arts of baby care and trainees Joan Herold and Flora Ballantine of Newark and Nancy Fritts of Belleville.

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital received national recognition recently through "Hospitals," the journal of the American Hospital Association. The August 10th issue, distributed during the 61st Annual Convention of the A.H.A. at the Coliseum, carried on its front cover one of the pictures taken during the Baby Sitters' Course conducted last spring under the supervision of Mrs. Frank Durkee of Belleville.

The picture captioned "Hospital Conducts Course for Baby Sitters," showed Nursing Instructor Henriette Van de Wal, R. N., giving a demonstration in baby care to trainees Joan Herold and Flora Ballantine of Newark and Nancy Fritts of Belleville.

The article describing the course also carried two other pictures of trainees learning at first hand both the proper techniques of baby care, proper conduct in case of emergency, and the meaning of recreational therapy when working with children.

Since so much interest has been shown in the course the hospital plans to repeat it again during the fall and winter months.

It was recently announced that the 20,000th patient had been admitted to Clara Maass since its opening on August 18, 1957. This number does not include the 4,200 treated in the Emergency Department and returned to their homes without being hospitalized.

The 20,000th patient was a newborn baby girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Mondra, 352 Sixth Avenue, Newark.

The first patient admitted to the hospital in 1957 was also a maternity case. The mother was admitted in the morning before the hospital was officially opened to patients and the public, and the baby was born just 20 minutes after the official opening.

Belleville makes you a suitable person for the post of director of civil defense and disaster control.

The mayor turned down Mr. Golden's qualified acceptance of the job in a letter dated September 8th.

"There is nothing on record to show that any commissioner or private citizen ever impeded the progress of former civil defense and disaster control directors," the letter said.

"The old cry of 'politics' every time an appointee found himself open to criticism by his superiors has been most unfair to officials, since the accepted definition of politics is the art of government." Certainly no one can deny that civil defense is a facet of government on all levels and hardly to be divorced from the overall process of government known as "politics."

"There should never be any question of your being allowed to exercise your privilege of offering constructive criticism to those who are conducting the affairs of government. Such criticism is necessary for community development."

"Mr. Golden," the letter stated, "in conclusion may I state that I believe you are sincere in your desire to serve the town of Belleville, but inasmuch as I am not in a position to grant an iron-clad guarantee of immunity against criticism or even removal if circumstances demand such for public good, I also believe it is in the best interest of all concerned for me to look elsewhere for a Director whose previous experience in the field of Civil Defense and Disaster Control will enable him to experience a speedy re-organization of its Civil Defense and Disaster Control forces."

Golden, in a statement made after the release of the letter, said in reference to his not being elected to Belleville to experience a speedy re-organization of its Civil Defense and Disaster Control forces.

"I am," he went on, "only interested in unfeignedly serving the people and especially the 3,800 people of Belleville who supported me in the last municipal election."

Golden continued that he thought Mayor Padula, in offering the job to him in the first place, had done so as an im-

The district governor cited the substantial progress made by Rotary International on the front of world understanding through such activities as the Rotary Foundation. Since organization in 1947, the Foundation has awarded fellowships of more than $3 million to over 1,200 outstanding college graduates for a year's study in countries other than their own.

Common Ground for Service

He also pointed out that Rotary provides a common ground for world service to business men of 114 countries regardless of differing nationalities, languages, or political or religious beliefs."

Kaighn urged the local Rotarians to attend the 747th district conference in Atlantic City, October 23-25, and to make plans for the club to be represented at the 51st annual convention of Rotary International in Miami Beach next May.

Times-News Correspondent Visits Mozart Festival

(This is the fifth in a series of articles written especially for the Belleville Times by Mr. Korn who is traveling through Europe on a national education tour and acting as Times Correspondent during his trip.)

BY GEORGE F. KORN

Since I last wrote about Vienna, I visited Salzburg and the Mozart Festival. Salzburg is situated in a valley surrounded by mountains, some covered with snow. As one climbs the bluff in the city and visits the fortress at the top, he can gaze for miles and see every shade of green I believe there is, ranging from the velvet smooth green of the grass to the blue green of the river which runs through the valley.

While in Salzburg I witnessed the first real rain since I left home; it rained constantly for almost 48 hours, not letting up during the entire interval. As a result the river swelled and Salzburg and the surrounding areas witnessed one of the worst floods in their history.

We got out just in time. When I left there was only one direction in which the trains could go and fortunately this was towards Munich. About one hour after we left one of the main bridges washed out. As a result of the whole flood, I've read in the papers that several people lost their lives and there was approximately $30,000 worth of damages.

The highlight of Salzburg was attending a performance of the Gluck "Orpheus". The stage is a natural setting with the back carved into the rock. There are two rows of arches with hallways behind and as "Orpheus" worked his way into the underworld he came down these hallways and appeared in the arched windows. It was beautifully done and had a spectacular cast. The applause lasted for over 20 minutes after the last note was sung.

From Salzburg, it was on to Munich, capital of culture in West Germany. Much was destroyed during the war and although much evidence of the bombing can still be seen, the Germans have certainly persevered to rebuild their city. Instead of erecting another building on the site of a destroyed one, often they have made a park, thus giving the city a spacious and romantic look.

There are numerous beer gardens where you sit at a long table with people you've never met before and who might not even speak your language.

From Munich we went to Bayreuth and the Richard Wagner Festival and at the Wagnerian Opera House we saw a magnificent performance of "Tristan and Isolde". Wagner believed the voice of the singer should sound like a member of the orchestra so he sunk his orchestra pit down further than usual and more under the stage. In front of the orchestra facing the audience he put up a concave wall so the sound of the orchestra would go back to the stage, combine with the soloist's voice and resound as one.

The performance began at 4 p.m. and concluded at 10 p.m., during which times there were hour intervals between the three acts which gives the audience a chance to have their dinner. I left that night for Mainz where in the morning I boarded a steamer and sailed down the Rhine river into Switzerland. There were the gorgeous mountains coming straight down in places to meet the water. All along the way castles could be seen in the mountains, many still inhabited, and also old Roman ruins. On the slopes are the famous vineyards where grapes are grown to make Rhine wine. I caught another night train to Lucerne.

Lucerne is situated on a lake by the same name and is surrounded by mountains with their tops in the clouds and their slopes covered with beautiful trees and grass and speckled by little chalets.

In the morning of my second day I went with a group to visit Mount Pilatus, situated nearby. We ascended the mountain in cable cars holding four persons which takes 30 minutes to reach the top. As we went into the clouds we imagine all kinds of rain as it had been misty below, but when we came out of them, what a beautiful sight. Peaks sticking right out of the parks of beautiful white foam.

Also at Lucerne I visited the Rhine glacier, source of the Rhine river. I walked inside a tunnel carved off for visitors and as the light came through the ice it created a very mysterious blue glow. As the glacier melts, it sends cascades of water down the cliffs into the valley below where the famous Rhine river begins its long way to sea.

I am now off to Edinburgh, for the Festival of Music, Art, and Dance, and will remain in England until I leave to come home the first week in September. I will write once more before leaving to come home to the best land of them all, America.

The Sad Case Of Mr. Salvage

The latest move in the "Hate Case" drive aimed at eliminating New Jersey's senior Senator from the running in the 1960 elections is a mimeographed release bearing the byline of that intrepid apostle of all things reactionary, James P. Salvage, of Flemington.

Mr. Salvage calls his piece, "The Sad Case of Clifford P. Case." With less alliteration but more accuracy it might be titled, "The Sad Case of Mr. James P. Salvage."

Since this seems to be about where we came in five years ago a brief review of an episode in New Jersey political history seems to be indicated.

Clifford P. Case, a former Congressman from the Sixth New Jersey District, was grudgingly nominated as the G.O.P. candidate for United States Senate in 1954 following the shellacking administered by the Democrats in the election of Governor Robert B. Meyner a year before. Case was given the nod when it became clear that only a candidate with liberal views had any chance of election.

Case won by a squeak despite the smear campaign that was waged against him, not by the Democrats, but by the extremists of his own party.

Now the tar-brush artists are at it again. To try to be specific in answering the specious arguments raised by Mr. Salvage and those who run on his team would be a waste of space and words. The objective of this campaign is identical with that of 1954, "Get Case." Throw anything at him that will stir the prejudices of the uninformed voter. Make him look like a dangerous radical. To hell with the facts.

What Mr. Salvage and those who run in his pack are really saying is that there is no room in the Republican Party of New Jersey for any man who thinks for himself and dares to vote his convictions. We do not believe the rank and file members and independent supporters of the Party hold that view. It would seem to be time to do something to "salvage" the New Jersey Republican Party from Mr. Salvage.

Motorists Beware Of School Zones

Consider, as back-to-school time arrives, these five facts:

1. Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children.
2. More than 2,500 children 5-14 years of age are killed annually in accidents involving motor vehicles.
3. More than 1,100 of those children are pedestrians.
4. A total of 150,000 children in the 5-14 age group are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.
5. One out of 12 students injured in a "school-jurisdiction" accident is on his way to or from school.

That's the problem — and back-to-school time is when the problem reaches its peak.

Solution to the problem? Parents should teach their children to stop, look, and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It's not old-fashioned to be safe.

"Committee For Case" Is Formed

The formation of the "Committee for Senator Case" was announced yesterday by four prominent New Jersey residents.

The committee members are: Charles H. Brower, of Westfield, Republican, president and chairman of the executive committee of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, leading advertising agency.

John T. Connor, of Summit, Independent, president of Merck & Co., Inc. and general counsel of the war-time Office of Scientific Research and Development.

J. Gardner Crowell, of Riverton, Republican, associated with the Philco Corporation and a member of the New Jersey State Republican Committee.

Lansing P. Shield, of Saddle River, Independent Republican, president of The Grand Union Company and a past president of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee issued the following statement: "We believe that New Jersey has an outstanding member of the United States Senate in Clifford P. Case. Because we strongly favor his reelection, we have formed the 'Committee for Senator Case'."

"The Committee's purpose will be to help acquaint the people of New Jersey with Cliff Case's record and his accomplishments in the United States Senate.

"Upon the conclusion of its activities, the Committee will file with the Secretary of State of New Jersey for public in-

Parents also should set a proper example. Don't expect a child to obey a rule you violate.

Here are some suggestions to motorists as the schools prepare to open their doors:

1. Keep your car in good condition. Pay special attention to tires and brakes. You can't blame the garage man if your car doesn't stop quickly enough in an emergency.
2. Drive slowly near schools. And slow down where children are walking or playing.
3. Expect the unexpected from children. Most of them get hurt running from behind parked cars or crossing in the middle of an intersection.

Many youngsters are going to school for the first time . . . they are crossing busy thoroughfares that have always been frightening avenues for them . . . they are probably confused as they start life in an entirely new world. They need the absolute maximum in consideration from every motorist. Their very survival depends upon it.

We feel that right now, at the very beginning of the school year, it is absolutely imperative that the Police Department wage an honest-to-goodness campaign against the violators of the school zone speed law.

It is the duty of every driver to observe this important safety regulation and it is the solemn duty of every police officer in town to make sure that he does.

Summer

How well we loved, in Summer solitude to stroll on lonely ridges far away, Where beeches, with their boles of Quaker gray,

Murmured at times a sylvan interlude! We heard each songster warble near her brood,

And from the lowland where the mowers lay Came now and then faint fragrance from the hay,

That touched the heart to reminiscent mood. We peered down wooded steepes, and saw the sun

Shining in front, tip all the grapevines wild, And edge with light the bowlders' lichen-ed groups;

While, deep within the gorge, the tinkling run Coiled through the hollows with its silvered loops

Down to the waiting River, thousand-ised.

Nuncio R. Pico Speaks Before Women's Club

Members of the Woman's Club of Belleville were informed recently by Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico about the steps taken by the Department of Public Agencies in pursuance of the "Clean Up Belleville" campaign initiated by Woman's Club some time ago.

He addressed a special committee meeting called by Miss Esther Adams, president of the club, at the clubhouse, 51 Rossmere Place. Commissioner Pico congratulated the club on their "deep-felt sense of civic responsibility," which had led them to call the attention of the Board of Commissioners to unsanitary and unsightly conditions existing in many thoroughfares of the town.

"It is particularly significant that this problem should have been tackled by the Woman's Club which, founded in 1916, is today the oldest civic association of our town," he said. "However, laws alone cannot keep Belleville clean. It will take a great deal of public education to make Belleville the clean and healthy town that is an asset to business and public health."

As the first step in such an educational campaign, Mr. Pico declared, he intends to make a

It is common for a customer to ask us to tell him the disease that a prescription is for. Here is the only answer we can give such a request: "Many drugs are used for several ailments and for that reason we have made it a policy never to guess the disease or the physical condition a prescription is for."

"Certain Drugs will help relieve from a number of symptoms and these symptoms are observed in several ailments. The physician you consult examined you with skill & care before he wrote the prescription you inquire about. It is for him to answer the question, he alone has the necessary information. ## Reappoint Dr. Clee State Head Of '60 March of Dimes Drive

The Rev. Dr. Lester H. Clee of Princeton has been reappointed New Jersey State Chairman for the New March of Dimes for the 1960 appeal, it was announced recently by Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation. Dr. Clee, who will begin his sixth consecutive year as top state volunteer for the organization, will have his headquarters in the New Jersey State office of the Foundation at 21 Peace Street, Trenton.

"Dr. Clee will lead the New March of Dimes in the state January 2-31 to provide funds for the broadened new health program of The National Foundation," Mr. O'Connor said in announcing the appointment.

Covers Defects, Arthritis

The National Foundation's new program covers birth defects and arthritis as well as polio, Mr. O'Connor said.

There are 11,000,000 Americans suffering the pain and crippling of arthritis and other rheumatic diseases and there are 250,000 infants born each year with significant defects, he said.

Also there are 350,000 polio patients who still could benefit from further treatment, 50,000 of whom are currently being assisted by National Foundation chapters, he added.

In accepting the appointment, Dr. Clee said: "The broadened new program of the March of Dimes offers help to thousands of people in New Jersey who are now fighting alone against the crippling ravages of birth defects and arthritis. Direct aid in the financing of treatment will be offered to many young patients, and all sufferers will benefit from the programs of research and training of skilled health professionals."

"The people of New Jersey, through the March of Dimes, helped provide the funds that made possible the Salk vaccine. I am confident that the people of New Jersey will continue to support the March of Dimes in its important new work."

Acting College President
Former minister of the Second Presbyterian Church of Newark for more than 20 years, Dr. Clee recently was named acting president of Bloomfield College and Seminary and in former minister of Westminster church near the college campus.

Dr. Clee has been active in many phases of public life. He has served as speaker of the New Jersey House of Assembly, a member of the State Senate and at one time was Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey. He also has held posts on the New Jersey Civil Service Commission and the New Jersey Board of Parole.

He holds DD degrees from Cumberland University and Washington and Jefferson College and an LL.D. degree from Bloomfield College and Seminary. In 1950, he was the recipient of the Rutgers University Award, highest non-academic honor of the State university.

TOP EXECUTIVES TELL PROGRESS OF N. J. PLANT

Top executives of Westinghouse Electric Corporation recently reported to management personnel of Westinghouse lamp division plants in Bloomfield, Belleville and Trenton on the company's current progress.

The management group was told that the Westinghouse lamp division had made a substantial contribution to the steady improvement in the overall company picture. It was pointed out by Chris Wittig, consumer product vice president, that this meant better job security for the more than 4,000 men and women employed in lamp division plants in New Jersey. He said the new shaped Eye-Saving bulbs manufactured in New Jersey plants played a significant role in opening up important new markets for Westinghouse light bulbs and provided many new jobs for New Jersey residents.

Mr. Wittig reported the lamp division achieved sales 35 per cent greater than five years ago; payrolls rose 40 per cent during that period and its plant facilities, which included nine plants in six states, are worth eight million dollars more than they were then.

Mr. Wittig stated that the Bloomfield Works has provided employment for local residents for more than a half century, the Belleville Works has been in operation for about 39 years, and the Trenton Works is 42 years old.

The meeting was one of a series to be held at Westinghouse plants across the country. Mark W. Creasap, president, and Mr. John Hodnette, executive vice president, will travel approximately 15,000 miles this year keeping Westinghouse management organization posted on the company's progress and objectives, and answering any questions on company operations.

Attending this week's meeting were Joseph G. Carroll, Bloomfield Works manager; Matthew Westphal, Trenton Works manager; and Harry Fox, Belleville Works manager.

"I don't mind men who kiss and tell," the girl said. "At my age I need all the advertising I can get."

WARNING SIGNS OF ARTHRITIS AID VICTIMS

Foundation Lists Danger Signals To Help Check Disease

An estimated 250,000 Americans will become victims of arthritis during the coming year, the New Jersey Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation said today as it released a list of warning signs of the disease.

The local chapter stated that the heading of these danger signals "can make the difference between a delayed diagnosis of a life of continued activity for those attacked by rheumatoid arthritis, the most destructive form of the disease."

Since the cause of the crippling ailment is not known, nothing can be done today to prevent its onslaught, but the progress of the disease can be held in check and serious deformities prevented in most cases if treatment is started early enough. For this reason the Arthritis Foundation urges you to check with a doctor:

1. Persistent pain and stiffness on arising.
2. Pain or tenderness in at least one joint.
3. Swelling in at least one joint.
4. Recurrence of these symptoms, involving more than one joint.

The key word here, says Dr. Irving L. Sperling, Chairman of the Chapter's Medical and Scientific Committee, is recurrence. The symptoms of rheumatoid arthritis come and go. Their return is the thing to watch for.

Other signs, too general to produce a firm medical diagnosis, but which often accompany the more definite symptoms are: fatigue, anemia, unexplained loss of weight, exhaustion and slight fever.

The New Jersey Chapter, one of a network of 59 chapters covering all parts of the country, points out that it is particularly important to know the warning signals because this capriciouscripper can strike at any time.

Unlike the less serious "old age" type of disease, rheumatoid arthritis hits people of all ages, even infants, and finds most of its victims in the 20 to 45 "prime of life" age range.

While anyone who experiences a severe attack knows that he has something serious, the disease will often come on gradually, "hit and run", and be very difficult to identify in its early stages.

There are today more than 11 million Americans afflicted with some form of arthritis, according to the A.R.F. Recent studies sponsored by the agency indicate that at least seven out of every 10 persons hit by even the worst form, rheumatoid arthritis, can be spared serious crippling and kept active if the condition is diagnosed early enough and the right treatment started.

The number of people who will wind up invalided by arthritis during the coming year depends on how well headed are the early warning signs.

"Rheumatoid Arthritis — A Handbook for Patients" is available through the New Jersey Chapter's office at 671 Broad Street, Newark. New Jersey. Individual booklets are priced at 15¢ each to cover the cost of mailing.

Higher Education Crisis 'Round Corner, Says Firm

"The crisis in higher education in this State isn't a problem still years in the distance. It is just around the corner. Thousands of New Jersey families will feel the tragedy of it within the next two years unless something is done and done quickly."

Dr. Mason W. Gross, president of Rutgers, The State University, made this statement in reporting on the results of an independent study of New Jersey's college age population for the next decade.

That study shows that the college age population in this State, instead of rising gradually over the next decade, will shoot up almost perpendicularly in the next two years and that the demand for college places will increase by 50 per cent in the two-year period.

Study by Cleveland Firm
The study was made for the State Board of Education by Robert Heller & Associates of Cleveland, an engineering and planning firm. The study also included the White House offices as well as many of the nation's big industrial concerns.

Rutgers asked the Heller company to find out what space it would need in the years ahead. To do this accurately, the space experts needed to know how many students would be knocking on Rutgers' doors.

What they found out emphatically confirmed the earlier findings of the State Board of Education on the increasing college age population — a study which basically needed only some intelligent interpretation of the available figures on the birth rate — and also revealed that the big increase is coming sooner than anticipated.

The early collision with the crisis, the Heller firm found, is due to the fact that the birth rate shot up sharply in the years 1940 to 1943 and that this batch of "war babies" will hit the colleges in 1961.

Rising Smoke Not A Signal

An anonymous writer in Belleville who prefers to be known as John Aiden wrote the Times office and reported that a crime had been committed on August 20 at 7:30 a.m. The crime was arson, one of the worst types of criminal activities.

The writer explained that no one would have known about the crime if the gong at the Washington Avenue fire house hadn't sounded when it had.

"Three of the town's smoke eaters raced to the scene just five hundred feet from the fire house to the intersection at Essex Street and Washington Avenue in front of the post office."

They went into a strategy audible and like Navy quarter-backs, with helmets pulled down tight, they went into action. One fireman raced to the front of the truck to keep it from moving, the other went to the open seat to look down at the conflagration.

The third and most heroic caught up a small fire extinguisher and approached the raging inferno with complete indifference for his personal safety.

Three quick squirts from the hose's nozzle and the blaze was out. A town owned trash can had been saved.

The anonymous writer wrote that he could not see who began the fire because of the weeds and brush that had grown along the north side of Essex Street. He concluded that the arsonist made his or her escape through the "obstacle course" built in front of the Post Office blocking the Public Service bus stop.

FUNDS SOUGHT FOR SUNDAY CLOSING DRIVE

Essex Committee Seeks To Raise $15,000 For Publicity

A strong publicity campaign, backed by a professional fund raiser to collect $15,000 for expenses, was approved by the Essex County Citizens committee for Sunday Closing in New Jersey at a luncheon meeting in Bloomfield last week.

The committee, of which William J. Schneider, of Newark, is chairman, already has 50,000 signatures of the 75,000 it hopes to get on petitions to place the referendum on the ballot in November. Only 2,500 signatures are legally required.

The petitions are currently being circulated throughout Nutley retail stores.

Petition campaigns similar to this one are under way at the present time in six neighboring counties.

It was voted to hire a professional fund raiser for the $15,000 estimated necessary for the publicity campaign.

Diran A. Kurk, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and publicity director of the committee, said the money would be spent for newspaper, radio and billboard advertising, posters, window cards, auto bumper stickers, auto signs and tags for various retail articles such as milk bottles and other wares.

The fund raiser, Robert L. Schultz, of Orange, will receive a $1,000 fee plus 20 per cent of funds raised over $10,000, according to reports.

Schneider said the petitions will be presented to County Clerk Anthony Guiliano September 15. Petitions must be filed by September 18. The legislature left the solution of the Sunday closing problem up to the voters in May by requiring each county to decide for itself if it favored or opposed Sunday closing.

If approved, the bill would ban sales of apparel, building materials, appliances, home and office furnishings and similar merchandise.

Local Units Set Vets' Day Plans

Plans for the Veterans' Day Parade were made at a recent meeting of the Belleville Veterans' Council at Youngling Alden Post 275, V.F.W.

Marchers will assemble at 7:30 p.m. at Washington Avenue and Greenglen Parkway. Step-off time is 8 p.m. Line of march will be down Washington Avenue past the reviewing stand at Town Hall.

The Council is in the process of contracting what it considers the finest musical aggregations available, as well as marching units, in an all-out effort to make this year's Veterans' Day Parade the "biggest and finest" Belleville has ever witnessed, according to a Council spokesman.

The group met again August 25th. They are seeking to get the services of the well-known "Golden Knights" of Blessed Sacrament, C. Y. O. Newark, the unit which marched in last year's parade and was the highlight of the affair. In order to make this year's parade outstanding, the Council is attempting to secure Army troops and vehicles. They also are trying to get a float from Picturing Arsenal with a display of a guided missile.

Veterans' Day falls on November 11th.

F. Miele Named to Office At Seton Hall University

Frank J. Miele was recently notified of his appointment as Parliamentarian of the Seton Hall University Student Council by the president of the Student Council for 1959-60 school year. He will be responsible for correct parliamentary conduct during student council meetings and will make decisions regarding interpretation of the student body's constitution.

Also among his recent appointments is that of Chairman of the newly-formed Stanchions Committee of the Seton Hall University Student Council. This committee was formed in a student endeavor to secure the erection of metal signs along the thoroughfares entering South Orange, which would bear the name of Seton Hall upon them.

Vincent S. Porzio, alumnus, apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Porzio of 56 Little Street, serving with Airborne Early Warning Squadron 11 at Argentina, Newfoundland, and this country's early warning defense network, the squadron flies the radar-equipped Lockheed Super Constellation,

Chinch Bugs Can Make Brown Spots In Lawn

The hairy chinch bug may become a serious pest of lawns containing bent and fescue grasses in this part of New Jersey. Adults are black and about one-fifth inch long. Their wings appear whitish, though many adults are wingless.

Immature chinch bugs are wingless and vary in length from one-twentieth inch to nearly the size of the adult. Nymphs are reddish with a white band across the back.

These small bugs suck the juices from the grass and the feeding of large numbers of them causes brown spots of dead grass with the margins showing an unhealthy appearance.

A careful examination of these margins will usually reveal an abundance of the pests. The bugs can be located by parting the grass and carefully examining the grass at the soil level.

Chinch bugs overwinter as adults in almost any shelter area closely associated with lawns. Adult females lay their eggs in the Spring and the young hatch shortly afterward, making it possible to find all stages of the insect in damaged areas.

Later in the Summer a second generation is produced which completes its development and goes into winter hibernation. The two generations overlap, making it possible to find all stages of the insect in damaged areas.

Short cutting of the lawn, and proper watering and top dressing it with fertilizer will help prevent destruction of the lawn by chinch bugs. Spraying with chlordane or dieldrin insecticides should give control.

Predict Many Of Your Ills To Disappear

If the recent past is any augury of the immediate future, Americans can look forward to studies in health during the next forty years as equally as spectacular as those which have made the last four decades the wonder age of medicine.

The Health News Institute calls our attention to an inventory, of things past and things to come, which was read to the Section on Pediatrics at the recent meeting of the American Association, in Atlantic City.

The speaker was Dr. Wyman C. Cole, Sr., of Detroit. A prophet in 1919, he said, would have taxed the credulity of a young physician if he had told him:

"If you are still practicing in 1959 —

You will not have seen a clinical case of diphtheria or tetanus for 25 years.

A suitable formula for 99 out of 100 babies will be obtainable at any drugstore or supermarket.

Rickets, scurvy, and infantile tetany will be textbook diseases that you will have rarely, if ever, seen in private practice.

It will be at least 15 years since you have seen a patient with surgical mastoiditis.

Most cases of pneumonia and scarlet fever will be treated in your office and will be essentially cured in 24 hours.

Very few babies will die of diarrhea because of what you have learned about electrolyte and water metabolism."

And what about 40 years from now?

The accomplishments of the health team, in the refinement of techniques of treatment, development and mass distribution of new drugs and immunizing agents and measures of public health, said Dr. Cole, would lead the same prophet to say to the physician who still be practicing in 1959:

Cancer and leukemia will have been relegated to medical history.

The common cold will have been forgotten.

Babies will rarely be born prematurely.

A single explanation and method of control will have been found for allergy.

A single injection or tablet will immunize children against all of the communicable diseases.

Many congenital defects will be avoided by a better understanding of genetics.

Such metabolic diseases as diabetes, arthritis, and cystic fibrosis will be easily controlled by improved knowledge of the enzyme system.

"I am sure," Dr. Cole concluded, "this is only a small fraction of what will actually transpire."

In short, says the Health News Institute, despite cold wars and H-bombs and fall-out, on the medical front at least the future is not all doom and gloom.

The Gourmet's Corner

By Arline Chapman

School opened this week and once again the problem is faced of what to pack for an interesting box lunch for the children. "Variety is the spice of life" — and this is especially true when dealing with Johnny and Janie and their lunch boxes.

Today with so many wonderful types of plastic containers available at local hardware and department stores, there is no problem in so far as keeping the food fresh during the hours between breakfast and lunch. Square plastic boxes especially designed for sandwiches

1 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Melt shortening and chocolate in upper bowl of double boiler over boiling water. Add sugar and mix well. Add well-beaten eggs and vanilla, then flour and salt, stirring thoroughly with each addition. Remove from heat and add chopped nuts.

Spread batter in a well-greased three-quart baking dish, 13 1/2 by 24 inches. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, about 10 minutes. Yield: about 32 pieces 2 by 1 1/4 inches. To make them extra special, cool and spread with chocolate frosting, topping each piece with a walnut or pecan.

When packing the lunch box, tuck in a few extra cookies in case at school it is decided "to share with a favorite pal."

Some Suggestions

Try combining some of the following for making up sandwiches:

1. Cream cheese, dry onion soup mix, lemon juice and Tabasco.

2. Cottage cheese, mayonnaise and minced radishes.

3. Tuna, hard-cooked eggs, mayonnaise and chopped nuts.

4. Egg and smoked salmon.

5. Sliced corned beef, chopped green pepper, horseradish and mayonnaise.

6. Peanut butter, chopped nuts and a little honey.

7. Chopped or sliced cold roast pork, chopped apples and mayonnaise.

8. Swiss cheese, sliced corned beef and horseradish.

9. Muenster cheese, deviled ham spread and tomato slices.

10. Cream cheese and chopped stuffed olives.

When making up sandwiches you can really afford to let your imagination run wild — leftover meat put into an electric blender with some odds and ends of vegetables will let you create many interesting new spreads. Let the family contribute their suggestions, too."

Fudge Brownies

1 cup shortening
4 squares unsweetened chocolate (4 ounces)
2 cups granulated sugar
4 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 1/4 cups sifted flour

EXECUTORS

The title "executor" has a rather grim sound, yet all he does is to carry out the wishes of a deceased friend or relative. He is the person named in a will as the personal representative of a deceased person and is charged with the duty of winding up his affairs and distributing his property.

Thus if you wish to exercise the right to determine who will get your property and in what shares, and if you wish to name someone whom you know and can trust as your personal representative to handle your estate, it is imperative that you prepare and properly execute a will.

CARE Packages

Residents of New Jersey contributed $401,904 to CARE overseas aid programs during the fiscal year ended June 30, bringing to $4,723,266 the state's total support during the non-profit agency's nearly 14 years of operation.

Executive Director Richard W. Reuter made the figures public in his annual report to the CARE Board of Directors. He also disclosed that the American people as a whole contributed $7,909,230 during the year for CARE aid in 28 countries.

A PAT ON THE BACK FOR EDDIE

As another Football Season rolls around I think it would not be amiss to give a few laurels to Eddie Berlinski, Belleville High School Coach. "Berl" has not won any Championships at Belleville but he has fielded many good teams. Belleville, which has shown well in Basketball, winning two Essex County Tournaments, has never come up with a Championship in football.

In our eyes Eddie still stands out as the greatest broken field runner we have seen in 30 years on the local High School scene. There have been better all around players but none who could lug the leather the way Eddie did.

It is interesting to note that in 1933, Eddie's Senior Year at Bloomfield High School in the Belleville-Bloomfield Game of that season, "Berl" scored four touchdowns, one of them on an eighty yard jaunt with an intercepted pass. That particular season he scored 26 touchdowns, 13 points after touchdowns, averaged 15 yards per play and slightly under 200 yards per game.

Eddie played his college ball at North Carolina State and while he was on mediocre teams he still drew enough attention to be selected by a Newsweek Studio as having made two of the TOP TEN RUNS of the season.

During the war "Berl" was a Tank Officer and was captured by the enemy in the North African Campaign and spent the remaining years of the Great Conflict in various prison camps.

Eddie's coaching career began in 1938 as an assistant to Bill Foley at Bloomfield High School. "Berl" remained in that post until the 1947 season when he took over the coaching duties at Belleville High.

The Belleville-Bloomfield conflicts were always fiercely contested and took on added significance when a Bengal Alumnus faced his former coach across the gridiron. Therefore, it is logical to assume that Eddie likes to beat Bloomfield, and here he has done a very good job. In the 23 games before "Berl" started to guide the Bellboy Fortunes, Belleville had come up with only one victory while in the 12 games under Eddie's tutelage, Belleville has won six and lost six. In 1957, Bloomfield, along with Montclair and Clifton, were awarded the Newark Evening News Trophy, emblematic of the Mythical State Championship, yet this Bengal team had to go ALL-OUT to beat Eddie's Bellboys 7-6 in the closing minutes of the game.

Yes, Edward Berlinski has done a good job for our town and I am sure he will continue to give Belleville fans interesting and exciting football.

POOR CAMPING FACILITIES IN NEW JERSEY

Just as boating, water skiing, fishing, hunting and all other outdoor activities are on the increase so is camping. Each year many additional thousands of campers are pitching tents and cooking with gasoline stoves or over an open fire.

Many of our states recognize this fact and are increasing the facilities for camping in their parks and forests but not so New Jersey. It has been your correspondent's pleasure to have camped in New York State and Maine for the past two summers. Are these states more progressive than New Jersey? So it would seem. Our neighbors to the north recognize the fact that good camping facilities pay dividends in the long run by bringing many vacation dollars into their cash registers.

Having observed camping facilities in our state for over thirty years I find that most of our outdated camps were put there during the depression by the C. C. C. boys. Not only are these facilities run down but they are few in number. New Jersey counts camp sites by the dozen while other states count them in the hundreds.

A camper's needs are few, all he needs is a spot to pitch a tent, a fireplace, water and sanitary facilities.

Hundreds of acres have been donated to the state by public spirited citizens to be used as parks. Much of this ground lies idle while thousands of garden staters spend their vacation dollars across our borders, and visiting campers to our parks are very few in number.

Why can't places such as Norvin Green, A. S. Hewitt State Forest and Delaware Water Gap be developed to bring recreational needs to thousands? These are just a few of the undeveloped areas and much could be done to increase and improve other areas.

The Department of Conservation and Economic Development could live up to its long title in an economical way by a sort of "Homestead Act". A small area could be leased to an individual with the provision that the party would develop the spot as a camp site by building a fireplace, table, tent platform, etc. and after a period of five years this camp site would become the property of the state to be used by our people and visitors from other states. This could not only be done in the undeveloped areas but could also be carried out in our present parks and forests such as the High Point State Park, Stokes State Forest and others.

Surely expenditures along these lines would be worth while and benefit a large percentage of our population.

New Jersey also falls far behind most neighboring states in the way of road side picnic areas where a traveler may stop to picnic.

Sorrentino Is Rec. Football Director, '59

Commissioner George F. Kierman announces the appointment of Vincent Sorrentino as director of the Recreation Football Leagues for the 1959 season.

Mr. Sorrentino, a life long resident of Belleville, has been a volunteer coach in the Recreation Football Leagues since they were begun nearly five years ago. He has coached teams in both the lightweight and heavyweight divisions. Two of his own children (he is the father of six) have played in the League.

Mr. Sorrentino is a graduate of Belleville High School where he was active in sports with a special interest in football.

Part of Mr. Sorrentino's function will be to work closely with the Recreation Superintendent on formulation of league policy. Rec. Superintendent Bob Cook says he has complete confidence in Mr. Sorrentino and is sure the Leagues will continue to improve under his direction.

A Final Demonstration Climaxing Ford's 3 Years and 3 Million Miles of Research and Development on the New Ford Falcon...
EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.

A fleet of Falcons is going to undergo a final exhausting test... over every single mile of numbered U.S. Federal Highway... along a cross-country route that will include the ups and downs of big major mountain ranges, the challenges of every type of roadway and through, main street and boulevard.

THIS VERY MINUTE... THE NEW-SIZE FORD IS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. This week the new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway.

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tested and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested... everything tested on Ford's own proving grounds. The Falcon has already proved, to engineers that it takes anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads.

How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon!
