

United Fund Calls Meeting For Residential Workers

F. Douglas Wadsworth, chairman of the residential campaign of the United Fund of Belleville, has called a meeting of district leaders and solicitors to be held at School 3 at 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 6th.

Mr. Wadsworth states that while his organization is shaping up very well, they are in need of team members. He would, therefore, appreciate any Belleville resident who can devote a few hours to the cause of the United Fund during the residential campaign, getting in touch with him. The campaign is scheduled to start October 12th.

There will be 13 health and welfare agencies making up the Fund again this year. All of them are deserving of your cooperation and support. A thumbnail sketch of four of them appeared in last week's edition and the program of four more are being set forth below.

Arthritis & Rheumatism Foundation

This Foundation is a voluntary health agency with local chapters throughout the county. Painful and crippling arthritis is the most widespread chronic disease in the United States. It is reported to be the nation's No. 1 cripple. Although countless "cures" have been claimed over the years and although some of the "miracle drugs" have succeeded in dramatically bringing relief from the symptoms of arthritis, science as yet has not been able to come up with a definite cure. While the Foundation has no facilities located in Belleville, the home-care program, the clinical facilities and all other direct and indirect services in Essex County are available to Belleville residents.

Your support through the United Fund is needed to assist the clinics already operating and to help establish additional clinics, to make hospital care available for indigent and medically indigent arthritic patients, to effect a broad base of professional and patient education, to maintain and expand personal home care and physical therapy programs and to finance clinical research in the causes and possible cure of arthritis.

County $$$ Are Doubled In Decade

Revenue collections of county government have been almost doubled in the past decade. Compilations being completed by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association for inclusion in its latest annual statistical reference publication show that revenue collections of the 21 New Jersey counties last year reached a total of $174,645,604 — more than 7% above 1957 and 89% more than the $92,388,553 collected in 1949.

Nearly 73% of last year's aggregate revenue collections of the 21 counties — collected locally and paid over by municipalities within the county — came from property tax.

Over 14% was from surplus funds expended at the end of the previous year. The balance — nearly 23% — was classified as "other revenues," such as from special taxes, fees and fines of the various county offices, courts and institutions.

Percentage-wise among the counties, greatest reliance was placed upon the property tax by Mercer County with over 80% of its revenue coming from this source. Hunterdon and Salem Counties each took more than 9% of their 1958 revenues from surplus for the largest percentage shares from this source shown by any of the counties. Sussex County received more than 41% of its total collections from "other revenues."

In Essex County, revenues in 1958 totaled $33,984,837. Of this, 73.8% came from property tax, 4.6% from surplus, and 21.6% from "other revenues."

Iron Dukes Top Newark Lions By 45-0 Score

A powerful Iron-Duke football team, exhibiting a rock-solid defensive unit outmaneuvered the Newark Lion squad before a boisterous crowd of nearly 1,500 pigskin devotees last Sunday at Belleville Municipal Stadium.

The Belleville-Nutley eleven scored twice in the opening three minutes on intercepted passes before their offensive unit could run a single play. This set the tone for the entire contest as Coach Pete Spore cleared the bench before the first quarter was three minutes old. The Dukes score once more in the opening stanza, twice in the second period, and added two more tallies in the final canto.

The Newarkers, on the other hand, never penetrated inside the Belleville 20, and only once crossed midfield, so great was the pressure applied by the Duke defensive stalwarts.

After receiving Pat Polet's opening kickoff on the ten and returning it to the 20, the Lions picked up a first down on three running plays to their own 32-yard line.

On the next play, lightning struck quickly as Joe Ciracio intercepted an errant Lion toss on the 30. The Duke blockers mowed down the opposition like 10 greyed Cincos scattered down the left side line to the 15, cut back and raced over the goal line without a hand being laid

Rosh Hoshanah Jewish New Year Begins Tomorrow at Sundown

A Message from Rabbi Cohen

By RABBI VICTOR COHEN
Congregation Ahavath Achim

Tomorrow evening at sundown, the Jewish people throughout the world will commence the Ten Days of Penitence which begins with Rosh Hoshanah and concludes with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

During these ten days, time and thought will be given to the reaffirmation of the good resolutions made in the process of re-assuring ourselves of our ability to do our utmost, we will try and bring out the best that is within us.

The Bible gives man a purpose for living. That is to try and attain holiness in our lifetime. Holiness cannot be brought out by our continuous harboring of guilt feelings and a sense of inadequacy. Rosh Hoshanah, the Jewish New Year, asks us to re-affirm our ability to do good and to love God.

It is the ability to elicit the best that is within us. We are asked to give up our evil thoughts and actions or better still, to give up our immature thoughts and strive toward a sense of maturity in life.

In the process of living, we commit many acts which go contrary to happy and good living. Many times we commit these acts against our will. Perhaps society or our environment forced us to do something; perhaps it was our ego. On Rosh Hoshanah, we rededicate ourselves to the best that is in our lives, by self analysis.

Rosh Hoshanah also has a universal appeal. As we analyze ourselves, we review our deeds in relation to our community. We ask for the well-being of all and thus work toward bringing the kingdom of God upon earth. We are all responsible for the betterment of the world.

As we commence the Days of Penitence, let us sincerely devote our time and energy to bringing out the best in ourselves and in our neighbors, thus bringing on the salvation of the world.

Fire Prevention Week Starts Monday; Chief Issues Statement

Next week, October 5th through 11, is National Fire Prevention Week, so designated by the President of the United States. In observance of Fire Prevention Week, Belleville Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund has issued the following statement:

"Why do we have Fire Prevention Week? In the last decade, fire has killed more than 100,000 persons and burned and disfigured many hundred thousands more. Each year, about 11,300 people in the United States die needlessly in fires, and more than twice that number are severely burned or disfigured for life. Old people and pre-school children are the principal victims of fire.

"Fire Prevention Week is set aside to emphasize the year-round need for greater attention to fire safety and to stress again that nearly all fires are preventable, that human carelessness is the guilty party in almost every fire case.

"Traditionally, Fire Prevention Week is a full calendar week including October 9, anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire of 1887. The tragic figures on this page show the need for Fire Prevention Week. Every day in the United States, there are about 14,000 home fires, in which 31 people lose their lives.

"Most deaths by fire tragically involve families in their homes. Many are suffocated by smoke and fire gases without being actually burned.

"Many deaths-too-many—are caused by people falling asleep

CHIEF HUNDERTPFUND

Also there are 135 store fires, 100 factory fires, 110 barn fires, 11 school fires, four hospitals and 9 church fires for a total loss of about $1,275,000,000 in about 2,000,000 fires.

while smoking or re-entering homes to rescue pets or personal belongings.

"The sad part of it all is that in a survey by National Fire Protection Association, it was found that 8 1/2 per cent of all fires could have been avoided if the proper preventative measures had been taken.

"Commissioner Sullivan has asked me to see what could be done about starting a home inspection plan. This is a plan by which firemen make an inspection of all the dwellings in the entire town, in which they point out to the people all the existing hazardous conditions in their homes also the most likely places for fires to start.

"The Commissioner points out that in towns where home inspection has been adopted, the death rate by fires has dropped

"Hey Sport"

By Willard Morrison

Frustration

Belleville opened their grid season by meeting East Orange at Martens Stadium, East Orange. The Belleville boys played a fine game and did every thing that could be asked of them except win the game, the final score being 14-6 in favor of East Orange. Belleville missed first downs on the 17 and 22 yard lines of the Panthers by inches. Had these been made, the game could well have gone the other way.

The star quarterback of East Orange, Cliff Baskerville, who was all-county last season, was completely stopped by the Belboys. Bob Harvey and John Condon were guarding the flanks for Belleville and did an especially fine job in this department. They were on Baskerville all afternoon and would not let him perform his option play in his accustomed manner.

So strong was the Belleville defense, East Orange never once put the ball in play in Belbo territory. They did, however, make two fast strikes one on a kickoff return and the other on a pass run play for

Times Correspondent Sees Ike Cheered, Welcomed In England

(This is the last in a series of six articles written by George F. Korn, the Belleville Times correspondent, who has arrived home after traveling through Europe on a National Education Tour.)

BY GEORGE F. KORN

SCOTLAND — The highlights of my trip to Scotland was Edinburgh and the Edinburgh festival. We arrived in this city and visited some of the best known sights. Among these were the Cathedral of St. Giles which is the Queen's church when she is visiting Edinburgh; and the Castle of Edinburgh.

The castle is situated on a high hill overlooking the city and was built over 350 years ago. It can be seen from most every part of the city and is a constant reminder that you are in a country still ruled by royalty.

At the festival I saw a presentation of "The Twa Exiles," a satire in the Scottish brogue. Although it was hard to understand the language at times, the acting was so perfect that you knew exactly what was going on at all times.

The opening program of the festival was one I attended. Men arrived in their traditional English dress of high hat and tails. The program was written by Sir William Walton, probably England's most celebrated living composer; and was conducted by him.

After my few days in Edinburgh, I took a bus down through Scotland and into England through the beautiful country of the Southern highlands and into the farming and grazing country of northern England.

I stopped at Oxford, the famous university town, and visited some of the colleges and talked with some of the students. It is a beautiful school with many old buildings done in the traditional English Tudor style. Gardens are to be found everywhere and the grass is very lovely.

The most beautiful towns are well over 200 years old and I was told it takes 100-150 years to grow a lawn like the ones at Oxford.

I continued on to London and this is where I remained until I headed for home. London is an up-to-date city, with a touch of the past making it seem like it's older than most buildings really indicate. It has a marvelous underground system and over 700 bus routes.

All are plainly marked. After using something as simple as this, I can see why a newcomer to the States would have a tough time finding his way around New York City.

One of the first sights I visited in London was the Tower of London, which has a great amount of history within its walls. The oldest part, the White Tower, was built by William the Conqueror soon after the Norman Conquest. Subsequent monarchs added and enlarged it to meet the requirements of their time and for centuries it played an important part in England's history. It was a royal palace until since the coronation has such an ovation been given to an individual."

Wherever he went, a crowd gathered and cheered him as he passed. It was heartwarming to see that people who are not from your own country admire, respect and appreciate him so much.

I wish to thank the Belleville Times for letting me express my feelings and impressions to more people than I could have possibly written to.

READS QUERIES TO COMMISSIONERS

Nunzio Carraciola of 58 Roosevelt Avenue appeared before the Town Commission last week with a prepared list of questions, which he directed at Mayor Isadore J. Padula and Commissioner George Kiernan.

To the Mayor he asked the disposition of the case in which a Town employee was indicted for embezzling. Mayor Padula declared the case was now before the Grand Jury, and because of that he could not comment on it.

To a question as to what safeguards had been instituted to prevent a recurrence, the Mayor replied that new machines had been obtained and that if Carraciola had been interested, he could have seen them.

In another exchange, Mayor Padula said he would give no other information on the case since it was before the Grand Jury.

On the question of Civil Defense, Carraciola asked what would have happened in an emergency with no Civil Defense director.

The Mayor replied that if something had happened, "I probably would have stepped in," and that Police Chief George Spatz was deputy director.

On the question of Platoon Playground, Carraciola asked Kiernan: "Do you intend to make the playground a safe place, with adequate facilities for the children?" and "Do you intend to close the playground at this time, when we are in the midst of some of the nicest weather of the year?"

Kiernan made no comment to these questions.

Carraciola praised Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, Director of Public Safety, in the following manner: "When the people of our street were faced with hazardous traffic conditions, we presented our complaints to commissioner Sullivan, who in the course of four weeks not only had an ordinance passed, but is now placing posts for the new traffic regulations."

Turning back to Kiernan, he read from his statement: "How come the Department of Public Safety could act so expeditiously, and your department dilly-dallied along for the past three months?"

Local Company Will Exhibit Swim Products

A record number of New Jersey companies, including Wallace and Tiernan, Inc., of Belleville, will be among the more than 200 exhibitors showing the newest in swimming pools and pool equipment and accessories at the 1959 National Swimming Pool Exposition.

The Exposition will be sponsored by the National Swimming Pool Institute December 12-15 at the New York Coliseum.

The theme of the Exposition "Pools For Better Living" will be dramatized to the public by thousands of industry visitors in exhibits, swimming races, water shows and skin and scuba diving demonstrations.

To accommodate the daily parade of aquatic events a 30 by 60 foot swimming pool will be featured in the Exposition theme center and other "working pools" will also be shown by individual builder-manufacturers.

Iron Dukes

Jack Panico's placement split the upstarts and Belleville led 7-0.

On the first play following the kickoff, Carl Borino snatched the pigskin from its intended receiver on the Newark 20, raced for the goal line, actually bulling the last five yards with two tacklers on his back. Panico's attempted conversion was wide and the Dukes led 13-0.

A few plays later and the Dukes had the ball again as Les Fusco recovered a fumble on the Newark 38 after Pernio, Spurdute and Shotwell had jarred the carrier loose from both the ball and his helmet. On the second play from scrimmage Tony Addio raced 39 yards to an apparent touchdown, which was called back due to clipping on the part of a zealous Iron Duke blocker.

Borino took another Lion fumble on the Newark 26. Addio picked up six yards on end sweep before Frank Puleo passed to Bob Castelli on the ten, and the Duke end raced 10 more for the third T.D. Panico's placement made the score 20-0.

Ciriaco recovered another fumble on the Newark 16, as Borino jarred the ball loose from the Lion quarterback. Babe Conforti went off tackle for seven yards and Tony Addio swept left and for nine more and another touchdown. Panico's conversion upped the count to 47-0.

Les Fusco recovered still another Lion fumble midway through the second quarter on the Newark 43. After a quarterback keep picked up 3 yards, defensive unit completely dominated the play, forcing the ballhawking of the Dukes.

There will be an open date next Sunday and the next Iron Duke game will be on Sunday, October 11th against the Bloomfield Jolters. Kickoff is at 2:00 p.m.

The Iron Dukes now sport a 2-0 record, having won their first two games. On September 20th, in a home game they defeated the Newark Rough Riders, while last Sunday, the 27th, they smothered the Lions (as depicted above) 45-0, also at home.

The following is the remaining schedule:

Oct. 4, Open date.
Oct. 11, Sunday, Jolters vs. Belleville-H.
Oct. 18, Sunday, Kotrans vs. Belleville-H.
Oct. 25, Sunday, Tigers vs. Belleville-H.

Belleville In Stagecoach Days

Attracted Tourists And Visitors

Commuting in 1839 in Belleville was done to the sounds of the clatter and rattle of the stagecoaches, the jingle of belted harnesses and the crackle of the driver's whip.

There was no Washington Avenue at that time and nothing even remotely resembling the smooth highways that mark the modern era of the 20th century.

There were, however, about a half a dozen roads which were rutted, muddy in the spring and fall, deep with drifts in the winter, and dusty in the summer. This was the only access to Paterson, Bloomfield, Newark and New York.

The roads were originally Indian trails, which by 1839 had become turnpikes with toll gates at the cross roads every two miles. It was said that "in cold weather you must take off your gloves and open your purse oftener than pleasant."

Despite difficulties, Belleville attracted many visitors and tourists. The Passaic River was fresh and unspoiled. Fish abounded in streams and bathers found refreshing recreation in the river. Belleville was a summer resort and guide books of 100 years ago testify to Bel-leville's attractiveness in glowing terms.

The "Public House" was said to be a very large, well-furnis-hed hotel kept by Mr. Chandler, where many summer boarders were accommodated in a "de-lightful retreat" from the bustle and noise of great neighboring cities.

New Yorkers had discovered Belleville's rural charm about 1790. In 1796, the first bridge across the Passaic River near Rutgers Street was built. At about this time, a corduroy road laid across the surface of the Hackensack meadows to Paulus Hook, now known as Jersey City.

Along this turnpike Joseph Sanford established a stage coach line to New York. The vehicles were of a Concord type, which had more seats on the back the front and top than inside.

Sanford sold the line to John Williams, an innkeeper who owned a widely-known summer resort on Main Street and John Street, John Street is presently known as Belleville Avenue.

Williams's partner was John Dow, whose slave, Jacob Robin-son, dressed in a position's uni-form, wielded the whip and rein over their four horses.

"Jake" worked out the price that Dow paid for him and was freed. In later years he did so well that he bought out his former master and became Wil-liam's partner in the stage line. He continued to drive until he was succeeded by his son, Fran-cis.

Two more lines were opened, going to and from Belleville and New York. One was owned by T. P. Seaman, who owned the Mantion House on Rutgers and Main Street, and the other by Thomas Farrand, also an inn-keeper.

There were various means employed to attract customers to the different stage lines. One line hired a man by the name of George Barber who, in ad-dition to being a good horseman, was a virtuoso on the French horn and wakened guests early in the morning with delightful tunes.

The three stage coach lines promised their customers they would go to New York; yet they really ended at Paulus Hook where a ferry picked up the passengers and transported them across the Hudson and left them in the vicinity of Cortland Street.

The heyday of the stage coach lines was drawing to a close as Belleville became an independ-ent township. In 1833 the New Jersey Railroad Transportation Company was operating be-tween Newark and Jersey City.

Horsepower was the only means of locomotion for the old-fashioned railroad cars. They resembled and in some cases carried, stage coaches on a dif-ferent set of wheels. One year later, wood-burning locomotives were installed on the line.

One of the best-known stage line owners was Jimmy Riddle, who had a bugle fanfare herald the start and the finish of the run. Flanagan's stage line was famous, also, for the stentorian tones which announced the time to depart. Flanagan's "All Aboard" was said to have been audible to the end of the town.

The stage lines could not hold their own against the Iron Horse. Belleville was granted a charter for a steam railroad in 1836, but nothing materialized. In 1883 new plans were present-ed and again nothing happened.

In 1860, the Paterson and Newark Railroad was chartered and eight years later started through Belleville's Main Street backyards.

Horse cars brought new com-petition. Mount Pleasant Cem-etary was opened up to the Sec-ond River. The hayburners fea-tured 10-cent rides, however, most of the time the lines did not end where they were sup-posed to and passengers had to either walk across foot bridges or through mud, snow/ush and than pay 10 cents extra to get into the heart of Newark.

Mrs. Rochau Is Right

At Monday night's School Board meeting, a vote was taken concerning the disposition of formal charges filed with the Secretary of the Board of Education by Salvatore R. Calabro against Henry Minasian, principal of Schools No. 2 and No. 10. The School Board voted 5 to 2 in favor of dismissing the charges.

Each of the seven School Board members explained away his or her vote. The one that made the most sense was Mrs. Rochau's qualified support to dismiss the charges.

Mrs. Rochau voted to dismiss the charges on the basis that the assignment or reassignment of a school principal should be an administrative function performed by the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Evan Thomas. Additionally, in a resolution which was discussed in conference but failed to see the light of day at the public meeting, Mrs. Rochau condemned the use of PTA's as pressure groups by principals with self-serving motives.

This resolution is expected to be acted upon at the next meeting of the Board of Education.

We agree with Mrs. Rochau. Mr. Evan Thomas should have authority to administer our school system in accordance with the policies established by the Board of Education. Today, Mr. Thomas, while carrying most of the responsibility, has seen his authority diluted.

If the school children of Belleville are to receive the best that we have in us in terms of a good school system, the increasing erosion of Mr. Thomas' authority must cease. Belleville is fortunate to have an excellent administrator in the person of Mr. Thomas.

We believe that, unfettered by Board Members with political motives, we can expect from Mr. Thomas a first-rate school system with principals and teachers recognizing the fundamental fact that they are responsible directly or indirectly to the Superintendent of Schools who, in turn, is responsible to the Board of Education.

Ever since the citizens of the Town of Belleville voted for an elective Board of Education, many people have questioned the wisdom of that choice. Let the Board prove by future action that an elective Board is an improvement over an appointed Board of Education.

A Reminder

Memo to Commissioner Gruhin: A vacancy has existed on the Zoning Board since February. Would it not be in the best interests of the Town to finally make an appointment to the post? Or are political considerations preventing action now?

RED CROSS SEEKS NEW VOLUNTEERS

Forty-three Red Cross chapters in Delaware, New Jersey and New York are combining efforts in a joint drive to recruit 10,000 new volunteers to carry on Red Cross community service.

Belleville is one of the chapters participating in New Jersey from September 21 to 26.

Volunteers are needed for workers in the various services of the Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross. Belleville particularly needs drivers for their Motor Corp. Experienced drivers are needed to transport patients to hospitals, clinics and doctor's offices. These people have no other means of transportation. Apply today at the Red Cross Recruitment Booth at Sears and Roebuck Store on Washington Avenue in Belleville.

Other services where volunteers are needed are: Gray Lady service, volunteers, who will be trained, serve at East Orange Veterans Hospital, Clara Maass hospital, and at the monthly blood banks; Home Service, where women are trained to handle the emergency problems arising because of military service, i. e., problems of the serviceman or his family at home; Nurses Aide Service, volunteer Nurses Aides are needed to work at Clara Maass Hospital and at blood banks. There will be training classes available.

Also, Nursing Service, volunteer Nurses are needed to assist at the monthly blood banks and in time of disaster and Entertainment and Supply Service, these volunteers go to the Veterans Hospital each month and put on a party for one of the wards. Also they make disaster garments, hospital dressings, etc.

Call at the booth today or call the Belleville Chapter and make an appointment to come in and talk with Mrs. Herbert Tucker, chairlady of volunteers of the Belleville Red Cross Chapter, PL 9-7413.

Applicants may designate the chapter of their choice. Enrollments will be exchanged by the various chapters so that a recruit can serve where he or she prefers. There is no age limit, except for the Motor Corp.

A Job Survey Needed

If one were to add up the totals on the maximum salary ranges of the ten town hall jobs in the finance department which are open pending competitive Civil Service examination, the figure of $48,024 would be arrived at.

This is a fair-sized sum, as any taxpayer will concede, and brings to mind a question which has been asked by several parties recently: How many of the jobs are actually necessary for absolute efficiency of the department?

This is not a matter of job classification — it is one of job necessity.

This brings up a broader question. How many of ALL the jobs in the municipal system are necessary? How much money could be saved each year through a judicious pruning of the excess and unnecessary employees on the municipal payroll?

We feel that the Commissioners, who have the interest of the taxpayers at heart, should consider hiring an independent firm to examine the municipal job situation.

Certainly, inquiries on costs could be made, and first steps taken. It appears to us that such an examination would pay for itself many times over.

It certainly would satisfy many local residents to know — from an independent firm — just how efficiently their town is being operated.

Three Unique Distinctions

The Town of Belleville has several unique "distinctions."

It is the only town in the area with no Planning Board. With the introduction of an ordinance for a Planning Board at this week's Commissioners' session, it appears as if this unfortunate "distinction" will be eliminated.

Belleville is one of two towns within the County which has a public golf course on County property within the town.

It also has the "distinction" of retaining the cobblestones along Washington Avenue, State Highway 7, while in Nutley the same State highway has no cobblestones and in Newark the same State highway has no cobblestones.

This last consideration might be muddled over while rumbling down Washington Avenue.

their two scores and the ball game.

The one phase of the game in which Belleville did not fair well was passing. Nick Del Guercio, who passed so well in scrimmage games, did not have a good game. This was his first start as varsity quarterback and we feel sure he will improve in future contests. Nick had three passes picked off by Panther defenders.

Eddie Berlinski was well pleased with his team's showing and his biggest problem will be to bring the boy's morale up again. The Bellboys did a good job and there is no reason to think they cannot go on to a winning season with the proper mental attitude.

The Belleville scoring drive went 52 yards, and on other occasions they drove as close as the 17, 9, 15, 38, 30, 22 and 23 yard lines of the Panthers only to be denied in one way or another.

Mike Smith and Fred Partus both suffered leg injuries but at this writing it looks as if they will be able to meet Bloomfield Saturday.

Belleville's freshman team got their season off with a 19-0 victory over Irvington Saturday morning.

This Saturday the Bellboys meet Eddie Berlinski's alma mater, Bloomfield, at Municipal Stadium, Belleville, which should be an interesting struggle. This game over the years has always been one of the highlights of the Bellboy schedule and has become even more so since Eddie Berlinski took over the coaching reins at Belleville and began to give the Bengals so long awaited beatings.

Bloomfield has a Belleville grad on their coaching staff in Frank Stellatella, one of the Bengal assistants. If "Berl" can bring the boys up from the disheartening defeat at the hands of the Panthers, we feel sure the Bellboys will come through with their first victory of 1959.

The Bengals are sure to put up a good struggle, but if Belleville plays the way they did against East Orange they should win — it seems impossible to play such a fine game and lose twice in a row.

The past two Bellboy-Bengal games were one point affairs with Belleville winning 13-12 last season and the Champion Bengals 7-6 in 1957.

Out On A Limb

Last week we picked four correct, two incorrect and one game ended in a tie. Enough for last week, let's see if we can improve our average.

Barringer vs. South Side:

Barringer should win this one easily. The Big Blue came up with a surprising tie against a strong Plainfield team last Saturday.

Central vs. West Side:

This will be the opening game for both of these teams. Central was the doormat of the City League last season and there seems to be little improvement. West Side will down Central.

East Side at Seton Hall:

East Side downed a weak Perth Amboy team Saturday while Seton Hall lost a close one to Bloomfield. East Side may be the class of Newark and should beat the Pony Pirates.

Irvington at Montclair:

The Mounties are rolling again as they broke Teaneck's 13 game winning streak and should beat the Camptowners for win number two this season.

Kearny at Orange:

This will be a struggle of two of the weaker teams of the Big Ten. However, Kearny is a little stronger and will beat the Tornadoes.

Nutley at East Orange:

East Orange can strike from any place on the field with suddenness, as Belleville found out. Although the Bellboys stopped Cliff Baskerville he will not be stopped two games in a row and will be too much for the big Nutley eleven therefore we pick East Orange over Nutley.

Something New ??

We recently witnessed a college football game between C. W. Post college of Long Island and Montclair State College in which the Post team never huddled before an offensive play. I am sure many fans have never seen this done before; however, it was very popular over thirty years ago when most teams used it.

The quarterback calls the play by shouting a series of numbers as the team takes its offensive positions. In recent years, as the game became more complicated, this type of quarterbacking became obsolete.

It does have one advantage in that the quarterback is calling the play as he surveys the opposition's defense. It works well for the Post team — they defeated Montclair easily, winning 32-6.

A New Wrinkle

We see that some of the metropolitan college nines are playing a short series of fall baseball games. It is surprising that no one has thought of this before since we often have fine weather in the Fall. In fact some of the early season football games are witnessed by shirt sleeved crowds in weather more suitable for baseball than football. After all the World Series is not concluded until early October. We think this is a fine idea and think it will grow in popularity. September and early October weather is often better for baseball than April and early May.

Bellboys Lose 1st Game

To East Orange, 14-6;

Bloomfield Here Sat.

By DOMINICK GIOVACHINO

The Belleville High football squad lost their first game of the '59 season to East Orange High School Saturday by a score of 14-6. This game was played at Martens Stadium in East Orange before a crowd of 5000.

Belleville had a scoring opportunity at the very beginning of the game when, due to a bad punt by the Panthers, the Bellboys took possession on the East Orange 27 yard line. However, the East Orange line held and Belleville lost the ball on downs, missing a first down by inches.

A few minutes later Belleville again had the ball on their own 48 yard line. In nine plays they marched to the first touchdown of the game. Halfback Roger Caruso gained 30 of the 52 yards, carrying the ball five times. The key play of this drive, however, was a pitchout from signal-caller Nick Del Guercio to halfback George Sheridan which was good for 19 yards. The touchdown was eventually scored by Roger Caruso on a plunge from the one yard line. Pete Brindisi's try for the extra point was blocked.

The Bellboys meet their arch-rivals, the Bloomfield Bengals, Saturday at Belleville Stadium. Kick-off time is 2 p.m.

Addonizio Withdraws To Aid Dems; 'Disgusted' with GOP

Republican G. George Addonizio has announced the withdrawal of his candidacy for State Senator in Essex County on the Fusion ticket, and pledged his support for the entire Democratic ticket.

In withdrawing, Addonizio announced he was "disgusted with the operations of the Republican headquarters" and convinced "that the public would be far better off with a Democratic Administration than to leave its affairs in the hands of the same old political gang which has operated for 30 years or more under a phony halo of respectability."

The two-time candidate for Congress said he thought at first this year's primary fight would rejuvenate the Republican party and bring some new ideas and fresh faces into play, but added: "I didn't count on the talent for trickery of the crowd working under the chairman."

Describing the Republican County Chairman as a "respectable and honorable man," he continued, "No matter who their chairman is, this back-stairs group of manipulators conspires to serve their own selfish ends with a public-be-damned attitude. I hope the present chairman will realize this and use his influence to build the party on a firm foundation."

He also said he has become convinced that a fusion ticket would only damage Democratic chances for success, and "rather than be an unwitting party to the GOP's possible return to power in this County, I decided to abandon what respecting to me to be a futile effort which might hurt the cause of good government in Essex County."

"I speak only for myself," Addonizio pointed out. "After making my decision to withdraw and aid the Democratic campaign, I notified my colleagues on the Fusion ticket, but made plain that they should be guided by their own thoughts in this matter. I did not try to influence them in any way."

Several other members of the Fusion ticket indicated to Addonizio they would follow his decision. "Some will stay in fighting because they think that is the best way to revitalize the Republican party," Addonizio declared.

Addonizio has been an active Republican all his life and was twice that party's candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District. He said he will campaign actively with Democrat Edward V. Weber, candidate for sheriff, but will speak for the entire Democratic ticket. As required by law, Addonizio sent a registered letter to County Clerk Anthony Giuliano advising him of his decision and requesting that his name be removed from the November ballot.

GOLDEN STAYING ON THE TICKET; TO SUPPORT GOP

The Times-News was in receipt this week of a statement by James R. Golden of 62 Tappan Avenue, a candidate for State Assembly on the Independent Fusion ticket.

Golden expressed "keen disappointment" at Addonizio's announcement and asserted he would not withdraw his candidacy despite reports that the entire Independent Fusion slate would pull out in favor of the Fusion Democrats. He went on to state that he would campaign as "an independent dedicated to the election of qualified candidates free from the shackles of party boss rule."

Golden said he strongly pre-empted any implication he might support Democratic Party candidates and pointed to his uninterrupted GOP Primary Election voting record.

"I shall not repudiate the Republican Party. Now that Addonizio has withdrawn, I shall support and urge the election of Alfred C. Clapp, Republican Party candidate for the office of State Senator from Essex County."

"It is regrettable that Mr. Addonizio has espoused his newly taken position," asserted Golden, "since many will, perhaps erroneously, conclude that a 'deal' was arranged with Democratic chieftains, especially at the Belleville town level, with a view to embarrassing the Republican Party and its candidates in return for a platitudinous pledge of patronage and pay, or possibly an oblique hint of future political support, both of which could prove to be the 'kiss of death.'"

Golden continued: "If such a 'deal' were engineered and conspired, the conjecture would probably be shared by many of the political savants that Belleville's Commissioner Kierman and his 'alter ego,' Town Democratic Chairman Ralph Vara, cooked it up, possibly with some help from the Commissioner's boon companion and halfblood, the 'Invisible man' of Belleville politics."

Golden's statement did not divulge who he meant the so-called "invisible man" to be.

Golden explained his position on the Independent Fusion ticket as a "sincere attempt to bring competent independently-minded people into the business of government, who would place the Republican's interest above the party's and would not knuckle under to Party Boss rule."

He said he subscribed to the movement because he considered it a progressive step in the right direction to improve the climate of state and county governmental administration.

School 1 Pupils Comment On 'K'

The children of School 1 were allowed to draw on T.V. the arrival of Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. At the conclusion of the telecast, Paul Brennan, the principal, suggested that the 7th and 8th graders write an article on Mr. Khrushchev's arrival. He suggested they might try to write it the way it might appear in the history books 20 years from now.

Mr. Brennan promised the children he would try to have the best article printed in the volunteer personnel for their local paper.

There were so many good articles that it was difficult to choose one, Mr. Brennan declared. The following essay was selected. It was written by Sandra Stothoff.

"The Visit of Nikita Khrushchev"

On September 15, 1959, Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited the United States for the first time. On his visit he stayed at Blair House in Washington, D.C.

When he arrived, in a special plane, he was greeted by President Eisenhower and some of the members of the House. Some of the people had the pleasure of hearing the speech that the Russian Premier delivered. Following the speech, was a parade in honor of Mr. Khrushchev.

Most of the people did not want Nikita Khrushchev to make this trip to the United States. However, many took off from lunch hours and elsewhere to see him. There were various sayings such as "Let's try to make Nikita Khrushchev's visit as welcome as possible."

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Khrushchev visited the Eisenhowers. The Premier opened the conversation in English. Khrushchev said to the President that Russia and the United States were too strong to quarrel. The two presidents seemed to have had an interesting conversation.

The thing that interested most people was how Premier Khrushchev takes a special interest in the United States. At his visit he will go to mostly all of the states.

He will also go to one of Iowa's largest farms. On September 17, 1959, about 12:30 p.m., a big X was printed in the sky. This was in honor of Khrushchev. At the time he was in New York.

People say that Khrushchev doesn't believe that Americans can buy $13,000 homes. He said it had to be proved. In time he will find that it is true.

We hope that Premier Khrushchev will go back to the Soviet Union with the right impression of Americans and our country.

Girl Scouts

The purpose of this youth-serving agency is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character and conduct so that they may become happy, resourceful and useful citizens.

With the help of volunteer Girl Scout adults, a program of arts and crafts together with other indoor and outdoor activities is maintained on a year-round basis. The opportunity to assume responsibilities and to give service in the home, to the community and to the world is inherent in the Girl Scout program.

Belleville has a Girl Scout volunteer group of 100 men and women and a Girl Scout membership of over 600 girls.

Activities of local troop units are financed by troop dues and occasional money-raising projects for special events. However, the operating funds needed to administer the various programs, to pay the salaries of the skeleton group of professional and clerical workers, to train the as much as 61% in two years and that property damage by fire has dropped as much as 43% in two years.

"I am working on this plan now but I am not having much success due to the reluctance on the part of the people to allow firemen to enter their homes for this purpose."

"How many fire hazards are there in your home? How many people can answer that question? Most people are living with one or more conditions that cause fires. The surest way to get rid of these dangerous conditions, is a Fire Department inspection of your home. A fireman knows where fire starts and what breeds them."

"Some of the hazards are defective wiring, improper fuses, frayed extension cords or extension cords under rugs. Rubbish that piles up in closets, attics, basements and yards can be treacherous. Paints and solvents, light bulbs carelessly stored may start a fire."

"Other causes of fire that kill some 6,000 people in their homes every year include defective chimneys and heating and cooking equipment, and ignorance about the use of cleaning fluids. Careless smoking and bad habits with matches are at the very top of the list."

"During Fire Prevention Week in Belleville there will be an accelerated program of inspections by the Fire Department. Residents should take advantage of this opportunity to get their houses in order."

"Families on their own account can do some checking in their homes and rid themselves of many obvious hazards."

"The motto in Belleville is: Every home a fire safe home."

Country Reports 9 Polio Cases; 47 Last Year

Nine cases of polio have been reported in Essex County thus far this year. By this date last year, forty-seven cases had been reported.

Five of the nine current victims had received no Salk shots. Two of the remaining four had had three shots; while the others had two shots each.

Although the number of cases will undoubtedly rise during the usual September polio peak, Joseph Becker, executive secretary of the Essex County Chapter, The National Foundation, expressed confidence that the final figure would be about 16. The total 1958 figure was 73.

James J. McMahon, Essex Chapter chairman, credited alert public health officers and a cooperative press with having changed the public attitude from apathy to urgency in getting vaccine as the polio season approached.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD

Ever run into a friend in Tokyo, or met one of your neighbors in Amsterdam? Maybe, not—but such things are happening every day!

It makes you stop and think—the way this world is shrinking. It makes you wish that the men and women who live on opposite sides of the globe had more things in common.

There can be no more unifying force in the world than a common belief in God. And toward that ideal we are rapidly progressing. Christians the world over are feeling and expressing their unity of faith and purpose.

Sunday is World-Wide Communion Sunday. On that day, within the space of a few short hours, Christians in every land will reverently participate in the Lord's Supper which has been a mark of Christian faith for almost two thousand years.

Worship with the World in the Church of your choice!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Monday	II Peter	2	15-14

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

PREVENTION IS - EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS !!

OCTOBER 4th thru OCTOBER 10th

Our firemen make a life's work of fighting fires. They do their job bravely and well. But actually the BEST way to fight fires is to STOP them before they start. And that's a job that's squarely up to every one of us! Let's check our home and business properties for fire hazards . . . take care with flame in any form everywhere and all the time!

FIRE

The time to STOP fires is before they START! Check your home and habits for fire hazards that can prove disastrous.

"DON'T GIVE FIRE A PLACE TO START"

Some Additional Important Rules Are . . .

- Don't smoke in bed
- Keep matches away from young children
- Don't overload your wiring system
- Check electric cords for fraying
- Clean out junk from your attic and basement
- Be careful with lighted cigarettes
- Learn to use your oil stove correctly
- Don't use flammable cleaning fluids
- Don't use ordinary extension cords on heaters or irons!

Unattended children the youngest ones especially, would be helpless if fire should strike while you're away!

Whether left alone for many hours or for only a few minutes, children can start a fire in so many innocent ways.

Make sure your children are never left unattended. [Equally important, teach them to be conscious of the hazards of fire.

Fire danger is something your whole family should recognize and work as a team to prevent.

Don't load your electric wiring beyond its capacity to function safely.

Make sure all butts and matches are OUT before discarding. Watch this!

Don't allow combustible material to accumulate in attic, basement or other unwatched place. Stage a clean-up!

Keep flammable cleaning fluids away from fire or flame. Don't smoke while using them.
