Industrial growth during the year 1959 was healthy in the New Jersey area served by Public Service Electric and Gas Company. More new industries came to New Jersey, at the Crossroads of the East, than during the previous year. The final quarter was particularly successful, and there is every indication that industrial progress here will continue during the coming months and years.

Throughout our territory there is visual proof of the growth of industry, as well as new commercial centers, new office buildings and new residential areas. New, modern, landscaped industrial establishments are seen in the Delaware Valley section, as well as in Central and Northeastern New Jersey. Shopping centers and housing developments have risen in many parts of the area served by Public Service. Urban renewal is taking place in many cities.

The years ahead hold great promise. All of these facts reflect the growth of New Jersey, and Public Service is growing along with this great state. We are planning and building ahead to meet all demands for our

New Jersey 1960-1961

While 1960 is considered by the average voter to be a Presidential Election year there are a few among us that will use the political opportunity such an event presents to cement old ties, negotiate new ones, and in general, engage in the art of making friends and influencing people. These few will be the Gubernatorial Class of '61. And both major parties are blessed (?) with many hopefuls.

Take the Republicans for example. To our east we have a neighborly, friendly fellow by the name of Jones. Walter, that is. He is the Bergen County Senator and Republican boss - oops! In Bergen they call such a man "leader." Walter made a feeble attempt at the Gubernatorial spot in 1957 but at the last minute withdrew in favor of Malcolm Forbes. Remember him? In 1958 Walter expressed more than passing interest in the U.S. Senate seat relinquished at that time by New Jersey's able senior U. S. Senator H. Alexander Smith. Two other fellows, Robert Kean and Bernard Shanley were also interested in saving Smith's seat for the GOP. Walter again stepped aside. This time in favor of former Congressman Robert Kean.

To the west of us in the hills of Warren County we find our old friend, State Senator Wayne DuMont. A capable, likable, dedicated public servant, he challenged Forbes in the 1957 Gubernatorial Primary, and, opposed by most county and state GOP leaders, made a creditable showing although losing to Malcolm Forbes at the polls.

In Bernardsville, Somerset County, still stands Bern Shanley, former Secretary to President Dwight D. Eisenhower. highly polished lawyer, the politically ambitious Shanley seems to have the knack of being in the wrong place with the wrong people, at nomination time. In between nominations he can be found cultivating the right people. Somehow, along the way Shanley finds himself stranded from this company come nominating time and he ends up a bridesmaid but never a bride.

And Asbury Park has its youthful State Senator, Richard Stout. Princeton educated, Stout is a young man who is not in a hurry. A smart politician and capable legislator, our old GOP colleague Dick bides his time - waiting for "the nod" to come his way.
