

Belleville CD Staff Meets With State in Preparing Town's Plan for Survival

The Belleville Civil Defense Council has gone into its final briefing preparatory to assembling its material for composing a community civil defense manual as requested by the New Jersey State Civil Defense. The manual, to be titled "Operational Survival Plan for the Town of Belleville, N. J.," is based on a possible pre-attack warning permitting evacuation of townspeople to Morris Township.

This plan acknowledges an alternative to a possibly shorter warning time which would involve recourse to fallout shelters. Representing the Essex County Department of Civil Defense and Disaster Control James D. Maurer, executive director of the county organization. Also present representing the state plan was Lieutenant Colonel Arthur L. Kiviette who was a field engineer in the preparation of the basic text for the statewide framework.

The Belleville manual contemplates and specifies actions affecting every resident in the town in the event of a declared national emergency arising from an enemy attack. It is also applicable in the event of a disaster of similar magnitude resulting from natural causes such as explosions, fire, transportation wreck and freak weather accidents.

Plans outlined in the municipal volume have been integrated into the county and state framework of comparable action. Thus, to the extent that it is possible to foresee and provide against the extremity of devastating attack of destructive disaster, the Belleville operational survival plan will be formulated to embrace all activities.

The manual will contain basic procedure methods to cope with attack warning and activate communications services and those of intelligence, police, welfare, engineering, transportation, radiological, fire, vice, rescue service, manpower service, administration, health, medical, mortuary and supply.

A series of maps will be included in the manual to indicate designated one-way movement into a main convoy line. This action is planned to function in two separate convoy movements. Included in this also are procedure outlines for industry, public information services and religious affairs services.

Col. Kiviette explained in detail the procedure which must be adhered to in the case of evacuation and why the specific routes laid out on the map have been scientifically determined so that a convoy leaving Belleville would not run head-on into that of a neighboring municipality. Col. Kiviette also stressed the fact that it is mandatory for each municipality to establish by law, the continuity of government and line of succession, from the mayor and commissioners on down to the last person remaining, and New Jersey requires that this must be done in legal form by each governing body.

County Director Maurer explained the map making process and the functions of the maps in arranging the most direct and expeditious ways and means of evacuating the town should that ever become necessary. Maurer made it clear that not one person from Belleville could move into an adjoining municipality until their turn came to move, and the methods of policing such movement to see that procedure was carried out in an orderly manner.

Belleville Civil Defense Director Ludwig Pesa in opening the meeting outlined the purpose of the operational survival plan to the Belleville members of the council, and the part each one was expected to accept the responsibility for to the best of their ability.

Both Col. Kiviette and Maurer appeared pleased with the progress made by the Belleville Civil Defense organization in having advanced well along in the planning stage and in strict conformity with the state plan and that of Essex County.

Besides Col. Kiviette, Maurer and Pesa, other members of the Belleville Civil Defense Council actively taking part were George Spatz, chief of police; Thomas McMahon, assistant to the director; Norbert Bertl, deputy chief representing auxiliary police; James Murray, deputy chief, Belleville Fire Department; Eugene Barnett representing Mayor Padula and co-ordinator of welfare; Peter Wendel of disaster and Red Cross; James Golden, co-ordinator transportation; V. Mustacchio, engineering; and William G. Hunt, chief of press relations and secretary to the council.

Chamber Will Hear Thomas Talk Tomorrow

Superintendent of Schools Evan Thomas will inform tomorrow's luncheon meeting of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors of the latest developments in the movement toward a new high school.

The session tomorrow opens at 12:15 p.m. in the For Hills Restaurant, 888 Mt. Prospect Avenue, Newark.

Plans will be finalized tomorrow for the chamber's program launching dinner-meeting set for September 14. Harry T. French, executive director, reports invitations will be mailed to representatives of business and industry in about three weeks.

Board Chairman Frank Orechio presented the preliminary plans for the September dinner at the directors' July 15 session.

Both French and Orechio said they are pleased with the chamber's current "Buy in Belleville" campaign. The executive director says that "a continuing effort is calling attention to the citizens of town that purchases made locally help the local businessman to serve his customers. "In short," French concluded, "it's good business to do business where you live."

Boy Scouts Will Conduct Confab Next Tuesday

George Brown of 28 Reservoir Place, district chairman of the Belleville Committee of the Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced the coming District Program Review Conference will be held next Tuesday at school five.

Brown said that the conference has four objectives: (1) To secure from all district personnel their suggestions and ideas on the program and activities conducted thus far in 1960; (2) suggestions for new items or changes in 1961; (3) plan ahead for the remainder of 1960; (4) to show unit leaders, committee men and den mothers how to use the program planning material.

He also announced that in his absence, William Chapman of 2 Belmhor Street will preside. Chapman is vice-chairman of the Belleville District Committee. Over 50 Scouters are expected to attend the conference.

Holy Family Pilgrimage

Ten local residents left Idlewild International Airport Saturday night for a three-week Pilgrimage which will climax with an audience with the Pope in Vatican City. Traveling by TWA jet, the trip marks the first in a series of annual pilgrimages arranged by the Belleville - Nutley Travel Service here. The Rev. Henry Naddeo (bottom left) and the Rev. Matthew Pesanello (bottom right) of Holy Family Church are leading the group which has already been to Paris, is in Lourdes today and has yet to visit Milan, Venice, Rome and Naples. Father Nadeo will make a presentation to the Pope when the group visits the Vatican. Mrs. Carmen Orechio (bottom center) is the tour guide. Others seen above on the steps of the TWA jetliner are (top to bottom) John Nunzio, Mrs. Antoinette Naddeo, John Kirich and Robert Vitillo. Right row, top to bottom, Charles Nunzio, Miss Olga Kirich and Mrs. John Kirich.

Board Seeks Volunteers For 'Study'

The Belleville Board of Education is inviting local citizens to serve on board-sponsored subcommittees concerned with the development of a new senior high school and the conversion of the present high school building in Washington Avenue to a junior high school.

A questionnaire has been sent to member of the citizens' committee named to study the Rutgers Report asking interested persons to assist the board in other areas. Mrs. Violet Rochau, president of the school board, is hoping that others not on the citizens committee might also wish to help with the expansion project.

Listed below are six proposed sub-committees on which citizens may serve. However, Mrs. Rochau notes that some may wish to propose the creation of other committees and invites anyone to so notify the board of education.

She invites citizens to scan this list and to notify her of persons wishing to serve.

The committees include a "School Site Subcommittee" which will study all site problems, determining availability, adequacy and development costs.

The "Architect Selection Subcommittee" will aid the board in screening the qualifications of school architect applicants, visit schools designed by various ones and help "the board of education in the selection of the very best school architect."

Members of the "Curriculum Subcommittee," Mrs. Rochau reports, "will study Belleville's building needs in terms of what would be taught in a new high school. It would consider building needs in terms of such areas as instruction in science, business education, English, social studies, mathematics, family living courses, foreign language, shops, art, music, mechanical drawing and library."

The "Planning for Community Use Subcommittee" will study ways of designing the new high school to meet the needs of the whole community; for example, a gymnasium, auditorium, cafeteria or the site development plan should be fully adequate for instructional uses and for spectators, visitors and community recreational purposes.

Mrs. Rochau says that a "Finance Subcommittee" will study all the problems of financing school modernization and help the board in determining the best procedures.

The "Public Relations Subcommittee" will have "the important responsibility of developing strategy for bringing the message of our building program to every citizen. A well-informed public will be essential to the success of this school improvement undertaking."

Other suggestions for subcommittees are welcomed by the board. Persons wishing to serve on one of the committees may contact Mrs. Rochau at the Belleville Board of Education offices at school eight.

Group Has Rough Night Before Board of Education

The Belleville Citizen's Tax Council has made some impressive performances before the board of education, but Monday night the show was a flop.

Lee Garcon, spokesman for the tax council did the talking. He accused the board of giving raises to two maintenance men—"raises which actually are political payoffs."

His next target was the school's director of music who Garcon said was using school instruments and time to give private lessons to children at $2.00 an hour.

Board president, Mrs. Violet Rochau, called Garcon's remarks "nasty charges."

Ernest Arvidson, another board member, said he thought Garcon had "lost his integrity."

After Garcon told the board he hadn't actually checked his reports out, he said he had heard identical indications of misconduct from "numerous organizations and people." Garcon noted "when you hear the same thing from a 100 different people, you begin to wonder." Garcon commented that he is not responsible for what people around town are saying. "We do not spread rumors. We like to stick to facts."

RUMORS?

Nicholas Arvidson told Garcon that if he were against rumors, "you certainly have picked a curious way to stop them in coming here and repeating these rumors in public." Juliano scolded Garcon saying that "you could have at least checked the things you hear before coming to this meeting."

Garcon's charges were launched after the board began deliberation of a resolution granting $200 adjustments in salaries for Theodore Hamula, Anthony Biadone and Mariano Jannarone, all maintenance employees.

Without naming which two of the three workers were receiving political payoffs, Garcon said the third person was included as a "red herring to avoid criticism."

Mrs. Rochau noted that the $200 "is not a raise but a salary adjustment" adding that "and they certainly didn't work for me because I wasn't running last year."

Arvidson, who was elected only with Juliano this year, said that Garcon's "inference that I am making a political payoff is unfair and I resent his remarks. I am voting for these salary adjustments only on the basis of merit."

RIVIERA PARK Arvidson then threw a line of questions at Garcon concerning the Riviera Park Civic Association which Garcon represented Monday for the first time in addition to the tax council.

"I live in Riviera Park," Arvidson began, "and I don't like your coming down here and giving the impression that the families of Riviera Park are for this and against something else."

Arvidson asked now Garcon became a member of the group "since you don't even live in Riviera Park."

Garcon said that "for many years now the Riviera Park Civic Association has accepted members from outside the Riviera Park section. I have been a member for a long time."

Answering another of Arvidson's questions, Garcon reported that 23 families are members of the group with a little more than half of these families non-residents of Riviera Park.

MUSIC INSTRUCTION

Superintendent of Schools Evan Thomas explained that the charge of the music department's charging $2.00 lessons "without the board's consent" was unfounded.

Thomas said that the board of education sponsors private music lessons on Saturday mornings which are taught by the school music instructors. "This is a public program and there is a $2.00 an hour fee."

Thomas said, "it's sponsored by this board and there is nothing secret or undercover about it. It's a good program." This board and there is nothing secret or undercover about it. It's a good program."

Radio Club Tells Election Results

Belleville Police-Firemen's Radio Club has decided to divide into two groups, one for new applicants and the second for experienced members. The decision was made after 15 applications for membership were received at the club's last meeting.

Deputy Chief George Sbarra of the fire department, the group's new moderator, told of plans the experienced group might adopt in the coming year.

Newly elected officers of the group include Detective James P. O'Brien, president; Henry G. McEnery, vice-president; Russ V. Conroy, secretary, and John J. Burke, treasurer.

One new policy adopted by the club is that new applicants must acquire novice licenses within five weeks after joining the local group.

Future plans of the club include obtaining a station license, erecting a new antenna and the purchasing of equipment for instructional use.

The Belleville Police-Firemen's Radio Club was founded last year by Public Safety Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan.

Softball Official Exam Open to Local Men

Residents of Belleville, 21 years of age or over, are invited to take the annual membership examination for approved ASA softball officials August 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Littleton Avenue Boys Club, Newark.

Correction

The July 14 issue of The Belleville Times carried a story concerning properties in the area where the contemplated new high school building would be constructed. This story stated that property at 75 Passaic Avenue is town-owned; this statement is in error as this tract is owned by Frederick Austin. We wish not only to make this correction, but to apologize for the inconveniences caused Mr. Austin. The error was doubly embarrassing as Mr. Austin is an employee of the board of education.

Knights Elect New Officers

Edward DeMartino has been elected grand knight of Belleville Council 835 Knights of Columbus.

Others elected include Nicholas DiGiovanni, deputy grand knight; James McCann, chancellor; T. William Sloan, recorder; Kenneth Murray, financial secretary; John Davis, treasurer; Peter Fitzpatrick, lecturer; Edward Fitzgerald, advocate and Daniel Serpentelli, warden.

Inside guards are Lou Luzzi and Raymond Reilly. The outside guards are John Ryan and Paul Hannon. Hannon is also a trustee.

Sloan and Fitzpatrick were also named alternate delegates to the state convention. Past Grand Knights John Burke and George Mahler were named for two-year terms as delegates to the New Jersey chapter; one-year delegate is DiGiovanni and the Rev. Francis Ignacino continues as chaplain.

New committee chairmen are Oreste Savere, program; McCann, Catholic activity; DiGiovanni, fraternal activity; Reilly, council activity; Daniel J. Serpentelli, publicity; John Ryan, membership and Gene Ross, youth activity.

With Government Team

One Local Scout Will Go to the Arctic

A Belleville Explorer Boy Scout may be given the opportunity to go on an expedition to the Arctic, the Robert Treat Council announced today.

The local council has made arrangements with the government to send a scout with a scientific expedition. William L. Fleser, explorer chairman, told The Times that a local scout between 17 and 19 years will be nominated to serve as junior scientific aide at Camp Century in Greenland next fall and winter.

The scout selected must be physically qualified to live in Arctic conditions where temperatures will range as low as 60 degrees below zero. He must also be a high school graduate.

The expedition is scheduled to leave the United States next October and return some time in April, 1961.

The local scout selected would become a member of the contingent working under the direct supervision of the camp commander with assigned duties as an assistant to scientists and engineers. The duties would be rotated from time to time to give the scout a wide range of experience and provide him with a more interesting tour of duty.

The winter research program at Camp Century consists of projects in civil engineering, geology, glaciology, meteorology and polar medical problems. The camp will be operated by a military contingent of about 65 commissioned officers and enlisted men under the command of a U. S. Army Corps of Engineers captain. In addition about 50 scientists, engineers and technicians will attend.

APPLICATIONS

Applications must be received by the Robert Treat Council no later than August 10. The scout will be selected on August 30 from among those recommended. The selection will be based on scout training, character and ability; how the scout would fit in with the happiness and success of the expedition and how he would make the best use of this opportunity to increase his own training and preparation for life.

Potential applicants must have had at least two years' membership in scouting and have attained the Eagle Scout, Silver Explorer or Quartermaster Sea Explorer rank. Candidates must have an interest and aptitude for the physical sciences; scholastic records will also be a deciding factor as well as physical fitness.

Communications Changed Maneuvers at Conventions

Next President Arrives on TV Instead of Horse

In 1844, an important political message hummed across telegraph wires. Senator Silas Wright announced that he could not accept the Democratic nomination for Vice President. But the delegates were suspicious of the new-fangled instrument. They refused to withdraw his name until confirmation came hours later with a courier-on horseback!

In bygone years, candidates didn't attend conventions and sometimes days passed before they got word of their own nominations!

Today, candidates — and the public — see events at the split second history is made.

In fact, David Brinkley of NBC News recalls that in 1956 Senator John Kennedy was in his hotel bathtub when he heard a television report that he was gaining on Senator Estes Kefauver in the balloting for the Democratic Vice Presidential nomination.

Brinkley says that Kennedy came out to the TV set in an adjoining room, wrapped only in

POLITICAL DEAL

The classical political deal was arranged in a "smoke-filled room" during the wee hours of the morning.

When reporters asked Harding for a statement about the astounding nomination, he called upon his knowledge of poker: "We drew a pair of deuces and filled."

In 1924, radio brought political oratory to the public.

In 1928, besides the radio microphones, a primitive TV camera covered the convention . . . though only a handful of Americans owned sets.

Franklin D. Roosevelt and radio were made for each other . . . his opponents weren't in his league as orators. Landon had a rasping, ineffective voice. Wilkie, a vigorous campaigner, appeared at a disadvantage behind the microphone. Dewey came closest to giving Roosevelt a vocal run for his money.

In '30, Roosevelt broke the tradition of nominees being formally notified after the convention. He heard the news on the radio . . . and hopped a plane to Chicago. There he made a memorable speech that began, "I pledge you, I pledge myself, to a New Deal for the American people."

FIRESIDE CHATS

Roosevelt's chatty "Fireside Speeches" from the White House undoubtedly helped get him elected again . . . and again . . . and again!

With nationwide television adding light and sound to the '52 and '56 campaigns, Eisenhower and Stevenson provided a fascinating contrast in style. The impressive phrases of the Illinois governor won wide acclaim. But Eisenhower's strength rested in his friendly grin . . . and the "father image" he projected into millions of Americans' homes.

This year, Democrats convened in California in the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

Republicans are meeting now at the International Amphitheater in Chicago. Here, 100 years ago, Lincoln was nominated . . . and the Republican Party founded.

Elaborate preparation by the major networks has assured viewers full participation in the historic drama. NBC alone has a battery of 350 newsmen and technicians on the spot, with the award-winning team of Chet Huntley and David Brinkley again acting as anchor men.

The outcome? Anyone's guess!

reached New York from Baltimore five days later . . . by stagecoach. Three weeks later, Missourians clustered in general stores heard the clatter of hooves . . . a messenger on horseback was then bringing word of the nomination.

Later, the penny press made information generally available . . . but the papers didn't reach some people for weeks.

BOYS IN BLUE

Even if Americans had television in 1868, they still wouldn't have heard the speeches. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was a Republican candidate . . . and the hall was crammed with rowdy Civil War veterans. The "Boys in Blue" caused such an uproar . . . whooping up enthusiasm for their battle leader . . . few heard the speeches!

Because of the lag in news distribution, it became traditional for candidates to be notified in a formal ceremony . . . sometimes several months after the convention. Lincoln received word of his 1860 nomination at his home in Springfield, Illinois. McKinley received the delegates on his front porch in Canton, Ohio.

One of the hottest convention deadlocks occurred in 1920. Harding was a candidate . . . but no one, including Harding, seriously believed he'd receive the nomination. He entered the race to "mend political fences" for making the necessary reports of cash wages for social security purposes.

"See to it that your household employees don't lose their right to social security benefits. Report their earnings: The law requires household employers to report their employees' cash wages quarterly if the cash wages amount to $50 or more. For more information visit or write to your social security office and ask for Leaflet 21," said Mr. Wilkie.

Must Report Household Aid

More than 100,000 housewives throughout the country may be violating the social security laws by not reporting the cash wages they pay their household help, according to Joseph F. J. Mayer, District Director of Internal Revenue, and William J. Wilkie, District Manager of the Social Security Administration. Both are in Newark.

"This could mean that the household workers who are not being reported are deprived of the valuable financial protection they could have under social security. This is especially true of 'day workers,' who work for several employers during the course of a week.

Many housewives may not know that the law requires them to report household help whom they paid $50 or more in a calendar quarter. Others may be ignoring this obligation because their employees don't want them to report the wages they get.

Each employer who regularly pays her household worker $4 or more in cash each week must file a return showing the name and social security number of the worker and the amount of the worker's wages. The household employer also must send in, with the report, the six per cent social security tax on the wages reported—three per cent taken out of the pay of the worker and three per cent contributed by the employer. The employer, of course, may pay the whole six per cent herself, if she wishes. Household employees may have asked their employers not to file the returns because they do not want to have their share of the social security tax taken out of their pay. The law, however, holds the employer responsible

Four Booked As Being Abusive

Four adults and two juveniles, all residents of Belleville, were brought to police headquarters in Nutley Saturday night, July 2, just before 11 o'clock, and charged with disorderly conduct. The juveniles were released in the care of their parents and the police record said juvenile court action was to be taken.

All were charged by Officers George Gerrity and Henry Anzovino, who brought them in, with having used abusive language. They had to be chased from Franklin Avenue and Centre Street to Ravine Avenue before they could be apprehended.

The four who appeared before Municipal Judge Edwin J. Joerg on July 6, were Louis Grosky, 19, 9 Belleville Avenue; Matteo Jannicelli, 19, 240 William Street; Walter Long, 19, 13 Bell Street; Ralph Belleville, 19, 62 Mapes Avenue, all Belleville.

Poison Control Center Opened At St. Mary's Hosp.

St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, Poison Control and Information Center opened Thursday, July 7, after receiving formal approval from the New Jersey State Department of Health.

St. Mary's has for years treated and answered questions on toxicology, but what is new is the development of a 24-hour, direct telephone service to the center, equipped to assure incoming call only, a comprehensive poison library, and the backing of an active committee.

In recent years, poisoning has become a problem of sizeable concern, according to hospital officials. The homes of a generation ago had very few toxic items on hand, however, today, because of technical advances, the average modern home makes use of almost 50 potentially dangerous preparations. Most problems in poisoning lie in children in the under five years of age group. In recognizing the public need, the Center will be under the chairmanship of the Pediatrics Department.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle Victor Dibella, was attired in a gown of white silk organza with long sleeves and applied roses on the bodice and skirt with a full chapel train. The three-tiered veil, fell from a rose. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white orchids.

No Cause For Alarm Barbara Bilensky Engaged to Wed

BARBARA BILENSKY

SAVED BY SHRINKAGE—Ocean shrinkage over the past several million years is what makes it possible for Jerseyans in nearly half the state to keep their heads above water, according to R. Bruce Thompson, Jr., instructor in geology at the Camden Division of Rutgers University, who her shows where the shoreline might have been. More recently the trend has reversed and the coast is starting to shrink. But Thompson and his fellow geologists see no cause for alarm unless you plan to stick around for a few more million years.

Hold Bowling Social

A bowling social Tuesday night was held by the Single Protestants of Essex County Club at the Wesley Methodist Church, Belleville.

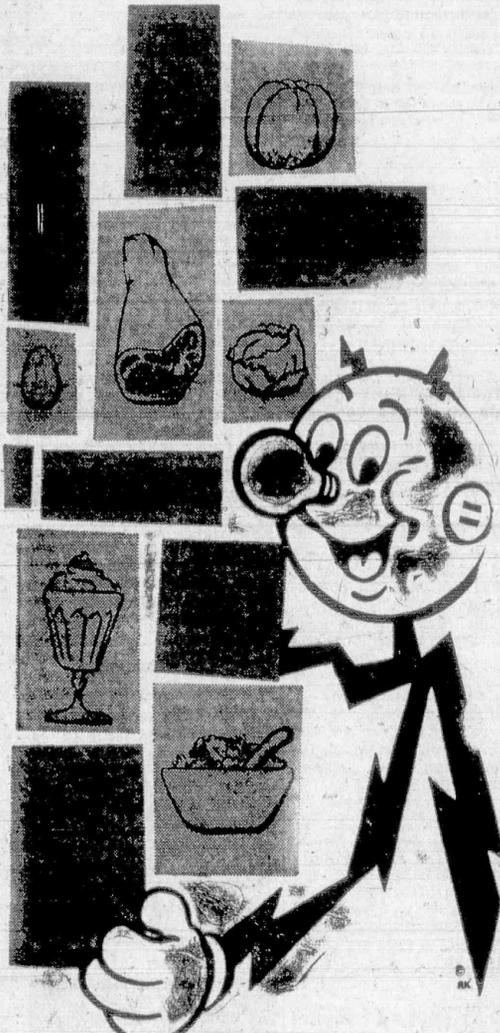

Single adults in the 21 to 36-year age range are eligible for membership. William P. Fisher of 3 Bridge 7 Street, Belleville is president.

CRUNCHY TOPPING

Try a crunchy oat topping for ice cream or pudding. Mix four cups of uncooked rolled oats, quick or old-fashioned, with one cup of brown sugar and two to three cups of melted butter or margarine. Toast in a shallow baking pan in a 350-degree oven about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool about 15 minutes, then toss lightly with a fork to form crumbs. Keep in a covered jar in refrigerator. Toss with a fork before using.

TOASTED ROLLS

Toasted rolls, with savory fillings, make a fine main course for lunch. Try this combination: split frankfurter rolls and spread with soft cheddar cheese, then open a can of small Norway sardines and arrange the sardines on top of the cheese. Place under the broiler for a few minutes—just long enough to half-melt the cheese and heat the sardines through. Serve with a salad of summer vegetables—lettuce, water cress, scallions, cucumbers—and French dressing.

This exercise in freedom of speech seems to us to be stretching the constitution a bit. The Board President should have gavelled the speaker out of order. Speeches based upon rumors have no place at board meetings. Let us hope this is the last such performance.

Board members serve without compensation and are entitled to greater respect from the public. Undoubtedly the speaker involved in the Monday night incident was well-intentioned but that in itself doesn't excuse a lack of respect for the board members' time.

Rutan Estates

One of Belleville's step-children is finally getting some official attention. Rutan Estates, the recently developed western part of town, has been all but forgotten since its development by our public officials except for the building inspector and tax collector.

In self-defense the residents of the area banded together to organize the Rutan Estates Homeowners Association. Its articulate and dedicated president is John Bass who has been vigorously pushing town hall to do something about the rats, bugs, and swamp holes which populate the area. Some abandoned areas are even being used for dumping refuse.

The property owners involved have a right to be indignant. They have a right to expect first rate service for their tax dollars. And our public officials are under compelling obligation to not only listen to complaints of the taxpayers—but more—they should do something to remedy the conditions which gave rise to the complaints.

Rutan's "voice in the wilderness" has finally reached the ear of the Board of Commissioners. And action is now being taken to ameliorate the living conditions of the area. Commissioner Robert Gruhin already has introduced an ordinance providing for the construction of a rip-rap slope along the Third River to prevent flooding of the area. Commissioner Nunzio Pico has dispatched his investigators to the scene to consider the health menace arising from the existence of swampy areas. Commissioner Harry Sullivan has instructed the Police Department to patrol the area more frequently in an attempt to apprehend thoughtless people who use the area as dumping grounds.

Although the official action is somewhat tardy, we know the homeowners in the Rutan area are pleased with the current activity out of town hall.

Polio Time

The polio season is upon us, and we remind our readers that although we have a vaccine—or several vaccines—polio is still taking a heavy toll of American lives.

Some people may not realize it, but in 1959 polio paralyzed 5,000 victims. Also, many people do not realize it, but 49 percent of the American population—practically half—has received no polio vaccine at all.

It is among this half of population that paralytic polio will take a heavy toll this summer, a U.S. Public Health Service official recently warned.

The National Foundation estimated recently that polio vaccinating last year saved 9,000 persons from paralysis. This is a tremendous achievement, and although new vaccines are on the horizon, and are actually being used both in Russia and in the United States, those who have not received the new-vaccine shots, should certainly see to it that their children, and they themselves, receive Salk vaccine shots.

How about procrastinating no longer and doing it today?

Develop Hobbies

One of the most rewarding home pursuits the average citizen can follow is the development of a hobby, or family project, which enables him to enjoy the satisfaction of having done something constructive—outside the realm of his daily life.

In the present age, when television, movies, automobiles, and many other luxuries we now enjoy take so much time, the art of finding pleasure and satisfaction at home, in the form of hobbies or projects, is sometimes overlooked.

Yet, from a family standpoint, the development of projects, or the pursuit of hobbies, which provide both leisure and perhaps improvement of the home or yard, is entirely wholesome. If possible, families should work on projects together,

St. Peter's Wins Third of Season From St. Lucy's

St. Peter's, Belleville, chalked up its third win in the Essex County CYO Intermediate Baseball League July 10, squeaking past previously unbeaten St. Lucy's, Newark, 2-1.

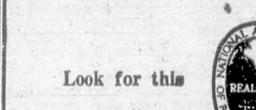

Al Talignani and Hank Mamay shared the hero's robes for St. Peter's. Talignani, who gave up a run in the third to allow St. Lucy's to knot the score, held the Newarkers at bay thereafter while pitching a three-hitter. And Mamay, who had a triple earlier, accounted for the winning run by blasting out a homer in the bottom of the last inning. It was the fifth hit garnered by St. Peter's of Bob Del Mauro's serves.

The victory moved St. Peter's into the first division. This Sunday St. Peter's should advance a little more at the expense of Blessed Sacrament, East Orange, which is still looking for its first decision. The contest is listed for 3:30 as the second part of a twin bill at Newark School's Stadium.

High School Site

To the Editor:

At a meeting at the Town Hall between the Board of Education and the Commissioners the talk got around to some land privately owned, and some owned by the people which the Board of Education is seeking for a new High School, which I insist the town does not need. It has been explained by Mayor Padula that the land privately owned would cost the people at least 150 thousand dollars, and a lost in ratables of more than $3,000 per year. These lost ratables are partly responsible for Belleville high tax rate which has doubled in the past 10 years.

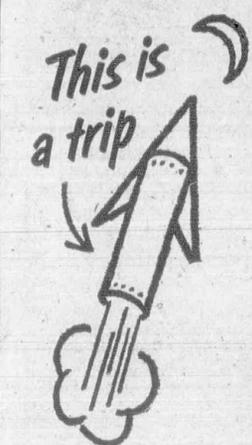

I am in agreement with the Commissioners on their judgment in granting the land to the School Board, if they can win Public approval. I am not in agreement with the terms of this deal, insisted on by Mr. Evan Thomas or Mrs. Rochau, that they run the whole show, as to when, and how this referendum will be placed on the machine. We people here in town are not interested in a special election, which is a waste of the tax payers money, and a means to sneak in through the back door what has already been kicked out the front way, in 1955.

In 1955 both the land and High School issues were twice defeated by the people, and Mrs. Rochou and other members of the School Board under the appointment system were told to resign, all have refused. In her first try for office under the new elected system, she ran on her record, and was defeated, and the new High School Issue became a dead issue, until she won re-election and became its president. I am trying to be fair in this matter. All I ask is to be fair in return. All important questions of this nature involving millions of dollars of the taxpayers money must be placed on the General election, for an honest count. Why should any one receive special favors, the police and firemen in their bid for a $500. dollar cost of living increase, for a period of 2 years, did not ask for a special election, but took their chances on the General election, and just barely lost out. The Board of Education cannot compare with our fine police and fire Depts, who are doing a terrific job in town, and not guided by surveys at the expense of the taxpayers, which in the end are cloudy and vague, because the board themselves don't know the whole story.

I am appealing to all 5 commissioners, to consider the mandate of the people, who they represent as public servants on referendum's of this nature, otherwise you must show the same consideration to the police and firemen when their 2 years are up, whats good for the Board of Education is good for our boys in blue.

And our public officials are under compelling obligation to not only listen to complaints of the taxpayers—but more—they should do something to remedy the conditions which gave rise to the complaints.

Rutan's "voice in the wilderness" has finally reached the ear of the Board of Commissioners. And action is now being taken to ameliorate the living conditions of the area. Commissioner Robert Gruhin already has introduced an ordinance providing for the construction of a rip-rap slope along the Third River to prevent flooding of the area. Commissioner Nunzio Pico has dispatched his investigators to the scene to consider the health menace arising from the existence of swampy areas. Commissioner Harry Sullivan has instructed the Police Department to patrol the area more frequently in an attempt to apprehend thoughtless people who use the area as dumping grounds.

Although the official action is somewhat tardy, we know the homeowners in the Rutan area are pleased with the current activity out of town hall.

Polio Time

The polio season is upon us, and we remind our readers that although we have a vaccine—or several vaccines—polio is still taking a heavy toll of American lives.

Some people may not realize it, but in 1959 polio paralyzed 5,000 victims. Also, many people do not realize it, but 49 percent of the American population—practically half—has received no polio vaccine at all.

It is among this half of population that paralytic polio will take a heavy toll this summer, a U.S. Public Health Service official recently warned.

The National Foundation estimated recently that polio vaccine last year saved 9,000 persons from paralysis. This is a tremendous achievement, and although new vaccines are on the horizon, and are actually being used both in Russia and in the United States, those who have not received the new-vaccine shots, should certainly see to it that their children, and they themselves, receive Salk vaccine shots.

How about procrastinating no longer and doing it today?

Develop Hobbies

One of the most rewarding home pursuits the average citizen can follow is the development of a hobby, or family project, which enables him to enjoy the satisfaction of having done something constructive—outside the realm of his daily life.

In the present age, when television, movies, automobiles, and many other luxuries we now enjoy take so much time, the art of finding pleasure and satisfaction at home, in the form of hobbies or projects, is sometimes overlooked.

Yet, from a family standpoint, the development of projects, or the pursuit of hobbies, which provide both leisure and perhaps improvement of the home or yard, is entirely wholesome. If possible, families should work on projects together,

St. Peter's Wins Third of Season From St. Lucy's

St. Peter's, Belleville, chalked up its third win in the Essex County CYO Intermediate Baseball League July 10, squeaking past previously unbeaten St. Lucy's, Newark, 2-1.

Al Taligiani and Hank Mamay shared the hero's robes for St. Peter's. Taligiani, who gave up a run in the third to allow St. Lucy's to knot the score, held the Newarkers at bay thereafter while pitching a three-hitter. And Mamay, who had a triple earlier, accounted for the winning run by blasting out a homer in the bottom of the last inning. It was the fifth hit garnered by St. Peter's of Bob Del Mauro's serves.

The victory moved St. Peter's into the first division. This Sun-

High School Site

To the Editor:

At a meeting at the Town Hall between the Board of Education and the Commissioners the talk got around to some land privately owned, and some owned by the people which the Board of Education is seeking for a new High School, which I insist the town does not need. It has been explained by Mayor Padula that the land privately owned would cost the people at least 150 thousand dollars, and a lot in ratables of more than $3,000 per year. These lost ratables are partly responsible for Belleville high tax rate which has doubled in the past 10 years.

I am in agreement with the Commissioners on their judgment in granting the land to the School Board, if they can win Public approval. I am not in agreement with the terms of this deal, insisted on by Mr. Evan Thomas or Mrs. Rochau, that they run the whole show, as to when, and how this referendum will be placed on the machine. We people here in town are not interested in a special election, which is a waste of the tax payers money, and a means to sneak in through the back door what has already been kicked out the front way, in 1955.

In 1955 both the land and High School issues were twice defeated by the people, and Mrs. Rochau and other members of the School Board under the appointment system were told to resign, all have refused. In her first try for office under the new elected system, she ran on her record, and was defeated, and the new High School Issue became a dead issue, until she won re-election and became its president. I am trying to be fair in this matter. All I ask is to be fair in return. All important questions of this nature involving millions of dollars of the taxpayers money must be placed on the General election, for an honest count. Why should any one receive special favors, the police and firemen in their bid for a $500. dollar cost of living increase, for a period of 2 years, did not ask for a special election, but took their chances on the General election, and just day St. Peter's should advance a little more at the expense of Blessed Sacrament, East Orange, which is still looking for its first decision. The contest is listed for 3:30 as the second part of a twin bill at Newark School's Stadium.

barely lost out. The Board of Education cannot compare with our fine police and fire Depts, who are doing a terrific job in town, and not guided by surveys at the expense of the taxpayers, which in the end are cloudy and vague, because the board themselves don't know the whole story.

I am appealing to all 5 commissioners, to consider the mandate of the people, who they represent as public servants on referendum's of this nature, otherwise you must show the same consideration to the police and firemen when their 2 years are up, what's good for the Board of Education is good for our boys in blue.
