

Belleville Little League Team Wins District Championship; Hopes To Try For N. J. State Trophy Next Week

Squad is Close To Winning Trip To Williamsport

Belleville's National Little League Team has won the district championship in the U. S. Little League World Series. The team, honored in a parade through the streets of West New York, N. J., Tuesday night, will meet Garfield tonight at 6 o'clock in West New York.

If Belleville continues its winning streak tonight, the squad will play in the sectional championship game this Saturday. After the sectional championship, the state championship will be at stake in a game set for sometime next week in Glassboro, N. J.

The state winner will compete for the Eastern U. S. Championship in Connecticut and the winner of this meeting will journey to Williamsport, Va., and the playoffs.

Belleville won the Eighth Little League District Championship by defeating Livingston last Thursday, 4-3, on the Nutley Little League field. Before the Belleville nine knocked off Livingston in the district finals, victories were scored over Nutley on July 25, Newark on July 23 and Kearny on July 21.

ROGER CROWELL
Mike Marotti, manager of the Belleville club, has credited young Roger Crowell with providing the spark behind the team's success. "Roger has been playing in the Little League since he was eight years old," Marotti notes. "He's a terrific ball player."

Crowell, for example, has batted 10 times in the Little League tournament games and has collected five hits for an even .500 average. He scored three times himself and batted in five runs.

PITCHER TOO
And then Crowell, who pitches in addition to playing shortstop, won two games. He held the Nutley team to two runs and four hits but far more impressive was his performance on the mound against Kearny when he threw a no-run, no-hit game. He has also stolen two bases in tournament play.

Other big batsmen for Belleville are Steve Cerca with .375, Frank Mazur with .273 and Tony Magistro with .250.

Here's a run down of the games played to date:

LIVINGSTON
Sal Taibi started on the mound for Belleville and went four innings against Livingston on the Nutley Little League field to earn credit for the win. Relieving Taibi was James Dunn.

Belleville took an early lead scoring all its runs in the second frame. Livingston rallied three runs in the fourth before being stopped by Belleville.

Ray Fratella homered for Belleville but in this area the losers collected the honors with grandstands hit by Bill Casciano and Bob Sutton. Mike Skylarz was the losing pitcher.

NUTLEY
Belleville downed the Nutley All-Stars July 25 on the Livingston Congressional Field, 9-2. Crowell went all the way for the Belleville victory. Mike Ihde was the losing pitcher.

Belleville scored in every inning except the third and held Nutley to two runs on four hits. Steve Cerca won batting honors for the day collecting three hits at four times at bat including a home run. Cerca also teamed up with Crowell. Ronnie Magistro and Ronnie Tomaszewski in the stolen-base club.

NEWARK
The Belleville-Newark game was one of the most exciting and colorful of the tournament to date. Neither team scored until the final inning.

Belleville scored four times in the top of the final frame and a Newark rally in the bottom of the inning raised hopes for an upset. Newark however was held to a single run.

Ken Trainor was the winning pitcher for the game played July 23 at the Belleville Municipal Stadium. Ted Yurek got credit for the loss. Stolen bases were netted by Ralph Basile of New-

Kiernan Raps Mayor's Stand On HS Issue; Seeks Referendum

Commissioner George F. Kiernan has issued a press release criticizing the board of education for assuming that "the action of merely one commissioner even though he may be the chairman of our board, is a commitment that involves the whole five-man board."

Kiernan is referring to Mayor Isadore Padula's promise that the

Rescue Boy After Fall Over Dam

Four-year-old George S. Lukowiak Jr., of 631 Mill Street had a close call Saturday when he was swept over a 25-foot high dam in Branch Brook Park and was carried 700 feet downstream in the rain-swollen Second River before he was rescued by Lt. Herbert Koelsch of the Essex County Police Department.

The youngster suffered only minor cuts and bruises for his unexpected journey down the river.

Lt. Koelsch was notified by an unidentified man who reported a boy swept over the dam. The officer saw young George as he grabbed a tree in the river.

The lieutenant threw a life preserver and with the help of other men pulled the boy to safety.

The youngster said he fell into the river and over the dam while trying to retrieve a ball floating by the dam.

ABC Closes Casino 25 Days for Violation

The Franklin Casino, 338 Franklin Avenue, has been closed 25 days by the State Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control for having "on their licensed premises alcoholic beverages in bottles bearing labels which did not truly describe their contents."

William Howe Davis, director of the ABC, reports the period of suspension ends at 2 a.m. Thursday, August 18.

Davis noted that the defendants, Guido Maxtraxia and Casper Maxtraxia, have no prior adjudicated record.

The director described that "on June 16, 1960, an ABC agent tested defendants' open stock of liquor and seized a number of bottles for further tests by the division chemist." Davis reported that "subsequent analysis by the chemist disclosed that the contents of five of said bottles varied substantially in solids and acids for the contents of genuine bottles of the labeled brands."

board of commissioners will go along with the school board in the plan for a new high school. However, the commitment binds the voters' approving a referendum on the question.

Kiernan has also announced he intends to introduce a resolution calling for the inclusion of a high school site question on next November 8's election ballot. Kiernan plans to introduce the resolution at next Tuesday night's regular commission meeting.

The commissioner reports the resolution he will introduce will be patterned after the one adopted by the commission in 1958 in which the public was asked to decide whether the town should deed over a portion of the stadium site for school purposes.

CONFLICT
Kiernan's decision to introduce the resolution is generally regarded as a departure to informal agreements made last month at a joint school board-commission meeting when May-

Calabro Says Town Playing Politics on HS

Salvatore Calabro, president of the Citizen's Tax Council told the Belleville Commissioners last Tuesday that "from my personal knowledge of the commissioners, I don't believe they actually favor a new high school. They merely want to play it safe and shift the responsibility for the decision."

The tax council said the commissioners are playing "practical politics." He said that if "the school wins approval, the commissioners can say they were in favor of better education. They might be able to shift maintenance costs of the stadium to the school board—a distinct advantage at budget time."

Continuing, Calabro said that if the school loses, then they (the commissioners) can say it was the will of the people. They absolve themselves of responsibility in either case."

Hire School Consultant

The Belleville Board of Education has hired Dr. Felix J. McCormick of 5 Tuxedo Road, Glen Day to aid in the development of the proposed 1,000-pupil high school. Dr. McCormick is a consultant with the Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia University. His contract will be for the duration of Belleville's school building program at a rate of $4,000 for each million dollars of school construction.

Padula Sees Good Chance Of Approval for New HS

Mayor Isadore Padula believes that "if the school board applies proper public relations techniques, the proposed new high school should have no difficulty in getting ample public support."

Padula, referring to Kiernan's comments on the joint commission-board of education meeting which appear in today's Belleville Times, commented that "I hadn't intended to represent anyone's views at that meeting except my own."

The mayor added that he felt it "premature" to make a statement about Kiernan's referendum proposal "when the board hasn't even specifically asked us in writing for part of the stadium tract."

Local Scouts Are Traders At Jamboree

(John Costenbader of 52 Fairway Avenue attended the Golden Jubilee Boy Scout Jamboree which concluded July 28 at Colorado Springs. He had been designated to report the activities of local scouts for The Belleville Times. We were getting worried after he failed to send an article for last Thursday's paper but his release this week explained everything with this note: "The reason I didn't write last week is because I've been in Fort Carson Hospital with a case of pneumonia-Jack." He must be getting better for his report which follows was written with strong penmanship-Editor.)

BY JOHN COSTENBADER

Activity is everywhere you look at the National Boy Scout Jamboree—the fifth annual encampment—which is concluding here in Colorado Springs, Colorado today (July 28).

According to the fellows from Belleville, one of the greatest pastimes here is swapping articles with scouts from other parts of the United States and from other nations.

David Jenkins, for example, received a bull horn in a trade with a scout from California. David lives at 18 Preston Street in Belleville.

Another Belleville scout, Frank DeBonis of 330 Little Street, is on his way home with a pine cone from a giant Redwood tree. This relic was also obtained in a trade with a California scout.

Jim Arvidson of 178 Floyd Street may be drinking tea when he gets back to New Jersey. His trading efforts netted an English Scout Belt after negotiations with a British Boy Scout.

The Belleville scouts, however, like the other 56,000 boys here,

The contest was held at the Sherman Hotel, July 11 and contestants represented all sections of the United States, and competed in three categories.

Sight-reading counted 10 per cent of the total score; "Own Choice" selection counted 40 per cent and the test piece, 50 per cent. The test piece, specially composed for the forthcoming World Contest, was distributed to the contestants only recently. It was such a close contest that the three judges requested a replay of the test piece by the top

Arraignment Next Week

Three Youths Bomb Belleville Home

Two South Orange youths and a third from Newark will be arraigned before Magistrate Edward A. Abramson here next Thursday morning on charges of heaving an Army surplus concussion bomb onto the front porch of 66 William Street as an aftermath of a dispute in the neighborhood July 23.

Bail has been set at $2,500 for each of three suspects. Leggie W. Yates, 19, of 138 Roland Avenue, South Orange; Orlando H. Bailey, 20, of 67 3rd Street, South Orange, and Willy Arthur Thomas, 23, of 118 Miller Street, Newark.

Detectives disclosed that the Newark office of the FBI was notified after Yates told them he purchased three bombs in San Francisco's Chinatown in March and carried them cross-country on a commercial airliner in a suitcase.

Detective Nicholas J. Mariano said one of the other bombs was exploded in the Lackawanna Station, South Orange, without damage in April. Yates told him the third one was detonated "by a friend" in a cornfield in Culpeper Va.

Detectives who arrested the three said Yates threw a bomb at the front door of the home of Joelle Swin, 19, of 66 William Street, Sunday, following a collision in which Bailey's car was damaged Saturday night. No one was injured.

BREAKS WINDOWS
The explosion caused 14 windows in the Swin house to blow out. The detectives said Yates was enlisted to bomb Swin's house by a 13-year-old Belleville boy who was feuding with Swin.

The trio switched to Bailey's parked car in Mill Street between Washington and Union Avenues and fled to East Orange, where they split up, Mariano said.

The detectives said they first questioned neighborhood youngsters about the bombing and this led to the arrests. Detectives also said they discovered Bailey's car window was smashed and he was struck on the head with a car jack apparently in battle in William Street, Saturday.

The nature of the grudge dispute between the 13-year-old and Swin was not made known.

The detectives said Yates is known as the "Bomber," and claimed he exploded one of the bombs under a bridge in South Orange Avenue, South Orange on April 22. He said he gave the third bomb to a friend whom police plan to question.

Lengthy Statement Seems To Add More Confusion In Dispute With Board

(Complete Text of Tax Council Statement Follows This Article)
Irritated by an article in last week's Belleville Times, the Citizen's Tax Council has issued a confusing "official release" which fails to answer the controversial questions concerning its spokesman's recent charges before the board of education.

The release is confusing for two specific reasons: first, it does not clearly state whether or not its spokesman, Lee Garcon, was representing the tax council or merely presenting his own personal views when he charged the school board with corruptive practices at the July 25 meeting.

Second, the release is confusing because it fails to provide a concrete answer to the question of whether or not Garcon's charges are supported by solid facts or merely rumors.

Garcon admitted under questioning that the charges were based on "reports from numerous organizations and people" adding that "when you hear the same thing from 100 different people, you begin to wonder."

Garcon had charged the board with corruption including political payoffs and discrepancies in the music department. He said two employees were getting raises "tantamount to political payoffs for work in the last election." Garcon also charged the director of music with using school instruments and time to give private lessons to children at a $2.00 an hour fee.

WHOSE VIEWS?
Christie Albanese, who prepared the "official release" with Jack Daniels for the Citizen's Tax Council, told this newspaper earlier this week that the release would refute Garcon's charges as representing the view of the tax council.

But despite the length of the "official release," the question of whose views Garcon was presenting, his own or the tax council, remains unanswered.

Shop in August For Those Furs

If you've been thinking of buying a fur coat, jacket, scarf or stole, August is a good month to do it. Reading the newspaper advertisements and shopping in a number of stores will give you a good idea of comparative values.

Mrs. Florence G. Minifie, extension clothing specialist of Rutgers University, believes that before you even start shopping for a fur you should decide how much money you will spend. Also decide on what you expect from the fur—warmth, serviceability or luxurious beauty.

The type of wear you expect to give the fur should guide your choice, Mrs. Minifie points out. The delicate, short-haired furs are not advisable for a coat you wear continually. Nor are they so warm as long-haired furs.

Longer haired furs give better wear and nowadays are worked into all styles.

Always remember that fur should be flattering and proportioned to your body structure. A tall, slender person can carry a bulkier, long-haired fur, while a short person looks more attractive in shorter-haired furs.

Jackets or coats should fit closely but be comfortable, with weight hanging from the shoulder rather than the neckline. Always check areas around shoulders and arms for any strain that may cause seams to rip or tear.

The fur itself should be lustrous and its color uniform all the way to the skin with no matted or scarred areas, the New Jersey State University specialist says.

Joining of pelts in the garment should be scarcely noticeable. Linings should be sturdy, smooth, resistant to friction and strong enough to carry the weight of the coat.

Poor Judgment

On the word of Commissioner Harry Sullivan we have it that the Board of Education has requested the Commissioners to withhold the contemplated new high school site referendum from the November 8th General Election ballot. The alleged reason for the request is a fear that the referendum would lose if presented to a record number of voters which everyone expects will be the case in November since this is a Presidential Election year. The decision, if true, is not only an exercise of bad judgment—but worse—an affront to our people.

It is difficult to believe the Board of Education would deliberately deny thousands of our citizens the opportunity to cast their votes on a new high school site referendum. The fact that the November Election will draw a record number of voters to the polls is a compelling reason for our public officials to see that the question gets on the ballot.

Whatever the pros and cons are regarding the erection of a new school the fact remains that our taxpayers must pay the bill. The further fact remains that the proponents of a new school vigorously assert that a new school will benefit our children. Of this we have no doubt. The only question remaining is will the increased benefits derived from the construction of a two and a half million dollar school warrant the initial expenditure and the annual increased maintenance costs?

These are questions which should be debated and resolved in order that our citizens be sufficiently informed before they cast their votes come November 8th. Under no circumstances should the commission lend itself to any effort which would deny our citizens the opportunity of voting on the new school site referendum in this Presidential year.

Commissioner George Kiernan plans to introduce at the August 9th Commission meeting a resolution calling for inclusion of the high school site question on the November 8th general election ballot. We congratulate Commissioner Kiernan for taking the initiative in this effort and we hope his efforts are successful. If Commissioner Kiernan's resolution loses—so will the people of Belleville lose.

Those Race Tracks Again

It seems where the almighty dollar is concerned some people never give up. Take, for example, the groups that have been trying for years to saddle North Jersey with a race track.

The Secaucus meadows is the choice site for those who see a race track in North Jersey as a get-rich-quick scheme. If we ever see the day—or night—when horse racing is permitted in this area, there is no doubt that the promoters of the enterprise will find enough suckers around to permit the plotters to get rich quickly. In every area where there is an existing race track, we are told by local merchants, including bankers, such an activity drains off much of the purchasing power of the communities affected. Bankers tell us that, during the racing season, people become delinquent in their scheduled payments, including payments on home mortgages.

For every person who makes a "killing" at the races, there are thousands who go into hock, trying to make that big win and with the proceeds pay long overdue installments. It is our judgment that race track will adversely affect the residents and businessmen of our area.

We are happy to note that Democratic Senator Donal Fox of Essex is unalterably opposed to the location of a race track in North Jersey. The New Jersey Senate is Republican, 11-10. The state law permits four harness race tracks. There is only one at the present time—and that one is located in Freehold.

We believe with Senator Fox that the state law should be amended, reducing the permissive tracks from four to one, thus limiting harness racing to the Freehold track.

If the Republican Senators were less concerned with their personal efforts to secure the Republican Gubernatorial nomination in '61, and concerned themselves more with affairs of the state, perhaps the Fox amendment could be adopted at the Sept. 12 session of the Legislature, thereby eliminating the continuing threat to the economic security of our citizens, always present wherever there is a race track.

Driving and Old Age

Apparently the Democratic Administration in Trenton is determined to eliminate one of the last joys and privileges of our young 60-year-old citizens. Any driver 60 years of age or older involved in an accident, whether or not it is caused by him, is obligated to subject himself to a rigorous examination.

We can see valid reasons for such a rule if it were applicable when a more-than-60-year-old driver caused an accident. But for the life of us we are unable to understand the arbitrariness of a bureaucratic government which imposes its arrogant will upon those of our elder citizens whose only crime may be driving a car hit by one of our crop of teen-age driving maniacs.

Common sense should require an immediate revision of this unfair and discriminatory rule.

Elks Expresses Thanks

To the Editor:

At the recent 4th of July celebration, held at the Belleville Municipal Stadium, the Belleville Elks were given permission to canvass the stands. All monies received went to our crippled children's fund to help us help the children of Belleville. The results were most heart warming. As a result of this collection, four crippled children are enjoying a few weeks at a summer camp and the balance of the collection will be used for therapy treatments, shoes, braces, etc.

Speaking on behalf of the Belleville Elks, I would like to express our sincere thanks to Commissioner Kiernan and the people of Belleville who so unselfishly supported our collection.

We are proud of our town and the people who live in it.

Anti New School

To the Editor:

Well, Mrs. Rochau is at the head of the School-Board again, and so is her brainstorm, a new Belleville High School, which we need as much as a mouse in our bread-box. How arrogant can you get, this high school project was twice decisively defeated by Belleville taxpayers, and thrown out of the front and rear door. Now this 8th dictator of a miserable commission form of government, brings it up again, makes plans for to spend millions, without even asking the taxpayer who has to foot the bill. Mrs. Rochau faded out once before on her record, and I have no doubt that her last and final farewell is not far away. I hope however that before that Belleville will have changed its form of government from a one that appeals to morons only, to a sensible Council-Manager form. Every intelligent thinking citizen should give every help to the Tax-Council to make this change possible, because its the only way to help Belleville from being sold down the river by irresponsible spendthrifts. Since 3000 signatures are needed, homeowners should not wait for a canvasser, but spend a little time to sign up at Councils headquarters, 569 Washington Avenue, because the time factor is all important. In the meantime, it is sad but true the only weapon the hard-pressed taxpayer has, is "NO COOPERATION" with the commission clique. The High-School must be decisively voted down, because its not needed and taxes must be prevented from going up, and the time is NOW

The taxpayers must help themselves, because there is no leadership in Belleville for we might as well have no mayor, for the last 5 years have been the most disastrous ones. Politicians in our days have forgotten their limitations and they claim a phony ability to manage towns, when in reality their qualifications even exclude them from running a Kindergarten. Mr. complacent taxpayer, time is running out fast on you, you will have to wake up and help yourself NOW, throw the commission form and its 6 dictators out, bad things never get better, only worse. Help Belleville and help yourself, and waste no time unless you agree with the motto of your so-called elected servants "Once a sucker, always a sucker." Well Mr. Taxpayer you give the answer and take the consequences.

In This Great Land

To the Editor:
In this great land, we don't want it
In this great land, we don't need it
In this great land, we won't feed it
Who needs it-Communism
It took us many years to build
Many great men died to have it
Let's not use it like a still
Who needs it-Communism
Let's get rid of it
There's no need of it
Let's show them over there that we don't care for it
Let us pray each day
Yes, each and every day
That we all share in the U. S. A.
In this great land we made great plans
Of this great land we're real big fans
In this great land we'll show our stand
Who needs it-Communism.

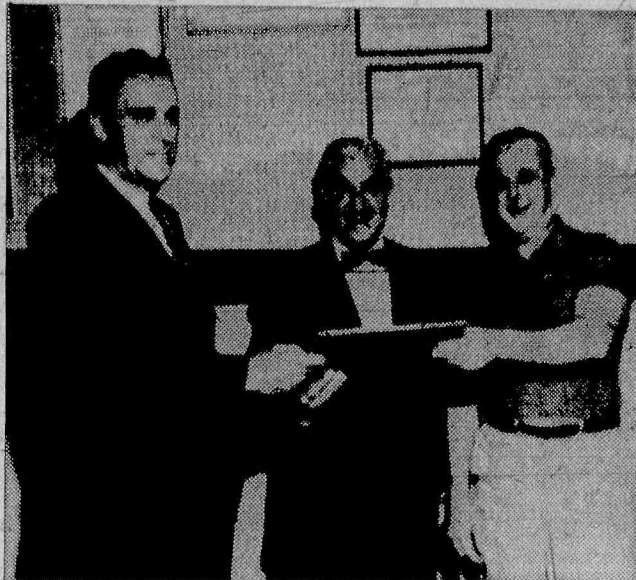

SECOND VERSE
America is the land that's grand
We keep it well in hand
Let's not give it the underhand
Who needs it-Communism
It took the Irish and Polish too
Then, the Dutchmen with a crew
Soon we all came into view
Who needs it-Communism
Let's get rid of it
There's no need for it
Let's show them over there that we don't care for it
Let us pray each day
Yes, each and every day
That we all share in the U. S. A.
In this great land we took great pains
In this great land we made great aims
In this great land we have great brains

Belleville Little League Team Wins District Championship; Hopes To Try For N. J. State Trophy Next Week

Squad is Close To Winning Trip To Williamsport

Belleville's National Little League Team has won the district championship in the U. S. Little League World Series. The team, honored in a parade through the streets of West New York, N. J., Tuesday night, will meet Garfield tonight at 6 o'clock in West New York.

If Belleville continues its winning streak tonight, the squad will play in the sectional championship game this Saturday. After the sectional championship, the state championship will be at stake in a game set for sometime next week in Glassboro, N. J.

The state winner will compete for the Eastern U. S. Championship in Connecticut and the winner of this meeting will journey to Williamsport, Va., and the playoffs.

Belleville won the Eighth Little League District Championship by defeating Livingston last Thursday, 4-3, on the Nutley Little League field. Before the Belleville nine knocked off Livingston in the district finals, victories were scored over Nutley on July 25, Newark on July 23 and Kearny on July 21.

ROGER CROWELL
Mike Marotti, manager of the Belleville club, has credited young Roger Crowell with providing the spark behind the team's success. "Roger has been playing in the Little League since he was eight years old," Marotti notes. "He's a terrific ball player."

Crowell, for example, has batted 10 times in the Little League tournament games and has collected five hits for an even .500 average. He scored three times himself and batted in five runs.

PITCHER TOO
And then Crowell, who pitches in addition to playing shortstop, won two games. He held the Nutley team to two runs and four hits but far more impressive was his performance on the mound against Kearny when he threw a no-run, no-hit game. He has also stolen two bases in tournament play.

Other big batsmen for Belleville are Steve Cerca with .375, Frank Mazur with .273 and Tony Magistro with .250.

Here's a run down of the games played to date:

LIVINGSTON
Sal Taibi started on the mound for Belleville and went four innings against Livingston on the Nutley Little League field to earn credit for the win. Relieving Taibi was James Dunn.

Belleville took an early lead scoring all its runs in the second frame. Livingston rallied three runs in the fourth before being stopped by Belleville.

Ray Fratella homered for Belleville but in this area the losers collected the honors with grand slams hit by Bill Casciano and Bob Sutton. Mike Skylarz was the losing pitcher.

NUTLEY
Belleville downed the Nutley All-Stars July 25 on the Livingston Congressional Field, 9-2. Crowell went all the way for the Belleville victory. Mike Ihde was the losing pitcher.

Belleville scored in every inning except the third and held Nutley to two runs on four hits. Steve Cerca won batting honors for the day collecting three hits at four times at bat including a home run. Cerca also teamed up with Crowell, Ronnie Magistro and Ronnie Tomaszewski in the stolen-base club.

NEWARK
The Belleville-Newark game was one of the most exciting and colorful of the tournament to date. Neither team scored until the final inning.

Belleville scored four times in the top of the final frame and a Newark rally in the bottom of the inning raised hopes for an upset. Newark however was held to a single run.

Ken Trainor was the winning pitcher for the game played July 23 at the Belleville Municipal Stadium. Ted Yurek got credit for the loss. Stolen bases were netted by Ralph Basile of New-

Kiernan Raps Mayor's Stand On HS Issue; Seeks Referendum

Commissioner George F. Kiernan has issued a press release criticizing the board of education for assuming that "the action of merely one commissioner even though he may be the chairman of our board, is a commitment that involves the whole five-man board."

Kiernan is referring to Mayor Isadore Padula's promise that the

Rescue Boy After Fall Over Dam

Four-year-old George S. Lukowiak Jr., of 631 Mill Street had a close call Saturday when he was swept over a 25-foot high dam in Branch Brook Park and was carried 700 feet downstream in the rain-swollen Second River before he was rescued by Lt. Herbert Koelsch of the Essex County Police Department.

The youngster suffered only minor cuts and bruises for his unexpected journey down the river.

Lt. Koelsch was notified by an unidentified man who reported a boy swept over the dam. The officer saw young George as he grabbed a tree in the river.

The lieutenant threw a life preserver and with the help of other men pulled the boy to safety.

The youngster said he fell into the river and over the dam while trying to retrieve a ball floating by the dam.

ABC Closes Casino 25 Days for Violation

The Franklin Casino, 338 Franklin Avenue, has been closed 25 days by the State Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control for having "on their licensed premises alcoholic beverages in bottles bearing labels which did not truly describe their contents."

William Howe Davis, director of the ABC, reports the period of suspension ends at 2 a.m. Thursday, August 18.

Davis noted that the defendants, Guido Maxtraxia and Casper Maxtraxia, have no prior adjudicated record.

The director described that "on June 16, 1960, an ABC agent tested defendants' open stock of liquor and seized a number of bottles for further tests by the division chemist." Davis reported that "subsequent analysis by the chemist disclosed that the contents of five of said bottles varied substantially in solids and acids for the contents of genuine bottles of the labeled brands."

board of commissioners will go along with the school board in the plan for a new high school. However, the commitment binds the voters' approving a referendum on the question.

Kiernan has also announced he intends to introduce a resolution calling for the inclusion of a high school site question on next November 8's election ballot. Kiernan plans to introduce the resolution at next Tuesday night's regular commission meeting.

The commissioner reports the resolution he will introduce will be patterned after the one adopted by the commission in 1958 in which the public was asked to decide whether the town should decide over a portion of the stadium site for school purposes.

CONFLICT

Kiernan's decision to introduce the resolution is generally regarded as a departure to informal agreements made last month at a joint school board-commission meeting when May-

Calabro Says Town Playing Politics on HS

Salvatore Calabro, president of the Citizen's Tax Council told the Belleville Commissioners last Tuesday that "from my personal knowledge of the commissioners, I don't believe they actually favor a new high school. They merely want to play it safe and shift the responsibility for the decision."

The tax council said the commissioners are playing "practical politics." He said that if "the school wins approval, the commissioners can say they were in favor of better education. They might be able to shift maintenance costs of the stadium to the school board—a distinct advantage at budget time."

Continuing, Calabro said that if the school loses, then they (the commissioners) can say it was the will of the people. They absolve themselves of responsibility in either case.

Hire School Consultant

The Belleville Board of Education has hired Dr. Felix J. McCormick of 5 Tuxedo Road, Glen Ridge, to aid in the development of the proposed 1,000-pupil high school. Dr. McCormick is a consultant with the Institute of Field Studies, Teachers College, Columbia University. His contract will be for the duration of Belleville's school building program at a rate of $4,000 for each million dollars of school construction.

Padula Sees Good Chance Of Approval For New HS

Mayor Isadore Padula believes that "if the school board applies proper public relations techniques, the proposed new high school should have no difficulty in getting ample public support."

Padula, referring to Kiernan's comments on the joint commission-board of education meeting which appear in today's Belleville Times, commented that "I hadn't intended to represent anyone's views at that meeting except my own."

The mayor added that he felt it "premature" to make a statement about Kiernan's referendum proposal "when the board hasn't even specifically asked us in writing for part of the stadium tract."

Arraignment Next Week

Three Youths Bomb Belleville Home

Two South Orange youths and a third from Newark will be arraigned before Magistrate Edward A. Abramson here next Thursday morning on charges of heaving an Army surplus concussion bomb onto the front porch of 86 William Street as an aftermath of a dispute in the neighborhood July 23.

Bail has been set at $2,500 for each of three suspects. Leggie W. Yates, 19, of 138 Roland Avenue, South Orange; Orlando H. Bailey, 20, of 67 3rd Street, South Orange, and Willy Arthur Thomas, 23, of 118 Miller Street, Newark.

Detectives disclosed that the Newark office of the FBI was notified after Yates told them he purchased three bombs in San Francisco's Chinatown in March and carried them cross-country on a commercial airliner in a

Lengthy Statement Seems To Add More Confusion In Dispute With Board

(Complete Text of Tax Council Statement Follows this Article) Irritated by an article in last week's Belleville Times, the Citizen's Tax Council has issued a confusing "official release" which fails to answer the contro-versal questions concerning its spokesman's recent charges before the board of education.

The release is confusing for two specific reasons: first, it does not clearly state whether or not its spokesman, Lee Garcon, was representing the tax council or merely presenting his own personal views when he charged the school board with corruptive practices at the July 25 meeting.

Second, the release is confusing because it fails to provide a concrete answer to the question of whether or not Garcon's charges are supported by solid facts or merely rumors.

Garcon admitted under questioning that the charges were based on "reports from numerous organizations and people" adding that "when you hear the same thing from 100 different people, you begin to wonder."

Garcon had charged the board with corruption including political payoffs and discrepancies in the music department. He said two employees were getting raises "tantamount to political payoffs for work in the last election." Garcon also charged the director of music with using school instruments and time to give private lessons to children at a $2.00 an hour fee.

WHOSE VIEWS?

Christie Albanese, who prepared the "official release" with Jack Daniels for the Citizen's Tax Council, told this newspaper earlier this week that the release would refute Garcon's charges as representing the view of the tax council.

But despite the length of the "official release," the question of whose views Garcon was presenting, his own or the tax council—

Year's Scholar Will Get $500

The Belleville Foundation Scholarship Fund Committee announces a second annual $500 grant will be awarded to a "Belleville Foundation Scholar of the Year."

Only students who have completed freshman, sophomore or junior years and who have been approved as satisfying the requirements of the scholarship fund committee are eligible to compete for the award.

Paul de Hagara, chairman, again has appointed Hugh Kittle, principal of Belleville High School, as chairman of the award committee. Eligible students who are interested in competing for this award should send transcripts of their college records to Kittle at the high school by October 1.

The winner will be chosen at the discretion of the scholarship fund committee.

The foundation offers the award to encourage the best possible academic performance by Belleville college students and as a reward to the outstanding student in this group who is known as "The Belleville Foundation Scholar of the Year."

Race Track Will Honor Us Aug. 12

Monticello Raceway will salute the town of Belleville August 12 by naming a race in the community's honor.

More than 100 residents of Belleville are slated to make the journey upstate to view the racing program.

Mayor Isadore J. Padula will make the presentation to the winning driver of the race named for Belleville. Also expected to attend are Thomas C. D'Avella, town attorney, and Commissioners George F. Kiernan and Nuncio R. Pico.

Reservations can be made through Ralph M. Risoli at the town hall. The $4.00 fee includes admission, a box seat and dinner at the Ichabod Crane Room.

The trio switched to Bailey's parked car in Mill Street between Washington and Union Avenues and fled to East Orange, where they split up, Mariano said.

The detectives said they first questioned neighborhood youngsters about the bombing and this led to the arrests. Detectives also said they discovered Bailey's car window was smashed and he was struck on the head with a car jack apparently in battle in William Street, Saturday.

The nature of the grudge dispute between the 13-year-old and Swin was not made known.

The detectives said Yates is known as the "Bomber," and claimed he exploded one of the bombs under a bridge in South Orange Avenue, South Orange on April 22. He said he gave the third bomb to a friend whom police plan to question.

Shop in August For Those Furs

If you've been thinking of buying a fur coat, jacket, scarf or stole, August is a good month to do it. Reading the newspaper advertisements and shopping in a number of stores will give you a good idea of comparative values.

Mrs. Florence G. Minifie, extension clothing specialist of Rutgers University, believes that before you even start shopping for a fur you should decide how much money you will spend. Also decide on what you expect from the fur—warmth, serviceability or luxurious beauty.

The type of wear you expect to give the fur should guide your choice, Mrs. Minifie points out. The delicate, short-haired furs are not advisable for a coat you wear continually. Nor are they so warm as long-haired furs.

Longer haired furs give better wear and nowadays are worked into all styles.

Always remember that fur should be flattering and proportioned to your body structure. A tall, slender person can carry a bulkier, long-haired fur, while a short person looks more attractive in shorter-haired furs.

Jackets or coats should fit closely but be comfortable, with weight hanging from the shoulder rather than the neckline. Always check areas around shoulders and arms for any strain that may cause seams to rip or tear.

The fur itself should be lustrous and its color uniform all the way to the skin with no matted or scarred areas, the New Jersey State University specialist says.

Joining of pelts in the garment should be scarcely noticeable. Linings should be sturdy, smooth, resistant to friction and strong enough to carry the weight of the coat.

Poor Judgment

On the word of Commissioner Harry Sullivan we have it that the Board of Education has requested the Commissioners to withhold the contemplated new high school site referendum from the November 8th General Election ballot. The alleged reason for the request is a fear that the referendum would lose if presented to a record number of voters which everyone expects will be the case in November since this is a Presidential Election year. The decision, if true, is not only an exercise of bad judgment—but worse—an affront to our people.

It is difficult to believe the Board of Education would deliberately deny thousands of our citizens the opportunity to cast their votes on a new high school site referendum. The fact that the November Election will draw a record number of voters to the polls is a compelling reason for our public officials to see that the question gets on the ballot.

Whatever the pros and cons are regarding the erection of a new school the fact remains that our taxpayers must pay the bill. The further fact remains that the proponents of a new school vigorously assert that a new school will benefit our children. Of this we have no doubt. The only question remaining is will the increased benefits derived from the construction of a two and a half million dollar school warrant the initial expenditure and the annual increased maintenance costs?

These are questions which should be debated and resolved in order that our citizens be sufficiently informed before they cast their votes come November 8th. Under no circumstances should the commission lend itself to any effort which would deny our citizens the opportunity of voting on the new school site referendum in this Presidential year.

Commissioner George Kiernan plans to introduce at the August 9th Commission meeting a resolution calling for inclusion of the high school site question on the November 8th general election ballot. We congratulate Commissioner Kiernan for taking the initiative in this effort and we hope his efforts are successful. If Commissioner Kiernan's resolution loses—so will the people of Belleville lose.

Those Race Tracks Again

It seems where the almighty dollar is concerned some people never give up. Take, for example, the groups that have been trying for years to saddle North Jersey with a race track.

The Secaucus meadows is the choice site for those who see a race track in North Jersey as a get-rich-quick scheme. If we ever see the day—or night—when horse racing is permitted in this area, there is no doubt that the promoters of the enterprise will find enough suckers around to permit the plotters to get rich quickly. In every area where there is an existing race track, we are told by local merchants, including bankers, such an activity drains off much of the purchasing power of the communities affected. Bankers tell us that, during the racing season, people become delinquent in their scheduled payments, including payments on home mortgages.

For every person who makes a "killing" at the races, there are thousands who go into hock, trying to make that big win and with the proceeds pay long overdue installments. It is our judgment that race track will adversely affect the residents and businessmen of our area.

We are happy to note that Democratic Senator Donal Fox of Essex is unalterably opposed to the location of a race track in North Jersey. The New Jersey Senate is Republican, 11-10. The state law permits four harness race tracks. There is only one at the present time—and that one is located in Freehold.

We believe with Senator Fox that the state law should be amended, reducing the permissive tracks from four to one, thus limiting harness racing to the Freehold track.

If the Republican Senators were less concerned with their personal efforts to secure the Republican Gubernatorial nomination in '61, and concerned themselves more with affairs of the state, perhaps the Fox amendment could be adopted at the Sept. 12 session of the Legislature, thereby eliminating the continuing threat to the economic security of our citizens, always present wherever there is a race track.

Driving and Old Age

Apparently the Democratic Administration in Trenton is determined to eliminate one of the last joys and privileges of our young 60-year-old citizens. Any driver 60 years of age or older involved in an accident, whether or not it is caused by him, is obligated to subject himself to a rigorous examination.

We can see valid reasons for such a rule if it were applicable when a more-than-60-year-old driver caused an accident. But for the life of us we are unable to understand the arbitrariness of a bureaucratic government which imposes its arrogant will upon those of our elder citizens whose only crime may be driving a car hit by one of our crop of teen-age driving maniacs.

Common sense should require an immediate revision of this unfair and discriminatory rule.

Elks Expresses Thanks

To the Editor:

At the recent 4th of July celebration, held at the Belleville Municipal Stadium, the Belleville Elks were given permission to canvass the stands. All monies received went to our crippled children's fund to help us help the children of Belleville. The results were most heart warming. As a result of this collection, four crippled children are enjoying a few weeks at a summer camp and the balance of the collection will be used for therapy treatments, shoes, braces, etc.

Speaking on behalf of the Belleville Elks, I would like to express our sincere thanks to Commissioner Kiernan and the people of Belleville, who so unselfishly supported our collection.

We are proud of our town and the people who live in it.

Anti New School

To the Editor:

Well, Mrs. Rochau is at the head of the School-Board again, and so is her brainstorm, a new Belleville High School, which we need as much as a mouse in our bread-box. How arrogant can you get, this high school project was twice decisively defeated by Belleville taxpayers, and thrown out of the front and rear door. Now this 6th dictator of a miserable commission form of government, brings it up again, makes plans for to spend millions, without even asking the taxpayer who has to foot the bill. Mrs. Rochau faded out once before on her record, and I have no doubt that her last and final farewell is not far away. I hope however that before that Belleville will have changed its form of government from a one that appeals to morons only, to a sensible Council-Manager form. Every intelligent thinking citizen should give every help to the Tax-Council to make this change possible, because it's the only way to help Belleville from being sold down the river by irresponsible spendthrifts. Since 3000 signatures are needed, homeowners should not wait for a canvasser, but spend a little time to sign up at Councils headquarters, 569 Washington Avenue, because the time factor is all important. In the meantime, it is sad but true the only weapon the hard-pressed taxpayer has, is "NO COOPERATION" with the commission clique. The High School must be decisively voted down, because its not needed and taxes must be prevented from going up, and the time is NOW

The taxpayers must help themselves, because there is no leadership in Belleville for we might as well have no mayor, for the last 5 years have been the most disastrous ones. Politicians in our days have forgotten their limitations and they claim a phony ability to manage towns, when in reality their qualifications even exclude them from running a Kindergarten. Mr. complacent taxpayer, time is running out fast on you, you will have to wake up and help yourself NOW, throw the commission form and its 6 dictators out, bad things never get better, only worse. Help Belleville and help yourself, and waste no time unless you agree with the motto of your so-called elected servants "Once a sucker, always a sucker." Well Mr. Taxpayer you give the answer and take the consequences.

In This Great Land

To the Editor:

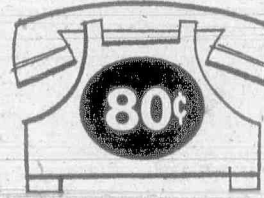

In this great land, we don't want it
In this great land, we don't need it
In this great land, we won't feed it

Who needs it—Communism
It took us many years to build
Many great men died to have it willed
Let's not use it like a still
Who needs it—Communism
Let's get rid of it
There's no need of it
Let's show them over there that we don't care for it
Let us pray each day
Yes, each and every day
That we all share in the U. S. A.
In this great land we made great plans
Of this great land we're real big fans
In this great land we'll show our stand
Who needs it—Communism.

SECOND VERSE
America is the land that's grand
We keep it well in hand
Let's not give it the underhand
Who needs it—Communism
It took the Irish and Polish too
Then, the Dutchmen with a crew
Soon we all came into view
Who needs it—Communism
Let's get rid of it
There's no need for it
Let's show them over there that we don't care for it
Let us pray each day
Yes, each and every day
That we all share in the U. S. A.
In this great land we took great pains
In this great land we made great aims
In this great land we have great brains

GRANT ON FIRST

Ulysses S. Grant was nominated on the first ballot in 1872, receiving every vote at that Republican convention.

When you are eight years old, it is not difficult to transform yourself suddenly into an Indian scout and to see a procession of chiefs, with their brightly colored feathered headdresses, galloping across the horizon astride magnificent stallions.

Children are fired with imagination, just as they are filled with faith. The faith of a child is something so simple and so beautiful that many an adult, viewing it, finds himself crying a little, deep down inside, for his own lost childhood and the touching innocence that was once his.

Yet before God, all men are children. His children, and Faith is there to be accepted, if men will but take it as a gift. The Church has the answer, showing you how to live like a man, while still possessing the heart of a child — helping you to get the very most out of life. If you haven't been to church lately, why not go this Sunday?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly, and read your Bible daily.

UNRIPE TOMATOES

When you have tomatoes that are not quite ripe, place them on a shelf away from direct sunlight to ripen. Do not place them in a sunny window. Direct sun actually interferes with normal color development of tomatoes. Temperatures from 60 to 70 degrees are best for ripening.

Stupidity of Drag Racing: What Does It All Prove?

The following article appeared in the "Union Leader," Union, New Jersey, on June 2, 1960 and is published here at the request of Police Chief George Spatz of Belleville.

They shriek down the highway to the pain of tortured rubber and abused horse power. This is a drag race.

It is conceived in stupidity, nurtured with false courage and conclusive of absolutely nothing. It is a hub-to-hub combat which death can, and often does, win.

The problem is Union's chiefly because the township has become a base of operations for drag racers. Actually, relatively few Union youngsters are involved in racing.

Last week, a drag race on Union's Route 22 brought death to one youth and serious injury to another. Why do they do it? What can they hope to prove?

There is no clear cut answer to either question but Professor Gunars Salins, associate professor in sociology and psychology at Union Junior College, and Dr. Robert Allen, director of graduate studies and professor of psychology at Newark State College, shed some interesting light on the problems.

"Contrary to what many believe," Salins says, "these actions are neither courageous nor daring. They are simply a show-off kind of compensation for a lack of recognition in some other area."

"Much of the mainspring for this activity is merely the need for a booster to inflate the ego. The youngsters derive some sort of satisfaction from this competition because they are proving to themselves that they are real men."

"In effect, they are betting on this race to prove their manhood."

The betting in this case is not with money. The stakes are human lives and sensibilities. The victor's pride rests not so much with owning the faster car-but his belief that his pseudo bravery has earned him a recognized place.

This status search, Salins believes, is enhanced for the youngsters by the elaborate preparations involved: the souping up of the car and the actual management of the race.

"A small minority of these kids," explains Dr. Allen, "are actually determined to do themselves physical harm. Their problem is different and requires mental help."

"But for the rest, well, take a look at the way the automobile industry is advertising its products on television today. The emphasis isn't on transportation; it's power and prestige."

"The kids think the possession of this power will enable them to compensate for deficiencies in other areas. I would suspect you'll find very few youngsters among the drag racers who have achieved high school recognition in athletics or some other status field."

"You've got to remember," he added, "that so many of these kids are in this thing for different reasons. But I'd say this, as long as kids see their parents flaunting police authority, they'll be tough to convince."

"There just isn't enough responsibility delegated to these kids. When I was a kid if the cows didn't get milked it was a serious problem. Today about the worst sin a kid can commit is not taking out the garbage."

Both educators firmly adhere to the theory that this is a bid for recognition by these youngsters-and both are quick to observe that the effort is built upon a false structure.

Neither has doubts on the question of blame. As they claim, society is partially responsible and must take constructive action to get their youngsters interested in what Salins calls "non-dangerous recreation."

By the same token, both agree that the youngster must absorb his share of responsibility for this senseless pastime. While Salins and Allen feel something must be done for these youngsters, they also believe something must be done about them.

Drag racing: Conceived in stupidity, nurtured with false courage and conclusive of absolutely nothing.

U.S. Army Offers Wide Choice To New Applicants

Sgt. Granville Marshall, of the Montclair Army Counseling Office, this week stated that the U. S. Army is now guaranteeing the finest enlistment choice in its history to qualified applicants.

Under this plan enlistees can choose the exact career group in which they would like to take training. Called the "CHOOSE IT YOURSELF" vocational training system, the plan offers applicants the opportunity to choose service in an army career group that satisfies their own desires and aptitudes.

For example, if electronics is desired and the applicant has qualified for that kind of training a guarantee of on - the - job training or schooling in the chosen field after completion of basic training is assured. The guarantee is entered in the enlistee's army record before enlistment.

This option is the most unique opportunity that the army has ever offered its volunteers on a three - year enlistment, both male and female, said Sgt. Marshall.

Details of the new plan consist of enlistment options in 10 major occupational areas; 1 Combat, 2. Electronics 3. Electrical Maintenance 4. Precision Maintenance 5. Military Crafts, 6 Motor Maintenance, 7. Clerical, 8. Graphics, 9. General Technical, 10. Special Assignments. Each of these occupational areas consists of a number of career groups from which the applicant may choose.

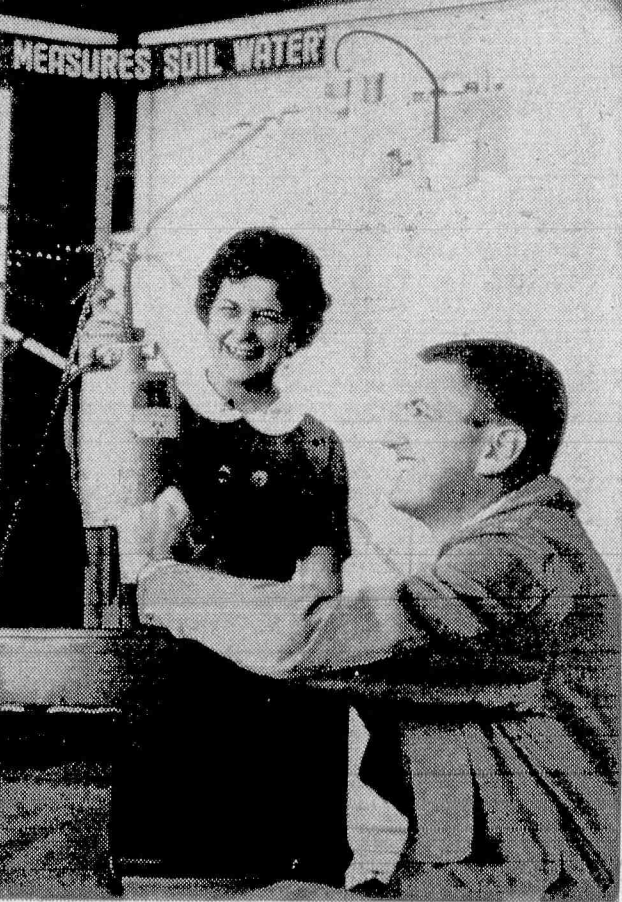

The new regular army's enlistment options far exceed any enlistment options available today.

Pour the hot coffee over ice cubes in tall glasses and pass the cream and finely granulated sugar. You'll have a cool beverage with dark rich color and excellent flavor, even though it has been poured over ice, because this type of coffee is double-roasted and is of good strength.

TOM WORLEY

Scholarship Await Top Performers in CYO Bowl August 17; Worley to Play

The flank of the Essex County line will be well worth watching against rival Hudson County in the second annual College Scholarship Bowl Wednesday night, Aug. 17, at Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium.

That's where Nutley's Tom Worley will be holding forth and, though there will be 43 other outstanding 1959 scholastic football luminaries on the field, Worley's performance alone should be worth the price of admission.

Worley is equally vicious on offense and defense. He's a tremendous receiver and a block-busting tackler. In short, there's little he can't do on the gridiron. He'll be joined at end by Vinnie Finch of Newark South Side, Thurm Davis of East Orange and Richie Giessuebel of Irvington.

A strapping six-foot-one, 185 pounds of talent, fight and muscle, orley is one reason why Essex must be conceded a strong chance of successfully avengeing last year's 12-0 defeat to Hudson, a thriller that was witnessed by a crowd of more than 20,000.

There will be again substantial incentive to make for another bitter battle.

More than 300 college football coaches from all parts of the nation will be in th stands. They were extended personal invitations by Lou Cordileone, the former Clemson All - America guard, now a member of the New York Giants, who is serving as the game's public relations director. Those combatants who haven't as yet made their college plans can be expected to go all - out to impress the men who can get them scholarships. In addition, a $1,000 scholarship will be given to the top player on each side as well as huge trophies to the best line-man and back on each team. The players also will receive handsome jackets at a post-game banquet.

St. Peters Wins Again

St. Peter's nine walloped Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Montclair 20-5 to give the local squad a 5-2 record so far in the season. Larry Talignani fanned a dozen batters while limiting the losers to only six hits. The game marked Talignani's third straight victory.

With so much to shoot for, with so much talent assembled, with the added color to be provided by the snappy Garfield Cadets and cheerleaders from schools in both counties, the bowl event shapes up as one of the mightiest sports spectacles ever staged in New Jersey.

Tickets for the big show are selling rapidly. They may be purchased at various stations in Hudson and Essex Counties.

St. Peter's Only Half-Game Out; Talignani Stars

Larry Talignani made it a race again in the Essex County CYO Intermediate Baseball League.

The double no-hit ace for St. Peter's Belleville recorded his fifth and most important win on Sunday when he beat St. Francis Xavier, Newark, 5-2. It was the first loss in seven outings for the Newarkers and brought St. Peter's to within a half-game of the lead.

Beating Richie Pecora for the first time this season, St. Peter's got to him for three runs in the first inning and when St. Lucy's chipped away to make it 3-2 after the fourth frame, St. Peter's came back with two insurance tallies in the sixth.

Talignani and Richie Mamay led the Petrean attack with double and triple, respectively. St. Peter's collected six hits off Pecora, ile Talignani was holding St. Francis to two blows. St. Peter's will run its record to 7-2 this Sunday when it picks up a forfeit from St. Joseph's Spanish, Newark, the defending from the league.

Playgrounds Are Popular, Kiernan Says in Review

Commissioner George F. Kiernan announces that Belleville playgrounds are appealing to many more youngsters this season than in recent years.

At a pre - opening workshop, the directors were urged to use their ingenuity in offering programs over and above the regularly planned activities, and a tour of the playgrounds demonstrates the fruit of their efforts. By the end of this week, each area will already have had at least one playground party. This usually consists of the youngsters sharing their lunches, games and contests, and a watermelon treat supplied by the Recreation Department.

The directors at the stadium were a little surprised on the morning of July 5 when a broom brigade descended upon them in the persons of Joy Ross, Gerald Mattia, Danny Dunn, Roger Ross, Anthony Nocera and Robert Seller. These youngsters on their own, proceeded to sweep up the debris which had accumulated over the July 4 festivities.

For the job well done, each of the youngsters will be awarded points toward the playground and townwide trophies to be awarded at the end of the playground season.

Number four playground was the scene of story telling contests. The younger girls each told stories about their dolls after parading them around the playground.

Diane Montesano was the first place winner with her Shirley Temple Doll. Second place went to Toni Mushio who entered a Patty Play Doll, and third place was awarded to Judy Conforti for her Baby Beth Doll. On Monday, they plan to have a picnic lunch and it is expected that several parents will be present.

See Close Race In Senior League

Commissioner George F. Kiernan reports that the Recreation Senior Baseball League, led by the Cubs coached by Larry Gildenberg, has piled up an impressive 7-2 record as the league heads into its fourth round of a scheduled five rounds.

However, the Red Sox are pressing hard for the top honors with a 5-2 record. The Sox is coached by Joseph Hatch, assisted by Lou Long, Jr.

In the three times these leaders have met the Red Sox have won one while the Cubs have won two.

Next in line are Walt Smith's Braves with a 2-5 record and Irwin Lerner's Giants with a 1-6 mark. The Giants showed real power in dishing out a 4-1 defeat to the league leading Cubs in the last meeting.

With two full rounds to go the league is far from decided. The Recreation Senior League plays its games at the Belleville Municipal Stadium on each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings with games starting at 6:15. When the American Legion plays home on Tuesdays the Senior League plays on Thursdays.

Little League Standings

The National Little League Giants bombarded the Braves 18-4 with Roger Crowell pitching the win, the hitting of Ray Fratella with two home runs and a double driving in nine runs for the side was the thrilling attraction of the game.

Larry Talignant pitched his second no hitter for St. Peter's, Belleville in the Essex County CYO Intermediate Baseball League. Besides holding his opponent hitless for seven innings he struck out 10. Peter's might was also felt at the plate where Dennis O'Hare connected for a triple and Roger Mamay and Eric Hatch aided with doubles.

Teenagers Busy At Dances Held In Rec House

Commissioner George F. Kieran announced this week that he wants to congratulate the members of the Recreation Teen Canteen on the success of the dance they held Tuesday night at Belleville High School.

Members of the Canteen are divided into committees, and each committee worked hard to make the dance a success. Music was provided by Ray Hackett and his "Debonaires," Andy Robertson, Richie Burnley, Jimmy Desario and Johnny, all members of the canteen.

Since school closed, the Recreation House has been buzzing with teenage committee meetings, first the dance and program committee which includes Jackie Cloutier, Bonnie Cook, Mandy Covino, Sharon Daugherty, Jeanne Golden, Ray Hackett, Anne Hassan, Mary Jannicelli, Julie Motzer, Kathleen Mulcahy, Alex Petrillo, Joe Petrillo, Jim Sileo, Bob Van Duyn, Jack Van Duyn, Joe Visco and John Visco. The group planned and made all the arrangements for the dance.

Decorating committee members went to work in the girls gymnasium at the high school resulting in a perfect summer-time setting made of crepe paper and balloons. Working on this committee were Eileen Budd, Lenore Carney, Ginny Cuzzi, Nancy Dowd, Sylvia Francesco, Pat Gennell, Grace Hucko, Lynn Hundertpfund, Pat McDonald, Joan Mineo, Marilyn Paganelli, Jo Jo Pettito and Phyllis Serretta. Several of the boys from the other committees came to the gym to lend a hand.

The teenagers also have their own newspaper which is entitled "The Voice of the Teen Canteen." The editorial staff consists of Ellen Soprano, Ralph Cerrato, Michael Kelly, Angela Cuzzo, Christine Edwards, Steve Popko, Victor Mazza, Mario Sartori, Ann Soprano and Carol Rotundi.

Any Belleville girl or boy between the ages of 13 and 18 who has been graduated from eighth grade in June or who is already attending high school is eligible to join the Teen Canteen. If interested, contact Mrs. Catherine Popko of the recreation department, 407 Joramemon Street, Plymouth 9-3142.

BRAKES & TIRES

Hot weather driving requires closer attention to brakes and tires. Tire pressures should be checked frequently, but before driving, while tires are cool. Brakes should be carefully tried before starting a warm day's drive to make sure that they are properly adjusted and that brake pedal position is normal.

Elks Conduct Special Flag Day Program

A Beautiful Spot To Visit: Sterling Forest Gardens

BY EDGAR SERGEANT

A drive without an objective is like food without salt. Feeling the stirrings of wanderlust, and the day being beautiful, we set out recently for Sterling Forest Gardens.

Rumor had it that an army of men and a fleet of machines had been hard at work there for two years, turning a thick forest and a boggy swamp into a magnificent garden.

Soon we were on our way, spinning along the Garden State Parkway, which led almost as straight as an arrow to a point just this side of Tuxedo, where we commenced to see the signs "To Sterling Forest Gardens."

At Route 210 we turned left and soon entered a parking lot large enough for Yankee Stadium. Fifty cents bought two tickets on a sort of World's Fair bus trailer which took us and about 50 others up a winding and steeply ascending road through a dense forest, where every little clearing was planted with clumps of daffodil and grape cocktail for greater beauties to come.

A beauty of a different kind at the entrance gate made the $1.25 we paid for a ticket seem a pittance. Inside all was confusion. Carpenters, masons, electricians and painters were roaming all over the frame of what soon was to become a very modern restaurant.

But it was not ready yet and we were hungry. Many people were in line, edging slowly toward an improvised cook stove on which hamburgers were sizzling. We cast a lean and hungry look at the cook and were rewarded by the very last two on the fire.

Oh, the wonder of a change of scene and the holiday spirit! They transformed a hamburger into a filet mignon. Heavy with food, we sat at our ease on a high pile of lumber from which we had a fine bird's-eye view of the gardens.

The scene resembled a vast verdant punch bowl the center of which had been transformed from swamp to paths, gardens and lakes by that army of men and machines.

Uncountable tons of leaf mold and peat moss have been scooped up and carted away to form a chain of lakes. Around the sparkling water a gently undulating area had been made. Here, in formal beds, a prodigious number of magnificent tulips were in full bloom, forming a gorgeous carpet of the primary colors - red, yellow and blue. So vivid were the colors, they seemed to glow with some inner light.

Back of the garden thousands of daffodils, jonquills and grape hyacinth were planted in the foreground, which stretched mile after mile as it rose gradually to the height of mountains. They formed the rim of the punch bowl, a backdrop of misty blue. All through the woods were huge boulders, resting, doubtless, just where they fell from the bottom of some glacier on its slow course to the sea in the Ice Age.

During our walk we chatted with a handsome young Hollander, one of many landscape architects who planned the fabulous place. He astounded us by saying that, after they bloom all the million bulbs will be destroyed and a new lot planted every year and that the gardens will not reach their peak for perhaps 20 years.

SUMMER TRAFFIC

Drivers should keep a cool head in hot summer traffic. Temperatures tend to flare easily, patience is lost more quickly, fatigue increases, and mental and physical reaction tends to slow when the mercury soars. It helps to dress comfortably, prepare yourself mentally before starting longer auto trips, take frequent rest stops.

Meaning Given Of Words Often Used By Realtors

Mortgage, equity, amortization, pre-payment clause, appraisal and sales contract.

These words are the ones most frequently heard in real estate transactions and the ones least understood, according to Howell S. Cogan in a statement he released today as president of the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville. Just a cursory study of their meaning will eliminate much of the mystery that surrounds them, he said. His definitions of the terms follow:

1. Mortgage - A conveyance of real property given as security for the payment of a debt or the fulfillment of some obligation.
2. Equity - The interest or value which an owner has in real estate over and above the mortgage indebtedness against it.
3. Amortization - The process of extinguishing a debt by equal payments at regular intervals over a specific period of time.
4. Pre-payment clause - The right of full or partial payment of the mortgage before the original date of maturity.
5. Appraisal - An estimate of quantity, quality, or value. The process through which conclusions of property value or property facts are obtained; also the report setting forth the estimate and conclusions.

6. Sales contract - A written agreement whereby the purchaser agrees to buy certain real estate and the seller agrees to sell upon terms and conditions set forth therein.

"While these simplified definitions may aid in stripping away the 'fear of the unknown' from home buying, they are not intended to be comprehensive explanations of the legal aspects which the words cover," Mr. Cogan cautioned.

"Any of our realtors in Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville will be happy to assist you in buying a home or property. There's no mystery surrounding it. A realtor's commission is paid by the seller or owner of the house, so you need not worry that his counsel and aid will cost you a fee," Mr. Cogan continued.

"Remember, a realtor is not just any real estate broker. He is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, with 67,000 members throughout the country who are pledged by a strong code of ethics to give you professional, honest service."

National Safety Council Offers Advice to Boatman

Portrait of the victim of a death-dealing boating accident:

A male 20-44 years of age - just when he's getting the most fun out of life. The actual operator of the boat, probably. On a fishing trip. Cause of the accident: failure to use common sense.

"America is literally a nation going-in droves-down to the sea in ships," says the National Safety Council. "It's falling head-over-heels in love with boating." According to the council, a non-governmental agency concerned with all forms of safety, 40 million persons take part regularly in recreational boating.

About 1,300 persons die each year in boating accidents. "And most of the deaths shouldn't happen," declared Ralph Kuhl, the council's director of public safety.

He said a study showed that more than half the pleasure boat fatalities result from capsizing and operator negligence - falling overboard, reckless operation, making too sharp a turn, standing in a boat, and overloading a boat.

"Every one of these kinds of operator negligence could be eliminated if the rules of safe boat driving were observed," Kuhl said. He cited these facts about recreational boating:

- One of every five boat-owning families has two boats.
- By 1970, 60 million boaters helps to dress comfortable, prepare yourself mentally before taking part in the fun.
- The eight million recreational boats in use today (200,000 more than last year) come in all sizes and shapes-outboard boats, rowboats, canoes, dinghies, sailboats and motorboats, for example.

-Today's six million outboard motors will double by 1970.

-Almost two million boat trailers are used today.

-The nation spends 2 1/2 billion dollars a year on boating. By 1970, the figure will be tripled.

Kuhl said that of the eight million recreational boats, nearly half are used for fishing, about three out of 10 for cruising and one out of five for water skiing.

He gave these suggestions on how to help prevent boating accidents:

1. Check the condition of your boat before leaving shore. Take along a bailing can and an extra oar. Carry tools for minor repairs.
2. Take along life preservers. Make sure everyone wears one-including the children.
3. Don't overload the boat. And no standing up or horse-play.

Above all, Kuhl said, use common sense in operating a boat.

SUMMER SHOWER DRIVING. Keep a weather eye on your driving during sudden summer showers. Dust and oil film accumulations may tend to make the pavement unusually slippery until washed away by the rain. Also, this same film may obstruct vision by breaking the windshield when wipers are operated.

Weekend Navigators Face Problems, Coast Guard Says

Summer of 1960 finds the United States Coast Guard diligently maintaining a round-the-clock alert for the safety of the thousands of pleasure craft which take to the water at the hands of weekend navigators. Naturally, the Coast Guard expects a certain number of unavoidable mishaps and breakdowns to occur, however, of late it has been noticed that many of the distress calls answered by Coast Guard units are the result of carelessness and an appalling lack of concern on the part of the pleasure craft's pilots.

Recently, the three-day holiday week-end commemorating Independence Day saw the Third Coast Guard District, a command responsible for nautical rescue activity from Watch Hill, R. I., to the Delaware-Maryland state line, handled 232 distress calls, almost all of which were from navigators of pleasure craft.

This number represents a significant increase in small boating mishaps when compared to the 192 cases recorded for the same week-end exactly a year ago.

On July 4, 1960, alone, there were 13 craft which ran aground in the Third Coast Guard District, a good indication that maritime charts are not part of the standard equipment in many boats, or, if they are, that they receive limited use.

As a shining example of the juvenile approach to boating that is taken by many, the Third Coast Guard District headquarters in New York City receives numerous calls each week requesting mileage and advised sea routes between various shore points.

No stretch of the imagination needed to envisage the circumstances which are likely to result should the operator of a small craft venture beyond sight of land without charts or the knowledge of how to read them.

Concern for the safety of a boat's occupants should be foremost in a pilot's mind at all times. Absence of such concern immediately affects not only the persons on board, but also every other small boat in the area. It is simple carelessness that results in a boat running out of fuel or not having an adequate number of life preservers aboard - a carelessness which all too often ends in tragedy.

When going on a short cruise, tell someone of your expected time of return and, should you decide to moor overnight elsewhere, a phone call will set your family at ease and at the same time render unnecessary a Coast Guard search for your vessel, reported overdue.

Coast Guard shore units are besieged with just such calls from worried relatives each week-end and when the vessel is found to be safely berthed in a nearby town, the resulting search is seen to have been needless.

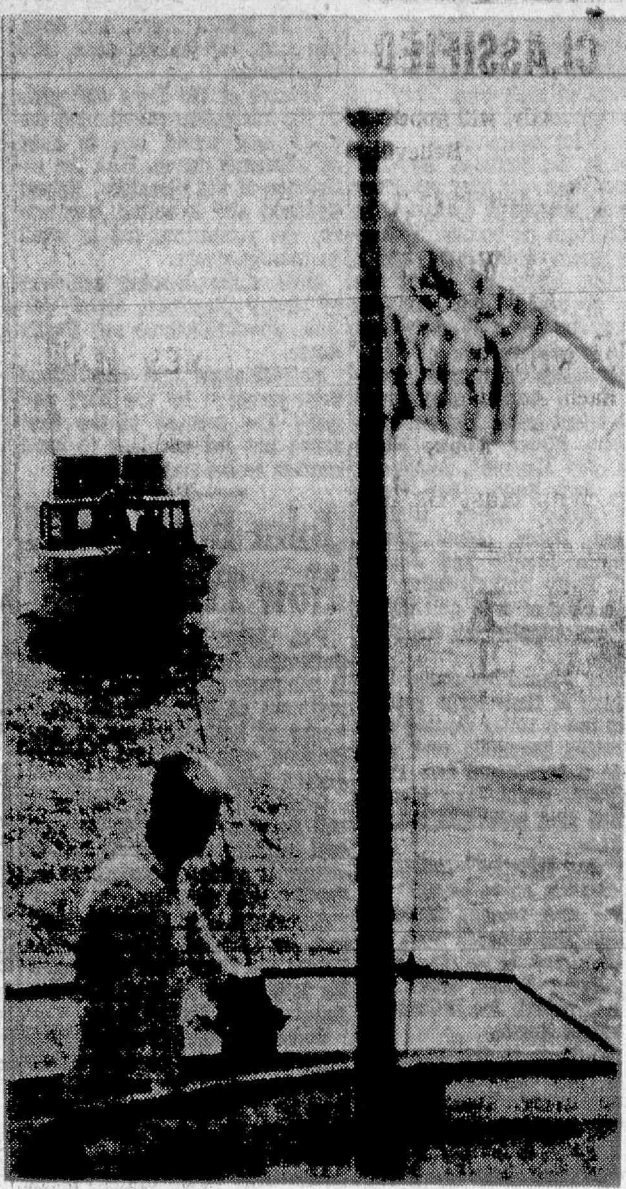

There's a great deal more to safe boating than just simple steering and carrying life jackets aboard. The U. S. Coast Guard strongly urges that all boat owners and pilots read and understand RULES OF THE ROAD before putting out to sea. Compliance with all safety regulations, especially slow speeds in mooring areas, and a knowledge of the Federal Boating Act of 1958 is expected of all persons engaged in recreational boating.

It would seem that those guilty of piloting their craft at excessive speeds are unmindful of the fact that a speeding motorboat has no sure method of braking. Many boat operators think in terms of automobile speed, yet forget that the conditions are entirely different and that a motorboat traveling at 30 miles per hour, for example, cannot be brought to a complete stop in anywhere near the short space of time required to halt an auto traveling the same speed.

With the average yearly increase in the number of pleasure craft afloat approaching 500,000 and especially in view of the recent upswing in the popularity of water skiing and skin diving, operators of outboard, sail and motor boats and cabin cruisers, large or small, must be at all times alert, observant and more than considerate of the other person.

VAPOR LOCKS

A long line of stalled traffic on a hot summer day is likely to be further delayed by one or more cars which develop an acute attack of vapor lock. Carry a large thermos bottle of ice cold water as quick first aid for over a cloth and wash it around the fuel pump and fuel line which may run close to the engine block. If caught in stopped or crawling traffic with motor lock can be reduced by speeding up the motor at two or three minute intervals. This increases the consumption of gasoline and moves cooler gasoline from the tank through the fuel system.

FORESIGHT MIGHT HAVE PREVENTED THIS. A U.S. Coast Guard 38-foot picket boat tows a disabled cabin cruiser to safety.

The need for respect of the lives and property of others is easily seen in the harbors and roadsteads, channels and inlets and, in fact, any place where there is a concentration of sailing vessels.

Boats should not be anywhere near bathing beaches, but occasionally swimmers do get into harbor inlets or mooring areas. When this happens it is up to the boat's pilot to exercise extreme caution, for the propeller of his boat might then easily become a lethal instrument.

There's virtually no excuse for one boat ramming another or for a boat running down a swimmer, but should an unfortunate accident occur, fast action can save the lives of those involved and an appeal for help could very well bring aid that would lessen the chance of tragedy. Improperly leaving the scene of a boating accident of any type is classified as a federal offense.

Recreational boating is anything but a frivolous pastime. Rather, it is a sport which must, at all costs, be taken seriously. Many people who suddenly find themselves to be boat owners embrace the strictly amateurish

Kiernan Reviews Playground Activities Now Underway

Commissioner George F. Kiernan announced some of the activities which are taking place on Belleville's playgrounds. Not to be outdone by the boys and their "Building Our Bodies" contest, the young ladies at stadium playground have developed some exercises of their own. They are in the process of learning waist, hip, and leg exercises.

Also at the stadium, four-and-a-half-year-old Tommy Slater has won himself a berth on the softball team as batboy. Tommy shows great enthusiasm and a desire to learn all about the game. Several of the girls are shopping for material which they plan to use for aprons.

Montgomery playground combined lunch on the playground with a talent show. The performers were Maria Basile, Elena Basile, Joe Hermida, Antoinette Barile, Jeff Bauer, Bob Horn, Patty Binky, Ralph DiMaio, Kathleen Ricca, Rose Ricca, Rosemarie Iacullo and Joanne Coponi. Patty Binky's father donated a case of soda and watermelon was supplied by the playground.

Number Four Playground took advantage of their large asphalt area to run a roller skating contest. James Serritella took first prize in a traditional two skate speed race, while Jean Montalbano won first honors in the one skate race.

The "Gay Nineties" contest at the recreation house brought out a unique and colorful array of costumes. The winners were Daria Calli, Lynn Cypolski, Cindy Zuzzio, Nancy Zuzzio, Susan Calli, Jean Cypolski, Joe DiGiorgio and Thomas Zuzzio.

The stadium is the scene of twirling and cheerleading instruction every Tuesday and Thursday morning. Louise Cairli and Judy Anderten, the directors of this activity, report that the girls are making considerable progress. They have learned four cheers, jump and cartwheels. Different girls get the opportunity to act as captain. The cheerleaders and twirlers will perform at the recreation football games in the fall.

Joan Sweigert reports that archery got off to a good start at Montgomery playground. This activity is held on Friday mornings at Montgomery and the stadium.

Girls' Charm School Enjoying Success Here

Commissioner George F. Kiernan announced this week that girls in the recreation charm school are receiving a real education in the art of being charming.

Girls have learned correct posture while sitting, standing, walking, entering and leaving a car and how to take care of their hands and nails.

Norma Amato, director of this activity, is happy with the cooperation she is receiving from the class. Andrew Jergens Company, manufacturers of Woodbury products, have furnished this class with creams, lipsticks, hair spray, etc., while Rubin Drugs have donated nail polish, cuticle creams, emery sticks and creams for this program.

two contestants in order to verify scores. Donald scored 96-1-3. The alternate champion, Nancy Grimm, an accordion major at the University of Houston, Texas, scored 96. Third place was 91-2-3.

Donald, 19 years old, was guest of honor that evening at the Accordion Teachers' Guild's "Open House Party" at the "House on the Roof" of the Sherman Hotel where he was formally introduced, presented with his trophy, and performed for the guests.

This is the second consecutive year that he has won the ATG United States Open Olympic Contest. Last year's contest was held in Tulsa, Okla. He represented the ATG in the last World Contest which was held in June, 1959, in New York City. He then scored the highest of the four United States representatives, placing United States in fifth position.

GOING TO VIENNA
The Accordion Teachers' Guild will now sponsor his trip to the 1960 Coupe Mondiale. This is the World Championship Contest sponsored by the C.I.A. (Confederation Internationale Des Accordeonistes) and will take place October 21-23 in Vienna, Austria.

Donald is a student of Charles Nunzio of the Nunzio Music Center, Nutley. Nunzio was present at the national competition and gave a lecture-demonstration at A.T.G. Workshop the preceding Friday. While in Chicago Nunzio and Donald attended accordion concerts as well as the N.A.M.M. (National Association of Music Merchants) convention.

Donald is scheduled to appear as one of the artists on an accordion concert sponsored by the American Accordionists' Association at Judson Hall, New York

City, on September 25. He is studying at the Juilliard School of Music and last semester had the distinction of being the first accordionist to appear in concert at the conservatory.

He performed first on a Student Council evening concert in the Recital Hall and then on a "Wednesday One-O'clock" concert series in the Juilliard Concert Hall.

Chamber to Take Stand

single new school building has been built in Belleville in 32 years.

He noted that studies made by Columbia and Rutgers Universities both recommended the erection of a new high school and the conversion of the present high school building to a junior high.

Thomas said that release of seventh and eighth grade pupils from the grammar schools to the proposed junior high school would make new space available in the lower grades for libraries, home economics, manual and fine arts classrooms, all which are lacking today in the grade schools.

THE EFFECT

He called the chamber's attention to the fact that people seeking new homes would avoid Belleville, or any other community, which has an inadequate educational plant. This condition affects business and industry in a town, he said.

find the schedule of events both interesting and busy at this tented city.

The Jamboree is being held on 2,000 acres of the Reverse V-Diamond Ranch. From our tents we have a really beautiful view of Pike's Peak and the United States Air Force Academy.

PROGRAMS

Two of the programs which proved popular at the Jamboree featured a historical review of the United States and a television-star fested ceremony.

The complete history of the United States was brought to life on a stage the size of three football fields and included events from the time of Columbus' landing to Paul Revere's ride.

Television and radio humorist Herb Shriner proved popular when he entertained at our regional campfire. Another big attraction were the four Lennon Sisters of the Lawrence elk Show.

Kiernan Raps Padula

The school board met in July with the commissioners to discuss the possibilities of using some town-owned property in the stadium area off Passaic Avenue as the site of a new high school should the voters approve the referendum.

NO OBJECTION

Kiernan did not raise any objections to a resolution which was informally discussed and agreed upon at the joint meeting July 12. At that time the resolution was referred to as "general principles" which included agreement on three points (1) the general plans for a new high school, (2) that the best site for a new high school is in the Passaic Avenue area near the stadium and (3) that the school board initiate the referendum for the procurement of properties if and when voters approve the referendum for the high school itself.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The statement of Kiernan released to the press reads as follows: "In the wake of the commission meeting three weeks ago, statements appeared in the public press which made it apparent that the board of commissioners had 'unanimously approved a three-point resolution' agreeing to the need for a new high school and offering the Board of Education the municipal stadium for a building site."

Mayor Padula was quoted as favoring transfer of the stadium grounds 'as is the practice in every other Essex County community except Orange."

"The need for a new high school is a problem that can only be resolved between the school board and the electorate in a referendum vote. There is no room for any other public official to inject himself into the picture for the sake of making political hay while the sun shines."

"The last time the high school problem came before the public, the school board was still an appointed body. Meanwhile it has become in its entirety an elective body which, it must be presumed, is sustained in its decisions by the confidence of the people who elected the various members."

"There was therefore no reason whatever for Mayor Padula to convey the impression that the board of commissioners were 'unanimously committed to a line of action.'"

"The magnanimity with which the mayor dangles the municipal stadium before the collective eyes of the school board as a chosen site for the new school is entirely his own. The rest of the commissioners were neither advised in advance of the mayor's intentions, nor were they consulted in the matter."

"Certainly the courtesy of such consultation should have been extended to me personally at least, if for no other reason but for the fact that the municipal stadium and its maintenance are integral parts of the department of parks and public property which I have headed ever since my election."

"I have no fault to find with the desire of many citizens for a better educational plant for our town but I cannot but warn the board of education against future disappointments when its members and attorney take the action of merely one commissioner even though he may be the chairman of our board, for a commitment that involves the whole five-man board."

Tax Council Dispute

cl's, still remains unanswered. Here's what the tax council's statement says on this question. It notes it's often difficult to separate statements which represent Garcon's personal views from those of the tax council and adds "it is expected that in the future, Mr. Garcon will differentiate his own personal views from those of the tax council."

The same "official release" however, states that the topics presented by Garcon had been discussed by the tax council directors and were based on facts.

FACTS OR RUMORS?

More confusion results from reading the tax council's statement when one tries to determine whether or not Garcon was speaking on facts or rumors when he launched his attack

July 25 at the school board.

The statement issued today states that the article in last week's Belleville Times was not correct in saying that Garcon's charges were based on "rumors instead of facts."

Continuing, the "official release" says that not only was Garcon speaking from facts, but the information sources "were associated with the board of education itself."

BLAME BOARD

However, the fact-or-rumor issue becomes clouded when the "official release" states that the sources "associated with the board of education" were not substantiated and suggests that board members "be more careful about the type of rumors which they spread about town to further their own selfish interests. This is probably the source of Mr. Garcon's information."

Although no mention is made in "the official release," it's believed Garcon's so-called source on the school board is Dr. Frank DiRuggiero one of the last members of the old board regime still at odds with the present majority. However, both Garcon and Dr. DiRuggiero would surely take issue with this observation.

The full text of today's release from the tax council follows:

OFFICIAL RELEASE

"This is an official release by Christie Albanese and Jack Daniels of the 'Citizen's Tax Council' commenting on the July 28th issue of The Belleville Times regarding the Council group and is approved by the President, Mr. Salvatore Calabro, who was contacted while vacationing."

"The 'Citizen's Tax Council' is constantly besieged with information furnished by citizens of the community who are most anxious that it take immediate action to rectify an alleged unsatisfactory situation."

"It is, and has always been, the practice of the 'Citizen's Tax Council' to very carefully examine statements and separate facts from rumor or hearsay."

"It is for that reason that all public utterances made by its representatives must first receive prior approval from the Council's Board of Trustees. When the matter is most urgent and the trustees cannot be convened in time, the president may authorize the statement."

"It must be realized, however, that it is often difficult to separate statements which represent the speaker's personal views from those representing his organization unless the speaker clearly indicates the difference. Often, under these circumstances, the personal view of the representative of a civic organization is misinterpreted."

NEW PROCEDURE

In order to avoid any misinterpretations in the future, all 'Citizen's Tax Council' statements will be prefaced by a release number which indicates it has been authorized, thereby differentiating the voice of the CTC Council from the personal remarks of the speaker.

"This should avoid the type of situation which was reported in the July 28th issue of The Belleville Times which indicated that the CTC Council had a rough night before the Board of Education because it concerned itself with rumors instead of facts. This is hardly the case. Although the statements made by Mr. Garcon did not receive prior approval, the matter had been discussed and indicated that some of Mr. Garcon's sources were associated with the Board of Education itself. However, this was not substantiated, therefore, could not be used as factual data."

"It is expected that in the future Mr. Garcon will differentiate his own personal views from those of the CTC Council. No one can gainsay his right to freedom of speech despite the fact that they might not always agree with his statements. This is his God-given right in the U.S.A."

BOARD AT FAULT

"As a word of caution, it is suggested that duly constituted public officials be more careful about the type of rumors which they spread about town to further their own selfish interests. This is probably the source of Mr. Garcon's information and he probably camouflaged it by saying 'there were many individuals spreading the rumors' in order not to embarrass the official or officials involved."

"It would probably be to the interest of all our citizens if we would learn not to 'wash the dirty linens in public' or cast the first stone. Therefore, it is suggested that the Board of Education clean its own house if they want to eliminate future Monday night occurrences."
