

Changes In Social Security Law Broaden Its Coverage

Social security amendments signed by the President on Sept. 13 will bring benefits to an estimated additional 125,000 disabled workers and to the members of their families throughout the country, William J. Wilkie, district manager of the Newark Social Security office, announced today.

Mr. Wilkie pointed out that the change regarding disability benefits is only one of a number of changes made by the amendments. The new law will bring increased benefits to 400,000 children and, through liberalized work requirements, will make some 250,000 people, aged 65 or over, eligible for benefits. Other significant provisions increase the number of people eligible for benefits and increase benefits in some instances.

Returning to disability insurance, Mr. Wilkie explained that a person can now qualify for disability benefits without regard to his age. If he has worked long enough under social security and if his disability is severe enough to meet the definition in the social security law, he and eligible members of his family may draw the benefits even if he has not reached 50—the age requirement in the prior law.

“Those who already have made application to have their social security records frozen because of their disability, do not need to take any action now,” Mr. Wilkie said. “The Social Security Administration has their records on file and will write to them telling them what they should do. However, those disabled people who have not had a previous contact with a social security of-rice to discuss disability protection should get in touch with their local social security district office right away because benefits cannot be paid until an application for them is made.”

Another change made by the new amendments affects people entitled to benefits and who are working, Mr. Wilkie explained. Unchanged is the rule that a person can get social security benefits for every month of the year if his earnings for the year do not go over $1200. For amounts over $1200, the following formula applies beginning in 1961:

One dollar in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings between $1200 and $1500. If a person earns more than $1500, he forfeits a dollar in benefits for each dollar that his earnings go over the $1500 amount. However, in spite of this rule, no one will forfeit benefits for any month that he earns $100 or less in wages. If he is self-employed, he does not forfeit a benefit for any month that he does not engage actively in the affairs of his business.

Wilkie estimated that 25,000 people—many of them aged widows—will benefit by changes in the law which permit payment of monthly checks to eligible survivors of working people who died between March 31, 1938 and Dec. 31, 1939, with at least a year and a half of work under social security. Before this change, survivors could not receive benefits on the social security account of anyone who died before 1940.

Also, a dependent widower can now get benefits even if his wife died before 1950, if the wife met the work requirements under social security. Before this change, dependent widowers could not become eligible for benefits unless the person on whose social security account the benefits were claimed died in or after September 1950. But no one can receive benefits under this provision until he has made a claim for them through the local social security district office.

Families drawing social security benefits for two or more children and not now receiving the maximum payable to a family, will find an additional amount added to their social security checks for December 1960 because of a change which calls for payment of an amount equal to three-fourths of the base amount to each child.

This is changed from the formula which provided for one-half of the base amount to each child with a quarter of the base amount divided among all the children.

Families affected by this change need take no action. The additional amount will show up on the social security check which they receive in January 1961.

Wilkie explained that the amendments also reduce the amount of work time needed to qualify for benefits. Instead of needing two calendar quarters of work for every four quarters after 1950, the number of work quarters required is now one for three. Unchanged, however, is the provision that no one may get benefits without at least six quarters of work.

“Anyone who has failed to qualify for benefits in the past because he did not have enough work under social security should call at the local social security district office to find out if this new provision now makes him eligible,” Wilkie explained.

Other changes made by the amendments extend social security to parents working in a trade or business owned by a son or daughter, permit nonprofit organizations to provide social security coverage for present employees who want coverage, and for employees hired in the future even if less than two-thirds of the employees desire this cov-

International Relations

Australian Visitor Inspects Jolly's

Things are usually jumping around Jolly Cleaners here in Belleville, but they were doubly so this week when Jolly had a visitor from the kangaroo land of Australia.

Arthur Jackson, owner-manager of Jolly Cleaners, was host to William Nicholl of the city of Perth in Western Australia. Mr. Nicholl came to the United States to "study American methods of dry cleaning."

He was referred to the seemingly insignificant town of Belleville by Arthur Schuelke, editor of the dry cleaner's trade magazine, "The National Cleaner." Unknown perhaps to most Belleville residents is the fact that the cleaning methods, plant arrangement and drive-in service at Jolly Cleaners has won the establishment what appears now to be an international reputation.

Mr. Nicholl explained that he was especially impressed with Jolly's new laundry service. Although Mr. Nicholl has one of his country's largest dry-cleaners establishments, in fact a chain of 10 shops with 30 distribution outlets, "we don't have a shirt laundry."

Continuing, Mr. Nicholl said, "But Arthur Jackson is trying to get me interested in a shirt laundry and when I look at all these racks with bundles of shirts—I must say I'm tempted."

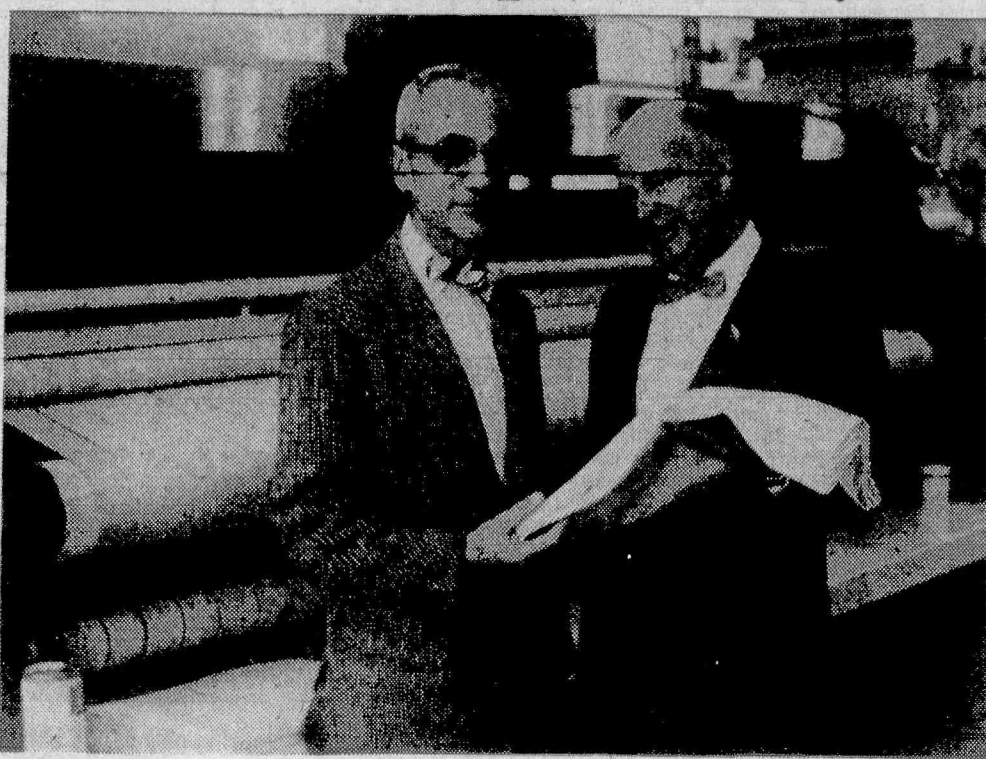

Another impression the visitor passed on to The Times reporter: "I am most impressed with the drive-in method here." When told about the parking space situation in Belleville, Mr. Nicholl answered, "Don't worry, we have our parking problems too and this drive-in method to me is an excellent solution."

Of course both Mr. Nicholl and Mr. Jackson spent much of the day concerned with complicated sounding names of synthetic dry-cleaning chemicals. At the end of the day Mr. Nicholl and Mr. Jackson agreed that "we both have learned by sharing our experience" in the dry cleaning field.

Mr. Nicholl said he hopes to return to Belleville. But we noted it won't be in the very near future. The visitor took his laundry with him.

Wisdom is knowing what to do next, skill knowing how to do it, virtue is not doing it.

Following a worship service, the Rev. Richard Belcher, director of the Department of the Local Church, National Board of Missions, will lead a discussion of methods of stimulating interest in missions in local churches.

Supper will be served at 6 p.m. Local Church, National Board of Missions, will lead a discussion of methods of stimulating interest in missions in local churches.

Supper will be served at 6 p.m. The evening session will start at 7:30 with a worship period conducted by the Rev. Wallace Sorenson, district superintendent. The Rev. Howard Yoder, secretary for Latin America for the Methodist Board of Missions, will speak on Methodist work in Latin America.

The Rev. Fred G. Hubach of Staten Island, district missionary secretary is chairman and the Rev. Frank Shannon of Belleville, is in charge of reservations.

General Washington spent more time in New Jersey during the Revolutionary War than in any other state. This earned for New Jersey the title "Cockpit of the Revolution."

Girl Scouts Urge Support for Fund; To Set Up Display

A series of monthly program workshops for troop leaders will be an important highlight this year for the Belleville Girl Scout movement. The calendar of events for the 1960-61 year was unanimously approved by the adult membership at the fall neighborhood association meetings at the Christ Episcopal Church Wednesday night.

Leaders and troop committee members were urged to support and participate in the forthcoming drive of the United Fund of Belleville in which the Girl Scout Council is a participating agency.

"The people of Belleville want Scouting for their daughters," said Mrs. A. H. Verhagen, district chairman, "and 600 girls are depending on their community to contribute the funds needed to bring Scouting to our city." Special flyers will be distributed to each Girl Scout and Brownie to take home to parents, and a display will be set up in the People's National Bank and Trust Company at the beginning of the fund drive.

A leadership training course for new leaders is scheduled at St. Peter's School Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10 starting this week. Mrs. Robert Underwood, district director, is the instructor.

Among special events planned for girls are a field day on November 5 when all intermediate and senior scouts will get together for a day in the out-of-doors, annual participation in the Veterans' Day Parade, special window displays for Girl Scout Week in March and an outdoor play day for Brownies in May.

A program about the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund and the history of girl scouting was presented by Mrs. G. G. Emerson.

son of Upper Montclair, council board member and program chairman.

Mrs. Emerson emphasized the unique opportunities scouting provides for understanding and friendship among the peoples of the world and demonstrated ways in which leaders might present the story of Juliette Low's life to troops.

By Salvatore Calabro

The Proposal for a Town Manager

Recently the Belleville Times carried an article written by Commissioner George F. Kieran commenting on the mayor-council form of government and the weaknesses of the commission and council-manager forms. Today, Salvatore Calabro, president of the Belleville Citizens' Tax Council, has prepared an article discussing the council-manager form, a type which both Mr. Calabro and the tax council hope will be adopted by Belleville. This series will be continued.

SEPARATES POLICY AND ADMINISTRATION

The council-manager plan clearly differentiates between the policy function and the administrative function of government. The people elect the council, which makes governmental policy, controls the raising and appropriation of funds, levies taxes and contracts debt. The council also chooses the manager, whose duty it is to carry out its policies, spend the funds it has appropriated, supervise the work of the administrative departments and make all appointments.

A distinct line is drawn between the duties of the council and the duties of the manager and it is made illegal for councilmen to interfere with administration. The Model City Charter, which embodies the council-manager form of government, states: "Except for the purpose of inquiry, the council and its members shall deal with the administrative service solely through the city manager and neither the council nor any member thereof shall give orders to any subordinate of the city manager, either publicly or privately." The manager's duties too are clearly defined. If the council is not satisfied with the way things are being handled, it may dismiss him.

AN EXPERT EXECUTIVE

Unlike other forms, the administration of government under the council-manager form is not likely to be handled by amateurs. The council is required to appoint a manager who shall be qualified for the technical job of administering the city business. The Model City Charter specifies that: "The city manager shall be chosen by the council solely on the basis of his executive and administrative qualifications with special reference to his actual experience in, or his knowledge of, accepted practice in respect to the duties of his office as hereinafter set forth. At the time of his appointment, he need not be a resident of the city or state, but during his tenure of office he shall reside within the city." Seventy-nine per cent of managers appointed in 1957 were from out of town as compared with 58 per cent for the ten-year period 1940-49.

Because the manager is appointed, not elected, he is far less likely to have political obligations, which will affect the quality of his administration. Rather, "self-interest must influence him to do a good job because his appointment and advancement depend directly on his record in office."

City management has become a profession made up of those who have experience and special training in municipal administration. Like doctors or lawyers, city managers have a rigorous code of ethics and are obliged to live up to fixed standards of performance. The Code of Ethics adopted by the International City Managers' Association follows.

RESPONSIBILITY CENTRALIZED

In an arrangement common to all types of successful organization, profit-making and non-profit-making alike, under the council-manager plan lines of authority are clearly drawn and responsibility is easily placed. The city manager is a single chief executive who can be held strictly accountable. The manager is given the duty to appoint department heads and through them all other city employees. He is charged with preparing for the council's approval the financial plan for the city and with enforcing the budget after it has been enacted. He is made specifically responsible for all the administrative work of the city. The manager coordinates all city activities. He is in a position to give the council expert information on the needs of the various governmental activities and on their status at any time. He can formulate and carry out a plan of governmental activity which will allow for regular orderly development of public work. Decisions can be made with speed and facility.

A BRAKE ON SPENDING

Because the manager does not owe his job to a machine-engineered election whose basis is votes bought with jobs or contracts, he is in a position to provide a brake on unnecessary spending. He regulates the flow of departmental spending and reports to council on the real financial needs of each of the branches of the government.

Nor is council tempted to increase arbitrarily departmental allotments, since it is barred from enjoying any political spoils which might otherwise result from spending.

The Model City Charter provides that: "No person in the classified service of the city or seeking admission thereto shall be appointed, promoted, reduced, removed or in any way favored or discriminated against sent them.

What is the part assigned to the citizen in this process? He must vote, of course. But what is a vote? It is an expression of choice between one or more alternatives. Who presents the alternatives?

Therein lies the secret: the citizen must have a voice in determining the alternatives as well as in deciding among them. In order to do this he must be organized. The voice of an organized citizenry is the most powerful one heard in a democratic community.

Here, too, the form of government is important. In a community where the form is so designed as to translate the desires of the citizen promptly and efficiently into legislative representation and thence into administrative action an organization of citizens may prosper because it has the chance of being effective. Put in a community where the form of government is not so designed, the organization of citizens faces a more difficult problem.

Democracy presupposes citizen activity. Hence, the sure formula for good local government, as it has been adduced from experience, is strong citizen organization plus the best form of government which is the council-manager form.

TESTIMONIALS

LET US TAKE THEIR WORD FOR IT

Woodrow Wilson: "I regard the manager plan of municipal government as a marked advance over any other plan hitherto tried in this country, from the standpoint of both democracy and efficiency."

Herbert Hoover: "It seems to me one of the ways out of our difficulties in producing sound municipal government."

Senator Estes Kefauver: "This form of government makes it much easier to prevent the type of immoral political-criminal influence which we found prevalent in so many cities."

Charles Edison, former governor of New Jersey: "The council-manager plan combines efficiency with democratic control by putting a professional in charge of city services and making him responsible at all times to a council that has no duty except to see that the government is conducted in the best interests of the whole city."

Harold W. Dodds, President, Princeton University: "The council-manager plan of municipal government has in many cases proved to be a marked improvement over either the mayor-and-council or the commission plan."

Jack Kroll, Political Action Committee, CIO: "Our city manager plan (in Cincinnati) is working well."

Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, AFL: "We believe that the city manager plan is superior to the Mayor-Council and Commission systems."

Chicago Daily News: "In our opinion, the city manager plan is the best yet devised for efficient municipal operation."

"... Stand Up And Be Counted"

Last week, John W. Noonan, responding to an editorial which appeared in the preceding week's issue of The Times-News, dispatched a letter to the editor which terminated with the following sentence: "I, for one, am happy to stand up and be counted: I say Belleville needs a change (in form of government) and that change should be to mayor-council government."

Mr. Noonan is no carping critic of the Town Commission. He does not habitually write letters to the editor. Mr. Noonan is not aligned with any clique, nor with any group that has an axe to grind, nor is he performing the bidding of would-be politicians.

By every standard of values, Mr. Noonan is an independent citizen who has a deep sense of civic responsibility. More, he wants to enlist in the army of citizens desiring to improve every facet of our community.

His call to all citizens to join in a common effort to change the form of municipal government for Belleville should make all citizens sit up and take notice.

Two of our five Commissioners already are on record as favoring a change to the mayor-council form of government. They are Commissioners Nuncio Pico and George Kiernan. Happily, Mr. Noonan was not a supporter of either Commissioner in the 1958 municipal election, so no one can accuse him of bias. In fact, he supported the other three incumbents. It can be said Noonan is completely free from any Town Hall connection or encumbrance.

Mr. Noonan is an energetic young man.

A distinguished attorney, he is intimately familiar with government. He enjoys the respect and confidence of the community's leaders. His plea for a change in government merits the thoughtful consideration of our citizens.

There was only one thing missing from Mr. Noonan's letter of last week: the reasons why mayor-council form of government is superior to any other form and why it is suited to Belleville's needs.

Repeating A Pleasant Task

Once again The Times-News has the pleasant privilege of calling attention to the continuing speedy co-operation of State Senator Donal C. Fox.

The Times-News, The Belleville Chamber of Commerce, and Public Works Commissioner Robert Gruhin, have been battling for the repavement of Washington Avenue.

In recent weeks we were able to report that the State Senator had taken notice of our news and editorial campaign and had aroused the interest of State Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer.

This week we received a letter from Senator Fox and a photostatic copy of a letter from Commissioner Palmer to Senator Fox.

The following excerpt from the correspondence reveals the progress being made toward achieving the road improvement and explain our elation at having had a part in bringing about this success:

Wrote Mr. Palmer: "we have included in our program the resurfacing of Washington Avenue, Belleville. The plans for Washington Avenue are 98 per cent complete and we expect to advertise the project on or about November 1."

It is through the combined efforts of Commissioner Robert Gruhin, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and Senator Donal C. Fox that we are on the threshold of seeing a dream come true—the resurfacing of Washington Avenue. To Senator Donal C. Fox especially, we say THANK YOU.

Alphonse Miele Cites Fair Practice Code For 1960 Campaign

Alphonse A. Miele, 10th District GOP Congressional candidate, today announced his "wholehearted endorsement" of the Code of Fair Campaign Practices and called on all candidates for public office, regardless of political affiliation to join together in its enforcement.

Only through such combined efforts, Miele said, can we hope to achieve the full realization of the principles of fairness prescribed by the code. Unfortunately, Miele said, some candidates endorse the code only to give it lip service.

Miele expressed his personal satisfaction that most candidates are adhering to the principles of decency outlined in the code. But he expressed his concern over "certain candidates" who have demonstrated their adroitness in glibly circumventing the code.

Pvt. Kenneth Santora, Radio-Teletype Man, In German Exercise

Army Pvt. Kenneth Santora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Santora of 279 Belmont Avenue, is participating with other personnel from the Third Armored Division in a field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany. The six-week exercise is scheduled to be completed October 15.

Some 15,000 troops and more than 1,000 tanks and armored personnel carriers will maneuver over the rough and hilly terrain of the training area. This exercise is typical of the constant training conducted to determine that all units in the NATO shield of defense in Europe maintain a high state of combat efficiency.

Santora, a radio teletype operator in Headquarters Troop of the division's 12th Cavalry in Budingen, entered the Army last September and completed basic training at Fort Dix, before arriving overseas last April. The 18-year-old soldier attended Belleville High School. Times Ins 2-24 Mickey Granine

Repuano Knocks County Democrats

Belleville home - owners who contribute 22 per cent of local real estate taxes to support county government will be faced with a greater drain on their pocket-books if the present spending program of the Democrat controlled

Board of Freeholders remains in power, Nicholas R. Rapuano, Republican Town Chairman said today.

"Under two years of Democrat control local taxes for county purposes, paid by Belleville, have been increased from $944,233 to $1,119,478, an increase of $175,245. If this spending program is continued, it means financial disaster for many of our home - owners who are already overburdened," he added.

"During these last two years the overall cost of county government has been increased 14 per cent. In the budget for 1958, the last year of Republican control, the total county budget was $32,556,640 of which $24,961,740 was raised by direct taxation. This year, Democrats have increased the total budget to $37,070,233 of which $28,485,890 has been levied against real estate owners.

"This appalling record has been made by Democrats whose campaign promise two years ago was that if elected they would cut the budget of 1958 by $2,000,000. Instead, after they took control, they increased their own part - time salaries from $8,000 to $10,000 annually over Republican objections and began an endless creation of high salaried jobs to reward the political faithful. "The present majority of the board has ignored positive Republican suggestions for curtailing expenses and continued for two years its policy of spending without regard to the hardship imposed on those who must pay the bill.

"In several states, efforts are being made to abolish county government, transferring county responsibilities to the state government. County government in New Jersey can function to the advantage of our citizens if it is administered as it was in Essex for more than 35 years under control.

"The election of the Republican candidates on November 8 will assure a return to efficient, imaginative administration. It will end a Democrat regime which has created jobs for political patronage," Rapuano concluded.

He offered the statement in behalf of Dominic A. Cundari of Newark, Mrs. Margaret H. Reitman of South Orange and Rev. James Vance McIver of Orange, Republican candidates for Freeholders; and Bayard H. Faulkner of Montclair, Republican candidate for County Supervisor

For Aged From Conference Rep. Rodino Sees Benefits

Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr. (D., 10th Dist.) expressed the hope last night that the White House Conference on the Aging to be held in Washington next January would be productive of additional benefits for the nation's senior citizens.

"Planning work is already underway in all 50 states for this major conference which is the result, I am happy to say, of a Congressional resolution, which I co-sponsored," Mr. Rodino said. The Congressman, who has made the welfare of senior citizens one of his principal objectives, said he has received encouraging response to his recommendation that a Bureau for Senior Citizens be established within the government. Action on this proposal may be forthcoming at the White House Conference, he said.

"One of the main satisfactions of representing the people in Congress is to see the enactment of measures to which weeks and months of painstaking preparatory work have been devoted," he said.

"Throughout my 12 years in Congress," he continued, "I have not been so interested in the pride of authorship of bills as in pushing and steering them to final passage, a process a person can master only by long, first-hand experience."

Mr. Rodino pointed out, as an example, that while Civil Rights legislation enacted in 1957 and 1960 did not bear his name, it was based nevertheless on a lengthy report he had prepared as a ranking member of the House Judiciary Committee.

And as the senior member of that committee's all-important Anti-Monopoly Sub-Committee, he also drafted the report which resulted in the passage of significant legislation in behalf of the small businessman.

"Not all measures which I have fought for have originated in my own party," the Congressman said. "When a bill or resolution, in my opinion, is of distinct benefit to the welfare of the people, the strength of the nation or its prestige, I support it, whatever the party of its origin."

Mr. Rodino cited a White House letter he received in mid-year expressing President Eisenhower's thanks for the Congressman's support of the Mutual Security authorization bill.

The letter, written by Bryce N. Harlow, deputy assistant to the President, conveyed Mr. Eisenhower's "gratification and appreciation" for Mr. Rodino's support of the measure which had White House backing.

"The President asked me to explain that he would have advised you himself if his views had his time permitted," the letter stated.

"As important as this bill was to the nation and the world, it failed to get the complete support of the President's own party in Congress," Mr. Rodino said.

A. Miele Hits Rodino's Activity In TV and FCC

Alphonse A. Miele, 10th District Republican candidate for congress, today endorsed recent recommendations submitted by Democratic Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin, that would prohibit the Federal Communications Commission from considering as a favorable criterion in awarding TV franchises the fact that congressmen are stockholders in the applicant firm.

Miele referred to Proxmire's pending legislative action directed against the FCC's ruling in awarding a license to the Capital Cities Corporation of Albany. "The FCC ruling cited as a basis of elicit participation in the firm the consideration that five congressmen, among them Peter Rodino, Jr. of New Jersey's 10th District, are stockholders. Proxmire has fought the FCC ruling on the ground it constituted "political payola at its worst."

In joining in support of Proxmire's latest recommendations, Miele, who is opposing Rodino for the 10th District congressional seat, declared that such FCC criterion in awarding TV franchises must be changed in the interest of good government as well as protecting the interests of all citizens.

CHALLENGES RODINO
Miele again challenged Rodino to end his silence on the issue and declared that the congressman has refused to answer the question of who gave him prior advice that the stock "looked good" and also has refused to explain the full financial transaction involving the stock purchase which according to the amount of stock held by Rodino amounts to $60,000 at today's market value.

Miele said he will carry the issue before the voters of the 10th District until Rodino comes forth with the answers. Miele said newspapers across the nation which prominently reported the story of Proxmire's "political payola" charges attest to the importance of the issue which cannot be allowed to be forgotten just because it is an election year.

Veterans Ticket Group Endorses GOP Slate For Election Nov. 8

The Essex County Veterans Ticket Committee, representing veteran organizations in the county, has endorsed the straight Republican ticket, nationally and locally, in the November 8 General Election.

The Veterans, who have taken a poll for the past 12 years to determine the "Veterans Choice" this year upset precedence in voting down the line for a one party ticket. In all other samplings, a split ticket resulted.

At a meeting of the veteran representatives held Monday night in Biase's Restaurant, 451 Bloomfield Avenue, Newark, the final vote of the representatives showed the Nixon-Lodge ticket receiving 110 votes to 84 by the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Other winners showed Clifford P. Case the victor over his Democratic rival Thorn Lord by a vote of 126 to 57. In the 19th Congressional District, Alphonse A. Miele heavily outscored Democratic incumbent Peter Rodino as did Frank Palmieri over Democratic incumbent Hugh Addonizio in the 11th C.D. In the 12th district, Republican George Wallhauser ran away with the race against Robert Peacock, the Democrat.

Heaviest vote getters proved to be Dominic A. Cundari for Freeholder with 146 votes and Anthony Giuliano for County Register with 135 votes.

Edward Simandl, chairman of the Veterans Ticket Committee promised that the "will of the veterans will be backed by the most active and hard-hitting campaign in the 12-year history of our group."

The veterans group also passed a resolution demanding a State Legislative investigation of Rutgers University for permitting five students to invite Premier Khrushchev to address the University student body.

The State of New Jersey

Leads the Way!

AND FIRST IN THE WORLD—
NEW JERSEY'S LARGEST SAVINGS BANK,
THE HOWARD SAVINGS INSTITUTION,
INAUGURATES
INSTANT SIGNATURE VERIFICATION
FOR SPEEDIER CUSTOMER SERVICE
AT ANY AND ALL
HOWARD TELLER WINDOWS

Only in the State of New Jersey, only at The Howard Savings Institution, may you walk up to any teller window—inside, on the main banking floor or, outside, at one of The Howard's unique walk-up or extra-hours windows—and get speedier banking service than ever possible heretofore, thanks to The Howard's new Autho-Visor system!

This swift and extraordinarily safe system of instant customer signature verification is but the beginning of a revolutionary concept in banking—a concept providing for the speediest possible customer service without any reduction in personnel—a concept triggered by the foresight of those who guide the policies and operations of New Jersey's largest savings bank, The Howard Savings Institution.

HERE'S HOW THE SYSTEM WORKS—

First, your signature is "scrambled"

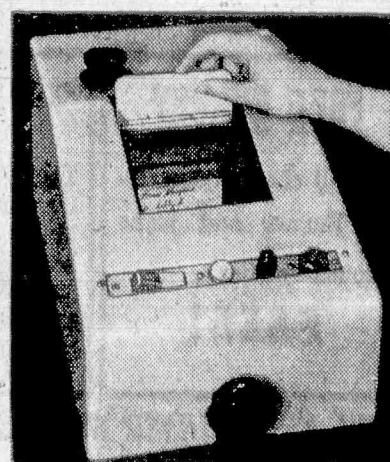

through The Howard's exclusive photo-optic secret coding unit. Then this "scrambled" or coded signature is accurately positioned mechanically in your passbook, registered for automatic reading at any one of The Howard's exclusive decoding units placed at each and every Howard teller window. Neither the naked eye—nor any similar "decoding" machine that may be installed in any other financial institution—will be able to decipher your coded signature! However, whether you present your passbook for a withdrawal at a Howard office in Newark, South Orange or North Caldwell, any Howard teller can insert your book in an Autho-Visor decoder and in 4 seconds—without taking the time to leave his window to check signature files—read the "scrambled" signature to verify the signature on your withdrawal slip. This will mean greater safety and faster service when the installation is completed.

A depositor's signature and address on a new account card in our files.

The same signature and address, "scrambled" by our exclusive photo-optic secret coding unit, entered in a Howard passbook.

Passbook inserted in one of The Howard's exclusive decoding units for instant signature and address verification.

New Jersey is the first state, The Howard the first bank, to have this system—leading the way in bigger, better electronic banking service!

Belleville 114th Company Of 1942 Planning Reunion

Members of the 114th Signal, Radio, Intelligence Company, U. S. Army will celebrate their separation from the Army by holding a dinner and dance Saturday evening, October 15 at the Military Park Hotel.

Approximately 25 Belleville young men gathered together at the local high school where they were given the usual send-off Wednesday, October 21, 1942 to join with their fellow Americans to help preserve our freedom of democracy.

After arriving at Fort Dix, in mid-afternoon on that same day, they were immediately processed and ready for duty.

One week later, they arrived at Camp Crowder, Missouri and formed the 114th Company at which time some 30 residents from the old first ward of Newark were included.

During the following 16 months they received training which included six months on maneuvers in Tennessee.

In February, 1944 they boarded the liner Mauertania and arrived in Liverpool, England. Training in England was in the Southern Section, until they were shipped to France in August of 1944.

Rabbi V. Cohen
Tells Message Of Holy Days

(The following is a special message by Rabbi Victor Cohen concerning the High Holy Days.
Rabbi Cohen is with the Congregation Ahavath Achim, Academy Street, Belleville.)

BY RABBI VICTOR COHEN

These are days of turmoil and anxiety. From international relations to personal relations the situation is far from friendly, understanding and cooperative.
Man has lost his sense of balance in his existence in the world.

The Existentialists are not far from being wrong in their analysis of man and the world. In fact some of their solutions can be accepted for our ills. Simone de Beauvoir once wrote "Man is not a stone or a plant, and cannot calmly rest his case on the fact that he is present in the midst of the world; man is man only by his refusal to be passive."

The message of the High Holy Days is more than "not being passive." It calls upon man to so involve himself in this universe to the end that he will continuously be able to create.
His objective is to be a good partner with the Divine in the perpetual creation of the world.

The Jewish people throughout the world will observe ten days of penitence. The days begin with Rosh Hashanah (The New Years Day) and will conclude on October 1st, the day of Atonement.
The penitence will not necessarily be in the form of confession, but more of self analysis and revitalization. One will analyze himself in relation to himself, his community and the Divine.

The Day of Penitence will remind us that we must constantly be aware of ourselves. We must constantly scrutinize our behavior and bring out the best that is within us. Being co-creators with God we must work for peace within ourselves and in the world.

May we so work as to allow mankind to bring the Divine into our hearts, minds and world.

LOW COST

Some home owners have found they can construct a full basement for less than the cost of a

Jr. Democrats Register 210 in Town

Town Democratic Chairman Ralph Vara has only the highest praise for the above group of Junior Democrats. Vara said these teenagers conducted a registration drive which resulted in about 210 new voters in Belleville. The Junior Demo-

Gary Colehammer Was Last Mr. Mystery Teen

Last week's Mystery Teen was Gary Colehammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Colehammer of 87 Rossmore Place. Gary, a senior at Belleville High School, is a boy with a wide field of interests.

Playing saxophone and clarinet, Gary's musical activities include the Belleville High School Varsity and Dance Bands and a small group of his own. Athletically minded, this Mystery Teen was a member of last year's Junior Varsity Crew and may be pulling an oar for the Varsity this Spring.

With all these activities Gary still manages to maintain a "B" average.

His outside interests include De Molay, Methodist Youth Fellowship and a certain sophomore named Barbara Gray.

As a hobby, Gary enjoys mechanical drawing. He hopes to become an architect.

Mickey Granine Makes 'Big Time' on Trombone; Now in TV, Night Clubs

Mickey Granine of 8 Celia Terrace, Belleville is considered one of the top trombonists in the country today and has a rather unique background.

He studied under the tutelage of three noted trombone teachers: Michael Skislak, Professor Leon Bly and Maurice Grupp. His initial instruction came at the age of six when the extended instrument was taller than the pupil.

He progressed rapidly and at the age of eight played his first concert with the Pennsylvania Symphony Orchestra. Music critics hailed him "A musical find" and predicted he would some day step into Tommy Dorsey's shoes.

In 1950 Metronome Magazine published a feature story of his life titled "Mom makes a star" a title well befitting the story for she was instrumental in making him the success he has well become.

ALL STATE BAND

During his four years in high school, Mickey played first trombone in the "New Jersey all state High School Band." After graduation he enrolled in the Juilliard School of Music and devoted his out of class time to professional engagements in radio, television and movies and appeared in all media with Paul Whiteman, Arthur Godfrey, Horace Heidt and Phil Silvers, just to mention a few.

After completion of his army service Mickey toured with the top bands. His last engagement with the late Tommy, Jimmy Dorsey of television fame, directed by Lee Castle Mickey, filling the spot "just as predicted, left vacant by the death of the great Tommy."

He left the band to accept a position with the famed "starlet stage band of the Roxy Theatre in New York City, a position he held until the theatre closed in May.

At present he works in the ABC and NBC networks and as a member of the band on "Play Your Hunch" with Merv Griffin.

MAKING RECORDS

In addition he does recordings for Columbia and Kopp records and recently completed albums for Carmen McRae and Lena Horne and appeared with Lena at the Waldorf Astoria for six weeks.

He is currently appearing nightly at the Camelot Club in New York with Vic Damone.

Mickey is one of the truly enviable instrumentalists capable of handling any type of composition, smut, sizzling jazz or symphonic.

When his busy schedule permits he teaches for talented students. One of them a girl trombonist, Sue Mandell appeared recently on What's My Line with John Daley.

We Stopped Bloomfield at the Goal!

THE ARROW (lower right) points to the ball — the heavy white line is the goal line. The scene was during the second quarter of Saturday's Belleville-Bloomfield dual when referee Bill Dioguardi shows the Bellboys, "they got this much," or about an inch. If the Belleville line stood up as well as it did in the new three plays—the Blue and White would have two victories instead of two defeats on their record. Bloomfield drove thru the middle three times but each play was stopped the same one-inch away from the TD by the super powered Belleville line.

Bloomfield Bombs Belleville At Foley Field With 20-0 Win

BY DOM GIOVACHINO

Belleville High's football squad was tamed for the second straight week of the new grid season, Saturday. This time it was by the Bloomfield Bengals, 20-0, at Foley Field, Bloomfield.

For the first two games of the season, the Bellboys have scored but once, in the first period of their first game with East Orange, and have remained unproductive for seven straight quarters.

Belleville threatened early in the first period, forcing Bloomfield deep into their own territory. Upon taking a punt on the Bloomfield 31, the Bellboys, stalled for the first two downs pulled a nice pass play from quarterback Joe Latore to halfback Frank Annichiarico netting 15 yards.

However the Blue and Gold failed to gain any ground in the next four downs and Bloomfield took over on their own 19-yard line.

Incidentally, Latore had been quarterbacking in the first quarter, as the regular signal-caller, George Sheridan, was playing fullback for the injured John Herbert.

BAD BREAKS

This drive was Belleville's first and last serious threat to scoring, although several bad breaks prevented other threats from materializing.

These came late in the second period, while the score was 7-0. On second down, Frank Annichiarico took a handoff from George Sheridan on the Belleville 46, and raced to the Bloomfield 5 before being driven out of bounds. However, the play was called back for a 15-yard penalty against the Bellboys.

Then a few plays later on first down, Sheridan tossed a nice pass to Annichiarico from the Bloomfield 44, the halfback being tackled on the opponent's 10-yard stripe. This play too was called back for a 15-yard penalty.

These two plays could have easily turned the game around, but instead their only effect was a little demoralizing.

The Bengals' first score came in the second period. Belleville had put up a marvelous goal line stand on their one-yard line as the Bengals failed to score from there in four plays.

However, a few minutes later, the Bengals were back to the one again, this time getting the TD on a plunge by fullback Richie Zarro. Zarro then kicked the extra point.

SECOND SCORE

The Bengals' second score was in the third period on a 13-yard sprint by halfback Angelo Venezia. Bloomfield had driven from their own 37 in eight plays. Zarro's second kick was good.

The final touchdown came a few minutes later, as Bloomfield had taken over on downs on their own 40. On the first play, Venezia scooted around left end the necessary 60 yards for the tally. Zarro's kick missed.

Zarro was also a defensive star for the Bengals, making tackle after tackle, and getting into every play. He no doubt was a big help to the Bloomfield cause, who were missing their ace passer, Larry Welle. Joe Bocchino replaced him in the Belleville game, doing an adequate job for the Bengals.

The summaries:

Bloomfield 0 7 13 0-20
Bloomfield — Zarro, 1 plunge (Zarro kick).
Bloomfield — Venezia 13 runs (Zarro kick).
Bloomfield — Venezia 60 runs (kick failed).

Recreation Football Has Good Opening of Season

Recreation Football season started with a game between the Varsity Club and the Lions Club teams Saturday at the Municipal Stadium. This game was followed by a contest between the Elks Club and the Kiwanis Club. The winners in these lightweight games were the Varsity Club and the Elks Club.

On Sunday afternoon, before the Iron Dukes games, the Recreation Heavyweight League opened fire. In the first game the Chets Cleaners defeated the DeBacco Brothers 26-0. Despite the score the play was tight all the way in this game. In the second game the Federal Industries team squeezed by the Jolly Cleaners by a slim 7-6 margin.

Spectators at the Saturday morning games were entertained at half time by the Recreation Twirlers. The Recreation Cheerleaders were on hand to pep up both the Lightweight and the Heavyweight games.

Commissioner George F. Kieran commended the coaches of the leagues for the splendid job too. One drawback this weekend for Belleville will be the absence of fullback John Herbert who picked up a bad ankle sprain in the opening game with East Orange.

The Maroon squad, to be sure, is very powerful. Led by George Hossenlopp, Nutley boasts one of the finest offensive teams around today. Last weekend, for example, Nutley made 17 first downs, completed eight of 18 passes, rushed a total of 180 yards and gained another 106 yards in the air.

NEED BREAKS?

One thing which would help Belleville would be a few breaks in the right direction. Coaches Ed Berlinski and Tom Testa can recall how bad breaks hurt them in the first two games.

If things could only go "our" way, a victory over Nutley would mean more than a whole string of wings.

The records show that Nutley has always held the key to Belleville, having won the last six games between the two schools. Every year the winner receives or retains a trophy with the memo of the victory inscribed.

The lineups for Saturday's contest, as announced yesterday by the two coaches, are as follows:

NUTLEY

Allentown Copperheads Nip Dukes 17-9 in Penna.; Appicella Scores Lone TD

BY JOHN BASILE

ALLENTOWN, PA.—An underdog Allentown Copperhead eleven, taking full advantage of all breaks, edged the favored Belleville-Nutley Iron Dukes 17-9 here Saturday night before an overflow crowd of 7,800 fans. The Copperheads struck swiftly for two touchdowns and a field goal, within two minutes during the final period to overcome a 9-0 Duke bulge built-up after three periods.

The victory was the first for Allentown after three consecutive defeats, while the defeat gave the Dukes an identical 1-3 mark.

The passing combination of Dave Getter to six foot, three-inch end, Tom Vernon, ex-Michigan University wingman, accounted for both Copperhead touchdowns; the plays covering four and 30 yards, respectively. Vernon, released September 22 by the Boston Patriots (AFL) scored the other Allentown touchdown last Sunday against the Union County All-Stars. He has made a tremendous difference in the Allentown offensive. Reserve quarterback Getter also converted after both scores as well as booting a 15-yard field goal for icing for the cake.

End Bob Marcy of the Dukes balanced that one with a 16-yarder late in the second quarter and Tom Appicella easily the best lineman on the field, recovered two fumbles and rambled over from the 15 after intercepting Bob Rush's pass on the last play of the third quarter.

Once again the Dukes gained a substantial edge in statistics, as they rolled up 260 yards to Allentown's 216 limiting the Allentown running game to 81 yards net. The Dukes showed a well balanced offensive pattern as they divided their yardage in a 140 rushing, 120 passing manner. Further they edged the Keystone 15-13 in first downs. Unfortunately they still pay off in points.

Cary Wills filled the air with passes completing 10 in 28 attempts; Lou Borelli, his chief target, caught five to gain 84 yards. Chuck and Don Munford together ran 137 yards with Chuck picking up 89 of those yards on 18 carries.

The Dukes frittered away two scoring opportunities in the first half recovering no fewer than three Allentown fumbles. The first two penetrations carried to the 26 and the nine, respectively. The last Duke drive of the half fizzled on the 11, before Marcy kicked his field goal.

CLOSE SCORE

Allentown came very close only once during the opening half as they took Barnes short, attempted outside kickoff on the Duke 48, following the field goal. The game ended their drive on the Duke three, after Bob Rush had hit for three big passes, the first two to Vernon for gains of 13 and 15 yards and the last to Bob Toughill for 18.

The third quarter was all Iron Dukes. Fred Sperduto recovered Getter's fumble of a Marcy punt on the Allentown 35, just eight plays after the third period started. Don Munford went off tackle for two before a clipping penalty pushed the Dukes back to mid-

Philadelphia Will Meet Iron Dukes Here This Sunday

The Belleville - Nutley Iron Dukes return home to face another powerful Keystone State Eleven, the Media Giants from West Philadelphia, Pa., on Sunday afternoon, October 9 at Belleville Municipal Stadium.

This week should see the return to action of Babe Conforti and John Pucciarelli, hard-running halfbacks who have been sidelined with injuries. Dick Bartolazzi, speedy fullback may also be back, as may star line backer Carl Borino.

Coach Pete Spera has signed end, John Reid (6'2", 220 lbs.) just released by the Jersey Vikings. Spera is also hoping to announce the signing of two more big interior linemen, as well as another passer to help spell Cary Wills at quarterback. It appears that former star quarterback, Frank Puleo, will be out at least until early November, if not for the season.

Bellboys Beat Nutley HS In Cross-Country Match

BY ROGER WARTELL

ERNIE STEFANELLI Finishes first for BHS

After defeating Nutley last Wednesday by the score of 23-32, the Belleville cross country team met with disaster as they were badly beaten by Montclair and Passaic Valley. The Mounties conquered the Bellboys at Belleville Park on Friday 19-36.

This was followed by 15-40 defeat at the hands of Passaic Valley on Monday. Both of the last two teams are undefeated and regarded by many as the best in the state. The Belleville harriers will play Barringer and Kearny in their next two meets and will try to even up their 2-4 record.

In their fourth meet of the season, the Blue and Gold runners did what many Belleville teams have failed to do—beat Nutley. Although Nutley took first place with Allen Warhurst, the Bellboys won the meet by taking five out of the next six places. Ernie Stefanelli was the first Bellboy across the line in the time of 13:45. He was followed by Jim Harvey in 14:05. Don Bender took fourth for the Maroon, but after John Herbert, Belleville High's regular fullback, will probably miss the game with Nutley Saturday due to a sprained ankle suffered during the East Orange game. His services definitely will be missed, as they were in last week's Bloomfield game.

Incidentally, Coach Ed Berlinski did a bit of experimenting Saturday by placing quarterback George Sheridan at the fullback spot and playing sophomore Joe Latore as the signal-caller. He kept the arrangement for one period, then put Sheridan back at quarterback and used Tony DeTerza at fullback.

If this Nutley team gets by Belleville, they would have to beat Montclair, Clifton and Bloomfield to win the State title.

In Belleville's first two games, the Bellboys have been unable to tame the Panthers and the Bengals. Perhaps Belleville wasn't cut out for fighting wild animals and maybe they'll do better with colors—like Maroon this Saturday.

By ROGER WARTELL

With the World Series already started it seems a little late for predictions. The Pirates, who have not won a pennant since 1927, will be playing their hardest in an attempt to annex the world title. Although the Pirates have an edge defensively, they lack the hitting power of the Yankees—but it still will be a fight all the way down to the finish.

The services of Carl Borino and Tony Addeo were sorely missed in the Iron Dukes game against the Allentown Copperheads. A belated rally by the Copperheads spoiled the Dukes' quest for their second victory. Coach Pete Spera will be making some changes until he hits on a winning combination.

The Belleville High football team is going to have a hard time in living up to last season's record. Although the squad seems to have a fairly strong defense, they haven't been able to get their offense to click. If there is any time for the Bellboys to start moving, it's this week against Nutley. Here's another hope for an upset.

ANGELO VENEZIA Scores Two Bloomfield TD's

Mrs. William Docherty Relives Tragic Lusitana Torpedoing; Son, Bill, Was Youngest Survivor

As the passengers embarked, mysterious men speaking with heavy accents mingled with the throngs on the dock, telling them "Don't go, the ship will never reach Liverpool. It is death."

Some of those aware of the warnings cancelled passage. Others counted on the speed of the liner, the first of the "five day" ships to outrun the U-boats, if any should dare threaten a passenger vessel.

The Lusitania, then the "Queen of the Seas", the fastest and the most luxurious liner afloat, raced east with all lights darkened, directly through the seas where the German subs lurked. The U-20 was one of four U-boats which lay in wait within sight of the Irish coast, barely ten miles off the lighthouse on Old Head of Kinsale at the mouth of Cork harbor.

To Mrs. Docherty, the drama of 45 years ago is strikingly vivid. Her own memory is fresh, but, in addition, she has a suit box filled with the yellowed clippings of British and American newspapers and magazines reciting the tragedy, many of them giving in detail the stories of the Nutley woman and her son.

"With my baby, I had a cabin two decks below the dining room in the second class quarters towards the stern," Mrs. Docherty recalled, this week, in discussing her memory of the events with The Belleville Times.

"I had gone late to luncheon, and, for the first time on the trip, I had carried my baby with me. I thank God that I did, because the water engulfed by cabin within minutes after the torpedo struck and had I left him there he would have been drowned."

"The torpedo hit the Lusitania just as I sat down to my meal, holding my baby on my lap. The boat shuddered because the first of the many explosions was severe enough to tear a hole two-decks high, deep under water. Passengers became hysterical and I was horrified."

Not knowing just what I should do, for I had no lifebelt, I stood to one side as other passengers ran across the sloping decks. As the Lusitania listed loose furniture and crockers slid across the deck and knocked many people over.

CLIMBED HIGHER

"An officer forbid me to return to my stateroom, telling me that it already was flooded. It was an act of Providence that I had taken my son with me that day. With the officer helping me, I climbed to higher decks. All the time, the Lusitania listed more and more to her starboard side."

"As we reached the promenade deck we found that all of the life-boats there had been launched. With my baby in one arm, I had to climb, one-handed, a rope ladder to the boat deck. The captain, William Turner, who stood on the bridge kept calling: "Women and children first."

"There were but two lifeboats left, but the next to the last was so full that there was no room. The last lifeboat filled rapidly, but two men stepped back on the deck and I got in with my baby. It was just a step because the liner was already so far on her side that the lifeboat was already afloat as it hung in its davits."

"Just as we pulled away, one of the four great funnels crashed and we were barely a hundred feet away when the stern of the Lusitania rose steeply and the ship nosed down into the sea, to disappear in a great swirl which threatened to suck up into the whirlpool."

"BABY GAVE ME COURAGE"

"We were on the water four hours when a fishing smack picked us up and by midnight landed us. When we reached our haven the lifeboat was a sorry sight. One woman lay dead in the bottom. All of us were drenched by the waves, and worn out by excitement and fear. Had it not been for my baby, I might not have had the courage to carry on."

It was 45 years ago, on Saturday, May 7, that Mrs. William Docherty of 299 Chestnut Street, Nutley, sat at lunch in the second cabin dining salon for a last meal aboard the Lusitania, holding in her arms her two-month-old infant son, Billy, when a torpedo fired by the German submarine U-20 struck the liner on her starboard side and sank her within sight of the Irish coast. With sincere thanksgiving she kept the anniversary of the catastrophe.

Her husband owns the Jersey Appliance Company at 529 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

1,198 WERE KILLED

Mrs. Docherty still lives the thrilling and frightening moments between the first explosion and her flight, carrying her baby in her arms, across the sloping decks and up the many steep stairs to find a haven in the last lifeboat to get away before the four-stacker dove, by her bow, 20 minutes after her torpedoing, carrying 1,198 passengers and crew, 124 of them Americans, including Elbert Hubbard and Charles Frohman, to their death.

Her son who was to be the youngest survivor of the Lusitania, lived to become one of the football greats in Nutley High School, an All-American at Temple University, a four-letter sportsman and for the last 23 years has been football and golf coach at Haverford College, in Haverford, Pa.

In his own way, he paid back the Germans by enlisting in the U. S. Navy and winning promotions in action both in the Atlantic and Pacific to the rank of lieutenant commander. After World War II service, he returned to active duty with the Navy in the Korean War.

The Dochertys were residents of Long Island when, on May 1, 1915, Mrs. Docherty boarded the Lusitania with her infant son for a visit with her parents in England, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Irving, in Hexham, a market-town 20 miles west of Newcastle, on the River Tyne, in Northumberland County. They moved to Nutley immediately after her return to this country, and observed the first anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania in a new home in Willow Place here.

Except for a rush to the pier for a 10 o'clock morning sailing which prevented the father from reading his morning paper, Mrs. Docherty might not have been on the ill-fated liner. The family had discussed long the advisability of crossing the ocean in the second year of World War I, when the Germans had declared an open war against all British and French shipping.

Mr. Docherty had planned a business trip to Alaska, and it was because he was to be absent for some time that Mrs. Docherty decided to go home and show her new son to her parents.

Because of the early sailing the family reached the pier at 9 o'clock. Ten o'clock came and passed, as did 11 o'clock and noon and the liner remained at her berth. The explanation was that another British liner, the Carinthia, was expected momentarily bringing from Canada 300 women and children who were returning to England because of the Canadian mobilization.

READ WARNING

Unable to wait for the sailing Mr. Docherty left the dock at noon and on his way back to Westbury, Long Island, he bought a copy of The New York Herald. On the shipping page, alongside an advertisement of the Cunard Line announcing the sailing of the Lusitania, another advertisement struck his eye. It read:

NOTICE!

TRAVELLERS intending to embark on the Atlantic voyage are reminded that a state of war exists between Germany and her allies and Great Britain and her allies; that the zone of war includes the waters adjacent to the British Isles; that, in accordance with formal notice given by the Imperial German Government, vessels flying the flag of Great Britain, or of any of her allies, are liable to destruction in those waters and that travellers sailing in the war zone on ships of Great Britain or her allies do so at their own risk.

IMPERIAL GERMAN EMBASSY

Washington, D. C.

April 22, 1915

The father realized immediately that the German Embassy's warning was timed to refer only to the Lusitania which, it was generally rumored, was to carry five million dollars of gold bullion to England to bolster her war economy.

He turned and headed for the pier as fast as a taxicab would take him, but when he reached the dock, the Lusitania had already backed into the river and was on its way. He returned to Long Island and cancelled his Alaskan trip and waited.

It later developed that at least Captain Turner went down with his ship but was pulled from the sea and survived. The 722 passengers who survived were saved chiefly, by the prompt action of the assistant keeper of the Old Head light. He had had the Lusitania under observation, with his glasses, and saw the torpedo hit. He telephoned the news to Kinsale which relayed news of the catastrophe to Cork and to Queenstown, whence dozens of trawlers put out to save lives. Trawlers which were fishing near by also picked up passengers from the boats and rafts.

"My boy was the only real baby to survive the torpedoing," Mrs. Docherty recalls, "and at Queenstown where the fishing

CYO Again To Hold Journalism Classes

Essex County CYO again will sponsor a journalism course for parochial school students in the Seventh and Eighth Grades. The three-lecture course will cover the various phases of reporting and organizing procedures, as well as the final stages of publishing material.

At the conclusion of the course a contest will be held to determine the outstanding individual newspaper or magazine published by the youngsters.

The program was so well attended last year that courses will be offered in two schools to accommodate more students. Classes will be held at St. Antoninus School, Newark, beginning Oct. 10 at 3:45 P.M. for three consecutive Mondays.

Classes will be held also at St. John's School, Newark, beginning Oct. 14 at 3:45 P.M. for the same period.

Youngsters interested in participating may obtain registration cards at their local parishes. There is no fee, but all students must be accompanied by either a member of the faculty or a parent.

STUDY IN SHADOWS

Fences can be attractive studies in shadow patterns if you use an offset board-on-board design with popular western red cedar lumber.

THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!

It's All Pontiac! on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR! Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

New Hunters Required To Study Four Hours

All young hunters between 14 and 21 years of age who have never had a New Jersey hunting license before, must take a four-hour course and pass an examination before a permit will be issued for the season which opens early in November. The youths will have to take the "Hunters' Safety Course" sponsored by the National Rifle Association in conjunction with the State Division of Fish and Game.

There will be two courses this year, one for hunters who use a rifle and one for outdoorsmen who hunt with bow and arrow.

A four-hour course, divided into two two-hour sessions, will be administered by the Juvenile Aid Bureau of the Essex County Sheriff's Department. The course will be held at the new Newark Boy's Club on Broadway, Newark, starting on Sept. 21 at 7 o'clock. Classes will be held every Wednesday thereafter from 7 to 9 o'clock.

In charge of the program is Detective Jack Bennett, of Park Avenue. He said that Nutley or Belleville youngsters who are thinking about getting a license should appear in person any Wednesday night. No advance registration is required.

Part of the time will be devoted to the showing of films. The idea of the state law is to properly prepare the youth on the handling of firearms. "If we can save one life by giving this program, the project will be a tremendous success," said Bennett.

Bennett pointed out that Nutley and Belleville youngsters who have a hunting license from last year are excluded from taking the test.

Bennett predicts that more boys than ever before will take the course this year.

Dukes At Allentown

field. Following an incomplete pass, Don Munford was interfered with, giving the Dukes an automatic first down on the 33. Don then swept both ends for eight and two yards giving the Dukes a first down on the 23. Lou Borelli took Wills pass, on the 17 and was stopped on the 14.

Chuck Munford then bolted to the 12 for another first down. Chuck then drove to the seven before Rush intercepted Wills' pass on the one and returned it to the 31. Forced to punt on fourth down, Getter boomed one to the Iron Duke 35. Bo Munford picked up two, Chuck went for seven more on a trap play, before the big fullback came back with a 20-yard gainer to the Allentown 36.

Three plays failed to gain and Marcy punted out of bounds on the Copperhead two-yard line. Two running plays gained only two yards before Rush daringly attempted to pass out from his own end zone.

Tom Appicella snared the pass away from Bob Toughill on the 15, cut back and raced over for an Iron Duke touchdown. Marcy's kick was blocked and the Dukes then led 9-0. Frank Barnes kickoff was returned to the Allentown 30 as the quarter ended.

ANOTHER SCORE

The Copperheads then drove 70 yards to a score on 14 plays. The long gainer was a 31-yard pass to Vernon on the 10. Three plays later, Getter hit Vernon in the end zone for the score. Getter converted making the count, 9-7, Dukes.

Getter's kickoff went into the end zone and the Dukes took over on their own 20. A loose ball in the Duke backfield was recovered on the 20, by tackle, Tom Gorman, for Allentown. Toughill carried four times to a first down on the 10. On fourth down, Getter booted a 15-yard field goal to give the Keystone eleven a 10-9 lead.

Chuck Munford returned Getter's kickoff to the 30 but Toughill intercepted Wills' short pass on the line of scrimmage. Tom Vernon then went down from his left end position, faked the Duke defenders out of their shoes, and snagged Getter's 30-yard pass in the left corner of the end zone for the clincher. Getter calmly added the extra point for a 17-9 bulge.

The valiant Dukes had one last gasp left however. After a clipping penalty pushed the Dukes back to their 15, Wills hit Perry Mayers on the 27 for a first down. Cary then hit Lou Borelli on the 38 for another first down, before he rolled out for 10 more to the 48 and still another first down.

Wills then found Borelli loose on the Copperhead 20, and the big end moved to the five, before Vernon caught him from behind. Borelli was shaken up on the play and removed from the game. The play covered 47 yards.

Chuck Munford dove for one, and Wills' pass was incomplete before Vernon intercepted Wills pass on the goal line and returned it 40 yards. Wills caught him from behind with a desperation tackle. That was the ball game.

NATIONWIDE SURVEY

A nationwide survey of aircraft and missile industry manpower reveals that 400,000 were employed in missile production in 1959, a 60 per cent rise in two years. The survey was made by the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security in cooperation with State agencies.

BELLEVILLE'S LINE proved strong in the early period of Saturday's Bloomfield contest. Above Belleville's Puciarello returns the Bengals' kickoff to the 40-yard line when the line pushed ahead for several first downs.

INTERCEPTION BY BLOOMFIELD: Belleville's Richie Luzzi (22) just couldn't grab a high pass intended for him in the last quarter Saturday. The result was that Bloomfield's Dennis Walker intercepted the toss on his own 10 yard stripe. The photo was taken as a fraction of a second before Walker got a firm grip on the ball.

Republicans Say Democrats Are Wasting Money

Appointment of former State Senator Alfred C. Clapp, Sheriff Neil G. Duffy and Freeholder Leslie Blau as co-campaign managers for the Essex Republican candidates for Freeholder, Supervisor, County Clerk and Register has been announced by Robert W. Kean, Essex County Republican Chairman.

In announcing the appointments, Mr. Kean said: "Invisible government in our county in which the ruthless, domineering Democrat, County machine has ruled Essex for two years through its puppet elected officials, who blindly follow its orders, has resulted in waste of taxpayers' money, creation of unnecessary expensive jobs for political patronage and demoralization of county departments and commissions.

"In its place, the Republican candidates offer a program of progressive, honest, efficient government with a return to the type of administration which for near-

Entertainment Tax Explained

Kenneth O. Hook, Acting District Director of Internal Revenue, today reaffirmed the position of the Service with respect to the imposition of the cabaret tax.

This tax was imposed under certain provisions of the 1939 and 1954 Internal Revenue Codes, Mr. Hook observed. While the rates have varied, both codes imposed a tax on all amounts paid for admission, refreshment, service or merchandise at any roof garden, cabaret or other similar place furnishing a public performance for profit, if any payment or part thereof entitled the patron to be present during any portion of the performance. Prior to May 1, 1960, the rate was 20 per cent. Effective May 1, 1960, the rate has been reduced to ten per cent.

Liability for the tax is imposed upon the person receiving pay-

BHS Junior Varsity Wins Second Tilt from Bloomfield

BY ROGER WARTELL

The Belleville junior varsity won its second game of the season by defeating Bloomfield Monday 12-7. Had they not fumbled the ball so many times the Bellboys would have run up an even greater score. Belleville fumbled no less than five times with one of the fumbles leading to the Bloomfield tally. Due to the fine work of the defensive unit led by Nick Christiano and Bob Puciarello the Blue and Gold was able to contain the Bengals attack.

Pat Moreno received the kickoff from Bloomfield and ran it back to the 25-yard line. Led by their offensive line the Bellboys marched for 75 yards in nine plays for the score. Walter Orth and Vince Sorrentino played a big part in opening up holes in the Bengal line. The Bellboys scored on a freak play in which Pat Moreno recovered a fumble by his teammate at the 30-yard line and raced over for the score. The pass for the extra point was no good.

Irvington Stops Freshmen, 6-0

The freshman football team, coached by George Nucera, lost its first game of the year against Irvington.

The Bellboys lost by the score of 6-0 in a very hard fought game. Joe Del Guercio did some excellent and surprising kicking for Belleville and should be valuable to the team.

The freshmen, led by quarterback John Visco played a good all around game. Irvington scored on a pass play late in the third quarter for the only tally of the day. Although Belleville's passing wasn't to good, their running attack worked fairly well and is to be expected to develop as the season progresses.—R. W.

that it was all Belleville. Bob Cornish, Robert Baab, and George Bauer finished close together to round out Belleville's scoring.

In the Montclair meet, the Blue and Gold didn't have the depth that the Mounties had. Montclair placed six men under 13:24 while Belleville only placed one. The race was won by Jim Stovel of Montclair in the time of 12:49. He was followed by Ernie Stefanelli who broke his previous best time with a 12:58 clocking. The Mounties then swept the next five places with Pete Haniwalt, 13:09, Jim Daly 13:21, Bruce Bartel 13:22 and Richard Adams 13:24.

One second behind Adams was Jim Harvey. He was followed by his Bellboy teammates Bob Babb, Bob Cornish and George Bauer. Although every Belleville runner bettered his time on the home course, it wasn't enough to stop the powerful Montclair team from winning.

ment of the charges, regardless of whether it is collected from the patron as a separate charge. Mr. Hook illustrated with the following example:

"Party arrived at 7 P.M. for dinner and refreshments. At 9 P.M., the bill was presented and paid. Floor show and/or dancing commenced at 9:15 P.M., and the party remained for the entertainment."

In the above instance, the proprietor is liable for the tax on the full amount of the check, regardless of whether he collected the tax from the patron.

Charges collected prior to commencement of the entertainment are not taxable only if the patron does not remain for any part of the performance.

ciarelli the Blue and Gold was able to contain the Bengals attack.

Pat Moreno received the kickoff from Bloomfield and ran it back to the 25-yard line. Led by their offensive line the Bellboys marched for 75 yards in nine plays for the score. Walter Orth and Vince Sorrentino played a big part in opening up holes in the Bengal line. The Bellboys scored on a freak play in which Pat Moreno recovered a fumble by his teammate at the 30-yard line and raced over for the score. The pass for the extra point was no good.

Bloomfield took the lead from Belleville in the second quarter as they capitalized on a Belleville fumble. Recovering the ball on the Belleville 30, the Bengals ran for the remaining yardage in three plays with the last one being an end run good for 20 yards. Their run for the extra point was good so at the end of the half they led 7-6.

The Bellboys iced the game in the last quarter as they again sustained a drive good for 70 yards. Frank Zinna quarterbacked the team to pay dirt in five plays. Joe Valvano and Pat Moreno grounded out the yardage with the Valvano scoring the TD on a 28-yard jaunt off tackle. In the final minutes of the game the Bellboys fought their way down to the Bloomfield one-inch line before being stopped on downs.

tions good for 167 yards, has definitely won the starting spot at left end. The other three members of the Dukes starting backfield (along with Wills) will be the Munford brothers, Bo and Don at the halves and Chuck at fullback.

The Iron Dukes magnificent defense has held up the squad all year (except for the last quarter at Allentown) but we look for this to be the week when the Iron Duke long gainers will finally come through. On a hunch that the Dukes will be up for this one, we tab the Dukes winners, by about 20-7.

The Giants are big (but not ponderous), fast and strong. They are 1959, Philadelphia Area Semi-Pro champions, and feature a wide-open, razzle dazzle offense with lots of passing. Key man in this setup is quarterback and passer Billy Patterson (Illinois) who has completed better than 60 per cent of his tosses this year. Scat-back Bobby Lee (Muhlenberg) is a touchdown threat every time he carries the ball and has scored thrice this season.

Coach Bob Pollard's Media Squad averages about 210 lbs., a man on offense and 220 lbs., per man on defense.

Kickoff for the Iron Duke-Media Giants game will be at 2:30 P.M.

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that the Little League Heavyweights will be in action preceding the Iron Duke encounter. Parents and friends of the participants be admitted without charge from 12 noon until 12:30 P.M. At this time the gates will be closed and admissions sold for the Iron Duke game.

Republicans Fete Officers

Elect Ed Clegg Radio Club Head

Edward Clegg of 20 Grove Street last night was elected president of the Belleville Radio Club, Clegg fills an unexpired term left by president James Pritchard who is presently serving in the Armed Forces.

The session last night was in the Belleville Recreation House, 407 Joralemon Street. Other officers include Joseph Stauhn of WA2BNF, treasurer and William G. Hunt of K2UCY, secretary.

NEW CALL LETTERS
The Federal Communications Commission has granted a request and changed the call letters of the Belleville Radio Club from W2NOO to W2JUU. The new call letters formerly were used by the late Fred Yost, co-founder of the organization.

The FCC designated Hunt as trustee and custodian of the new club call. Hunt reports that Mrs. Yost, now living in Connecticut, was told of the FCC decision and he reports "she is grateful that her husband's call will be permanently on the air as a tribute to his memory."

The newly-elected president, the oldest member of the club, was the first to use the W2JUU call letters. Clegg put the call back on the air during a civil defense exercise this month. Clegg's own call is W2HNA.

Working on the request to the FCC for the new designation were Bill Fisher of W2CCK and Clegg. Membership in the Belleville Radio Club today includes about 25 amateurs throughout town.

operating radios during the storm included Joe Stauchs of WA2BNF, Ed Johnson of K2ORI, Ed Clegg of W2HNA and Charles Mantone of WA2DCS.

Hunt told The Times that "while the Belleville CD-DCA auxiliary and radio units have participated in several drills before with simulated incidents, this was the first time the units were activated in a genuine emergency operation."

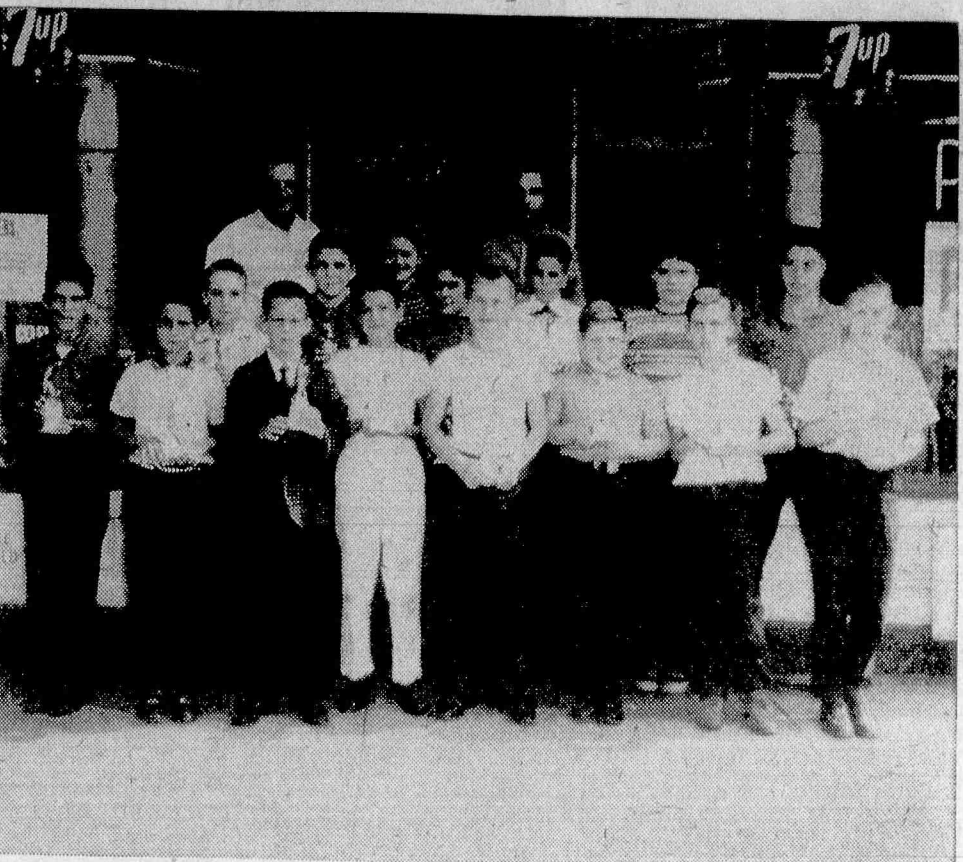

Acme Stores In Planned Merger

Claude W. Edwards, president of Alpha Beta Food Markets of California, and Paul J. Cupp, president of American Stores Company, based in Philadelphia, announce their managements have reached an understanding for a merger, subject to stockholder approval of both companies.

Alpha Beta's sales for the fiscal year ended July 31 in its 50 markets were over $91,000,000. American reported sales of $889,000,000 for the year ended April 2 in its 810 markets and stores. Combined sales currently are estimated at an annual rate of approximately one billion dollars.

Alpha Beta will continue to operate with the present management as a separate unit of American. The managements of both companies believe that the merger should be mutually advantageous and will help Alpha Beta meet the opportunity for growth in the Southern California area.

CD Police, Radio Active for Donna

Belleville Civil Defense headquarters was activated during Hurricane Donna. Activity centered around the auxiliary police and the radio divisions.

Local director, Ludwig Pesa, ordered the local headquarters activated early September 12, the day of the storm. A total of 24 auxiliary police officers were assigned to the town police department and remained on duty from 1 p.m. Monday to 12:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Auxiliary Police Deputy Chief Walter P. Weiss reports that the civil defense personnel assisted by guarding fallen wires and trees and directing traffic. The division has already been highly commended by Police Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan.

RADIO DIVISION

The radio division of the local CD office remained on the air throughout the storm. Radio operators reported the locations of fallen trees and points where electrical and telephone service had been disrupted.

Bill Hunt of K2UCY headed the Belleville control center. Others

A.A. Miele Issues Debate Challenge To Rep. Rodino

Alphonse A. Miele, 10th District GOP Congressional candidate, has charged Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr., with a feeble effort to cover up 12 years of ineffective legislating with an election time platform of "me-tooism."

Miele attacked Rodino's position of favoring everything for everybody just as the election approaches, but failing to explain why in 12 years in the Congress he was only able to get two bills enacted into law, despite the fact that his own political party controlled congress for ten of those 12 years.

Miele added: "Rodino's record constitutes one of the most inept legislative records in the annals of Congressional service. In addition to his ineffective legislative ability, his 12-year record of straight political party voting in the Congress speaks for itself when voters in the 10th District as themselves 'does he really mean he will represent us all, regardless of political affiliation?'"

"No one is particularly impressed either," Miele declared, "by Rodino's effort to claim he favored various legislation long before I did. Suffice to say that Rodino has had 12 years to make up his mind on what legislation he should support, but it is more significant that his position is rarely heard until election time."

"Let Rodino defend his record of extravagant spending of public funds; let him explain now his public spending votes have caused and made necessary a staggering increase in the national debt."

"I challenge him to debate these issues with me openly, because it is his record that is on trial, not mine. Rodino has called this attack on his record 'mud slinging,' but, regardless of what he calls it, I am determined to join the voters of my district in fighting for a change in Washington after 12 years of genuinely political, not genuinely responsive, representation."

JOB INJURIES

Job injuries last year disabled 1,970,000 American workers, the U. S. Labor Department reports. Of the total, 13,800 injuries resulted in death. The job injury toll represents a year's full-time employment of about 540,000 workers.

John B. Rooney to Head Rodino's Fall Campaign

Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr. (D., 10th District has announced that John B. Rooney of 72 Highfield Lane, Nutley, again will serve as his campaign manager in the forthcoming general election.

Rooney, an Essex County Democratic Committee worker for 39 years and former State Assemblyman, first served as the head of Rodino's campaign organization in 1956 when the congressman was re-elected despite a nationwide Republican landslide.

Rooney returned to that post in 1958 when Rodino was re-elected.

A native of Newark, Rooney was educated at Our Lady of Good Counsel School and St. Benedict's Prep and in 1917, he became associated with the Firemen's Insurance Company, now the America Fore Loyalty Group.

Mr. Rooney has had wide experience in government at the municipal, county and state levels. He was a member of the Newark Board of Adjustment for 15 years, was elected to the State

Plans Set For Columbus Parade

Connie Francis has been selected as the first queen ever to lead the Newark Columbus Day parade, which will be held on Broad Street in that city.

The program will start with a memorial service at 10 a.m. at the Columbus Monument in Washington Park. The ceremonies will be broadcast over station WVNJ.

Salvatore Bontempo, New Jersey State Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development, will serve as master-of-ceremonies. A program by the band at the New York Naval Base will be featured.

The parade will start at noon sharp. Representatives of civic, social, veterans, business, industrial, fraternal and political groups have promised to march in the parade, the theme of which will be "A Salute to New Newark. Americans All, Working Together." More than 30 floats are expected to participate with the sponsors being civic and business leaders in Essex County, and it has been reported that there will be more than 25 bands in the line of march.

Vincent Salerno is general chairman and Mayor Leo P. Carlini is honorary general chairman. Grand Marshal will be Joseph C. Nesto.

Many residents of Nutley are members of the general committee and will march in the procession.

In the evening several organizations will sponsor Columbus Day dinners and dances. One of these will be the dinner-dance held annually by Columbian Civic Club as a fund-raising effort. Each year at this affair two celebrities are given awards. This year the club has selected Mr. Bontempo and Miss Francis as the recipients of its awards.

Danny Hope is co-ordinator of the Columbus Day celebration and chairman of the entertainment committee of Columbian Civic Club, of which Fred Corrado is president.

Check your basement and throw out old newspapers and magazines, oily rags, broken furniture and rubbish which may have collected there. These are the things on which fires fepd.

Check your attic, and throw out old clothing, discarded furniture and other combustibles that would provide dangerous tinder if a fire should occur there.

When you buy electrical equipment, employ a qualified electrician to install it or to extend wiring. Such work should not be done by "do-it-yourself" household handymen.

Hospital Costs

The subject of hospital costs and the reasons behind their increase is one which has been generating a great deal of discussion. It is a topic of universal interest, since there are few people who do not come into contact, at some time or another, with their community hospital.

Unfortunately, while almost everyone has an opinion about hospital costs, there are few who have a real understanding of the reasons for their increase. Many of those who are critical of hospital costs are not taking into consideration the fact that the "product" their hospital dollars buy today is vastly superior to that of 20, or even 10, years ago.

Public opinion is going to play a great part in determining the future of our voluntary, non-profit hospitals and the quality of care and service they provide.

In the belief that once it becomes acquainted with the facts the public will reach sound conclusions, the New Jersey Hospital Association has prepared a series of six problems faced by New Jersey hospitals in controlling costs without sacrificing the quality of care they give their patients.

THE BEST IS EXPENSIVE

"To heck with the cost," a hospital administrator once said "let's save the patient."

This statement emphasizes that one of the most important elements in hospital costs is the human life, a factor which, paradoxically, cannot be valued in terms of dollars and cents.

Saving the patient, a goal of every hospital, has been made possible by the incredible advances in medical science in the last half century. Time was when hospitals were looked upon as convenient places to die.

But the character of hospitals has changed through the increase in knowledge and skill of physicians, through the introduction of new drugs and medicines such as the antibiotics, and through development of new equipment such as the cardiac Pacemaker which can start a halted heart beating again. Extended life, the restoration of health, has become the product of hospitals.

This has meant that, to guarantee a patient the best possible care, hospitals have had to buy or employ the best equipment, the finest facilities, the most highly trained skills - and the best is always expensive.

Hospitals are not in a position to quibble about price. There are no shortcuts to the best possible care of the patient. Hospitals figure that when you stack the cost of the cardiac Pacemaker - about $300-against the possibility of it saving a human life, it really isn't very expensive.

A few years ago, Grand Central Station in New York City began broadcasting music over its loudspeaker to its commuter crowds. The commuters raised a hue and cry against the music, not because they didn't like it, but because they couldn't control it. They resented being captive listeners.

Because they deal with human life, hospitals in a sense are a group of captive purchasers. And there is very little they can do about it.

They can never put price before quality in the things they buy. Many items have to be bought in the form of sealed individual ampoules, or sterile units that must be discarded after a single use.

For use as anesthesia, ether must be purchased by hospitals in cans no larger than one-quarter and one-half pounds, specifically labeled for that use. The United States Pharmacopeia, which regulates drug standards, dictates:

"Official ether to be used for anesthesia is directed to be specially packaged to avoid oxidation and the development of aldehydes or peroxides which are believed by many to render it unsuited for anesthetic use."

However, hospitals can purchase ether in larger cans, as a solvent, for use in the laboratory.

Other products also have to be purchased by hospitals packaged for medical use, generally in small containers and without the obvious financial benefits of bulk packaging.

Hospitals could buy their own chemicals and mix them in their own laboratories. But they don't. Because there can be no margin of error whatever, hospitals purchase the chemicals already mixed by the firms which manufacture them. The difference in cost is tremendous.

"Obviously, one administrator said, 'hospitals must hold to rigid standards. We do, and we pay for them.'"

What it costs a hospital to provide care to the patient is, of course, reflected in the patient's bill. In 1946, the average New Jersey general hospital spent $10.49 for each patient each day. Twelve years later, this figure had risen to $27.99, an increase of 167 per cent.

A trustee recently was discussing the hospital's responsibility for providing the best medical care it could, no matter what the cost.

He asked these questions: "Who is to determine whether or not a routine electrocardiogram should be performed on all patients over 40 years of age?"

Who is to decide that we should not buy a long-needed but expensive operating table? Who will say that we should cut down on our nursing service?"

This is the core of the hospital cost problem. Although hospitals are continually confronted with complaints about the "high" cost of their care, they have found no one who can answer these questions.

WHEN BUYING

When buying a home, either new or old, one good thing to look for is a home designed with wood floor joists, because wood has resilience, durability and strength.

REPEAT SHOW

One way to tie indoors and outdoors together in your home is to repeat the siding pattern inside on walls and even ceilings. Roughsawn western red-cedar, for instance, makes ideal wall paneling.

HOBBY CORNER

People who have a hobby like photography or ceramics like homes with basements, for it gives them space to work. Wood floors are also easier on the feet.

HIDDEN VALUES

Beauty is important in selecting a home, but most home buyers are learning that hidden values are equally as important. The frame of the house must be sturdy, built of good wood like Douglas fir to last for generations.

Jerome J. Salamone of 16 Maier Street has been promoted from associate professor to professor in chemical engineering at Newark College of Engineering. The announcement was made today by Dr. Robert W. Van Houten, president of the college.

Dr. Salamone, whose special field is heat transfer, joined the NCE faculty in 1948 after serving as an instructor for two years at Manhattan College. Jackson told The Belleville Times that "only a month or so ago, the Washington Avenue project was just one of 17 items listed on our work program." Jackson said he was "pleased" to see that the Belleville Chamber is moving ahead in a forward direction as is indicated "by the success the chamber has had with the Washington Avenue project."

The Belleville Chamber President, however, added that other committees are making "rapid contributions to Belleville within a very short time."

"I am delighted once again to help further the cause of Congressman Rodino's re-election. "Over the past 12 years, the congressman has established a record which has drawn the enthusiastic admiration of his colleagues and distinguished public officials all over the country."

"He has carried out his pledge of acting in the people's interest on all issues. He has been one of the mainstays of the nation's drive against Communism and for a defense sufficient to discourage any enemy from ever daring to threaten our shores."

"On domestic issues, Peter Rodino has raised his voice time and again for adequate housing, for decent wages and old-age, health and security measures. He has been a courageous champion of the small businessman."

"As our Congressman, Peter Rodino has always maintained an open door policy. His re-election will assure the people of the 10th District that they will continue to have a friend on whom they can call with their problems, a man who will be their spokesman in Congress."

WELCOMED IN INDIA

The glasses have found good use in India, according to Dr. Shree M. C. Modi, in charge of distribution in his nation. "Every pair, no matter how useless they might have been to the original wearer, finds a welcome second wearer in India. Bless you and keep sending us all you can spare," Dr. Modi told the volunteers recently. Dr. Modi's mission is one of hundreds throughout the world that "New Eyes" works with regularly. Unbroken plastic-framed glasses and sun glasses are carefully tested, classified and shipped to medical missions overseas where, for many people, the purchase of needed glasses would be an impossibility.

"New Eyes" does not solicit money for its purpose, but it does sell metals extracted from eyeglass frames, discarded jewelry and other items. With the money, it works in the United States to provide new prescription glasses and artificial eyes.

To this end, funds have been established with 70 hospitals in the U. S., Puerto Rico and Haiti.

The vision behind the volunteer group came from the late Mrs. Arthur Terry, a former Short Hills resident who thought of the idea during the depression when she worked in a Red Cross food station in New York. She noticed then that many of the needy who had to sign forms for food could hardly see.

Contest Rules

It is important in playing this fascinating game of identification to note these simple rules: 1) the winner must tell us who the person is whose photo is circled and where picture was taken; 2) entries in the contest must be made in person or by mail—not by phone; 3) the prize will be awarded to the one who submits the first correct identification; 4) all decisions by The Times are final; 5) there is a prize also for the person whose photo is circled.

If no one identifies the circled photo and the place where picture was taken, the prize money will be added to the following week's award.

Each week The Times staff photographer will take a similar picture somewhere in Belleville. Each week the picture will appear on the map page and test your ingenuity — and your power of observation. It can be lots of fun. Get started now! Work fast. Be the first to come to our office with the right answers! Remember, being first means being the winner.

The Most Trouble-Free Car...

RAMBLER ANNOUNCES
STRONGEST GUARANTEE
IN AUTO HISTORY

LIFETIME GUARANTEE ON NEW CERAMIC-ARMORED
MUFFLER AND TAIL-PIPE STANDARD ON ALL '61 MODELS

Born of space-age developments, Rambler announces on all 1961 models a new Ceramic-Armored muffler and tail-pipe guaranteed against defects for the lifetime of the car while in the hands of the original owner. This covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. Every '61 Rambler muffler and tail-pipe is completely covered with a special ceramic coating—similar to that used in rockets and missiles—to give lasting protection against rust and corrosion caused by water, salt and acids. Another Rambler first!

12-MONTH, 12,000-MILE WARRANTY
EXTENDED TO ALL NEW RAMBLER OWNERS

Now Rambler extends to all new Rambler owners its comprehensive full-year or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever occurs first. In fact, this liberal warranty, announced to dealers more than a year ago, also covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. It applies to all 1961 Rambler models and to 1960 Ramblers still within the warranty period. The normal industry warranty covers only 90 days or 4,000 miles.

Concern Continues About '61 Business Conditions

No significant change in consumer attitudes toward the economy has occurred in the past three months. The University of Michigan Survey Research Center reported recently.

Concern about general business conditions during the coming year has become more widespread, but this has not been accompanied by personal financial set-backs for most consumers.

More people think it's a good time to buy cars and household goods, largely because of favorable attitudes toward prevailing and expected prices. But buying plans now are about the same as they were in May.

Director George Katona and Eva Mueller of the Center's economic behavior program describe the consumer's mood as one of "continued hesitation."

While the sharp decline in consumer attitudes which occurred this Spring has been halted, as yet no decisive change for the better has taken place, they note.

The Center's index of consumer attitudes advanced slightly, from 91.7 in May to an estimated 93.3 in August, but the gain is not statistically significant. In January and February, the index stood at 99.3.

Here, in brief, are the Center's findings in 600 telephone re-interviews of those questioned about the economy in May, some of which were conducted in Nutley.

Business conditions: Expressions of uncertainty and outright pessimism have become more frequent since the start of the year. The stimulus of good news is lacking now, as it was in May.

Unfavorable comments, such as "business is not good," "unemployment is high," or "people aren't buying," have increased somewhat. More people than in May 1960 and many more than in May 1959, judge that business is worse than it was a year earlier.

Uncertainty about the short-

Ray Kowalski Stage Manager For Essex Show

Raymond Kowalski of 411 Cortlandt Street served as one of the principal technical assistants in the preparation by the Playcrafters of Caldwell of the fall major production, "Papa Is All," a story of the Mennonites in the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

Kowalski was the assistant stage manager and has also assisted in set construction. In the past, he has designed two of the stage sets for the West Essex group's major productions. He is associated with an architectural firm and is also active in The Collegians, a young people's Catholic group that puts on a touring road show each year to raise funds for college scholarships to deserving high school students.

This is third production which the Caldwell group, one of the state's oldest little theater organizations has presented in arena style in the past two years. The play, written by Patterson Greene, deals with a strict father who adheres to all phases of the beliefs of the Mennonite sect, and is opposed to anything that is worldly. In this, he is strongly opposed by his son and daughter.

Whether the consumer will give some stimulus to the economy in the period ahead seems to depend on two crucial questions, Katona and Mueller conclude: 1) Will consumers, in fact, be pleased with the price tags which they find on the things they buy? and 2) will business activity be maintained at a sufficient pace to prevent further layoffs, a shortening of working hours, and other disappointments with personal finances?

President Eisenhower says: "Of this I am certain: America's economic strength is not in Washington D. C., nor in public spending. It is in the creativeness and industry and spirit of our people!"

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE...

Fire makes a dangerous "playmate"! Treat it with caution. Don't let it menace your property, your life.. Keep it under control!

Once fire gets "out of hand" the results can be disastrous to property, to life and limb. That's why fire prevention is so important to everybody. Check your home and habits for fire hazards. Stop fires before they start!

Oct. 9th Through Oct. 15th

PREVENTION IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Our firemen make a life's work of fighting fires. They do their job bravely and well. But actually the BEST way to fight fires is to STOP them before they start. And that's a job that's squarely up to every one of us! Let's check our home and business properties for fire hazards . . . take care with flame in any form everywhere and all the time!

"DON'T GIVE FIRE A PLACE TO START"

Some Additional Important Rules Are . . .

- Don't smoke in bed
- Keep matches away from young children
- Don't overload your wiring system
- Check electric cords for fraying
- Clean out junk from your attic and basement
- Be careful with lighted cigarettes
- Learn to use your oil stove correctly
- Don't use flammable cleaning fluids
- Don't use ordinary extension cords on heaters or irons!

Unattended children the youngest ones especially, would be helpless if fire should strike while you're away!

Whether left alone for many hours or for only a few minutes, children can start a fire in so many innocent ways.

Make sure your children are never left unattended. Equally important, teach them to be conscious of the hazards of fire.

Fire danger is something your whole family should recognize and work as a team to prevent.

Don't load your electric wiring beyond its capacity to function safely.

Make sure all butts and matches are OUT before discarding. Watch this!

Don't allow combustible material to accumulate in attic, basement or other unwatched place. Stage a clean-up!

Keep flammable cleaning fluids away from fire or flame. Don't smoke while using them.
