Tax Council Asks Debate On 'Change'

Chamber May Pass Moderator's Role

Salvatore Calabro, president of the Citizens' Tax Council, may have to look somewhere other than the Chamber of Commerce to arrange a debate on the government change question.

Calabro has written the Belleville Chamber asking that it arrange a public debate between Calabro and any of the commissioners supporting retention of the commission form of government. Calabro's organization, the Tax Council, is the group which circulated the petition forcing the current referendum on the Council-Manager form.

Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors have placed Calabro's request on its agenda. The next meeting of the chamber directors is Tuesday, April 4.

Calabro said he asked the Belleville Chamber to arrange the debate "because that organization would be the most impartial group." However, the first reaction from some chamber officials has been negative. None of the chamber officials contacted by The Belleville Times would publicly comment on Calabro's request, but said the matter would be given serious consideration at the April 4 meeting.

Calabro, who claims he is politically independent, stated he welcomes support from any commissioner for the change of government. However Calabro added that any commissioner who decides to support the change "would have to become a statesman rather than a politician."

Four commissioners, including

Telco Building Approval Assured For Police Dept.

Purchase of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Building at 270 Washington Avenue by the town as a place to relocate police headquarters appears to have the unanimous support of the Belleville Board of Commissioners.

Only the question of price delayed Commissioner George F. Kiernan from introducing an ordinance for the purchase last week. Kiernan was anticipating a $45,000 purchase price but Commissioner Robert Gruhn reported he believes "we can get the building for $30,000 or $35,000."

Gruhn added "although I am impressed with the use of the building for the police, I wouldn't even consider purchasing it for $45,000."

Mayor Isadore J. Padula asked Kiernan to include all renovation expenses and other fees in a new ordinance appropriating funds to buy the building.

Kiernan told this newspaper earlier in the month he estimated it would cost close to $100,000 to purchase and move the police department into the Washington Avenue building. In addition to the purchase price, Kiernan said "we would put in another $48,000 for improvements."

Nature's First Law Self-Preservation

Heeding the call of Nature's basic law of self-preservation, Mayor Isadore Padula is busily engaged in organizing his followers to resist the Government Change Election scheduled for Tuesday, May 2.

We wonder if Belleville's thousands of taxpayers are likewise thinking about self-preservation, or will they too—in the near future—be among those former Belleville citizens who, with a nostalgic feeling recall the good old days in Belleville when a homeowner enjoyed some measure of protection against high taxes.

As a service to our citizens, The Times-News is publishing the findings, conclusions and recommendations of the Charter Study Commission which in 1955 had this to say about Belleville's Commission form of government: "The Commission government, since its introduction to Belleville in 1914, has proved to be unsatisfactory. It has been uncoordinated, wasteful and extravagant."

"A history of the actions and activities of the Boards of Commissioners is a panorama of constant bickering, political intrigue, and lack of unity. This unfortunate situation has done much to lower the morale of the town employees, stifle the voice of the people by 'gag rule,' and discourage, distract and dissipate civic interest."

"Belleville deserves the best in equipment and services; no stone should be left unturned in the quest to obtain what is necessary. However, there is no need for numerous deputies and extra employees that some commissioners feel they have to hire in order to keep their political leaders happy and perpetuate their political machines."

With the foregoing introduction we invite you to read the entire report of Belleville's Charter Study Commission which begins with this issue on page seven.

Hearing on Parking Lot Proposal Next Tuesday

Public hearing on an ordinance asking acquisition of seven lots for a municipal parking area between Rutgers and Academy Streets is scheduled next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Town Hall. The actual parking area would be situated in the center of the block bounded by Washington and Hornblower Avenues and Rutgers and Academy Streets.

Commissioner Robert Gruhn has introduced the ordinance appropriating $15,000 and authorizing issuance of notes for the purchase of lots 10, 51, 74, 75, 77, 78 and 94 in block 124 on the town tax map.

The area, a total of 46,200 square feet, is adjacent to the square property off Academy Street.

PARKING AUTHORITY
Gruhn, in introducing the ordinance, suggested the possible organization of a Belleville parking authority. "In any case, this is the last piece of vacant land in the area," Gruhn said. "And I think we ought to buy it."

Commissioner Nuncio Pico brought up the possibility of conflicting with "the thinking of the Planning Board." Gruhn said he didn't see how the Planning Board could object to the purchase of the land. "This property is adjacent to the business area," Gruhn reminded the board.

Mayor Isadore Padula said "it doesn't really matter what the Planning Board decides anyway. The Planning Board only recommends things to us."

Padula commented "We have to approve anything they come up with."

Padula added that if the tract is found to be inadequate for parking, "we can always sell it."

Expect Light Enforcement Of New State Health Code

If Belleville doesn't bring its health department up to the new minimum state standards by April 1, there won't be any serious repercussions, at least according to Dr. Jesse Aronson of the State Health Department.

New minimum health standards go into effect on the April 1 date and a citizen's committee headed by Dr. Melvin Freundlich is surveying the Belleville department with the aim of giving the state the necessary information needed to enforce the new standards.

However, the Belleville health department has been very lax, so it appears. Last fall when the group was organized, the committee flooded the press with releases announcing the purpose of the group's organization.

Attorney Nicholas Brescia, secretary of the citizens' committee, told The Belleville Times last month that group is behind its original schedule and hadn't met in "a long time." Not a word has been heard from the committee since last fall.

Dr. Aronson stated the state health department realizes municipalities will have problems in meeting the April 1 deadline.

"We don't expect full compliance by April 1," Dr. Aronson said. "We do expect municipalities to take the problems seriously enough to find out where they are deficient and set a timetable for fixing the deficiencies."

Dr. Aronson's remarks were made to a meeting of Garden City County managers recently in Trenton. He said the new state code would insure infants and preschool children of getting proper health care where doctors are not available. It would attempt to meet other health problems which vary from community to community, he said.

Risoli Committee For Commission Short Members

The so-called "Citizens Committee for the Retention of the Commission Form of Government" may have difficulty in gathering sufficient citizens to fill sub-committee posts.

For more than two weeks, Ralph Risoli, leader of the organization, has promised to release chairmen's names and for two weeks he has evaded any such announcement to the press.

The committee, which has rented a room at 234 Washington Avenue as its "headquarters," actually hasn't issued any releases to the press at all. All information so far has been issued by Risoli, registrar of the Commissioner Nuncio Pico's department of public affairs.

Risoli told The Belleville Times early this month that the headquarters at 234 Washington Avenue would be open daily from "about 10 a.m. to 10 p.m."

However, this has not come about. "This past Monday night, Risoli told The Times, 'I'll have the committee names for you to-night.'" However at press time (last night) Risoli still had not come up with the names of any citizens for the committee.

Architect's Contracts Not Signed

Belleville voters will have to wait until next October before deciding the fate of the proposed new high school suggested for the stadium area off Passaic Avenue. The tentative referendum date has been advanced from May until Tuesday, October 37. Delays in the signing of contracts between the Belleville Board of Education and the architect, Alfonso Alvarez, have been cited as the "main reason" why the school board was forced to abandon hopes of holding a referendum this May.

School board members at a private caucus last week agreed that June 10 would be the latest a referendum could be held without waiting until the fall. Once June 10th has arrived, the board believes too many complicating activities would occupy citizens' times, including preparations for commencement, vacations and recreational events.

ARCHITECT'S CONTRACTS

Although five resolutions have been passed to authorize the school board to negotiate with architect Alvarez of Montclair, the contracts to date have not been signed.

Board member Dr. Frank DiRugiero has been "languishing" a one-man campaign urging the hiring of someone other than Alvarez for the job. Dr. DiRugiero notes Alvarez was not one of the 10 architects suggested by the Citizens School Building Advisory Committee, but was rated 13th on the list.

Several other items degrading Alvarez have been noted by DiRugiero and reported in the press.

Board member Nicholas Julliano calls the advancement of the tentative referendum date to October "unfortunate" and blames it upon "unnecessary delays."

Superintendent of Schools Evan Thomas, a leading proponent of the new high school, believes that "waiting until the fall will give everyone working on the project ample time to complete their tasks without the danger of mistakes made because the project had to be rushed through for a May vote."

CITIZENS GROUP

The Citizens School Building Advisory Committee, which meets Wednesday night, plans to work "straight through the summer," according to Allan Crisp, chairman.

Crisp told The Belleville Times that the October referendum date "does not mean our group will stop functioning until September."

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Awards $127,355 in Contracts For New Nurses Residence Building

John F. Kiddle, president of the board of trustees of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, has announced the awarding of the contract in the amount of $127,355 for the erection of the new Graduate Nurses' Residence to the Caldwell Construction Company of Caldwell.

The work of clearing the ground on the Newark Avenue side of the hospital property on which the apartment building will be erected is already under way.

The newest addition to the hospital development program was made necessary by difficulty experienced by the hospital in getting graduate nurses particularly for the 3 to 11 p.m. and 11 to 7 a.m. shifts. This problem was created in part by the fact that public transportation to and from the hospital is not of the best, particularly late at night and over the weekends and because adequate and inexpensive housing facilities for graduate nurses are not available in the immediate area of the hospital.

The two-story apartment building will consist of eight suites or apartments, each suitable for occupancy by two nurses. This will mean that 16 graduate nurses are now available in the commuting problem, can live right on the hospital grounds. If these accommodations prove popular, as is anticipated, other units will be erected in the future, as the demand dictates.

The building schedule calls for the completion of the apartment building by August 1 at about the same time as the new School of Nursing and Residence will be completed and available for the use of student nurses.

Now Only Six Booths Left At Chamber of Commerce 'Calvacade of Progress'

Only six booths for the "Calvacade of Progress" remain on the available list, F. Douglas Wadsworth, chairman of the event, reported Monday.

A week ago today, the exposition was 60 per cent "sold out" and 12 booths were available. Wadsworth's announcement Monday indicated that the relatively little remaining space for the May event will soon be taken.

The "Calvacade of Progress" is being sponsored by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce May 18-20 in the Elks Club. The event will exhibit industrial and business displays by Belleville firms. Wadsworth noted that press releases last week inadvertently omitted the name of Muscara Music School as one of the exposition participants. Gene Muscara has reserved two booths and will demonstrate electric organs adding music to the show.

The chairman reported this week that Jo-Lee Nursery and Garden Center, Passaic Avenue, will "add the beauty and scent of flowers" to the Calvacade.

Rodino Calls For Another N. J. Judge

Congressman Rodino stressed the need for an additional New Jersey District Court judge in hearings before the House Judiciary Committee on March 1. "The New Jersey District Court," Rodino said, "is burdened with a huge backlog of cases. Even with the appointment of a new judge," Rodino pointed out, "the court docket will not be current for many years; without the backlog will only continue to grow to unbearable proportions."

Council Debate

Mayor Isadore Padula, 1 a.s.t. Thursday announced they are supporting the retention of the present form of government. Joining Padula in the retention drive are Commissioners Harry Sullivan, Nuncio Pico and Robert Gruhn.

Commissioner George F. Kieran is reported leaning toward the change to council-manager. Kieran originally had been circulating petitions for a change to a strong mayor - council government. However he is now expected to support the manager movement.

Gruhn introduced the proposal as a "dual purpose." He said "a parking lot would both keep cars off the street at night and would aid the merchants."

He urged the commissioners to act promptly "so we can properly stop residential development of the area."

One good way to launder a crinoline petticoat is to dip it up and down in warm soap or detergent suds in the bathtub, and then rinse it under the shower. Without wringing, hang it by the waistband to dry using a skirt hanger or spring-type clothes pins-or, drape it over an open umbrella in the tub.

Runaway Car Victim Remains On Critical List

Joseph Mantineo of 90 Columbus Avenue remained on the critical list last night in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Mantineo, who is 29, was dragged 115 feet by a driverless car Sunday. He suffered with a fractured shoulder, a puncture of the abdomen and other injuries.

The driverless car crossed Franklin Avenue and hit a wire fence at the Hendricks Field golf course. Mantineo had parked his car to look at a collision at the intersection when one of the two cars involved in the accident spurted forward and dragged him across a dividing island in the center of Franklin Avenue. Police said they could not determine what made the car move. It had been parked with the motor running by Mrs. Paul Fela of Lyndhurst after she was in collision with an auto driven by John Monath of Bloomfield. Mrs. Fela had left her car to exchange credentials with Monath.

Mantineo, curious about the accident, parked his car and waited in front of Mrs. Fela's auto when it suddenly jumped forward. Two passengers, Mrs. Eleanor M. Delcore and Miss Dorothea Hoffman, both of Lyndhurst, were unable to stop the car. Neither was injured.

ABOUT JIM SHEERAN
Candidate for Sheriff
Former FBI Agent, Lawyer, Veteran, Mayor, Family Man

Don't you owe it to yourself to know Jim Sheeran? Former FBI Special Agent, Lawyer, Mayor of West Orange and veteran, he is 38, father of six, a man who wants good government and wants you to have it just as he wants it for his own family.

A candidate for Sheriff in the April 18 Republican Primary election, Jim Sheeran has a record which, we believe, more than qualifies for the position.

A graduate of the West Orange School System, Seton Hall University and George Washington University, where he received his law degree, he joined the FBI in 1950 and there received training and experience so essential to the Sheriff's office. Part of this time was spent in the Newark office and familiarized him with Essex County law enforcement problems.

As a lawyer he has had broad training and experience in this field-another essential to proper administration in the Sheriff's office.

As Mayor of West Orange he has established a record that has been followed in other municipalities and established a plan for clean government in action.

As a volunteer in World War II he was a paratrooper. He was captured by the Nazis, escaped from them, joined the French Underground, got out of France to rejoin his old outfit in England, jumped again into Holland and took part in the famed Battle of the Bulge where he was wounded and twice cited for the Purple Heart.

The Sheeran for Sheriff Committee is urging every Republican voter to support him April 18. They welcome volunteer workers and the help of all persons interested in clean government.

They ask you not to forget that his name on the voting machine will be on the last row (G-16) where it stands out alone.

Belleville Schools Conduct Bi-Annual Parent Conferences

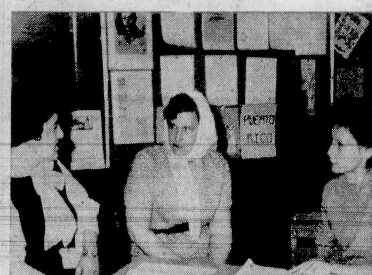

The actual conference in progress here between Mrs. Goodenough (right) and Mrs. Michael Mozeika, a parent. Mrs. Goodenough is a first grade teacher at School 7. Principal Seymour Grossman agrees with other teachers and administrators that the parent - teacher meetings, scheduled twice during the year, are of value not only to parents, but to schools.

It's parent-teacher conference day at Belleville Public Schools. Above School 7 Principal Seymour Grossman greets Mrs. Frank Perry who visited the school Thursday to meet her child's teacher. More parent - teacher sessions are planned for tonight between 7 and 9:30.

STEP TWO: waiting for teacher who's busy talking with another parent. Above Mrs. A. J. Gaccione sits comfortably outside the room where her son learns every day.

This meeting is between an eighth grade parent, student and teacher. Peace Marchers Will Rally Here Thursday; Plan Crusade Meeting

Belleville residents will have an opportunity to hear a recorded message from U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. at a "Greet the Peace Marchers" meeting to be held by the Nutley-Belleville Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Frank, 43 Rossmore Place, Belleville. The public is invited.

"I hope that all Americans will pay heed to the meaning of the Easter March for Peace" is the gist of the message sent by Senator Williams to the New Jersey Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, co-sponsor of a 100-mile March for Peace from McGuire Air Force Base in Wrightstown, N. J., to the United Nations Plaza in New York City, during the week of March 25 to April 1. Senator Williams goes on to say, in part, "... the peace seekers of this world have a responsibility to make their voices heard. We need positive forces for survival in this world; we can't permit our destinies to be determined only by negative forces of destruction. ..."

Key speaker at the local meeting will be Dr. Edwin Lotz of Nutley, vice-president in charge of Research for the Hess Goldsmith Division of Burlington Industries. Dr. Lotz, an active member of the Nutley - Belleville Committee, is one of N.J. SANE's most sought-after speakers. His subject will be "Survival in the Atomic Age" and will cover such subjects as progress at the Geneva test ban negotiations, radioactive fallout, and Civil Defense. The audience will have ample time to pose any questions after Dr. Lotz - has spoken.

Besides the recorded message from Senator Williams, the meeting will also hear a message from Governor Robert Meyner in which he says that the SANE Easter Peace March "... promotes an imperative objective in a typically democratic way. ..."

COMING TO BELLEVILLE

"Peace Marchers, on their way from Wrightstown to New York City will spend the night of March 29 in Belleville homes. Local hosts will provide supper, a bed or sleeping bag space, breakfast and a packed lunch to their overnight guests. Mrs. Leslie Walter Finch of 25 Van Houten Place, Belleville is Hospitality Chairman, and local residents desiring to accommodate peace marchers are asked to contact Mrs. Finch.

On Thursday morning, March 30, the marchers will assemble at the corner of Washington Avenue and Hill Street in Belleville at 9:30 a.m. They will walk down Washington Avenue through Belleville into Nutley. It is hoped that many Belleville citizens will come to Washington Avenue to cheer on the marchers, and to join in a few blocks to express their personal desire for an A-bomb free, peaceful world.

The marchers will proceed that day to Teaneck, and on Friday to New York City. Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. the New Jersey Marchers will meet contingents coming from Long Island, Connecticut and New York City, on the New York side of the George Washington Bridge, at 181st Street and Fort Washington Avenue, and walk through New York, ending at the U.N. Plaza at 3 p.m. for a giant rally. The march is being held to give impetus to the world's leaders search for a permanent inspection ban on nuclear bomb tests and for universal inspected disarmament.

BHS Wrestlers Prepare For Finals Next Thursday

BY HOWARD ELLIS

A new sport has been added to the extensive athletic program of Belleville High School. College wrestling, a sport usually reserved only for prep schools or colleges, has been introduced into the physical education program. Largely responsible for this new activity is Mr. Stan Sher, a gym instructor who now is teaching his second year at Belleville High School. He has organized a wrestling club which meets each Thursday morning.

In addition, a program of wrestling intramurals has been set up. The wrestlers are classified into four weight divisions. Each match is two minutes long.

The original squad of 80 boys has been reduced to nine finalists. Finals will be held March 30 at 8:15 a.m. in the boys' gymnasium. All students are invited. Admission is free.

Welterweights - M. Hendrickson and J. Betchick.
Middleweights - W. Groome and J. DelGuercio.

WILLIAM V. IRVINE & SON MEMORIAL HOME

For more than fifty years it has been our privilege to render personal service and offer friendly counsel to bereaved families. Our service is performed with reverence and dignity and is always within the means of all.

276 Washington Ave. Belleville, N.J.
PLYMOUTH 9-1114
William V. Irvine Jr., Director

Belleville's Fearless Spokesman

Except for a brief interlude when Lenny Ronco was a member of the Essex County Assembly delegation, we have not had representation in Trenton. At the County Court House it has been many a day since Elwood Russell sat as a member of the Essex County Board of Elections.

Ralph Vara, Belleville Democrat leader, pledged himself to correct this oversight on the part of our county political leaders. The GOP appearing deaf to our pleas for representation, Vara insisted that the County Democrats make room either on the Assembly or Freeholder slates for a Belleville citizen.

When the primary filing deadline drew to a close and the Democrat slate was filed sans a Belleville name, Vara literally hit the roof. At a meeting called by Essex County's omnipotent Democrat leader, Dennis Carey, Vara had the intestinal fortitude and courage to rise to his feet — and tell Carey to his face that he, Vara, wanted Carey ousted as Democrat leader of Essex County. To risk the displeasure of a political boss as powerful as is Carey is quite an unorthodox thing to do — but in the best interests of all Belleville citizens — Vara threw caution to the wind — and demanded Carey's resignation.

This behavior was contrary to Vara's personal interests. Just a little more than three months ago he rejected a county post which pays a $10,000 annual salary. Vara's singular interest in his fight with Carey was his fundamental belief that Belleville citizens are entitled to legislative representation at the county or state level.

In this regard we couldn't agree with him more. Belleville is being shown second class treatment by political leaders of both parties. It is time one of our leaders raised his voice in defense of our inherent rights. It remained for Ralph Vara, Belleville Democrat leader to carry the fight for legislative representation to the county leaders — thus placing in jeopardy his own leadership at the local level.

Vara has earned the gratitude of Belleville Republicans and Democrats alike for his courageous fight of two weeks ago. We trust he will continue the good fight.

A bouquet to U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case for his position in the controversy which has developed over the meeting of the Civil War Centennial Commission in Charleston, S.C., where discrimination against Negroes is the way of life... And to the New Jersey C.W.C. Commission for refusing to participate in the meeting in that city because of its anti-Negro practices.

Old Political Gambit

With a strong assist from shrewd politics (than which there are few more powerful motivating forces) Belleville and the other interested towns in Essex County got the action they wanted on Senate Bill 102.

But they got it with a vengeance.

At its meeting Thursday evening, March 9, the Board of Commissioners of Nutley — joining other communities in the area — adopted a resolution requesting an open hearing on the bill, which has to do with the proposed east-west freeway.

At the time the several municipalities made their wishes known, it was understood the Senate planned to act fast on the bill without a hearing.

The petition for an opportunity to be heard upset this plan but it awakened in two of the Senators the realization that Bill 102 was a hot potato and should be laid aside to cool off. The two Senators, being candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor, saw with brilliant clarity that this was no matter to throw open to the people before April 18 — Primary Election Day.

So, the hearing Nutley and its associated towns wanted is to be held on April 26, a week after Primary Election Day! Cute, isn't it?

It is no wonder that former U.S. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, the third candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, should say:

"The importance of the east-west freeway to the residents of Essex County and the long-drawn-out effort to obtain the present results make it mandatory that there be no further delaying tactics, and certainly not because of political ambitions. There can be no excuse for denying the citizens who have an interest in the east-west freeway the right to be heard in an open and public hearing IMMEDIATELY — NOT SIX WEEKS HENCE."

The two Senators seeking the top public office in New Jersey offer us an example of how an old adage can be distorted. They have made Lincoln's famous phrase read: "I'd rather be nominated than right." They should know that the people of this state will not be taken in by such shoddy tactics.

[P.S.—Public opinion scored another victory; the hearing has been advanced to March 29.]

Skater Wants Lights On Division Ave. Rink

Dear Sir: If you are a man who is a taxpayer and have children who are in the lighting of the ice skating rink on Division Avenue, during the winter, you should read and also carefully study this letter.

Do you know at the ice skating rink on Division Avenue there are no flood lights at all. Don't you think it is a good idea to have lights at this public skating rink. Many children are hurt when there are no lights at all at a place like this.

If you are a kind enough person and have concern for your child's activities, you would publish this letter.

If your readers read this letter, and many will I'm sure, you will and I hope you will see a change in the lighting of the ice skating rink on Division Avenue.

Thank you very much for taking your time out for reading this letter of importance.

At for Civil Service they have no business to interfere in Town affairs, we can only pay wages to Town employees on our ability to pay, not by a wage scale set up under Civil Service laws, which is way out of line, they do not run our Town. The highest pay for a Bridge Attendant in Essex County, under their own laws is $4,000 dollars, and they must pass a test, and be qualified. The only qualifications any one needs to run for a commission seat, or a seat on the School Board, is that he or she be 21 years of age, and live in the Community, whether he or she has an Education or not. We must get together, and put new faces on the School Board, and recall the Commissioners, who sold the people down the river for our own protection, don't make Belleville a ghost town. Industry will move out, protect your jobs, remove the people that run it before its too late.

Rotten Political Schemes

Dear Sir: This should be considered an open letter to every paper, why? because it concerns every citizen, and expresses the disgust of all fair-minded voters in our state. The last second school budget election in Belleville is a typical case of rotten political schemes, and insults to the taxpayer. It is injury, compounded with insult, to call those freemason school-budget and pay-raise proper name would be "Political schemes and disguised raids on the pocketbooks of the complacent taxpayers, to produce money and privileges for well organized minority groups, banded together in PTA, ABC, or so called Town, Dick, and Harry Associations." It makes sense, to call this political mockery, and insult to the intellect, when an inflated school budget is voted down by close to 2,000, and two weeks later approved by 800 minority stooges, without any change whatsoever.

Politicians say the unattached taxpayer is a fool and a sucker, and why call his attention to and invite him to vote, and put a good racket in jeopardy. Most voters in Belleville did not even know that the very same election would be repeated two weeks after the first. It is no credit to our State Government that such political booby-traps can flourish for the benefits of the few, at the expense of the many. Elections are paid for with the taxpayers money, a law should be passed by the legislature that no election, small or large, can be held without proper publicity and notification to the voters by mail. Ten thousand voters can be informed by mail for $300, and in a case where big shakedowns are involved it makes sense only to a fool, when politicians claim this money should be saved for the sake of economy. The most effective thing for shady deals is "NO PUBLICITY" and it is a state of affairs, that when they are voted down, they are given anyhow by a few self-styled dictators, posing as public servants. The complacent taxpayer in Belleville had enough of this rotten stuff, and coming May will help himself, by voting down a new high school that is NOT needed, and voting in a new Mayor - Council Government that is needed, and in effect overrule for a long time. The end of the line is not far away for the double-talk artists, posing as friends of the town, but it will also mean a start for better days to come, and a better Belleville to live in.

P.S.—I hope it is still the policy of your paper to serve as an outlet for the expression of opinions of all your readers, even if they should not represent your own views, in whatever case may be involved.

125 Volunteers Served Red Cross During February

February was a good month for Red Cross volunteers despite the weather, according to Mrs. Herbert Tucker, chairman of the Belleville Red Cross office of volunteers.

Mrs. Tucker reported last week at a meeting of the board of directors of Belleville Chapter, that 125 volunteers had served 330 hours last month. This number included two new Nurses Aides and a new Girl Lady who served at the Red Cross Blood Bank.

"Everyone knows Red Cross has volunteers," she said, "but it may be a surprise to some that the ratio of volunteers to staff is 155 to one nationally, and approximately the same in Belleville where the board of directors employs one full time director and a part-time secretary. Without the volunteers we could not function," Mrs. Tucker said.

Part One: Complete Text of 1955 Report On Belleville's Commission Government

(Please See Editorial, Page One)

Several citizens have questioned in recent days the availability of the 1955 report made by a special Charter Study Commission. The report reviewed commission government as practiced in Belleville and concluded with the recommendation that the commission form ought to be abandoned in the interest of economy and good government.

Today The Belleville-Times news begins a two-part series consisting mainly of the text of the 1955 report of the Charter Study Commission. The second half of the report will appear in next week's edition of The Belleville Times-News.

The material which appears below, although not quoted, is all a direct transcription of the 1955 report; however the headlines used throughout the page below were added by Times-News writers.

Study Recommends Change of Government

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE:

The Charter Study Commission of the Town of Belleville, in conformity with your overwhelming mandate, submits this final report of its findings and recommendations, pursuant to Sections 1-10 through 1-15 inclusive of the Optional Municipal Charter Law (New Jersey Laws 1950, Chapter 216, as amended).

FINDINGS

1. The commission government, since its introduction to Belleville in 1914, has proved to be a costly and inefficient method of government. At best it has failed miserably in meeting the basic needs of our town.

2. A history of the actions and activities of the Boards of Commissioners is a panorama of confusion, inefficiency, and lack of unity. This unfortunate situation has done much to lower the morale of the town employees, stifle the voice of the people by "gag rule," and discourage, distract and dissipate civic energy.

3. The change in the form of government has been demanded by interested citizens in our town.

How Commission Works, The Role of Town Voters

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

A. Framework of Operation.

The Commission Form of Government in New Jersey is administered under the limitations of the Walsh Act, enacted by the State Legislature in 1911 and subsequent Amendments thereto. Belleville adopted Commission Government in 1914 after a relatively few years under what is known as a weak Mayor-Council form.

The Board of Commissioners consists of five men elected at large on a non-partisan basis, for terms of four years. The Commission has complete control over the affairs of the municipality and exercises all executive, legislative, and judicial powers. The Board of Commissioners as a body adopts the laws and ordinances of the municipality, approves the budget, and approves the bills. Regular meetings of the Board must be held twice monthly.

At its first meeting after election, the Board of Commissioners must do three things:

1. Select one of its number as Mayor.
 2. Assign responsibility of a department to each member.
 3. Determine the powers and duties to be performed by each department.
- The duties of the Mayor, however, are circumscribed. He presides at meetings of the Board and, in theory, has very limited supervision over departments. He has no power to veto any measure and no control over any town employee except those in his department.

B. Findings of the Charter Study Commission.

The Belleville Charter Study Commission after a full and comprehensive study of the commission form of government, as practiced in Belleville and in other New Jersey municipalities, has found that this particular form leaves much to be desired in providing efficient and economical government. Our critical analysis which follows considers: The Election of Candidates, the Governmental Structure and Organization, and the Administrative Practices and Procedures.

Need Qualified Men But Popularity Wins Election

1. The Election of Candidates
1. POPULARITY CONTEST
The candidates are elected by popular vote in a contest votes were probably lost through "bullet voting" for one or more candidates.

Salaries Are Low But Campaigns Cost $26,000

3. ELECTION EXPENDITURES

Monies expended to obtain the job of commissioner in the town of Belleville are most certainly exorbitant. The salary of a commissioner is only $2,250.00 per annum and that of the mayor $2,750.00 per annum. Yet in many cases the amount spent to seek election is reputed to be much greater than the amount actually earned during the entire four year term of office.

Example: In the 1953 commission election, the individual election campaigns carried on by the candidates and their friends are reputed to have cost as high as $20,000.00. In the official report published which included all the candidates for office, the figures were much lower. The highest figure reported was in the vicinity of $1,000.00. The campaigns, however, seemed to be costly. They included: television programs; large billboard type - advertising; sound trucks; full page ads in both local newspapers; the usual round of parties, dances, card parties, and the like; wide use of the mails for distributing political literature to some 15,000 registered Belleville voters; plenty of campaign workers on and before election day.

When considering all the facts, there seems to be a discrepancy between the figures published and the amounts actually expended on behalf of the various candidates.

4. LIMITED FIELD OF CANDIDATES

The combination of the election considerations mentioned previously does much to discourage capable men from seeking office. In recent years the field has been small and some of the candidates would certainly not be considered candidates who were seriously seeking election to office.

Example: In Belleville and in other New Jersey communities where the commission form of government is in use, there have been attempts to limit the election by running people with similar names, similar nationalities, etc., who do not expect to be elected but hope to take votes away from popular candidates and enable other less popular can-

powerless to do anything about it.

What Do Commissioners Accomplish for Belleville?

II. Governmental Structure and Organization

1. FIVE HEADED GOVERNMENT

Commission government is actually a federation of five separate governments. Each commissioner, for all practical purposes, is supreme in his own department. There is no check on his operation of the department or on his financial policies within the department. The other commissioners may recommend but they have no power to interfere with his administration.

2. LEGISLATIVE POWERS

Each commissioner has equal legislative power and exercises it as he proceeds to pass town ordinances. The commission has no check on its power and can approve anything that is not contrary to state or federal statute. Thus the commissioners are in the position to pass legislation which they in turn execute. This policy is against the fundamental principle of government. Our forefathers established the principles of "separation of powers" and "checks and balances." These are absent in the Commission Form of Government.

3. ORGANIZATION

Commission government under the Walsh Act falls short in regard to organization. There is no regulatory statute which sets up the various departments and outlines their duties and responsibilities. In the first meeting after an election, the successful candidates determine the department each commissioner is to head and the duties and responsibilities of each department. This is one of the most glaring weaknesses in the commission plan. It enables a combine of three successful candidates to assure themselves of the lion's share of the government. They not only can seize the balance of power and choose departments, but they can also strip the other departments to the point where the men that head them have little if anything to do.

Example: In a nearby community, the "top man" in the election, was virtually without duties as the other four, to whom he was "persona non grata," gave him the most undesirable department and then "stripped it" to the point where his position was ridiculous. This man had been the choice of the people, yet they were powerless to do anything about it.

Too Many Bosses Mean Friction Within Town Hall

III. Administration of the Government

1. FUNDAMENTAL WEAKNESSES

The points previously considered make it almost impossible for the Board of Commissioners to operate and carry out their duties with any degree of smoothness and efficiency. Thus the town as a whole suffers because of the failure of the government to function as an effective operating unit. In a structure where each man is "boss" within his department, harmony is obtained only through the combined efforts of five human beings. Since the human element is present and since humans by nature are not perfect, there is bound to be friction from time to time. When two "bosses" have a "falling out," cooperation ceases between these two departments even though the situation at hand practically demands that the two work together. The headlines of the local papers over the past few years show only too well that such is and was the situation in our town.

Inter-Departmental Help Only on Voluntary Basis

2. COOPERATION AMONG DEPARTMENTS

Without a strong executive or coordinating force, departmental cooperation in most cases is reduced to a strictly voluntary basis. In many instances, departments are reluctant to use their men and equipment to help each other, resulting in waste of manpower, equipment and tax dollars as each department tries to become a self-sufficient unit.

It's Almost Impossible To Pinpoint Responsibility

6. INABILITY TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY

In the commission form with a five unit federation, it is almost impossible to fix the blame for inefficient operation or faulty legislation or judgment. Example: A. One has only to look at the "spot zoning" evil that exists and has existed in our town to realize that the Board of Commissioners has failed on numerous occasions to exercise sound judgment in permitting a "hodge podge" of building types to be constructed in certain areas in Belleville. One such structure erected on our "white way" has caused confusion in the town and ridicule from many quarters of the county.

B. The maintenance of the municipal buildings has been a "hot potato" as responsibility was shifted from department to department in an effort to unload something undesirable upon some new or unwary commissioner. As a result of this buck-passing, the buildings have had very little maintenance in the past twenty years. Their condition is deplorable and the needed repairs will be costly.

Political Machines Must Be Paid; By Whom?

7. PERSONNEL FEATHER BEDDING

Belleville deserved the best in equipment and services; no one should be left untended in the quest to obtain what is necessary. However, there is no need for numerous deputies and extra employees that some commissioners feel they have to hire in order to keep their political leaders happy and perpetuate their political machines.

8. NO FULL TIME OFFICIAL SUPERVISION

The salary paid a commissioner makes it impossible to attract a competent man willing to devote full time to the town. This means that part-time bosses are running the department; therefore, we cannot expect full time work when we have part-time bosses.

Changes in Commission Structure is Not Solution

C. CAN COMMISSION GOVERNMENT BE IMPROVED?

It is significant that very few exponents of Commission Government could be found. All recommended that the Walsh Act be amended to modify the structure of the existing form of Government.

One authority stated that the only trouble with Commission Government was the lack of a single unifying head of the administrative operations; government costing a million dollars a year cannot be operated on a part-time basis. He recommended that the Board of Commissioners combine salaries and hire a competent, full-time administrator experienced in municipal affairs, giving him such authority as they deem necessary.

The Charter Study Commission is of the opinion that this would be a very weak and inefficient variation of council-man government.

Another authority stated that the government is not representative of the people because of

A candidate does not run for a city office and, therefore, cannot be elected on his proven ability in any field; and

The duties and responsibilities allocated to any department may be removed at any time through the procedure known as "stripping."

He recommended fixing the responsibilities of each department, changing the term of office to five years instead of four, and electing the government for one year to the vacant department.

Some 'Outside' Comments On Commission Gov't.

D. WHAT OTHERS SAY CONCERNING COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

The New Jersey Commission on Municipal Government whose deliberations are responsible for the Optional Municipal Charter Law of 1950, states:

"It has inherent weaknesses which are responsible for many of the municipal difficulties in commission governed cities that we face today. These weaknesses include the placing of both legislative authority and administrative authority in the same hands, namely, in the elected commission. This condition fosters log-rolling, delay, and personal politics within the governing body. The commission plan offers no opportunity for sound budgeting practices—there is no single responsible executive in the commission plan; this makes impossible a unified public policy as well as a known and effective responsibility."

"Historically, the commission form has proved to be a transition device. It was an immediate, more or less accidental answer to the over-complicated check-and-balance system of the nineteenth century with bicameral municipal legislatures, weak mayors and numerous separately elected officials and boards. Subsequent experience has demonstrated that it was, however, by no means a completely satisfactory or permanent answer. This is indicated by the fact that there have been virtually no important adoptions of the commission plan for some years, and that percentage wise it is steadily losing ground to the council-manager form. It is a logical outgrowth to direct and obvious evolution designed to preserve the unity in policy-making and achieve an increasing unity, responsibility and precision in administration."

It is significant to note that the commission form of municipal government was originally developed under the Optional Municipal Charter Law.

Belleville Roads Being Patched, Vara Tells Times

Belleville roads, as many throughout the state, were left with ruts, bumps and holes after the thawing out of the recent cold period. Public Works Superintendent Ralph Vara, who daily has been inspecting the condition of town roads, calls the problem "more serious than in past years."

Vara reports that up until March 1, two trucks with three-man crews were out patching up town roads. As of March 1 morning only one crew was out on the patch work and Vara believes that at least one truck will be busy for "some time yet to come" in keeping up with the work.

"But as we fill holes," Vara explained, "new ones develop somewhere else." It's sort of a merry-go-round job. Some holes have been filled more than one time already this winter, he said.

Meanwhile, Essex County officials have sent crews into Belleville to patch up ruts and fill-in holes on the four county roads in town: Belleville, Union and Franklin Avenues and Franklin Street. Washington Avenue, a state road, has been the scene of New Jersey Highway Authority trucks engaged in the same repair operations. Essex County reportedly has spent $5,000 for material used in patching its 200 miles of roads. The cost estimate was made by county engineer, Francis P. McCormick.

While some people have been referring to the ruts and bumps as "potholes," Vara said, "I never heard of them being called 'potholes' until this year. We've always called them just holes."

The public works superintendent reported that some actions will have to be completely ripped up and resurfaced "once the frost gets out of the ground." The frost is one of the contributing causes of the breakups in streets.

"One section of Joralemon Street (at the intersection of De Witt Avenue) is all broken up," Vara said. "The road actually lifted itself up and is mixed with mud from beneath the surface." He said this was only one such case and that eventually will have to be resurfaced.

Msgr. Di Luca Is Hailed By Parish On 80th Birthday

The 80th birthday of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Anthony Di Luca, pastor of Holy Family Church, was celebrated Sunday, March 12, at the church, the opening ceremony being a Solemn Pontifical Benediction at 8 p.m.

The altar boys of Holy Family served under the supervision of Father Henry Naddoo. A color guard was provided by the Holy Name Society of the church.

A buffet supper hour followed in the school auditorium, which had been beautifully decorated by Michael Rossi. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Aurora Grasso, Mrs. Eleanor Fazzi and Miss Anna Stelletta.

To show their love for and devotion to Msgr. Di Luca, the parish members presented him with a spiritual bouquet. The following was the offering of the parish on this occasion: Masses, 2500; Communion, 2000; Rosaries, 3000; Aspirations, 15,000.

Among the prominent citizens of the community present were Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth and Commissioners John H. Lucy and Roy Gundersdorf.

The President's Council of Holy Family, under the direction of Father Salvatore Malanga, worked hard to make the celebration day a memorable one for the Monsignor and his church and parish.

Msgr. Di Luca has been pastor of Holy Family Church since 1933. Twelve years ago he was elevated to Monsignor. In 1956 he also received a Doctor of Laws degree from Seton Hall University.

Msgr. Di Luca received the highest honor that can be bestowed on a prelate, short of the Bishopric, in January, 1960, when he was named a Prothonotary Apostolic by Pope John XXIII.

During his term as pastor of Holy Family, he has built a new church, school and CYO building. Some years ago he directed a $200,000 fund-raising campaign for an extension to Holy Family School.

Born in Italy, Msgr. Di Luca is the youngest of six children. He is the son of a family of 15 children. He had been a priest for nearly 30 years when he became pastor of Holy Family.

N. J. Bell Growth In 1960 Reviewed By President

A description of the largest telephone construction program in New Jersey history is highlighted in the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company's 1960 annual report.

The report, issued Thursday, March 2, by E. Hornsby Wasson, company president, also takes a favorable long-range view of the future. Citing the continued growth of the state in population, business and industry, Wasson said:

"The continued expansion of communications facilities and an increased demand for our product."

To meet that situation, he said, "we must be ready to move rapidly and flexibly with the communications changing world of communications."

Besides expansion and improvement of the basic telephone system, Wasson said, new products, such as the princess phone, were introduced in 1960 and were the subjects of aggressive merchandising programs.

Other innovations are being developed, he said, such as touch tone dialing, in which push-buttons replace dials; the home interphone, a complete home communications system; and the bellboy, a portable device which signals the user when he is wanted on the telephone.

During 1960 the company carried out a record $105,000,000 construction program which resulted in a marked improvement in telephone facilities and service, Wasson said.

During the year 11 manual central offices serving 85,000 telephones were converted to dial, resulting in 96.7 per cent operated by dial.

Besides coming closer to the goal of dial service for all by 1963, customer direct distance dialing (DDD) was extended to
