Mitchell Avenue housewives look over site they say is infested with rodents, especially large rats. Women say they have complained to town but have failed thus far to obtain action. Area would like to see vacant land developed for recreational purposes.

Mitchell Street Homes Threatened by Rodents, Residents Appeal for Help

Though the job is not specifically provided for in the town charter, it appears that Belleville is desperately in need of a Pied Piper to rid the Valley section of its rat pack.

Jaycees Give Endorsement To HS Plans

Belleville's newly organized Junior Chamber of Commerce is endorsing the school board's plan to build a new high school and convert the present high school structure to a junior high operation.

Jaycees gave their endorsement at a meeting Wednesday in the Recreation House. The group's resolution included support of the school board's plans for the addition of all-purpose rooms at Schools 1 and 4.

G. Fred Bufalazi, president of the Belleville Jaycees, named attorney Alan Bernstein to head an educational committee which will organize speaker groups to "lend active support to the proponents of the new high school."

Bernstein told the Belleville Times that in order "to build a better Belleville, our youth must have the finest educational facilities possible. We in the Junior Chamber are determined to work for and support the proposed construction program."

Named to the speakers bureau in addition to Bernstein were Anthony Della Valle, Joseph Razza, Edward Carroll, Bernard O'Connor, Lawrence Hoffman, Frank Churchill and David Haigt.

16th ANNIVERSARY OF HIROSHIMA BOMBING

The crane, Japanese symbol of long life, will fly here on Hiroshima Day, August 8, according to Mr. Caroline Pohl, a sponsor of the Nulley v. Belleville Area Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. She said that cranes of folded paper will be distributed at a SANE tree planting ceremony August 8 to remind people that "what happened at Hiroshima must never happen again anywhere in the world."

Miss Pohl recently attended a SANE meeting when the art of folding these cranes was demonstrated by a Japanese clergyman, the Rev. Katsuchi Yamazato, currently serving at St. Vincent Methodist Church in Nulley. Mr. Yamazato explained to the SANE group that the crane has become symbolic of the fight against nuclear warfare, throughout the world because of a child's fight for life. The Atomic Hospital in Hiroshima there lay for many years a young girl suffering from radiation sickness.

Three years old at the time of the bombing, she had spent all the intervening years of her life in the Atomic Hospital. Somehow she made up her mind that if only she were able to fold 10,000 paper cranes and send them across the world as a symbol of peace and life, she would be allowed to win her fight for life. Pesa's statement to the Belleville Times follows: "Whatever changes may be made in Federal participation in Civil Defense as a result of President Kennedy's State of the Union speech which he delivered personally to Congress recently, it was evident that he considers the home front protection program a partnership proposition that demands continued support of the vital importance of civil defense of our community." Pesa, in releasing a statement on President Kennedy's message, reports that information on all phases of civil defense, including fall-out shelters, training courses, first aid and food supplies and other items are available at Belleville CD Headquarters, 203 Washington Avenue.

Apartment Plans Would Include Recreation Park

Although Clifton real estate developers Krugman and DePetro have already made several announcements that "within days" application for a luxury-apartment project along the Third River area would be filed, nothing has been received yet by Belleville Town Hall. Building Inspector Thomas Greco said yesterday he still has "not heard a word" from the Clifton firm which hopes to build the huge apartment project.

While neighboring homeowners follow the progress of the project, Krugman and DePetro this week say they have no intentions of backing down from building the apartments and selling the property to the town of Belleville for recreational uses. Residents, spearheaded by the Fairway Civic Association, want the area used as a municipal playground.

A spokesman from the Clifton real estate firm said that too much money has already been spent planning and designing the apartments for Krugman and DePetro to change its mind at this stage of the plans.

The spokesman said, however, that a small recreation area is anticipated in conjunction with the construction of the apartments. The small park, he continued, would be adjacent to the town's three-acre playground and together they would provide "ample park space" for the area.

WOULD CONDEMN LAND

Meanwhile Commissioner George F. Kiernan, director of parks and property, is continuing his efforts to obtain a purchase price for the land from Krugman and DePetro. Kiernan wants the land developed into a seven-acre municipal park.

Kiernan has stated that if the asking purchase price were too high, he would attempt to have the land condemned for park purposes.

School Principals Change

PAUL BRENNAN
Moving to School 3

MRS. VIOLET SPRAY
New School 1 Principal

Personnel Shifts Fill Vacant Posts

Paul Brennan will be the principal at School 3 effective September 1. Brennan, now principal at School 1, fills the vacancy created last month when Paul W. Jones resigned to accept the position of Superintendent of Schools in North Arlington. Mrs. Violet Spray will retain her present role as School 9 principal but will also assume responsibility as principal at School 1. Mrs.

Michael V. Albertine was the only school board member to oppose the appointments which were confirmed at a special meeting Wednesday night. Albertine wanted the matter tabled so the board might discuss the possibility of either naming a teaching principal or choosing a full-time principal at lower pay and with few responsibilities at School 9.

Other board members noted that Albertine has missed two conference sessions when the decision was reached to combine the principals' jobs at Schools 1 and 9.

Some School 9 parents opposed the appointments on the grounds that the school would be without a full-time administrative head.

Brennan has been in the Belleville school system since 1930. After serving as a high school instructor until 1952, he was named

If you live in the Valley section of Belleville, you can consider yourself better off than your neighbors in other areas of Belleville — all of whom are having difficulties with drinking water this week.

Except for the Valley section, Belleville is now receiving water from the Pequannock Water shed's new reservoir at Charlottetown. Several factors, complicated by the high consumption rate during the recent hot spells, have caused Belleville water to be discolored and distasteful.

The water has flooded a telephone calls; several persons have also telephoned their complaints to the Belleville Times. One housewife admitted, "all we've been drinking this week is soda." Another person with a lower voice observed, "well, the package stores should really be doing a booming business these days."

Most Belleville homes have been receiving water from the new Charlottetown Reservoir in West Milford Township since May. However it wasn't until the hot spells that the poorer quality water began to flow into Belleville homes. This fact was blamed on the high consumption rate which caused a high velocity water flow in the pipes from the reservoir; the increased velocity tends to pick up more of the sediment which settles in the bottom of the pipes.

The Charlottetown reservoir actually is still under construction. The work on the new dam isn't expected to be completed until September, but the reservoir has been in operation since May.

Belleville purchases its water from the City of Newark where water department spokesman assured this newspaper that the water meets all the minimum health requirements.

WATER IS POTABLE

"If people object to a tea-like color or small particles in the water," the Newark Water Department told the Times, "they can be assured that any city of Newark has a qualified chemist constantly checking the water. The water is also checked and analyzed by the board of health. The water is potable, it's safe, there is no reason for alarm."

The Newark department said the water is "improving all the time" but refused to be cornered into saying when conditions will return to normal. When asked if conditions would continue as they are for another month, a spokesman said, "We certainly don't intend a month, but our records show that the water is getting better all the time."

The spokesman said, however, that eventually the water will be much improved over what it ever has been. The Pequannock

Local Youngsters Enjoy Vacation At CYO Camp

Michael Coyle, 13, of 56 Edgar Place, Nulley, and Patrick Triano, 7, of 45 Garden Avenue, Belleville, are among the large number of Essex County boys who are enjoying a vacation at CYO Camp Christ the King near Blairstown, N.J.

The camp is operated by the Newark Catholic Youth Organizations, under the supervision of Msgr. John J. Kiley, CYO director, and Bob O'Connor of Jersey City, camp director. Located off State Highway 94, the 163-acre camp is situated on Willow Lake in the rugged Kittatinny Mountains. The daily schedule provides swimming, including instruction for beginners; arts and crafts, canoeing, games and sports and special events such as masquerade parties, etc. Table tennis and archery also are popular with the boys, who are in the 14-day group.

Each day's program begins with Mass said by the resident chaplain, and after the boys have worked off "steam" in the vigorous events of the day, they meet with the chaplain again and recite the Rosary on the lake front late in the afternoon. This is in keeping with the aim of the camp, according to Msgr. Kiley.

"A Summer camping experience," he said, "should not only give a boy an opportunity to acquire new skills and enjoy rugged outdoor activities, but should serve to make him a better person, and this we try to do by keeping him close to God. It's not always easy when you have 100 youngsters all splitting their seams with enthusiasm and energy."

"But," he added, "it's fun."

Two Milk Distributors Fined Total Of $170

Two Belleville milk distributors were fined last week for violating New Jersey milk regulations, the State Office of Milk Industry announced.

Edward R. Hoffman, director of the Office of Milk Industry told the Times that Belleville Farms Dairy Products and Jack Rega, a store owner, were fined $80 and $150 respectively.

Belleville Farms of 482 Joramaleon Street was fined for selling milk to an unlicensed store. Rega, who owns a store at the corner of Union and Belleville Avenues, was fined for selling milk below minimum prices.

Leo Czech Recalls Salad Days On Broadway As Song And Dance Star

Not the least of ex-vaudeville star Leo Czech's distinctions is one he shares with the great American humorist Mark Twain: he lived long enough to read his own obituary notice in a newspaper.

The incident occurred a couple of years ago when the editor of a New Jersey daily newspaper, an admirer of Czech's since the balcony days of big time variety shows on Broadway - got word from a Florida correspondent that Leo had died there. As in the case of Twain's reported demise, it was "somewhat exaggerated."

Czech, who now lives at 196 Mill Street with his wife, Lydia, and 15-year-old son, Philip, has been a successful Belleville interior decorator for the past dozen years or so. Before that, he was a well-known Newark boniface as the proprietor of "Leo's Tavern" located at Broadway and Verona Avenue in that city.

In the course of a 15-year-long stage stint in the theaters along Broadway's Great White Way, Czech, using his stage name of Leo Lee, appeared with some of the biggest and brightest stars in show business. Names like Cary Grant, Milton Berle, Ginger Rogers, Edgar Bergen, George Jessel and James Melton dot the yellowing pages of his well-thumbed scrapbook. Many of them were still struggling to make "the big time" when Czech first met them during the "Roaring Twenties."

Czech got into show business on a "dare." A friend jokingly challenged him to try out on an "amateur night" show at the old Loew's Greeley Square theater in New York. His song-and-dance routine went over "big" and he was on his way. It is interesting to note that one of the "regular" acts on the bill that night "way back in 1919" was Milton Berle doing an impression of silent movie star Harold Lloyd.

Eventually Czech became half of the act of Cameron & Leo. Their specialty was a skit depicting "Two Bums in a Freight Car." Old time vaudeville buffs will have no difficulty recalling the scene, a perennial favorite with theater audiences of the era. Czech and his partner played at the Palace Theater more than 20 times, as well as at such well-known vaudeville shrines as Fay's Theater in Providence, R. I.

A glance at two of the names making up a variety theater bill of those days may explain the current nostalgic interest in the 1920s. Czech recalls witnessing a fight at the Palace between comedian George Jessel and singer-comedienne Florence Moore.

"I've forgotten who won the argument, but it sure was a battle royal," Czech ruminates this week.

Others on that particular bill who were - or became - big time stars include: Edgar Bergen, Judy Canova (then a member of a trio called Ann, Judy & Zerk), the Avon Comedy Four and the redoubtable Smith & Dale. The last-named pair still are going strong today and make a regular Show on television.

A current "teen favorite" after more than 30 years in the big time is handsome Cary Grant. Czech recalls him as a member of the Lomas Troupe which played at Fay's Theater on the same bill as a pair of French performers named Charles Judels & Fifi d'Orsay. In that show, Grant wore a paper-mache false face and received $40 a week for his efforts. He was known by his real name of Archibald Leach. His current net income is in the $200,000 bracket.

Most movie fans who remember the early "talkies" have fond recollections of Charles Judels for his portrayals of excitable Frenchmen in dozens of pictures. His female opposite number was the fiery Fifi, who epitomized the saucy, husky - voiced mademoiselle from naughtily "Paris." How great were their talents may be judged from the fact that both were born and raised in Brooklyn. The closest they ever got to France was in the movies.

Czech recalls meeting radio's golden-voiced Jimmy Melton as a member of the Revelers' Quartet. Other big stars he appeared with were: William Demarest (later a movie and TV favorite), Joan Davis and song stylist Irene Franklin. A particular friend of those days was the beloved Lou Costello. Later, he appeared at the famed Steel Pier in Atlantic City with such greats of the theater world as Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey (remember "Half Shot at Sunrise"?), Jimmy Savo, Owen McQuincy and Nick Condos.

Czech ended his show business career at Newark's "Blue Mirror" night club just before he bought his tavern. He has hopes that son Philip will follow in his footsteps and become an entertainer.

"It's not a bad life if you have talent and aren't afraid of hard knocks," Czech says, "and you get to meet the dardest people."

That's for sure.

Paul W. Eberhardt Is Vice Pres. of Division

Paul W. Eberhardt of Liberty Corner celebrated recently his 35th anniversary of employment with Walter Kidde and Company, Inc., Belleville.

In December of 1945, Eberhardt was elected to the office of vice president of the firm, his principal duties at that time being management of domestic sales of its products in general industry and aviation.

In the fall of 1968, Eberhardt took over the general management of J. H. Scharf, Inc., Mohawk Electric Manufacturing Co., and Alertronic Corporation. After consolidation, these organizations became known as the Kidde ultrasonic and detection alarms division. Eberhardt is currently vice president in charge of that division.

He is a member of the board of directors of Bonnie Brae Farm for boys in Liberty Corner and on the board of directors of the Essex West Hudson Junior Achievement.

He is also a member of the American Society of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Safety Engineers and American Society of Industrial Security.

Heart Fund Nets $4,454; Increase Of 7 Per Cent

Belleville's contribution to the annual Heart Fund drive totaled $4,454.12, an increase of seven per cent over the 1960 contributions, Joseph E. Crutch, local chairman of the Heart Month committee, said today. Of this amount $2,211.12 came as the result of a partial residence canvass and through the mail, representing 87 per cent of the money this solicitation produced a year ago.

Special gifts and designated funds added another $2,233.00, an increase of 38 per cent over the previous year, thus permitting the community to exceed last year's total subscriptions. Frank J. McPadden was chairman of Belleville's special gifts committee.

Contributions to the fund totaled $77,952.22 in Essex County at the close of the fiscal year of the Essex County Heart Association on June 30. It was announced today by Dr. V. D. Matia, Jr., president of the local association. These receipts, from the general canvass in February and special gifts subscriptions, are approximately 20 per cent less than the total subscribed in the previous year's fund-raising effort.

Sam Loria Won't Let His Size (3'-11") Hold Him Down in Business World

Sam Loria, the diminutive dynamo who runs Loria's Garage at 73 Washington Avenue, is no thing if not versatile.

A highly successful car salesman since opening his new-car showroom in July, 1959, Loria can also claim to be an expert mechanic, auto painter, workshop foreman and circus clown. Before that, he held the rank of Life Scout with Troop 71 at Second Presbyterian Church in Newark, lacking a mere eight merit badges to make Eagle Scout.

Now 24, Loria gave up scouting ten years ago while attending Branch Brook school. Later, he attended night classes at Arts High and Barringer schools in Newark before going to work in his father's garage at 28 Main Street in Orange.

Loria refuses to let his lack of inches stand a neat 3'11" in his stocking feet deter him from doing "anything a full sized man can do."

"Anything I can do, I can do just as well and sometimes better," he says. But at one stage of his career, he had a hard time proving this to his family, particularly his father, Anthony Loria. The latter had been in the garage business more than 30 years when Sam told him he wanted to go into that line also.

The elder Loria demurred because he felt it might place too great a strain on his son's heart. Sam's answer to that was that, since the distance his heart had to pump blood was so much less than that required by a "normal" person, the strain would be proportionately less. He recalls that "pop" was not impressed by the argument, and refused to let him do some of the heavier jobs around the shop.

Feeling a trifle depressed about his prospects in the garage, he was in New York one day, and happened to be passing Madison Square Garden.

Ringling Brothers - Barnum &

Bailey's Circus was playing there at the time, and Loria took a spur-of-the-moment decision that was to put him in the grease paint-and-baggy-pants business for more than a year. He decided to enter through the employees' gate. He was no sooner inside than one of the clowns, Frank Salato, arranged a job interview for him with the circus boss.

"In less time than it takes to tell, I was hired at a hundred bucks a week to play the clown," he says.

In a short time, Loria had worked out his own routine for getting laughs, and was shortly proving to himself and everybody else he could do a man-sized job in anything he put his mind to. In fact, he cheerfully admits now that anything he did at that stage of his career was consciously or otherwise deliberately designed to prove he could do any job as well as his standard size friends.

For more than a year Loria traveled up and down the East Coast playing circus dates in five or six states. But it wasn't long before he decided this was not the kind of life for him. Proving he could do it was one thing; making a lifetime career out of it was quite another. But he stayed with it until his father was convinced it was safe to let him tackle the garage business.

So he came home and went to work in his father's shop in Orange. Soon he was tearing auto engines apart and putting them together again, painting cars like an expert and gradually taking over the operation of the business from his father.

"He was finally convinced I could do it and told me he was proud of me," Loria says. Although the older man still works around the shop, it is Sam who is in complete charge now.

Loria noted that many people don't seem to know the difference between a midget (a normal person who doesn't grow to normal height because of glandular deficiencies) and a dwarf (a person who is unnaturally small). He blames this in part on movies such as Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." In that famous screen classic, the dwarfs were actually midgets, according to the proper definition.

Now that he has proved he can do a man-sized job, he admits he is a lot more tolerant about unthinking people who comment about his height - or, rather lack of it.

"Plenty of people liked this same problem besides Gulliver," he pointed out. Long ago he adapted life's modern conveniences to his own size. For example, his clothes closets are scaled down to his height and he has custom-made furniture at home.

Loria says he has nothing against marriage, and will take the plunge "if and when the right girl comes along."

"And she doesn't have to be a midget to qualify as the right girl," he added. Two years ago, he opened his Washington Avenue showroom with some trepidation, as he had a loyal following at his Orange shop. But he says he needn't have worried, because he has found Belleville people flocking to his door ever since opening day in July, 1959.

A few months ago, he decided to go into the new (foreign) car line, and became authorized agent for the Japanese Datsun line and the German NSU Prinz. Both are selling well, he reports, keeping his staff of nine mechanics and five salesmen busy.

As he says himself: "That's not bad for a guy of my age and inches."

Mr., Mrs. Gerald Cordeiro Honeymoon In New England

In a late Sunday afternoon ceremony in St. Francis Xavier Church, Newark, Miss Barbara Ann Butch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Butch of 7 Cottage Street, and Gerald John Cordeiro, son of Mrs. Stasia Cordeiro of 112 3rd Boyden Terrace, Newark, exchanged vows on July 2.

The Rev. Vincent Bonelli performed the ceremony, and the reception was held at Royal Hawaiian Palms, Lyndhurst.

Mr. Butch gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a bridal gown fashioned with a bodice of imported lace having a scoop neckline accented with sequin and seed pearl applique and three quarter length sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt of imported silk terminated in a chapel train.

A pearl crown held her tripe-tiered veil. Her bouquet was white roses with an orchid center.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Joan Paula Butch, and bridesmaids included Miss Dolores Callias of Newark, Miss Katherine Butch of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Miss Madeline Perrotti of Scranton, Pa. Deborah Roberto of Belleville acted as flower girl.

The bride attendants were gowned in lilac silk organza dresses fashioned with scoop necklines with V backs and street length skirts. They held rhinestone crowns with short veils and their flowers were pale pink carnations.

The flower girl's dress was white silk organza, in floor length, with a lilac cummerbund and hat. She carried a basket of pink sweetheart roses.

The new Mrs. Cordeiro is a graduate of Barringer High School, Newark, and is employed by Maltbie Labs Division, Wallace & Tiernan, Inc. Her husband, a graduate of Essex County Boys Vocational & Technical High School, is with Peter J. Schweitzer, Elizabethtown.

After a honeymoon in the New England States, the newlyweds are living at 206-M Montgomery Street, Bloomfield.

CHILDREN

Many times a child will have a fall or an accident of some kind. And to all appearances he seems the worse for it. In many cases, that fall will show itself in the future health of the child. By that time the trouble is more serious and requires more time to restore normal health.

Don't let this happen to your child. If they have suffered a fall, have a chiropractic check-up and prevent any future trouble by having all distortions corrected.

Ultimate In Authoritarianism

Few have heard about it—but legislation (The Kefauver-Celler Bill, S. 1552, H. R. 8245) is being considered by Congress which can have a profound effect on the public health.

One of the bill's major provisions would prohibit the patenting of many pharmaceutical products unless the newly discovered compound could be proven significantly more effective than all chemically related drugs already on the market. In other words, proving that a drug is safe and good — matters which are covered by long-established law — would no longer be enough. A government agency would have to agree that it was better.

If this sounds plausible to you, think again. A preparation which is effective with one patient may fail entirely with another. Only the practicing physician is competent to decide which particular drug is best in any given case. Patients, after all, are individuals, with individual idiosyncrasies. And, as the old saying has it, one man's meat may be another man's poison.

Moreover, authoritarian bodies — and any government agency with the power to decide which of a group of related drugs is best must be authoritarian — have often been guardians of orthodoxy rather than champions of progress. In the past, medical "experts" rejected Jenner's smallpox vaccine, Pasteur's anthrax vaccine, Lister's theory of antiseptics, and Semmelweis's discovery of the cause of childbed fever. All of these innovations have proven to be milestones in medical history.

American medicine is the best in the world, and the pharmaceutical industry has made an important contribution to that end. The proposed legislation would amount to a roadblock in the way of further progress — the ultimate in rule by decree.

It Certainly Is About Time!

The most encouraging words to come from a New Jersey railroad man were attributed last week to Perry M. Shoemaker, vice-chairman of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad, by George Cable Wright, The New York Times correspondent at Trenton.

According to Cable's report, "The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad is planning to rehabilitate and improve substantially its passenger equipment and service throughout North Jersey, including possibly a rapid transit system.

"Its primary goals are to recapture thousands of commuters it has lost over the last three decades; attract other commuters as the population of suburban areas increases, and induce greater passenger loads during non-rush hours."

It most assuredly is about time that the Erie about-faced in its attitude toward the commuter trade.

There was a time, years ago, when trains were the major (possibly the only practical) commuter link between North Jersey and Manhattan. There was a time when towns in North Jersey boasted of the frequent train service between this area and New York City — and of the availability of trains at all hours of the day.

When the buses came along, the railroads, for some unaccountable reason, crawled into their shells, curtailed service and turned the commuter business over to the motor lines. In doing so, the railroads infuriated thousands of riders, who made it clear they preferred train commuter service to daily bus travel, and ignored the signs that population increases would add thousands of potential customers to those already being served.

Another Local Resident Now at Deborah Hospital

Dear Sir:

The Belleville Chapter of Deborah Hospital would like to thank publicly the Belleville Fire Department under the kind intervention of Harry Sullivan, Commissioner of Public Safety, for its fine cooperation in driving and escorting Mrs. Jean Rempuschski and her son, Francis, of 24 Hutton Street, to our Deborah Hospital, Brownville, N. J., on Saturday, June 24.

Francis, a lad of seven, is a candidate for heart surgery which Deborah Hospital, non-sectarian in scope, performs free of charge to all its patients.

The Rempuschskis are the fourth family in Belleville to derive this wonderful medical-surgical care at Deborah Hospital, expense free.

Any donations in behalf of Deborah Hospital which the townspeople would like to make in appreciation for this great humanitarian service, which is available to all Belleville residents, will be greatly appreciated.

Beck's Column

Every once in a while the writer takes time off and goes shopping. This time we went for a color set. It is unbelievable to hear the misinformation given out by nearly every sales person we spoke to. Many of them did not stock color sets at all. Still they had a very strong, contrary opinion about it. When we inquired what this opinion was based on, it always was hearsay. Many admitted that they did not look at a color picture for years.

Some places had a several years old beaten up set somewhere in the corner which they did not even bother to turn on. One so-called technician stated that a color set was too complicated for him, and that he has trouble to keep up with the many changes they come out with on black and white sets every year. This of course is incorrect. TV sets have stayed pretty much the same for a number of years. There is nothing difficult about servicing color sets, if one knows his work. It does separate the men from the boys and this is the main reason why so many so-called TV technicians talk against color. Most of them never touched a color set, they are afraid because they don't know. Instead of admitting this, they talk against it.

In some stores, where they had one or two color sets, no effort was made to explain the features. Except for one store as mentioned above, nobody bothered to turn a set on, although we asked to see a black and white picture, which incidentally is excellent on a color set if it is adjusted correctly.

We were glad to find at long last one store where they had several color sets on display. They knew the features, explained and answered our questions and gladly demonstrated it. They could not answer any technical questions pertaining to service, because they farmed the service out to a factory service organization. This was the only store which was co-operative and did not give out misinformation. All the others simply did not know what they were talking about.

As we have stated here a many times during the last two years, color now is excellent and in our experience needs less repair than a black and white set. Our technicians have serviced color sets starting with the first model that came out and we are thoroughly familiar with them. Of course we do not use factory service, everything is done by our own technicians.

If you have not seen color TV lately, we invite you to come in any time during our business hours (or evenings by appointment) and look at a color program.

We service what we sell.

Giants In First Place After Extra Inning 3-0 Win

By JIM and DIANE DUNN

The Giants of the National Little League took over the league lead from the Cubs in three games last week. The two teams had previously been tied for first place with 9-1 records before their three encounters. After the Cubs had won their first game on Monday, 4-0, behind the 4-hit pitching of Rich Pucciarello, the Giants took the next two, on Tuesday and Saturday, 6-3 and 3-0.

The final game of the series which broke the tie for the league lead was an exciting extra inning pitcher's duel. Rich Pucciarello and Pat Simone battled to a 0-0 tie for six innings, when according to Little League rules, they had to be taken out of the game. Simone had allowed only one hit for the Giants up to that point. The new pitcher was John Pico for the Giants and Dennes Barretta for the Cubs.

In the Cubs' half of the extra seventh inning, Mike Mozeika singled and Mickey Mayteka doubled to put men on second and third. Jim Pigninelli then ended the game with a three run homer.

Pucciarello and Simone were also the opposing pitchers in the first game. Pucciarello allowed no runs and four hits while striking out 12, while Simone gave up four unearned runs on 13 hits. He struck out 11 and walked none.

In the second game, Steve Cerca pitched 4-hit ball for the Giants, giving up three runs, two on a homer by Ralph Greco. The Giants assaulted Cub pitcher Jim Corino for 6 runs on 13 hits, six of them doubles.

The Giants now lead the league with an 11-2 record while the Cubs are one game behind in standings at 10-3.

Dodgers, Cards Win On Holiday

Reported by Diane Dunn

The Dodgers and Cardinals were winners of the two morning holiday games in the National Little League, Tuesday. Five pitchers were used in the Dodger-Pirate fray as 18 hits were scattered in the Dodgers' 10-7 victory. The Cardinals came from behind in the last half of the last inning to win 5-4.

The Pirates came up with five runs in the fifth inning on three singles and three walks to tie the score at 7-7. However, the Dodgers came right back in the bottom of that inning to score three runs on two singles and a walk and win 10-7. The Dodgers now stand third in the National League with a 7-5 record while the Pirates are sixth with a 3-11 mark.

Dave Hand won a close one for the Cardinals, 5-4, striking out 10 and walked 2 in his loss. The Braves scored three runs in the top of the sixth inning on Don Vicario's three run homer to put them ahead 4-3. But the Cardinals came up with two in the bottom of that inning on three singles, a double and 2 errors to win 5-4. The Braves are now in fourth place and the Cardinals in fifth in the National League. The box scores:

Local Nine Wins Pennant After Wins Over Caldwell, Irvington; To Open Series

By JACQ THROCKMORTON SR.

Belleville repeated this year as County champions, after beating Caldwell Friday night at the Stadium. This was the deciding game for if Belleville had lost, they would have been just about washed out of the race. Earlier in the week, Belleville beat Irvington 4-3, also a home game. Monday night, Bob Kiersten started for Belleville and went the distance, allowing only five hits. All Irvington could hope to do that night was to play the spoiler role, for their 5-6 record put them out of contention.

Irvington scored first in the second inning, when the leadoff batter tripped and scored on an error by our shortstop. The visitors scored again in the third, as the first man reached base on an error. Then went to third, when the next man up singled. He scored on a long sacrifice fly by the Irvington leftfielder, Burkhardt. With Belleville leading 3-2 going into the top of the fourth, Irvington tied it as the first batter doubled and scored on an error by our third baseman. This was all the scoring for Irvington, as Kiersten blanked them in the last two innings.

Cubs, Braves Hold Positions

The National League Cubs and Braves retained their positions in second and fourth places by winning their games Sunday afternoon. The Braves downed the Pirates 8-1 behind the 3-hit pitching of Richie Cuculo, while the Cubs edged the Dodgers 5-4 behind a 3-hitter by Jim Corino.

Ken Catala and Chris Hand supplied the power in the Braves 4-run second and three run fourth with doubles. The Braves were leading 5-0 when the Pirates scored their run in the fourth.

The Cubs scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth to win 5-4. The Dodgers had been held to three hits but walks and a hit batsman enabled four runs to score the night. The Dodgers had scored three in the top of the fifth to go ahead 4-3 at that point.

The Dodgers are now in third place and the Pirates in sixth in the National League.

The game was decided in the bottom of the sixth, when Kiersten reached base on an error and scored as Bob Puccarello hit a long single to right, making the final score 4-3.

Caldwell threatened a few times, but could do nothing with Hatch's clutch pitching. The game was decided early when Kiersten reached base on an error in the second inning. Ralph Lilore drew a free pass and moved to second on LoCoco's perfect sacrifice bunt. Throckmorton then walked. O'Hare came through with a single, scoring Lilore from second, with Throckmorton moving to third. Hatch reached base on an error, and with two outs, Puccarello drove in both tallies with a sharp single up the middle. From here on the game settled down to a pitcher's battle. Hatch finished in a blaze of glory, striking out the last batter on a 3-2 pitch.

From here, Belleville, as champs, will play a three game series, with the Union County winners. Belleville keeps traveling as long as they keep winning. Should Belleville take the series with Union, they will play the winner of the Hudson and Bergen County tournament.

Izzo, Puleo Get League Victories

By ANN KURATNICK

Len Izzo and Jim Puleo were the winning pitchers in two American Little League games July 10.

Izzo, 2b, of the Clippers, and Puleo, 3b, of the Bombers, 4-2, 5-0, respectively, were the winners in the third and fourth games of the series.

Izzo pitched a 4-0 shutout for the Clippers, while Puleo pitched a 5-0 shutout for the Bombers.

Izzo helped his own cause with a double in the fourth that helped bring about a four run rally. The Clippers had picked up two runs in the first with the help of Mike Welsh's triple. Both teams had only three hits.

Dodgers Beat Braves, 5 to 1, In Little League

By DIANE DUNN

The National Little League Dodgers downed the Braves, 5-1, July 11 at Municipal Stadium. The Braves only run came when Pete Bouchoux scored in the fifth frame. Two homers helped the Dodger's cause; they were knocked by Jim Cargilo, the catcher, and Joe Delaportie, the pitcher who also won credit for the victory.

Delaportie pitched the six innings giving up one run on four hits and six walks. Ken Catala started for the Dodgers and gave up four runs on four hits and three walks. He was relieved in the fifth inning by Rich Cuculo who let another run score on one hit and no walks.

Pete Bouchoux, right fielder for the Braves, skied one in the fifth inning which was good for two bases. Jim Dunn, who plays short for the Dodgers, knocked the games only other extra base hit, also a double.

The Dodgers, third place in the National League, have a season record of eight wins and six losses. The Braves are in fourth place.

New Jersey Bell Telephone Names New Public Relations Vice-President

James McCullen to Retire; Promote Gale Littell to Post

Several organization changes were announced today by New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. James B. McCullen, public relations vice president, will retire September 1, after more than 41 years' service.

He will be succeeded by Gale P. Littell, who has been general commercial manager of the Indiana Bell Telephone Co. Littell's appointment will be effective August 1.

William A. Vanstorsy, general plant manager of the New Jersey Bell Company since 1957, is appointed vice president-staff, effective July 1.

He will be succeeded on that date by Horace A. Clem, general plant supervisor of New Jersey Bell.

McCullen started his Bell System career as a traffic inspector for the New York Telephone Co. in 1920. He was named a division traffic superintendent in 1929 and was promoted to public relations vice president in 1944 after serving as manager of the company's northern and central divisions.

A veteran of World War I in which he served as a second lieutenant, McCullen was graduated from Trinity College, now Duke University, in 1919.

A member of the board of managers of Howard Savings Institution since 1948, he is a former vice president and director of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce; a director and former campaign fund chairman of the American Red Cross, a director of the Salvation Army, the Newark YM-YWCA, and a trustee of the Welfare Board. He has also been active in United Appeals and is a former director of Junior Achievement. He is a member of the New Jersey Agricultural Society, Newark Civil Defense Council and the Essex Club.

Littell was graduated from Indiana University in 1928. He entered the Army as a private in 1941 after working two years on weekly newspapers in Indiana. He was discharged as a major in the 101st Airborne Division in December, 1945.

After the war he joined the staff of the Indianapolis Star as a copy editor and served as assistant city editor, state editor and Sunday editor before joining Indiana Bell Telephone Co. in August, 1952 as editor of the company's employee newspaper. He was named general information

North Jersey Shooters Honor Russell Hopkins

Russell F. Hopkins was honored for his 20 years' service to the North Jersey Revolver League at the group's 24th annual dinner and award presentation at the Rock, West Orange.

Hopkins was given a Sterling silver table set including a tray, cigarette box and a lighter. The gift from the shooters was engraved, "For your outstanding service 1941-1961 as our president."

More than 300 members and friends attended the dinner and shooters from practically every municipality were present.

The League has been providing competition and training for 24 years of continuous schedules of 26 weeks.

Yanks, Cards Show Power In Top Spots

The Cardinals of the National League and the Yankees of the American League have shown outstanding power at the plate which has accounted for their rise to first place. Cardinal manager Phil Hickey has not made any pretense as to how his team will finish in the final standings, but it is obvious that he is very confident.

The Dodgers, Cubs and Braves managed by John F. Kennedy, Alvin Karpis and Frank Reale, share second place with identical 4-2 records. The Dodgers so far are the only National League team to have beaten the Cardinals. These two teams will meet again in the next two weeks.

The Cubs both at bat and in the field are not outstanding, but they have the spirit, teamwork and coaching to make them a winning club.

The Braves throughout the season have been hot and cold, looking like kings one night and clowns the next. The ability is there, but the question is whether they can use it or not.

Holding down third and fourth place are Jim Ward's Giants with a 1-3 record and Frank F. Fur's Pirates with 0-6.

In the American League it has turned out to be a two team race between Sal Ferentino's Yankees (5-1) and Robert Johnson's Bombers (6-2). Both teams are powerful and hold one win over each other.

The Indians are on the war path and Manager Fox, after losing the first five games, has scalped the last three teams he has played.

The White Sox, Aces and Clippers are holding down the second division and there is little hope of any of them moving up.

The Indians and the Aces of the American League set to Farm Team records, playing the longest game of the season 2 1/2 hours and scoring the most total runs in one game, 48. The Indians won, 25-23.

Mrs. William McCartney

Mrs. Catherine A. Nell Dean McCartney died July 15. She was the widow of William J. McCartney of Belleville.

Services were held Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the morning from the Kiernan Funeral Home, 101 Union Avenue, Belleville. A solemn High Mass of Requiem was offered in Saint Peter's Church an hour later. Interment was in Saint Peter's Cemetery, Belleville.

She leaves a son, John J. Dean; a stepdaughter, Mrs. William Waldron; and two stepsons, William and Edward McCartney.

Argus was the only creature to recognize Ulysses when he returned home disguised as a beggar after 20 years of adventure. World Book Encyclopedia explains that Argus was the Greek hero's hunting dog.

Forestry Degree For L. T. Jones

L. THOMAS JONES, JR.

L. Thomas Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie T. Jones of 149 Beech Street, was graduated from West Virginia University on June 5, receiving a B. S. degree in Forestry. William Wallace Barron, Governor of West Virginia, was principal speaker.

Jones was graduated from Belleville High School. At West Virginia University, he was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, social fraternity and Xi Sigma Pi, national forestry honor fraternity. He was on the Dean's List, and gave the farewell address for the Senior class at the annual Forestry Club banquet.

Jones is now employed by the national government as a forester, working out of Monsiula, Montana.

came before she was able to complete her self appointed task.

Her friends in the hospital took up where she left off, sending these cranes throughout the world to raise money for the hospital and to serve as a symbol of man's determination never again to be sacrificed to atomic weapons.

This, 16 years after the dropping of the first atomic bomb, when 60 people died of the lingering effects of radiation sickness, peace groups throughout the United States and the world will distribute these paper cranes, to wish humanity "long life."

Miss Pohl said that final plans for the tree planting ceremony which will take place in the United Nations Garden in Nutley on Hiroshima Day, August 6, will be announced as soon as arrangements are completed.

Water Conditions

noek Watershed has included ultra-modern treatment facilities at the new Charlestown Reservoir including aerators, automatic screening devices and a new treatment plant.

In addition to Belleville, approximately one-third of the homes in Newark are being affected by the discolored water condition.

Because Charlestown is a new reservoir, vegetable growth and other similar factors have forced the Pequannock Watershed engineers to add more than the usual amount of lime to the water in order to maintain the standard point-seven PH factor, the neutral point between acidity and alkalinity, the balance between hard and soft water. The addition of the lime and other chemicals is largely responsible for the odd taste to the Belleville water.

At Charlestown, 380 new acres have just been flooded with reservoir water. To complicate matters, water from the other reservoirs in the Pequannock Watershed are being piped to Charlestown before they are diverted into the aqueducts to Newark. Other Pequannock Watershed resources are the Oakridge, Clinton, Acra Lake and Canistar Reservoirs.

VALLEY AREA OK

The Valley area of Belleville and the downtown section of Newark are continuing to drink water from the Wanakee Reservoir which remains unchanged. Wanakee water is utilized in the lower sections because it doesn't have the high pressure offered by the Pequannock Watershed facility whose reservoirs are located at higher altitudes.

Belleville homeowners will find the water conditions varying, as the rate of consumption increases, the water is more likely to be discolored and unpleasant to the taste in the near future. However, at times Wanakee Reservoir water may be temporarily used in the higher areas of Belleville and conditions will, of course, improve.

Just how long the poor water will be piped into Belleville homes, no one knows, but the water people happily state that "things are definitely getting better at all the time."

Pointing out that while the Chapter has had an improvement in its finances of $8,805.50 during its administration, Dr. Durkee predicted that, unless the United Fund is more successful this year than it has been during the past three years, it will be necessary to have a supplementary campaign for funds in March, 1962, and an independent campaign for funds in 1963.

OTHER REPORTS

Noting that more volunteers are needed, Mrs. Herbert Tucker, chairman of the office of volunteers, reported 274 volunteers and 5,885 hours of service for the year. Ten volunteers, providing Red Cross services to service men and their families 24 hours a day gave 2,203 hours.

Mrs. Kenneth Cary, chairman, reported that the blood program collected 508 pints of blood. Leonard B. Bade, chairman of the water safety program, told of the issuance of 316 Red Cross certificates: beginners, 179; intermediates, 63; swimmers, 47; advanced swimmers, two; junior life saving, 15; senior life saving, 16.

Assisting him in the program were Harold W. Bade, Susan Bade, Pamela Perzella, Dolores Newman, Alfred Welch, William McCoy, Nancy Bade, Charles Sur, Lee Sadowski, Robert Shaffer, Betsy Dangier, Charles Ennis, Steven Hallier, Robert Ru-
