College Students Write From Washington D. C. As 'Interns' for Sen. Case

(This month, Senator Case's newsletter is written by two New Jersey students who are interns in his office this summer.)

As the temperature rises and the work of Congress piles up, the population of Washington also increases as college "interns" in government" make their debut on the Washington scene. As has been true in the past, Senator Case is again participating in this unofficial Summer program, and has opened his office to two college students from New Jersey. As the two fortunate enough to be chosen for this opportunity, we are very glad to share our experiences in Washington with you.

In Washington interns may be found in all sorts of jobs, ranging from Congressional offices like ours to executive offices and federal regulatory commissions like the Federal Communications Commission. In general, interns are college students interested in government and politics who spend a Summer working here in order to get a first-hand look at politics and government in action. Nobody knows how many interns there are, but there must be several hundred altogether.

Off For Bermuda Cruise

Mrs. Alfred Kovell, of 53 Passaic Avenue, is all smiles as she stops to pose for photographer on the deck of the Furness liner S.S. Queen of Bermuda just before sailing recently from New York harbor bound for a southern cruise to Bermuda.

an excellent opportunity to acquire insight into the process of policy formulation and legislative decision making.

One task, that of opening the daily mail, has been a real eye-opener. Neither of us had any idea of the huge volume and great variety of mail which comes into our office every day. There is no doubt that the people of New Jersey take an active interest in matters of government.

Besides our regular chores in the office, there have been a number of special events on our schedule. Senator Case has urged us to take advantage of our stay in Washington to see some of the things which, although they are open to the public, are often missed by the majority of people who are in a rush to see the better-known attractions of this city.

For example, we visited the Supreme Court on the last "decision day" of this year's court term. To hear the justices deliver their varying views was interesting and exciting.

We also have attended several committee hearings, among them the investigation of the drug industry. Just recently we attended the hearings of the Judiciary's Subcommittee on Constitutional Amendments at which Senator Case testified on S. J. Res. 114, his proposal to alter the Electoral College system. In addition, we were able to watch the Labor and Public Welfare Committee working on the National Defense Education Act, a bill of particular interest to us.

As Congress nears the end of the session, we are looking forward to spending time on the floor of the Senate Chamber, getting a close-up of the "greatest deliberative body in the world." Also, we have joined with other interns on Capitol Hill to arrange for a special discussion meetings with various Senators and other guests to give us a more complete picture of the workings of government.

Perhaps the overriding impression of our two weeks here is of the long hours of dedicated and hard work that serving the people involves. Our respect for Senators and their staffs has grown immensely. And, despite all the work, there is fun, too, and a real sense of satisfaction in having some part in making the democratic process work. We are enjoying this unique opportunity to really get to know the workings of government from the inside out, and to gain an insight in this field which we could never get from out studies or from books.

Our frequent discussions with Senator Case on various aspects of legislation in many different fields have also provided us with

TEACHER ON TOUR OF WORLD

Mt. Everest, the Taj Mahal, India, Bazaars Today's Topics

(This is the third in a series of articles being written by Miss Katherine Conklin, School 8 who is now on a tour of the world. Today's article was dispatched from India. She also tells of Kashmir and other locales. Copies of the first two articles may be obtained from the Times office, 246 Washington Avenue, Belleville.)

By KATHERINE CONKLIN

No one who has not been here can believe unbelievable India. The Calcutta airport heat comes down like a heavy blanket as you step from a Bangkok flight and, except for air-conditioned rooms, is all pervading in this country at this season.

Americans are amazed at the amount of hand labor here and the dozens of people who perform services which in the United States are done by two or three persons. But it is much better for the Indian economy to have many individuals employed since there is so much poverty.

The meager homes and possessions of the poor make you sick at heart and sympathetic with the government trying to improve this society.

We flew to Kathmandu, Nepal where the customs officers made our entry as easy as possible. Dusty roads, ancient stone house, primitive farms and amazing hospitality met us. Everyone is eager to convince you to rise early to see Mount Everest. Luckily, there was a good view from the pilot room in our airplane, and we were invited to go up front and have a look. So we declined the invitation for 4:30 in the morning!

ROTAIR CLUB INTERNATIONAL

The Nepalese are proud of their mountain and told us that Sir Edmund Hillary was to be the guest speaker at Rotary the next evening. The Rotary Club certainly is international if it has a club in this charming but primitive land!

Banaras (Benares), the holy city of India, is most interesting. Here the Ganges is the holy of holies to devout Hindus, and at early morning it is hard to push your way through the crowds which come to bathe in the city's waters. Our guide pointed out several university professors who come every day, rain or shine, to bathe, meditate and pray.

The city's bazaars show the other side of the people's lives—everyone has something to sell and vies with his neighbor to get customers. The stalls are only an arm's length apart, and you "thread" your way through this maze. The incongruous note is that most stalls have shiny, new large electric fans. The silks and brocades are beautiful, and ladies' saris (sarees) are sold very cheaply.

Probably the most noted tourist spot in India is the Taj Mahal which deserves every lavish description. We were fortunate to be there at full moon, and saw it first by moonlight when it seemed suspended in air — "a building not made by hands."

The semi-precious stones and intricate carvings sparkle like tiny lights in the moon's reflection. When we returned the next day in daylight, it was possible to see the beautiful work in the walls and ceiling and then we went into the mausoleum itself.

Everyone must wear canvas boots which tie over your shoes when you go inside. This has the effect of wearing fur muffs on your feet when the temperature is 110 degrees. We were told that Queen Elizabeth wore red velvet boots—poor girl! They must have felt even worse.

KASHMIR HOUSE BOATS

A five-day visit in Srinagar, Kashmir was a welcome relief from the heat of the plains and you could imagine yourself in the Canadian Rockies with snow peaks on all sides. Lovely Dal Lake has hundreds of houseboats where city people come "on holidays" — and live in real luxury. Living room, dining room, three bedrooms and each with a private bath—a small kitchen boat and a servant are available from $5 to $7 a day. You can have your houseboat moved if you object to the neighbors (or they to you.)

Never have you seen finer dining room service or a greater array of silver than on some of these houseboats. Oh, yes! The second floor is a sun-deck complete with furniture. If you decide to stay at the hotel, a former Monarajah's palace, some of the waiters and room boys act as if you were actually entitled to the same service as the Monarajah!

Shopping is bewildering here too. As you ride in a comfortable "Kashmir gondola" — a chikara — all kinds of merchants glide up to your boat and try to sell. One draped a chinchilla fur across my lap while his assistant dangled a beautiful stone marten fur before my eyes. At the same time, the jeweler sidled up to the port side with moonstone and turquoise rings wrapped in last year's newspaper to spread out before you. How can a woman resist? This one did, however — I was wondering all the time if they were stolen goods!

NEW DELHI

New Delhi is a planned city, and in many respects, it is the most different city of India. The government buildings are red and beige — a sandstone native to the area and found nowhere else. The streets are wide, with parkways through the center, and while there is poverty, there is also a feeling of newness and prosperity.

Our next stops will be Bombay and Calcutta and our next article will originate in Israel when we will tell you about the Middle East.

We Have Faith

Donald Eric Hulme, 20, of 122 Bell Street, recently returned from Chicago where he placed first in the competition in the 1961 United States Open Olympic Accordion Championship Play-off.

Hulme is now the U.S. Open Accordion Champion for the third successive year. By reason of his latest victory, Hulme for the second successive year will represent the United States in the 1961 World Olympics Accordion Championship contest to be held September 15-17 in Milan, Italy.

Last year Donald finished second in the World Olympics and as a result was presented in a televised concert from the great hall of the Vienna Concert House.

In attaining international fame for himself, Donald has brought great honor to his community. Belleville proudly shares Donald's fame and honors.

This year things at home are quite different for Donald. Gone is the comforting embrace of a proud mother—Mrs. Hulme died last Spring after a short illness. His father injured his back and hasn't been able to work since last December.

To permit Donald to represent the United States at the World Olympics to be held September 15th in Milan, Italy will require approximately $1,000. Because of his recent hard luck, Donald just doesn't have it.

Learning of the situation confronting Donald, The Times-News decided to launch a drive for funds to raise the required $1,000.00. School Board President Dominic Lally has agreed to serve as chairman of the fund drive committee. Harry French of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce has accepted the vice-chairmanship and Bob Williams of the DeWitt Savings and Loan Assn. willingly accepted the job of treasurer.

Contributions from any source and any size will be gratefully accepted. Checks are to be drawn to the order of Bob Williams, Treasurer, and mailed to Civic Pride Committee, c/o The Times-News, Belleville, New Jersey. At this writing a total of $200.00 in contributions already have been pledged. With $800.00 to go and a citizen population of 35,005 we have faith in the hometown pride of our people.

Since time is of the essence early mail is appreciated. Let's go Belleville!

One For Ripley

We are told this week that Commissioner George Kiernan, Director of Parks and Public Property, met with Mr. David Krugman of Krugman-DePetro — the speculators-builders who own the seven-acre site at the foot of Fairway Avenue and bounded on the west by the Third River. A sliver of this land shoots north into Joramelon Street.

In January — by unanimous vote — and again last month — by a 4-1 vote, the Town Commission authorized Kiernan to negotiate with Krugman-DePetro for the acquisition of the land in question — by negotiation or condemnation — to be used for park purposes. Krugman-DePetro have other plans for the site. They wish to erect a 320 family apartment. The apartment project is vigorously opposed by neighborhood citizens.

When Kiernan sat down with Krugman this week he apparently forgot his Commission instructions. He is no longer talking about acquiring the site for a park — Kiernan is now talking about calling a meeting — requested by the developer — of the Planning Board, the Board of Adjustment, the Fairway Civic Association, Rutan Estates Homeowners' Association, and the Town Commission. Krugman wants to tell the assemblage why apartments are best for the site.

Why Mr. Kiernan consented to such a meeting defies logic and creates unanswered questions. The Commission resolution language which empowered Kiernan to negotiate with Krugman-DePetro is very clear — and to Kiernan it should be clearly understood — for it was his resolution. The Commission — and the people have said they want the land for park purposes — why the proposed conference?

The conference — if held — can only confuse the picture — Kiernan is under compelling obligation to proceed according to the terms of his own resolution. To do otherwise is to kid the public. Truly Kiernan's latest move is one for Ripley. Kiernan was looked upon as a spokesman for the park advocates. His present behavior leads one to wonder if Kiernan has suffered a change of heart since his talk with Krugman.

A Heavy Responsibility

The premature passing of our esteemed School Superintendent confronts the School Board with an unenviable task — the job of appointing a successor to the late Evan H. Thomas. The problem confronting the Board is not an easy one.

Evan H. Thomas was among America's leading educators. A replacement will be difficult to find. At all costs — the School Board must reject any kind of political pressures from any source — for upon its decision may well rest the future of Belleville as a first class community. Belleville's school children are entitled to the best administrator available. No effort should be spared to get him.

The selection of an outstanding successor to the late Evan H. Thomas may well determine the fate of incumbent school board members seeking reelection in the future.

All Belleville — and the New Jersey school community have their eyes set on our School Board. On balance this school board has established a reasonably good record. It is our prayerful hope it will continue to perform as well in the future.

The School Board Has Another Opportunity

Recently — despite bitter opposition from spokesmen not out to save taxpayers' money — the School Board voted to eliminate one principal's post by consolidating the administrative chores of schools No. 1 and 9. This action saves Belleville taxpayers upwards of $10,000 every year. A savings that no one can afford to sneeze at.

Now along comes Commissioner Nuncio Pico for the second time requesting the School Board to make available space in School No. 1 for a Baby Keep Well Station. A similar request by Pico was rejected last year.

In a communication to the school board this week Nuncio Pico said, "The location of a Baby Keep Well Station at School No. 1 would be ideally situated for the people who use those services the most. This move certainly would save the taxpayers the added expense of the establishing a new location, which of necessity, would have to be set up elsewhere."

Nuncio Pico's department operates a Baby Keep Well Station at School No. 4. It has been in existence for 20 years at the same location — serving well the residents of the area without interfering with school functions.

We believe Nuncio Pico's request is valid — and in these days of high taxes and municipal waste — his suggestion should be quickly accepted by a school board intent on saving taxpayer money wherever the possibility exists.

We believe Nuncio Pico's plan should have been adopted last year — but late is better than never.

Except for the 50-mile boundary between New York and New Jersey, from the Hudson River to the Delaware River, New Jersey is completely surrounded by water.

Letter to Mrs. Fantone From Tax Council

Dear Mrs. Fantone:

I read your letter in the July 27 issue of the Belleville Times with considerable interest. There is no doubt that Father Keller is right in what he says and I concur wholeheartedly in all respects. I also agree that Belleville children must have the best possible education that we can afford.

What is disturbing to me is the concept that you, and perhaps others have about my feelings regarding education. I am not anti-education nor anti-teachers as a matter of fact the contrary is true! I am attempting to eliminate unnecessary frills so that the tax payers can afford to have the best teachers available because it is only in this manner that better education is achieved. If we waste our money on frills then the taxpayer will resent paying the ever increasing salaries for instruction which occur from year to year and we will wind up with a fancy building and poor education because we will be able to do so much better for teacher salaries from adjacent communities. Consequently, in May of 1959 the educational committee of the Citizens Tax Council presented a study to the Board of Education which was based on facts turned in to us by the Superintendent of Schools.

Briefly, our report showed the following:

(a) From 1954 to 1959 the elementary school enrollment has been steadily dropping from a peak of 4,480 students in 1954 to 3,999 students in 1959.

(b) During the same period of time, while the enrollments dropped, the number of teachers employed has consistently increased from approximately 148 teachers in 1954 to 162 teachers in 1959 (excluding special teachers).

(c) The average number of pupils per class from 1954 to 1959 was approximately 30. In 1954 this average was approximately 23 pupils per class. Of this total, approximately 30 per cent of the classes had less than 22 pupils with twenty classes ranging in size from 11 to 19 pupils.

(d) Throughout past years up to 1956, there had been a fairly stable balance between pupils and teachers. However, from 1957 to 1959 in particular, this balance has been completely upset due to the heavy increase in teacher employment with a decreasing number of pupils.

(e) The high school population has steadily increased from approximately 120 students in 1954 to a high of 1560 students in 1959. This increase in enrollments was due to the increase in elementary enrollment up to 1954. The trend of decreasing elementary enrollments subsequent to 1954 should therefore reflect a decreasing high school enrollment beginning with 1960. The Rutgers survey also substantiates this conclusion. Our prediction has been substantiated since the actual 1960 high school enrollment is approximately 1465 students, a drop of 95 from 1959.

The predicted enrollments for the high school in subsequent years (which approximately agree with the Rutgers report are:

Year	No. of Students
1960	1460
1961	1400
1962	1380
1963	1330

On this basis it appears that the high school enrollment will level off to between 1300 and 1400 pupils in subsequent years. The effects of the continued expansion of parochial high schools may reduce these predicted enrollments still further.

On the basis of these data we recommend to the Board of Education that very serious consideration should be given to these facts before blindly proceeding with their plans to build a new high school. We pointed out that if we built a new high school and converted the present structure to a junior high school our elementary school population would be reduced to approximately 2800 pupils. We also cautioned that there is another important factor to consider if the present high school is converted to a junior high school. It must be remembered that the younger children less able to care for themselves must be transported away from their home neighborhoods to a highly industrialized area. Moreover, the junior high school enrollment will fluctuate between 1100 and 1200 students since 5 per cent of our elementary grade children do not attend Belleville High School. Therefore, we will be faced with a similar problem that confronts us today with respect to the high school, i.e., overcrowding in our junior high school. We will also be faced with the problem of transporting children from all parts of town whereas, presently we transport senior high school students from only one part of town.

Another factor to consider is that the facilities in our remaining elementary schools would be far too excessive and costly to maintain. For example, the enrollment of school nine would drop to levels below 120 pupils and it is doubtful whether it would justify continuing to operate a school or school No. 2 with enrollments of about 120. It might actually pay to build a new elementary school in the vicinity of Clara Maass Hospital housing students from schools No. 4 and No. 5 in one modern building and to modernize school No. 1 and add children from school No. 9 to its rolls. These are not firm recommendations but only represent the scope of the problem and indicate that it transcends in importance the role of a new high school. The elementary schools are closely tied in with the high school and therefore no consideration can be given to one without considering the effects on the other. It was for these reasons that we stated in our before specific steps were taken to build a new high school that the school administrative authority should prepare a concrete plan outlining the educational needs of Belleville. It was emphasized that this should not be misconstrued as an architectural plan but rather that we were thinking of a well-documented, properly timed phased educational program, showing the sequence of events and their cost. We feel this is vital, so that the people can make an intelligent decision at the polls as a result of their enlightenment.

In the final analysis the cost and type of education that the children of this community receive is of vital concern to all parents and they should all have a voice in the matter since it is their money and their children's future which is involved. Specifically, quoting from our report, our recommendations were as follows:

(a) The Superintendent of Schools should be requested to prepare a well documented plan outlining in minute detail the changes, improvements or new building programs which he recommends. This plan should also outline the cost involved and the methods which will be used to finance the program. The plan should be a projection for years to follow so that the people of this community have concrete facts upon which to base a decision.

(b) Every effort should be made to finance these programs from current funds by practicing economies as suggested herein or by other means which the superintendent in his judgment considers fitting and proper.

(c) It is apparent from the Rutgers survey, that many improvements are needed in our elementary schools. Therefore, the plan should schedule these on a programmed basis to be paid for from current funds.

(d) The plan should be presented to interested community organizations in detail so that they are fully aware of what is contemplated.

In conclusion, the Citizens Tax Council announced in its report that it would support any school improvement program which is based on a well prepared and documented plan which will not result in any additional tax. We feel this is possible to achieve if sound business practices are introduced into school administration. In sum and substance, this is essentially an outline of our report to the Board of Education. We would have had printed sufficient copies to distribute them to the Citizens of this community for their information and guidance. However, because the Citizens Tax Council is solely supported by a $1.00 a year contribution by its members it should be obvious that it would be impossible for us to print sufficient copies for general distribution. Accordingly we have availed ourselves of the good grace of this newspaper to give you this summary. Our sole intention is our civic desire to assist the community in any way we can.

It was hoped that as of this writing, our request for an educational program would have been implemented and submitted to the people. Instead we find that consultants have been hired to prepare a public relations program aimed at selling the new high school to the public. It appears to be wasteful to be hiring consultants and architects when the feelings of the people are not known as to whether they will tolerate an expansion of our facilities in the light of the facts presented. If the people, who in the final analysis are the sole custodians and owners of all that we possess, turn down the new high school then we would have wasted a lot of money on consultants and architects and accomplished very little. On the other hand, if our advice had been followed of developing a comprehensive educational program for both the elementary and high schools, it is possible that better education at lower cost could be provided by rearrangement or modification of our present facilities or by abandonment and relocation of others. Moreover, if such an additional alternative were included in the proposed referendum, it might be approved by the people even if the new high school is defeated and there would be no delay in giving our children better education. However, as the proposed referendum now stands, if the new high school is defeated our children will get absolutely nothing but delay.

We, of the Citizens Tax Council, have patiently waited and are still waiting for an educational program. Better education dictates that we should always have such plans which are constantly updated to keep us abreast of changing times. If the school authorities fail to present an educational program within a reasonable time, then we feel it would be fitting and proper for us to do so. We have refrained as of this writing because we do not care to embarrass our school authorities and are still convinced that our administrators are equal to the task, with the assistance of consultants or outside organizations. We earnestly trust that they will substantiate our confidence in their ability by providing the program that the people must have. It is hoped that the information I have furnished has been enlightening.

We invite any citizen of Belleville who has a genuine interest in better education to participate in our endeavors to provide it.

Civil Defense Council Urges Industrial Plan, Lookout for Sabotage

Stimulated by President Kennedy's speech concerning the Berlin crisis, the Belleville Civil Defense Council is about to publish a manual for local industry. In an official release this week, the town CD group listed a number of guideposts for industries which include establishing "a plant security system for prevention of sabotage and espionage."

The Belleville Civil Defense release also suggests that some industries leave Belleville for other areas where critical production plants are more geographically scattered. The L. W. CD Council states that "too great concentration of critical production increases the attractiveness and vulnerability of targets, and vastly increases the chances of a return enemy attack."

Other "important guideposts" listed for Belleville industries by the Civil Defense Council include the following:

- "Plan and organize for self-help within industrial plants and other facilities. Form and train groups to perform special services necessary to safeguard buildings and occupants in disasters."
- "Plan for evacuation of industrial plants, including care of employees in safer areas. Provide also for their return home."
- "Provide fallout shelters, designate the best shelter areas, and improve them to the highest degree. Provide the best possible protection by strengthening existing buildings, and in all new structures make this mandatory."
- "Plan for continuity of management. Establish management lists, select and equip alternate headquarters, provide emergency financial systems and all other arrangements necessary to continue after the attack. Your governments are doing this in the political field."
- "Protect vital records and documents. Duplicate and store safely all written descriptions of operations, manufacturing processes, engineering designs, legal documents, personnel records and accounts."
- "Plan for emergency repair and restoration. Know how to assess damage and to repair it as quickly as possible."
- "Establish industrial mutual aid associations for civil defense. That means make arrangements now with other plants to pool resources and manpower if necessary."

Father Welsh was graduated from St. Peter's School, Belleville, St. Benedict's Preparatory School, Newark, and Seton Hall University, South Orange. He had three years of theological studies at the Gregorian University, Rome, where he lived at North American College. He was ordained to the priesthood Dec. 20, 1940, at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C., and received his Doctor of Sacred Theology degree from Catholic University of America in 1942.

Catholics Asked To Avoid Stores Open on Sundays

Worshippers at the 12:15 P.M. Mass in St. Mary's Church, Nutley, Sunday morning, Aug. 6, were urged by the Rev. Francis J. Welsh, S.T.D., to "continue to be a God-fearing people who sanctify Sunday as the Lord's Day."

Deploing "crass commercialization necessary to meet competition," Father Welsh said he was particularly perturbed by the mounting evidence of a drive to reduce Sunday to just another working day for thousands of supermarket clerks, with hundreds of thousands of Catholics joining their non-Catholic neighbors in shopping on Sunday.

"As I drove here this morning," he said, "I passed four stores in Newark and Belleville flaunting huge signs: 'Open on Sundays, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.' This crass commercialization, I am told, is necessary to meet competition. Suppose something can be said for the reason on the part of some managers of such stores."

Father Welsh pointed out that "the mark of the Catholic on Sunday is whether he has prayerfully and attentively attended Mass. But even that is not enough," he said. "The Third Commandment does not read, 'Keep holy the hour you attend Mass.' It reads, 'Keep holy the day.' The whole day should be sanctified."

"In the United States we have had a history of protecting Sunday from hard physical labor," he said. "The workingman's week was twice 40 hours. And we have kept our courts closed and other governmental operations down to minimum essentials. In New Jersey we have recently passed a law permitting counties, where the majority vote, to forbid certain commercial activities on Sundays."

Father Welsh asked that every Catholic promise not to shop on Sunday except for legitimate necessity, to ask God's forgiveness for those who would commercialize His day and promise to do all in their power to reverse the trend.

He also advised worshippers not to patronize on other days of the week those shops open on Sunday, and to inform managers and other officials of their decision.

Camp Ro-Li Lists Awards for Girls

Fun, friendship and community living are the ingredients which have resulted in a successful girl's season which has just ended at Camp Ro-Li. The camp is operated by the Belleville Rotary and Lions Clubs and is sponsored by the Belleville Foundation. The boys' season opened August 2 with campers staying for periods of two weeks each.

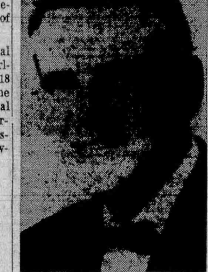

The girls' season closed with a banquet and for the visitors, swimming ability was displayed in a water ballet, called "Peter Pan."

During the four weeks that the girls were at camp, they engaged in many activities including archery, riflery, boating, crafts, nature hikes and aquatics.

Girls who showed outstanding endeavor and skill were presented with "Circle Awards" which went to Eva Prismanetti, Valerie Frey, Lois Rogers, Rosemary Welch, Cynthia Debonis, Judy Campbell, Pamela Esteve, Mary Lou Welch, Sue Ann Esteve, Trudy Spooner, Maggie Mahon and Kathleen McGarry.

Archery and boating awards were given to Florence Blanche and Michele Seneca. Cathy Shutz photographs taken by Kondreck were exhibited at the 70th Annual Exposition of Professional Photography and Ninth National Industrial Photographic Conference held last week at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City. The two works are titled "Jeanne" and "Little Artist."

The Friendly House pool is now open; after several weeks of renovating the facility, which is being leased by the Belleville Recreation Department, the pool owned by the Silver Lake Baptist Church is ready. Children participating in the town-sponsored playground program between the ages of 8 and 14 get the first crack at the swimming pool. Those children between 8 and 14 years should present a note from parents to playground directors to receive permission for the swimming program.

The various pros and cons of the proposed new high school were debated formally at the Belleville Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday at Parillo's. Sal Calabro and Allan Crisp, who actually began a private "detached" school, and a group of "Sure, I admit that the non-academic areas would be improved," Calabro said. "But we ought to look at some of our elementary schools too. We need to take a good over-all look at the entire school system."

Commissioner Robert Gruhin hinted he might be a candidate for the council under the new form of government which goes into effect next summer. While debating with John Bass, president of the Rutan Estates Homeowners' Association, at a recent commission meeting, Gruhin explained the complications surrounding the acceptance of bonds for streets and curbing in the housing development. Bass asked, "What will happen next summer when the new form of government is in effect?"

Commissioner Robert Gruhin indicated the health department will eventually be constructed off High Street behind the Belleville Public Library. The tract is question has been branded "Cardiac Hill." Gruhin told a town committee, whether it be in my administration or someone else's, answered, "why not?"

chased the tract, but they did so with the knowledge that apartments had already been proposed for the site and had been assured of defeat by the Board of Commissioners.

—Because of the above facts Krugman - DePetro have no case of hardship in coming to Belleville today with a request for apartments. (Legally speaking, a hardship exists, such a condition would give the Zoning Board a basis to grant a variance permitting apartment construction on the Fairway tract.

During this past Tuesday's meeting, DePetro said he knew nothing of a 1956 proposal by Zimmerman to build apartments on the Third River Tract. Gruhin had expressed the same ignorance at the July 25 meeting.

Kiernan, who is director of Parks and Public Property, favors the construction of the tract for recreational use.

None of the other commissioners has taken a strong stand on the matter except Robert Gruhin, who, more or less, is spearheading the apartment project in the area.

Chamber Hears

cluding representatives from many Belleville industries, spoke in favor of the new school; none spoke against the project.

Crisp urged the Chamber to support the referendum on the high school question tentatively set for October 17. He said good school facilities would attract new residents and better skilled workers to Belleville. Crisp noted that of the 20 Essex County municipalities "Belleville" ranks 17th in its expenditures for education."

Calabro said his information indicates high school enrollments are dropping. He said it's foolish to start thinking about a new school when the decreasing enrollment situation exists. He also attacked the junior high school program which would be adopted here if the new high school is constructed. The junior high school would be located in the present high school building.

Calabro said it's his opinion the planned new high school would not turn out, academically speaking, any better students than the one being graded now.

"In order to meet the Minimum Standards for Health Requirements, it becomes necessary to enlarge the scope and operations of the Health Department. In view of this, please review my previous request to locate a Baby Keep Well Station in School No. 1, similar to one now in operation at School No. 4, which has served that section of the community for the past 20 years and has been extremely satisfactory."

"The location of a Baby Keep Well Station at School No. 1 would be ideally situated for the people who use these services most often. This move certainly would save the taxpayers the added expense of establishing a new location, which of necessity, would have to be set up elsewhere."

"May we have your comments regarding this matter as soon as possible. If necessary, I would be very pleased to appear before your honorable body to answer any further questions which you may have." Pico's letter concluded.

TOWN ORDINANCE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following proposed ordinance was introduced and passed at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, New Jersey, on August 8, 1961, and further notice is hereby given that the second and final reading of said ordinance will be considered by said Board at a meeting to be held at the Town Hall, Washington Avenue and Belleville Avenue, Tuesday Evening August 22, 1961 at eight o'clock P.M. when all objections thereto will be heard and considered.

TOWN CLERK

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE USE OF PRIVATE SWIMMING POOLS IN THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, IN THE COUNTY OF ESSEX, NEW JERSEY, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS THEREOF.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, IN THE COUNTY OF ESSEX, NEW JERSEY, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. As used herein, the term "private swimming pool" shall mean an artificially constructed swimming pool, used for bathing or swimming purposes, having any depth below the grade or level of the surrounding area, and which is not open to the public, and which is not a part of a hotel, resort or other place of public accommodation.

SECTION 2. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $100.00 or imprisonment not exceeding 90 days, or both, for each violation. Any person who shall continue to violate this ordinance shall be deemed a separate offense.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall be deemed effective in the manner provided herein.

FOR THE TOWN CLERK:

FOR THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS:

AT NATIONAL FOUNDATION: Anthony Basto, local science instructor (second from left) is attending a six week National Science Foundation Institute at DePauw University, Greencastle, Indiana. He is among 75 teachers participating in the study. The teachers are studying physics, chemistry, geology, botany, zoology and mathematics for six hours of graduate credit. Above DePauw University Professor Donald Cook (center) explains molecular construction.

Wife — I deemed last night that you were the most generous man in the world and had given me a $100 bill to buy some new dresses. Surely you wouldn't let anything to alter that opinion?

Husband — Certainly not, just to show you I'm as generous as you dreamed I am, you can keep that hundred.

Guild Planning For Dead Sunday

The Rev. John P. Hourihan, Archdiocesan Director of the Mount Carmel Guild Apostolate for the dead, has announced the plans for the annual celebration of dead Sunday, which is known also as Epiphany Sunday. Epiphany Sunday was established by Pope Pius X as the day on which the Universal Church published her interest for the dead and her hopes for their resurrection.

It will be marked by a celebration of Mass at Sacred Heart Cathedral by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Dooling, Archdiocesan Director of Mount Carmel Guild. The sermon will be preached in sing language by the Rev. Thomas Cribbin, chaplain to the International Catholic Dead Association. Following the Mass a picnic has been planned. Buses will transport the members of the dead centers in the four counties from the cathedral to Polonka Park, Camden.

Serving on the committee are Carmel Office, chairman; Molly Higgins, Katherine Prendergast, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Edward, John Golden, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, Anna Kennedy, Lois Clark, Barbara Foley, John Hias and Louis Sima.

In the Archdiocese, Mount Carmel Guild has four centers for the dead adults, three catechetical schools for dead children, a diagnostic center and two treatment centers for hearing and speech problems. Presently, a hearing and speech program is being planned for the parochial schools.

Monsignor Dooling has announced the appointment of Hector Giancarlo, M.D., as director of medical services for the Mount Carmel Guild Hearing and Speech Center in Jersey City.

Dr. Giancarlo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Giancarlo of Bloomfield, is an alumnus of LaSalle Military Academy, New York Conservatory of Music and Manhattan College, where he received his B.S. degree. He received his medical degree at the University of Padua in Padua, Italy.

Ten-Cent Day At Olympic Park Wed.

The season's second ten-cent day will be held next Wednesday at Olympic Park with rides, admission and most other fees reduced to a dime until closing time just before midnight.

The Irvington-Harwood park's largest weekday crowd in years showed up for a similar cut rate day in July.

A North Bergen couple, Harry and Harriet King, have a featured spot in next week's free circus. Their hand juggling and magic act has been seen throughout the world.

Between engagements, the Kings indulge in the hobby of raising toy French poodles.

The Egony Brothers, trapeze artists whose first act in a loop the loop, have top billing in the show. Robert Steele Jr. and his performing bears are the opening act.

Only four weeks remain in Olympic's 45th anniversary season. Finals in the series of teen-age talent contests will be staged at the pool, also on Wednesday. The park's celebrated baby parade is set for Aug. 19 and "Miss Olympic Park Swimming Pool" will be crowned in the season's last bathing beauty competition Aug. 24.

Labor Day will ring down the season.

How To Care For Lawn To Be Told At Aug. 17 Meet

Essex County Agricultural Extension Service, under the direction of Lawrence D. Little, Jr., Agricultural Agent, will hold its annual lawn demonstration Thursday and Friday, Aug. 17 and 18, from 10 a.m. till dark at the Grover Cleveland Birthplace on Bloomfield Avenue, Caldwell. In case of rain, the demonstration will then take place Saturday, Aug. 19, at 2 p.m., at the same place. This meeting is open to the public.

A step-by-step procedure will be demonstrated and discussed on how to make a new lawn and how to repair an old one. The demonstration will include also correction of soil problems, insect and disease control, fertilization, crabgrass and weed control and selection of grass seed.

A collection of live weeds will be available to help identify those commonly found in lawns, and chemical controls will be given. Homeowners may bring their own weeds to the meeting for positive identification or verification.

William F. Munk, Essex County Assistant Agricultural Agent, will assist Mr. Little, along with Dr. Henry Indyk, turf specialist from Rutgers University, who will be present to assist with the demonstration and answer questions.

Directed by Mrs. Florence Wagner, Esq., Pursuant to the order of DAVID H. WIENER, Surrogate of the County of Essex, this day made on the application of the undersigned, Executor of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the undersigned, said claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within six months from this date, or they will be forever barred from presenting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

Kenneth Santora Now in Germany

Army PFC Kenneth Santora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Santora, 279 Belmont Avenue, participated recently with other personnel from the Third Armored Division's 12th Cavalry in a four-week field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany.

During the exercise members of the division received training in military skills, including chemical, biological and radiological warfare, 35 rocket launcher firing, vehicle fighting and night firing.

The Third is a vital element in NATO's "Pyramid of Power" in Europe.

The 18-year-old soldier, a radio telescope operator in the cavalry's Headquarters Troop in Budingen, entered the Army in September 1959 and completed basic training at Fort Dix

"No More Hiroshima" Is Plea At SANE Tree-Planting Rites

More than 100 people, representing many churches and synagogues in the area, attended the SANE tree-planting ceremony marking the 16th anniversary of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima at the United Nations Garden in Nutley Sunday, Aug. 6. The Rev. Katsuchi Yamazato's words set the tone of the ceremony. "While this dedication service is appropriate to extend greetings and good will to the people of Hiroshima," the Rev. Mr. Yamazato said, "it is many times better to prevent such catastrophes than to send good will to the people who have survived these catastrophes."

Standing between an American and a United Nations flag, in front of the shrubs being dedicated to the cause of peace, each speaker emphasized that the purpose of the gathering was to contemplate the lesson humanity must draw from the destruction of Hiroshima by a single bomb. Though the sun shone brightly on the ceremony, and a long line of gaily colored paper cranes danced in the breeze, the mood of the assembly was serious. Rabbi Victor Cohen, Temple Ahavath Achim, Belleville, started the ceremony with an invocation during which he said, "... we are now at a point where the value of human life is as naught; when brother no longer has sympathy for brother. ... May the United Nations become an inspiring and effective union of peoples dedicated to the maintenance of world peace. ... May we heed the words of the prophet: 'The situation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.'"

Dr. Edwin Lotz of Nutley, presiding over the ceremony, said, "The Rev. Mr. Yamazato of the United Church of Christ, who is visiting minister at Vincent Methodist Church, accepting the shrubs in the name of the people of Hiroshima, quoted a Japanese proverb: 'After the burning pain has passed through the throat we are apt to forget the heat.' This expresses human nature very well, the Rev. Mr. Yamazato said. 'While the burning pain of war is in our throat, we have cried out against war, but as soon as the pain passes away we forget what we have said and what we have suffered. And again we find ourselves approaching the catastrophe of destruction.'"

"Let us not be like this," the Rev. Mr. Yamazato exhorted. "Let us join the people of Hiroshima and the world who seek world peace and cry out loud and clear: 'No More Hiroshimas!'"

Mrs. Ingrid Frank, Belleville, chairman of the local SANE group, told the audience that more than 10,000 people in Hiroshima were treated for radioactive diseases during the past five years alone and that 4,500 still are confined to Hiroshima hospitals. Since 1937 more than 100 persons have died of radioactive diseases, she said, and doctors have established that the bomb so far has been responsible for a four-fold increase in cancer among survivors.

"The nuclear threat cannot be ended by one country or one government alone," Mrs. Frank told the gathering. "The responsibility rests on all people everywhere. There is only one power greater than atomic power, and that is the power of world public opinion."

"This Hiroshima Day," Mrs. Frank concluded, "we, the people, must dedicate ourselves to the proposition that no governments have the right to exterminate the human race because of different national aims."

The Rev. R. Webb Leonard, of Vincent Methodist Church, Nutley, presiding over the ceremony, said, "The Rev. Mr. Yamazato of the United Church of Christ, who is visiting minister at Vincent Methodist Church, accepting the shrubs in the name of the people of Hiroshima, quoted a Japanese proverb: 'After the burning pain has passed through the throat we are apt to forget the heat.' This expresses human nature very well, the Rev. Mr. Yamazato said. 'While the burning pain of war is in our throat, we have cried out against war, but as soon as the pain passes away we forget what we have said and what we have suffered. And again we find ourselves approaching the catastrophe of destruction.'" ley, delivered the benediction, asking God's blessing on the gathering's striving for a lasting peace.

"Let us not be like this," the Rev. Mr. Yamazato exhorted. "Let us join the people of Hiroshima and the world who seek world peace and cry out loud and clear: 'No More Hiroshimas!'"

Mrs. Ingrid Frank, Belleville, chairman of the local SANE group, told the audience that more than 10,000 people in Hiroshima were treated for radioactive diseases during the past five years alone and that 4,500 still are confined to Hiroshima hospitals. Since 1937 more than 100 persons have died of radioactive diseases, she said, and doctors have established that the bomb so far has been responsible for a four-fold increase in cancer among survivors.

At the conclusion of the ceremony more than 90 people signed a greeting which will be sent to the Mayor of Hiroshima. The message hoped that children always will be able to smile and play against a blue sky and pledged each signator's efforts to the cause of peace.

As the spectators left they were handed folded paper cranes, Japanese symbol of long life, with SANE's wish for health, and for the whole world, of a healthy, long life.

NEW YORK LOSES SEATS
 A final tabulation showed the New York would lose two of its forty-three seats in the House of Representatives as a result of the 1960 census. New Jersey would gain one.

California, rapidly overtaking New York in population, will add eight seats for a total of 33. Now second in population, California has 15,717,204 persons to New York's 15,782,304.

W&T Post-War Rise Rapid Under Robert M. Jackson

Firm Diversified Around World

By HARRY MCGOWAN

Robert M. Jackson was born July 24, 1912 in Newark, a few months before the firm of Wallace & Tiernan that he now heads became a corporate entity.

In the intervening years—the sales volume of “W & T” has grown to over $50,000,000 in the fields of chemicals, pharmaceuticals, mechanical equipment and instruments. Jackson has risen from his first job with the firm in an orderly progression of achievement culminating in 1959, when he was named president. A lot of hard work and study he got his degree in Business Administration at Rutgers by going to school nights for ten years—went into his success story.

Wallace & Tiernan began in 1913 when Wallace, the inventor, teamed up with Tiernan, the chemist, bacteriologist and businessman. A typhoid epidemic in Torrington, Conn. brought them together in the production of a hypochlorite feeding device for the sterilization of water. This was followed by the development of equipment for metering and feeding chlorine gas, now the universally accepted tool for municipal and industrial water sterilization.

In terms of corporate structure, Wallace & Tiernan, I. n. c. (1954), consists of a parent company, and eight foreign and four domestic subsidiaries.

The foreign subsidiaries are: Novadel - Agene Ltd., Twentieth Century Chemicals Ltd., all located in Canada; Wallace & Tiernan Ltd. and E.C.D. Ltd., both in England; Wallace & Tiernan Pty. Ltd., Australia, W. C. Hardy Co. of Canada, Ltd., Canada and Wallace & Tiernan GmbH in Germany.

MUNICIPAL WATER PURIFICATION

A brief look at the operations of some of the firm's divisions will give some idea of the scope and range of its present day activities. The Chlorinator Division which, together with the new Industrial Products Division represents some 20 per cent of the sales volume is responsible for the development, manufacture and sale of chlorinators and control apparatus used in the fields of water and waste treatment, especially in municipal water and sewage purification and swimming pool sterilization as well as numerous other types of industrial water treatment.

The Industrial Products Division caters to the needs of such users as the process industries, food plants, waterworks, paper mills, refineries and abroad segment of manufacturing operations. The Baker Process Company, a 98 per cent wholly-owned subsidiary, represents about ten per cent of the overall sales volume. Its equipment and process for continuous dough mixing involve a new concept in the art of breadmaking.

FIVE THOUSAND LOAVES AN HOUR

Bread produced by this process is much more uniform in texture than conventionally made bread, and in consequence has a longer shelf life. The Do-Maker unit in this process mixes, develops, extrudes and pans the dough at a rate of over 5,000 loaves an hour.

Another important division is the American Machinery Corporation, which is located in Orlando, Fla. It is engaged in the manufacture and sale of fruit and vegetable processing machinery. The Harchem Division, representing about 20 per cent of the firm's sales, has more than 100 products in its line that are used in such fields as plastics, textiles, rubber, nylon, paints and lubricants.

The Matthe Laboratories Division, with plants here and Hanover, is responsible for ten per cent of the firm's sales volume. It is engaged in manufacturing for the ethical pharmaceutical field. One of this division's products—Desenex—is well-known to the public as a treatment for athlete's foot.

The varied types of business represented by Wallace & Tiernan necessitates the divisional type organization. The management of each division has a wide range of authority in operating and developing their section of the business. President Jackson believes in letting divisional managers run their show, leaving the top echelon of the company free to concentrate on financial and legal problems.

“SCOTS WHA’ HAE”

Robert M. Jackson could truthfully be said to come by his business “savvy” naturally, since his ancestors were Scots “wha’ hae” their roots in and around Glasgow. He was appointed Assistant Secretary of Wallace & Tiernan in 1939 by virtue of his training and education. He was made treasurer in 1946 on the retirement of Miss Louise Tiernan. He became Vice President in 1953 on the completion of the program of consolidation and merger of the firm's various interests in one public company.

NAMED EXECUTIVE VP

The following year he was named Executive Vice President working with Frederick G. Mercier, who had been elected president of the consolidated operation in 1953. Prior to that time and since the inception of the company back in 1913, Martin T. Tiernan had been president. With the retirement of Mr. Mercier at the end of 1958, Jackson became president on January 1, 1959.

The Jacksons live in Rumson with their son, James R. and daughter, Patricia L. Mrs. Jackson is the former Madeleine Nagel. For relaxation and amusement, her husband leaves his corporate cares behind him week-ends, when for a short time he becomes president of Surfider, Inc. of Sea Bright, a motel and beach club managed by son James.

As if that weren't enough, he is also director of Fidelity Union Company and the State Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he was recently named president of the Belleville Foundation. There didn't seem any point in asking what he did in his spare time.

CAVIAR BOOTLEGGERS

TEHRAN, Iran — Tehran's police, with no sympathy for gamblers, are cracking down on a unique racket — a black market in caviar.

A nonauthorized or cut rate caviar peddler can get up to two years in prison under the new law.

Caviar is by no means a staple food in Iran, but a pound of the fine black imperial grade costs about $12 here. In a New York night club it can come to $10 a spoonful.

How Senators Voted in Capitol

How did our two United States Senators and the Congressmen from this district vote? Where did they stand on the bills which came before the Congress in the past week?

To answer these questions, The Times has compiled the following statistics for the week ending July 22:

IN THE SENATE

Sensors Clifford P. Case (R) and Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D) voted “yea” on S. 1154, the Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961, intended to consolidate and expand exchange-of-persons programs. Passed, 79-5, on July 14.

The two Senators split on HR 7578, Case voting “yea” and Williams “nay.” This was the Atomic Energy Commission authorization for the fiscal year 1962. Amendment to delete a $95,000,000 authorization for construction of electric generating facilities for the new plutonium-producing reactor at the Hanford Works in the State of Washington. Rejected, 36-54, on July 18.

IN THE HOUSE

Our Congressman, Peter W. Rodino Jr., (D), voted “nay” on HR 328, disapproving the President's reorganization plan for the National Labor Relations Board. Adopted, 231-179, on July 20.

Rodino voted “nay” also on HR 336, disapproving the President's reorganization plan for the Federal Maritime Board and the Marine Administration. Motion was to discharge the resolution from the Government Operations Committee. Rejected, 184-218, on July 20.

The record of voting in Congress by New Jersey's Senators and the Representative from this district for the week ending July 23 follows:

IN THE SENATE

Sensors Case (R) and Williams (D) both voted “yea” on S. 1543, which was rejected, 57-39, on July 25. This was the Agricultural Act of 1961. Amendment by Sen. Kefauver (D, Tenn.) to delete a section clarifying and reaffirming the right of cooperatives to join in federations.

Sen. Case voted “yea” and Sen. Williams did not vote, being paired, on another amendment to S. 1643. This amendment, by John J. Williams (R, Del.), would eliminate a one-year extension of the 1961 feed grains program. This was rejected.

Once again Sens. Case and Williams were on the same side of the voting fence when both voted “yea” on the nomination of Spottswood W. Robinson 3rd of the District of Columbia to be a member of the Civil Rights Commission. Confirmed July 27, 73 to 17.

ARGUMENT STOPPER

Two opposing political candidates argued on a busy street while a crowd of spectators listened.

“There are hundreds of ways of making money,” one of the campaigners declared, “but only one honest one.”

“And what's that?” jeered the other.

“Ah, ha!” rejoined the first. “I thought you wouldn't know.”

Sylvia Hath Receives Human Relations Scholarship

A teacher and a teacher-to-be receive human relations scholarship awards from the Essex County Chapter, American Jewish Committee. Milton H. Stern, AJC chapter chairman, presents scholarship award checks to Sylvia Haft of Belleville, (center) a second-grade teacher in the Spring Garden School, Nutley, and to Lorraine Jackson of East Orange, a senior student at the Newark State College. Both will attend Rutgers intergroup relations workshops. The building in the background is the Institute of Human Relations in New York, National headquarters of the American Jewish Committee and research center for the study of intergroup relations.

South Sea Island Setting For Newest Cinerama Show

“Cinerama - South Seas Adventure,” produced by Carl Dudley, is the current attraction at the Clairidge Theatre, Montclair.

Tracing the voyages of great South Seas explorers like Captain James Cook and Captain William Bligh of the ill-fated “Bounty” the fifth Cinerama production is the story of an expedition by the sailing schooner “Te Vega,” luxury liner “Lurline” and airplane.

Landfalls on the journey of adventure are Hawaii, Tahiti, Tonga, Fiji, New Hebrides, Australia and New Zealand.

Arriving in Hawaii on the “Lurline,” the Cinerama adventure in the South Seas traces the romantic holiday of Kay Johnson in the surf at Waikiki and the tropical beauty of Oahu.

“Te Vega” takes French painter Jean-Louis Martin from Hawaii to Tahiti. As the schooner crosses the Equator, the ship's cook, in the guise of Father Neptune, initiates Jean-Louis to the brotherhood of Atlantis.

The young painter searches out the memory of Paul Gauguin, famed French painter, after landing in Papeete harbor. All around him preparations are in progress for Bastille Day ceremonies. Jean-Louis finds himself at home in Tahiti. His imagination is captured by the Polynesian loveliness of the dancer Tina. As “Te Vega” sails off, he remains to paint her against a South Seas sunset.

The tribal meke and the kava ceremony are tendered Captain Dorn in the Fiji, his next landing on the route under the skies of the Southern Cross. Just 100 years ago, the fuzzy-headed Fiji-ans were head-hunters. Now they parade in blue tunics and white saris on the grounds of British Government House.

“Te Vega” sets sail for the most primitive islands of all, the New Hebrides. One of the last outposts of the head-hunters and a wartime battleground, these islands are covered by dense tropical jungle. On Pentecost Island, inhabited by 2,000 Melanesians and a Catholic missionary, a strange rite is performed. The Matili tribe, in a proof of masculine superiority, builds a pole 100 feet lower once a year and plunges to the ground, landing on their heads, their legs bound only by vines.

In New Zealand, home of fierce Polynesians called Maoris, “Cinerama - South Seas Adventure” discovers a land of fjords and snowfields. The Maoris perform the canoe poi song and the haka. Startling beauty and abounding fertility characterize New Zealand, where American visitor Jim Perry plucks fat rainbow trout from the streams and marvels at electric generating plants using volcanic power.

The giant continent of Australia, a flat and brown land by contrast, tells the story of a family of “New Australians” through the eyes of the Kovchek, the great metropolis of the South Seas—Sydney—may be seen. Into the rugged “outback” fly Stefan and Anna to join Stefan's brother David and his family at Broken Hill. They discover the great Australian institutions spanning the lonely continent, the Royal Flying Doctor Service and the Schoolroom of the Air, bringing civilization into the home by means of a radio transmitter.

Produced by Carl Dudley in association with Richard Goldstone, “Cinerama - South Seas Adventure” was photographed by Jack Warren, A.S.C. Narrator for this voyage of discovery is the famed actor Orson Welles. Musical score was composed and conducted by Alex North.

With most TV sets you get a lengthy document called ‘Guarantee’ or ‘Warranty’. If you read it you find out that you have to hire a lawyer to interpret it. They mostly write about what you do not get.

Look at the Magnavox Gold Seal Warranty. A child understands it—it's that simple. One year parts warranty and one year labor. That's exactly what it means... you don't have to spend a nickel on any new 1961 Magnavox Gold Seal product for one year!
