Classes Start For Adults On Tuesday

Registration for 25 courses offered by the Belleville Adult School will be held tonight at the high school from 7:30 to 9 for the term, which begins Tuesday, Sept. 26. Final registration is on Monday evening.

Seymour Grossman, director of adult education, expected final enrollment to reach between two and three hundred, although only 70 had enrolled during the first two registration nights. "We always get our largest group on the last two nights," he explained.

Three new courses are offered. John Cornish, New York artist, will teach contemporary art for beginning and advanced students. The course was designed as a workshop discussion class to enable individual instruction, as well as lectures.

Mr. Cornish, who lives at 89 Union Avenue, has exhibited in New York galleries and several New Jersey shows. He has a studio at the New Jersey Contemporaries Gallery, Jersey City.

A course in blueprint reading will be given by James W. Keller. It is planned to cover elementary engineering drawing principles and techniques. An introduction to calculus is the third new course.

A beginning course in Russian is again offered as a large part of one semester. Wendell Parr, special music teacher in the Belleville schools, is the instructor. He taught Russian for four years while serving in the Army.

The second part of the securities and investing course, offered last year, will be given. Again it is under the auspices of the New York Stock Exchange Investor's Information Program. Under this program speakers are sent and Entertainment will be provided by the Irish-American Association of Kearny with a minstrel and variety show and by Miss Dolores Dorn, movie starlet.

So that the residents will be better acquainted with the makeup of the Fund and its contribution to Belleville, descriptions of the activities of six of the agencies was given last week. The remaining six are:

Commission Okays Personal Tax Exemptions

Mayor Denies Action Is Favor To Builders Of New Apartments

Last week a page one news story carried the following headline: "PADULA DUCKS QUIZ ON $3,400 TAX FOR KRUGMAN-DE PETRO." It should have read "PADULA DUCKS QUIZ ON $3,400 TAX ASSESSMENT FOR KRUGMAN-DE PETRO." This statement and a reprint of the complete article are published in the interests of accuracy and fair play.

The Belleville Commission voted Tuesday night to exempt personal property from taxation but Mayor Padula denied that the anticipated influx of new apartments influenced the decision.

The exemptions will mean that

First Game Is At East Orange

BY ROGER WARTELL

The Bellboys kick-off the season Saturday at East Orange. Belleville High can be expected to throw a strong offensive against the East Orange Panthers, but the outcome will probably be determined by the success of the Belleville defense.

With only five seniors, the team is young — one that Ed Berinski head coach, hopes to develop into a formidable opposition for this season and the coming ones. He counts on a strong passing attack from the arm of

Eye Exams Set For Next Week

Edward G. Burday, Belleville Health Officer, urged residents of the area today to participate in the free eye screening program being offered during the week of Sept. 25.

"I am advised," Mr. Burday said, "that this free service is offered to every person over 35 years of age not already under care of a physician for an eye condition. Many diseases of the eye are remediable if found in time. There are also other diseases of the body which reveal themselves through symptoms in the eyes."

Persons who require additional examination and possibly treatment will be referred to the Eye Health Service of the Commission for the Blind of the Department of Institutions and Agencies. Arrangements will be made for visits by public health nurses when necessary.

The program is sponsored by the Committee on Conservation of Vision of The Medical Society of New Jersey. It is supported by the New Jersey Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, the New Jersey State Commission for the Blind, the New Jersey Hospital Association, and the New Jersey State Department of Health.

"I heartily endorse this effort to help people preserve their health and one of the most precious possessions they have, their eyesight," said Mr. Burday. He hoped many Belleville residents would go to the centers, which are at the following locations:

East Orange General Hospital, East Orange, Monday, Friday, 1 to 3 p.m.

Hulme, Teacher Share Victory

Belleville Youth Top Accordionist In World Contest

A victorious Donald Hulme will return home October 4, to the town that opened its heart to him, proudly wearing the crown of World Accordionist Champion.

The 26-year-old Belleville youth won the world title Sunday, Sept. 17 at Lake Maggiore, Pallanza, Italy, compiling 87 points to better the 81.5 of his nearest rival, Miss Lydia Kotala of Paris.

His participation in the world competition was made possible through the efforts of the Belleville Civic Pride Committee, organized under the sponsorship of The Belleville Times-News, to enable Donald to make the trip to Italy. His mother died last April and his father, a carpenter, had been incapacitated by an accident.

Belleville citizens, in a spontaneous, generous response to the committee's appeal, contributed $1,255 to send Donald on his way. Hulme, who has been a student of Charles Nunzio of Nutley since he was seven, took with him a new instrument designed by himself and Nunzio to play pure piano scores, note by note.

He won the U. S. Open Olympic Accordion Championship this July for the third consecutive year, and has been American ac-

Family Marks Half Century In Business

BY HARRY MCGOWAN

If the Woodruffs of Belleville Farms were devotees of numerology they could be pardoned for thinking that their lucky number is 3. To begin with, all three of them are named Leslie.

Then take this week, for example, when they had a triple cause for celebration. It was just 50 years ago that the head of the clan started in the milk business with a horse-drawn wagon that serviced a milk route stretching from North Newark to John Street (now Belleville Avenue) in Belleville.

SALES DOUBLED

This particular Leslie, now president emeritus of the firm, celebrated his 77th birthday Sunday. His son, Leslie, Jr., also had cause for satisfaction, because the firm's milk sales have doubled in the past year as a result of an innovation he sponsored in the latter part of 1960; the half-gallon glass jug with the

Accreditation Of High School Is In Danger

"When Belleville votes in the school referendum, October 17, it will be voting for or against better education in Belleville," Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools, said today. "Almost everybody says he is for better education, but some do not seem to realize the necessity of affirmative action now."

Since 1934 Belleville High School has been on the accredited list of the Middle States Association, but January 3, 1961, the association sent its report to Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal. It stated:

"The Commission on Secondary Schools has approved the continuance of your school on the List of Accredited Schools, for the period ending December 31, 1961. This action included the requirement that, prior to May 1, 1961, you should submit a description of changes and improvements which you and your staff have made since your last report to the Commission on Secondary Schools."

The commission issued the warning, however, that "unless plans are made to improve building facilities, the school is in danger of losing its place on the List of Accredited Schools."

According to Dr. Durkee, the association is a regional, non-profit agency for maintaining educational standards in the high schools and colleges of the Northeast. Each region of the nation has its own accrediting agency. Every ten years this agency sends to each high school and college an evaluation team, including classroom teachers, principals, supervisors, college professors, superintendents, and sometimes laymen. This team uses a standard publication in making its evaluation. Evaluative Criteria. It presents an oral report to the school staff and subsequently submits a written report.

Following the evaluation of Belleville High School in 1955, the Middle States Association continued Belleville High School on the Accredited List though it found it to be "handicapped by lack of facilities" in most de-

Eleven Urge Nuclear Ban

Eleven town citizens have joined over 100 other North New Jersey civic leaders in calling on the U. S. government to discontinue its testing of nuclear devices until the United Nations has had an opportunity to consider the problem.

The statement, which will be sent to President Kennedy reads: "We, the undersigned, are deeply concerned about the threat to human life posed by the fast accelerating arms race."

"While vehemently condemning the Soviet resumption of nuclear tests, we believe that the unilateral action of the Soviet Union should not be imitated by our country."

"Instead of resuming tests we

Citizens Board Plans Campaign For High School

The principle report at last night's Citizens School Advisory Committee meeting announced that persons in each of Belleville's nine school districts have been chosen to lead one phase of the committee's campaign for passage of the high school referendum.

Mrs. Violet Rochau said captains have been chosen to work with five persons under them to survey the people. Through this, the committee hoped to find those persons who need more information to vote in the Oct. 17 referendum. Key persons in each district will lead the campaign.

Mrs. Rochau and her committee plan to hold teas and coffee klatches prior to election for discussion of the school proposal.

The first of a series of public meetings sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association presidents to promote passage of the high school referendum, will be held on Monday evening, Sept. 25 at 7:30.

Presented by the P.T.A. of School Three, the "Back to School Night Program" at the 230 Joralemon Street school will begin with visits to the classrooms. This was planned to enable teachers and parents to discuss the program for each particular grade and see the work of their children.

A meeting in the all-purpose room will begin at 8:35 for discussion of the new high school building program.

Newest In Bottle Washers

plastic handle. The recent advent of the newest member of the Woodruff family, (named Leslie for his grandfather), marked the entry of a third generation Woodruff into the family business. He recently finished a hitch in the Air Force, where he found life was anything but a milk run. Like his father and grandfather before him, he took to the milk business as naturally as cream to coffee.

"All of this is a far cry from those early days in September of 1911 when the founder of the business first plied his trade along Quarry Street (now Union Avenue) and its environs. But the present success of the firm made the effort well worthwhile, the senior Woodruff said this week.

"Of course, I had some help, too. When Leslie, Jr. was 12 years old he began helping me before and after school," Woodruff recalled with a touch of pride in his voice. Leslie, Jr. is now president of the firm. His father retired some years ago.

When Leslie, Jr. graduated from Belleville High School in 1930, he joined his father in the business full time. By that time, they had three other vans on the road, and the number kept growing. At present the firm has more than a dozen trucks in operation as well as several stores it serves throughout the area.

EXPANSION PROGRAM It was in 1950 that Belleville Farms became processors of milk and other dairy products. Prior to that time the firm was engaged in the retail end of the industry only. A short time later, the present location on Joralemon Street was purchased and an expansion program launched.

The latest phase of the firm's growth is typified in the installation of a Ladewig Bottle Washer. This machine, specially built to Woodruff specifications by a Waukesha, Wis., firm specializing back, Richie Luzzi and Tony Della Terra at halfback and Stan Tomaszewski at fullback. From these four players should come the crux of the Bellows' offensive power.

Behind Latore will be three runners who can give Belleville yardage on the ground. They all have had varsity experience and are all capable of going all the way given a little room.

The offensive line will probably find Fred Valse and Bob Byers at the end positions. At the tackle slots will be Bob Pucarello and Vince Sorrentino. Joe McDermott and co-captain Mike Soupa will take over the guard positions with co-captain Alex Iacullo leading the line at center. Other players who will probably see service on the offensive team are Mike Rege and Drew Horvath on the line and Tom Greco in the backfield.

Defensively the line will be basically the same, with only two or three exceptions. Lou Pomponio will definitely see action as a linebacker or defensive end. Warren Ceres and Sam Constantino will probably figure also in the defensive setup.

of loss of accreditation "unless plans are made to improve school building facilities."

While it would take until July, 1962, to build a new high school, a vote to build a new high school would doubtless eliminate the danger of losing our accreditation.

ACCREDITATION LOSS

Since the beginning of the Middle States Association in 1921, no high school in Essex County has lost its accreditation. It would be a disgrace for Belleville to be the first Essex County High School to lose its accreditation, pointed out Dr. Durkee.

Only 13 high schools in New Jersey have lost their place on the Accredited List, and they promptly took steps that regained their accreditation. Belleville would doubtless react to its loss of accreditation as have other districts and then vote to build a new high school, Dr. Durkee feels. He argued, a negative vote on October 17 would not solve the problem of possible loss of accreditation on December 31, or the related problems of school modernization, grades K-12.

Loss of accreditation would place a handicap on every graduate from Belleville High School, he said. College admission would become more and more difficult for our graduates, and only a few top students would be able to enter many colleges, he added. Colleges know what kind of preparation students have when they come from accredited schools; they do not care to take chances with students from unaccredited schools.

PROGRAM COSTS

The staff for a new senior high school, and a junior high in the present high school building is now teaching these grades, 7-12. The teaching staff would need to be increased only in areas in which the curriculum is expanded, administration of the junior high school, and custodial-maintenance areas, the superintendent said. "This could cost as much as a 6 per cent increase in the school budget. But voters will decide each year what they want to spend in the school budget. They will continue to have control of school expenditures," he said.

The new senior high school, grades 10-12, located at the junction of Division Avenue and Passaic Avenue on high, solid ground of the Municipal Stadium site, completely furnished and ready for the students, would cost $2,730,000, said the Board of Education. The multi-purpose rooms at Schools One and Four would cost $251,000. Thus, the total program would cost $2,981,000.

"But by paying for this school building over a 25-year period, as most of us buy our homes," Dr. Durkee said, "the average annual cost to the average taxpayer (assessed valuation $6,000) will be $17.03 or 33 cents per week. This cost will be reduced by State Aid payments, debt retirement, and increasing assessed valuation. When these factors are considered for 1963, for example, the cost to the average taxpayer will be only $12.05 or 23 cents per week. Each year thereafter the cost will decline."

an additional $40,000 to $50,000 will have to be made up from other sources when the next budget is presented.

The Mayor pointed out that the exemption is being adopted in all Essex County communities with the exception of two who are keeping the tax because it affords additional income from apartment projects. The two municipalities, including Irvington, have a large number of apartment units.

Although it was pointed out that a number of apartment projects have been proposed for Belleville, Padula denied that the tax exemption was passed "as a favor to apartment developers."

Parring questions about tax assessments on the controversial Krugman-DePetro property where an apartment project is contemplated, Mayor Padula gave John Bass, president of the Rutan Estates Homeowners' Association a run-around at the Commission meeting Tuesday.

Padula dodged or refused to answer questions at the meeting, but remarked:

"All the records are public. Just stop in between 9 and 1 and we'll answer your questions."

Padula's conduct at the Commission meeting was viewed as a confirmation of his intent to concentrate on interests in the South Ward where he will seek election as a councilman under Belleville's new Council-Manager government. Rutan Estates is in the North Ward. Padula no longer needs North Ward votes to get into office under the new form of government.

The Mayor has not yet announced his candidacy although The Belleville Times reported several weeks ago that Padula intends to run. Questioned by another newspaper he is said to have denied any knowledge of The Times story.

The Belleville Times conducted an investigation last April which revealed that the Krugman-DePetro tract was being assessed for only $3,400.00. The Clifton firm's deed covering the purchase of the 16 lots on Overhill Road had revenue stamps affixed to it reflecting a cost price of $23,750.00.

Questioned by Bass at Tuesday's meeting, Padula admitted the assessment figure quoted was true but said he "didn't know anything about the amount paid for the property."

Bass then asked if Tax Assessor Emanuel DeNoia was aware of the purchase price paid by Krugman-DePetro. Although DeNoia was in the chambers, Padula answered for him: "No, he doesn't know. Mr. Bass? But last April DeNoia admitted he computed the purchase price for the land at $23,750.00 and that his records reflected this sum as the purchase price."

WANTS "FAIR SHARE" TAX

Despite the purchase price of only $23,750.00 paid by Krugman-

DePetro for the property, it was reported that the firm on firm values the tract at upwards of $80,000.00. Bass contends that since the property is so highly valued Krugman-DePetro should be assessed the normal 40 percent figure "just like everyone else in this town and pay their fair share of the tax burden."

Bass told Padula the individual homeowners are making up the deficit caused by the low $3,400.00 assessment.

"It's about time you did something for the individual homeowner," Bass said.

"Step in the tax assessor's office and you'll get all the information you want," Padula answered.

$186 per year. LaMorte is a Democrat County Committee man from the Third Ward, Sixth District.

His name figured in past election discussion following the May 2nd government change election when the people of Belleville overwhelmingly rejected C o mission form of government and elected the place and stead adopted Council Manager Plan D form of government.

The day following the election rumors were rife that LaMorte was awarded a raise in salary on election eve for his support of Commission government.

The raise was hotly denied. What actually happened was that Mayor Padula received a letter from the New Jersey Civil Service Commission on the day before election advising Padula that LaMorte's job should be upgraded in title as well as salary range. Tuesday's ordinance gives effect to the Civil Service recommendation.

should bring this issue before the United Nations. Our country, with the help of the U.N. now has a great opportunity to lead the world towards solutions of the urgent problems of nuclear testing, Berlin and total universal disarmament. Restraint from testing would be the first step in this leadership.

"We therefore urge the U. S. government to discontinue its resumed testing of nuclear devices until the United Nations has had an opportunity to consider the problem."

Home, Newark, to be a mortician.

Readers are invited to identify this person and the spot where the picture was taken. The first one to do so—by mail or in person at the office of The Times—will receive an award of $5. Please note: Identification of the person and place must be made by coming to the office of The Times, 246 Washington Avenue, or by mail. Phone calls will not be accepted.

It is important in playing this fascinating game of identification to note these simple rules: 1) The winner must tell us who the person is whose photo is circled and where picture was taken. 2) Entries in the contest must be made in person or by mail, NOT by phone. 3) The prize will be awarded to the one who submits the first correct identification; 4) all decisions by The Times are final; only one entry per family is permitted; 5) contest deadline is 5 p.m. Monday of next week. Entries in all respects are subject to disqualification.

If no one identifies the circled photo and the place where picture was taken, the prize money will be added to the following week's award.

Each week The Times staff photographer will take a similar picture somewhere in Belleville. Each week the picture will appear on the map page and test your ingenuity—and your power of observation. It can be lots of fun. Get started now. Work fast. Be the first to come to our office with the right answers! Remember, being first means being the winner.

cuss the high school they designed. Dr. Felix McCormick will speak on the "Meaning of the School Building Program to Belleville and the Part Each Citizen Should Take."

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools, members of the Board of Education and speakers from the Citizens Advisory Committee will answer questions. Officials of School Three P.T.A. urged the public to attend to "clarify any questions that may be in your mind about the new high school."

The second meeting is scheduled for Sept. 28 at School Eight. At an organization meeting there on Thursday evening, Sept. 7, the presidents endorsed the new high school proposal, which will be presented to voters Oct. 17.

They met as the consolidated P.T.A. representatives, to examine the plot plan and the schematic drawings of the proposed new senior high school. The school, which would house grades 10-12, would be located on high, solid ground at the junction of Division and Passaic Avenues.

The presidents said they were delighted with educational advantages the new senior high school and the junior high school, which would be located in the present high school building, would bring to the children of Belleville. They also approved the multipurpose rooms to be constructed at School One and School Four.

Emphasizing the advantages of the proposed building program, Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Superintendent of Schools, pointed to the need for curriculum improvement in all grades, the elimination of overcrowding in our high school, the discontinuance of the use of sub-standard classrooms, and increased efficiency in every possible aspect of Belleville schools.

SCHOOL FIVE CITED

Dr. Durkee gave School Five as an example of the use of sub-standard classrooms. In this school a sub-standard basement kindergarten has been in use by special permission of the County Superintendent of Schools since 1929, a period of 32 years, he said. Another sub-standard kindergarten room, he said has been in use seven years, and a fourth grade and a fifth sub-standard classroom, for eight years. He also noted the use of a sub-standard kindergarten classroom at School Nine for six years, and two third floor sub-standard (alcove) rooms at School Three for nine years. He said the proposed school building program would eliminate these conditions.

P. T. A. presidents expressed themselves briefly as follows:

Joseph Granese, School Four: "As president of School Four P.T.A. I am happy to go on record with the other presidents in the Consolidated P.T.A.'s and heartily endorse for all children who go to high school the proposed new senior high school and the multi-purpose rooms for School Four and School One. For better education and healthy children, we must give them the facilities needed."

Mrs. Dominic Macaluso, High School: "In the interest of the best education and the welfare of the children of Belleville, as president of the High School P.T.A., I endorse the new school program. Our children and our teachers are worthy of these educational facilities."

Mrs. Angelo Mostello, School Ten: "I go along with the Rutgers Report on our schools. The experts have shown what Belleville needs in its schools. Now it is time to act affirmatively on their recommendations; we have talked long enough."

Mr. Richard Lockwood, School Nine: "I am impressed with the warning of the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Middle States Association, received by our High School Principal January 3, 1961. There is a very real danger that our high school will not be continued on the List of Accredited Schools after December 31, 1961. Only by showing our intention as a community to improve building facilities by voting for the new school program, October 17, can we avoid the damage of losing our High School accreditation."

DESERVE FACILITIES

Mrs. Harry Burbank, School Five: "I feel the teaching in our schools is very good and our teachers and our children deserve modern educational facilities in which to work."

Mrs. Frank Di Ruggiero, School Three: "To give our children a well-rounded, modern education, suitable to meet our changing society and world conditions, we must provide our teachers and children with the necessary tools a new senior high school with its well-trained personnel and new equipment, multi-purpose rooms at School One and School Four, and all the improvements that can come from the resulting better organization of our schools, grades K-12."

Mrs. Walter Sincos, School One: "I am for the new high school and the multi-purpose rooms. I agree with my alter-nate, Mrs. Hubbs, that this building program is needed for the betterment of Belleville youth."

Mrs. Michael Albertine, School Seven: "As president of School Seven P.T.A., I urge the parents of Belleville to vote 'yes' on October 17 for a new high school. The Russian Dictator claims that Russia will win the minds of our children by the spread of ideas; not by warfare. I want my children and the future of Belleville."

dren and all other children to be given the kind of education that will give them the weapons to defend our way of life. I trust none of our children shall even say as adults, 'The people of Belleville turned down on October 7, 1961 my opportunity for the education I needed.'"

Mrs. Frederick Schroeder, School Eight: "The school referendum on October 17 gives our people the opportunity to put their schools into first-class condition from top to bottom. Certainly, we dare not fail our children and the future of Belleville."

Mrs. Glove Picci, School Two: "I am for the building program. I shall do my best to support it in my district. This program will give us the facilities we need to improve education in our whole school district."

Council Installs New Officers

At the opening meeting of the Colored Women's Welfare Council on Sunday, Sept. 10, officers were installed by Mrs. Mildred Taylor, state president of the National Federation of Colored Women's Clubs. Officers for the year are: Mrs. N. Dickinson, president; Mrs. M. Salter, vice president; Mrs. J. Salter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. V. Sloan, financial secretary; Mrs. M. Sloan, treasurer; Mrs. M. Plunkett, chaplain.

Members heard a guest speaker, Mrs. Dorothy Bullock, state vice president of the National Federation. She compared the similarity of every life and club work with the path of the rainbow that ended in a volcano. Club work, she said, takes so much time and energy that club women, "Must look like women, think like men, work like dogs and yet look like ladies at all times."

Musical selections were rendered by Walter Sanders and George Davis; readings by Mrs. B. Stewart and Mrs. Jannie McGuire.

This year's honoree was Mrs. Mae Sloan of 27 High Street, treasurer. Mrs. Sloan was honored for her service, faith and loyalty to the club since its formation 35 years ago.

Citizens Advisory Group Will Release Brochure

The Citizens' School Building Advisory Committee will release a brochure through the mails on September 29 urging all voters to back the referendum for a new high school.

In describing the brochure, Dr. Felix McCormick, consultant to the Board of Education, said that it was necessary to get it into the mail at least two weeks before the voting in order to get full impact of its contents.

The brochure will be a fold-out with a picture of the new school building on the front. The back lists the voting places and issues to be voted on. The inner fold documents the need for a new school and cites the present overcrowding of the high school.

While the town has offered the use of mailing machines, the committee is making arrangements for emergency mailing procedures should the occasion arise.

Fall Fashions Are The Stars At Louaires' Early Show

BY HARRY MCGOWAN

Long before Louis Diaz went in business for himself at 137 1/2 Washington Avenue under the name of Louaires' Menswear Store, the name he chose for his store was familiar to moviegoers of another generation — but it was spelled differently.

Any TV addict worth his salt can tell you that the name Lew Ayres at one time was synonymous with young Dr. Kildare, the personable hard-working young intern who played crochety old Doc Gillespie's assistant in many an MGM movie in the '30's and early '40's.

Leading ladies like Lana Turner and Laraine Day loved, and, alas, usually lost him as he pursued his celluloid medical career at Blair General Hospital. Of late years he has enjoyed a new popularity as a star of the late late, late movies on television.

Belleville's own Louaires has won a name for putting on a pretty fair show in the field of men's fashions since he opened his store March 1, 1957. The name Louaires' is a combination of his own first name and the last five letters of his wife Claire's name. Get it?

Prior to opening his own store, Diaz was manager of Caballero's Mens Shop for two years. When the store closed, he decided to branch out on his own.

Like many a Newarker before him, Lou likes Belleville. He says "business is getting better all the time." So much so, that wife Claire occasionally has to come into the store to help out. Friday and Saturday are the busiest days, he says.

Women make up 80 per cent of his customers, which seems to be the lie to the widely held belief that this is a man's world. Ho-hum!

Defense Of U. S. Stirs Study Of The Ocean, Says Naval Lieutenant

The Belleville Rotary Club heard Lt. Commander Henry G. Buckwalter of Montclair speak at their regular meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 13, about the importance of the ocean.

Mr. Buckwalter, now in the Navy Reserve, began his service career in 1942. One of his first assignments was teaching climatology and meteorology. Pilots study movement of ocean waves and determine speed and direction of air currents. Knowledge of the oceans is not a matter of curiosity, said Mr. Buckwalter. Our very survival may hinge upon it. He pointed out that President Kennedy asked Congress for nearly $100,000,000 for surveys and research of the ocean's depths.

Mr. Buckwalter is senior coordinator of training and education for International Telephone and Telegraph Federal Laboratories, Nutley.

Mr. Buckwalter said that because man lives only on one-third of the earth's surface the oceans have vast untapped resources for food and natural resources for the increasing population, as well for political considerations.

Defense spurs the broadened oceanography study, he said. The Navy's $1.2 billion program for under-water research and anti-submarine warfare is based partly on the informed report that the Soviet Union is building up its fleet of nuclear-powered submarines.

Harry T. French, program chairman, who introduced the speaker, announced that next week's speaker would be Robert Bucky, headmaster of Newark Academy. Mr. Bucky will discuss "The Role of the Private School in Education."

Richard Hughes, A Federal Judgeship, And The Gubernatorial Election

Since Sunday in the public press there appeared a story implying that Democrat Gubernatorial candidate Richard Hughes, a former Superior Court Judge, sat with GOP Congressman Bill Cahill of Camden and offered Cahill a Federal Judgeship in order to eliminate his (Cahill's) participation in the current gubernatorial contest.

Cahill is very popular in the tri-county area which he serves, Salem, Gloucester and Camden counties. His support and leadership probably will insure for James Mitchell, the GOP gubernatorial candidate, victories in all three counties.

Such a result would be disastrous to the Hughes campaign.

Bill Cahill is a former FBI agent. He enjoys an excellent reputation. Former Superior Court Judge Richard Hughes resigned from the Judiciary to earn more money as a practicing lawyer — with nine mouths to feed and a like number of bodies to clothe and keep warm and in good health the Judiciary salary was inadequate for his family needs.

On the bench Hughes performed with distinction. He compiled a record of integrity and fairness.

As a lawyer — and former Judge, Hughes knows of his own knowledge it is illegal to make promises of jobs in this campaign.

Tuesday Hughes unequivocally and emphatically denied he made the promise attributed to him. We believe Mr. Hughes.

The grandstanders should leave to the contestants the development of campaign issues. Serious problems face the taxpayer of New Jersey and the next Governor.

Let's get on with the campaign and discuss the real issues.

A Conference Which Contains Breach Of Faith Seeds

About ten days ago Parks and Public Property Director George Kiernan sent a memo to Mayor Isadore Padula transmitting to Padula a request for a conference made by the Krugman-De Petro realty firm.

In his memo Kiernan clearly indicated that if the Mayor decided to make arrangements for the requested conference the only question under consideration insofar as Kiernan was interested is the question of price for the seven acres of vacant land owned by Krugman-De Petro.

For months the developers have made several efforts to arrange a conference of adjacent property owners, the town commission and other public bodies to discuss the alleged advantages an apartment development would provide our community.

At one point Kiernan almost succumbed to the lure. As things stand now Padula has arranged for a conference to begin at the conclusion of Tuesday night's commission meeting. Padula said he was making these arrangements to permit the developers unlimited time with the Commission.

At this point perhaps it may be well to review the history of Krugman-De Petro's controversial seven acres. They may very well be the final resting place of some politicians' shattered dreams.

In February, 1957 the former owner, Karl Zimmerer, of Nutley, applied for permission to subdivide the plot to permit the erection of approximately 50 single family homes.

Mr. Zimmerer was unable to obtain the approval of the Town Commission. In December, 1957, having exhausted his patience — and probably throwing up his hands in despair Mr. Zimmerer sold the property, and title was taken in the names of Mrs. Jeanne Krugman and Mrs. Elsie DePetro, wives of the developers.

Within four months of this act the Belleville Town Commission — with Mayor Isadore Padula presiding, approved the subdivision which Karl Zimmerer had applied for but didn't receive.

At some point Krugman-DePetro made a determination that an apartment project would be more profitable than a one-family home development. Accordingly they engaged consultants to prepare a report which purports to prove that an apartment project would be of great financial benefit to the community.

Overlooked in the Krugman-DePetro planning is the fact that the land is zoned for one family homes — and unless they obtain Commission consent to a zone change it will be impossible to construct apartments on the site.

There have been persistent rumors that a majority of the Commission has unofficially agreed to a zone change. The fact that Krugman-DePetro went to great expense to prepare a 38 page report complete with drawings to support their plea for apartment use is grist for the rumor mill. "Why," town critics ask, "would prudent businessmen spend thousands of dollars to prepare sketches, etc. for an apartment project in Residential A territory unless they had received official encouragement that an application for a zone change would receive favorable consideration?" To us this sounds like an excellent, logical question.

Now what about our Town Commission. In January Commissioner George Kiernan introduced — and the Commission unanimously passed a resolution authorizing Kiernan to negotiate for the purchase of the Krugman-DePetro tract for ultimate use as a park-play area.

Within five months, in response to angry protests from Fairway Avenue and Rutan Estates taxpayer associations Kiernan introduced a second resolution — this one authorizing him — by negotiation or condemnation — to secure the property for park use. The resolution was adopted by a 4-1 vote — Commissioner Robert Gruhin reversing his January vote. After the vote Gruhin commented, "It's better to have an apartment up there instead of the dump you have." Mayor Isadore Padula said, "This vote doesn't mean anything because we still have to vote the money to buy the land. I want to know the cost before we go any further." In view of this reasoning listeners were bewildered with Padula's seeming contradiction — casting two successive votes in favor of acquisition for park purposes and his perplexing comment that the resolution meant nothing. The property owners of Fairway Avenue and Rutan Estates believed the resolution meant what it said — and further — they believed the Commission adopted the resolution in good faith.

On the question of apartments and their benefit to a community, last Tuesday night the Irvington Town Commission heard expert testimony on the comparative worth of residential homes versus apartment projects.

Let's listen to the paid experts who testified at that Irvington meeting. "Apartments would tax existing sanitary and storm sewers to a greater degree than two family homes."

"Apartments would create unmanageable traffic and parking problems."

We really didn't have to wait for this testimony to come in to be apprised of problems which follow in the wake of a new apartment project. The Fairway Avenue residents and Rutan Estates taxpayers have been saying the same thing for months.

We agree with Kiernan. Tuesday's meeting with the developers should concern itself with only one subject — the asking price for the land. Discussing the relative merits of apartments versus single family dwellings would be a breach of faith with the public.

Based upon the resolutions adopted at public meetings the citizens of Belleville are entitled to assume the Commission's only interest in the Krugman-DePetro property is acquiring it for park-play-ground purposes.

An Ordinance To Be Defeated

Tuesday night our lame-duck Town Commission will consider for final passage another in an endless chain of salary ordinances allegedly designed to "correct injustices" among our municipal employees.

You may recall the spark which apparently ignited a seemingly endless series of exorbitant municipal salary increases was provided when Mayor Isadore Padula introduced an ordinance in January calling for salary increases of $51,000 which included a $1,056 increase for his son, Isadore Padula Jr., Assistant Town Treasurer.

This was followed by increases in other departments notably Commissioner Harry Sullivan's Public Safety Department. Notwithstanding the fact that voters defeated on November 5th a police-firemen salary referendum calling for a $250.00 across the board pay raise the Town Commission on March 16th of this year adopted a Public Safety salary ordinance that provided wage increases of $179,000!

They range from $1,092 for a traffic maintenance man to $374.50 for one patrolman. The police chief received $984.00 as did the fire chief. 41 patrolmen and 36 firemen received $600.00 increases. Two deputy police chiefs received $965.00. A captain received $948.00. Two lieutenants received $916.00 each.

Sergeants came slightly cheaper — they went for $875.00 each. The court clerk, bless his heart, rated $903.00.

The senior traffic man who received $826.00 didn't do as well as the traffic maintenance man — who drew a miserly $1,092.00.

Unfortunately the list does not stop here. There were three deputy fire chiefs at $965.00 each, 8 captains at $916.00, another captain at $758.00, and 19 firemen, in addition to the 36 above mentioned, receiving raises ranging from $692.50 to $800.00.

Now comes Commissioner George Kiernan. By dollar comparison his department is asking for the least money for salary adjustments and increases. We frankly don't like what we see. $19,000-plus in wage increases is a lot of dough — especially for Belleville taxpayers. Following increases granted to other municipal employees this proposed ordinance — if adopted — may well prove to be the straw that broke the camel's back.

Many citizens who successfully worked for the Council-Manager form of government last May 2nd warned of possible recall action if the lame-duck Commission took action inimical to the best interests of the taxpayers.

We predict a mass uprising of taxpayers if the proposed salary ordinance is adopted. In such a rebellious mood no one can predict what action a group of scorned taxpayers may take. A Recall election is very much a probability.

In passing it should be noted that tucked away in Tuesday night's Parks and Public Property salary ordinance is a section which includes a salary range increase for Mayor Isadore Padula's Revenue and Finance "Addressograph Machine Operator" who, if the ordinance is adopted, will become a "Senior Addressograph Machine Operator" — and yes — the new title provides substantial annual wage increases for the next five years.

For the Commission to pass the proposed salary ordinance Tuesday night would be really rubbing it in. But — you know the disastrous commission policy — you scratch my back, etc. etc., etc.

Jayvees Eye Record Made Last Season

BY HOWARD SELIGMAN

The Belleville High School Jayvee Football season opens Monday against East Orange. The Bellboys, coached by Pete Spera, looks forward to a successful season.

Although the schedule will be tough the team is confident that this year's Jayvees will come close to copying the outstanding record made by last year's undefeated squad.

The team will be aided by the second string varsity. Other promising sophomore players in the backfield are Frank Pomaco, John Visco, Joe Corretta, and Jerry Lupre. At end is Mike Nicolsia whose size alone demands great accomplishments. Up front there are solid linemen like Ray Chapman, Jerry Longo, Pete Rossi, Phil Rinaldi, and Rich Benecci. Heading the defense is Sebastian Sica who also plays offensive guard. The bench also contains many able boys to back up the first string.

In scrimmages against the freshmen, the Jayvee team showed it can handle itself very capably on both offense and defense.

Bombers Are League Champs

Eager Fans Asked To Wait

Overzealous Bellboy adherents are asked to wait for the coming football season to see their favorite team in action.

Eager fans, according to athletic director Herman Wische, are disrupting pre-season football practice at Clearman Field by their over-enthusiasm for the team. This is disconcerting to the players and also interferes with football coaching practices, he said.

At the same time Wische announced the appointment of a new coach, Peter Spera, a former player for the school and George Washington University

There is nothing so advantageous to a man as a forgiving disposition.

Terence,

Two Lettermen Back On Team

BY ANDREW PROVENCE

Along with autumn, cross-country is back in season. The Belleville High School cross country team, coached by Mario DiMaggio, is off and running.

The team has its job cut out with the graduation of all but two of last year's lettermen. The two remaining lettermen are Jim Harvey and Robert Babb, who both have been troubled by foot injuries that caused them to miss several practices.

Another obstacle is the small turnout—14 boys. Besides Jim Harvey and Robert Babb, DiMaggio is counting on three other seniors: Jim Debesis, Tony Raimo, and Andrew Province. DiMaggio also counts on help from the rest of the team: Dante Petrucci, Martin Ollenschlager, Arthur Assantes, Paul Gabrian, Tom Terzo, Eugene Trosebridge, Frank Lofrano, John Stasello, and Thomas McGeachin.

Burns Receives NCE Promotion

Paul A. Burns of 422 Franklin Avenue, has been promoted to coordinator of conferences in the Special Courses Division of Newark College of Engineering. The announcement was made today by Dr. Robert W. Van Houten, president of the college.

Burns joined NCE in 1959 as assistant to the director of special courses. In his new capacity he will coordinate 30 different conferences and seminars sponsored annually by the division for representatives from business, industry and education.

His additional duties cover operational aspects of the division, which enrolls over 1,000 evening students each year in classes especially designed for industrial technicians. A total of 12 different two- and three-year certificate programs are offered.

Prior to joining NCE, Burns was a member of the accounting department of Esso Export Corp., New York, for nearly 10 years, and a sales representative of B. He served in the Navy for four years, attaining the rate of Personnel man Second Class.

Editor's Note: In last week's issue, the wrong headline was put on Mrs. Robert Rudden's letter. As her letter clearly voiced, she is in favor of a new high school, contrary to the headline.

NUTLEY, NEW JERSEY

Opposes H. S. Referendum; Urges Quality

Dear Sir:

For several weeks now I have read in this newspaper letters from people supporting the proposed new high school. At first reading many of the arguments for the high school appear sound, but let's take a look at some of the factors which have been overlooked.

First, since when does a new building assure better education? I attended Stuyvesant High School in New York City and anyone there knows that the building is very old, but adequate. What is more important is that the quality of instruction is excellent, as attested to by its high academic rating and the success of its graduates.

I believe that the quality of Belleville's education is also good, but instead of a new building let's improve our education to even higher levels. With less than one-quarter of the money needed for a new building, we could supply the students with modern science equipment and educational aids.

TAX INCREASE

It has been stated that the cost of a new high school building, (and additions to two grammar schools) will increase taxes about $20 per year, or less than a quart of beer per week. Does this include the interest on the loan? In the case of 30 year maturity bonds the cost will be almost double. In addition, who will pay for the extra teachers, maintenance and furnishings for the new high school? Why hasn't someone in authority presented the real figures to the citizens of Belleville? Could it be that they are afraid all the facts might damage their case?

I am in favor of education, real education, where the emphasis is on subject matter instead of on frills. I urge the citizens of Belleville to vote No in the October referendum.

J. J. INSERRA
34 Maier Street
Editor's Note: A public meeting — a "public hearing type" is to be held Wednesday evening, October 11. It is being sponsored by the proposed new school lay committee. This would be the opportunity for any citizen to have all his questions answered. We urge all interested citizens to attend and speak up!

Discusses Buying In Belleville and U. S.

Dear Sir:

A few months ago I wrote a letter to you and never got around to mailing it. After reading your September 7th issue of the Belleville Times it reminded me of it and I dug it out again.

I am referring to your front page article entitled, "Buy in Belleville to be Chamber of Commerce Lunch Theme." It has always been a policy of mine to patronize the stores of Belleville before going out of town for the same such items. As a life-long resident of Belleville I have grown to know and love my community and hope to live here for many more years.

However, I have noticed more and more lately that the quality of merchandise being sold in the stores is inferior as compared to say, five years ago.

Foreign trade is a growing and wonderful thing but we've got to draw a line to what is good and what is inferior. Merchandise is being sold in some local stores of Belleville that has been imported from foreign countries. Fine! Some of it is good. Nine times out of ten it is being sold at a lower cost and therefore catches the eye of the consumer. We all naturally want to save a penny whenever we can, it's in all of us.

QUESTIONS QUALITY

But what happens to the product after it goes home? I could probably estimate its lifespan at one-half of that of a product made in the good old U.S.A. They can sell their products cheap. Does anyone ever stop to think why? I'll tell you why. They pay their workers barely enough wages to exist on and they probably work twice as long as the average American worker to earn it.

Why put an American worker out of a job in order to keep a foreign one in business? Why are there thousands of Americans still unemployed? I realize these countries are also Ameri-

Dear Sir:

Until moving down here to Pine Beach, four years ago, I spent 35 years of my life at 174 Linden Avenue.

Two weeks ago a very good neighbor who lived a few doors away, came here to see my husband and me. In fact, she came to see if we were well, because it had been rumored throughout Belleville that we had both passed away.

As an old reader of The Times, I would appreciate your telling our Belleville friends that we are very much alive and very well.

Thank you very much,

Cheers Mrs. Rudden

Dear Sir:

Bravo to Mrs. Robert Rudden for her letter to Speak Up last week. I feel as though I must write also because I received a terrible disappointment last week along with my son. He just entered Belleville High School as a freshman and was so enthused about the whole thing until the first day of school when he found out he could not take Mechanical Drawing because the classes were already crowded. It seems the seniors have priority on these classes and then it works down until the poor freshmen have nothing. Next year when he is a sophomore he may get a chance to be in a class, but there is nothing definite. Here is another reason for a new high school. This list of reasons keep growing by leaps and bounds but it all boils down to one thing, Belleville needs a new high school and it's up to us to get out and vote for it. Thank you for letting me get this off my mind.

Sincerely,
MRS. GEORGE ROSS

Arvidson's Talk Criticizes Board On Appointment

(The following is the second half of a statement made by Ernest Arvidson, minority member of the Belleville school board, made at a special meeting which named Dr. Durkee superintendent of schools.)

In the portion of his statement reported two weeks ago, Mr. Arvidson outlined how other Boards of Education had proceeded to select a Superintendent of Schools.

Against this how does our Board's procedure compare? An executive session of this Board was called for Aug. 10, for the purpose of discussion of the Superintendent. At this meeting the majority of the Board over the strong protest of a minority decided to limit our applicants to persons within the system. It was during this discussion, Mr. Chairman, that you produced the resume of (which all Board members had presented a copy) you produced the resume of the person whom we are now asked to approve or challenge any one in our School District to produce a better resume. Did you already have your choice made?

It was only after considerable prodding by this minority that your plans to only make an announcement in the local press concerning this was abandoned. You finally agreed to contact all eligible persons in our system and notify them of our decision, and inform them that they had until Aug. 25, to decide. What happens if someone changes his or her mind and applies tomorrow? We have broken faith with these people.

After receiving the resumes from the applicants were they read and discussed at a board meeting? No. Were the applicants shown the courtesy of an interview with the board? Again No. Was the person whom we are now being asked to place in this position of trust interviewed by the board? Again No. Your original argument was that this promotion from within as you call it would stimulate morale in the system. The manner in which the board has mismanaged this situation has caused nothing but disharmony and discord. We are perpetrating a hoax upon the people of Belleville.

We are making a selection in just 14 days where other districts make a thorough study for months.

You say we need to act fast because of the pending school referendum. I am not a Johnny-come-lately in supporting this plan. I have advocated for years that we provide adequate facilities and tools so our teachers can do the job we want done, but,

I refuse to be browbeaten into a hasty decision in this manner.

Wesley Methodist Church Accepts Building Proposal

The congregation of Wesley Methodist Church, voted to accept the proposal submitted by their New Building Committee at a special meeting on Friday, September 8. The Rev. Mr. Wallace Sorenson, District Superintendent of the Eastern District of the Newark Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, presided over this meeting, which fulfilled the first requirement for a Methodist church beginning a major improvement program.

The proposal adopted includes: 1) the construction of a one-story addition at the rear of the present building which will provide six classrooms and a choir practice room; 2) the complete rebuilding of the west end of the present building to provide two classrooms, a new altar-centered chancel and the construction necessary to install the newly purchased pipe organ; 3) the alteration of the north annex and present classrooms to provide a new chapel and enlarged nursery and kindergarten classrooms with new toilet facilities for these classes.

Adoption of this proposal authorizes the New Building Committee to have the architect, D. H. Hair, Associates, of Fords, prepare the working drawings and submit them to contractors for bids. After the bids have been received and a financing plan completed, the congregation will meet again to authorize acceptance of a particular bid and the financing plan.

Mr. Sorenson commended the congregation for this first step in improving ministry in Belleville. He said he is looking forward to working with the congregation as the project moves along. In April 1962, the congregation will complete a three-year building fund contribution plan, which will provide the major portion of the funds required for the project. The building is scheduled for completion by September 1962 with the organ installation finished by October, 1962.

STROKES:The Hopeful Side*FOR THE FAMILY WITH A STROKE PATIENT

Once a stroke has occurred, the important point to remember is that, in nine cases out of ten, recovery is possible. How fast & how much progress he makes depends largely on the stroke patient himself. There also is a good deal the family can do to help the stroke patient at home.

A stroke results when something interferes with the blood supply to the brain, blanking out one or more of the control centers of the brain, for example, those that control muscular movement on one side of the patient may not be able to move his left fingers, hand, arm or his left foot. Sometimes the part of the brain that controls the ability to speak is affected; and sometimes the patient is unable to think clearly.

The doctor should be called immediately when a stroke occurs so that he can determine the proper individualized treatment for each patient. The family's cooperation with the doctor may be essential to the patient's recovery. Often the doctor will arrange for a nurse or physical therapist to come in and care for the patient and show the family what can be done and how to do it.

Soon after a stroke, the doctor may start a program of exercise to restore function of a paralyzed arm or leg in order to prevent stiffening of muscles and joints. If the patient is unable to perform these exercises for himself, the family may have to exercise the paralyzed limbs for the patient. The doctor may also instruct the family in methods of massage to help stimulate circulation until exercises can be started. Exercises for the patient should not be started until the doctor has prescribed them and instructed the family or patient on what to do and how to do it.

Although most patients can hear and understand what you say to them, some many not be able to speak at all after a stroke, or their speech may be slurred. Speech defects almost always improve after a time but while the trouble exists, the patient understandably is worried and upset. Reassure him that the condition will probably improve and arrange signals so that he can tell you what he wants; for example, to close one eye if he wants water, to open his mouth if he wants food. The doctor may suggest other possible signals.

If the patient can write, keep pencil and paper nearby. With a little ingenuity, a bell can be arranged in such a way that even a severely disabled person can arrange for attention. It is very reassuring to the patient to know he can ring for help at any time, especially if he has trouble speaking. Such a means of communication will make him feel less anxious when left alone. The doctor will tell you about any special speech therapy he may want for the patient.

When the stroke patient is well enough to get around, there are a number of simple and practical self-help devices that will enable him to do more things for himself. A bit of resourcefulness and imagination can solve many minor but troublesome problems. Some of these are illustrated in a booklet "Strokes: A Guide to the Family," copies of which are available from Essex County Heart Association, 120 Evergreen Place, East Orange.

Allow the patient to take on more responsibilities for self-care and other activities as he becomes able to do so. If he can brush his teeth, or shave, or comb his hair or dress himself, encourage him to do so, even though it may take a long time. You may need to learn patience and resist frustration as much as he does!

Attitudes - the patient's, the family's and visitors' - can greatly influence the patient's recovery for better or for worse. The patient must have the will to recover, the desire to be self-sufficient and useful again. Here the family can help by encouraging the disabled person, buoying his spirits when he becomes discouraged, showing confidence in his improvement, permitting him to help himself as much as possible. Only family members can reassure him that he is wanted and needed and still has an important place in the family circle.

When his condition warrants it, encourage friends to spend time with the stroke patient. This will help keep him in contact with the world will stimulate his interest and satisfy his social needs. Have the patient participate in family planning and activities: feeling useful is a tremendous morale booster. Praise any successful effort he makes but don't be discouraged by his failures. Recovery from a severe stroke may be a long, slow process - and patience.
