DOUBLE SESSION THREAT AT HIGH SCHOOL

State Holds Hearing On 'Misused Funds' Tax Council Charge

BY HARRY MCGOWAN

The State Department of Education is expected to hold a hearing in Trenton today on a charge by the Citizens Tax Council that the Board of Education has "misused" public funds to support its new school construction program.

The complaint will be aired before Eric Groezinger, Assistant State Commissioner of Education. Also in attendance will be Max Schwartz, counsel to the school board, and a representative of the Tax Council. Groezinger said yesterday no immediate decision was expected on whether to throw out the charge, ask for briefs or arrange for a full hearing.

However, it was learned from an authoritative source in Trenton that officials in the department feel that the Tax Council had failed to make a prima facie case to support their claim. School board members here are confident the charge will be thrown out.

The Tax Council's complaint is seen by the school board as a delaying gambit. The board felt this was being used by the Tax Council in support of its stand.

United Fund's House-to-House Plans Postponed

Although the United Fund Special Gifts Campaign as well as the solicitation of business firms and corporations is now under way, it was decided to postpone the kick-off of the House-to-House Campaign until Thursday, Oct. 19.

Both Mrs. Edward A. Rochau, chairman of the campaign committee, and Mr. Seymour Grossman, residential campaign chairman, felt that additional time was needed for planning and organization, they also decided that this phase of the campaign should not interfere in any way with the High School Referendum on Oct. 17.

This year, the Board of Trustees is launching the biggest fund-raising campaign in the history of the United Fund of Belleville. There are 12 reasons for it—the 12 agencies, which make up the fund. Each year they do a big job for Belleville providing activities for our youth or rendering care to those desperately in need of physical, mental, or emotional rehabilitation.

Based upon the essential part they play in the life of this community, these agencies deserve support. In the past, Belleville's contributions to the Fund have not been nearly enough for the community's needs. Fund collectors reminded townspeople that "when you make a contribution to the United Fund, you give once for all of the 12 agencies combined."

The town-wide drive will end October 28. More than 7500 pamphlets, 500 posters and 200 canisters will be distributed in the town.

John G. Draggett is chairman and William F. Bing, co-chairman. Boy Scout collections will be directed by George Wright; industries, Edward W. Hemmery; meetings, Joseph G. Pell; collections, Frank J. Balen and Herman De Jonge; churches, John McNally; containers, Leo Hopkin; and publicity, Russell S. Taub.

CD-DC Council Stresses Fallout Shelter Program

Fallout shelters are now the most important concern of the Belleville Civil Defense Disaster Control Council, according to Ludwig R. Pesa, director.

Plans for evacuation were being sidetracked in favor of more concentration on shelters. This change stems from the Federal Government recommendations and some change of policy from the Federal Office of Emergency Planning.

Pesa told a meeting of his staff and council that plans were being made by the OEP for surveys to be made over a wide state, which would include public buildings, schools and other places where shelters could be established. He said all these plans meant the public must be re-

Town Practices Fire Prevention All During Year

Again this year Belleville has one of the lowest fire-loss records in the nation for municipalities with a population up to 40,000. "This, I believe, is a fine record and is due to our all-out campaign for fire prevention," said Commissioner Harry J. Sullivan, department of Public Safety.

Last year fire losses in the United States increased 5.8 per cent over last year, reaching $1,107,824. Fire strikes an average of 800 American homes every day, and fire takes a life every three quarters of an hour.

Yet 89 per cent of this devastation could be avoided with care. This week is Fire Prevention Week, set aside to help reduce tragic losses from fire.

BHS Team Out For Revenge

THE BELLBOYS hope to stop Nutley on Saturday by repeating plays like this one, from last week's Bloomfield game, Bob Byers catching a pass at the 20 yard line ran to the 5 yard line before being brought down by a Bengal defender. This play set up the first Belleville touchdown of the day.

By ROGER WARTEL

Park Oval in Nutley will be the scene in two days of the most fiercely contested football game in Essex County. The revenge hungry Belleville football team will invade its perennial opponent Nutley High School. The Maroon Raiders have dominated the Bellboys in this sport for the past seven straight years.

Going by their past performance the Bellboys have an advantage, having won their last game in an impressive manner. Both teams have suffered injuries and both will not be playing at their best. The Maroon Raiders lost last Saturday to East Orange by five points while the Bellboys defeated Bloomfield 20-12. Belleville lost to East Orange in its first game by only a point.

Belleville's offense played extremely well against the Bengals last week. They proved that they could move on the ground as well as in the air. Nutley's defensive line is not as big as Bloomfield's and the Bellboys will probably make use of this fact Saturday.

Taxes Would Increase By $200,000 As Result Of A Second Shift

AN EDITORIAL

Taxpayers Beware

Under the pretense of guardian of the public treasury a political group is telling taxpayers to vote against the proposed new high school because it is uneeded, so why waste the money.

Along comes no less an authority than the State of New Jersey to warn Belleville that "substandard conditions now existing in the high school be removed."

The New Jersey State Department of Education further refers to the Belleville High School as "a building that is inadequate both for the number of pupils to be served and the curriculum of a modern senior high school in New Jersey."

Behind this observation is the implication of a double session high school involving an additional taxburden to Belleville homeowners reaching a staggering $200,000!

Double sessions would require immediate recruitment of countless teachers and other personnel. Taxes would rise at least 35 points and we would still be without a modern high school! Is this what our taxpayers and parents want for Belleville? We think not.

We believe our voter will not be taken in by misleading propaganda. The perpetrators of the fraud are selling short the intelligence of our Belleville taxpayers.

To keep faith with Belleville's most priceless possession — our youth — to keep faith with our hard pressed and oppressed taxpayers — the Belleville School Board members are urging a "YES" vote on Tuesday, October 17th. There is no doubt about the wisdom and necessity of a "YES" vote.

But — don't leave your voting to the other fellow. Reserve the date — Tuesday, October 17th — and be sure to visit your school polling place between the hours of 2:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m.

Durkee Warns State Could Withdraw Aid

A mounting crisis in Belleville's educational problems was foreseen this week by Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Schools Superintendent, in the wake of last week's warning by the State Board of Education on the town's sub-standard high school.

LOSS OF STATE AID

Dr. Durkee pointed out that failure to comply with the state body's directives could result in the loss of some $225,000 in state aid to education in the current year alone. He said if Belleville was forced to house its high school students in the present building on Washington Avenue four sessions would inevitably result.

"That would mean hiring more teachers to service the needs of the 1551 students now attending the overcrowded high school," he noted. Added to that the disagreement would be without supervision of any kind for several hours daily if a program of double sessions was adopted, and the result could be incalculable, he warned.

NEW TEACHERS

Dr. Durkee estimated the cost of hiring new teachers — "if we can find them" — at $200,000 annually. That would bring the cost of such a makeshift solution to over half-a-million dollars, he said.

"And we would still need a new school," he declared.

"People tend to forget that the State Education Department has the power to suspend state aid to districts that fail to meet department requirements on building and curriculum," Dr. Durkee said time was running out for Belleville to make a decision. The State Department of Education can intervene in any community that fails to meet the education, health and safety needs of its children, he warned.

1910 Education For '61 Prices, Warns Mattlin

Belleville taxpayers were warned this week that tolerating a lagging second-rate educational system was like paying 1961 prices for 1910 merchandise — "it's financial foolishness."

The speaker was Dr. Howard Mattlin, public relations consultant for education, addressing a meeting of parents and taxpayers in the high school. Dr. Mattlin is an associate of Dr. Felix McCormick, educational consultant to the Board of Education.

MRS. MAYWOOD ATHERTON 'Just Like Beglam'

Almost 300 persons — the largest turnout in the series, so far attended the "Back To School Night" program sponsored by the P.T.A. of School Eight this week, as the drive by the town's Parent Teacher Association to promote passage of the Oct. 17 high school referendum picked up momentum.

Teachers in all grades at the school took part in an hour-long discussion with parents to explain school work at all grade levels. Following the session a meeting took place in the all-purpose room at which school board members took part in a panel discussion of the need for the school building program.

Participating in the discussion in addition to the board members were Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Schools Superintendent, Dr. Felix McCormick, Educational Consultant, Karel Philip, Associate Architect, Allan Crisp and Calvin Peck. Crisp is President, and Peck Vice President, of the Citizens School Building Advisory Committee.

Following a lantern slide show of schematic drawings for the new school, during which Philip gave an explanatory talk, Dr. McCormick gave a short talk on "The Meaning of the School Building Program." This was followed by an open session.

SCHOOL-A-BARGAIN

Mrs. Frederick E. (Pat) Schröder, president, School 8 P.T.A., said those people who supported the school program were "simply acting from a sense of enlightened self-interest." If the school was turned down now, it would mean paying a premium price for a similar program later on, she declared.

"Buying at these prices is like buying sheets at January White Sale bargain rates," Mrs. Schroeder added.

SCHOOL HASSEL 'A SHOCK'

Mrs. Fred Ewing of 80 Van Houten Place, said it was a "shock" to her to see people quibbling over something so important as this.

Mrs. John Ramsell of 353 Main Street recognized a newspaper boy who had been in the map page in person at the office of The Times.

Mrs. Ramsell used to be a neighbor of 11-year-old Gregory Mac Donald until she moved last week. Gregory, a sixth grade student at St. Peter's School, lives at 183 Academy Street.

children's education. She said she formerly lived in Rochester, N. Y., where the standard of education was "the finest," if Belleville continued to lag behind the parade of progress in education, she said, people would simply move away to a better educational school climate, just as people seek "relief from chill winter's blasts in Florida's sunny climes."

H.S. 'BEDLAM'

Mrs. Maywood Atherton of 85 Hornblower Avenue dubbed conditions at the high school "just like bedlam." She said her daughter attended the school and was forced to forgo several courses because they were unavailable in the present inadequate curriculum. Mrs. Atherton said "it is a terrible state of affairs at a high school when there isn't even room for students to attend for gym." (Girl students attend school already dressed for gym sessions because of space limitations).

CAFETERIA EDUCATION

Speaking on the "urgency" of a new high school, Mrs. Albert Lowack of 18 New Street said she "couldn't see children being compelled to get their education sitting in a school cafeteria because of lack of classrooms." She said the only answer was a new high school, or else the problem would get worse.

Another speaker who has children attending schools in the district was Mrs. James Russo-manno of 94 Columbus Avenue. She said everybody keeps saying "our children deserve the best." She wanted to know:

"How can we give our children the best in education if we allow Belleville to continue to lag behind the rest of the State of New Jersey?"

Times-News To Hold Publicity Seminar Oct. 13

A publicity writing seminar is being sponsored by The Times-News. The session, which will last about two hours, will be on Friday evening, Oct. 13 at 8 o'clock in the high school library.

Publicity chairmen of local organizations — churches, schools, civic groups, fraternal societies, men's and women's clubs — are invited. Also welcome are representatives of business and industry and all others who think they would benefit from concentrated instructions in how to prepare publicity material for the paper.

There will be no charge. Those who attend are asked to bring a pencil and paper — and as many questions as they can think up in the field of newspaper writing.

It is important that we know how many to expect at the class. Please bring (or mail) the following information to The Belleville Times-News office, 246 Washington Avenue, PL 9-3200.

Fire Prevention

For the 70 members of Belleville's fire department fire prevention is a constant job. "The most important thing we do," said Chief Carl F. Hunderprund, "is to inspect all public buildings four times a year and inspect stores, factories and apartments twice a year. It is because of this very intensive inspection that we have such small fire losses."

PREVENTION RULES

The commissioner urged citizens to begin following these rules:

1. Never leave children unattended in the home, even for a few minutes. Hundreds of unattended children died in fires last year.
2. Make sure your baby sitter is a responsible person. Instruct him or her in these rules:
- a) Don't use electrical appliances unless necessary. If it will be necessary, instruct him in their use.
- b) Don't smoke or use matches.
- c) Do not allow parties.
- d) Leave Fire Department telephone number and number where you can be reached.
- e) In case of fire or any suspicion of smoke, instruct him not to try to find the fire or put it out. A sitter must take the children outside and stay with them, calling someone to notify the Fire Department. It is important that the sitter stay with the children, because children have a tendency to run back into the house if left alone.

- 3) Never smoke in bed or fall asleep anywhere while smoking. This is the leading cause of fire in the home.
- 4) Inspect the electrical wiring in your home and if you don't understand electricity, have a competent electrician do it for you. Inspect fuses to find out if they are too large and check extension cords and floor lamps for frayed wiring.
- 5) Don't use cleaning fluid or an explosive nature under any circumstances inside your home.
- 6) Check on chimneys, cooking and heating equipment. Defective equipment of this kind caused 2,000 deaths in America last year.
- 7) Clean out attics, cellars and closets and throw out all things that are not usable. Restore what you are going to keep in an orderly fashion.
- 8) It is advisable not to store old paints, oils and varnishes, but if you must store them, use a metal locker and keep it isolated. Don't store anything near it.
- 9) If you must use cleaning fluid of a combustible nature, take it outside to use it.
- 10) Rake all the leaves and dry grass away from your house and garage. If you have a garage attached to your house, make sure the fire door is in good order and always closed.

- 11) Instruct all members of your family, regardless of age, in at least two routes of exit from your home in case of fire.

"How many of these hazards are there in your home?" asked the commissioner.

"Not many people can answer this question, but most people are living with one or more of these conditions," he said. "The ideal solution would be a fire department inspection of each home once a year, but because of the limitation of personnel and because the law does not permit such inspections by the fire department except upon request, the job is strictly up to each home owner. The commissioner and the chief agreed that they would instruct the department to make inspections for anyone requesting them."

would be activated within seconds from any warning control center. This unit would be small enough to be plugged into some electric outlet. In the event of an alarm, a signal would be received over the power line on a subcontrolled frequency other than 110 volts. The current would in no way be affected for normal use. In case of an alarm, a signal would be superimposed on the present power supply, and School children will have containers in which to deposit materials located at their schools during the second week from Oct. 16 through Oct. 20, and churches, synagogues, business plants and local stores are also cooperating in the appeal.

Containers will be available in local stores, churches, plants, fire houses and at the Town Hall. Any used white material can be used, bed sheets, pillowcases, linens and shirts, regardless of their condition.

A joint meeting of Unico National Belleville Chapter, Belleville Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs will be held Thursday, Oct. 12, to map cooperative plans for the drive.

low rate for at least 100 per cent more work than the original bid called for.

GUARANTEE

"It is nothing else except a guarantee," he explained.

The low bidder for the job was the Franklin Contracting Co. of Little Falls. Their bid for $5,735, accepted by the Commission last March 14, was 75 per cent less than its nearest competitor, Gruhin pointed out.

"That bid was so fantastically low, we took advantage of it and had all the holes in the streets patched," he said. "That's not bad government, that's good business." The streets needed repairs after last winter's snowstorms.

The Commission had authorized payment of the final $14,879.75 bill in two additional installments over the original payment.

Golden requested on Sept. 28 that the prosecutor's office investigate. A preliminary investigation was begun to determine whether there was cause for a full investigation of Golden's complaint. Reports of the first findings were not expected until tomorrow.

The town attorney did not expect to reach a decision until the beginning of next week.

State Hearing

against the new building program. In its complaint to Groezinger the council charged that the school board authorized spending of funds for a film and a brochure to promote passage of the school building plans.

The council has also accused the school board of violations in allocating public funds during private meetings to pay for projects designed to put across the school building plans at the Oct. 17 referendum. The charges were rapped as "nuisance" tactics this week by Dr. Frank M. Durkee, Schools Superintendent. Schwartz also categorically denied the charges.

Durkee said the tax council was making a "technical maneuver" in attacking the school board through the State Education Department. He said the school board was "cast doubt on the school board" to help defeat the referendum.

He termed the charge a "desperation move" by the tax council, and said there wasn't a vestige of truth in it.

Groezinger declined to say when a decision on the allegations would be announced.

Ben E. Grimm Speaks At Library Institute

Ben E. Grimm, director of the Belleville Public Library, will discuss public use of public libraries in the panel on "What Does the Public Expect to Find in Libraries?" at a one-day library institute today at the Municipal Building in Wayne.

The over all theme of this year's series of four annual regional institutes is "Role of the Building in Library Services." Mr. Grimm will discuss the same subject at the regional meeting in Lakewood on Oct. 26.

These institutes are co-sponsored by the New Jersey Library Association, Committee on Institutes, and the Public and School Library Services Bureau, Division of the State Library, New Jersey State Department of Education. Librarians, trustees and all who are interested in the development and promotion of better library service are invited to attend.

Where's the economy in that? she wanted to know.
Mrs. Violet Rochau pointed out that "any addition to the present high school would cost us as much - and eventually maybe more - than a new school. We could end up with a needless monstrosity and still need a new school." Mrs. Rochau is a former member of the Belleville Board of Education.

'GAUDY' SCHOOL UNWANTED
He said his remarks should not be taken to mean that he favored ornate or gaudy school plants as the answer to today's education needs. What he was advocating, Dr. Mattlin said, was "an adequate, enriched curriculum, housed in suitable modern surroundings." There wasn't a single state among the fifty, he said, that didn't give top priority to school needs.
"Can Belleville afford to do less?" he asked.
Another speaker commented that "only three of Essex County's 22 communities spent less of their tax dollar on education than Belleville did." Two of the three are Newark and East Orange, where the total amount spent on education far exceeds Belleville's, it was said.
Mrs. Robert Zeiss of 326 Stephen Street, said she had "three good reasons for wanting a new high school. Their names are John, Lorraine and Robin - my children." She added that the estimated cost of 33 cents a week that would be added to the tax rate for the new school "looks to me like an excellent investment for the future."
Mrs. John Rempusheki of 24 Hilton Street, like Mrs. Zeiss a mother of three and a membership co-chairman of the high school P.T.A., said the longer the new high school was deferred the more money it was going to cost.

Applications Available For NROTC Program
Applications are now available for the Navy's annual competitive examination for its nationwide Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps college training program, according to a recent announcement from the Department of the Navy. The examination is scheduled for December 9, 1961, and is open to all high school seniors and graduates who can qualify.
The Regular NROTC trains young men for ultimate commissioning as career officers in the Navy and Marine Corps. For those selected, all tuition, fees, and books, plus an annual retainer pay of $600 will be furnished by the Navy for four years. In addition to the normal college curriculum, midshipmen will study a planned course in naval science subjects and spend part of three summers on training cruises with various Fleet units.
The deadline date for receipt of applications is Nov. 17, 1961. Applications are available from the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting Station or from Samuel Sifkin, high school guidance director. Mr. Sifkin has been provided with specific information concerning the NROTC program and will furnish informational bulletins to any interested student.

Florist's Dream Comes True

The long dreamed of plans for John Jannet were realized recently when he opened his new Flowerama Florist Shop at 143 Washington Avenue.

John, who has been in the floral business since he was "knee-high," celebrated the grand opening of his shop by giving out free red roses to all the women who visited the store. And there was quite a number of them, too, he said, besides all the congratulatory telegrams he received and visits from friends.

Friends say one of the reasons John, a former Newarker, came to Belleville two years ago. At that time, he said, he was interested in starting his own shop, and began looking around. Finally he found the ideal location, where he is now, and set up shop.

Aiming at weddings and interior decorating, his prices are moderate and designed at giving satisfaction. Artificial flowers are a specialty of the shop, because John said "you have to be original and a little different. Besides, artificial flowers are the newest in home decorating fields."

John carries this feeling into his own home at 40 Cozco Street where he lives with his wife and their ten-month-old daughter, Gina. Artificial flowers are part of the decor, along with other specimens of John's floral handiwork. But it's the woman's touch that really counts, he said, and feels that the hand she gave him in decorating the shop provided to be an inspiration — and one that he expects to continue to have as she lends him a hand in the shop.

John, who is 24, backs his talents up with years of work in two other flower shops where he began work while still a student at Barringer High. And when you have been in the business that long, he said, "you can't help but learn what it's all about to give the best customer satisfaction."

Red Cross Has 50-Mile Swim

Could you swim 50 miles—if you had three years to do it? That's what the Belleville Chapter of the Red Cross is proposing if sufficient number of local residents of all ages are interested. It's part of the Swim and Stay Fit program which in turn is part of President Kennedy's campaign for physical fitness, according to Mr. Leonard Bader, chairman of water safety.

The plan calls for participants to swim a total of 50 miles in quarter-mile segments during the next three years in a supervised program at local pools and beaches.

Pool and beach managers will be urged to act as, or assign, monitors to supervise the Swim and Stay Fit program in each facility—and maintain progress charts. Certificates will be awarded for each 10 miles swum with a gold embossed wallet card presented to 50-mile swimmers.

Mr. Bader stressed that the program is in no sense a race, a competition, or an endurance test. "This is designed specifically to stimulate interest in swimming and through swimming, in better physical conditioning for all. Participants will be encouraged to develop a year-round swimming schedule in a personal fitness plan," he said.

The first three miles of the 50 may be swum in any lengths, however the remainder must be done in distances of at least 40 yards (quarter-mile). Any combination of strokes may be employed. All phases are to be conducted under strict safety regulations and primary consideration for the well-being of the swimmer.

The nation-wide program will reach a peak in 1964, the year that marks the 50th anniversary of the Red Cross Water Safety Program.

Mrs. Fred Schroeder, president of the group, hoped that many Belleville citizens, as well as P.T.A. members, would attend this meeting to learn more about the United Nations in this, its time of crisis.

Since the present school year began, the P.T.A. has played host to the classroom representatives and to the new mothers of School Eight at two teas on Sept. 13 and 19.

Babies' Hospital Guild Plans Candlelight Ball

Members of the Babies' Hospital Guild, a unit of the United Hospitals of Newark, have been busy making plans for the annual Candlelight Ball, which will take place Saturday evening, October 21, at 369 Park Ave., Orange. Dinner will be served at 8 p.m., and Johnny Alquist and his orchestra will provide music for dancing until one a.m.

This is the Guild's main fund-raising project of the year, and proceeds will benefit the hospital.

Mrs. William Britten is dance chairman, and Mrs. Daniel Jarvis, assistant chairman. Both are of Glen Ridge.

Educators' Group Warns Tax Council Again On H. S.

An attempt by the Citizens Tax Council to soften the effect of the warning by the Middle States Association that Belleville High School faces loss of accreditation for overcrowding and substandard conditions was rebuffed this week by the educators' group.

BUILDING INADEQUATE

R. D. Matthews, chairman of Middle States Commission on Secondary Schools, repeated the warning in reply to a telegram from Joseph J. Inerra of the Tax Council. Matthews said the warning was "based on the inadequate building for the number of students being served."

Inerra's telegram demanded that if no suitable modifications and additions would meet the accreditation requirements set by Middle States Association's commission. The Tax Council query also asked if the school's accreditation would be continued after Dec. 31, 1961. Matthews' reply noted that the question of accreditation would be considered at a meeting of the association Nov. 13 and 14.

Matthews also pointed out in his reply that in 1955, when the visiting committee of the Middle States Association had inspected Belleville High School, the group had commended the school district for "planning a new senior high school." The association at that time deemed a new high school necessary because enrollments were running about 20 per cent above the school's planned capacity.

Matthews noted that "enrollment has increased from 1222 to 1551 since that time," underscoring the need for a new school.

School board officials here pointed out that this year's enrollment figure of 1551 made the building of a new high school "mandatory." Schools superintendent Dr. Frank M. Durkee said that the Rutgers Report and the letter from the State Board of

Jackson Makes His Mark On Business

Arthur Jackson, president of Jolly Cleaners, 300 Washington Avenue, has parlayed a talent for taking apparel "off the spot" into a successful 30-year career in the cleaning industry. He has made a name for himself as a spot remover par excellence in his field.

Born in New York 50 years ago, he founded Arthur Jackson Cleaners in Brooklyn, N. Y. With his wife, Helen, back in 1908. Although Mrs. Jackson is no longer active in that concern, Jackson himself still retains an interest in it. He is known throughout the cleaning industry as a top "spotter."

PIONEER IN INDUSTRY

A pioneer in the development of rapid dry-cleaning, Jackson was also for many years a partner in the firm "Johnny-On-The-Spot" with Morris Friedman before selling his interest and coming to Belleville. And thereby hangs a tale, as the saying goes.

While looking over to start "Jolly Cleaners," Jackson looked hard and long at various sites in Kearny and East Rutherford in company with a real estate man. Nothing appealed to him particularly until he happened to pass a vacant lot at 300 Washington Avenue.

He stopped his car, and "clocked" the number of automobiles that passed by in an hour. He was so impressed with what he learned that he was sure his quest had ended. It is a matter of record that Jolly Cleaners opened for business not long after that, on Sept. 8, 1955 and hasn't looked back since.

Jackson and his wife now live with their two teen-aged sons at 150 Old Farm Road, North Caldwell. He is active in Belleville affairs, and is currently president of the Chamber of Commerce.

He also sponsors many athletic organizations in town and is active in boy scout affairs.

Manager of Jolly Cleaners since March of this year is another New Yorker, Sidney J. Baumann of 52 Main Street. A graduate of the National Institute of Dry Cleaning, Silver Springs, Md., Baumann terms the Santone process used at Jolly Cleaners "the finest in dry cleaning." He is married and is the father of a two-month-old son.

EMPLOYEES

The plant now has some 23 employees, an increase of about eight over the number engaged on opening day six years ago. The plant has a fire-and-burglar alarm system of the latest type, and a burglar-proof storage room was installed about a year ago. Jolly Cleaners offers a complete service in the following categories:

Dry cleaning, pressing, storage, weaving, tailoring, drapes and furniture covers, rugs, furniture cleaning both on-plant and in customers' homes, complete laundry service, including a separate shirt department and moth-proofing.

Retired Persons Meet

The October meeting of the North Essex Chapter of the American Association for Retired Persons will be held Saturday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center, 84 Broad Street, Bloomfield.

Chef Comes To Belleville Via Kitchens Of The World

BY HARRY MCGOWAN

Though the kitchen is popularly considered woman's domain, there's no gainsaying the fact that all the great chefs have been men.

The career of John Iannei first began to flourish when he decided his true vocation lay in the realm of cookery. That was just after he left high school, when he got a job as butcher on a ship. His career from that point onwards was concerned mainly with food preparation in one form or another.

Iannei now owns and operates John's Restaurant at 529 Washington Avenue. There, with the aid and assistance of his wife, Jay, he runs a first-class business catering to the eating demands of a coterie of contented customers.

His yen for cooking got a big boost when he went into the Army early in 1942 at age 18. From there he was sent to Fort Bragg, N.C., where he was made sergeant and assigned to the permanent cadre at the officers' mess. He was next shipped to Camp Gordon, Ga. for about nine months, followed by a second stint at Fort Bragg and a fourth-month assignment at Florida's Camp Blanding.

He finally landed in Stuttgart, where he took over the kitchen at the Stuttgarthof Hotel. Part of his duties there was supervising the preparation of meals for the Allied War Crimes Commission. He came out of the army August 29, 1945, becoming a civilian employee with the armed forces. His new duties included service as an interpreter for the War Crimes Commission.

He came home on furlough April 20, 1948, with seven months of his three-year contract with the armed forces still to go. After that, he got a job with Planters Peanuts Company in Wilkes Barre, Pa. He had just about gotten used to the joys of life outside the army when the Korean War erupted and put him back into uniform June 22, 1950.

He was discharged again in March of 1952 and went to work at the Mountain Ridge Country Club in Caldwell as first cook, later stepping up to chef's status once more. From that post he went as chef to the Osprey Hotel in Manasquan Beach, where he stayed for three years.

GOT THE BUG

He then got the bug to go into business for himself, and opened his first restaurant at 525 Washington Avenue. He stayed there until last May 8, when he moved

"We Kept Our Word"

Essex County Republican Assembly candidates are telling the voters: "Re-elect us — we kept our word." They refer to the promises they made during the Fall election campaign of 1959.

We have examined the record of the seven Essex County Republican Assemblymen. The Republican statement "WE KEPT OUR WORD" is more than a campaign slogan. It is the truth.

The proof is in the record. In 1959 the Republican Assembly candidates promised uncompromising opposition to a sales or income tax. The Republicans kept their promise.

In addition, they voted against the new "commuter benefit tax" with the warning that the measure would jeopardize the then pending program to give New Jersey residents working in New York the same exemptions and deductions as those received by New Yorkers. The Republican warning proved prophetic.

The Essex Republicans promised to sponsor legislation to re-create the N. J. Law Enforcement Council. Legislation was introduced in 1960 and 1961 — only to meet its death in an Assembly committee dominated by Democrats.

The Essex Republicans promised to support "conflict of interest" legislation. True to their trust, they vigorously supported strict "conflict of interest" legislation. Democrat and Republican members of the New Jersey Senate blocked enactment of this legislation.

The Essex Republican Assembly delegation promised to serve the people of Essex County without the handicap of subservience to political bosses. The Republicans kept their promise. The Democrats couldn't keep such a promise even if they made it.

The Democrat County Chairman, Dennis Carey, publicly proclaimed: "I RUN ESSEX!" And so he does.

So—on November 7 Belleville citizens will be faced with the simple decision of whether to vote for a Republican Assembly slate which has been true to its trust — or to vote for one-man rule: Dennis Carey's "I RUN ESSEX" brand of democracy.

The Republican Assembly slate presents an unusual combination of experience and integrity. In politics this is a rare gift to the public.

Prayer For Our Time

Not many children nowadays repeat the prayer so popular a generation ago beginning, "Now I lay me down to sleep," and ending, "If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take." Probably it is considered too morbid for today's youngsters, who live in an era when medical science has conquered most of the ancient childhood scourges. In other times the prayer had special meaning because children might be snatched away at any time by diphtheria, smallpox or any one of numerous other diseases for which no cure was known.

Yet those of the generation born into the atomic age have a new reason for insecurity which they share with their parents. Death, in the form of bombs dropped from the skies, may overtake them in a matter of minutes.

It does not follow that there should be a revival of the old prayer, or that children should be made to feel the awful uncertainty of existence in this new age. Rather they, as well as their parents, should seek reassurance from the well-springs of faith in a meaningful, loving relationship between God and man.

The old prayer might well be changed to say, "If I should die before I live," and could thus act as a supplication to be granted deeper understanding of that relationship before the arrival of death — understanding which offers fullness of life impossible without it. This is our security. It can still be taught to our children even as they say their prayers against death from the skies.

relationship before the arrival of death — understanding which offers fullness of life impossible without it. This is our security. It can still be taught to our children even as they say their prayers against death from the skies.

Communication Lines

Educators presently face one of the most challenging tasks of all time. Their success or failure may well provide the answer as to which side will ultimately win the cold war.

That the Kremlin understands the importance of education has been indicated again by its recent action to step up the Soviet boarding school program. This program takes the child away from the mother's influence early in life and allows the complete absorption of interests and ideas from teachers soaked in Communist doctrine.

The great importance of this, for the West, is that these children will not have an objective knowledge of the world, but will learn what fits the Soviet aims. Western educators must therefore make a special effort to keep open all possible lines of communication and discussion between students of the Communist world and our own free society.

The increased allotments for education of foreign students in U.S. schools should greatly help in this task. Some 53,000 students from almost every nation were enrolled in U.S. colleges and universities last year. Only a few were from Russia. An effort should be made to bring more Russian students to this country — and by the same token, to send more American students to Russia. Democracy could only benefit from an increase in the flow of students to and from both countries.

To Guard The Past

Though it sometimes appears these days that mankind will have no future interest in the distant past is still keen. That is good, because the more we understand about where our civilization came from the better our chances of deciding wisely where we ought to be heading.

Such generalizations are narrowed into sharp focus by developments in the international effort to preserve some of ancient Egypt's greatest treasures from being flooded. The danger is posed by waters that will back up along 300 miles of the Nile valley when the Aswan high dam is completed. Chief among monuments that would be flooded are the colossal temples at Abu Simbel.

Congress has now appropriated four million dollars to help pay for either walling off or moving these tombs which were built long before the time of Christ. Ultimately the United States is expected to provide some 10 millions of a total cost of between 75 and 100 million. These may seem like enormous sums merely for the preservation of ancient relics. But through this project men of future generations will be enabled to look upon some of the most majestic works ever fashioned by human beings. It will be money well spent.

Time For Reflection

Sometimes it seems that the drawbacks of our faster way of life may outweigh the gains. Our forefathers enjoyed at least one thing we seem to have lost — the time and opportunity for uninterrupted contemplation.

An old farmer put his finger on the matter rather effectively not long ago: "We use milking machines now, and that's fine. But I miss that quiet evening hour when I used to milk our cows by hand. That was when I did my thinking, my pondering. It was a time to digest things I'd read, to form opinions on world trends. To check up on where I stood and to commune, you might say, with my soul and the Lord."

The farmer had plenty of solitude, but he had no monopoly on it. There was the rural mailman jogging his horse along a lonely road. Merchants in small towns, doctors waiting for patients (today it's the patient waiting for a doctor) or lawyers awaiting a client had occasional hours of solitude. So did carpenters, masons and so forth, in the days when artisans worked individually rather than in crews.

Perhaps that is one reason why rural districts produced so many statesmen in the past. Countrymen had periods of leisure in which to develop a philosophy.

Need HS For Progress

To the Editor:

I am delighted to see that The Belleville Times, as it has done in the past in supporting the constructive forces in the community by supporting the New High School project.

Belleville — only 30 minutes from the financial capital of the world, surrounded by fine high schools in an area that will show phenomenal growth in the years that lie just ahead — stands at the crossroads. There are signs that the town will move ahead, that business and industry will continue to be attracted to the stores in all business sections of the town that are painting up, putting on new modern store fronts and otherwise presenting a more modern appearance.

But what a blow to confidence that this is a community alive to its opportunities if we prove to be so short sighted and so ignorant of the economic facts of life that we defeat the referendum on the new school.

Such defeat can only be a backward step in a town that with all the signs of new life and vigor could be the coup de grace that will forever kill any chance of climbing up out of the bottom of the hole we are in.

The new school will be a sign to those who would move here that their children will get the kind of education that the times demand. Thus we can attract to our town the kind of people who will make a contribution to it, stemming the tide of those who now and for some time have been moving out because of the poor high school facilities.

The new high school, attracting to our town people of vision and substance, will tend to increase the homeowners' property values while conversely a further drop in the overall economic status of the town.

Lowering of property values, hence the small increase in taxes brought about by the cost of the new school could be overshadowed many times by the loss in property values.

Looking out what it means to the young people who will be in high school soon just plain common sense and pure economic self interest would dictate that a negative vote on the high school referendum is the height of mud-died and fuzzy thinking.

Disagrees With Points In HS Referendum

To the Editor:

As to the proposed new high school, much ado has been said about higher education. Missiles, rockets, scientists etc., have entered the picture. What doesn't get too much of the spotlight is the fact that 65 per cent of Belleville High graduates do not go to college. These are the Board of Education figures.

I attended the meeting where plans for the proposed high school were presented by the architect. What I noticed among other things was the heavy emphasis placed on industrial arts. The plans included an auto shop, metal shop, print shop and wood working shop. It was explained that these were needed to help those students who did not go to college. This, sir, is all very well, but the facts of the matter are that we have excellent vocational schools in nearby Newark and Bloomfield, that teach these same courses and many more. We are paying a good sum in county taxes to help maintain these schools.

Belleville High School is an academic school and should be kept at that level.

The proposed expensive 6-3-3 division has been seriously challenged in various educational circles. The noted Dr. James B. Conant would not approve of it. For Belleville to enter into a 6-3-3 division, when it is being abandoned in various sections throughout the country, is not wise. Our present 8-4 plan is much more economical and much more sensible. The junior high school is the weak sister link in the school system of the nation.

OVERCROWDING
The claim is, that overcrowding is the primary reason for a new high school. Belleville High reached its peak enrollment in 1959 at 1,580 students. Graphs

Well, the Yankees' Roger Maris hit more homers than anyone ever did before. Let's hope the Yankee team at the United Nations learned how it's done.

Headline: High Fashion Can Be Achieved With a Pin. But not with pin money.

Please read Mrs. Ross's letter in the third column parallel to your letter. She states it far better than I can. I wonder if you would be so sure we don't need a new high school if it had been your son that had his heart set on a certain course only to find out that he would have to wait a few years to take it because it was so overcrowded.

You say that instead of a new building we should improve our education to higher levels. How Mr. Inserra, do you propose to raise the level of education when the children cannot fit into the classrooms?

Very truly yours,
MRS. C. F. BOGERT, JR.

Lands Pharmacists

Dear Editor:

National Pharmacy Week, this week, again brings to mind the often unheralded service rendered by the country's retail pharmacists. These dedicated men and women work tirelessly in maintaining medicine's lifeline from physician to patient. Your corner drugstore is one of the good reasons why Americans continue to be the healthiest persons on earth.

The training, skill and integrity of pharmacists in correctly filling our prescription requirements is all but ignored when we ourselves or our loved ones are taken sick. The observance of National Pharmacy Week, however, presents an excellent opportunity to stop in at your local pharmacist and let him know how much we appreciate his contributions to the nation's welfare.

He will be very pleased to hear that his efforts are recognized, both "in sickness and in health."

Sincerely,
RONALD A. MAYER

Values Civil Defense; Imperative And Patriotic

Gentlemen:

In reply to Ingrid Frank's letter offering to engage in a debate with me as the representative of Belleville's Civil Defense organization, I am reminded of my own respect, I am reminded of the old saying, (slightly modified), which says "A woman of bating is akin to a dog walking on its forepaws. It isn't done well, but one is surprised to find it done at all!"

In her letter to The Times-News, Mrs. Frank sees fit to condemn all the underground persons outside the metropolitan area who escape the holocaust of a direct blast (which will, as is obvious, invalidate any C.D. organization, and just about all else for a considerable distance). Should Belleville (and Nutley) be spared a "knockout" punch, as they might well be, and as all surviving areas almost certainly will be, Mrs. Frank sees nothing wrong in giving these poor souls (us?) no recourse whatsoever in shelter from radioactive fallout, provision for food and water, facilities for home medical care, freedom from fear of looters, etc., etc., that Civil Defense is attempting to provide.

The fact that former President Eisenhower, President Kennedy, and Dr. Teller, "father" of the bomb, feel that this preparation is imperative seems to be of no consequence to Mrs. Frank. The Chinese call us the "Paper Tiger" and perhaps this is partly because of organizations such as SANE.

AFRAID OF FACTS

We are becoming (have become?) a soft nation, and many of us are afraid to face facts! This "Better Red Than Dead" attitude of the entire SANE movement smacks less of stupidity than it does of plain disloyalty. If we had had SANE during the American Revolution, might they not have coined such expressions as, "Better British Than Skitish" or "I Don't Mean a Thing If You Ain't Got a Kike."

I would advise these folks, certainly they seem sincere enough, to be less selfish and be very careful of their allegiances in these perilous times. If the U. S. is subjected into leaving itself incapable of "rolling" with the atomic punch with a good Civil Defense organization and attending private citizen preparation, we may have a war and might well lose our freedom, which certainly cannot be wished to have happen.

Remember, please, that this C.D. preparation is a deterrent to war because it can leave a majority of our citizens in good physical and mental health, a factor of so small consequence in fighting back in Heaven's name! Don't tell me SANE is opposed to this???

I had a professor (also female) this summer in a Master's course who stated, when the subject of C.D. arose in class, that she could not simply commit suicide even if a survivor! The course, incidentally, was entitled, "Guidance in the Elementary School."

This person represents a State supported college (your tax money) and she had hundreds of thousands of students through their teachers. I should think that you, Mrs. Frank, will find this kind of defeatist attitude deplorable and yet your organization aside from the anti-atomic work that civilian preparation is an evidence of hostility, advocates mass suicide of our population in the event of disaster. You choose to overlook or discount such factors as:

1. Accidental detonation of A. Pvt. D'Andrea Ends Eight Week Training

PORT KNOX, Ky.—Army Pvt. Louis J. D'Andrea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. D'Andrea, 182 Franklin Street, completed eight weeks of advanced individual armor training on Sept. 21 under the Reserve Forces Act program at the Army Training Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

D'Andrea was trained to drive the Army's medium tank and to fire the .30 and .50 caliber machineguns and the 90 millimeter tank gun.

The 18-year-old soldier is a 1960 graduate of Belleville High School.

Beck's Column

The Hurricane Season is with us again.

It is a good policy at this time of the year to have your outside antenna checked. There are thousands of installations in the area which have never been looked after since they have been put up.

If you would see some of the rusted straps and nuts and bolts, you would have them repaired quickly, before the fall storms start. If this is done now, you may save yourself much greater expense later. In this case "a stitch in time saves nine" is as true as it ever was.

Some of these old outside antennae could be replaced with a modern, far more efficient antenna in the attic. You won't lose any signal strength and with the exception of the lead in wire which as a rule is brought down to a lounge or attic window none of the antenna material will have to be replaced in the future.

There are cases of course, like on Bloomfield Avenue, for instance, which is low and in between 2 ridges, where an attic antenna still is best. There are other spots in town where reception is ghostly and poor. In all of these locations an outside antenna still will make a great difference.

We service what we sell.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Clubwomen Devote Many Hours To Needy Kiddies

While many were vacationing this summer, members of the Evening Membership Department of the Woman's Club of Belleville offered services to the children at the Essex County Children's Emergency Shelter, Essex County Hospital, Belleville.

The children, who are from 3-16 years of age, are placed at the Shelter for temporary emergency care. They are children for whom no adequate community plan can be made immediately.

The women are allowed to entertain the children in any way they wish. They organize games and handicraft, give small parties and read to the children. The members agree it is most rewarding to watch the faces of these lonely children light up with joy and happiness because of the attention given them. These will be memorable moments for many of the children who plead for the volunteers to return "real soon."

Those who have volunteered to entertain the children are: Miss Claire Boland, Mrs. James J. Dunn, Mrs. John W. Noonan, Miss Margaret Walker, Mrs. John E. Connelly, Miss Edith Richards, Miss Lieselotte Gostert, Mrs.

Director Of Clara Maass Has A Career Of 'Firsts'

Albin H. Oberg's career as a hospital administrator has been studded with "firsts" of one kind or another.

Executive director of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital since 1952, Oberg's first distinction came that same year when he became the first hospital administrator to be appointed, after taking the prescribed course in hospital administration.

Prior to that time, it was usual for men who had specialized in such fields as pharmacology or obstetrics to be named to hospital administrative posts. Oberg received his appointment after getting his degree as Master of Hospital Administration at Northwestern University in 1951. He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from East Orange's Upsala College two years earlier.

Another "first" in which he was directly concerned came three years ago, when Clara Maass's celebrated baby-sitters' course was inaugurated for teenagers. The program, which drew national and international attention, was an instantaneous success. It recently won new acclaim when it was given at an Army hospital in Germany.

Still another innovation in hospital administration took place when the hospital's newest building, addition-the Student Nurses residence and auditorium—was completed early in September. At that time Oberg launched a lecture series on Public Health in which he gave the first address.

Oberg was born in Stamford, Conn., 37 years ago. Now a resident of West Caldwell, he lives at 88 Hillside Avenue with his wife and two children, Karen Lisa, 7, and Carl Lever, 5. Mrs. Oberg is the former Phyllis Iverson. Her husband holds yet another distinction not shared with any hospital execu-

Belleville Member of US Technical Aid Program Learns From His Work

RUSSELL J. SWENSON, Audio-Visual Specialist

Russell J. Swenson is a man who says, "It's much more interesting to learn things by doing them, than by reading about them."

Since 1953 he has been learning about Latin America by working there. He has learned about the people by living with them, by sharing their food, by furnishing his apartment with handicrafts made by them, by talking with them on rural dirt roads and modern thoroughfares, even by riding in a rodeo to share the Chilean Independence anniversary celebration of Sept. 18.

But most of all, as a member of the U. S. Technical Aid Program he has worked with them. Swenson returned last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Swenson of 35 Malone Avenue, after spending two years in Chile. He is an audiovisual specialist with the U. S. International Cooperation Administration in Chile (Point Four Program), which provides for American trained personnel to work in other countries at the invitation of the government to share their knowledge with local technicians. He has documented the ICA programs there.

PRODUCE TRAINING AIDS

More important, in his opinion, are the hundreds of training aids he has helped produce—films, photographs and recordings.

Before leaving he had just completed a publication on air raids to navigation to be used to train Chilean civil air technicians.

"Our most effective materials," he says, "are training booklets, posters, photography exhibits, the radio, newspapers and, of course, direct teaching."

Swenson is no newcomer to Latin America. He made a full-length documentary in several countries there. Then he spent six months traveling through jungles, deserts and over mountains to film "The Face of Peru," which was shown throughout that country and the United States.

SUBMARINE PICTURES

Swenson began assignments on his own in Latin America in 1957 with a picture story of the submarine, Angamos, for the Peruvian Ministry of Marine.

"It was a long hard climb all the way," says the 38-year-old. He attended Belleville schools and was graduated from Central High School in Newark when his family moved there for a brief period. He was stationed in England during his three years with the Air Force from 1945 to 1948. "I would just walk and look around whenever I could and take pictures of the countryside wherever I went."

Because of his interest in photography, he studied photo journalism at the University of Missouri in 1948. Then, because of his interest in people and their countries, he studied Sociology and Geography at the University of Indiana, receiving an A. B. in 1951. He later took graduate work in cinematography at the University of Southern California.

Wherever his work takes him, one kind of gift he always brings back is dolls for his mother. She collects them and makes wardrobes for many of them. Swenson also collects rocks and has a growing number of folk music records and tapes. He enjoys fishing, especially in the beautiful Chilean rivers, skiing and all though photography is his business, likes it as a leisure pastime.

The rewards of his work are many. He cites the many friends he has gained. One Chilean friend, Mrs. S  nita Hinzner of Santiago, was here as a house guest of his parents last week.

Mrs. Hinzner was in the United States visiting her son, Fritz, who is studying nuclear physics at Stanford University, Cal. He first came here under the Technical Aid of the U. S. Point Four Program to visit for his master's degree. He received that and was invited by the university to remain for his doctorate, which he will receive in December.

Mrs. Hinzner, Swenson and his parents left at the end of the week for a visit to Washington. There the group planned to do some sightseeing while Swenson awaited orders for his next assignment.

Iron Dukes In Tie For Second After 12-7 Win

"Bob" Munford, No. 12, Iron Dukes speedster, is shown down on one knee as he is tackled by a bevy of Stamford Conn. Golden Bears players after he had made a 35-yard run for the Dukes in their game at Park Oval Saturday evening, Sept. 30.

The Belleville - Nutley Iron Dukes moved into a second place tie with Stamford Golden Bears in the Eastern Football Conference Sept. 30, at Park Oval when they defeated Stamford, 12-7.

Saturday's game featured outstanding defensive play by both teams. During the first quarter the ball changed hands several times, with neither team being able to penetrate the defense of the other. Ted Jones' punting kept the Bears deep in their own territory.

The second quarter opened with the Bears picking up 28 yards on two successive runs by fullback Don Amato. On the next play Mike Guerrieri recovered a Stamford fumble on his own 22-yard line. Two runs by Tom Boykin brought the ball to the midfield stripe for the Dukes.

Cary Willis then handed off to "Chuckie" Munford, who skirted the left end with a brilliant display of broken field running to score the first touchdown. The try for the extra point was wide.

Aiding in the run were two fine blocks thrown by Rich Macklin and Boykin.

Outstanding defensive play by Bill Lapadula, Rich Catalano, Tony Barron, Fred Sperduto, Lenny Cook, Gene Mitchell, Jim Baker, Munford and Guerrieri featured the third quarter.

With the ball on the Bears' 40-yard line, speedster Munford took a handoff from Willis, reversed his field and picked up 35 yards. The Bear defense held, however, and the third quarter ended with Nutley still leading, 6-0.

Early in the fourth period, John Drivas, Stamford quarterback took to the air. His first pass attempt was intercepted by Munford, who raced down the sidelines for a 25-yard touchdown. The try for the extra point was blocked.

Following Clint Taylor's kickoff, the Bears again took to the air. The first two pass attempts were blocked by Frank Barnes and Thurn Davis. A third down desperation pass from Drivas to end Bob Minnerly brought the

X-Country Team Drops 3 Meets

BY ANDY PROVENCE

The Belleville High School Cross-Country Team in five attempts has yet to win a meet. Last week the team, faced Clinton, Nutley, and Montclair only to lose all three meets.

The team is hurt by the leg injuries of two of its top runners, Robert Babb and Tony Ramo, who will be out of action for a few weeks. Their loss is a discouraging factor, since the object of a cross-country meet is to get as many men as possible to finish tenth place or better. At present Mario DiMaggio, the team's coach, can only depend on three runners, Jim Debesis, Jim Lervey, and Andy Provence.

Clifton defeated Belleville 18-37. For Belleville Jim Debesis finished fourth and Andy Provence, sixth.

Belleville lost to a good Nutley team 22-33. Jim Debesis and Jim Harvey, taking the second and fourth places respectively, ran a fine race.

Against Montclair, Belleville lost by the score of 17-38. The Belleville finishers were: Jim Harvey, fifth; Jim Debesis, sixth; Andy Provence, eighth.

On Monday Belleville will play host to a fast Passaic Valley team.

BY ROGER WARTELL

Although Belleville was very impressive in its victory against Bloomfield last weekend, the Bellboys starting players suffered serious injuries and will probably not play for the remainder of the season. Vince Sorrentino, starting tackle for the Blue and Gold, was shaken on the hand in one of the very first plays. He was taken to Clara Maass Hospital where it was reported that he would not be able to play for at least three games. Richie Luzzi, Belleville's top runner in the backfield, also came up injured after being tackled in the second quarter. He has suffered a cracked collar bone and will be out for three or four games.

-R.W.

Belleville High's freshmen football team has so far in the season showed promise for good things to come. They won two out of as many games, defeating Irvington 35-15 and Kearny 31-6. The team has a fast passing and running backfield which has so far racked up 69 points this season. The backfield consists of Joe Cerasio, Chuck Oesi, Lemmy Longo and Tony Sorrentino. The usually big and hard hitting line has really done a good job of opening up holes for the backfield. Some of the linemen show great potential. The boys to watch on the line are Nick Grandy, Ollie Aviano, Eddie Kearny, George Bud and Bill Mamano.

Rec-Kiwanis Jr. Bowling Starts

Recreation - Kiwanis Junior Bowling League begins Saturday at Branch Brook Lanes on Bellevue Avenue and at Olympic Bowl on Washington Avenue.

Applications for the leagues are available through the schools, at the bowling lanes and at the Recreation House. Junior bowling is offered to all Belleville youngsters, boys or girls, who are in the fifth, sixth, seventh, or eighth grades.

League sessions will be on Saturdays. There will be at Branch Brook Lanes; 9 a.m., noon, 3 p.m.; two will be at Olympic Bowl, 9 a.m. and noon. The program will run until about 23 Saturdays.

This year the youngsters will start right in bowling on the first day. The first days bowling will not count toward league standing but will be considered as instructional. Teams of five will be formed and bowling instructions will be given. There will be one qualified instructor for each four lanes of bowling throughout the entire season. Additional instructors will be available on the opening day.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

Bowling for league standing and individual records will begin with the second week. The two lanes have granted reduced rates and free shoe rental.

Trophies will be provided collectively by the Recreation Department, the Belleville Kiwanis and the two bowling establishments. The teams will be sponsored by various businesses, which will provide both the boys and the girls with regular bowling shirts. Every youngster who finishes the season is permitted to keep the shirt.

Last year the Recreation-Kiwanis Junior Bowling League enrolled 84 teams, which earned Belleville a reputation of having one of the biggest Junior Bowling organizations in the entire country.

EMPHASIZE INSTRUCTION

Strict rules of sportsmanship, dress and behavior will be enforced and much greater emphasis will be put on instruction. The corps of instructors will be distinguished by their instructors shirts, provided by the Kiwanis Club. They will be constantly on the alert to give help during the season.

The bowler's individual and team standings will be kept and posted and handsome prizes will be awarded to the leaders.

Belleville Takes Bloomfield 20-12

BY ROGER WARTELL

Combining a strong offense with an adequate defense, Belleville High's football team came up with its first victory of this season beating Bloomfield 20-12. The Bellboys' offense proved very effective as they racked up 260 yards on the ground and 93 yards in the air. The Bengals fumbled the ball away on four occasions, turning their chances of winning the game.

Belleville scored first after Richie Luzzi received a punt and ran it back to Bloomfield's 33 yard line. From there the Bellboys moved in six plays down to the one yard marker where a Luzzi carried it over for the T.D. Joe Latoré, Belleville's quarterback, was first runner in this drive, running around end for a 43-yard gain to the one yard line.

Bloomfield retaliated quickly with a drive covering 50 yards. Making use of the Bellboys' defensive weakness around the mugs, Bloomfield moved the ball up to the 20-yard line where Walt Heller scooted around end for the tally. After an exchange of downs, Belleville was forced to punt from midfield. Nick Allieri received the kick on the 18-yard line and proceeded to gallop 89 yards for the touchdown. This put the Bengals ahead 12-6 at the half.

Belleville regained the lead in the third quarter behind the passing of Joe Latoré. Starting from their 42-yard line, the Bellboys drove for the T.D. in 11 plays. Latoré connected on three out of three tries good for a total of 48 yards. The Blue and Gold scored again in the last period 50 yards, covering a Bloomfield fumble on the eight yard marker. Working the ball up to the 43-yard line, Joe Latoré handed the ball off to Stan Tomaszewski who ran 57 yards for the final tally.

Jayvees Lose First Two Games

LOSS TO EAST ORANGE

The Belleville High Jayvee Football Season opened last week against a strong East Orange team.

The game was exciting from beginning to end. East Orange took an early 12 to 0 lead, but at half time it was Belleville leading by one point. Pat Moreno was the receiver on a pass from Ken Zarro for one touchdown. He also returned a punt 70 yards for another touchdown. East Orange came back in the second half to score once and this proved to be the deciding touchdown. The final score was 18 to 12.

Fine performances were turned in by Lou Di Bella, John Visco and Joe Corretta in the backfield and Drew Horvath, Bob Bade, Joe Goglia, and Jim Orsini, in the front line.

LOSS TO BLOOMFIELD

The team dropped a close one to Bloomfield at Foley Field this week. The game was tight until the last quarter when the Bloomfield squad broke a 7 to 7 tie.

The first scoring was done by Bloomfield in the first half. Belleville had a few drives going in both halves, but only one went all the way for the score. The game ended in a 14 to 7 decision. The Belleville tally was made by Joe Corretta.

The Stadium Had Its Scoffers Too

Speaking at a "between-halves" tribute to plans for the proposed new Belleville High School, Allan Crisp, chairman of the Citizens School Building Advisory Committee, declared:

"As a graduate of Belleville High School, I've followed the fortunes of our teams, through good times and bad. In 1922, we watched our football team play in an open field in Belleville Park. In my graduation year, we sat on bleacher seats at Clearmont Field. Now, we have this beautiful stadium. When it was built in 1934 there were the usual scoffers and doubters. Thanks to the vision and foresight of our commissioners at that time, this large tract of land was obtained, and, thanks to WPA assistance, the municipal stadium was built. Incidentally, now that Belleville is built up, the cost of assembling a similar tract would be prohibitive.

"Plans for our new high school call for it to be built on the high ground just beyond the fence directly in front and slightly to the right of those seated in the stadium. Our gymnasium will seat 1,200 and will provide direct access to these playing fields for all physical education and sports programs. State authorities tell us that we will have one of the finest layouts in the country; our sports programs are bound to benefit from this ideal situation.

"On Oct. 17, we go to the polls. On this crucial day, actions will speak louder than words. I know we have a strong, loyal group of fans behind our teams, and I've heard grads swear their loyalty to Belleville High at class reunions, but on Oct. 17 we will have to 'stand up and be counted.'

"We, who are today the beneficiaries of those who had the foresight to provide this fine municipal stadium many years ago can now earn the gratitude of generations of trained athletes who will pass through Belleville High School in the years to come.

"I feel certain that you will not let them down!"

Seeks Revenge

Joe Latoré's passing arm will probably see plenty of action this weekend and provide the Blue and Gold with a double threat. Nutley's offense will be hampered this Saturday because of an injury to fullback Ben Hawkins. Hawkins was the number one ground gainer on the Maroon squad and will be sorely missed. The Raiders can be expected to go for the long gainers and will provide trouble for the Bellboys pass defense.

The outcome of the game will probably hinge on how well Belleville is able to defend against Nutley's passing attack. If the Blue and Gold puts up an adequate defense, and plays as well offensively as they did last week, we can expect Belleville to finally end the Park Oval jinx.

Local Symphony Ranked In Top 100 In The World

Founded 25 years ago, with William Oscar as its first conductor, the Nutley Symphony Orchestra has gained prominence steadily under the inspired conduct of Nicos Cambourakis, until it presently places in the top 100 Symphonies in the world. It is also one of the few Symphonies to have survived, despite the financial struggle, to enjoy a silver anniversary.

Mr. Cambourakis has been the Nutley Symphony Conductor since 1940 and is also associated in the same capacity with the Mountain Lakes Symphony Orchestra.

Many fine artists, early in their careers, have appeared with the local Symphony Orchestra, Calvin Marsh, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Co.; Nutley's Maria Digerlando, soprano with the New York City Centre Opera Co.; Michael Tree, violinist; Eric Friedman, violinist; Grant Johannesson, pianist; Walter Hendi, pianist; Angelica Lozza, soprano; Catherine Carver Burton, pianist; Edyth Poynter, contralto and voice teacher in Nutley, and Donald Hulme of Belleville, world champion accordionist.

The Women's Committee of the Society was formed in 1953 as a group to support the Symphony and widen its fields of activity. The Committee has initiated a program of Youth Scholarships under the direction of Miss Poynter. The scholarships are awarded to Nutley school students annually in violin, voice and piano in an effort to interest more young people in good music.

In an endeavor to encourage young student artists, the group has presented many of them at Sunday afternoon musicales sponsored by the committee. Another activity was a series of Musical Silhouettes organized by the Education committee of which Mrs. Adell Williams was chairman. These were hour-long programs at which an artist presented a program which he discussed, illustrating the literature for his instrument.

The Women's Committee is headed by Mrs. Eleanor Bacon Peck, assisted by Mrs. Nicos Cambourakis, Miss Poynter, Mrs. Albert Kammerer, Miss Adeline Langberg, Sylvia Blumenthal, Mrs. William Denninger, Mrs. John Nemesnyik and Mrs. Williams.

Many Nutley men have held positions on the executive board of the Society. Current officers and committee chairmen include president, John C. Nemesnyik; vice president and legal advisor, Anthony T. Drollas; secretary, Mrs. Edward P. Witkowski; treasurer, Earle Heckeroth, and Librarian, Joseph Siegel.

Committee chairmen are auditions, Dr. Ernest J. Spencer; concerts, Brewster A. Ersfeld; membership, Kenneth Sloan; music, Miss Pearl Anderson; personnel, Warren Skunket; publicity, Mrs. George Hooper; social, Mrs. Buel Atcheson and Women's Committee, Mrs. Eleanor Bacon Peck.

As executive director, Admiral Fradd will be responsible for carrying out the policies established by the governing body of the Heart Association and assume administrative responsibility for office administration. He will work with the officers, board members, and committee chairmen to coordinate the activities of the Association.

One Charrier Philosophical About Army

By HARRY MCGOWAN
Once upon a time there was a Belleville businessman who joined the 102nd (Essex Troop) Cavalry. A few years later, he served for a year with the outfit in Fort Jackson, So. Carolina. At the end of his stint, he was given the choice of a 16-day furlough or a discharge. He chose the furlough, because he wanted to get married. The fateful day was December 4, 1941, and the would-be Benedict was Charles H. Charrier. However, at that very moment a covey of Japanese characters, including a couple named Tojo and Nomura, were helpfully plotting to keep him and a few million of his fellow guys in the army a while longer. Three days later - on December 7, 1941 - their plans jelled at a place called Pearl Harbor. It was 48 months before Charrier saw the lights of Civvy Street again.

THE OTHER CHARRIER
Charrier, a Newark native who graduated from Belleville High School, is philosophical about the whole thing now. In fact, he feels a well-known Parisian namesake of his had it much worse when called upon to serve his country as a draftee.

The other Charrier - Jacques by name - had also just become half of a Mr. and Mrs. team, when he merged in matrimony with one Brigitte Bardot. Deprivation of her company while the French Army tried unsuccessfully to make him a reasonable facsimile of a polu caused the unfortunate conscript to have a nervous breakdown. He suffered so much the army took compassion on him and gave him a discharge to rejoin his lonesome bride. Sad to relate, though, wifely wouldn't wait, and had flown the connubial coop when the luckless Jacques returned from khaki land.

WIFE FROM MONTCLAIR
His wife is the former Leona Crawford of Montclair, where both were members of the Montclair Opera Club. They met in 1939, and have two sons, Charles Crawford (Chic), 13, and David Philip (Davey), 9. Charrier himself used to sing in the old Belleville Glee Club before it was disbanded, but nowadays he confines his singing to the Montclair group. He and his wife are life members there.

He is also a member of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and of Acaedia Lodge, Masonic Lodge, Columbia, S. C. He has been a member of Geyer's Quarter Century Club for several years now. This is an honorary organization for those who have served 25 years in the stationery field.

The moral of this story is: if your name happens to be Charrier, it is perhaps more blessed to be in Belleville than to be Brigitte's boy Jacques. N'est-ce pas? Out.

Rabbi Cohen Leads Pedagogic Conference
Rabbi Victor Cohen, Spiritual Leader of Congregation Ahavath Achim has been appointed chairman of the Pedagogic Conference of Essex County. The Conference, which will be held Nov. 9 is sponsored by the Jewish Education Association of Essex County.

The purpose of the Conference is twofold: to develop a philosophy of Jewish education and to discuss methods of implementation.

"It is very important that a teacher have an understanding of why she is teaching a subject as well as how to teach a subject," Rabbi Cohen says. "This year we plan to discuss values of Judaism in the American Civilization, and its implication for Jewish Education."

Rabbi Cohen is a leading educator in the field of religious education. At present he is involved in developing a new understanding of Jewish education. He has written many articles and lectured widely on the subject.

C.Y.O. Parents Hear Talks By Local Detectives
Holy Family C.Y.O. sponsored a reception last week for parents of the teenagers of the parish. Over 200 parents attended. The Rev. Salvatore T. Malanga, C.Y.O. moderator, welcomed the parents, and pointed out that C.Y.O., as it is set up, has all facilities for supplying spiritual, cultural, athletic and social activities, if parents will fulfill their obligations by having their children participate.

Detective Stanley Kowalik, Nutley Juvenile Officer exhibited some of the weapons that he said have been picked up by policemen which juveniles planned to use in "rumble" or gang fights. Detective O'Toole, Juvenile Officer from Belleville brought out the growing problem of narcotics. He explained to the parents the symptoms of a narcotic user and warned them to keep a close watch on their youngsters, pointing out the great danger of narcotics and the fact that a narcotic user can never really be cured.

The C.Y.O. advisory board, read a report of last year's C.Y.O. achievements and gave an outline of the program set up for this season.

Learning Teachers — Teachers of mathematics attending the recent NSF Institute of Mathematics at Bowdoin College take time out from a busy schedule for a morning coffee break and to talk over some of their mutual teaching problems. Holy Family CYO Starts Year Of Varied Activities

At a recent meeting at Holy Family Church, Nutley, the Rev. S. T. Malanga, Moderator of Holy Family Catholic Youth Organization announced appointment of members of the adult executive board as follows:

President, Anthony Ricciardi of Bloomfield; secretary, Miss Genevieve Lardier, 15 Gless Avenue, Nutley; spiritual chairman, Mrs. Anne Conway, 40 Franklin Avenue, Nutley; cultural chairman, Mrs. Nicholas Maurillo, 16 Albany Avenue, Nutley; athletic chairman, Romeo Madeo, 21 Brookline Avenue, Nutley; social chairman, George Delmarino, 691 Mill Street, Belleville.

The immediate past president, Frank Cecchiola of 12 Knox Pl., Nutley, is also a member of the board.

At its last meeting, the board was instructed by Father Malanga that "Youth must be educated to take the responsibility of leadership which it will bear in the future. To this end the executive board of Holy Family CYO must give our youth the best possible education to equip them mentally, spiritually, and physically to

Week. The athletic program drew over 200 active participants in bowling, basketball and baseball. The girls' bowling team brought the first Archdiocesan championship to Holy Family parish in its 53 year history and the girls' grammar school basketball team won the Suburban CYO Championship.

The Board took up Father Malanga's words and proceeded to make arrangements for a full program of activities for the coming school year. Responsibilities for the planning and operation of activities for the teenagers of Nutley and Belleville are assumed by the adults.

The Board has led the youth of Holy Family parish to the pinnacle of success, receiving the "Outstanding CYO" Award for the past four years.

During the year ending September 1, the board's report showed that 409 teen - agers participated in activities conducted by CYO at Holy Family.

The spiritual program included monthly Communion breakfasts, participation in the Essex County Communion Crusade and the Archdiocesan Fatima rally at Roosevelt Stadium, a parish Communion supper attended by 210 teen - agers, and attendance at week-end retreats.

Holy Family CYO members also took an active role in promoting National Catholic Youth the publication of a teen - age newspaper for the CYO members, called "The Leader". The newspaper is mailed monthly to the 750 members. The 37-member staff is responsible for the news articles, editing, headlines, and mailing, and the paper is supported by ads of Belleville and Nutley businesses.

Other cultural activities included entry in the one - act play contest, and the county photo contest. A teen - ager of Holy Family won first place in the local parish.

At the 1961 Essex County youth convention, a member of Holy Family CYO was elected county secretary, the first time a county officer had been elected from the local parish.

C.Y.O. Parents Hear
Talks By Detectives

Holy Family CYO sponsored a reception Thursday evening Sept.
28, for the parents of the teenagers of the parish and more than 200 parents attended.

The Rev. Salvatore T. Malanga, C.Y.O. Moderator, read the invocation and welcomed the parents. Father Malanga reminded them of their obligation to see to the spiritual, cultural, athletic and social welfare of their children. CYO, as it is set up, has all the facilities for supplying these activities if the parents will fulfill their obligation by having their children participate, he said.

Detective Stanley Kowalki, Juvenile Officer in Nutley Police Dept., exhibited some of the weapons that have been taken from juveniles by policemen and which the police believe the juveniles planned to use in "rumbles" or gang fights.

Detective Hugh O'Toole, Juvenile Officer in Belleville Police Dept., brought out the growing problem of narcotics. He explained to the parents the symptoms of a narcotic user and warned them to keep a close watch on their youngsters, pointing out the great danger of narcotics and the fact that a narcotic user can never really be cured.

Anthony Ricciardi, president of the CYO Adult Advisory Board read a report of last year's CYO achievements and gave an outline of the program prepared for this season.

Before the evening ended, refreshments were served.

Father Malanga plans to have similar meetings with parents about every two months to let them know the progress of CYO and to ask for their suggestions and ideas.

Father Malanga closed the evening with a prayer and gave a special blessing to all present.

Uniform traffic laws are excellent. The big problem, however, is to get drivers to obey them.
